BLACK WATER DRAW CHOSEN AS LOCATION

Club House Sufficient For Entire County To Be Constructed

A meeting was called Thursday night of last week, October 20th, at the school house at Fieldton, by Cecil Barnett and others for the purpose of discussing a Club House site and the construction of a 4-11 Club House building for Lamb county. The citizens of Fieldton community have been planning and looking forward to a program of this kind for sometime as they had thought that a location on Black Water Draw south of Fieldton would be an ideal location for the construction of such a building as this would be logically near the center of the population in the county and the network of road facilities that lead through this part of the county would be very accessible.

The Commissioners' Court was invited to attend this meeting but the only members able to attend were Judge Crockett and Commissioner Don Bryant from the Commissioners' Court. Mr. Donald Turner, County Agent, and Mr. McKinney, Assistant County Agent, were also present.

A committee was named for the selection of the site which was as follows: T. M. Moore, D. A. Vannoy and G. A. Allen, all of Fieldton.

Local Post Office Receives 135 New Mail Boxes Mon.

A number of new mail boxes were received at the local post-office Monday, and will be installed in the near future, W. D. T. Storey, postmaster, announced.

This shipment of boxes which are of the smaller type, numbering 135 in all, were forwarded to Littlefield on account of the demand for this type of box.

The Littlefield postoffice, on the installation of the new boxes, will have a total of 710 mail boxes, or an increase of 200 since the present postmaster has been in office.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. JOHN NANCE 12:30 P. M. SUN.

Dies At Local Hospital After Three Weeks Illness

Mrs. John Nance, 41, of Lum's Chapel community, passed away at a local hospital Saturday morning, October 22 at 8 o'clock, following a three week's illness.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church, Littlefield at 12:30 o'clock Sunday noon, by Rev. Roy Shahan, pastor, and the remains were taken overland by Hammons Funeral Home to Ralls, where services were also held at the cemetery where interment took place about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Moved To Texas When Small Mrs. Nance was born January 29, 1897, at Hope, Arkansas and came to Texas when a small child. She was converted when a young woman and united with the Missionary Baptist church. She was a member of the Lum's Chapel church at the time of her death.

Married In 1935 As Miss Vernie Swinney, she was married to W. W. Shipman May 16, 1915, at Rube, Texas, to which union were born two daughters.

Mrs. Shipman's second marriage to Mr. Nance took place July 16, 1935, to which union one child was born, which preceded her in death.

Funeral services at the funeral were: Hershel Baker, Roy Meadows, Roy Hudson, Emory Hobbs, Marvin Swannoy and Howard Landrum.

Flower bearers were: Mrs. Nance's nieces of Morton. Surviving the deceased, besides her husband, are two daughters, Mrs. Jessie Drake of Littlefield and Mrs. Howard Gaines of Seagraves; four sisters, Mrs. G. P. Malone of Littlefield; Mrs. H. F. Cooper and Mrs. A. A. Nance of Morton and Mrs. C. A. Shipman of Ralls; step-mother, Mrs. H. J. Swinney, two half-brothers, Hermon Swinney of Earth, and Cecil Swinney of Wichita.

Cooperation of Business Firms Makes Cooking School Possible

The Lamb County Leader extends their deep appreciation and thanks to the business establishments, who cooperated so splendidly, enabling us by their liberal advertising to publish this large edition, and thereby making possible the Leader's Sixth Annual Cooking School, which will open at the Palace Theatre Monday, October 31, at 2 p. m.

The school is entirely free, and for the entertainment and benefit of the women of Littlefield and territory.

The Leader, however, urges that

FINAL PREPARATIONS ARE UNDERWAY FOR THE SIXTH ANNUAL SESSION AT PALACE

Noted Food Authority To Lecture; Special Features To Be Offered The Many Visitors Who Will Attend

The Palace Theatre will swing wide its doors Monday at 2 p. m. for the grand opening of the Sixth Annual Lamb County Leader Cooking School, scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 31, and November 1 and 2.

By popular request on the part of the women of Lamb county, Mrs. Gertrude Burbank, who conducted the session last year, has again been engaged by the Leader to lecture to the large numbers visiting Littlefield for the occasion.

On account of the enlarged program and special features to be offered at the school, not heretofore given, those planning to attend are urged to be at the theatre before the time for opening of the school, so that they may secure desirable seats.

Mrs. Burbank is a noted food authority, and famous for her practical knowledge of home economics and acknowledged to be one of the leaders in her field in the southwest.

Many compliments have been paid Mrs. Burbank through the Leader last year, and it was with the assurance in mind that the women of Littlefield and trade territory would again welcome Mrs. Burbank that she was returned to Littlefield for this year's school.

The session this year promises to be better and more interesting than ever. A larger number of gifts than ever before are being offered by the merchants, who are cooperating in their usual splendid manner, in the presenting to the women of this section free lectures, and an entertaining session each day of the school. Such gifts as groceries, drygoods, electrical gifts, dishes, hardware, beauty service, etc. will be extended those who attend. There is no admission or charge of any kind, and a general invitation to all women of this section is extended.

Final preparations are being made for the big free happy kitchen cooking school, which last year drew over two thousand women from all over the trade territory, including many miles away. The school will open at 2 p. m. each day.

A part of each lecture will be devoted to personal questions from those present. A question box will be placed in the lobby of the theatre, and as you enter the school you may drop your questions in the box, and the lecturer will answer the questions from the stage.

PNEUMONIA IS FATAL TO MRS. LUCY SORENSEN

Funeral Services For Whitharral Woman Tuesday

Mrs. Lucy Bernice Sorensen, aged 35, passed away Sunday night about 10:45 o'clock at her home four and a half miles east of Whitharral, as a result of pneumonia, following an illness of three weeks.

Deceased had been confined in the Littlefield hospital, and had returned to her home about a week previous to her death.

Funeral services were conducted at Whitharral high school auditorium Tuesday afternoon, at 8 o'clock, by Rev. Cowan, pastor of the Whitharral Baptist church, and interment, in charge of Hammons Funeral Home, took place in that cemetery.

Mrs. Sorensen was survived by her husband and seven children, all of whom were under 14 years of age.

GIFTS GALORE

If you have never attended a Leader Cooking School, you have no idea of the great variety of gifts which are presented from the stage each afternoon.

These gifts cover a wide variety — you may get a bottle of perfume, or you may get a sack of flour — you'll really enjoy this feature of the program.

Gifts have always been a special feature of Leader cooking schools, and this year this event will be enlarged.

REMEMBER GIFTS GALORE — at the Leader Free Cooking School.

LOCAL CHURCH HOST TO WEST PLAINS ASSN.

150 Delegates Here From 17 Churches In Association

The West Plains Baptist Association met with the First Baptist church here in an all day meeting Tuesday.

Seventeen churches of the 23 in the Association were represented at the meeting, at which 150 delegates were present.

The theme of the meeting was "Conservation," and the text "Teaching Them to Observe All Things Whatsoever I Have Commanded you." The following program was enjoyed:

10:20 a. m.—"We Are To Teach Them Until They Are Enlisted in the Church," Rev. Chas. Teague.

10:50 a. m.—"We Are To Teach Them Until They Are Enlisted in Prayer and Bible Study," Rev. F. B. Hamilton.

11:20 a. m.—Announcements—Song.

11:30 a. m.—"We Are to Teach Them Until They Are Enlisted in Christian Living,"—Rev. L. S. Jenkins.

Lunch.

1:15 p. m.—W. M. U. and Executive Board Meeting.

2:00 p. m.—"We Are To Teach Them Until They Are Enlisted in Missions," Alford Richards.

2:30 p. m.—"We Are To Teach Them Until They Are Enlisted in God's Plan of Giving," Rev. C. T. Jordan.

Howdy Folks:

A young truck driver, after dropping $12 or $15 in a slot machine, at a Los Angeles barroom, became incensed at the machine and broke it open. He was given a sentence of from 1 to 15 years in San Quentin prison. The operator is still at liberty.

Several days ago, Judge Rowe filed a deed for a piece of property in Lamb County. There is nothing remarkable about this transaction except that this particular property changed hands precisely 45 years ago. Some of these sharp eyed land grabbers certainly passed up some easy picking.

Now that a "National Believe It Or Not" contest is in full swing, we really ought to get some surprises, super-thrills and amazing information. I dare not stretch my imagination to the full possibilities of the proposition. Can't hardly see how they can test our credulity much further than Ripley has in the past ten years.

If somebody were to help somebody else, rob me of my home and property, I certainly would not choose that particular somebody, as my host when I was sick, weary and despondent. What I started to tell you—was that Edward Benes, the ex-president of Czechoslovakia, landed at one of the British air ports last Saturday. He chose the peaceful soil of England for a much needed rest cure. You can't account for people's tastes and preferences—Lilly Pons used to have a pet leopard.

Last Sunday a three line news item informed the world that May Irwin the actress, had passed away at the age of 76. Perhaps we have grown old in a world that forgets too quickly, but this particular slight notice—stabbed our consciousness, and revived memories of the days when May Irwin was the "Toast of America". May Irwin, the queen of light opera; May Irwin the supreme character comedienne of the Gay Nineties—whose appearances would fill the newspapers with columns of eulogy,—earned exactly three lines of publicity when she made the final curtain.

At a meeting held in Geneva last Saturday, the decision was reached to create "sanitary towns" to harbor the wounded, and civilian refugees from war areas. The meeting was called by the International

Red Cross, 40 military and legal experts representing 18 countries, were present and indorsed this humane project sponsored by "The Greatest Mother In The World". The Red Cross sees all; hears all and FEELS FOR ALL. Of course, you will respond to the Annual Red Cross call which will be issued soon. So long,

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

The District Assembly of the Church of the Nazarene will meet at Hillsboro, November 2nd. Immediately following the Assembly the new church year begins. As this year comes to a close, we naturally think of what has been accomplished in the past, and of what may be done in the future. Within this year a small church has been erected and paid for; the membership has increased from two to twenty, and the Sunday School is growing. The church expects to keep increasing in number and in spirituality. Thanks to each and all for any services rendered to make the little church a success.

The Nazarene young people, with their efficient Sunday School teacher, Mrs. R. D. Ridings, will spend next Sunday afternoon visiting shutins with short services of singing and prayer. There is no better way to have a lively church than to have a group of zealous young people who want to do things. Welcome to our services.

ROCKY FORD NEWS

Sunday school and preaching were well attended Sunday with Brother Lindley of Littlefield doing the preaching and we also had a good singing program. We organized a class and will have singing each second and fourth Sunday evenings. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Dunn visited in Cotton Center Sunday, bringing grandfather Cowan home with them to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Dunn and baby of Matador visited L. L. Dunn and family over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Bussauma have as their guests two nephews from Iowa Park.

Bro. Lindley took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chafin.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Farmer have as their guests Sunday, Winnie Ola Robinson, Alene Gilliland and Lesterburl Dunn.

Mrs. George Howard's mother visited her over last week, going on to California to spend a while.

SILVER STATES SHOWS WILL BE IN LITTLEFIELD ALL NEXT WEEK

Presenting a gala and colorful array of equipment built for fun, the Silver States Shows will arrive Sunday, October 30, to open a full week's engagement under the auspices of the Littlefield Fire Department.

Featured in the new equipment carried with the carnival this year will be 12 different shows, 10 of the latest riding devices, and 40 novel concessions—employing a total of 800 people.

In one of the most sensational and death defying performances presented this season, the Silver States Shows will present a free act on the midway featuring "Daredevil Daniels," the only man in the world to do a Roman Ring act 130 feet above the ground without a safety device of any kind. Daniels is booked through the Lew Rosenthal agency of St. Louis and has been the feature act for this agency in all of its large fairs throughout the Eastern circuit, including such well-known expositions as the Detroit Free Fair, Detroit, Mich., Milwaukee (Wis.) Fair, and others. He has also appeared in seven foreign countries.

Among the feature shows to be seen on the midway will be Murad Karem, the "Hindoo Fakir"—which the boys in the trade say is something different. Murad was one of the feature attractions with the San Diego exposition in California.

Another stellar attraction is Milo Anthony's Congress of Wonders, which is the largest single unit carried by the Silver State Shows and boasts 17 live freaks of nature. Listed among the exhibits are Hi-Jo, the "ostrich boy", twice featured in Ripley's Believe It or Not column; a family of Pin Heads with none having a head larger than a silver dollar, and the Alligator Girl with skin like that of an alligator.

MISS NELL WELBORN AND H. C. DUKE WED SATURDAY

The marriage of Miss Nell Welborn and H. C. Duke was solemnized Saturday night, about 8:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Kimmel here.

The bride was attractively dressed in a teal blue frock with black accessories.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of Curtis Heard, friend of the groom.

Mrs. Duke is the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Welborn of Yellowhouse Switch. She has been a resident of Littlefield for the past five years, and for the past four years employed as bookkeeper at the Ware Department Store, where she is considered an efficient and valued employee.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Duke. He is conducting farming operations near Spade, which he will continue, and the couple will make their home in Littlefield.

Mr. Duke is a graduate of Texarkana High School, and has lived in this section for the past several years.

Miss Odessa Wood And Ogle Boykin Wed Wednesday

Miss Odessa Wood of Spade and Ogle Boykin of this city were married Wednesday, October 19, at 3 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Nix at Clovis, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The couple was accompanied by Miss Vera McQuatters and Elvis Roberson.

The bride was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Wood of the Spade community.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Boykin of this city.

The couple left the following day on a short honeymoon trip to New Mexico. They will make their home nine miles southwest of Littlefield.

A Perfect Combination

Pattern 8299—This is a beautifully slenderizing style, because all the detailing is above the waist, the shoulders are smooth, the skirt fits snugly at the hips. And 8299 is just as smart as it can be, not only for now, but for months and months to come.

A perfect style for club afternoons and bridge parties, 8299 will be lovely in voile, mull or silk crepe, right now. It's so easy to do—although it has real dressmaker detailing.

Pattern No. 8299 is designed for sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 38 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch fabric.

Pattern 8173—When you see how comfortable and well-fitting this apron is you'll want about six in different colors. It thoroughly protects your dress from spatters and spots when you are preparing a company meal, and fits snugly and securely, with no slipping off at the shoulders.

Gingham, chambray and colorful prints are ideal fabrics for all-over aprons like this, or any sturdy cotton that is tubfast and sunfast. Pattern 8173 is designed for

4-H Club Boys Rally To Be Held Saturday At Amherst

At least 150 4-H Club boys are expected to attend the 4-H Boys Rally at Amherst Saturday, October 29, Assistant County Agent M. T. McKinney stated this week. There are eight 4-H clubs in Lamb County, and the boys have been working on essays, "Why Lamb County Farmers Should Feed More Live Stock." Winners will be announced in this contest, and

The first prize offered the choice of three ewes, one registered Poland China Gilt, or one registered Hereford heifer. The second and third winners will receive the prize that the first winner does not take. Twelve registered Poland China Gilt will be delivered to boys who have ordered the pigs as projects for their club work.

The following program will be held on the main street at Amherst at 2:00 p. m. Saturday; W. L. Stangel, Head of the Animal Husbandry Department of Texas Tech, will talk on "Feeding Possibilities of Lamb County."

Don Jones, Director of the Experiment Station, Lubbock, will make an address, "Experiments Being Made On The Experiment Station Farm and Their Relation to the Feeding Industry."

K. J. Edwards, District Agent, Extension Service will talk, "The Importance of 4-H Club Work"; and L. R. Crockett, County Judge, will discuss the 4-H Club House.

All 4-H club boys and Future Farmers of America are urged to attend.

County Club House—

It has been reported that the committee selected a site adjoining the Fieldton road just south of Fieldton on Black Water Draw and have secured an option on five acres of land from J. W. Hopping at a very reasonable figure. This will be near the large lake that is located on the Hopping farm.
The organization intends the planning and building of a large club house adequate to take care of the entire needs of the county, together with recreation facilities, including a park which will make a very lovely and convenient place for people to gather from all parts of the county, and not only be used as a 4-H Club House but the intention is that it will be used for various other organizations.

Cecil Barnett who is made chairman of the organization requests that all people of Lamb County cooperate in helping to sponsor this fine program in setting it under construction at as early date as possible. The various local clubs of the county will likely be called upon in the near future to help sponsor a financial campaign to raise money to help build the project. It is planned at this time to put in an application through the WPA for a project to build the building and other constructions.

A great portion of the costs of this project can be had, no doubt, through this source. While it will be necessary for the sponsor to contribute a certain per cent, it is thought that a greater part of this can be made up through the use of some county equipment that the county may own that can be loaned to this project through the winter and spring months.

The committee in charge urge that the civic organizations in the county immediately begin thinking about this proposition as no doubt the people of Lamb county are really hungry for a place of recreation conveniently located in the county, and every voluntarily assistance that can be extended to the new organization will be greatly appreciated by the Commissioners' Court, as well as the men who have had the foresight to promote the idea.

Old Age Assn.—

which a good representation was present, it was voted to meet again at the Baptist church in two weeks from that date, which would make the meeting Saturday night, October 29, for the purpose of completing the organization.

Good Attendance Urged
All who are interested are requested to attend this meeting.

Judge Crockett is of the opinion that great good can be accomplished from an organization of this kind, and earnestly requests the cooperation of all. He was made president of the association and says that he intends to do everything in his power to help to see that the matter of Old Age Pension is eventually carried out in a satisfactory manner.

The next meeting after the above mentioned meeting will be held in Olton, Texas.

century, this ever-improved Shortening has played a large part in making cooking more certain and enjoyable. Mrs. Tucker was the first shortening manufacturer to put "Made Exclusively from Choice Cottonseed Oil" on shortening containers; and her policy of making only a pure, vegetable product has meant much for better digestion and health. When housewives showed a preference for shortening in cartons for economy, Mrs. Tucker pioneered and developed the airtight inner-seal of cellophane, which assures factory-freshness, and which has made her product known as "The Shortening with the Silver Lining."

HOME ECONOMICS CLASSES MAY OBTAIN BENEFITS FROM LECTURES GIVEN BY MRS. GERTRUDE BURBANK

Girls now in school have opportunities to prepare for the responsibilities of managing a household that were not available to the girls of former days. Many experienced housewives often wish that they had been able to receive capable instructions in home economics.

The opportunity of learning from a well-qualified teacher is now made available to every woman, young and old, experienced or inexperienced.

The Happy Kitchen Cooking School, arranged by this newspaper in cooperation with a number of national food concerns and local enterprises, brings just such an opportunity to every woman at absolutely no cost, as admission to all the lectures is free.

Mrs. Gertrude Burbank, noted through a large area for her knowledge as a home economist and her charm as a lecturer, will conduct the school. It will be held from 2 to 4 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 31, November 1 and 2, at the Palace Theatre, which has a seating capacity of about 900.

When the housewife is confronted with the knowledge that her cooking is in a rut, that she is always serving "the same old thing," it is wonderful to see what an inspiration she can receive from the practical demonstrations given by Mrs. Burbank.

There's a lot more to cooking than just dashing into the kitchen and starting to boil, fry and bake. Menu planning, buying judgment, food selection, and economical preparation all occupy a place of extreme importance.

Then too, in every home there is always a supply of leftover foods that can be made as pleasing and palatable as the original sitch, thus varying the menu and at the same time creating new economy in feeding the family.

All of these subjects and more too will be discussed by Mrs. Burbank in her series of lectures. Remember, the lectures are free, and

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an unadulterated Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm. The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children. Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

IT ISN'T TOO LATE FOR PICKLES

It's still pickling and relish-making time.

You needn't call it a season, just because the last jar of plum butter has been assigned to its place on the preserve shelf after a summer of sterilizing jars and jelly glasses; paring, pitting, stemming, slicing, crushing, straining, podding, and chopping fruits and vegetables. Frost or rain will soon lay the tomato vines low, and some of the green tomatoes can be transformed into enough pickles or relishes to enliven many a prosaic winter meal.

Or perhaps you have some of the meaty, late clingstone peaches, or crabapples, or a few miniature Sockel pears, which make such delightful whole-fruit pickles. Even if all these have passed you by, it isn't too late for apple chutney, one of the best of home-make relishes.

Hurried harvests of green tomato crops in the fall are a traditional part of farm life, and a peck of green tomatoes has furnished the inspiration for many a home-make recipe. Green tomatoes, as well as green cucumbers, make delicious dill pickles if you follow the rules carefully.

Of first importance is the brine for the quick fermentation process, and this fermentation process is as necessary in making the dill pickle flavor as the dill itself. Weigh the salt, and measure all other ingredients of the brine carefully. Salt and vinegar are used to prevent spoilage, while the lactic acid bacteria are growing and helping give the acid flavor and crispness. The lactic bacteria feed on the sugar extracted from the tomatoes, with a little extra sugar added to the brine. If the brine has too much salt, the pickles will not ferment rapidly; if there is too little salt, they will spoil.

Standard proportions for dill pickles brine are one and one-fourth pounds (2 cups) of salt, one pint of vinegar, and four tablespoons of sugar to two gallons of water. This quantity will make enough for about 12 pounds of green tomatoes.

Only freshly picked green tomatoes should be used for dill pickling, and they should be without blemishes and of a uniform size. If you are making only a small quantity of the dilled tomatoes, it is best to use 2-quart glass fruit jars for the fermentation process. For slightly larger quantities, earthenware crocks are handy. Use only glass-topped jars for making or storing pickles. The acid and salt in pickles corrode zinc caps and form a poisonous substance.

Dill pickles will be ready to put up sooner if they are kept fairly warm. The helpful lactic acid bacteria grow when the temperature is between 75 and 80 degrees Fahrenheit. If possible select a place where spilling won't matter, as fruit jars tend to run over the top when the juices are drawn out from the tomatoes and fermentation takes place.

Place a layer of the dill herb and mixed spices at the bottom of the crock or of each jar. Fresh or dried dill may be used, and one "bunch" as commonly purchased on the market is usually enough for a year's supply of dill pickles. A little garlic is sometimes added, a bit of seed very popular with many pickle fanciers. Fill containers with whole green tomatoes, which have been carefully washed, and add a second layer of dill and spices on top. If using fruit jars, fill them to overflowing with the brine and partially seal. Add more brine as necessary to replace loss of overflow so that the tomatoes are continually covered by brine. The partial seal keeps air away from the tomatoes and helps to prevent spoilage. If using a crock, be sure that all tomatoes are covered with two or more inches of the brine. Hold them down with a clean, heavy board, or with an earthenware plate, held down by a clean weight. Remove any scum that forms on the surface of the brine.

In about two weeks the dilled tomatoes will be ready for use — crisp, spicy well-flavored with dill, and clear dark green throughout, with no white spots. A longer time will be required if temperatures are lower than 75 to 80 degrees are used. Slice the tomatoes and pack them in sterilized quart jars. Add half a cup of fresh cider vinegar to each, and fill the jar with the dill brine which has been strained, boiled, and cooled.

Dill pickles — and all others — should be sealed airtight in jars or bottles and stored in a cool, dry place. The old-fashioned way of discarding an inch or two of spoiled pickles off the top of the barrel or crock to get at the good ones underneath, is simply an old-fashioned way of doing things. If you want to make or crabapple pickles, or look to the quality of pickling fruits should be a good flavor, and enough to have color. (Continued on back)

Burns Prove Fatal
To Bula Resident;
Dies Here Thursday

Mrs. Albert Reeves, 22, of Bula, passed away at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at a local hospital, as a result of Eurenic Poisoning, caused from burns sustained the Monday previous, when a gasoline two plate burner, in which she was cooking dinner, exploded.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves were camping in a tent in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Bird Reeves at Bula
when the accident occurred. Mr.
Reeves is employed at the Farmer-
Co-Op. Gin, in that community.

Mrs. Reeves received severe burns on her face, legs, and hands, and was brought to a Littlefield hospital, where she apparently was getting along nicely, until the poisoning set in.

Mr. Reeves also received slight burns.

Deceased is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Bob Hanks of Estacia, N. M.; a brother, Eddie, at home, and a brother, Billie, who is in school at Las Cruces.

The body was prepared for burial here by Hammons Funeral Home, and left Littlefield Friday on the afternoon train for Estacia, N. M., where Mr. Reeves had gone earlier to make arrangements for burial.

The remains were accompanied to Estacia by deceased's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hanks.

Relatives from Bula stated that funeral services, which would be held up pending arrival of relatives from California, were expected to be held Sunday, and that interment would take place at Es-tacia.

Bring us your cotton in any quantity — from one bale up.
We guarantee you correct weights and highest possible loan value. Don't overlook the FREE service that our plan of handling loan cotton covers—we pay the freight and make no handling charge, neither at the local compress or the port. Just bring us your gin samples and gin weights—we ship your cotton over the local compress as transit cotton, free of all handling charge here—we save you the expense of weighing, sampling, and marking—no charge for receiving and classing your cotton at Galveston. We give you a demand draft upon receipt of your gin samples and gin weights, you secure bill of lading at your nearest shipping point, if more convenient than at the compress.

After cotton has been compressed and shipped to the warehouse at Galveston we have it officially weighed by bonded weigher and classed by government classers and mail your out-turns together with copies of loan papers and draft for amount due you for gain in weights and class, if any.

When and if market should advance to where you have a profit over and above the loan value, you would be in position to easily arrive at the net value of your cotton, simply because the first handling from the gin puts your cotton into one of the ten world markets.

Otherwise, when the market advances above the loan value and you have the privilege to sell your loan cotton stored in interior warehouses, you will then be confronted with handling charges that we now offer you FREE.

Please don't confuse our plan of handling loan cotton with the so-called "pool" plan—we have no connection whatever. Our plan is "from farm to market", handling charge free.

As you know, Galveston is one of the ten world markets to arrive at the loan value of your cotton.

We handled thousands of bales for producers throughout this country last year, and at one time last spring were able to offer them as much as 30 points for equities on cotton shipped and placed in the loan at Galveston, but were unable to offer anything for cotton stored in local warehouses because of the charges that would follow it.

Ask those for whom we have shipped loan cotton in the past season, and BRING US YOUR COTTON. Our plan is the plan "FROM FARM TO MARKET"—we pay the freight and handling charge is FREE.

HAPPY KITCHEN COOKING SCHOOL A REAL GOLD MINE OF INFORMATION

Women of Littlefield and vicinity will hear and learn about menus, marketing, budgeting, step-savers, recipes, baking, frying, labor-savers vitamins and scores of other interesting things related to food when the Happy Kitchen Cooking School is held at the Palace Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 31 and November 1 and 2.

The Happy Kitchen Cooking School, a real gold mine of information for every housewife, is to be presented under the auspices of this newspaper, acting in cooperation with a number of national food concerns and local merchants who wish to provide this opportunity for the women to study under the direction of a nationally famous home economist.

The lecturer, Mrs. Gertrude Burbank, in addition to being thoroughly familiar with her subject, is one of the most interesting talkers ever presented on the platform in Littlefield.

Everything in connection with the Happy Cooking School is free. No admission is to be charged, and numerous free attractions have been provided, such as the daily distribution of valuable samples and souvenirs.

Mrs. Burbank will cover the whole subject of food with two main thoughts in mind; first, to make kitchen work more pleasant and efficient; and, second, to make the family's food dollar go further than it has ever gone before.

Women attending the school will be rewarded by gaining new knowledge not only in the preparation of so-called fancy dishes, but also in an abundance of ideas on how to vary the basic foods in such a way that nobody at the table need ever complain that they are eating "the same old thing" every day.

Those who attend are urged to be in their seats early, as it is impossible to reserve seats, and each lecture will start promptly at 2 o'clock so that the lecturer may include her entire program.

Bro. R. R. Cole of Clovis, N. M. was here Wednesday distributing literature in connection with the Seventh Day Advents.

School Students To Attend Football Game At Ralls

The Littlefield schools will dismiss next Friday at noon, October 28, and the seventeen school buses will take the students to Ralls to the football game, when the Wildcats will tangle with the Jack-rabbits, Supt. F. A. Hemphill announced Wednesday.

The school will be closed, after a suggestion and an approval of the School Board in a meeting recently.

The buses are scheduled to leave Littlefield at 2:30, and short stops will be made in Anton, Shallowater and Idalou. Supt. Hemphill urged that all students who can, to go, as the free transportation will enable quite a number of boys and girls who could not otherwise go.

The Wildcats will play their second conference game with the Ralls gridsters, and reports of the team point toward a fine game and plenty of thrills for the spectators. The other conference game was played with Crosbyton here several weeks ago, with the Wildcats the winners, so they have a clean slate in the conference.

The band and the Pep Squad will accompany the group to Ralls.

Contour Rows Will Hold Rainfall, Says Agricultural Engineer

Each inch of rainfall held on the land by contour rows and level terraces result in an extra new income of $3.69 per acre a 11-year test has shown.

In 1927, at the request of M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, and others, the Agricultural Experiment Station set up at the sub-station at Spur, under the direction of R. E. Dickson, two comparable 10-acre field areas, one of which was terraced and the other with the rows running down the slope.

The blocks consisted of Abilene clay loam soil with a slope of 6 inches in 100 feet. The terraces were of the level type spaced at vertical intervals of 12 inches and had the ends closed to hold the water.

Measuring devices installed at the bottom of the slope revealed that there was no runoff from the terraced field while there was a 11-year accumulated runoff of 23.36 inches, or an average of 2.12 inches a year, from the unterraced area.

The terraced field, over the 11-year period, returned an annual average of 66.1 pounds of lint and 123 pounds of seed per acre above the yield of the second area. Figured at 10 cents a pound for cotton and $20 a ton for seed, the increased yield had an average value of $7.84 a year.

The 11-year total acre gross income of the terraced field was $22,89, while that of an acre with the rows running down the slope was $134.56. The difference in gross income per acre was $86.23 in favor of the terrace area.

Bentley estimated that more than half of the 10 1/2 million acres of Texas crop land terraced or contoured under the leadership of county agricultural agents to date is of the level type, which is especially suited to the conditions of the Plains country.

Campus Social Club To Direct Coronation

Canyon, Oct. 24—The Pi Omegas, members of a campus social club for girls will supervise the ceremony in which the queen of Homecoming November 5 will be crowned at West Texas State College.

The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the main auditorium. A carnival of many features will follow at Cousins hall. Candidate for queen will be nominated by expressions living in various counties.

per and a number of cooperating merchants and national food manufacturers, comes to Littlefield Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2 and will be held at the Palace Theatre. Lectures beginning promptly at 2 o'clock each afternoon.

The lecturer secured for this event is Mrs. Gertrude Burbank, who is widely and favorably known throughout the South as an unquestioned authority on the subjects she discusses. Not only is she thoroughly familiar with the problems of the housewife, but she is able to share her knowledge with others through her ability as a lecturer.

Working in a model kitchen specially prepared for this school, she will demonstrate her lectures step by step as she prepares various foods under the eyes of her audience, meantime explaining just what she is doing and why it is best to do it that way.

The range of her lectures is large, and in them she will discuss such problems of the household as marketing, budgeting, preparation and serving of both plain and fancy foods, short cuts to efficiency with less drudgery and more fun in the kitchen, as well as giving many of her famous recipes.

At the conclusion of each lecture, any woman in the audience who has a particular problem that she wishes to discuss with her is cordially invited to remain and lay the problem before the lecturer.

There is no charge for admission, and no obligation of any kind is incurred by attendance. The

Hockley County Jamboree And Fair From Oct. 27 To 29

The second Annual Hockley County Jamboree and Fair will be held in Levelland Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 27, 28 and 29. Outstanding features of the three days celebration will be exhibition of agricultural and live stock, a series of greyhound and rabbit races, a rodeo and one of the largest carnival companies making this section. The Fair committee is composed of R. D. McDonald, Chairman, Jim Peeler, F. A. Benbow, Russell Mitchell and Paul Lawlis.

Aside from the regular building, additional quarters have been leased for the Woman's Division, com-hibits. Plans are being made for a more extensive showing than has heretofore been made. On October 27th community and agricultural products will be judged by Mr. Don L. Jones, Superintendent of Lubbock Experiment Station.

Thursday, the first day, will be given largely to livestock, sheep and cattle, with special emphasis given to breeds more adaptable to the farms and smaller ranches of this section—Jerseys and Short-horns. Mr. Donald Turner, County Agent, Lamb county has been secured as judge of this division.

On Friday will be featured swine, horses and mules and other farm animals, particular attention being given the former and the development of the feeding operations which might prove profitable in this section. Mr. H. B. Horn, County Agent, Yoakum county will do the judging.

The farm income from poultry in this county has been increasing and is now perhaps the second largest source of ready money annually, and poultry will be the main attraction among the exhibits on Saturday. White Leghorns and all the heavy breeds will be shown, together with outstanding records made by the different exhibitors. Judging of this division will be by Mr. Roy Hickman, County Agent, Cochran county.

New 1939 Buick Has Outstanding New Features

Buick enters the 1939 season with the full momentum of an outstanding business year for 1938 and four new eight cylinder cars styled in an entirely new and striking beauty. Engineering improvements of an important character have resulted in a lower, longer-appearing car with flecter, racier lines, a superior ride, improved stability and, in general, greater driver and passenger comfort and convenience.

Littlefield Motor company are local dealers for the Buick. The four models are respectively the Series 40 Special, on 120-inch wheelbase; Series 60 Century, with a wheelbase of 126 inches; Series 80 Roadmaster with 133-inch wheelbase and Series 90 with 140 inches.

An innovation which contributes to the striking appearance of the cars and which also has important engineering advantages is the adoption of "cat-walk cooling" employed extensively on European racing cars. With this construction the grilles are set low, in rakish contour, in the cat-walk section between hood and fender. This not only results in better streamlining while emphasizing the low lines of the car, but also provides a narrower hood with consequent improved vision and better cooling, because air is admitted under greater pressure.

All models now have Buick's Handi-Shift remote gear shift control with the shifter lever under the steering wheel, thus clearing the front compartment. Many other improvements for the driver's convenience and safety will be found in the controls and throughout the car, including a new warning flash direction signal, safety ignition switch, fatigue-free accelerator, legible instruments, better vision and necessary refinements even to a cigar lighter that pops out of contact when hot, eliminating one-hand driving as ordinarily.

An entirely new frame design brings the Series 40 and 60 cars two inches lower at the rear while maintaining a flat floor without a tunnel. This lowers the center of gravity of the car, increasing stability, while at the same time contributing to the long, low lines. For those who wish to even further emphasize the rakish streamlines of Series 40 and 60 cars, stream boards may be had in place of running boards. These are narrow trim strips and their use gives added racy effect.

Another new option of the four-door touring sedan on both the Series 40 and 60 and on the two-door touring sedan on Series 40, is the Sunshine Turret Top. This is the first production car in this country to be provided with the sunshine roof which has been growing in popularity in Europe.

SECOND INSTALLMENT

Synopsis

Jocelyn Harlowe, raised in a French convent, at the age of eight joins her mother, Marcella, in New York. Worried about her safety because she is unfamiliar with modern world and has developed into a beautiful woman, her mother's first wish is to get her safely married. Attending her first ball, Jocelyn meets Felix Kent, a handsome and nineteen years older than she whom she had known since the age of twelve and who tells her that he has waited all those years to marry her. Encouraged by her mother, he comes to the apartment often and as the last installment ended he had just kissed her for the first time.

"Oh, no," she whispered. "Oh—no—no. I can't."
 Kent came toward her, not close, her arms were stretched out to keep him at a distance.
 "Darling, I'm so sorry. I beg your pardon. I know I frightened you. Please do forgive me." He felt as though he had been sent back in a beam to play the part of a Victorian lover. I want you so. I want you to marry me."
 After a considerable silence Jocelyn composed herself.
 "You won't do that again?"
 "Not until you wish it. Please, Jocelyn, give me just the tip of your silly little convent fingers."
 She let him take her hand and as it she brushed the other hand across her eyes and smiled.
 "Then it's all right?" he asked.

"I think so. Yes, if mother—"
 "Your mother gave me her consent at that same costume ball when was Jack of Diamonds. Do you mean this, child? I am in earnest."
 "Do I mean that I will marry you—you are asking?"
 "Yes."
 He had given her the choice, but freedom actually was not greater than that of a caged bird. All about her mind and her life and she will stand the walls of her experience, of her mother's silent coercion, of the unfair opportunity that had been given to this other man.

"May I have a piano?" whispered Jocelyn.
 The question sounded so like the childishness that Felix laughed out, and again, but very carefully, put his arm about her. She came to him but not so softly, so completely, as before.
 "You may have a piano, my darling. You may have anything you want in all the world."
 "I want a lot," she said.
 The piano was a symbol. All the material world was a symbol—of desire, some need, whose very name she did not know. But how such a man as Kent to understand?

"You shall have everything," promised the Jack of Diamonds.
 It was an engagement in the old sense of that term for marriage bargains; an engagement entered upon by one party in the blindness and ignorance of the price expected for the other.
 Early that morning, creeping in her mother's bed where Marcella lay, broad awake—she prayed through nights of fearful sleeplessness—Jocelyn asked her in a quivering undertone:
 "Why did I feel like that when you kissed me, Mother?"
 "Feel like what?"
 "Like—killing him."
 "You are a foolish, wicked child. Go back to bed. Felix will teach you everything you ought to know. It is quite right and natural that you should be frightened by your first kiss."

"I wasn't frightened, Mother."
 "Yes, you were. You misinterpreted your own emotion. It was not Felix Kent you wished to kill."
 "Who then?"

"It was — yourself. Something in you that woke. You were frightened, furious, ashamed, at what went through you under his kiss."
 Jocelyn dropped her head and presently withdrew it and her soft clinging arms. She groped her way back to her room.

The engagement of Miss Jordan Harlowe of New York City to Mr. Felix Kent of Chicago with all possible other details of information was presently in due form announced. And Jocelyn wore upon her third finger a diamond as splendid as a star.

"You shall be married in the spring after a four months' engagement," Marcella promised and added to her chosen son-in-law, alone, "I want her to get used to you Felix, so that we won't have a runaway bride on our hands. As for her further education, I must leave that to you, to your kindness and patience and wisdom, Felix. For after all, what can I tell her that would help her to be a happy wife?"

This wailing question did not startle Felix. He gave Jocelyn's mother scant attention, being preoccupied with problems of tutelage, and with a vision of the education soon to be given to an unsuspecting golden girl.

There were evenings, however, even now when his role of restraint was difficult to maintain. On one such evening he left Jocelyn abruptly with a manufactured excuse.

Marcella began during the period of Jocelyn's engagement to attend evening services regularly. So it happened that when Felix left so early Jocelyn was left entirely alone. Even the servant was away.

For a while Jocelyn stayed near the window, leaning against its frame, looking tirelessly at the wonderful great city. A city of Mars. So strange, so bright, so still. At last she went back into the room and sat down by her piano, brooding.

She played her own music as she had not been able to do of late. She played for a long while. The door from the passage which led back toward the bedrooms opened softly. Jocelyn whirled about, surprised. She could see no one. But the door had moved.

Then she saw him, coming round a great throne of a chair which had Jocelyn would have screamed but he arrested her with speech.

"Don't be frightened, Jocelyn," he said gently in a voice full of pleasantness, "I wouldn't score — I wouldn't hurt you for the world. You see, you poor little child, I am your father."

And Jocelyn recognized him. "I'm not afraid of you," she said — a queer first speech from child to parent.

She put out her hand. Nick caught at it and tried to straighten himself to his daughter's level. Rheumatism had him in its clutches and the motion cost him a grimace. But it succeeded and he stood there, sidelong still, but at a height even a little taller than her own.

"Thanks," he said dryly. "I'm grateful for small mercies." His eyes ran rapidly about the room.

"I'm glad my daughter is not afraid of me. I thought by this time you'd be made—of fear—I used to call you "Lynda."

"Sit here beside me on the sofa. I won't stay long. And you mustn't tell your mother that I've been here. I won't come here again. I saw you at the end of that awning on the night of your first ball. I read of it in the papers and waited there and I caught myself in the stupid mistake of falling in love with you. Then I saw your engagement announced. That scared me somehow. It's so soon. You're only eighteen and you can't know anything. I'm ill."

Jocelyn, seated beside him, a strange warm surge of welcome in her blood, raised his hand gently.

"I'd love to take care of you. Couldn't stand a woman's fussing, Lynda. Couldn't even bear a woman round me now. I came to ask you—are you happy?"

"Yes. And thrilled."
 "U-hum, I suppose so. Will you get his picture for me?"

"Felix Kent's?"
 "Sure thing. Your young man's."
 She laughed. The whole experience began to be an astonishing ad-

ALL YOUR CURIOSITY satisfied by Your Mileage Merchant... Ask him exactly how you're sure of fast winter starting and extreme oil economy by changing now to WINTER OIL-PLATING

Is OIL-PLATING just a different name? ...No. OIL-PLATING is what Conoco Germ Processed oil does! The out-and-out difference is this: OIL-PLATING will stay firmly attached—plated—clear to the topmost point in your engine, while any plain mineral oil drains clear down the crankcase at every stop.
 Exactly where is your gain? Well, in starting up again—next day or next month—the coldest OIL-PLATED engine is always oiled in advance...pre-lubricated before any oil down in the crankcase could ever stir. OIL-PLATING thus keeps every engine part constantly slippery. The starter speeds...the battery lives and so does the engine, free of fierce starting friction.

 But is there any oil saving? Why?... Because less engine wear puts more miles between quarts. And OIL-PLATING itself never passes out during the use of Germ Processed oil. Only the Germ Process, patented, creates OIL-PLATING, the sensible reason for you to switch to Your Mileage Merchant today.

venture. This father had a way with him that opened a door in her heart. She hurried to her room to get the picture.

Coming back light-footed she found him returning to his place from some swift furtive investigation of the room. She noticed this, but in her confused excitement it made on her at the time no particular impression.

Nick drew her beside him and bent over the large handsome photograph.

"Not bad looking. Well set up. Got a tight mouth and a big eye. Generous chap, Lynda?"

"Oh, isn't he?" she showed her ring.

"That! He'd have to give you that. I mean other presents."

"He's given me a lovely wrist watch. Shall I get it to show you?"

"No. Sit still. I thought convent girls were always composed. Did they treat you well?"

"Yes. They were lovely to me. I can't talk about the nuns now, Father. Really. I was glad to leave them and to come to America, to New York. I wanted to begin—to live."

"And now you're—living, eh?"

"I soon shall be."

"Poor kid! When will you be married?"

He was listening all the while for the sound of an arrival in the building.

"In two months now, Father."

"U-hum. You'll be a pretty bride. More than pretty. Will your mother deck you out with all her jewels?"

Jocelyn threw back her head and laughed.

"Mother's jewels! Can you imagine it? How you must have forgotten her! She despises the things of this world. She wears dresses of plain black with a cross here like a nun. She would think it a sin to have jewels in her possession, Father. You must really have forgotten her. Do tell me about her and about yourself, and what happened to separate you?"

Her father stood up, catching at his cane, smothering a cry at the pair, all sudden movements cost him.

"I can't tell you, Lynda. Anything. I mustn't even see you again. But — here's my address." He pushed a folded scrap of paper into her hand and bent her fingers over it. "I want you to have that for two reasons. If you ever need me you can send for me or come to me. But I advise you, unless it's a very serious business, to forget me and my whereabouts. The other reason — well, I won't bother you with that. May I kiss you?"

She lifted her face. She was in tears.

"Don't be a fool," he said roughly. "Nothing to cry about. I'm glad you aren't afraid — even of fathers."

"You keep me there, hidden, on your heart. But don't let me disturb its nice strong beating. I'm going out the way I came. Down your fire-escape. It's a very simple arrangement, that fire-escape. The ladder at the end flies up twice a tall man's height from the ground. But, if you throw a weighted rope and pull it down — there you see! See."

"So if you ever want to run away, Lynda, I'll show you how. But don't forget a rope."

She followed him into the small back room, her own bedroom. Now Sandal got himself painfully out across its sill and Jocelyn watched him climb down, swiftly and quietly in spite of his pain and his twisted body.

Jocelyn shut the window, and went back to the lighted front room and paced it rapidly.

She unfolded the little paper he had given her. Nick Sandal — with an address. She carved it into her memory before she watched it burn. Sandal, Sandal. Was that her own right name? Jocelyn Harlowe, Lynda Sandal. Another personality seemed to be taking possession of her, climbing up out of some dark well inside her as the bent twisted figure of this man had climbed up from the darkness into her home, into her life.

Like every other human child, Jocelyn wanted to love and be loved. Loyalty she knew to be the very root of such attachment. During the days that followed her acquisition of a half-guilty secret, therefore, her conscience suffered; for loyalty was now divided and her heart felt a dark bewilderment.

Said Marcella one morning turning abruptly from the desk at which she sat paying her bills, "Why do you look at me like that, Jocelyn, with such great sad eyes?"

"Mother, I don't want to leave you so soon," she said trembling.

"It is better for you to marry and to go away and begin a life of your own."

"But — won't you be lonely?"

"I am used to being alone. It suits me best."

"Don't you love me, Mother?"

"I will tell you the truth, Jocelyn. I will not let myself love any one. Human love has never brought me happiness. I have directed my love elsewhere. I care deeply for you. But you must look to your husband for warmth of feeling."

"Here's Felix now to console you, darling."

Jocelyn sprang up, turned her back to the room and swept the tears from her eyes desperately. "Don't tell him. Mother. Mother, please don't tell him," she prayed in a passionate whisper. "Don't tell him I have been crying, please!"

Marcella laughed and when, a few moments later, a man's strong arms turned her about Jocelyn knew that, by some signal or murmur, her mother leaving them alone had betrayed her confidence.

The Market Basket—

To keep the pickles whole and firm, measure the sugar and liquid carefully for the pickling sirup, and cook the fruit only to the tender point. Good proportions for pickling sirup are one pound of sugar to each quart of vinegar or diluted vinegar. White granulated sugar and a good quality of fresh cider vinegar, will produce a clear, sparkling sirup and a "tangy" flavor.

Whole spices are to be preferred to ground, because they have less tendency to darken or cloud the pickling sirup. More than this, the whole spices may be held in a bag, which can be removed just as soon as enough of the spiciness has permeated the sirup. Left in, whole spices tend to develop a woody taste. Or they may continue to give off so much pungent spiciness, that the natural flavor of the fruit is completely masked.

The rules for getting that sweet-sour spiciness evenly distributed to the very center of the fruit are simple and easy to follow. Fruit, select fruits of a uniform size. After cooking, allow fruits to stand overnight in the pickling sirup. They will absorb more of the sweet spiciness than they could during the cooking process alone. Drain off the sirup, boil it down, and pour over the fruit, which has been packed into sterilized jars. Seal airtight and store in a cool, dry place.

For peach pickles, remove the skins with a sharp knife instead of blanching the fruit. The scalding process is too likely to be prolonged and cook the outside of the peach, making it soft and ragged by the time the pickling process is finished.

Most pickling peaches are so hard they will need preliminary cooking in water before being placed in the pickling sirup. Seckel peaches are especially popular for pickles, because they can be used whole, but Kieffer peaches also make delicious pickles. Seckel peaches are left in their "jackets," and their stems make neat handles. But blossom ends have a way of cooking off and becoming ugly black spots in the clear sirup. So it's to cut them off when the peaches are washed.

And for an unusual home-made relish, there's peach or apple chutney. Chutneys, which are hot, sweet and tart, were originally made from mangoes, in the native home of those fruits in the East Indies. Chutneys are especially good served with curried dishes, also adopted from the Orient, or with the American version of Chinese chop suey or chow mein. Peaches are the best common native American fruit for chutney, but tart apples also make a satisfactory foundation when peaches are not available.

Here's a recipe adapted to suit American conditions and American tastes by specialists of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Peach Chutney

5 pounds sliced peaches
2 1/2 pounds sugar
3 1/2 cups cider vinegar
1 pound blanched almonds, chopped

3.4 pound orange peel and pulp chopped (seeds discarded)
3.4 pound lemon peel and pulp chopped (seeds discarded)
3.4 pound citron, chopped
1 pound Sultana raisins
1 to 2 ounces green ginger cooked and chopped fine
2 small cloves garlic, chopped
About 15 small sweet red peppers, seeds removed, chopped

1 pound onions, chopped fine
2 to 3 teaspoons salt

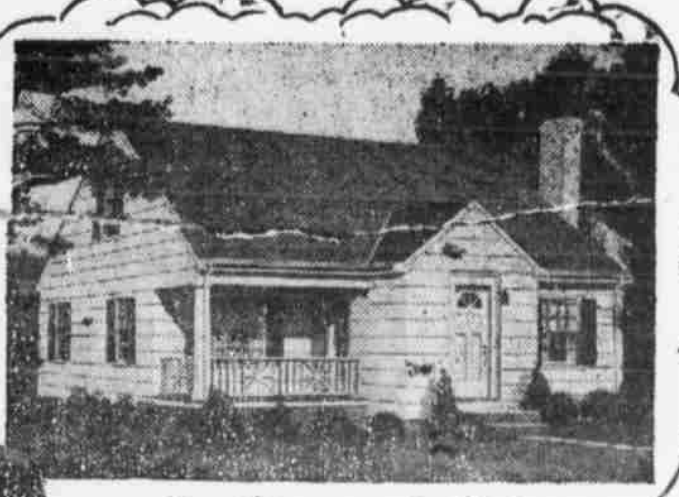

Combine the sugar and vinegar and boil 5 minutes. Add the peaches. Cook until tender, then add the other ingredients and cook until fairly thick, usually about 1 hour. Watch carefully and stir frequently. Pour into hot sterilized jars, partially seal, and process for 30 minutes in a boiling water bath covering jars. Complete seals and store.

BOB BURNS LEADS IN THE ARKANSAS TRAVELER TO BE FEATURED AT THE PALACE THEATRE THE FIRST OF WEEK

Open Saturday Midnight, Continuing Through Sunday And Monday; Story of Small Town

Small town story, with Bob Burns in the lead and supported by such stellar players as Fay Bainter, John Beal and Jean Parker, "Arkansas Traveler" will open at the Palace Saturday Midnight and continue through Sunday and Monday.

characters as portrayed by our late humorist, Will Rogers. Dedicated to the editor of the Emporia, Kansas Gazette, William Allen White, it is a story of any small town, its editor and its people.

Critics are agreed it is one of the really great pictures of the year and is a fit successor to the roles portrayed by the great Will Rogers.

JOE E. BROWN IN "GLADIATOR" COMEDY OF COLLEGE SUPERMAN TO BE FEATURED AT RITZ

Joe E. Brown in "The Gladiator" with June Travis, Robert Kent and Mountain Dean, the bearded champion of ring fame, will be the feature attraction at the Ritz Saturday midnight, continuing through Sunday and Monday.

lects Brown as the unwitting subject of an experiment to increase the human normal strength manyfold. The experiment works.

From that point on the story of "The Gladiator" is as amusing as it is amusing, picturing Brown as a virtual one-man Olympic team and a co-ed favorite from coast to coast.

In the secondary male lead is Robert Kent, able young actor who is the rival of Brown for June Travis' affections. In a prominent juvenile role is 12-year old Dickie Moore, in a poignant portrayal of a runaway orphan befriended by Brown. In the role of the eccentric professor, who evolves the secret of the superman, is Lucian Littlefield. And portraying his fussy-budget, nagging wife, is Ethel Wales.

Man Mountain Dean, the ponderous comic mainstay of the American wrestling ring, and Brown come

DR. IRA WOODS WILL ATTEND CLINIC SUNDAY

Session To Deal With "Slow Reader" Among School Children

Dr. Ira E. Woods, local optometrist, will attend the Clinic on "Slow Reader among the school children", which is being sponsored by the Texas Optometric association, and will be held at the Herring Hotel, Amarillo, Sunday and Monday, October 30 and 31.

The clinic will be conducted by Dr. R. E. Parkins, of Ohio State University, and is one of a series of eight clinics which he will hold over the State.

The clinic will be attended by Optometrists of the South Plains, the Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico.

According to Dr. Woods, Dr. Parkins has done extensive investigation of the child, who does not learn to read efficiently, and his clinic deals with the new methods of handling slow readers in the schools.

Dr. Woods added that there are two or three different instruments that attack the problem from one angle or another, and that Dr. Parkins will cover the principles of all these technics.

This clinic will render to Dr. Woods valuable information and suggestions in the examination of school children's eyes, and the fitting of glasses to the students.

EVER MILLION VE IN HOMES HA FINANCED

Increased Weekly By 12,500 Under Program

More than 1,200,000 persons are now financed under the plan, according to figures public today by Administrator McDonald.

Increased at the rate of approximately 12,500 a week as a consequence of the accelerated home construction activities under the liberalized FHA program put into effect last February.

In addition, it is estimated that between five and six million persons have been enabled to improve their living conditions through the FHA Property Improvement program. More than 12,000 of these loans are being insured each week.

Premium paying mortgages recorded by the FHA covering small homes reached a total of 279,599 valued at $1,159,523,341 on October 15. Each of these mortgages represents at least one dwelling unit and some of them as many as four units.

Large scale projects financed under the FHA plan have provided an additional 4,400 family units and projects nearing completion will add over 9,600 more units.

On the basis of four persons to the family it is estimated that the number of persons housed under the FHA plan is now in excess of 1,200,000.

Under the property improvement program a total of 1,706,364 loans valued at $679,131,545 have been made by private lending institutions insured by the FHA. Of these loans, approximately 1,400,000 have been made for modernization or repairing dwellings and 266,000 for improvement of small business or other types of properties.

The Federal Housing administration's foreclosure experience continues highly satisfactory, according to McDonald. As at September 30, only 331 homes had been turned over to the FHA following foreclosure. Net losses chargeable against the FHA as a result of sale at that date of 135 properties totaled slightly under $70,000. To meet such losses the FHA has available a Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund now amounting to $22,963,822 accumulated in the Treasury from insurance premiums and appraisal fees.

This low loss ratio, Administrator McDonald explained, is due in large measure to the FHA appraisal and risk rating system, important features of which are protection of the home seeker from over-buying and careful consideration of his ability to meet his payments.

The latest available statistics show that 61 per cent of home buyers under the FHA plan use less than 15 per cent of their incomes to meet their monthly payments, exclusive of taxes and hazard insurance, and that 92 per cent of them use less than 20 per cent.

Chief features of the Federal Housing administration plan of home ownership are: (1) Lower financing charges; (2) long-term loans (supplied by private financial institutions) extending in some cases up to 20 or 25 years; (3) advancement by the lenders of a large part of the total loan value (up to 80 or 90 per cent, if circumstances warrant); (4) repayment in monthly installments suited to the borrower's income; (5) inclusion of taxes, assessments, and fire insurance in the monthly payment; (6) elimination of second mortgages and the need for periodic and expensive refinancing; and (7) protection of the lender by a system of mutual mortgage insurance.

Texas Baptists To Hold Convention At Dallas Nov. 8-11

DALLAS, TEX. Oct. 22. (Special)—Texas Baptists will face the challenge of a million dollar budget—the largest in their history—at the Baptist General Convention of Texas here November 8-11 inclusive.

Dr. R. C. Campbell of Dallas, General Secretary of the denomination's executive board, will present the million-dollar objective for 1939 on Wednesday night, Nov. 9, the second day of the session which is expected to draw 12,000 delegates from all corners of the state. The delegates will represent the 600,000 members of churches affiliated with the General Convention.

The budget is designed to finance all phases of denominational work, including Texas' share of support of Southern Baptist Missionary activities throughout the world. The Convention is expected to hear reports on recent heavy damages sustained by mission properties in war zones.

Preceding the general session, Texas Baptist women will hold their annual convention Nov. 7. Mrs. B. A. Copass of Ft. Worth is president of the Woman's Missionary Union. The annual Pastor's and Laymen's Conference will be held simultaneously as a preliminary to the general meeting.

All phases of Texas Baptist activity, including hospitals, schools, Sunday schools, training unions, publications and orphan homes will be reviewed and plans made for 1939 activities. Dr. J. B. Tidwell, professor of Bible at Baylor University, Waco, will bring his report as president of the convention at the opening session Tuesday, Nov. 8, in the evening.

Another highlight of the convention will be the annual report of the committee on civic righteousness, which will be brought by W.

GRADE OF 1938 COTTON MUCH IMPROVED OVER 1937 CROP

Less than 5 percent of the almost two million bales of cotton ginned in Texas prior to October 1 is untenderable, as compared with 22 percent for the same period in 1937.

The same improvement was noted in the increased percentages of the more desirable staple lengths, figures quoted by E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, from U. S. Department of Agriculture Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimates, show.

Almost 25 percent of the cotton

L. Howse, educational director of the Broadway Baptist Church, Fort Worth. Dr. John L. Whorton of the First Baptist Church, Longview, will follow this report with an address on civic righteousness which is expected to be a bristling review of current moral issues.

ginned before October 1 was an inch or longer in staple as compared with only 8 percent last season, Miller said.

Approximately 47 percent was 15-16 and 31-32 inch and 23 percent was 7-8 and 29-32 inch. While less than 28 percent was shorter than 15-16 inch, 58 percent was of these lengths for the same period a year ago.

Grades ran from about the same as in 1937 to a little higher. The estimates indicate that 38 percent was Strict Middling White or better as compared with 32 percent last year, and that more than 71 percent of the cotton ginned up to October 1, 1938, graded Middling White or better.

"Not all of the credit for the increase in staple length can be given directly to the 213 one-variety cotton associations through which 632,897 acres, or about 6 percent of the 1938 Texas crop, were planted to quality cotton," the agronomist pointed out. "County agricultural agents tell me that many farmers, as individuals, planted better cotton than previously as a result of the cotton improvement campaign. These farmers, even if they did not always get paid on a quality basis as did the association members, at least made a substantial contribution to the improvement of Texas cotton."

WAREHOUSE BEING BUILT AT OLTON

A cotton warehouse is now nearing completion at Olton, being built by Jack Straw, Olton druggist. The building is 70 by 140 feet and will hold approximately 2,500 bales of cotton.

means that land for home use should be in the garden, and in general vegetables for such as sweet corn, cane and Irish potatoes is neutral", they said. As many acres as are needed for home use can be used without affecting the allotments for cotton, wheat, and general crops. Home orchards and berry patches may be neutral or partially soil building, depending on whether or not they are interplanted, and the kind of crop used in interplanting.

In many sections enough grain can be produced so that some can be milled and converted into whole ground meal, whole wheat flour, and home ground cereals to supply part of the approximately 170 pounds of grain products dieticians say each individual needs in the course of a year.

The extension leaders also pointed out that the general crops and the pastures can be handled in such a way as to provide an abundance of milk, butter, cheese, eggs, and meat for the family table.

Black Water Draw Farmer Adopts Conservation Plan

J. E. Johnson observed the conservation practice that were being introduced by the Soil Conservation Service in 1935, and in 1936 decided that he would sign up as a Cooperator. Mr. Johnson's farm is located 6 miles north and 3 miles east of Littlefield, Texas, and lies on the east slope of the Black Water Draw. At the time that soil conservation practices were adopted the farm was becoming badly damaged by both water and wind erosion. In the fall of 1936 broad base level terraces were constructed on the 130-acre tract of cultivated land. Milo maize was planted on freshly built terraces, and was hand headed to leave the stalk as a protection against blowing during the spring. Mr. Johnson also planted his short rows all in grain sorghum, leaving all his long rows for cotton.

"My terraces cost me $150," states Mr. Johnson, "and more than paid for themselves on increased yields the first year. Last year my cotton produced 32 bales from 42 acres, and my grain sorghum produced 11 1/2 tons per acre."

"My neighbors are asking me why my crops are better than theirs this year, and why the stand and growth is so much more even over the entire field," continues Mr. Johnson, who used both terraces and contour farming and whose crops are well matured. While the farms just south and east, where no conservation practices are used, will harvest only about a quarter of a bale of cotton per acre, Mr. Johnson is confident that his cotton will yield a good half bale per acre.

Other than the conservation practices being used by Mr. Johnson is the practice of putting his feed to a better advantage by feeding out livestock. Rather than offering his feed for sale on the open market, he is feeding it to 50 head of beef cattle, 15 pigs and 400 chickens.

"I wouldn't take $500 for my terraces," says Mr. Johnson, "Every year I plow up to my terraces, giving them more height and width."

Ways and Means of Financing Expanded Defense Are Studied

Congressional tax experts are studying several proposals for increasing income taxes to finance an expanded armament program.

These experts—staff members of the joint committee on internal revenue—will make recommendations for tax legislation at the next session of congress.

Informed persons said an emergency 10 percent increase in income taxes was one method under consideration. The increase would apply to both individual and corporate incomes. On the basis of this year's revenue estimates, it would yield an additional $200,000,000.

Tax authorities said the additional levy would be imposed for only a year or two, and would expire automatically at the end of the designated period. They said it would be simple to compute, because a taxpayer merely would figure his tax on the present basis and then add 10 percent.

Great Britain, faced with sharply mounting rearmament costs, already has adopted a similar emergency levy.

Various proposals to reshuffle existing income tax rates also are being studied. These include one by Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) to reduce existing income tax exemptions from $1,000 to $800 for single individuals and from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons.

Consideration is being given to taxation needs in event of war. Senator Connally (D-Tex) has suggested the imposition of drastic income tax increases in such a contingency. His proposal is designed to help finance war activities and, incidentally, hold down wartime profits.

Meanwhile, Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) of the senate naval affairs committee said he believed congress should have a complete picture of joint army and navy air defense needs before it acts on the separate war and navy budgets.

"It is quite apparent from what is happening in the world today," Walsh said, "that more and more attention is going to have to be given to airplanes. I am convinced that we must build up that feature of our national defense."

Walsh recommended army shore defenses, including planes and anti-

OLTON SCHOOL TO STAGE HALLOWE'EN CARNIVAL OCT. 28

Olton school is in a bustle again because of the Halloween Carnival that they are going to have Saturday night, October 28.

Each class in high school has elected the following candidates for queen: Seniors Lorene Butler; Juniors, Juanelle Carruth; Sophomores, Barbara Hively; Freshmen, Ella Smith. They also elected business managers for each of the candidates.

If someone comes around to your house asking for old shoes, please don't think he has turned into a beggar, for one pair of old shoes will add five thousand votes to his candidate for queen. Then we are going to auction these old shoes off at the carnival, so come to buy an old pair of shoes.

There is going to be a good program, to start off with, in the new gym; then the midway will open in the gym with games of skill, a house of horrors, a beauty parlor, athletic show, novelty booths and other concessions.

Admission to main program is 5c. Carnival money will probably be used as usual.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday is YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY in our Church. The messages for both morning and evening will be for Young People.

Subject for the morning message is, "The World And Its Challenge To The Youth of Today." The evening subject is, "The Church And Its Challenge To The Youth Of Today."

We are anxious that every boy, girl, and young person who is a member of this church be present. Also we extend an invitation to the youth of Littlefield who are not in attendance at some other church to meet with us.

Roy Shahan, pastor.

LUTHERAN CHURCH NEWS W. J. Luedke, Pastor

Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 an important meeting of the congregation will be held. Certain matters, which I am sure none of the members will wish to miss, will be considered. Among these is the National Broadcast of the Lutheran Hour.

In the morning services beginning at 9:30 and 11 o'clock, the pastor will speak on the Gospel lesson, Matt. 22: 1-14. The subject will be, "The Wedding Garment." Sunday school and Bible Class at 10:30 A. M.; the lesson, taken from I Kings 18, is entitled, "Elijah and the Prophets of Baal". Sunday night services again at 8 o'clock; Bible Class at 7:30. Monday night at 8 o'clock special services will be held commemorating the Reformation. It was on the 31st of October, 1517 that Dr. Martin Luther nailed the 95 sentences on the church door of Wittenberg. This act was the first step of the great Reformation movement, to which all Protestantism owes its origin. The Pastor will speak on the subject, "Why Should We Be Grateful to God For the Reformation."

After the services Monday night the young people will gather for a party in the basement of the school. All are requested to bring their Bibles.

The Pastor of the Panhandle Lutheran Conference will be in Lubbock from Tuesday morning to Thursday night. In a special service to be held Wednesday night, Rev. R. Mingat, of Roswell, will be the principal speaker. Due to this meeting the Sunday school teachers will not meet on Tuesday night, but on Friday night.

Methodists To Meet In Hale Center Wednesday, Nov. 3.

A district meeting of the Methodist Pastors and Laymen will be held at the Hale Center Methodist Church next Wednesday, Nov. 3. The session will start at 10:00. Hale Center Methodists will serve lunch at noon.

The meeting has been called for a final check-up before the annual conference, which will be held in Memphis Nov. 16.

PREACHING AT NINTH STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

Elder Alva Johnson of Turkey, Texas, a well known preacher and debater of the Church of Christ will preach from Friday night until Sunday morning, October 28th to 30th. He will preach at the Church of Christ Sunday night at Anton where he and Elder Guy N. Woods will begin a debate Monday morning, October 31 at 10:00 o'clock on the Sunday school question.

Everyone is invited to hear all of these services.

CHURCH OF CHRIST Littlefield Drive

Sunday services: Bible study 9:45 a. m.; worship 10:50 a. m.; meeting of young people 6:45 p. m.; gospel preaching 7:15 p. m.

Other services: Ladies' Bible class each Monday at 3 p. m.; mid week gathering each Wednesday 7:15 p. m.

Minister's subject for Sunday: "Ye Are the Light of the World" (morning); "The Judgment Day" (evening).

We sincerely invite you to worship with us. This church pleads for a restoration of New Testament simplicity in doctrine, organization, names, worship, and practice. It is a plea for non-denominational Christianity, such as the Scriptures teach.

T. M. Cummings, Preacher

CCC Boys Win Light for Life Award
For Rescue of Girl From Icy Water

Dr. Frank S. Lloyd, Chairman of the Light for Life Foundation, Inc. (right) hands a Life Saving Certificate to Harold Watson, Joseph Flanagan, Watson's partner in a heroic rescue, has just received his award.

TWO CCC youths who plunged into the waters of New York harbor on one of the coldest days in recent years, swam among floating ice blocks and finally succeeded in rescuing a young woman who had drifted back under a pier, have been rewarded for their heroism by being presented Life Saving Certificates of the Light for Life Foundation, Inc.

The certificates were presented to the young heroes, Harold Watson and Joseph Flanagan, both of Brooklyn, by Dr. Frank S. Lloyd, Chairman of the Foundation and Professor of Education at New York University, at a luncheon in New York City. Several leaders in the field of safety education and accident prevention attended.

At the time of the rescue, Watson and Flanagan were members of a CCC company engaged in construction work on Bedloe's Island, site of the Statue of Liberty. Shortly after dark the two went to the pier, where Watson boarded a ferry for Manhattan. It was bitterly cold. Ice floes as big as five feet in diameter were floating in the harbor. A few hours before, one of them had bashed in a plate on another ferry.

The ferry had hardly pulled out when there was a cry of, "Man overboard!" A young woman had tried to step aboard the ferry as it left the pier, had missed her footing and had fallen. Watson jumped to the pier. By this time the tide, which was coming in strong, had swept the woman back under the pier.

A soldier on the pier whipped out a flashlight and tried to spot the woman. Watson took off his army overcoat, grabbed the flashlight and dove in. The beam of light revealed the struggling woman, who could not swim, and Watson, carrying his flashlight, made his way to her. Someone threw a rope under the pier. Watson got hold of it as it floated in, but by this time his hands were so numb he could not tie it around the woman. Just then Flanagan took off his coat and shoes and went in.

He swam to the two and helped hold the girl up until a life belt was floated under the pier. Together they got the girl from under the pier and soldiers pulled her out of the water. The woman was taken to a hospital in a semi-conscious condition. Flanagan and Watson also required hospitalization, but the three suffered no permanent ill-effects.

The award by the Light for Life Foundation, a national safety organization, was the second public recognition of Watson's and Flanagan's achievement. Earlier they were presented CCC Certificates of Valor for "exceptionally courageous action in service beyond the pursuance of usual duties."

About The School

All of the boys and girls, in the school and grammar school, making "Poppy Posters" for American Legion Auxiliary. There is a prize offered for the best ones.

There will be a special edition of the Wildcat Friday at noon, featuring the football boys as they go to Ralls to play the second conference game. The seventeen cheerleaders will take the students, and especially all the local fans will be at the game.

There is to be at least ten pictures in that school paper this week, including the football boys, pep band, faculty and board members. Also pictures of three girls.

Each progress is being made on construction of the new school building, and it will be completed on November 12.

The Grammar School Babycats play the Levelland Junior high school team on Seely Field this afternoon, (Thursday). Admission is 10 and 15 cents, and the game will start promptly at 3:00.

The band and pep squad will give a very attractive performance on Friday night, during the half time game with Ralls. Last Friday night, those red and white uniforms were beautiful on the members of the band and pep squad. Coming to each end of the field, the boys met in the center of the field, then the pep squad formed circles, and looked like flow-ers opening, as they raised their arms toward the two mascots.

The Social and Economics class boys in high school and their teacher, F. A. Hemphill, enjoyed an informal dinner at the Littlefield hotel dining room Tuesday night. The dinner given as a clinic after studying manners and etiquette. Nolan Walker was toastmaster, and special guests were Mr. W. L. Sanders, E. B. Hobbs, Miss Thelma Killough, dean of the school, and Miss Virginia Walker. The program included the invocation by Mr. Hemphill, then dinner was served; Mr. Hobbs gave a short talk, then "A Word From the Girls," by Virginia Walker; "The Coach Thinks," by Mr. Sanders and "Ideas From The Dean," by Miss Killough.

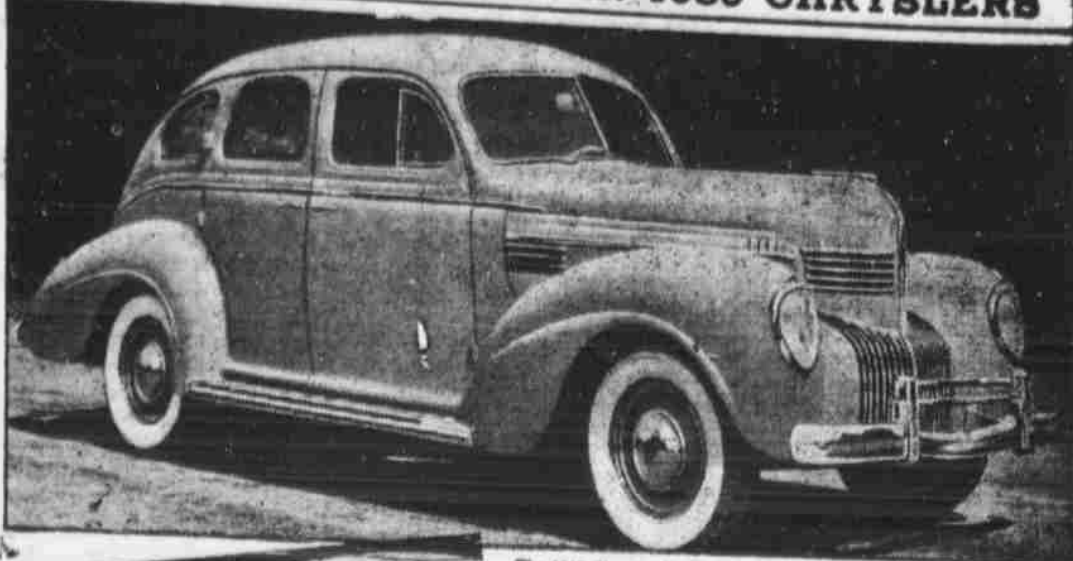

A landscaping program is underway at the schools, and the trees that have been uprooted will be replaced with elms, hedges and shrubs that are better adapted to the climate here. The work is being done by the boys under the N. Y. A. administration. This improvement is of considerable importance, and by next summer, the three premises will indeed be places of beauty.

A new volley ball court has been built for the boys, as a number of boys are interested in volley ball this year. There has been only one court in previous years.

Approximately 23 students have joined the choral club, and under the direction of Mrs. Earl Hobbs, the group meets three times a year for practice. Virginia Walker is president, Thelma Crockett, vice president; Mary Jane Speights, secretary, and Leroy Henderson, treasurer, with Billie Margaret Johnson as reporter.

Tickets are on sale for the game on Friday night at Madden's and the adults can get them for 40 cents here, but at Ralls, they will be the usual 50 cents.

MORE POWER, MORE ROOM, MORE REFINEMENTS IN 1939 CHRYSLERS

The 1939 Chrysler Royal, 4-door sedan. This car has a wheelbase of 119 inches and 100 horsepower. The gearshift is placed on the steering wheel column in this and all Chryslers of the new series.

The rear end of the 1939 Chrysler is the newest development of the Airflow principle pioneered by Chrysler Corporation engineers. The trunk has disappeared in favor of an enclosed luggage space of great capacity.

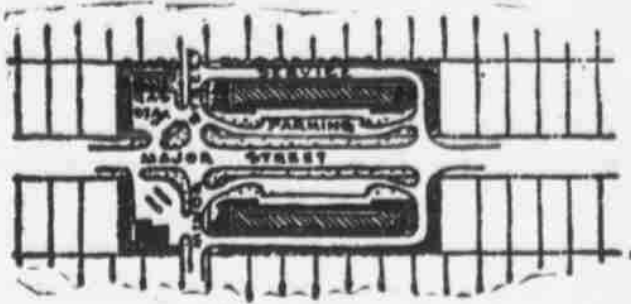

The imposing front end of the 1939 Chrysler. Note the cascade of chrome bars, the massive bumper guard and the headlights built into the fenders.

The 1939 Chrysler Imperial. The wheelbase is 125 inches and the 8-cylinder engine develops 130 horsepower. The "New Yorker" and "Saratoga" are built on this same chassis.

Increased horsepower, thoroughly modern appearance, an entirely new transmission, a steering column gear-shift, added roominess and a large number of refinements that contribute to performance, safety, comfort, handling ease and roadability feature the Chrysler line for 1939. Chrysler again offers three lines, the Royal, the Imperial and the Custom Imperial, with a total of 18 body styles. The 1939 Chryslers are on display in Littlefield at the Batson Motor Co., Chrysler and Plymouth dealers.

Land Planning

CONCENTRATE NEIGHBORHOOD SHOPPING FACILITIES WHERE MOST ACCESSIBLE

In the above sketches the Land Planning Section of the Federal Housing Administration illustrates the difference between a haphazard commercial development along a typical major street and a planned commercial center.

The shoestring development of the first illustration not only is unsightly but also makes for street congestion and unstable property values. In the lower sketch a unified development within easy walking distance of over 1,000 families has been designed with off-street parking facilities, service alleys, and screen planting.

When planned together as a group, and not permitted to develop as unrelated units, a small cluster of stores becomes a definite neighborhood asset.

Wildcats Play Spectacular Game Lose 14 To 6

After the Littlefield Wildcats made the most first downs, gained the most yardage, and were on their own one yard line for a second touchdown, the Plainview Bulldogs intercepted a pass behind the goal line and carried the pig skin the 100 yards for their own marker for a second, that won the game Friday night, with a score of 14 to 6. It was a disappointed group of players and fans who witnessed the run down the field, and coaches said that it was one of the most spectacular plays that completely dumfounded the locals. The Wildcats go to Ralls Friday night, for the second conference game of the season, having won the first conference game with Crofton, they will make the trip to Ralls, confident to win. Most of the school students and many local fans will accompany the boys to Ralls, and give them the best support they have ever had away from home. They are ready to chase those jackrabbits for a victory.

Eidelweiss Dinner Club Guests In L. C. Hewitt Home

As a courtesy to members of the Eidelweiss Dinner Club, Mrs. L. C. Hewitt was hostess to the group Thursday evening at the Hewitt residence.

Dinner was enjoyed by the group, following which bridge was the main diversion for the balance of the evening. Mrs. Clyde Hilbun and Mrs. J. O. Garlington receiving the high prizes for the winners.

Members present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hilbun, Mr. and Mrs. T. Wade Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Boone, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hewitt.

Mrs. L. C. Hewitt Entertains At Bridge-Luncheon

Complimenting the Thursday Luncheon Club Mrs. L. C. Hewitt entertained at 1 p. m. on that day at a bridge-luncheon.

A profusion of beautiful roses, dahlias and nasturtiums, were gracefully arranged about the home for the occasion.

Three tables of bridge were enjoyed following the luncheon, Mrs. Ivan Fowler scoring high, with Mrs. J. H. Barnett second in the games.

Those enjoying this social affair were: Mesdames Pat Boone, Matjory Etter, Jimmie Brittain, O. E. Payne, I. T. Shotwell, J. H. Barnett, Sam Batton, Geo. White, J. O. Garlington, Ivan Fowler, Ed Fowler, and R. E. Lewis.

Mrs. Bill Pass Hostess Thursday Luncheon Club

Mrs. Bill Pass was hostess to the Luncheon Club members Thursday at 1 P. M., when a delicious meal was served at the B. L. Cogdill home to the group.

Beautiful nasturtiums formed the centerpiece on the dining table, and the Hallowe'en motif was carried out in the bridge accessories and table decorations.

Following the luncheon bridge was enjoyed by the group. Mrs. H. M. Mason and Mrs. Mancil Hall scored high in the games.

Those enjoying Mrs. Pass' hospitality were: Mesdames Jack Henry, Oscar Wilemon, Mancil Hall, Earl Hopping, Bobbie Bird, Hub Mason and Roy E. Hunt.

Woman's Study Club Meets At City Hall October 19

James Von Lankin To Deliver Address Sunday Morning

There will be morning service at the First Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock, when James Von Lankin will deliver the address in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Donald Harris, who is at his home in Dilley, Texas, recuperating from a recent illness.

Wildcats Play Spectacular Game Lose 14 To 6

After the Littlefield Wildcats made the most first downs, gained the most yardage, and were on their own one yard line for a second touchdown, the Plainview Bulldogs intercepted a pass behind the goal line and carried the pig skin the 100 yards for their own marker for a second, that won the game Friday night, with a score of 14 to 6.

It was a disappointed group of players and fans who witnessed the run down the field, and coaches said that it was one of the most spectacular plays that completely dumfounded the locals.

The Wildcats go to Ralls Friday night, for the second conference game of the season, having won the first conference game with Crobyton, they will make the trip to Ralls, confident to win.

Most of the school students and many local fans will accompany the boys to Ralls, and give them the best support they have ever had away from home. They are ready to chase those jackrabbits for a victory.

Leave Sunday To Attend Grand Chapter At Houston

Mrs. Arbie Joplin, Worthy Matron of the local Chapter of Eastern Star, left Sunday for Lubbock, where she joined delegates from the various groups over the South Plains, and from which city two chartered buses made the trip to Houston to the Grand Chapter of Order of Eastern Star.

Mr. Joplin accompanied Mrs. Joplin to Lubbock early Sunday morning.

Besides Mrs. Joplin, a number of other delegates joined the group at Lubbock, including Mrs. Joe Salem, Worthy Matron, and two other members from Sudan; Miss Myrtle Bartlett, Worthy Matron of Olton; and five from the Levelland Chapter, including Mrs. Mann, Worthy Matron, Mrs. Moore, and Mrs. C. B. Edgar of Whitharral.

Grand Chapter is meeting Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.
