C of C Draws Capacity Crowd

Edward Elliott Named Farmer of 1964

Ed Elliott celebrated his fifteenth year in the Littlefield area by being selected as the "Outstanding Farmer of the Year" by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

A working farmer, having approximately 800 acres of land with 120 acres of irrigated cotton and 200 acres of dry land, Elliott was presented the award by Kenneth Ware at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday night.

A native of Lubbock, Elliott attended school at Shallowater and moved to his present farm just north of the Lubbock highway, about three miles east of Littlefield, January 1, 1949.

In addition to cotton, Elliott is a registered Duroc producer. He raises approximately 200 hogs a year and feeds them out with the grain sorghum he also produces. Ed reported that he has only been raising Durocs since 1962. "We started with two sows three years ago and now have 25 to 30". Hogs from his farm have been shown by boys from the surrounding area in local stock shows in Fort Worth. The first ribbon came at the Lubbock show with aboard gaining first place in the third division.

Ed and his wife Audra also raise 15 head of cattle on the farm, which they raise calves from, feed them out and then sell the calves when they weigh about 600 pounds.

Elliott is a very active member in the area livestock shows. "We try to make all the shows in the area and unless it is impossible I get to every breeding sale within miles. I can't make the Winter Congress this year but am already planning on attending the summer sale in Lubbock" reported Ed when asked about his activities.

Audra, his attractive wife is a native of Shallowater and ran a beauty shop in Littlefield until selling out in 1964. They are both active in church affairs and Ed is superintendent of the adult Sunday School classes in the First Methodist Church. The couple have one daughter, Cheryl, who is a student at West Texas State College.

Ed lists his favorite hobbies as skiing and fishing but regrets he doesn't get away from the farm enough lately to really enjoy them.

Troy Armes Outstanding Citizen

Troy Armes, 48, a resident of the Littlefield area for 19 years, Tuesday night was named the "Outstanding Citizen" of the year for 1964, by the Littlefield Publishing Company.

The selection of Armes, who has been very active in the civic and church affairs of the Littlefield area since coming here in 1945, was made by a committee of representatives from the city's civic clubs, Chamber of Commerce, and the city.

A capacity crowd of over 300 persons, in the cafeteria of the new Littlefield High School, heard Dave Kuefler, general manager of the Lamb County Leader and The County Wide News, give a brief outline of Armes' accomplishments, since he came to the area.

The selection of Armes was made on the basis of his contributions to the community through his work in the Chamber of Commerce and the formation and guiding of the Littlefield Industrial Corporation, of which he is president. Armes was president of the Chamber in 1963, the year the industrial foundation came into being.

Armes, who came from Beaumont in 1945, is a native of West Texas, born in Girard, and reared and schooled in Slaton, Texas. After the completion of high school, Armes enrolled at Baylor, and was graduated from the Central Texas school in 1938. For awhile after graduation from Baylor, Armes was a chemist for Magnolia Oil, in Beaumont.

He came to Amberst in 1945, and served as principal of the high school for three years, and then moved to Littlefield, where he was principal of the high school for four years.

Leaving the school administration field, Armes entered the banking field and was vice-president of a Littlefield bank for several years before he and his brother purchased the Chevrolet dealership in 1955. Armes bought control of the dealership in 1957.

The tall, graying Armes has served his community well in all phases of its activities, was president of the Littlefield Rotary Club, and has been a deacon in the First Baptist Church for a number of years. He has served on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce for two terms, and was president of the organization on his last term.

Armes, a truly modest person has preferred, in a number of cases, to remain in the background of several projects that have meant a great deal to the community.

He and his lovely wife Beverly are parents of one child, Barry, who farms one of the farms owned by Armes.

Electors Must Pay Poll Tax

Poll Tax receipts are still below the two thousand mark in Lamb County with the deadline only two days away an unofficial county revealed Wednesday afternoon.

A total of 1,908 receipts have been received at the county tax office in Littlefield with a few more expected in from the sub stations throughout the county.

County Tax Assessor-Collector Herbert Dunn stated the drop can be attributed to two factors. This is an off election year with few races and also some people still do not understand that it is necessary to have a poll tax receipt to vote.

They are confused since the election of 1964 when voters turned down the proposed amendment to do away with the tax as a voting requirement.

Elections set for this year are the mayor and two commissioners races in Littlefield and the School Board members in each school plus a special election for three trustees, one from the Littlefield-Spade area, another in the Springlake-Earth section and one trustee at large. The poll tax receipts also are needed to be eligible to vote in the school election.

There has also been a change in procedure as no income cards were sent to report children's income for 1964 and none will be sent out in 1965 to children who are drawing non-service connected death pensions.

Weather

Mostly fair and a little warmer today through Friday.

WORK IN ACTION — Workmen were busy this week tearing down the fence surrounding the vacant property near the corner of 6th and Phelps. The lot will become an off-street parking area in conjunction with the hooding of the parking meters on Friday.

MOD Mother March Friday Night

The annual Mother March of the March of Dimes campaign will be conducted tomorrow (Friday) night.

Mrs. Hollis Smith, chairman of the annual March has asked that everyone leave their porch light burning for the drive that will begin at 6:30. Mrs. Smith said each year the Mothers of Littlefield conduct the drive to collect funds for the work being done by the National Foundation, which is working to combat birth defects. The contributions the mothers collect will go to advance research into the defects, which each year strike thousands of children, and affect countless homes.

The local foundation is currently working with several local children and families whose lives have been affected by birth defects. Foremost among these is the help that has been given Kimberly Oden, who 7 1/2 months ago was born with an open spine, one of the most serious of all birth defects. Through the efforts of the county foundation, and working with money that has been collected locally, the foundation has been successful in giving the lovely little girl a chance at life.

Medical authorities say the research that has been done in the birth defect field, by the National Foundation has been the prime factor in giving life and purpose to numerous children. Without the advances that research has brought, children, such as Kimberly, would not have lived 10 years ago.

Mrs. C.A. Joplin, chairman of the Lamb County Association said most of the money collected through the drive, and through the cameras that have been placed around town, will remain in the area to help local families. Mrs. Joplin also said, at a meeting called of the local board Wednesday afternoon, the local chapter has undertaken the assistance of another Littlefield child who is in critical condition, from a birth defect.

Kenneth Rotin, chairman of the 1964 MOD campaign, said while the highlight of the annual drive is the Mothers March, the committees used to collect funds for the drive will remain around town until February 7.

City Taxes Due By January 31

Receipts of $122,257 have been received by the Littlefield City tax office through Wednesday afternoon. This is over $40,000 less than is on the tax rolls.

The tax, assessed on property, personal property and oil pumped within the city limits, is due by January 31, otherwise a penalty of ten percent plus interest at the rate of 1/2 of one percent will be added February 1. Tax office will be open through noon Saturday.

Last year's receipts totaled $144,991 and has been increased to $163,387 for 1964. Individuals are required to pay the city tax to be eligible to vote in city elections involving bond issues.

Members of Littlefield, will conduct the annual March of Dimes Mother's March. Of all the numerous charities that are carried out in a community, this is one of the finest, since it goes to combat, not only polio but birth defects. We hope that when your neighbor calls on you tomorrow night, you will support this very worthwhile cause, and will continue to prove Littlefield is a city with a heart as huge as West Texas.

Highway 385-54 Signals Go On

The recently installed traffic signals at the intersection of Highway 385 and Highway 54 will be turned on Thursday morning, announced City Manager J.W. Harrison.

Harrison said the lights will be turned on to help control the increased traffic the intersection has been getting in the last few months.

Police chief F.A. Fitzgerald urged motorists who frequently travel the two city streets to look for the traffic lights, which are mounted on the corner of the intersections.

Social Security Representative Due Here February 11

A social security representative will be at the County Courthouse in Littlefield on February 11 at 9:30 a.m. to answer all questions concerning who must pay the social security tax. Examples of persons who must pay social security tax are employers of persons who earn as much as $50 cash in a three-month period. The job does not have to be regular or full time and bus fare in each does count toward the $50 wage.

He was elected President of the Society on April 28, 1960 and held this position until recently retiring to become the Chairman of the Board. He is a member of the Baptist Church, a Mason, a Shriner and a member of the American Legion.

State Manager E.A. Bowers FIC, of Abilene will act as installing Escort for the new class of officers. They are: Women of Woodcraft Court: Gladys Robinson, Empress; Waldene McKinney, Mistress; Alma Faye Carter, Countess; Marjorie Jackson, Duchess; Dimple Sims, Hostess; Jennie Chapman, Lady-in-Waiting; Jo Beard, Stewardess; Mary McCallie, Secretary; and Inez Minsard, Edith Bridge and Frances Allen, Trustees.

J. RICHARD SIMS ...Board Chairman

The new officers for the Woodmen are Ray McKinney, Consul Commander; Merle Beard, Past Consul Commander; Merrill Gamble, Adviser; Leston; J.F. Minsard, Embler; Marion Williams, Escort; W.T. Jackson, Watchman; Garland Keene, Sentry; Edgar McCallie, Secretary; and Frank Robinson, Mitchell Sison and Floyd Rogers, Trustees.

Week we take our hats to the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce for the work they have done in the past year, especially in the preparations for annual Chamber banquet which was held Tuesday night at the High School Cafeteria. Accomplishments of President Jerry Sanders and his staff are too numerous to list. Efforts in helping Littlefield to grow will be seen for to come. It is wonderful to see a community, such as Littlefield, work together so all may prosper, and the new board of 1964 has worked for community unity, becoming President C.W. Conway, and his board, an equally successful team. We feel the new officers will continue to put their entire effort to help Littlefield grow. We would also like to commend the over 300 persons who showed up for the banquet. Their presence was, what we consider, an indication of interest they have in the history and their Chamber of Commerce. It is only through cooperation, such as has been in the past year, that Littlefield will continue to grow. Chamber is an intangible force that works constantly for progress of a community. It is the one organization that little, other than the community support, but gives much betterment. IT ALWAYS ES TWO, YOUR CHAMBER YOU.

Some of the finest things to start in 1964 was the formation of the downtown redevelopment and beautification project which will come into effect this year. The workers planners of this project deserving of the highest praise, the effect of the project will not be known for several months, but we are interested in the progress that has been made to date, and with interest that has been displayed by the man on the street. We are sure the finished project will be a thing that will give much attention to focus on our town. The only question we have of the planners is... not a 40 foot fence around city to cut down on the dust, such as hit Monday? We feel would be a great addition to a great project.

To all our readers and their friends, we would like to remind you that starting Monday, February 1st parking meters in Littlefield will be hooded, and parking will be free from then on. In city council meeting last week the city voted to discontinue useage of the meters, which have come in for much criticism and comment since they were installed a number of years back. The city is taking no type of traffic control measures but has asked shoppers limit their parking on Phelps to two hours at a time. If the hooding plan is well the meters will be completely removed when the project is started on the downtown street.

Tomorrow night (Friday), the

AND IT BLEW — The sand and dust traveled at 75 mph down Phelps Ave. Monday afternoon during the height of the worst dust storm in the area within the past three years. Damage was minor from the storm, the most serious in the Littlefield area being a tree falling on a 1963 Corvan parked in the Armes Chevrolet lot causing approximately $125 damage.

OPERATION AIR LIFT — Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Smith of Littlefield, are shown boarding a Massey-Ferguson chartered plane at Dallas, bound for the Mexican capital where they saw the unveiling of MF's new tractor lines. At Teotihuacan, "City of the Gods", where sun worshippers tilled the soil more than 2,000 years ago, they saw a dramatic pageant. "Parade of Agriculture". During a visit to Chapingo Agriculture College, they witnessed demonstrations of the new equipment. Massey-Ferguson chose Mexico as the launch site of the new equipment because it is believed that the first corn cultivated in the world was grown in Mexico by primitive sun worshippers.

Job Corps Information Available At Schools

Information and opportunity cards blanks on the President's Job Corps program has been received and distributed by C. Roy Stevens, Lamb County Superintendent of Schools.

Stevens outlined the program and passed out brochures and posters to all school administrators within the county at the school administration meeting held at Amherst Monday evening.

The Job Corps is a national voluntary program that will give youngsters a new chance to help themselves. Young people from the ages of 16 through 21 who are largely unemployable because they lack education and job skills to move ahead will be placed in Job Corps centers where they can develop skills and self-confidence.

The purpose of the Job Corp is to enable youngsters to obtain and keep jobs in which they can advance, return to school, or join the military service. The plan is aimed specifically at one million young people who have not completed secondary education, who have been unable to find a satisfactory job, and whose reading and arithmetic skills range from the 4th to the 7th grade levels. Some high school graduates will be enrolled in exceptional cases.

Centers in rural areas composed of 100 to 200 corpsmen will perform long-needed conservation work on the nation's forests, parks and natural resources. Other occupations for which youngsters are expected to be trained are office machine operator, sales clerk; data processing machine operator; farm equipment operator; meat cutters; machine tool operators; and so on.

Mr. Stevens stated that the recruiting of Job Corpsman will depend largely on referrals by interested individuals and agencies, U.S. Employment Service offices, churches, schools and public and private welfare agencies will assist in the selection process. He has all the information at his office in the Lamb County Courthouse.

Congress has authorized that Corpman may spend a maximum of two years in the program. However, the average corpman or woman will spend about a year. Congress has also authorized that corps members be paid a "terminal allowance" of $50 for every month they have spent in the corps. The trainee will receive $30 a month, room board and his clothing. The corps will arrange for his medical and dental care by local physicians and dentists.

COTTON TALKS

boll weevil control program carried out on the plains was one of the primary subjects discussed Jan. 25 and 26 at the Beltwide Cotton and Mechanization Conference in Atlanta, Ga. by the National Cotton Growers Association. Executive Assistant Donald Johnson, who has become known as an expert "weeviler" since the beginning of the High Plains program, had the discussions, and the fact that so many eyes across the nation are turned to the High Plains is evidence of the tremendous success of the first spraying program in this area. With cotton losses to insect averaging almost $380 million annually and control amounting to another $150 million, and with the boll weevil the culprit in the big end use losses and control it is not surprising that the High Plains program is creating a lot of interest as the forerunner of much effective and economical control methods. With the high level support program in this area, the High Plains can reasonably expect to be free of the weevil within three years with the exception of fighting occasional outbreaks.

the Executive Branch by appropriate members of the Senate and House. According to Ed Dean, who attended the meetings as Labor Relations Representative of Plains Cotton Growers and alternate director of the NCAE from Texas, NCAE recommendations included: "That before the proposed criteria be implemented and wage rates increased above those in effect for 1964, there should be made by committees of Congress most directly concerned with agriculture, a comprehensive analysis of the impact of the proposed criteria on the production of high labor requirement crops in the United States, and on employment in related processing, servicing, and marketing concerns, and "That action be taken immediately to assure that an adequate supply of supplementary foreign labor be available to meet grower needs, in the absence of sufficient numbers of willing and qualified domestic farm workers." This action led to the setting up of hearings before the full Senate Agriculture Committee. Testifying before this committee were the Department of Labor; the Department of Agriculture; the Department of State; grower representatives from California, Florida and similar areas where labor shortages already threaten loss of perishable crops, and J.B. Kirkin, President of the NCAE.

It is expected, Dean said, that the facts gathered at the hearing will be taken to the administration in hopes that the Secretary of Labor can be persuaded to suspend the new regulations and permit the importation of foreign workers under something similar to criteria in effect during 1964.

MEXICO MAKES DESIRES KNOWN Assuming that regulations and prerequisites for contracting Mexican Nationals are made acceptable to farmers, there are still other arrangements to be made, including an agreement with Mexico, before the first worker can actually be imported. The State Department advised Dean that they are now working on language for an exchange of notes with Mexico, and hope to have the exchange complete within two or three weeks.

Terry Leonhardy, in charge of Mexican affairs for the State Department, said among things Mexico has indicated they want are (1) recruitment of workers in the interior of Mexico instead of on the border along, (2) contracts with labor associations rather than individual farmers, (3) acceptable compliance arrangements, (4) minimum guarantees and benefits no less than those under Public Law 78, and (5) adjudication procedures in the event they become necessary. Leonhardy said on such matters as physical examinations for workers prior to entry, the question of Social Security and Income Tax withholding and the amount of Mexico's charge for each worker at the border. Under P.L. 414, which replaces P.L. 78 as the authority for importing Mexican Nationals, there is no provision for the government to operate reception centers for the processing of workers as they enter the U.S. from Mexico, and it now appears that employers would be obliged to operate such centers themselves. Whatever the outcome of Committee hearings and State Department negotiations, it becomes more and more obvious that quite some time will pass before another bus load of eager braceros will wind its way up Devel's River from Eagle Pass or grind by Guadalupe Peak from El Paso to the High Plains of Texas.

AG COMMITTEE'S FARM LABOR SITUATION

an eye to forestalling serious labor shortages and possible crop losses the Senate Agriculture Committee, headed by Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, held hearings in Washington January 15 on the farm labor regulations issued by the Secretary of Labor. The new regulations went into effect at the expiration of Public Law 78 (Bracero Law) December 31, and set forth the criteria farmers are required to observe prior to being certified for contracting of Mexican National or other foreign workers. The criteria increase the required wage offering to domestic workers to $1.15 an hour in Texas and also require farmers to enter into written contracts to embodying free transportation, insurance, housing and other benefits including the old bracero contract. The criteria are felt by growers to be excessive and unreasonable.

DORY FUNK, SR. AND DORY FUNK, JR.

Funks In Tag Match Here Saturday

One of the top tag-team matches ever scheduled in the Littlefield Sports Arena will be on tap Saturday night as the feature event of a double main-event program.

Dory Funk, popular North American Heavyweight Champion and his wrestling son, Dory Funk, Jr. will form a team that will match holds with rugged Art Nelson and Duke Hoffman. It could be the top tag-match ever staged in the Littlefield arena. Funk Sr. and Funk Jr. are two of the most popular grapplers in the Texas-Southwest area and should provide a formidable team. They very seldom team together, but even the most rabid wrestling fan can see the possibilities of such a team. And their task is no easy one. Nelson is one of the best in the business and Hoffman has shown plenty of ring-savvy in past matches here. The match is scheduled for the best 2 of 3 falls with a one hour time limit. The first main-event should be a real doneybrook. It's also slated for 2 of 3 falls with a 60 minute limit and features the villainous Sato of Japan against the equally villainous masked Red Raider. Both of these wrestlers are two of the top men to appear in the South Plains area in recent years. Both have had fantastic success in the area and a match such as this could produce one of the wildest matches ever seen here.

Pvt. Bramlett, Completes Course

Pvt. Ronnie G.T. Bramlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Bramlett, Anton, completed a clerk-typist course at Fort Polk, La., Jan. 22.

During the course Bramlett received training in typing, general office skills, military correspondence and Army administrative procedures. Bramlett entered the Army in September 1964 and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La.

The 19-year-old soldier is a 1964 graduate of Anton High School. He was employed by Jessie's Beauty College before entering the Army.

CHEMICALS AND MACHINES USED TO CUT COTTON PRODUCTION COSTS—In a year-end report, Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist at Texas A&M, said that despite a drop in the state's harvested acreage of cotton in 1964, more acres were treated with chemicals for weed control and harvest preparation than ever before. The number of spindle and stripper type harvesters also showed an increase over 1963. Pre-emergence and post-emergence chemicals registered the greatest increase, he said.

Today, nearly one billion servings of fruit and vegetable juices are consumed weekly in the United States. Yet, only a half century ago, a glass of tomato juice, grapefruit or pineapple juice was a luxury item. There's a galaxy of choices today—familiar or exotic—for the increasingly sophisticated palates of our population.

To keep from crying when peeling an onion, do not cut off the rooted end.

School Dropouts And Labor Force

Some comparisons of the labor force status of young men 18 to 24 years dramatically illustrate the problem of school dropouts, says Mrs. Eula J. Newman, Extension home management specialist.

The plight of the rural school dropout compared with that of high school graduates was especially apparent in occupational roles, the Texas A&M University specialist noted.

Labor force comparisons nationally show that:

1. Seventeen percent of those with less than nine years of school were neither working nor looking for work.
2. More urban and rural graduates than dropouts were in white collar jobs.
3. Rural-farm dropouts with the least education were concentrated in farm occupations.
4. Unemployment was less prevalent among graduates than dropouts.

A national study also showed that about one-third of the males 18 years old and over with a farm background were white collar workers, compared with about half of those who had no farm background.

About one-third of the rural high school graduates and one-half of the urban graduates in 1960 enrolled in college. Higher rates of rural school dropouts, lower scores on aptitude tests, lower salaries and fewer facilities are among factors putting rural schools at a general disadvantage, the study showed.

The outlook for rural youth in the future includes: The importance of social and economic influence on educational opportunities must be considered, for the most desirable and best paid occupations generally are in urban areas. The number of farms will continue to decline, along with employment on the farm. Rural residents from 14 to 24 years of age likely will need 1.1 million new jobs by 1970—thus, education beyond high school will become increasingly important.

Other implications of the outlook for rural youth are that major differences between urban and rural youth in school enrollment will be in the proportion entering college; the consolidation of rural schools will increase; and social problems associated with low levels of education will likely continue.

Accent on Health

A.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

The winter killer - carbon monoxide - takes its toll of lives about this time each year in Texas.

You, too, may be flirting with carbon monoxide poisoning if you make a habit of any of these practices.

Do you drive around in your auto on cold winter days with all windows and vents tightly closed?

Do you sometimes warm up the car engine in your garage without first opening the garage door?

Do you neglect a checkup of exhaust and manifold on your car unless something starts rattling or falls off?

If your answer to any of these questions is "Yes", you are asking for trouble.

Carbon monoxide is an odorless, colorless, tasteless gas that comes from your auto exhaust. In the open air it usually is dissipated without harm to anyone. But in an enclosed space it can be deadly.

Each winter brings reports of deaths from carbon monoxide poisoning. The gas can seep up through the floor boards from a leaky exhaust. The victim becomes drowsy and then "falls asleep." It takes only a short time for an engine running in a closed garage to fill the building with deadly gas.

No one knows how many auto accidents are caused by motorists whose reaction time is somewhat slowed by a small seepage of carbon monoxide into a closed auto. If your exhaust and manifold are in good shape and fitted tightly, you are more likely safe. But it's even safer to leave a rear window open a crack.

While the car is moving you probably can escape danger even with a leaky exhaust. The most dangerous time comes sitting in a parked car with the motor running and the windows closed. This is a frequent occurrence in cold weather when the auto heater is turned on. Always open a window when you're parked with the motor running.

Carbon monoxide poisoning is a serious health hazard.

Remind yourself and your family to be on the alert against this danger.

Here's another disease you can add to your knowledge. It's tularemia, sometimes called "rabbit fever."

Tularemia is one disease people contract from animals. Rarely, if ever, is tularemia carried from one person to another. It is most commonly acquired by handling the carcass or eating the undercooked flesh of infected animals. Bites of sick animals or of insects which have bitten animals also spread the disease.

People have been infected by drinking water from streams inhabited by diseased animals such as beavers and muskrats.

The most common animal victims of the disease are rabbits. However, a variety of other animals - including dogs, cats and squirrels - sometimes become infected, insects and birds are also known to contract the infection.

Tularemia is caused by the germ Pasteurella tularensis. It needs no wound for entry into the body but is able to go through apparently healthy skin. Infection can result from rubbing the eyes with contaminated fingers.

The disease does occur in Texas, where wildlife is plentiful. About 16 cases were recorded during 1964. Every year or so, the record shows a death due to tularemia.

You can reduce your chances of contracting tularemia by following a few simple precautions.

When you are out of doors - hunting, working or hiking - wear clothing with long sleeves and trousers and tight fitting cuffs to avoid as many tick and insect bites as possible.

If an animal, especially a rabbit, appears sluggish and is easily caught by dogs, it is probably sick. Handle it cautiously and destroy it by burning or burying.

When dressing wild game, yellowish spots on the liver or spleen are a sign of danger. Bury or burn the animal immediately if these are present, and wash your hands thoroughly with soap and water and an antiseptic. Wear rubber gloves when cleaning and dressing the animal. Avoid rubbing your soiled fingers. Cook thoroughly. Every few years test for tularemia. Do not let that someone

CHEMICALS AND MACHINES USED TO CUT COTTON PRODUCTION COSTS—In a year-end report, Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist at Texas A&M, said that despite a drop in the state's harvested acreage of cotton in 1964, more acres were treated with chemicals for weed control and harvest preparation than ever before. The number of spindle and stripper type harvesters also showed an increase over 1963. Pre-emergence and post-emergence chemicals registered the greatest increase, he said.

Health Week
Claimed Governor

Honorable John Connally, Governor of Texas, has named the week of January 24-30, 1965 as "Health Week in Texas." Recognition of more than 100 health careers, the program reads: "The health and well-being of the State of Texas is the public interest. The State's health care services, through diagnosis, therapy, and rehabilitation, are of the highest quality to maintain the health of our citizens. The agencies keep abreast of the progress made in the health field and translate advances into services for the people of Texas. We further serve the people through the health care services of professional and technical occupations. We offer rewarding career opportunities to the young of Texas. Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of January 24-30, 1965 as HEALTH CARE WEEK in Texas, in recognition of the great service of the people of Texas and the employees of health care agencies. I further urge the people of Texas to contact a local health care agency for further information."

haven't read your tax returns that you received mail about January 1, it's a good time to start. Are more taxpayers that are missing out on deductions that they are entitled to. Most of us don't like to read, but when it comes to reading your tax returns costs more than you can afford. If you start now, it will be a nice beautiful day for you and your family.

The Neighborhood Corner Grocery Store With Lower Rent and Family Operated Will Save You Money

will save you money.

Speedometer Alloy
Practically all automobile speedometers have components made of a special nickel-iron alloy whose magnetic properties do not vary with temperature. It is used to prevent speedometer errors usually caused by temperature changes.

Judging from an early German cookbook, the burgers of 1500 liked strongly spiced foods.

In shopping around for groceries, meats, and eatables of any kind one will find that the neighborhood grocer has a line of quality merchandise that is equal to most larger stores, and sell at prices just as low, if not lower, than the larger stores. The overhead in most cases for the corner store is a family affair with lower rents.

Such is the case with the Monroe Food Market located at the corner of 5th and Hall Avenue, Littlefield. Mr. and Mrs. A.O. Monroe and son, David operate the store from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. every day.

The Monroe Food Market has been in operation for over a year and in that time have been serving their customers the best in quality foods and at prices that fit the pocket book of everyone.

Mr. Monroe, who does the meat cutting, states that all the beef they handle is good quality, fed out at local feed lots. This way the customer gets a good piece of meat at a reasonable price.

Monroe Food Market carries a complete line of groceries, meats, vegetables, fruits and sundries. It will pay you to shop at Monroe Food Market.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Surprises come fast and furious on the political scene in Austin.

First surprise of the new year was the resignation of veteran Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson.

Then came an even greater one.

Just as the Legislature was about to open and everything was in readiness under the old management . . . presently confronted with problems both old and new . . . Gov. John Connally named House Speaker Byron Tunnell to fill Thompson's old post.

Thompson, once the battling mayor of Amarillo and for more than 30 years a scrapper on the Railroad Commission, had been ill for many months. Only recently he had been moved from an Austin hospital to his home in Amarillo. He had two years yet to serve.

Tunnell is an East Texan. He's the first person from the East Texas oil area to serve on the Railroad Commission in 23 years. He was just beginning his third term as legislator from the Tyler-Kilgore region and expected to preside for a second term as House Speaker.

Immediately upon learning of Tunnell's appointment, Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon, Tunnell's first lieutenant during the 1963 session, began contacting Legislators about the speakership. Barnes already had announced as a candidate for Speaker of the 1967 session.

Simultaneous with Barnes' race for the speakership were similar activities by other House members, either openly or behind the scenes.

This list included Henry C. Grover of Houston, Jack Woods of Waco, Paul Haring of Galveston, George Richardson of Fort Worth and Wilson Foreman of Austin.

There were several other potential candidates. LONG SESSION — Most observers feel the 59th session may run through the summer. Certainly it will dominate the 1965 Texas political scene.

These results seem likely: . . . Lawmakers will spend a record amount of money, much of it to uplift higher education.

Budget proposals of both Governor Connally and the Legislative Budget Board awaited Senators' and Representatives at their capitol desks.

School teachers will get the $45 a month pay raise they are asking. But they will have to figure out who is going to foot the bill.

A few more exemptions are going to be removed from the state sales tax, just enough to balance the budget, but not enough to hurt much.

Commission on Higher Education will be reorganized along lines recommended by Governor Connally. But the successor agency may not get all the power Connally would like it to have.

Stormy hearings will be held over legalizing horse races betting and sale of liquor by the drink. Both proposals may move farther than they ever have before. Maybe all the way.

A congressional reapportionment bill eventually will be adopted. However, it's difficult to see any agreement on legislative redistricting.

Other key issues which will occupy the 59th Legislature are statewide water planning and financing, oil and gas tract pooling, mental health and tuberculosis programs, criminal code revision, judicial redistricting, state property tax repeal, extension of the medical care for the aged program as authorized by constitutional amendment voted on November 3, equal rights for women, gasoline tax exemptions for municipal bus lines, and enlargement of state tourist and industrial attraction programs.

GARY BEING ACTIVATED—Texas Educational Foundation selected Dr. Oscar J. Baker, superintendent of schools at Dickinson, as director of new Camp Gary Training Center near San Marcos.

First group of 37 teachers will arrive at the war-on-property training base by February 1. Then the first 300 students are due in March.

Base eventually will enroll 2,000 trainees in 45 vocational programs and basic education.

COURTS SPEAK — Third Court of Civil Appeals handed oyster fishermen another setback in their suit to keep shall dredgers a long way from live oyster reefs. Court agreed Austin trial court was justified in dismissing suit. This since law did not provide for appeal from decision of Parks and Wildlife Commission which permitted dredgers to operate within 300 feet of reefs (old limit was 1,500 feet).

State Supreme Court invalidated City of La Porte annexation ordinance taking in 12 square miles of land including city of Seabrook and proposed town of Bayshore, but held La Porte home rule charter constitutional.

Court of Criminal Appeals, which overturned first conviction of former Houston Probate Judge Clem McClelland for felony conversion, upheld the second. Court also affirmed bribery conviction of a Houstonian involved in the same case.

BUILDING COMMISSION SWITCH — Governor Connally has yet to take a position on the Texas Research League's recommendation that he turn his job as a member of the State Building Commission to someone else.

But the other two commissioners have indicated they wouldn't mind giving up one job too many.

Commission administers State building construction and operation. This includes the State Capitol and the six buildings now in the Capitol complex. Also, others in Austin and over the State. Recently they recommended construction of another multi-million dollar State office building. Also a new mansion for the Governor.

But the Governor did not support the recommendation he helped make when he revealed his 1966-67 budget proposal.

League suggested that the Commission — now composed of the Governor, Attorney General and chairman of the board of Control — be made over and instead headed by three citizens appointed by the Governor and approved by the Senate.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, who was relieved of some 16 extra board positions by an act of the 1963 Legislature, has indicated he'd be glad to give up another job that takes time from his big job as the State's attorney. Board of Control Chairman Charlie Costes of Chappell Hill says he'll do whatever his Legislature wants. But Connally's staff says the Governor hadn't made up his mind.

HIGHWAY RECORD — Before the end of 1965, Texas will have 1,623 miles of super roads. Total interstate highway system designated for Texas is 3,025 miles.

California, however, leader, has designed state system of 2,170 interstate construction costs $610,000 a mile with about $1,000,000 wide.

WATER CHANGES — Texas League has switched in water planning from the Water mission to the Water ment Board.

League sees Commission role as a water right registration agency.

Initial decisions on water rights needed for the must be made within to assure Texas' growth and prosperity.

League in the first of four reports prepared to finance "able share" of some 000,000 in water projects during the century. It recommends ordering the purpose of state water development can be invested.

COMMISSION WITH OIL — Railroad Commission is having a difficult getting rid of more barrels of oil, impossible cause of illegal production. Some of it has been 1938.

About 70,000 barrels of oil has been stored in Tanks in East Texas to 30 years. State car buyer for it because law prohibits the sale of oil into interstate commerce, says Fred Young of the Commission.

Young said the Commission received some benefit from the Commission's When a well is shut illegal production at the well site. When erators want to use the Railroad Commission let them give the impetus to counties for road free.

Open House Held At Anton Schools

An open house was held in the Anton schools Thursday evening to show the results of an extensive remodeling project. The school plant improvements were financed by a $285,000 bond issue.

The open house visitors toured a new home economics building, a new field house attached to the gym, four new elementary classrooms, and remodeled areas of the auditorium, hallways and library.

The annual PTA chili supper was held in connection with the open house. Approximately 400 persons were served and listened to music provided by Wayne Parrish, Jo Ellen Roe, Zela Teague, Cynthia Webb, and Cathy Roberts. The "Hometown Beatles" featuring Ricky Hertrin, Patricia Byrum, Paula Whitfield and Vicki James also performed.

Following the supper program in the auditorium highlighted the band and singing by the first three graders. School board, president Brad Gilbert and the other members, K.H. Spradley, Bob Biffle, Bobby McGeehan, Thomas James, Douglas Teague and Zade Hopper were introduced.

Peace Corp Test To Be Held Feb. 13

An opportunity for Lamb County area residents to test their aptitudes for Peace Corps service will come at 8:30 a.m., Saturday, February 13, in Room 16 A, Post Office Building in Lubbock.

The opportunity is the Peace Corps Placement Test. It is not passed or failed, but simply indicates where your greatest potential lies. The Peace Corps Questionnaire which must be filled out and brought to the exam unless previously submitted, tells what an applicant has done in the past. But the placement test is aimed at showing what he or she CAN do in the future. Applicants do not have to register for the test ahead of time.

There are two parts to the Peace Corps Placement Test: a general aptitude test and a modern language aptitude test for which knowledge of a foreign language is not necessary. Applicants should plan on about one and a half hours at the testing center, unless they wish to take the Spanish or French achievement test. For this optional test, another hour should be added.

No passing or failing marks are given out, nor will the applicants ever learn their scores.

'We The Parents' Study Course Held Monday

OLTON—"We The Parents", a study course to be presented in five sessions, was held Monday night in the Olton School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

The first session was a panel discussion of ground rules for social life of pre and early teens.

Mrs. W.M. Smith, Jr. served as moderator in the absence of Mrs. Basil Johns.

Panel members were Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Lancaster, Carl McClure, and Dr. O.H. Jones. Following the discussion by the panel, questions were taken from the audience.

Even though the weather was bad, approximately 30 were present for the first meeting.

All interested parents are invited to the next four sessions.

The second session, Monday, Feb. 1 at 7:30 p.m., will concern social activities and personal appearance of the youth. An out-of-town speaker for Lubbock is scheduled to be present for this meeting.

The third session, Monday, Feb. 8, will center around manners and the fourth, Monday, Feb. 15, around dating and driving.

Final session is scheduled Monday Feb. 22 and will be a general discussion of previous meetings.

Following the program, the hospitality committee served coffee and date cake to the parents and teachers present.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Battleground of Justice

Truth emerges. Historian Macaulay once said, "when two men argue as unfairly as possible on opposite sides."

For the moment, let's disregard that word "unfairly." Otherwise, Macaulay put his finger on the essential nature of a typical modern trial. The courtroom is a battleground. The role of the lawyers is not lofty neutrality but frank partisanship. They are not only their clients' advisers but also their champions.

Technically, this is known as the "adversary system" of justice. Far from deploring conflict, it actually relies on it. Just as the haggling of buyer and seller tends to produce a fair price, just as the bickering of liberal and conservative tends to produce a good government, so does the clash of opposing counsel tend to produce a wise judgment. A judge can do his job properly, wrote the late Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, "only with the light afforded by a real contest."

Of course, there are limits. The lawyer who argues "unfairly"—for example, by using documents that he knows are fake or testimony that he knows is false—is flagrantly violating his duty as an officer of the court. He is also flagrantly violating the Canons of Ethics of the legal profession.

But that doesn't mean that opposing attorneys cannot, in all sincerity, offer sharply different versions of the same case to the judge. For facts are elusive. Driving which honestly seemed slow to the defendant motorist may have honestly seemed fast to the plaintiff pedestrian whom he knocked down.

Even when the facts are clear, reactions to those facts may honestly differ. The very same cooking odors, drifting out of a woman's kitchen, may be tantalizing to her own family—and an offensive nuisance to the people in the next apartment.

After all, disputes seldom reach the courtroom unless there really are two sides to the argument. It is the lawyer's task, and special talent, to bring out the strong points for his client and expose the weak points of the opposition. This is not just a service to his client. It is a service to justice.

Zip Code Mail Goes Electronic

Postmaster T.A. Hensens said today he has received word from Postmaster General John A. Gronowski in Washington, D.C. that a big "breakthrough" has now been made on electronic machines to "read" ZIP-coded addresses on mail.

"The Postmaster General said he expects to begin installing these sophisticated new machines in major post offices starting in about one year," the postmaster explained.

Hensens said each machine will be able to sort, as well as read, at the rate of 35,000 letters an hour.

The offices to get the address readers have not been announced, but the local postmaster said they will have significant effects on the mail in and out of each community regardless of whether it gets the new machines.

This is because they will speed incoming mail to smaller offices from major cities and step up the dispatch of mail deposited in smaller communities but which must be processed enroute at major mail massing points.

The postmaster emphasized, however, introduction of the "seeing eye" device next year does not mean ZIP Code isn't useful already.

"ZIP code," he explained, "is important in mail handling under the system of mail processing already in use which will continue to be in use as the basic system at most places. These machines will be just another step — in conjunction with the mechanical mail sorting machines we have developed — to help keep pace with the growing volumes of mail. Neither will the machines endanger jobs — they will only help us meet mail expansion with minimum manpower expansion."
