

Poll Tax Issue Clouded

Lamb county residents who will want no-charge poll tax receipts that will let them vote on federal offices in 1964 elections will not need them if they already have paid their poll tax, or are exempt from poll tax payment, emphasizes county tax collector Herbert Dunn.

"There may be wide misunderstanding of just what these receipts are," Dunn pointed out. "If you have paid your current poll tax, or are exempt because of age, then you do not need this special kind of receipt."

"But if you have not paid your poll tax, then you can get this special receipt that will let you vote on federal offices in elections, and there is no charge for it."

You can't get them yet, but there will be a 30-day period for their issuance as soon as a new federal amendment abolishing this part of a poll tax is certified. This is expected any day.

The federal constitutional amendment forbidding poll tax charges for voting on federal offices was approved a week ago when it was ratified by 38 states, the number necessary to make it law. South Dakota was the 38th state to approve the amendment.

The law affects only the five states that still have a poll tax, and Texas is one of the five. Simply, the new law will let any voter take part in an election for federal officers--President, Vice President, Congressman or U.S. Senator--without paying a state poll tax.

But it does not affect the voting on state, county or local offices. To do this in Texas you still have to pay a state poll tax of $1.75.

In Lamb county, about 3,500 persons had paid poll taxes through Tuesday, with deadline for payment Friday, January 31.

Dunn's office will be open until 9 p.m. Friday to issue poll tax receipts.

Under the Texas poll tax, as most people understand, all Texas residents between 21 and 70 years of age must pay a $1.75 tax each year to vote in that year. Residents above 60 years are exempt from the tax.

This law goes back a number of years and was enforced, in similar form, in most Southern states after the Civil War. All but five have dropped the voting requirement.

Texas declined to do so just last November when they failed to approve a Texas constitutional amendment that would abolish the tax.

But the federal government has been pressing for several years to lift the tax as a requirement to vote for federal office holders. This got approval, as noted, last week.

In anticipation of this, the Texas legislature last year set up the machinery to issue a separate poll tax receipt, in the way that Dunn and other county tax collectors over the state will issue them shortly.

The non-charge poll tax receipts will have stamped across their face "Poll Tax Not Paid." With this certification, voters can get a ballot first in party primary voting over Texas in May.

Probably the ballot they get will be separate, perhaps a different color, and will list only the federal offices in that election.

For Lamb county voters in May, the offices will be Congressman and U.S. Senator.

In the November general election, however, the ballot will include candidates for President and Vice President.

The non-paid taxes could be a sizeable factor in Texas voting this fall.

They are not expected to be in Lamb county. However, this remains a question mark over the state, particularly in south

SHIRLING DEADLINE NEAR Sheriff's Contest All for County

Lamb county politics promised to be unusually quiet this election year, except in one place, as deadline for filing of candidates for office nears a close.

The only race developed yet, both Democratic and Republican primaries, is for sheriff of Lamb county. Four candidates are in that race now, on the Democratic party ticket.

Deadline for filing for the primary is next Monday, Feb. 2. Democrats file with Glenn Hester, county Demo chairman, and Republicans file with Bill Carter, GOP chairman.

The four sheriff candidates are Dick Dyer, Dick Ratliff, Roy Dalton and Maurine Hazel. Hazel is the first woman to seek office in county history. However, only three of these candidates have filed with Bates and paid filing fees. Miss

HOWDY!

Politics are awfully confusing around the county of Lamb this week.

It is not just over the new question of Can John Beat Don with his arm in a sling, but more over who can vote and how?

Herbert Dunn, the able county tax collector, went to work last Thursday to establish the procedure for giving folks free poll tax receipts to let them vote in federal elections under the new U. S. amendment. He said it well worked out by Monday.

Then Tuesday an AP story indicated that the new federal poll tax amendment made it mandatory for persons over 21--who do not need poll tax receipts of any kind--to get an exemption if they are to vote.

Right away Herbert's phone was ringing with new questions. He read the AP item and thought that it applied only to Dallas, where it originated, but couldn't be sure.

Right now he is sure. You DO NOT need a poll tax exemption if you live in Lamb county and are more than 60 years old. You HAVE NOT, he repeats, needed one before and you DO NOT need one now. Herbert, and a lot of other tax collectors over the state called the state comptroller Tuesday to get the final word.

If you lived in a town of 10,000 persons and were over 60, then you would need an exemption. This has been the Texas law for years and the new federal amendment did not affect this part at all. If you lived in Dallas, or any city over 10,000 people, you would need it.

So, if you were 60 years old before January 1, 1963, you go right ahead to the polls and vote in all races and you don't need to have any receipt, or anything else. Just vote.

If you are under 60, and over 21, the new law applies to you and you can vote for federal offices without a poll tax. This is explained elsewhere in this edition; and if THIS explanation confuses you, write former governor Allan Shivers. He is consulted already and your letter won't make any difference.

The reason Allan is added

$20,000 Blaze Hits Amherst Grocery Store

AMHERST (Special)--A $20,000 blaze swept through the Wagner Grocery & Market building here early Tuesday morning with intense smoke and heat causing much of the damage.

A night watchman discovered the blaze about 4:30 a.m. Tuesday and called out the Amherst Volunteer Fire Department. The fire was believed to have started from an electric motor in the market section of the store.

Marvin Wagner, owner and manager, said the store would have to be closed temporarily while repairs are made. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

The damage was estimated at $18,000 to contents and $2,000 to the building. Wagner and his father are pioneer merchants in this Lamb County community.

Firemen described the smoke as "terrific," reporting they had to crawl in with water hoses to combat the blaze. The intense heat melted many plastic containers in the store, adding to the smoke problem.

Pair Burned In Flash Fire

Two young Lamb County men were burned in a flash fire on the Roy Jones farm Monday night. The pair were working on motorcycles when gasoline apparently ignited.

Injured were Wallace Holly, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindell Holly of Rt. 1, Anton, and Troy Jones, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones. Holly sustained burns on his back and legs, suffering second degree burns over about 20 percent of his body. Jones was not injured as seriously, but had burns on his neck and face. Both are in Littlefield Hospital.

The fire was reported at 8:59 Monday, and the Littlefield Volunteer Fire Department answered the alarm. The fire occurred in a small "laborer's house" near the Jones home.

Grid Banquet Set Monday

Tickets for the annual Littlefield Quarterback Club banquet are on sale with Coach John Bridgers of Baylor scheduled as guest speaker here Monday night in the school cafeteria.

QB Club president, Efton Graham, asked all members with tickets to turn in money Saturday to Orville Bassett at Littlefield Tire, in order that a check can be made on the progress of ticket sales.

The banquet, honoring the Wildcat football team, is set for 7:30 p.m. Monday. The Wildcats' "most valuable player," selected by team members, will be named at the banquet.

Bridgers guided his Baylor Bears to a Bluebonnet Bowl victory this past season after finishing behind Texas in the SWC grid race. Coach John Howie said Bridgers had been invited to bring one or two of his gridgers to the banquet.

The banquet is open to the general public, and any interested persons are urged to secure tickets.

OUTSTANDING FARMER, FFA STUDENTS NAMED C of C Fete Draws Record Crowd

COFFEE BREAK FOR TOP FARMER--Doug Walden, named as an "Outstanding Farmer of 1963" by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night, had that extra cup of coffee before he started chiseling his land one day this week. His attractive wife, George Ann, prepares to pour.

Award Surprise For Doug Walden

"I can't understand them picking me. I must be more deserving farmers than myself."

This was the reaction of Doug Walden after being named Wednesday as "Outstanding Farmer of the Year" by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

Walden received his award at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Wednesday night. The modest, 25-year-old farmer lives about three miles north of Littlefield with his wife and two sons. He farms land there and west near Bula.

Doug is no "windshield farmer," and this may have been a factor which influenced judges for the "outstanding farmer" award.

He does most of the work on the 230 acres he is presently working.

That work, this week, consisted of chiseling the hard, hard soil on his farm. Doug, like many other county farmers, is crying for moisture. The chisels were turning up clods as big as a man's head this week.

Walden had 119 acres of cotton and 111 acres of feed this past season. He also raised cattle and has 33 head at this time--22 of them being registered Hereford. He was proudly showing a new heifer this week.

Doug reports his dryland cotton west of Littlefield was much better than his irrigated crop north of town. A hail in June hit his irrigated land, however, and Walden would have settled for 10 bales on that 66 acres about that time.

With the extraordinary fall weather, Walden managed to

A record-breaking crowd of more than 500 turned out to hear the nation's No. 1 speaker, Dr. Kenneth McFarland, and see presentation of annual awards and installation of new officers at Littlefield's "Golden Anniversary" Chamber of Commerce banquet Wednesday night.

Special recognition was paid to Troy Armes, outgoing chamber president, and awards were presented to Doug Walden, the year's outstanding farmer; Haynes Melton and Jerry Lancaster, outstanding junior and senior FFA students, and Rheta Melton of Clinton and James Stiles of Pleasant Valley, the county Gold Star 4-H girl and boy.

The awards to Walden and to the top FFA students were surprise announcements. Walden is a 25-year-old native Littlefield man who farms several miles north of town. Melton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Melton, and Lancaster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lancaster. The top 4-H students were named in November.

Armes was master of ceremonies and introduced new President Jerry Sanders, radio station owner, and other new officers. Glenn Reeves made the presentation of awards at the big banquet. It was held in the high school gym to accommodate the largest audience ever to attend a chamber banquet here.

Additional details of the banquet, including Dr. McFarland's address, will be carried in Sunday's County Wide News.

New officers for the chamber's 1964 year are Sanders; Cephas Glover, Kenneth Reast, Kenneth Rotan and Kenneth Ware, vice presidents; C. W. "Chick" Conway, president-elect; and Ray Keeling, treasurer.

New directors installed were Glover, Rotan, Joe Montgomery and Reast, the latter reelected. Outgoing directors are Don Bell, Jack Wicker and Armes. Other holdover directors are Otis Bennett, James Lee, Arnold Neumann and Jim Mangum.

Trustees Reject New Vote Plan

By a close 4-3 vote, Littlefield School trustees Monday decided to keep the present at-large method of electing board members.

Trustees were called to a special session Monday at 5:30 p.m. to discuss whether or not to adopt "places" on the school board. A recent state law has made it permissible for school districts the size of Littlefield to use this method for the first time.

The new plan would have set up "place" numbers for each seat on the board. For example, if Place 1 and Place 2 terms expired this year, candidates would file for either one or the other.

It would be possible for Place 1, for example, to have several candidates and Place 2 to have only one--or vice versa.

The plan is not based on geographical location, but has the effect of pitting candidates against each other as in other political elections.

Under the present system when two seats are to be filled, all candidates are grouped and the top two vote getters are named to the trustee posts. This is the system which will be retained for the upcoming April 4 trustee election.

The terms of Jack Barton board president, and Delbert Ross expire this year. Neither had indicated Wednesday whether they would seek reelection to the board. All terms are for three years, with two trustees being elected one year and three the next.

In discussion Monday, some

Civil Suit In County Court

A civil suit is scheduled for trial in county court today, beginning at 10 a.m. with County Judge J.B. Davis presiding.

The suit is a forcible entry and detainer case, styled Ruth Kirkpatrick vs. Lowell Walden. The plaintiff seeks possession of a farm north of Springlake. The defendant is the present tenant of the farm, which contains 320 acres.

"These countries can buy our farm products cheaper than our own manufacturers can,"

GOPs Host Candidate

Lamb county Republicans gave an enthusiastic endorsement at a Wednesday luncheon to Joe C. Phillips of Lubbock who outlined for them his candidacy for Congress on the Republican ticket.

Phillips, a candidate for an at-large congressional post in 1962, outlined a conservative program of "representative government" to the luncheon group.

He went on to define "representative government" as "a government of representative citizens."

"For example, I am a businessman and I represent this group. Representative government is intended to have citizens from different walks of life in office."

"I have invited the people to ask me to leave office after 30 years," he declared in a reference to the 30 years Cong. George Mahon, also of Lubbock, has served in Congress.

Phillips declared for what he calls "positive corrections" of existing problems of government. He favored sharply limiting exports of cotton, beef and oil.

"Our first obligation is at home," he stressed, pointing out that the U. S. is "subsidizing 100 nations and we owe more money than any nation in the world."

He believes West Texas can industrialize more, that its cotton market can be enlarged at home. He voiced opposition to "the credits extended to Russia in the exchange of grain, and of cotton."

It would be a shame to waste this chance to drive one of Buick's lively sport models, wouldn't it? Especially considering your Buick dealer's so close, and the price is so nice. That's what the Sports Car Rally is all about. And they're all luxurious enough to make you wonder why anybody'd settle for a two-seater. Joyner, With Crying Towel In Hand Describes Hectic Trip To New York

In these days of modern transportation, it's hard to imagine anyone being 26 1/2 hours late for an appointment in New Jersey—even if he does live in Littlefield.

Sit back, relax and read this sad tale of a frustrating weekend trip to New York and New Jersey made by Jim Joyner recently.

It's much more interesting as related by Jim, but he doesn't have time to give the personal version to everyone. Joyner had out his crying towel early in the week, but he was able to laugh about his experiences later.

Joyner, manager of the J. C. Penney Co., carefully mapped out plans for his trip to Asbury Park, N.J., where he was to be a judge in the Grand National Pigeon Show. He made airline reservations, notified a Yankee friend when his plane would arrive, made hotel reservations, and arranged to meet his son who is stationed in Virginia.

He was to leave Dallas Thursday morning, arrive at Kennedy Airport at 1:57 p.m., and be whisked away to Asbury Park—a 40-minute ride—by a friend who is also an official of the Komorner Tumbler Pigeon Club. Jim is the club's national secretary. His son, Jim Jr., was to meet him at the hotel Friday.

Presbyterian Youth Meeting Slated Feb. 16

A new program for the young people of the Presbyterian Church in Littlefield will be outlined, discussed and demonstrated at the Winter Regional Training Event for youth and interested adults at Brownfield, Feb. 16.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Pete Cowart of Canyon, is sponsored by the Presbytery of Plains Youth subcommittee of Christian Education.

The new program, using the title of the "Texas Plan", was developed in El Paso in response to national concern for the young people of the church. It is designed to make a dynamic program of organizations which have become static.

Copies of the new Texas Plan will be sent to each church participating for study by delegates before the meeting.

Meeting with the delegates from Littlefield will be others from Lubbock, Slaton, Lamesa, Snyder, Post, Brownfield, Muleshoe and Plainview.

to throw the carefully laid plans into confusion. The airline office called Thursday morning and reported his flight had been cancelled due to snow on the runways in Dallas. The plane would go directly from San Antonio and miss Dallas.

At 8 a.m. he started a series of telephone calls to let show officials, his friend and his son know that he would not arrive on schedule. Both the man who was to pick him up and his son had left and could not be reached.

The airlines called and assured him of a flight re-arrangement leaving Dallas at 9:30 p.m. Thursday and arriving in New York at 7:10 a.m. Friday, and he arrived in New York all set for a quick 40-minute ride to his destination. Then he discovered, however, that the limousine service, where he had made reservations, had been on strike several days.

By this time, of course, Joyner decided that fate was against him. He had just missed the helicopter service, too. However, a friendly man at the airport told him how to catch a bus that would take him to the port of entry, and he could catch a shuttle bus from there to Asbury Park.

Snow was piled up in New York, and his first bus finally made it through heavy traffic to the port of entry. Here, he had to rush four blocks to the place where the Asbury Park bus was scheduled to leave.

When inquiring about the next bus to Asbury Park, he was told that this line was on strike—there was no service to his destination. However, he found he could catch a bus to Long Branch, N.J., and catch a shuttle bus going back to Asbury Park.

Joyner had already checked out the taxi route, deciding against a $22 fare since he already had invested quite a sum of money in the trip. The way things were going, Joyner was not the least bit surprised to find he just missed the shuttle bus on his arrival in Long Branch. He settled for a cab on the last lap of his journey, arriving at the show just as the judging was completed on Komorner Tumblers—the division he was supposed to have headed.

Jim thought his troubles were about over, but there's more. Jim Jr. had not yet arrived, so his dad hung his western hat up high in the show building so that it might be seen. Of course, Junior doesn't know about the hotel mixup, either.

Joyner printed up three signs, placing two in the show building and he soon found need for the other. The hotel where his reservations were made has been closed and is in the hands of receivership.

Joyner found nice motel accommodations just two blocks from the show and two blocks from the hotel, however, and put up a sign at the hotel telling his son where he was.

After these preparations, Jim decided to take time to eat—a luxury he had skipped all day during his hectic attempts to make transportation connections.

After the show closed at 10 p.m., Joyner and some friends waited at the motel for his son to show. Jim made checks about every half hour at the hotel, just in case Junior showed up.

On one of these trips, using a New York friend's car, Jim was stopped for a routine check by a patrol car. Police were a little suspicious at first, Jim relates, at finding a man with a Texas driver's license driving a New York car in New Jersey.

After explaining his troubles, Jim got help from the police. It was 2 a.m. by this time, so officers told him to get out of his car and they'd keep it out for his son.

Junior didn't arrive until 4 a.m. the next morning, but he ended the unusual chain of circumstances for Jim—almost.

Everything went according to schedule until he arrived in Dallas, but just as his plane was about to take off, the flight was held up and Jim had a two-hour wait. He was scheduled to arrive in Littlefield at 11:15, but finally made it at 3:15 p.m. Sunday.

Joyner says one rare incident made him see the brighter side of his experience during the trip. As he prepared to catch a bus back to Kennedy Airport, he bid goodbye to his son and climbed aboard at Asbury Park.

A little lady at the front of the bus stopped him and said "I'm so glad you finally got your son!"

Jim's plight had been publicized around the area, because he had never seen a lady before.

governor of Littlefield. At right, are the "Simple Phonies," a trio which made a big hit on the program Sunday afternoon. The three men are school teachers at Morton. ---LEADER STAFF PHOTOS

Lions' Conference Is 'Big Success'

More than 400 area Lions, ladies and guests attended the big Mid-Winter Convention of District 27-2 Lions which was hosted by the Littlefield club Sunday.

Dr. Albert Perkins of Littlefield, deputy district governor and host official, reported 100 percent attendance for the district cabinet meeting which preceded the conference. The officers met Saturday evening at the Crescent House.

A total of 58 clubs sent delegates to the Sunday program. Rotan Lions came the farthest distance to attend the meeting. Classes for club officers wound up the conference Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Tom Caldwell of Austin, district governor of 2S-3, was guest speaker after the Sunday luncheon in the Littlefield school cafeteria. Caldwell's topic was "What Makes Lions Happy."

Mayor Bill Armistead welcomed Lions to the city at the beginning of the Sunday morning session. Reports from district officials were heard before the meeting adjourned for church services at 10:30 a.m.

Belcher introduced dignitaries at the afternoon session and presented a number of club awards before introducing the principal speaker.

Miss Alice Ballard, district Lion queen, was introduced at the session and presented with a gift. She is from Shallowater and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Ballard.

Two musical groups entertained Lions prior to the guest address. "The DPs," a young quartet from Levelland, presented rock and roll type music. "The Simple Phonies," a trio of school teachers from Morton, made a big hit with the audience with folk songs and humorous skits.

During the school session, ladies and Lions not in classes were treated to additional entertainment. An outstanding magician and humorist, Don Stewart, from Glendale, Calif., performed. He was followed by Bill Klaus, Fort Wayne, Ind., who presented a movie and a talk on color.

Perkins reported the convention was a "big success", and credited President Mitch Mitchell and local Lions for their efforts in hosting the meet.

 trustees indicated they were against the "place" method because they felt it would lead to personality clashes. Proponents felt it would make little difference for the present method.
 Those in favor of the new plan pointed out a big "drawback" to the at-large method.
 This was the fact that a voter might cast a ballot for only one candidate out of the field, when he would be more likely to make a choice on the "place"
 method.
 Charles Duval, Dr. Albert Perkins, Delbert Ross and Buster Owens voted to keep the present system. Barton, Dr.
 Carl Nowlin and John D. Smith voted against.
 Trustees also took action on a telephone line change in the new high school building plans.
 The board voted to put in a larger conduit going to the main panel of the building, and decided against a large conduit inside the buildings.

Wildcats Slow Lobos,
 But Lose 67-49 Tilt

WINGED WILDCATS--Littlefield's Lamar Pollard (44) and Larry Wood appear to be taking off as they miss a rebound and cover a Levelland player in Tuesday night's game here. Levelland won the game, 67-49, and held on to the District 1-AAA lead.

Littlefield's Wildcats gave the league - leading Levelland Lobos all they could handle for three quarters here Tuesday night before the visitors finally pulled away for a 67-49 victory.
 The District 1-AAA triumph gave Levelland a 5-1 record while Littlefield was left with a 1-5 mark. The Wildcats travel to Dumas Friday night.
 The game Tuesday started out as a defensive struggle, with the Wildcats slowing down the tempo of the battle and trying to grab a lead early in the game. However, the taller Lobos controlled the backboards and were better marksmen-- both from the field and the free-throw line.
 The Wildcat scoring was evenly divided with four cagers hitting double figures. Larry Wood again led the attack with 13 points before fouling out, while Ronald Sitton and Lamar Pollard chipped in 11 points each and Paul Roberts hit for 10.
 Levelland had only two players in double figures, but tall Butch Harrell took scoring honor added 11 for the visitors.
 The Lobos cashed in 17 free throws out of 28 attempts, while Littlefield hit only 9 of 21. Littlefield drew 22 personal fouls in the contest, while the Lobos had 20.
 The Cats stayed right on the Lobos heels all through the first half, but they were never able to grab an advantage.

Levelland led by 13-12 after one quarter and increased the advantage to 29-25 at intermission.
 The talented Lobos added a little to their margin each quarter and pulled away late in the game when Littlefield was pressuring and trying to get the ball.
 Wood and Pollard paced Littlefield in the first half, while Sitton and Roberts sparked the second-half attack.
 The game was played before the largest crowd of the season as Levelland supporters filled up the visitor's side of the gym.
 The defeat left Littlefield with a 7-11 record on the season.
 Littlefield's junior varsity had better luck in the preliminary game, scoring a 50-36 triumph over the Levelland "B" team. Littlefield held only a 23-20 lead at half, but forged out a substantial margin for victory in the second half.
 Steve Lewis and Terry Hyatt tallied 15 points each to spark the junior varsity, and Randy Hutson tossed in 11 points to give Coach Bill Gerber's crew a strong scoring punch.

 in double figures, led by Grant

Larry Wood, Littlefield's lea-figures. The Cats had only 12 field goals.

 The Wildcats, unable to find the range on the basket, fell behind by 20-11 and 26-19 margins after the first two periods. However, the third quarter was even worse as field goal attempts simply wouldn't drop for the home team. The Cats scored only 4 points in the stanza--all by Wood--and Perryton had a 39-23 lead going into the final period.
 Littlefield started connect-a trio composed of The Joe Gump.

 Dale Lewis takes on Sir Rodney Shane in the night's opener, followed by a match between Dan Miller and Joe Gump.

Last week's card was a wild one, with Gump having his referree's license revoked by Usin a fall from the ring in the second fall of the first main event, and Gump was the only licensed replacement. Much to Gump disqualified Martinez in
