First Layman To Become Southern Baptist Seminary

By A. HARRIS

Dr. Porter Routh, Oct. 11 (AP)—Dr. Porter Routh, a big Texan with a friendly smile, believes the Southern Baptist Seminary will continue to grow.

Dr. Routh was born in Lockhart, Tex., in 1911, a son of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Routh. The family moved to Dallas and later lived in El Paso.

The elder Routh served as editor of the Texas Baptist Standard, the church's state publication, from 1914 to 1928.

In 1928, Dr. Routh moved his family to Oklahoma City, Okla., where he became editor of the Baptist Messenger.

Young Routh worked his way through Oklahoma Baptist University and after leaving the Shawnee News and Star, he returned to the school as a political science instructor. During 1935 and 1936, he was manager of the university press.

In 1937 Routh went to the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary for a year's study. He is one of the few laymen ever to attend the school.

The following year, he attended the University of Missouri School of Journalism and then returned to Oklahoma Baptist as director of publicity and journalism instructor.

In 1940 he became associate secretary of Sunday school training for the Oklahoma state convention and three years later succeeded his father as editor of the Baptist Messenger.

In 1945, Porter Routh came to Nashville as secretary of the department of survey and statistics for the Southern Baptist Convention. In 1946 he was named senior recording secretary.

He held both positions until his recent appointment as executive secretary.

Routh's prime objectives in his new work is the stimulation of interest among laymen in the church.

"There can be no great advance through the activities of ministers alone," he said. "The assistance and cooperation of laymen in the congregation is essential."

He added:

"The only solution to the problems we face is an increased interest in Christianity—not religion."

The convention, which has doubled its membership within the past 25 years, will continue to grow rapidly, Routh believes, because "Southern Baptist now are working in areas where opportunities for expansion are very great. This is particularly true of California and other sections along the West Coast."

Routh's more than passing interest in journalism is shared by other members of his family. A brother, Cope Routh, is a staff member of the Midland Reporter-Telegram. A sister, Mrs. Wendel Arnett, is married to the art director for the Louisville Courier-Journal's promotion department.

WHITE CROSS REPLACED
HONOLULU (AP)—The long rows of wooden crosses marking the graves of 13,000 World War II and Korean war dead are being removed from Punchbowl Cemetery. Flat stone markers are replacing the white crosses.

Army authorities said the change is being made because the wooden crosses deteriorated too rapidly in Hawaii's climate.

Communists Faking Propaganda

LINDEWERRA, Germany (AP)—German Communists are faking propaganda movies to show that the East is a land of refuge from the terrorist west. Dock workers at this little border town in the U. S. Zone can tell you how it's done. The other day they noticed that a ferry which plies the Werra river between here and the Soviet Zone was chugging toward the dock ahead of schedule.

"Go back! Go back!" they yelled. "You're an hour early. We can't handle you now."

As they waved their arms angrily to motion the ferry back they saw a camera crew perched on the ferry filming their protestations. A few days later the dock workers saw the same camera crew set up across the stream in the Soviet Zone. Three men in civilian clothes waded out into the stream toward them, then turned and started swimming back to the Soviet Zone shore. The camera crew went into action. The dock workers predict the finished production will show how three men "escaped" their "pursuers" in the "terror-ridden" U. S. Zone and were received in the Soviet Zone with open arms.

Whitharral and Pettit Churches To Take Active Part in State-Wide Methodist Revival Now in Progress

The Whitharral and Pettit Methodist churches, pastored by Rev. Welbourne Sharp, will actively participate in the state-wide Methodist revival opening October 28 and continuing through November 4.

For these meetings the pastors in the northern and southern sections of the state are exchanging pulpits.

Ministers from the northern section of the state are in the southern portion this week conducting evangelistic services.

With the opening of the meetings in the northern portion of the state the southern Texas preachers will come north.

Rev. Howard Pitts will be at Whitharral for the week of October 28 continuing through November 4. He is pastor of an Austin church.

Rev. G. H. Smith of Leesville, will preach at the Pettit church for the special meeting.

Rev. Mr. Sharp is attending Texas Tech in addition to his work with the Whitharral and Pettit churches. He is a son of the Rev. Jim Sharp, a former pastor of the Littlefield Methodist church. Rev. Jim Sharp took an important part in the building of the fine Methodist church which serves Littlefield.

Another son of the former Littlefield pastor, Rev. J. B. Sharp, is pastor of St. Marks Methodist church in Midland.

With the acceptance of the Whitharral and Pettit pastorates by Rev. Welbourne Sharp, both sons of the former Littlefield man chose the ministry as their life work.

Information For Veterans

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. What is the difference between a lapsed GI term policy and an expired GI term policy? Which one means that I, as a veteran, may not get any more GI insurance?

A. A lapsed GI term policy is one on which premiums have not been paid, but for which the term period covered by the policy has not yet expired. These may be reinstated or converted. An expired policy is one on which the term period has expired. This means the holder no longer is entitled to GI insurance as a veteran.

Q. I have a small GI loan on my home which is located on an unpaved street. My neighbors and I would like to pave the street and pay for it ourselves. We already have approval of the local government. May I use the remainder of my GI guarantee to get a loan for my share of the cost?

A. Yes, if the project complies with the loan guarantee provision of the GI Bill and VA regulations. Check it with the loan guarantee officer in your nearest VA office.

Q. May a burial flag, which drapes the casket of a deceased veteran, be given to the veteran's friend after burial?

A. No. The flag is to go to the next of kin.

Q. I am considered totally disabled for insurance purposes, but receive only 20 percent for service-connected disability compensation from VA. Can my VA award be increased?

A. Only if the service-connected disability is shown to have increased in severity. A total rating for insurance purposes may include other disabilities, not service-connected.

Business Booming In Singapore

SINGAPORE (AP)—Business is really booming and soaring to new all-time records in Singapore and the Federation of Malaya.

E. M. F. Fergusson, chairman of the Singapore chamber of commerce, announced Malayan trade figures for the first half of 1951 amounted to $1,976,590,960 (U.S.).

The total for all 1950 was $2,282,600,000.

Fergusson said the figures reflected the rapid inflation of demand and prices initiated by the war in Korea.

Because nobles of the Middle Ages had no banks in which to deposit their wealth, the Encyclopedia Americana says, they had their gold and silver fashioned into ornate cups and vases.

What's in your icebox? Nothing but leftovers, you say. Good. Let's get busy right now and use them up in some ingenious way that will tickle your family's palate.

With a little of this and a little of that, a touch of perky seasoning and a dependable automatic Caloric gas range you can serve leftover foods in new and interesting ways with no trouble at all, and you'll be helping to hold down your food budget, too. Here, for example, leftover peas and potatoes become part of a main dish that is really delicious:

Tuna Casserole

1 can mushroom soup
1 cup water
1 clove garlic, minced
Salt, pepper
Bread crumbs

Place peas and potatoes in greased baking dish, add tuna mushroom soup, water, salt, pepper and garlic. Stir, cover with bread crumbs and bake in 350° oven 30 minutes.

Stuffed Peppers

MUTT AND JEFF

Farmer Kind To Motorist

WINONA, Minn. (AP)—A local businessman had to make a rural trip after a recent heavy rain. He splashed through several big puddles, then came to a lake caused by an overflowing river. He knew the road across the flatlands well, so kept going.

Half way across his motor stalled. Water flowed in over the car floor. He sounded the horn until the battery died, but no help was in sight. He got up on the back of the seat and the water rose above his ankles on the cushion. Finally a farmer with a high-wheeled tractor came along and towed him out, standing in water up to his arm pits to hook a chain on the car.

"How much do I owe you," asked the motorist on dry ground. "Oh, make it about a dollar," said the farmer.

Block That Pass

DETROIT, (AP)—Tom Worthington, defensive halfback of the Detroit Lions, and a recent bridegroom, will be trying to thwart the passing efforts of an usher at his wedding. Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns was an attendant at Worthington's wedding this summer. Otto, incidentally, persuaded Tom to sign for pro football—not the marriage. Both are former Northwestern players.

Awarded Badge For War Service

WITH THE 1st CAVALRY IN KOREA—Pfc. L. W. Sykes of Springlake has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge, a symbol of close quarter fighting with the enemy, while serving with the 1st Cavalry Division in Korea.

The badge, consisting of a miniature replica of a Revolutionary War flintlock mounted on a blue background and superimposed on a silver wreath, distinguishes the actual fighting men from rear area and service troops.

Private Sykes is a member of the 5th Cavalry Regiment.

Dirigible Mooring Mast Pays Off In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The dirigible mooring mast that the late Alfred E. Smith had built on top of the Empire State Building is paying off in a way probably never envisioned by "AL".

A television broadcasting mast surmounting this world's tallest building is bringing in $500,000 a year in rents, according to George A. Hammer of the Charles F. Noyes

TODAY'S FIRE SAFETY FLA

Five local TV stations pay $70,000 a year each to use the mast, plus $30,000 a year for space for control equipment. In addition, the observation tower brings in $100,000 a year in admissions. One cubic foot of air weighs about 53 pounds.

U. S. Canning Is Showing More Activity

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that about five million tons of corn, tomatoes, snap beans and lima beans will find their way into cans this year.

The department reports that two billion cans were used in processing these vegetables last year with a value of over $120,000,000. Due to improved methods of preservation, there are now more than 45 varieties of highly nutritious vegetables available in cans the year around. Dr. R. H. Lueck, research director of the American Can Com-

What's the fastest-growing line of trucks in America?

LOOK around you—in cities, on farms, at terminals and loading docks—wherever goods are moved on wheels.

More and more, the pay load's packed on a GMC.

You see those letters on medium and heavy Diesels, the most economical workers in their field. For GMC means first in Diesel power.

You see gasoline-powered GMC's front-running the highways of America—pace-setting delivery of the necessities of peace and war.

You see nimble bantamweights of the family—the highest-powered 1/2- to 2-tonners made—outpulling, outhauling every other truck in their class.

Ever wonder why GMC is gaining a greater percentage of the industry than any other truck-maker?

Ask the truck drivers themselves.

See the confident way they talk of the power plants, the broad-shouldered chassis—the way a GMC handles.

Ask about the tons they've hauled, the miles they've logged—the nip-and-tuck schedules they've licked time and again.

Ask these cost-wary haulers why they've made GMC the fastest-growing fleet in the land.

They'll tell you it's because GMC is the finest motor truck made.

If you'll come in, we'll show you why we think they're right.

Parents of Son

A son, Gary Leon was born to Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Wooten, route 2, Anton. He made his appearance at Payne-Shotwell Foundation at 9:40 p.m. October 2, 1951, weighing 10 pounds. He has black hair and blue eyes.

The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wooten, Anton, and Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Lindley, Littlefield. The great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Roberts, Littlefield, Mrs. Ollie Simmons, Tyler-town, Miss., and Mrs. Lela Wooten, Gausville, Texas. The mother of the infant is the former Miss Freda Lindley.

Blackie's Garage will move Monday next from 310 West Delano to the new J. O. Garlington building, adjoining the Shamrock Service Station, west of town on Highway 84.

R. L. Repass, owner and operator of Blackie's Garage, has been connected with the general automobile repair business in Littlefield since 1927, and has been in his present business for the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Repass have three children, Mrs. Don Christian of Fort Worth; Ernest Repass, who is in the service and stationed at Fort Sill; and Morris Repass, student of Texas Christian University, majoring in music.

A general repair of automobiles, trucks and tractors is carried out at Blackie's Garage.

They specialize in motor tuneup, starters, generators and magneto service. They sell and service Vitale and Auto-Lite batteries, and Carter and Zenith carburetors.

Blackie's also carry a full line of genuine Delco and Auto-Lite ignition parts.

Considerable new equipment has been purchased by Blackie's Garage, and in the new building with the additional space and equipment they will be in a position to render the best of service promptly.

Local Students In All Schools To Receive Reports

Supt. Joe Hutchinson announced Tuesday that the first report cards of the new year, will be issued to all students next Wednesday afternoon, October 17th.

He announced that this report is sent to patrons of the district who have students in school, to help acquaint them with the progress their children are making in school. It is hoped that it will be given careful attention, that the report, will be signed, and returned promptly.

The record of each child has been set up not on a basis of comparison of one child's work with that of another, but rather in terms of his own ability to make progress.

The Littlefield teachers will be glad to discuss the school problems of your children with you and to cooperate to the end that these children attain the greatest possible benefits from their attendance in Littlefield public schools.

Patrons are requested to assist the teachers in the work with their children by requiring regular and prompt attendance and careful, consistent preparation of daily assignments.

They are invited to call at the school if unsatisfactory marks appear on the card. A conference between parent and teacher can often bring about pupil improvement.

Citizenship is a term which includes a number of habits and traits which the Littlefield schools are attempting to develop and strengthen through the school program. Cooperation, courtesy, dependability, initiative, effort, and general attitude toward school work are considered in determining a citizenship grade.

Patrons are cordially invited to visit the schools at any time.

Lamb County And Area Hit By Labor Shortages; 17,000 Pullers Needed

More than 17,000 cotton pullers are needed on the South Plains, according to the estimate of the Texas Employment commission and K. N. Clapp, agent for Anderson Clayton Company in Lubbock, estimates labor is short by two-thirds.

Clapp said progress of the cotton crop is "excellent". He added, "Summertime temperatures around 90, dry weather and moderate drying winds are just what the doctor ordered to mature the crop." Temperatures last week were unseasonably high before the cool front moved in Saturday morning.

The warm days "popcorned bottom bolls," Clapp said.

Crop conditions remain unchanged. Irrigated cotton is good and dryland is poor to fair with 10 percent of the dryland crop good.

Movement of cotton from fields to gins and from gins to the area classing office in Lubbock nearly tripled the previous week. The classing office received samples last week from 31,000 bales of cotton. Peak day receipts were 8,000.

Clapp believes the immediate labor picture is aggravated because "some migrants are leaving because of the child labor law."

Most rural schools have advanced closing to 1 p. m. to give the youngster a chance in the fields, but this advance is not keeping some of the migrants with children. Clapp said several schools will close for the cotton season and he believes the number of closings will increase.

Labor needs estimate by TEC checking points include: Lubbock 8,500, Spur 500, Olton 1,200, Littlefield 2,500, Morton 750, Ralls 600, Paducah 300, Levelland 1,000, Seminole 500, Hale Center 500, Tahoka 1,000, Lamesa 650, Snyder 500, Floydada 300, Lockney 200 and Brownfield 1,980.

Funeral Services Held Wednesday For J. L. Dalton

J. L. Dalton, sr., 58, was found dead, shot to death, shortly before noon, Monday, at the Dalton family home on Levelland Highway in Littlefield, a 16 gauge shotgun, with one exploded shell, lying nearby. Members of the family discovered the tragedy.

Sheriff's department was called, and conducted a routine investigation, but the legal inquest was not immediately completed, due to the fact that Sam Farquhar, Justice of the Peace has been absent from his office on account of ill health.

Mr. Dalton and his family have made their home in Littlefield since 1935. For the past year he has been in ill health, and despondent, due to an injury he received while working at a gin at Hart, about a year ago. In that accident both of his legs were broken, and he has since been in a crippled condition.

Besides the wife, who survives, are also six children, three daughters and three sons, two of whom live in Littlefield, they being Mrs. Etta Mae Duffy, and Loy Dalton, employed as assistant manager with Piggly Wiggly here. Other children surviving are: J. L. Dalton, Jr., with the U.S. Marines at Bremerton, Washington, Roy Dalton of Duncan, Oklahoma, Mrs. LaVerne Lankford, Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Amy Chastain, Lubbock. All were immediately notified, and were expected to arrive at Carter, Oklahoma, where the remains will be laid at rest.

Deceased was born in Oklahoma, when that state was still a U.S. territory, on June 4, 1893. He has been connected with various gins both in his native state and in Texas.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the First Baptist church at Carter, Oklahoma. Hammons funeral home of Littlefield arranged the transfer of the remains to Oklahoma, and were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Labor Shortage In Malaya Seen

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) The Associated Chinese chambers of commerce are worried lest "draft dodgers" will cause a grave labor shortage in Malaya.

President H. S. Lee estimated that 30,000 Chinese youths, including many skilled workers, had left Malaya during the early part of 1951 to avoid being called up under the manpower draft.

He reported some mines, plantations and other industries are so short of labor that they have imported Gurkha workers from Burma.

Approximately 30 FFA, green-hands with sponsor, Hershell Potts attended the Lubbock Fair last Wednesday afternoon, and the following day, 20 FFA boys with sponsor, W. W. Hall attended the fair. Both trips were made in local school buses. The local FFA boys exhibited crop products in the Lubbock Fair, and won several first places. Mr. Hall, high school agricultural teacher announced that Littlefield FFA chapter will not attend the Dallas State Fair this year. However, they are making plans now to have entries ready and will attend the fair at Dallas next year.

Renowned as a four-wheel grid talisman is this 1931 model Chevrolet which was brought to the Michigan campus 14 years ago when the football team's slumping fortunes began to recover. The vehicle has been passed from one coach to another and is currently owned by Bill Orwig, shown at the right of Head Coach Bennie Oosterbaan. Superstitious coaches kick the car's tires, pat its fenders or sound the horn before big games.

Fire Prevention and Civil Defense Go Hand in Hand

Fire prevention is an important part of civil defense. If an enemy attacks this country, his bombs, whether they be atomic, high explosive, or incendiary, will cause more damage by fire than they will by blast. Hence, anything done to make it hard for fires to start is a step towards preparing your community to protect itself if war comes.

The majority of all fires start in trashpiles, rubbish, or stored odds and ends that accumulate around the house. Closets, attics, and cellars are the main source of home fires, and plain ordinary good housekeeping is a strong line of defense against them.

Clean out your storage places. You will be surprised at how many burnable odds and ends are really useless to you. Don't let them make your home a fire hazard. Get rid of them. If local welfare agencies can't use them, call the junk man.

Don't stop when you've cleared out the inside of your house. Go after rubbish in your back yard, in alleys and in vacant lots near your home. Collect the rubbish and burn it. Don't leave it around to burn if an enemy bombs your city. Be sure to burn rubbish in metal containers.

Take a look at your electrical system. Buy new plugs and cords if yours are worn. Get advice from an electrician if your fuses blow frequently. They may be dangerously overloaded. His advice may prevent a bad fire.

Every winter costly fires are started by faulty furnaces, stoves, and other heating plants. Some result from too much soot in chimneys. Others are caused by rusted or cracked pipes and fittings. Look over your heating system now. If your chimney needs it, clean it out. If the furnace pipes and connections are cracked and rusted, replace them.

Teach your family not to put magazines, papers, or clothing on radiators or near open flames. Don't hang flimsy curtains near your kitchen stove. Don't allow lamp shades to come in contact with light bulbs. Remember that such things don't have to touch flame to burn. They will catch fire simply because they are too close to the heat for too long.

Gasoline, benzene, naptha, and similar fluids should never be used indoors. When mixed with air, their vapors can be ignited by the spark of a light switch or an electric fan, or the tiny flame of a pilot light. Keep such fluids in tightly closed metal containers outside your home.

And remember: oil-soaked rags, especially rags that have been used to spread quick-drying liquids such as turpentine, paint thinners, and some furniture polishes, can catch fire by themselves. Oily rags should be stored in air-tight metal containers. It is best to keep them outside the house.

Jimmie Cox Gets A Bird Every Day . . . And He Loves It

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—Jimmie Cox gets a bird every day—and he loves it.

Superintendent of the State of New Mexico's Department of Game Farm at La Huerta, near Carlsbad, Cox has charge of the production of some 8,500 game birds a year.

As if that weren't enough to keep him busy, he's planning to leave soon for the Middle East, where he will spend six months with Dr. Gardner Bump of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service in the study and collection of exotic game birds.

The expedition is interested chiefly in bringing back the Chukar (a quail-like bird), Sand Grouse, Black Partridge, Bustards, and Scaup Partridge. It also will try to snare several specimens of a rare Black Pheasant believed to inhabit the Caspian Sea region.

Cox hopes to bring back to New Mexico 500 Chukars to aid his pet project at the game farm. He is working on a program of Chukar planting and hopes to provide the state with enough of the birds so sportsmen can have a Chukar season.

The Chukar is the coming thing in game birds, Cox is convinced. The bird is a true Partridge and is about 2½ times the size of a quail. Because it is a fast and elusive flier, it makes an excellent game bird.

Little Chukar planting has been done so far in New Mexico because of a shortage of stock. Cox estimates it should take 10 years to establish the bird in numbers sufficient to provide a hunting season.

His interest in game birds began as a hobby. After spending his childhood in San Angelo, and spending some time at both Texas A&I and San Angelo junior college, Cox went into the hotel business.

Helping the Texas game department trap quail near the Rio Grande during the early 30s, he became interested in raising the birds as a hobby.

In 1939 he came to Carlsbad to work on the game farm, then operated privately by J. Stokely Logan, a naturalist.

His expedition with Dr. Pump will begin at Istanbul and move through Turkey, Trans-Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Saudi Arabia. These countries, Cox pointed out, have the same general climatic conditions as New Mexico.

At the La Huerta farm, Pheasant production occupies most of his time. The farm produces about 8,000 Pheasant annually, chiefly ringnecks.

Keeping the Pheasant population high enough to maintain a hunting season represents a difficult problem, Cox said, because hunters from all over the Southwest come to New Mexico to shoot the birds.

The farm also produces about 2,000 Quail each year to re-stock "disaster areas" where the Quail population has been reduced.

Since July Cox and his three assistants have planted about 5,000 game birds throughout the state. Hauling about 400 birds on each trip, Cox figures that he has covered about 12,000 miles already this planting season.

Birds are caught late in the afternoon of the day before they are to be planted. Then they are put on the truck and by traveling all night are at the distribution point by daybreak. In this way, Cox explained, the birds have a full day after being released to find a good roosting spot and feed.

Distribution of the birds is done on a schedule which Cox draws up in June on the basis of his anticipated production and the expected hunting pressure.

Permanent brood stock is maintained at the farm, and during the April to August hatching season about 1,200 to 2,000 eggs a week are set in the farms hatching machines.

Besides his regular game stock at the farm, Cox also has several personal projects. He had a pair of McQueen Houbara Bustards, the only two in the United States, and is waiting to see if they are mates. They were brought here from Iran.

Cox's success with birds is evident in the group of Prairie Chickens he has at the farm. The chickens are almost impossible to raise in captivity, but Cox has already bred three generations.

"When I get up to the fifth generation, I'll call it a success," he said.

Brownie Scout Troop Enjoys "Cookout"

These Women Headaches of A Reluctant Hostess

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"Entertaining" is a collective word covering all social activities from a cozy gossip over the teacups to an extensive whittie solree climaxed by one of the guests jumping into the swimming pool. It is, however, a civilized function which all of us except hermits must face from time to time.

Literature on entertaining is particularly broad, ranging from broad treatises and books of etiquette on the subject to specific articles like "Why Not a Witches' Brew for Halloween Fun?" At any rate, there's so much information around on entertaining that no woman can avoid playing hostess occasionally on the grounds she doesn't know how.

As a reluctant hostess and enthusiastic party-goer, I know the ground rules as well as anyone:

A brilliant hostess is a woman who gives unusual, or elegant, or charming parties. The food and drink should be memorable. Even if it's only low—as opposed to high—tea, the cups must be as paper-thin as the sandwiches and the water must come to a rolling boil. But the big test of a hostess, according to my intense reading, is her ability to "bring interesting people together." There should be "good talk," and this is produced by selecting guests by the exact method used in compounding a cocktail or gourmet's dish. This genius with guests, for so it is called, is the acid test. If a hostess has the knack, she really needn't fret about a chocolate mousse, because people will be so fascinated they won't even be tasting it.

Personally, I've had ambitions to be this sort of a hostess for a long time, but I doubt if the time will ever come when I can achieve a schedule which even permits me to pay back long-standing social obligations.

Any entertaining to which I am a party usually concludes with the guests in the beginning stages of several neighborhood feuds.

The prospect of planning even a small dinner party a week or more in advance is appalling to me, and a source of worry as the date gets closer. My choice of entertaining method is a sudden decision to "have a few people in" and to act on the inspiration, inviting all the people I happen to see during the next half-hour. The main advantage in this system is the elimination of worry. There's an informality about it, too, which is helpful because at the half-way point I have to borrow ice cubes from my neighbors and no one thinks a thing about it.

Of course, the people who happen to be within sound of my voice rarely are persons to whom I am, socially, in debt. But primarily I fail as a hostess because I don't arrange my guest list as one would a flower arrangement, selecting each guest carefully for his contribution to the whole. My guests invariably split into two camps, men on one side, women on the other. The men get into fearsome rows and inconclusive wrangles on foreign policy, methods of sowing lawn-seed and why we shouldn't vote for a new school. The women discuss their children, home permanents and the price of meat. The wives "steal off" early to relieve the baby sitter and the men wolf peanuts by the handfuls. I've never had any luck with good talk nor has my party ever produced a social lion.

Eventually, the last straggler wanders home, and I'm left with stacks of dishes to wash and the job of removing roughly a pound of cheese crackers which have been ground into the living room rug. The only good talk I can remember is an invitation from a departing couple to come up to their place for a little get-together the next week—informal, just good conversation. And they'll be the ones to do the dishes.

Maybe some people can have parties by the rules and guests who play by them. I just think there must be an easier way.

Breakfast in southern Italy today is bread—or nothing. Due to the impoverished soil, overpopulation and a number of economic reasons the agrarian population of southern Italy, even five years after the war cannot produce the wherewithal to sustain life. This boy in tattered clothes, lives in Salerno. He is 13 years old but has the body of a child of nine. He is orphaned and lives as best he can by helping to harvest grapes. For a back-breaking 12-hour working day, he receives 50 lire or about eight cents in American money. This job, however, lasts only during the grape season, which is now. During the winter, spring and summer seasons he earns nothing. Christian relief agencies, through the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) which collects relief in kind from American farms, have helped boys like this, but more is needed to make this a happier world to live in for this boy and all the others which have not yet benefited from the Christian spirit of the American farmer.

Hungary Sets Up Church Fund

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary has established a church fund "to guarantee the financial basis of the task of Churches," according to a decree published in the Official Gazette. The decree referred to previous Church-state agreements under which the state pays priest's salaries and social security. Fund income comes from state appropriations and income from former Church-owned lands. Last August priests were ordered by their bishops to cede all land still owned by the parishes to the government.

Railroad Tie Testing Machine

WASHINGTON (AP)—A machine that puts a railroad tie through its paces at the comparatively short time of 100 hours has been developed by the Timber Engineering Company here. The machine puts the tie through the same mechanical wear that normally takes 20 years of service to produce. Most railroad ties are removed from service because of mechanical damage rather than decay. In 1950 18 million were taken out of service at a replacement cost of $189 million.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Norman Rockwell, popular magazine cover artist and illustrator arrived here recently to start on what he himself termed "his most challenging assignment"—to capture "the Kansas City spirit." But it's no easy hunt that's facing the 37-year-old artist. Instead it's the first attempt to portray in oils the courage of this city. It was this courage during the recent flood disaster that caught Rockwell's attention at his Arlington, Va., home and caused him to offer his services to the city. Armed with camera and sketchbook, the Vermont artist gathered impressions here for a painting to sum up this spirit. Rockwell will complete the painting in his Vermont studio but he declined to estimate how long it would take him. "The impressions came so fast that I haven't had time to assimilate them," he pointed out.

Labor Shortage in Malays

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—From next year on, Chinese who own land in urban areas of Formosa are going to find themselves hard hit. The Chinese Nationalist cabinet has approved what it calls an urban land reform program. It will begin Jan. 1, 1952 and will form the pattern for the mainland if the Nationalists ever recover it. The program means that if the value of city land rises, taxes will be increased. Land belong to absentee landlords or on which there has been no building improvements also will be subject to heavy taxes. The amount of land any individual may own within urban areas will be limited on a sliding scale, which is adjusted according to the locality in which the land is located. The government may buy at its own terms or requisition any land owned by an individual beyond these limits.

BEAUTY

TIME TO PUT ON YOUR WINTER FACE

By BETTY CLARKE

Sometimes we do not notice the effect of summer's sun on our skins until we are well along into fall. Most of us adore our lovely suntans, and enjoy looking "brown as a berry." But when cooler weather comes around, we find that our skins do not take the transition from summer to fall in a kindly manner.

One thing skin needs—particularly dry skin—is a good oil bath occasionally. This should be done at frequent intervals during the fall, if we want to get skin back to normal before winter sets in.

Old Sol lines the face with tiny dry lines, and it is frightening to spot crow's feet at the corners of our eyes. But, usually, after lubricating the skin a few times, these unnecessary and unflattering little wrinkles disappear. Some women use the nightly bath to steam in a lubricating cream. If you're a shower addict, however, you may want to try the washbowl facial. Here's how:

Use a loosely-woven towel to se-

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I just was discharged from the Army for a serious wound I suffered in Korea. The Army told me I could get either of two types of life insurance from VA. What are they and where do I apply for them?

A—The two types are: (1) a five-year term policy that is not convertible to permanent insurance and that does not pay dividends, or (2) any plan, permanent cure hair well out of the way. Then cup a little baby oil into the palm of your hand and slather it generously over the face. Now run steaming water into a bowl and bend close, letting the steam get in some good work. Three minutes by your clock—or an egg-timer—will help ease the softening oil into your relaxed pores. Sterile cotton balls will remove the loosened dirt, or a soap-and-water scrub can be used if you desire.

As a final skin-toning routine, cup icy cold water into your palms and spank the face into glowing radiance. One famous beautician advises that instead of using the hands, you wrap a large wad of cotton around a stick, dip cotton in skin freshener or the ice water, and pat your skin for five or ten minutes. If this is done properly, with short, quick strokes, you will be amazed that your face will tingle, even the next day.

or term, of the special NSLI authorized for recently disabled veterans. Apply in writing to Veterans Administration, Washington, 25, D. C., for either to determine your eligibility.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and I used up my $4,000 GI home loan guaranty over three years ago. Now I understand that a new law gives me an additional $3,500 GI guaranty. Is that right?

A—Yes. The new defense housing act of 1951 permits World War II veterans to get the difference between the amount of the loan guaranty they used up before April 20, 1950 and $7,500, but only for home loans.

Q—Is it still possible to get a GI loan that is repayable in up to 30 years?

A—In special cases, VA may authorize maturities up to 30 years where the veteran can not otherwise meet the required monthly payments under a shorter maturity. Otherwise, the term for repayment on loans of $12,000 or less is a maximum of 25 years.
