Herbert Martin Seeks Judgeship Of 64th District

Is Serving Second Term As District Attorney; Asks Office On Record

Herbert Martin, a resident of Littlefield for the past thirteen years, and who has served as District Attorney for the past two terms, instructed the Leader Monday to announce his candidacy for the office of District Judge of the 64th Judicial District. Mr. Martin's statement follows:

"As your District Attorney, I have done my best to be worthy of the fine vote of confidence you gave me in electing me to the office of District Attorney by a strong majority vote in every county in this 64th. Judicial District. I want to hold your confidence and in asking you to assist me in stepping up to the office of District Judge I believe that I am making a move which merits your continued approval and support."

"I have served two years in your office of District Attorney. I have disregarded personal interests and have tried always to promote efficiency in the handling of every case. A check of the records will show that your business has been disposed of promptly in all cases—principally on pleas of guilty before the court. Your money has never been spent on the trial of any case unless the same was absolutely required. I have co-operated with your local officers in every way and you will find that your business has been taken care of—more than twenty unsolved pump house burglaries were solved and disposed of the first term of district Court I attended in Hale County. The offenders were convicted."

J. Ernest Jones, Teacher In Lamb County Past 7 Years Seeks Office

J. Ernest Jones announces officially for the office of County Superintendent of Schools. His announcement follows:

I am announcing in the Democratic Primary Election of 1942 as a candidate for the position of County Superintendent of Schools of Lamb County, partially in response to the requests of many of my friends in Lamb County; but due also to a desire to serve my country, state, and county, better and to be a more useful and loyal citizen during this great crisis, a crisis which vitally affects and involves our schools.

I am thirty one years of age, with a wife and two children to support, and am badly in need of a further promotion which this position would offer.

I feel that I am as well qualified to fill this position as any other candidate that you will have, for I have a Bachelor of Science Degree from McMurry College and (Continued on Page 6)

Conserve Burlap Says USDA Board

Conserve burlap sacks as a safeguard against a probable shortage, W. E. Bentley, chairman, county USDA War Board, urged Lamb county farmers this week.

Shipping between the United States and India, from which burlap is imported almost exclusively, has been reduced because of war in the Far East, the chairman pointed out.

"At the same time buying of burlap has been reduced, our uses have increased," Bentley said. New uses include the packaging of foods for the army and navy, certain chemicals, and other articles, as well as items shipped abroad under the Lend-Lease Act.

Approximately 80 per cent of total burlap imports go into manufacture of bags and about three-fourths of all burlap bags are used to package commodities which farmers buy and sell. About 459 million yards of burlap were used in sales or purchases by farmers during 1939-40, the chairman said.

To off-set probably shortage of burlap, efforts are being made to expand production of coarse cotton fabrics as substitutes. Heavy demands for tents, uniforms and sandbags already have been placed on cotton fabric manufacturers, and appreciable increases for other uses cannot be expected too quickly, the chairman said.

"Handling bags more carefully so they can be used again, returning bags to dealers for re-use, and repairing slightly damaged bags are practical ways farmers can off-set the shortage," Bentley said.

Prevention of Tire Trouble Is Important

Lamb county farmers believe that prevention of tire trouble is as important as its cure, according to W. E. Bentley, chairman, county USDA War Board.

Farmers throughout the county already are exerting caution to see that foreign matter is kept from treads, that tires are free of grease and oil, rims straightened, stored equipment is jacked up to relieve pressure, tires are shadowed from excess sunlight, and that cracked tires are painted and plugged, the board chairman said.

"Certificates for new tires may be issued for tractors, farm implements, and trucks used to haul farm products directly to market," Bentley said, but explained they could not be obtained for transporting farm products to ultimate consumers. He also added that tires could not be purchased if the rationing board had already issued certificates comprising the monthly total.

"This simply means farmers will have to wait their turn along with everybody else," Bentley said. Recapping, retreading and vulcanizing tires on automobiles and farm implements are other precautionary measures farmers may follow in preventing tire trouble. Since correct air pressure adds to lifespan of tires for tractors and farm implements, periodic checks for proper pressure should be made, the chairman said.

Crop Insurance Money to Farmers

Money in the pocket whether a boll of cotton is picked or not is what cotton crop insurance means to Lamb county farmers according to W. E. Bentley, chairman of the local AAA committee.

Under cotton crop insurance, offered for the first time this year, farmers may insure either 50 or 75 per cent of their average yield. Insurance goes into effect when seed is planted and ends when cotton is weighed in at the gin next fall, Bentley said.

Insurance contracts protect farmers from all unavoidable hazards such as frost, drought, insects, plant diseases, storm, wind and hail. It does not, however, protect farmers from losses due to poor farming practices or use of inferior seed.

"With nearly one out of every two dollars being spent in our war program, farmers can't afford a crop failure this year," the committee chairman said.

Individual yields and premiums on actual production figures have been established for every cotton farm in the county, Bentley said in pointing out that through this method each farm would carry its own risk cost.

Premium notes can be used as collateral security for money advanced in making a current cotton crop, the AAA official said. Lending agencies will be safe in lending money on insured cotton because either 50 or 75 per cent of an average crop is guaranteed.

Closing dates for taking out cotton crop insurance in Lamb county is March 31, 1942, and will not be changed Bentley said.

ARMY OF THE LAND

The status of the farmer in this war is rapidly being recognized as every bit as important as the soldier.

As the government's Food for Freedom program gathers momentum, a farmer who does an outstanding production job will be given practically all of the recognition that goes to an army hero, and a farmer who falls down on the job, due to his own lack of effort, will be looked upon as a slacker.

The leaders of our government are so keenly aware of the need for all-out farm production that it seems likely they may eventually put farming on a military-operation basis unless they get record crops entirely as a result of the voluntary determination of the farmers themselves.

As the size of our army increases and as the employment in industrial production mounts, there will be increased competition for farm labor. It is probable, therefore, that the government will have to take a hand in determining labor assignments and will assign sufficient men and women to farms in order that no production will be interrupted.

There is talk at present of putting our land army in uniform—a special uniform for those patriots who are serving their country by seeing to it that our armed forces, our civilian population and our millions of allies all are supplied with sufficient healthful food. There also is talk of divisions of the regular army being assigned to the battle of the land—to aid, where necessary, in capturing from the soil every last pound of those vitamin-producing foods which will pay such a decisive part in this war.

In addition to being the arsenal of democracy, this nation also has assumed the role of feeding the democracies. All over the world our allies are staking their future on American production and they are just as concerned with the production of food as with the production of guns.

VICTORY BICYCLES

Leon Henderson, U. S. director of what goods we can and can't have during 1942, took time off from his busy job the other day to go for a bicycle ride. After pedaling a while he proclaimed the new type "Victory Model" he was riding to be a suitable bicycle, whereupon 12 bicycle manufacturers agreed to make that same model exclusively during the coming year.

It is expected, in 1942, that there will be a wide demand for bicycles among adults who need transportation to get to defense jobs and whose automobile tires are ready for retirement.

Consequently, the bicycle manufacturers have been busy working up plans for a new model which would use as little of scarce materials as possible. The Victory Model is the answer—a bicycle which is 21 pounds lighter in weight than the average, which consumes no copper, nickel or plated work, which has smaller than average tires made of 90 percent reclaimed rubber and which requires many pounds less steel than usual.

Although the manufacturers will be permitted to make 750,000 Victory bicycles, they will be strictly for adults. It is believed that bicycles now in the hands of children, used largely for recreational purposes, can be kept in good running order through repairs—and, if they can't, the children will have to sit on the sidelines while daddy rides to work.

There are approximately 10,000,000 bicycles now in operation in the United States, but 85 percent of them are now used by children. The new bicycle will be built for adults only and may be allotted just to those of us who can prove a genuine need for them.

The rest of us, who will be unable to buy tires for our cars and who will not be able to buy bicycles, will have to go back to horses, or if worst comes to worst—we may even have to walk!

Local Boys Defend Titles In Golden Gloves Tourney

Two-Night Show Staged In Local Gym Is Big Success

Bradshaw, McCarthy And Others Defend Glove Crowns Here

By WILSON BRAZZIL

Littlefield's 1942 Golden Gloves Tournament was a wow! That's the only word in our somewhat limited vocabulary that can describe the show that brought the finest leather-slugging bunch of amateurs that ever trod the rosin into our midst for a two nights engagement at the local high school gym.

Among the most impressive of these fistie aspirants was bantamweight La Verne Roach of Plainview; featherweight Curtis Lebow, also of Plainview, Lightweight Buford Bradshaw of Littlefield; Flyweight, W. D. McCarthy of Littlefield; Roy Belk, Plainview welterweight pugilist, and Dale Odom of Lubbock. These boys represent the cream of the crop in the south Plains boxing arena and just keep slugging and slugging till the referee gets punch drunk and the spectators turn pale. Most of them have weathered several district tournaments, a few have competed in the state tourney at Fort Worth and have slapped some of the best "Pugs" in the state around 'till their freckles rattled.

Coach Abe Murmby, C. L. Storrs, E. C. Cundiff, and others who made the show possible are to be commended, and also every boxer who drew on a glove did his bit to make the show a great success.

First Night Preliminaries

In the preliminaries, La Vern Roach, slugging Plainview boxer won on a technical kayo over Derwood McClintock of Tahoka in the bantamweight division.

In another bantamweight scrap Maurice McCarthy of Littlefield, one of the "Fighting McCarthys", got the nod over Alvin Eden of Lubbock.

Curtis Lebow of Plainview who was tops in the flyweight division last year has moved up to the featherweight class and stopped his opponent, Johnny Malouf of Post in the second stanza.

The second featherweight fight featured the popular Littlefield pug Jimmy Robinson who belted out Carrol Gose of Muleshoe in a fairly close decision.

Buford Bradshaw, also of Littlefield, who won the district as a featherweight last year, is competing in the lightweight brigade this year, chalked up a TKO over John Jennings of Lubbock in the second round of their three round battle.

Pete Jenkins, brother to the famous Sweetwater Lew Jenkins, lost a close bout to Jim Henderson of Post. Jenkins represented Muleshoe in the lightweight class.

In the first of three flyweight fights, W. D. McCarthy, Littlefield fighter who won the bantam crown in 1940 and was runnerup in 1941, outpointed Everette Sparks of Lubbock in one of the best bouts of the evening. In the second fight Wayne Stark of Plainview blacked out Billy Crabtree of Lubbock in the first round. Mickey Biondell, ganging Levelland youngster outpointed Leroy Thomas of Brownfield in the final flyweight battle of the night.

The only featherweight fight was between Leith Kivlehen of Lubbock and W. C. Coker of Hale Center, with Kivlehen punching his way to an easy victory.

Roy Belk Outstanding

Roy Belk of Plainview, took a first round knockout over N. Q. Findley of Prownfield in the welterweight class while Dale Odom of Lubbock decided Kelly King of Tahoka. Odom was runnerup in the welterweight division in the 1940 district tournament.

The only middleweight scrap of the opening night, saw Hugh Herbert of Lubbock, KO Dennis Slater of Post in the third round.

The grand finale of the opening night's fights, pitted Willis Hedges of Olton against Littlefield's Odell Robinson in a light heavyweight bout. Hedges won the bout on points.

Knockouts and "upsets" sparked the second night of the show and a large crowd of howling spectators were present as was the first night.

Dale Odom lost his Littlefield welter title to Roy Belk of Plainview and Rea Mitchell, district heavyweight champion lost the nod to Willis Hedges of Olton.

La Verne Roach, W. D. McCarthy, Hugh Harbart and Buford each packing TNT in their padded fists, scored knock outs over their opponents, and Lebow decided Keith Kivlehen of Lubbock.

Tourney Champs Crowned

Here's the Champs:
Flyweight—W. D. McCarthy, Littlefield.

Featherweight—Curtis Lebow, Plainview.

Lightweight—Buford Bradshaw, Littlefield.

Welterweight—Roy Belk, Plainview.

Middleweight—Hugh Harbart, Lubbock.

Light heavyweight—Willis Hedges, Olton.

Heavyweight—Elwood Wright, Lubbock.

Bradshaw Wins Trophy

Buford Bradshaw, district featherweight champion of last year and winner of the lightweight crown, was awarded the trophy as the outstanding boxer of the tournament. Dale Odom of Lubbock, copped the trophy last year.

The Littlefield tourney was one of the "warm-up" tournaments preceding the district meet which will be staged at Lubbock February 2, 3 and 4.

In cooperation with defense measures The Salvation Army plans to curtail the use of autos as far as possible.

The work of the Army, however, is now more than ever needed.

There are a host of friends and supporters in smaller towns and communities, who have been accustomed to giving weekly in tambourine collections.

This system will have to be discontinued and a new one to meet the present situation instituted.

Small jars sealed and bearing placards will be placed in stores and other establishments. Contributions may be put into these.

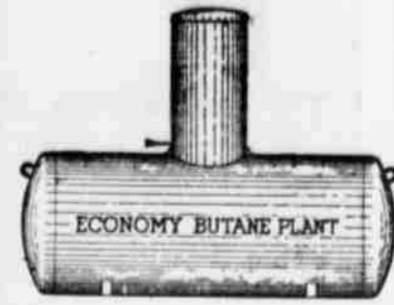

Once a month an authorized representative will call, empty the jar and give the merchant an official receipt for the contents.

This method will also protect the giving public against the "imitation Armies" who trade upon the reputation of The Salvation Army.

This does not apply to the City of Littlefield, since the Army is located here, no driving is necessary. The regular Saturday collections will continue.

War Production—

A SUMMARY OF THE WEEK

TRENDS: Prompt gearing-up for the victory effort under the new War Production Board was forecast last week in the letter addressed by Donald M. Nelson, Chairman, to the Undersecretaries of War and Navy, and William S. Knudsen, OPM Director General. Mr. Nelson said, "Any organizational changes that have to be made in order to do this job (lick Hitler and the Japs) will be made. The present organization must and will evolve into the most effective possible instrument to do it." The former Priorities Director now exercises full authority over all production and procurement agencies of the Federal Government, including Army and Navy procurement units, and OPM.

Conversion of automobile industry to war production got started last week when management-labor sub-committee met in Detroit, agreed unanimously upon nine-point program for immediate exploration, later recommendation. Cyrus Ching, OPM chairman, said at conclusion of joint committee meeting, "There are no sides round this table, we are through with argument and controversy as to what happened in the past."

As war-industry consumption of scarce materials increases, wider application of direct allocations is to be looked for. Orders having allocation provisions, issued last week by the Priorities Division, include new orders and amendments covering the distribution of sodium nitrate; hides and skins; South African asbestos; copra, rapeseed, coconut, palm, tung and cashew nut shell oils; jewel bearings, and jewel-bearing materials; chromium; machine tools; tin. Special type of allocation order is that directing sulphite pulp producers to set aside enough pulp to take care of the regular customers of three large producers whose plants are engaged in war work.

Allocation is the strictest form of distribution control; will not replace

PAINTING OF TEXAS SCENE THRILLS THOUSANDS

A bit of Texas has been framed and hung on the walls of farm homes from coast to coast in the last few weeks.

It is that bit of Texas that Georges Schreiber, noted painter, captured on his canvas, that then became a four-color cover of the January issue of Country Gentleman and since has caused that magazine's editor to be swamped with thousands of requests for reprints suitable for framing. In addition hundreds of readers have written saying that they framed the cover itself.

A Texas ranch scene was chosen for the initial painting for a series of covers which will be distinctive in the magazine field, inasmuch as this is the first time that 12 rural paintings by notable artists will have been presented in this way. Each painting in the series will deal with a different crop or phase of agriculture and, in so far as possible, the series will cover the country geographically, by regions.

Artists already assigned to do original paintings include John DeMartelly, Paul Sample, Peter Hurd, Adolph Dehn, Hardie Gramatky, Thomas Hart Benton and others.

When the January issue appeared with the Texas scene on the cover the demand for reprints ran at the rate of about 500 a week with indications that the available supply of a few thousand copies would be exhausted before all requests could be fulfilled. The reprints were made available to those who provided the mailing costs.

Next year, after the paintings have been published, the Texas canvas with the other originals will be loaned to agricultural colleges throughout the country for display at their farm and home weeks.

priorities system. Manufacturers will continue to receive priority ratings; those holding highest ratings will still have first call. Under allocation system, material will be assigned to them in quantities based on schedules for production of rated orders, submitted in advance each month to OPM. War orders first, then civilian.

Big news of the week: Pooling of patents and processes by principal rubber, oil chemical companies in program to turn out 400,000 tons of synthetic rubber, annually, by middle of 1943. This is two-thirds of normal requirement. Federal funds to be available, if necessary to assure erection of new plants.

Meanwhile, look for still stricter rationing of tires, crude rubber.

Oils: Copra; rapeseed, coconut, palm and tung oils brought under terms of General Imports Order M-63.

All deliveries and uses of cashew nut shell oil restricted by General Preference Order M-66.

SOUTH AMERICAN ALLOCATIONS: In line with established U. S. Policy of treating essential civilian needs of other American republics on basis of equality with our own, 26 allocations of materials to these nations, for first quarter of 1942, were made by OPM. Included are 3,300,000 pounds rayon, 13 million dollars' worth miscellaneous farm equipment; 375,000 tons steel; tungsten; platinum; nickel; score of chemicals.

BOARD OF ECONOMIC WARFARE: Vice President Henry A. Wallace, Chairman, announced creation of a Government Foreign Petroleum Policy Committee charged with maintaining adequate petroleum supplies for United Nations' armed forces, with oil industry's Foreign Petroleum Operating Board co-operating. British, Netherlands governments will be represented.

RATIONING: Preliminary details for rationing new passenger cars under plan to be announced soon by OPA indicate that preference will be given to same classes as now have eligibility to buy new tires. Plan will be modeled after that set up for tire rationing, will use same local boards to certify "eligibles."

Stockpile of about 130,000 new passenger cars will be stocked by dealers to satisfy demands of doctors, nurses, police, other eligible buyers, in 1943 and after. Dealers will be compensated for storing "stockpiled" cars by adding to the selling price 1% of the list price or $15, whichever is lower, for each month car is stored.

Miss Lanell Chaney, one of the members of the Littlefield School Faculty, spent the past week end with her parents at Fieldton.

Little Gregory Wilemon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wilemon, was on the sick list last week end.

False hopes that expansion of synthetic rubber production will allow immediate slackening of tire rationing regulations eliminated by OPA Administrator Henderson who explained that "to use the indefinite future as a yardstick to measure present urgent needs would be dangerous and foolhardy."

PRICES: OPA set ceiling prices for "retreadable" tire carcasses and "retreads"; announced that used tires would be brought under maximum prices soon. Administrator Henderson said profiteering in second-hand tires had become serious and that the Government could not allow situation to continue.

Metals had big week in price action. OPA and OPA jointly announced program for Government bonuses to stimulate production of copper, lead, zinc, greatly needed for war program. At same time ceiling price for common lead was raised from 5.85 cents to 6.50 cents per pound, New York, and ceiling was spread over prices for lead scrap and secondary lead. Makers of lead products and pigments were asked to hold off price increases until OPA had time to complete studies of their situations.

Aluminum "plant" scrap maximum prices were revised in light of OPM's order requiring aluminum scrap to be segregated by alloy.

Copper price schedule (No. 15), amended in several respects; three chemical producers obtained OPA permission to buy special cooper scrap above ceiling, for chemical use.

Hide glue stock, raw material for hide glue, now in great demand, was placed under maximum price regulation.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Toews underwent a major operation at the Littlefield Hospital Wednesday of last week, and is getting along nicely.

CHAPTER II

SYNOPSIS
Although the contracting business of the Craig-Borland Engineering Co. is in a slump, Leonard Borland has enough money put aside to pay his wife's expenses when she decides to resume her singing career, which was interrupted by her marriage and the birth of their two children. His wife, Doris, insists that he has always thwarted her ambitions, in spite of the fact that she invariably gets her own way. Doris' singing teacher, Hugo Lorentz, encourages her to give a recital. Hertz, a famous music critic, has vaguely promised to give her a notice, and when Doris learns that he has the wrong date, she persuades Leonard to go to his apartment. Hertz is courteous, but uninterested. On the way out, Leonard is embarrassed by the laughter of two women who have apparently heard the conversation. One of the women is Hertz's wife. The other is unknown to Leonard, but he notices that she is wearing a hat. The recital, which is politely received by their friends, proves, as Leonard himself suspected, that Doris can't sing. After the recital, an opera singer named Cecil Carver calls Leonard and tells him she overheard the conversation in Hertz's apartment.

Her eyes weren't wide open anymore. They were half closed to a couple of slits. Then she kissed me, and kissed hard—

"Were you the one in the hat?" Leonard asked.
"Yes, of course," replied Cecil. "Well, I've got a little quarrel with you."
"What for?"
"For laughing at me. What was so funny?"
"Why, you're quite mistaken. Mrs. Hertz and I were talking; I may have been laughing, but not at you. Why—"
"All right, then. What is it?"
"Nothing, only—well, I judged from what you said that you wanted a competent opinion on your wife's singing. I dropped in at that recital. Perhaps you'd like to know what I thought?"
"I'd be delighted."
"Then why not drop over and see me?"
"I don't know any reason why not."

She had a suite up on the tenth floor with a grand piano in it and music scattered all over the place, and she let me in herself. She was good-looking, all right. She had a pale, ivory skin, but her hair was black, and so were her eyes.

She had a drink ready, and asked me if I was a musician. I said no. I was a contractor, and next thing I knew I had had two drinks and was gabbling about myself like some drummer in a chair car.

After a while, though, I pulled up, and said, "Well," and she switched off to Doris. "Your wife has a remarkable voice, and her tone is well produced. Of course . . ."

"Go on. What else?"
"I would criticize her style. But good style doesn't come in a day. If she works at it, that ought to come around."

"Then you think she ought to go on?"
"With such looks and such a voice, certainly."

With that she dropped it. In spite of all she said, it added up to faint praise. A boy came in with a note.

"Something wrong?"
"I'm singing at some war veterans' thing in Brooklyn tonight and I promised to do a song they want, and I've forgotten to get the words to it; and the man who was to give them to me has gone out of town, and here's his note saying he'll give me a ring tomorrow—and no words."

"What song?"
"Oh, some song they sang in the Navy during the war. Something about a destroyer. Isn't that annoying?"

"Oh, that song."
"You know it?"
"Sure. I was a gob in the war when I was a kid."

"Well, for heaven's sake sing it!"
She sat down to the piano and started to play it. She already knew the tune. I sang.

She got up, walked over to the sofa, and sat down, her face perfectly white.

"Borland," she said, "your wife's no good."
"Oh, she's not?"
"But you have a voice."
"—what?"
"You have a voice."

Her eyes weren't wide open any more. They were half closed to a couple of slits. Then she kissed me, and kissed hard.

"What made you go to Hertz," she asked. "Didn't you know any better?"
"Yes."
"Then why did you do it?"
"I had to."

She twisted her head around, where it was on my shoulder, and looked at me. "You're crazy about her, aren't you?"
"More or less."

"I'm sorry I said she was no good. She really has a voice. She might improve . . . Maybe I was jealous of her."

She started to laugh. "You could have knocked me over with a straw when I saw Hugo Lorentz coming out there to the piano."

"You know him?"
"Known him for years. I hadn't seen him since he played for me in Berlin last winter."
"I've had my suspicions about Hugo."

"You needn't have."
"I thought he was taking her for a ride."

"He's not. She's taking him for a ride. He said she does nothing but torture him and every other man she gets into her clutches."

"What about these other men she's got her clutches on?"
"For heaven's sake, can't a woman that good-looking have a little bit of a good time? What do you care? You're having a good time, aren't you? Right now? I'll sock you if you say you're not."

"Believe it or not, this is my first offense."
"And you've got her, haven't you?"

"No. I'm just one other man she's got her clutches on, one more sap to torture."

"You poor dear. You are crazy about her, aren't you?"
"Come on; what about these other men?"

She thought a long time, and then said, "Leonard, I'm not going to tell you any more of what Hugo said, except this: That no man gets any favors from her, if that's what you're worried about. And especially Hugo doesn't. She sees that they keep excited, but inside she's as cold as ice, and thinks of nothing but herself."

"You're not telling me anything I don't know."
"I hate that woman."

"I spent half my time hating her and half my time being insane about her. What's she got, anyway?"

"One thing she's got is a face that a man would commit suicide for. Another thing she's got is a figure that if he wasn't quite dead yet, he'd stand up and commit suicide for all over again. And another thing she's got is a healthy professional interest in the male of the species, that enjoys sticking pins into it just to see it wriggle. But if you want her, I'm determined you're going to have her. And really have her. You see, I like you pretty well."

"I like you a little, myself."
"That woman has got to be hurt."
"You think you could hurt Doris?"
Listen; you'd be going up against something."

"You didn't hurt her where it hurt. In the triumph department, baby. You go get yourself a triumph, and see her wriggle out of that."

"Oh, gosh, I thought you had an idea!"
"You're going to give a recital. And will that fix her?"

"So I'm going to give a recital. Well, in the first place I can't sing, and in the second place I don't want to sing, and in the third place it's just plain silly."

"Leonard, if you put yourself in my hands, if you do just what I say, I'll have you singing like an angel in any concert hall in town within a year. Or maybe with one of the symphony orchestras . . . Let her try and laugh that off! Baby, do you want that woman? Do you want her eating out of your hand? Do—"

I opened my eyes to razz it some more, but all of a sudden a picture popped in front of my eyes, of how Doris would look out there, listening to me, and I started to laugh.

"What's the matter?"
"It's the most cockeyed thing I ever heard in my life. But—all right. We'll pretend that's how it's going to come out."

"You'll have to work."
"I'm used to work."
"You'll have to study music, and sight reading, and harmony, and languages, especially Italian."
"Perche devo studiare l'italiano?"

"You speak Italian?"
"Didn't I tell you I started out as an architect? We all take our two years in Italy, studying the old ruins. Sure, I speak Italian."

"Oh, you darling . . . I'll want payment."

"I've got enough money."
"Who's talking about money? I want kisses, and lots of them."
"Well, gee! That sounds swell."

It's one thing to start something like that, but it's something else to go through with it. I bought a tuning fork and some exercise books, went up on the third floor of the Craig-Borland Building, and ha-ha-ha-ed every morning, hoping nobody would hear me. Then in the afternoon I'd go down and take a lesson, and make some payments. I like paying better than learning, and I felt plenty like a fool.

But then Cecil sent me over to a music school for a course in sight reading. It was taught by a Frenchman named Guizot, and along with the sight reading he gave us a little harmony. When I found out that music has structure to it, just as a bridge has, right away I began to get interested. I took Guizot on for some private lessons, and began to work. He gave me exercises to do, melodies to harmonize, and chords to unscramble; and I rented a piano and had that moved in, so I could hear what I was doing. I couldn't play it, but I could hit the chords, and that was the main thing.

Then he talked to me about symphonies, and of course I had to dig into them. I bought a little phonograph and a flock of symphony albums, and got the scores and began to take them apart, so I could see how they were put together. The scores you don't buy; they cost too much. But I rented them, and first I'd have one for a couple of weeks and then I'd have another.

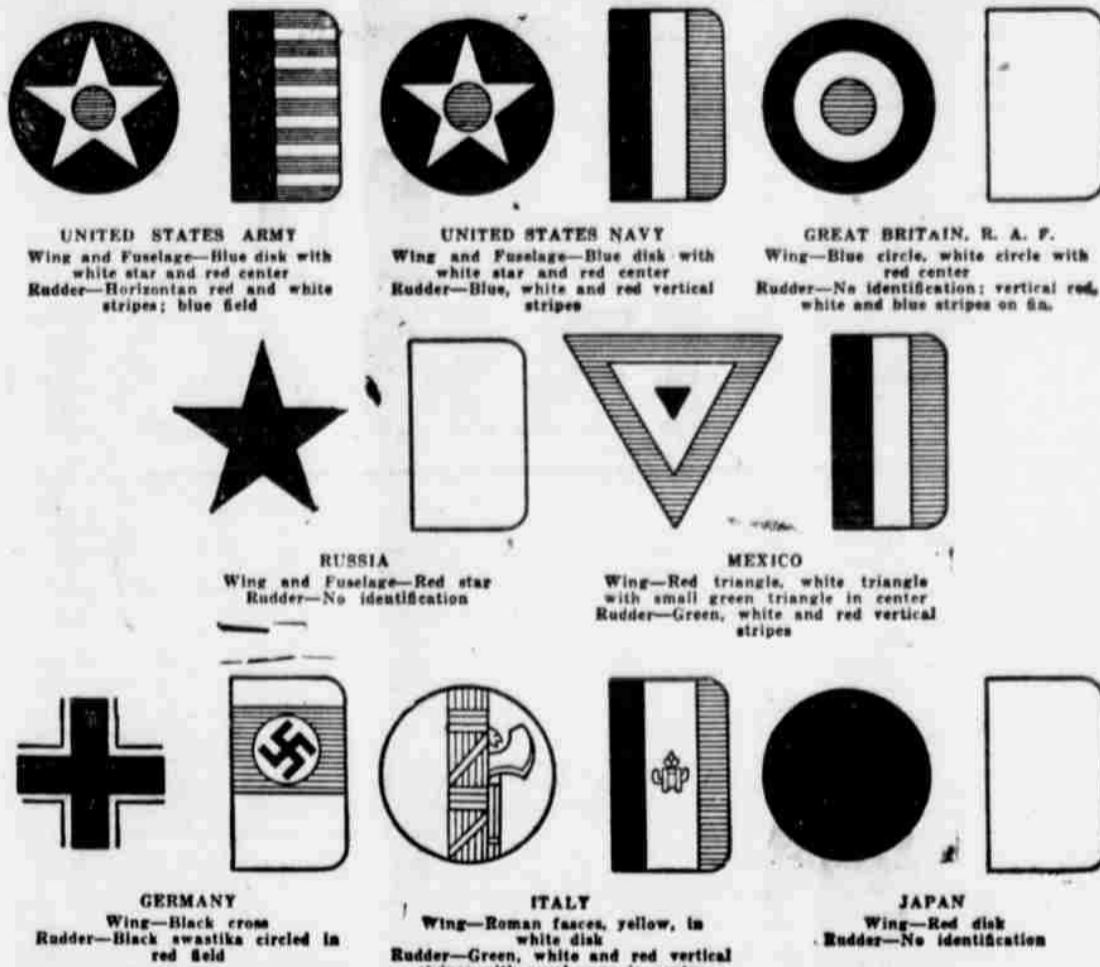

The sight reading was tough. You just stand up there and read it, without any piano to give you the tune, or anything else. I never heard of it until Cecil began to talk about it, didn't even know what it meant. But I took it on, just like the rest of it, and beat interest into my head with the piano until I could hear them in my sleep. After a while I knew I was making progress, but then when I'd go down to Cecil and try to read something off while she played the accompaniment, I'd get all mixed up and have to stop. She spotted the reason for it. "You're not watching the words," she said. "You can read the exercises, because all you have to think about is the music. But songs have words too, and you have to sing them. You can't just go la-la-la. Look at the words; don't look at the notes. Your eye will half see them without your looking at them, but the main thing is the words. Get them right, and the music will sing itself."

I tried the way she said, and sure enough it came a little better. I kept doing harder exercises all the time, and then one day I knew I wouldn't have to study sight reading any more. I could read anything.

The ha-ha stuff was the worst. I did what Cecil told me, and she seemed satisfied, but to me it was just a pain in the neck. But then one day something happened. A sound came out of my throat that made me jump. It was a big, round high tone that shook the room. I tried it again, and it wouldn't come. I vocalized overtime that day, trying to get it back, and was about to give up when it came again. I opened it up, and stood there listening to it still higher with it. It got an edge on it, like a tenor, but at the same time it was big and round and full. I went up with it until I was afraid to go any higher, and then I checked pitch on the piano. It was an A.

That afternoon Cecil was so excited by it she almost forgot about payment. "It's what I've been waiting for. But I had no idea it was that good."
"Say, it sounds great! How did you know it was there?"
"It's my business to know. What a baritone!"
"Hey! Come here."
"Sing me one more song."

Civilian air raid spotters will have no difficulty distinguishing Axis planes from those of the United Nations if they memorize the markings illustrated above. American and British planes have designs of red, white and blue, and Russia has a red star. Watchers on the southern border occasionally may see the red triangle of Mexico. Axis raiders are easily spotted through the familiar black cross and swastika of Germany, the round red rising sun emblem of Japan and the Roman fasces insignia borne by Italian planes.

Farmers Are Asked To Save Materials

College Station, Jan. 26—Burlap and baling wire are the latest additions to the materials which farmers are being asked to use sparingly.

Imports of burlap from India have been drastically curtailed by the war, B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA War Board, pointed out in urging Texas farmers to make every possible effort to extend the life of their burlap sacks. Two-thirds of the burlap still being imported is being taken by the government for military purposes.

Vance urged farmers to refrain from ripping their burlap sacks when opening them, to use no hooks, and to hang sacks in dry, protected places for later use.

As for the baling wire situation, Vance declared that farmers could make a direct contribution to the war effort and protect themselves from possible shortages by using wire as sparingly as possible. U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates indicate that farmers will need between 90,000 and 100,000 tons of wire for baling hay, straw and other forage crops in 1942. The steel shortage makes it imperative that farmers draw upon products made from steel as little as possible.

Texas Farmers Are Eligible for Tires

College Station, January 25—Texas farmers are eligible to apply for tubes or tires for farm tractors, other farm implements or trucks which carry farm products and foods to market, according to B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA War Board.

Distribution of tires or tubes will be made through certificates issued by county rationing boards, the chairman said.

"The first step is to obtain an application form from local rationing boards and obtain a statement from the board's inspector that the tire or tube to be replaced cannot be repaired, recapped, retreaded, or otherwise made useable," Vance said.

When inspector's statements are secured, farmers are asked to explain to rationing boards the purpose for which the tire or tube is to be used.

"Tires or tubes may not be obtained for trucks which transport farm products to ultimate consumers, and cannot be obtained for any purpose unless they are to be mounted immediately," Vance explained.

If applicants meet standards of local tire rationing boards, a certificate will be issued which allows purchase from any dealer, provided the board has not already reached the monthly total of certificates which it may issue.

Map of Battle Lines in Philippines

This specially prepared clay-modeled relief map details the embattled terrain around Manila where the Philippine forces continued to hold out after the fall of the capital city to the Japs. Note the fields guarding the entrance to Manila bay which with the mighty fortress Corregidor presented the best barrier to fleet action. The important naval base, Cavite, fell to the enemy at the same time as Manila was lost.

Help For Farmers
Machinery necessary to carry out the Department of Agriculture's 1942 food production program will be available to American farmers. Donald M. Nelson, Director of Priorities, has announced that an A-3 preference rating will be available on materials needed to produce enough farm machinery to turn out food supplies at a rate of 115 per cent of the 1924-29 level. That increase is considered necessary to fill domestic requirements and Lend-Lease quotas.

Materials available for new farm machinery will be limited to about 83 per cent of the amount so used in 1940. At the same time, materials which may be used for repair parts will be available at an average rate approximating 150 per cent of the 1940 level.

As the 1942 food program calls for greatly increased production of pork, lard, milk and eggs, machinery needed in turning out such commodities will be given preference over equipment used in producing crops considered less essential. A farm equipment schedule has been sent to all manufacturers and to county agents.

Blackout Material
Since all textiles which can be produced are needed for war use, merchants are requested not to encourage purchases of cloth to be used in blackouts. The appeal to retailers and wholesalers was made by R. A. Guthrie, OPM textiles chief. Materials available in the average home — such as blankets, drapes or waste cloth — effectively can be applied to shut out light in blackout tests and air raid alarms, he said.

New Contract Office
The Contract Distribution Division of OPM has announced the opening of a new field office in Tulsa, Okla., bringing to 96 the total number of such offices in the United States. Qualified manufacturers in Eastern Oklahoma may obtain assistance toward securing war work by informing the field office as to their plant equipment, the types of products which they now make, and those which they have produced in the past. The Tulsa field office is located at 435 Kennedy Building. John H. Keyes is acting manager.

Leather Price Ceilings
A new "ceiling" for leather prices, based on the highest quotations prevailing during the period Nov. 6—Dec. 6 (1941), has been established by the Office of Price Administration to forestall increased costs of shoes and other leather products for consumer use.

The leather ceiling is temporary, and subject to revision after completion of studies now under way. All forms of selling, except retail, are covered by the new schedule.

Oil Equipment Controlled
A priorities conservation order issued at Washington places all materials used in petroleum production under strict Federal control. Every operator must meet specified conditions or obtain specific authorization from the Priorities Director to obtain such materials.

Equipment needed to drill or complete oil wells according to a uniform pattern of not more than one well to each 40 acres, or uniformly spaced natural gas wells with not more than one to each 640 surface acres, may be obtained without special authorization. The same holds true as to materials used for experimental or exploratory wells in new fields. Those spacing restrictions are designed to conserve petroleum resources, as well as steel and other scarce materials normally employed in oil development. Exceptions to meet extraordinary conditions, either for a single well or an entire field, may be made upon application to the petroleum coordinator on special forms provided for the purpose.

Materials for pumping or artificial lifting equipment are restricted to an average of one well to each ten acres in any lease or tract, except that a single well may be provided such equipment on a lease or tract containing less than ten acres. Materials for use in petroleum research laboratories, in the search for unknown petroleum pools, for specified secondary recovery operations and for certain types of lease equipment are exempt from the conservation order (M-68).

Burlap Supply Allocated
Allocation of the nation's entire burlap supply, as ordered by the OPM, largely eliminates that imported commodity from ordinary civilian uses. Bags for agricultural and chemical products, which normally take up three-fourths of the burlap supply, will be available in greatly reduced quantities. The remaining burlap will be reserved for defense uses, including sand bags as protection against bombings and for camouflage. None will be accessible for the civilian purposes which ordinarily consume one-fourth of the supply — furniture, upholstery, rug and carpet, textile, meat-packing and rubber industries,

Miss Griffin and Kenneth Griffith Wed October 10

Of interest to many friends in Littlefield was the marriage of Miss Sarah Griffin and Corporal Kenneth E. Griffith of Savannah Air Base. The marriage was performed in Rigland, S. C., on October 10, 1941, by Judge L. S. McCormick. The bride is the only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Griffin of Statesboro, Ga., and the groom, a son of Mrs. Etta Griffith of Littlefield, Texas. Mr. Griffith is a member of the 90th Bombing Squadron, and was stationed at Savannah Air Base. For a time after marriage they were at home at 107 West Park Ave., Savannah, Ga., which has been her home for several years. Mr. Griffith left Savannah for foreign service on January 19.

Farmers' marketing, purchasing, and farm business service cooperatives borrowed nearly twice as much money from banks for cooperatives in the first nine months of 1941 than in the corresponding period of 1940. This is reflected in both higher price levels and greater business activity, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Each man can take as much or as little exercise as he wishes. This program will continue as long as there is interest, so you men take this opportunity to give your muscles some much needed exercise.

Every man in town is invited.

War News

Maj. Gen. Russell P. Hartle is reported to be in command of the undisclosed number of American Troops which have taken over bases constructed for them by American technicians in Northern Ireland.

The frightful cost in Japanese men and ships in the battle of Macassar Strait was declared from Batavia, N. E. I., authoritatively Tuesday to have set back Japan's invasion clock and to have put the enemy face to face with the question of revising his whole plan of South Pacific conquest.

Revised totals for the first three days of the 5-day-old running battle off Borneo, set Japanese naval losses at a minimum of 11 warships and 17 heavily-laden transports sunk or badly smashed. Thirteen Japanese planes, at least, were destroyed thousands of miles from their island home and this, it was stated, was "only the beginning of the Allied action necessary to drive back the enemy."

Winston Churchill told Britain Tuesday that American fighter and bomber squadrons would participate in the coming offensive against Germany, and gave his assurances that in 1943 the United Nations would be able to set out in "good style" to destroy Japan.

The RAF announced Wednesday vast destruction of German-Italian vehicles and manpower in what was generally described as its most destructive single-day's work on Axis columns since the Libyan campaign began.

Tax Collections Coming In Good

"Yesterday was the busiest day I have ever had in Littlefield—or anywhere else—in the collection of taxes", stated I. Holt, County Tax Assessor-Collector, who said that taxes were coming in good; and that he collected over $8300 Monday, but his collections Tuesday would only amount to about half. When asked how collections were over the Country Mr. Holt said that they were comparatively as good in other parts of the county as in Littlefield. Mr. Holt was here Monday and Tuesday.

The OPM order applies to burlap now in this country and to future deliveries, but not to broken bales. Unbroken bales now in inventory may be used for bags for agricultural and chemical products, but for no other civilian purposes. Burlap bags must not be slashed and mutilated in opening. No importer or bag manufacturer may have more than a 30-day supply on hand.

The Federal government has assumed control over all imports of 13 designated materials: antimony, cadmium, chromium, copper, graphite, kyanite, lead, mercury, rutile, tungsten, vanadium, zinc and zircon. Others may be added to the list. Donald M. Nelson, Director of Priorities, has announced that all future contracts for imports of those materials will be handled by the Metals Reserve Co. or other governmental agencies, unless otherwise authorized by the OPM.

The Metals Reserve Co. plans to use existing channels in making foreign purchases, and will work through established brokers and dealers. The order does not affect existing contracts, except that future shipments and goods now in transit must be sold only to the Metals Reserve Co., except under written authorization by the Director of Priorities.

Ask Funds to Build 33 000 Planes

An urgent request by Army officials for a $12,525,872,474 appropriation to construct 33,000 planes in preparation for "our offensive knockout blow" was sent to the House Friday—and speedy approval was taken for granted.

Lieutenant General H. H. Arnold, deputy chief of staff for air, said the program was necessary to "build up an Air force both for the United States and its Allies, and told the House appropriations committee:

"We are not only accelerating the attainment of our original state of preparedness, but we also are conducting combat operations and must concurrently build toward our offensive knockout blow.

"Now, by decisive action we must counteract the time advantage of the enemy . . . It is considered essential that funds for this program be made attainable at the earliest possible date in order that the present facilities may prepare for further production and that the new facilities may be expected."

Testimony by Arnold and other officials, made public today, showed that $7,144,056,430 of the fund—the largest single military appropriation in the history of Congress —would go for complete airplanes. Another $1,547,948,529 has been allocated for armament, aircraft cannon, small arms ammunition, bombs and pyrotechnics.

Spare engines and parts will require almost $1,900,000,000, and new facilities to expedite production of the planes will take another $933,000,000. About $1,000,000 will be spent on supplies of the signal corps and chemical warfare service.

Arnold said that the requested program, except for heavy bombers, was a continuation of the present rate of production and was made before President Roosevelt asked Congress for 60,000 planes in 1942 and 125,000 in 1943.

Disclosing that the pending appropriation would cover procurement of 23,000 combat planes and 10,000 training craft.

This American Tire Made From This American Bush

O'Neil Jones Kloesner
 Proving that manufacture of tires from the American grown guayule shrub is practical! William O'Neil, president of The General Tire & Rubber Co. has turned over to Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, a specimen of the mature plant and a tire made entirely of guayule rubber. The tire was made in the same General Tire plant and in the same machines used in making tires from far eastern rubber. O'Neil has urged the development of guayule as an emergency rubber supply for years. A bill now before Congress calls for the immediate planting of all available guayule seed in the states of Texas, California, New Mexico and Arizona. Because it thus far is impossible to make a tire from synthetic rubber alone, O'Neil is urging the growth of guayule to supplement the 400,000 ton production of synthetic already announced by Jones. American Legion Posts in all parts of the country are supporting the O'Neil guayule program, which O'Neil discussed this week with Secretary Jones and H. J. Kloesner, president of the Rubber Reserve Corporation.

W. D. Cranston, Officer-in-Charge, Dallas Recruiting Station, received an announcement to this effect from the Navy Department.

The men will be enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve, Class V-1, for the duration of the emergency. The applicant at the time he enlists may ask to be placed on the inactive list until their present school semester is completed or he may ask for immediate duty.

The qualifications are: be 17 years of age and not past their 21st birthday; be of good character; possess the moral, educational, and physical requirements specified for enlistment in the Regular Navy and must have no dependents.

Schools and colleges where these men attend will be encouraged to give extra physical and scholastic training by recommendation from the Bureau of Navigation. Advancement will be fast for the man that applies himself. Men who desire to enter the

Men 20-45 To Register Feb. 16

A Selective Service registrant, at the forthcoming Feb. 16 registration of men in the military service age bracket of 20 to 45 years old, who has more than one place of residence may choose which one he wants recorded as his place of residence to designate the Local Board that will have jurisdiction over him, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service director, said today.

General Page emphasized, however, that no transient address may be recorded and that Selective Service regulations prohibit any interference or dictation by a registrar when a registrant who has more than one place of residence is making his choice as to which he desires recorded as his home address.

"It is the intent of the law and the purpose of Selective Service regulations," General Page pointed out, "that each man be registered at his home address and be subject to call to fill quotas from that Local Board. That is a basic principle of democratic procedure and I expect every Selective Service registrar in the State of Texas to adhere strictly to it."

Registration cards to be used February 16 will contain a space for the registrant to list his place of residence. In the event that he has more than one place, he is required to list his own choice as his place of residence.

In addition, the registration card will have space for recording a mail address. This may be the same as the place of residence or it may be another address where the registrant will receive his mail more readily.

Selective Service regulations also require each registrant to describe the place of his residence so that its location may be determined from its description. A registrant who lives on a R.F.D. route will be required to supplement his mailing address by a description of the location of his residence. For this reason, and because some registrants may be able to receive their mail more readily at an address other than their place of residence, the registration card has space for both addresses.

A description of the place of residence of the registrant, General Page stressed, will once and for all time determine the local board that will have jurisdiction over the registrant. The mailing address, however, can be changed when necessary and local boards will send their notices to the mailing addresses without regard to place of residence. While the mailing address is subject to change whenever the registrant moves, General Page pointed out, registrars are instructed to warn the registrant that once he designates his place of residence he irrevocably designates the local board which will have continuous jurisdiction over him.

Places of registration for Lamb county will be announced later.

Sugar Rationing To Take Place

Government rationing of sugar, it was announced Saturday, will begin early next month with each person limited to about a pound a week.

Announcing the program, Price Administrator Leon Henderson said it was proposed too, to recover excess stocks from persons who have hoarded supplies.

The prospective allowance of one pound per person a week compares with average per capita home consumption of about 1 1/2 pounds a week in 1941.

Henderson said there was an actual shortage of about one-third in the sugar supply, and that this, rather than hoarding, necessitated the first food stuff rationing of the war.

Rationing books have been designed and printing of them will be started in a day or two, he said. Then, in a direct word of warning to hoarders, Henderson asserted:

"Those who have stocks on hand are advised to start using them now.

"Consumers who are in possession of abnormally large stocks of sugar are warned that they will not be permitted to gain an advantage from their supposed foresight."

He did not amplify on this statement, but OPA officials stressed it as one of the most important in the rationing announcement. Action against hoarders will be an important part of the rationing program, they said.

"The most important reason for rationing sugar," Henderson declared, "is to insure that all the customers are treated equitably.... There will be enough sugar for each person next year to supply all basic dietary needs. Until the formal rationing system is instituted, every user of sugar can help the government by restricting his purchases of sugar to minimum current requirements. Retailers during this period in many cases may be expected to restrict the amount of sugar which can be purchased by any one consumer."

Asked To Produce More Eggs In 1942

Texas poultry men are being called upon to produce 1514 more carloads of eggs in 1942 than were produced in 1941. To do this is going to require better management on the average Texas poultry farm.

In order to reach the poultrymen and get over the message of National Defense to them, the poultry departments of the A. and M. College have arranged to present a week's poultry program over the regular 6:15 to 6:30 a. m. radio program from College Station beginning February 2. The dates and programs are as follows:

- Feb. 2—Poultry's Part in National Defense.
- Feb. 3—Buying the Right Kind of Chicks.
- Feb. 4—Fundamentals of Successful Chick brooding.
- Feb. 5—Feeding Baby Chicks.
- Feb. 6—Reducing Chick Mortality.
- Feb. 7—The 1942 Poultry Defense Program.

Americans Down 90 to 100 Jap Planes

American air forces defending the Burma road have lost only three planes and three men since Dec. 7 but have shot down between 90 and 100 Japanese planes, Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold told Congress in testimony before the House appropriations committee made public Friday.

Arnold reported that American planes are outfighting Axis planes on the Russian, African and Far Eastern fronts.

The United States, he said, does not have "to apologize to anybody in the world for the type of airplanes we are producing."

He also reported that:

1. A squadron of American P-40D fighters (Curtiss Kitty Hawks) met a numerically superior force of Axis planes including two German Messerschmitt 109F's in two engagements, destroyed 13 enemy planes and lost one. The 109's were two series more modern than the P-40's. Both types have been made in seven series down to F.

"We are now getting both quality and quantity," Arnold assured the committee.

have done some work on my Masters Degree in Texas Technological College. This makes ten years of experience that I have had teaching in the public schools of Texas, seven of which have been served in Lamb County. During this period I have served as a grade school teacher, as a high school teacher, as the head coach of athletics at Olton for three years, and am now an administrator in the Littlefield Schools. This variety of training and successful service makes me feel that I am well qualified for the position from a standpoint of education and teaching experience. I do realize that any new man will have to study and learn many of the duties of this position by actual experience. This I pledge my greatest efforts to do, if given the chance to serve. Therefore I am sure that I am well qualified to fill this position.

If given the opportunity to serve you as County Superintendent of Schools of Lamb County, I pledge my full time to the job, I pledge complete co-operation with the County Board, and with the local boards and Superintendents of the county. I promise to serve the schools of the county fairly, and impartially, to the best of my ability at all times.

I am just a common, country raised West Texan who has an ambition to serve you, and have always had to fight hard for my accomplishments and promotions. For this reason I am depending on my friends, "The People Of This County," to respond to my call for aid and support in this campaign.

I am taking this opportunity to earnestly solicit your vote and support, and I assure you in advance that it will be greatly appreciated by me and many of our other friends.

I hope to see you personally soon, certainly before time for the election.

ted and sentenced at no expense to you other than the routine expense of your Judge, Sheriff's Department and District Attorney as a jury trial was not required in any case. I am pleased to add that these convictions ended a long series of burglaries and thefts directed at pump equipment over the district.

"On the other hand, I consider the business before the petit juries has been handled in the same manner without any let down in the enforcement of the law-six major murder cases have been disposed of before juries with only one acquittal. You will find that two of these murder cases were disposed of in a morning's session with the defendants pleading guilty and accepting sentences of twenty-five years and life respectively. Only one murder case has been appealed and the same was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals as to a nine year sentence. I believe that any success in the handling of your business has been attained by a close co-operation with your officers. And, I mention these matters not in the desire to discuss any purported record but rather to call to your attention a policy established in the office of District Attorney—prompt disposal of all cases with the elimination of unnecessary expense and all red tape.

"However, your grand jurors will tell you, I am sure, that it has not all been prosecution—that many matters has been disposed of by the grand juries before reaching court by reason of the fact that there has always been a prompt recognition of and a prompt disposal of those problems which may best be solved by human understanding and consideration rather than prosecution—this has been especially true in the handling of cases involving young men and women and first offenders.

"I consider it imperative that any man seeking the office of District Judge should be qualified both by legal training and by human experience to be able to best serve your interests. In the coming campaign I ask your continued support upon the basis that I am fully qualified to serve you as your next District Judge.

County Agents Speak At Fieldton H. D. Meeting

The Fieldton Home Demonstration Club was hostess to families of the members and others at a regular meeting held in the Fieldton School Wednesday night, January 21, 1942. Mrs. W. E. Owens, president, presided. The secretary, Mrs. Vernon Qualls, was present to call the roll and read the minutes.

Following the singing of the National Anthem, Mrs. C. G. Barnett led in a prayer.

Three "radio skits" were presented. The subject of each was, "Eat The Right Kind Of Food". The presentation was cleverly arranged with nothing in sight of the audience but the radio and loud speaker. Those taking part in the skits were: Mr. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Buck, Mrs. Vernon Qualls, Mrs. M. J. Tomlinson and daughter, Don, and Miss Jean Reed.

V. F. Jones, County Agent, then spoke on the food situation and our privilege in attempting to meet the needs by producing more and better food at home.

Miss Beatrice McCurdy, County Home Demonstration Agent, pointed out the cost of food for a family when bought, and compared the savings as well as patriotism involved when food is grown at home. Mrs. Earl Lamb, read "New Year's Resolutions".

Mrs. R. W. Stanfield presented to the group numerous whole grain dishes prepared by the members. Much of the flour was ground from wheat washed and cleaned at home and prepared with hand flour mill which was bought by the club last year. Those present were allowed to sample the foods.

The members present voted to sew for the Red Cross and to help National Defense in any way that they could.

I'm in a new dog house... Mrs. Harvey H. Thomas put me in her dog house last week end. In the news story about her recent wedding to Sgt. Thomas, I stated that she was employed at the Littlefield Hospital. Should have been Payne-Shotwell Hospital. Mrs. Thomas is the former Miss Lucille H. Stengel.

At the annual meeting of the members of the Lamb County Electric, Co-operative, Inc., next Monday, $25 will be given away in defense stamps. O. K. Woodall, manager, reports. About the time I decided I should purchase a bicycle, local stores are sold out... and I read in the papers where bicycles must be registered. Now I'm worrying about how long my rubber caps on my shoe heels will last!

Wonder who will be first in Littlefield to purchase a bicycle "built for two"!

Mrs. Bill Pass and her six-year-old son, Gary, are making knots on a bicycle built for one.

It's attributed to Nat Pendleton: Commenting on the progress of the automobile industry, he said: "Everything's getting simpler. In 1940, no running boards; 1941, no gear shift; 1942, no cars!"

Psychologists say that only smart people have Hay Fever. But ordinary people can have sinus... the reason... It isn't fun to have a doctor poke that junk in your nose... and lately I've been tempted to give him a poke on the nose, only the relief that comes to my head after a treatment. Yes, just ordinary people have sinus.

Did you see that two-wheeled buggy in town Sunday... It was one of those very old fashioned ones... (That's liable not to be so old fashioned in a few months)... that was brought out of storage. Knife wheels... top turned down... with a man driving a dapple gray horse. Reminded me of the things Mother told me about, as she placed her babies in a two-wheeled buggy and drove across

S. & D. DRUG STORE OBSERVE FIRST ANNIVERSARY IN BUSINESS FEB. 1

Grover Dennis and Jack Straw, are observing on February 1, their first anniversary as owners and operators of the S. & D. Drug, it being just a year since they purchased this establishment from D. B. Bryan.

During this time Mr. Dennis has been manager of the establishment, and states that they have enjoyed a nice volume of business, and that their records show a decided increase monthly.

Mr. Dennis asked the Leader to express the appreciation and thanks of himself and Mr. Straw to their many customers and friends for their patronage during this past year.

The S. & D. Drug Store maintain two registered pharmacists, to serve in the Prescription Department—Mr. Dennis, and W. C. Reddell. They feature McKesson brand of drugs, and carry other standard lines of merchandise, usually found in a drug store, including various lines of cosmetics; and have a modern fountain, serving ice cream—hot and cold drinks and sandwiches.

these great plains not too many years ago.

A man in Hereford recently said he had found out why they are registering the old men in the second call. He says, "They want the gold out of their teeth, the silver out of our hair, and the lead out of our pants."

Maybe so... But when this sugar rationing business starts... every man, woman and child will register, for Uncle Sam will want our sweet tooth!

Pay your poll tax... if you haven't already... By the time July arrives, this horrible war may be at such a stage that it will take a good political fight to keep our minds sane... to make us realize that life must go on... and to make us thankful we still have democracy.

Keep smiling... For that is one of the twelve things that American people do that provokes Hitler.

Another place where I came in. MARGIE.

OLIVER ROW CROP 70

Plant the Modern "70" Way for Ease, Speed, Economy, Profit

Plant one round with an Oliver Row Crop "70" centrally mounted planter and you'll be satisfied that the "70" has everything, does everything and is a beauty any way you look at it. Whether sweep or runner or loose-ground disc planter, you get the accurate planting at uniform depth that you need for growing cotton, corn, or any other row crop, and later it's straight-in-line on the row for easy, fast cultivation with the "70". Central tool mounting enables you to watch the planting closely without strain, and to work up to short headlands. The Tip Toe Wheels never run in the planted row and do not pack the soil.

You'll like the way the "70" handles—smooth, lively 6-cylinder power under finger-tip control from the comfortable driver's seat—automotive steering with steering braking on the turns—the Oliver Variable Speed Governor Control that enables you to use only the fuel needed for the work—speed that cleans up planting in a hurry.

Pick your fuel and your "70"—for gasoline it's the "70" HC high compression engine, for kerosene or distillate it's the "70" KD, each specially designed for the fuel—but get a "70". Ask us to demonstrate America's newest tractor now!
