The tornado at Bula destroyed a barn belonging to J. R. Teaff and ripped limbs from trees in the area. Although the Bula area received about an inch of rain Tuesday afternoon, dust could be kicked up almost immed-lately after the downpour.

Mrs. Jean Speck at the Claunch Gtn in Bula said that Teaff was not at home but at another farm and saw the twister dip out of the skies. At the time he was unaware the tornado had struck his barn.

The rain Tuesday in the Bula area was described as coming in heavy sheets accompanied high, almost hurricane winds. The rains were confined to a streak through the area. Mrs. Speck said they had quite a bit of hall northeast of Bula doing about 60 per cent damage to young cotton in about a three-mile strip.

Gaulbert Demel, who farms southeast of Bula, reported he thought he lost about half of his crop to the hail. Hail also struck the D. J. Cox farm in the Bula area.

Pep received just a sprinkle Tuesday as the storm passed to the north of that community.

A strip from about two or three miles west of Bull Lake to the city limits of Littlefield received good rains both Mon-day and Tuesday. The area around Bull Lake received

You can't find anything as pretty as this area as seen from the air early in the morning. It has always fascinated me to look at the plowed fields, green lawns and other specticals that can be witnessed only from high in the sky.

Well, our state government has done some more deficit spending as revealed in the statement of revenues and expenditures for the month ending June 30. During the month the state spent $134,585,560 while they received only $93,-203,570 . . . in the red about $41 million. While going over the receipts for June the entire year is still about $76 million in the black. From September 1 to June 30 the expenditures were $1,111,721,422 and the income, $1,187,726,193.

They have only two more months in which to spend this surplus and I'll bet my bottom dollar that someone comes up with a place that needs the money and we again endup this year in the red. At the current time we are $161 million ahead of last year in the receipts de-

CREAM OF THE CROP -- A preliminary glance at the Texas Education Agency's sur vey of 80,000 teachers revealed that the state's public schools system is getting the "cream of the crop" of high school graduates. Study chairman R. W. Byram of Austin said that new teachers came from the top 25 per cent of their graduating classes.

But the distribution of education specialists seems to be uneven: All teaching colleges in the state graduated a total of only 80 language teachers last year, and only 12 per cent of those who took mathematics education degrees plan to teach, so schools will suffer shortages in those areas.

On the other hand, there's an estimated surfeit of English and history teachers . . almost all the college graduates who majored in those two

In the year ending August, 1961, they spent $223.67 apiece on 23,150 full-time student equivalents, but the per capita cost leaped $42.91 to an average of $266,58 for each of 26,075 student equivalents -- a total of $6,951,000. Although 37,175 full and part-

000,000 went to San Antonio Junior College, which got $775, 750 for its 3,323 student equivalents. Clarendon Junior College, which has 113 student equivalents, was 32nd on the list with .58 per cent share of $40,600. "TAIN'T TRUE" -- Railroad Commission Chairman William J. Murray, Jr., sur-prised Capitol newsmen this week by issuing a denial of rumors about the East Texas Oil Field scandal before he even was asked about hem.

He introduced, and then denied, a rumor that the Railroad Commission has provided the major oil companies with damageable evidence against independent operators through inclination tests, but said Attorney General Will Wilson has "changed the rules" by accepting contributions for directional tests from the big oil firms, and providing information for them.

Murray also refuted rumors that some crooked-hole operators were under his protection. Farmers aren't likely to go on strike, for a very simple reason. They have built up such a huge surplus that it would last longer than they would, With enough food already on hand to run a couple of years, farmers would have to strike for three years at least to make the pinch felt, and they aren't infinancial shape to do it. which numbered five in 1957, now number 30 at the High Plains Research Foundation. This increase has taken place through the desire of the Board of Trustees and the Staff to give as many practical answers to cotton problems as soon as private enterprise action could possibly achieve solutions. Suggestions and requests for some of the projects came to the Board of Trustees from staff members, farmers, Plains cotton growers offices and professional agricultural personell, Dr. Earl H. Collister said in a recent interview. The 30 research projects are arranged in five major groups. The soil fertility studies on cotton include seven projects; (1) fertilizer rates and ratios (continuous since 1957); (2) time of nitrogen application; nitrogen and phosphate carryover (started in 1961); (4) sources of phosphate; (5) phosphate placement; (6) magnesium and trace elements; and (7) time of phosphate applica-

Flies are now being released in Texas over a 60,000 - square mile area below a line that runs from Del Rio northeast to Coleman, east to Comanche, and southeast to Port O'Connor, plus 7,000 square miles in southern New Mexico.

However, fly release will remain flexible because of unpredictable circumstances. For example, the size of the screwworm, overwintering area varies with the severity of the winters. Also, shipments of infested livestock could also cause premature spring outbreaks in northern portions and require concentrated fly rethe eradication program.' Sexual sterility of screwworm flies is accomplished by subjecting pupae to radiation from cobalt - 60, which emits gamma rays. Pupae are then packaged in cartons, held until they emerge as flies, and then dropped by airplane. About 3 to 5 percent of the total fly production is not sterilized and provides brood stock for continued production. The fly colony was established on Sunday, June 17, the day afterformal dedication of the plant. All operations of the plant are timed to coincide with the normal life cycle of the screwworm. "We now have a plant to produce from 50 up to 75 million sterile flies per week, the volume needed for eradication of this costly livestock pest in the Southwest," Marvin J. Bridges executive director of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, commented.

"The increased supply of sterile flies from this plant will vailable from the Extension Service Office, Office of Civil Defense, and other organizacerned with civil de-

Program officials outlined these plans for the months ahead. The temporary facilities at Kerrville will continue to produce about 23 million flies per week as production at the Mission plantisincreased. The Kerrville unit will be gradually closed and personnel and equipment transferred to Mis-

This production will provide for release of sterile flies in those areas where overwintering populations must be eliminated, where outlying outbreaks threaten to spill over into an area already free of screwworms, and to maintain the artificial barrier. Flies will not be used in areas where cold weather can be expected to eliminate in a short time any lease for quick control.
