Lubbock Juniors Defeat Local Team 25-13

Lubbock's R. W. Matthews Junior High School football team is gone and Littlefield's Juniors are glad of it. The visiting Broncs won the game here Thursday night, 25-13.

Win number three was posted by the Littlefield Wildcats Friday evening, as they breezed by the Slaton Tigers, 38-7, at Tiger Field in Slaton.

Even with all-state candidate M. C. Northam on the sidelines, the Wildcats had little trouble with the puncheonless Tigers from District 6-AA.

The Slaton powerhouses, Bill Butler and Duane Sooter, were never able to "come alive" and were held in check all evening by the strong defensive Wildcats.

Wildcats' first score came on a 19-yard run by Bill Jones, early in the first quarter, after having their first scoring drive stopped on the Slaton two. R. L. Rhoten added two more touchdowns in the second quarter—one run good for 46 yards, the other good for 14.

Perkins missed all three extra point tries and the half ended, 18-0. Rhoten drove six yards for the next Littlefield touchdown early in the third period. Perkins made his try-for-point kick good and the score was run to 25-0.

Turning in outstanding line jobs for the Broncos were Howard Tucker, James Brewer, Don Pendegrass and Frank Bass.

Whitharral Trims Meadow, 13-7

White busted out of good holes off guard in each of the first and second quarters to score twice on 20-yard runs. His first touchdown was set up by Truman Commons. Panther guard, who gathered up a Bronco fumble in mid-air and raced 15 yards to the Meadow 20.

Lapchick Calls Braun A Perennial Freshman

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

NEW YORK—"Funny thing," Joe Lapchick began, "we've had our best teams the last two years with Carl Braun in the Army. But I sure do want him back."

"He's the most colorful kid we've ever had. Why, we might have beaten Minneapolis in that seventh playoff game last spring if we had Braun."

"Of all the basketball players in the game I doubt if any one has the number of shots that Braun has. He has a very good jump shot, can pivot, toss well from a set position or throw the ball in with one hand."

Got Yankee Bonus
Coach Lapchick of the New York Knickerbockers could go on for a full hour when it comes to Braun, the 25-year-old Manhasset, N.Y., resident who was picked up from Colgate after he became a professional athlete by signing as a pitcher with the New York Yankees for a $4,000 bonus.

"When the old Basketball Association of America passed a rule that any college boy could be signed for pro ball, Ned Fish (Major League Garden executive vice president and Garden basketball director) made his greatest contribution to the Knickerbockers.

"Ned had remembered Braun from Adelphi Academy and from Colgate where he played one year. I had also recalled that he played against my St. John's University team when he was stationed at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. He was a big, skinny kid then but he had lots of drive.

CARL BRAUN

assigned to cadre duty which involves instruction to new troops during their basic. He recently was discharged as a corporal, finishing his tour of duty as athletic and recreation non-com officers of his outfit.

Braun played "quite a bit" of basketball the last two years. His Fort Bragg outfit won the post championship two years and his team also won the Third Army Tournament. Last year Braun was most valuable player in the tournament, averaging 30 points on 151 shots, averaging 30 points on 151 of 38 fouls. Also last winter, Braun traveled to Washington on his week-ends off to play in the American League. He averaged better than 20 points a game.

Thus the Knicks are assured of getting back a player who is in shape. As to a baseball comeback next spring, Braun says he's uncertain "about trying my luck at baseball again." Signed by Scout Paul Krichell, who gave Lou Gehrig, Phil Rizzuto, Marius Russo, Red Rolfe and many others to the Yankees, Braun last pitched in 1950 for the Riverhead, N.Y., semi-pro team.

Braun's top basketball thrill occurred in Providence in 1947 when he scored 47 points to break Joe Fulks' league record of 41.

"It gave me a thrill because I was only 20 and a freshman among the pros at the time," says Carl. Fulks set a new mark of 63 points in a game against Indianapolis in 1948.

Set Colgate Record
Braun, who is 6-5 and scales 185 pounds, attracted attention at Adelphi Academy in Garden City, N.Y. He tallied 396 points in 17 games for a 23-point average. He set a freshman record at Colgate with 296 points in 16 games.

During his first season with the Knicks he averaged 14.2 points a game with 671 markers. He finished ninth in National Basketball Association scoring in 1948-49 with 810 points, to again average 14.2.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire losses throughout the United States, when measured in dollars, are at an all-time high and going higher!

This was reported this week by the National Board of Fire Underwriters as the nation, spurred by President Truman's proclamation of Fire Prevention Week beginning October 5, took stock of its $730 million loss in property and 11,000 lives.

According to John R. Cooney, president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, much of this loss in lives and property resulted from fire in the home. He cited the estimate of 856,703 fires in U.S. cities last year. "Nearly half of 418,871 of them," he said, "were building fires, nearly three-fourths of them, or 293,776, being residences."

The major cause of these fires, he added, were careless use of matches and smoking and misuse of electricity. Such carelessness, he declared, accounts for close to 40 per cent of the nation's reported fire losses.

Fire Prevention Week, which is observed nationally from October 5-11 by proclamation of the President of the United States, directs public attention to the nation's tremendous loss in life and property that results each year from fire, and emphasizes the safety measures whereby these losses can be substantially reduced.

Mr. Cooney pointed out that President Truman has urged every man, woman and child to contribute to the nationwide effort to safeguard America's strength by accepting a "personal responsibility" in the campaign.

"The President of the United States," he said, "warned that our nation can ill afford the needless waste of nearly $1 billion in irreplaceable materials, facilities and resources."

In emphasizing the importance of this warning, Mr. Cooney said:

"We in the insurance business are gravely concerned over this mounting waste in property, the untold suffering and loss of life that fire is causing our nation.

"This year, when the facts become known, I believe they will be even more appalling than last year's. Already, on the basis of figures for the first eight months of this year, property loss is 5.6 per cent above that of the corresponding period for 1951."

Mr. Cooney expressed particular concern over the property loss sustained by America's manufacturing industry. He said that of the 306,000 manufacturing firms, some 23,000 or approximately eight per cent were struck by fire last year and suffered heavy loss in valuable equipment and production. In some instances fire brought about complete business failure because of uninsured and under-insured losses.

He pointed out that replacement costs and production loss are not included in the $730 million fire loss for 1951. "Were they to be included, replacement costs alone would have doubled that figure," he said.

"That single factor—spiraling replacement costs—makes this aspect of our nation's fire loss bill many, many times more than $730 million," Mr. Cooney declared.

This year 10,000 communities throughout the nation will take part in Fire Prevention Week activities. Mr. Cooney added. Spearheading the movement are municipal officials, fire departments, civic and educational groups, schools, churches, the fire protection and public service organizations of the fire insurance industry, and various other voluntary agencies. All participate, he explained, through local fire safety committees that assume the responsibility of the week-long campaign without duplication or overlapping of individual or group effort.

Mr. Cooney said that the activities of these fire safety committees are numerous. Outstanding are those promoted by the local fire departments, schools, civic and trade groups. Newspapers, also, play a vital part. In the last 10 years close to 500 have been nominated by their communities for NBFU's annual Gold Medal Awards for outstanding public service in fire prevention.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters, long a leader in Fire Prevention Week activities, has distributed as its share in the campaign millions of fire safety posters, leaflets, educational blanks and stickers. To the nation's press it distributed a 3,000-word, 17x21-inch fact sheet of news stories, cartoons, speech material, facts and figures.

In conclusion, Mr. Cooney called on the nation's 2,000 newspapers to help in bringing home to the people of every community the great need existing today for increased fire prevention and protection throughout America.

"With the help of the nation's newspapers, their tremendous daily circulation, we can attain this goal," he said.

What about your civilian affairs if you are called into military service? You may save yourself and your family a great deal of difficulty and worry by considering right now some of the problems that may arise.

All during World War II and in the present Korean conflict, a special committee of the State Bar has handled literally thousands of disconcerting legal entanglements for servicemen. Members of the group say that many of these difficulties could have been avoided if the soldiers involved had taken a few simple precautions before leaving civilian life.

After you enter the service, keep in mind that this group, the State Bar committee on Legal Assistance to the Armed Forces, stands ready to help when necessary. Every county in the state has a Legal Assistance Chairman whose responsibility is to look into local matters when requested by a serviceman. The committee and the county chairmen may be contacted through State Bar of Texas, Austin 15, Texas.

But before going into service, here is a partial list of things to do a watch crystal. The sclera is covered by a very thin membrane called the conjunctiva; this kind of tissue also lines the lids.

The middle coat of the eyeball, the choroid, contains mostly blood vessels. Nourishment is its main purpose.

The retina, the inner coat, already has been mentioned. It is made up mostly of the cells which receive light impulses (the picture of the object appears upside down on the retina) and the nerves which carry these impulses on toward the brain, where they are translated into the sensation of sight and turned right side up. Unlike a camera's film, the retina does not need to be replaced after each use. Its pigment (visual purple), which bleaches and sets up sight impulses when hit by light, is constantly being re-formed.

Enclosed within the three coats of the eyeball is the lens, suspended in a up and down fashion, in front of which is the iris, the colored part of the eye. The iris is a muscular curtain pierced in the middle by an opening, the pupil. Like the shutter in a box camera, the iris controls the opening and shutting of the pupil to regulate the amount of light which strikes the lens. Pigments color the iris; they may range from light blue to dark brown. The pupil appears black because no light is reflected through it from the inside of the eye.

Although the lens of the eye is shaped something like the glass lens of a camera, the outside is not hard. The lens inside its capsule has some clear cells which continue to grow throughout life. Newer, outside cells push the older ones toward the center, and the pressure hardens the center cells, which remain clear, however.

The lens separates the inside of the eyeball into front and back sections that are filled with a material kept under pressure to give the eyeball the right shape. In the front part this substance is watery and is called the aqueous humor; in the back it is more jelly-like and is known as the vitreous humor.

This explanation of the anatomy (structure) of the eye is much simplified. It doesn't take into consideration many important things, such as the seeing of color and distant or near objects or the working of the two eyes as one. The sensation of sight is possible only through the function of certain parts of the brain, but it could not be accomplished without the end-organ of seeing, the eye.

to protect yourself and your family:

- Execute a power of attorney in recordable form if you want someone to be able to act for you in your absence.
- Rent a safety deposit box, collect your important documents and store them in it.
- Have a will prepared, or revised to suit any changed conditions.
- Arrange for payment of outstanding bills or loans. The Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act protects you against entry of judgment while in service.
- Check your life insurance. Be sure the beneficiaries are correct—if the beneficiary is to be paid in monthly installments, is the amount now adequate in the light of the present deflated dollar? Arrange for premium payments.
- If you have a lease on your business or residence arrange to cancel or sublet; provide for getting premises back when you return. If you give proper notice the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act may save you from further liability under leases after your departure.
- Check your fire and personal property insurance policies for expiration dates, proper coverage and address. Get a rebate if you cancel.
- Be sure your automobile license and insurance are available and in the name of the proper person. If your car won't be used for business purposes you may be entitled to a reduced premium.
- Leave with some person, other than your wife, complete data as to yourself, where you are, how you are to be reached. Keep that person informed of changes while you are away, so he can reach you in an emergency.

Consolidate your bank accounts and open a joint account. Arrange for statements, allotments, etc. Check your credit resources and arrange for your family to obtain credit or loans in emergencies.

If you are under 26 and called in the reserves, notify your draft board. File a change of address card with the post office and have your mail forwarded to some responsible person.

If you have a mortgage or land contract arrange with the lender for deferment of payments if necessary. Check provisions and the Soldiers Civil Relief Act.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

More than four hundred years ago the eye was first likened to a camera. Even today this comparison helps explain what the normal eye is like.

You probably have seen the parts of a box camera. Remember the glass lens and black shutter? Although you were unable to see the sensitive side of the roll of film, you knew it had to be protected from light until you had the camera in the right position, ready to snap the picture.

The eye also has a lens, a shutter (the iris), and a "film" (the retina). The workings of these parts in man are highly specialized, but the principles are the same as for the box camera.

In the first place, you wouldn't think of trying to take a picture with just a roll of film, a lens, and a shutter; a completely black, overexposed negative would result. Instead, the roll is carefully loaded onto spools and slipped into the darkened box which keeps it from bending or wrinkling and guards it from light until just the right moment to take the picture.

The retina of the eye, its sensitive "film" and the other vital contents of the eyeball for protection also are set back into a "box" or socket in the head, almost completely surrounded by a bony armor plate.

The eyelids containing stiffened tissue move to close off the precious sight organ almost instantly when it is threatened by a foreign body, such as a metal fleck. The lashes are so sensitive that even a tiny bit of dust which touches them causes a fast "reflex" blink. If dust does get into the eye, tears wash it to the edge of the lid. Tears are slightly antiseptic; that is, they have the power to kill germs.

The tears and eyelids have another purpose; like a windshield wiper, they clear the field for a good view. Furthermore, the lids shut out light and protect the eye from injury and drying during sleep.

Protection of the eye isn't completed yet, though. The eyeball itself is composed of three coats, called from the outside in, the sclera, choroid, and retina. The outer layer, the sclera, is composed of white, tough tissue, commonly called the white of the eye. The sclera is continued at the very front by the cornea, a clear, structure shaped like a soup spoon, jutting out slightly from the otherwise round eyeball something like

ROME—Want to see Europe on a shoestring?

By living in youth hostels, thousands of young tourists from all parts of the world made the trip this summer. Most are enthusiastic.

The hostels, which cost about 25 cents a night, are sponsored by national affiliates of the International Hostel Federation, with one million members. Europe alone has 6,000 hostels—clean, simple places for young travelers to live. Most chores are done by the guests.

"It isn't the Waldorf but for your money's worth there is nothing to beat it for a good night's rest and a chance to talk with young people from all over the world," said Lee Mishkin of New York City, a recent University of California at Los Angeles graduate.

Mishkin and his bride, Rene, are spending their honeymoon on a hostelling trip.

"As newlyweds it would be nice to have a little more privacy but it's a grand trip," said Mrs. Mishkin when the two were interviewed at Rome's big hostel.

The youthful travelers cross Europe by bicycle, hitch-hiking or by third-class train. In Italy, Germans are the most frequent visitors to the 38 hostels with English, Americans and Australians also frequent visitors.

The chief complaints are that quarters are cramped due to the popularity of the hostels.

"There is always trouble finding a bed," reported Miss Marjory Britton of Stockton, England. "But if you get up early your second day in town, chances are good for that night."

Many English tourists use hostels because they cannot take more than $75 in foreign currency out of the country.

"But we're probably better off this way," said Dorreen Waitell of Bishop Auckland, England.

Mock Chicken Legs Lend Variety to Ground Meats

Meat is particularly important in our daily diets because it is rich in protein and contains valuable vitamins and minerals, but if your budget dictates hamburger instead of steak, don't worry... good ground beef is just as nutritious as fine sirloin. Hamburger can be about as tasty and appetizing, too, if we take the trouble to fancy it up a bit. As a suggestion, next time you buy ground beef or ground veal, ask your butcher for several wooden skewers, and use them to make mock chicken legs. Here's a treat your whole family will enjoy... juicy, tender meat in a crisp, crunchy coating of golden brown corn chips... and served on a stick to resemble a real chicken leg!

MOCK CHICKEN LEGS
Serves 6
1/2 lb. beef (ground)
1/2 lb. veal (ground)
2 tsp. chopped onion
1/4 tsp. sage
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. black pepper
1/2 cup finely crushed "Fritos" corn chips (measured after crushing)
4 tbsp. fat or oil
6 wood skewers

Directions:
1. Mix beef and veal with onion, sage, salt and pepper. Mold into drumstick shapes around the skewers. Roll in corn chip crumbs and fry in melted fat until done.

Charcoal Grilled "Fritos" Ranchburg
6 Servings
2 lbs. ground beef
2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. black pepper
1 tsp. shortening
2 garlic cloves
1 cup grated American cheese
1/4 cup "Fritos" corn chips (measured after crushing)
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup barbecue sauce
1/4 cup cooking oil or salt
1/2 cup catsup
1 tsp. Worcestershire
1 tsp. liquid smoke
1 tsp. salt
4 tsp. brown sugar
1/4 cup vinegar
1 tsp. chili powder

Directions:
1. Add salt and pepper to beef. Mix and form into 6 patties.
2. Combine grated cheese and corn chips, placing a small amount on each of 6 patties.
3. Cover filled patties with barbecue sauce, and press together firmly.
4. Melt shortening in saute garlic in fat.
5. Place patties in pan on each side. Cover with sauce and broil. Baste with sauce. Serve on toast.

Scouts To Hold Council-Wide Rally October 11

Local scout troops and their leaders will participate in a Council Wide Rally for all Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorer Scouts in Lubbock, Saturday, October 11.

Scoutmasters Huston Hoover and R. L. Cox will take troop 41, sponsored by the Lions, and troop 34, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church to the rally. Explorer Post 41 with Wayne Brown as Scoutmaster will not participate because of a conflict with previously made plans. Cubmasters Charlie Duval and Bacon Jones will be present with their boys.

The Council-Wide Rally is part of the fall program of the South Plains Council in connection with the Round-Up Theme which has as its purpose the enrolling of new boys in various Scouting Programs in the different units in the twenty-county Council.

All Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts and their leaders will gather at the Arnett-Benson Theater on College Avenue at 1 p.m. Saturday afternoon, October 11. Following the showing of the motion picture film "Room for One More," information will be given to all of the Council Units on the distribution of the "Liberty Bell Get Out the Vote Reminders." All South Plains Scouts will cooperate with the other Scouts in the Nation in the distribution of the Liberty Bell Get Out the Vote Doorknob Hangers which will be placed on every home in America on Saturday, November 1. Scouting, of course, is non-political but it does give the boys an opportunity to remind other people of one of the duties of the citizen: to vote.

The program will terminate about four in the afternoon and the various Scouting groups will have the opportunity to make industrial tours and visits within the City of Lubbock. Each of the Packs and Troops will make their own arrangements for the Saturday evening meal—many planning to bring sack lunches and hold picnics in the parks of the city.

The boys and their leaders then will gather at 7 p.m. at the gym on Texas Tech Campus and will go in a body to the Texas Tech-Texas

Western Football Game. The rally program will be followed up by the big Council Round-Up of all Scouts and Explorers, to be held at Camp Post and Camp Haynes on Friday night, November 23. All Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts and their leaders are requested to make reservations immediately at the Council's Office, 2109 Avenue X in Lubbock, where they may obtain the tickets to the afternoon and evening programs.

Old Pal Corduroy Takes New Faces In 1953 Fashions

A traditional winter cotton, corduroy, has taken on new significance for 1953.

Not only have corduroys been given new finishes, but they have gained popularity in the evening wear field as well.

Iridescent corduroy with a subtle new luster is favored by many designers. Stanley Wyllias of Beacon Hill styles a group of separates in lustrous orange, green and purple. Brigance, another designer of trend-setting separates, makes tailored blouses and skirts for Sports-maker in iridescent corduroy that is subtly woven in novelty patterns and stripes.

Surprise Touches

For the girl who prefers to wear chic dresses to office or class, Sidney of Janice Milan does a group of tailored styles with surprise touches. An iridescent corduroy

"great-coat" dress has a feet, and a simple classic the back of the bodice. Printed corduroys are in exciting new patterns. Platty chooses an elegant shirt for a man-casual, and a vivid stripe hunter's length shorts. Domino prints and black and white checks are the choice at Leland that range from slip huge, full circle silhouette a new classic way. A boy's all vest is suggested, pedal pushers in a fine check print.

Only the ALL-CROP Harvester has air blast separation. Between cylinder and strawrack, shelled grain and straw are whirled upward in a high arcing blast of air. Kernels are thrown free from the lighter straw and chaff, separating much of the material even before it reaches the big ten-foot strawrack.

This extra separating action saves more grain, beans and seeds—puts more in the bin and more in your pocket. It's another reason why a New ALL-CROP Harvester belongs first on your list for '52.

A CLEAN, SWEET REFRIGERATOR WITH BAKING SODA

Keeping the refrigerator gleaming white and free from odors is a two part job. First, wipe up each spot or stain as it occurs—soda on a damp cloth will do the job. Then each time you defrost (or every week or two, if you're the proud owner of a self-defrosting box) clean the refrigerator thoroughly. Empty ice cube trays; soak them, and the shelves, in soda water solution, 2 tablespoons baking soda per quart. Wash walls and freezing unit with that same solution. Rinse and dry. Baking soda can't scratch finest porcelain enamel. It removes the greasy film which harbors odors—therefore sweetens as it cleans!

Olton Band Wins Honors At Amarillo

Olton High School's band covered itself with laurels again last week. Highest honor came to Miss Gayle Silcott, who was named "Queen of the drum majors" at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair. Miss Silcott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. "Shorty" Silcott, won $50 for her band. The band also did itself proud at the Lamb County Fair where it won a unanimous decision as the best in playing, marching and appearance. For this the band was awarded $40. At Amarillo the band was in competition with 38 other bands, many from much larger schools. The bands marched two miles down Folk Street in misting rain. Many spectators said Olton's band ran a close second on appearance. Berger's band won for best appearance. Tullia on marching and Phillips on playing.

Miss Silcott's Tri-State Fair win

was her second triumph within a little more than a week. She won first prize at the Castro County Fair a week ago Saturday. Don Williams, Olton's band director, was much impressed by the hospitality shown by Tri-State Fair officials. Don said the fair association paid for the band members' lunches and supplied them with a guide from the time they arrived in Amarillo until they were served lunches at the fair ground. In the Lamb County competition last Saturday Sudan and Springlake tied for second place and each received $20 in prize money. The band will go to Brownfield October 23 to parade in the sixth annual Harvest Festival.

Parade Opens South Fair In Lubbock Monday

...a two-head in the middle of summer! Impossible? No—you can see long—a snowman these and many other wonders in Lubbock Sept. 29 at the opening of the Panhandle South Plains Fair.

The giants will be featured in a colorful balloon parade through the main streets of Lubbock beginning at 2:30 p.m. the first day of the Fair.

The mile-long cavalcade will include 30 giant balloon figures, 105 crowns, several Lubbock bands and the Lubbock County Sheriff's posse.

For more than an hour the streets will be jammed with the colorful spectacle—one of the most unusual and entertaining sights presented anywhere.

During the afternoon you will see all of the favorite characters from the land of Wonderland. You will see Johnny Appleseed who sows seeds and an apple tree actually springs up before your eyes! Poor Eyesight Affects A Child's Learning Poor eyesight can make a child "slow" in school. Uncorrected visual defects can cause a normally bright youngster to dislike school, fall behind in his class and become self-conscious about playing sports and games, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

A child will rarely complain about poor vision. It may be blurred, he may see double, yet in three cases out of four, he will not tell anyone because he does not know how well he should see. That is why it is so important for parents and teachers to know the symptoms of eye trouble. An intelligent child may be victimized by poor vision both at school and with his playmates.

Too often a youngster's eyes are neglected because no one knows that they will need care, Dr. Cox points out. For this reason, visual tests should be continued throughout the child's school career.

Some of the symptoms which may mean that a youngster has eye trouble are:

1. Rubs eye often, attempts to brush away blur.
2. Becomes irritable when doing close work.
3. Blinks more than usual, stumbles or trips over small objects.
4. Is over-sensitive to light; can't play games requiring distance vision.
5. Red-rimmed, encrusted or swollen eye lids.

Aladdin robs the Lamp.

For the tiny tots there will be the Wizard of Oz, Jack Pumpkinhead, the Tin Woodsman, Humpty Dumpty and an upside-down man. For the school-aged youngsters who dream of flying rocket ships there will be a space cadet. For any Texas Yankee there will be Mr. North Pole, a 13-foot igloo and a penguin. For Dad there will be a mermaid and an Eskimo girl. And for all there will be an afternoon of fun and music.

Each of the balloon figures will be pulled by members of the Lubbock High School football team dressed in clown costumes. Members of the Lubbock Jaycees will escort the procession.

Mayor A. C. Chesher, announced this week that he will have a production sale, October 14 on his ranch which is 23 miles southwest of Littlefield.

Oil Business

Oil Business

The demand for oil increases every year. Americans need more oil for more automobiles, for more airplanes, more ships, more high speed locomotives and more of many things besides. And just as one merchant competes with another for your business, oil companies compete for it, too—for gallons of gasoline and quarts of oil you buy; so supply the ships, the locomotives, the industries, the airplanes. The competition is intense, and it spreads throughout the industry. Oil companies compete with each other to produce more oil. Pipe line companies vie with each other to develop low cost transportation. Refineries compete to supply more and better oil products. Salesmen compete on the basis of quality products and the service rendered. It's a good thing, this competition, a healthy thing. It is the life of the oil business; it keeps the industry vigorous, progressive, enterprising. But its chief benefit is to you and other Americans. Competition within the oil industry discovers and develops a natural resource necessary not only to modern living but to national defense. It supplies you and the country with continuously improved petroleum products; today, two gallons of gasoline do work that required three in 1925, but the gasoline costs no more than it did then.

Denver City Routs Andrews, 53-7

DENVER CITY—Denver City continued its high-scoring ways here Friday night, swamping Andrews, 53-7, in a non-conference affray that was little in doubt from the start.

Before some 3,000 fans, the home team scored just about at will over the weaker Andrews squad. The visitors managed to push one across in the final quarter.

The top-heavy score followed a 53-0 win by Denver City over Tahoka. One loss, 18-12, to Seminole, mars the Denver City record.

recovering a blocked punt on the Wildcat 44-yard line, Slaton moved with the help of two penalties down to the 16. Butler carried over from the 16-yard line on an end run. Slaton's R. A. Thompson passed to Tim Bourn for their extra point. This touchdown was only the second of the season scored on the ground against the Wildcat line. Of the eight TDs scored against Littlefield so far—six have been passes and two run over. Andrews having made the other "ground" TD Friday before last from the one-yard line.

The game was more of a rout than the score would indicate. Littlefield made 20 first downs compared to Slaton's 8.

As in the Dalhart game, last Friday's contest was marred by the complaints of Tiger Coach Dillard Adair. He even went so far as to call the four officials together at midfield just as the first half ended and before the regularly scheduled halftime show got underway, and attempted with a demonstration to show them just how to watch Wildcat quarterback, Bill Jones, because that young man, he declared, was in motion EVERY time the Wildcats started an offensive play.

As one of the main reasons for high school football's very being is sportsmanship—this reporter would like to add that in the last two seasons of running up and down the sidelines at the Littlefield games and being kinda on the inside of things, that I have yet to see Wildcat Coach Jay Pikes complain about penalties, etc. I have yet to see any of the Wildcat players complain to an official.

This, plus the Wildcats record under Coach Pikes, must mean that he is an outstanding coach—in fact if there is a better football coach in Class AA in Texas—I'd sure like to meet him.

This coming Friday will find the Wildcats idle and getting ready for their Oct. 10 meeting with the Dumas Demons at Dumas. Blocking back Jackie Beckner, who suffered a back injury this summer when thrown from a horse and who has missed the first three games, started working out last Monday and should start the Dumas game. M. C. Northam will be back in the Wildcat lineup for this first real test for the Cats.

Coach John Whinnery's Demons, with a starting line averaging 189 pounds, have allowed their opponents 19 points in three games. They rolled over Shamrock last Friday, 26-0.

LANDMARK IN HISTORY

1836. The ALAMO, San Antonio, Texas

AP Newfeatures

Facing Alamo Plaza in the heart of San Antonio, this ancient thick-walled structure has been standing for over two hundred years. It was probably the chapel of a Spanish Mission and derived its name from the nearby grove of alamo trees. During Texas'

fight for freedom from Mexico

General Santa Anna led over 4000 soldiers against San Antonio, where Colonel Travis with only 188 men (including the famous Colonel Bowie and the hunter Davy Crockett) had entrenched himself in the Alamo. These brave defenders held off the enemy for eleven

March 6, 1836, when Santa Anna had given his life. On March 6, 1836, the main Texas army, inspired by their battle member the Alamo, defeated Santa Anna at San Antonio and won Texas' independence.
