Nearly News

Eighteen planters — farmers and gardeners — have come in and picked up a handful of Peruvian corn to experiment with. We have enough for eight or ten more.

They are well spread around the county and with the varying conditions under which they will be planted and cultivated we may be able to get some idea as to whether or not this crop can be adapted to this area. Wouldn't be a bad idea for us to pick up another cash crop of some kind. We're mighty dependent on two crops.

The folks at the courthouse are right happy this week. The long court docket scheduled to start Monday faded away. After the news story listing the cases to be tried more than three-fourth of them came in changed their pleas to "guilty" and said fines totaling more than $6000.

The winner and still champ — Betty and Sam! After charading their way past Levelland and Ralls they downed a team of winners from Brownfield Tuesday evening. For a couple of people who would prefer to be anti-TV and anti-chades, they're sure having themselves a ball.

REDDY'S Farm Report

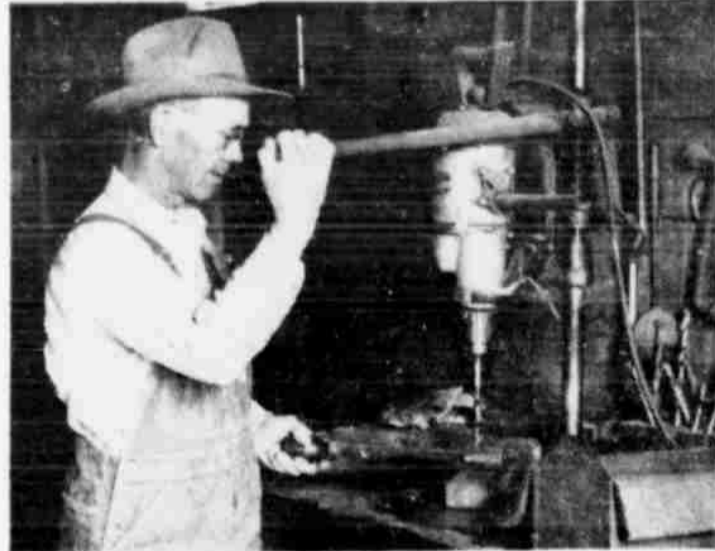

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT
SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

The modern ranch and farm has become a place where top production through efficient operation and management is the goal. In increasing numbers, farm and ranch managers are applying electricity to get desired results. Electricity can do for farm production what it has done for industry—produce more for less.

Here is another profitable construction job performed in the Schaler Ranch electric shop. This trailer for the grain elevator makes the unit a handy time-saving piece of equipment. Pictured here are Mr. Roles and Marvin Cooper, Southwestern Public Service Company Superintendent for the Pampa area.

Mr. L. R. "Buck" Miller, of Pampa, Texas, is manager of the Schaler Ranch, and is proud of the savings that his ranch foreman, Ray Roles, is able to realize with his electric farm shop. Mr. Miller is equally proud of the choice Aberdeen Angus cattle that are raised on the ranch.

"My shop is a money maker the year round", Mr. Roles explains. "During the summer season we repair machinery on the spot, saving time and money. During the winter months we repair all our machinery and have it ready for the busy season, thereby eliminating costly last minute repairs."

This heavy duty electric drill and drill press, plus a good supply of hand tools, plus a good mechanic all add up to make this shop a "money maker". Ray Roles, the ranch foreman, is operating the electric drill.

An electric welder, a 1/2 hp electric drill, and an electrically operated air compressor comprise the major electric tools in the Schaler Ranch shop. Evidence of this well equipped shop and Mr. Roles' skill is present at every turn on this modern ranch.

Mr. Roles has used his skill in putting the equipment and buildings at the Schaler Ranch in number one condition. If he needs a piece of equipment, and can't buy it, he builds it. Through the ingenious use of his electric welder and other shop tools, the foreman has built several machines to make the ranch operations more efficient.

A well equipped electric farm shop offers the farm operator the opportunity to cut his repair bills considerably and realize an even greater profit in time saved by making repairs on the spot. Additional profits are realized when all of the farm machinery is put in A-1 condition during the winter months when other work is not pressing. Experience on the Schaler Ranch shows that little time is lost due to repairs during the critical season.

This modern efficient farm trailer, built by Mr. Roles and L. R. "Buck" Miller, Schaler Ranch foreman and manager, respectively, was an outmoded farm wagon before Mr. Roles overhauled it in the ranch electric shop. Everywhere you turn on the ranch, equipment has been repaired or improved to make it more useful.

Church Roundup Time Holds Texas Ranchers

NEWS FEATURES
SAN ANGELO, Tex.—"Gotta big roundup set next week and I'd drawled the old cowboy. "We want a thousand this

It wasn't cattle the Texas ranchers was talking about when they gotting up, but souls to be saved in fellowship at a unique Men's Bible Class held in this sheep raising center of West Texas.

Sunday morning, ranchers from as far away as Ozona and San Juan (local businessmen) gathered at the Cactus hotel for "Chuck Coffee," a prayer, a song and a sermon.

The class was formed 25 years ago, its members were all ranchers from the big open lands. Now a good percentage of the 1,000 members still are some of the early members who started similar meetings in other West Texas cities.

The class has all the informality of a cowboy roundup chifest. It's a combination of the members who come from an area about the size of Massachusetts.

Each year, during the rodeo season, the class holds a "Ranch Day." That's when the hotel has the proper atmosphere in the room to go with the old West theme of the city. But the men have hats and boots every where for a good chunk of these school members.

Wesley Poolter, who leads the class singing, founded the Bible class with his brother, George, and other men. Twenty-four members since 1928 have been connected with ranching.

The class project is a barbecue and the guests at this occasion has ranged from an All-American football player to a United States senator.

QUICK ONION SOUP

Onion soup is one of the most famous French delicacies—and it has wide popularity here in America, too. Here's a short-cut method for making this tantalizing onion soup.

(Four Servings)

- 1/2 cup margarine
- 3 large onions, sliced thin
- 2 cans consommé (11-oz. size)
- 1 1/2 cups water
- Salt and pepper
- 4 slices French bread
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan OR cheddar cheese

Melt margarine in two-quart sauce pan. Simmer onion slices in margarine until delicately browned. Add consommé, water, salt and pepper to taste. Simmer five minutes. Toast bread until crisp. Put slices of toast into individual soup bowls or into soup tureen. Pour soup, with onions, over toast. When bread rises to top, sprinkle generously with grated cheese. Serve at once.

PAN-FRIED SHRIMP

Cooks down on the Mississippi Gulf Coast have a special "know-how" in preparing tasty shrimp dishes, for the shrimp boats are constantly coming in with a big haul. Here is a favorite Gulf Coast recipe for preparing golden, crisp-fried shrimp. Try these with the sauce you like best.

(Six Servings)

- 1 pound raw shrimp
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/2 cup fine bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup margarine
- Lemon wedges

Wash shrimp and peel off shells, leaving tails on. Remove dark veins. Rinse in cold water. Drain well. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Roll in flour. Dip into beaten egg and then roll in bread crumbs. Melt margarine in heavy skillet over moderately low heat. Arrange shrimp in margarine and fry gently until golden brown on both sides, turning once or twice. Serve at once, garnished with lemon wedges. (Cooked, canned shrimp or frozen shrimp may be prepared same way.)

CUTTING BY SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) Police 1954. Law and order in a little trouble when a group of young people in a discussion to know.

"The Whole Duty of Man"

By Tommy Williams, Minister

"Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man" (Ecclesiastes 12:13).

Please read your King James version of our chapter from which the above quotation is taken. You will observe that the word, DUTY, is in italics. This means that the word was not in the manuscripts from which the translations were made, but was supplied by the translators because it was considered to give more complete sense to the passage. It was placed in italics so that we might know that they inserted it, and that it was not in the original text.

If we should omit the word DUTY, from the passage, we would have the thought that the fear of God and the keeping of his commandments is the WHOLE of man. This means that such fear of God and the doing of his will is man (as he should be) in his entirety.

This thought seems to be in agreement with the contents of the book Ecclesiastes. The writer had tried just about everything else that men try in order to fulfill the real needs and desires of the soul. All he proved, in the words of the writer, to be "vanity and vexation of spirit."

When all the evidence was in and considered, and the conclusion was reached, based on all relevant factors, the conclusion was that the fear of God and the keeping of his commandments is man in his completeness. It is God intended him. Regardless of apparent successes in any other directions, he who missed that, has missed the real meaning and essence of life.

Want to feel like a pilot feels?

Today's the day to "Join The Test Pilot Club" and see what a thrill you get when you try Variable Pitch Dynaflo

We're not kidding. When you try a '55 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo, you'll feel like a pilot does when he heads his plane down a runway for take-off. For you, in the driver's seat, are doing what that pilot does—you're changing the pitch of your propellers—one way for instant response on getaway—another way for better gas mileage in cruising. Your propellers are whirling in oil, deep inside the Dynaflo unit. When you press the pedal in the normal way, you hold those propellers in their economy angle—and you enjoy plenty more miles from your gasoline. But when you want instant acceleration—for quick getaways, or for a sudden safety-surge of emergency power—you just press the pedal way down, and—with absolute smoothness—you get the action you want, and split-second quick. It's the thrill that's the talk of the industry—performance unlike anything you have ever known before on the ground. And so many folks have been asking to try it that we Buick dealers across America have set up April as "Test Pilot Club" Month. All it takes to join the "Club" is a test drive at the wheel of a new Buick. That's all. So we cordially invite you to win your "wings"—to try the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo—and to feel the mighty V8 power that puts the whip to these gorgeous new Buick beauties. Drop in this week.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

A Girl's Bill of Rights: Plenty Of Shirts And Skirts

FOR SPORTS . . . Deep vivid colors in a cotton broad-cloth blouse with horseshoe pockets, bias-cut in the Italian manner.

FOR DATES . . . Dress-up blouse with fagoted yoke.

AP Newsfeatures
No girl ever had enough blouses. Whether she be high school, college or career girl, the more blouses and skirts she can collect, the happier she is.

The versatility of these separates has made them a must in most young wardrobes and women of all ages are discovering their usefulness.

Thirty young women have discovered that it's simple to make a whole wardrobe of separate blouses and skirts, adaptable to any occasion.

For school or office, the tailored shirt and flannel skirt is always in good taste. For sports wear, the shirt may be in high colors or plaid patterns, the skirt may give way to flared skirts, pedal pushers or slacks.

For late wear, a dressy blouse and a full skirt, worn with slits of petticoat, makes a festive and flattering outfit.

And even the formal dinner, a girl can wear a blouse or strapless top and a separate skirt, either short or long, according to the degree of formality. By switching tops she can make one evening skirt do the work of several dresses.

The nice thing about the blouse-and-skirt wardrobe is that an almost unlimited choice of styles and colors is available at budget prices.

Revival Begins at Sudan Next Sun.

SUDAN (Special) — A revival will begin April 17 in the Sudan First Baptist Church and will continue through April 24.

Dr. Franklin E. Swanner of Plainview will conduct the services and Ernest Hock of Littlefield will direct singing.

Morning services will begin at ten and evening services at 7:30.

 Background Scripture: 2 Chronicles 14-16.
 Devotional Reading: Psalm 27.
Godly Nations
 Lesson for April 24, 1955

WE MAY as well admit that no such thing as a "godly nation" has ever been seen—not if you take the word "godly" at its full meaning. A godly nation, 100 per cent, would be one where every citizen kept God's commands, where every act of Congress (or of Parliament, of deerees of king) would be such as God would fully approve. For the matter of that, a hundred-per cent godly individual is also unheard of.

Is God on Our Side?
 We always like to think, especially when we are at war, cold or hot, with other nations, that God is on our side. We like to think that we are God's people and the other side, the enemy, is not. The truth of the business is that no nation is either completely right or completely wrong, no nation fully carries out God's will and no nation wholly defy it. No nation in the world today is composed entirely of Christians, no nation in the world today is without Christians in it. But having said all this, we can still say truly that God is on the side of some people and nations more than he is on others. In the Old Testament we have a good example of a nation that made this mistake of supposing God would be for them whatever they did, and they were dreadfully dismayed when they discovered that they could lose wars and generally "eat bitterness." Many Jews thought God had let them down when such things happened; but the prophets knew better. Azariah, a prophet in King Asa's time, put the truth in a nutshell. "The Lord is with you while you are with him," he said.

Leadership in the Church
 King Asa's times, and the times of President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth, are not so very far apart after all. What was needed for a godly nation in the days of Asa? The need that the prophet mentions first in "teaching priests." There were plenty of priests who went through the liturgies and made sacrifices, but what the nation needed was teaching priests, religious leaders who could teach the law of God that is to say, priests who could show the people what religion meant in daily living, in dealings between man and man. So long as religion stays inside the church, so long as religion concerns itself only with the Other World, so long as religion tries to confine itself to what is exclusively spiritual, it will not be Biblical, and it will be powerless to build a godly nation. An officer in a young people's church group once told the writer: "Our bunch really means business. This year we raised the money to extend the chancel two feet"—and that was all they did! One suspects that there was something missing in the parson's sermons, if those young people got the idea that the business of religion mainly has to do with how long or short the chancel is. God's law is not a law for Sunday mornings only. But until and unless there are teaching priests who take the lead in showing us how we can apply God's law—and above all the law of Love—to our life as a nation, we shall be godly only on Sunday mornings, if ever. The most church-going city in the south was for years also the city with the highest murder rate; the place lacked teaching priests.

Leadership in the Nation
 Preachers and churches will have an uphill time of it, at the best, even when they do see and work for the doing of God's will in everyday social and political and business life. There is too much organized and unorganized selfishness abroad to give the God of Love much chance. So in our time, as in King Asa's long ago, there is need for leaders outside the pulpit. In those days it was the king himself who took the lead. We have no kings in America but we do have leaders, all the way from village mayors up to Congressmen, senators, supreme court justices and the President.

Texans In Washington

By TEX EASLEY

AP Special Washington Service—WASHINGTON, AP—Most Texans in Congress write weekly mimeographed reports to constituents about what's going in Washington and their views on various questions.

Only six of the 24-man Texas delegation aren't getting out such letters.

The "dean" of the practice undoubtedly is Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, who has been at it for over 20 years. He has now passed the 1,120th issue.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham is one of those who does not put out such a weekly report. Some Legislators call them by one name, some another, but all such letters follow pretty much the same pattern.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas got out a regular weekly letter last session, but he's not doing it now. One reason is that, like Rayburn, he now is seeing members of the press daily. This is because of their high positions now that the Democrats control Congress.

Rayburn, of course, is Speaker of the House. Johnson is the Senate Majority Leader.

Sen. Price Daniel didn't produce a "newsletter" last session but now has started one. It's designed to serve some 600 weeklies through out Texas, including two of which he is co-publisher—the Liberty Vindicator and the Aransas Progress. His letter has a standard heading—a map of Texas, across which are the words: "Texas Viewpoint From Washington."

Daniel, incidentally, majored in Journalism at Baylor University and edited the "Lariat" there in 1930. He once was a cub reporter on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and later worked on the Waco News-Tribune. He is a member of the Texas Press Association.

All five of Texas' newcomers to Congress are writing such letters: Jim Wright, Weatherston; Jon

Bell, Cuero; J. T. Rutherford, Odessa; Joe Kilgore, McAllen; and Bruce Alger, Dallas.

Congressmen apparently have learned that the weekly report to constituents is welcomed and widely published in rural areas. The weekly newspapers go for them.

Kilgore, for instance, sends letters to 30 weekly newspapers in his Rio Grande Valley district.

Alger says he is experimenting to see whether such a report will go in his Dallas district. His predecessor didn't produce one—since the two big Dallas newspapers follow the doings of their congressmen closely.

Neither Rep. Paul Kilday, San Antonio, nor Rep. Albert Thomas,

Houston, puts out weekly reports. Others not writing them are Rep. George Mahon, Lubbock, and Rep. at Large Martin Dies, Lufkin. Reps Jack Brooks, Beaumont, and Homer Thornberry, Austin, don't turn out regular letters but frequently mail new releases to the newspapers in their districts.

Some of the reports to the constituents are terse summaries of what happened in Congress during the week, with an explanation of how and why the writer voted as he did. Some contain chatty, homely reports on their doings. Rep. W. W. Rogers of Pampa frequently writes humorous sidelights of experiences he and his wife

THE LAW

... in Texas

Lawyers Must Often Take Unpopular Cases

The first thing we do, let's kill all lawyers," Shakespeare puts these words in the mouth of Dick, the butcher, one of Ja-k
 's followers, in the play, "King Henry Sixth."

has been quoted often as an example of the occasional antipathy of the public towards lawyers. However, an examination of the play reveals a rather interesting turn in this quotation.

Richard Cade was a pretender to the throne of England. In the process of inciting his followers, he promised the rabble that they would get several halfpenny loaves for a penny, and all three-hooped pots should have hoops, and all things should be in common,
 and his mouth would be parliament.

There was the promise of dictatorship, socialism and Communism, all rolled into one,
 at the time of Shakespeare, and in order to accomplish these results the first thing to be done was to kill all the lawyers, who would naturally oppose any such system.

Upon the pages of history are the names of lawyers whose contribution to our free society was so great that they are beacons which all men continue to see their inalienable rights shine forth in the darkness of dictatorship and injustice.

One, whose name stands out on the ear-
 pages of history as a champion of all men
 in their striving for equality, was Cicero.

Chrysogonus, the political power of Rome,
 deposed Roscius, so that his property
 would be confiscated for the benefit of Chrysogonus.

When no one else would defend Roscius against Chrysogonus, Cicero came forward, with the knowledge that he stood against the most powerful figure in Rome, made himself immortal when he refused to temper his argument, courageously attacked Chrysogonus, and shamed the court turning from cowardice to follow the lead set by Roscius free.

When the abuse of the power was broken the courts to deprive men of liberty, their rights and possession. Cicero set a tradition of the legal profession

As also to Lord Coke, who defied King Charles when he said the king is under the law, and thus again set the pattern for the supremacy of law for all, high and low america has had many great lawyers to whom each of us owe, and will continue to owe a tremendous debt of gratitude, for the degree of justice as we have it today.

In Adams, one of the leading patriots
 of Boston, endangered his life and his career in defending the British soldiers involved in the Boston Massacre. He later applied his legal convictions of human rights and freedoms by assisting in the framing of the Declaration of Independence.

Our History books contain many other stirring examples. In the preservation of the individual's rights of freedom, the lawyer's training and tradition compels him to agree with Voltaire when he said, "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

Handwritten Corrections of Will Not Recognized In Court

Changing and revoking wills has involved many an estate in litigation because the proper legal methods were not used and the statutes were not followed.

Take the case of Mr. S. Sometime ago he went into his lawyer's office and laid in front of his attorney a will which had been prepared for him about a year previously.
 He said that he had made a few changes in it and wanted to know whether his attorney thought the changes were all right.

Mr. S. was attempting to change two items in his will by drawing lines through certain words in these items and interlining, in his own handwriting, the changes he wanted. He was not attempting to revoke his entire will but merely trying to change these two items.

If Mr. S. were to die with his will in that condition, the probate court would not recognize the changes that he had made, but would probably probate the will as it was originally written. Mr. S. was surprised to learn this and immediately requested that a new will be prepared.

After the will has been once executed,
 changes cannot be made legally by crossing
 out parts of a will and interlining corrections or additions. To change a will, entirely new will must be written and properly executed or an addition by way of a codicil should be executed.

Since a will does not take effect until the death of the person making it, the provisions of the will should be reviewed by the maker
 at least once a year to be sure that changing conditions and circumstances have not been such to require a modification of the will.
 It is very easy to postpone doing a thing of this kind, but failure to do so may result in the intention of the maker of the will being thwarted to a certain extent.

There are many changing circumstances which would be brought to his attention if a person would review his will at least once a year in the light of circumstances at the time.

Such things as deaths among the legatees
 or devisees named in his will, births, marriages or divorces in the family, accidents or sickness among the close relatives which make it desirable to increase or decrease the amount given certain ones, substantial increase or decrease in the value of the estate of the person making the will, death of all witnesses to the will and many other factors, may cause a person to want to execute a new will or add a codicil to his old one.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on wills and related matters may be obtained by sending your name and address
 on a postcard to State Bar of Texas, Colorado at Fifteenth, Austin 1, Texas.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

By LOUISE C. ALLEN

One of the cutest birth announcements
 we've seen in a long time arrived the other day. It came from a family of Alexanders.
 A small brass trombone was attached to a card by ribbon. The card announced the "first appearance" of young So-and-So with
 "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Birth announcements often reflect the originality of one or the other parents. We've seen small newspapers, playbills, tiny folded diapers, 'heavyweight' posters, brief cases—with the news inside. Invariably, these ideas grow out of the hobby or business interests of the parents—usually the papa. Any resemblance they may have to the personality or ambitions of the youngster who has just joined the human race is, of course, purely coincidental.

We would be the last to deny the right of parents—especially the male parent—to crow over a new son or daughter. But we've often thought how embarrassing it would be to a boy of eighteen, say, who aspires to becoming a diplomat or a minister to discover his arrival had been heralded by a miniature hurdy-gurdy. Or for an aspiring toe dancer to find her parents informed their friends of her coming by shooting the words
 from a cannon.

Birth announcements are all the more delightful if they are got up with cleverness and originality. But for our money, their passing should be rapid. No ghosts of yesteryear should be kept around to haunt the new member of society, after he ceases to be a small red-faced mass of yowling humanitarian, and becomes a person—with hopes and fancies of his own.

It's just one of those things a wise mama
 will make it a point not to keep for her child's memory book.

Through A Glass Darkly

By CARROLL POUNCEY

Many a man has ardently sought the favor of a woman only to find she has him
 and a big thumb.

Probably the one thing that best reflects
 man's faith in man and the inscrutable laws of nature is the annual appearance of the seed catalogs in the Spring.

As long as homo sapiens continues to believe that the tiny seeds he plants will someday develop into luscious pears and a half tomatoes as easily as the catalogs assure him, then so long can we believe the future of America is safe.

No where else is the present of advertising so completely defined as in the belief of the average American that all these beautiful vegetables and fruit will grow in his back yard. He blissfully ignores the backbreaking labor of pulling weeds and watering the garden, of spraying bugs and worms, of chasing the neighbors chickens

 and all that goes with it, secure in the belief that he has the proverbial green thumb, and things will just grow for him.

The man who reads the seed catalogs and dreams over them is the man who teaches his children about Santa Clause and the Easter Bunny. We like him. He's not practical. It's true, but he's OK.

Of entire women drivers are as good as lost. Who else can drive equally well on the other side of the road.

Consider if you will air and medium, the sad plight of the hapless residential mail carrier. He is hounded by dogs and dogged by the other patterns.

Although Easter is over, we feel sure you will be interested in hearing about the rabbits. Will you this lady of her crew tired of having her baby rabbit tagging along at her heels, so she started it on top of her head.
 And one day this other rabbit lady said to her, Gertrude, how nice you look with your

This Is Your Ministers Wife

Mrs. Weldon Meers

"The most wonderful Bible teacher I have ever studied under" . . . "not nearly ready to give them up" . . . "If there is a woman in the world who lives a Christian life, she does" . . . "has a real talent for visiting and knows how to deal with different personalities" . . .

Mrs. Weldon Meers, wife of the pastor of Littlefield Missionary Baptist Church, came to Littlefield with her family in August, 1948 from Dallas, while in Dallas, Dr. Meers and Mrs. Meers were converted to the Christian way of life. At that time Dr. Meers was head salesman for Swift & Co., and in line for promotion, but he resigned his job to prepare himself for the Ministry. He attended Dallas Theological Seminary and Bible Baptist Seminary of Fort Worth. Mr. Meers enrolled at Dallas Theological Seminary at the same time as her husband and continued her studies three years, until graduation. Dr. Meers wanted the more advanced work at the Seminary in Fort Worth, so completed his work there. All this was done when the oldest son was in high school, with another son in school. Mrs. Meers said quite frankly that, now in their faith as they were, they wonder how they could educate their sons without a regular salary and if took courage and faith to make the step. She took a job as head bookkeeper at Dallas Theological Seminary as her husband could complete his studies.

A major portion of Mrs. Meers time is spent in study, designing pictures and writing the lessons for flannelgraph stories on the Bible which she uses in teaching the children of the church, up to the age of fourteen, each Sunday evening. She also does any artistic talent, so says she does the designing for the pictures, and Mrs. World Parker does them for her.

Several lovely pictures decorate the walls of her home, the work of Mrs. Parker. Mrs. Meers has a keen appreciation of art and displayed a picture in oils done by a Dallas artist friend of their son.

Although she admits she is not an accomplished musician, Mrs. Meers plays the organ in the church. Her singing is taught by her husband each Sunday morning. She also plays for funerals and weddings when needed and is at present engaged in a course of study by Robert Harkness, composer of hymns.

A poised, serene woman, Mrs. Meers works with her husband in what she describes as "a strong spiritual program which continues all through the week." She says neither has any three or hobbles since there is always someone whom they should visit. The women of the church carry on this work as their local project.

The church pays the salary of two full-time missionaries in Old Mexico and help to pay the salaries of two other missionaries, one of whom is in Lebanon now and the other sailing this month for service.

When Dr. Meers is engaged in a revival meeting, Mrs. Meers accompanies him and takes charge of the children's pre-service meeting, teaching Bible stories with her flannelboard. Members of their congregation are agreed that she is the best Bible teacher they have ever heard and that she is specially good at teaching children. She formerly taught the Ladies Evening Class, but resigned to give more time to the children's work.

Mrs. Meers does all the secretarial work for the church and for her husband. One of the things she plans to do when time permits is to catalogue her husband's extensive library. She will probably use a combination of the Philco Memoryomatic and the Devox-Decimal Systems.

Both Mrs. Meers and her husband are avid readers and she ranks she averages reading a book a week, most of them concerning the work of the church. Mrs. Meers enjoys book reviews but has never reviewed herself. She says if she has a hobby it must be her work with the flannelgraph stories since she spends most of her time either giving the stories or in preparation for them. She has written stories to illustrate the entire book of Revelations, James, Matthew and Ephesians and commented on the quality of the work Mrs. Parker has done in carrying out her ideas for illustrations.

The Meers are parents of two sons (and one grandchild) whom they don't see nearly often enough. The oldest son, Weldon W. Meers, lives in Fort Worth and is an executive for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. He is a graduate of Texas Tech and has just finished his first year of law at the University of Texas at Austin. He is married and the father of a five month old baby.

The other son, Tommy, is now twenty years old and a Junior in Bob Jones University at Greenville, South Carolina. He is a 1952 graduate of Littlefield high school and is studying for the ministry and has been preaching for several years now. He has every single week of his summer vacation filled with engagements planning one week in Littlefield Missionary Baptist Church and a two weeks engagement at Central Baptist Church at Amarillo.

The Meers consider Dallas their "hometown," for at least the place where they have lived the longest. They feel a strong attachment for the city because it was there they were converted and because they lived there - fifteen years.

Gladye Reason was born in Galvestone, Texas, attended grade school in Winters, and high school at San Angelo. She secured her business training in Amarillo and attended Dallas Bible Institute in Dallas three years.

The Meers attended high school together and were married in Amarillo December 24, 1925. Although she has no desire to retreat from the work her husband does for the church, she seems as interested as he that their sons are away from home she spends her entire energy in the work of the church, saving a little time now and then for necessary work in her beautifully kept home.

"I just don't know how I ever got along without my ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER!"

... says Mrs. Orval Wallace
1206 13th STREET
ABERNATHY, TEXAS

"The feature that I like best about the clothes dryer is that it eliminates tiresome trips to the clothesline forever. Why we have a croquet court in our backyard now in the place where the clothesline used to be."

Mrs. Wallace has a completely all-electric laundry, with washer, dryer, ironer and electric water heater.

"The 'problems' of washday are ended with an all-electric laundry. I used to run short of diapers for the baby when the weather was too bad for line drying. Now, I can wash and dry clothes for the children in less than an hour. Also, many of the garments need little or no ironing when they come out of the dryer."

Make your washing, drying, ironing — water heating, too — modern, make them electric.

"Time-out electric water heater" Mrs. Wallace says, "because there's no hot water pipe at all. It's a tank of hot water that's heated electrically. There's a hot water tap and the water will come out in an electric water heater for heating and cooking. I like them and so do the dryer."

Talent Show At Pep Well Attended

A full house, with not even standing room left, saw the Annual Talent Show at Pep school on April 1. The show was sponsored by the Northern Star Seed Farm for the purpose of obtaining talent to accompany their show on educational tours.

First place winners were Weyland Jennings, of Littlefield and Dorothy Kaskner, of Earth, who played steel guitar and electric standard guitar. They were awarded $25.00.

A trio known as the Night Owl, won second place prize of $15.00, with their western band and vocal numbers. Albie Brock of Anton, played the guitar and sang for the trio. Larry Demel, of Pep, played an accordion and instrumental numbers and Emil Macha made music out of his washtub.

Third prize of $10.00 was awarded to Herman Greener and Pan Fogant of Pep, for their shadow pantomimes. They refused their award, donating it to the school.

The program also included a two hour film program, a ball Henderson, live on Route 1, Morton.

WANTED, ONE MAYOR
DARTMOUTH, Ohio (AP)— Want a job as mayor? Move to Dartmouth, and if you are qualified, says the Council President, Roy Stoney, you can have the job. No one in this central Ohio village of 123 voters has expressed interest in the job since the last mayor served nearly six months ago.

As mayor, you would have to attend 18 council meetings yearly, and receive the sum of a few $1.75 in basic wages. There would be no problem with the police or fire departments, or street lighting or water or sewer departments. Lubbock Man's Hobby Aids In Killing Marauding Animals

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) E. G.

Pope was a 10-year old boy when he met a Comanche Indian chief who taught him how to imitate the cries of wild birds and animals.

Now Pope is head of the Lubbock subdivision of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife's predatory animal control division. In other words, it's his responsibility to see that such damaging animals as coyotes, wildcat and wolves are hunted down.

Pope has made good use of the skills taught him by the Comanche chief.

His method is to conceal himself in a strategic spot. He is careful to be downwind from where he suspects his prey lurks. Then he calls.

If he is after a lamb-killing wildcat, he gives the cry of the injured, lost lamb. This sets the wildcat's mouth watering, he comes running, and Pope levels down with a high-powered rifle.

The cry of an injured rabbit, deer, sheep or kid goat is especially attractive to the marauders.

Recently, while testing a new type poison on a nearby ranch, Pope noticed several freshly killed calves and goats. He found a pleasant, shady spot downwind from where any coyotes would

he. The cries of injured calves began echoing.

His first 11 calls netted his 11 consecutive kills. Before the day was over he took 17 coyotes, the most he has ever killed in one day.

At present, Pope and his 35 men have a mystery on their hands. A new breed of animal has appeared, Pope says. It seems to be a cross between a coyote and a German police dog.

The new animals, he said, are fairly large and fast for their size. His men are on the watch for them to see if a new threat to livestock is developing.

Rear - Mounted Planters

Rugged, Hydraulic Controlled Implements for Planting in Furrows, on Beds and Flat Land

—2 and 4 Row Models—

These sturdily built planters are equipped with the versatile cotton and corn hoppers used also on Allis-Chalmers front-mounted planters. Each holds 30 lbs. of cotton seed, or 60 lbs. of corn, for long runs without refilling.

Four-row models are fitted with transparent seed tubes made of a tough, resilient plastic material. The operator can see all four tubes from the tractor, and tell at a glance whether seed is flowing to the ground as it should.

Hydraulic depth control of No. 1 planters (combined with gauge-wheel control on 4-row models) assures uniform planting depth from one end of the field to the other, regardless of soil variations. Weight transfer for extra traction, as needed, is obtained automatically through the Traction Booster.
