

COTTON, GRAIN CROPS VALUED AT RECORD $42 MILLION

value of cotton and grain produced in Lamb County should be an all-time high of $42,000,000 in 1958, County Agent Bill Kimbrough said this week. Kimbrough said the county's total crop may be worth $29,050,000—based on production of 175,000 bales of grain and 900,000 hundredweight of cotton.

combination in Lamb County would top the same combination in 1956 by about $1,500,000. Cotton production in 1956 totaled about 172,000 bales—worth approximately $28,500,000—and grain was valued at about $12,000,000 that year. The years 1956, 1954 and 1949 stand out as the top ones prior to 1958, said Kimbrough. He estimated value of cotton and grain in 1954 at $38,000,000 and in 1949 at $32,000,000.

Although 1958 may be a record year for cotton and grain together, cotton value alone probably won't be a record, said Kimbrough. The biggest year for cotton in Lamb County was 1954, when cotton value was estimated at $31,500,000—about $2,500,000 better than the 1958 crop. But grain produced here in 1954 was valued at only $6,500,000—about half the worth of this year's crop.

The year 1949, often called the "big year," wasn't as big as many might suppose. Ginners told Kimbrough that cotton brought an average of only 25 cents in 1949. With production of 192,000 bales that year, cotton value was estimated at $27,840,000—about $1,200,000 less than the value of this year's crop. Grain value that year was estimated at only $4,000,000. The $42,000,000 year for cotton and grain in 1958 was calculated this way: Cotton has drawn an average of 30 cents a pound, making each bale worth about $150. Add the value of seed per bale—about $16 this year—and that makes each bale worth $166. Production of 175,000 bales in the county this year would mean a total of $29,050,000. Kimbrough figures farmers have produced about 9 million hundredweight of grain this year, with prices averaging around $1.50 a hundred. Kimbrough figures his estimate of $13,000,000 is "conservative." The forecast of 175,000 bales in the county this year is the "best guess" of many farm observers. TEC Representative Carl Pillion reported last week that 167,084 bales had been ginned. A survey of all ginners in the county by Pillion revealed the ginners expect 8,000 more bales.

The $42,000,000 is by no means all of Lamb County's farm production value in 1958. Crops like alfalfa and wheat add to the total. Kimbrough estimates alfalfa alone at about $800,000. Wheat is valued at about $270,000 this year and sesame, a comparatively new crop, probably will make almost $200,000 Kimbrough says. No accurate figures are available on vegetables. Corn and other crops also were not estimated. The big year for cotton, 1954, saw prices average a little better than 30 cents a pound. Production of about 185,000 bales that year, valued at $170 each, totaled $31,500,000. Grain acreage has almost doubled since 1949, when only 120,000 acres were planted. Yield per acre has doubled and in some cases tripled.

County Commissioners Employ Appraiser For U.S. 84 Study

County Also Approves Repairs For Courthouse

County commissioners Monday employed Lubbock Appraiser Homer Robbins for an immediate study of right-of-way costs involved in a project aimed at widening U. S. Highway 84 to four lanes through Lamb County.

County Judge Pat Boone Jr. said plans call for the appraisal to be completed "early next year."

Other action at the court meeting was approval of a total of $7,744 in reworking and repairs to stone and marble work on the courthouse exterior. Commissioners also OK'd Christmas bonuses for county employees, November reports of Extension Service agents and the reappointment of Miss Lula Hubbard as county librarian. Miss Hubbard was reappointed for two years.

County Judge Boone said Robbins probably will start on the Highway 84 right-of-way appraisal soon after the first of the year. Robbins was quoted as saying he will complete the job within 12 to 15 days, once it is started. In its motion to employ Robbins, made by Commissioner R. D. Bryant of Olton and seconded by Commissioner Sam Cearley of Earth, the court also authorized payment at the rate of $100 per day for the appraisal. A limit of 15 days was set.

The court had met with Robbins at an earlier meeting, when they outlined the project to him. "Because of high public interest in the Highway 84 project," Judge Boone said, "the court expects to receive a petition or petitions to call a Highway 84 bond election for widening of the road."

Separate elections in each of three road districts—A (Littlefield), 3 (Amherst) and 4 (Sudan)—have been proposed, with each road district voting on a separate share of right-of-way funds. Under the State Highway Commission (Continued on Page 4)

Rancher, Wife Hurt In '84' Auto Mishap

A long-time Muleshoe rancher and his wife were injured Monday afternoon when their car struck a concrete foundation after they were involved in a two-car mishap at the intersection of Highway 84 and FM 303 in Sudan.

The injured were John S. McMurtry, about 75, and his wife, about 45. Highway patrolmen reported they both suffered broken right knee caps and cuts and bruises. They were reported in good condition in a Lubbock hospital.

The mishap occurred about 3:15 p.m. Monday, officers said. McMurtry was driving his '57-model auto east on Highway 84 and a '48-model car, driven by James B. Wingo, 77, of Sudan, was traveling west on the highway. Officers said Wingo attempted a left turn when the cars approached the intersection. The Wingo car struck the McMurtry auto in the side, officers said.

As the cars made contact, officers theorized that McMurtry tried to hit his brakes, but his foot apparently hit the gas. The McMurtry auto sped through the intersection and crashed into the concrete foundation of an abandoned elevator. Wingo, driver of the other car, was unhurt. Officers said both autos were total losses.

Latin Man, 23, Held In Shooting

A 23-year-old Littlefield Latin American was being held on assault with intent to murder charges Wednesday, following a shooting here Sunday night in which a Sudan Latin American, 20, was wounded.

Held on $5,000 bond in Lamb County Jail was Ray Trevino, who has lived here the past six months.

Victim of the shooting, Nicholas Vela of Sudan, was described in fair condition in a Lubbock Hospital Wednesday with a gunshot wound in his stomach. Trevino told County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson he thought Vela "had it in for me and wanted to beat me up."

The incident occurred Sunday about 11:30 p.m. at a Mexican dance at the Sports Arena.

Trevino was quoted as saying his sister-in-law had told him Vela was after him.

Wilkinson said Trevino told him he went to the Sports Arena with a .25 calibre automatic.

Trevino said he saw Vela at the dance and "just walked up to him and fired one time," Wilkinson said.

Trevino told officers he fired the pistol without taking it from his coat pocket.

The bullet struck Vela in the stomach, but Vela didn't fall. "He just walked off," Trevino told Wilkinson.

LHS Band Gets Top Rating In Region I Competition

Littlefield's Wildcat Band added another chapter to its honor book Saturday, earning a first division rating in Region I marching competition at Plainview High School stadium.

It was the seventh year in a row for Director Beryl Harris' crew to win the top rating in marching. The first division rating kept the Wildcat Band in the running for sweepstakes honors in the Interscholastic League. The band must capture first divisions in concert and sight reading next May to win sweepstakes.

In other competition at Plainview, the band also won an "excellent" rating on inspection. It was the first time for ratings to be issued on inspection.

Fourteen of 30 bands participating in the region meet at Plainview won first division honors. Only other Class AAA outfit to win the honor was Brownfield. Levelland was rated second division.

Area schools which participated and their ratings were: Class B—Amherst, fourth; Class AA—Olton, second; Class A—Sudan, first; Springlake, first.

District Tourney Next Cats Take 3rd Straight In Win Over Seagraves

Hot-shooting James Goldston paced Littlefield's short but scrappy Wildcats to their third straight victory here Tuesday night as Littlefield edged Seagraves, 68-65.

Goldston hit 33 points, his season high, as the Wildcats made their season record four wins and three losses.

After losing three games by heavy margins, the Cats came back Saturday night with a 68-67 win over Sweetwater in the Plainview tourney, then edged Olton, 55-51, Monday night in Mustang land.

The victory over Seagraves made it three in a row and set the Wildcats in good shape for the District 1-AAA tournament at Hereford.

After losing three games by heavy margins, the Cats came back Saturday night with a 68-67 win over Sweetwater in the Plainview tourney, then edged Olton, 55-51, Monday night in Mustang land.

The victory over Seagraves made it three in a row and set the Wildcats in good shape for the District 1-AAA tournament at Hereford.

The Wildcats will open against Dumas at 9 a.m. today in the District meet. Depending on whether they win or lose, the Cats will meet the winner or loser of the Palo Duro-Tulla game.

If the Cats win the Dumas game, they will play again at 2:30 p.m. Friday. If they lose to the Demons, they will play their second game at 7 p.m. Friday.

Other first-round games will pit Canyon against Olton and Hereford, the defending champ, against Levelland.

Coach Kenneth Clapp's crew ran into stiff opposition from Seagraves Tuesday night, falling behind 37-35 at the half.

But sharp-shooting Goldston and company found the range and outscored the visitors 21-15 in the third period. Seagraves narrowed it to 66-65 with a minute to go, but Goldston hit a pair of free throws to ice the contest.

Goldston's 33 markers gave him a season's total of 165, an average of 23.6 a game. He had plenty of help from Hilton Hemphill, who also hit a season high and Billy Jeffries. Both Cats had 13. Bill Wade had 5.

Dennis Grimes led Seagraves with 28 points. At Olton Monday night, Littlefield eked out another four-point win over the Mustangs, coming from behind in the final period to do it.

After Littlefield led 27-24 at the half, the Ponies came back with a hot third quarter and went into the lead, 42-41.

Goldston and Jeffries paced the comeback as Littlefield finally won by 55-51. Goldston had 27 and Jeffries, who's averaging 10.5 points a game, had 17. James Pressey had 5.

Jimmy Robbins with 15, L. H. McAdams with 12 and Arno Hall with 10 paced Olton.

In their 68-67 win over Sweetwater Saturday night at Plainview, the Cats did it with a pair of free throws by Goldston with 20 seconds left.

The Wildcats managed to keep a slim lead through the first three periods, but Sweetwater came within a point at the end of the third quarter, 55-54.

The Mustangs took a 67-66 lead with a minute to go before Goldston eked out another four-point

The devotional thoughts, "Hope of Sufficiency" were brought by Mrs. Ivy, after which Mrs. Leon Billington, Mrs. Keith Glover, and Mrs. Windsor Lacewell presented a comprehensive picture of Southern Baptist missions around the world. Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee were served from a table centered with an impressive "castle of snow."

On Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock the Sunbeam Bands and the Girls' Auxiliaries had their Week of Prayer Programs and at 7:00 that evening the Young Woman's Auxiliary held a prayer meeting.

At eight o'clock on Wednesday evening, the feature of the entire Week of Prayer was the presentation of the drama "Her Lengthened Shadow," in the church basement auditorium.

The life story of Lottie Moon, a vivacious daughter of a prominent Virginia family, who pioneered in mission work in China, and whose instigation was the beginning of the Week of Prayer for foreign missions with its attendant offering, was presented. The play was directed by Mrs. Ralph Neison. Its authentic settings included the spacious Virginia home of the Moons during the nineteenth century and the home of Miss Moon at the House at the Little Crossroads in Tengchow, China.

The cast included Mrs. Leon Billington, who portrayed Miss Moon; Mrs. J. L. Murdock, as her mother; Miss Linda Lance, as her younger sister; Dr. Albert Perkins as Andrew Fleming, Confed-erate chaplain, suitor of Miss Moon; and Chinese characters, including Mmes. Viggo Peterson, Albert Perkins, and Ronnie Onstead; Miss Sara Gentry, Mr. C. M. Lance, Charles Heathman, Burr Heathman, Gary Crume, Gayle Onstead; and Mmes. Kenneth Reast and Bayne McCurry, who played the part of younger missionaries who came to relieve Miss Moon when ill health forced her to retire from the field.

The last scene portrayed Miss Moon, old and frail shortly before her death, spotlighted, with a long shadow on the wall. To the weird background music of an Oriental music box, Joe C. Arthur narrated the story of the lasting influence of this missionary and her "Her Lengthened Shadow" is still felt a half century later. Between the scenes Mrs. Lloyd Crume, Mrs. Walden Findley, and Miss Brenda Perkins brought vocal solos.

On Thursday morning a prayer meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Lee Hemphill. As the guests arrived coffee, tea, and nut bread sandwiches were served from a table centered with an arrangement of gold sprayed driftwood and cedar boughs on a cloud of angels' hair lighted from within with soft red lights. The Aletha Fuller and Virginia Wingo circles, under the direction of Mrs. Hemphill, prayer chairman of the Virginia Wingo Circle, presented the program "Rejoicing in the Hope." Mission stories from Kenya, Japan and Colombia were brought by Mrs. Acree Barton, Mrs. W. G. Street, Mrs. U. E. Kelly, Mrs. Jack Walker, and Mrs. D. O. Hampton.

On Friday the annual Week of Prayer luncheon was held in the church parlor with Mrs. Matthews directing meditative thoughts on the theme, "Christ In You, the Hope of Glory."

Mrs. J. L. Murdock brought the devotional thought "Rejoicing in the Hope."

Since Friday, Dec. 5 was world day of prayer, Miss Clara Jarman told of the beginning and meaning of this annual day of prayer, Mrs. Acree Barton told now the day was being observed in Europe; Mrs. Lee Hemphill told of its observance in South America; Mrs. Forbes Tatauta told of it in Australia; Mrs. C. M. Lance, in Africa; Mrs. Alvie Ivy, in Southeast Asia; and Mrs. Viggo Peterson, in the United States. Mrs. Windsor Lacewell then gave a beautiful meditation, "Come, See A Man;" Mrs. Winnie Hogan, "Christ In You, the Hope," and Mrs. U. E. Kelly, "Give of Thy Sons."

The Week of Prayer activities will be brought to a close on Sunday evening with a missionary speaker, Mrs. Rubeen Franks, formerly of Chile, now connected with the Baptist Publishing House in El Paso.

On Dec. 10, the day circles met in homes for mission study; on Dec. 15 the Josephine Harris will meet in the home of Mrs. Ralph Nelson for Bible Study and the annual Christmas party; and December activities will close on Dec. 17 when Mrs. Ralph Nelson will be hostess to all circles at a Christmas coffee.

E. L. Posey of the Texas Highway Patrol.

Analysis of a Texas Highway Department Speed Survey by the Department of Public Safety revealed that 12.6 per cent of all vehicles of Texas are exceeding the 60 mile per hour speed limit, as compared to 6 per cent last year. The Statewide survey, taken at twenty-five checking points throughout the State, will be used by the Highway Patrol in planning its selective enforcement program in the future.

"Taking into consideration that the last month of the year is our most deadly in traffic accidents and deaths," said the captain, "we will use every available resource to reduce this speed problem." The Captain pointed out that December is a deadly month in traffic due to bad weather, holidays and shorter day hours.

Highway Patrolmen in this district have been instructed to carry out a stepped-up speed enforcement program in an effort to reduce as many of these accidents as possible during the remainder of the year.

Idaho City, Idaho, had a population of 40,000 during the gold rush days of the 1880's. Today it has population of 273.

Mrs. Lady Clare Phillips Gives Fruit Cake Hints

By LADY CLARE PHILLIPS
County HD Agent

Better type fruit cakes are at their best after 3 or 4 weeks of aging or ripening. This storage period develops flavor and mellowness. For this reason, fruit cakes should be allowed to ripen before they are frozen.

Proper cooling and wrapping is important. Mrs. Phillips suggests cooling fruit cakes thoroughly before wrapping for storage or ripening. Use aluminum foil, plastic, cellophane or waxed paper. Place cake in tightly covered container in a cool place for 3 to 4 weeks.

Ripened fruit cake can be frozen and preserved for one year. To use, simply defrost cake, unwrap and slice.

The confection type of fruit cake does not need to ripen as long as the batter variety. An example of this type of fruit cake is given below:

- Magic Fruit Cake
(Confection type)
- 1 pound canned cherries
 - 1 pound canned pineapple
 - 1 pound pitted dates
 - 4 cups pecans
 - 1 can sweetened condensed milk
 - 1 4-ounce package dry coconut

Cut up fruit, cherries, pineapple and dates and chop pecans coarsely. Add to milk and coconut. Mix thoroughly with hands. Pack down into two pans, steam same pan or steam moccas, which have been greased and lined with cellophane or waxed paper. Bake approximately three to four hours.

Place cake in steam cake pan 1 1/2 hours. Bake until moccas are finished. Remove paper which takes about 10 minutes.

Trevino told Wilkinson that he never had "run around with Nick. I just heard he was in for me and wanted to beat me up."

Wilkinson said the accused told him Veia did nothing at the dance to lead Trevino to believe Veia was going to beat him up.

Controversy Flares Over School Plan

AUSTIN, Tex.—(AP)—The proposed longer school year would mean a shorter summer vacation for students. And this would be a revolting development to Texas campers.

The State Board of Education and the Hale-Aikin School Study Committee have studied an extended school session. The American Camping Assn. in Texas said its aim is to

The association told the Hale-Aikin Committee recently that most camps already are built for the 12-week summer. They estimate at least 200,000 children in Texas each summer go to the 200 church, private and youth-serving camps in the state. These would be jammed into a shorter vacation period.

This short summer season works at cross purposes with the new constitutional amendment to advertise Texas as a vacation state, the association claims.

It also says state parks will be hard pressed to handle the summer mobs; it will slow down investment dollars in resort facilities and will be a blow to the resort industry generally and to the indirectly affected businesses such as cafes and service stations.

Other objections, cited by others as well as the camping association, include: higher costs, longer maintenance of facilities, necessity for air-conditioning, further confinement of family vacations, conflicts with college summer school sessions, reduction of a teacher's opportunity for graduate work and "pupil fatigue."

Proponents feel the extra time needed to equip students with a "space-age" education. The controversial questions will be decided by the Legislature.

SANTA AND THE ELF BOY:

Nine Chapters Of Enjoyable Reading
Written By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

SINOPSIS: Esteban sent the elf for help but a hawk caught her. After thinking for days, Esteban tricked the professor into leaving the door open. He runs from the

CHAPTER FIVE

THROUGH THE TRAP DOOR

When Esteban escaped the room he found himself in the endless corridors of the castle. He must find the professor's room. He thought franticly, "But where?" He crept down the stairs he steps running up them. It was Professor Szpilki carrying water bottles for Char-

Esteban hurried back the way he came. There was a sofa in the corridor. He threw himself on it and covered himself with a blanket.

Some time later the professor came. When he had turned the corner Esteban leaped up and dashed down the stairs. He ran from room to room, door to door, searching for the professor's room. There was no place he came to the ground and a door that would not open. He knew this was the room. He saw, at last, the door bang

Esteban ran through the great front door and out of the castle. Free at last, he was glad to keep right on running through the castle grounds.

Esteban stumbled through the brush to the windows of the professor's room. He put his face to the glass and there on a shelf he saw, at last, the clear bottle he was searching for.

Esteban picked up a rock and threw it against the window. The rock broke the glass and he ran back to the window. Suddenly there was a noise and an iron screen came down the wall and blacked out the window.

"What's that?" cried Esteban. "Suppose it does break!" he thought with horror. "Instead of saving all my friends I will be the

at the door, "is one of my inventions to protect my workroom. You see, I had only to press this button to screen the window. Come now, give me the bottle."

Slowly the professor moved across the room towards the boy. With every step the professor took towards him Esteban took one away. Three times they circled the room until finally the professor stood still. Suddenly he leaned down and yanked at the rug on which the boy stood.

Taken by surprise, Esteban fell backwards and the professor grabbed him.

"See how easily I have taken you," smiled the professor.

But he had not taken him after all for Esteban kicked and squirmed and broke away still clutching the bottle.

"How foolish you are," said the professor. "The bottle in your hands almost broke. Should it break the gas will escape now instead of later as I plan. Then what would you have accomplished?"

Esteban stood on the other side of the table gasping for breath. "Suppose it does break!" he thought with horror. "Instead of saving all my friends I will be the but I only moved in a few days ago and I've been terribly busy on the new roads, you know. Or perhaps you didn't know. Well, anyway, I'm home now and very glad to see you."

At this he stopped chattering and peered at Esteban through his two inch glasses. "By the way, who are you anyway?"

Esteban took a big breath. "I'm an elf," he began. "Good gracious!" said the mole. "You're awfully big for an elf. I don't suppose I've ever seen such a big elf."

"Well," explained Esteban. "I'm not an elf anymore. You see, I was an elf but I did everything wrong and made trouble for everyone so the Queen Fairy took away my wings and I'm a boy now. But I'm going to be an elf again if I'm a good boy."

The mole shook his head in wonder at such a story. "But, tell me," he asked. "How did you get into my bedroom?"

"The professor tricked me!" cried Esteban. "Now he has the bottle and I'll never be able to get it again!"

The mole took off his glasses and wearily rubbed his eyes. "I wish you'd start at the beginning and tell me the whole story," he begged.

So Esteban told how Charlotte's mother had been put under a spell by the Hangdog Hag and could never wake again. How Charlotte's father, in order to destroy the witch, had made a gas that would kill not only the Hag but all fairies and elves in the world.

"And I must get to Santa Claus for help," finished Esteban. "But how will I ever get there?"

The fat little mole sat in his rocking chair and rocked busily. By and by, he smiled happily and bounced from the chair.

"The Snuke!" he cried. "What?" said Esteban. "The Snuke," said the mole. "The Snuke will get you there!"

Down, down Esteban fell into a strange room.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from HENRY A. WELLS, D. O., Consultant of Health.

About this time last year, Texas and most of the United States was swamped with the so-called Asiatic flu.

In fact the inroads of the Asian strains of influenza were so widespread that its effects were felt all over the world with varying intensity.

There is no doubt that influenza was a contributing factor in the slight rise of death rates during the winter months. Influenza may weaken an individual resistance so that he is subject to more serious illness such as pneumonia which may result in death.

The two most studied outbreaks were the highly fatal pandemics of 1889 and 1918 when hundreds of thousands were killed as a result of the disease. Since then attention has been directed to the epidemic of mild disease that have been yearly occurrences with varying intensity.

Fortunately, although there was a large number of cases, the severity of the Asian influenza epidemic was not great. The epidemic as measured by excess influenza pneumonia mortality was only slightly more severe than the influenza "A prime" epidemic of 1953.

Although there are no indications at the present time of another epidemic of the Asian strain of influenza, there undoubtedly will be some influenza.

For this reason the U. S. Public Health Service and the Texas State Department of Health recommend consideration of vaccination against influenza for certain groups and individuals.

Influenza vaccine is indicated for groups wishing to guard against absenteeism in their professions or occupations, and among those to whom the disease might be an added health risk.

There are now ample supplies of influenza vaccine of the polyvalent type, containing immunizing material against the important strains of influenza, including the Asian strains.

Groups which should be considered for vaccination include hospital staffs whose services are necessary to the care of the sick; groups subject to exposure and quick spread such as in institutions; and individual patients who have a special risk because of chronic illness, pregnancy and age.

Practicing physicians should be the judges of whether or not to vaccinate individuals. (A weekly feature of the Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.)

Dying Principles?

Fortune magazine points out that the U. S. Post Office has "honored freedom of the press by issuing a 4-cent commemorative stamp."

Then it wryly adds: "At the same time, however, another arm of the government, the Internal Revenue Service, was fiddling around with the identical liberty the Post Office was honoring. The IRS has declared that money spent by private power companies for advertising critical of public powers was not a deductible business expense."

The IRS's stand was taken at the instigation of a pro-public-power Senator who has complained that the advertising in question was pure propaganda, and amounted to "brainwashing". And IRS holds, in effect, that such advertising isn't a necessary or legitimate factor in carrying on the utility business.

IRS then takes the position that it is entitled to decide what a private business can and cannot say in its advertising if it is to be treated as a business expense. And that simply means that IRS has taken over a basic, vital and pure management function.

The ruling is not yet in force—due, no doubt, to the huge tide of criticism that it has brought on. And what Fortune terms "the utilities' neatest rebuttal so far" has come from a leading utility official. He said: "Advertising expense is most frequently incurred to assist in meeting competition and such advertising is held to be a proper business expense. . . . It should make no difference whether the competition is from other business enterprises or from the federal government."

How any agency can honestly dispute that is impossible to see. If the utilities, or any other business, have to pay a heavy tax penalty in order to explain their competitive problems to the American people, freedom of expression and freedom of the press are dying principles in this country.

New Record

When the Christmas sales are totted up, retailing's total sales for the year will be the highest in history and last year's whopping $200 billion of volume will have to step aside for a new summit.

That prediction comes from Chain Store Age. It is based on reports from leading chains in all categories—grocery, drug, variety, general merchandise, mail-order and so on. The great majority of these chains have been showing marked increases over equivalent periods last year—in some cases more than 20 per cent.

This is good news of a high order. The volume of retail trade, needless to say, is one of the most potent forces in determining whether general business conditions are good or bad. Our magnificent production system would falter and ultimately halt unless the goods were moved in sufficient quantity into the hands of consumers.

Chain Store Age also points out another significant fact. Despite the record-breaking increases registered in sales, net profits have not been keeping pace. In many instances there have been declines, some substantial. Rising operating costs are one of the causes of that. A mighty small part of the consumer dollars stay in the hands of retailers after all the bills are paid.

Fact And Opinion

Robert F. Kennedy, Chief Counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee, writes in Look magazine: "The worst elements of the American labor movement are creating an unholy alliance that could dominate the United States within three to five years. It is an alliance of transportation unions that could stop trucks from East to West, tie up ships on all three coasts and embargo all goods on trains and planes."

Between 1948 and 1957, the Department of Agriculture finds, expenditures for food per person rose 18 per cent. By way of comparison, per capita disposable income increased more than twice as much—38 per cent—in the same period.

The Citizen's Committee for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government has disbanded. In its final report it says that 63.9 per cent of the second Hoover Commission's recommendations have been adopted and are being put into effect. Mr. Hoover estimates the eventual economies resulting from these recommendations at upwards of $3 billion a year. He adds that economies totaling $7 billion can be traced to the first Commission's report.

SAFETY Sayings—

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
 AND Sidelights
 by Vern Sanford
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Flesh-and-blood many hours of debate in the next Legislature session is the steady build-up of proposals and counter-proposals for improving public schools.

Texas State Teachers Association has voted to push a 19-point legislative program. TSTA will go along on most of the Hale-Aikin Study Committee's recommendations, though its own program omits a few H-A proposals and is lukewarm on others.

Most notable difference is that TSTA calls for larger teacher salary raises. Present minimum starting is $3,204. Hale Aikin Committee recommends hiking this to $3,800. TSTA is asking for $4,300 for bachelor's degree holders, $4,200 for those with a master's degree.

TSTA's salary increases would cost some $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year more than the Hale-Aikin plan. Overall, enactment of the Hale-Aikin school improvement plan would cost the state an estimated $110,000,000 a year more than is now being spent.

Other planks in the teachers' legislative platform are specifying changes to expand or enrich school programs—driver education, special programs for gifted children, more funds for small schools, etc. TSTA approved the Hale-Aikin proposal for lengthening the school year, but indicated it would not go all-out for it.

Because they call for new spending at a time when the state already is in the red, no one expects smooth sailing for the school proposals. Governor Daniel warned teachers that he could not foresee available money for all the program. Many legislators are haunted on the one hand by the need to dig up new money just to keep the state in business and on the other by campaign promises not to vote for certain kinds of new taxes. They are inclined to view new spending plans like smallpox germs. On the other hand, advocates of school improvement constitute a large and very active group. And all such efforts gained tremendous new leverage when Sputnik whirled into orbit.

FOR BUSINESS SEEKING—Texas Industrial Commission is asking the Legislature for a $100,000-a-year appropriation to be used in attracting new business to Texas.

Commission voted not to go in to tourist promotion unless asked to by lawmakers.

Proposed budget allocates $16,500 annually for an executive director's salary and $75,000 a year for advertising in national publications. All this activity will be brand new to Texas, made possible Nov. 4 when voters removed a 28-year-old constitutional ban against spending money for advertising.

Commission also announced that it is opposed to any plan of offering temporary local tax exemption as a sort of "prize" to new industries.

BACK TO WORK—For the first time in 1958, Texas non-farm employment broke the three-million mark in October.

Christmas rush and other gains may bring the number of workers to a new record high in December, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

Settlement of 13 labor-management disputes involving 9,749 workers contributed to the October employment peak of 3,001,400.

December's bright hopes are based on expectation of the us-

DOWN MEMORY LANE

(Taken from the files of Lamb County Leader, Dec. 18, 1941)

There was a total of 1,120 farmers who went to the polls Saturday, Dec. 13, and cast their ballots either for or against cotton marketing quotas for 1942.

The All-Stars Basketball team, members of the School Faculty, played the Littlefield High School Wildcats Thursday noon in the gymnasium, when the Faculty won by a score of 28-26.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hilbun and T. A. Hilbun plan to spend Christmas with Mr. Hilbun's mother, Mrs. J. M. Hilbun.

ual retail job increases, more employment in cotton processing due to a high per-acre yield, plus gains in manufacturing, transportation and school employment.

OLD AGE ROLLS SHORTER—Number of Texans receiving old age assistance payments dropped during the past year, but Texas still has a greater percentage of its population on state old age pensions than most other states.

State Welfare Department's report to the governor notes that an increase in the number of elderly persons receiving Federal Security payments is apparently causing the shrinkage in the state welfare rolls.

Despite this trend, Texas has 33.6 per cent of its 65-and-over population on the state pension rolls compared to a national average of 16.2 per cent. Texas' average payments are lower—$47.08 per month compared to the national average of $61.39.

During the past fiscal year the State Welfare Department paid out $125,332,296 for old age pensions. Of this, 30 per cent was state funds, the rest federal.

JUDICIAL REVIEW UPHELD—Persons unhappy with State Water Board decisions may appeal to the courts, but not for a new trial starting from scratch.

State Supreme Court ruled that appeals from Water Board rulings may be considered only in the light of the evidence presented in the original hearing. In so ruling, the high court invalidated a provision in the water code providing for trial de novo (or anew).

At issue was a Water Board decision denying Southern Canal Co. of Houston permission to take water from the Trinity River. An Austin district judge had ruled that he did not have jurisdiction. Now the case can go back to district court for judicial review under the "substantial evidence" rule.

Effect of the Supreme Court decision could be far-reaching if applied to appeals from other administrative decisions. Heretofore, trial de novo has applied to appeals from the State Board of Insurance.

SHORT SNORTS—Jake Jacobson, Governor Daniel's top assistant, will leave this job Jan. 1 to enter private law practice in Austin. Jacobson has been a close associate of the governor since the days when Daniel was attorney general. . . . Texas Employment Commission Chairman S. Perry Brown has been reappointed by the governor for a new six-year term despite protests

Sandhills Philosopher

He's Not Worried About How To Feed More People

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reviews the world population situation this week. We can't tell what his conclusions are.

Dear editor: Most towns in the United States actually would like to get bigger. I don't know why, most of them don't have enough money to take care of the area they've already got. In fact, there aren't over fifteen or twenty people in the world and no cities are in towns that they want to spend, but it's the truth, growth is what most cities are after.

Well, it looks like they're going to get it. I was reading last night in a magazine that the world's population is increasing by 4 million people a year. This from labor groups. . . . U. S. Dept. of Agriculture is recommending a 12 per cent cut in 1959-acreage allotments for spring potatoes in Texas. This would be 7,875 acres for next year compared to 8,900 in 1958. . . . Texas Heritage Foundation President Paul Wakefield has petitioned President Eisenhower for a full pardon for one of Texas' most famous sons, the late William Sydney Porter, better known as "Shirley" story writer O. Henry. Porter was convicted in federal court of embezzlement and served a prison term, but Wakefield declared there is "abundant proof of his innocence. . . . Wayland C. Rivers Jr. has resigned as an assistant to Attorney General Will Wilson and entered private practice in Austin. . . . Texas draft quota for January will be 359 men, the lowest monthly call since December, 1957.

world's population is now two-thirds billion, and at its increasing will be two billion in 50 years.

Clearly, if practically all can hang on for 50 years, there's no room for more here on my farm. It is about all a chamber of commerce or civic booster club do to succeed is to hang a while longer.

However, what interest about these figures was an export gave on which would be enough food for these people.

He said not to worry, to do it, and the reason they said, is "that you offer money for the food, the food be produced."

Now I don't know what farmers this expert is talking with, but we don't have same group. The group, since I'm one of them, we just the opposite fashion don't say, if you'll pay we'll produce this feed what we say is, here's food, how much can you have for it.

And I guess it's as good term as any. It saves a responsibility. When I start going to get for my work, the other hand the co. don't know what I'm producing to eat. This way is responsible for anything sort of like marriage, don't know how their are going to turn out, children don't know how the ents are going to turn out. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Quail Shooters Take To Fields For Big Season

ASIN—Quail kills throughout Texas on opening day seem to bear out the forecast of the heaviest quail crop in the state for many years, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

Because of favorable weather conditions, combined with cover and food restoration programs, quail have been abundant in practically every area of the state.

"Wardens have reported for the last several months there would be a good quail crop," the director said. "Kills during the first few days of the season indicate these reports were correct. Hunters with good dogs had no trouble getting their limit, while many hunters without dogs found shooting to be tops.

"There has been so much cover, however, shooting and finding the birds in many areas has been difficult. Some places the cover is so heavy it is almost impossible for even the dogs to work good. The slight freeze during Thanksgiving weekend improved conditions some. Another good freeze will reduce this weed cover and make hunting easier.

The director also reminded hunters to send in any aluminum bands found on the birds they kill. These bands can be turned over to the local wardens or sent directly to the Austin office. He also requested reporting the killing of any Coturnix quail, whether banded or not, to the wardens. This is an effort to find if there is any wild reproduction of these transplanted birds in Texas.

THIS WEEK In Washington

With CLINTON DAVIDSON

Government officials in Washington this week are arranging their dollar signs and figures in preparation for what now promises to be perhaps the hottest battle of the first session of the 86th Congress.

The issue will be: How much money should Washington plan to spend in fiscal 1960, starting next July 1?

Estimates prepared by the various government spending agencies are being assembled and reviewed by the Bureau of the Budget. Within the next two or three weeks these will be taken in preparing President Eisenhower's annual budget message to Congress.

About all you can reasonably expect now is that government spending estimates will again exceed expected income in fiscal 1960. The excess of spending over income likely will add another eight to ten billion dollars to the national debt.

Spenders on the Spot

You will be hearing lots of talk about government economy, but how here expect any sizeable cut in government spending. Leaders of both political parties concede there is little chance of reducing spending, but each hopes to place the blame on the other for outgo in excess of income.

President Eisenhower's post-election charge that Democrats in control of Congress would mean excessive spending has riled Democratic leaders, including Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, both Texans.

As a matter of fact neither party has any hope of balancing the budget in 1960. Defense and farm program costs being what they are, there is not much chance that the budget will be appreciably reduced. Neither party wants to push for a tax boost.

Decisions by Congress

Two men seldom mentioned outside of Washington in talk about the budget will have more influence over government spending than the President, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Director of the Budget Bureau combined.

The two are Sen. Carl Hayden, chairman of the Senate Appropri-

Income Tax Fax

Questions and Answers About Your Individual Income Tax Report for 1958, as Presented By the Texas Press Association.

Here is a check list of some of the things that you should do before the first of the year if you want to get the most benefit from the exemptions in the 1958 Tax laws:

Real Debts: Be sure you can prove they are bad this year and claim the deduction.

Capital Losses: If you have stock market losses, sell this year to take the loss. Wait—do not repurchase the same or similar stock until at least 31 days after the sale.

Contributions: Pay them to secure the deduction this year. Charities are not deductible. They must be paid. You can take up to 30 per cent in some circumstances.

Dependents: Be sure you can claim them. If you are not providing over one-half the cost of support, see if you can make an arrangement with the others who are helping with the support.

Alimony: Separation payments may be deducted by the husband and included by the wife. You may want to catch up on these payments this year.

If your spouse died in 1956 or 1957 chances are you filed a joint return with her for that year. You can compute your tax as though you were filing a joint return for 1958 if you have not remarried and if you have a dependent child or step-child. You may want to recheck your dependency credits on this.

Sales of your business equipment and business buildings: If you have a loss from such a sale you can carry the loss back for two years and forward for five years, or until it is offset by earnings. If you have a loss that you must take, go ahead and sell it. Both are rated as conservatives when it comes to spending taxpayers' money. Hearings before the Appropriations Committees will begin, probably late in January, and continue into next spring. Government spenders will have to justify every cent they get.

This next is not likely to be a run-away spending Congress and, with the Administration determined to cut cost, it is probable that you will see a greater effort toward strict government economy than in a long time.

this year. You can take the loss against 1956 and 1957 income. and if that doesn't cover it all you can carry it forward to 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Depreciation: You can depreciate new equipment, original in-use with you, under several new business association may be deducted in full. Also all expenses incurred in attending conventions of the Association.

Capital Gains and Losses: Consider offsetting short-term gains with long-term losses, etc.

Medical Expenses: Pay them all this year to get the deduction.

Dues: Membership dues in a

Districtions Cause Most Auto Accidents

The Institute of Driver Behavior has recently published a booklet "Training Your Eyes for Expert Driving" written by Dr. R. A. Sherman, an optical industry authority on occupational vision who has developed vision testing and training programs for the armed forces, industry and driver licensing agencies; Harold L. Smith, director of training, Institute of Driver Behavior, who has supervised the training of more than 25,000 new and experienced drivers; and John J. Cummings, a traffic research director in the automobile industry.

If you are a beginner and would like to become an expert driver, or if you are an experienced driver and would like to test yourself to see how expert you really are, we highly recommend this booklet with its accompanying Road Test Score Sheet (send 17c with self addressed stamped envelope to Institute of Driver Behavior, 1380 Penobscot Bldg., Detroit 26, Mich.) I believe that this booklet points up areas of deficiency some of which are present in most drivers including the most experienced. The road test rating score sheet enclosed with it will help you determine your individual weaknesses.

The IDB lists districtions as the most common direct cause of accidents. Major districtions listed are: 1. Route Problems — looking for street number, parking place, road signs, etc. 2. Mental Disturbances — a fuss with the boss (often spelled w-i-f-e), being late for an appointment, not feeling well, etc. 3. Scenery — like that new hat in the window (the ladies), or that new lady in the hat (the men), anything along the road which holds the attention. 4. Districtions in the car — a spitball in the ear (courtesy of Junior), or excessive conflicting communication from the auxiliary rear admiral (translated: "too much advice from the back seat driver"). 5. Unfamiliar driving tasks — driving above your normal top speed, in unusual conditions such as fog, ice, etc. IDB includes backing up as an unfamiliar driving task. They state that one in four daytime accidents involve a backing vehicle. They also state that few of us practice proper seeing habits in backing up — the correct way to look is to turn head and face to rear, not just glance sideways or into the mirror. Any of these districtions can disrupt even expert seeing habits, which are listed next, let alone the uncoordinated seeing habits of the inept or handicapped driver.

"The five steps in expert seeing" listed by IDB are 1. Aim high in steering — the most common examples of not observing this rule we notice when the driver ahead swings far to the left to avoid a parked car. The driver has committed this error because he has allowed his eyes to become fixed on the parked car as he approaches and passes rather than observe from a distance that the parked car is not obstructing the land and so staying in the lane. This type driver will also hug the "stripe" — or worse, drive with his left wheels on the strips. He does this because he is watching the left edge of his lane a short distance ahead. "Correct steering is simple," says IDB, "all it takes is an occasional quick glance well ahead at the center of your intended driving path. Aim your body for the lane center up ahead. Your car then travels on center in its lane. If the lane is open it is wide enough." The occasional "quick glance well ahead" aims your car — the rest of your attention may then be used in observing the remaining four steps in expert seeing which will be discussed next week.
