ONE EYE WEPT.
NOBODY KNOWS COOLIDGE.
CALAMITY INSURANCE.
PRESERVE THE TREES.

When you fall from your glory, as the British Cardinal and the French Emperor discovered, it is a short story. So with the fall of Dempsey. Reporters that acclaimed him, and told just why Tunney could not win, say "Jack had one eye closed, and was crying with the other, as he lost his world championship."

There is a lesson, of course. Aim at some result that cannot be taken from you, a championship in the things worth while. No one will take away Edison's championship.

One hundred and fifty years ago, Nathan Hale was standing before a British firing squad and making his famous last remark, President Coolidge says every child should know by heart:

"I regret that I have but one life to give for my country."

Young gentlemen will note that Nathan Hale's championship is one that no Tunney could take from him. Many young men, unfortunately, are not interested in fame that pays no dividends.

Bruce Barton, student of character, adds one to his "men that nobody knows." He spent an hour talking with President Coolidge, who said this: "As I now recall it, I had always rather hoped that I might keep store when I grew up."

Little Calvin on the Vermont farm didn't learn to be a policeman, railroad engineer, pirate, or President. Nobody even predicted that he would be President. He wanted to "keep store."

And, "attractions being proportionate to destiny," as Foster says, President Coolidge is usually keeping the biggest store in the world. He is general manager for Uncle Sam, champion wholesaler and retailer, in every business machine.

President Green, of the American Federation of Labor, says that "firm labor" or labor organizations built up within great supplying corporations, and controlled by the corporations, are a menace to harmony between employers and employees. They are certainly a threat against the whole labor union movement. But, if employers are intelligent enough to realize that good wages pay good dividends, what can organized labor do?

Florida fruit growers lose $5,000,000 in the tomato. 1,200,000 boxes of grapefruit, 500,000 boxes of oranges are included in official estimates of the loss.

Public relief contributions are praiseworthy, but insignificant in a loss that runs into hundreds of millions.

Could not the Government establish an insurance fund to meet such emergencies and make that fund responsible, under careful management, for such miscalled "acts of God?"

THE STONES ENTERTAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Stone entertained Tuesday evening at their home honoring the former's sister, Miss Winnie Stone, of Weatherford.

Tables were arranged for "42" and an hour was pleasantly spent, after which delicious refreshments of hot chocolate, angel food and devil food cake were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Armon Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hopping, Mrs. E. A. Logan, Misses Stella Lloyd, Winnie Stone, of Weatherford, Helen Logan, Bette Culbertson, Glayde and Varena Wailes, Lillian Busher, Vivian and Ruth Courtney, Messrs. Clarence Barnes, Ralph Dunbar, Bogan Higgs, Perryman, Freeman, Alvin Mueller, Maurice White and Nelson.

LEVELLAND P. O. GAINS

The post office at Levelland has a gain of 56 per cent in revenue, for the past nine months over the preceding nine months, according to the report of the postmaster.

The rapid influx of people, both in the city and country, is responsible for the increase.

Buy it in Littlefield.

POSTOFFICE SHOWS INCREASE

Quarterly report made by postmaster W. J. Wade for the past years has shown a steady increase in business over the previous total of the first three quarters of the year of 1925 compared with the same three quarters of 1926 an increase of almost 50 per cent is given below.

In the past nine years Mr. Wade has been at his post of duty as regular postmaster during which time he has seen Littlefield grow from a town of 1,000 population to 3,000, the estimated population of today.

Littlefield postoffice was advanced to second class on July 1, 1925. The postmaster's salary fixed at $2,400 per year, one clerk, E. Wade, was given a civil servant rating and classed as a regular clerk at a salary of $1,700 per year.

Mr. Wade was classed as a temporary clerk at 65 cents per hour for hours in a ten hour period, and E. M. Wilf, classed as an auxiliary clerk, at the same rate of pay per hour.

Postmaster Wade, September 1st, purchased and installed an engine and standard equipment, at a cost of $2,000, and has made every effort to keep the office up to an excellent standard of service.

Receipts for the first three quarters of the year of 1925, totaled $5,436.52. For the same three quarters of 1926 the sum was $8,005.04, showing an increase of $2,568.52, or almost 50 per cent.

He has also ordered new equipment in the line of a typewriter and adding machine, which the office has been entitled to for some time. Incoming receipts do not include money order business, which also shows a heavy increase.

READY FOR HALLOWE'EN.

Men Have Attractive Displays of Their Wares.

The show windows over the city are dressed in their Halloween costumes with an artistic arrangement of appropriate symbols and colors.

The windows of the First National and the LaNell Confectionery have been made especially attractive with the handwork of Dr. H. P. Madry, a painter extraordinaire.

While a few of the curious who viewed the window attractions were satisfied with their own opinions as to how the doctor will spend his period of usefulness, others were more interested as evidenced by the numerous questions propounded at the two places of business.

"Will he heal right up," the doctor instructed the shopkeepers to expect the broken appearance has also been added to the windows of the Barber Shop and Homer's tailor shop.

The tree makes a million matches—each will ruin a million trees.

both the Asiatic and Mediterranean fowls, but principally the Rhode Island Reds, Banded Rocks, White Leghorns and Wyandottes. He will take care of custom eggs, and states he can hatch the eggs of his customers much more satisfactorily and cheaper than they can handle them themselves with hens or in small incubators. It is understood that one of the incubators is now enroute here and will have arrived by the time definite location of the business has been made.

AINS ELECTRIC HATCHERY WILL BE LOCATED HERE SOON WITH CAPACITY OF 36,000 EGGS PER SINGLE HATCHING

An electric chicken hatchery will be located in Littlefield in the future, is the statement of Al. Nuenschwander to a Leader representative this week. The personal organization has not yet been completed entirely, but it is understood that Mr. Nuenschwander has considerable interest in the new business.

The firm will be known as the Ains Electric Hatchery, and will have a capacity of 36,000 eggs. It is centrally located in Littlefield and will also handle a reputable line of poultry products in connection. The plant incubators will be a Buckeye No. 7, with 10,000 capacity, and two Peterhans machines, each having a capacity of 10,000 eggs. All machines will be run electrically.

ASK MOODY WHETHER LAW CAN CUT COTTON ACREAGE.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 16.—The attorney general's office was asked for an opinion today as to the constitutionality of a legislative restriction of cotton acreage law such as was proposed but defeated at the Memphis conference.

LFD. MERCHANTS CONTRIBUTE FOR LAMB CO. FAIR

It is not every town that shows the loyal co-operation in community affairs that is manifest by Littlefield. Nearly anything that is for the good of Littlefield and surrounding community meets with a hearty response among the business interests of this little city. Just as an illustration, here are the names of the business men in Littlefield who contributed towards the Lamb County fair exhibits, some giving cash, others merchandise, and every one of them is worthy the support of the people of this trade territory:

Yellow House Land Co., First National Bank, White Rose Cafe, C. C. Fletcher, jeweler; Willis Barber Shop, Cook Barber Shop, McCaskill Electric Shop, Lon's Cafe, Hale & Starr Barber Shop, E. S. Rowe, attorney; B. & M. Cash Grocery, Butler Lumber Co., Bell-Gillette Motor Co., Robinson Produce Co., The Fair Store, Squires & McCormick Grocery, Stokes-Alexander Drug Store, Gustine Furniture Co., Model Drug Store, W. H. Heinan Coal Co., M System Grocery, Sadler Drug Store, Littlefield Bakery, Main Filling Station, Barnes Mercantile, Littlefield State Bank, Yeager-Chesler Land Co., Hamburger King, Black Land Co., State Telephone Co., Harless Brothers, City Tailor Shop, Hemphill-Barnes Insurance Co., Lubbock Egg and Poultry Co., Burleson-Mason Furniture Co., Houk's Grocery, Arnett Motor Co., Parker Garage, Porter Grocery, Shaw-Arnett Dry Goods Co., Cuenod's Dry Goods Store, C. ## SCOUT MEMBERS INCREASE.

Boys and Girls Enjoy Social in the Presbyterian Church.

Concluding the enrollment contest which has been in action for some time among the local boy scouts, was a tackey party given Saturday evening in the basement of the Presbyterian church by the loosing side who had as their guests the winners of the contest and a number of girls.

Games and contests furnished diversion for an hour and delicious refreshments were served.

At the beginning of the contest only eight members were enrolled and at a recent meeting a total of 33 members were enrolled as an effect of the contest. Plans are being formulated to organize this group of boys into two troops. The first will be composed of boys from the ages of 12 to 15 years of age while the second will be formed of boys from 15 to 18.

THE DARKEST DAY IN HISTORY

By A. B. CHAPIN

MISS WEST TEXAS IS NAME OF A NEW FREIGHT STEAMER

That a new freight ship just being completed by the Southern Steamship Co., will be named "Miss West Texas" is the information received by President Arthur P. Duggan, of West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The new vessel is so named in honor of this great regional commercial organization. It will ply between Philadelphia and New Orleans, making its maiden trip from Philadelphia October 27th, arriving in Houston November 3rd. The day of its christening has been set for November 6th, at Houston, and will be under the auspices of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

PICTURES OF EXHIBIT.

Pictures of the Lamb County exhibit, taken at the State Exposition at Austin, where it won second place, have been placed in each of the local bank windows and other places of business over Littlefield.

These pictures are good. They bring out clearly each article and show its arrangement.

G. M. Shaw had charge of the exhibit, who had the pictures made.

Farming occupies 46 per cent of the people of Texas.

Friend of Forest

A. W. Laird of Pocatello, Idaho, is president of Western Forestry Conservation Assn., and head of committee that called on President Coolidge to discuss the problem of saving our great national wooded lands—that are losing destruction.

WHEN IS HALLOWE'EN?

There seems to be some confusion as to the proper night for Halloween celebration this year, judging from the number of inquiries coming to the Leader office this week.

Halloween always comes on the evening of October 31st, so this year, the day being Sunday, it will be up to the churches to celebrate the occasion. The Leader recalls such an occasion as this when one of the churches put on a "spook show" at their night service. It was conducted in true keeping with the occasion of the religious hour, and was both interesting and instructive. Which of the Littlefield churches will take advantage of the occasion!

QUAIL AND DUCK SEASON IN TEXAS OPENED SATURDAY

The quail season in Texas opened last Saturday, October 16th, and will continue until January 1st, inclusive. The bag limit for these birds is 12 per day, and not more than 36 in any seven days. It is unlawful to shoot them from an automobile or to use headlights in hunting, neither may they be hunted one hour after sunset or one hour before sunrise.

The duck season which opened last Saturday extends through to January 31st.

This week Littlefield hunters are getting out their firearms, shining 'em up and investing in ammunition.

HEAVY FALL RAINS WHILE HINDERING COTTON PICKING YET IS FINE FOR THE FARMER WHO PLANTED SMALL GRAIN

"If any of the old-timers back in East Texas haven't studied their geographies since they were youngsters," remarked a Littlefield citizen this week, "they had better go to reviewing mosey pronto."

Thirty years ago the up-to-date geographies of those times seemed to take a special delight in stressing the barrenness and dryness of West Texas, especially that part known as the Llano Estacado, or Staked Plains, where Littlefield is now located. Probably none of the geographies had ever been out here; but at any rate they would be due for a big surprise should they migrate this direction in 1926.

"This is surely getting to be a terrible wet country," remarked another local citizen of this vicinity who had nearly 100 acres in cotton and was anxious to get some of it picked. "I

TRUCKS CARRY CHILDREN TO AND FROM COT. PATCH

A scene contrasting that of the usual Littlefield school children carrying books enroute to school is that of the boys and girls who arise early, and with a sack thrown over their shoulder and attired in cotton picking clothes make their way, some walking and some riding, to the cotton fields to gather the crop in this vicinity for which school was dismissed for two weeks.

Considerable difficulty was encountered the first of the week by children who had no means of conveyance to the cotton patch and distance hindered their walking. A number of communities have secured the services of those with transportation trucks, who made a round of the business section each morning and pick up children who wish to work. Tuesday morning several trucks stopped in front of the Reeves meat market to pick up children, but owing to the fact that notice of this kind had not been circulated there was only one boy there to go. Better understanding among both farmers and children has been met and less difficulty is being encountered by both.

A number of other schools over the county have been dismissed with another week of help and bright weather to gather the fleecy staple of this section much better conditions will exist throughout the county.

GRAMMAR GRADES
GIVE A FEATURE
PROGRAM FRIDAY

A very interesting program was rendered by the Grammar school Friday afternoon before the teachers and a number of parents.

The program consisted of readings, dances and interspersed with songs and music which proved very entertaining.

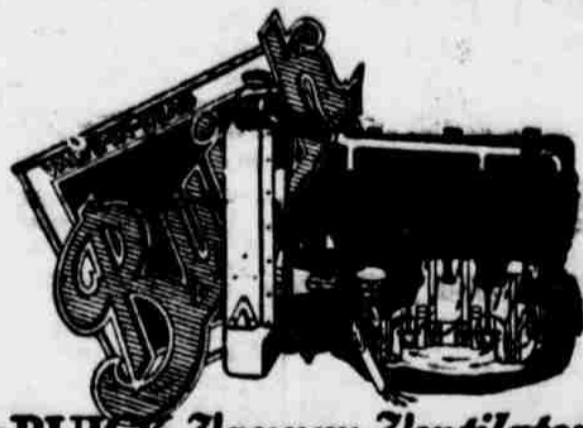

Dances were rendered by the three Harrison girls, of the J. Doug. Morgan show which was here last week, and who attended school here during their stay in Littlefield, Lorene

Barnes and Harold Phillips. Mrs. Frances Lee Toibert, talented in expression, gave a reading and a sermonette. In the latter her impersonation of a negro woman was especially good, a part of which was:

"Don't be what yo aint,
Just be what yo is;
If yo am not what yo are,
Den yo is not what yo is."

Another reading enjoyed by the audience was given by Helen Rombach, and two songs were rendered, one by Helen Burke and another by Miss Nellie Dugger.

An old man's dance was the concluding number given by ten girls of the Grammar school, which will be repeated in an all-evening program soon after school is resumed.

Real Biscuits

If you have a patient right arm you are bound to make successful beaten biscuits. This is another old southern recipe of Miss Elizabeth.

- 1 quart flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons of lard
- 1 pint of milk
- 1 teaspoon salt

Sift dry ingredients. Then add the shortening and blend by using the fingers—rub until smooth; add gradually the liquid and knead all together till the dough is formed. Should be a rather stiff dough. Then lay the dough on a biscuit board and beat with rolling pin half an hour. Knead lightly and beat again for ten minutes. Lift air bubbles from all over the dough. Then roll out and cut with cutter in any shape and stick top here and there with fork. Bake in moderate oven about fifteen minutes or till top and bottom are a light brown.

Baking Hint

The oven should always be preheated a few minutes before biscuits are put in. They require fast baking.

For Oil Stove Users

Women who cook with oil will appreciate one of the newest stove models with a wick burner. It burns clean and gives the best of the best of the best.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend.—John 15:13.

Love is but another name for that inscrutable presence by which the soul is connected with humanity.—Simma.

THE HUMAN SIDE

The human side of the American people has been displayed most beautifully as a result of the disastrous storm in Florida.

Those who joked about a real estate boom that Florida was not responsible for starting, were quick to hold out a helping hand to her when she suffered a terrible loss of life and property at the hands of an agency that plays no favorites, and may visit any other community in any other state at any time. Texas has taken several "swipes" at the Florida boom, probably in a more or less jealous spirit, because Texas is also bidding for new settlers and greater development all the time. The Leader confesses to some slight invidious statements, yet we now declare that no one has more profound sympathy for the unfortunates of that beautiful southern state than has the writer of this column. In fact, it is worthy of America that genuine sorrow has been felt all over the country for the stricken state, and that this sympathy is absolutely real is best proven by the speed with which help was rushed to the suffering.

We Americans are a hard boiled people when it comes to business, but when trouble comes we realize that we are just one big family, and all quickly join in helping the stricken members of that family. The American people have a human side, and it was never more beautifully displayed than when the good people of Florida were visited by the recent disaster.

To make things still worse for "Ma" Ferguson, it happens that her term as governor expires on the 13th of January.

OLD FRIEND PASSING

According to the health department at Washington, D. C., our old time friend, "the old oaken bucket" ought to be condemned as unhealthy and unsanitary. Should this edict become a reality it would not effect many citizens around Littlefield, but it would affect them indirectly. Out here there are very few oaken buckets, if any; but a great many of us came from a section of country where they were common.

Most of us can look back to some old home spot where the "old oaken bucket, the moss covered bucket, the iron bound bucket" hangs in the well. As we think of it there rushes over us a flood of memories. Somehow the water we drank from that well tasted better than any other. There was a coolness, a freshness, an invigoration that came from it equaled by no other, and today we would give a good deal could we let that old oaken bucket down into the well and bring it up again brimming full with its sparkling nectar.

It may be true, as the health department claims, that the old oaken bucket harbors some germ of disease; but so dear to our hearts is this old oaken bucket we are still willing to take some chances. We've been robbed of most of the delights of early days, and the most of us are ready to fight to preserve this one—one of the last ones left to us.

The advice given farmers since the first of the year now includes everything except having their tonsils taken out.

GETTING ACQUAINTED

As the new school year is now well started in and around Littlefield, we feel it is a good time to suggest to parents of children now in our schools that they make it a point to get better acquainted with those into whose care they have entrusted their off springs.

Some families make it a point to invite the teachers into their homes occasionally, to a meal or a pleasant social evening; others ask them for an auto ride from time to time. As a result the teacher feels that he or she is in much closer harmony with the entire community, that their work is being appreciated, and they strive to do still better work.

Parents who drop in at the school house their child is attending are always welcomed. Such little visits encourage the children and also indicate to the teacher that the visitor is anxious to co-operate in every way possible to advance the educational system of the community.

It is quite a business to raise a family of children, or even a single child. If parents and teachers work along purely independent lines and never consult together, they are apt not to work exactly toward the same ends. A little more co-operation would help very much.

Some of the teachers who are away from home feel rather lonely at times and wish for more friends and a little social attention. In view of the fact that in their hands rests a large part of the child's welfare it would seem to be only an obligation fulfilled to see that this is provided for them.

The editor of a neighboring paper says girls shall have men's wages. Our observation is that they usually get them by marrying the men.

FUTURE CITIZENS

The Leader oftentimes wonders how many of our local citizens give very much thought to the what and who will compose our future citizenship. How often do we pause to think that the child of today is the citizen of tomorrow? What kind of citizen will he be? What will be the character of Littlefield citizenship a generation from now? It will depend largely upon the training of the present growing generation.

Now is the time to begin teaching the children local pride and patriotism, teach them to have pride in local institutions; first the boy and girl scout movements, later the chamber of commerce and other organizations that are helping to build the city.

Teach them to have a pride in the local business concerns, and that a dollar sent away to some mail order concern is gone forever. Encourage them to begin savings accounts in the local banks. Teach them the meaning of thrift.

Good roads, good churches, good schools, attractive places of business, are all made possible by the spirit of co-operation and neighborliness, and children should be taught to realize these facts.

Speaking of the movement of youth from the farm to town, we think it should be restricted to about 35 miles per hour.

WOMEN AROUSED.

The women of Lubbock are up in arms—and that means considerable; but after all it may be of no more effect than it was in Lamb county nearly a year ago when the women of this section were highly indignant.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THE DUNES ARE INDOMITABLE.

Some time ago the writer visited the wild sand dune country of northern Indiana.

This sandy waste stretched along the southern shore of Lake Michigan between Gary and Michigan City.

The high sandhills are ages old. Some are "wandering dunes." Moving slowly through the years they have worked eastward. In their track new dunes are born. Others are vexed and on their sides sand cherries and stunted pines struggle for existence.

Indians have come and gone; pioneer scouts have given place to adventurous settlers and they in turn have made way for the teeming city bred; but the dunes have remained.

Over them the great invention of the age had a cradle and a culmination. Here Octave Chanute made experiments with gliders, giving his information to the Wright Brothers later on. And here day and night great roaring planes fly overhead carrying the mails from Cleveland and Chicago.

The dunes have outlived the wilderness; they continue untamed in the heart of civilization.

In their enduring ruggedness there is a message of inspiration that helps one who feels it to "hold on" in the trials of life.

The face of the dunes is like the face of the common people. It is grim, determined, enduring.

It possesses neither the kingly grandeur of the towering mountains nor the abject serfdom of impotent deserts.

Through the passing chills it has remained, remained in spite of wind and wave, remained one of the enigmas of geological endurance.

Buffeted, driven about, torn asunder, the particles yet remain, and remaining, combine in lines that alter day by day, that move, that retreat, that advance; but lines that lie in the shadows of evening, gray, gaunt, beaten and deformed—but sublimely everlasting.

In the face of the dunes there is seen this example of endless endurance. In its barren beauty there speaks a message of grim courage and indomitable lasting power.

It all comes about from the fact that the Commissioner's Court of Lubbock county has threatened to dismiss the county demonstration agent.

Indignation meetings are being held, petitions are pouring in to the Court, and throughout the county generally, according to report there is much ill feeling.

The women are mustering numerous reports of county wide activities and assembling heaps of evidence of the value of the county demonstrator. The same thing was done in Lamb county; but the Court had its own way just the same. It remains to be seen whether the women of Lubbock county have more influence with their Commissioners than did those of Lamb county.

LITTLE LEADERS

It may be that beauty is only skin deep, but some of the Littlefield ladies put it on thicker than that.

Citizens of Littlefield realize that the cost of living comes pretty high, but they all seem to think it is worth it and are still trying to hang on.

If there ever was a time when a Littlefield boy needs a friend it is when he gets too big for short pants but still has to wear them.

It's a good thing for Littlefield men to remember that very often it takes more elbows than brains to push to the front.

There are some folks in Littlefield who think they're just as good as any one else, and, in their own estimation they are.

It has been suggested that if the City Fathers would enforce the dog tax ordinance they could easily raise enough money to pave Main street.

Littlefield citizens can agree on almost everything except religion and the outcome of the cotton situation. hard to find, hunt for the Littlefield man who has at any time suffered an attack of writer's cramps from writing to his mother-in-law.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS

Dr. Liles says one reason the stork isn't more popular with some women than it is, is because they can't exchange what it brings them.

"My idea of an optimist," declares T. S. Sales, "is the fellow who can exaggerate a sandwich into a full meal and make his stomach believe it."

Ralph Dunbar says when you stop to figure out that all lips fit, you've got to admit that Nature is a grand thing.

Rev. Dugger says to train a child properly a parent must first have more sense than the child.

Homer Snowden says "love is two divided by nothing."

Bob McCaskill has figured it out that the "average man" is one who isn't as good as his wife thought he was before she married him nor as bad as she thinks he is after she marries him.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. A. Bills with Mrs. W. H. Rutledge hostess.

A very interesting lesson on "India" was conducted, after which refreshments were served to a large number of members and additional guests.

THE PROGRESS OF TEXAS AS MEASURED BY PUBLIC UTILITIES

A glance backward and a look ahead which business men always take at the beginning of a year shows that Texas has been making progress during 1925. It shows that the prospects for further advancement during 1926 is good.

And in every phase of the review and prospect is seen the progress of the several essential public services upon which growth and achievement have depended.

The service of the telephone in this community is one of the items that have made for development here and without which the development of the past year could not have been accomplished. In the outlook for the present New Year this company is expecting to be a major factor in the building of this community to still better service to the people.

The service of the Panhandle Telephone system and the growth of this community go hand in hand. Our aims and ambitions, if they are right, are identical.

What are You Doing for Their Future?

When your children grow up and start into the world, "their own," competition will be greater and a living harder to earn.

It is just as much your duty to provide for their future as it is their present, and every advantage and every aid you can get them will make their life's path smoother and brighter.

Take education for example. You from your own experience can see how valuable a good education is, even today. The world makes room for brains, pays well for intelligence. Tomorrow college education will be absolutely essential to success. Just essential as a high school or grade school education is today.

It is your duty to provide the necessary financial means for higher education. By starting a savings account now, and making small deposits you will be astonished how it will grow into large funds—and make your children's future a guaranteed success.

SUGGEST DUGGAN AS A MEMBER OF TAX COMMITTEE

Arthur P. Duggan, of Littlefield, president, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and President R. M. Kelly of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, have been suggested by Homer D. Wade, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, for places on the committee on tax equalization. Mr. Wade in a letter addressed to Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller and to Lee Satterwhite, speaker of the house, recommended that these gentlemen be given places on the committee of senators and legislators provided for in the Witt-Price senate resolution passed in the closing hours of the recently adjourned special session of the thirty-ninth legislature.

Both East and West Texas Chambers of Commerce have a direct interest in the problems of taxation in Texas. President Duggan, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has been waging an extensive speaking campaign urging tax equalization in Texas, and this problem has been made one of the major programs of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the year.

The successful passage of the senate resolution stamps with success the first round of the battle for tax equalization. When the West Texas Chamber of Commerce first entered the fight, it was announced that the organization was asking only for the state-wide tax survey at present. It felt that the survey would reveal unsuspected inequalities in taxation in this state, and that after these inequalities had been officially called to the attention of the state legislators that proper corrective measures would be apparent.

THE WANDERER, NOTED BIBLE.

The Story is to Be Presented Next Friday Night in Littlefield.

Promising to be one of the most outstanding features ever presented on the screen anywhere and far better than "The Ten Commandments" is that of "The Wanderer," which will be shown at the Palace theatre Thursday and Friday night of the coming week.

Those who have seen the picture praise it for its unexcelled reproduction of the Biblical story of the Prodigal Son.

William Collier, Jr., who plays the title role, Ernest Torrence, Greta Nissen and many other well known actors and actresses of the movie world are presented in this production.

The largest motion picture set ever constructed and the greatest number of persons ever used for one scene in an American-made motion picture are two outstanding features of "The Wanderer."

The scene, which is that of an unnamed Biblical city, was built in the foothills of Santa Monica, Calif., and covers many hundred acres of ground. More than 200 carpenters and scores of technical assistants worked more than three weeks constructing the hundred massive buildings and walls for the set.

More than two years were spent preparing for the production and four months were required for the actual filming.

LOCKNEY TEAM HERE SATURDAY WILDCATS TO MEET

The Littlefield High School "Wildcats" will take on the strong Lockney High School team Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the local ball park.

The rumor goes that Lockney's "Longhorns" are stronger this year than they have ever been. They have not been defeated by a class "B" team this year, therefore there will be one less team in the race for District Championship after Friday's game.

Last Saturday the local team met the hardest team, Olton, that they have met this year and their clean sportsmanship was evident at all times. The "Wildcats" were off form for most of the game, but showed up well toward the end of the game. Roy Bennett and Harold Goertz deserve special mention for their work in the line.

Everybody is going to the game Friday.

Ima Dumbell says a fish market is the only real five and ten cent store.

ENTERTAIN FOOTBALL LTEAM.

Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Spinks gave a banquet in honor of the Littlefield High School football team. Besides the host and hostess, fifteen football men and their ladies, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Boles were present.

The school cafeteria, the scene of the festivities, was decorated beautifully, and each visitor was given an attractive head gear upon his arrival. Noise-making articles were given to the boys and dainty trick parasols were given to the girls.

The party lasted for about two hours with never a moment of anything but laughter and hilarious fun making. A short program was rendered and after the pleasant and tasty banquet, the group expressed their appreciation of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Spinks, and went away happier and with more enthusiasm than they have had in many moons.

TRADES DAY, NOA. 1.

"Trades Day will mean just exactly what the name signifies the first Monday in November," says E. C. Cundiff, chairman of Trades Day Committee in Littlefield.

Every merchant in the city will put on specials and it will be a real occasion to save money.

There will be no program on that day, but the usual drawing for cash prizes will be held.

FIRE DESTROYS BUILDING AT 'STATE.'

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—A shake up in the projected building program for the University of Texas will probably be the most important and serious question laid before the board of regents at its meeting Tuesday, as a result of the disastrous chemistry building fire on the campus Saturday at dawn. The building and its contents were destroyed and the loss will probably total $150,000.

The disaster will make a new permanent building for the chemistry department necessary as quickly as possible.
