600 Expected To Ride Train For Regional Game At Snyder

Comanche Fav'ored To Win By Two TD's Because Of Weight

By JAMES HINE
About 600 loyal Littlefield fans are expected to board the "Wildcat Special" train leaving here tomorrow for Snyder and the big Double AA Regional football game between the hometown boys and the Redskins of Comanche. Manager Jesse Everett of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce reported that 480 reservations had been made for the special Santa Fe train as of 5 p.m. Tuesday. "We're still taking reservations up until time of departure or until we reach the train capacity of 650 persons," he said. The train will leave Littlefield at 10:30 a.m. and arrive at Snyder at 12:45 p.m. where school buses will transport fans to the stadium. The Band Booster's club and the Pep Squad will have exclusive concessions on the train. The Comanche Indians will be favored to win by at least two touchdowns due to their terrific weight advantage and the hard running of Back Calvin Lee who has scored 31 touchdowns against 11 opponents this year. Lee, 185 pound senior halfback, was honored Wednesday on the Fort Worth

Star-Telegram All-State AA ball team. Lee is ranked as one of the most versatile high school backs in the state program. The flashy halfback has gained more than 1400 yards on about 210 carries from scrimmage. His close running mate, Cecil Brownlee will be out of action due to a broken leg received in Comanche's bi-district win over Monohans, 48-13. Harold Price, who plays right tackle for the Indians was on the all-state second team last year and is certain of repeating this year. Most college coaches regard Price as one of the most promising future college players in the state. This second-round play off will tell the state who will be in the running for the finals. Both teams have displayed great offensive fireworks. Comanche has allowed 11 opponents only 117 points as compared to its 356. Littlefield has collected 341, compared to opponents' 202. The Indians sport a record of 10 wins against one tie; that coming from mighty Mineral Wells early in the season. The Wildcats have a poorer record of nine wins against two defeats. Coach Gene Mayfield commented "We can't afford to overlook that Comanche has one of the best balanced teams in the state regardless of what class football.

Any team that plays determined ball under the direction of such two good coaches as Galiga and Moore will be "duster" high for this encounter. All this can save us is to score fast and outsmart them on their offense. Their weight gives them a terrific advantage and with an all-state player like Tackie Harold Price, well, the breaks will have to go our way. Everything we do will (Continued on Page Eight)

Bula Bulldogs Play Roaring Springs Tomorrow Night For Region I Title

By surprising the Follett Panthers, 19-12 in the bi-district playoff at Follett Thanksgiving Day, the Bula Bulldogs rocketed to regional play for the first time since the school began playing football in 1947.

The toughest competition of the year will be encountered when the Bulldogs engage the Roaring Springs Yellowjackets in the Region I six-man football play off at Matador tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. Officials of the two schools met and drew up the contract following the Turkey Day tilt at Follett. The Bulldogs, under the coaching of Claude Morison, won seven conference games and tied one, making them co-champions of District 2-B, six-man football. Their lone tie of the season was with Lazbuddie at 13 all. The bi-district game gave the Canines a 9W-0L-1T record for the season. In ten games the Bula team has scored 360 points, an average of 36 points per game. Bula's opposition has been held to 105 points, an average of 10.5 points per game. In only the toughest games, however, has scoring been a purpose, nor has sportsmanship been sacrificed to keep teams from scoring. Strong defensive play has been displayed by the Bulldogs all season.

Coach Claude Morison will be pitting his boys against post season competition for the second year in succession, the Bulldogs having dropped only their bi-district game last year to Mobeetie 45-41. Morison, a graduate student of McMurry, is in his third year of coaching. His first team at Bula in 1952 wound up third in conference play. An interesting sidelight of the regional game is that he will be playing against the team for which he himself played six-man football.

Coach Ray Snyder advanced his Yellow Jackets into the regional playoff Dec. 18 when he defeated Weiner, 41-40 at Haskell in a game as thrilling as only six-man football can be. In conference the Jackets have a 6-0 record. Sponsors of the clash will be the Matador Lions club. All the details of the game will be attended to by the Lions. Matador will play its regional game against Meadow at Ralls, Friday afternoon.

E. C. Caldwell returned this week end from East Texas where he attended a family reunion with four brothers and two sisters, the first time that many of his family has been together in over ten years. The seventh member of the family, a sister, is living in Spain. The group had a Thanksgiving day supper at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. M. Bledsoe, at Farmersville. Caldwell also visited in Sulphur Springs, his home town, before returning to Littlefield.

Police this week were investigating the attempted safe robbery of the Pigeon-Wirely supermarket here sometime over the week end. Manager Winfred W. Stout reported that when he came to work Monday morning he discovered that attempts had been made to jimmy open the safe and that the burglars had even tried to jack it away from its wall casings. "Evidently they were not professional safecrackers," Stout commented. He said they probably had worked on the two foot music safe for at least three hours, using crow bars, chisels and other tools. He said he was not able to determine whether other merchandise had been taken.

Third Highest Cotton Allotment In County

Individual Farm Quotas To Be Mailed Next Week

Lamb county has been given the third highest county cotton acreage allotment in the state, an increase of 10,894 acres over the original 1954 allotment, but still 15,060 acres shy of the total production allotment for this year.

The county's 1955 allotment will be 204,551 acres compared with 193,657 given in the original 1954 allotment but subsequently increased 15,060 to a total of 219,511 acres.

Announcement of the new allotments Wednesday got luke-warm response from county agricultural leaders. Although happy about the increase over the original 1954 allotment, cotton men said that with even the slight increase, the county will be fortunate if it is able to match this year's bumper harvest.

Dryland Necessary

"If we have rain and the dryland comes through next year we will be up to this year's crop," commented Charles Hill of the Amherst office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Commission.

County Agent Dave Eaton said year's crop total can be reached and it might be probable next year. Hill said that actually every South Plains county will get more acreage in 1955 than in the original allotment of 1954. "A few of them will get even more than their total 1954 allotment," he explained.

Added Amendments

After the original 1954 allotment was set up, Congress added an amendment giving almost every county some additional acreage. The entire Texas allotment is slightly up for 1955. The 1954 allotment. (Continued on Page Eight)

Mayfield Is Runner-Up For Coach-of-Year

Coach Gene Mayfield was named runner-up to Coach Cozel Foster of Stinnett as KGNC-TV's Coach-of-the-Year award was made Saturday night in Amarillo. There were six coaches nominated for the award and decision was announced as being almost a tie. The coaches were selected from the Panhandle-South Plains area. Mayfield was named as "Coach of the Week" for the week ending Sept. 18, after the Wildcats defeated Hereford the night before. Both Mayfield and his assistant, Don Williams were recognized at a banquet.

Write Santa Letters Now

NORTH POLE—Santa Claus today asked the children of Littlefield and nearby towns to write him early about what they want for Christmas. "I'm getting a lot of orders now and I have to have a little time to get presents together," Santa said. To send a letter to Santa, mail it to the County Wide News, Box 72, Littlefield, Texas. Letters will be forwarded to Santa, and will be printed in Pre-Christmas editions of the paper.

Santa Nominee No. 1 Pioneer Resident Nominated For 'Year-Round' Santa Title

A pioneer Littlefield resident (we're still intending to get as many pictures of these "Year-Round Santas as possible), here's what Mrs. Marshall Howard had to say about Mrs. Street in her nomination letter: "I would like to nominate my neighbor and friend, Mrs. W. G. Street, as the kindest and most thoughtful person I have ever known. Acts Immediately. "She seems always to be looking about her to find something she can do for someone. And once she sees it she acts immediately, thus, seizing the opportunity to serve her fellow man, henceforth, her Christ. "Nothing is too much trouble or requires too much time for her when there is something to be done for someone." No Photograph. And still with such a hearty recommendation, Mrs. Street contends "I'm not worthy and I just can't let you take my photograph." But with photograph or not

Trading Reported Good As Christmas Shopping Begins

Despite foul weather and shrill excitement over football prospects, Littlefield Friday and Saturday shifted into high gear for the Christmas buying season. Trading was reported good and above last year's buying figure for the first two days after Thanksgiving, traditionally regarded as "the start of the Christmas shopping season." Indications are that business will reach high gear proportions this week end despite velocity interest in Friday's regional football game between Comanche and Littlefield.

One department store manager reported business Friday and Saturday as "reasonably good in light of the dust blowing," while another reported Friday as "exceptionally good and a little better than last year."

Both store managers predicted that this year's Christmas business should exceed last year's and that the big run on buying would commence after Dec. 1. Most merchants are optimistic, predicting that with the great cotton harvest now in full swing and many bins of grain sorghum filled to the top, the 1954 Christmas year should break all records. "They've got the money to buy with this year," one merchant said.

Ed Hayes Hit While Working On Clovis Highway

Ed Hayes of Littlefield, an employee of the State Highway department, Monday received a dislocated shoulder, head injuries and bruises, when struck by a car on Delano avenue. Investigating officers said Hayes, who was doing road repair work, was hit by a car driven by O. A. Matthews of Sudan. He is undergoing treatment at Littlefield hospital where officials said his condition was good.

Nearly News

Manager Jesse Everett of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce found out Tuesday afternoon that it doesn't pay to get in the way of candy-hungry kids. As Santa was throwing candy to youngsters (donated by the C of C), Jesse took a step in the wrong direction and found his glasses missing, no doubt taken by an enthusiastic youngster who mistook them for a cellophane-wrapped candy bar. —NN— When it comes to promoting a worth while civic event, the enthusiasm of Ray Keeling even exceeds his tremendous build. Ray was probably the biggest shining beacon in promoting the special train for the Regional game at Snyder. He made a talk to the school board to have them send the band and pep squad on the train and with the First National Bank, underwrote the trip money guarantee to the railroad in case the venture failed. —NN— We welcomed a call yesterday from Claude McCormicks of Snyder (Phillips 66 dealer) where he wanted an ad in our newspaper welcoming Littlefield fans to Snyder. In our book, that's real sportsmanship. —NN— Don't mind Sam as he drives down the street in the car gaily inscribed "Go, Rabbit," "Beat Comanche," and with other similar slogans designed to spur the Wildcats on to victory. If you had a teenage daughter and were in the newspaper business with no time to clean the car off, you'd be driving down the street in the same shape.

The ceremony was performed beneath an archway of daisies dipped in pastel shades of red, blue, or lilac and yellow. It was decorated with intricate, quilted neckline, fitted bodice, gathered down the back with tiny ruffled buttons and full of ruffled sleeves, which were fastened with the fitted, white with small covered buttons. Her bridal gown had also been worn by her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Hanna, for her wedding. Her white length veil flowed from a round pearl hair style. Pioneer

Who should know better than her next door neighbor whose laundry she gathers off the line when a sudden sandstorm blows up, or closes a door blown open by a fresh norther, or brings meals on a tray when the neighbor is sick in bed, or whose house is cleaned and food in the refrigerator after an absence of several days due to illness and death in her family.

Not Limited

"Deeds such as these are not limited to one neighbor alone or to a good friend, but to many friends, associates, and in short, to any and all whom she can help. "It is without reservation of any kind that I wholeheartedly nominate Mrs. Street as the most thoughtful and Christ-like person I have ever known."

Mrs. Street has been a residence of Littlefield for 42 years, coming here as a young bride before the railroad had reached the town. A charter member of the Woman's club, she is active in the First Baptist church, the Art club and the Order of the Eastern Star. She has two children, Willard, Jr. and Mrs. D. E. Berger of Bartlesville, Okla.

Nominations Still Open

Nominations are still in order for the person whom you think is most deserving of the title of "All-Year Santa Claus," because of consistent good deeds and kindness. Simply send your nomination to Post Office Box 72, Littlefield, Texas.

There's nothing to buy and you don't have to be a subscriber to this newspaper to enter. You won't win a thing except personal satisfaction in knowing the person who was Santa to you, will be publicly recognized.

Allotment

lotment, before the amendment, with 7,356,667 acres. This year it is 7,450, 740 acres.

Whether Congress will allow additional acreage for the 1955 crop remains doubtful as Secretary of Agriculture Benson has called for a production reduction. His last recommendation was the country not to produce in excess of 10 million bales in 1955.

Allotments for 1955 are based on cotton history for the past five years, excluding 1949, when the largest crop in the history of the country was produced and Congress ruled it out as a history year for determining allotments.

Hill said that county farmers will go to the polls Dec. 14 to vote on the question of cotton marketing quotas. Farmers simply will vote on whether to have price supports. If two-thirds of the nation's farmers vote for controls, then parity price support will be set somewhere between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity.

If more than one-third of the farmers vote "no," then farmers who do not overplant their allotments will get 50 per cent of parity.

Hill added that his office distribute the 1955 allotments on a farm basis by next week and that all farmers would then by the Dec. 14 referendum allotments for South Plains counties compared to the allotments given each in 1954.

German Reporter Finds Football Coverage Like 'Battle of Lions'

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

American football is a fascinating game, even for the boys and men who get their ribs broken and their faces pushed in down there in the heat of the strife. But to a man who never has seen it before, this little bone-cracking game can be puzzling.

The Beaumont Journal and Enterprise have a German reporter for three months under a State Department newspaperman exchange program designed to further goodwill and understanding through the working press.

The man's name is Herbert Schumacher and he was assigned by Managing Editor Bob Aldridge of the Journal to report the Beaumont-Port Arthur high school football game.

What Herbert saw was a caution to the laybirds, if he has yet picked up that American expression.

"Boy, that was in night!" he wrote. "The Men from Mars came down and fought together and hundreds of yelling but attractive witches waved with colored feathers. It was a noisy night with thunder and flashes, drums roaring and excited people were screaming. I've never been at such a strange place. You wouldn't believe me, but it was in Beaumont."

'Men From Mars'

With a wondering note, Herbert went on to tell about this unusual game of football—the "Men from Mars" with their helmets and masks who couldn't be stopped because their arms and shoulders were packed with muscles. One squadron, he revealed, was dressed in yellow, the other in purple and the latter, he said, "didn't hesitate to attack the yellow monsters and threw them over a couple of white lines backward."

Somebody in the crowd said this was a football game. Of course I knew he told a phony. I've seen football games in Europe. Football is quite different. It's mere child's play compared with the event going on only a few yards from Beaumont high school. Besides that they had no ball and they didn't use their feet much for kicking like we do in Europe.

"No, this was a real fight. They attacked each other like lions. A hard fight with dreadful and desperate clinches. As far as I could see they maneuvered about a small oval package. I'm sure this thing was of tremendous value."

He noted that some times the fellows didn't touch the oval at all but just listened to a whistle and stood quiet. "Then they went into a huddle and talked things over. Suddenly they bent down like wild animals and attacked the other crew again."

Schumacher was intrigued by the halftime show with the "old fellows" who looked like red berserkers with old-fashioned fancy uniforms.

'Beautiful Legs'

"They showed beautiful fancy drill and most beautiful legs," he commented. "I witnessed this team to watch the Men from Mars. And as far as I'm concerned they succeeded."

The "Men from Mars" then returned and "fought" to the last drop of blood" and he marveled "some boys and girls even turned out wheels and frisked about like slaughtered chickens."

He found that after a hard and rough struggle the yellow crew got the oval package, muscled out and the tide of noise stopped.

"It seemed to me Beaumonters haven't been very happy after that he concluded.

Of course, the score must have had something to do with it. Post Arthur beat Beaumont 27-21. But Herbert didn't give the score in his story. It couldn't have been important, the guys in the yellow pants got the package, didn't they? That's what the fighting was all about.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Scripture: Psalm 88
Devotional Reading: Psalm 88:1-18
Out of Depths
Lesson for December 5, 1954

THE worst trouble is not what most people think. When you say "if the worst comes to the worst," what do you mean? You usually mean that if it comes to losing your job, or if we are defeated in war, or if you lose your health, or die. The inspired man who wrote the Bible did not think such events were good; they did not pray for them to happen, but rather, that they would not happen. Still, as we saw last week, even in the midst of terrible troubles they could sing because they knew that God is ever all with them and that they were on His side.

Breaking With God
But what happens when a man cannot feel that he is on God's side? How does it feel to know God is against you and all you? How does it feel to be on the other side of a wall from God? Some of the Psalms that have come through in experience when we call by the simple name of Sinner are in fact, prayers of breaking with God. See the state of things when a man and God are the longer partners. See the loss of the support a man can count on in time of trouble. If the worst comes to the worst, it is not death as such, but failure that is most to be feared. It is being alone and lost in the world without God. God never breaks with a man unless the man has broken first. But when a man has as good as acted as if there was no God at all, when he has as good as said to God "Go your way and I'll go mine," when he has done what God does not want done and failed to do what God wants done; when he has refused God's help, refused to associate with God's people, refused even to speak to God, what can God do with such a man? He could blast him out of existence by a twinkling or he could control his obedience, but God does not operate that way. In the simple, thrilling words of St. Paul (Romans 1: God gives up) such a man. He lets the man go his own way.

Without Hope
So long as a man is unaware of his sin in God's sight, he can be pretty good. A good many people have gone the hard road to destruction. But when a man begins to see that there is a break between him and God, once he realizes what he has done, he enters the most terrifying experience it is possible for a man to have. He has broken with God and he has lost his hope. How can he come back? If God were to come back to him, he would have to come back in a way that would bring him to the presence of his heavenly Father. But what if he has "broken away" and despised the "word of God"? What if death has already been his face in face with the "mountain of justice"? A man who has broken with God, what can he do? What can he do? He is without hope in his own mind or the world. It is of no use to tell him of the mercy of God unless he has been helped to the wrong side. Then if he makes a complete "turnabout" for God, what about all the wrong things that have been done? He has done the damage he has to do and in the world. Unless God comes to his rescue he is truly lost. But what claim has he on God? Why should God bother with him, a man who has never bothered about God?

'Thou Hast Delivered My Soul'
Those who have known and loved God best have thanked him for many blessings; but like the Psalmists of old, the greatest blessing and the one which outshines all others and makes them bright, is the forgiving love of God. God's forgiveness is not at all the same thing as looking the other way as a careless policeman might when a driver runs through a red light. It is not God's saying that it really makes no difference. It is God's unquenchable love reaching across the gap between himself and us who have sinned. Three things we need to remember about this: one is that God's forgiveness is never forced on any one, never promised to those who do not turn from their sins to God. One is that when a man has known the real forgiveness of God he shows it in a changed life.

EDITORIAL

Living A Standard Of Living

Some years ago a writer in Fortune magazine defined living as "the delivery of a standard of living."
 That thought was amplified in a talk made by Professor P. McNair, of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, before a meeting of members of a national chain store association. There has been, he said, much stress on the cost of distributing goods—and not on whether retailers are performing their dynamic sufficiently well.
 When Dr. McNair went on to list some questions which, answered, give an accurate idea of just how effective retailing is. Does it do a good job in presenting advertising goods and services? Has it improved its selling techniques? Does it keep up with changes in living conditions, transportation methods, hours of work and recreation? Is it making it easy for manufacturers to bring products to market, and helping to develop them? Is it as a transmission belt to convey the desires and commands of consumers back to producers? Is it pricing goods for mass markets?

The answer to these and other such potent questions is, moreover, no one who knows the facts believes that distribution costs or retail profits are out of line. Distribution costs are as low as today's wages, taxes, and consumer preferences and demands permit. The margin is run as low as a single cent on each dollar of sales. Retailing has fully earned our praise, not our blame.

ALMA, MICH., RECORD-JOURNAL: "One of the events of the Queen Mother's visit to Canada and the United States... was a visit to... the headquarters of the Queen Bible Society. In a simple ceremony, a red-bound Bible was presented to her by the Society and graciously acceptance of the gift, she stated that, 'I can say that the King and I found great comfort and joy from our reading of the Bible.'"

A Personal Column
How To Believe In Surveys, Eliminate Hypocritical Liars

By DON PERRY

We've never had too much trust in the Gallup poll since Harry Truman threw it for a 99 yard loss in the 1948 presidential election. Now our boy George has come forth with a survey which tickles the funny bone but still makes us wonder if a reader can believe what he sees in a survey.

George Gallup is now surveying the American public on whether it has "really been around," and the answers show that it evidently has.

Gallup comes forth with some interesting statistics:

Fifty eight percent of men and 35 percent of women interviewed say they've "watched the sun come up" after being on a party the night before. Nearly 31 million men and 24 1/2 million women claim they have quaffed champagne and some 31 million men along with 14 million women have played poker.

It seems that 8 1/2 million men have hit their wives and 9 1/2 million women have struck their husbands. (Which reaffirms our belief that women are still bosses).

Only one male in six and one woman in five claimed to have read the Bible all the way through. This compares with some 81 million men and women who claim to be church members.

Reading Gallup's survey, it appeared to us that he missed a cardinal question: "Are you a hypocrite?" We dare say about 90 per cent would have answered no and then become irate at such questioning.

But the remaining percentage would then be qualified to answer such personal questions as enumerated above. We're in favor of making the question, "Are You a Hypocrite?" the first to be asked in any survey. Once it's asked, and answers duly recorded, the truth of other questions should surely come to light.

We don't discount Gallup's statistics. We're just not sure of the veracity of those interviewed. I teamed Dr. Kinsey—startled the world with his book on the sex habits of the American male and then got a luke-warm response with a later companion book on the female.

The last book did not meet with much success. Certain sex habits were deplored by readers and the one cardinal argument was: "Who in blazes did he interview to compile his statistics?"

Our idea of asking whether the subject is or is not a hypocrite would probably give better accuracy to the poll, eliminating the "do gooder" liars for one thing.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

As a consumer, I would like to endorse what you had to say in your editorial about merchant's giving stamps. It has worked a hardship on the merchants and besides, as a consumer, we do not like to feel that the merchant owes us any thing simply because he sees what you need to buy.

Since they have given stamps I have tried to take advantage of them such as trading on Double Stamp day and redeeming them for nice prizes, but I have never felt that I was due them.

I think competition should be based on many things, but not on giving the customer something for nothing.

Actually, they are not giving us something for nothing—we are paying for every stamp which makes the practice more profitable than ever.

May I suggest that the merchant give, instead of stamps, a one or two or three per cent discount for cash sales. This would benefit the merchant as well as the customer and would make merchants worse for no one.

This is the first letter I've ever written to a newspaper and certainly I don't want to be quoted on this one, but I feel very strongly about the matter. So—I just wanted to endorse your editorial.

Sincerely,
 (Name withheld on request)

QUALITY YOU CAN MEASURE By Your Car's Performance

Here is quality in the making. Shamrock's clean, modern McKee Refinery is the site and symbol of the quality you expect under the big, green and white Shamrock.

New Shamrock Cloud Master premium is quality... refined especially for today's high compression engines. The heavy, carbon forming "Bottom End" of the crude oil is gone. Only clean burning fractions of the crude, free of gum forming copper and corrosive sulphur, are blended into this quality motor fuel. High Octane components assure smooth power. Protective additives mean longer, trouble-free operation.

Here is quality proved in the motors of thousands of cars from Wyoming to Texas... Kansas to Arizona. If your car has a high compression engine, get the power you paid for by using new Shamrock Cloud Master Gasoline.

Shamrock Quality... measure it by your car's performance.

Your Shamrock dealer now offers new Master-matic credit service... makes credit card purchases fast, accurate and convenient.

The mother of three asked her offspring the other day what television shows they liked best. The oldest one, a milk-looking little girl of seven, answered promptly, "Oh, I like the killing ones best."

"I like the killing ones, too," her five-year-old sister echoed. And the boy, only three, chimed in lustily with a bright smile: "Muhdah! I like the muhdah one."

What about Howdy-Doody, Lone Ranger, Cisco Kid? They liked those, didn't they?

But not best, they chorused. "Only the mean ones got killed," the second little girl added, her bravado shaken some.

We thought of our own favorite "killink" show, in which the quest for the mean one usually starts with the murder of an innocent victim. True, the villain is invariably "brought to justice," but his lot would seem much less severe than that of the beautiful girl whose head was bashed in with a piece of iron pipe, or the fellow whose headless body was found in a trunk.

The children in that particular home probably won't suffer any ill effect from their diet of whodunits. They have parents who are understanding and loving. But what about the youngsters who see unhappiness and near-violence all of the time? Whose parents merely put up with him as an extra expense they got stuck with?

For years we've been uncomfortably aware of tired, drawn-faced little children waiting in the late afternoon to be picked up in front of a movie house; but at least the fear and horror they see there is not a part of their home. We don't wish to seem glum about this wonderful new baby-sitting device, but we wonder if it won't prove more expensive than it now seems.

Do you include milk in your diet every day? If you are inclined to skip this food, you might remind yourself that three cups of milk a day provide enough calcium for the day's needs of riboflavin and at least one-third of the protein, in addition to some vitamin A, some thiamine, and a small amount of iron.

PUMPKIN PIES—114 of them—proved a "hot" problem to cooks of the Sudan school lunch room who solved the problem by improvising tables and shelves in the storage room to cool the pies on. The pies were served—along with turkey and dressing and all the trimmings—at the annual Thanksgiving dinner in the school lunch room Wednesday. Pictured with the pies are Supervisor Mrs. Frank Robinson and Mrs. J. A. Graves. Other ladies who assisted with the pie baking were Mrs. Edgar Williams, Mrs. Birdie Waiser, and Mrs. Lena Rollins.

Boys Like Dolls Too

Almost every little girl likes a doll or two. Lots of little boys like them, too.

Don't discourage your little boy if he wants to play with dolls. It doesn't mean he's a sissy, any more than that the girl who likes trucks is headed toward being a tomboy.

But neither girls or boys want dolls to look at. They want to play with them. A doll is to dress and undress, to put to bed, to feed, to punish if she's naughty—to live the life of its owner. It's going to be a rough life. The doll had better be sturdy. It's much more important that she be beautiful.

Breakable dolls, dolls with "don't-handle-me" clothes, are not playthings for children.

A good old fashioned tight stuffed rag doll is worth much more than a fancy high priced beauty that says "Mama." Some of the new plastic dolls are soft to the touch. Their arms and legs are easily moved about and they take a good deal of abuse.

The child will want to dress her doll and it certainly needs a wardrobe. No sewed-on clothing, please! The doll clothes need all the self help features you've been trying to find for the young ladies' own clothes.

See that the doll's dresses have loose-fitting sleeves that the doll's arms slip into easily. Put great big buttons on, never mind if they look slightly out of place. Clumsy little 4-year-old fingers can button them, and that's what's important. Put elastic on pants.

Have a good-sized wardrobe—the child's great pleasure is changing the doll's clothes. Let her alone to put the nightgown over the winter jacket if she wants it that way. It's her doll.

A small bed is an excellent addition to doll play. Again it should have bed clothes, a blanket or two, maybe a pillow and a mattress that can be removed and rearranged.

Probably the child will want to wash her doll's clothes. A little clothesline and clothespins to hang them up will be enjoyed.

Listen to your child when she talks with her dolls. A young girl places out her own life—the mother and the doll is herself.

"Now Martha," threatened 5-year-old Sue "You're a bad, bad girl from scolding that milk can't love girls that spill."

Did you say that? Maybe you didn't, but that's what Sue felt you meant. Better watch your step. You certainly don't want Sue to feel you don't love her because she spilled milk. Sue needs to be loved whether she spills or not, and needs to know she's loved.

Egg salad sandwiches for the lunch box taste especially delicious when you add plenty of creamed crispily cooked bacon to them.

When you are making sandwiches for the lunch box, never use creamed butter or margarine instead.

A SWITCH OF THE PITCH —AND AWAY YOU GO!

The biggest sensation in years is what "variable pitch propellers" have done for Dynaflo Drive"

IT happens like this. You need a pickup—and pronto. So you get it. You get it by pushing the accelerator pedal of a 1955 Buick all the way to the floor board.

Then—without jerk or lag or lurch or pause—you get action! You get action whether you're just starting off—or asking for a safety-surge of power out on the highway.

There's nothing like it in past experience—because there has never been anything like it in an automobile before.

This is action that comes from the principle of variable pitch propellers used on modern planes. Their propeller blades change "pitch" for take-off—and cut hundreds of feet off the time required to lift a plane from a runway.

And the amazing fact is—in a 1955 Buick Dynaflo Drive there are 20 little propeller-like blades that also change their pitch, just like the propeller blades of a plane.

This is a transmission engineer's dream of heaven. A build-up of momentum as smooth as flowing oil—and almost as quick as lightning—plus better gas mileage in cruising range. It's what the whole automobile industry has been shooting for—and Buick has it. So, that means there's only one thing for you to do. Try out a 1955 Buick, and soon.

Try it out for quick action, as we've mentioned. Try it out for room and comfort and ride. And by all means, cast an admiring eye on its style—for it beats the high-fashion Buicks which set the pattern in the successful year just ended.

We're waiting and eager to hear from you soon. So drop in—or give us a call. We promise you a thrill that no other car can deliver.

It's Always Fiesta Time In Home Of Mrs. West Of Sudan, Noted Seamstress

By EVELYN M. SCOTT

SUDAN—It's always fiesta time in the home of Mrs. E. P. (Callie) West, who once heard her daughter express a desire for a fiesta (squin) dress that was different. Like all mothers, she tried to fill her daughter's wish by making her a dress that was "different."

In doing so, she displayed creative talent that has since kept her busy supplying an admiring public with her colorful creations.

In making her dresses Callie uses sequins, beads, rhinestones and metallic pink silk for decorations. She sews them in by hand but she has a modern machine and combines its modern stitches with her finger work to form her unusual and attractive designs.

After completing the trimming on the skirts she pleats them with dozens of tiny pleats before sewing up the side seams. Not content with making the fiesta dresses out of the regular squaw material, she has made them of chifon and bright corduroys trimmed in rich velveteen.

Popular Color

The most popular color chosen for the dresses Callie finds the saddle brown trimmed in beige.

She has never tired herself to see how long it takes to make one of her dresses but she does know it takes a great deal of time plus a lot of patience.

When asked by a friend, whose she got the idea to use glass beads and trimmings on the dresses, she said, "To me, sequins and beads just naturally go together."

Lucky indeed are her three daughters, two granddaughters, and two-daughters-in-law. For she has made each of them fiesta dresses, choosing color schemes and designs that would best complement them.

And—here dresses have been so admired by her grandsons, one in particular, that he has inspired her to create something else for his own, a fiesta shirt. So—lucky are her grandsons too.

So far, she thinks she has made around fifty or so dresses and usually has from twenty to thirty orders on hand to be filled. She finds her busiest time is just before the annual Fall Festival when Sudan women are planning their Festival wardrobe.

She has numerous out-of-town callers to view her dresses as they are fast becoming famous over the state as well as in other states. She has questions famous in Kentucky, New Mexico, and Oklahoma and is now making one to be sent to the state of Washington.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

John Brown and Bill Smith desire to operate a business together. Should this be done as partnership or as a corporation? The answer to this problem involves many legal questions.

Perhaps the most important factor is that the business or personal acts of either John or Bill may be binding upon the partnership. The corporation, however, can act only through its officers and agents, and then only within the limitations granted by the articles of incorporation.

Both Liable As members of a partnership both John and Bill are liable for all of the debts of the business. In the case they have business losses, the creditors of the partnership could take all of the assets of the partnership, and all of the personal assets of either John or Bill or both, unless a few exempt by laws in order to satisfy the partnership debts.

On the other hand, if they form a corporation the creditors may only go against the assets of the corporation to satisfy the debt. That either John or Bill can lose the amount they have invested in the business. The creditors could not touch the personal property of either John or Bill.

Upon the death of John or Bill, it is necessary to liquidate the partnership but in the case of a corporation the operation of the business is not affected by the death of either. The firm continues as the same business with the heirs of the one who dies substituted as the owner of the stock.

How Much Taxes

Of primary interest to John and Bill is the amount of income taxes they have to pay. As a partnership, each includes on his individual income tax return his proportionate share of the income as shown on the partnership return. This is because the partnership is not recognized as a taxable entity.

The corporation is recognized as a taxable entity, so it pays a tax on the amount of its net income, after deducting the salaries of John and Bill and other expenses.

If over a period of years the earnings of the corporation exceed reasonable salaries for the two owners, these earnings will be distributed to John and Bill in the form of dividends. The funds with which the dividends are paid have already been subject to tax in the hands of the corporation, but are again taxed on the individual returns of John and Bill when distributed.

The income tax advantage or disadvantage of a partnership as compared with a corporation depends on the net income from the business, the salaries John and Bill receive, the amount of their other income, and the requirements of the business for liquid funds.

In the event either of the owners is interested in planning his estate to reduce taxes at the time of his death, he can do it more easily through a corporation than a partnership.
