

Texaco Finds Oil In Deep Well At Anton

Lamb County appears to have a new oil well this week. It is on the C. R. Kirk lease four miles northwest of Anton, eight miles southeast of Littlefield.

In a drill stem test made Sunday the Texas Company, which is drilling the well in partnership with Seaboard Oil Corporation recovered 88 feet of free oil and 1170 feet of drilling mud heavily cut with oil. Another drill stem test was being made Wednesday. The operator cored from 6459 to the total depth of 6494 and reported that the sample tested from 5 per cent to 80 per cent oil saturation.

The production is from the Clear Fork lime.

The Kirk well is only half a mile from a dry hole drilled to the Clear Fork last month by J. W. Murchison on the Henry Liso Lease. It keeps the Texas Company's record in the county 100 per cent. This operator has not drilled a dry hole in the county since it brought in the discovery well in the Littlefield pool last summer.

The new well is producing from a deeper formation than the wells in Littlefield.

44 Barrel Allowable
The Ida Dalmont, Hewitt Fee No. 1 is pumping again after receiving an allowable of 44 barrels per day. This is less than the allowable for other wells in the Littlefield pool because it is on a 4.8 acre tract.

Sunray was drilling Wednesday at 6503 in its wildcat well on the E. M. Hale lease near Whitharral, after setting casing at 4750'.

George Livermore at 4409' was nearing the San Andres in his 4500' test well on the I. E. Perry lease at Oklahoma Flat.

The Texas Company still has not revealed when it will commence drilling operations on the two wells on the Littlefield school grounds, for which they have had drilling permits for several months. However, work is proceeding on the preparation of a tank battery site nearby.

Larry Cox, third baseman for the JC Little League team, slapped a hit into centerfield in the game with WOW Monday evening. But it was too little and too late to overcome the 19 run lead the Woodmen had piled up. The second place JCs lost to the fourth place Woodmen 25-8. The catcher is Gene Alexander.

W.O.W. Team Moves From Fourth To Third Place Spot

By Charles Duval Jr.

The fourth place W. O. W. team met the second place Jaycees Monday night and defeated them 25 to 8. This gave third place to W. O. W. and dropped the Jaycees' club down to a tie with V. F. W. for second place.

The Jaycees came to bat first, but scored no runs, as the first two players fanned, and the third flied out to third base.

W. O. W. started slugging very promptly and brought in 14 runs in the first inning. Those who crossed the plate twice in this inning were Jerry Koller, Jimmy McGee, Jerry Drake, Gary Burns and Duane North along with Dee Pierce, Gene Alexander, Tom Morgan, and Bobby Glenn, each of whom crossed the plate once. After a total of 19 times at bat the side was finally retired.

The Jaycees again missed scoring opportunities when their first three men went down swinging.

W. O. W. kept their lead as they scored eight more times when Koller, Drake, Pierce, Alexander, Morgan and Glenn came home, and McGee scored twice.

The Jaycees made a valiant attempt to get back into the ball game, scoring five runs at their next time at bat. Those crossing the plate were Max Ball, Johnny Schenck, Mike Eaton, and Paul Keeling. Also "Lefty" Mayberry hit a home run to score and improve the Jaycees' morale.

W. O. W. only got two runs in the next half inning as their batsmen fanned, flied out, or died on base.

Ball got another hit for Jaycees and came home to score in their half of the inning. Mayberry knocked another home run and Ronny Smith scored on a single to end the scoring for the game. The winning pitcher was Glenn; the losing pitcher was Whitson.

Bobby Glenn led the scoring for W. O. W., getting three for four trips to the plate. He was followed by Duane North and Gary Burns, each getting 2 for 3. McGee got 2 for 4 while Pierce and Alexander got 2 for 5.

"Lefty" Mayberry led the Jaycees' scoring with two home runs in two trips to the plate. Max Ball followed him with a 2 for 2 record. Ronny Smith got 1 for 1 and Jody Bussmus got 1 for 2.

Rotary Gives Smith-Badger A Scare But Loses 10 to 6

Smith-Badger again avoided defeat by overcoming a 5 to 0 lead held by the Rotary Little League team at the end of the second inning Tuesday night. They won 10 to 6 in the tightest ballgame they have played.

Rotary was home team and Smith-Badger went to bat first. The first batter fanned; Van Ashely walked and then was thrown out at second, and the third man struck out.

When Rotary's club came to bat Eugene Reeves walked and later scored; the next two batters went down swinging and Bennet Hutchinson got a hit and advanced to second through an error, but the next batter was called out on strikes to retire the side. Smith-Badger didn't get any runs in the top of the second inning as their first three batters were called out in a row.

The Rotarians continued their scoring bringing home four runs before retiring on one strikeout, and two ground outs. Those crossing the plate were Dale Rhades, Bobby Dow, Steve Sallins, (who was hit by the pitcher twice in succession) and Eugene Reeves. Bennet Hutchinson got on first, but did not score.

Smith-Badger brought in three runs in their turn at bat to pull up almost even with Rotary's team. Those crossing the plate Grover Pigrum, Robert Conley, and Rudolph Smith. Robert Moore also tried to reach home but was tagged out by Reeves. Adolph Smith also was on base, but did not score.

Rotary had Carlisle Moore on base during their next period of slugging, but he failed to score, as the side was retired after his failure to reach second base.

In the top of the fourth inning Smith-Badger managed to get Billy Morgan on base but he died at second when the following batters fanned.

The slump in batting was continued by the little Rotarians as they failed to score in the bottom of the fourth.

In the top of the fifth, the Negroes let drive a successful chain of hits and walks. These, together, brought in seven runs. Those crossing the plate were: Moore, Smith, Powell, Smith, James, Hodge, and Morgan. Those on base but failing to score were: Moore, Smith and Powell. These three were called out after Powell hit a home run inside the fence, but the 2nd runner overtook and passed the first runner, causing an out and retiring the side.

Rotary came to bat but failed to score, leaving Jones and Hutchinson on base.

The losing pitcher was Harley Dunn; the winning, Robert Moore. Dunn had a remarkable record for Tuesday's game. In four innings of play he gave up three runs, two hits, and seven walks, and in return he got nine strike outs.

Moore gave up five runs, two hits, and three walks and got five strike outs.

The leading batters for Smith-Badger were Maurice Powell who hit 2 for 3, (one was the homer on which he retired), Hodge, who batted 1 for 2 and Pigrum and Moore, who each had 1 for 3. Rotary led with Spike Jones' 1 for 1 hit, followed by Eugene Reeves and Bennet Hutchinson who each had 1 for 3.

Jack Christian was umpiring behind the plate.

This is the closest Smith-Badger has ever come to being beaten.

Ponies Trim Amherst 8-6

The Littlefield Ponies won an 8 to 6 victory in a 5 inning game Tuesday over Amherst in the broiling afternoon heat. The Ponies had won three games and lost one previous to this victory.

Littlefield went to bat as the visiting team, getting Billy Jeffries, James Goldstone and James Pressly on base with walks. Jeffries and Goldstone scored, but Pressly in an effort to reach third, was thrown out as he attempted to retrace his steps. The next hitter fanned and the third grounded out, retiring the side.

Amherst's first batter grounded out to first; but Don Bowman, the next batter, got a two bagger and scored. Leo Nuttall was walked and later scored; Sherod Fielden hit a single and scored on an error. The next batter fanned and Charles Schroeder got on base with an error but was tagged as he tried for second.

Lupe Gonzales, who led the Ponies in scoring with 2 hits for 3 trips to the plate, hit a solid single off third base line and scored on it further along in the game. Bud Jones was walked but died on third. Bill Schroeder was walked also, but died on base as the next three hitters were called out on strikes.

Amherst failed to score in the coming inning as Paul Yarbrough was tagged out on third and the two men following him went down swinging.

In the beginning of the 3rd inning the first two Ponies grounded out to first, but Donny Austin and Gonzales got hits and scored. Jones again walked and again died on third as the next batter went down swinging.

Amherst's Jerry Gee got on base with an error and scored, but the following two batters struck out. Sherod Fielden hit a three sacker and was brought in by Hutchin Cantrell who got on base with an error himself. The next man fanned and retired the side.

The first man on Littlefield's team fanned, but six boys walked and came across the plate for three scores before the third out.

The first two up for Amherst went down swinging and the next one walked but died at first as the batter following fanned.

Littlefield's Ponies made no scores from this point on out.

Amherst scored only once more in their time to bat. Lupe Gonzales led the Ponies' hitting with 2 to 3 count. Bucey Jones was next with a 1 to 3 count.

Amherst's leading batters were Don Bowman and Leo Nuttall, each with a 1 to 3 count. The highest one was Sherod Fielden with a 2 to 3 count, one being a three bagger.

While everybody looks to see what became of the ball, this Baseman Billy McLalland trots home after another of his frequent home run hits. This one helped the Amherst Independents win another game from the Lubbock Black Sox. The Amherst nine has had an excellent season, losing only two games, and leading the sandlot league in which they are playing. Several members of this squad plan to play with a Springlake team in a tournament at Tulia this weekend.

Golden Rule Farm Prices

The struggle going on in Congress to make farm price supports more sensitive to conditions of supply and demand is a very important issue to everyone on the South Plains.

Except for a little oil, we are almost entirely dependent on agricultural income—all of us. The farmer's income is as important to those who serve him as it is to the farmer himself. We prosper when the farmer prospers and fail when he fails. We are all in the same boat. So it behooves everyone of us to look after that boat. We are going to have to ride it all our lives.

Since the war that boat has been riding high on the waves. For a while it was supported there by its buoyance but for the past two or three years it has ridden high only because it was held there by the combined effort of every American who pays federal income tax as well as every American who buys food and clothing.

And the load on them is getting heavier because we are loading the boat with huge surpluses. We made a bargain with the American people that if they would support our boat high in the economic seas, we would submit to limitations on our production so that surpluses would not overload them. But every time limitations are placed on us we scream until our frightened lawmakers ease them off.

Now under the strain of paying us pretty good prices for what they use, plus over nine billion dollars worth of surplus commodities, our neighbors are beginning to lose patience with us. They have listened to our claim that they cannot prosper unless we do, and they are throwing it back to us, saying that we cannot prosper when they are paying us a good price at the market place, and then having to pay another good price at the government warehouse for a surplus they don't really want.

It behooves us not to make those people too unhappy with us. They outnumber us some four to one. That they want to prosper is obvious by the way they have done so much for us. But the day will come when they will grow disgusted with our greed, if we insist on overburdening them, and then we may lose completely the most generous deal any farmers ever had.

We could submit calmly to realistic acreage quotas, of course, and maybe cure the situation, but we have demonstrated time and again that we will not willingly submit to man-made quotas. We always insist upon and get quotas that continue to pile up surpluses. A much surer and fairer way to deal concerned is to let a more flexible market discourage the high cost producers from producing goods already in over-supply. And that same market that discourages high cost producers will encourage our customers to consume more of our products, instead of letting them pile up.

It is a matter where we should apply the golden rule. If we expect our fellow Americans to consider us, we must consider them. A combination of high prices, high taxes and high storage bins is not doing right by them. In the long run that is going to cost us. What is good for America is good for the farmer, and what is bad for America is in the long run going to be bad for every American. Mounting surpluses are bad for America. We must help find a way to stop them.

My own opinion is that a freer market would be the best and fairest way to cure this problem, but if we no longer have the courage to face the market place, we must, in our own self-interest as well as in fairness to our fellow Americans, submit willingly to realistic production controls.

MAO STUNG AGAIN

Highlights And Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas politicians turned to the grass roots trails, trying to swing undecided votes, as the campaign wound into its final days.

Most attention was centered on the governor's race, in which Allan Shivers and Ralph W. Yarborough flung charges and counter-charges at each other in a dazzling exchange. Some of Shivers' contentions were:

That Yarborough was using "vile methods in an attempt to cover up his ties with the CIO-PAC which was trying to take over the government of Texas."

That Yarborough campaigners had spread false rumors to the effect that Shivers wanted to abolish the orphans state home at Corsicana.

That Yarborough has promised George Parr to call off the clean-up campaign in Duval County.

Yarborough Reports
Yarborough came back with these accusations:

That Shivers had tried to suppress an FBI investigation of the Gatesville school last year.

That Shivers is a "hypnotized Democrat-Republican."

That Shivers had not reported all of his campaign expenditures.

Positive Side

Both candidates, stump speaking in the villages and towns, also had their positive statements to make, in addition to charges against each other, although the latter phase made the most headlines.

Shivers, saying that he was drawing surprisingly good crowds, emphasized his record in office, pointing to more money spent for roads, schools, and welfare programs.

Yarborough pledged improvements in the state government and more money for state services.

He also expressed interest in a state youth program to combat juvenile delinquency, and was critical of the slash in appropriations which wiped out the Community Services Division of the Youth Development commission.

The field representatives of the Commission who worked with local government and groups, and also as parole supervisors for youngsters released from state schools on parole, were eliminated," Yarborough commented.

Delegate Ruling
Texas' Supreme Court has been asked to determine how Democratic delegate strength shall be counted this year.

Significance of the question is that its solution will have a strong bearing in deciding control of party conventions.

Previously the State Democratic Executive Committee had called for computation of delegate strength by considering both Democratic and Republican votes that Shivers received as a cross-filed candidate in 1952.

Anti-Shivers loyalists, backed by two lower court decisions, have argued that the convention strength should be based only on Democratic votes recorded in the last state election year.

It is the first time in Texas political history that the question has arisen.

Drought Aid
John C. White, the state commissioner of agriculture, went to Washington and asked that federal assistance be given to 27 Central Texas counties, hard hit by drought.

White told federal authorities that Central Texas people face possibly the worst crisis in history unless help—in the form of money or rain—comes soon.

Receivership
Into permanent receivership went the General American Casualty Company of San Antonio, so ordered by District Judge Jack Roberts of Austin.

Judge Roberts ordered the company's over 120,000 policies to be cancelled after stating that he had delayed the receivership move in the hope that the firm's officials could reorganize, but that they had been unable to raise the necessary financing for another try.

Red Law

Texas' new anti-Communist ruling that outlaws membership in the Communist Party or any organization attempting to overthrow the government by force may not hold up in court, says Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

Shepperd, who called the legislation the "most inclusive and far-sighted anti-Communist law in the nation," warned state lawyers that a former court ruling holding that control of sedition belongs exclusively to the federal government might render the law invalid.

Shepperd added that the ruling, handed down by a Pennsylvania court, might "knock out all state sedition and treason laws."

Duval County

Shepperd, who called the legislation an order halting the prosecution of Duval County political boss George Parr and several of his associates.

Attorney General Shepperd, halting the ruling which clears the way for action on 28 indictments returned by a special Duval County grand jury, said it "clears the decks for prosecution of the indictments."

It's the Law In Texas

The institution of appellate courts, of which the U. S. Supreme Court is the highest, illustrates how America has tackled the problem of attaining justice. The idea of justice in the abstract is difficult to come by. It is perhaps even more difficult to translate into human conduct and apply in the settlement of individual cases.

How does a case come before an appellate court? If you and your neighbor have a dispute over the property line between your two lots, you would be foolish to go to court for a settlement if you did not believe that right was on your side. Therefore, practically, every civil action that comes before a trial court originates in an honest difference of opinion as to what the law or the facts of that case are.

But right cannot be on both sides; so one or the other of the litigants must be mistaken. When you seek legal counsel on such a question, it frequently happens that your lawyer will advise you not to go to court. Only a relatively small percentage of cases reach trial. The law is clear enough so that among the millions of transactions taking place in the country only a relative few ever result in lawsuits.

But suppose you and your lawyer have decided that your case has enough merit to warrant going to court. The facts on both sides are presented, the lawyers on both sides argue the merits of their clients' cases and the court is then called upon to render a decision. In some cases this decision will be based on findings of a jury. The vast majority of the cases are settled then and there with the decision of the trial judge.

But judges, like all of us, are human, and the law is complicated and subject to varied interpretation. At times the trial judge may err in admitting or evaluating the facts, or in interpreting the law applicable to the facts. Under such circumstances your case may be appealed to an appellate court. Some states have no intermediate courts between the trial court and the state Supreme Court. In such states a case from District Court is appealed directly to the Supreme Court, the highest court of appeal in the state.

In Texas, cases are appealed from a District Court to one of eleven Courts of Civil Appeals. Sometimes the judgment of the latter court is final, as in ordinary divorce cases not involving property. But if the case meets certain requirements it may be further appealed to the Supreme Court of Texas. Criminal cases are appealed directly from the District Court to the Court of Criminal Appeals, which is the highest state court in criminal matters.

Federal cases are appealed from a U. S. District Court to a Circuit Court of Appeals and from there to the Supreme Court of the United States, provided the latter will assume jurisdiction of the matter. When you appeal your case, you ask that the error you believe you have found be corrected. If it was an error, that is what will happen—the trial judge's decision will be reversed.

Sometimes the courts are compelled to decide a question one way because the law says so, but the results bring to light serious defects on the existing law. When such an injustice is discovered, the legislature may remedy the defect by passing laws to correct it.

ARSON REPORTED

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—State Fire Marshal J. T. Underwood Jr., says more Kentuckians are setting fire to their automobiles when they can't keep up their payments.

The arsonist if successful, gets rid of his debt, he points out.

Underwood cited 30 cases of possible auto arson—a jump of 13 per cent over the same period last year.

Texans In Washington

By Tex Easley

* Special Washington Service—Washington, (AP)—If Joseph Robin Groninger, 26-year-old Kilgore College student, achieves his ambition to remain in this country he can thank Sen. Daniel and Rep. Gentry, Texas Democrats, and Selective Service among others. Groninger entered the United States illegally June 30, 1952 "jumping ship" when the vessel on which he crossed the Atlantic from his native Netherland reached an American port.

Since then he has endeared himself to the people of Kilgore and his fellow students. Backing him with signed statements are Mayor E. C. Elder, the Rev. Decker Anderson of the Eastview Baptist Church, President Cruise Strick of Kilgore College, Publisher Charles K. Devall of the Kilgore News-Herald and President D. H. Walk up of the Chamber of Commerce.

Groninger was a prisoner in a German slave-labor camp from November, 1941, to February 1954, when he escaped during an allied air raid. When he jumped ship in this country he headed inland. He said he was looking for a college town where he could work his way.

"He has done every conceivable odd job in order to attend college," Gentry wrote Daniel on Feb. 8, asking him to press for passage of a special immigration bill by the Senate.

"He is industrious, handsome, alert, and interested in everything and everybody. He has been a fine churchman since he has been in America, being a leader in the Eastview Baptist church of Kilgore."

"He has addressed numerous service club meetings throughout East Texas. He has been a fine student, even though the language barrier was quite a handicap. He is by all means the most popular student at Kilgore College.

"Now there is one serious obstacle in getting your bill passed. Robin jumped ship. There is a long standing prejudice on the committees here in allowing a bill to be reported out for a slip jumper."

The measure got through the Senate all right, on June 1, but ran aground in the House Judiciary Committee. As foreseen, it ran aground because of the policy regarding ship jumpers.

But after things were beginning to look pretty bleak for Groninger, something happened that may alter the situation. Uncle Sam drafted him into the army. "That may be the lucky break for him that will turn the trick," said Gentry.

"Some of the House Judiciary committee members have told me but they are willing to override the policy under such circumstances, where the man involved is serving in the army."

FRIENDSHIP LOSES

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—"I'm worried about my buddy," Earl J. Bucher, 21, told police. "He hasn't come home and I think he may have had an accident. His name's Jerry Shore."

Lt. C. J. Novotny said Shore was not reported in any accident. "Maybe he was arrested then?" suggested Bucher. Novotny found that was true.

"Well, I think you got the wrong guy. I'm the one you want on that raffle warrant," offered Bucher. Sure enough, the officer discovered Bucher actually was the wanted man.

"Then you'll let Jerry go now?" "No, we can't do that. He's wanted in Denver on a forgery rap. That's why we picked him up. You just talked yourself into jail, my boy."

BRAKE FLUID GAUGE

DETROIT (AP)—A meter designed to show quickly the amount of brake fluid left in the car has been developed by a Detroit manufacturer. It is mounted on the top of the storage cylinder for the fluid.

One Douglas fir felled in Washington state was 11 feet in diameter at the base, 186 feet high and yielded 71,542 board feet of lumber.

Look again, and you'll see that this is the local delivered price of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan. But — dig a little deeper if you want the real clincher. That's when you find that those few dollars more you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more automobile. They buy a lot more luxury and comfort and solidity — more room, more glass area, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness — including the million dollar "feel" of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability. They buy, too, the most advanced styling of the time, and the great panoramic windshield, and the surety that such fresh-

Polio Foundation Must Have More To Finance Prevention Campaign

Dates Set For Emergency Drive To Raise Funds For New Program

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will stage an Emergency March of Dimes campaign this summer to raise $20,000,000 needed to care for polio patients and to carry on other vital aspects of the fight against polio. It has been announced by Basil O'Connor, president of the national foundation. George White, president of the Lamb County foundation has appointed Ray Keeling chairman of the drive in this county.

The decision to hold the campaign—more to the March of Dimes drive last January than ever before," Mr. O'Connor said. "The amount fell far short of the total sum needed to carry on the fight against polio during the current year."

Mr. O'Connor said the estimate of $75,000,000 needed in the 1954 campaign was established last fall but that it remains completely realistic today. The total is made up of $20,500,000 needed for polio prevention, $28,790,000 for patient care and $25,800,000 for all other National Foundation activities, including research, professional education, administration, medical and community services and other operational expenditures.

"The big new plus factor which has been superimposed on National Foundation economy," Mr. O'Connor said, "is of course our polio prevention program. This includes the polio vaccine trials and a greatly expanded gamma globulin operation. The trial vaccine is the nation's great hope; gamma globulin is our only proven weapon against polio; neither can be abandoned."

The estimate of $28,790,000 needed for the polio patient care, Mr. O'Connor said, was based on previous experience but already early signs point to even-increasing polio incidence in '54. Additionally, he said, the National Foundation is burdened with 67,000 carry-over cases from previous epidemics—the largest such load on record.

"It is obviously impossible to cut back in the field of patient care," Mr. O'Connor said. "That would be making people already stricken with polio pay the price of tomorrow's hope—false hope. We have a polio trust here and it must be fulfilled."

Meanwhile, he said, the National Foundation cannot abandon its search for improved preventive and treatment methods, nor can it cease its support of professional education—the activity which has supplied so many of the nation's polio researchers and therapists. Administrative, medical and community services and other operational activities round out the needs of the current year, Mr. O'Connor said, adding that every effort was being made to cut expenses to the bone wherever possible.

Mr. O'Connor said the fact that the 1954 March of Dimes fell short of the need "was in no sense the fault of our volunteers who turned in a most remarkable job. Their efforts resulted in an average contribution of 38 cents from every American."

"The American people know our cause intimately because of the recent polio vaccine trials," he said. "Our volunteers must let these people know that dimes and dollars given in August will insure that our polio prevention program is carried forward to its ultimate conclusion and that each polio sufferer is assured of the help that he needs."

Sunday school, and says he is going to be like his grandfather Grizzle and be a preacher when he is grown.

Red Killings Resumed

HONG KONG (AP)—Purge and terror seem to be on the flood stage in Communist China. A series of policy statements by the official Peiping Peoples Daily lately call for tightening up against "criminal elements, saboteurs, counter revolutionaries and breaching industrialists and merchants."

Similar statements preceded the slaughters of 1951-52 and lesser killings last year. They seem to reflect break-down of Communist controls, new moves, wavering loyalties, and news of the purges are pouring in from independent sources, many of which say as many as hundreds are being shot at a time in some cities.

MORE MONEY for SCHOOLS

During Governor Allan Shivers' administration more money has been spent for schools than ever before.

The result—better schools, more and higher paid teachers, and better guidance for your children.

Since Allan Shivers became your governor, school funds have increased from 145 million to 211 millions dollars per year. Teachers get $1000 a year more. Your child receives individual attention from 15,000 more teachers.

This educational effort is your child's guarantee of a profitable and happy future. For you it means assurance about his growing-up years. It means a better Texas for everyone.

IN LAMB COUNTY

$701,794.79 was spent for your child's education during the last fiscal year. He got better teachers with higher salaries and an administration that had more money to spend for its needs. Texas veterans received more educational aid.

The money went for other—but mighty important—things too, like school buses and cafeterias with hot noontime lunches. It meant more vocational help for your child. It went for many things, all necessary for a better education for him.

Texas comes first with Allan Shivers

July Issue Of Pharmacy Publication Calls Brittain The '20 Minute Man'

Jimmie Patsy and Jim Tom Brittain, owners of Brittain Pharmacy in Littlefield, were featured in the July issue of Modern Pharmacy in an article by C. L. McLish, formerly with the County Wide News.

The article, entitled "Twenty Minute Man" was written last summer while McLish was employed by the County Wide News. Since the article was written the pharmacy has celebrated another birthday and the total prescriptions filled have passed the 200,000 mark. Jim Tom is now a full partner in the firm after receiving his degree of Registered Pharmacist from the University of Texas. He spent three years in military service during World War II, one and a half years of which were in Germany.

The article, as reported from Modern Pharmacy, publication of Mark Davis company one of the oldest pharmaceutical houses in existence, reads:

"Sixteen years and 187,214 prescriptions ago, M. M. Jimmie Brittain and wife, Patsy, made up their minds to take the plunge and open a pharmacy of their own in Littlefield, Texas. Jimmie and Patsy had very strong convictions regarding their dream of owning their very own store—it was to be a strictly prescription pharmacy; no soda fountain; no variety store merchandise; no ladies' history nothing but prescriptions."

"So, in the face of urgent warnings by well-meaning friends; of solemn advice by financial gages and of sober cautioning by some of their wholesale drug company salesmen as to the risks of trying to build a business at that date in that place, and on prescription only, Jimmie and Patsy proceeded to follow their dream.

"Scrambling together all the wares they could muster, and using their unbounded enthusiasm and optimism to fill in the remaining gaps, Jimmie and Patsy proudly opened Brittain Pharmacy. The fact that their store was simply a hole-in-the-wall, with only a few hundred feet of floor space, did not detract one whit from their great glowing pride in it! Jimmie and Patsy had a vision and a mission now a vision of the finest prescription service that real know-how, hard work and honest pride of craftsmanship could produce; and a mission to guard the health of their fellow plainmen by filling every prescription accurately, promptly, and for a fair remuneration.

"That was in mid-summer 1937 and the present bustling city of Littlefield was only a small unincorporated village whose principal reason for existence was to give the ranchers and farmers a place to handle their horses, together to escape the awful loneliness of the vast, empty West Texas plain country." Franklin D. Roosevelt was starting his second term as President of the United States—the Agricultural Adjustment Act had just been invalidated by the United States Supreme Court—and times were lean, tough indeed on the high plains.

"Jimmie and Patsy operated the store, with young son, Jim Tom, making deliveries with his bicycle. Right at the beginning, Jimmie Brittain started a card file on his prescriptions, a card file doublefile system that is rigidly maintained and kept up-to-date day by day. This card file consists of a card filing system in which an alphabetical card (by customer's name) is kept on every prescription issued. This is in addition, of course, to the regular register and file, and makes it possible for Brittain Pharmacy to put a hand on any one of those 87,214 prescriptions at a moment's notice. Prescriptions numbered 12, 13 and 14 (as well as scores of larger numbers) are still active in the files.

"The past sixteen years have seen Jim Tom Brittain finish high school and return in 1948 from the University of Texas School of Pharmacy with his degree of Registered Pharmacist—and have seen Brittain Pharmacy housed in its own new, modern, air-conditioned building, a building designed and built to the exact needs of Brittain Pharmacy. This new building—one of the town's finest—gives the store a rotunda-like waiting room for the convenience of Brittain's customers... a large air-conditioned waiting room, with comfortable leather-upholstered chairs and divans. The waiting room is liberally furnished with up-to-the-minute newspapers and magazines, some comic books for the entertainment of the younger set, and a Coke machine and cabinet of frozen sweets for those who may become hungry or thirsty.

"When asked if he is content with this tangible evidence of his dream—come true, Jimmie Brittain simply gives a satisfied smile and points to the record: an average of one prescription every 2 minutes over the sixteen years—since he and Patsy took the first cold plunge off the dock!"

Rural Life Improves As Rural Population Declines

AUSTIN, Texas, July 15—Most of Texas' rural areas are losing population but rural life is improving, Assistant Professor Wilfrid C. Bailey of the University of Texas declares.

Latest U. S. census figures show only the irrigation-farming sections of the Texas Panhandle and Lower Rio Grande Valley recorded rural population gains. That means prosperity for all areas, Bailey says. Farming prospects in the Panhandle and Valley are improving. In other rural sections, farms have become larger and marginal have been turned into grazing pastures.

Better roads and transportation have caused larger villages and towns to grow as shopping centers for the larger-farm owners, Bailey explains. Operators of small marginal farms have found better-paying jobs in the shopping centers.

Only the smaller villages have suffered from that change, he says. With today's highways and motor vehicles, a purchaser who once had only time to drive 10 miles to a store now is willing to drive from 30 to 50 miles to shop. New industries in smaller cities also are improving living conditions in many rural areas, allowing farmers to work in factories also Bailey pointed out. An anthropologist, Bailey has made many studies of changing social, economic and cultural conditions in rural areas.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Book to Grow By
Lesson for July 18, 1954

EVERY living thing needs food, whether it's a speck of a creature too small to see without a microscope, swimming around in ditch water, or an elephant. Plants need it. Animals need it. Man's body needs it, but man is more than a body. If all you feed is your stomach, all you will ever be is an animal. Man has a character, he has Dr. Foreman's mind and spirit. Man needs food for his character, his mind and spirit, just as much as he needs it for bone and muscle. Now the Bible is food for the growing Christian, we have been told that a hundred times by preachers, and it is true. But no food does you the slightest good if you leave it in the pantry shelf or in the freezer. Some people's Bibles are so far from a deep-freeze, and stay there. No wonder some people's souls are thin.

'From Childhood Acquainted...'
Most people, when they are grown up, like the foods they learned to eat when children. If you never learned to eat ribbers, or hominy, or squash, or oysters, when you were little, you aren't going to be very fond of them, probably, after you are grown. It is exactly the same way with the Bible. As a rule there are exceptions, of course, the Christians who get the most out of the Bible are those who, like Timothy, were "from childhood acquainted with the sacred writings." The first and best start toward knowing the Bible and loving it and getting the most out of it, all your life is to start it when you are small. By the way, it is never too late to begin committing Bible passages to memory. The best thing Christians can do for their children is to see that they are as familiar as possible with God's book, the book to grow by. A child will not understand all the memories, of course, but he will be laying the foundation for understanding in later years. Then a child can learn, and fathers in the church school are usually taught, how to find things in the Bible. They learn the books in order; they know what is poetry and what is history and what is Gospel, and so on. They can learn to find their way around in the Bible, so to speak, and this is a tremendous advantage later on.

Study Is Hard Work
It cannot be too often repeated: Growing calls for effort. Maturity never comes without struggle. He with the Bible. Food for the soul, food for the character it is, but it cannot be simply dissolved like salt in hot water. If we are to grow by the book of God, we have to struggle. It is not just read it. A few verses read at the sloupest time of day are better than no verses at all, but real Bible study calls for more serious effort. If the reader is interested, he should ask his pastor to recommend some books that his denomination would approve, to help the serious student to get more thorough understanding of Scripture. A Bible dictionary, a Bible atlas, and if possible a one-volume commentary on the Bible are basic helps. Many churches publish day-by-day booklets of Bible passages for every day, and these are useful for devotional hours, but they are often hopelessly out-of-date in the use of Scripture and do not always give the kind of help needed (for example) in studying some particular book like Job or Romans. Certainly every Sunday school ought to make it possible for every teacher to own or at least to borrow the helps needed for a real study of the Sunday school lessons. The reason why so many Christians get so little out of the Bible is simply that they won't not enough time to it.

'Live Wires in an Old House'
One of the most helpful translations of the Bible in our times, J. B. Phillips, whose "Letters to Young Churches" has helped so many to understand Paul's letters, says that in his work as a translator he has often felt like an electrician installing fixtures in an old house and finding live wires everywhere. The Bible is an ancient book; but it is a living book. The writer to the Hebrews thinks of it not as bread, but as a sword. The Bible does more than comfort and strengthen us; it challenges, rebukes, startles us by its divine insight into our darkest hearts. We never grow by the Bible if we never made ashamed by it. Jesus And Your Life

By TOMMY WILLIAMS, Minister

No other fact has influenced the history and the lives of mankind as much as the fact that Jesus Christ lived among men. Many do not recognize nor admit that influence, but it is there nevertheless. A man can no more say that he is completely separated from the influence of the life of Jesus than he can say that the power of the blazing sun has never affected his being. A man may wrap himself in dark garments and make his habitation in a dungeon, oblivious to the fact that the rays of the sun are beaming upon the earth; but still he will not be completely out of the power of the sunlight. The warmth of the earth which keeps his body from becoming a cold statue of ice is due to the sun, and the statement of the Bible remains true that "there is nothing that is hid from the heat thereof."

Jesus is the "sun of righteousness" (Malachi 4:2). Many may veil their eyes; some may hide themselves in the dungeons of unbelief, but even these owe much to the dynamic influence of this one life. His name has been borne before kings and rulers, but it has not been held from the poor and lowly; it has humbled the proud and exalted the meek; it has confounded the worldly wise, but has given understanding "unto the simple." It has rebuked self-righteousness, but has clothed in its own righteousness the pleading, penitent sinner. To all who will accept it, the name of Jesus means salvation of Jehovah, triumph over death and the grade, and eternal life in the world to come.

State Senator A.M. Akin, Jr., Champion of Texas Teachers And Co-Author of Gilmer-Akin Bill Says:

"Governor Shivers has had the best interest of our public schools at heart throughout his distinguished career of public service. The Governor and I have, at times, disagreed over the details involving in bringing about the improvements we both were seeking in the public school system; But I have never doubted, for one moment, his sincerity, his integrity or his ability.

The special session of the Legislature he called early this year to give our teachers a pay increase demonstrated once again his fine, statesmanlike leadership, of which all Texans should be proud. We are going to need Governor Shivers' leadership more than ever during the next two years and I am proud to give him my whole hearted support."
