SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT EXPLAINS WHY COST OF LITTLEFIELD SCHOOLS IS MORE THAN LUBBOCK AND LESS THAN OTHERS

If Littlefield Did Not Transport Pupils, Tax Rate Could Be Cut to 72 Cents per $100 Valuation, or $18.08 Per Pupil Less Than Cost of Lubbock Schools.

By Supt. B. M. Harrison
In our last article we said that the cost per school child in the Littlefield district was $82.95. The cost per school child in Lubbock is $62.27. This is about the average cost in Texas. The cost in Littlefield is above the average on account of the cost of transportation. Now the only large districts in the state, or rather, the largest districts in the state, are White Deer, Edinburg, Muleshoe, Pampa, Sudan, Olton, Amherst, and Littlefield. In all of these districts the cost of transportation is quite an item. In all of these districts the cost per school child is more than the cost in the average district. While the cost per school child in Littlefield is $82.95, the average cost in White Deer, Edinburg, Muleshoe, Pampa, Sudan, Olton, and Amherst is $106.60. In other words, the average cost per school child in the Littlefield district is $23.65 less per child than in other large districts where the pupils are transported.

New let us consider the cost of transportation in the Littlefield district. We have figured the cost for the month of October and on that as a basis figure the cost for the year. In the month of October the Littlefield school trucks carried an average of 543 pupils per day. The total cost of transportation for October was $2339.10. Multiplying this amount by 9, we get $21,051.90. Dividing this sum by the average number of pupils hauled daily, we get $38.76 for the cost of transporting one pupil for nine months.

From these figures we see that while the cost of education in Littlefield is $82.95, $38.76 of this amount goes for transportation. Now, leaving out the item of transportation, the cost of education in Littlefield would be $44.19 per child as compared with $62.27 per child in the Lubbock district.

The valuation of property assessed for taxes in the Littlefield district is $7,500,000.00. The rate is $1.00. Since the cost of transportation, taking October as an average month, is $21,051.90, we find that 28 cents of the dollar rate goes for transportation. In other words, if each patron of the schools furnished at his own expense transportation for his children, the tax rate in the Littlefield district could be reduced from $1.00, the present rate, to 72 cents.

T. WADE POTTER ASKS RE-ELECTION COUNTY ATTORNEY

T. Wade Potter makes announcement this week for re-election to the office of County Attorney of Lamb County, subject to the will of the voters at the coming Democratic primary elections.

During his incumbency of office, Mr. Potter states that his one effort has been to faithfully perform his duties, and if he has made any failures they have been of the head rather than of the heart, and, at all times, it has been his sincere desire to be an acceptable servant of the people. Of his success in this wise he has considerable assurance from all those from all over the county who have urged him to seek the office for another term.

Mr. Potter is a graduate of the Cumberland University, law department, Lebanon, Tennessee, and prior to moving to Lamb County was connected with the law firm of "Smith, Denman, Potter & Smith," of Fort Worth.

As an attorney Mr. Potter has proven himself to be a man of keen intellect, capable of the most minute discrimination in legal technicalities. He is aggressive and industrious in his work, a man of congenial disposition, very contentious in his work and eminently worthy of the public trust he seeks to continue.

16 MORE STREET LIGHTS LOCATED IN LITTLEFIELD

Equipment for 16 more street lights have arrived in Littlefield, and the work of installation will be started this week, according to R. E. McCaskill, local manager for Texas Utilities Co.

There are now 57 street lights being operated in this city, and the 16 additional ones will be installed without cost to the city or without extra cost for operating. The present 57 lights are now costing the municipality $2.25 each, or a total of $128.25 per month; but when the new installation has been completed the cost will be only $1.75 each, or a total of $127.50 per month.

This is due to the decreased rate granted by Texas Utilities Co., to this city about 60 days ago, and represents the third substantial lowering of rate charges since the company began operations in Littlefield.

LEN IRVIN ASKS RE-ELECTION FOR SHERIFF & COL'R

J. L. (Len) Irvin makes announcement this week for re-election as Sheriff and Tax Collector of Lamb County.

Mr. Irvin is a native Texan and has lived in Lamb County for the past five years. He owns a farm near Olton and has property in Littlefield. Before coming to this county he was deputy sheriff of Eastland county for six years. For some months he was marshal in Littlefield, following which he was appointed as sheriff of this county to fill the unexpired term of Jay Carter, at the end of that term he was elected by the people to that office.

In seeking re-election to this important office, Mr. Irvin states that at all times during the past period he has endeavored to faithfully perform his duties in upholding and enforcing the laws, and that he has done so without fear or favor. As a tax collector he declares he has satisfactorily fulfilled the functions of that department as is attested by the fact that when his tax records were officially audited a few weeks ago, everything checked up O. K., and $8.13 over.

Mr. Irvin takes this opportunity of expressing his appreciation to the citizens who have assisted him in upholding the law during the past year, and states that with his past experience he feels he is now the better qualified to serve the people during the coming term.

TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY TO PUT IN REFRIGERATION

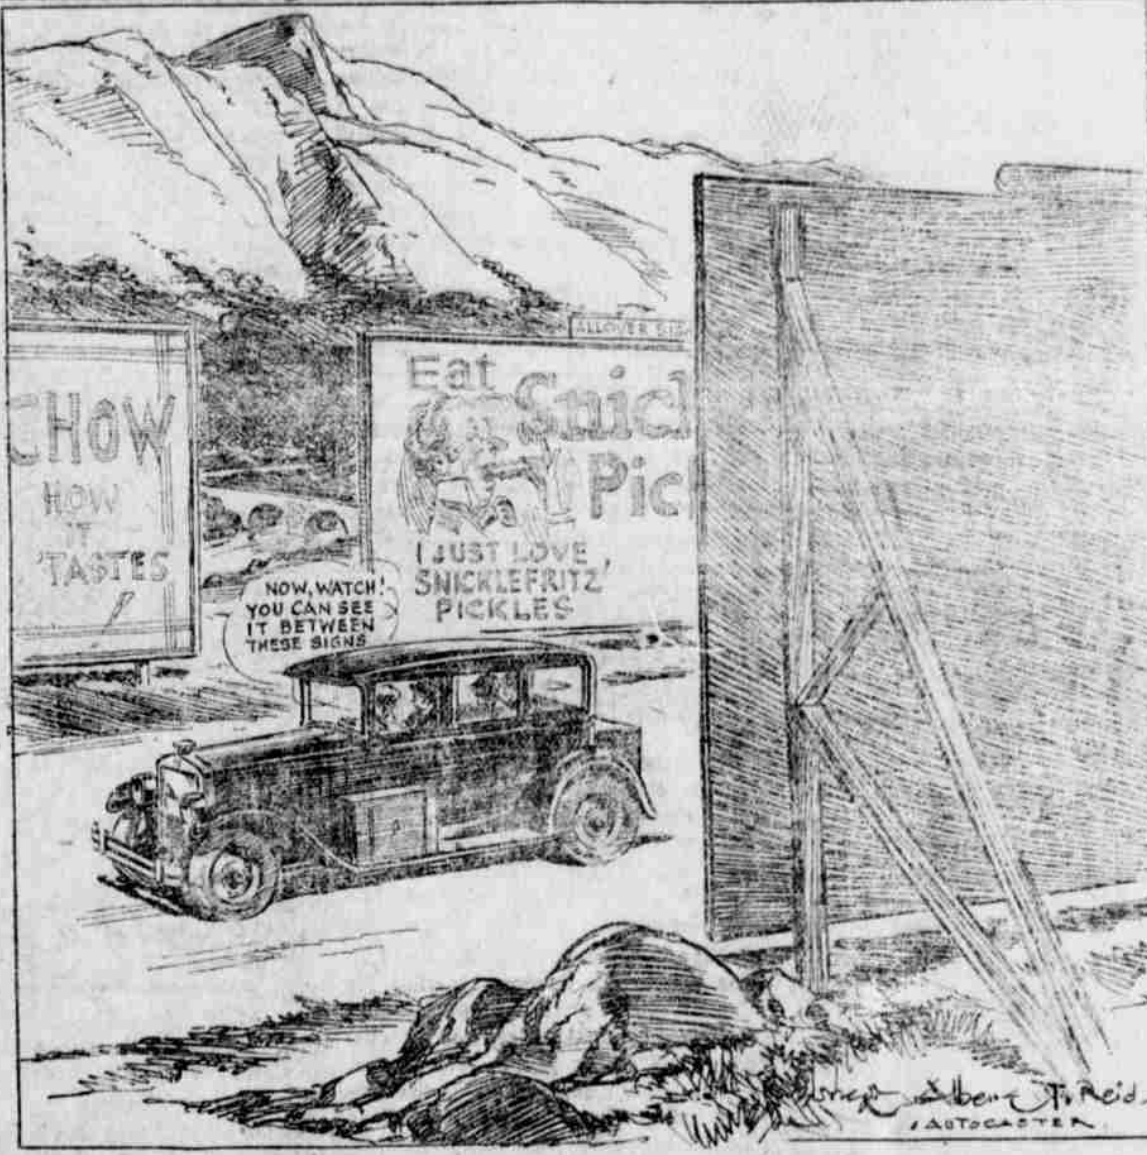

That the Texas Utilities Co., will put in a refrigerating plant in Littlefield this spring, is the statement made by R. E. McCaskill, local manager for that corporation.

Mr. McCaskill stated that he was unable to give details of the plans at the present time, as he had not yet been advised by the head office as to the particular system of refrigeration that would be employed, no as to its capacity, and whether it would include an ice manufacturing plant or not; but he was of the opinion, since his company never did anything in half-way manner, that it would be a fully equipped concern capable of furnishing all kinds of frigid accommodations.

This week workmen have begun clearing the ground at the location of the former electric plant taken over by the Utilities Co., and on which site the refrigerating plant will be located, said Mr. McCaskill.

C. E. STRAWN IS ANNOUNCING FOR COMMISSIONER 3

In this issue of the Leader C. E. Strawn makes announcement for re-election as Commissioner of Precinct Three, Lamb County.

Mr. Strawn states that his decision to ask for this office another term is based upon his past service and the desire of numerous satisfied citizens who have solicited him to stand for another term.

During the past year Mr. Strawn states he has made 70 miles of new road and worked 27 miles of old road in his precinct, together with the filling of several lakes and putting in of necessary culverts and other drains, and that he is contemplating the building of 80 more miles of roads within his precinct during the coming year, besides taking care of the old ones and the new ones constructed last year. In addition to the tractor and tools belonging to the county at large, which he has used, he has purchased for use in his own precinct two maintainers and five drags which will be of inestimable value in keeping the roads in desirable condition.

He also states that during his incumbency of office there have been no warrants issued for road work in his precinct.

Mr. Strawn declares there are now more miles of grade road within the bound of his precinct than ever before in its history. He says he has graded more miles of highway in his precinct during the past year with actual county money (not warrants) than has ever before been graded in the history of the county.

Before coming to Lamb county, Mr. Strawn was four years a road supervisor in Shelby county, and his past experience has been of great aid to him in successfully handling the affairs of his precinct. He states that he is confident that his past experience as Commissioner will be of great value to him in his future service for the county, and it is upon the basis of his satisfactory labors that he asks for re-election.

Bookkeeper In a Very Serious Condition After Birth of Baby Daughter

Never in their lives before have the patrons of the First National Bank, this city, had such a time straightening out their bank accounts as when they received their statements and canceled checks at the beginning of January. Just how many errors there were or how badly jumbled were the checks no one will probably ever know. How many wrathful customers appeared at the teller's window the first few days of last week making complaint of their financial reports would not be stated by either Cashier Kirk Allbright or Teller Bob Steen; but it is a noticeable fact that every one of them left the bank building with a smile playing across their countenances.

The solution of the entire mystery came out last Thursday morning when it was learned that Chief Bookkeeper Mallory Etter had a bouncing baby girl—one that would shut its eyes (sometimes) when they laid it down, and which would cry without squeezing its little "tummy."

Several of these irate customers were fathers themselves and they knew exactly how to sympathize with Mal. In the birth of his first youngster, hence it was easy to overlook the various discrepancies.

It is reported that the mother and babe are getting along nicely and it is the sincere hope of all the bank officials and customers that "Dad" will soon get back to normalcy again.

LITTLEFIELD P. O. SHOWS A BUSINESS INCREASE OVER 1926

That Littlefield is steadily stepping forward is evidenced by a comparative report obtained at the local post office, according to Postmaster J. E. Brannen.

The record shows that the general postal receipts for the last quarter of 1926 were $2,781.15; while for the last quarter of 1927 they amounted to $2,994.25; an increase of $213.10 during three months.

Money orders issued between July 1 and December 31, 1926 amounted to $35,261.40; while for the same period of last year the total ran to $41,566.97; an increase of business amounting to $5,305.57.

During 1926 a large percentage of the post office patronage was from transients, but this year the transient trade being much less, the increase naturally due to steady population growth which is gradually increasing.

The Littlefield post office is now a second-class institution, having been raised to that class July 1, 1926. Following the appointment of the present incumbent, J. E. Brannen, as postmaster, last August, a complete new installation and enlargement was made of patron mail boxes and other equipment making it strictly up-to-date in all its appointments. Three clerks are also employed as assistants and there are now two star routes and one rural route running out from this office supplying mail to the outlying sections in all directions.

NEW FORD CREATES RIPPLE OF INTEREST WHEN SHOWN HERE

It is estimated that nearly 1,200 people called at the demonstration room of the John H. Arnett Motor Co., local dealers last Friday to see the demonstration model of the new Ford.

People were extremely anxious to know every detail of its construction said Mr. Arnett, and not a few remarks were heard regarding its snappy lines of construction, beauty of finish as well as the super-excellence of its construction.

The new model Ford has nothing standpoint it is a strictly high grade product of the flivver class, and can never again be so construed. From every standpoint it is a strictly high grade product, capable of taking its place alongside of many other makes of cars making high bids for merit. Numerous of the later inventions in auto mechanics have been incorporated in this latest of mobile productions, and the finish, both of interior and exterior is entirely satisfactory to the most exacting purchaser of an automobile of that class.

Mr. Arnett states that to his already long list of customers who had placed orders for one of these new cars a large number were also added during Friday.

He is looking for a demonstration model any day now, and says he has information that it will not be long now before he can begin filling orders.

A. H. MCGAVOCK FOR RE-ELECTION AS COUNTY CLERK

A. H. McGavock this week announces his desire for re-election to the office of District and County Clerk of Lamb County.

Mr. McGavock is a native Texan, born in Taylor county. He is 32 years of age, married, the last 12 years being spent as a citizen of West Texas and the past five years in Lamb county where he is an owner of both town and country property.

He is an ex-soldier of the World War, serving in the Medical Department of the 90th Texas and Oklahoma Division, spending nearly two years in army service, 14 months of which were overseas.

Mr. McGavock states that he has very much appreciated the confidence of the public in electing him to this important office, and during the past year it has been his constant aim to give courteous and efficient service to the citizens generally throughout the county. On account of his past experience he believes he is now the better qualified to handle even more satisfactorily the duties of this office, and asks the favorable consideration of the voters of this county at the coming Democratic primary.

TEACHER HOME ECONOMICS WOULD HAVE SPECIAL BUILDING FOR CLASSES; GETS A HIGH RATING FROM STATE SUPERVISOR

If Mrs. Jimmie Brittain can have her way about it, the Home Economics department, of the Littlefield schools is going to be one of the best in the state. At least that is what she says, and the way it is rapidly coming to the front, looks somewhat like she might realize her ideal.

Miss Lillian Peak, state supervisor of Home Economics work in the State of Texas, was here last week making an inspection of Mrs. Brittain's department and the very complimentary things she had to say about this culinary virtuoso and artist de lux of cream puff biscuits and pinafores were enough to give anyone the elephantitis egoinflatus and radically increase her desire for an apex of perfection in her educational department.

When Mrs. Brittain began teaching in the Littlefield schools during the year 1924 there was no Home Economics department, with the exception of some teaching in clothing. Then the new building was constructed and Mrs. Brittain purchased the equipment for a real department of this kind and a regular course was installed, teaching first year clothing and first year foods. Application for credit was applied for at the close of the year and one-half units given toward affiliation.

Mrs. Brittain was away the following year, and the work was continued by another teacher, but coming back again in 1926 the second year work of these subjects was taken up and another one-half unit of credit was granted by the State department. Last year the units were brought up to a total of four, only one unit being lacking, that of home nursing and home management, to enjoy full affiliation.

Mrs. Brittain states her department is greatly in need of more room for her classes and demonstrations. She has her mind made up for a real sure-enough cottage, located on some desirable spot of the campus, which may be properly and scientifically furnished for the accommodation of her class. She intimated to a Leader representative that she had the plans all pretty well worked out and if the citizens would lend her a little assistance it could be put over in fine style and the city at the same time would secure considerable publicity from the feature manner of its accomplishment.

CHIEF OF YAKIMA INDIANS LECTURES AND GIVES MOVIE SHOW AT PALACE TO MANY PEOPLE WHO FIRST SAW AN INDIAN

For the first time in their lives, many Littlefield citizens had the pleasure of seeing a real live Indian dressed in full tribal regalia, when they attended the movie "Braveheart," at the Palace theatre last Monday night.

Nipo Strongheart, chief of the Yakima Indians in Oregon, starring for Cecil DeMille picture corporation at Hollywood, Los Angeles, was presented to tell of his people, the subject of his lecture accompanying the picture being "From Peace Pipe to War Trail," and delivered in a vividly dramatic manner.

Many years ago, according to Strongheart, the Government of the United States made a treaty with the Indians of his tribe, promising them unlimited perpetual fishing rights on the rivers of the Northwest; but as the settlers began coming in this privilege was gradually abrogated until it was finally cut off. There were serious skirmishes between the Indians and the whites over this treaty, but at length the Indians deciding they would fight the white man with his own weapons sent young Strongheart to college, where he studied law, and, after graduating represented his people at the capitol in Washington, D. C., in such an efficient manner that the old treaty was eventually recognized and further government aid also granted the people of his tribe.

Strongheart is a direct descendent of the old fighting blood of Custer's day. His grandfather "Standing Rock" led one of the tribes which aided Chief "Sitting Bull" against Custer's men.

Chief Strongheart was born on the and was raised in reservation fashion Yakima reservation 40 years ago, by his fellow tribesman. He was portrayed more Indian roles than any other man in filmdom, and because he is full blood Indian his acting is perfectly natural. Notwithstanding his high educational qualifications he is still thoroughly Indian and vitally interested in the welfare of his own people. His life is composed of his work—that of interpreting the real heart and soul of the Indian race through his lectures and motion-picture work. Both his lecture and picture were thoroughly enjoyed by Littlefield movie fans.

MR. SPECKLES' GREAT IDEA

Santa Claus sat on a bench next the sunny side of his North Pole bungalow. The old gentleman wore a worried and harassed look quite foreign to his usual jovial expression. Sam Speckles, a foreman in one of Santa's toy shops, passed by and noticed the good old saint. "What's the matter, Santa?" he asked.

"This job's getting too big for one man, answered Santa. "The world's getting better and better all the time, and that means I have that much more work to do, and it's getting to be a mighty hard task to make things enough to go around, let alone distributing them."

Mr. Speckles scratched his head. "Well," he said, "here's an idea, and I think it's a mighty good one. Remember that fine magazine full of stories and pictures and nice things you had the other day?" Oh, you mean The Youth's Companion," said Santa. "Yes, that's it," answered Sam. "Well, it seems to me that if you'd tell a lot of parents about that magazine and how fine and enjoyable it was for boys and girls they'd give subscriptions to The Youth's Companion as a gift to lots of young folks, and that would help you a lot."

"That's a mighty good idea," said Santa, "and, as a matter of fact many parents do just that already, but—" Santa sighed, "I wish that more of them realized what a fine gift The Youth's Companion makes, and would give it too."

Just send your order to the address below, and we will see to it that our Uncle Sam relieves Santa of the burden of delivering at least one gift. Subscribers will receive:

IN EVERY EMERGENCY
 Injury and sudden illness never give advance warning.
 It is, therefore, common prudence to keep the medicine cabinet well stocked, ready for first aid treatment that may be given while the doctor is on the way. Also, there are many common ailments that can be home treated if one has a few of the commonly needed drugs on hand.
 It is an old saying that a "stitch in time, saves nine," and a dollar spent for a few standard remedies may also save you several more dollars.
 We have a complete line of all needed medicines which we can supply you at a nominal cost.
 Better buy now, save future money, and be prepared for emergencies!

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.—1 Cor. 10:12.

Who dares to say that he alone has found the truth?—Longfellow.

THE DIFFERENCE

We have been wondering how many of our subscribers have thought of some of the differences between a city daily and a country weekly newspaper. One great difference is this: In order to get your name in a city paper you have to shoot your wife, get gored to death by a flivver, marry a movie star, predict the end of the world or do something else sensational. To get your name in the Leader all you have to do is have a guest or a baby at your house, invite in a few friends, buy a purebred bull or improve your property. Easy isn't it? Well, come on and tell us about it. The Leader wants all the news it can get. The more news the better paper we can give our subscribers.

WHAT IS NEWS?

In our chasing after news the editor of this great educational sheet sometimes has some queer experiences. Only a few days ago we were talking to a farmer friend of ours who lives not far from here. We asked him if there was any news from his community. "No, I don't believe there has been anything very important happened in some time," he replied. I did hear of some one out our way who got his flivver turned over in a ditch and had a leg broken and his head pretty badly cut up; but I didn't learn his name. Anyway I don't have any kinfolk out that way so it don't matter much.

"Then the other night while going to meetin', guided by faith and lantern, the preacher fell into a dry well about 15 feet deep. I don't know whether he got out or not never heard anyone say, and I have plum forgot what his name is."

Now there were two good stories we missed.

STAND BY YOUR TOWN

Any man who lives in a given town ought to have appreciation enough for the place of his residence to live for it. He ought to be anxious to advance the community; to have respect for the great power that protects him with the advantages of advanced civilization and makes it possible for him to achieve results. He should always speak well of it, and stand by its civic and commercial supremacy.

The man who cannot and will not do this; but who must obstruct or deprecate the town in which he obtains his livelihood, ought to have sense enough to quit it. Littlefield, at least does not want that stripe of citizen.

WHY THEY BUY AWAY

It seems to be normal that from twenty to twenty-five per cent of the people in a community feel they can go elsewhere and do better in their purchases. That fact was pretty definitely established in several community surveys recently completed.

A story comes to us that a certain radio station selling good directly to farmers recently put on an active campaign selling smoked salt. It offered two cans of good quality smoked salt for $2.50, postage prepaid. Orders for less than two cans not accepted. A farmer bought the two cans from the radio station, sending in his $2.50. After getting his package from the Post Office, he dropped in at the store of his regular merchant. The dealer, noticing the package, asked him what he had in it. With some reluctance the farmer told him what it was and the price paid. The dealer took the farmer back into the store and showed him the identical smoked salt packages which the dealer was selling at $1.00 per can, and the farmer could buy one or as many as he wished at that price.

The dealer was inclined to blame the farmer for not trading at home. He contended that the farmer should have investigated before he sent his money out of town. The farmer said that it is the dealer's job to tell the trade about the merchandise he has for sale. The farmer is right. The dealer could and should have used local newspaper advertising space to tell of the smoked salt. This is just another case where the local merchant, thru failing to tell his business story, caused the customer to buy out of town when it would have been to his advantage to buy at home.

Investigation will show that the most powerful argument for trading at home frequently remains hidden on the shelves of the town's stores because nobody tells the story.

We also know it to be a fact that many subscribers to the Lamb County Leader have saved more than the price of their year's subscription from taking advantage of some one or more articles priced in some advertisement run in just one issue of this paper. More than one subscriber has told us of that fact.

It is simply a case of where co-operation on the part of the seller and buyer arrive at mutual advantage through the use of a common agency for their benefit.

Why is it that some Littlefield men would rather find an argument than a pocketbook?

What has become of the old-fashioned Littlefield girl who had her ears pierced so she could wear ear-rings?

A clock will stop working when it is run down, but the average Littlefield man hasn't that much sense.

Most any Littlefield woman who has been married 10 or 15 years can tell you that she didn't marry the best.

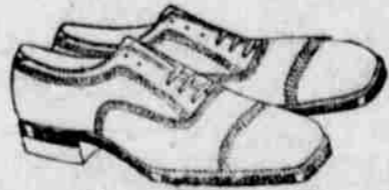

We can't see much in sight for the Littlefield boy who wants a job that he can loaf eight hours a day on instead of six.

LITTLE LEADERS

Nowadays a Littlefield girl will sit down and worry more over a broken date than her mother worried over a broken engagement.

GIRLS DEFEAT LITTLEFIELD
 The best basket ball game that the Amherst High school girls have played this year was with Littlefield on the home court.
 The Amherst girls had many more scores the first half than Littlefield, but the Littlefield girls began to fight harder the last half and when the game was over the score was 14-12
 in favor of Amherst.
 Amherst High can boast of having a better girls basket ball team this year than ever before in the history of the school. This is due to the skillful training of Coach Shelton.

1,000 SCHOOLS IN TEXAS LEAGUE FOR THIS YR. B'KTBALL

Austin, Texas, Jan. 10.—A few more than 1,000 schools in the State have entered teams in the eighth annual state basketball tournament of the Interscholastic League, according to Roy Bedichek, chief of the Interscholastic League Bureau of the University of Texas. The closing date for registration of schools in the state competition was December 15; however, schools may register up until January 15 upon the payment of a penalty of one dollar in addition to the regular fee, Mr. Bedichek said.

The final tournament date has been set for March 9 and 10 and is to be played in Austin. In county competitions, this date for the tournament, which is a week later than that of previous tournaments, makes possible a round robin schedule on a home and home basis, according to Mr. Bedichek. District championships must be decided by the tournament method by not later than February 25. After the district championships are decided, b-district games are to be arranged to select the teams entering the state finals.

Under the rules of the League, the county committees may divide the schools into classes A and B so that schools of the same class may compete among themselves.

Last year more than 1200 teams from all parts of the State competed for the championship. This, according to Ray Henderson, director of athletics in the League, was the largest high school basketball tournament held anywhere from the standpoint of the territory involved and the number of teams and individuals taking an active part.

The annual value of Texas' cotton seed crop ranks third among the crops occasionally ranking ahead of corn, which generally is second.

Breeding Tools Very Important on Farms To Obtain Big Results

College Station, Texas, Jan. 10.—"Farm animals are the tools with which we market our grass and much of our farm crops," Dr. Jay L. Lush, animal husbandman, breeding investigations, Agricultural Experiment Station, A. & M. College of Texas, who will be one of the speakers on the program of the special livestock short course to be held here Jan. 9-13, has pointed out.

"The better our tools, the better the job we do," he added. "There are two ways of making our farm animals better. We can give them better care as they grow up and we can breed better animals by making the proper matings of the parents. Both processes go hand in hand. The most important thing for the breeder to know is what type of animal he really wants. Then by choosing sire and dams of that type and by a judicious mating of animals closely related to each other, real progress can be made in building up uniform herds and flocks of the desired type."

Subjects relating to judging, marketing, feeding, market classes and grades, range management, diseases, parasites, management, sanitation, record keeping and wool and mohair growing will be discussed during the short course which will be offered by the Extension Service in co-operation with the Experiment Station and the animal husbandry department of the college.

BAPTIST W. M. S.

Circle No. 1 and No. 2 of the Baptist W. M. S. met jointly at the church Tuesday afternoon for Bible study and business meeting.

Research questions were read and answered, much interest and enthusiasm being derived from them. Mrs. Lowmire in her able manner, led the discussion.

Mrs. Jordan, president of the W. M. S., presided over the business meeting. Matters of much interest concerning the work for the New Year were gone into and the W. M. S. is looking forward to the year's work.

The society enjoyed having Rev. Roy A. Kemp, pastor of the church, with them on this occasion and it was unanimously voted that he teach the Bible study lesson on Bible study day, hereafter.

Some 29 members were present at this meeting and those not attending are missing great blessing as well as the instructive value received from the lesson. We prayerfully hope that all members have resolved to attend more regularly during this New Year that we may all together share the glories of the work.

Circle No. 1 will be hostess to Circle No. 2 with Mrs. J. E. Barnes, Tuesday afternoon Jan. 17. Every member is cordially invited to attend.—Reporter.

METHODIST MISSIONARY

The Ladies Missionary Society met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Carl Arnold, with good attendance and three new members, Mrs. J. W. Keithley, Mrs. B. D. Fondree and Mrs. Lakey present.

A review of the first three chapters in our study book, "The Straightway Towards Tomorrow," was the afternoon's work, which was given very interestingly by Mrs. Van Clark, Mrs. R. A. Davis and Mrs. A. G. Hemphill.

The society will meet next Monday with Mrs. E. F. Arnn, and review the three last chapters of the study book.

We hope to have every member of the society present at the next meeting to draw their capsule.—Reporter.

Cook With Gas

Kitchenkook brings to rural and suburban homes and city homes outside the gas limits, every convenience of city gas. In fact, it is a gas stove, with its own gas plant built right into it. Makes and burns its own gas from common gasoline, producing the fastest known cooking fire. Kitchenkook is different from any stove you have ever used. It has all the fine features of gas with none of the objectionable features of common liquid fuel stoves; no wicks or chimneys; no smoke, soot or kerosene odor. Takes less than a minute to light; then all burners are ready at once. Turn them on or off as wanted, just like gas. Kitchenkook is the biggest improvement in fine cook stoves in the past quarter century. It's the sensation of the industry. Don't fail to ask for a demonstration of this wonder cook stove. LITTLEFIELD BUYS ITS SHARE OF THE SEVEN MILLION "COKE" DRUNK DAILY BY CITIZENS

Seven million drinks per day is the Coca Cola manufacturing company claims for their product, and it is not hard to believe when one knows that at one soda fountain alone in Littlefield there are an average of 128 "coke" drank per day. At least that is the record at the Stokes and Alexander drug store fountain. There are 128 drinks in a gallon of Coca Cola, if it is judiciously issued, and during 1927 this one concern issued 85,700 drinks of this favorite beverage over their soda fountain, or an average of 5,475 drinks per month Sunday included. Sometimes the brakeman on the soda fountain was kept pretty busy jabbing the "coke" pump, then there would be relays of time when he would issue chocolate drinks, which ran second in choice, with cherry and orange coming third and fourth. The patrons of "coke" service range all the way from children to the bald heads and grey beards, for there seems to be a universal favor in the kick and flavor of this popular gullet wash. Nor does the season of the year seem to make very much difference, for folks drink it in the summer time to cool off and in the winter time—perhaps just because they like it. Whether the Volstead Act has had anything to do with the popularity of this choice drink is another question. At any rate its consumption is constantly on the increase much to the satisfaction of the imbibers, as is attested by their smacks and smiles when the glass has been drained.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS ORGANIZE A HI-Y CLUB

Recently the Junior and Senior of the Littlefield High school organized a Hi-Y Club and on Thursday night, January 5, the first regular meeting was held around the banquet table at the "Happy Hour" dining room. The following program was rendered: Song—Members. Location—Chaplain Walter Gray. Dinner. "Some things to think about upon coming a Hi-Y member."—Harmon enton. Amusement—Arranged by Emil Smith. "Why we need a Hi-Y Club."—William Lowrimore. Song. "What the Hi-Y stands for"—Sponsor F. O. Holes. Round table discussion. The motto of the club is "Clean Speech, Clean Living, Clean Athletics, and Clean Scholarship." The motto is more or less of a goal which is held up before the members of the club. The weekly programs will consist of a mixture of light clean entertainment and a few numbers of the reflections of individual members of the club. Charter members who attended the banquet were Harmon Denning, president; William Lowrimore, secretary; Carlton Rawlinson, secretary-treasurer; Walter Gray, chaplain; F. O. Holes, faculty sponsor; Al Smith, L. C. Strawn, Norfleet Gillette, Forest McGavock, Orval Kelly, Ernest Lowrimore, Joe Tolbert, Emil Smith, and Oss Blalock.

Lubbock, Texas, Jan. 10.—Ransom Walker, of Mission, has been unanimously chosen as captain of the Scarlet and Black Matadors of Texas Technological college for the coming season. Walker has been one of the outstanding stars of the Tech eleven his brilliance as a broken field runner being especially noticeable. He also knows how to pass the ball and his toe is always good for a lot of distance. Walker has worn Tech's loud jersey for only two years so he is eligible for two more years. His younger brother, L. E. Walker, also showed great ability as a ball totter during the last two games of the past season and is expected of him next year. G. A. White, of Cisco, shifty end, was elected as alternate captain.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

Fate O'Bannon, of Sudan, was arrested last week by Sheriff Len Irvin on charge of stealing an overcoat from a man by the name of Chisholm, residing about 14 miles southwest of Littlefield. O'Bannon at first denied the charge according to Irvin, but when pressed with information he went to his bed and took the overcoat from out of a pillow on which he had been sleeping Irvin said. In lieu of money to pay his fine he was committed to the county boarding house at Olton.

REV. HARDESTY HERE IN INTEREST OF THE ORPHANS

Rev. Jno. P. Hardesty, of Slaton, was in Littlefield this week, incidentally visiting his daughter, Miss Pauline Hardesty, who teaches in the local public school, and looking after the interests of the West Texas Children's Aid and Welfare Association, of Abilene, Texas. This institution has for its object the placing of orphan and dependent children in approved christian homes. During the past year 87 children were placed in good homes. There are some ten children waiting now for places in homes that want to adopt and rear them. Any home that desires a child may communicate with Rev. Hardesty, Slaton, Texas, or with the Superintendent, Rev. W. A. Nichols, Abilene. The motto of this institution is: "The best place for an orphan child is in a Christian home."
