

Musts To See Strong Competition Friday Night

Maryland Unbeaten and Nation's No. 1 Football Team

FRANK ECK
Features Sports Editor

One thing seems to be true about the 1952 football season—everyone with a flair for the game is looking to the other side of the pond. Maryland and its team are the ones to watch.

That's about how it was in the year when the Terps shelled the Volunteers, 28-13, in the Sugar Bowl.

The bowl game that now is Jim Tatum's Maryland is one of the most social outcasts in the conference, along with both schools accepting before going through the process of getting official sanction.

AMHERST ROARS IN TO TOP ANTON, 12-6

ANTON—A speedy trio of backs provided Amherst High school enough scoring punch for two touchdowns in the first half and a 12-6 victory over Anton's Bulldogs in the season's opener for both teams here Friday night.

Sparking the visitors were Halfback Martin Hardwick and brothers Porter and A. L. Nuttall, who managed to lead their team to victory in a game spotted with fumbles and incomplete passes.

Leading the Anton attack was Fullback James Burdette, who raced 22 yards to the game's first score early in the first period. Anton had recovered an Amherst fumble two plays earlier on the visitors' 25-yard line.

Late in the first quarter Amherst Halfback Hardwick crashed over from the five to tie the score after Porter Nuttall had set up the tally with a 21-yard sprint. Midway of the second period, A. L. Nuttall broke the tie with a 60-yard touchdown ramble with an intercepted pass.

Also outstanding for the losers were freshman Center Buddy Spears, a bulwark on defense, and Halfback Jimmy Jones.

Lamar Kelley is coach of the Amherst Bulldogs and Joe King is the Anton coach.

Andrews Mustangs Have Experienced Team and Heavier Than Local Eleven

Coach Fikes' fighting Wildcats will have to put everything they have into the contest with the Andrews Mustangs to win this Friday night's game at Seely Stadium. Andrews has a very strong team in that they have nine experienced players from last year's squad.

The Wildcats downed the Mustangs last season, 19-13, but this year the locals have only six of their old squad, whereas the Mustangs have nine. The Andrews team also is heavier than the Cats.

Andrews has played two games this season. The first game was with Roscoe at Andrews, September 6, in which Roscoe was on the long end of a 6-0 score. The second game was with Crane and was won by Andrews, 25-6.

The starting lineup for Andrews has been announced as follows:

Hereford Wallops Muleshoe, 20-6

HEREFORD — The Hereford Whitefaces started the season with a 20-6 win over the 7-AA Muleshoe Mules Friday night. The Mules scored only once—in the fourth quarter against Whiteface reserves.

Raymond Dement threw a seven-yard pass to Gene Dickson for the first score in the initial period and then Dewayne Wallace made it 13-0 by smashing off-tackle for nine yards and the second TD. Dement got one conversion.

In the second quarter, Franklin Boyd intercepted a Muleshoe pass from quarterback Buck Johnson on the five and bulled over for the final tally. Richard Tucker converted.

Johnson spearheaded a long march downfield and bucked over from the one for the Muleshoe touchdown.

Pecos Eagles Down Brownfield

BROWNFIELD — The Pecos Eagles handed Brownfield's Cubs a 20-0 setback Friday night in the season opener for both teams here with halfback Johnny Cook leading the way with two touchdowns.

Cook scored in the first quarter after the Cubs fumbled on their own 20, then allied again in the second period, sprinting 50 yards with an intercepted pass. Also in the second quarter, Coach Don Mouser's Eagles wound up the scoring when All-District 8-AA Quarterback Orlando Gutierrez passed to End John Hess 15 yards for a touchdown. Fullback Louis Eisenwine converted after the first two Pecos touchdowns.

The Brownfield eleven, hard hit by graduation last year, was unable to get its offense going, despite the efforts of Fullback Billy Thomason, who sparked on both offense and defense.

Also outstanding for the Cubs was Max Black, who turned in a commendable game from a defensive standpoint.

Football Player Is Assaulted

A 17-year-old Whittharral football player, Truman Commons, told Lubbock police Friday night he was blackjacked by one of three drunks near Main and QQ about 11 p. m. He displayed a laceration on the right side of his head. Commons and Friends had come to Lubbock after their team played Idalou at Idalou. Police were attempting to apprehend his assailants Friday night. Commons said he was not robbed.

Littlefield Wildcats Open Season With 31-18 Win Over Dalhart Wolves

The Littlefield High School Wildcats opened their 1952 football season last Friday evening, with an impressive 31-18 win over the visiting Dalhart Wolves.

Showing mid-season form in their initial game, the Wildcats were never in danger, as they took a quick 13-0 lead, which was extended to 19-0 in the second quarter.

Wildcat backs R. L. Rhoten and M. C. Northam romped at will in the Wolves' secondary—between them scoring the five Littlefield touchdowns. Northern had three—one on a pass—and Rhoten, two. Rhoten also set-up the first Wildcat TD with a 50-yard run down to the Wolves' 10-yard line.

Dalhart's three touchdowns came on passes—they being virtually unable to move against the light—but rugged—Littlefield line.

Dalhart's single-wing power plays were held to a sputter all evening; by the aforementioned line. Dalhart massing but 89 yards rushing for their efforts. But passing was a different story, as Dalhart's fine passer, Jimmy Hammett, connected for 12 passes out of 16 attempts. One of these passes, in the third quarter, covered, including receiver Carson's run, 65 yards for a touchdown. In fact, Hammett was the Wolves' only offensive threat, as he ran, passed, kicked throughout the game.

The Wildcat's all-state candidate, back M. C. Northam, played his winners.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

Fullback Pat Harder of the Detroit Lions in the National Football League is a candidate for sheriff in his native Milwaukee, Wis.

During his career as an outfielder for the New York Yankees, Joe DiMaggio hit 148 homers at the Yankee Stadium.

NEW FOOTBALL BLEACHERS FOR VISITING FANS

Two 20 foot section portable bleachers have been erected for the Amherst football field and visiting fans. These bleachers were constructed by the high school agriculture boys.

The grass on the field is in excellent shape and covers the entire field. It is being watered and cared for daily.

Massachusetts and New York each have 18 representatives on the Brandeis University football squad this season.

Sudan Hornets Defeat Morton

MORTON—The Sudan Hornets struck for three sudden touchdowns on runs of 40, 30 and 80 yards and successfully bottled the Morton High school Indians' offense in the season's opener for both schools here Friday night.

Coach Francis Smith's visiting District 2-A gridders counted in the first quarter when Tailback Glenn Chester dashed 40 yards to the double stripe. In the second period Fullback Bob Crouch broke loose off tackle and streaked 80 yards to score. Quarterback Joe Kent went 30 yards on a bootleg play to wind up the scoring in the third quarter.

Morton, sparked by Quarterback Lanar Burns and Fullback Harvey Winder, drove inside the Sudan 10-yard line just before the half ended. But otherwise the Hornets' line, spearheaded by Ends Don Graves and Calvin Wood wreaked havoc with the home team's offense.

Sudan rolled up 301 yards passing and running while holding Coach Marcum's District 4-A Indians to a total of 132 yards.

Quarterback Bill Peacock of Sudan also was outstanding for the winners.

Significance Of Texas Grasses

Texas grassland is the foundation on which to build permanent prosperity for the whole state. Grass feeds livestock. It builds fertility and saves soil. In its own way, grass is just as important as any of the natural resources of the United States.

Texas is making rapid strides in restoring its grasslands—an important phase of farm economy. The soil improvement program, using grasses to best advantage, is sweeping through the state with increasing velocity. Some counties are more advanced than others, but the movement is state-wide.

The average farmer or rancher has not always been so concerned with the preservation of cover grasses. And the nation is still paying for this short-sightedness. The disastrous sandstorms of the early '30's is an example of what happens when grasses are destroyed, good land practices are abandoned, and the farmer begins to mine, instead of farm, his soil.

One of the most striking examples of how grasses can save the land was demonstrated in an experiment performed by the Soil Conservation Experiment Station at Zanesville, O., some years ago. The experiment revealed that 34.5 inches of rainfall annually on a 12 percent slope planted to corn would wear away the top seven inches of soil in only 19 years.

Yet, this same slope planted in blue grass would not lose this rich seven-inch layer of soil for 23,000 years. This is an amazing comparison—and it is that average of seven fertile inches of soil upon which we must depend to feed and clothe our nation.

Two important conclusions can be drawn from a study of grass. First it is almost indispensable to the profitable raising of livestock. Because of this fact, it deserves the thoughtful consideration of every intelligent farmer.

Second, it is invaluable in the functions of soil conservation and fertility maintenance. Because a stable soil is essential to the nation's welfare, grass merits the high regard of every American citizen.

It is conceivable, of course, that the return to grass could go too far for the welfare of our present economic system. Certain crops are necessary for human food, industrial demands and livestock needs. The goal of agriculture should be to find the ideal mean between the two extremes. When this point is found, the soil would be held to the land, fertility would be maintained, and yet there would be enough of the various crops produced to meet the country's needs.

In the overall scheme of things, grass was nature's way of conserving the soil and producing food. And time after time, nature's way has proven to be the best way.

Rheumatic Fever Enemy Of Children

Rheumatic fever and its complication, rheumatic heart disease, probably disable more school age children than any other cause except accidents, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Rheumatic fever is a well known enemy of children, still physicians do not know exactly what causes it. It usually appears about two weeks after an infection caused by germs of the streptococcus such as tonsillitis, scarlet fever or sore throat. Some children appear more susceptible than others and this trait seems to run in families. Rheumatic fever can occur in any surroundings, but it is most common among children living in poor and crowded homes, and children who do not get enough of what is called the protective foods such as milk, eggs, meat, butter, fresh fruits, vegetables and the like.

Rheumatic fever actually has no symptoms that are all its own. A few of the group of symptoms the doctor looks for are: persistent fever, poor appetite, irritability, failure to gain weight, paleness, repeated sore throats and especially pain and inflammation that moves from joint to joint.

Rheumatic fever is a disease that may affect any part of the body—skin, joints, blood vessels, heart or brain—but usually it is the heart that is most seriously affected. Unless they are prevented by good management, the acute attacks have a tendency to come back again and again. When this happens, the valves of the heart are usually affected: Sometimes so slightly that the child is not handicapped; sometimes so seriously that the child dies. The present day treatment of rheumatic fever is directed at two things. First, reducing the risk of heart damage from an acute attack by bed rest and appropriate treatment with drugs. Second, doing everything possible to prevent another attack after recovery from the first.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

As classes start, mama starts to wonder if what the children eat at noon will be what is best for their health.

With the youngsters eating with the family at noon, no special problem will exist. If the children can eat in a school cafeteria, the mother should tell them how to choose the right kind of food. Finally if she packs lunches, she must adapt her thinking toward planning individual noonday meals.

Many of the things which make eating a pleasure at home may carry over to lunchtime at school. For example, children as well as adults like food appetizingly prepared and like to be free from hurry, worry, nagging, and arguments. At school a clean attractive place to eat should be provided. If possible, an adult should supervise the selection and eating of food and see that children do not bolt their food, then rush out and play like mad.

For lunches that have to be packed, planning should begin with breakfast and include supper too. If the breakfast is small or of poor quality, it is unlikely that lunch and supper combined can make up the loss, nor can breakfast or supper make up for a lunch which doesn't carry its share of the load.

The mother should keep in mind that the lunch should fill approximately one-third of the day's requirements.

What are these requirements? The things needed in the daily diet in general are the same for children as adults, varying only in amount. The "Basic Seven," as these types of food are called, have been arranged in the form of a "wheel of good eating," which might be pictured as having seven spokes. The first spoke is milk and milk products. The daily requirement for children is one quart, which may be consumed as a beverage or partly in cooked foods. The thermos bottle of milk in the lunch kit, then, is a decided help in seeing that John and Sue get their daily quota of milk.

Enriched or whole grain bread, flour, or cereals are the basic parts of the second spoke. Two slices of bread or its equal should be given at each meal, and sandwiches might be an easy way to fill this need in the mid-day meal. The third spoke is butter or oleomargarine with vitamin A added; two to three level tablespoons are needed daily. Part of this amount can be spread on sandwiches.

From the fourth spoke might come the filler for sandwiches:

meat, poultry, fish, or eggs. The amount needed each day is one serving of meat, poultry, or fish, plus one egg (at least four a week). Dried beans, peas, nuts, or peanut butter may be used in place of meat.

The number 5 spoke includes at least one helping of a yellow or green vegetable. One serving of grapefruit, oranges, tomatoes, raw cabbage, or raw greens makes up the sixth spoke, and one or more potatoes, plus two servings of other kinds of vegetables or of fruits, as number 7 rounds out the wheel of good eating for the daily diet.

Within these seven classes, similar foods might be substituted, for example, rice or macaroni for potatoes. The only food which is almost impossible to replace is milk.

Needless to say, even if the basic needs of the diet are known, much planning still remains to be done. The old saying "Variety is the spice of life" was never truer than in the case of school lunches. It takes only a short run of potted meat sandwiches, for instance, to make the child head for the nearest hot dog stand. If the child's 'druthers don't run contrary to good nutrition, there is no reason why he can't have what he wants. If his tastes run too much to sweets or carbonated drinks, which may cut down on more important foods, he may have to be held back a little.

Once the problem of variety is solved, care should be taken to see that sandwiches remain fresh; fresh vegetables like lettuce should be paper crisp and the bread free from sogginess. Wrapping watery vegetables separately in waxed paper is helpful; in fact, waxed paper should be used freely throughout the lunch. For economy, bread paper can be saved and re-used.

Chicken salad or other foods which spoil readily if not kept cold should be omitted. Foods easiest to pack are the solid kind; however, small glass or plastic jars can be used to pack liquids and softer foods. Wooden forks and spoons or kitchen cutlery which can be returned can add to the enjoyment

School buses over the state have now begun the task of carrying thousands of children to and from their studies. Soon to be expected are the inevitable tragic reports of deaths and injuries occurring when impatient youngsters dash across busy highways to greet their waiting parents or to board the bus. Most of such accidents could be avoided if motorists would adhere strictly to the letter of the law pertaining to the passing of school buses.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that they very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Even when not engaged in passing another vehicle, a driver is prohibited from driving to the left of the center of the roadway in many instances. Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways.

Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of any bridge, viaduct or tunnel. The prohibition also applies when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing. A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of traffic.

Board To Send 5,855 Men For Induction Examinations In October

Draft boards are scheduled to send 5,855 men for pre-induction examinations in October, a monthly quota in all areas and a half.

examination of 4-Fs, and inductions in October will call for transportation of more than 10,000 Texans in response to draft board orders. All men to be examined and inducted during October will be 20 years old or older. No man less than 29 years old can be examined or inducted unless he is a delinquent or volunteer.

Service is stepping up examination of additional numbers of men because it expects calls for induction to remain "at least on the October level" during the fall and early winter.

"We expect calls to go even higher in the early months of 1953," Colonel Schwartz said. "In the early months of 1951 our calls were high. Those men will be getting out in 1953, so we expect to have to replace a great many of them."

State draft boards expect to complete their program of re-examination of 4-Fs by the end of January 1953. Colonel Schwartz said that an average of 950 4-Fs a month will be re-examined from September 1952 through the first month of the new year.

State draft headquarters is planning combined physical-mental examination of a "larger than usual" group of doctors and dentists in September, Colonel Schwartz said. He said Texas has a quota to furnish three doctors and one dentist for military service in September.

Through July 1952, Texas had inducted 41,888 men into military service since hostilities in Korea began. During the same period, state draft boards forwarded 100,103 men for examination.

Comparison Of Planks Of Nat'l Platforms

Comparisons of planks of the national platforms of the two major political parties that relate to national defense and foreign program spending are presented in another "no comment, no interpretation" release by the public information department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Language of the two platforms on these subjects is, in essence, as follows:

National Defense:
Democratic platform: Promises continue support of "the expansion and maintenance of military and civil defense forces required for our national safety"; rejects "The defeatist view of those who say we cannot afford the expense and effort necessary to defend ourselves."

Republican platform: Promises adequate support for national defense and for meeting treaty obligations; seeks "quickest possible development" of adequate air power; promises to "strip our entire preparedness program clean of waste," and to eliminate conflict inertia and lack of cooperation among the armed forces.

Foreign program spending:
Democratic platform: Promises to encourage the "economic and political security of Europe," to "carry forward and expand the Voice of America programs, to continue to aid Israel and the Middle East, to aid growth of the United Nations, to continue South American programs, and to help India and Pakistan create a better life for their people." Support is pledged for expansion of the Point Four program to help undeveloped lands raise living standards. Continuation of present aid to Nationalist China is pledged.
Republican platform: Promises

"encourage and aid" collective security forces in western Europe and elsewhere and to "end neglect of the Far East"; pledges aid to Israel and the Arab states. Support of the United Nations and strengthening of ties with South America are pledged. Measuring of foreign commitments "so that they can be borne without endangering the economic health of the United States" is also promised. This plank declares for continuance of the program of exchange of students with foreign countries and efforts for improvement of underdeveloped countries. It promises "to sever from the public payroll all the hordes of loafers, incompetents and unnecessary employees who clutter up the administration of our foreign affairs. The party will rid the State Department and other agencies of "those responsible for the needless perils in which we find ourselves," the plank states.

DR. J. M. TRAVIS of Littlefield named as Texas' General Practitioner of the Year by Texas Medical Association at special convocation September 28. Dr. Travis comes a candidate for the National Association's top honor. He is Doctor of the Year in the December.

Security To Be Sept. 24

of recent changes in the law is that the Lubbock social security office is no longer to self-employed persons until January 1953 to old-age insurance bene- Hutton, manager of the social security office ex- earnings from self-em- into the social security once each year, but a least 18 months must be used to determine the average earnings on which benefit amounts are based. For this reason, a self-employed person who retired and claimed payments in 1952 under the old law would have only his 1951 earnings spread over 18 months in figuring the monthly average. Before the new law was passed the Lubbock social security office was explaining to self-employed people that they might get higher payments by waiting until January 1953 to make their applications. The changed law, Mr. Hutton explains, provides that self-employed people can start getting retirement payments in 1952 and can then have their payments refigured in 1953 after their 1952 earnings have been reported. The payments will then be based on average monthly earnings based on the combined total of 1951 and 1952 earnings divided by 24 months. The additional payments will be made retroactively for the months in 1952 for which the individual received payments. Similar provisions are provided for the survivors of self-employed people who die in 1952. People 65 or over who are considering retirement may get further information at the Lubbock social security office, 204 Broadway Building, Lubbock or may contact Mrs. Juanita Short, Field Representative, who will be at the Post Office in Littlefield at 1:30 p.m. on September 24. Hialeah race track has stepped up its purses to $1,800,000 for this winter's meeting. This is an increase of $300,000 over last year's figures.

LANDMARK IN HISTORY

1775. The OLD NORTH CHURCH, Boston, Massachusetts.

AP Newsfeatures

"One if by land and two, if by sea." On the night of April 18, 1775, Robert Newman, sexton of Christ (the old North) Church, left his little house on the opposite side of Salem Street, climbed to the tower of the church, hung the signal lanterns and started Paul Revere on the famous ride that kindled the flame which brought about the American Revolution. Christ Church was built in 1723, to relieve the overcrowding of King's Chapel (Boston's first Church of England, 1686) at the other end of the town, and stood just below the old burying ground on Copp's Hill. Although the belfry was blown down in 1804, it was replaced in 1807 by the present one and, today, the old church, the burying ground and King's Chapel are National Shrines.

Revision In Automobile Ceiling Price Regulation Increases Cost Of Cars

A revision in its automobile ceiling price regulation which may bring increases in automobile prices for Texas purchasers has been announced by the Office of Price Stabilization in Dallas.

The revision was brought about by recent changes made by Congress in the Defense Production Act, which permits new car dealers to fix their retail selling prices on the basis of historical margin mark-ups rather than on the former basis of dollars-and-cents ceilings. The change probably will result in an increase in the ceiling prices of many Texas new car dealers, according to R. G. Berle, regional OPS automotive chief in Dallas. Under the revised regulation, each dealer may establish his own ceiling price based on his usual pricing practice in either of the two base periods—May 24 to June

This year's pellets showed to pay off. Because production of their flocks and stocks are on the decline, market has strengthened. Prices remain high but ratios have become favorable for the first time in months.
