Thieves Loot Olton School Lunchroom

The school lunchroom at Olton was looted of a pickup-full of canned foods and burglars chopped up the safe at the Coca-Cola bottling plant in Littlefield in two break-ins Monday night, Sheriff Dick Dyer reported.

Sixth Olton Break-In

Burglars at the Coca-Cola plant left empty-handed but they ruined the safe. They used a pick to hack away at the sides and top of the safe but failed to break into it. Only about $12.50 was in the safe at the time. Thieves entered the plant by pushing in a window.

The burglary at the school cafeteria lunchroom in Olton was the sixth in that city this year. The Coca-Cola plant here has been burglarized once before since January 1.

Dyer said he believes a thief either was locked in the Olton school building at closing time or entered through a basement window. No door or window was broken. The sheriff figures the Olton burglars carried away their loot in a pickup.

Deputy V. L. Smith said these items were taken from the lunchroom:

Some Government Food

A 50-lb can of cottonseed chortening; four cases of gallon cans of apples; one case of dried apricots, three cases of salad dressing; one case of Jello; one case of gallon cans of tomatoes; one box fresh pears; four cases gallon cans of beef gravy; one case of gallon cans of oranges; three cases of gallon cans of peaches.

Some of the food was contributed by the federal government to the school lunch program and is marked "Government issue, not for sale." This fact may bring FBI agents into the burglary investigation.

DWI Charged

Sam Thompson Redwine of Littlefield has pleaded innocent to a charge of driving while intoxicated and is free under bond. County officers arrested three other persons over the weekend, two for drunkenness and one on a warrant for an old fine.

Onstead Will Preach First Sermon Sunday

Norris Onstead, young Littlefield man who will leave his business to enter the ministry, will be licensed to preach and will deliver his first sermon in special services at the First Baptist church Sunday.

The special service will begin at 8 p.m. Sunday. Dr. Lee Hemphill, pastor, will serve as moderator as the church votes to license Onstead as a minister.

Onstead, a Littlefield high-school graduate, has been manager of Onstead furniture the last eight years. He will give up his post to go to college and study for the ministry.

Dr. Hemphill and Onstead went this week to make arrangements for his schooling, either at Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, or Howard Payne college, Brownwood.

Onstead will set his home. His wife and 3-year-old daughter, Janith, will go with him to establish a home near his school.

Onstead has always been an active church worker, and said he took six months to make his decision to enter the ministry. He announced this decision to fellow members of his congregation Feb. 28.

Asked how he came to decide to become a minister, he replied, "God calls you and you just go."

After preaching his first sermon here Sunday, Onstead will preach at Fieldton the two following Sundays, March 21 and

Hart Camp Youth Badly Burned In Accident at Irrigation Well

KAY HOELSCHER is Lamb county's entry in the princess contest of the annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show.

Clarence Monroe, 18, was carried immediately to Payne-Shotwell hospital by a passerby, Mrs. J. F. Miller of Olton. He was treated for second degree burns on the face, neck and arms and possibly some first degree burns.

Monroe was reported "in good condition" Wednesday morning by Dr. R. E. Maurer who said the boy "suffered mostly second degree burns on his face, neck, back and both arms, but is expected to recover."

Clarence Monroe Treated for Body Burns After Third Accident With Fire

By Billye Watson

A young Hart Camp farmer, burned in accidents twice before, was badly injured Tuesday afternoon when the butane with which he was cleaning an irrigation well motor ignited and enveloped him in flames.

The burn victim, Clarence Monroe, 18, was carried immediately to Payne-Shotwell hospital by a passerby, Mrs. J. F. Miller of Olton. He was treated for second degree burns on the face, neck and arms and possibly some first degree burns.

One Oil Well, One Location, One Dry Hole

Another attempt to extend the Littlefield oil pool failed this week when Homer L. Cain plugged his Hill Rogers No. 1 four miles east of Littlefield. It was his third dry hole in Lamb county this year.

Texaco Producer

At the same time the Texas Company was completing its fifth producer in the field, the Ida Dalmont Hewitt No. 3. It was reported Wednesday to be swabbing 5 barrels of oil per hour through tubing after being acidized with 500 gallons of acid mud and 2,000 gallons of regular acid. Casing was set through the pay sand and perforated from 3,950 to 4,000 feet, thus sealing off the gas which has hindered operations in the Hewitt No. 2.

George Livermore's third try for a commercial well—the J. H. Hayhurst No. 1, 1/2-mile west of town—was drilling at 2,350 Wednesday morning. This land is now owned by R. L. Tisdale. Livermore plugged his wildcat on the A. C. Chesher lease last week. He is pumping his Lingnau well but is getting only 15 barrels of oil along with 120 barrels of water per day.

Mrs. Hewitt To Drill

Ida Dalmont Hewitt has filed for a permit to drill a well herself on a small five acre tract across the highway south and east of the Texas Company's wells on her land at the north edge of town. Since this tract is smaller than the usual spacing, a special ruling by the Railroad Commission will be required before a drilling permit can be obtained. This will probably delay commencement of this well for several weeks. The Texas Company is still awaiting approval for its irregular locations on the school property.

The Sharples Corporation is expected to announce next week the location of the test it has contracted to drill southeast of Littlefield.

Parish Attends Water Meeting

Gus Parish of Springlake will be among members of the district board of directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District who'll attend a meeting in Austin Friday.

The water board member will meet with the Texas Water Resources committee a fact finding group currently reviewing in the next session of the legislature.

To be discussed is information of the district conservation measures in use and suggested in the future and suggestions for ground water legislation.

The High Plains district is the first to be reviewed by the fact finding committee.

Dr. Maurer Files For School Board

Dr. Ralph E. Maurer has filed for Littlefield school trustee, School Secretary Sid Hopping said Wednesday. He is the second man to file for one of the three posts to be filled in the election April 3.

The other candidate so far is W. C. (Hoot) Cannon, an incumbent. Terms of Cannon, Jack Harbrough and Boyd Montgomery expire this spring.

The filing period ends March 24, ten days before the election.

Onstead Will Preach First Sermon Sunday

28, replacing Rev. Fred Smith, the pastor, who will be conducting a revival at Andrews. Onstead is one of several men who've entered the ministry through the local church. Among others are Rev. Straus, Baptist pastor of the First Baptist church of Canyon; Rev. Avery Sullivan, First church, Roscoe; Dr. Jean Stephens, First church, Battery Park, Va.; Rev. H. A. Carter, Littlefield; Rev. Jess Moody, evangelist, Waco; Rev. John T. Street, student at Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth.

Several hundred persons are expected to attend the public show. The county home demonstration council will have a food concession at the fairgrounds, opening at 11 a.m. to sell hot dogs, homemade pies and cakes, and beverages.

Officials will be at the fairgrounds Friday from 8 a.m. to accept entries. W. W. Hall is superintendent of the swine division and James Pirkey is steer superintendent. Both are vocational agriculture teachers at Littlefield high school.

Names of models who'll take part in the free style show Thursday night in Littlefield high school auditorium were announced Wednesday.

Models for Dunlap's will be Carolyn Caldwell, Doris Fields, Joan Wright, Johnnie Lou Windwehen and Monya Hawk.

Ware's models are Wanda Webb, Sharon Jeffries, Cammie Hulse and Gloria Thompson. All the models are high-school girls.

The style show is being sponsored by Southwestern Public Service company and six appliance dealers: E. C. Rodgers Furniture, Hill Rogers Furniture, Bill Smith Electric, Best Appliance, W-W Electric, Nelson Hardware.

Pat Sterns and Clydia Little, Southwestern Public Service home service advisors, will present a skit on how laundry was done in 1904.

Clothes of synthetic fabrics identical to the new styles being modeled will be washed and dried on the stage.

Car Owners Urged To Buy Tags Now

County Tag Agent Herbert Dunn Wednesday urged county motorists to buy their auto license plates now and avoid the "terrific rush we expect around the deadline April 1."

Approximately 2,619 tags of all kinds have been issued so far by Dunn's office in Littlefield and the four county substations. That's not one-third of the 11,000 tags expected to be issued here for 1954.

After April 1, motorists driving without 1954 tags can be arrested and fined.

Prizes Go To All Parts; 28 Persons Did The Job

Winners Announced in Judges' Statement Below; Complimentary Remarks From Candidates Who Were Not Prize Winners Appreciated by the Management; Many Candidates Worked Until the Last Minute

The Littlefield Newspapers' circulation campaign came to a successful close Tuesday night. The sealed ballot box was placed in the Security State Bank, where it was available to candidates and their friends until 9:00 p. m. Tuesday to deposit their collections for this last period of the campaign. The last report accepted through the campaign office was Tuesday, March 2. Candidates placed their collection for the last days in the sealed box themselves. Members of the advisory board broke the seals and made the final count.

During the closing hours of the campaign candidates from all parts of the Littlefield trade territory came to the bank to turn in their subscriptions. Many of the workers continued their efforts until the last minute.

With the territory divided into two separate districts, and a separate set of prizes for each district, it was possible for candidates residing in one district to win a larger prize than someone residing in another district even though their vote totals were not so high.

The prizes were divided into two separate groups, to place everyone, as nearly as possible, on an equal basis, according to the working conditions.

It has been the constant aim of these newspapers and the management to conduct the entire campaign on an absolutely unquestionable plan, to make it fair and square in every detail to everyone.

It is gratifying to these newspapers and the campaign management to know these efforts have been appreciated from the complimentary remarks and the expressions from everyone who has visited the campaign office.

All candidates who have made a cash report have received a cash commission on all subscriptions they have turned in up to and including Tuesday, March 2, and those who did not win prizes will have checks for the commission on the ballot box reports mailed tomorrow.

These newspapers and the campaign management again wish to thank all candidates for their earnest work, the judges who made the final tabulation and the entire community for its wholehearted support in making this drive a real success.

We also wish to welcome the hundreds of new homes that have been added to the Littlefield newspapers' big family of readers in the past five weeks and assure you that we will strive to give still better newspapers as time goes on.

GMC HYDRA-MATIC TRUCKS

THIS new '54 GMC light-duty wasn't born just to win beauty contests. Sure, its sleek lines, full-width grille and panoramic windshield are handsomely un-trucklike. There's the same dashing air about the inside, too. Two-tone color scheme. Harmonizing, supple-as-leather upholstery. Smart instrument panel, with dials clustered for instant reading. But mister—take another look! A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. 125 horsepower says that this beauty can heft a top load with ease and dash. That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class! And its wide, deep box holds at least 8 cubic feet more than the roomy '53 model. That tail gate is grain-tight—and sand-tight. Finally, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time. (Note to the luxury-minded: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, curved rear corner windows—the works!) Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all its own selling! *Truck Hydra-Matic Drive standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

EDITORIAL

What to Do About It?

Littlefield folks are not happy about the telephone rate increase but don't know what to do about it. This includes the members of the city commission, who granted the company what they thought was the lowest raise that would avoid a lawsuit.

Last time $4,000 was spent in fighting the thing, and the company still ended up with a 30 percent increase. This time they got 2 percent less and the $4,000 was saved. But we all got a bad case of frustration.

The fact is that city commissions are almost helpless in the face of demands by the phone company. They set out a group of figures which, if correct, seem to indicate that they are entitled to more money. The city commission is required by law to either prove the figures incorrect or allow them the additional revenue.

Last year's $4,000 was totally inadequate to check these figures. $10,000 would be inadequate. So the only thing to do seems to be to compromise with them at as low a figure as possible. Telephone officials know better than anyone what a cinch they have in these negotiations and do not compromise for any small figures.

What it amounts to is that most Texas communities actually have no effective means of rate-making. The company makes its own rates. Most states, recognizing the inability of cities to maintain the accounting staff needed to do this rate-making fairly, have created a state board which can maintain a permanent watch over the income and expenses of all public utilities and which can defend its findings in court.

Everyone recognizes that such a system is more subject to corruption than is local control, but where local control is only a fiction, then it becomes imperative to substitute state control, unless we are willing to let these natural monopolies continue to name their own rates. Some of them are pretty gentle with us—but not the telephone company.

VICTORY THROUGH JESUS
By TOMMY WILLIAMS, Minister

The highest order of existence is deity. God is "above a 11" (Ephesians 4:6). Between deity and humanity, there is another order—the angels (Hebrews 2:6-7). So the Bible sets forth this order of existence: God, angels, men. To man, God gave domination over all things which were not above him in this order, even "over all the earth" (Hebrews 2:7-8; Genesis 1:26-28). Please read all these passages. The history of mankind reveals some of the great steps man has taken under God's authority to have this dominion.

For one great conquest, however, man had to have a champion with greater powers than himself. Hence Jesus, though of deity in his nature, condescended to the "But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for suffering of nature of humanity (Philippians 2:6); so that for man he might conquer death, death, crowned with glory and honor; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man" (Hebrews 2:9).

When David slew Goliath, it was not a mere personal victory, but a victory for the armies of Israel of whose cause he was the champion. When Jesus conquered death and sin by his resurrection, it was not a mere personal victory, for he was the champion of mankind. Through him, man has victory even over sin and death.

"For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead" (1 Corinthians 15:21).

FORD Irrigation Motors Have Power Where You Need It!

More Horsepower Per Cubic Inch Displacement . . .

Number of foot-pound torque, rather than amount of horsepower determines the top efficiency of an industrial engine as compared with an automobile engine. Note this comparison of two advertised irrigation engines: Engine A with 180 horsepower develops 256 ft. lb. torque at 2000 RPM. Ford "317" with 155 horsepower develops 284 ft. lb. torque at 1800 RPM.

Our trained mechanics who are thoroughly familiar with the operation and maintenance of Ford Engines are as near as your telephone. This means that downtime for service is always cut to the minimum. Old-Fashioned Lemon Pie Is Winner

Old-fashioned lemon flavor is being hankering after. We have baked ourselves a pie to know the kind—rich with eggs and sugar, fresh lemon juice and the tangy rind. Maybe it is a little runnier than the variety—but oh, it comes to the meringue with a modern touch. The moist shredded covering the fluffy topping for taste and a glamor

CREAMY FILLING and tangy flavor combine in this old-fashioned lemon pie.

Method: Cream butter and sugar together in top of double boiler. Add whole eggs, egg yolks and lemon juice; mix thoroughly. Place over hot (not boiling) water; stirring constantly, cook until thick. Stir in lemon rind. Chill; pour into cooled baked pastry shell. Top with Coconut Meringue; bake in hot (400F) oven about 7 minutes or until meringue peaks are golden brown.

Coconut Meringue
 Ingredients: 2 egg whites, 4 table spoons sugar, ½ cup moist shredded cocconut (cut in short lengths.)
Method: Beat egg whites until frothy throughout. Gradually beat in sugar, a little at a time. Continue beating until mixture is stiff enough to hold peaks that do not curl when beater is slowly withdrawn and inverted.

M., and E. Latham of Silver City, N. M. Mrs. Latham was also an aunt of Jimmie Brittain of Littlefield. Attending the funeral services from here were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. It's The Law In Texas

Self-evident is the fact that all citizens are in need of the services of an attorney at various times. Some citizens are not able, due to circumstances beyond their control, to properly compensate such services.

Texas lawyers, recognizing this need, have formed Legal Aid Clinics in several of the larger cities of the state. In a number of towns too small to support a clinic, a Legal Aid Committee has been formed. Its members are attorneys furnishing necessary legal services to the indigent. In other towns, legal aid services are provided by each private practitioner as worthy cases are brought to his attention.

The Legal Aid attorney performs a vital function in our social order. To understand his role, we must begin with the basic fact that a legal aid client does not seek charity. The late Associate Justice Wiley B. Rutledge of the U. S. Supreme Court once said: "Equality before the law in a true democracy is a matter of right. It cannot be a matter of charity, or of favor, or, or of grace, or of discretion."

The legal aid client, therefore, is asking for what is his right—that he be given the justice to which he is entitled under the law. His poverty prevents him from securing the legal assistance and advice needed for the protection of his rights.

In providing these professional services, the Legal Aid attorney serves the highest social obligation, that of securing justice to those who under the law should have it but who otherwise might not obtain it.

The function places special and serious obligation upon the Legal Aid attorney. In the first place, his duty is to accept the client who is financially unable to employ private counsel. He cannot reject a client for personal reasons or convenience or because the case may be difficult or uninteresting or disagreeable. To do so is to close the only door of justice and to defeat the very purpose for which the legal aid organization he represents was created.

Finally, a Legal Aid attorney must be more than a good lawyer. His daily work confronts him with more than legal problems. Innumerable problems of his clients submitted to him are of a personal nature and the legal problems are inevitably interwoven with financial, social and oftentimes domestic difficulties. He must have an insight into these difficulties and problems and know and make use of the social resources of his community available for their solution.

Every attorney performing legal aid services is conscious and aware of these serious and important obligations. The demands of the job are great, but so also are its rewards. Nothing is more gladdening than the appreciative handshake of a grateful client, the only reward in his possession to give. The Legal Aid attorney knows the deep satisfaction of seeing justice secured. He knows that a vital tenet of democracy is being fulfilled, justice to all regardless of poverty or wealth. Through his services, democracy rests more secure.

Information regarding the availability of legal aid in all Texas communities may be obtained by contacting a local attorney.

Go Exotic! Try Chinese Spareribs

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

You can cook an exotic dish—one that everyone will adore—with no trouble at all. No hard-to-find ingredients needed for this delicious main course! Just pick up a couple of sides of good old-fashioned fresh pork spareribs and a tumbler or jar of pineapple preserves at your market and you have the two important components. Add a green pepper, some red wine vinegar, brown sugar, cornstarch and salt, and you are all set for Chinese-style spareribs in a sweet-and-sour sauce.

NEW TRICK—Use pineapple preserves in quick sweet-and-sour sauce for crusty spareribs.

When we tried it, we put the spareribs in a large oblong roasting pan in a slow oven in late part of the afternoon. They cooked and browned beautifully while we entertained a caller at tea. Only once—halfway through the baking period—did we go back into the kitchen, and that was to turn the ribs. They were done to a turn about half an hour before supper, when we took them out of the oven. We poured off the fat in the bottom of the roasting pan, cut the ribs into easy-to-manage pieces, returned them to the pan and left them on top of the sauce. When everyone was ready to sit down, we simply heated the ribs in the sauce.

If you like, you can bake the spareribs in the morning while you are doing clean-up chores and also make the sauce at that time. Then you can heat and serve ribs and sauce in a chafing dish, or in a good-looking saucepan or skillet that can go right to the table.

Steam plenty of rice to serve with this dish. There's ample sauce with the ribs, and its flavor will delight your tasters. The pineapple preserves that give this sauce its piquancy, are widely available and of excellent quality.

What else goes on this menu? As a first course, we like clear chicken soup with crisp salted crackers. But give your soup a Chinese touch: just before serving it, drop short sprays of water cress or young spinach leaves into it, bring to a boil and serve. Wilt the greens—don't cook them.

For a vegetable, we would choose green snap beans cooked whole only until tender-crisp and seasoned with salt, pepper and butter or margarine.

Fruit and cookies make a fine dessert and tea is, of course, the only appropriate hot beverage to serve with this Chinese-style meal.

Mandarin Spareribs

Ingredients: 3 pounds meaty fresh pork spareribs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar, ½ cup red wine vinegar, ¼ cup water, 1 medium-size or large green pepper, ½ cup pineapple preserves.

Method: Have meat dealer chop through bony edge of spareribs at large end. Arrange spareribs in large shallow pan. Sprinkle with salt. Roast in a slow (325°F) oven about 1½- to 1¾-hours, or until browned. Turn once, about halfway through roasting period. Cut spareribs through every other bone so they will be in easy-to-handle pieces. Meanwhile, in a saucepan blend cornstarch and sugar. Gradually stir in vinegar and water until smooth. Remove stem, seeds and pithy portion from green pepper. Cut pepper into thin strips; add to sauce. Cook over moderately low heat, stirring constantly, until sauce is slightly thickened and clear. Stir in pineapple preserves. Heat thoroughly. Pour pineapple sauce over hot spareribs; and serve at once; or reheat sauce and spareribs together. Makes 4 servings.

Parkview Baptists Near Start Of Construction on New Auditorium

Goodwin said his committee has delivered all of the $6,450 and received cash for all but $150 worth to date.

The Parkview church decided last August to wait until $10,000 worth of cash was on hand before starting the foundation of their newly proposed auditorium. Goodwin reports only $2,950 of this $10,000 is on hand. The Finance committee expects the $10,000 to be reached and surpassed within five days.

The Church Bond method of borrowing money for buildings originated with a Houston attorney, J. S. Bracewell. Bracewell was a member of the Broadway Baptist church in Houston and when his church needed a building but had to wait several years to raise a down payment for a loan, the bond idea began. Thus it is named the Broadway Plan.

The Parkview pastor, Rev. John C. Taylor, says, "Nine different denominations in 22 states are using this method and the Broadway bonds. Any church can make up their own and have them printed themselves, but the Broadway Plan is a guaranteed plan."

"The Broadway office doesn't have a default in the payment of either principal or interest in 16 years of handling this plan. They will not grant Broadway Bonds to any church that borrows beyond a certain maximum. A church cannot afford to pay more than a third of its total revenues on a building debt. The Parkview church is only having to pay one-eighth of its last year's average revenues."

Vernon Hofacket, Parkview

Building Committee chairman, says, "Parkview revenues have exceeded the growth of its membership. The annual incomes increased from $6,900 1953 receipts to over $12,000. This year of which we are already $500 ahead. There is no reason in the world why Parkview won't pay this bond debt off in 8 years or less instead of the 13 according to the schedule of bond maturity dates worked out by the Broadway office."

The Parkview Baptist church started as a Mission of the First Baptist church in Littlefield, under the leadership of Dr. Lee Hemphill, in 1949. The Mission was organized into the Parkview Baptist church on May 28, 1950.

Rev. Elvin Ingram was the first pastor. On March 16, 1952, the present pastor, Rev. John C. Taylor, began his ministry here. Since its organization, the church has seen a gradual and steady increase in membership and finances. In the last two years Parkview has doubled its membership to the present roll of 320 members and increased more than three times its Mission contributions.

The church is located at 1027 W. Fifth and Wicker, one block west of the city park, and owns six lots with pavement, completely paid for, and a building of a small auditorium and 14 Sunday school rooms. Parkview rents a two-room house nearby and sends two Sunday school classes across the street to residences of members.

The Parkview church has voted wholeheartedly to build a new auditorium, seating 340, east of the present building. It will be a brick-veneer, concrete floors with asphalt tile, acoustical tile ceiling, end walls of new proven celotex and side walls of sheet rock and texture finish. The exterior will have a simple but attractive design with old-timey country church steeple.

The contemplated building is designed by Dewey Horton of Amarillo and can later be converted easily into a two-story educational building if the church outgrows the 340-seating capacity auditorium.

The cost is not figured to be over $18,000 and to effectuate this program Parkview has issued $15,000 worth of Broadway bonds for the loan.

The Constructoin Committee chairman, John Clayton, says his committee expects to start the foundation within two weeks, if the remaining $2,950 in bonds or donations is raised.

Rice, Pork Chop and Vegetable Casserole

Pork chops and tender rice make mighty satisfying good eating! Add the wonderful flavors of green peas, mushroom soup, green pepper and some onion, and a dish with really terrific eating is ready for a feast or for a family meal. This rice and pork chop dish is truly quick-to-fix. Each seasoning and ingredient in this oven dish perfectly complements the flavors of the others, and after cooking together all these delicious flavors are blended and developed to make truly family satisfying eating.

INGREDIENTS:

- 6 or 8 pork chops
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 10 1/2-ounce can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 cup water
- 3 cups cooked rice
- 2 cups cooked green peas
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

QUICK METHOD FOR COOKING FLUFFY WHITE RICE:

- To make 3 heaping cups of white, fluffy, perfectly cooked rice:
- 1. Put 1 cup uncooked rice, 2 cups cold water and 1 teaspoon salt into a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil.
- 2. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Do not remove lid or stir rice while it is cooking.

- 3. Leave saucepan over this low heat for 14 minutes. Turn heat off. The rice is now ready to use. However, leave the cover on the saucepan to keep the rice warm if you are not ready to use it immediately.

For extra fluffy, tender, separate grains—allow the rice to steam for an additional 10 minutes—with heat off, but without removing lid.

METHOD: Place pork chops in a skillet and brown on both sides. Enough fat should cook out of the pork chops so that it is not necessary to add any to the skillet. Lift chops out of the skillet. Place the onion and the green pepper in the skillet and cook until tender. It may be necessary to add a small amount of fat to prevent onions and peppers from sticking. Add mushroom soup, water, rice, peas, salt and pepper. Mix well. Pour half of the rice and pea mixture into a greased baking dish. Arrange half of the chops over the rice and peas. Add the rest of the rice and peas. Top with the remaining chops and bake in a 350°F. oven about 30 minutes, or until the pork chops are tender.

This recipe will make 6 or 8 servings depending upon the number of pork chops used.

Baptists To Pay Debt April 10

The First Baptist church of Littlefield has set April 10 as date for paying off contractors who built the new auditorium. The debt is $280,000 and Dr. Lee Hemphill, pastor, said, "We'll probably have to borrow about $100,000."

In offering the first Sunday in April will be used to reduce the amount the church will need to borrow.

In the first Sunday offering for March, $7,900 was contributed to the building fund. "We have raised a little more than we anticipated," Dr. Hemphill said. Since Nov. 1, members of the congregation have contrib-

CAREERS . . . AND BABIES TOO

By Dorothy Roe
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK—Nowadays having a baby need be only a slight interruption of a young woman's business career, says Elsie Frankfurt, of Texas.

Elsie, the young and vital maternity dress tycoon, voiced these sentiments recently at the Harvard Business School, where she was the only woman in a seminar of 80 members of the Young Presidents' Club. When a speaker said most executives considered women in business temporary, Elsie retorted:

"That's only in story books. A baby means only a couple of months away from the job to-day."

Later over a New York luncheon table, she elaborated her ideas, saying:

"More and more women are going into every field of business and the professions every day, and most of them do it because they have to. They can't afford to sit at home any more, even when they have children. The high cost of living and paying taxes makes it a necessity to have two breadwinners in many families to-day."

With her two sisters, Edna and Louise, Elsie runs one of the country's largest and most successful maternity dress companies in her home town of Dallas. The girls decided to manufacture these long-neglected garments when the two married members of the trio found they couldn't find the kind of dresses they wanted while awaiting birth of their own babies. (Edna has three children, Louise two.)

Now they turn out 100,000 maternity garments a year, ranging from bathing suits and shorts to suits, dresses, slacks and formal gowns. Elsie as president of the firm, keeps an alert eye on all departments of the business, including styling. Though she is considered a genius in modern business methods, Elsie looks like a frivolous debutante, loves pretty clothes, and dazzled her male classmates at the Harvard seminar by wearing a different outfit every day and every evening of the session. Says she proudly: "I didn't repeat once." Today, says Elsie, most women want to continue their usual activities up to the time their babies are born, and so provide themselves with a complete wardrobe of smart and flattering maternity clothes. Says she: "Today's women have learned that it pays to look their best at all times, even when expecting the stork. Well-designed maternity clothes have enabled many women to keep on at their jobs almost until time for the hospital—and that's a much healthier and happier situation than moping around the house ashamed to be seen."

Paris Spring Hats Strike Fishy Note

By NADINE WALKER

AP News Feature
PARIS—Put on your seaweed bonnet, with a bit of nonesense on it...

And you'll be wearing the latest spring hat style from Paris. For seaweed, dyed the pretties pink and blue colors, has been taken up with enthusiasm by French hatters this season.

In the same nautical mood, some of them (Madame Janette, for instance) have brought out headgear in the shape of sea anemones, water lilies, lotus and star-fish.

You won't have much on your mind this spring if your hat is Paris-inspired, for here the new chapeaux are about as big as a button and light as a feather.

The wonder is how they ever stay on the head in the mildest breeze. Claude St. Cyr lines all hats with velvet, which is supposed to help them stick to the hair. Gilbert Orcel, among many others, resorts to covered wire clips to clip a hat on. Some of the real lilliputians—a little flower or jeweled medalion in a corner of the brow—look as if they might be stuck on by suction, like a rubber dart, but probably concealed elastic bands are the answer.

Hats in flower-printed silk or cotton, which made their first appearance last year, are still in vogue in the new collections. A late variation is the little calot with small mixed field flowers applied in relief all over. Some of these are so realistic that the woman who wears one risks getting a bee in her bonnet.

The basic shape of most spring hats this year is a shallow saucer balanced far forward, but it's really a demi-tasse size. Furthermore, hatters go in for air-conditioning, or what they call "aeration," with cut-outs and cut-away effects to let the hair show through.

Perhaps it's all a subtle bid for the favor of the woman who likes to go bareheaded; with one of the new models on, she'll hardly know the difference.

It's no secret that there's a feud of some years standing between Paris hair stylists, who want women to wear their tresses short, and trend-setting dress designers, who want to bring back long hair. More than half the top-drawer houses, including Dior, have their mannequins wearing chignons. The hatters, as interested neutrals, have to walk a tightrope between the two factions.

This time they've struck an admirable balance with little forward-sitting hats that are perfect with buns, but look equally attractive with short cuts.

Barbecued Beefburgers on Tender Rice

Here are some A-1 applause getters! Really WOW eaters with this different rice and beef dish! Just taste how wonderful this combination of beef and economical rice is when these two food favorites are served together with a simply perfect barbecue sauce. The juicy and brown beefburgers are placed on servings of fluffy tender rice and then covered with peppery and red barbecue sauce. This is a quick main dish as well as an economical one which will please family or guests.

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 cup chopped onions
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 8-ounce cans of tomato sauce
- 4 1/2 cups hot cooked rice

QUICK METHOD FOR COOKING FLUFFY WHITE RICE:
 To make 5 heaping cups of white, fluffy, perfectly cooked rice:

1. Put 1 1/2 cups uncooked rice, 3 cups cold water and 1 1/2 teaspoons salt into a 2-

- quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil.
 2. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Do not remove lid or stir rice while it is cooking.
 3. Leave saucepan over this low heat for 14 minutes. Turn heat off. The rice is now ready to use. However, leave the cover on the saucepan to keep the rice warm if you are not ready to use it immediately.
- For extra fluffy, tender, separate grains—allow the rice to steam for an additional 10 minutes—with heat off, but without removing lid.
- METHOD: Mix together the beef, egg, salt and pepper. Shape into six flat cakes, using about 1/3 cup of mixture for each cake. Melt 1 tablespoon of the fat in a skillet and brown the cakes, first on one side, then on the other. While the cakes are browning, melt the remaining 2 tablespoons of fat in a saucepan. Add the onions and cook in the fat until tender. Add the Worcestershire sauce, vinegar, sugar, and tomato sauce and mix well. Pour this sauce over the cakes. Cover skillet and simmer for 15 minutes.

To serve, arrange the hot rice on a platter. Place the beef cakes over the rice and pour the sauce over the beef cakes and rice.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Ford rides on a Ball-Joint cushion

...and it handles with ball-bearing ease

It's THE GREATEST chassis advance in 20 years. And only the '54 Ford in its field has it! It pays off with the smoothest ride you've ever experienced in a low-priced car... easier handling... fewer service worries... and many, many other advantages.

And besides this revolutionary advance, Ford offers two brand new deep-block power plants: the 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 and the 115-h.p. I-block Six. You'll also find a new stronger frame... a beautiful new Astra-Dial control panel... new styling inside and out... plus all the other fine-car features that have already established Ford as America's "worth more" car!

CONVENTIONAL KINGPIN SUSPENSION depends on hinge-like joints for movement of front wheels up and down or right and left. This system also requires lubrication at 8 points of wear at each front wheel. Doesn't permit maximum up-and-down wheel travel and is not sealed against dirt and water.

NEW FORD BALL-JOINT FRONT SUSPENSION replaces "hinges" for pivoting and up-and-down wheel movement with sealed ball joints. This eliminates 12 points of wear... helps keep front wheels in line longer... you get a smoother, more level ride. Your Ford keeps that new car "feel" longer.

Come in and Test Drive the '54 FORD with New Ball-Joint Front Suspension
