

Reds Suggest Plans To Break Deadlock

By SAM SUMMERLIN
 MUNSAN, Korea (U)—Communist negotiators today offered a new plan for breaking the Korean truce talks deadlock, but an Allied spokesman said the proposal contains a "lot of gimmicks and potential gimmicks."
 Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr. said the Red plan "may be an important one and it may not."
 The Reds indicated they would ease their demand for return of all military prisoners in United Nations stockades, provided the 20,000 Chinese captives are returned. They asked for secret sessions to discuss the proposal.
 Harrison, the senior Allied negotiator, immediately called for a journal until Friday (9 p.m., EST Thursday) to study it. He did not reply to the Communist demand for secret sessions.
 "The exact meaning and the full significance (of the Red proposal) is not immediately apparent to the United Nations Command," said Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U. N. spokesman. He said it contains a "lot of gimmicks and potential gimmicks."

 Allied refusal to repatriate any prisoner who does not want to go home has deadlocked the truce talks for weeks.
 Last April the U. N. screened most of the 100,000 war captives and civilian internees in its stockades and found that about 100,000 did not want to return to Communist rule. The total included about 15,000 Chinese war prisoners.
 The new Red proposal closely resembled the Communists' May offer. Then the Reds demanded return of 116,000 North Korean and Chinese prisoners of war. They indicated, however, they might yield on 15,000 South Koreans impressed into the North Korean Army and might not argue over the disposition of 37,500 civilian internees.

Staff Officer, Nine Others, Desert To West

BERLIN, July 3 (U)—A senior staff officer of the East German Communist People's police and nine other Red policemen deserted to the West within the past 24 hours, West Berlin officials announced today.
 The officer, Inspector Ernest Bollow—the rank is equivalent to major—was in charge of the department concerned with Soviet sector borders in Berlin.
 Bollow, the biggest fish yet to wriggle out of the Russian net in East Germany, told Western police he was convinced the East German Volkspolizei (People's police) Force was being turned into an instrument of civil war.
 Bollow, in charge of the Soviet-inspired measures designed to cut off West Berlin sectors from all contact with the East Zone, came across the border yesterday and asked sanctuary. Nine others also fled the Reds, bringing the total for the first days of July alone to 30 defectors, an unusually large number.
 Bollow is said to have brought with him valuable information concerning future Volkspolizei plans, but police said the information is being kept secret. Bollow, turned over to Western Allied authorities, was being closely interrogated.
 Under Bollow's direction, the Communists of the East Zone have cleared wide lanes through forests to give guards unimpeded vision along the sector boundary, where the Reds have made escape to the West a matter of a life-and-death risk.
 The flow of refugees across the zonal border has slowed down because of the drastic measures taken by the People's Police to seal off the frontiers. However, it is easier to get from the East sector of Berlin to the West sectors than it is for a German to go from the Eastern occupation zone to the Western.

Raiding Columns Knife Into Red Lines Near Panmunjom

By JIM BECKER
 SEOUL, Korea, July 3 (U)—Allied raiding columns knifed into Communist lines at two points near the truce talks village of Panmunjom today, while a third group of raiders drove Communist troops off a hill in Central Korea.
 U. N. troops attacking mist-shrouded hill positions northwest of Kumhwa on the central front ran into heavy Communist fire and called for reinforcements, the Eighth Army said. The hill was secured an hour after the attack began and the raiders were pulled back.
 East and south of Panmunjom, raiding columns ran into Red forces and called for artillery fire to wipe out enemy positions.
 Elsewhere on the Western Front, Communist artillery poured shell after shell into Allied defenses atop Old Baldy and T-Bone Hills, Allied warplanes, virtually grounded for five days, dove through holes in the overcast to pound Communist supply lines behind the front.
 Two Communist probing parties knocked Allied troops off outpost hills northwest of Yonchon on the Western Front shortly before midnight. But an artillery barrage drove the Reds back to their own lines and U. N. forces met no op-

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

As this is being written (Wednesday afternoon) we are still .65 inch of rain short of what had fallen by this time in 1917, the year of the great drought, unless 1952 turns out to be the record breaker.
 Incidentally, and with due respects to both Irving P. Krick, Ph. D., and the boys at the Weather Bureau, that Tuesday night shower was predicted by the Cardui calendar Shine Phillips gave me at the start of the year. The calendar hit right on the nose, and so did Joe Pickle. He probably has one of the calendars.
 If you don't have a Cardui calendar (and everybody should have at least one even if they don't have a raincoat) here is what the calendar foresees for the balance of July:
 There is a possibility of showers on the 11th and prospects for rains are good on the 18th and 19th, with shower possibilities on the 20th. The rain sign is good for the 22nd and 23rd, with more possibilities on the 30th, and real rains on the 31st.
 You can go ahead and grease up your tractors for the planting of guar, field peas, 60-day maize or three-minute oats. The rains are coming.

noon for a lunch to be served by one of the Martin County Home Demonstration Clubs, and then resumed in the afternoon, returning to Stanton by another route. It hasn't been mapped out yet but will be soon, Hastings says.
 As many business and professional people from over the area as can do so are going to be urged to make the trip. Specialists from the Soil Conservation Service will make the tour and if called upon will be glad to point out erosion damage and explain what can be done about it.
 Among the Agriculture Committee's projects are cover crops, grass, insect control, 4-H and FFA projects, field trips such as this one, a "first bale" celebration, signs marking the various farms and ranches, and regular monthly meetings.
 The Stanton Lions Club sponsors the Martin County Junior Livestock Show each year in this committee will assist the Lions in every possible way in this project, Hastings says.
 Farmers and ranchers interested in the grazing and soil-building qualities of Blue Panic grass will do well to drive down to R. C. Reed's place, five miles southwest of Elbow, and see his grass and have him tell about it.
 He has two patches, one of 25 acres and one of 15 acres that he is saving for seed, but he has a milk cow and calf grazing it now. He had another 13-acre patch that was grazed very heavily but most of this was plowed under last year to put organic matter into the soil for a cotton crop. Cotton on this land did much better than cotton nearby, grown on land where there had not been any Blue Panic grass.
 In time, Reed says, he is going to condition all his cultivated land with this grass. This year it greened up about the middle of February and has been green since, making a good growth, not on moisture but on drought.
 Reed probably has more Blue Panic grass than any other farmer or rancher in this Soil Conservation District and says he wouldn't trade it for any other grass on earth, and that he considers it the most wonderful of all soil conditioners.

The agriculture committee of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, of which County Agent Ray Hastings is chairman, is planning a day's tour, some time this month, of irrigated cotton (and dryland cotton, if there is any left), of irrigated pastures, and various 4-H and FFA calf, pig and capon projects, and of farms and ranches and all else that is to be seen in the agricultural line.
 The tour will depart from Stanton and the itinerary will be so arranged that it can be broken at

25 Boy Scouts Are Advanced

Twenty five Boy Scouts received advancement and Troop No. 2 won the court banner at the District Court of Honor held Tuesday night at the Big Spring High School Auditorium.
 Adrian DeGraffenreid received the top award of the night—as Life Scout and also was awarded four merit badges. He is a member of the winning Troop No. 2.
 Troop No. 11 of Forsan, winner of the banner at the June 3 Court of Honor, was runnerup for the banner Tuesday.
 The winning troop had five Scouts to receive the second Class rank, two First Classes, and one Star, Marion Masters. Also, Scouts of the troop received nine merit badges.
 Scouts from seven troops received advancement at the Court of Honor.
 Phil Brown, Troop No. 5 received the top number of merit badges presented to one Scout, getting pottery, safety, forestry, book binding and Indian lore merit badges.
 All told, eight Second Classes, four First Classes, three Stars, one Life, 28 merit badges were given to the Scouts.
 In addition, six Scouts received civic service awards.
 Three of the Scouts, Lamoyne Hendrickson, Troop No. 6; Brown, Troop No. 5 and Art Dodd, Troop No. 2, were awarded red, white and blue bars. The red, white and blue bars signifies 185 hours spent in civic service, including aiding the Chamber of Commerce, their church or other public services.
 Fifteen Scouts also received camping awards—for spending a minimum of 10 days in outdoors camping.

W. L. Wilson Jr., rancher and conservationist, has 10 acres of Guar up to a good stand on his place just north of the Howard-Borden County line. He recommends it as a soil-building cover crop, and says he is convinced it has a very definite place in the future of this West Texas country. He was one of the first to plant when the seed was made available by the supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.
 W. S. Goodfellow, district conservationist with the SCS, says some seed is yet available. Farmers have already filed requests for more than 15,000 pounds of the seed provided they get a planting season between now and the end of the month. In addition to this 15,000 pounds more than 12,000 pounds has already been distributed, or is being distributed, to farmers who want to prevent their land from blowing and at the same time get some cash from the crop.
 Planting information and seed may be obtained from the Soil Conservation Offices at Big Spring, Stanton and Midland.

Cattle Still Held In Coast Rail Cars

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (SC)—Thirteen carloads of prize Santa Gertrudis cattle from the King Ranch in Texas remained prisoners in their rail cars into the second month here because of the West Coast's seaman's strike. The cattle are part of a shipment the ranch is making to newly acquired range lands in Australia.
 Penned in the confines of the stalled cars they are being fed and watered by railroad employees "because there's no place to put them pending the end of the strike," a railroader in this port city of Los Angeles explained.
 Seamen of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific have tied up West Coast docks more than a month in a contract dispute.

Senator Tom Connally, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, issued a statement on the eve of Senate debate on ratifying two agreements which he declared are without parallel in history. The heart of the matter is the network of pacts signed last month in Bonn and Paris establishing a European Defense Community with contingents from France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg and Western Germany.

People Back In The Early Days Saw More Than Flying Saucers

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

People who get excited—or alarmed—over reports and visions of flying saucers and such phenomena don't have anything on their ancestors. Neither do the ones who see and report the mysterious objects and events.

Apparently Americans have been "discovering" all sorts of strange creatures and situations for decades, and the persons they related their experiences to became just as excited, and sometimes alarmed, as Snuffy Smith when 'Ol Short comes to town.

If you need convincing, take a look through ancient newspaper files, advises a group who classify themselves as folklorists and who go around investigating legends.

They've found some dillies, too, in their look-around. Take, for instance, the report of magnetic caves that snatched picks out of the hands of unwary prospectors in the Rocky Mountains. Or the one about the winged alligator seen by a pair of Arizona ranchers.

The cowmen spotted the flying creature over Tombstone, flapping along with a wingspan of 160 feet, a head eight feet long, and a proportionately expansive tail.

Nearly everyone has heard of "bottomless" lakes and holes. Yarns of fish floating from artesian wells of boiling water are a little more rare (in contrast to the fish). So are the ones that have, to do with mountains of soap, mines of molasses, and chicken soup wells, but they've all been seen and described by "persons known to be truthful."

Probably the most remarkable report was the one from Death Valley which had a real, live, full-sized dinosaur grazing on

Concept Of Waging Cold War Is Called Ike's Strongest Asset

Sen. Taft denies that he is an "isolationist" and in the pre-Pearl Harbor meaning of the word, he is certainly not an isolationist. He does not believe that the United States has no vital interests outside the Western Hemisphere. Nor does he believe, as the old isolationists did, that our security and freedom and prosperity are to be had by standing guard in the oceans while we remain strictly neutral and uninvolved in the affairs of the old world.

There is no issue in foreign policy between Taft and Eisenhower or between Taft and Truman over recognizing the fact that we are involved in a great worldwide conflict. Insofar as there are important differences among them, and among serious and responsible Americans in the country, the differences have to do with the grand strategy of the conflict, and not with whether we could or should abstain and withdraw from it.

Beckworth, Daniel Both Make Victory Claim In Senate Race

By The Associated Press

Pre-convention noises in Chicago all but drowned out the voices of campaigning candidates in Texas Thursday.

But the hot race for U. S. Senate and various candidates in other races kept the political climate warm.

In Chicago, the steam-roller organization of followers of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) Wednesday crushed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's friends from Georgia and seated a pro-Taft delegation.

Thursday or Friday, the Taft-dominated GOP national committee was expected to rule on the contesting delegations from Texas and Louisiana.

Most observers, including leaders of the Ike forces from Texas, expected the committee to follow the Georgia pattern. Others, however, thought it would be smart politics if the Taftmen—sensing victory at the convention, regardless—seated the pro-Eisenhower Texas delegation.

The national committee voted 62 to 30 to seat Taft delegates from Georgia with Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth and Mrs. Carl G. Stearns of Houston—Texas Taft backers—voting to oust the Georgia Ike men.

Jack Porter of Houston, chief of the Texas Eisenhower forces, said he believed the Texas case was hopeless for Eisenhower so far as the national committee is concerned.

But both Porter and Frank T. O'Brien, Amarillo attorney and a Texas Eisenhower delegation member, promised a fight "all the way." Should the Texas forces for Eisenhower not be seated, the only recourse left would be a floor fight, Porter said he was prepared to wage such a battle.

Meanwhile, 23 Republican governors at the National Governors' Conference, which closed in Houston Wednesday, joined in a demand that their party choose a presidential nominee "with clean hands."

The governors asked their party to deny any contested delegation the right to "sit as accused, judge and jury."

Governors Dan Thornton of Colorado, an Eisenhower backer, and J. Bracken Lee of Utah, an avowed Taftman, jointly read the statement at a hastily assembled press conference in Houston.

Lee declared the contesting Eisenhower delegation from Texas should be seated. "I'm for Taft all the way," he said. "But there are lots worse things than defeat."

Hottest thing on the home political scene continued to be the supercharged race for the U. S. Senate. Apparently Atty. Gen. Price Daniel and Rep. Lindley Beckworth were leading the three-man field which also includes E. W. Napier of Wichita Falls.

Both Daniel and Beckworth have already claimed victory in the race to succeed Sen. Tom Connally. But both are plugging away in some of the hardest campaigning Texas has seen in years.

With both candidates making several appearances daily in their quest for votes, Daniel's Austin headquarters recently mailed quotations from the Lufkin Daily News attacking the Beckworth record in Congress.

The Lufkin paper, a Daniel supporter, hit at Beckworth's record on tidelands, taxation, labor, foreign policy, medicine, corruption in Washington and federal spending.

Beckworth retorted Wednesday in a speech at Stephenville that "the opposition is getting nasty because they're getting scared." He said he was "fighting against big interests with a $64,000 campaign fund," and added:

"I'll get elected by the work method like I always have."

Martin Dies of Lufkin, former head of the House Un-American Affairs Committee, brought his campaign for congressman-at-large to a Dallas civic club luncheon.

Ralph Yarborough, Governor Shivers' most outspoken and most active opponent for re-election, continued his campaign in South Texas.

Adenauer Proposes Change In West Reply To Russians

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany, July 3 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today proposed changes in the draft of the Western Powers' reply to Soviet proposals for big four talks on German unification. This may delay delivery of the note to Moscow.

The Chancellor submitted his proposals to the Western high commissioners during a three-hour meeting at which the commissioners showed him the draft reply prepared by the Big Three foreign ministers in London last week.

The high commissioners promised the chancellor to send his proposals to Washington, London and Paris immediately.

They refused to disclose the nature of his proposals.

An Allied spokesman said: "The Chancellor put forward a number of observations on the contents of this note. The three governments will give consideration to the chancellor's views."

U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy said "the chancellor has some ideas about the way things should be said (in the note)."

The view of the Western Powers has been that they would agree to confer with the Russians under certain conditions.

An official West German government information bulletin said that the prospects of a Big Four conference should not delay ratification of Germany's military and political pacts with the West.

The bulletin urged swift ratification and added that "any delay on the part of the West could only encourage the Soviets to try and dodge the real world political issues and try to spread confusion and dissension."

Old Settlers Need More Reunion Funds

Approximately half of the needed funds have been subscribed to finance the annual reunion of Howard and Glasscock Counties old settlers, L. C. Matthews, president of the reunion association, has announced.

Donations received amount to slightly more than $300. Reunion officials estimate that at least $600 will be needed for the purchase of food and payment of incidental expenses.

The reunion, to include a barbecue luncheon, will be staged in City Park Friday, July 18. A final planning meeting of committees and officers of the Old Settlers Association is set for Saturday, July 12.

Meanwhile committees are pushing arrangements for the annual get-together, and the finance committee is seeking contributions for the purchase of meat and employment of some labor which will be needed to prepare for the barbecue. All committees are to make their final reports at the July 12 meeting.

Latest contributors to the barbecue fund include Cosden Petroleum Corp., $25; Mrs. Etta Wade, $15; Dr. E. O. Ellington, Chris Schafer, Big Spring Daily Herald, Ben Schafer, John Schafer, M. M. Teeth Flashing Signal Lights

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Government scientists are causing teeth to flash signal lights in a new attack on the riddle of dental decay.

Reporting this today, researchers of the National Bureau of Standards gave this outline:

It has long been known that human teeth can be made to fluoresce—that is, give off visible light—when exposed to ultraviolet light which is itself invisible.

It has also been known that substances which have the property of fluorescence give off light "flashes" of varying intensities—according to the composition of the particular substance illuminated.

Taking advantage of these facts—and developing special apparatus for their work—the NBS men say they have obtained details of tooth structure not apparent under other methods of study. And they say the information is expected to be of value in explaining the mechanism of tooth decay.

They take a very thin sample of enamel—the glossy outer structure of a tooth—or a thin sample of dentin—the inner tissue of a tooth—and expose it to ultraviolet light.

The fluorescent light emitted is "captured" on sensitive photographic film.

Lions Report On Convention, Set 'Platform'

Lions had a double header Wednesday—a "platform" session for the year beginning July 1 and a report on Mexico and the Lions International convention held there last week.

John Dibre, president, announced also that the installation of officers would be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Wagon Wheel. It is to be a Ladies Night affair.

Larson Lloyd, secretary, told of his trip through Mexico to attend the international convention last week in Mexico City.

"There are 10 million cattle in Mexico," he said, "and all of them are on or along the highway."

He couldn't get used to people popping out of dense jungle to wave whatever it was they had to sell. Like everyone else, he was amazed by Mexico City traffic. At one place there was an eight lane street crossing a six-lane street—with no traffic signal. Yet there are few car collisions. Hotel accommodations are excellent, he said, the food good and economical. And if you get to feeling sorry for the people, you learn they don't have ulcers, nervous breakdowns and heart attacks, he added.

Special activities and stronger committee operation as well as better orientation of new members and prompt assignment to committees was suggested by several speakers. Other things listed in a short discussion period were stronger effort for the boys and girls work, more work on the blind and sight field, regular committee reports, club progress reports, more frequent Ladies Nights.

Stanton Reunion Will Not Be Held

STANTON, (SC)—One of Stanton's best attended annual events will not be held this year, it has been disclosed.

This is the Old Settlers Reunion which is usually held the second Tuesday each July. It has been called off this year because of the polio situation.

Severe cases of the disease have developed here this year but all patients are doing well, according to reports, and recoveries in all cases without any permanently damaging effects are anticipated, it has been indicated by the families of victims.

Pope Sends Eagle, Fox To Rome Zoo

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Plus lets a pet goldfinch fly freely about his Vatican apartment but he has decided an eagle and a fox aren't exactly household pets.

Shepherds in South Italy presented the eagle and the fox to the Pontiff as symbols of the difficulties of their work and the danger to their flocks from rapacious animals.

The Pontiff expressed thanks and sent the pair to the Rome Zoo.

FAMILIES THAT MUST SPEND CAREFULLY should seek our counsel as freely as it is offered.

Darkness limited this second contest of the twin bill to seven innings. Perfect relief pitching by 41-year-old Alton Benton helped the Red Sox grab the rubber of the three-game set with the Yankees in New York. The heavyweight hurler stemmed a threat in the seventh and retired seven Yankees in a row to safeguard Sid Hodson's 5-4 lead.

Braves Record 4-2 Triumph

Sweetwater took over third place in the Longhorn League Wednesday night, thanks to a 4-2 triumph over last place Vernon, the Duster's 12th straight defeat.

Raymond Garcia is slated to pitch for the Giants but Lubbock's hurler is not known. The Giants continue their winning ways with only one defeat marring their record for the season—that loss coming at the hands of Hobbs. The defeat came in Hobbs but the Giants later evened the score with a victory here.
