Mrs. Claude De Van Watta, Austin, attended San Houston State Teachers college with Dalrymple years ago. They are "Lauras" and "Vernon" to each other. She came here to meet the prohibition chief.

Their friendly argument arose while Dalrymple was explaining to reporters the new revenue repeal will bring to the treasury.

dren!" "That's a lot of hooley, Laura!" snorted Dalrymple. "You drags haven't changed your arguments in the last 12 years." Dalrymple, who already had conceded repeal was a certainty, said he advocated immediate initiation of a distilling campaign by American distillers so they will be able to supply the demand for whiskey and other spirits when repeal becomes effective.

Pay Delinquent Tax Or Have No Beer Is Edict For McAllen

McALLEN (UP)—"Pay your delinquent taxes or there will be no beer sold in McAllen."

That was the ultimatum handed prospective purveyors of the nation's new 22 brew by Mayor John W. Ewing of McAllen after studying the city's delinquent tax record.

Mayor Ewing looks to the return of beer as a help in providing cash for the city's exchequer within the next few weeks through sale of city licenses.

"But," the mayor declared "no city license will be issued in McAllen until the licensee has paid his city taxes in full. It may be against the rules, but that rule is going to stick in McAllen. No pay taxes, no sell beer."

Yankees Tied With Senators

Athletics and Tigers Divide Double Bill 7-3, And 10-5

NEW YORK — The Chicago White Sox Wednesday broke through the New York Yankees' defense for seven runs in the seventh inning, then went on to an 8 to 4 victory, a triumph that broke the world champions' successive winning streak of nine games and once again knotted the American league leadership as the Senators turned back the Browns.

For six innings, Brown held the Pale Horse away from the plate with only two hits while his teammates, thanks to Dixie Walker for his tenth home run of the season, had scored two runs and apparently were headed for their tenth straight victory.

After Walker's circuit drive, which was hit with one on, Sam Jones held the Tanks in check until the ninth when they scored two runs on Eddie Farrell's single, Earl Combs' pinch double, a wild pitch and Walker's infield out.

Reversed Decision Causes Row Among 20,000 Fans At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH—A reversed decision in the first game of a double header between the Pirates and New York Wednesday precipitated a near riot among 20,000 fans, the season's biggest Pittsburgh baseball crowd.

The contest was delayed a quarter of an hour while the fans milled around the stands and the players angrily swarmed upon the field.

Not a run had been scored as the Giants came to bat in the fourth inning. With two out, Mancuso on third and Ryan on first, Fitzsimmons slammed a low, hard liner to centerfield.

Fred's Spectacular Try
Tearing in at high speed, Fred Lindstrom, Pirate outfielder, dived and apparently got his glove under the ball for a spectacular catch.

Umpire Barr called Fitzsimmons out, retiring the side and immediately the arbiter was surrounded by gesticulating Giants, protesting angrily that Lindstrom had trapped the ball.

Barr held to his decision until he consulted with Umpire Moran at third who ruled that Lindstrom had not caught the ball.

Police kept the fans in the stands while the debate on the field raged. Moran stood by his decision, however, Mancuso scoring, Ryan going to third and Fitzsimmons getting a single.

George Davis, next up for the Giants, hit a long drive to left center and Lindstrom then had satisfaction of retiring the side by making a remarkable catch.

The Pirates went on to win the game, 4 to 1.

First Feminist In America Subject Of Late Biography

AUSTIN (UP)—A brief biography of Soe Juna Ines de la Cruz de Mexico, so-called "first feminist in America," was recently written by an American at the University of Texas.

Dr. C. E. Castaneda, Latin-Americanist, was the most noted Mexican poetess of the Colonial period, possessed of 4,000 volumes and the most valuable collection of musical and scientific instruments of her day.

She was the first woman in America to "bob" her hair, Dr. Castaneda believes. When the viceroy of Mexico demanded to know why she had cut her hair, she is said to have replied, "A head that has nothing within needs no adornment without."

A bishop's reproval of her interest in literature converted her to a champion of women's rights. Dr. Castaneda found from an examination of the Garcia Collection of Mexican historical material in the university here.

The Mexican poetess was able to read and write at the age of four years, penned her first poem at the age of seven, and had gained a general fame in the arts when she was 14.

Viaduct And Underpass Finished At Dallas

DALLAS (UP)—Three years ago the Lamar-McKinney viaduct was completed at a cost of $500,000 to the city, county and the Rock Island railroad. A month ago a $170,000 approach-underpass was completed to the viaduct.

Neither has ever been used by the public. The city pays one guard, to patrol the underpass at night to keep small boys from defacing its walls.

Nobody knows how long it will be before the underpass and viaduct are put to use—it all depends on the outcome of negotiations between the city and property owners for rights-of-way for a 1,300-foot roadway and a small drainage ditch.

Once the rights-of-way have been acquired the viaduct can be made ready for use within 30 to 40 days.

In 40 days by taking Kruschen Salt, Mrs. Heiga Blum of New York City reduced 26 1/2 lbs.—took 4 inches off hips, 3 inches off bust and 7 1/2 inches off waist. She writes: "I haven't gone hungry a moment—I feel fine and look 10 yrs. younger."

To get rid of double chins, bulging hips, ugly rolls of fat on waist and upper arms SAFELY and without discomfort—at the same time build up glorious health and acquire a clear skin, bright eyes, energy and vivaciousness—to look younger and feel it—take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salt in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

One jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but at trifles at Collins Bros. Drug or any drug store the world over. Make sure you get Kruschen because it's SAFE. Money back if not joyfully satisfied—adv.

Brady Wins City Title

BAIRD MENACE BEATEN IN FINAL SHOW BY ACE NETTER

ABILENE—Leo Brady kept the city tennis singles championship at home Wednesday afternoon by winning the final in four breezy sets from Arch Holder, left handed "foreign" menace, from Baird.

Holder's characteristic comeback gave him the third set and made the fourth close, but he was too far behind when the rally started. Brady, who has won for Abilene high school in both singles and doubles at the annual state meet, and now has had the teaching of Dr. Penick at the University of Texas for two years, raced through the first two sets and was never in much danger. The scores were 6-4, 6-2, 1-6, 7-5.

In spite of the fact that the match went four sets, it was comparatively brief. Few games were deuced and most points were quickly decided. To start the second set Brady ran through four games with the loss of but two points.

Mr. and Mrs. Labun Coleman are leaving Thursday for a trip to Winnboro and Kaufman, where they will visit relatives and friends for several days. They were accompanied by Mrs. Coleman's niece, Miss Louise Bell of Gladewater, who has been visiting here.

Mrs. Tom Ashley has gone to Dallas to visit her daughters.

Same Man Wins First Bale Of County Crop For 44th Consecutive Year

RICHMOND (UP)—It was no occasion for surprise when Nicholas Reyes came through with the first bale of cotton grinded in Fort Bend county this year. For 44 years Reyes has hauled the county's first load of cotton to the gin, and this year's feat was just another in a long line. The 1933 bale weighed 509 pounds and was clasped as strict middling. It brought Reyes $50 to $75 in premiums.

TODAY and TOMORROW

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Post-imp ressions

During the voyage home I have been trying to sort out and arrange the many different views and impressions which I gathered in Europe. A great conference is not unlike a first night on Broadway; not infrequently the audience is more interesting than the play and what is said in the lobbies is more to the point than what is said on the stage. Certainly that was true in London. It was obvious from the start that the authors had provided a plot that not even they found very interesting, and as for the actors, it was only too painfully evident that they had never had a full-dress rehearsal.

Yet there were collected in London a very large number of eminent men, and in the long intervals while they waited for the committee on committees to choose the subcommittee to which the latest proposals to form a committee was to be referred, there was a large amount of honest and penetrating discussion of the real questions which trouble mankind. It is in this exchange of ideas, though they have produced no immediate practical result, that there is a certain compensation for the time and energy and money spent on bringing the conference together.

Under The Dome

By VERNON A. MCGEE

AUSTIN, (UP)—A new state official today sat in the Banking Commissioner's office in Travis county's old courthouse.

The old building has been remodeled by the state government for its use. But E. C. Brand of Sweetwater, successor to James Shaw, apparently does not care whether the room he occupies was once a county clerk's office, or a court room that echoed the harangues of criminal lawyers.

Commissioner Brand does care a great deal for the job at hand, for his four daughters and for fishing. He is a conservative, quietly forceful man of medium build and graying hair. His keen eyes see deeply without staring. He is determined to understand his job thoroughly before announcing the assistants who will aid him in keeping Texas banking on an even keel.

For two days he sat in his office, courteously receiving all callers and "absorbing atmosphere," as he described it.

His chief hobby is not fishing, but getting ready to go fishing. The excitement of getting tackle and sorting hooks, of packing a hearty luncheon and escorting his party off to woods and lakes, is strating what the outcome will be, these discussions are necessarily inconclusive. Generally they end with the American wishing he were back home in the thick of it, for, win, lose or draw, he would not for the world miss so great an adventure, while the European, who has read a lot about human enthusiasms, shakes his head and says that he supposes there is nothing for him to do but to wait and see.

more fun to Banking Commissioner Brand than watching a bobbing cork.

The paths of Amos G. Carter, salty critic of the Ferguson, and of former Governor James E. Ferguson have crossed again, this time in Washington.

As former Governor Ferguson tells the story, he and C. C. McDonald, general of the army that is crusading for repeal in Texas, were sitting in the office of James A. Farley, Farley's telephone buzzed angrily.

The postmaster general stopped the conversation to answer the telephone. He told the part at the other end of the line that he was busy, could not be seen now and finally directed a secretary to cut off the connection.

Ferguson said he later learned it was Carter on the other end of the telephone circuit, demanding an immediate word with Farley even though it was generally known the Ferguson conference with Farley was set for that hour.

The former governor does not believe his enemies have made much headway in disparaging Texas' present administration with Washington officials. "The governor here," said Chief Adviser Jim as he nodded his head toward his happy wife, "represents the laws of Texas, the government of a state. She will continue to do so."

"The Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission was created by the legislature, by the representatives of the people, as an emergency measure. Governor Ferguson holds no balance of power with the commission. It is the representative of the people of Texas, and as such will represent the state in the federal recovery program."

There's not much, former Governor Ferguson believes, that his enemies can do about it.

The public hearing in Washington July 24 on the code for the oil industry may affect Texas more vitally than any hearing at the nation's capital in the last six months.

Sometimes in the next two weeks, Attorney General James V. Alford, who filed the suit for $17,000,000 penalties and ousts of 15 oil companies for violation of Texas anti-trust laws, will be asked what he thinks of the proposed oil code.

He will be asked, too, if he thinks the code would lead to business practices in conflict with Texas anti-trust laws. His answer will be pregnant with meaning for Texas. It may lead to a special session of the state legislature. It may not.

What ever he may answer, his court attack on the 15 oil companies will go on. For once Attorney General Alford begins a fight it continues until the last ditch has been conquered or surrendered.

The Barstow tennis team retained its lead in the western division of the West Texas Tennis League by breaking even with Wink Tuesday afternoon, each team winning three matches. Allen McElvany, Wink, defeated J. A. Hutchinson 6-3, 6-4, D. E. Adams Jr., Barstow, defeated Garrett, Wink, 6-0, 7-5. Irby Lloyd Dyer, Barstow, defeated Thad Holden, 6-0, 6-1, and Paul Jette, Wink defeated Bobbie Avery, 6-3, 7-5. In doubles Avary-Hutchinson, Barstow, defeated McElvany-Garrett, Wink, 7-5, 6-1, and Jette-Holden, Wink, defeated Dyer-Adams, Barstow, 7-5, 3-4, 6-5.

Peccos plays at Wink and Fort Stockton at Barstow next Sunday in the west half.

We were humiliated yesterday to learn that J. E. Payne had allowed himself enough to match a game with the San Angelo Sheep Herders August 26. Those Concho Sheep never have been more than a bluff and are wandering too far from the fold in attempting to tie-up the Cowboys. In case you don't know it Bloney's real name is Bruce, and with all sincerity we warned Bruce to keep his flock close to the fold. Also, we have warned this little butter and egg man not to blow to much, as sometimes it kicks up a nasty sea.

Plans have already been started for Big Spring's third annual invitation golf tournament September 2, 3 and 4.

San Angelo changed the date of its tournament to the same dates as Big Spring. The change really won't hurt the tourney here any but will throw a monkey wrench in the Concho meet as numerous players, who remember the swell time had here in past years, will be right on hand.

The meet will be run sixteen to a flight with a flight provided for everyone. The qualifying rounds will be over on Saturday and the match play started Sunday. The championship match will be eighteen holes.

For those who feel the urge, try Calcutta pool. Maybe its your time to be lucky. Also a grand barbecue feed will be thrown for the visitors Saturday night, and all the fixings will be there too.

MR. ROCKEFELLER'S 94th

When John D. Rockefeller was born 94 years ago, Texas was a struggling young republic. The war between the United States and Mexico was yet to come, as were the war between the states, the Spanish-American and world conflicts. Railroads had just been started on their long and useful career.

At the rate he is going, the elder Rockefeller bids fair to reach a hundred. The world wishes him well, for truly the world owes much to his philanthropy. His life is proof that a man who once was held up as an example of plutocracy may in time be considered, with good reason, one of the real benefactors of the human race.

Every corner of the world has felt the generosity of John D. Rockefeller. His vast wealth has been used to improve living conditions, endow colleges, establish institutions for the relief of human suffering and banish some of the most dread diseases that flesh is heir to.

Correction Of Gas Valuations Urged By Lynn

State Auditor Moore Lynn, in his report on Occupation Taxes—Oil Production and Natural Gas, indicates that the state may be losing a great amount of taxes because of failure to require correct valuations of natural gas for taxation purposes. Two counties, for example, showed wide variations in the values of natural gas and casing-head gas reported for taxation. In one county, as disclosed in the report, the highest price reported for natural gas was one and one-half times greater than the lowest price reported; the highest price for casing-head gas was 14 times greater than the lowest price. In another county, the high price for natural gas was twice the low price; the high price for casing-head gas was five times the low price. Had the state required the highest value for assessing the occupation tax on this gas, taxes would have been increased several thousand dollars in those two counties alone.

The report quotes an opinion from the attorney general which states that all gross receipts taxes should be assessed upon the total "receipts" as defined to mean both cash receipts and accounts receivable.

Imports of natural gas from other states have not been taxed in many cases because they were considered interstate commerce. The report quotes an opinion from the attorney general, which cites a recent United States supreme court case holding that such imports are taxable when gas is run from high-pressure pipe lines into the low pressure lines for local distribution, under the "broken package" doctrine. The report states that additional gross receipts taxes from this source alone should amount to over $100,000.

The report makes numerous recommendations for changes in the tax laws and in reporting procedures to make enforcement stricter. It is suggested that certification of initial oil production by the railroad commission would be of material aid to the comptroller in locating new producers. One case was investigated where a producer secured production on August 6, 1931, and operated for over a year without paying the required taxes or making the required reports. Furthermore, no gross receipts permit was obtained as required by law. The producer referred to was discovered by the comptroller's office through the checking of pipe line companies' reports. Had the railroad commission been required to certify initial production to the comptroller, he would have had notice of this producer's initial production immediately, and could have taken prompt steps to have a permit obtained and effect the collection of the taxes due.

In June, 1932, at the request of the comptroller, the majority of the oil pipe line companies submitted reports of oil runs. According to the comptroller's office, from July 31, 1932, to October 31, 1932, additional taxes in excess of $26,000 were collected as a result of checking these reports and claims approximating that amount were pending, with many reports still unchecked.

Low Water In Boiler Held Cause Of Blast In Station At Omaha

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)—Federal and railroad officials began an investigation of the explosion which blew up the locomotive attached to the Burlington's crack Ak-Sar-Ben Limited as it pulled into the station here Tuesday night, killing three persons and injuring 17 others. Property damage was $200,000.

Engineer C. E. Utter, of Creston, Iowa, and Fireman K. J. Zimmerman of Lincoln, Nebraska, were instantly killed. James McRae, negro station porter, died from steam burns at a hospital three hours later.

All of the injured were expected to recover, the hospital announced.

The explosion rocked the downtown district. Persons walking on the Tenth street viaduct and in the station were hurled to the ground. Others were hit by flying debris which filled the air.

"It simply was a case of failure to feed water to the boiler when needed," an official said. "The men evidently allowed the water to get too low, allowing the crown sheets to become dry and attain white heat."

"When water struck these sheets the tremendous pressure resulting caused the explosion."

W. G. Riddle, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, with headquarters in Midland, spent Wednesday in Big Spring. He has recently returned from a vacation trip to Los Angeles, Calif., where he visited his brother.

Profiteers Warned By U. S. Attorney

FORT WORTH (UP)—A warning to profiteers and an assurance of protection to labor's rights under the national recovery act has been given by Former Gov. T. W. Davidson, of Dallas, and United States District Attorney Clyde Easton.

"We can't have a program like this with profiteers raising their heads like vultures, but by guarding against selfish contractors getting more than their share, labor will be benefited as intended by the president's program," Davidson told an audience here last night.

"Profiteers would be treated as crooks, slackers and deserters," he added.

Fort Worth Sheriff May Get Appointment

FORT WORTH (UP)—Sheriff J. H. Wright prepared to leave here at once for Washington, D. C., to confer on possibilities of his appointment as United States marshal for the Northern District of Texas.

The Tarrant county sheriff has been mentioned for the post since the inauguration of President Roosevelt. Sam L. Gross, Dallas, is present United States marshal. Wright was urged to go to Washington in a telegram from United States Senator Connally, he said.

Easton said his department would enforce to the fullest extent the penalty provisions.

Former Warden Pleads Guilty

AUSTIN (UP)—N. L. Spear, once a warden at the state penitentiary in Huntsville, pleaded guilty in district court here to two indictments charging extortion of fees of office while sheriff of Walker county.

He was sentenced to three years in each case, both terms to run concurrently with a previous sentence for three years on conviction of theft. The theft conviction resulted from the state's overpayment of $1,000 on his fee account through a clerical error. State attorneys claimed the sum was never returned.

Despite the conviction, Spear was free. He was granted a furlough to arrange his business affairs before serving his sentence.

When Better Times Arrington (UP)—D. H. Kibbey, agricultural department chairman, sees definite signs of better times on the farm. An increased number of registration inquiries at North Texas Junior Agricultural College. The number of inquiries from farm boys, he said, was nearly twice that of a year ago. Twelve cent cotton and high-priced wheat will mean that the farmer's son comes back to college this fall, he said.

HOUSTON PLANS EXPANSION OF ITS PORT FACILITIES

HOUSTON, Texas (UP)—The city will spend approximately $150,000 to increase the port's warehousing space and install facilities for more efficient loading and discharging of vessels.

The work will start within 60 days, Russell Wait, director of the port, announced. It will be the first major improvement undertaken by the port commission during the present year.

Judge Says He Wants 260-Pound Negro In Irons Before The Bar

DALLAS (UP)—District Judge Roland G. Williams isn't going to take any chances when he passes sentences upon Jesse Mott, 260-pound negro facing death for the murder of Jones Tatum, night service station manager. "When I pass a sentence on that boy he's going to be in irons," the judge said after viewing the superbly muscled negro in his cage in the county jail. Mott's mood alternately was submissively penitent and surlily defiant. "They'll never take me out of here alive," he said in his cell shortly after he had expressed sorrow over the crime and admitted praying for forgiveness.

war in the District of Columbia fell which didn't count because he had appealed his sentence.

Therein lies a story. Means wanted to be transferred to the Leavenworth Reformatory. Criminals call it "the country club" because there are no walls or cells. Movies, baseball and the like are weekly features.

A Washington newspaper got wind of the situation. Editorially it denounced such a transfer. It said a hardened and unscrupulous man of Means' type should not be mixed with first offenders. It was suggested he be sent back to Atlanta where he did one stretch for whisky conspiracy.

Sanford Bates, heading federal agents, agreed to send him to Leavenworth, Pa., newest of federal hoosers.

Whisky—
 Editorials had nothing to do with a decision. These factors did:
 Lorton officials said privately they were afraid to receive Means. So one yet knows where the $104,500 he got from Mrs. McLean went, they didn't want him offering unyielding guards bribes to do things that might start assorted troubles. Word came up from Atlanta off the record that Gates might get knocked off if he were returned to Atlanta prime residence of criminality. Means seems to be offended some of the toughest incarcerated under-world men and by his phony testimony in the Lindbergh baby trial. Means apparently mentioned names he should have omitted in is offered while Congress is in session.

The same friends say it would be the best solution to a situation which is becoming embarrassing to both Douglas and the administration. As Budget Director he is in continual conflict with certain aspects of the New Deal. The clash of ideas would be minimized in the Treasury Department.

Professors—
 New York comments that Washington showed a sense of humor in naming Prof. James Harvey Rogers and George Warren as co-workers. Both are inflationists but Rogers is a warm advocate of credit expansion and thinks devaluation is the bunk. Warren holds exactly opposite views. They say here it's like asking California and Florida to agree which has the better climate.

Postmasters—
 New York political experts are stunned with admiration for the move to place postmasters under the Civil Service law. They say it will do more to make the world safe for the Democracy than any political stunt that has been tried yet.

The "top three" angle will take care of deserving Democrats. This provides that any one of the three candidates with the highest examination marks may be chosen for the same job. If a Congressman hasn't a candidate who can qualify in top 3 there's something wrong with his system. And once in, the postmasters are in to stay.
 Local observers also point out that this plan will spare Congressmen lots of grief who have several candidates for the same job. They can simply tell the competitors to hop to it and may the best man win. Then the vast national organization which trains its own boys to win in examinations will get off the political necks.

The fact that politicians apparently haven't discovered these angles yet is seen here as one of the smartest aspects of the plan. Half its publicity value would have been destroyed if they had been pleased with it.

Banks—
 A group of industrialists who have no love for the New York banks are planning a stroke which has local financiers worried.

The idea is to establish a new bank in New York which will be kept in such condition that it can advertise that its entire deposits are covered by assets rediscountable with the Federal Reserve. A bank with such a platform could draw plenty of deposits from its competitors—which would please its sponsors no end.

The project is still in the talking stage. Nothing may come of it for some time. But the people behind it are neither bluffers nor pikers.

Mortgages—
 Some lawyers think the abolition of the gold clause may have the legal effect of closing all open mortgages...There will be plenty of excitement if that happens. (Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

They are as strong and solid as steel, he explained tersely. Then he offered a scientific caution.

Wood of Canton, Mass., said that such a proceeding, he added, even if successful, would be highly dangerous, since an atom thus released might cause the explosion of another atom, with possible consequent destruction of the universe.

Outside the realm of scientific guesswork and speculation, however, Dr. Picard expects to learn something of the ultra-violet ray absorption in the atmosphere.

High in the thin metal gondola of the stratosphere balloon, engineers have placed two special quartz glass windows, each about three inches in diameter. Here will be installed a spectograph, which will make a photographic record of the sun at the highest altitude possible.

These photographs will determine, it is believed, the amount of ultra-violet ray present in high, rarified air. This figure, when compared with ultra-violet measurements taken from the ground, will settle the question of the loss of violet ray energy as it travels from the sun to the earth below.

RARE MICE FOUND BY CALIFORNIA EXPERT
 BY CALIFORNIA NATIONAL PARK

Cal. (UP)—A rare species of mice, equipped with pockets in which they carry food, was discovered here by Prof. Joseph Dixon, University of California mammalogist. Prof. Dixon found the little animals on Yuca Point at an altitude considerably above that normally sought by mice.

He described them as part of one of the most interesting "rings" in nature. Seeds of the Yucca plant are scattered by white Yucca moths, picked up by the pocket mice and carried to their burrows, where, forgotten, they take root and grow.

PHILADELPHIA MINT HAD BUSY MONEY SEASON
 PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Lempire and balboa, centimes and centavos, together with American coins ranging from the golden double eagles to one cent pieces, rolled from the Philadelphia mint during the past year.

During the 12 months 22,309,500 American coins, valued at $27,260,220, were minted. In addition, $321,000 Latin American pieces were struck.

Included in the list were 445,500 double eagles, and 1,784,000 eagles, 3,788,000 quarters and 16,322,000 pennies.

For Panama the mint produced 183,000 one-half balboa pieces, 246,000 one-quarter balboas, 250,400 one-tenth balboas, all of silver, and 332,800 nickel five-centesimo pieces.

Japan Stakes All On Plan In Manchoukou

BY MILES W. VAUGHN
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 Copyright, 1933, by United Press

MANCHOU, Manchoukou, July 20 (UP)—The Japanese empire will stand or fall on the success of Manchoukou!

The speaker was a high official of the Manchoukou government, and formerly in the Japanese diplomatic service. He spoke as a Japanese and not as a Manchoukou official.

There are thousands of Japanese in the service of the new Manchoukou "independent state" and I found the attitude of this official typical of their viewpoint. To these men Manchoukou is more than a country—it is a symbol of the greatness of modern Japan.

Chinese, Reconciled

The official went on to explain that resistance of the Chinese population to the new government is decreasing, banditry gradually is being eliminated, and public services improved. A vast plan for the building of Hsinking under way, he said, and national improvements have been started on a great scale. A limited system of national airways, connecting the principal cities of the state by regular air mail and passenger service, already is in operation—a number of new railway lines either already have been opened or are under construction.

The Chinese Eastern Railway, renamed the North Manchurian Railway, is in the possession of Manchoukou and negotiations for the formal purchase of Soviet Russia's interest in the line are going forward.

Japan To Run Railroad

The official admitted that Manchoukou undoubtedly will operate the C. E. R. to suit herself regardless of whether Russia agrees to the purchase plan or not.

"And if Russia should attempt to regain control of the railway by force?" I suggested.

"She will not," he said. "The Soviets do not want war with Japan."

The official was equally frank about foreign insistence on observance of the principles of "equal opportunity" and the "open door."

"Officially," he said, "we will maintain these theories. In fact we are maintaining them now. We are buying a great deal of foreign material other than Japanese, and we are willing to listen to as many foreign capitalists as may come to including 150 localities, rocks were examined by experts. Their tests showed each locality is capable of becoming a commercially profitable quarry for building materials.

For 50 years the area has produced small quantities of stone, mostly granite. The recent survey revealed scores of other kinds of stone and samples of good quality blue-gray and green-gray slate.

"In practice, however, Japan is getting the bulk of the business. The Japanese have every advantage in the competition for trade. We admit that Manchoukou could not live without the support of Japan and it is natural that, since many of us, who are officials of Manchoukou, are Japanese we look to the mother country for what we want.

Japan Has Advantage

"Japan, too, enjoys a great advantage over any other country because of the cheapness of her products, her ability to finance commercial transactions here, and her proximity to this market.

"It is our contention, however, that world commerce and economies will benefit enormously from the creation of Manchoukou, Japan, still is a great importing nation and if we buy goods from Japan it is obvious Japan will buy more from other countries. Japan, for example, has to buy raw cotton in the United States to spin into the cloth she sells here in Manchoukou. R.F.C. Considers Sale Of Million Bales To Russia

Juarez Distilleries May Be Moved To U. S. After Repeal

JUAREZ, Mexico, (UP)—Three distilleries representing an investment of about $2,000,000 may be moved to the United States if the 18th amendment is repealed, owners said Wednesday. They said no definite plans to move will be made, however, until prohibition is definitely repealed, and a study of tariff laws convinces them that Mexican distilleries can not compete in the U.
