ARTHUR P. DUGGAN IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF W. T. C. OF C.

Ernest D. Wade Selected Chamber Manager To Succeed Porter Whaley, Resigned

Arthur P. Duggan will be the next president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, having been chosen Monday afternoon, at Amarillo, at the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, by a 4 to 3 vote of the nominating committee. The report of the convention was open to the convention Tuesday afternoon at Littlefield and was unanimously adopted. Duggan's name was presented by Jess Mitchell in a five minute talk. While his opponent, R. W. Haynie, of Abilene, was placed in nomination by Congressman Blanton. Duggan does so great a distinction as this come to a city of the size of Littlefield, of which its citizens are proud. With her large delegation parading the streets of the host city, headed by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce band, evidenced the enthusiasm manifest by the people for the election of their fellow-citizen. Arthur P. Duggan, who succeeds Col. R. Q. Lee, of Cisco, as president of the organization, is a pioneer of this city. It is largely through his efforts that Littlefield is today one of the most important and thriving towns on the South Plains. His interest in its general welfare is very noticeable and is well equaled in generosity. A full report of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention will appear in next week's issue of this paper.

DUNNING SAYS DAN MOODY HAS A GOOD WAR RECORD

DALLAS, Tex., June 22.—Unqualified endorsement of the war record of Dan Moody, candidate for governor, and the branding as absolutely false and without foundation of the charges that Moody's record is tarnished are contained in a statement issued by Dr. W. T. Dunning of Gonzales, Commander of the Texas Department, American Legion. Dr. Dunning called attention to the practice of the American Legion to following a policy of non-participation in politics and said that the statement was issued solely "in the interest of fair play and in order that the people of Texas may know the truth of the situation arising from these unfounded charges." His statement follows:

"Charges have been made against a member of the American Legion who chances to be a candidate for Governor, that he has a tarnished war record, one unfitting him to be a member of the Legion. These charges, made against this man, Dan Moody, of Taylor, are utterly false and without foundation. The records of the War Department show that Mr. Moody served in the recent war and was discharged at its close. His record is clear and the Legion, requiring as a basis for membership, only this honorable discharge and that a man be of good moral character, the Legion thus feels that it has not been mistaken in admitting this man to membership. His local post at Taylor saw fit to elect him as its first commander and in the interest of fair play and in order that the people of Texas may know the truth of the situation arising from these unfounded charges, this statement is made. The people of Texas are entitled to know the truth and the commander of the Legion feels that it is his duty to give it to them. "The American Legion of Texas heretofore having adopted a policy of non-participation in politics and now continuing to pursue that policy, this statement is here first qualified with the distinct understanding that the Legion as a whole indorses the candidacy of no man, and the commander abides by that attitude."

CACTUS CLUB MEETS.

The Cactus club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. L. Cogdill with Mrs. J. T. Elms joint hostess. The receiving room was decorated with pink rambler roses and tables were arranged for "42" and a number of games were enjoyed wherein Mrs. C. P. Baker won high score. Refreshments consisting of chicken salad, sandwiches, olives, ice tea and sherbet, were served to the following: Mesdames C. P. Baker, J. E. Barnes, T. Y. Casey, J. R. Cook, C. J. Duggan, S. J. Farquhar, W. H. Gardner, W. W. Gillette, J. C. Houk, A. G. Hemphill, D. C. Houk, Charles Harless, Phillips, H. G. Scoggins, Bessie Baze, J. D. Jones, Pat Boone, J. W. Porcher, Hutson, of Dallas, Miss Maxine Connell, of Liberty Hill, and the hostesses. The next meeting will be held July 2, at the home of Mrs. H. G. Scoggins, with Mrs. J. R. Cook joint hostess.

Miss Wilma Henson, who has been attending business college at Amarillo, returned to her home here Saturday. Monday she was accompanied to Lubbock by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Henson, and her sister, Norma, where she underwent a tonsillitis operation.

J. W. Skipworth of Kress spent Sunday here visiting his daughter, Mrs. E. C. Cundiff. He was accompanied upon his return by his daughter, Bobbie Lee, who attended school here the past term, and son, Willis, formerly a student of the Tech College at Lubbock, both of whom have spent the past ten days here visiting their sister.

DUGGAN SAYS TAX QUESTION BIG PROBLEM

A more equitable distribution of the tax is undoubtedly one of the outstanding matters of importance that will engage the attention of West Texas chamber of commerce during the coming year," is the statement of Arthur P. Duggan, of Littlefield. Duggan is vice president of West Texas chamber of commerce, arrived here Sunday afternoon to attend the convention. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the successful efforts that had been put forth by the host city toward entertaining the monster delegation that is now arriving. Under the circumstances of the big oil boom that is on in this section, he declared it to be a herculean task that had been admirably met.

Commenting further on the matter of state taxation, which Mr. Duggan is vitally interested in, he declared, there has been scarcely a meeting of the legislature since Texas became a state but some form of this question has arisen for discussion, and while there have been some changes and adjustments, the matter is still far from equitable solution. Taxes caused the American revolutionary war, and it was a large factor in the Texas revolution against Mexico. It will probably never be settled to the entire satisfaction of everybody concerned, but the conditions in this state certainly are improved. I believe that the coming fiscal year of the West Texas chamber of commerce would be an opportune time for this organization to carry on an educational campaign relative to this matter. Tax surveys, both of contrast and comparison, should be made and I can not help but feel that when the citizenry of this portion of the state become acquainted with the glaring defects, irregularities and inequalities existing, there will be such a pressure brought to bear upon our legislators that prompt action toward an equitable adjustment will be made."—Amarillo Daily News.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Teague, accompanied by the former's father, left Saturday for Panhandle where they are contemplating making their future home. They were also accompanied by Mrs. V. A. Valles, who went to join her husband who has been in that city for the past three months.

A complete change has been made in the management of the bank. Mr. Logan who quits the presidency, has not announced what he will do, though he states that he does not expect to leave Littlefield.

A number of young people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE ON NEW STREET CROSSINGS

A contract was awarded to Albert Neuenchwander Tuesday by the City Commissioners to build six crossings on Phelps avenue, and their construction will begin this week.

This is an effort to eliminate, to a great extent, the difficult crossings along the main thoroughfares of Littlefield, which for some time have been a great hindrance to traffic from points over the city, and especially during muddy weather.

The definite location has not yet been decided, but they will couple blocks 16 and 17, 23 and 24, 30 and 31.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS.

Ladies of the Society Take Boy in Orphanage to Cloth.

By a unanimous vote of the Missionary Society some time ago, it was decided to ask for a child to clothe at the Methodist Orphanage at Waco. Last week a letter was received from the home, advising that the society could have a little boy, Ervin Binner, to clothe.

At the regular meeting Monday the members devoted the time to sewing for him, getting ready a nice box of clothing, which was forwarded to him at once. In a letter from Mr. Barrett, superintendent of the home, the women were warmly commended for their interest in the home.

THAT WOULD HELP.

Doctor: "Well, son, I'll have to give you a tanning for that." "How about a little local anesthetic first, dad?"

The fatter a woman is, the less sympathy she gets when she cries.

20 PER CENT TAX REDUCTION FOR LITTLEFIELD

At a recent meeting of the City Commissioners in call session it was decided to reduce the tax levy of the city of Littlefield from $1.50 to $1.20, a reduction of 30 cents upon the dollar, or a 20 per cent reduction.

To levy $1.00 city poll tax upon all citizens of Littlefield between the ages of 21 and 60 was also decided upon. These two levies will be written into ordinances and passed at the next regular meeting of the city commissioners.

ANOTHER HONOR ADDED.

President Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield is Also "Grandpa."

Announcement has been received here that a baby girl was born Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock to Mr. and Mrs. David Gracy, of Austin.

However, "Grandma" and "Grandpa" Arthur P. Duggan were so busy making preparations to attend the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Amarillo where the former was elected Tuesday to head that organization as president, they have not had time to pass upon the looks of the young lady, but we would make a good bet that as soon as possible the two will be getting their home affairs in shape for a trip to see the new granddaughter.

The following were among the Littlefield people who went to Lubbock Saturday evening to hear Dan Moody speak: Messrs. and Mesdames W. O. Gray, T. P. Wright, T. A. Henson, R. C. Hopping, H. G. Scoggins, J. C. Baker, Claude Campbell and family, D. P. Earnest of Scrapout Ranch; Mesdames S. J. Farquhar, Bessie Baze, Earl Hopping and Misses Wilma Henson and Ann Laura Sawyer of Pampa; Messrs. W. H. Badger, G. M. Shaw, E. A. Bills and J. M. Ferrell. The Littlefield band accompanied the delegation.

Mesdames T. S. Sales and Ray B. Jones left last week for McGregor where the former will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Gardner, and the latter will also visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Graham.

Treatment of Color of House Important

It is rare that a house should present more than two colors, and there should be nothing facetious or faddish about their choice.

A house is lived in too long, and under too many conditions of weather and season, to say nothing of other circumstances, to be extreme in any way. It need not be so neutral as to forego all individuality, but it should on the whole be rather conservative than err on the other side.

The exterior should be neutral enough to serve as a peaceful transition between the surroundings and the interior furnishings and to sit harmoniously and quiet in its own grounds.

If the house is finished with smooth siding, such as wide boards or clapboards, it takes paint, but if it is covered with rough sawed siding, such as shingles or rough boards, stain should be used.

Stain is a thin material and will not successfully tint smooth woodwork, but it does penetrate deeply into the surface of rough wood. These are technically known as shingle stains, although they may be applied just as well to any wood or rough surface whether shingles or boards.

Paint should be used on smooth siding and trim where it will produce a film of weather resisting material on the outside of the boards, penetrating slightly into the wood fiber.

Planning Adopted by Kansas City Praised

Probably the most successful work of city planning, as well as one of the most extensive and beautiful residential communities in the United States, in the Country club district in Kansas City. The story of this remarkable achievement of its originator, J. C. Nichols, has often been told—among other places, in this magazine. But it deserves an occasional remembrance, says World's Work.

Mr. Nichols has demonstrated that beauty and good taste can be made to pay for he has been consistently successful over a period of 15 years. This community is growing in population at the rate of 2,500 a year. Automobile parking spaces that do not look ragged, accommodations for the unloading of motor trucks at retail stores without having the trucks harass traffic or be in sight at all while standing still, gasoline stations that are not ugly or loud—these, and a dozen other things that ordinarily contrive to spoil the most desirable neighborhood, have been brought under the control of art and robbed of their power to destroy the beauty of the scene.

Explaining Increase in Individual Homes

The average American man with a family is either living in a home of his own, or is looking forward to the time when he can do so. A rented house or a city apartment in most cases provides a temporary home only until such time as the head of the house can afford the privilege of firing his own furnace, mowing his own lawn, and patching his own back-door steps.

This explains the constant increase in individual homes. Nobody needs to read up on building statistics to learn that there is a constant increase in sturdy, well-built houses. Go into any large city and ride around the fringe and one will find the landscape cluttered with partly completed houses. A little further out will be found subdivisions waiting for the building wave which will soon engulf them.

Luminous House Numbers

New innovations or adaptations to new uses of existing ones are without end in the building industry. An interesting application of luminous material to house numbers is one of the latest additions to the home owner's convenience. This is a number deeply embossed in an aluminum plaque 2 1/4 by 3 1/4 inches, the upper surface being coated with black enamel and baked, the lower surface being given a scratchbrush finish. Then the center portion is coated with a good quality of "Eudark" redium-luminous material. This is then inclosed in an aluminum frame with clear glass.

To Beautify Highway

In order to beautify and shade the main highways of the province of Quebec that are without trees, the provincial government authorities are planting 300,000 trees this year. In addition to beautifying the highways and providing shade in the summer months, the trees will help to preserve the roads by protecting them, to some extent, from the elements.

Facilities for Pleasure

More and more, as wealth increases and leisure widens, superior facilities for pleasure are an asset of immense value to cities, states and even entire countries. As Florida and California capitalize their winter sunshine and warmth so Canada, New England and the Rocky mountain states turn their summer coolness into mints for cooling gold. Places that possess real advantages for good times are unwise if they do not make the most of them.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

These are the things that ye shall do: Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbor; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates.—Zechariah 8:16.

The firmest and noblest ground on which people can live is truth; the real with the real; a ground on which nothing is assumed.—Emerson.

A SUMMERLESS YEAR

We've had a wide variety of weather around Littlefield for the first five months of this year; but we are now far enough in June for real summertime to be showing itself, which makes us feel better than ever that we live on the South Plains of Texas where the humidity never comes and the nights are always pleasant for sleeping.

Many sections of the United States are complaining of backward vegetation, killing frosts have been reported in several sections as late as the first week in June, but out here crop conditions could not be more favorable.

It may be that some of our readers will recall the prediction made by a Chicago man early last fall that the year 1926 would be "a year without a summer." Possibly they smiled at such an assertion when they read it; there may still be people in other sections who think he was a good guesser, but out here summer is coming on rapidly. After all the man who prophesies about Texas weather may be "either a fool or a stranger."

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McCaskill were among the Littlefield people attending the big convention at Amarillo the first of the week.

FARMING AND CONGRESS

Washington reports the senate has shelved farm relief legislation, which will probably cause most farmers around Littlefield to breathe a sigh of relief. The farmer knows he is not going to get something for nothing through any relief measure before congress. As a matter of fact, he never expected it. He knew if he did get it it would be a new way for getting into debt, not getting out of it. He hasn't been afraid that congress would do too little for him—he has been afraid that it would do too much, and that the proposed remedies, when dished out, would be the work of quacks. In other words, the farmer has all along preferred to be let alone, since the relief proposals that really would have benefitted him have been sidetracked for others that appear to be made up largely of promises. So news that the farmer isn't going to get any new "relief" legislation is more apt to bring a cheer than a tear.

OUR SWEET TOOTH

We are not in position to say whether it was the World War, the "dry" amendment or just a new-formed habit that whetted the sweet tooth of the United States, but we do know it is of interest to everyone to learn that this nation is going to spend a billion dollars this year for candy and ice cream. Just a few years ago it was unusual to see a Littlefield man nibbling at a piece of candy. Today nearly every man has the "candy habit" and can be found eating it as often and enjoying it as heartily as he did in his boyhood. It's consumption is no longer confined to children—every member of the family, from the baby to grandma, is now a candy addict. You can form your own conclusions as to what is forming this nation-wide demand for sweets. We'll confess we don't know. But we do know this, and you'll probably feel the same way about it, and that is that if we had been able to peer into the future we'd certainly have picked out the candy business instead of the one we're in.

A GOOD BUY

We've preached all along the value of investing in real estate; we are still of the belief that no man in Littlefield can make a mistake in owning a piece of mother earth. Now we are going to offer proof that it pays by pointing out that just 49 years ago Uncle Sam bought Alaska for exactly $7,200,000. Last year this country's total revenue from Alaska amounted to $71,042,862, or just $33,824,862 more in one single year than the whole territory originally cost. In the 49 years he has owned Alaska Uncle Sam's cash profit from the investment has been over $500,000,000. Of course you can't buy in Alaska, and you can't clean up that big a profit anywhere in the United States. But you can invest a small amount and make as much in proportion—and you won't have to buy outside of your home county to do it.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS

Mrs. Josh Cogdill says the most sensible thing for a woman to do when she gives her husband a letter to mail is to date it two weeks ahead.

Yes, indeed, there's something else in the world besides money," declares Otto Jones. And he says that something else is the poorhouse.

If you happen to see a yellow card sticking in your neighbor's window these days, don't get excited and think they have smallpox—it's just an ice card.

Ralph Dunbar says the reason they have honeymoons before they settle down is the same reason two prize fighters always shake hands before they start pummeling each other. We understand Butler is on his honeymoon now.

A smart alex looking chap dropped in on Bob McCaskill the other day and wanted to know how they measured electric lamps. Bob very promptly replied: "The ordinary kind are measured by candle power, but the bright lights are measured by scandal power."

LITTLE LEADERS

Some time we expect to run across a Littlefield woman who really thinks her husband is as smart as he thinks he is.

There are lots of Littlefield girls who have two fellows—the one she likes and the one who amounts to something.

Maybe the reason some Littlefield men can eat so much is because they've been practising all their lives.

It has nearly gotten so in Littlefield that about the only time a horse gets scared is when it meets another horse.

The real farm problem around Littlefield is how to transfer the crops to the pocketbook in the most efficient manner.

Here's a receipt for Littlefield brides: You can take the wrinkles out of prunes by rubbing them each night with cold cream.

We've found from experience that the Littlefield man who brags about being boss in his own home will lie about other things, too.

When a Littlefield woman says she is a "nervous wreck" it means she has been house-cleaning, but when a man says it, it means the fishing season has opened.

THE PROGRESS OF TEXAS AS MEASURED BY PUBLIC UTILITIES

A glance backward and a look ahead which business men ways take at the beginning of a year shows that Texas has been making progress during 1925. It shows that the prospects for further advancement during 1926 is good.

And in every phase of the review and prospect is seen progress of the several essential public services upon which growth and achievement have depended.

The service of the telephone in this community is one of the items that have made for development here and without which the development of the past year could not have been accomplished. In the outlook for the present New Year this company is expecting to be a major factor in the building of this community still better service to the people.

The service of the Panhandle Telephone system and growth of this community go hand in hand. Our aims and ambitions, if they are right, are identical.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Gertrude Childers, wife of J. P. Childers, died May 31, 1926, age 37 years, 4 months and 24 days. She was born in Alabama and moved to Hill county with her parents at the age of two years. She was converted at the age of 18, and afterwards received the blessing that remaineth to the people of God. She leaves a husband, son, also a father and mother, W. H. and Mrs. L. D. Garrett, six brothers, three sisters and a host of friends and loved ones to mourn her loss. But we are glad to say that our loss is her eternal gain.

So good bye, dear loved one, we will meet you again. Where there is no more sickness, sorrow or pain, But all is peace and joy and love, in that sweet home above. And by God's grace we are coming, too, and join that heavenly throng with you, Where we shall walk the streets of gold, and on our Saviour's face behold. I've heard her talk about that place, where Jesus shows His smiling face. Her suffering here was most intense, but now her joy has just commenced. We miss her in the home each day, since the time she went away. She will never come back to earth again, to suffer death and mental pain. It was Christ who died on Calvary, to pay the debt and set us free. Yes, God so loved the world that He gave his son To finish the work that has been done. She had been living three miles north of Littlefield a little more than two years. She was taken with the flu first, but was almost over it when she had to be operated on for tumor, but was too weak to stand much suffering. Gone, but not forgotten. Sweet memories linger. Written by her mother-in-law and friend, Mrs. Childers and Mrs. Hart. 10-1tp

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 7.

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Section 33 and Section 40 of Article 16 of the Constitution of Texas so as to permit officers of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States to hold public office in Texas.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 33 of Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"The accounting officers of this State shall neither draw nor pay a warrant upon the Treasury in favor of any person, for salary or compensation as agent, officer or appointee, who holds at the same time any other office or position of honor, trust or profit, under this State or the United States; except as prescribed in this Constitution. Provided, that this restriction as to the drawing and paying of warrants upon the Treasury shall not apply to officers of the National Guard of Texas, the National Guard Reserve, the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, nor to enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States."

Sec. 2. That Section 40 of Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"No person shall hold or exercise, at the same time, more than one civil office of emolument, except that of Justice of the Peace, County Commissioner, Notary Public and Postmaster, officer of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States, unless otherwise specially provided herein. Provided, that nothing in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit an officer, or enlisted man of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, or an officer in the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, or an enlisted man in the Organized Reserves of the United States from holding in conjunction with such office any other office or position of honor, trust or profit, under this State or the United States.

Sec. 3. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday in November A. D. 1926, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"For the Constitutional amendment permitting officers and enlisted men of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, and officers of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the Organized Reserves of the United States, to hold other offices or positions of honor, trust or profit under this State or the United States," and:

Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

INTERESTING BIT OF PERSIFLAGE.

A reformer said to himself, "Now that we have almost got prohibition, why not start in on tobacco?" So to the first man he met the next morning he said, "Old man, you smoke too much." The man said, "I do smoke a great deal."

"Do you mind telling me how many cigars you smoke a day?"

"No. I smoke about ten cigars a day."

"How much do they cost you?"

"Twenty-five cents a piece."

"My, that is $2 a day; that is an awful lot of money. How long have you been smoking?"

"Thirty years."

"Two dollars a day for thirty years. That is a lot of money."

He turned round and said, "Do you see that office building on the corner?"

"Yes."

"And if you had never smoked in your life, you might own that building today."

The smoker looked at his questioner and said, "Do you smoke?"

"No. I never touched tobacco in any form in my life."

"Do you own that building?"

"No."

"Well, I do."

"COURTESY AND SERVICE"

GET HAIL INSURANCE!!

In the papers of last Sunday we read of a disastrous HAIL STORM in the City of Dallas that caused an estimated loss of $500,000. Littlefield and community could and might be next in the path of the destructive HAIL. HAIL INSURANCE costs little in comparison to the safety it provides. It is a legitimate production cost when you live in the HAIL belt. It should be reckoned and counted in every year just as regularly as you buy the seed.

WHAT IS THE USE IN MAKING A CROP FOR THE HARDY HAILSTONE TO HARVEST unless you are sure that someone is going to pay for that crop? And if HARDY HAILSTONE reaps, there is just one person who will pay for your crop—he is your INSURANCE MAN.

NOW is the time to talk to him. It won't cost a penny more to invest in hail insurance now than it will to wait a month, and it may mean the difference in debt and prosperity.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO TAKE THE CHANCE?

MOREHOUSE GIVES PLAN TO PROTECT PEOPLE FROM WILD-CAT PROMOTERS

American Bankers Association Official Who Has Exposed Fraudulent Schemes for Robbing Savers Draws Up Set of Rules to Foil Crooks.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE,
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association.

THE solution to the great problem of protecting savings depositors from losing their money in fraudulent schemes is largely in the hands of our bankers. If they will co-operate with those who save they can make it hard for these plunderers to continue business. Hasten the day when our bankers without exception will gladly welcome interviews with depositors who contemplate making investments, will urge an investigation or recommend in the stead of little-known securities investments of unquestioned responsibility. In every case where customers call at the bank excited and nervous over some scheme where by investing a few hundred dollars they expect to make thousands any banker will at once sense the situation.

The banker knows that the depositor is being rushed off his feet, with "Hurry, hurry and get in on the big clean-up!" and it remains for the banker to caution the depositor against such tactics. In order to prevent this all that our bankers have to do is to suggest that their customers make it a rule always to bring high-pressure salesmen to the bank to be interrogated regarding their promotions. This will break up sales nine times out of ten, for high-pressure salesmen invariably avoid being questioned too closely by bankers who know investments.

Rules to Follow

Our bankers should urge this investment slogan: "Investigate before you invest. Consult your banker first," and so indelibly impress it on the minds of their depositors that they will always be guided by their banker's advice in making investments. Sallent points which should be kept before the investing depositor are:

(1) There are three cardinal points to all good investments, namely safety of principal, certainty of income and salability.

(2) Safety of principal is more important than a high yield; the promise of big returns is usually a sign of a risky speculation.

(3) It is like taking a leap in the dark to invest in promotions which are an unknown quantity and for this reason a thorough investigation should always be made.

(4) It is morally wrong, if not criminally so, for any person to invest in any proposition he feels is a skin-game, or which is tainted by trickery or fraud. It opens the way for a favored few to "get in on the ground floor," clean up and get out from under before the scheme collapses. Usually the depositor finds he is not in on the ground floor, there is no chance for him to clean up before the scheme collapses and so he loses all that he has invested.

(5) If a promotion is as good as claimed, it would not be necessary for high-pressure salesmen to resort to all sorts of questionable methods, it would not be necessary to rush a victim off his feet and sign him up before he could interview his banker, but he could be given time to consult others before investing.

(6) The only reason high-pressure pirates go to those who are inexperienced in finance for funds is because they can palm off on them so-called investments which in the eyes of men of experience are valueless.

(7) The glib-talking promoter is not a true friend of the savings depositor but is a wolf in sheep's clothing, he will resort to any kind of trickery to exchange a certificate of stock for the depositor's cash, his glittering promises are fictitious and he is planning how he can entrap his victims and relieve them of their savings and not how he can make good dividends for them.

(8) For every oil well that pays dividends there are many dry holes and abandoned drilling rigs, and for every profitable mine there are many abandoned shafts, and for every successful promotion there are a thousand failures, and because of these facts the savings depositor's chance of winning is too small to justify the great risk involved.

(9) Savers should steer clear of stock, shares or units in world-revolutionizing inventions which are peddled in front of empty stores or sold from house to house or through the mails.

(10) Every novice investor should remember that, as in all lines of business, black sheep have invaded the investment field. They must be shunned, while investment firms and salesmen of responsibility and integrity should be supported.

Let our banks unite in a movement designed to protect the depositor against the schemes of the wild-cat promoter—in a movement that will save our savings depositors from despair and from poverty as a result of having lost all—in a movement that will turn into legitimate investment channels the millions of dollars which are now wasted on fraudulent schemes of one kind or another. The best service a bank can render a novice investor is to keep him from making poor investments by helping him to make good ones.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

How to Lose Your Inheritance

"It is so hard for me to get along in what John left me," complained Mrs. Norris to Aunt Emmy. "Junior wants to get a job, but I always wanted him to go to college."

"Yes, yes, I know," interrupted Aunt Emmy, "but what about this mining stock?"

"I'm coming to that. You see I thought I could invest some of those bonds John left, they yield such a tiny income, in something that would bring real money. I needed more money, so when the telephone rang that day and a man, he had the nicest voice, said he had been referred to me by a friend and wanted to talk over some gilt-edged investments, I told him to come right up."

"His name was Mr. Stanhope. He was so nice. He told me all about the big money people are making in platinum mines. Platinum jewelry is so fashionable now. He said he could let me have some stock in a wonderful mine, and that the company would buy the stock back if I ever wanted my money."

"Have you a statement signed by one of the officers of the mining company to the effect that the company will repurchase your stock?" asked Aunt Emmy.

"Why no—"

"Well, you will have trouble getting your money back. A company cannot be compelled to buy its own stock back."

"Oh, I don't know. Anyhow, I got out my bonds and showed them to him—"

"What, you keep your bonds in the house instead of at the bank!" exclaimed Aunt Emmy.

"Why, yes, but in a box that locks—and Mr. Stanhope said that he was surprised that a woman with the good business judgment I had should be getting such a small income as those bonds paid—scarcely anything. He said that I should make my money work harder for me. He knew I must have good business judgment, he said, because I brought my children up so beautifully. He offered to take the bonds and change them for his stock."

"Oh, Lord!" exclaimed Aunt Emmy, "did he give you a receipt?"

"Why, of course, he was the nicest man. But Junior said after he left that he didn't like him. He said he looked sick. Boys are so funny. Well, I got the platinum stock but Mr. Barnes at the bank says it's no good. He must be mistaken. But I want my bonds back so I came to you for help. And you're always so lucky about your investments."

"Not lucky, just sensible," corrected Aunt Emmy. "Why, oh why, don't you consult your banker, who understands finance before you risk your money? This is not your first loss. Remember that piece of land you bought that was under water?"

"That was different," said Mrs. Norris blushing, "and anyway, Mr. Stanhope is honest, I can tell that."

"If he were honest, he would not have promised you the things he promised. Reputable houses don't send out representatives who make promises about repurchase of stock. Why don't you 'phone your Mr. Stanhope?"

"I did, but he's out of town. I've written, too, but I suppose I shall have to wait until he gets back. It's been several weeks now, so he should be back soon."

Just then the evening paper came. Aunt Emmy glanced at it, then read it attentively. Her expression grew serious. She handed the paper to Mrs. Norris. On the front page was an account of a financial scandal. The house that sold Mrs. Norris her mining stock was involved and the men who ran the business had been indicted for fraud.—A. B. Aymes.

TO PRODUCE CLEAN MILK IN SUMMER

During summer months, many dairymen lose considerable money because of milk souring so that it cannot be sold as sweet milk but must be made into butter or used in other ways.

"Milk is nature's most perfect food," says John A. Arey, dairy extension specialist for the North Carolina State College of Agriculture, "and every person connected with its handling should be clean in his methods. There are few living germs or organisms in milk when it is freshly drawn from healthy cows and the secret of producing clean milk is to keep all dirt and bacteria from getting into it while handling and then to cool the milk immediately."

Mr. Arey states that expensive equipment is not necessary to produce clean milk. The stable should be clean and well lighted. Since most of the dirt comes from the body of the cow, she should be kept clean. So should the hands of the milkers. All containers used in handling the fluid should be of metal and the corners filled with solder so that no crevice is left for milk to lodge and sour. These containers should be first rinsed, then scrubbed with a good washing powder, after which another washing in boiling water should be given.

The milk should be cooled immediately after milking, states Mr. Arey. Inexpensive cooling apparatus may be rigged up by using the spring or well water to which ice has been added. Those dairymen who ship their milk to a wholesale market should use a felt jacket to keep the milk cool while in transit. If the jacket cannot be had, a good burlap bag soaked in water will fill the need.

"If such simple precautions as these are observed," says Mr. Arey, "there is no reason why clean milk, free from bacteria may not be produced and sold."

Charity at Home

"Pardon me, sir, I am soliciting for our Christmas rummage sale. What do you do with your old clothes?"

"Why, I brush them and fold them carefully at night, and I put them on again in the morning."
