SHOW AND SALE

Area Stock Show Tomorrow

AND THE HAY FLEW -- Members of the FFA at Littlefield High School are shown doing some of the behind the scenes work necessary to put on a stock show and sale. The boys removed all the old hay in the County barns prior to putting down new for the first Littlefield Area show here tomorrow and Saturday.

There will be six classes of hogs, four classes of lambs and angus and hereford class calves shown in the first Littlefield area junior stock show and sale scheduled tomorrow and Saturday.

Each of the six swine breeds will have a lightweight and heavyweight division with ninety entries having been received in the classes which are Berkshires, Chester Whites, Durocs, Hampshires, Polands, and Crosses. All first place winners will compete for breed champion and all breed champions will compete for the Grand Champion.

With the entry list open to FFA, FHA and 4-H members in the Littlefield, Spade and Amherst areas there are 30 entries in the sheep competition which include fine wool, fine wool crosses, medium wool and Southdown classes. Twenty-seven calves have been entered with the Grand Champion to be chosen from the winners and runnerup in the Angus and Hereford classes.

The time of the shifting has been changed to start at 1:30 p.m. Friday with the judging of the lambs beginning at 5 p.m. Friday evening. Mr. Roy Neal Jones, of Olton and a Texas Tech graduate will judge the lambs. Mr. Jones was also judge at the Lamb County Show last year.

The swine will also be judged tomorrow evening following the lamb competition. Buddy Winter, a Hampshire hog producer near Idalou will select the swine winners.

Dr. Dixon Hubbard, Beef Cattle Specialist for the Extension Service in Lubbock will judge the steer competition which is scheduled for 9 a.m. Saturday. Commercial buyers will submit bids on the stock following the steer judging and the auction sale for individual animals conducted by auctioneers Luther Hill and J.W. Bitner Jr. will start promptly at 11 p.m. Saturday afternoon.

Stock Show president Waymon Lewis said that everyone is encouraged to come out to the show to participate in the auction. "The Board of Directors of the show feel that if the merchants and individuals come out and back these boys and girls it will not only be a big boost to this year's contestants but will lay the groundwork for bigger and better shows in the years to come," Lewis stated.

"This is the first time that a sale has been held in conjunction with a show here and if the winners are able to get quite a bit more than the market price it will certainly encourage more of our young people to enter stock in the next show. It has taken these FFA, FHA and 4-H members a great deal of time, money and care to prepare these animals for a show and we feel that with the cooperation of the community these efforts will be well rewarded," continued Lewis.

The other members of the Board of Directors include Luther Hill, Lamb Superintendent; Donald Carr, Swine Superintendent; and Douglas Walden, Steer Superintendent.

An additional attraction for the children, young and old will be a barnyard of baby farm animals and their mothers, birds, rabbits, pigeons, turkeys and other animals. The barnyard is being constructed by three members of the Littlefield FFA.

Men Sentenced In County Court

Two men were each sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary Thursday by Lamb County Judge J.B. Davis.

J.D. Young, 28, of Slaton, was sentenced on a misdemeanor on a check law violation. He was charged with giving White's Auto a bad check for $10.15. Young has also been indicted for a felony and charged with passing a bad check at the Giles Motor Co. for over $50.

Young has also been charged with stealing two TV sets from Sam's TV at Sudan, and will be tried at a later date.

The other prisoner sentenced was David Ramos, 18, of Olton for operating a motor vehicle without the owners consent. Ramos was brought to Littlefield for trial from Huntsville where he is serving a two year sentence for vandalism.

Ramos was previously sentenced at Plainview.

Hypnotist To Be At Jr. High School

Merlin, the Hypnotist will appear at the Littlefield Junior High School auditorium on March 25 and 26 at 8 p.m., sponsored by the Littlefield Optimists Club.

He will call a number of willing volunteers from the audience and put them under a hypnotic trance. While under the trance they will shiver with cold, see a motion picture and other uncanny demonstrations, which Merlin achieves through the power of suggestion.

A feature of the show is to make a volunteer stiff as a board, then stretch him between two chairs - his head on the edge of one chair, and his heels on the edge of the other. Then Merlin stands on the person's stomach. After it's all over, the volunteer remembers the demonstration as though it had taken place in a dream. To demonstrate the power of post hypnotic suggestion, Merlin tells the volunteers that their right foot will be fastened to the floor when they try to leave the stage. They find it impossible to leave the stage until Merlin breaks the spell.

Another act in the show is when Merlin locks a young lady in a thoroughly examined and padlocked box, then in a matter of seconds, the lady is out and Merlin is in. The box is unlocked, the lid removed, and out jumps Merlin.

Also on the program is Erna, the Princess of Magic, who has mastered the Hindu Basket mystery.

66 Lose License In Lamb County

Sixty-six persons in Lamb County had their driver's license suspended during the past year according to a recent Texas Department of Public Safety report.

Suspensions for the failure to file or show proof of financial responsibility when involved in accidents accounted for thirty-one of the suspensions.

The other thirty-five suspensions were for violations with the largest number being for habitual violators as 12 persons had their license suspended for that offense. Nine more received suspensions for driving while intoxicated.

Seven licenses were suspended because of a violation of restrictions and four resulting from automatic suspensions in other states. The other one was for mental incompetence.

An additional fourteen persons were denied renewal of drivers licenses during the year. Nine were because of convictions of driving while intoxicated, two each for mental incompetence, and driving while their license was suspended.

One was also denied a renewal because of a previous charge of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle.

Only 4,000 License Plates Sold With Deadline Near

Lamb County residents will probably have to wait in line for their 1965 license plates if they wait until the last few days to purchase them, Lamb County Tax Assessor Herbert Dunnsaid yesterday.

"If we use the number of plates sold last year as a guide for the approximate number we will sell this year, there are still over 3,000 persons in the county that have to purchase their new plates and the deadline is only two weeks away," continued Dunns.

Through last week the total number of 1965 plates purchased had only reached 4,069 and the total sold in the County in 1964 by the March 31 deadline was 12,433.

"We have two peak periods" stated Dunns. "The first ten days when people come in and buy their tags early so they can get their favorite number, though there were fewer doing it this year due to the change in lettering plates. And then the last week when everybody is in a rush to get their plates before the March 31 deadline. In the six weeks between the opening rush and the final few hectic days, business is slow. We average between 40 and 50 plates a day and with four girls here, there is no waiting."

"The total number of plates sold so far is running about 100 behind last year, with passenger car licenses quite a bit below last year's figure and trailer plates up."

Murder Trial To Open Monday In District Court

The selection of a jury to hear the trial of Samuel Sanchez will start at 10 a.m. Monday morning in the 154th Judicial District Court. A special venire of 120 prospective jurors has been drawn up for the case.

Sanchez has been indicted by the Grand Jury and charged with murder with malice aforethought in the October 31 shooting slaying of Paschal Ortiz. Ortiz was killed while standing in front of his house in Littlefield.

Faustino Lopez, who was also indicted for the slaying, received a sentence of thirty years in the state penitentiary at the conclusion of his trial held in court last month.

Lopez was convicted of firing the actual shot that killed Ortiz, while Sanchez has been accused of stealing the murder weapon from the home of a relative and being in the car with Lopez at the time the shot that killed Ortiz was fired. Sanchez was with Lopez when the two were picked up by authorities two days after the slaying.

District Court Judge Pat Boone Jr. will hear in the testimony in the case which will probably get underway late Tuesday or Wednesday following selection of the jury.

A complete list of the prospective jurors is listed on page 7 of today's issue.

Nine Items On Council Agenda

Nine items are on the agenda for tonight's meeting of the Littlefield City Council members.

Items to be taken up will include the 1960 paving project, an offer from Mason's on city property and Little League baseball.

The 1963-64 audit will be reviewed and a vote taken on authorizing the city treasurer to reinvest $12,500 out of the 1958 refunding Bond Fund in one year time deposit.

General Telephone will submit a report for discussion concerning the telephone line for water control from Sandhills.

The council will consider the unpaid balances still due on the 1960 paving project and a means of collecting the money. They will also consider the possibility of paving the road into the Littlefield baseball diamonds and county barns.

Also on tonight's agenda will be the appointing the members to the Board of Equalization, and bids will be open on the new billing machine for the City Water Department.

County Stockshow To Continue

The Board of Directors of the Lamb County Fat Stock Show voted unanimously to have the show again in 1966 at their meeting held Tuesday night.

Each of the directors guaranteed that money would be raised to their area to have the prize money total $750 for the 1966 show.

There will be changes made in the format of next year's show as both the shetland pony and the heifer class were eliminated from the 1966 show making it strictly a fat stock show.

The Littlefield representatives, Douglas Walden and Donald Carr pledged $200 of the prize money, an amount matched by the Olton representative Delmer Givins and T.B. Wheeler.

One hundred dollars each was pledged by Ed Dawson and John Bridges of Earth; Dexter Baker and Jerry Ray of Sudan; and Leroy Maxfield and L.B. Eady of Amherst. Bob Smith Jr. pledged the remaining $50 from Spade.

The show already has a fund of $416 carried over from the 1965 show which will be used to defray most of the expenses of next year's show. The Lamb County Farm Bureau and Lamb County Farmers Union notified the Board that they will buy the trophies for the show.

No definite date was set for the show but will probably be scheduled for a weekend in February.

...LINES WILL COME LATER -- Unless people in Lamb County want to wait in lines the sooner they purchase their 1965 mobile license plates, the better. Herbert County Tax Assessor said only 4,000

Keep Your Desk

...the public hearing on the "Shop" project only a few days off, we would once again like to stress the importance of this project, and what it means to the entire area. I believe that a community decision that a community meeting of Littlefield will even go to discuss such an unimportant, even more seldom fact that a community meeting after discussing all the pros and cons, embark on a program of this nature. The Littlefield, today, has the chance of a lifetime to the advent of this project. While the planning of the project has been in the hands of interested citizens, the selection of the project depends on each citizen of our community. Already we have received comment from numerous communities, both large and small, and more such note is in offering, we only have to be aware to take advantage of it. The project has now reached the point where the success of the project depends on the outcome of the meeting in the County room. This is why your attendance is important, a wise decision can only be made if you are informed, and you can be informed through Monday meeting.

...Monday evening we received a copy of the letter that has been sent to President Johnson, Littlefield Mayor Bill Armistead, and the President to explore the President to another look at the farm program that has been proposed. Expressing concern over the 50 per bale price cut in cotton support. To this letter we would like to add our small voice of concern and wonderment at a program from the party that has always been for the farmer and small businessman. We hope each person, concerned with the future of our area will write to the President, or your representative, George Johnson. This is one of the privileges that we as a free nation have. We commend our Mayor for the initiative that he has taken, and hope that his action will spur more area residents to write to the proper people, and to this problem that is sharply each of us.

...We have again received the promise of moisture for the spring. We hope that something will take place in the atmosphere that will set off a six inch snow that will be followed by a good slow four inch rain. Our farming friends have begun to show increased concern over the absence of moisture, as we hearer to planting time. In the interest of helping the farmer, let the most out of their plowing efforts, KZZN has added their weather report an operation report that will help farmers judge the best time to turn on their wells to get the best out of each precious drop.

...It won't be long now before the start of the youth baseball program. We hope each boy in various age groups covered in the program, and each interested in our youth will work in the area where they can do the most benefit. It's a shame that our high school has been fit to enter a baseball program. In addition to being the conditioning sport it can do its own way, and give Littlefield a truly complete athletic program.

TO THE WINNERS -- Clint Byers is shown with the trophies that will be presented to the winners of the Littlefield Area Stockshow and Sale to be held Friday and Saturday. 159

...entries have been received from FFA, FHA and 4-H club members in the Littlefield, Spade and Amherst areas.

Rivals!

It has often been said that the only logical substitute for a new Cadillac is one that has seen previous service. Whatever you plan to invest in your next car, above all consider Cadillac.

If you are like most people, you hope someday to own a new Cadillac motor car. For Cadillac's continuing greatness in design and engineering has made it one of the world's most desirable and sought-after possessions. But if a new Cadillac is not presently feasible, you should consider the pleasure and satisfaction that would be yours with a late model, previously-owned Cadillac. Your dealer currently offers an unusually wide selection of fine used Cadillacs at a cost in line with that of many new cars of far less stature and quality. These fine Cadillacs are all in superb condition, and many offer features not yet available on other makes. And from a standpoint of investment, remember that a Cadillac traditionally returns more of its cost at resale than any other car at or near its price. So visit your authorized Cadillac dealer, and let him show you a Cadillac—new or used—that will fit your budget. Your visit will be the wisest motoring move you have ever made. Why not make it this week?

Work Underway On Annual Beta Sigma Phi Style Show

The Beta Sigma Phi members are at work. A location must be found and a date set. Then the various committees go to work. The store committee contacts all the local stores for participation and door prizes. The stores find their models, select their fashions, assign clerks to work with them and hope no one becomes ill and that the fashions arrive on time. Without the cooperation of the local merchants, the style show wouldn't be possible.

The publicity committee then goes to work, contacts newspapers, radio, and TV stations, makes and distributes posters. In the meantime some member has contacted a narrator, an organist, and secured an organ for use during the style show. The ticket committee then prints the tickets and distributes them to the Beta Sigma Phi members and participating merchants for sale. The chair committee makes arrangements for chairs, transportation of them to the location, and then returns them afterwards. When the stores have prepared their scripts, the script committee compiles the material into different categories and schedules the fashions so models will have time to change for their next appearance. Copies of the script must go to the narrators so they will be familiar with it. The programs are printed from the final draft. The decoration committee gathers material and props to have everything ready to be put up the day of the style show. Often husbands are called on for help, such as building the ramps, etc., not to mention the hours they spend in baby-sitting.

The last committee to function is the clean-up committee. They must take down decorations and props and return them, store ramps and generally clean up the location. Although there is a lot of work involved in presenting a style show, the members say it is interesting and fun and feel they accomplish much with the money they give to Cystic Fibrosis Research and the scholarship they present a local high school student.

The members are looking for a large crowd to attend the style show and enjoy an evening of fashions and fun.

Questions & Answers

Q -- I am 71 years of age and have been totally disabled for the past 8 years. Can I be granted a waiver of premiums on my National Service Life Insurance?

A -- Effective January 1, 1965, waiver can be granted in case of total disability for a period of 6 months or more that began prior to the 65th birthday of the insured. You should apply for waiver of premiums.

Q -- Does the VA sell "GI Homes"?

A -- This term usually is applied to homes purchased through normal sources by means of the so-called "GI Loans." However, in the operation of the GI Loan and Direct Loan programs, the VA does occasionally have to repossess homes and these are sold, either for cash or on easy terms. They are located in many states and are listed with local real estate brokers. The purchasers of the repossessed homes do not have to be veterans.

Q -- I permitted my National Service Life Insurance to lapse following my discharge in 1945. Can I reinstate it?

A -- Ordinarily, no. But a new law will re-open NSLI insurance for certain veterans with service-connected disabilities for one year as of May 1, 1965. Veterans with non-service-connected disabilities who are unable to obtain commercial insurance at any price will also be eligible. You can get full information by visiting, phoning, or writing any VA office.

LITTLEFIELD SPORTS ARENA

SPORTS-- HERE AND THERE

By TOM DONNELLY

What is the matter with baseball in Littlefield? When I first moved to this area and having four boys, one of the first things I heard was the good sports program they had here for boys. That sounded wonderful because my sons love sports.

The football and track program they have for Junior High School students is a fine thing. I believe that boys in Junior High are certainly old enough and big enough to play tackle football and if the program is run right it certainly is a big assist to the high school coaches in getting a boy that has some organized experience.

BUT, baseball is a different story. Shortly after I moved here I listened to townspeople complain about the Littlefield American Legion teams and the big disadvantage they were under by not playing high school baseball.

Then two weeks ago, officials of the boys baseball programs started having their initial meetings of the year. On Monday night, a week ago, the Little League held their first meeting and it was well attended. People were interested and all the coaches stated that their boys from the year before were anxious to play ball.

Came Tuesday night and the first meeting of the Pony League which is for 13 and 14 year old boys. The attendance was small and a few of the coaches stated they did not know if they could even field a team this coming year due to the lack of interest on the boys parts. When I asked why, the reply was practically the same from all concerned. "The boys know that with no baseball in high school what do they have to look forward to. They might play this year, then in school it will have to be another sport if they want to get a school athletic sweater which is still a great thing for a boy to have."

The next night the Colt League for boys 15 and 16 held their first meeting of the year. A total of five people showed up, so they postponed the meeting until this Tuesday night and only four were there. The outgoing officials declared at the meeting that if there is no more interest shown in the near future, there is a good probability of no Colt baseball in Littlefield this year. The coaches there also had the same reasoning for the lack of interest on the part of the boys as in the Pony league age and they added a new one. --- There are two sports in Littlefield that do not mix ---

What is the big reason for the lack of interest in baseball here, or is it really a lack of interest on the boys or parents part? The ballparks for the boys are some of the finest I've seen. Cities, many times the size of Littlefield, do not have parks to compare with the facilities here, the games are well attended and the radio station gives outstanding coverage to the games. Being franchised in all of the programs gives the boys an opportunity to carry the name of Littlefield to district, state and even perhaps to national competition.

Why isn't baseball played at Littlefield High School? Is it the expense - how would the cost of a baseball team which has been promised the uniforms and equipment at no cost to the school compare to the cost of a track team which has no track and therefore, has yet to appear before the home crowd?

Or perhaps could it be that certain people who control the athletic policy of the school are behind the no baseball edict. It must not be harmful to the boys to play both sports, otherwise a certain Texas Tech All-American football player would not be allowed to play center field for the Tech baseball team.

Health And Safety Tips

It's the loafer's heart that is more likely to cause trouble --not the athlete's heart.

The notion that the athlete's heart if abnormal and unhealthily enlarged has long been exposed as a myth, says a joint comment by the American Medical Association's Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports and the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations.

The athlete has for years been coached to extend himself beneficially beyond the early stages of fatigue in progressive training program. As a result his heart pumps a greater output of blood per minute with fewer beats. It relaxes longer and more completely between beats. The heart works more efficiently at rest and far more capably during activity. This is no more than the normal function of the heart; to propel blood to the body tissues as required.

As the body's prime endurance muscle, the athlete's heart enlarges only moderately if at all, and reverts to initial size if rigorous training ceases. There is no evidence to show that exercise has ever damaged a normal heart in a properly conditioned healthy athlete.

Hearts are weakened by disease or congenital defects, not by sports. However, considerable exertion is needed to "train" a heart and keep it trained, and this stress can be harmful if disease or defect is present. This is one of the many reasons for thorough physical examinations of all prospective athletes.

Athletic leadership is urged to be sensitive to symptoms that indicate the need for medical re-examination of athletes: breathlessness, rapid pounding heart, or extreme weakness or shakiness that lasts for more than 10 minutes after exercise; broken sleep or unusual restlessness during the night following strenuous exercise; or fatigue that holds over through the next day. These may be signs that the athlete has pushed too far too fast. They may indicate indicate insufficient rest, improper nutrition and improper living in general. Or they may suggest an undetected heart problem.

The loafer's heart is only seemingly healthy. Its level of tolerance is geared only to the sedentary life that produced it, and may not suffice at moments of unusual stress, such as rapid snow shoveling on a winter morning. The loafer's heart also is more vulnerable to emotional pressures and excessive smoking.

The athlete's strong, healthy hearts is by no means the exclusive property of the varsity athlete or the pro. And he won't keep it permanently unless he keeps up with physical exercise after his sports career ends.

Almost anyone can have an athlete's strong heart, through a regular program of exercise that builds endurance and stamina, within the bounds of each individual's respective interests, capabilities and limitations.

Illness caused by drugs is sometimes reported in news stories. When such reports appear, many individuals become concerned about the safety of their medicines.

It is true that an occasional person does have an adverse reaction to some drug, says a pamphlet of the American Medical Association. It also is true that some drugs tend to produce more adverse reactions than others. Penicillin, the lifesaving wonder drug that quickly knocks out pneumonia and many other serious illnesses and infections, produces adverse reactions in possibly one person of every twenty. But penicillin still saves thousands of lives every year.

The American Medical Association, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, the companies manufacturing the drugs, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association and many other groups are constantly studying drugs, determining their safe and effective doses, learning of their side effects, and advising physicians and pharmacists about their safe use, as well as their potential dangers.

Patients should feel free to take the drugs prescribed by their physicians but they should let their doctors know about any adverse reactions to drugs which they may have experienced.

If a patient believes he is having a reaction that is not normal, he should report it to his physician immediately and stop taking the drug until his physician can advise him. Only in this way can one be protected from individual differences in drug action.

Modern drugs are a far cry from the herbs and incantations of the tribal medicine man, but they must be used with the same respect and a great deal more care.

Used properly under a physician's direction, they can truly perform modern miracles.

Accent On Health

Anyone who thinks measles is a harmless childhood disease is sadly mistaken.

In the first place, "childhood disease" is a misnomer. Any person, regardless of age, who has not had measles may have them. Measles is, however, rightly associated with childhood since 90 percent of our children have it before their fifteenth birthday.

Secondly, measles is not the harmless illness that most mothers seem to think it is.

Although recovery is routine for most children, about 500 children in the nation die every year from illnesses stemming from it. Or, a side-effect can be inflammation of the brain, leading to mental retardation.

Last year 71,629 measles cases were reported in Texas. Statistics show several characteristics of the disease. One is that every two or three years, a reservoir of susceptible children builds up. A measles epidemic empties the reservoir. Nearly all children who are exposed and not protected come down with measles.

Another fact the figures show is that February through April is the measles season - that is, more cases occur during this time of the year.

A virus so small that it measures only from two to five millionths of an inch in diameter is responsible for the disease.

A child coming down with measles may seem to have cold symptoms - a dripping nose, watery eyes, wheezing and similar discomfort - about 10 days after exposure. The first sure sign that it is measles is the appearance of "Koplik spots" - bluish-white specks surrounded by redness in the mouth. A blotchy rash follows on the child's face and body, as the sign most of us recognize as measles. If your child develops any of these symptoms, contact your physician at once.

Today, you can keep your child from having measles and eliminate the possibility of serious side-effects with immunization against measles.

Declaration Of Independence Signers Endured Hardships

Have you ever wondered what happened to those men who signed the Declaration of Independence?

Five signers were captured by the British as traitors, and tortured before they died. Twelve had their homes ransacked and burned. Two lost their sons in the Revolutionary Army, another had two sons captured. Nine of the 56 fought and died from wounds or the hardships of the Revolutionary War.

What kind of men were they? Twenty-four were lawyers and jurists. Eleven were merchants, nine were farmers and large plantation owners, men of means, well educated. But they signed the Declaration of Independence knowing full well that the penalty would be death if they were captured.

They signed and they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy planter and trader, saw his ships swept from the seas by the British navy. He sold his home and properties to pay his debts, and died in rags.

Thomas McKean was so hounded by the British that he was forced to move his family almost constantly. He served in the Congress without pay, and his family was kept in hiding. His possessions were taken from him, and property was his reward.

Vandals or soldiers or both, looted the properties of Ellery, Clymer, Hall, Walton, Gwinnett, Heyward, Tuttle, and Mid-leton. At the battle of Yorktown, Thomas Nelson Jr., noted that the British General Cornwallis, had taken over the Nelson home for his headquarters. The owner quietly urged General George Washington to open fire, which was done. The home was destroyed, and Nelson died bankrupt.

Francis Lewis had his home and properties destroyed. The enemy jailed his wife, and she died within a few months.

John Hart was driven from his wife's bedside as she was dying. Their 13 children fled for their lives. His fields and his grist mill were laid waste. For more than a year he lived in forests and caves, returning home after the war to find his wife dead, his children vanished. A few weeks later he died from exhaustion and a broken heart.

Norris and Livingston suffered similar fates.

Such were the stories and sacrifices of the American Revolution. These were not wild-eyed, rabble-rousing ruffians. There were soft-spoken men of means and education. They had security, but they valued liberty more. Standing tall, straight, and unwavering, they pledged: "For the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of the Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other, our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

They gave us an independent America. Can we keep it?

Science Briefs

Five scientific and technological advancements announced by General Electric Company scientists and engineers:

A strip of plastic full of tiny holes may be a new weapon in the fight against cancer. A plastic filter that can separate cancer cells from blood has been developed and may prove valuable in the diagnosis of the disease.

Plug-in electrical power for astronauts a million miles from earth is promised by a new way of creating electricity - magnetizing a superheated gas. G.E. space scientists experts say the new process could answer the need for relatively large amounts of electrical current required by spacecrafts.

"Superpressures" first used by the General Electric Research Laboratory to make diamonds have also made it possible to produce more than 20 new forms of matter never found in nature.

Small electrical explosions which cause the earth to reverberate are revolutionizing oil explorations. Using electrohydraulic equipment, a system has been developed which records these reverberations and translates them into meaningful definitions of underground conditions.

Athletic Banquet Held Friday

WHITHARRAL — High School principal Joe B. Minter was master of ceremonies for the 1965 Panther Athletic banquet at the cafeteria here Friday evening. A miniature gridiron and panther formed the background for the U-shaped tables lined with red and black crepe streamers interspersed with pom-poms of the same colors.

Mmes. Juanita Polk, Will Raines and J.D. Waters prepared and served cokes, tossed salad, aubergin steak, green beans, broiled steak, hot rolls and butter, coffee and tea.

Jim Pyburn, minister of the Southside Church of Christ gave the invocation. Coach John Wayne Hall introduced the basketball girls — Gloria Polando, Paula Reding, Cathleen Howard, Charlotte Caldwell, Judy Wade, Velma Strickland, Shannon Womack, Jerolyn Timmins, Margaret Fagan, Kay Lynn Lott, Petra Chavez, Reta Stuart, Betty Herring, Sandra Gage, Mary Jane Pence; the following football boys — Larry Wade, Wesley Womack, Johnny Tipton, Glenn Throckmorton, Floyd Salinas, Mike Sadler, Leroy Bradley, Walter Caldwell, John Villanueva, Carol Bradley, A.W. Holder, Stanley Sadler, Inez Martinez, Fred Stanifer, Joe Martinez, Stephen Graham, and Ernest Martinez.

Minter introduced the guest speaker, Jack Spikes of Lubbock, who is both an athlete and a businessman. Spikes grew up in Snyder; attended and played ball with Texas Christian Uni-sin. But she did have evidence that he and a girl friend had spent the night together in a hotel bedroom, after signing in as husband and wife.

Circumstantial? Yes, but the court found it convincing anyhow. "What did they register in a hotel as man and wife and retire to a bedroom for?" reasoned the judge. "We have it of old that it is presumed he saith not a pater noster there."

versity. He then signed a contract with the Houston Oilers. He urged each to be strong for the church; to turn to the church for the answer; to stand for what you believe; to make that most important in life.

Rev. Raymond Woodruff, pastor of the Whitharral Baptist Church, gave the benediction. Others present were Clinton Fagan, J.D. Bradley, Sammy Pair, Butch Bryant, Randy Jennings, Woodrow Howard, O.L. Harris, Misses Barbara Falls and Jeanne Darden, Mmes. Betty Claborn, Robert Strickland, Cody Caldwell, Pete Polando, Doyle Stuart, Elva T. Crank; Messrs. and Mmes. As legislators prepare for and take up discussion of cotton legislation and other agricultural programs during this session of Congress, writers and broadcasters will again redouble their efforts to build attention-getting stories around the term "subsidy."

And, if we are to judge the future by the past, we can expect that in a majority of cases the word "subsidy," when used in connection with farm programs and farmers, will carry a derogatory (if not downright defamatory) implication. The misunderstanding that exists in the public mind with regard to this one term is probably responsible for the biggest and ugliest pimple on the much-marred complexion of agriculture's public image.

Looking at the works of some writers and speakers, particularly those who operate from "big-city" bases, one gets the impression that the word "subsidy" was placed in the English language solely for the benefit of agriculture. These people seem irresistibly drawn to such thread-bare phrases as "feeding at the public trough" and "dipping collective cups into the public till." They imply that farmers are the only recipients of subsidies from government, and that such subsidies are purely for the benefit of farmers.

Nothing could be farther from the truth, and anyone who will take the time and effort to seek an honest definition of "subsidy" will find that out.

The part of our Webster's definition which applies to government subsidies is under 3-b: "A government grant to assist a private enterprise deemed advantageous to the public." For our purpose here, the key phrase is "deemed advantageous to the public" — a phrase too often overlooked by the sensation-seekers. All government subsidies, presumably, are meant to be in the interest of the general public, not just the individual or industry in question. In the case of agricultural subsidies, the public benefits by an abundance of food and fiber, and by the maintenance of a strong agricultural economy, without which there is general agreement that our entire economic structure might well tumble about our ears.

For a more detailed and complete definition of subsidies, we find valuable material in a pamphlet entitled "Subsidy and Subsidylike Programs of the U.S. Government," prepared for the Joint Economic Committee, Congress of the United States. For the purposes of that report, subsidies are defined as "an act by governmental unit involving either (1) a payment, (2) a remission of charges, or (3) supplying commodities or services at less than cost or market price with the intent of achieving an economic objective."

Under this definition the scope of subsidies broadens considerably, and those who have adopted such holier-than-thou attitudes toward the farm population should begin to see the error of their ways.

Under one or another of the three broad categories listed above, the report cites as subsidies: Grants to business firms and corporations (shipbuilding and ship-operating differential subsidies, Subsidies for carrying mail, etc.); Tax benefits to specific economic groups (depletion allowances to producers of minerals and other extractive industries, accelerated amortization of defense facilities, concessions to small business under the Technical Amendments Act, reduction of income taxes to particular groups and individuals, etc.); Indirect assistance to specific economic groups (financing of highway and airport construction, protective tariffs, purchase restrictions under the Buy American Act etc.); Free services or services below cost (postal system, FCC, FTC, ICC, SEC, Bureau of Labor Statistics and many more; Lending and Loan Guarantee programs; Federal aid payments to state and local units (school lunch fund, forestry services, state marine schools etc.); Insurance programs undertaken by government at sub-normal premiums, and a host of others.

Even a cursory glance at this grossly incomplete list of subsidy and subsidylike government programs is sufficient to show that every single citizen of the U.S. is receiving government aid in one form or another. And it should be sufficient to convince those who constantly throw thoughtless rocks at farm programs that they, too, live in glass houses.

Jury Decides Spraying Willful

Frank Daugherty, Olton farmer who lost his civil court case last week, as the jury voted in favor of Daryl Machen awarding him $900 in damage did receive some satisfaction from the case.

Though the jury did not award Daugherty any damages in his counter suit they did declare that from the preponderance of the evidence shown at the trial that at the time and place in question the spray airplane operator willfully released a chemical spray upon the land, property or person of Mr. Daugherty.

Daugherty had been charged with shooting at the aircraft at the time of the spraying.

A winter soaking in February helps to give the tree extra strength to hold its blooms and the coming fruit crop. Soak overnight with a slow stream of water. This could mean the difference in a fruit crop and none at all.

Salmonellosis may sound like a new dish to eat, but instead, it is a disease.

Fatalities from the disease occur usually in the older person or the very young, but anyone who has had Salmonellosis will vouch that he doesn't want it again.

The number of cases in the nation has greatly increased in the last 20 years — from 726 cases in 1945 to 9,680 last year.

First, some basic facts about the disease. It is caused when a Salmonella bacillus enters man, usually through eating or drinking contaminated foods.

About 12 to 48 hours later, the person becomes ill — with diarrhea, vomiting, fever.

Almost all types of warm and cold blooded animals have been found infected with Salmonellae. The organisms are shed in the body discharges of the infected animals and man. Either a man or an animal may carry the bacteria without seeming to have the disease.

What is being done to combat this ever-growing problem? Public health wise, careful efforts to record and check the incidence of Salmonellosis, both State and nationwide, are underway to aid detection and isolation of trouble spots. Food and drug leadership, physicians, veterinarians, industrialists and others are concerned about the situation.

But the quickest and surest preventive methods lie with individual efforts, either in your own home or if you work in the food service industry.

Thoroughly cook meat and other foods before tasting, eating or serving them. Also, avoid the possibility of contamination of work areas in the kitchen by preparing foods on a disposable paper and washing them thoroughly with hot detergent water.

Refrigerate both cooked and uncooked foods to prevent multiplication of bacteria. And when preparing ready-mixes, cook them well before tasting and wash containers with hot detergent water before reusing.

Thorough hand-washing before eating and after a visit to the toilet is also important.

Salmonellosis, statistics show, is on the increase, but you can cut your chances of contracting it in your own kitchen and through your own efforts.

Circumstantial Evidence

pinch, puns, and women circumstantial evidence has reputation that it deserves. People, reading that a defendant "convicted on circumstantial evidence," jump to the conclusion that the case against him is flimsy.

But if we rely constantly on circumstantial evidence in our routine, we are like a steam billowing from a morning cup of coffee. We seek direct evidence of a crime by dipping our finger into the coffee. We rely on circumstantial evidence — fact plus logic — to tell us the coffee is very hot.

Would many readers doubt the conclusion, from circumstantial evidence of a footprint in the sand, that a human being had come to the scene, circumstantial evidence is weak. One court gave a verdict of a country doctor, being a saddle under his bed, deduced that the patient had eaten a horse.

Circumstantial evidence, strong, is what sends most people to jail. How many have been caught by telltale hints, how many hit-run by dented fenders, how many by sudden and unexpected evidence?

Time is usually committed to the mask of darkness or the solitude of the murderer, and the thief seldom in the presence of an audience.

In a celebrated case, a woman divorced was trying to get her husband guilty of adultery. She could offer no witness to see him commit such a to regulate commercial pesticides is having time in a House committee. This is an indication that the bill will be changed considerably before it is reported for action.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Rep. Grainger, author, Rep. Wheeler, tried unsuccessfully to get it referred to a different subcommittee the one headed by Rep. Rapp of Raymondville, agriculture committee, did vote to instruct to report the bill to the committee.

The bill is one of the most important issues to be reported before the Legislature session, on par with re-structuring, taxes and other issues. "This bill does not affect only commercial applicators," Rapp said, "it affects a lot of people, owners and operators of equipment used to apply pesticides. Licensing would require an examination to demonstrate familiarity with operation of pesticides and an annual fee. Operator's fee would be $10; registration, $25; and $25 for each piece of equipment. Operators would have to show financial responsibility of $15,000 by insurance, deposit, for each piece of equipment.

Opponents of the bill say it need protection because modern pesticide equipment, if misused, damage land areas, including ad- property.

Rapp contends the bill needs to be studied carefully because the transient nature of some of the persons who work on pesticide equipment would require that the operator spend a lot of money on additional license fees and bonds.

HEALTH LEGISLATION -- Sweeping new concepts for treatment of tuberculosis, mental illness and mental retardation are about to be written into Texas law.

Bills overhauling the entire state organization for dealing with these vast problems soon may be sent to Gov. John Connally for signature.

House passed 142-0 an amended version of legislation already approved by the Senate to set the eradication program in motion.

A separate bill to establish a new Texas Department of Mental Health and Retardation cleared the House 139-1 and was sent to the Senate.

The tuberculosis control measure by Sen. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock and Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen would shift all tuberculosis hospitals and programs from the Board for Hospitals and Special Schools to the Texas Department of Health.

A bill by Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston also would take from the Board all mental hospitals and special schools for the retarded, moving them to the new department.

Both emphasize community-centered attacks on the problems at hand.

Experts maintain that case-finding, long-term follow-up care and contract care of patients close to home can virtually eliminate tuberculosis. Proposed $23,300,000, six-year program will begin in the San Antonio-Central-South Central Texas area and counties along the border from El Paso to Brownsville.

Community care centers to treat mental patients close to the cities they live in rather than big hospitals far away are heavily relied on for major progress in the mental health field.

HORSES BOOKED -- Odds are long against the horse race betting advocates this session, but they will provide one of the Legislature's most colorful shows.

On March 29 the House State Affairs Committee will hear a bill to legalize parimutuel betting on supervised tracks. Bill is backed by the Texas Racing Association. It was introduced by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville.

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine has introduced a constitutional amendment which would outlaw parimutuel (in a pool) betting and all other forms of gambling in the state.

BUDGET CONFERENCE TAKE OVER -- Whether Texans will face substantial new taxation to finance expanding state services rests largely with 10 top lawmakers.

Budget writing was checked to a joint conference committee of senators and representatives after the Senate, without discussion, passed a $3,650,000,000 appropriations measure. It called for $617,000,000 in general revenue spending.

Senate version is $13,000,000 above the House-passed bill in general funds earmarked for the 1966-67 biennium. Both houses left money "on the table."

Senate bill is $14,000,000 below anticipated income; House bill $25,000,000 below. But there are plenty of claims for the leftover.

Amount of the school teacher pay raise approved after the general budget finally is adopted is the real key to the magnitude of a tax bill. But recommendations of the conferees -- likely to be approved by both houses -- will determine just how much of the foreseeable revenue is left to apply toward better salaries for teachers and other new spending demands.

SABINE BILL PASSED -- Legislation aimed at paving the way for making the Sabine River navigable from Longview to the Gulf has reached the governor's desk.

Bill sets up Sabine River Navigation District in Gregg, Harrison, Panola and Rusk counties.

A $15,000,000 revenue bond-financed project extending to Toledo Bend Dam is contemplated. Under the plan, locks would be constructed to lift barges into the Gulf of Mexico.

BEER-LIQUOR INTERESTS CLASH -- One of the hottest floor fights of the session was waged over a bill which found beer and liquor interests on opposite sides and "wets" and "dries" somewhat confused.

Liquor store operators bitterly opposed a measure by Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham, which they contended permitted wholesale beer distributors to sell ale and malt liquor directly to consumers.

Mutscher said the two beverages should be treated as beer under state statutes, since they are made by breweries, not distillers.

After prolonged debate in the House, Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah unsuccessfully tried to tack on an amendment to raise the beer tax $1 a barrel.

Mutscher's bill finally passed 90-44 and went to the Senate for another round.

PICKUPS MAY SPEED UP -- House has approved and sent to the Senate a bill permitting pickup trucks to travel 70 miles an hour on Texas highways instead of the present 55 mph limit.

Another bill by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin specifies that pickups may be driven with a regular operator's license. Some law enforcement agencies (not the Texas Highway Patrol) contend that drivers of pickups must have a commercial license. They say law is not clear on the point. Bill cleared committee and is on House calendar.

PROPERTY TITLES UNCLEAR -- Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo believes that no Texan can be sure he has a clear title to any of his personal property because present law permits the state to get a preferred lien without notice on any property which has gone through the hands of a person arrears on his taxes.

Harding said the state can do this regardless of how many times the property has changed hands.

He has introduced a bill which would provide for handling of personal property liens in the same manner that liens on real property now are handled, including filing of a notice with the county clerk. No lien would be effective on personal property before the filing of such notice.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION PLAN -- Ep. Milton Schiller of Cameron has introduced a bill calling for a statewide plan to take maximum advantage of federal funds for vocational and technical education.

Bill would make the State Board for Vocational Education, established in 1949, the coordinating agency for setting up standards and requirements for school districts which want to set up a vocational and technical school or a vocational and technical school district with state and federal participation.

TEXAS CRIME RISING -- Major crime is increasing at an alarming rate, warns the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Last year 260,860 major offenses were committed in the state. This represents an increase of 13.8 per cent over 1963, says DPS Director Homer Garrison Jr.

All seven categories -- murder, rape, robbery, burglary, aggravated assault, theft and auto theft -- recorded big jumps. Crime rate (offenses per 100,000 population) rose from 2,393 to 2,723.

Insurance Opens In April For Persons Over 65

Texas citizens 65 years of age and over will have an opportunity to again purchase Texas 65 Health Insurance during the last two weeks of April, according to an announcement by H. Lewis Rietz, president of the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association.

Texas 65 was organized by 1963 by 64 of the leading insurance companies in the state to offer low cost health coverage to senior citizens of Texas who had previously been unable to purchase health insurance because of age or physical condition.

The program is available only during open enrollment periods to any Texas resident 65 years of age and over, regardless of physical condition, and without the necessity of completing a lengthy medical questionnaire.

Husbands and wives of those past 65 who purchase the insurance may also qualify for Texas 65 though they have not attained the age of 65. Coverage may also be purchased by sons and daughters in behalf of parents or relatives without the necessity of the insured's signature.

"That Texas 65 is filling the need we hoped it would be evidenced by the fact that over $4 million dollars has been paid in claims by the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association since the program was started on November 1, 1963," Rietz stated.

Rietz explained that the unique health insurance program offers three plans of coverage for the senior citizen.

The basic plan pays a maximum of $12 per day for a hospital room up to 31 days, part of the costs of doctor's hospital visits, surgical fees up to $200 and miscellaneous charges up to $125. Monthly premiums for this plan are $9.

The major medical plan costs $10 per month and covers hospital expenses up to $5,000 during any calendar year, or about 80 per cent of all hospital, surgical and nursing home expenses after the first $75. This plan is designed for those who have some basic coverage, such as the basic Texas 65 plan, or who are financially able to meet the costs of basic coverage.

The third Texas 65 plan is a combination of both the basic and major medical plans and costs $19 per month.

The basic or major medical plan may be purchased separately or in combination under plan three.

Texas was the fourth state in the nation to offer a 65 health insurance program for its senior citizens. There are now seven such plans in operation in the United States.

Texas 65 will be available April 15 to May 1 from any insurance agent licensed to sell health insurance in Texas.

The Forest Service, a branch of the Department of Agriculture, has jurisdiction of 154 national forests and other lands totaling about 186 million acres in 39 states and Puerto Rico.
