U. S. And Canada Have Single Goal-- Airplanes And Tanks To Crush Hitler

(This is the second of a series of articles on a trip made recently to the Northern States and Canada by the publisher of the Leader and Mrs. Drake. The third article will appear in next week's issue of the Leader.)

By MORLEY B. DRAKE

Traveling and visiting in Canada, we formed the opinion that there is much similarity between Canada at war and the United States under the present program of assistance to Great Britain and all nations seeking the overthrow of the Axis powers.

There is not any hysteria in Canada; Canadians are moving forward in the execution of a program timed and designed to accomplish the utmost in the struggle against Hitler. (Continued on page four)

Shown in the picture above are two does and three bucks they bagged. Virgil Grisham is shown standing between a doe and the largest buck brought home, a 19-pointer. Others in the picture are; left to right, J.

E. Brannen, Ray Nix and B. D. Garland. Garland bagged the biggest buck--and this was his first deer hunt. Beginner's luck! Stuart Champlin of Lubbock accompanied this group.

Local Business Men Return From Two Weeks Hunt

B. D. Garland Kills 19-Point Buck In Rocky Mountains

This is a story about "the biggest one didn't get away!"

Local hunters believed there are not many deer larger than the buck killed by B. D. Garland recently in northwestern Colorado, for the buck he bagged was a 19 pointer (according to the way Texans count--whereas, up in Colorado, he probably was a nine-pointer).

Mr. Garland, accompanied by J. E. Brannen, Ray Nix, and Virgil Grisham of Littlefield, and Stuart Champlin of Lubbock, returned Saturday morning, after a two weeks hunting trip in the mountains near Rifle, Colorado.

Each of the men got his buck and Garland, Nix and Champlin each bagged a doe, so--venison from eight deer will fill several lockers (Continued on Back Page)

Plan To Build 201 Miles To Serve 438 Members In District

Is Fourth Allotment To Be Made; First Awarded In Oct. 1939

An allotment of $103,000 to build 201 miles of REA lines was awarded the Lamb County Electric Cooperative, Inc., last Thursday by the rural electrification administration in Washington, D. C., O. K. Woodall, superintendent announced.

A telegram from Congressman Geo. Mahon of Washington received last Thursday morning, notified Mr. Woodall of the allotment. He also received telegrams later in the day from U. S. Senator Tom Connally and from the REA Headquarters.

The recent allotment will be used to build lines to serve 438 members in Lamb, Hockley and Hale counties. Application was made by the local cooperative for the allotment more than a year ago, Mr. Woodall said. The new section of the line to be built will be called the D section, and this is the fourth allotment received by the cooperative. Lines will be built in the Olton vicinity, extending as far north as the Castro county line, and south of Littlefield in Hockley county. Approximately 100 miles of line will be built for short taps, he said.

The first allotment for the REA project in Lamb county was made three years ago, and the first contract for construction was awarded in October, 1937. Since that time, two other allotments were made, and the total allotted was $345,000 to build 442 miles of line to serve 1,087 members in Lamb, Hale, Bailey, Cochran and Hockley counties.

Most of the members of the Lamb County Electric Cooperative, Inc., besides enjoying the electric lights, have furnished their homes and equipped their farms with electrical appliances that were previously considered "luxuries" to rural families.

The office of the cooperative was recently moved to larger quarters, located on Phelps Avenue, next door to the West Texas Gas Company.

Officers of the Lamb County Electric Cooperative, Inc., this year are; C. A. Thomas, Amherst, president; G. W. McGowan, Anton, vice-president; J. R. Kuykendall, Spade, secretary-treasurer; C. M. Sanders, Pettit, K. Brantner, Sudan; Ben Gann, Olton; C. W. Smiley, Littlefield; Doss Manor, Littlefield, and J. J. Cook, Amherst, director.

WAR IN NEW YORK

Now that the World Series baseball battle is over, New Yorkers can go back to war again.

There is no doubt, from all reports, that New York is the most war-minded city in America—but not so much so that they let the German-British skirmish take precedence over that titanic affair between the Yankees and the Dodgers.

It is a healthy sign that New Yorkers still can show such enthusiasm over a game. We often think of the people in our nation's biggest city as being too concerned with dollars and intrigue and sophistication to waste any enthusiasm on such minor matters as baseball. But everyone who saw the games reports that the fervor displayed at the Yankee stadium and at Ebbetts Field in Brooklyn, even surpassed the mad celebration which took place in New York when the Armistice was signed.

It was probably a relief to New Yorkers to see baseball instead of war in the headlines of their newspapers. But it must have been discouraging to Adolf Hitler to hear that Americans, when really worked up over even such a thing as baseball, still show that same fervor, that same mad enthusiasm which played such a major role in bringing Germany to terms in 1918.

It is hard for a nation regimented as Germany is to realize that spontaneity still exists in our part of the world. But, because of Germany's experience in the last war, it shouldn't be hard for them to realize that such undictated natural enthusiasm, if let loose in war, would even today compensate for an enormous number of tanks and planes operated by cold-blooded goose-steppers.

Germany had better be careful or some smart British propaganda agent will start a rumor in Brooklyn that Hitler insulted the Dodgers. That would mean war—even if Brooklyn had to fight alone!

Under THE DOME At Austin By GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 14—(UP)—Young Texas legislators, wondering "where do we go from here?" should be pleased to learn that many of their predecessors are doing well in higher, better-paid government positions.

Through the high-beamed halls of the Texas Senate and House of Representatives, approximately 5,375 legislators marched during Texas' 95 years of statehood. They were frontiersmen and pioneers with nut-ton-chop whiskers and eager-eyed young lawyers seeking to make a mark in the world.

The average legislator serves two terms, which amounts to four years in the House or eight years in the Senate. Most get no farther in public life than the legislature, but dozens of others advanced to help make history in the life of the state and nation.

The most illustrious graduate of the Texas legislature is John Nance Garner, squire of Uvalde, who went to Congress and served as speaker and vice-president before his retirement. Nine Texans in Congress, Sen. Tom Connally and eight representatives, got their early training in the legislature.

Sam Rayburn of Bonham, speaker of the present Congress, once presided over the Texas House of Representatives. Other former Texas legislators in Congress are Nat Patton of Crockett, Wright Patman of Texarkana, Lindley Beckworth of Gilmer, Bob Poag of Waco, Milton H. West of Brownsville, Eugene Worley of Shamrock and R. E. Thomason of El Paso. Thomason is another ex-speaker of the Texas house.

Several governors laid the foundation for their election while serving in the legislature. One is Coke Stevenson, the present chief executive, the only man to serve as speaker, lieutenant-governor and governor, consecutively.

Eloquent Pat M. Neff rose from the legislature to the governorship and now serves as president of Baylor University.

Lawyer-legislators frequently take prominent judicial posts. Harry Graves is on the court of criminal appeals; S. H. German on the Supreme Court's commission of appeals. These include J. H. Baugh of the Austin court, Marvin H. Brown, Sr., of Fort Worth, and W. B. O'Quinn of Beaumont.

Two former district judges, S. J. Isaacs of El Paso and Paul Donald of Bowie, now are serving in the legislature. But several were lawmakers before they became district judges. Recent examples are Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, the state's only woman district judge; Kenneth McCalla of Houston; A. R. Stout of Ennis; and A. S. Broadfoot of Bonham.

State departments claim scores of legislators, who decide they had rather live in Austin on a moderate salary than run for election someplace else. These men virtually disappear from the public eye. But others are appointed to important positions that keep them in frequent contact with friends throughout the state.

In the latter class are Robert Lee Bobbitt, highway commissioner and former speaker of the Texas House; Bert Ford, head of the liquor law enforcement; Herman Jones, head of the railroad commission's gas utilities division; Tom DeBerry, member of the board of control; and J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture. Of these, only McDonald must be elected to the office.

Many former Texas legislators are in the state departments in minor positions. Recently, Rep. Lon E. Alsop of Carthage resigned to take a position in the state department of welfare. Sen. Clay Cotten of Palestine was appointed head of the gas utilities division of the state railroad commission but because of ill-health at the time, did not take the position.

Former Sen. J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb heads a division in the State Health Department and resided in Austin for many years after ending his legislative service. He is now ill in the Army hospital at Fort Sam Houston.

The state Railroad Commission has on its staff Former Representative C. F. Sullivan of Gainesville, Stanford Payne of Del Rio and Reese Turner of Cameron, besides Jones. Former Rep. Roy I. Tenhant, Jr., of Longview was on the staff of the Comptroller's Department until recently when he entered the military service. Former Rep. Joe Skiles of Denton is director of student activities at A. & M. College, and former Rep. Rushing Manning of Center is taking a training course for the state police staff. Former Rep. S. E. Barnett of Lone Oak for many years has been technical director for the printing shop operated at the state prison at Huntsville. Convinced of the innocence of a prisoner-worker in the print shop, Barnett launched a campaign to prove the man's innocence and secured a pardon for him.

Unless Texas motorists become responsive to warning signs, flagmen and road workers of the state highway department may have to be classified as following hazardous occupations. Recently, so many flagmen and workmen have been injured that the department has issued an appeal to motorists to exercise more care in approaching and passing stretches of roadway where repairs are under way. One flagman was killed near San Antonio. Another flagman placed on a west Texas highway to warn drivers about flooded roads was severely injured. Another placed to direct traffic around a working crew and one stationed to notify drivers that a center-stripping machine was at work, were recent victims.

The flagmen are put out for the dual purpose of protecting the road workmen and to protect the motoring public from accidents. If the highways were closed instead of being kept open to controlled traffic, the public would have to travel many additional miles over detours.

Trainers for the Texas state police service are having busy days at Camp Mabry where the prospective new patrolmen are being given instruction. A bugle call rous them out at 6 a. m. By 7 a. m. they have dressed, had roll call, a quarter of an hour of calisthenics, and are ready for breakfast.

Then from 8 a. m. until noon they are drilled and given class room instruction. Divided into platoons, they spend an hour in snappy military drill after morning classes before lunch.

The afternoon is spent in motorcycle riding, pistol and rifle shooting, physical training and in hearing lectures on various types of work they will encounter. There are one-hour periods for recreation, dinner and first-aid training and then, after a two-hour study period, the day's grind is ended at 9 p. m.

If he is not too tired, the trainee can have an hour to enjoy himself before taps sounds at 10 p. m. After graduation, scheduled for late this month, the trainee will be assigned, to work as a rookie for six months' probationary work with experienced man. Sixty of the trainees will become drivers license examiners and 33 will be assigned patrol duty on state highways.

Rep. Duncan Hughes of Groesbeek, who left for Toronto, Canada at the close of the special session of the 47th legislature to enlist in the Canadian flying forces, is in Texas. Not that he has abandoned his plan to join the British flying arm, but because he was notified on arrival in Canada that he is eligible for a commission in the service, and was advised to return and furnish the required data.

Slaton Measures Morton, 26 to 6

Elzo Collier, Slaton's bounding, ball-toting fullback, scored three touchdowns and otherwise led Coach Stumpy Hamilton's Tigers on a rampage at Slaton Friday night for a 26 to 6 triumph over the Morton Indians.

The game was a north zone district 5-A tussle and shoved the hapless Morton Indians further into the cellar standings.

Collier started the Slaton landslide in the first period with a 65-yard thriller. His running mate, Quarterback Jimmy Cooper, came back in the second to add another Tiger touchdown on a short plunge to finish off a long drive, Collier duplicating the feat a few minutes before halftime intermission with another short line plunge, and Slaton's third touchdown. Collier also added the extra tally after Cooper's counter, splitting the uprights from placement.

In the fourth period, Collier again bounced back to climax a Tiger downfield march with a short plunge, also adding the final extra point. Morton scored on a "break" in that wild final period, recovering a fumbled Tiger punting attempt on the Slaton six, driving on over from there. Defensive standouts for Coach Hamilton's boys were Louie Cates center, and Luther Faulkner, guard, who snared a pair of Morton passes, with Collier and Cooper leading the offensive maneuvers. First downs nine for the Indians, 15 for Slaton.

CHAPTER VIII

SYNOPSIS

Horton, whose older sister, Maxine, is a successful actress, is a successful actor, and is a school teacher at Roseland, where Peggy is visiting with her grandmother, that Maxine is engaged to be married to a man named Harry. Maxine has broken her engagement, and Maxine asks her friend Newton to help find it. Newton tells her that her grandmother is a detective. He is called by Peggy's "engagement."

"Isn't he here? I saw him from the house coming up the drive, but he didn't come in."

who wouldn't be allowed to marry the wrong man. Oh, I hate him!" she thought, slamming the magazine shut.

There were voices in the hall now. Gran's and Stanley's. Gags was on her way upstairs. Maxine and Nancy started towards them and Peggy slipped away from them quite unnoticed.

Without thinking where she was going Peggy ran through the rose garden and into the summer house. This was where she had always come with her troubles since she was a child.

It was here that she had come when Maxine had written that she was going to remain in California. And it was here that she came now when she was unhappy about Stanley not finding the ring, she told herself. What had he been saying to Gran this afternoon? Had he told her about the engagement, and that the ring was here? But even as she thought of that she dismissed the idea. He would not do that, she knew. What was she unhappy about? What more natural than that Maxine's director should be in love with his star and follow her home in order to be with her? He had not spoken a word of love to her, Peggy, and if she had been foolish enough to imagine things from his tone, his expression—well, it was just too bad.

He had only been glad for the family when she told him she would give Harry back his ring. Of course he had been glad. He wouldn't want Maxine's sister to do anything foolish. And she had been counting the minutes until six o'clock when he would bring her the ring. And now it was—she glanced at her wrist watch—it was two minutes to six, and he was probably in the house laughing with Maxine at the joke they had put over on them.

But he wasn't in the house because just then she saw him come out of the front door, pause a moment there to look towards the rose garden and then start down the steps. Well, she wouldn't wait, she wouldn't be here if he came. She didn't want to hear his explanation. She didn't feel like laughing over the joke. She wanted the ring to give back to Harry and then she wanted to forget men.

However, it seemed unnecessary to run away. Evidently he was not coming to the rose garden. She heard hurried footsteps on the other side of the hedge, then she heard low voices near the corner back of the summer house. Stanley had probably come out to meet Maxine. They could not be seen from the house, here at the end. Even she could not see them, nor could she catch what they were saying.

But she realized suddenly that it was not Maxine to whom Stanley was talking. Both voices belonged to men. She started forward in dismay. Harry! He had come back and Stanley had seen him and taken him around the end of the hedge out of sight of everyone to explain to him that she wanted to break the engagement, and would he come back next week for the ring, and Harry was telling him there never had been an engagement and—oh, dear! What should she do? Would it be worse to go to them and make her own explanations or to slip out of the garden and be out of sight if they should glance in here.

Before she could decide Nancy rushed out of the front door and standing on the step looked about her anxiously.

"Pidge!" she called. "Pidge! Where are you?" She hurried down the steps and into the garden.

Peggy breathed again. Maybe after all it was only Nancy to whom Stanley was talking.

"Isn't he here?" Nancy continued, starting up the path towards Peggy. "I saw him from the house coming up the drive, but he didn't come in."

As Peggy started to reply she heard the sound of running feet behind the hedge and an eager voice cried, "Here I am."

Peggy's mouth remained open, and she stood as if petrified with astonishment. Here he was indeed. Harry—Harry and Nancy rushing towards each other. Harry was Pidge. Harry's ring had been Nancy's. And she—oh, good grief!

"Gosh, honey, I was thrilled when you called me last night," he was saying to Nancy who interrupted him quickly.

"Where is my ring?" she asked.

She was watching him intently and did not hear Peggy's "Oh!" breathed in a woebegone whisper. Harry was the only one who seemed at ease. Taking the jeweler's box from his pocket he opened it and slipped the ring on the finger of his evidently surprised fiancée.

"Where did you suppose it was?" he asked.

"Oh!" both girls exclaimed. It would have been hard to tell which of them sounded the more astonished.

"It's just like yours, isn't it, Peggy?" Nancy asked sweetly. Too sweetly.

Harry had not noticed Peggy in the entrance of the summer house and turned towards her now in embarrassment.

"I believe it is," Stanley, entering the garden from the opposite side, answered for Peggy.

Nancy gave him a quick suspicious glance.

"It's too bad you can't find yours," she continued, still watching Peggy.

"But Peggy's has been found," Stanley explained. "I was just bringing it to her." He drew a ring from his pocket and stood holding it in his hand. It was an exact duplicate of Nancy's.

"The one from Carver's, of course!" Peggy cried to herself. "He was there when Mr. Carver talked about making it. It was he who bought it this afternoon."

"You see they are exactly alike. Strange, isn't it?" Stanley was saying.

"But where?" Peggy exclaimed, glancing from one ring to the other.

Stanley laughed. "Don't give me the credit. Mrs. Horton is the real detective. You didn't know, did you," addressing Peggy, "that for the past ten years she has been reading all of the best detective books that she could buy? Some one gave her one on her seventeenth birthday and since then she had read them regularly. She thought you and Maxine were too young for them, so I think your grandmother has been reading them on the sly. She told me about them this afternoon."

"The Monday express packages!" Peggy thought with an inward chuckle.

Stanley caught the twinkle in her eye, and smiled at her. "I had a hard time convincing her that a motion picture director could have half the brains of a good detective, but I think I finally put it over after I told her I, too, had a weakness for detective stories. However, she told me that even an amateur should have been able to find the ring. According to her, girls have always hidden their jewelry in the same place. So when she decided I had been given plenty of time to find it, without any success, she dug it up herself. Guess where? In the toe of one of Miss Nancy's evening slippers."

"That young lady had the grace to blush."

"But who is the man you are going to marry, Peggy?" she demanded.

Stanley looked at Peggy. Peggy looked at Stanley. If there was a question in his eyes the answer in hers must have been the right one for he was smiling when he slipped the ring on her finger.

"Whom do you think?" he asked happily.

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

Our assignment: Building Pratt & Whitney valve-in-head aircraft engine for defense use.

A word about the calibre of the distinguished new automobiles that Buick now brings to market for 1942

Two thoughts stood solemn sentinel throughout all the planning of our 1942 cars.

The first was:—in their materials these cars must not trespass on the current needs of national defense.

The second was:—in their quality and performance they must not be an "ersatz" product.

If you think this leaves only a cramped and stifling byway for engineering to advance in, remember that difficulties are sometimes the spur that real ability needs.

Our new cars, it seems to us, superbly prove this. But we neither expect nor ask you to take our word for it.

The real way to know what they are, and how marvelously they perform, is to breeze them down a country road or tool them through clotted traffic.

The sure way to gauge their mettle and their inmost goodness is to plump them squarely into the stiffest task your imagination can supply.

So come try the gorgeous new cars that we not only say pace the pack for 1942 but are bold enough to believe set an all-time high in all-round automotive excellence.

They will make you glad—nay, proud—all over again that you're living in America—and now!

SAM ED McCASKILL JOINS BRITISH CIVILIAN TECHNICAL CORPS; LEAVES FOR ENGLAND VIA MONTREAL LAST WEEK

Sam Ed McCaskill, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McCaskill, formerly of Littlefield, but now of Grand Prairie, Texas, left Dallas last week for England to serve in a British Civilian Technical Corps.

McCaskill is a graduate of the Littlefield High School, where he was a football star, later attending A. & M. College, where he served in the Band.

After joining Winston Churchill's team at Dallas, he received instructions and a ticket to Montreal, Canada, at the office of P. G. Jefferson, district passenger representative, in Dallas of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which is acting in the Southwest as Transportation office of the Civilian Technical Corps.

Mr. McCaskill will be a marine wireman.

While in Dallas completing arrangements for his trip overseas he was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. D. V. Mathis, 729 Westmount Ave.

Previous to leaving for England, Mr. McCaskill was employed by Sears-Roebuck Company at Grand Prairie.

Sam Ed's brother, R. E. McCaskill, Jr., went to England in September to serve the Technical Corps as a draftsman.

Sam Ed's mother, Mrs. R. E. McCaskill, in reporting her son's departure, asked that the Leader express their deep appreciation and thanks to those business men of Littlefield who helped Sam Ed in any way to secure the position at Grand Prairie, and also those who assisted him to secure the enviable opportunity to go overseas.

Mrs. McCaskill, further, said: "Sam Ed has been quite unhappy for sometime because of bad eyes and teeth, which kept him out of any part of the Army or Navy. However, he felt when he was given this place that he could still be of use, and left feeling very glad."

"We will never cease being homesick and rather lonely for Littlefield. It was home to us too long for us to ever feel at home anywhere else."

American Food Needed Overseas

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (UP) Oct. 10—Without continued shipments of American food, England would be forced to drop out of the war in a few months. R. M. Evans, administrator of the A. A. A., said here last night.

He addressed a crowd of 5,000 farmers and consumers at the municipal auditorium. He returned last week from a four weeks trip to England where he made a first hand survey of food problems.

Evans likened the war to an automobile which is rapidly plunging towards the bottom of a deep pit. He said that the American people—particularly farmers—are in a position to take control of this automobile, if they act quickly, and steer it back onto a safe course.

"There is no question," Evans said, "that the conflict that has engulfed Europe, Asia and Africa is being fought for keeps. We will either have a Nazi or a democratic world, depending on who wins." land, Evans said he was hungry all the time. He had only one egg in that time and he saw only one orange.

But he said the English were doing a good job and were producing all of the food possible, even plowing up golf courses. Rationing is on a fair basis, he said, and persons without funds are given food free.

U.S. And Canada—

ism in any form anywhere. CANADA-U. S. HAS ONE GOAL. Canadians and Americans appear to have one goal: "Clouds of airplanes" and "acres of tanks" to crush Hitler.

The words of Chairman Cannon of Missouri, in presenting the new lend-lease expenditure proposal to the House, are very applicable to the Canadian viewpoint. The representative from Missouri said: "Our allies abroad are fighting with their backs to the wall and cannot survive without our assistance. And if they succumb we must at some portion of our continent be faced by an aggressor who in two short years has destroyed every nation in Europe."

And, in addition to the protection of Canada, Canadians have an added goal: the protection of all of Great Britain because Canada is a portion of that Great empire. There is almost a parallel in this in the United States in the fact that Americans will not stand idly by and see an aggressor trample any of our American possessions.

Canada Has Own Government. Many Americans are of the opinion that Canada is ruled by England. This thought is far from the facts: Canada has a government entirely independent of England or any other part of Great Britain. And the same is true of a large portion of the British Empire. True, a representative of the King resides in Canada, but as far as we have been able to learn he has no voice in the government of Canada.

The government of every nation throughout the world differs from others in many respects, but it appears to us that there is great similarity between the government of the United States and that of Canada. In the United States we have our Washington, in Canada they have their Ottawa, the national capital; in all states in the union we have our state capitals; in every province in Canada, which is a similar division of the country to our states, Canadians have their provincial capitals.

In the matter of law enforcement, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police function not unlike the Federal Bureau of Investigation. They are a fine group of men; in fact, only men of excellent qualifications are permitted to join the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. They work in and out of uniform, the same as our American police. Those who live outside the law fear the mounted Police, those who live within the law enjoy their association with them; in fact, we recommend a "mounty" to all Americans who find themselves in any kind of problem in traveling in Canada. Those men talk straight, shoot straight in an extreme emergency, but you would not be aware of those facts in visiting with them.

(To be continued next week)

Postmaster W. D. T. Storey and J. S. Hilliard attended the Feast of Tabernacles of the South Plains Scottish Rite Club in the Lubbock Hotel Tuesday night of last week. Toastmaster for the occasion was R. S. Rodgers. The talk "To the Grand Lodge" by Dr. J. T. Hutchinson of Lubbock was a high light of the meeting.

Ritz To Feature "Harmon of Michigan" This Week End

Universally hailed as the greatest grid star of them all, husky Tom Harmon, swivel-hipped football idol of America, punts and passes his way into the Ritz Theatre Saturday Midnight, continuing thru Sunday and Monday, in Columbia's exciting new film, "Harmon of Michigan". Aply supported by such football greats as Forest Evashevski, also of Michigan, Nick Lukats, of Notre Dame, Ambrose Schindler, of U.S.C., and many others, Harmon is said to provide even more thrills on the screen than he ever brought to the "Honky-Tonk" Coming To Palace Saturday Midnight Sun. & Mon.

Clark Gable and Lana Turner, who stand pretty well up in Hollywood circles when it comes to masculine and feminine "glamour" are teamed for the first time in "Honky Tonk", which opens at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, continuing thru Sunday and Monday.

Gable plays the role of a two-fisted ingratiating card sharp in a gaudy slam-bang gold camp, while Miss Turner appears as a prim Boston school teacher who came West to find her father, but instead discovers perilous adventure and romance.

BUY IT NOW!

WHY

New, 1942 SERVEL ELECTROLUX models are now available. But why buy now? Read these answers and decide for yourself—

Q. 1. Why not wait until next summer? Why buy now?

Ans. Will you be able to buy any refrigerator then? No one knows. The defense program demands daily more and more steel, copper, etc.—the very materials required to build a Servel.

Q. 2. Can I get terms to suit my purse, if I wait?

Ans. No one knows. But—right now, a small down payment puts Servel Electrolux in your home—with 18 long months to pay!

Q. 3. How much tax will I have to pay, if I wait?

Ans. No one knows. Excise taxes, such as these, can be increased by Congress as required. And defense authorities say "far heavier taxes yet to come."

Q. 4. Is it patriotic to buy now?

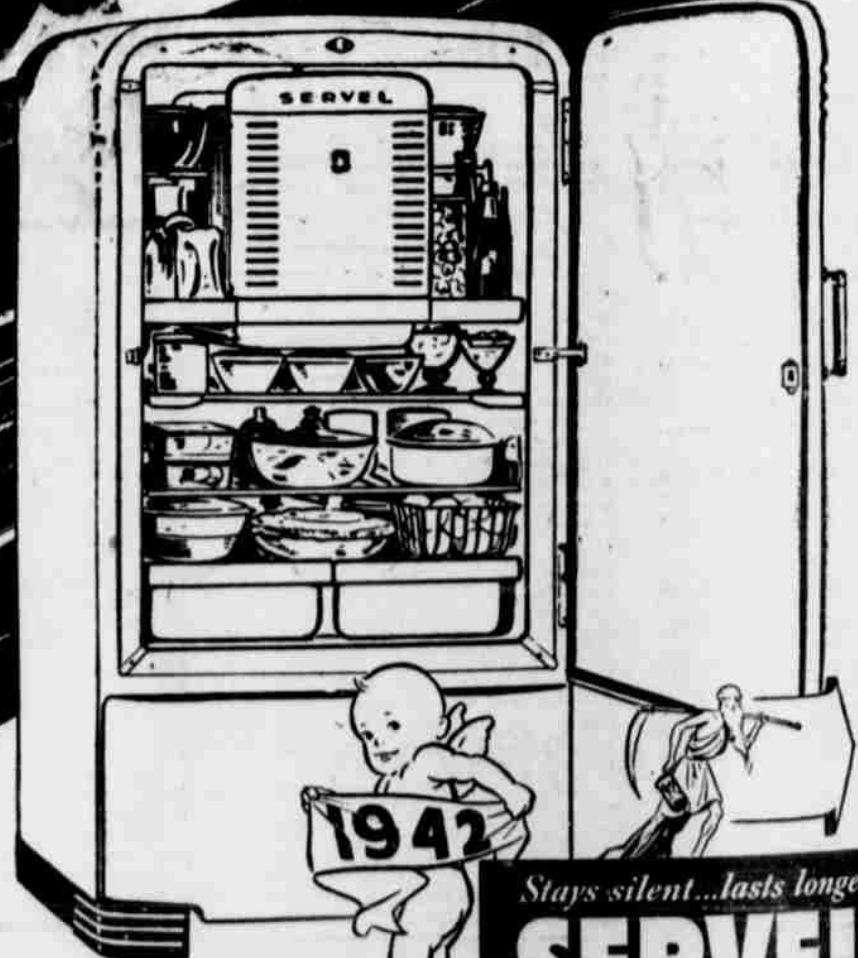

Ans. Buying now may release man-power, machine power, materials, later on, when they are much more badly needed for defense. And protecting the nation's health—your family's health—is a number one requirement for defense.

Q. 5. Is Servel a good investment at a time like this?

Ans. Food prices are going up! We probably haven't seen anything yet. The higher they go, the more Servel Electrolux will save in your home. Remember—it's always summer in your kitchen! At present food prices we can show how an average family may save up to $8.60 per month!

Q. 6. How long can I expect such savings?

Ans. Servel, the Gas refrigerator, is backed by an iron-clad 10-YEAR GUARANTEE on its entire refrigerating system—at no extra cost—still the ONLY one that is. Because there are NO MOVING PARTS in its freezing system. Nothing to wear, to cause costly repairs, to grow inefficient and costly to operate. In West Texas today, there are hundreds of Servel Electrolux refrigerators that have been giving faithful, trouble-free, refrigeration for 10, 12, 14 years—without one cent for service or repairs! Over and over again, they have paid for themselves. Yours can, too. Come in and pick out your 1942 Servel today.

Wildcats Rally 7-0 Over Sudan

Probably the hardest fought of the season, the Littlefield Wildcats staged a spectacular rally final five minutes Friday night to out the Sudan Hornets, 7-0. The contest was a north zone 5-A conference clash. The Hornets outplayed the Wildcats the first half of the game, but the locals showed their superriority in the last half. Climaxing a sustained 45-yard drive, Jimmy Yarbrough, left half, and right half, Roy Hutson, managed to shove over the lone touch-down. Hutson plunged six yards on a fourth down attempt. Fullback Floyd Holberg added the extra point from placement.

First downs were deadlocked at 11 each, penetrations at two each. The losers completed three of nine passes, and Littlefield missed on one attempt.

Approximately 2,500 persons were on hand to see the Wildcats win. An outstanding feature of the game was the display of the Sudan Spring Lake and Littlefield Bands. Guests at the game were from Olton, Spade, Sudan, Amherst, Spring Lake, Anton and Whitharral.

The Littlefield Junior High Baby Cats will clash with the Olton Junior High team at Seely Field, and the Wildcats will meet the Olton Mustangs here next Friday night, October 24.

Olton-Littlefield Grid Clash Highlight For Next Week

The most important event scheduled for next week in Littlefield will be the football game next Friday night, October 24, at Seely Field, when the Wildcats and the Olton Mustangs will have a strong grid battle.

Olton has defeated the locals the past four years, but local fans believe this game will be the turning point, and they are backing the Wildcats with full strength.

The Federal Government will have

Baby Cats To Meet Olton Juniors Here Friday Night

Seeking revenge with all-fours, the Littlefield Babycats, junior high grid team, will meet the Olton junior high football squad at Seely Field Friday night. Olton defeated the juniors last year, taking away a high score.

Couch Roland Wiley has been pushing his players, as much as the weather will permit, this week, getting them in shape for the clash.

Probable starting line-up will be; LE, Homer Peel; LT, Doyle Elliot; LG, Norris Onstead; C, Junior Graham; RG, James Womack; RT, Warren Henegar; QB Billy Smith; LH Oscar Wright; RH Dale Webb; and FB, Buddy Boles.

A hand in this game, Supt. F. A. Hemphill announced Wednesday. A change of admission prices had been made for the Olton-Littlefield game, since 10 per cent of the gross receipts must be paid as a federal tax.

Advance ticket sales will start Monday, and adult tickets can be purchased at any drug store, until Thursday night, for 55c. At the game adults will pay 75c.

Children's tickets can be bought for 25c, provided they purchase them at school. M. Hemphill stated that he felt confident the tickets would all be sold by Thursday.

New Shipment Of Plymouth Cars On Display At Batson's

The Batson Motor Company received Tuesday a new shipment of 1941 Plymouth automobiles in the various models, which are now on display in the Batson showrooms.

Special features of the 1941 Plymouth are longer body structure, wide seats, softly bouyant seat springs, deep floor carpeting, beautiful grained instrument board, wide windows providing for clear vision. In driving the low center of gravity gives a feeling of sureness and steadiness and together with the super-rigid Plymouth double channel frame, gives you a firm, yet floating smooth ride over all types of road. Power engine mounted and rubber mountings help to keep vibration and noise from those who drive and ride Plymouth. Plymouth's long 117-inch wheelbase, front end sway eliminator, front coil springs, airplane type shock absorbers and scientific distribution of car and passenger weight, are all features of the new 1941 model.

CROPS OVER SOUTH PLAINS LOOK GOOD

Crops over the South Plains look good, in spite of excessive rainfall, and when farmers get a chance to get into the fields, harvesting will get under way. K. J. Edwards, College Station, district farm agent leader, said Thursday while in this vicinity.

Edwards had been in the district since Monday and left Thursday for Hale and Swisher counties. He went to Amarillo for a conference there before returning Saturday to College Station.

Hot dry weather will enable cotton bolls to open more rapidly, he said. Cotton has not been opening as fast as it should, while threats of more serious damage to grain crops have been heard, the agent added.

Farmers At Hart Camp Agree On Price For Pulling Cotton

In a recent meeting of the farmers of the Hart Camp community the group agreed that a minimum price of 75c per hundred would be paid for pulling cotton this fall.

Farmers at the meeting are members of the Farm Bureau of Federation, and there are approximately 25 members of that organization in that community.

Homecoming Plans At Tech Approved

Plans for staging a homecoming celebration Nov. 7 and 8 at Texas Technological college were approved Thursday afternoon by the college administrative council convened in the office of Dr. Clifford B. Jones, college president.

The council consented to three activities petitioned by the Alumni and Ex-Students association and the student council: A bonfire the evening of Nov. 7 at a time and place not decided on; a homecoming parade tentatively scheduled to start at 11 a. m. Nov. 8 from the front of city hall, proceed along Broadway and around the circular drive on the campus; and an outdoor convocation for all students, ex-students and faculty members on the circle in front of the administration building, at 11 o'clock the morning of Nov. 8.

The convocation will be the first outdoor assembly of its kind in history of the college. It will be the dual purpose of providing a quiet room for all attending, allowing the students and visitors see the parade without going to downtown traffic.

Although it is supposed by many to be parasitic, scientists say it has been proved that Spanish moss is entirely on the plant food which derives from air and rain.

Already At Says Johnson

LITTLEFIELD, Tex., Oct. 10 — (UP) — Rep. Lyndon Johnson concedes the United States already at war with Germany.

Tenth district congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, in an address to an audience of sailors and soldiers at Camp Barkeley, said today there has been no formal declaration of war.

President Roosevelt issued orders "shoot on sight" orders, Johnson said, and that this nation automatically is involved in an undeclared war, Johnson asserted.

"We are in a very serious situation," he said, the need for unanimity behind Mr. Roosevelt's policy is more imperative than ever.

Johnson, unsuccessful senatorial candidate in a special election last year, said the Navy is "the power of the last real deal" and said its "greatest contribution" is its present commander-in-chief, Roosevelt.

Johnson's senatorial campaign here was fun to be senator for

Big Improvements At Camp Barkeley

CAMP BARKELEY, Tex., Oct. 10 — (UP) — Camp Barkeley looked more like a New Hampshire village than an Army reservation to soldiers returning from maneuvers in Louisiana.

During their absence, nine spire-topped chapels were erected, three new theatres were built on one-time vacant lots, and a new fieldhouse nearly was completed.

Biggest innovation of all was a medical replacement center to house 4,000 men. Construction is under way.

Camp officials said the chapels and 100 day rooms for recreation of enlisted men will be ready for use within two weeks. The theatres hold premieres Nov. 23, and the fieldhouse will be open by Dec. 15.

Although the medical center will be put in service within three weeks, it will not be fully occupied until additional hospital wards are built.

Johnson led for three days as returns were tabulated. He was edged out by U. S. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, former governor.

at the cold storage plant! Mr. Nix previously lived at Rifle, and was familiar with the country. He bagged an 8-pointer near there last year, and he knew the deer roamed in droves in those mountains that are considered the most isolated in Colorado. "The group went to the "happy hunting ground" in a pickup, fully equipped with a large tent, camping paraphernalia, and ammunition. They returned with same—plus the eight deer, and three wolves' pelt, and long whiskers. Nix and Grisham killed the wolves. Two snow storms swept the rocky mountains while they were in camp, and it was during one of these snows that Clyde Dillon of Hutchinson Kansas disappeared when he abandoned his car. The local group assisted hunting parties in searching for Dillion, as he was reported to have been lost in that vicinity. Governor Carr of Colorado Monday took a hand in rounding up experienced woodsmen for a posse in the search for Dillion, and he had not been found, according to latest reports.
