LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1966

NUMBER 18

Water Hearing Concludes In Lubbock

6,469 Students Enrolled

Approximately 6,469 students answered the call back to school in the area schools this week. Not all reports are complete as students will continue to enroll for days to come.

In one of the smoothest openings in many years, the Littlefield schools enrolled 2,054 of the total number. While this total is a little less in number of students enrolled on the last day of last year, it is expected that another 150 students will be enrolled in the coming week, Superintendent Paul Manning explained.

He also added that all school principals and teachers reported the same smoothness of operations for opening day and expressed appreciation for the fine cooperation of the students. Because of this cooperation, students and teachers were able to enjoy a full day of school work.

The total enrollment for the Littlefield schools breaks down as follows: High School 380; Junior High 517; Elementary 727; Primary 430.

Area schools also reported interesting statistics. The Spade schools opened on Monday with 165 students and Amherst enrolled 380.

Anton reported approximately 530 and Whitharral 285. In its first year of integration, the Olton schools reported a total enrollment of 1,247.

The Springlake-Earth school is able to boast its highest enrollment in the Senior class as 56 students will complete their studies there this year, although the over-all enrollment dipped slightly.

Sudan reports 634 students there and Bula and Pep report 142 and 97 respectively.

According to County Superintendent, C. Roy Stevens, most schools in the county seem to have a full complement of teachers and substitutes.

Break-in Reported

Approximately $200 worth of merchandise, including watches and a small transistor radio, were reported stolen from Evans Jim Dandy Grocery Store on Sunday morning. Entry was made by breaking a window.

Fingerprints were found on the jewelry case as well as blood on the window and a cap nearby.

Lamb County Electric Cooperative Meeting Held

The annual Lamb County Electric Cooperative meeting was held Tuesday, September 6, at 7:30 on the grounds of the new REA Building. Approximately 600 persons attended the annual event.

Guests registered before the program and received numbers that were drawn throughout the evening. Winners choose prizes from among various electric appliances on display. The grand prize of the evening, a portable television set, was won by Mrs. Frank Smith of Spade.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was V.H. Diersing, president of the board of directors. The theme of "Helping Texas Grow" was used throughout the program. V.H. Diersing started the program with the welcome address. The invocation was then given by Rev. J. Henry Cox of Lums Chapel. Secretary of the board, R.V. Allcorn, then read the minutes of the last meeting.

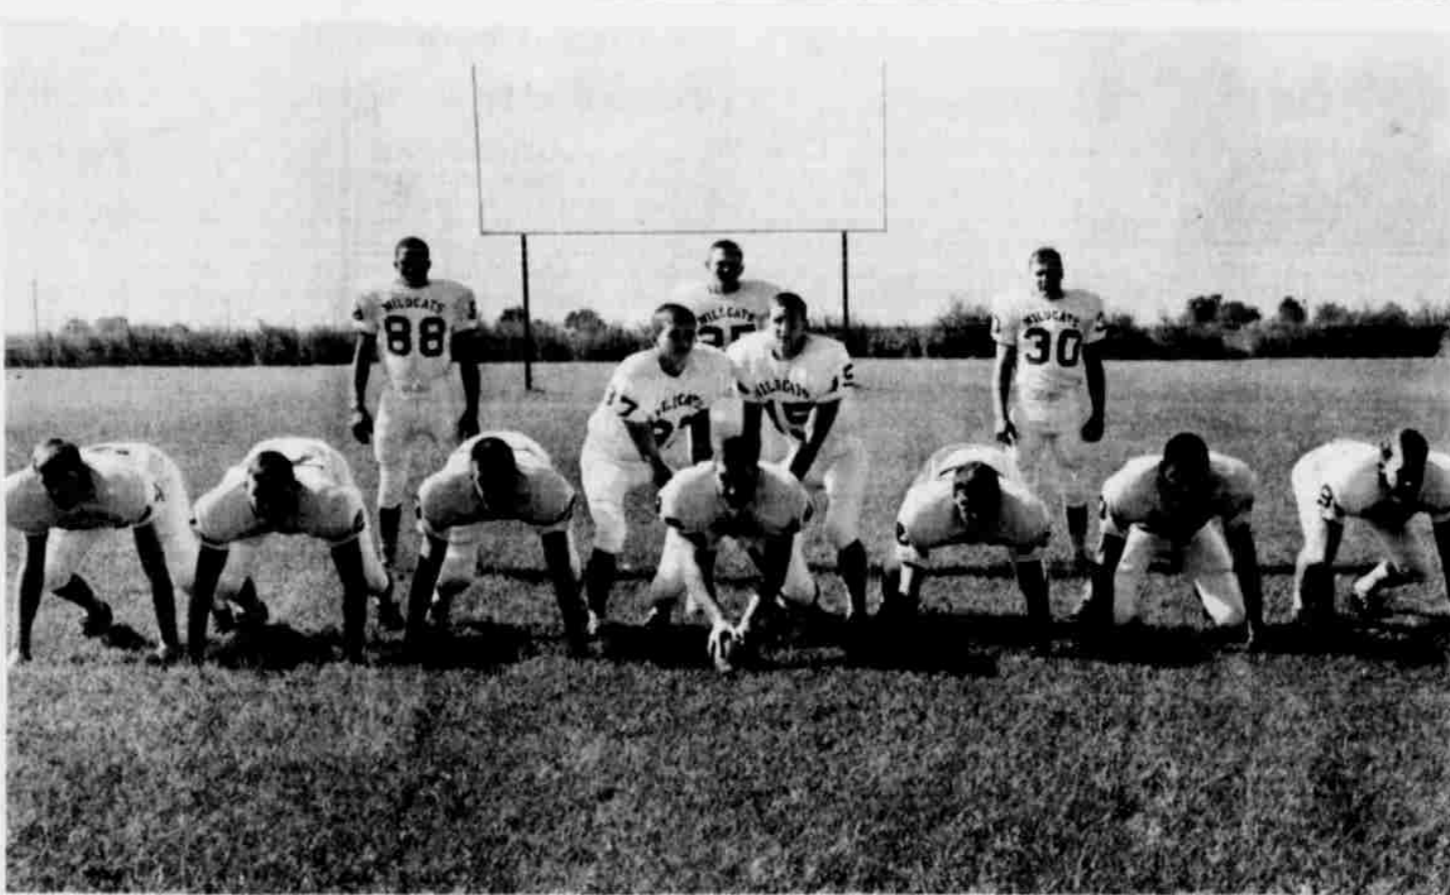

Glen Newton was then introduced as the featured speaker. Mr. Newton is the manager of the South Plains Electric Cooperative in Lubbock. He emphasized the growth that has made the cooperatives great and the number of people rural and urban who benefited from the work of the cooperatives. Newton also pointed out the growing problems faced by the growing cooperatives.

Following Newton's address Alvin Webb, auditor gave the financial report to the members. Dick Carl, manager of the local electric cooperative then gave a report on the operation of the Lamb County Electric Cooperative.

A highlight of the meeting was the election of three board members. N.B. Embry, secretary of the nominating committee presented the nominations to the members. The members then voted for the directors. After the votes were counted the directors for the coming year were V.H. Diersing, re-elected from district 5; Ernest Goertz, re-elected from district 3; and a newcomer to the board, Robert Dysart from district 3 taking the place of V.M. Peterman.

Soft drinks were provided throughout the night for those attending and a movie was provided for the children's entertainment.

READY FOR SEASON OPENER Friday night the Littlefield Wildcats will get their first test, under game conditions, against the Plainview Bulldogs at 7:30 in Wildcat Stadium. Starters for the contest have not been named, but Coach George Kirk said they will come from the "White Offense", above. In the line

Commerce Exec To Leave Saturday

Leon Slaughter, Executive Vice President of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce from February 1965 until August 1966, will be leaving Saturday, September 10th, to take a similar position with the Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce. He will leave a list of recommendations for future action by the Chamber, which will be discussed by the Board of Directors at their next meeting, Tuesday night, September 13.

Outstanding among his many accomplishments during his stay at Littlefield, was the leadership provided in helping secure Littlefield's position as the only finalist for Texas for cities its size in the All-American City competition for 1965.

He also leaves behind many projects, some completed and some initiated, which will benefit the community as a whole. The good will and cooperation of both the citizens and Chamber officials has been deeply appreciated and will be long remembered, Mr. Slaughter stated.

Wildcats Set For Plainview

With three weeks of hard practice sessions, and a couple of scrimmages under their belts, the Littlefield Wildcats appear to be ready for the moment of truth, tomorrow night at 7:30, as they face the Plainview Bulldogs in the first game of the 1966 season.

The Wildcats, picked by many to be the dark horse in the 3-AAA chase this year, will be out to avenge last year's loss to the Bulldogs, but may find the going rough, as Coach Don Williams will bring the finest team he has had, into Wildcat stadium.

The Bulldogs, who battled Amarillo to a 2-2 tie, in an early season scrimmage session, appear to be loaded with depth and experience, boasting 28 seniors and 14 lettermen. Everywhere you look on the Bulldog roster you see depth as the crew Williams has put together appears to be at least three deep at each post.

The offense of the Bulldogs built around the ball handling of Senior Ronald Kersh, a 6'1" 165 lb. signal caller, who is expected to give the 'Dogs a potent passing attack. For balance the Bulldogs have outstanding runners in the person of Joe Don Martin, a 151 lb., 5'9" junior halfback letterman, David Etheredge, 5'7" - 164 lb. fullback, and 5'9" Pat Buchanan, a senior halfback who tips the scales at 157.

Up front the Bulldogs will be going with a bigger team than any the Wildcats have met in the history of the competition, as several of the linemen will weigh in over the 200 pound mark.

This then is what the Wildcats will be facing as they str-ve to open the season on a winning note. The 'Cats and the coaching staff are aware of the ability of the Bulldogs, and feel they will have their work cut out come 7:30 Friday night. The spirit of the maroon and white continues to please and surprise the coaches, as the boys demonstrate their desire to play and to win.

Still smarting from the trouncing taken from Seminole, last week, the Wildcats hit the field Monday for the last of their two-a-day sessions, anxious to correct the mistakes shown in the Seminole massacre and to work on a completely new defense.

Coach Kirk said Monday the 'Cats had demonstrated they were ready for the new concept and would be given a chance to show what they could do against the Bulldogs. "We have been scouted by Plainview, in both of our scrimmage sessions," Kirk said, "and we have shown them that we wanted them to see."

"I'll say now that what they saw at Morton and at Seminole, will not be the same. We know Don (Plainview's head coach, Don Williams) will give his quarterback instructions to throw the ball, so, number one, we will unveil an all-new pass defense the boys have been working on the new maneuvers and will have the assignments down pat by game time. This is one area where we expect to show some surprises, another is in stopping the running game."

The offense of the Wildcats has rounded into top shape, as the 'Cats have spent most of their time working on various offensive formations and variations of the two basic attacks coach Kirk plans to use this year.

One of the things which has perplexed Kirk and his staff this past week, has been the holes in the defense. Always a trade mark of the Wildcats, the defense began to spring leaks in Friday's scrimmage against the Seminole squad, and the coaching staff has been scratching their heads ever since.

Kirk said after looking over the films of the scrimmage session, he plans to make several changes in the front defensive wall and possibly one or two changes in the secondary. As the coach mentioned, the crew began work on a new defensive game Monday, and if plans work out, the needed patches will be in place by game time.

The Texas Water Development Board is offering the farmers, ginners, and businessmen of the area their final opportunity to speak on the proposed surface water disposal plan under consideration for Northeast Texas in connection with its "Water for Texas" plan. This hearing is set for 9:00 a.m., Friday, September 9th in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium and is the last in a series.

At stake is water to maintain and increase acreage under irrigation on the High Plains.

The current plan calls for sending water from the Sulphur River Basin in Northeast Texas through a 980 mile canal to South Texas. It is estimated this will be enough water to supplement their current irrigation for 834,000 acres of land never before in cultivation. It would build a new economy in South Texas on new irrigation, but would leave West Texas, already under irrigation, high and dry.

Yet the current plan also states flatly that the High Plains' need for water is among the most critical in the State, but makes no provision for the High Plains to share in the State's surplus surface water.

Area residents know that as underground water is depleted, only supplemental water from another source will do the job. Since no other plans or hearings are in sight, the recommendations of this Board will probably seek enabling legislation this year.

The Plains Cotton Growers Water Committee will be present also to testify on behalf of the High Plains. They will insist that: (1) There is enough surplus water in Northeast Texas, when added to our groundwater, to prevent decline of our irrigated production; (2) Texas' surface water, which by law belongs to ALL the people of Texas, should not be used for new irrigation projects while established irrigated acreage goes dry; (3) A detailed economic feasibility study of bringing water from the Sulphur River Basin to the High Plains should be made before water is committed elsewhere; (4) High Plains farmers should be given a realistic cost per foot figure from that study, and (5) These farmers should then have the right to accept the water, or refuse it, at that price.

Figures of the cost of water per acre under the new plan were first estimated at $168 per acre. However, the originator of the figure has already cut it to $68. And some engineers say that figure is still too high—maybe twice too high.

The crux of the matter is the need for High Plains farmers to know the cost of water from Northeast Texas before a plan can be supported.

The presence of every farmer, ginner, and businessman possible will add weight to testimony given tomorrow and show the importance of the High Plains area to the future economy of itself and that of Texas.

Salvation Army Considers Improvements

A long overdue problem will soon be solved at Salvation Army headquarters, as the Board of Directors meet September 13, to finalize plans to solve a combination plumbing, shower and sewer problem. Lt. Harvey Harwell, present headquarters head, stated. Conditions have become almost unbearable as people taking showers do so in direct proximity to Sunday School classrooms. Compounding the situation is an odor coming from disposal of the water, he added.

Mr. James Lee, a director, announces that a drive will be launched in October for much needed funds. This drive will be conducted independently of the United Fund.

Bowling For Better Scores

By Evelyn Teal. 1964-65 All American Team

Position at the Foul Line
Last of Seven Articles

In all sports, form plays a very important part and bowling is no exception. If you finish badly at the foul line, then you have improperly performed some basic part of the four-step delivery. If all the steps had been executed properly, you would finish with your sliding foot pointing directly toward the pins. Your shoulders will be parallel to the foul line. Your sliding knee would be bent slightly to insure a perfect slide and to maintain good balance.

Your pendulum arm swing, if executed properly, will bring the ball about four to six inches to the side of your sliding foot. Your bowling arm will continue smoothly upwards in making a "straight-follow-through." Always strive for correct form to give you maximum scoring. If you find that you are finishing poorly at the foul line, examine your delivery and correct only the points that need it; don't think that everything is wrong.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

The Texas Water Development Board will be in Lubbock September 9 to hear the views of West Texans on its proposed "Texas Water Plan." The hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Municipal Auditorium on the campus at Texas Tech.

According to Joe Pate, Jr., chairman of the Water Committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., "This will be the final opportunity for High Plains people to voice their opinions to the entire Water Board, and they shouldn't miss it."

Pate, who will present the testimony of Plains Cotton Growers, is concerned that with other important agricultural functions flanking the water hearing on either side of September 9 there will be small attendance, and that the Water Board might construe this to be the result of complacency on the Plains toward water.

"Those of us now in the short water areas already know what it means when a well drops to half a pipe or stops pumping altogether. And virtually all of the High Plains could be in a similar position in not too many years unless a way is found for us to share in some of the nation's surplus surface water," he said.

This is the reason he says we cannot afford to miss the chance to present testimony to the Texas Water Board. "There are many people on the Plains with a vital stake in water who are not at all familiar with the current water plan, but these people should at least attend the hearing in support of those who have studied it and will present statements."

Pate went ahead to point out that water from any out of state source, according to the experts, would be at least 30 years in coming, and that West Texas' irrigated economy will begin to go downhill long before that time. Therefore, every possibility of bringing some of our state's own surplus water to this area should be thoroughly explored.

The Texas Water Plan as now envisioned doesn't even consider the possibility of this area ever getting any of the state's surplus water. It would take water from the Sulphur River Basin in northeast Texas, through a 980 mile canal, to South Texas. And a huge part of it would be used to irrigate land which has never before been in cultivation.

Pate is careful to say that it is not the desire of anyone in this area to kill the water plan. On the contrary, he feels there is probably no greater need in the state than a water plan that will trap all of the state's surplus water and put it to the best possible use before it spills into the Gulf.

"But," he adds, "we would like to see a complete engineering and economic study of all facets of the situation -- including all areas in need of water and all possible water sources within the state -- before the final plan is adopted."

No such study was made in the formulation of the currently proposed plan.

Among the advantages presented on the Plains for making maximum and economic use of imported water are (1) large storage capability, both on the surface and in the underground formation, (2) widespread underground irrigation systems already in place and (3) an 18-inch annual average rainfall, with which this area perhaps can produce as much with six or eight acre-inches of supplemental water as some other areas could produce with two acre-feet.

In presenting PCG testimony at the hearing, Pate will emphasize that we are not necessarily talking about water with which to raise surplus cotton. "In 15 years," Pate says, "the U. S. will badly need the productive capacity of the Plains for food crops, and there is every possibility that we will be raising potatoes and beans at that time. And with that in mind no one can rightly say at this time just how much we might be able to pay for imported water."

The second estimate of cotton production on the Plains for this season, jointly compiled by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., adds up to 1,608,000 bales, up 109,000 bales over the 1,498,750 bales estimated on August 1.

The significant factor in the increase, of course, has been the abnormally heavy rainfall throughout the Plains area during the month of August. Using the Lubbock station as an example, total precipitation for the month this year was 8.85 inches. This is the highest on record and 7.17 inches above "normal."

But observers are hedging the September 1 crop prediction against abnormal weather in September.

Bowling Leagues Forming This Week

Activity at the local bowling lanes will begin to speed up this week as local bowlers assemble to form leagues and start warming up their throwing arms again after resting them through the summer months.

So far three nights have already been set aside for league activities.

The Ivy League for women bowlers will be held on Tuesday evenings with starting time set at 7 p.m.

Two leagues will be set up on Thursday nights. A mixed couples league comprised of two men and two women to a team will kick off at 7 p.m. on Thursdays. They will call themselves the Hit and Miss League.

The Town and Country League, consisting of men bowlers, will take over the lanes after the Hit and Miss League at 9 p.m. Thursdays.

A Sudan couples league will start Monday night at 7 p.m.

Several interested couples in Anton wish to form a league and are hoping some interested bowlers in Amherst will match their interest to form a combination Amherst-Anton League.

All leagues will have pre-organizational meetings to elect officers and determine entry fees and bowling rates.

Al and Dorothy Kirby, owners and managers, are putting forth extra effort to form more leagues and also to set up bowling programs geared to teenagers and youngsters. School programs at El Paso, Midland, and Friona are being studied with a view to providing wholesome exercise and recreation for this age group. A Pee Wee League for children ages of 7 to 10 or thereabouts will probably be set up for Saturday mornings.

Dorothy and Al anticipate all leagues to be full with 8 members in each league and five members to a team.

For those interested mainly in open bowling an exciting form of competition has been set for Wednesday nights. It's called Red Head Combination and consists of two red pins mixed with the regular sets of pins. The bowler competes against the house when these red pins are in certain positions. Fridays and Sundays will continue to be regular red pin days.

Anyone interested in sponsoring a team or in bowling in a league is invited to call the lanes any day after 3:30 p.m.

Business for the evening included the election of officers for this year. The officers are, president, Kenny Carr; vice president, T. J. Herring; secretary, Fred Koontz; treasurer, David White; reporter, Gordon Graves; sentinel, Ronald Hill; parliamentarian, Quinn McKinnon; and historian, Mike Brandt.

The chapter also chose five finalists in the selection of their sweetheart, who will be revealed in October.

Remove the skin from baked apple halves, or bake them after peeling, and glaze with heated currant jelly. Insert almond slivers and serve with whipped cream. Good enough for any company!

Time Now For Uncle Sam To Conserve His Strength

Uncle Sam has been trying to carry the world on your shoulders. Our 6 per cent fraction of the planet's population has sought to feed, finance, fortify, protect and police the other 94 per cent. Senator John Stennis says it is time now for us to recognize our limitations. He says, "We are so scattered with military commitments all over the world that we cannot afford to become over-preoccupied with any one area of the world."

The Senate Preparedness Committee has been seeking to determine whether we are, in fact, already overextended. Every great nation-state in history has exhausted itself trying to do too much for others. The United States presently has military commitments to forth other nations.

Recently we have heard such heretofore staunch defenders of foreign aid as Senator Fulbright leading a revolt against foreign aid. I think the awakening began when our lawmakers one day realized that the industrial nations of the world -- mostly ours -- have put 51 billion dollars into the backward nations in ten years, plus another 30 billion to private capital, but the gap has widened.

The poor nations are relatively poorer than ever. In fact, the poor nations have made less progress in the years we were helping them than in the ten years theretofore! Presently there is no promise that they or we will harvest any more benefit from spilling American blood than they or we have from spending American dollars.

For more than 100 years we led the world. We did it by being such a shining example that everyone else was eager to emulate us. The French threw off the yoke of their dissolute king and rapacious aristocracy. Britain initiated sweeping democratic reforms. Mexico, Central America and South America freed themselves from Spain.

From 1789 until the early 1900's, everybody else in the world was "going our way." How come? We had sent them no guns, no butter, no money. But we had minded our own business so well that we were a lighthouse for the world.

I believe with a deliberate, calculated disengagement we could do that again. I think the impoverished of the world, emulating us, would themselves prosper -- where presently, subsidized and wet-nursed by us, they are backsliding. Isolationism? Really doesn't name you call it. Like the bankrupt French, we will have to self-concern to our blood and sweat and gold.

How much better make of our selves and well-being that we again have something than a red star in (T-M, WRR, Gen.)
