The SNOOPER SAYS . . .

Now that conscription is over and young men have been given their draft numbers, and the 1940 general election is a thing of the past, the "let-down" feeling is almost equal to that after the Christmas holidays.

The hayloft party that members of the Junior Study Club are planning, to be staged at the Legion Hut next Monday night, is sure to be a success.

The first of its kind ever to be given here, the party has been planned to be unique in every manner. Besides having decorations that are found in a hayloft, including rats and mice, prizes for best costumes, etc., will include eggs, chickens, and a "four-day-old pig!" Invitations to the affair were sent this week.

Maybe we can have turkey on Thanksgiving, too.

Did you know that it was estimated that the turkey crop this year will total 33,000,000—the largest on government record.

I noticed in the papers where Mr. and Mrs. Doc Matthews of Lameas.

have eight sons and seven of them registered for the draft.

Six of the seven registered in Dawson county, and the seventh one in El Paso county.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hemphill, long-time residents of Littlefield, have five sons—and those five sons registered for selective service.

Among those five sons there are nine college degrees. Four of the young men are graduates of the local high school, and three have taught in the public schools here. Floyd Hemphill, who is superintendent of the schools at the present time, was in the 1926 graduating class.

Experimental work on mesquite eradication is being continued by Dr. E. L. Reed, professor of botany, at Texas Technological college.

An area two miles north of Anton is one of the seven stations Dr. Reed has for experimentation, it was reported.

The mesquite trees are a part of West Texas, and we hope they will never become a thing of the past, in spite of Dr. Reed's experiments to exterminate them. It is hard to remove mesquite plants from the ground to make the soil tillable, but they are a part of the landscaping of the thousands of acres of ranch land on the Great Plains.

I found this poem in the Floyd

County Hesperian, written by Flora Dean Smith, titled, "To A Mesquite Tree":

O, mesquite tree, gnarled and old
 Widely fling your curls of gold.
 Wake when light and shadow pass
 Golden carpets on the grass.

Softly wave your pale green laces
 O'er the sunny grassy places,
 Swing your fruit of beans so sweet
 That the hungry cattle eat.

You are like no other tree
 On the prairie, wide and free
 Dear to every Texan's heart
 Of the old West you're a part.

We miss Mrs. Ema Cash who moved to Post last week end, to care for her father.

I have wondered many times how she has been so friendly, always smiling, though rough was the traveling along life's road, and she has suffered more sorrow than the average person, yet she always could make me see the "silver lining" in my own clouds from day to day.

Mrs. Cash was reared in Post, and she taught school in several of the rural schools near there. Her father's home—one of those two-story houses that only the word "homey" will describe—is the place where she moved with her husband when Maxine was two years old. Then her parents went there to live, and in a few years, she moved on with her family.

Now we have had to give her back to Post—but she will long be remembered by her friends here, who learned to love her.

Ben Gann, president of the Lamb County Electric Co-operative, Inc., said the other day that he felt better about the section of REA lines in this county since an allotment had been approved for 200 more miles of high-line for Bailey county.

Application was made for an allotment for the building of these additional lines in this county several months ago, but it has not been approved to date.

Down at the West Texas Cotton-oil Mill last week I was looking at a bulletin, "1941 Feeding Practices," and noticed a picture of LaVern Moss, Cochran-county 4-H Club boy with several of his white-face calves.

The bulletin had many pictures of 4-H Club boys and girls with their calves, pigs, lambs, and chickens, from various parts of the entire United States, but the picture of the Cochran county youth was the only one from the Texas Panhandle.

Guess I'll be going.
 MARGIE.

Mrs. Ross Prolongs Fryer Season

Mrs. Ed Ross reports that her family has used many of the 27 fryers stored in the freezer locker during the late summer. The fryers are cut into pieces as for cooking and are then stored in an airtight container. The backbone and giblets should be wrapped separately. A tin lined with wax paper, may be used for the container, or a special tin if available.

Sometimes the chickens are packed in special waxed paper each package should be air-proof prevent freezer burn. Many families find it profitable to freeze the chickens as they are from the flock. Only quality should be stored as freezing does not improve the quality.

Mrs. Ross is a member Amherst H. D. Club.

There are more than 60 pertaining to wildlife on the statutes.

Here's Efficient, Modern Power For Fast, Modern Harvesting

Roll easily and quickly through your harvest work with an Oliver "70" as it drives and pulls a 6-foot combine, a tractor binder or a 2-row picker. Make just one round in the field and you'll know the "70" does everything, does everything and is a beauty to operate as well as to see—you'll know the why of its easy-handling and fast working that get jobs done in a hurry at lowest cost.

Smooth, lively 6-cylinder "70" power is ideal for operating combine or similar power take-off jobs, and for belt work such as driving a threshing machine. The steady overlapping power of six cylinders means efficient delivered power for such work. Power take-off and belt speeds depend directly on engine speed, and are independent of drive travel. Finger-tip control of all operations, from the comfortable driver's seat, and automotive steering, mean easier driving, time-saving operation. The Oliver Variable Speed Governor Control enables you to use only the fuel needed for the work.

Oliver builds the "70" in two fuel types for maximum fuel efficiency—the "70" HC with high compression engine for gasoline, and "70" KD with engine designed for kerosene or distillate. Pick the fuel and your "70". Get modern low-cost tractor power. See us about a demonstration.

Steers Are Moved To Mashed-O Ranch

One hundred and six head of steers have been moved from the VVN ranch in Bailey county, near Muleshoe, to the Mashed-O ranch of the W. E. Halsell estate northwest of Amherst, near Springlake. The steers, with others, will be fed out for market. On the ranch, half a dozen huge trench silos have been filled with rent feed. Ewing Halsell, owner, moved 21 cars of cattle from the VVN ranch west of Muleshoe, to a ranch near Owasso, Okla.

Britain To Buy 12,000 U. S. Planes

A ruling that half the war supply output of American factories will go to Great Britain and Canada, was announced Thursday by President Roosevelt, while the British were granted permission by the priorities board to place a new order of 12,000 military planes in this country.

The president said his so-called "rule of thumb" policy of a 50-50 split with the British applied to heavy bombers and all other types of military equipment and increased the previously existing ratio about 5 per cent in favor of Great Britain.

The percentage might be less on some items which were in greater demand for the American defense program, he said, and larger on others.

Plans Underway By Dr. Green To Open Hospital At Sudan

Dr. F. R. Green, prominent Sudan physician last week announced plans for opening a completely modern 17-room hospital and clinic in Sudan. Work was started Monday of last week on remodeling of the old Gay Hotel, which will be the site of the new hospital. The hotel building, located two blocks east of Main Street, is being completely remodeled and repaired, Dr. Green announced, and plans now call for a formal opening of the hospital, probably within 30 days. Dr. Green is installing new and modern operating equipment, a new and completely shock-proof X-ray of the latest type, and new equipment in patient rooms. The new hospital and clinic represent an investment of approximately $10,000, the doctor estimated. Sudan business men are contributing to the furnishings for hospital patient rooms and cooperating in bringing the institution to Sudan.

Organization Of Cub Pack To Be Completed Tonight

Final organization of a Cub Pack, the 9-10-11-year old boys program of the Boy Scouts of America, for Littlefield, will take place at the high school here tonight. Raynes Sparks, chairman, announced today.

All boys who wish to be Cubs in this Pack have been urged to bring their parents to this final session. "Cubbing cannot exist without parent understanding of what the underlying principles are," Sparks said. The Pack will be sponsored by the Lions Club.

Two previous sessions in this Pack organization training course were conducted Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Pack officers will be selected and Cubs and leaders will be registered tonight. After four weekly meetings of Dens, the Pack will come together for the final charter presentation.

In connection with the Cub organization, has been an introduction to Scouting training course for leaders of Scouts and Scout fathers.

Special invitation is given all fathers of Scouts, as well as Scout leaders who have missed the previous sessions. Floyd Hemphill, chairman of leadership training, announced, to attend.

With the last session of the Scout training course tonight will be the presentation of certificates to men who have attended all three sessions of the course—These certificates are issued on behalf of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, through the local South Plains Council.

Not only are local leaders and parents participating in the Cub and Scout courses, but leaders and parents from Amherst, Sudan and Muleshoe, other towns in the North-western district of the Council, have been regular attendants. Hemphill

THE TARGETS IN THE SKY

Working with a precision matching that of the mechanism of their weapon, these artillerymen serve an anti-aircraft gun during rapid-fire practice. With sensitive sound-detectors for ears and powerful searchlights for eyes at night, this type of high-range gun is designed to protect military and industrial areas from attack by enemy aircraft. It is operated by members of an Anti-aircraft Regiment of the Coast Artillery Corps.

Raynes Sparks, T. J. Jones, W. L. Sanders and Bill Cone will be instructors of the Cub course with J. C. Grimes, field Scout executive as advisor. Joe Hutchinson, Sudan; James L. Hill, with Hemphill as advisor, will conduct the Scout course.

Miss Wright Bride Of Alvie Strickland

In a simple candlelight ceremony performed at the Methodist church, at Earth at six o'clock Sunday evening, November 3, Miss Louise Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wright, became the bride of Mr. Alvie Strickland, son of Mr.

and Mrs. J. W. Strickland. Rev. C. A. Holcomb read the single ring ceremony in the presence of a host of friends and relatives of the young people.

The church was decorated with large baskets of white and orchid chrysanthemums and tall white tapers burned at the altar.

The bride was charmingly gowned in soldier blue with burgundy accessories. She carried a bouquet of rosebuds and baby mums and a handkerchief which belonged to the bridegroom's great-grandmother for "something borrowed and something old."

Miss Oletha Strickland, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. She wore a hunter green dress with brown accessories, and a shoulder corsage of rose buds. J. C. Wright, brother of the bride, served as best man. Aaron Strickland and Thorley Fanning were ushers.

The young couple will make their home in Earth.

THERE WILL BE NO DRAFT UNTIL NEXT SPRING; VOLUNTEERS MAY TOTAL 800,000 OFFICIALS SAY

Men are volunteering for one year of training in the army at a rate that may make it unnecessary to draft anyone until next spring or summer, selective service officials said in Washington Saturday.

Between 200,000 and 500,000 volunteers had been expected, but it was believed that they may number between 600,000 and 800,000. The army plans to train 800,000 this year—400,000 by the middle of March and the remainder by June 15.

The response of volunteers will lighten the load of local draft boards in classifying registrants. Volunteers will be classified to determine that none have dependents or physical defects or are needed in industry.

Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

Most people want a laxative to do three things: (1) act punctually, (2) act thoroughly, (3) act gently.

Here's one that usually fills all three requirements when the easy directions are followed. It's an all-vegetable product whose principal ingredient has medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative."

That's the ingredient which enables BLACK-DRAUGHT to help tone lazy bowel muscles. It is the main reason for the satisfying relief from constipation that generally follows next morning when BLACK-DRAUGHT is taken at bedtime. The millions of packages used are proof of its merit.

Diversifying With COTTON-

We have been blamed for putting all our eggs in a cotton basket; but perhaps the blamers do not know cotton's stake in farm diversification. Cottonseed meal, stock feed, cotton sheets for seed-bed covers, cotton petticoats for garden and orchard plants, cotton quilts for beehives, and cotton linings for terrace outlets are but a few of the uses and markets the balanced farm opens to cotton. Cotton goes to market when the farmer diversifies; indeed, some cotton product is likely to be the tool he needs for other farm activities. Diversification to the cotton industry means more than a sharing of the burden of farm overhead; it means also new and enlarged markets for cotton.

Even if we are not farmers, we marvel at how many diversified uses we can find for cotton in our varied activities. No other crop can supply so many of our diversified wants, and at the same time generate the commerce through which we can earn the money to buy more.

JOSEPH McCORD

CHAPTER IX SYNOPSIS

Audrey Swan, nicknamed "Cy-cy," is the only daughter of a highly respected horse trainer, whose farm adjoins that of Judge Castle. The Judge's only son, Jeffrey, has been Audrey's friend since childhood. Jeff marries Olive Castle and they leave for a long honeymoon. While Jeff is away Vic Quinn, his friend in love with Audrey, substitutes for him in the Judge's office. The Judge, unknown to his son, buys a beautiful home for them near his own, in Parville. He has always wished to make Jeffrey his partner. But when Jeff returns, he tells him that Olive and he will live in the city and that her father will employ him there. The Judge is bitterly explaining to Vic that Jeffrey will not be coming back.

"You thought he'd be returning. It did not seem too much to expect. It appears that it was quite too much, however." There was deep bitterness in the older man's voice. "I'm sorry," Victor offered simply.

"As you can well appreciate, Vic, this situation is most unfortunate for me, aside from the personal and family standpoint. I can no longer count upon Jeffrey. And the Dodds will never be able to return to her duties."

Victor made no response. He could guess what was coming. "I will be perfectly frank with you, Quinn," the Judge continued. "I am aware that Jeffrey has urged me to stay on permanently with you. I am seconding that request on my own behalf."

"That is exceedingly kind of you, Judge Castle, but I . . ."

"I know, I know. You are under the impression that your legal career will be modified by what Parville has to offer. I can appreciate that, but I believe that I can assure you that you are wrong, are you not?"

"Twenty-eight."

"And well matured. You have done very great service to me during your stay. I have learned my satisfaction that I can depend upon you. There is and will be plenty of practice here for a young man, and my experience, such as it is, will be at your service. I need you. What do you say, sir?"

"I appreciate it very highly. I am offering you a partnership, Quinn. A full partnership. That is what I promised you. It does not interest him. That's a bit overwhelming," Victor managed. "I don't think I should tell you I never anticipated this."

"No, no," the Judge interrupted. "If you can see your way to accept my offer you will be going a long way toward making up to me what I have lost."

"Yes, sir," Victor sensed the difference was concluded and went to his desk in the outer office. He sat for a long time making aimless marks on a pad, his hand contracted, and his strong jaw set grimly. At length he laid aside his pencil and reached for the telephone. There was relaxation in his face when the requested number answered.

"Audrey. This is Vic." "I guessed it. How are you?" "All right. May I see you if I call out after lunch . . . two days?"

"Yes, I'll be here."

"Thanks! And he hung up. Audrey was sitting alone on the porch when Victor alighted in his car. She closed her book and greeted him with a bright smile. She tapped on the door and then herself in. "Alone, are you?" "I don't take any undue advantage, but I do want a conference just with you."

"A rare opportunity," she said. "Mom and Dad are off to a hunt in the country." "Hang it all, Audrey," he said after a moment's contemplation. "I wonder if you realize that almost every time I've talked with you it's had something to do with Jeff? It isn't fair to me, but that's the way it always turns out. I may as well own up that he's in it again."

"You surely expected him back."

"Of course I did. When I came down here, I swear it was only to help him out. You know I'm five years older than Jeff."

"I didn't."

"Well, I am. Old enough to have more discretion about some things, perhaps. I was about to add that I more or less asked your permission to come to Parville. The thing I'm trying to solve now is whether I should stay on. You have something to do with that, too."

"But I haven't the remotest idea what you mean, Vic." She was plainly puzzled.

"No, you wouldn't. I had quite a session with the Judge at the of-water seemed to knock him out, like. They said it might be serious, so I told your mother I'd run out and fetch you."

"Get your coat. I'll take you to your mother," Vic ordered quietly. "Or shall I send Julia for it?"

"No. I'll get it." Audrey left the porch with Victor frowning anxiously as he noticed the almost mechanical manner of her walking. He turned to Ringer with an unasked question in his eyes. The little officer put a warning finger to his lips, nodded meaningfully.

"What's the matter? What's happened? It was Julia hurrying in, wiping her hands on her apron. She looked from one man to the other.

"It's Mr. Swan," Victor said quietly. "Please control yourself. Miss Audrey will be here in a moment. She doesn't know."

"Oh, the poor lamb! You're meanin' Mr. Anthony is gone?"

"Hush! She's coming!"

Julia pulled herself together, even hurried to open the door for Audrey, bent over and buttoned the lower fastenings of the girl's coat. "If you want me for anything, darling, I'll be right close to the phone."

"Let's go, please, Vic. She was dry-eyed, still speaking calmly.

Victor caught up his own coat from the chair. He opened the door and let Audrey precede him outside.

The ride was made in silence until the hospital's main building was sighted. Then Audrey spoke suddenly. "I know that Dad is . . . gone, Vic. I'm not going to break. Really I'm not. It was the way he would have liked to go, I think."

Olive Castle had finished dressing for dinner and was giving sundry pats and touches to her perfectly arranged hair when the telephone on the bed stand sounded a gentle signal.

"Vic smiled at the elderly town constable climbing from the car. Audrey went to the door and opened it as the newcomer was about to rap. "How do you do, Mr. Ringer! Won't you come in?"

The ride was made in silence until the hospital's main building was sighted. Then Audrey spoke suddenly. "I know that Dad is . . . gone, Vic. I'm not going to break. Really I'm not. It was the way he would have liked to go, I think."

Olive Castle had finished dressing for dinner and was giving sundry pats and touches to her perfectly arranged hair when the telephone on the bed stand sounded a gentle signal.

"Get your coat. I'll take you to your mother," Vic ordered quietly. "Or shall I send Julia for it?"

"No. I'll get it." Audrey left the porch with Victor frowning anxiously as he noticed the almost mechanical manner of her walking. He turned to Ringer with an unasked question in his eyes. The little officer put a warning finger to his lips, nodded meaningfully.

"What's the matter? What's happened? It was Julia hurrying in, wiping her hands on her apron. She looked from one man to the other.

"It's Mr. Swan," Victor said quietly. "Please control yourself. Miss Audrey will be here in a moment. She doesn't know."

"Oh, the poor lamb! You're meanin' Mr. Anthony is gone?"

"Hush! She's coming!"

Julia pulled herself together, even hurried to open the door for Audrey, bent over and buttoned the lower fastenings of the girl's coat. "If you want me for anything, darling, I'll be right close to the phone."

"Let's go, please, Vic. She was dry-eyed, still speaking calmly.

Victor caught up his own coat from the chair. He opened the door and let Audrey precede him outside.

LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS

"Get it, will you darling?" she murmured to Jeffrey who had come in a minute before from his adjoining suite. He strolled over and rather clumsily disposed of a French doll whose billowy silken skirts screened the instrument from view.

"Seems it's for me," he announced after an interval. "Long distance." After that it seemed that the party on the other end of the line was doing all the talking, Jeffrey furnishing an occasional monosyllable. Finally he said, "Thanks a lot for calling," and hung up.

Olive's delicate brows drew down in a puzzled frown as she watched Jeffrey's reflection in the mirror. He was still holding the instrument in his hand, staring moodily into the distance. "Jeff! What in the world!" She turned to face him, wondering the more at the start he gave.

"Oh! That was Vic. Calling from Parville." He put the telephone back in its place. He had almost said "from home."

"You look as if he was telling you some bad news."

"He was. Very bad."

"Darling! There's nothing wrong at your home is there?"

"No. He called to say that Tony Swan was killed this afternoon. Not killed exactly . . . jumped in a creek to rescue a child and the shock did him in. Seems he had a bad heart."

"You're talking about Audrey's father, of course. That is too bad. I'm sorry for her. Did Victor call you just to tell you that?"

"Certainly. He knows that Tony and I have been good friends ever

Father of Dr. B. W. Armistead Injured In Auto Accident

Party Were Enroute To Fort Worth When Mishap Happened Sat.

Condition of Dave Armistead of Lubbock, father of Dr. and B. W. Armistead of Littlefield, was reported to be fair, at the Payne-Shotwell Hospital Wednesday.

Mr. Armistead suffered a head fracture and concussion Saturday night when the car in which he was riding with four other men, including Dr. Armistead, was in collision with another car in Lubbock. The car in which Mr. Armistead and his son were riding is reported to have been forced off the road in the collision, across the canyon, careening across a yard, and striking the J. M. Keene residence.

The wall of the house was crashed and Mrs. Keene, sitting in a deep chair placed against the wall, was sent spinning across the floor. She was badly frightened.

H. D. Boyd was the driver of the machine. Dr. Armistead had joined the group in Lubbock Saturday night, and they were planning to spend the week end near Fort Worth. Other occupants of the car were A. G. Davis, and Roy Davis, both of Lubbock.

The men were unconscious for a brief time after the accident, except A. G. Davis. None of the others were seriously injured. Dr. Armistead suffered lacerations on his face and neck.

Mr. Armistead received treatment at a Lubbock hospital, and was removed to the Payne-Shotwell Hospital here Monday afternoon. Stacy Hart, with the Hart-Thaxton ambulance, accompanied by Dr. Armistead and Dr. I. T. Shotwell, brought the patient here for treatment.

Dr. Armistead is associated with the Dr. Woods Optical office.

Donkey Football—

A large crowd is expected to witness this gridiron spectacle of the year. Place, Seely Stadium, time, 7:45.

Quarterback club roster: Capt. Ed Seely, 230-pound field general, greatest passer since Sam Baugh, good punter; Carroll Blacklock, 285-pound fullback, All-American caliber, officially clocked at 10 seconds (for 10 yards); Bill Sanders, 202-pound halfback, swivel tipped, shifty; Les Hewitt, 232½-pound greatest end in the game (donkey game) brother to the great professional end, Bill Hewitt of the Philadelphia Eagles, speciality is catching long forward passes; J. R. Eagan, 315-pound end, fit running mate for Hewitt, great defensive man; Pryor Hammons, 85-pound center, smallest, but the roughest man on the squad; the man who has caused the most fatal injuries in modern football (maybe its his business).

One-minute interviews— Blacklock — "If the donkeys hold up we are cinches to win." Seely — "Wildcats have a good team, but they are no match for us." Sanders — "We can outsmart them." Hammons — "Business will be good Wednesday."

Burns Fatal—

(Continued from page one) members for sleeping purposes. Ray Keith had gone to bed and apparently was asleep when the tent, in some unknown manner, caught fire. When the father discovered the fire, and got the child out, he was badly burned. Taken to the Payne-Shotwell hospital, everything possible was done for the boy, but to no avail.

Mother Dies Five Years Ago The mother of the child passed away five years ago.

Surviving are: his father, John Shugart; three brothers, Jack of El Paso, John, Jr., and George at home; a sister, Mary, also at home; and two half-sisters, Mrs. Ila Woodwell and Mrs. Eva Gibbs, both of Gorman, Texas; and three half-brothers, Roy and Buster Shugart of Graham; and Otis Shugart of De Leon, Texas.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Hammons Funeral Home chapel, Rev. W. J. Jackson, Baptist pastor, officiating.

Interment, in charge of the Hammons Funeral Home, took place in the Littlefield cemetery.

The total loss caused by cattle grubs, more commonly called "woivts" in the United States is estimated at more than $50,000,000 yearly.

Littlefield Chambr of Commerce would have this county spend $300,000. of taxpayer's money.

To date there has not been a single lateral road in Lamb county paved or hard-surfaced. The lateral road program has been completely neglected while our southernmost metropolis asks bond issue to build highways to its boundaries.

If a provision should be inserted in a bond election proposal providing for the construction of a complete system of lateral connecting roads throughout the county, then Lamb county voters and taxpayers outside the corporate limits of Littlefield would have real reason for supporting it. Without connecting roads which would benefit Olton, Sudan, Earth, Amherst and the outlying rural communities of the county the News can see no earthly benefit to the majority of the citizens of Lamb county in a highway which is isolated from every community but Littlefield.

If the east-west rout can be incorporated into an integrated system of roads connecting all communities of the county, then its value will be evident to every citizen. Until it is included in some far-reaching construction plan, it is merely a "road leading nowhere" to the county at large.

There is yet time, perhaps, to appeal to the Commissioners Court for a real system of roads in Lamb County . . . a system of "roads leading somewhere" . . . a system of roads which would benefit all of the citizens rather than a privileged few.

We agree with the News that Lamb county needs a better system of roads, but we will never be able to achieve that much desired goal by jumping on each other . . . by clouding the issue when some section of the county in which we do not happen to live launches an effort to have a road built. Any time that the Sudan section desires to improve the road facilities in that territory, we pledge you the support of the Lamb County Leader. Jump in there boys; let's all work together for a better road system for Lamb county.

The east-west road which it is desired to have improved through the establishing of a road district has been designated by the State of Texas as State Highway No. 278.

When improvement of Highway 7, the benefits of which the Sudan section is sharing, was proposed through Lamb county, Road District No. 1 was created. Subsequently the state took up the road bonds for that development.

Now it is proposed to carry out the same program in connection with the improvement of State Highway 278. In fact, the first payment on the proposed bonds has been scheduled to become due in 1942, which will give the state ample time to pick them up. And Highway 278 through Lamb county . . . the road that the Sudan News terms the "Road Leading Nowhere" is to become part of an important highway serving other counties in addition to Lamb county.

We said that the Sudan News "stuck out its chin . . . got its nose into the business of some other folks." And here's why we made that statement: The Sudan section is not affected in any way by the proposed road district, doesn't have a thing to do with it, doesn't have a vote in the matter . . . the only voting precincts that have a say or are affected in any way, are Spade, Sunnydale, Pep and Littlefield.

The Sudan News says that "Littlefield is preparing to walk off with the well known bacon once more."

Glory be! Isn't that too bad! The people of Spade, Sunnydale, Pep and Littlefield want to do something progressive; want to participate in an improvement in the interests of Lamb county and all who visit this section of the state and the Sudan News howls and howls and howls.

As we have stated, we agree with the Sudan News that Lamb county needs a better system of roads. And we will welcome all suggestions from that newspaper. The Lamb County Leader will join the Sudan News in any constructive effort for a system of good roads throughout our county.

We are with you, brother, in all the good that you can do in the interests of Lamb county! What are you going to do about it?

Cogratulations to—

U. S. LOSES 2,000,000 BALE COTTON MARKET

Twenty-two European countries, which formerly purchased from two to three million bales of American cotton, probably will not be buying any this year.

For all those nations are either within the German orbit and so are unable to buy, or they are blockaded and so cannot obtain shipments. Only three European markets are available, and there is little possibility that they will import much cotton.

That's why Cliff H. Day, senior field officer of the AAA, is pointing out to county agricultural agents, home demonstration agents, and county AAA Committeemen and secretaries in a series of meetings being held this month in the various Extension Service districts of Texas. Those attending the meetings are studying the 1941 AAA program and the cotton situation prior to the cotton marketing referendum to be held December 7.

During recent months practically no cotton has gone to continental Europe, Day explains, while cotton exports to countries still buying have dropped, decreases ranging from 40 percent to 90 percent. Total exports this year may drop to 2,000,000 bales, or even lower, he predicted, as compared with exports of more than 6,000,000 bales during the past season.

Portugal, Spain and the United Kingdom are the only European countries still open to cotton shipments, the AAA official declares. During the 1939-40 marketing season they imported 2,207,965 bales of American cotton, but no estimates can be made as to how much they will be able to buy during the current season.

To Dedicate Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum Nov. 15

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 10—(Special to Leader)—Two major broadcasting stations of Texas, WBAP and KGKO, will carry the colorful proceedings of Will Rogers Day here November 15-24, exclusively.

Will Rogers Day, which will begin with a mammoth parade and be climaxed with the coronation of the All-American Girl of the Southwest, will kick-off the All American Rodeo & Horse Show, which will run through November 24.

Highlights of the parade at 4 p. m. which will feature 1,200 horseback riders, the Buffalo barbecue, and the Top Hat and Stetson revue in Pioneer Palace, will be carried by the radio stations and their affiliated stations. The entire dedication program in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum will be broadcast.

The memorial celebration will be a reunion of the Rogers family, including the widow of the late humorist, sons Bill and Jimmy, daughter, Mary, if her physician thinks she is able to make the trip following a recent minor operation, and Mrs. Mary McSpadden of Chelsea, Okla., Rogers' oldest sister.

Flag of Peace

This is the flag of peace. Although hanging idly from its flag-staff, the stars and stripes in the flag are clearly visible, giving the picture every illusion of a full view of Old Glory.

It has been judged by many to be the most unusual picture of the flag ever painted by an American. The artist, Fred Tripp of Beloit, Wisconsin, was 71 years old when he completed the original, which now hangs in the lobby of the McCleary Sanitarium and Hospital at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

A facsimile of this oil painting was reproduced on the cover of the current issue of the "McCleary News," a magazine published by the institution, together with an editorial reading in part as follows:

"Softly draped, with folds un-stirred by even so much as the breath of a summer breeze, Old Glory—the Flag of Destiny, rests, waiting! It symbolizes the soul of America, standing in silent prayer before the Father of Light, receiving His strength and wisdom, asking His guidance and protection through another perilous journey. It is the morning prayer of the American people, the prayer that arms them to problems of the day with courage and cheer. Before it, America stands in reverence, realizing her sacred duty to mankind and her glorious destiny."

COTTON CROP OF 12,847,000 BALES IS FORECAST FOR THIS SEASON

United States cotton crop of 12,847,000 bales was forecast Friday by the agricultural department of Washington, D. C., based upon indications of November 1. This was an increase of 106,000 bales over a similar forecast made a month ago.

A crop of this size would be the largest since the 1937 record one of 18,946,000 bales and would compare with last year's production of 11,817,000.

The department reported that up to Thursday, 1,444,441 bales of this year's crop had been stored by growers under government price-supporting loans totaling $69,860,641. This is in addition to 8,700,000 bales of surplus cotton from previous crops either owned by the government or stored under government loans to growers.

The indicated yield for the country as a whole was estimated at 252.1 pounds per acre—the second largest of record and 14.2 pounds greater than last year.

Cotton of this year's crop ginned prior to November 1 was reported at 9,083,626 bales compared with 10,079,112 bales at the same date last year. The department said ginning was especially late this year in states adjoining the Mississippi river and in Alabama and Oklahoma. In the Carolinas, weather during October was said to have continued unusually favorable for maturing the late bolls, and that the prospective production in these two states increased 105,000 bales during the month. Favorable weather also caused an increase of 115,000 bales in Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

In Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi, however, dry weather was said to have prevented late bolls from reaching full size, causing an indicated reduction of 150,000 bales in these states.

"The Ramparts We Watch" Brings Nazi Terror Film to Ritz

By incorporating sections of the Nazi propaganda film, "Feuertaufe" (Baptism of Fire) as a new ending for "The Ramparts We Watch," despite protests of the German Embassy, the March of Time has achieved a most dramatic effect for its first feature production, according to Producer Louis de Rochemont.

Beginning with a dramatic picturization of America in the First World War from the viewpoint of the citizens of a typical small town, the March of Time sought to draw the parallel with today's crisis when the world once more fears the consequences of a German victory. U. S. preparedness against such an eventuality was to be the keynote. The Nazi film, designed to "soften" countries such as Norway, Holland, Belgium, and France which Germany was about to conquer, was seen by the March of Time as a warning of what free countries were up against today. By careful cutting, they believed it could be changed from Nazi terror propaganda to an inspiration to defeat those forces of aggression.

However, after weeks of negotiation with UFA, representing the German State Film Trust, for use of scenes from the film depicting the technique of the Polish Blitzkrieg, March of Time finally gave up the attempt when UFA imposed impossible demands for censorship de Rochemont said.

Due to demands of exhibitors, "The Ramparts We Watch" was pre-released in a limited number of cities without the projected ending. Then, learning that the British Government had confiscated English language copies of "Baptism of Fire" through its alien property custodian at Bermuda, March of Time negotiated with John Grierson, Government Film Commissioner of Canada. The film was transferred by the Canadian Government to the March of Time which immediately set to work to incorporate the most significant sections of the film into "The Ramparts We Watch."

In the Nazi sequences American moviegoers will now see for the first time a Stuka bomber diving to destroy a railroad junction, the German war machine building bridges, razing Warsaw, spraying flaming gasoline on a trapped garrison. It will see parachute troops dropped behind the lines, panzer divisions in action, and fifth columnists pointing out those who "persecuted" them in order that they may be shot. The new "Ramparts We Watch" won immediate critical acclaim when first shown to the public at the same time that Nazi officials were seeking to stop the showing of "Baptism of Fire" when shown as part of "The Ramparts We Watch."

Pat O'Brien Plays Part of Rockne In Current Film

Gale Page, who was frightened out of several nights sleep when she learned she was going to have to play a real life character in a movie before that person's own eyes is getting her regular eight hours of slumber again. Furthermore, she says she has had the most pleasant time of her acting career.

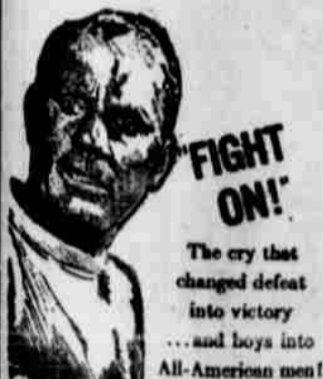

Miss Page played Donnie Rockne to Pat O'Brien's Knute Rockne in the Warner Bros. film, "Knute Rockne—All American," based on the life of the great Notre Dame football coach. Behind the cameras when she played her scenes was Bonnie Rockne herself.

"Knute Rockne—All American" will open at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, continuing through Sunday and Monday.

It is a film life story of one of America's greatest and wisest heroes—Knute Rockne. The picture traces Rockne's life from his early childhood in Norway to his tragic death in 1931. His life was full of excitement, despair, love and triumph. The film, with Pat O'Brien cast as the Notre Dame football wizard, faithfully portrays those elements and keeps alive the true "spirit of Rockne." His vigor, his astute philosophy, the great teams he built, the developing of the famous "Four Horsemen" are all told with a skillful blending of power and subtlety in "Knute Rockne—All American." O'Brien is said to have given such a realistic portrayal of the real "Rock" that Knute's closest friends were amazed at the startling likeness.

Spring Lake To Meet Amherst Friday

Contrary to previous tentative announcement concerning the place for the play-off game for conference 4-B football, the game between Amherst and Spring Lake will be played at Amherst the afternoon of November 15 at 2 o'clock, instead of at Otton or Littlefield at night.

An interscholastic league rule controls this play-off and states that the game shall be played at the school where the next conference game would be played according to home and home schedule. Since Amherst went to Spring Lake this year for the regularly scheduled conference game, they have the privilege of asking that Spring Lake go to Amherst for the play-off game. It will be necessary, however, that Amherst play the 1941 conference game on the Spring Lake gridiron.

The winner of the play-off tilt will be matched against the strong Turkey eleven, champions of the 3-B conference to the east of Plainview.

Last year the Spring Lake Wolverines, by virtue of winning the Conference 4-B crown, played Estelline's champions of Conference 3-B at Estelline. Estelline emerged victorious. Class B football is not played beyond the bi-district games.

Coach J. L. Harden of Spring Lake has 22 boys out for football. Fourteen of these lads are first year men, only one is playing his fourth year, one his third and five their second years of football. The Wolverines have come a long way since the opening of the season which saw a very green bunch of boys in there getting mostly experience. To date during the present season, the Wolverines have won three and lost five. In spite of an early season victory over Amherst, the Wolverines are rated slightly the underdogs in this game.

This is Coach Harden's third year as coach at Spring Lake. In that time his teams have won second place in 1938, won first in 1939 and have now tied for first in 1940. Hardin played football in Canyon High School and freshman football at West Texas. He expects the Wolverines to give a

New Deal Wins 5-B Crown Saturday

New Deal's Lions captured the District 5-B football championship Saturday, winning the north-south play-off game from Cooper, 18 to 12 on the New Deal field.

Cooper's strong aerial attack which baffled the Lions in the first half and gave Cooper a 12-6 lead, backfired late in the fourth quarter to give New Deal the triumph.

The score was tied, 12-all, with three minutes to play and penetrations and first downs also even. Cooper had held a New Deal threat and took the ball on downs on the 10-yard line. On the first play, Doyce Barrett, who had been connecting all afternoon, faded back to pitch. Failing to find a receiver, he was downed behind his own goal line, fumbled, and Melvin Looney recovered for a New Deal touchdown.

Cooper led first downs, 14 to 12, in passing yardage, 212 to 68 and in net yardage, 266 to 200. New Deal led in yardage running, 222 to 107.

The line-ups: New Deal—Looney and Lewis, ends; Galbrath and Wardrup, tackles; Oldham and Lyda, guards; Beaty, center; Dickey, A. Anderson, G. Anderson and Edwards, backs.

Cooper—Womack and Alexander, ends; Coleman and Gill, tackles; Menchew and McDaniell, guards; Berry, center; Huckabee, G. Barrett, Qualls and D. Barrett, backs.

Levelland-Littlefield Game is Postponed

The scheduled annual "grudge" game between the Littlefield Wildcats and the Levelland Lobes was postponed Friday night due to rainy weather and condition of the field here.

The game will be played here Thursday, November 28

Donkey Basketball Games Scheduled at Whitharral Monday

Two donkey basketball games will be featured at the Whitharral school gymnasium next Monday night, W. G. Sanderson, principal, of the Whitharral school, reported this week.

The first game will be played between the Levelland school faculty and the Whitharral school boys and the second game between the Anton school faculty and the Whitharral independent team.

A girls basketball game will also be played, Mr. Sanderson said.

Admissions to the games will be 15 cents and 25 cents.

A lot of thrills, many spills and much laughter and fun will take place at these games, and everyone is invited to attend.

Hammons Funeral Home Formal Opening This Week End

Observe Open House Saturday and Sunday Next

Funeral Directors From Over North And South Plains Invited

The formal opening of the beautiful new enlarged Hammons Funeral Home, which represents a considerable investment, will be observed Saturday and Sunday next. An open house will be observed. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to visit the funeral home from 12 noon to 10 p. m. Saturday and from 12 o'clock noon to 10 p. m. Sunday.

The large structure, just completed, is of stucco construction, finished in cream, while the interior is of white trim throughout.

H. Wells, well known local contractor, was in charge of the location.

For 13 years the Hammons Funeral Home has served the residents of Littlefield and section, beginning in 1927, in connection with the furniture store.

In 1931 they moved the mortuary department to a separate building, keeping with the trend of mortuary establishments. This was the beginning of a first exclusive funeral home in Littlefield and Lamb County. It was located in a residence which Pryor Hammons, owner, had converted into a very modern but well equipped funeral home, which has been a credit to Littlefield for these past years.

Over mindful of the rapid growth of Littlefield the past few years, and the prospects for continued expansion, Mr. Hammons has again expressed, and in an effort to better serve the people of Littlefield, has erected one of the largest and best equipped funeral homes in the area.

Located at East 5th St. and LFD on a spacious lot, landscaped with trees, this two story structure is modern and convenient in every way. On the main floor are located the main reception room, a private reception room, which may be used for consolation, or for the family of familiar pending arrangements for services; a private resting room, where relatives and friends may meet while waiting for state pending services; a large preparation room with new and modern equipment, and equipped to meet all sanitary and health laws; a beautiful chapel capable of seating about 150 persons and a private family room and music room.

The chapel is most convenient for religious services, and with special thought given to the privacy and comfort of the family.

A broad stairway, from within the main reception room, leads to the display room on the second floor, where everything is done to make the selection of merchandise as easy as possible—a large stock of national advertised merchandise is carried, offering a wide selection of styles, colors and materials, at prices consistent for all.

Floors, covered with carpets, add to the homelike atmosphere. The remainder of the building is reserved over to living quarters.

Adjoining the rear of building is a double garage, equipped for storage and a power elevator for use on the second floor.

Motor equipment consists of two modern combination cars, equipped with efficient and comfortable ambulance service—anywhere with prompt and capable personnel at all times.

In an interview with Mr. Hammons Wednesday, he said: "This institution, to an eminent degree, is the product of the friendly encouragement and esteem of our community."

"It is our privilege and solemn responsibility to share and ease the grief of sorrowing hearts. To the best of our ability we strive to fulfill the terms of this sacred trust. We extend to our many friends and relatives who visit our new Home, our warmest welcome and trust in the future will be to better serve our clients."

Hammons' New and Enlarged Funeral Home

The formal opening of the new Hammons Funeral Home will be staged Saturday and Sunday next. Open house will be observed from 2 to 10 p. m. Saturday and from 12 noon to 10 p. m. Sunday. A large number of visitors are expected to view the beautiful interior of the structure, including funeral directors from over the North and South Plains.

Each service merits the personal direction of one or more of Hammons licensed funeral directors, those being Mr. and Mrs. Pryor Hammons, and Lenton H. Smith.

Funeral Directors from over the North and South Plains are expected to be present at the formal opening of Hammons Funeral Home. Also, representatives of various business establishments which serve this funeral home, are expected, including J.S. Freman, District Representative of Plainview and R. B. Powell of the National Casket Company, Dallas; Gordon Carlisle, District Representative and C. M. McMurtrey, Manager of the Texas Coffin Co., Amarillo; and Prof. J. Horace Griggs, of Plastic Surgery & Decorative Art, Amarillo.

Favors for the ladies who attend the formal opening will be corsages of Carnations.

Quota For Lamb Co. Is Seven For Service; Six Volunteer

Registrants for selective service with the local board whose order numbers are one 1 to 99, inclusive, this week received questionnaires and many had been returned to the Lamb county draft board office here Wednesday night.

Lamb county's quota for the first draft, which will call 800,000 men in the entire nation, was seven men, and Mrs. Dorothy Cobb, local clerk at the draft board office, reported that six men had volunteered for one year's military training, and it is expected that another man will volunteer before the time expires. These seven men will be taken to Lubbock next Friday, November 22, to the district recruiting office, and will be sent to their respective training camps.

Those men who have volunteered are; John Westmoreland, No. 59, of route 2, Littlefield; Basil M. Cox, No. 983, Littlefield, James A. Mitchell, No. 1471, route 1, Muleshoe; Ernest G. Cope, No. 1483, Star route 2, Littlefield; Lloyd G. Thompson, No. 1495, Littlefield; and Thurman D. Patterson, No. 2013, route 1, Littlefield.

Five of these volunteers would not have been called for sometime, Mrs. Cobb reported, as their order numbers were toward the end of the list.

The Littlefield Rotary Club is cooperating with the local draft board, in helping registrants fill out their questionnaires, Mrs. Cobb said. This help is greatly appreciated by members of the draft board.

T. S. Sales— (Continued from page one)

Officiating in the service were Rev. Roy Shahan, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Rev. Jess Mitchell of Muleshoe; Rev. Donald Harris, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; and Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Portales, N. M.

Rev. Mr. Grizzle is a former pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city and was Mr. Sales' pastor for his six years of service to the local church.

Rev. Mr. Mitchell was a personal friend of Mr. Sales for many years.

A Roll-Call Of Americans

There is something approaching an American Legion of Honor in the list of names of the young men who drew the magic number 158 in the selective service draft.

No village or hamlet is too small to send at least one "Number 158." There is not one of the infinite number of racial groups which make up our diverse citizenry that is not represented.

Here are Yuen Chong Chan, a Chinese laundryman; George Tsatsaronis, a Greek restaurant cook; John McDonald, a Negro elevator operator; Vincent Leibell, son of a Federal judge, all caught in the same cast of the draft net with young fellows bearing Italian, German, Irish, Jewish Polish and Spanish surnames.

Nothing could more completely exemplify the democratic ideal of absolute equality of all men than the method by which these scions of many races were picked by the workings of pure chance.

varied types together into cantonments for a year.

Education In A Democracy

The essential difference between life in a democracy and life in a dictator-controlled state, is that in a democracy the people do their own thinking.

There are people, even in America, who would like to have their thinking done for them by some higher authority with power to give everybody orders.

How often we hear people criticize the way the schools are conducted. When one is sure that he or she has exactly the correct point of view on everything, and that every other point of view is wrong, it is easy to become alarmed, to discover that school children and college students are being encouraged to think out the problems of life and living for themselves and are not being forced to believe something which their teachers have told them.

Dr. John W. Nason, the new President of Swarthmore College, pointed out that democracy cannot be indoctrinated without destroying it.

Germany Will Not Give Assurance Of Safety For Ship

The fact that Germany has refused to join Italy in giving assurance of safe conduct, makes it unlikely that an American ship will be sent into the European war zone to bring about 1,200 United States citizens home from the British Isles.

The state department announced that Italy "very promptly responded favorably" to a request from the United States for a safe conduct.

Germany, however, replied in a note delivered Friday that it was "not in a position to furnish any sort of assurance of the nature requested."

In view of this, officials in Washington indicated they could not assume the risks of sending a ship into the combat area.

Thus the only means by which the Americans can reach home is to take a plane to Lisbon, Portugal, and then board a clipper or American ship. Under the neutrality act, they are forbidden to travel on vessels of belligerents.

Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain, had called at the state department recently and expressed the hope that a vessel would be sent without delay to bring home an estimated 1,200 or 1,300 Americans seeking to return.

The variance in the positions taken by the Axis partners attracted interest in diplomatic quarters in Washington.

Hardin-Simmons Instructor To Talk To Press Clinic

Principal speakers at the West Texas Scholastic cPress clinic on Texas Tech campus November 15 and 16 will be Herschel Schooley, director of journalism at Hardin-Simmons university, and J. Edward Professor Schooley will discuss the problems of getting a high school paper out, and Mr. Connor will speak on the place of journalism in present day world affairs.

Cotton Industry To Aid National Defense Program

WACO, Nov. 9 — Burriss C. Jackson of Hillsboro, Chairman of the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, and a past president of the Texas Cotton Association, has called upon the cotton industry of the state, and of the South, to line up solidly behind the National Defense program under the leadership of President Roosevelt.

Jackson, who is also a director of the National Cotton Council of America, and widely known in cotton circles in the cotton growing states, said that the election is over and should be promptly forgotten.

"Wars raging in other parts of the world have virtually eliminated the United States as an export cotton country until these wars are over, and that makes it even more necessary than ever for the national cotton consumption to be greatly increased," Jackson pointed out.

Jackson called upon the farmers, ginners, warehousemen, shippers, crushers and all people engaged in any phase of the cotton industry and allied interests to close their ranks and cooperate together more fully than ever before.

Criticism Of East-West Road Is Unwarranted

The Sudan News' Attack---

The Commissioner's court has received a petition this week asking that a road district be created in the northern part of the county and a bond election called to vote bonds in amount of $300,000 for building a paved highway across that section . . . a project which apparently of, by, and for the people of Littlefield. The court has ordered a hearing on the road district proposal for November 20; and unless the rest of Lamb county gets into action before that time, Littlefield is preparing to walk off with the well-known road once more.

The proposed highway route as described in a petition circulated by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and presented to the Commissioner's Court, runs at the east line of Lamb county about four miles north of Littlefield, and extends west to the Bailey line. A glance at the map reveals that Littlefield, alone, is the one town in Lamb county which will benefit from the construction of such a road.

The proposed route lies more than three miles north of Ahmerst, and more than seven miles south of the Bailey line; but passes directly through Littlefield. The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce in a move that comes as a surprise to taxpayers in other sections of the county, asks the Commissioners Court to order an election to create a road district across the southern section of the county and vote $300,000 in bonds to build Littlefield a road.

Granting that the proposed highway may be necessary to the health and happiness and continued prosperity of the city of Littlefield, it is equally true that there are other towns and communities in Lamb county which also need all-weather outlets for travel. Not one of these can, by any stretch of the imagination, be served by the east-west highway route on which the

The Leader's Reply---

Progress in the development of Lamb county is something that most of us view with enthusiasm . . . we are proud of the achievements in all sections of our county . . . we are too broad, too enthusiastic to wish to selfishly segregate development to the particular section in which we reside.

This newspaper enthusiastically comments on the achievements in all sections of our county. Possessing such a broadminded policy, we were surprised at the attitude of the Sudan News relative to the plan to create a road district to build an east-west road through Lamb county . . . a development which is desired by a large section of the farm population of our county. In fact, we do not believe that the position taken by the Sudan News reflects the attitude of the great majority of the people of Sudan and territory.

Sudan and territory is made up of progressive folks . . . equally as progressive as the people living in any other section of the county . . . and we are proud to number them as our friends . . . our neighbors . . . and as very excellent citizens of Lamb county. True, we are all human . . . very human . . . we are chiefly interested in the immediate territory in which we live . . . we sometimes have differences of opinion, but differences of opinion make horse races and progress. But after all we are all brothers . . . trying to get the most out of life.

Coming right down to cold facts, we think that the Sudan News sort of stuck out its chin . . . got its nose into the business of some other folks. And when we do that . . . well, we just shouldn't have done it.
