NEGRO MINSTREL SPONSORED BY P. T. A. SPLENDID SUCCESS

By MRS. PAT BOONE
The negro minstrel which was sponsored by the local P. T. A. was presented last Thursday evening, April 11. The business men of Littlefield again showed their dramatic ability in giving to the public an evening of fun and clever entertainment.

composed of two unique numbers, a chorus of school boys, and a "negro rap-game," by Dr. Nelms and Mr. Zed Robinson. Mr. Sam Farquhar as the minister, Mr. Carl Arnold as the bride, and Mr. Jake Hopping as the groom starred in a colorful wedding which furnished much merriment and laughter.

Though the sand storms had been raging all week, and conditions seemed unfavorable in every way for a program at this time, the gross receipts were sixty-seven dollars.

The members of the P. T. A. are very grateful to the business men who gave their time and talent to the presentation of this minstrel. We also thank the school boys and teachers who worked up the chorus number. We appreciate the support given by the merchants of the town by advertising through our program, and we thank Renfro Bros. for the use of their loud speaker. Several students and teachers helped with the costuming and make-up of the members of the cast, and we thank them for their assistance.

This benefit concludes the efforts of the ways and means committee this year to raise funds. At all times

VALUE OF NEWSPAPER ILLUSTRATED

J. A. OWENS, publisher of the Perry, Utah, Herald, in a recent issue undertook in an open letter to the legislature to point out the value of the newspaper to the individual. He made such a good job of it that we cannot refrain from reprinting the letter in full, as carried in 'The Publishers' Auxiliary':

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the legislature: Much has been said by the newspapers about the legislature and some things have been said by the legislature about the newspapers.

"Some of you have been kind enough to point out the value of the newspapers to the communities where they are published. Some of you have unkindly tried to curtail the revenue, and incidentally, the value of the newspapers under the camouflage of economy. Today I want to tell you briefly what the newspapers have done for you personally.

"When you were born your proud father swaggered with unrestricted pride and with exaggerated stride to the newspapers and had it proclaimed to all and sundry that unto him a child was born. The humble editor, to save time, agreed with the unbiased statement of your father that of all the blessed events of history this was indeed the most blessed, and published the news to an eager world without recompense and without price. Here, without any effort on your part, you made the front page, and was your face red! It was your first taste of free publicity and you have had an unsatisfied craving for more of it ever since.

"When you graduated from the public schools, and again from high school, and finally from college, if any, the newspaper was each time honored with the privilege of proclaiming to all the country round, and again without compensation, each successive step you made toward greatness.

"When, by wile and guile, the sweetest girl in all the world led you to implore her to grant to you the privilege of paying for her upkeep for the balance of her life, and with sundry relatives as a side expense, in exchange for which she would gladly be the lesser light in your special sphere of existence, the newspaper, again without fee, proclaimed to rival swains that it was 'hands off' from here on and no trespassing allowed.

"Not satisfied with that your newspaper announced the securing of the marriage license, and described in words that linger with you yet in that treasured scrapbook in the old cedar chest, the grandeur of the wedding, the beauty of the bride and the gorgeousness of the wedding dress. Nor did the editor receive as recompense even the doubtful reward of the privilege of kissing the bride.

"When political ambition's bug had sunk its deadly fangs in your receptive soul you kindly permitted the newspaper, without pay, to tell the world that you were willing to yield to the demands of your friends and sacrifice yourself for your beloved public that the right of the people might be preserved, providing the salary justified the sacrifice.

"The paper ran your picture when you were elected, and paid homage to the local boy who had made good. They printed your speeches, good or bad, and suffered the consequence for their lack of judgment as to what constituted news.

"And finally, when you pass on to that reward which is only a guess at best, the newspaper does its final duty to you and yours with an obituary that would surprise you were you able to read it for yourself. All of that service from the cradle to the grave has been yours without price, freely given and freely taken.

"I call this to your attention only that you may know that you have never been the 'forgotten man.' What the newspaper has done for you it has done for millions of others—all without recompense.

"If you believe in the scriptures, which I am sure you do, I call to your attention that little passage which says: 'The laborer is worthy of his hire.'

"In the future when you are tempted to cut the revenue of the newspapers, remember my words to you and say to temptation: 'Get ye behind me, Satan.'

"Seriously, there is nothing of public service from a drive for the boy Scouts, the Red Cross, or what not to the raising of funds to build a courthouse to house successful office seekers, that the newspaper does not give freely of its valuable space without hope of material reward, all in the interest of the public good."

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY - Est. 1875

Is Your Car over 70 horsepower?

If it is, you must have motor oil of extra high film strength to get SAFE LUBRICATION

YOUR car today has twice the horsepower and speed of the car you drove ten years ago! The average of 22 leading cars in 1934 was 108 horsepower.

Bearing pressures and temperature have increased correspondingly—so greatly that motor parts are now made of new alloy metals of extra strength and durability to stand the load!

To protect such a motor you need an oil with enough extra oiliness and film strength to withstand the extreme pressures and temperature! Yet motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had ten years ago. New refining methods have recently come into use to make oils free from carbon and sludge. But these refining processes have lowered instead of increased oiliness and film strength—the very qualities on which depends an oil's lubricating value!

There is one exception—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. It, too, is free from carbon and sludge troubles. But, more important, the new Germ Process—adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil—puts into this oil 2 to 4 times the film strength of any straight mineral oil, as tests on Timken and other machines have proved! That extra film strength gives safe lubrication under the most extreme pressures! Germ Processed Oil protects your motor another way. Its penetrative film, the "Hidden Quart," stays up in your motor and cuts down starting wear.

Germ Processed Oil gives longer mileage with greater motor protection, as the Indianapolis Destruction Test proved.

Say "O. K.—Drain"—fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and drive with the assurance that your oil meets your motor's needs!

From the diary of a family who saw America

"The Conoco Travel Bureau at Denver sent us road maps for every state we visited, with our best routes and all road conditions marked—no charge!"

"Also travel booklets that told us the most interesting things to see, and hotel and camp directories that helped us choose places to stay."

"We stopped at Conoco stations along our way for many helpful free services. You can apply at any Conoco station for the same kind of free plan for your trip."

Retail sales of Pontiac cars were 17,180 for the month against 7,946 for March, 1934, an increase of well over 100%. March retail sales in 1933 were only 5440. The last ten-day period produced 6759 sales compared with 3,169 in 1934 and 2886 in 1933.

First quarter sales were 38,573 cars compared with 15,164 during the first three months of 1934, an increase of 154%. Pontiac sales in the month of March alone this year exceeded those of the entire first quarter of 1934.

SENIOR PLAY TO BE PRESENTED

Work will begin this week on the senior play. The cast has not yet been selected but will probably be double.

'The Little Minister' To Be Featured at Palace Saturday

Katharine Hepburn is now starred in the most colorful production of her remarkable career, "The Little Minister," which will be featured at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday afternoon, Sunday night and Monday.

It was necessary to construct an entire Scotch village, the town of Thrum—or Kirriemuir, the modern name for the town. A reproduction of the village in its entirety rests quietly in the shadows of the California Hills, a work of art on the part of experts on Scottish architecture and landscape, who worked with the studio scenic experts.

The picture gives many views of the exquisitely intimate village of Thrum, Barrie's birthplace. It is shown in contrast with the famous Rintoul Castle, which was built after the style of the old Norman castles, with high ceilings, stone-mullioned and leaded glass windows and huge stone stairways.

In the village are seen the homes of the poor weavers, the town hall, the public square, Rob Dow's blacksmith shop, old Nanny's humble cottage, the manse of the Little Minister, the kirk and the shops, and on a hill-top the old mill and the look-out scenes where the striking weavers kept a watch each day for the coming of the soldiers. Against this background Katharine Hepburn's greatest starring vehicle, Barrie's "The Little Minister," recreates the quaint charm and events in the village of Thrum, with all the moving romance of which Barrie alone is capable—and which Miss Hepburn so ably interprets with her inexhaustible resource of power. John Beal portrays the Little Minister, and Alan Hale plays Rob Dow. Richard Wallace directed.

JUNIOR CLASS PRESENTS 'RED-HEADED STEP-CHILD'

The "Red-Headed Step-Child," presented in the Littlefield High school auditorium by the Junior class, Monday, April 8, was greatly received by the audience. The proceeds of this play will go for the Junior-Senior banquet.

The "Red-Headed Step-Child," played by Oma and Opal Carpenter, had lived on a ranch with her Uncle Charley Russell for about twenty years. When her uncle died, she came to live with her father, Mr. Russell, played by O. K. Yantis, and her step-mother, played by Jojne Griffin, their two children, Lucia and Dudley, played by Lela Hayes and Orvilla Alexander. Elizabeth, or "Bess," the red-headed step-child, caused much excitement because of her uncultured manner, until her presence in the family becomes unbearable. She then planned to return to her ranch, but her step-sister's fiance, George Garrison, played by Jack Norman, fell madly in love with her and wanted to go back to the ranch with her. The good feelings of the family are restored and wrongs committed against Bess were forgiven and the play ended happily.

Oh, beautiful Plains of West Texas, Where storm clouds scarce rise; Where you have to guess at the weather And prophecys prove to be lies.

TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH

Friday night at 8:15, Evangelist John R. Denning will preach on "The Blood of Christ—A Perfect Sacrifice."

Before this sermon, he will discuss briefly the question, "Was Jesus Christ Crucified on Friday?" These services are being well attended and enjoyed. Come and be with us Friday night.

Next Sunday morning the sermon subject will be: "The Many Proofs of Christ's Bodily Resurrection."

Sunday night, a message is, "The Rapture—What Is It, and When?"

With these prophecy sermons each Sunday night, Rev. Denning refers to a large chart on the platform which depicts the chronological order of Biblical events, from the life of Christ to the end of time. The use of this chart gives the congregation a vivid eye picture of coming events, and is exacting an unusual interest from both young and old.

Our joy and desire is to preach to the poor, and to make EVERYONE feel at home.

Everyone is invited to hear him. We assure you it will be worth your time and trouble. Come.

METHODIST CHURCH
J. W. Hendrix, Pastor

Last Sunday morning we began a meeting. It will run through a week or two. Rev. B. L. Nance, now of Phoenix, Arizona, for years a valued member of the New Mexico and the Northwest Texas conference. He is alternating in the service with the pastor—one preaching one night another the next. The meeting starts off most encouraging. The attendance is excellent, the interest is fine. It is the hope that the meeting will reach each member of the church, each member of the church group, class, organization, with a message.

The average church is made up of about three classes of people. First, we have that loyal group who bear the large share of the burden and who are interested in the on going of the work. We are beginning with this group. We have those who gladly offer their services to spread the Kingdom of Christ. Secondly we have the group who attend at intervals, bear some share of the burden; maybe know a little of that inner passion to help and save. These we must help, strengthen, enliven. Third, that group who rarely come who know nothing of the kingdom. These need to be reached for the Kingdom of God. To this sort of a task we dedicate ourselves.

Next Sunday morning we will have our Easter service. The choir will be ready with a program of music, and the pastor will speak endeavoring to answer this falacy, "ONE WORD AT A TIME." In the evening the Dramatic and Choral club will give the pageant, "THE CHALLENGE OF THE CROSS." It will feature a gripping pageant enforced with select music. It will interest you. You want to see it.

Two Headed Calf Born at Olton

OLTON, April 17—E. E. (Fat) Givens brought a two-headed calf to town last Saturday morning to which his milk cow had given birth earlier in the morning. The calf had two distinct heads, perfectly formed, the heads joining a single neck about three inches behind the ears.

The animal was dead, having been killed in delivery. It was taken to a taxidermist at Plainview for mounting.

Mr. Gvems says the mother cow is 11 years old and had twice previously given birth to twins.

The freak was quite a show to local citizens and was viewed by practically the entire business population.

EASTER

Most Gladsome Time of all the Year...when the whole world Rejoices

Let's Go To Church Easter Sunday, April 21

CHURCHES of our city, all imbued with a beautiful and solemn spirit which commemorates a great religious occasion, will be brought together Sunday morning under a common bond of proclamation to the world that another Eastertide is here.

Youngsters, radiant with the joy which comes only from rapturous hunts for brightly-hued eggs and the thrill of a simple Easter gift, will file with their parents into our churches to take part in the varied, yet all beautiful Easter services.

Father and son, vibrant with the strong bond with which this powerful and important day gaps the years between them, will stand, and sit, and kneel in reverent acknowledgement of Another who has risen... Mother and daughter, starry-eyed with the memory of other Easters, will join in silent respectful worship of One who died and rose again that we might live.

Truly, nothing will bring to humanity the sheer soul-filling joy of living so much as an Easter Sunday morning spent in Church.

THE CHURCH has always, and rightfully, brought to bear the strongest influence in our lives at Easter time. Coincident with the coming of Spring, the very meaning of Easter signifies new life, new hope... Lillies, a predominating expression of this event, are typically representative of this day of reverence.

An Easter morning, just as any other Sunday morning spent in church, will bring to humanity a new and better understanding of life, and a stronger grasp of the complexities which go to make up life itself.

Next Sunday morning the ministers will again throw open the doors of our churches, and, as in the past, the people of our city will go to church... but, next Sunday morning, an especially outstanding program has been prepared for you—simple, uplifting and beautiful... a service the memory of which you will carry with you indefinitely. You owe it to yourself to attend Church Easter morning.

TODAY'S FASHION HINTS VERY LATEST By PATRICIA DOW

Designed in Sizes: 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 10 requires 3 yards of 39 inch material, with 3/4 yard contrasting with either long or short sleeves.

GIRLS' BOLERO FROCK

Pattern 8380—Clever mothers of smart young daughters will be intrigued by the little bolero frock sketched, and the young girls themselves will adore the crisp styling of its bolero, puff sleeves and sash. The bolero itself, which gives the frock its dashing air, is removable, and the frock is complete without the bolero; sleeves, collar, tie, sash and all.

The soft collar and bow are most becoming and puff sleeves are dear to the feminine heart, whatever its age. We are given a choice also in the long sleeve, which is made to be gathered softly into a cuff. The skirt is plain with a slight flare at the lower edge. A plaid taffeta in tones of blue, red and gray would be very pretty in this style with sash, collar and tie in matching plain color.

Light weight woolen could be used combined with velveteen.

For PATTERN, send 15 cents in coin (for each pattern desired), your NAME, ADDRESS style number and size to Lamb County Leader, Pattern Dep't. 115 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

He is not holding the meeting; he is simply aiding all who have an interest in such services. The church only asks his aid; they realize there is some work they must do for themselves.

Sen. A. P. Duggan Proposes Writing A History of Texas

Austin—Importance of writing of an intrinsic history of Texas and dictionary of Texas biography was stressed in the Senate last week by Senator A. P. Duggan of this district.

"Celebrations may come and go," said Senator Duggan, "but a great history of Texas will last forever."

"I am going to ask that the amendment providing for the writing of the history be changed to read 'historical writing.'" Senator Duggan is author of the original amendment Bill, providing for appropriation of $50,000 for this work.

This change would be made in accordance with a plan submitted by Dr. William Curry Holden, professor of history at Texas Technological college, and that more talent may be attracted to the writing of the history.

Dr. Holden suggests the history be written in the form of a historical novel. He suggests four prizes be offered: one of $10,000, the second for $7,000, the third for $5,000. Also $2,000 would be set aside for incidental expenses in conducting the contest.

Another plan has been proposed by Dr. Eugent C. Barker of the University of Texas. Dr. Barker's plan is to write a dictionary of Texas Biography at a cost of $20,000 for preparation and $20,000 for printing and binding of the 5,000 copies. This work would necessitate a trained staff of historians; would include 3,000 biographical sketches in the 1,500 pages, covering the Spanish, Mexican and Anglo-American eras of Texas history. The sketches would deal only with lives of men now dead. An alphabetical index to other printed compilations of Texas biography would be included in the book, according to Dr. Barker's plan.

A hundred years ago about 189 Texans were, after spirited fighting, overwhelmed and massacred in a ruined church by a horde of dark men. Today 180 Texans in the legislature to make sure that the story of these men who died in the old church, and all the other stories of Texas history, will always be remembered.

NEWSPAPER FOR CHILDREN

A quarter of a million copies of the first issue have gone forward to all parts of the United States and Canada.

Urges Immediate Loan Measure

George Mahon, Congressman from the 19th District of Texas, spoke on the floor of Congress recently, urging the immediate passage of a bill which was designed to make the Emergency Crop Loans available to farmers.

The bill calling for $60,000,000 to be provided for emergency loans for the 1935 crop passed the House and the Senate several weeks ago. The lack of funds made an appropriation bill necessary. The deficiency appropriation bill contained the Crop Loan item. It did not have much opposition and was speedily passed by the House and sent to the Senate for its consideration.

In urging the immediate action on this problem, Mr. Mahon said in part: "The people have already waited a long time for this loan—It is crop planting time in some sections, and shortly it will be cotton planting time in my district. I know that the loan must be made immediately available to the people in my section if they are to make a crop. The terrible drought has brought on a critical condition. The sandstorms are racing across the areas of West Texas. The people are discouraged. Congress can not do a more meritorious thing than to immediately pass this measure—This appropriation will make it possible for many a farmer to produce a crop in 1935 and feed his family and retain his confidence and self-respect. In many instances, it will mean the difference between expensive relief rolls and profitable employment."

Home Demonstration News

"I would't take anything for my new kitchen sink even if it is made of an old gasoline tank", says Mrs. Henry Meyer of the Blue Bonnet Club. Beneath the sink and drain board is a built-in cabinet for cleaning equipment. The cabinet sink and all are enameled ivory.

The brown stain is coming off all my children's teeth since I have been watching their diets closely and seeing that they get plenty of fruits and vegetables every day", says Mrs. Martin White, farm food supply demonstrator of the Sod House Club.

A long Closet with a makeshift partition has been transformed into two convenient closets by Mrs. C. L. Henderson, last year wardrobe demonstrator of the Rubydale Club. A permanent partition was put in, and the door in one closet moved from the corner to the center of the closet. The closets have been ceiling throughout with sheet rock and papered with light colored paper. The closets are equipped with rods for hanging clothes and will be equipped with shelves, shoe racks and hat racks.

SYNOPSIS... Ellen Church, 17 years old, finds herself alone in the world with her mother's last warning ringing in her ears, to "love lightly." Of the world she knew little. All her life she had lived alone with her mother in an old brown house in a small rural community... Ellen, alone, turned to the only contact she knew, an art agent in New York. Posing years of posing, was her only talent to her was introduced to two leading artists, Dick Allen and Sandy Macintosh. Both used her as a model and both fell in love with her... but Ellen, trying to follow the warped philosophy of her mother, to "love lightly," refused to be thought of as a model. Her circle of friends is a group of artists and two of three girl models. Ellen finds a ball with Sandy. While dancing a young man claims her and romances her. Dick Allen, in the park, proposes, the next day marriage to Tony, and wealth. But she "loves lightly." Ellen told herself, she would never let him know how desperately she loved him even though she were his wife. Ellen, upon living her own life, maintaining her home in her small room, even though Tony is wealthy... Jane, of Tony's wealthy set, is disappointed in Tony's sudden marriage to Ellen. Jane then makes every effort to win Tony away from Ellen. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

That's a fool. You see," she gulped; it was hard to make the admission even to another girl, "I told him I didn't love him."
Gay's little hand was patting Ellen's hand.
"That was foolish," she said. "Although I shouldn't have thought that it would have mattered, one way or another. Loving him has stuck out all over you ever since the night of the Six Arts Ball. But then," she nodded sagely, "men are fools, especially the young ones!"
Ellen was crying very hard, now.

"What do I care how it looks?" answered Ellen savagely.

"I am in love with Tony," she was sobbing. "I didn't mean what I told him. I want him to know how

I feel. I don't like staying here, Gay. I want to be with Tony. I'm more of a fool than he could be, ever."

Still Gay was patting Ellen's hand.
"You've got a phone," said Gay. "Call him! He'll be at his office tonight, you can bet your life on that. Every broker in the city is at his office!"

With trembling fingers Ellen—before she could change her mind—reached for her phone and lifted the receiver from its hook, and gave a number to central.

"Line's busy," she said; and Gay answered, "It would be."

All of that evening, with only a few moments out for the coffee that Gay made and the sandwiches that she brought in, Ellen tried to get Tony on the phone, and always the line was busy.

"Most of the lines in that part of town are busy," she told Ellen. "Better send a wire!"

Still Ellen didn't understand. She hadn't understood the day before when Claire talked about the stock market—she hadn't known realization the evening before when Tony had spoken vaguely of fortunes crashing. Even Gay's casual remarks had made no impression upon her. Wall Street didn't exist for Ellen, you see.

It was around toward midnight, when the telephone wire was still busy, that Ellen at last sent a telegram, phoning it to Western Union.

"Call me tomorrow, please," she said in the telegram, and signed her name.

Surely, she figured, that wire would bring a response from Tony, in the morning.

The next day, around noon, Tony telephoned. Ellen had been up at seven, expecting his call. The hours from seven until noon had seemed unbelievably and brutally long. Again she didn't understand, she couldn't understand! Tony's voice didn't sound at all like Tony's voice, to Ellen. It sounded like a tired, older man's voice.

"You wanted me—" asked Tony. "Wanted him! Ellen wished that she might have crawled into the telephone, that she might go to Tony across the wires, she wanted him so badly."

"Tony," she said, "I've got to see you right away. There's something we've got to talk about."
Tony's voice was weary. "I can't help wondering," he said, "what it

Ellen took a hard... courage.
"You said, Tony," she said, "the night you asked me to marry you, that you'd give me the biggest apartment on the avenue, and live with you and me, Tony, I want to live with you now. I'm ready to make advances. I don't want to go away, any longer."

There was silence for a moment on the other end of the line, then:
"Oh, God!" said Tony, "pick up the receiver."

It was two o'clock when the messenger brought a note with a sharp, curt little note.
"I'm sorry, Ellen," it began, "out any word of greeting, I picked the wrong time to go with it. It's utterly impossible as things are, for me to do with your wishes. In fact, it's so goodby as far as I'm concerned." So the letter ended.

With quivering fingers reaching for her hat, she over her curls. And then, racing down the stairs, she was dizzy and lost. On the street she hailed a taxi and gave Dick's address. It seemed as if she crawled, as if she waited until it had reached the building where Dick lived.

But when she opened the door she began to take a step. For Dick was standing in his case, just as he had stood, and was painting as he had always painted.

"Well, has the prodigal home?" he called out, peering around the easel.
"For God's sake, Ellen, happened?"

It was as if had been to of her marriage. Ellen was arms, crying and laughing, button on the front of Dick was rubbing against her.

"Everything's all over. Dick sobbed. "I don't know what to do. Tony—" she blurted out—"Tony's left me! He's

"Then," Dick was looking her, out of the window, "you must have married him. You were a millionaire. You could have loved him when you didn't love him; at all. We've all been afraid that you were blinded by thought of a great deal of money. Only I—" he choked. "I was for it, that the money didn't Ellen's hands were twisting together.

"The whole crowd of you said, 'might have known he wasn't money, Dick. Else I wouldn't have gone on living in my house, and working. I'd have more of the material things—for my bargain. It was lost—at first sight. Oh, please please don't laugh at me. The first sight does happen! I was about Tony before I even knew his name."

Dick ignored the last part of the sentence.

"Why," he said, "loving your band, have you gone on living, you have always lived? You've come across with it all, Ellen—I won't be able to help you."

Dick was right. The time for tergiversing had passed.

"Ellen, dear," he said, "I'm terribly sorry for you, but I can't help feeling that there is something to be said on Tony's side—I'd deal to be said! I don't suppose you realize just what's going on in Wall Street. I don't suppose you've seen a paper for days! The firm failed yesterday, in an amazingly spectacular way. And you asked Tony for things that he couldn't give you any more. Naturally, coming after all he said before—" He hesitated for a long while, and then—

"There must be some reason," Ellen, Dick said, at last, "why you took such an utterly insane stand."

Ellen took a firm grip on her courage. She hadn't talked herself to Dick since the first day of their friendship.

"It began," she said at last, "my mother. We'd lived together, alone, for seventeen years. And from the time I was old enough to understand words, she told me that I should love lightly. I had a very cruel lesson. Dick, you see, my father—"

It didn't take such a long time to tell the story—not nearly as long as it had taken to gain courage to tell the story!

Strange how futile it seemed this telling and retelling! Strange how artificial and unreal it all was!

"I think," for the first time Dick's voice was unsteady, and it was an unsteadiness born of renunciation. "I think that I'd better take you down to Tony's office, I want you to tell him everything, dear—as you've told it to me."

Third of a Series of Statements on The New "Ultimate" Rate for Residential Service

Larger Use of Electricity
(In Kilowatt Hours)
at No Increased Cost
(In Your Monthly Service Bill)

The new "ultimate" rate for residential users and its application enables small users of electric current to enjoy additional benefits at no extra cost, depending entirely on your use of the service. Get what's coming to you. Like benefits are available to larger users. Our suggestion is that you get in touch with our local representative and find out for yourself how you can increase your home lighting and other user. There's plenty in store for you.

The present trend in the country is to bring about the wider use of electricity. It is our candid opinion that every room in the average home has noticeable opportunities for freer use of the present appliances. One of the most outstanding opportunities is in lighting—so often ignored. We cannot emphasize too strongly the values possible under rates now applicable.

Conoco Employs Unusual Method in Exploiting Use of Newspaper Advertising

One of the most unusual and dramatic ways ever conceived to exploit the use of newspaper advertising has been adopted by the Continental Oil Company. A novel contest has been inaugurated whereby cars and trucks are seen on the streets and highways of some 40 states plastered in hodge-podge compelling fashion with reprints of Continental's newspaper advertisements. In addition to the circulation of 10,000,000 that Continental Oil Company gets for its advertising by using 1,363 daily and weekly newspapers, Continental's advertisements through this unique stunt are doing double duty this Spring.

The unique appearance of Continental cars and trucks not only serves to call attention to the Conoco campaign now running in newspapers, but also reminds Conoco salesmen of the tremendous number of car owners who read about Conoco products throughout the year in their newspapers.

It is estimated that more than 3,000 cars and trucks are participating in the stunt. Aside from these company-owned and operated vehicles, a good percentage of the 22,000 Conoco dealers are likewise participating.

Continental is one of the country's largest users of newspaper advertising and gives this medium a large share of the cred in achieving an increase of 60.4% in sales of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil since April, 1934.

Continental this year is celebrating its sixtieth anniversary. It began operations in Ogden, Utah in 1875.

From a small distributor of kerosene and lubricants long before the advent of the motor car it has grown into one of the nation's leading oil companies.

Motorists Warned to Take Detour On Highway 7

Highway officials here Wednesday asked The Leader to warn motorists that those "running the barricades" on Highway 7 in Lamb County, would in the future be prosecuted "to the full extent of the law."
Contractors on this section of the road now under construction have had an unusual amount of trouble with motorists who fail to take the marked detour which begins at the Littlefield city limits and ends just this side of Anton. License numbers of offending drivers are being taken and arrest and prosecution will follow, highway men declare.

Last Rites Held Monday for Brother Of Mrs. Sam Batton

Boone Kindel, 32, brother of Mrs. Sam Batton of this city, passed away at the Carlsbad hospital, Saturday, April 20, about 2 p. m., following a two week's illness with quincy and throat trouble.
Mr. Kindel was connected with the Chevrolet Motor Company of Carlsbad.
Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church, Carlsbad, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by Rev. H. W. Jordan, pastor, with interment in the Carlsbad cemetery.
Deceased left a wife and two small children, a son, Dickie, aged 5; and an eleven months old daughter, Rae, his mother, Mrs. Nettie Kindel, of Carlsbad; three sisters, Mrs. Batton; Mrs. B. W. Kendall of Globe, Arizona, and Mrs. Bill Reid of Carlsbad; and three brothers John L. and Frank of Carlsbad; and Dr. Tom Kindel of Los Angeles, all of whom were present at the services with the exception of Dr. Kindel, who was unable to attend.
Mr. and Mrs. Batton returned home Tuesday night.

AAA Predicts A Ten Million Dollar Jump In 1935 Crop Cash

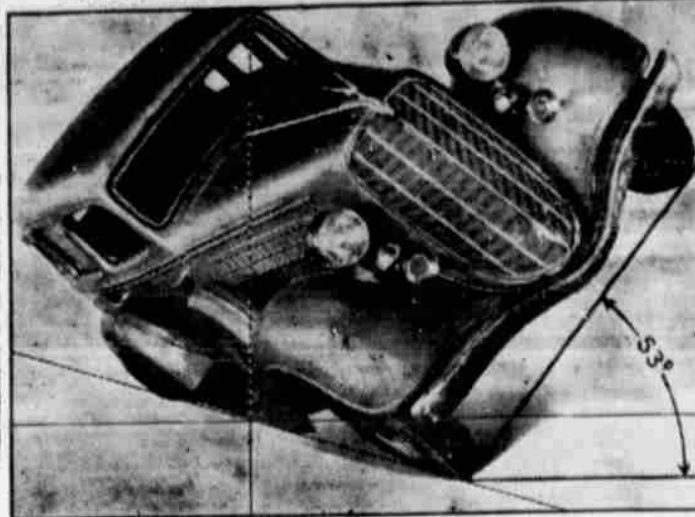

AAA officials estimated last week that the nation's cotton farmers would, on the basis of present contracts, receive nearly 10 million dollars more this year than last.
Setting the 1935 cotton contracts at over 126 million dollars, as compared to the 115 million dollars for 1934, officials also alluded to the growing sentiment favoring a new type of production control.
Under a plan rapidly gaining favor in the agricultural adjustment administration, control would be based on regions rather than on crops. Creating a permanent adjustment, AAA heads would subdivide cotton and wheat growing areas into separate sections.
Farmers trying to make a living on poor land would be moved to richer soil. This, however, would be only a part of a long-time program which would involve promotion of farm ownership, rural rehabilitation, soil erosion control and government purchase of sub-marginal land.

SUNNYDALE

We had 69 in Sunday school last Sunday, and Brother Fitzgerald of near Beck's Gin preached at the morning hour. A large crowd was out to singing in the evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Brandon took dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sizemore last Sunday.
C. D. Luman received word that his cousin near Flagg, Texas, was quite ill with pneumonia.
The community was grieved to hear of the death of Little Bobbie Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enloe Smith, who passed away after a two week's illness of pneumonia. They have the sympathy of this community.
C. E. and Homer Toney are enjoying a visit from their mother and brother from near Slaton.
Quite a large crowd motored to Big Square last Saturday, where the Literary Society of Sunnydale put on a play Saturday night to a full house. The play was "A Poor Man Gets Married." The program was in charge of Mrs. Lyle Brandon.

Mrs. J. A. Hanks visited her daughter at Earth Saturday afternoon, and also attended the play at Big Square Saturday night.
Esther and Ollie Mae Hanks visited Betty Jo and Darlene Reid last Sunday.
Mrs. J. A. Hanks received word that her brother's wife, Mrs. Earl Brandon of Lawton, Okla., underwent a very serious operation at the Weeden Hospital at Duncan, April 8, but is getting along as well as could be expected.
P. S. Hanks attended a school board meeting in Littlefield Monday afternoon.
Mrs. Pepper is quite better at this time.

ANGLE OF STABILITY ILLUSTRATED

How far can a modern automobile be tilted before it will turn over? This Hudson Sedan has its center of gravity only 21 1/4 inches above the ground. It can be tilted to an angle of 53 degrees before it loses its stability. This contributes materially to the safety of the car at high speed and on winding roads.

Bazaar To Be Held Saturday By Study Club

A bazaar is being sponsored by the Junior Study Club in observance of Federated Woman's Day, which will be held in the Cosper building, former location of the Red & White Grocery, Saturday, April 20, beginning at 10 a. m.
The members of the Club are making candy, cake, pastry and handmade novelties, for sale at the bazaar.

Ministerial Alliance In Olton Session Monday

The Ministerial Alliance of Lamb and Bailey counties met in the Methodist church at Olton last Monday morning. The meeting was doubtless one of the best sessions of the Alliance ever held since its organization nearly a year ago. The attendance was good, not only of the Ministers but a good number of laymen were in attendance throughout the session.

The Olton Methodist church was in the second week of its spring revival and the Alliance had the privilege of hearing Rev. R. C. Williams at their regular morning worship hour. After the sermon the Alliance was called in session and the business of the day taken up. Among the items discussed, and perhaps that of greatest interest, was the attempt that is to be made this year to repeal our prohibition law. It is a certainty that every attempt will be made to have the public believe that prohibition has failed, but such cannot be truthfully said. Men may have failed, prohibition may have been overridden, but it has not failed, nor will it fail. The members of the Alliance will be on the field when the time comes and with every ounce of power we possess will try to save our state from the open saloon.

Other matters of general interest were up for discussion and interesting talks were made by both preacher and layman. We are always glad to have the layman attend our meetings, our doors are open to any one wishing to attend. The next meeting will be held in the Baptist church Anton, Monday, April 29.
Joe F. Grizzle, Cor. Secy.

Attend Meeting Of Chiropractors In Lubbock Sunday

Drs. J. E. and Hazel Nelms and Dr. Glen Simmons, local chiropractors, attended a meeting of the Fifth District Chiropractor's association held at the Hilton hotel in Lubbock Sunday. There were over 50 chiropractors attending the meeting.
Dinner was served to the body in the ball room of the Hilton Sunday at noon with Dr. O. C. Boone of Lubbock acting as toastmaster.
Dr. Hazel Nelms of Littlefield was among those on the entertainment program.

New Platform Scales At Doggett Grain Co.

A new set of platform scales has been installed at the Doggett Grain Co. in this city.
The new scales, according to B. L. Cogdill, Littlefield manager, have a 10-ton capacity and a platform 22 feet long.
The new scales run along the front of the office, whereas the old scales were at the east end. It was necessary to set the office back a number of feet in order to locate the new scales at the front of the building.
The present location of the platform makes it much easier to drive on and off the scales, especially when big loads are being weighed.
Mr. Cogdill said that it is also planned to paint the inside and the outside of the office.

Pneumonia Claims 2 Mos. Old Son of Young Anton Pair

Jasper Daniel Jackson, 2-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jackson of Anton, was laid to rest in Anton cemetery at 4 p. m., Wednesday. The infant died early Wednesday in a Lubbock hospital of pneumonia following an illness of about three days.
Rev. N. O. White, pastor of the Anton church, officiated and the Burleson Funeral Home was in charge of the burial.
Friends and relatives of the young parents joined in sympathetic grief over loss of the infant which was stricken Monday and rushed to Lubbock for treatment.
Other survivors are the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Jackson of Anton and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith of Hereford; and a number of uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. ## Personality Plus

Did you ever have the feeling that rooms "personalities?" There are kitchens, for instance, that frown darkly and say, "Stay as long as you can; your hours here are to be tedious, unpleasant."

The New Waldorf---

possesses every feature that lends attractiveness to your kitchen. Not only convenient, economical and efficient, but a distinctive addition to any household.

During April only we are offering a most liberal allowance for your old range as a down payment on one of the new Waldorfs. Many have already appreciated this unusual offer. Think of a new electric range priced from $74.50 to $99.50, with your old range at liberal trade in. Think of the splendid advantage possible under the new residential rate's application.
