

Sell Out Seen For Wildcat vs. Tahoka Bi-District Encounter This Afternoon

Coach Mayfield Predicts 'Tough' Encounter; Bulldogs Have Seven Wins, Three Losses; Rally Wednesday

By JIMMY HINE

The victorious Littlefield Wildcats of District 6-AA journey to Tahoka today to meet the co-champion of District 5-AA in the first of area bi-district playoff games. Kick off time is 2 p.m. and indications are the game will be a sell out.

All of 592 reserved seat tickets placed on sale Monday were sold by early Tuesday morning and an additional 240 were placed on sale when Tahoka secured some bleacher seats from Texas Tech.

The LHS band and Pep squad will be seated in some additional bleacher sets provided by Reese Air Force base. The band and Pep squad will leave from the high school at approximately 11:45 Thursday morning. The Pep rally for this bi-district game will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. in the high school gym. Everyone has been invited to attend.

7 Wins, 3 Losses

The Bulldogs of Tahoka sport a season record of seven wins and three losses compared to the Wildcats' seasonal record of eight wins and two losses. The Wildcats have scored 308 points to their opponents 195 while the Bulldogs scored 226 to 140 points.

In conference play the Bulldogs scored 95 to their district competitors' 59 and their only loss in conference play was a 13-13 tie with Post which the Antelopes won on penetrations. Tahoka shared district honors with Abernathy whom the Bulldogs defeated, giving them the right to meet the Wildcats in bi-district playoffs.

To Be 'Tough' Game

Coach Gene Mayfield yesterday commented that the game will be "tough" for the Wildcats.

"Tahoka will be up since we were able to defeat them once earlier in the season. Playing a team twice in one year on their home field has a tremendous advantage psychologically as well as physically. If we had a chance to play Clovis here again this year, we'd be better from that standpoint. But Tahoka will be ready for us since their charges are already fired-up. Think how you would feel to have a second chance at home to defeat the same visitors who liked you before the home folks," he said.

The winner of this game will meet the winner of the Monahans-Comanche bi-district game which will be played at Monahans Friday night.

A RARE AND HONORED GUEST

Editor's Note. Thanksgiving is more than just a day for feasting. It is a day of prayer. Join with us now in this prayer prepared by Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the Littlefield First Methodist church.

"Almighty God, creator of the universe and sustainer of the laws of seed and soil; unto thee we come with hearts full of thanksgiving, because of the abundant spiritual and material blessings thou hast given us. Thou hast given us the soil; thou hast given us seed with life; thou hast given us wisdom to seek knowledge with which to cultivate; thou hast crowned our labors with an abundant harvest of food and fibre. Thou hast given unto us bountifully for ourselves, for our neighbors, and for those dependent on us. Thou hast given unto us providential blessings of freedom, grace, and mercy which we this day enjoy.

"We recognize thy goodness unto us and again renew our allegiance unto thee and proclaim our dependence upon thee. Guide thou us, we pray, in this thanksgiving for harvest, land, and liberty; and lead this nation to acknowledge its dependence upon thee for food, for faith, and for freedom.

"Impel us to build bridges of understanding across ages old hatreds and seeming strife in our world. Strike from the hearts of us and of all thy people, fear and self-righteousness and pride. Direct us in our own beloved land to have mercy and to walk humbly before thee. Shew thy children, while there is yet time, how to live together in hope and peace all their days. This we ask in the name of him who was the sower of good seed in the soil of the live of mankind, Jesus Christ, our Lord.—Amen.

Mrs. C. C. Solesbee led the group in games for the opening exercise. The thought for the day was, "The Lord has done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

Each member was required to come to the meeting dressing in some manner which she had always wanted to dress, but for various reasons hadn't. Mrs. Solesbee wore maternity clothes because the styles have changed so much recently. Many members came comfortably attired in levis and Mrs. Fred Lichte said she had "always wanted to attend club meetings in a formal," so she wore an evening dress.

Nearly News

Fishing was really good at Rockport, Texas, last week for Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cox, 602 E. 7th st. Their report of catches for three days was 139 trout and 50 reds the first day; 83 trout and reds the second, and 98 trout and reds weighing over 100 pounds the third day. There is no limit, anywhere from Palacios to Amador Pass. They have been fishing the area for years.

Mrs. Jessa Roundtree lost her purse Sunday night and didn't have much hope of recovering it, but Monday evening she got a pleasant surprise. James Cooper, employed at Garwood Motors, had found the purse early Monday morning in the Bulva highway and turned it over to the sheriff's office. Mrs. Roundtree said she evidently left it on the fender of her car Sunday night and her husband had driven the car out to their farm, the purse falling off en route.

"I sure do thank Mr. Cooper, there's not many folks who would return such an item," she said.

A recent error in a story about the Luma Chapel home demonstration club said the meeting was presided over by Mrs. Roy Turner in stead of Mrs. Roy Taylor. This certainly startled the club president, she said, because Turner is her maiden name, and although she has lived in this area ten years none of her friends were aware of her maiden name. She said it was an error that could happen incidentally once in a lifetime.

Correct Home Freezer Defrosting Will Give Much Better Operation

When your home food freezer needs defrosting, don't put the big job off. A clean box actually leads to more economical operation and longer life of the unit.

It's difficult to set up a regular schedule so defrost when the sides of the box become frosted with one-half inch of ice or more, says Roy W. Snyder, extension meat specialist.

Snyder explains that ice starts as a blanket over the refrigerating coils. The heavier the coating, the longer the machinery must run to produce a zero degree temperature, the best temperature for keeping frozen meats, vegetables or fruits.

Plan to defrost when the food supply is low. During hot weather, defrost in the early morning, the specialist says. Take care not to let the food stuffs begin to thaw. This will lower their quality.

Two corrugated boxes placed one in the other with the outer box packed with newspapers for insulation will keep foods several hours. A wool blanket spread over the boxes gives even more ideal holding conditions.

With the contents of the freezer removed, disconnect the electricity and open the door or lid. On warm days the ice will melt quickly, but an electric fan blowing in to the box will speed up the process. Use only water from the faucet for cleaning a defrosted freezer, never warm or hot water. When the frost is melted, clean, dry the box start the motor, allow the freezer to cool about an hour, replace the food and the job is done, Snyder says.

A LARGE LITTLEFIELD industry, but probably one that the public knows little about, is the Union Compress and Warehouse co. The firm employs about 60 persons during the height of the cotton season and success of the compressing mill is largely due to excellent teamwork by the employees.

In these photographs you go on a tour of the compress. Photograph No. 1 shows a cotton bale being put thru a small compress. The bale is just as it was when it came from the gin. This compress allows workmen to loosen the bands in preparation for putting the bale in the company's larger compress.

In Photograph No. 2 a workman rushes literally "into the jaws" of the compress to prepare the bale for "squeezing." He has to be quick on foot and dexterous of hands to enable production to continue at a fast clip.

In Photograph No. 3, workmen set the steel bands for the compressed bale. The compress exercises 1,280,000 lbs. per square inch pressure when it comes down on a bale. It requires about 30 men to operate and production averages 90 bales an hour, or 1,000 per day. One-half gallon water, is used to compress one bale through steam pressure which average 135 pounds. It was built in 1900 and installed in 1929.

Anthony Store To Have Button Counting Contest

The Littlefield C. R. Anthony store will soon introduce a contest which requires only that contestants give the number of buttons in a jar in the store window.

Edd Merrell, former dispatcher for the Lamb county sheriff's office, is now working at the Chance Vaught co. in Dallas, according to word received by his parents here.

Store Manager Amos Ward said the display would be set up after Dec. 1.

First prize is a nationally famous Brookfield suit. Any person 18 years or older is eligible to enter the contest except the store's employees and their families. Contestants have nothing to buy, no letter to write, nothing to do but guess the number of buttons in the jar.

The correct answer is in the store's safe, in a sealed envelope which will be announced when the contest ends. The name of the winner will be announced and he will receive his choice of the large variety of Brookfield year-round suits that are on display now.

All this - and more miles per gallon too!

Be sure to test out the phenomenal effect of "variable pitch propellers" in Dynaflo Drive!

So Buick engineers asked themselves—"If you can do it with air, why can't you do it with oil—the oil inside a Dynaflo Drive?" And to make a long story short—they could, and they did.

beyond the full throttle position—and a-way you go!

Of course, there's a lot more to make a visit to our showrooms the "must" of the new-car year.

There's a step-up in styling as sensational as the step-up in power.

And the step-up in horsepower is this: 236 in the ROADMASTER, SUPER and CENTURY—188 in the low-priced SPECIAL.

MAYBE—among the upcoming crop of new 1955 models—there's another car with an advance that can hold a candle to this one. But we doubt it. We doubt it because nowhere—among the rumors of what's cooking in automotive laboratories—is there anything to compare with what's actually happened at Buick.

They designed and engineered the propeller-like blades inside the "stator" of a Dynaflo Drive so they can change their pitch as much as 75 degrees.

But the thrill of the year is Buick's latest engineering "first"—and what it does for the man or woman who drives the latest and greatest Dynaflo Drive.

It all started with the fact that modern air liners get two big advantages because they can change the pitch of their propellers.

That provides one setting for more miles-per-gallon, and another for an instant safety-surge of power when it's needed.

Pay-off on progress!
Buicks today go a lot farther on a gallon of gas, thanks to constant improvement in Dynaflo and in engine design. Even the new 236-hp ROADMASTER averages 4.8 more miles per gallon than Buicks of six years ago.

First, they get off the ground hundreds of feet sooner than they used to.

Second, they can stretch their gasoline by setting propeller blades at just the right "pitch" for cruising.

All you have to do is push the accelerator pedal down to the last half-inch

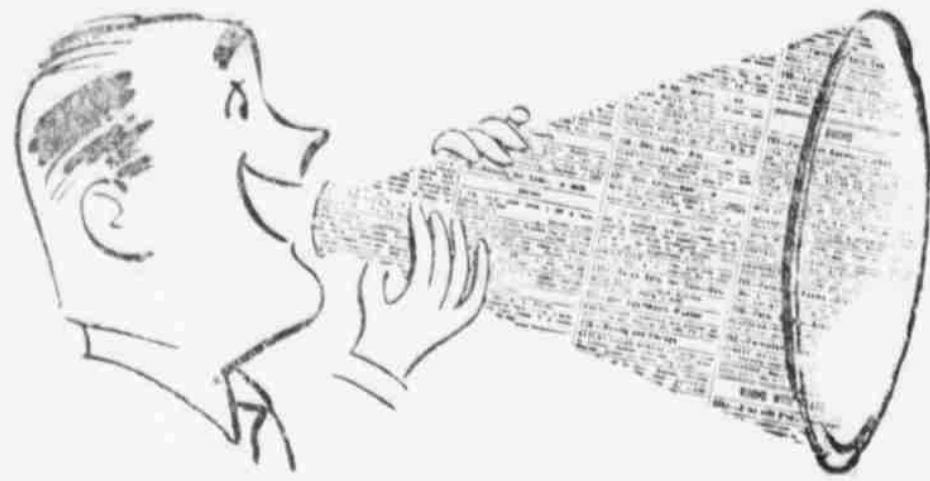

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Applicants For American Citizenship Must Meet Variety of Requirements

Most of us accept with little thought our American citizenship and the rights and privileges it bestows. We might do well to reflect upon what it takes to become a citizen of the United States under our present laws. Many of us would probably be unable to pass some of the requirements if called upon to do so.

One of these requirements is that the applicant for citizenship may be able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the court a knowledge of the Constitution of the United States and the principles which it affirms. In addition, he must show a fairly comprehensive knowledge of the workings and organization of the American government.

W. O. Lindley Hur? In Abernathy Crash

Weldon Otho Lindley, 23 Littlefield, sustained cuts and bruises in an automobile accident Saturday at the intersection of U. S. Highway 87 and Farm Road, about three miles north of Abernathy.

Lindley's car, traveling north on Highway 87 collided with a truck, driven east on the farm road, by Hilliard Harvey Oliver, 63, of Abernathy Route 2.

Investigating officers said Lindley's car overturned twice and both men were thrown from their vehicles. Oliver suffered a hip injury.

Don't get caught away from home after dark unless the tractor and trailer are properly marked and lighted for night driving. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee points out that it costs less to be safe than paying for accident.

A Small Part

But that is only a small part of the process of becoming a naturalized citizen. To begin with, an applicant for citizenship (if he is an ordinary case) must have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence. Then he must be entered on the registry of the Commissioner of Immigration, acquire an alien registration card, and receive a certificate of arrival from the Immigration Department.

Some time later he will receive a letter from the government telling him where he must file a declaration to become a citizen—commonly known as "first papers." He may file this declaration shortly after he arrives in this country but not before he is 18 years of age.

Second Papers

After he has lived in the United States five years, and his first papers is at least two years old, the future citizen may file a petition of naturalization, known as "second papers." He must have lived in the state in which he filed for at least six months.

He will then be called for two hearings—one before the immigration authorities, and the second in federal court. At this time he must be able to speak and understand the English language, and he will be questioned regarding the Constitution, history of the United States and the government organization.

Final Hearing

After 30 days the applicant will be notified to appear at the court for a final hearing on his petition. When the court grant a petition for naturalization, the applicant takes oath of renunciation and allegiance—he renounces allegiance to the foreign state of which he is a subject or citizen, and promises to bear allegiance to the United States.

The court may deny the application for naturalization, know as granting of citizenship are strictly observed. Omissions, oversights, mistakes—all doubts in relation to the application are decided in favor of the government.

Some classes of applicants are exempted from several of the usual naturalization requirements. Certain requirements are waived for aliens married to citizens of the United States; for certain veterans of the armed forces; for former citizens who lost their citizenship by serving in Allied armed forces during the two world wars and others.

Success story—Tony Gray (left) and W. O. Lindley (right) are shown repairing one of his rare items in the work shop of his antique shop. Although confined to a wheel chair, Bailey has expanded a $35 bankroll into $10,000 worth of stock in three and one half years. (AP Wirephoto)

J. D. WATSON — MARVIN SCOTT

One of the fastest growing businesses in Lamb County is the Watson Scott Equipment Company, Littlefield's Allis Chalmers dealership.

In the short time since the Niele's Tractor Company, 1915 East Ninth, was purchased by J. D. Watson and Marvin Scott last June, it has become one of the leading A. C. dealerships in Texas. The new owners have made company history in the sale of the new self-propelled A.C. combines this fall. Stressing service to the farmers, the new owners have made a policy of having just the right part for any A.C. tractor or implement at just the right time.

The new A.C. WD 45 tractor is one of the most best-selling items the company is featuring. Coupled with any one of the many types of

A.C. plows, Lamb County farmers are finding the new powerful tractor a must for efficient production.

Paul Potos of Whitebarrel, formerly a blockman for Allis Chalmers, recently joined the firm to assist with management. Madeline Dorrick is bookkeeper. Roy Barnett, J. D. Dodgen, Clay Anderson and Manuel Abila are shop employees.

Social Security Information For Farm Families, Employes Is Given

The new law now brings Federal old-age and survivors insurance to most farm families. It takes effect Jan. 1, 1955, and makes two main changes concerning farm people:

(1) Farm operators — people farming for themselves — have not been covered by the social security law up to now. Beginning January 1, 1955, practically all of them who make as much as $400 profit in a year will come under old-age and survivors insurance.

Commencing in 1955, a person under 72 and entitled to benefits can earn as much as $1,200 in a year and still receive all his social security payments. Earnings from any kind of employment and self-employment are counted. After you are 72, you may exempt the checks regardless of the amount of your earnings.

LUMP SUM

A lump-sum payment is made at the time of an insured person's death at any age. The amount can be as much as $253.

Workers and their employers and self-employed people contribute to a fund while they are working and when earnings stop because of the death of the worker or because of his retirement at age 65 or later, payments are made from the fund to the worker and his dependents or to his survivors.

The tax for employees is two percent of their pay, and this amount is matched by the employer. This means that covered farm workers will have two percent of their pay deducted for social security. Another two percent is paid by the employer, who sends the total amount to the District Director of Internal Revenue along with a report of the wages and social security account number of each employee.

SELF-EMPLOYED

The tax for self-employed people is 3 percent of their earnings. They pay this once a year along with their income-tax return.

If you earn more than $4,200 in a year, you pay the tax only on $4,200. An employer pays the tax on only the first $4,200 of wages he pays to each employee.

If you are a self-employed farm operator with earnings of $400 or more in a year, you should get a social security card, unless you already have one. The place to get it is your nearest social security district office. There is no charge. If you once had a card, but lost it, tell your social security office that you want a duplicate. If it is not convenient for you to go to your district social security office in person, you can get an application blank at your post office and get the card by mail.

The self-employment tax on your farm earnings applies to taxable years ending after 1954. If your first report is for calendar year 1955 you will make the report early in 1956 as part of your income tax return.

REPORT NET

The amount you report is your net earnings — or profit — after you subtract your farm expenses from your gross income. But if your gross income is $1,800 or less, and you have the choice between reporting your actual net earnings or reporting half of the gross income, you can report either way.

If your gross income is over $1,800, you must figure your actual net earnings. If your net earnings are less than $300, you may choose. You may report either the actual amount of $300.

If you do farm work for others and get cash pay of $100 or more in a year from one employer, you must have a social security card. If you have never had one, or if you had one but lost it, get in touch with your nearest social security office. They will give you a card without charge. Show your card to the person you work for, so that he can copy the name and number from it for his records. He will keep back two percent of your cash pay for social security, add the same amount as his share of the tax, and send the total to the District Director of Internal Revenue with his social security report. This report must show your name and social security number in order for you to be sure of getting the proper credit toward benefits.

PAYMENTS

Payment in any form other than cash do not count for social security purposes and your employer will not report them. If your cash pay from farm work for one employer is less than $100 in a year, he does not report your earnings and there is no social security tax. If you earn $75 in a year from one employer and another $75 in a year from a second employer, these wages would not count toward social security. But — if you earn $100 from one and $150 from the other, both employers will report your earnings for social security, and you will get credit for the total. Whenever you pay from any farm employer is less than $100 in a year, he should return to you any amount he took out of your pay for social security for that year.

If your earnings do count, be sure you have a social security card and that your employer copies your full name and social security number directly from the card to his records. He must show your correct name and number on his report if you are to be sure of getting the proper credit toward benefits.

Until 1960 the social security tax on wages is 2 percent each for employer and employee on earnings up to $4,200 a year. The self-employed person pays 3 percent on his own earnings up to earnings of $4,200 in a year.

EXAMPLES

1. A farm hand who earns $1,200 in a year will have $24 tax deducted from his pay, and the employer will turn that in, with $24 of his own to match it.

2. A farm operator who makes $2,000 profit in a year will pay $60 social security tax.

Social security taxes are not collected by your local social security office but by the Internal Revenue Service — the same agency that collects income taxes and other Federal taxes.

For instructions on whether you owe or do not owe social security taxes, or about how and when to pay them, get in touch with the Internal Revenue Service office nearest you. If you do not know the address, your postmaster can give it to you.

The address of the district Social Security office is: Room 202, Veteran Administration Building, 190 1/2 St. Lubbock, Texas.

Credit is as important as any facility used by the present day farmers or ranchman. To aid commercial bankers, the fourth annual Farm and Ranch Credit Conference is being held at Texas A&M from Dec. 5-8.

Texas Schools To Get Share Of Milk Fund

Texas school children will be drinking more milk at cheaper prices if the recently inaugurated Texas Education Agency—U. S. Department of Agriculture special school milk program is successful.

Established under the provisions of the Agricultural Act of 1954, signed by President Eisenhower, Aug. 28, the program provides $50,000,000 annually of funds of the Commodity Credit Corporation to be used to increase the consumption of fluid milk by children in non-profit schools of high school grade and under.

Texas schools will share $2,888,500 of the special milk fund, provided that the eligible schools want the program.

Members of Dairy Products Institute of Texas have pledged their full support and cooperation in the program, not only in providing high quality milk but in the changing of delivery schedules to fit the school programs so that all milk will be properly chilled at the time offered to children.

J. W. Edgar, state Commissioner of Education, has announced plans whereby schools can determine their entitlement to the USDA funds. The funds will be used to reimburse participating schools a part of the cost of each additional milk serving over and above a "base" milk consumption figure established by the schools to represent normal milk consumption during the 1953-54 school year.

Schools which served no milk last year will be reimbursed at a rate of three cents per half pint for all milk served in the milk program this year. Schools which served milk last year will receive four cents per half-pint for all milk received over their base consumption rate. Participating schools must agree to operate their milk and food service on a non-profit basis, and to serve fluid whole milk which meets local and state standards for butterfat and sanitation.

Milk served under the program will be bought by schools directly from local dairies and distributors, Dr. Edgar said.

Laying hen need plenty of fresh air but chilling drafts can cause trouble. Ventilate the laying house prevent cross-ventilation.

Texan's Trouble . . .

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An air line employe adds this one to the Texan's legend:

A wealthy Texan asked for priority on a flight home to meet a personal emergency. When the sympathetic airline employe asked if someone in his family was ill, this dialogue followed:

"Oh, no. Nothing like that. Just had a $50,000-a-day gusher come in on land near my house."

"That doesn't sound like an emergency."

"Yes it is. I've got to bet it plugged pronto. It's ruining my wife's Japanese garden."

Drive On For Lubbock Reserve Outfit

A group of Texas Tech students and Lubbock area residents are making a drive to start a U. S. Army Reserve Artillery Unit in this area. Anticipated requirements are the signing up of six or more officers and approximately 35 enlisted men. With this nucleus of a training cadre, request could be made to activate a unit. Inquiries will be promptly handled by Paul Tasigi, 2208 9th St., Lubbock, Ph. 2-2145, during evening hours. Such inquiries are encouraged from veterans and non-veterans of the age of 17 or older.

For the veteran opportunity exists to earn extra income at the pay rate of his old grade. He may also reduce his reserve obligations.

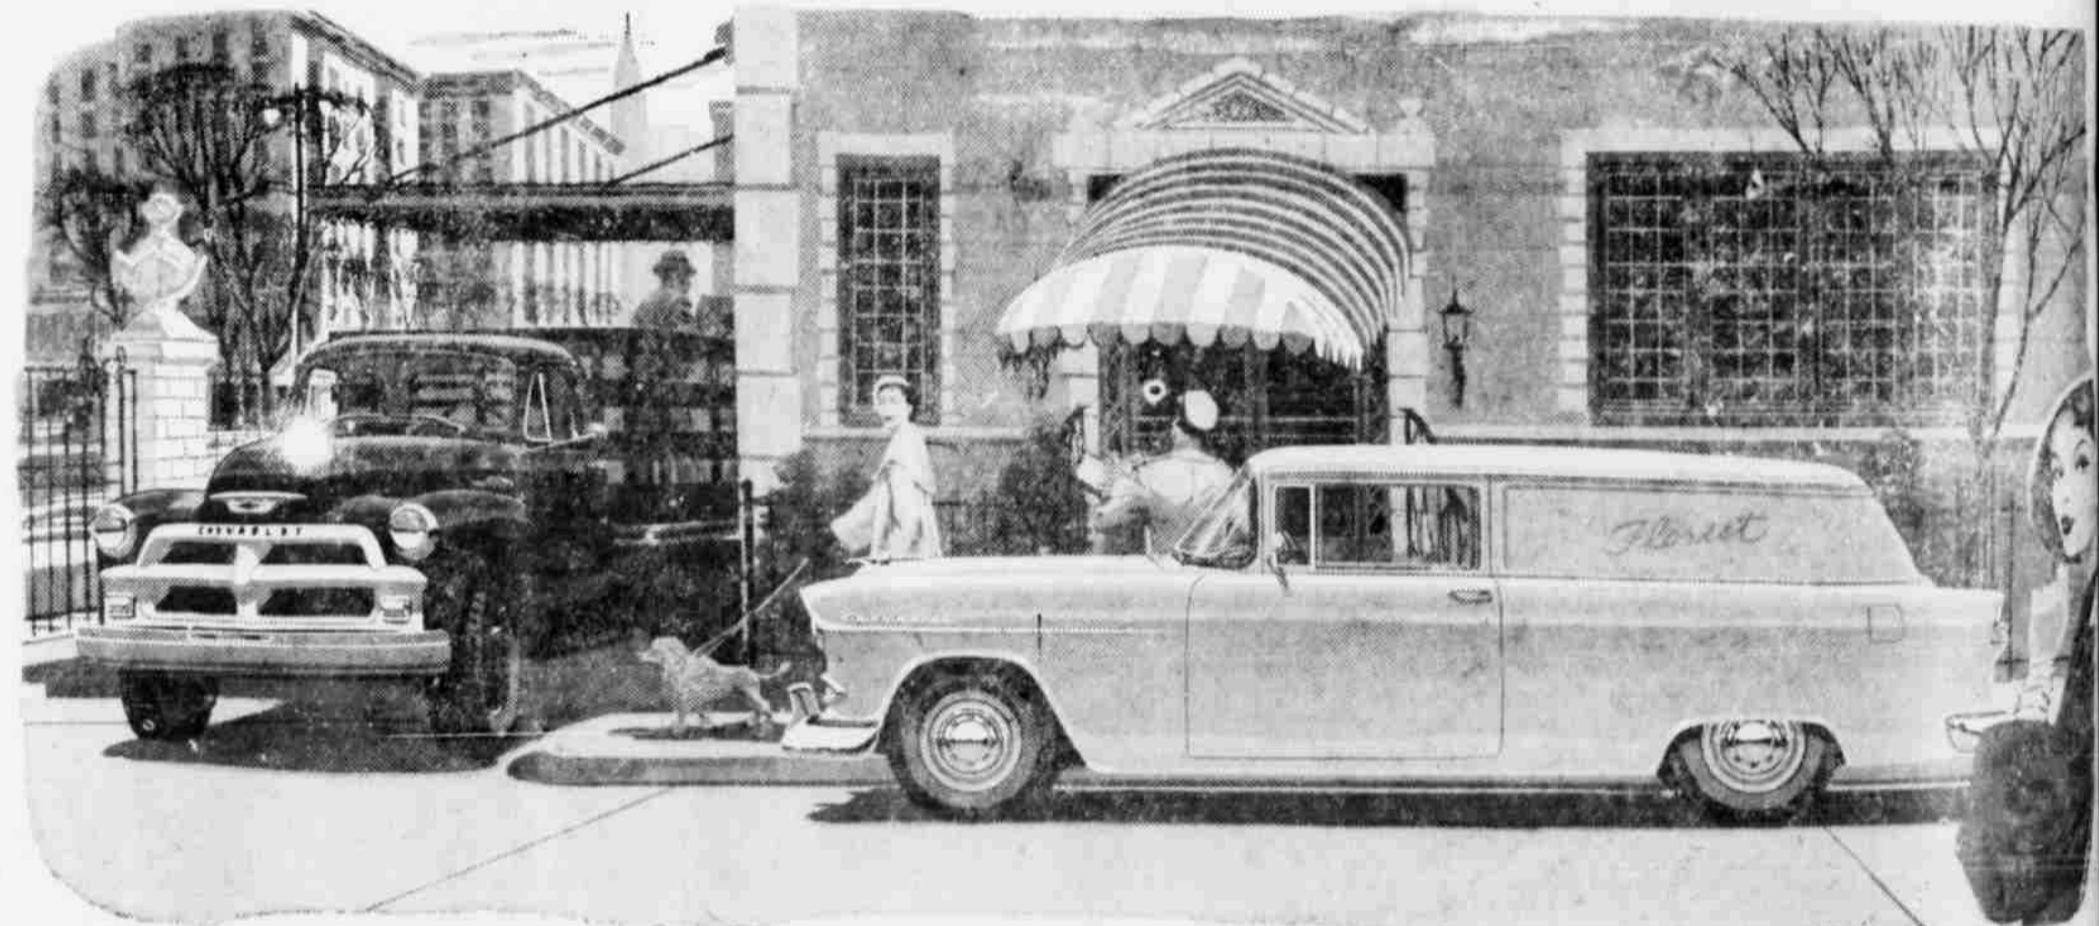

The non-veteran of 17 can join with parental consent or at 18, without consent, and will gain a jump on other potential inductees (drafted) by being eligible on active duty with the reserve. He is selected by the draft. His Reserve time also includes added pay increases. There is the opportunity of paid drills a month, plus benefits, annual training experience and pay, opportunity to go to Army Schools for extra periods and make new recruit draws $2.00 a drill. With advancement in grade, training at old grade, the pay goes to $9.63 for a First Lieutenant with over four years service.

$1 Million Damage Suit Is Brought Vs. Ex-Sudanite

Damages totalling $2,663,274 will be sought by the U. S. Government against O. L. Shannon, ex-Sudan elevator operator and grain man, and 64 other defendants, in a civil suit which will be brought to trial in Lubbock U. S. District court in the January term.

The government charges that Shannon guilty on a 41-count criminal charge which he had contracted to store for the government. In January 1953, a federal jury found Shannon guilty on a 41-count criminal indictment which charged conversion of the grain. The 1953 judgment was appealed and a man date from the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeal, New Orleans, early this year affirmed it.

Shannon was sentenced to five years imprisonment and fined $15,000. The government seeks $1,038,051 from Shannon and Thurston Bower, Lubbock, trustee in bankruptcy of Shannon. Some $805,223 is sought from remaining defendants on the grounds that they were unauthorized to buy certain amounts of grain from Shannon.

Bill Orr and Ronald Harlin, students in the University of Texas Dental school at Houston, will arrive by train Thursday morning to spend the Thanksgiving holidays here.

$20,000 Made Sunday In Baptist Building Fund Offering

A special Thanksgiving offering Sunday for the First Baptist church building resulted in collections of $20,000, Dr. Lee Hemphill, pastor, announced Monday. Goal is $25,000 for the month of November and Dr. Hemphill said it would probably be reached this week. He explained that some $2,500 came in at the first Sunday offering this month.

both Pace, who, she said, has given her lots of pointers but mostly encouragement and push. The hard work, however, has been her own.

"I love to cook and spent the summer making jellies and pies and canning tomatoes," Sherry said. "We cooked the turkey for the Bible class dinner at the Ned Fairbairn home, too."

Her mother, Mrs. Sid Pace, is a noted cook and held an informal class in cooking turkeys for Sherry and her friends before the dinner. Sherry and her sister, Lehman, a student at Texas Tech, Mrs. Elwood Smith, and Patsy McCain, prepared the turkey for the Bible class dinner and acted a feather to their caps on cookery.

Sherry is active in her Bible class which has a social get-together every two weeks. She is also planning to try out for the junior play, for which work begins immediately after Thanksgiving.

Mention of one of the talented Pace sisters would be incomplete without Walters drug store, now Staggs drug, where they have worked for several years. Sherry, in recent years, has become the latest in the series of Pace sisters behind the counter. Her oldest sister, Mrs. Max Zachary, and another sister, Mrs. Foy Bell, did not work there, but Elizabeth and Iris, now Mrs. Jimmie Lester of Lubbock, began working at Walters for the late Lester Walters. After Iris received her degree in pharmacy, she served as pharmacist in the drug store, employed by the late Joe Walters. Both Lehman, a student at Tech, and Sherry have been recent employees of the drug store.

Other offices Sherry has held in FHA include publicity director and vice-president. She was a member of the high school choir last year and has played clarinet in the Wildcat band for two years. During her freshman year she was a member of the Spanish club.

Last spring she went to the state convention at Ft. Worth as a delegate of the Littlefield FHA chapter. She also attended the FHA camp at Ruidoso, N. M., last summer.

Texas farmers spend more than $35 million annually for repairs on tractors and equipment. Proper maintenance and adjustment would save a big slice of this bill. Up to 10 percent of the petroleum bill—about $85 million annually—could be saved if tractors and related equipment were adjusted for optimum operation.

Jurors Must Not Only Avoid Wrong, But Also Any Appearance Of Wrong

Thousands of Texans are called each year as prospective jurors in our many state and federal courts. When chosen to serve, very few of these violate their oath with intentional misconduct. But honest mistakes have all too frequently brought the sincerity and ethics of an individual juror into question. Usually such errors arise from his misunderstanding of his function as a judge—for the jury is judge of the facts in the case before it.

Like Caesar's wife, the juror must not only avoid wrong, but must also avoid any appearance of wrong. Otherwise, his integrity and honor may be brought into question by actions which are actually innocent but appear censurable to those who view them. By observing the following simple suggestions, the juror may be sure he is maintaining the highest of ethics, in which no possible fault may be found by others.

MINGLING TABOO

Hold yourself aloof from all persons (except other jurors) in any way connected with the trial of the case. That means that you should not mingle with nor talk to the lawyers, witnesses, parties, nor the judge, even though the discussion is wholly unrelated to the trial.

Do not discuss the case nor permit others to mention it to you or in your presence during the trial. If anyone insists upon talking about the case after you have explained to him that you are a juror and must not listen, report the matter to the judge immediately. Do not commence your deliberation until you have heard all the evidence from both sides, the argument of the lawyers, and the court's charge. You should not mention the case except in the jury room when all other jurors are present.

JUDGE BY EVIDENCE

Do not become a private investigator. All properly admissible evidence will be brought before you. Do not try to search out additional facts you believe to have been omitted. Do not even guess or speculate about facts not in evidence.

Be attentive to the evidence as it is presented. If you are to properly aid the other jurors in settling the fact questions, it will be necessary to listen carefully to all evidence presented.

Do not guess at the judge's opinion of the facts. You are the judge of the facts. He is not allowed and will not try to invade your province. His rulings on admissibility of evidence reflect no bias or opinions on any fact question.

PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

You should not mention or discuss your own personal experiences, or any knowledge that you may have of similar transactions. If you should disclose such information to others serving on a jury, the court would have to grant a new trial.

Accept no favors from and bestow no favors upon any person interested in the trial. However innocent the conduct may be, it will raise doubts in otherwise undoubting minds, and may even be sub-

"Give Thanks"

By Tomray Williams, Minister

The Scriptures answer the vital question about the true meaning and spirit of Thanksgiving:

GIVE THANKS FOR WHAT? The answer: For everything good. "In everything give thanks, for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you" (1 Thessalonians 5:18).

GIVE THANKS TO WHOM? The answer: To God the Father. "Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light" (Colossians 1:12).

WHY GIVE THANKS TO GOD? The answer: Because all things good come from him. "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights ..." (James 1:17).

"Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name" (Psalms 100:4).

Every day is a day for giving thanks, but may we wish for you, especially at this time, a happy, safe Thanksgiving season.

Time of Trouble

Lesson for November 28, 1954

There is nothing modern about trouble. Nothing old-fashioned either. You can't be up-to-date in any century if you don't know about the troubles going round. If you meet William Shakespeare and Julius Caesar and Buddha and Methuselah all at once, the one thing you could all talk about and understand one another perfectly (provided you spoke the same language) is Trouble.

Fears
 "We have nothing to fear except fear itself," said a great American President. That is sometimes true, but only when there is nothing really to be afraid of. At any rate, ever since the human race began, people have been afraid both of what was likely to happen and what not likely to happen. They have been afraid of what was really there, and afraid of ghosts born of their own imaginations. Fear is not all bad; when it is no more than knowing the danger exists, it is a good thing. It is good to know that poisons hurt, that there is a ditch across the highway, that the curve ahead is a sharp one. A healthy fear of such things is good and keeps us alive. But there is a fear which is paralysis, "butterflies in the stomach," first cousin to panic; and this kind of fear only adds to whatever danger or trouble there may be. Now we can read, in Psalm 46, that poet's pointed words about fear; and it is plain that men in his time had the same terrors as ourselves. One feels here the dread of violent change; and is not exactly that under its current form of communism, what we are terrified of in our time? One feels in this Psalm also the dread of war; and in our times with the H-bomb and the C-bomb threatening us—not just the boys that go to war, but every man, woman and child on the planet—who can sleep with an easy mind?

Loneliness
 Another kind of trouble is loneliness. Psalm 142 brings this out; the writer felt that no one was on his side, no one even cared whether he lived or died. He speaks too of the worst kind of loneliness—or one of the most painful kinds—that is to say, being in prison. We should remember always that there are in this world today an estimated eighty million refugees, that is to say, people who have literally no home and are, perhaps for the rest of their lives, strangers in strange lands, people who live behind barbed wire, people nobody wants. We cannot forget the millions of others who would perhaps rather be refugees, if they dared, than live where and as they have to live, as slaves of some police state, under the lash of taskmasters from whom there is no appeal. But even if all the cruel governments in the world were abolished tonight; even if all the millions of refugees found home and shelter; there still would be as there have always been, millions who could echo the Psalmist's plaint, "No man cared for my soul." Loneliness—the first man knew it, on dark hunted nights in a wilderness; they did not understand and could not yet control; the last man will know it, on a dark hunted day among the skyscrapers fleeing vainly from the invisible poisons of the radioactive air. And in between the first man and the last, where is the human being who has not at some time or other felt himself deserted and alone?

God is Our Help in Trouble
 The Psalm-writers knew all this; and yet they could sing. They sang because above all the troubles of time they kept touch with the eternal God. "He will help," they said. How does God help the believer in time of trouble? He does not always help by keeping an umbrella of miracle over the heads of the saints. Not even Jesus was without tears and death. Read these Psalms to see how God was their "help in ages past" as he is "for years to come." Men of faith, they were able to rise under their troubles, they found courage through contact with the God of all. They knew, as we sometimes forget, that God made this world, that it is still His, that above all earthly powers in His sovereign power, that in His own time, in His own way, His will be the victory.

THE LAW in Texas ★

principles but on the personal ideas of the trial judge or juror.

Judges get the law by which they decide the legal questions arising in a lawsuit from three sources; federal and state constitutions; federal and state statutes; and from previous judicial decisions and legal writings. Previous decisions state the public standards of rights and duties in matters not covered by constitution and statutes.

Judges have access to these statements of the law and know which apply to the situation involved in any lawsuit. So that justice may be done according to the law, it is imperative that the jurors in each case accept the law as the judge gives it to them. They are therefore required to base their verdict on his instructions as to the law, rather than on their own notions of what the law is, or ought to be.

For somewhat similar reasons there are rules governing the way a case is to be tried in court. These rules prescribe what must be stated in the pleadings, in what order evidence must be presented, what evidence is proper, what form questions must take, in what order lawyers are permitted to argue, what is permissible and what is not permissible argument.

If it were not for these rules no one could foresee what would happen during a lawsuit. It would be impossible to prepare properly for the trial. No one would know, until the judge had ruled, what he would be permitted to say or do, or in what order. Such a situation would inevitably result in confusion and injustice.

The whole purpose of laws and rules is to insure equal justice by providing a single standard of rights and duties, applicable to all persons similarly situated. This is what we should remember when we hear or read the phrase, "Government of Law."

(This column, based on Texas and Federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

own advice these next few weeks. We'll resist all such temptations as an extra piece of fudge after dinner; mince pie instead of fresh fruit; the delectable dressing and gravy that belong with turkey as ham does with eggs. We'll refuse to clip out new recipes for chiffon pumpkin pie, to serve with whipped cream.

Or better still, we'll prepare these dainties for the family and friends. And we'll follow the example of French women, hiding our own calorie counting under a barrage of bright conversation, while others gorge themselves on good food!

Well, anyway, that's what we wish we'd do. Come to think about it, though, in January and February there's not much to do...

LIPSTICK LOGIC
by LOUISE ALLEN

All right, girls, let's talk turkey! From now until New Year's Day we've got problems. And we're not talking about buying, basting and baking a 14-pound turkey hen, either. About whether to put oysters, nutmeats or sage in the stuffing. Whether to add raisins, pineapple or marshmallows to the candied yams.

No, ladies, we don't need to worry about what we'll stuff the stuffing with. What we'd better get a grip on—today—is how not to stuff ladies.

We're standing on the brink of a holiday season. Shall we dive into the holiday delights, only to spend January and February hunting our waists? Or will we be content with simply dabbling our digestive toes, so to speak, in the pleasures of rich food?

Pounds, like bad colds and evil companions, are much harder to get rid of than they are to come by. And like mosquitoes, they seem to prefer alighting on the lower limbs of females. So, for whatever it's worth, we plan to take our

They're Here ...
NEW LINCOLN FOR 1955

See and drive these new beauties!

New Turbo-Drive — most far-reaching advance in no-shift driving in 14 years.

New high-torque, high-output V-8 engine — for matchless performance in every range.

We've just seen the new Lincoln for 1955! All of us have spent the last few hours just looking—and once in a while running a hand, gently, along what seem like the longest, sleekest fenders ever.

This car, in our opinion, is more than beautiful. It is everything a fine car should be—but so seldom is!

Now—come in and see for yourself. The new Lincoln styling—the new colors and fabrics—merit a long look.

And then you must—as we have—drive a new 1955 Lincoln or Lincoln Capri. Because beneath this beauty is new performance words cannot describe.

You must experience Lincoln's new Turbo-Drive to realize how far ahead it brings driving. It gives you, for the first time in any car, ultra smoothness and instant acceleration—with neither left out for the sake of the other.

And the new Lincoln V-8 engine! You've got to feel its silky power in action to believe it. You must feel its incredible response in every driving range from start to superhighway speeds.

AND A NOTE OF URGENCY: our present shipment of new Lincolns may not be with us long. Early orders mean early deliveries.

We're looking forward to showing you this 1955 Lincoln in action.
