

Italian Warships In Allied Hands; Yanks Take The Port Of Salerno

Japs Being Driven Back Into Salamaua Stronghold By Allies

By C. YATES McDANIEL
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in the Southwest Pacific, Sunday, Sept. 12 (AP)—American and Australian jungle fighters, covered by a heavy artillery barrage, drove the Japanese from ridge positions along the coast below Salamaua, New Guinea, into panicky flight Saturday, bringing close the fateful hour for an enemy army trapped there and at Lae.

fenses southeast of the Francisco river that they left behind artillery and hundreds of dead, can retreat north along a trail to Lae. But Lae's peril appears even greater than Salamaua's with Australians throwing back Japanese counterattacks at a newly-won river bridgehead only two miles from an airbase on its northeastern outskirts and another Allied force surging down the Markham valley from the northwest.

lines below Salamaua apparently suggest early capture of the large airbase which is between the Francisco river and the town, built out on an isthmus in the Huon Gulf. The Allies are bidding for two other airbases at Lae. Near the Malahang airbase, Australians who crossed the rain-swollen Busu river for the first time came under the fire of medium Japanese artillery Saturday. The Australians have the support of 25-pounders wheeled into action with great difficulty over jungle and swamp. Advanced guards of the Australians inflicted losses on the enemy which tried to dislodge the bridgehead yesterday. A few soldiers of the encircled Lae-Salamaua army, which some estimates have placed as high as 20,000, may be able to run the Allied sea and air gauntlet by sneaking from Lae in barges. But the greater portion appears doomed.

Berlin Claims Surrender Of Many Italians

Upper Italy, Balkans Southern France Said To Be Under Control
By JUDSON O'QUINN
LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP) The Germans claimed today to have consolidated their position in upper Italy, the Balkans and southern France, and they asserted that more than 200,000 men of the Italian army already had surrendered their arms to Nazi troops.

One Vessel Sunk In Running Fight With Nazi Airmen

By NOLAND NORGAARD
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 11 (AP)—The backbone of the Italian fleet—four battleships, seven cruisers and six destroyers—sailed into Allied hands at Malta today after a spectacular running battle with the German air force which sent one battleship to the bottom. The battleship which went down under the German attack was the 35,000-ton Roma, one of Italy's newest ships, and those arriving safely at Malta were the battleship Italia, formerly the Littorio, the Vittorio Veneto, both 35,000 tons, the Andrea Doria and the Cato Duilio, both 24,000 tons. The cruisers included the Luigi Di Savoia—Duca Deglia Abruzzi, the Giuseppe Garibaldi, the Eugenio Di Savoia, the Emanuele Filiberto Duca D'Aosta, the Raimondo Montecucoli and the Luigi Cadorna, all 8,000 tons (the seventh cruiser was not immediately identified).

Clark's Army Making Gains Around Naples

Air, Naval Bombardments Help Check Counterattacks
By EDWARD KENNEDY
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 11 (AP)—American Fifth army forces, hurling back German armored units to expand their holdings around Naples in the heightening battle of Italy, have captured the port of Salerno, Allied headquarters announced today as chaos gripped the peninsula and Italian troops were reported fighting the Nazis in the north. Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's American and British assault troops drove steadily inland to widen the Naples wedge, and headquarters declared that the bridgehead was firmly established. Crack German armored units unleashed several more fierce counterattacks against Gen. Clark's troops at Salerno, but these were beaten back by the Allies, who pushed inland here with the assistance of smashing aerial fleets and big guns of naval vessels. (A Berlin broadcast recorded in London said American troops had made a new landing on the Sorrento peninsula, south of Naples, which separates Salerno Bay from the Bay of Naples. Another German broadcast admitted the capture of Salerno by the Americans and said their landing was made north of Paestum, which is 23 miles below Salerno. The Germans said some ground had been regained in fierce counterattacks.) Headquarters said several pockets of enemy resistance had been wiped out around Salerno, and that the prisoners taken, all of them Germans, now total several hundred. American Fifth army units were said officially to have borne the brunt of German resistance during the Salerno landings. British units, which landed with little opposition some distance away, were attacked later by German tanks, but these enemy forces were repulsed. Official reports said the Allied aerial assaults have prevented "the enemy from getting reinforcements." See YANKS GAIN, Pg. 2, Col. 2

Reds Make Smashing Gains

Leaders Call On Italians To Resist Nazis

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—In a gesture possibly foreshadowing an Italian declaration of war upon Germany, Premier Pietro Badoglio and King Vittorio Emanuele tonight called upon the Italian people to abide by the terms of the armistice and not to resist United Nations' forces but to defend the nation against "German aggression." "The armed forces of the government should not carry out any hostile act against the Anglo-American troops," said Badoglio's proclamation, "but they should be ready to act against attacks from any other direction." "The German armed forces immediately after the armistice carried out acts of aggression against us, Italians! The moment is very grave and only virile decisions can save Italy." The twin appeals were made in proclamations, dated today, read over an unidentified radio station, and reported by the U. S. foreign broadcast intelligence service. "They indicated that the monarch and the premier, whose whereabouts were unknown since announcement of Italy's capitulation made a battleground of the country, had reached an Allied haven.

Other Nazi Units Face Entrapment

By JAMES M. LONG
LONDON, SUNDAY, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Red army pursuing German troops "retreating in disorder" in southern Russia overran nearly 200 villages yesterday and cut down 4,000 of the enemy in smashing gains that threatened to trap hundreds of thousands of Axis troops, including those in the Caucasus and Crimea, a Moscow communique disclosed early today. The bulletin announced a 7 1/2 mile plunge toward Pavlograd, important junction of the Kharkov-Crimea railway, in the race for the Dnieper river, and said Soviet forces attacking on a 600-mile-front were inflicting "decisive blows" on the enemy. "The Hitlerites are retreating in disorder," the bulletin said of the German flight out of the Donets Basin. New advances also were curled around Bryansk on the north and south, and a six-mile gain carried the Russians to within striking distance of Nezhin, only 72 miles from the Ukraine capital at Kiev, the communique revealed. Berlin added to the gloomy tidings for the German homeland by announcing a Russian sea-borne attack on Novorossiisk in the western Caucasus. The converging blows on Pavlograd on the last trunk railway east of the Dnieper river bend, and a powerful renewed drive southwest of Kharkov toward Poltava in which 14 German counterattacks were beaten down threatened the early collapse of enemy resistance east of the Dnieper and the possible entrapment of huge enemy forces. The precipitate German withdrawal, now more and more acknowledged officially by Moscow, and indirectly by Berlin, suggested that the Germans might not even attempt to hold all points along the curving Dnieper once it is reached. Reports reaching London said German generals were convinced that a retreat clear to the Dnieper river would be the best strategy in southern Russia because of Allied threats in the west and south, even though this meant giving up a huge territory won at such frightful cost in men and equipment. Berlin apparently was preparing the homelands for another great reverse—the evacuation of See REDS ADVANCE, Pg. 3, Col. 4

Report Change In Argentine Government

By The Associated Press
Radio Agricultura at Santiago, Chile, said tonight in a domestic broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission that "the best sources of information in Santiago report that there is a new military revolutionary movement in Argentina." The broadcast said that Gen. Arturo Rawson "had dismissed" Gen. Pedro Ramirez, head of the military regime established after the overthrow of President Ramon Castillo's government last June 4. Rawson had aided Ramirez in that coup d'etat. Chile's radio quoted a Buenos Aires report via Montevideo that Gen. Edelmir Farrell, Argentine minister of war, had been named vice-president. Telephone communication between Santiago and Buenos Aires was reported normal, but when efforts were made to get information about the political situation, "the censor interrupted, cutting the communications," the broadcast said.

Over A Billion Reported In The Third War Loan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The treasury banked $1,196,000,000 in the first two days of the $15,000,000,000 third war loan drive. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, in a formal statement tonight, said the first report "indicates that our state organizations are getting under way in good style." Theodore R. Gamble, director of the drive, said he was "pleased," but cautioned state organizations against any let-down. The total—covering Thursday and Friday—represents only money on deposit to the government's credit, and reported to Federal Reserve Banks. Gamble said it was "necessarily incomplete" because of the vast amount of clerical work involved, and heavy sales of small bonds, which increases bookkeeping.

Reviewing The Big Spring -Week-

Joe Pickle
Talk about Herculean tasks—Big Spring and Howard county certainly have one ahead during the next two and a half weeks if the $1,791,400 Third War Loan quota is met. It's not impossible for Angelina county went over the top on a $1,200,000 quota in a single day. We claim to have some of that same blood.

The people are going to have to invest sacrificially to maintain the spirit necessary to reach this quota. But there's no use kidding, the persons who are "coining" the money simply because of war stimulated business activity are going to have to whitewash the big chunks. They are going to have to stop this business of setting bond obligations for a $1,000 bond simply because it sounds big and get on the line for $10,000, $25,000, $50,000 or whatever they can honestly spare.

It begins to look as if it is easier to raise quotas which involve outright contributions than it is to reach those which merely involve lending the government money. The Boy Scout campaign is crowding its objective of $5,000 and when final reports are in here and from surrounding districts it will be over the top. This should be good news for Pat Kenney and R. R. McEwen, co-chairmen, who last week learned that Howard county has a $17,980 war chest drive in October. August, we learned belatedly last week, was the second hottest See THE WEEK, Pg. 8, Col. 1

Wives And Sisters Of Missing Men Go Into Air Service

SWEETWATER, Sept. 11 (AP)—Four wives and sisters of men missing in combat were among women who won their army air forces wings at Avenger Field today. The Women's Airforce Service Pilots (WASPs) were Betty Haas, 22, Scarsdale, N. Y., sister of a navy dive-bomber pilot killed in Africa; Geraldine Hardman, 21, Reno, Nev., sister of a navy pilot lost in action; Anne McClellan, 21, Sonoma, Calif., wife of an air force pilot missing since the fall of Bataan; and Nadine Ramsey, 31, Wichita, Kas., sister of a cavalry lieutenant reported missing after Bataan.

City-Wide Canvass Slated Movie Players To Be Here In Interest Of War Bond Sales

Round One in the Third War Loan campaign is over, with not very brilliant results as far as Howard county is concerned. But Drive Chairman Ted Groobl and his many assistants were gathering strength for this week's Round Two, with confidence that, now that organizational difficulties are over, the "big push" will see the figures mounting. This week brings two key events in the local bond campaign: (1) Thursday and Friday are "roll-out sales days," when volunteer salesmen by the scores will canvass the city, calling literally on every residence and every business house in the city. Every individual is to be approached in the cause of making an extra contribution in the cause of quick victory. (2) The bond campaign gets a boost from Hollywood at the end of the week, when three players of popularity in western dramas make a personal visit to Big Spring. They will be Bill Elliott, high ranking cowboy star; Gabby Hayes, the comic of many a western; and pretty Ann Jeffreys, who plays the feminine lead in the Elliott pictures. For the two-day canvass, workers will mobilize at 9 a. m. Thursday at the Settles hotel for a last-minute "pep rally" and organizational session, then will go forth armed with bond applications and a persuasive talk to help put the county over its quota. The town has been divided into 14 districts, each to be worked thoroughly by one club. Men's service clubs are handling the downtown area. Exact time of the Elliott-Hayes-Jeffreys visit is yet to be determined, but it will be either Friday night or Saturday. But for the occasion, Big Spring is planning a spectacular turnout, with parade and rally to honor the film players. Cowboy Bill and his co-players will make only one ap-

Supplemental Gas Under Scrutiny

DALLAS, Sept. 11 (AP)—Moving to reduce civilian gasoline consumption 25 per cent, the regional OPA office is reviewing supplemental rations issued by war price and rationing boards in the six states of region five, Regional Administrator Max McCullough disclosed today. McCullough in a statement termed the action "necessary if the reduction in civilian use of gasoline, as ordered by Petroleum Administrator for War Ickes, is to be accomplished."

22 Crew Members Of Fortresses Lost

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 11 (AP)—Twenty-two members of the crews of two Flying Fortresses from the Alexandria air base, which crashed over the Gulf of Mexico late yesterday, are presumed lost, the base public relations officer said today. The two giant planes plunged into the gulf about 40 miles southeast of Galveston, after colliding in the air, the announcement said. Navy craft and army planes searching the area failed to find any survivors.

Northern France Hit By Allied Bombers

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—U. S. Marauders and RAF medium bombers and fighter-bombers attacked targets in northern France today, a joint British and American communique said tonight. Bombing results were good on all targets, the communique added. Returning fliers reported that the airfield at Beaumont-Le-Roger, which today received its fourth blasting from medium bombers, was now virtually useless to the enemy.

Full Terms Of Capitulation Disclosed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 11 (AP)—Italy has agreed to surrender immediately French Corsica, transfer its naval and air units to Allied territory, hand over all United Nations' prisoners, and allow its merchantmen to be used in the war against Germany under the terms of the armistice, disclosed here tonight. The armistice, signed by representatives of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Marshal Pietro Badoglio on Sept. 3 and announced Sept. 8, provides: 1. Immediate cessation of all hostile activity by Italian armed forces. 2. Italy will use its best endeavors to deny to the Germans facilities that might be used against the United Nations. 3. All prisoners or internees of the United Nations to immediately be turned over to the Allied commander-in-chief and none of these may now or at any time be evacuated to Germany. 4. Immediate transfer of the Italian fleet and Italian aircraft to such points as may be designated by the Allied commander-in-chief, with details of disarmament to be prescribed by him. 5. Italian merchant shipping may be requisitioned by the Allied commander-in-chief to meet the need of a military-naval program. 6. Immediate surrender of Corsica and all Italian territory, both islands and the mainland, to be Allies, for such use as operational bases and other purposes as the Allies may see fit. 7. Immediate guarantee of free use by the Allies of all air fields and naval ports in Italian territory, regardless of the rate of evacuation of Italian territory by the German armed forces. These ports and fields are to be protected by Italian armed forces until this function is taken over by the Allies. See FULL TERMS, Pg. 8, Col. 3

15-Year-Old Draws Sentence For Rape

LAWTON, Okla., Sept. 11 (AP)—A 15-year-old boy charged with a companion, 16, in the rape of the young wife of a Fort Hill officer at her Lawton home, pleaded guilty today and was sentenced to serve 15 years in Granite Reformatory. No plea had been entered for the other youth, held in the county jail and charged jointly with entering the victim's home Aug. 29 while she slept, taking $5 from her purse and attacking her.

"Edge Of Darkness," Features Flynn, Ann Sheridan At Ritz Today, Monday

"Edge of Darkness," starring Errol Flynn and Ann Sheridan, adapted to the screen from the William Woods novel of the same name, which is showing at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday, is the story of a little Norwegian town's unyielding defiance of Nazi domination.

The production was directed by Lewis Milestone, the man who brought to the screen the greatest story of World War I, "All Quiet On The Western Front." Milestone sincerely believes that in "Edge of Darkness," he has the first truly great film story of the new World War.

Given a powerful story and a masterly director, Warner Bros. set out to match it with an outstanding cast. Selecting Errol Flynn, Ann Sheridan and Walter Huston from Hollywood, Warner Bros. combined Broadway for the best available talent. The result was a galaxy of New York names rarely seen together in one production. These include Judith Anderson, Ruth Gordon, Charles Dingle, Tonio Selwart, Roman Bohnen, Art Smith, Morris Carnovsky, Helene Thimig, Torben Meyer, Tom Fadden and Francis Pierlot. To these, Warner Bros. added brilliant young Nancy Coleman, seen recently in "King's Row" and "The Gay Sisters"; Helmut Dantine, lately in "Casablanca"; John Beal, Monte Blue, Virginia Christine and Dorothy Tree.

Milestone has aimed, in this production, at a story that will typify the invincible determination of the "little man" all over the world to live in decency, self-respect and freedom. He chose Norway as a locale to present the picture of Hitler's hypocritical imposition of "Nordic supremacy" upon the descendants of the fabled Norsemen themselves.

The Nazi invader learns, in the little town of Trollness, that the love of peace and of freedom is not weakness but strength. The story makes skillful use of the traditionally stolid Norwegian temperament as a foil for the Nazi Commandant, whipping him up into a mounting frenzy of frustration, as he learns that he cannot whip these simple people into subjugation. The only measure his petty Nazi mentality knows is to add more brutalities, yet it brings the stubborn spirit of resistance not to the breaking point but to the explosion point that destroy him and every other Nazi in Trollness.

The rebellion is set off when Sixtus Andresen, played by Morris Carnovsky, the aged and venerated schoolmaster, is beaten and his belongings burned. With the Nazi garrison destroyed, the surviving townspeople take to the hills to carry on guerrilla warfare until the invaders are driven from Norway.

The script for "Edge Of Darkness" was prepared by Robert Rossen, one of Hollywood's ablest script writers.

Drama Of Corregidor—Heroic historic events of tragic 28 days at "The Rock" is showing for the first time in Big Spring at the State theatre today and Monday.

Drama Of Corregidor Here For First Time At State Today & Mon.

"Corregidor needs no comment from me. It has sounded its own story at the mouth of its guns. It has scroled its own epitaph on enemy tablets. But through the bloody haze of its last reverberating shot, I shall always seem to see a vision of grim, gaunt, ghastly men, still unafraid."

In these burning works General Douglas MacArthur epitomized the heroism of the Americans and Philipinos who made that epic stand at what the noted English poet Alfred Noyes called "The Blood-Red Rock, The Living Rock" that was the keystone of Bataan.

It was inevitable that such a glorious page in the history of the Global War should eventually come to the screen that the world should see some of the heroic deeds of those "grim, gaunt, ghastly men, still unafraid" who were with MacArthur and Wainwright and who carried on to the tragic end and even after MacArthur was called to Melbourne.

It remained for Producers Releasing Corporation to translate to the screen the historic events of those tragic twenty-eight days as American and Philippine troops fought to the last against overwhelming odds—out-gunned, out-manned, ragged, and starving.

With a distinguished cast headed by Otto Kruger, Elissa Landi and Donald Woods, "Corregidor" showing at the State Theatre today and Monday.

In this P.R.C. production, the producers have adhered strictly to documented facts, and while recording in stark realism the actual fighting, the privations, self-sacrifice, and indescribable deeds of heroism on the Rock, have woven into the story the poignant drama of a woman surgeon (Elissa Landi) in love with two men surgeons (Kruger and Woods). The story is really seen through the eyes of the woman, and the unique love triangle is played out against the dramatic episodes that culminate in the final surrender of "The Rock."

"Corregidor" is a title that every studio in Hollywood tried to obtain the rights to. The Hays Organization finally decided in favor of Producers Releasing Corporation, for they had announced intention to produce such a picture immediately after the fall of "The Rock," and had an authentically correct script ready and approved by the War Department at Washington.

Dixon R. Harwin and Edward Finney, co-producers of the picture, after exhaustive research prepared many miniature scenes to authentically reproduce the events of the epic struggle of twenty-eight days for the underground Philippine fortress. These had to be checked with the War Department, as anything that touches upon the war in a motion picture must receive the official okay from the Washington officials. So these miniatures are absolutely correct according to the official blueprints and records.

Leon Fromkess, vice-president in charge of production for P.R.C., personally supervised every step in the production of "Corregidor," and the result has been acclaimed as a most realistic depiction of the great struggle that has made one of the most glorious pages in the history of the War.

Alaska Highway Is Showing At Lyric Theatre

"Alaska Highway," showing today and Monday at the Lyric theatre is a story of brother against brother in competition for the hand of a girl who knows which one she wants but refrains from making it altogether plain until the brothers, who are engineers engaged in building the Alcan highway, get their work attended to.

The story serves to use as background a road-building job which is something to contemplate in fact but rather too much for the camera to capture.

Richard Arlen and Bill Henry play the brothers, and Jean Parker portrays the girl of their hearts. The brothers take turns in deciding to quit the project, to the distress of their father, who is also their superior officer.

Steinbeck's Latest Story At Queen Today

John Steinbeck's novel, "The Moon Is Down," showing today and Monday at the Queen theatre, offers a moving experience, rich in spiritual content and in the simplicity of its telling. It is a dramatic statement of the dignity of man and the deep roots of self-government, occasionally lapsing into talk, but embodying the faith of Americans midway in a struggle to uphold these precepts.

The scene is Norway in April of 1940 at a mining village is occupied by German troops, but the people might be Norwegian or French or American. The mayor of the village is confused in his first dealings with the conquerors, but quick to judge the temper of his people. The men are slow to anger and to understanding, but a quiet determination takes hold as they agree on a course of action.

In sharp contrast is the small group of German officers responsible for the administration of the town and the flow of iron from the mine. They take over on schedule assured that a few shots and a firm hand will turn confusion to numb obedience. Their commander, who has seen other plans and other wars, suspects that people vary little from generation to generation and country to country, although he follows orders methodically. So it is the younger lieutenant who cries out in frustration, "The flies have conquered the flypaper."

All this comes to life in fine performances by Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Peter Van Eyck, and Henry Travers.

Tighter Manpower Controls Urged By Baruch

Asserts Govt. Employment Can Be Cut

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch has prepared an analysis of the manpower situation, concluding that the nation has got to produce more efficiently or else cut back war production and trim still further the output of non-essential civilian goods.

As one step toward more efficient use of manpower, he suggests in a memorandum disclosed today, that farm draft deferments be reviewed regularly, to assure that farms are not becoming havens for draft dodgers. This brought a prompt reaction from Capitol Hill.

Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) of the house agriculture committee heatedly declared that the federal government "is sheltering twice as many draft dodgers as the farms."

Baruch did not spare the government in his memorandum which was prepared for War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes to whom Baruch is an advisor.

The government ought to set an example for private industry, he said, by "cleaning out unnecessary employees."

Inferentially, the report backs up the decision to draft fathers by saying that selective service should give more regard to occupation and less to dependency in granting deferments from the draft.

Among other of Baruch's conclusions:

1. There are indications that an over-supply of some types of war materials is being built up.
2. The practice of ordering war goods on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis should be discontinued in favor of fixed price contracting.
3. The recent labor program worked out for the west coast should be made the pattern for controls in other areas whenever manpower troubles arise.
4. Employers should promise first chance on the post-war choice jobs to workers who stick to their war jobs.

Switzerland Reinforces Frontiers

BERN, Sept. 11. (AP)—Little Switzerland in the heart of German-held Europe rushed troop reinforcements to her frontiers today to await any eventuality as published press reports here said tension between Germany and Italy was fast approaching a climax.

All Swiss newspapers published a federal council order reinforcing frontier units.

(The Berlin radio in a Bern dispatch recorded by the Associated Press said the federal council had mobilized the special frontier troops and they were moving into positions on the Swiss border).

A German frontier report to the Gazette of Lausanne, meanwhile, said Nazi police were refusing exit visas since last Tuesday to Italian workers in Germany who were besieging the police bureaus in great numbers.

A dispatch to the Bern newspaper Der Bund said strong Italian formations were drawn up within a few miles of German troops in the region of the Etsch river in the Trentino district of northern Italy and near Venice.

Unofficial messages which could not be confirmed said the Badoglio government had appealed to Germany to withdraw her troops from Italy. There also were reports of incidents between individual Italian and German soldiers and the attitude of the Italian people was said to be openly hostile to the Germans.

Alley-Parkers To Be Issued Tickets

Traffic tickets while you sleep may be the dish served up by the city to residents who persist in parking their cars in alleys, even in residential areas.

"This is seriously interrupting our program of garbage collection," said City Manager B. J. McDaniel. "Our garbage trucks start out at 4 a. m. and frequently find alley ways blocked by cars parked there overnight. They either have to go around and back up the alley or skip it altogether."

"We appeal for cooperation from residents in stopping this practice. If not, then we shall have to deputize one of our operators to issue tickets for parking in alleys in strict violation of city ordinances and constitutes a great hazard in event of fire."

100-Proof

WENDOVER FIELD, Utah—Pvt. William A. Erwin boasted of the size of Arkansas watermelons. He had a sister at Hope, Ark., who responded with proof.

So one hundred of Pvt. Erwin's G.I. companions sat down to a melon bust—with one mellow. It weighed 100 pounds.

Sanders Tire Company Opens Re-Cap, Vulcanizing Shop Here

A well known West Texas Tire distributor and recapper—the Sanders Tire company—will open a new shop in Big Spring at 405-407 East Third street Monday to service Big Spring motorists. The shop will offer complete recapping and vulcanizing service.

Area Offices To Handle State Manpower

AUSTIN, Sept. 11 (AP)—Decentralization of War Manpower Commission administrations in Texas, with 12 area offices functioning after Oct. 15, is aimed at solving local problems and at the same time contributing thousands of additional workers needed in war industries, said Everett R. Speer, acting state director.

Speer said each of the 12 area directors would have full responsibility to operate his program within the overall war manpower program which will necessitate, among other things, shifting workers from areas with labor surpluses to those with shortages.

He said Beaumont, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth were highly critical areas, Amarillo and El Paso were secondary demand areas, and surpluses exist in Austin, Longview, Waco, Abilene, Brownsville and San Antonio.

The problems of none is the same and for that reason each will have its own administrative unit. Speer emphasized that the War Manpower Commission program has been conducted on a basis of voluntary cooperation "and with complete understanding it will continue to be operated on that basis."

Each area director will administer a program now being planned with the aid of labor-management advisory committees.

"These plans will contain new and revised conditions, rules and regulations which will be enforced by men qualified and experienced, living within the community affected and familiar—with local people and conditions," Speer said.

"These area plans will replace the present regional stabilization plan under which we are now operating. To a degree, this plan has served its purpose, but it was a makeshift means by which temporary control was placed over many of the more flagrant practices which slowed down the war effort. It was not flexible and was not geared down to local conditions."

The shop, one of five located at Lubbock, Hobbs, N. M., Odessa, Midland, and Big Spring, will be managed here by Charlie Gallimore, former Lubbock resident.

Gallimore pointed out that his equipment is all new and modern and features a Precision buffer for buffing tires that is superior to other buffers. Bacon recapping equipment is used throughout the shop and experienced, trained men will be on the job to give excellent tire service.

The tire shop will be open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The Sanders shops have been in the tire business for the past 13 years and recapping, as it is done today, has been a part of its business for the past six years.

Recaps, brought about by the tire shortage throughout the nation, is no new experience for the Sanders company, according to Gallimore. The manager also pointed out that the shop's vulcanizing equipment is the latest to be had to give good vulcanizing jobs.

The business will handle new tires, sell recaps, fix recaps, and will have on hand stock of 1,200 Grade III tires. Gallimore reminded motorists that no ration certificate is needed to recap passenger car tires.

The manager will make his home in Big Spring and will be joined soon by Mrs. Gallimore and three children, who have been residing in Lubbock.

1,000 Bales In, 10,000 More Ready For Harvest—If Pickers Are Found

Howard county was right against its 1,000 bales of the 1943 cotton crop Saturday with another 10,000 bales in the fields for pickers. Five Big Spring gins, which normally handle about half the county's cotton volume this early in the season, reported a combined total of 441 bales ginned Saturday evening. No reports were available from the other eight gins in the county.

Cosden Granted Higher Wages

The Eighth Regional War Labor Board in approving a number of voluntary wage adjustment applications by southwestern employers and employees recently granted increases in three instances for Cosden Petroleum company. However, the company has appealed one application to the board for further consideration concerning increase of hourly wages in the Big Spring area refining department of five cents an hour.

According to R. L. Tollett, president of the company, only fifty per cent of the raises were authorized and the others were not. The order has been appealed in the belief that it would create inequities, Tollett said.

Application for vacation pay for employees paid on an hourly basis was granted providing all employees on the payroll six months prior to May 1, 1943, a week's vacation with pay during the year. Application for increases in hourly wages for pipeline gang pushers, pumpers and roustabouts and laborers in the production department were also approved.

Five Enemy Planes Downed Over Biscay

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Spitfire and Typhoon planes attacked German vessels off the French coast today, damaging one and setting fire to another, an official announcement said tonight. Mosquito fighters, from a Polish squadron, shot down five enemy planes over the Bay of Biscay without the loss of a plane, the announcement said, adding that "further enemy airplanes were downed over France."

One Allied fighter was reported missing.

One Revival Is Concluding And Another Begins

Today marks the end of one revival meeting in Big Spring and the beginning of another.

The Main Street Church of God will conclude its gratifying two-weeks of revival services with the Rev. O. G. McClure, Indiana evangelist, as the preacher. The Rev. McClure will be in the pulpit for both services today.

Trinity Baptist church announced that it would have revival services all this week with Dr. Frank Godsoe of Amarillo as the evangelist. The church's own pastor, the Rev. Roland C. King, has just returned from a meeting engagement at Dallas.

"Substance" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in the Church of Christ, Scientist, today. The Golden Text is: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof." Bible citations include Psalms 40:5, and those from Mary Baker Eddy's "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" on page 286.

A prominent Christian layman will be the 11 a. m. speaker at the First Baptist church. He is Murry H. Fly, superintendent of schools at Odessa and an elder in that church. The choir also has a special anthem for the morning service.

The First Baptist church announced that its special offering for Chinese relief, inaugurated last Sunday, had already gone past the $1,000 mark, and that perhaps more would come in today. In the morning service the Rev. P. D. O'Brien speaks on "What to Do With When Trouble Comes." In the evening his topic is "What Must I Do to Be Saved."

Italo Vessels Must Get Out Of Balearics

LA PALMA DE MALLORCA, Sept. 11 (AP)—Seven Italian warships which put into Balearic ports en route to surrender at Gibraltar, were given 24 hours to leave the island harbor by Spanish authorities today.

The ships, which stopped to land wounded survivors from the battleship Roma, sunk by German air raiders off Corica, may request an extension of time to remain in ports for necessary repairs or may submit to internment. The squadron sailed from La Spezia.

During the first 7 months of 1943, American shipyards delivered for service a tonnage of new merchant vessels equivalent to the entire ocean-going tonnage of the American Merchant Marine prior to Pearl Harbor.

Relief Agency Is Ready To Go To Work In Italy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The men who will guide American relief in Italy think it may be put back on its feet easier than any other European country, provided the Germans are kept from making it a battleground like Poland or France.

That is how experts of the office of foreign relief and rehabilitation operations view the prospect as they plan ahead for the job to be done when General Dwight Eisenhower gives them the nod to move in.

The immediate relief task in Italy, it should be explained, is an army job. As the AMG (Allied Military Government) goes into new territory on the heels of advancing troops, army officers trained in administration take over the machinery of community life and supervise emergency relief measures.

When the relief agency comes in—several weeks or months hence—it will pick up from there. It has not yet begun operations in Sicily.

Construction To Be Cut In Half

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Public and industrial construction will be held to $3,000,000,000 in value in 1944, under present war production board plans, and stringent new tests will be invoked before materials are released for approved projects.

The tentative limit on 1944 construction represents a 50 per cent slash from 1943 building. During 1942, a period of feverish war plant expansion, public and industrial construction, topped $14,000,000,000.

A manpower shortage is given as a primary reason for holding down construction; the war manpower commission has estimated that 600,000 men can be shifted from the building and building materials trades to war industry needing them badly if construction is limited to three billions. Continuing shortages of lumber and steel also work against any but a minimum program.

GREEKS CONSULTED

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Emmanuel Tsouderos of the Greek government-in-exile said today that his government was consulted on terms for Italy's surrender and was represented at the signing of the pact. "Greek interests are protected," he said in a broadcast to Greece.

Wallace Submits Democracy Slogan

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Vice-President Henry A. Wallace submitted to the nation tonight the slogan "Democracy First" in the peace to come.

"The battle cry, 'America First,' means that sooner or later we shall find ourselves alone, encircled and fighting against a hostile combination," he said.

"But the slogan 'Democracy First,' intelligently followed up and vigorously applied, can lead to peace. As a matter of fact, it is only by applying the principles of 'Democracy First' that we can have any chance of lasting peace."

The vice president's speech was prepared for a Chicago stadium rally sponsored by the Chicago United Nations committee to win the peace, supporting the Ball-Burton-Hatch-Hill senate resolution for international post-war collaboration to preserve the peace. He asserted that "freedom

Patman Advocates Surplus War Materials To Go To Veterans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Chairman Patman of the house small business committee wants veterans of this war to have first crack at surplus war materials to set them up in business.

The Texas democrat (he is author of the World War Veteran's bonus bill which was passed over President Roosevelt's veto) said today that his idea is incorporated in veteran's legislation which he is making ready for introduction when congress reconvenes on Tuesday.

The primary thought, Patman said, is "to help discharge servicemen get back on their feet and into business in their own communities."

Here are some of the provisions he would have for servicemen:

Following their discharge they would receive three months full pay, including allotments and allowances for dependents, regardless of whether they returned immediately to private employment.

At the end of the three months, a veteran would be entitled to unemployment insurance for 26 weeks, based on annual earnings of $1,700 for the time he was in service; if unemployed at the end of the 26 weeks, he would receive unemployment compensation.

All employers using 100 or more employees would be required to employ disabled veterans to the extent of one per cent of their total personnel.

Surplus war property would be disposed of in accordance with recommendations of the smaller war plants corporation with a view to encouraging the establishment of small business enterprises by veterans.

To encourage the acquisition of small farms by veterans, $100,000,000 annually would be appropriated until the end of the war.

and $1,000,000,000 annually thereafter for five years, for loans to veterans under the Bankhead-Jones farm tenant act.

War bonds purchased by members of the armed forces would be increased in redemption value by ten per cent when used to purchase farm lands.

Patman emphasized that benefits of his proposal would be applicable to service men discharged before the end of the war as well as those released after the war. He estimated that discharges now average 8,000 weekly and will have reached 1,000,000 by the end of this year.

His proposal, the Texan said, is in line with the program outlined in an address by the president on July 28.

Presented With An All-Star Squad, Georgetown Coach Still Has Worries

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
GEORGETOWN, Sept. 11. (AP)—After 20 years of hard work developing football teams from material the big colleges passed up, R. M. Medley has a star-studded squad handed him as an outright gift—and what does it bring?

More worries than he ever knew before.

He doesn't have the team much longer than to exchange pleasantries—45 minutes each afternoon, to be exact. The squad represents four different systems of football and he can't afford to change any fellow much from the style he has come to know for fear of disrupting the whole team. Finally, he will lose ten of those stars in mid-season.

Medley coached at McMurry college 16 years and has been at Southwestern University here four seasons. This year a marine unit was located at Southwestern and in the group were seven members of the University of Texas team that won the Southwest conference and Cotton Bowl championships.

Also, there were eight players from Baylor, three from Texas Christian and several from other Texas colleges. In addition, Southwestern already had the nucleus for one of its better teams.

So Southwestern told the world it would not only have its greatest grid aggregation but one of the greatest of all time in the southwest.

But practice was held up a week because of exemptions. Last week the boys got in only four days.

The first game is next Saturday night when Southwestern meets another star-studded team—North Texas Agricultural College, with its V-12 unit. By the time of the game, scheduled for Fort Worth, Medley figures the boys will have gotten in 17 hours of actual practice.

Southwestern plays Texas Oct. 2 and North Texas again Oct. 16, then Oct. 26—before such games as Tulsa and Rice—these stars leave for boot camp with the marines.

Jackie Field, Spot Collins, Ken Matthews, Harold Fischer, Jack Sachs, Les Proctor and Zuehl Cnolty of Texas; Bubo Barnett and James Erwin of Baylor and Paul Gips, Southwestern's own star passer.

Ceiling Price Of $14.75 Set On Live Hogs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Maximum ceiling prices on live hogs were established today at $14.75 per hundredweight, Chicago basis, to carry out a commitment made by the Office of Price Administration in mid-July.

Top price of hogs at Chicago Friday was $15.25 per hundredweight. The ceiling established today is effective October 4. The War Food Administration concurred in the order.

The live hog ceilings will not affect the retail prices of pork products, but are intended to present pressure against the wholesale pork price ceilings, OPA reported.

Packers had complained that prices asked by producers for hogs were higher than the re-sale price maximums allowable.

Hogs weighing less than 140 pounds, sold for fattening or feeding for more than one month, and hogs sold for breeding purposes or serum culture are exempt from the ceiling price order.

The new price order will preserve existing geographical relationships of the price structure, OPA said. There are no seasonal price differentials contained in today's order, in the interests of simplicity in administration, it added.

Some of the typical terminal market price ceilings are: Atlanta, $14.50; Baltimore, $15.30; New York, $15.30; Cincinnati, $14.90; East St. Louis, $14.70; Kansas City, $14.50; New Orleans, $14.30; San Antonio, $14.55; South St. Paul, $14.45; Denver, $14.75; Ogden, Utah, $15.05; Los Angeles, $15.75.

Victory Gardeners Lauded By Wickard

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (AP)—The nation's gardeners, whose small plots in back yards and vacant lots and on farms will yield millions of tons of food in the all important home front attack, won high praise from Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard last night.

In a broadcast address at the Chicago victory garden festival in Soldier Field, Wickard commended the millions of gardeners, in city and country, and described the 1943 victory program as "an outstanding success."

He said that the country's estimated 20 million gardens, covering about four million acres, will produce eight million tons of food.

Milk, Eggs And Plenty Of Beans Is Likely Civilian Diet In 1945

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—More milk, less meat, more eggs, less chicken—but beans in plenty—shaped up today as a likely civilian diet in 1945, on the basis of new figures on farm capacity.

The data came from a nationwide survey by the agriculture department of 1944 production possibilities.

This survey shows that, because of declining feed supplies and an insufficient quantity of land, labor and machinery to extend feed production, the 1944 food production program of the war food administration will have to place greater emphasis on food obtained directly from crops rather than from livestock.

With the exception of milk and eggs, the productive capacity of all livestock products is indicated to be smaller than this year.

The survey is being studied by the WFA in determining next year's production goals. Changes in 1944 output would show up largely in 1945 food supplies.

The WFA has already announced an over-all crop 1944 goal of 380,000,000 acres, which would be the largest on record. However, only in the case of wheat has an individual commodity goal been announced, this being 68,000,000 acres compared with 54,000,000 this year.

An output of 122,000,000,000 pounds of milk—about 4,000,000,000 more than expected this year—is indicated to be possible for 1944. On the other hand, a 1944 pig crop of only 100,000,000 head, compared with 125,000,000 this year, is said to be about the top possible.

The survey indicates that an egg production of 4,562,000,000 dozen compared with 4,516,000,000 estimated this year is within reach. However, limited feed supplies would require a reduction of from 248,000,000 to 198,000,000 head in the production of commercial broilers and of from 925,000,000 to 858,000,000 in the number of chickens raised on farms.

Farms would be capable, the study shows, of caring for about 11,900,000 head of beef cattle and calves compared with 12,900,000 this year. A reduction from 54,800,000 to 52,500,000 in the sheep and lamb population is indicated.

Sharpest increases in acreages of food crops are seen for soy beans, peanuts, dry beans and peas, sugar beets, and vegetables for both fresh markets and processing.

Hull Talks On Radio Tonight

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull, whose formal speeches are few and far between, will broadcast tomorrow night a foreign policy address which the state department describes as "very important."

The gray-haired guardian of the nation's interests abroad, under recent fire by critics both as to foreign policy and internal administration of his department, will speak at 8 p. m. CWT, over the NBC network. His announced subject is: "Our Foreign Policy in the Framework of Our National Interests."

It is expected that his 30-minute speech tomorrow night would:

- (1) Reply to charges that the department has exercised little or no foreign policy in recent decades.
- (2) Explain present policy in the light of our national interests in the world today.
- (3) Insofar as it can be provided at this time, submit an answer to the question "What are we fighting for" in a possible outline of war and post-war objectives.

Montgomery Warns That Germans Are Hard To Defeat

By DANIEL DE LUCE
WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN ITALY, Sept. 11. (AP)—Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commander of the British eighth army, in an interview today warned that the Germans must not be underestimated and said that it was a great mistake for anyone to do so.

Montgomery, whose eighth army marched approximately 100 miles in the first seven days of the invasion of Italy, cautioned against attaching decisive importance to the Italian armistice in considering the factors in the present Allied campaign on this peninsula.

"The Italians ceased to be a fighting factor by the end of July when we were still engaged in Sicily," he said.

Montgomery said the Germans are conducting a skillful withdrawal from the southern extremity of Italy, making continual use of demolitions and mines, and the eighth army had been hiking on foot in pursuit.

"The Germans facing the eighth army are experienced, well-trained troops and have been conducting a fighting retreat. The Germans can't be underestimated. It's a great mistake to do so," he declared.

Third Quadruplet Will Marry Soon

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11. (AP)—Leota Keys, third member of the Keys quadruplets to become a target for Cupid's darts, will wed Sgt. Robert Hall of Camp Hood, Tex., here October 15.

The forthcoming marriage was announced today by Mr. and Mrs. Flake M. Keys, parents of the famous "bunch of Keys," first quadruplets in medical history to reach maturity.

Hall is the son of S. T. Hall of Dothan, Ala.

Mary Keys, who will be left the only unmarried member of the quads, will be maid of honor. The others, Mona and Roberts, will be the bridesmaids.

Allies May Use Italian Ships

By The Associated Press
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, disclosed yesterday that under the terms of the Italian armistice the Allies may use the surrendered Italian naval vessels.

"You bet we can," General Eisenhower replied to a question by Clark Lee, writing for the combined American press, as to whether the Allies could use the Italian ships.

Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, head of the Mediterranean fleet, also told Lee that "the Italian ships are in good order, absolutely first class, especially the battleships and new cruisers."

However, James Wellard, also representing the combined American Press, said without amplification, in a dispatch from Malta, that "this war for those 17 (surrendered) ships—the pride of the Italian navy—is over."

Admiral Cunningham told Lee that acquisition of the Italian navy would allow the Allies to turn a large portion of their heavy ships against the Japanese.

Admiral Cunningham also disclosed that in addition to surface craft Italian submarines were "popping up all over the place to surrender."

Renewed U-Boat Campaign Is Seen

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 11. (AP)—Germany was believed tonight to be preparing for a vigorous renewal of her U-boat campaign and competent naval authorities here expressed the opinion a strong portion of her battle fleet lies in northern Norway fjords ready for action in defense of northern Europe against an Allied invasion.

In the Baltic sea there have been extensive German naval training activities all summer at the ports of Danzig and Gdynia with new submarine crews being trained. As the nights grow longer, naval men believe, submarine activity will be intensified.

Skilfully camouflaged and heavily protected against both air and sea attack, Hitler's mightiest warships, the 35,000-ton Tirpitz and the battleship Scharnhorst, are reported to be hidden in the Alt fjord, which is sheltered by a series of heavily fortified islands at the northern tip of Norway. The Germans also have numerous destroyers and other war ships in this area. Norwegian reports yesterday said some of this flotilla participated in the raid Wednesday on the Polar island of Spitzbergen.

The concentration of the German fleet in northern waters ties up a large part of the British home fleet at Scapa Flow.

Not Enough Moisture For Winter Grass

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—Despite recent rains in scattered Texas counties there is still an over-all deficiency of moisture needed to provide grass for winter livestock feed, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today. Range feeds deteriorated in all parts of Texas except the south-east coastal area in August, the USDA said, and shortages of stock water were causing difficulties in some counties.

During Third War Loan

Howard County's Quota - - $1,791,400.00

To do what little we can to help reach the War Bond Quota, we will buy in War Bonds TWICE the total premium of every Life Policy we issue from now until Sept. 30.

To illustrate: If the premium on your policy is $25, then we as your local agent will buy a $25 War Bond with your premium payment, and our company, the United Fidelity Life Insurance company, will buy an additional $25 Bond. Therefore, your investment in a Life Insurance Policy has resulted in the selling of TWO $25 Bonds.

A letter will be given you to certify purchase of the Bonds. We pledge the holding of these Bonds until after Victory or until maturity of Bond.

YOU DO NOT NEED CASH — INVEST THE CASH IN WAR BONDS.

The premium on your policy can be paid in 12 monthly payments. Example:

Premium on a $1,000 Policy .....	$25.00
Interest for one year at 6% .....	1.50
Amount of credit .....	26.50
Monthly payments .....	2.21

No restriction on amount of insurance you may need or want.

Buy War Bonds and Life Insurance. It is the only sure means of providing money for future needs. COMPUTATION TO YOU. SECURITY, PLUS INCOME, PLUS PROTECTION. INTEREST ON WAR BONDS, 2.9 PCT. INTEREST ON POLICY RESERVES, 3 1/2 PCT., PLUS THE PROTECTION OF THE FACE AMOUNT OF THE POLICY.

Urgent Need For Cotton Pickers

As the demand for cotton pickers in this area rose to startling figures Saturday, the county farm labor board appealed to all persons in Big Spring who can pick cotton to enroll for this work.

County Agent O. P. Griffin estimated conservatively that 2,000 pickers are needed now to harvest cotton open in Howard county fields alone.

From other quarters, the demand was proportionately high. Dawson county, it was learned, was needing at least 3,000 pickers. Martin county could use 1,000 and Midland county could put 500 to work at once. The area below Monahans and around Grand Falls stood in need of 500 pickers and Borden county asked for 100 hands.

With an estimated 10,000 bales of cotton forced open in fields by the most tenacious drought in 23 years, farmers were fearful that hard rain might produce irreparable damage because of the lack of storm proof qualities of drought-matured cotton.

In the face of this, however, the labor board Saturday afternoon decided against asking any school or business to disrupt activities to help tide over the critical period.

It did go on record, however, asking any person who can pick cotton to enroll either in person or by telephone with the county agent. A plan will be formulated whereby any who do not have transportation will be taken to cotton fields and returned. If crews are made up locally, farmers will furnish transportation.

The board said that it was believed migrant pickers from South Texas would be here in numbers within 10 days; but the danger of weather damage to the crop was spurring them to do all possible to obviate this threat by gathering the open cotton.

Four Killed When Army Glider Falls

MARCH FIELD, Calif., Sept. 11. (AP)—Four persons were killed and two others parachuted to safety today when an army glider crashed late today on the south end of March field.

Authorities withheld the names of the victims, pending notification of next of kin.

The glider, carrying army personnel from another base, had been stationed at this air base temporarily. The craft had been cut loose from the towing plane and was performing satisfactorily when it suddenly went out of control and plummeted to earth.

forcements over badly-battered highways and railroads to the Naples area.

In addition to knocking out German reinforcement lines in a 60-mile arc around Naples, the Allied air forces attacked and land convoys moving northward toward the Naples-Salerno area, headquarters said.

This would indicate that the Germans may be withdrawing from areas farther south to escape being cut off and perhaps to hurl more weight against the Fifth army bridgehead.

The British Eighth army in the south met scant opposition and plunged forward at a faster pace in spite of demolitions. Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces now hold virtually all the territory south of the bottleneck formed by the Gulf of Squillace and the Gulf of Santa Eufemia—the entire lower section of the Italian toe.

In this area they reached a line through the town of Maida, 70 miles from Italy's southern tip and only about 15 miles from the rail and road center of Catanzaro.

Nazi troops between this invasion area and Naples suffered very heavy losses under attacks by American dive bombers whose repeated bombing and strafing assaults pinned long motor convoys, northbound, to a virtual standstill throughout yesterday.

No matter what the calendar says, autumn arrived here last week. Nature makes it easy to tell when fall comes to this section. Just look to the north early of a morning and if it looks like a blue norther is brewing—without ever getting here—it's autumn. When the norther get here, it's winter.

Businessmen, plant managers, farmers and housewives ought to circle Oct. 8. That's the day when the Big Spring Safety Council sponsors a safety clinic here—and if ever we needed to pound a little more of this into our heads, that time is now.

Commissioners To Name New Member

Selection of a successor for T. J. A. Robinson is due to be the principal item of business for the city commission when it holds its regular meeting Tuesday evening. Sewer plant expansion plans, now in final phases, will not be ready for the commission to study. A special session for this purpose is in prospect.

Schools Will Take 'Unders'

"Unders" will be accepted for enrollment in Big Spring elementary schools this year, Supt. W. C. Blankenship announced Saturday, but warned that proof of birth dates must accompany applications.

In no case, he said, will children be accepted if they will not have reached their sixth birthday before Jan. 1, 1944. As for proof of date of birth, this must resolve itself into delivery of a copy of the birth certificate to school authorities within two weeks of enrollment. Affidavits, baptismal and hospital certificates will not suffice.

Tuition of $4 per month, payable in advance in each of the nine months of the term, will be charged for unders. The charge is made to bear expenses incurred because these children are not carried as scholastics. All unders accepted will have to enroll for the fall semester as there will be no enrollment of this class at mid-term.

Monday evening the school board is to have its regular meeting and will deal mainly with routine matters, problems of congestion in various grades and schools, etc.

by the Allies.

8. Immediate withdrawal to Italy of Italian armed forces from all participation in the current war from whatever area wherein they may now be engaged.

9. A guarantee by the Italian government that if necessary it will employ all available armed forces to insure the prompt and exact compliance with all provisions of this armistice.

10. The commander in chief of the Allied forces reserves to himself the right to take any gesture which in his opinion may be necessary for the protection of interests of the Allied forces for prosecution of the war, and the Italian government binds itself to take such administrative or other agencies as the commander-in-chief may require. In particular, the commander-in-chief will establish an Allied military government over such parts of Italian territory as he may deem necessary in the military interests of the Allied Nations.

11. The commander-in-chief of the Allied forces will have the full right to impose means for disarmament, demobilization, and demilitarization.

12. Other conditions of a political, economic and financial nature with which Italy will be bound to comply will be transmitted at a later date.

13. The conditions of the present armistice will not be made public without prior approval of the Allied commander-in-chief. The English will be considered the official text.

sistance against the Germans. Referring to the situation in southern France, the German special communique said the Italian fourth army had surrendered its weapons without incident to Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt. The Germans occupied the coast from Toulon to Menton, they said.

In the Balkans, the communique said, most of the Italian units in Athens and in the Albanian city of Tirana had put down their arms.

Consolidating their positions in the face of the southern invasion of the Allies, German troops were reported in a communique to have captured the Italian naval base of Pola on the Yugoslav side of the Adriatic and the island of Rhodes in the Dodecanese group.

A Swiss dispatch from the Italian frontier said that all of Lombardy, in northern Italy, was in German hands except the cities of Varese and Como. Swiss reports also declared that German troops had occupied all principal posts along the Swiss-French frontier and that all railroad traffic had been suspended.

The best military opinion in London was that Hitler had only nine divisions in central and southern Italy, including the 16th panzer division, a new edition of the old 16th which fell before the Russians at Stalingrad. The new one is believed to be only partly armored.

the western Caucasus. A broadcast recorded by the Associated Press said Russian amphibious forces had stormed ashore "in the port of Novorossisk" on the Black sea coast of the western Caucasus where thousands of isolated German troops hold a 45-mile-wide fringe of the Taman peninsula east of the Crimea.

Russian front dispatches told of a virtual collapse of German resistance in southern Russia, indicating that the enemy had abandoned all hope of a stand short of the Dnieper river—and possibly would be able only to muster a delaying action at some points along that natural defense line.

The swift pace of the multiple Russian columns converging on the Kharkov-Crimea railway suggested that unless the Germans plan to evacuate the Caucasus and Crimea by sea, they are probably too late to succeed in doing so by land. Even a sea escape in questionable now because of the Soviet Black sea fleet surface and air forces waiting to pounce on the Germans.

Here 'n There

Sam Eason, board member at the local ration office, is still hearing about the bear. Several weeks ago a man hauling a bear to a zoo in Phoenix, Ariz., blew out two tires here and called on Eason for assistance. Fearing he wouldn't get the tires, the man told Eason he would turn the bear loose in town unless he got some action. Eason and others of the board acted and the man got his tires and left. Eason says he has had cards from friends in Nevada, several points in Texas, and one from San Francisco all commenting on the bear story.

Grass fires continue to be a persistent threat to the city's fire record. Saturday firemen made a run to 214 W. 4th street to control such a blaze before it could spread to buildings.

Mrs. Eula Lee received a cablegram from her son, Pvt. Oliver W. Lee, who is stationed in Sicily, Saturday that he was well and sent his regards to his friends. He will have been in the army for three years on Sept. 25. His brother, Thomas B. Lee, who is in the medical corps in Honolulu as an ambulance driver, has been in the army for more than three years.

Tommy N. Anders, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Anders, Rt. 1, Ackerly, was awarded the advanced rating of motor machinist's mate, second class upon his recent graduation from the naval training school for dieselmen located at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Navy Pier, Chicago, Ill.

Air Attacks Grow Stronger

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The greatest demonstration of air power in history—a drive aimed to culminate in the collapse of Germany—was brought suddenly and unexpectedly closer by the swift succession of remarkable developments of the week now ending.

Chief among developments from the standpoint of air warfare were the successful staging from British bases through eight solid days and nights the allies' most intensive air drive yet, the capitulation of Italy, and indications of the establishment in England of an American jet tactical air force for the final campaign.

The eight day air blitz, which included the U.S. Eighth Air Force's biggest day of operations, showed for the first time that on Britain, the closest base for an air drive against the heart of Germany, the allies had the planes, facilities and men to execute the protracted non-stop round-the-clock assault necessary to pave the way for and to support an invasion drive.

By comparison, all previous raids from Britain, have been only sporadic jabs.

10,000 P-40 Planes Have Been Produced

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Ten thousand P-40 fighter planes have been manufactured and delivered by the Curtiss-Wright Corporation airplane division's Buffalo plants since July 1940. Bufdette S. Wright, vice-president in charge of the division, disclosed today with army approval.

A child has little means of comparing his vision with standard vision. He has no means whatever of knowing whether or not his eyes are right.

The Week

for the month on record. That's making history, but frankly, it's one brand we care nothing about feeling made.

Put this down as one of those ironies of life. Until a week ago farmers (and a lot of other folk) were praying fervently for rain. Now it's too late to help feed much and would cause sharp damage to cotton, so farmers are just as fervently praying that it won't rain.

Word that plans are shaping up rapidly on the Garden City road should be welcome news here and in Garden City alike. Because the project dropped out of the limelight, some felt that it again had been forgotten. But it looks like now that the highway commission will be able to ask for bids on it in a couple or three months.

Letter to a P.O.W.

WILL YOU WRITE A LETTER to a Prisoner of War . . . tonight?

Maybe he's one of Jimmie Doolittle's boys. Perhaps he was left behind when Bataan fell. Anyway, he's an American, and he hasn't had a letter in a long, long time.

And when you sit down to write, tell him why you didn't buy your share of War Bonds last pay day.

"Dear Joe," you might say, "the old topcoat was getting kind of threadbare, so I . . ."

No, cross it out. Joe might not understand about the topcoat, especially if he's shivering in a damp Japanese cell.

Let's try again. "Dear Joe, I've been working pretty hard and haven't had a vacation in over a year, so . . ."

Hell, better cross that out, too. They don't ever get vacations where Joe's staying.

Well, what are you waiting for? Go ahead, write the letter to Joe. Try to write it, anyhow.

But mister, if somehow you find you can't finish that letter, will you, at least, do this for Joe? Will you up the amount of money you're putting into War Bonds and keep buying your share from here on in?

Steers Start 1943 Competition Against Colorado Here Friday

Affray Expected To Be Full Of Action

Football fans will get their initial look at the 1943 Steer high school grid machine in action here Friday evening when the Colorado City Wolves, once arch rivals of Big Spring, come here for the season's first tilt.

By all odds, the game is due to be in the Steer column all the way, for the Wolves are lighter and less experienced than even the Steers, who are notoriously short in pounds and experience.

However, the game should furnish an abundance of action, particularly around ends and through the air—the kind that fans like in copious doses. Too, it should indicate what sort of working unit the Steers will be under fire this season.

Thus far, it may be said that the charges of Coach John Dibrell have a chance of becoming either the "dark horse" or the "goat" of district 3-AA. If they click—and it looks like they might—they may finish surprisingly high in the running. If they play in bad luck and their weight handicap proves too much while they are picking up experience, the Steers might finish down there where cold-blooded observers pick them.

In scrimmage sessions during the past week, the team naturally looked pretty ragged. Timing needs a lot of burrs knocked off. Passing was erratic and punting slow and short.

But—when it came to maneuvering, Dibrell's youngsters had a speed that no Big Spring combination has shown in years. And they had a fiery determination, too.

The backfield is looking up as a sparkling combination if the line can give it a chance to get started. In drills Friday, Jack Odie, who has been handling backs and ends for Dibrell, had Leo Rush, a reformed guard who plugs in admirably at quarterback, Bobby Barron and Hugh Cochran punting. Rush is looking better as a long distance punter.

Baron shows promise as a dangerous quick kicker and Cochran foots the ball nicely and adds to his triple-threat possibilities. Dewey Stevenson, fullback, is the steady influence and the wheel-horse of the secondary. Right now if the team has an all-district contender, it is Dewey.

Winfred Cunningham, who had a pass of incomplete work hanging over his head, was lost to the team during the week on eligibility, and with his going went a great little pass catcher—one who had prospects of being the greatest Big Spring ever turned out in this field. This fairly put the pressure on Felix Hudgens and Pete Cook to take over the terminal opposite Gene Smith, who probably will be a wise on defense. However, he is not yet in the great shakes class as a pass receiver but shows promise.

I. B. (Toor) Bryan, with his 208 pounds, is a cinch at one tackle but isn't letting that slow his work any. The other slot more or less is wide open with Dopey Anderson, Lee Christian and Alvin Mize as some leading contenders. It is possible that Rush will be shifted to tackle on defense.

Ray Thomas, although light, has one guard spot. Marian Morgan will have the other starting call at this position, but currently he is out with a badly blistered heel. Tippy Anderson is looming as a threat to the starters. Although he may not get to play much this season, it is no secret that Dibrell likes the looks of little Ike Robb, who has more natural form than any guard out, and Harry Middleton, another "mubb" with several years' eligibility left.

At center—and Dibrell is not worried if he is ever in an un-worried state)—Barclay Wood, now weighing in at 180 and solid as a rock, has the situation firmly in hand.

Among others who have sparkled in early workouts are Dick (Pee-Wee) Simmons, possibly the best safety prospect on the squad, Ike Davidson, a potentially great climax runner, and John McIntosh, utility man for the backfield.

ILLINOIS FALLS BEFORE CAMP GRANT ELEVEN
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 11 (AP)—Camp Grant scored on a safety and a touchdown in the second period and sent players across the goal line twice more in the fourth period today to defeat Illinois, 23 to 0, before 3,500 spectators who witnessed the formal opening of the midwest collegiate grid season in the University of Illinois memorial stadium.

ROCHESTER WINS
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—University of Rochester, a strong pre-games favorite, had to go all out today to defeat Baldwin Wallace, 14 to 6 in the season's opener for both.

Lubbock Army Team Will Have To Play Games At Home
LUBBOCK, Sept. 11 (AP)—With its grand schedule of service teams wiped out by an army air force directive limiting travel of air field athletic teams to 25 miles, South Plains Army Airfield today was building a home football schedule.

The order automatically cancelled games with Kirtland Field, Deming M. M., Airfield and Blackland Airfield, all scheduled away from Lubbock. It did not affect SPAAF's games with Texas Tech Oct. 16 and Lubbock Army Airfield Nov. 11, in Lubbock.

Now Southwestern University of Georgetown has been scheduled at Lubbock Oct. 9 and negotiations are under way to bring North Texas Agricultural college here Oct. 23. In addition, another game probably will be scheduled with SPAAF's biggest rival, Lubbock Army Air Forces Field. The status of a game Sept. 20, with the 51st Hospital, Fort Bliss, has not been determined.

INDIANS LICK TIGERS
DETROIT, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians shelled Paul (Dizzy) Trout from the mound today to defeat the Detroit Tigers 7 to 2 for a four-to-one edge in their six-game series. Vern Kennedy pitched an eight-hitter for his ninth victory.

WASHINGTON WINS
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11 (AP)—Bobo Newsom spaced eight hits today to chalk up his third American league victory of the season and give the Washington Senators a 9-1 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics. Bob Johnson had three hits, including a homer, and George Case added two more thefts to his base-stealing collection.

M'QUINN SETS PACE
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Browns, with George McQuinn driving in three runs—two with a home run—whipped the Chicago White Sox today 4 to 1, handing Lefty Al Hollingsworth his fifth victory of the season.

GIANTS EDGE BRAVES
NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Mickey White's 13th inning homer gave the Giants a 4 to 3 victory over the Boston Braves today after Mel Ott's homer with one on and two out in the ninth had forced the game overtime.

DODGERS 7, PHILS 2
BROOKLYN, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Dodgers piled up an early five-run lead today to beat the Phillies, 7 to 2. Luis Olmo hit a homer for Brooklyn with Ron Northey doing likewise for the Phils.

REDS THRESHED
CINCINNATI, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates broke out with nine runs in the last three innings today to give the Cincinnati Reds and Johnny Vander Meer an 11 to 1 trimming.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates broke out with nine runs in the last three innings today to give the Cincinnati Reds and Johnny Vander Meer an 11 to 1 trimming.

Lubbock Army Team Will Have To Play Games At Home
LUBBOCK, Sept. 11 (AP)—With its grand schedule of service teams wiped out by an army air force directive limiting travel of air field athletic teams to 25 miles, South Plains Army Airfield today was building a home football schedule.

The order automatically cancelled games with Kirtland Field, Deming M. M., Airfield and Blackland Airfield, all scheduled away from Lubbock. It did not affect SPAAF's games with Texas Tech Oct. 16 and Lubbock Army Airfield Nov. 11, in Lubbock.

Now Southwestern University of Georgetown has been scheduled at Lubbock Oct. 9 and negotiations are under way to bring North Texas Agricultural college here Oct. 23. In addition, another game probably will be scheduled with SPAAF's biggest rival, Lubbock Army Air Forces Field. The status of a game Sept. 20, with the 51st Hospital, Fort Bliss, has not been determined.

INDIANS LICK TIGERS
DETROIT, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians shelled Paul (Dizzy) Trout from the mound today to defeat the Detroit Tigers 7 to 2 for a four-to-one edge in their six-game series. Vern Kennedy pitched an eight-hitter for his ninth victory.

WASHINGTON WINS
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11 (AP)—Bobo Newsom spaced eight hits today to chalk up his third American league victory of the season and give the Washington Senators a 9-1 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics. Bob Johnson had three hits, including a homer, and George Case added two more thefts to his base-stealing collection.

M'QUINN SETS PACE
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Browns, with George McQuinn driving in three runs—two with a home run—whipped the Chicago White Sox today 4 to 1, handing Lefty Al Hollingsworth his fifth victory of the season.

GIANTS EDGE BRAVES
NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Mickey White's 13th inning homer gave the Giants a 4 to 3 victory over the Boston Braves today after Mel Ott's homer with one on and two out in the ninth had forced the game overtime.

DODGERS 7, PHILS 2
BROOKLYN, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Dodgers piled up an early five-run lead today to beat the Phillies, 7 to 2. Luis Olmo hit a homer for Brooklyn with Ron Northey doing likewise for the Phils.

Dance Held At NCO Club

Members of the Non-Commissioned Officers' club, their wives and dates attended an informal dance which was held in the club room at the Big Spring Bombardier school Saturday evening from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Special service section presented an entertaining floor show at intermission and song and dance numbers were presented by service men, WACs and local talent. The program included an Indian Cpl. Phil Tucker acted as master of ceremonies, and numbers on dance by Mrs. Jean Odle; a song by Pfc. Frederick Westenberg and a vocal number by Pvt. Finberg. The Sinful Seven furnished music for dancing.

Miss Laneous Notes

MARY WHALEY

Picnics are wonderful excursions. You find yourself doing the things that you would brand as impossible if the event were being held indoors.

You sit on rocks and prickly thorns and let ants crawl over you at random and it never interferes with the fun, conversation, or the amount of food you consume.

You eat enough hot dogs, buns, and mustard to give you chronic indigestion, but you probably wouldn't touch the same fare if it were served indoors. The "dogs" are usually burnt on one side and raw on the other. The mustard drips on your picnic suit and as casually is brushed off.

In addition you slosh down gallons of liquids, potato salad, and anything else the picnic hamper holds. Where you get your capacity is something that not only you but others wonder about.

You get smoke in your hair, splinters in your hands, and a paralyzed feeling so you don't mind the rocks you are sitting on after so long a time.

You pick up a few strange insect bites, get burns in your shoes, stay out too late, and have the sniffles the next morning—it all sounds inhuman but it's just a picnic and you love 'em.

Future 'Freshie' In Doubt As To College Routine

By BETTY BOB DILTZ

Gazing out the window with paper and pencil in hand, the future "freshie" student daydreams about coming activities, college registration, and all those events that go to make up the first year in college.

Problems of the first year freshmen are many and all are ended with great big question marks. "Will I like my roommate? Where will I stay? What accessories should I take for my room? Will I be a wallflower? Which clothes to choose? What subjects to study? Will it take long to meet people? Which sorority to pledge? Where do I get my "fish" cap? Wonder who my "big sister" will be?"—and so go the questions 'til one's head begins to swirl.

After quizzing all college old-timers about these and those, you find they print a booklet which should be known as "God's Gift to the Poor 'Fish'."

Get a group of "college-bound gals" together and the talk can't help running along those lines of how many sheets to put in, how heavy to go on formals, how about an alarm clock, and still not forgetting Down Comforters, towels, bedspreads, pillow cases, etc. From the trends of overheard conversations it's hard to distinguish between the young bride-to-be and the young co-ed-to-be.

Some folks say college will be different this year, but so what—the "fish" won't know the difference, never having been there.

Mrs. Max Johnson is in San Marcos with her husband who is attending specialized school.

BOND SALE TO PRECEDE NORTH WARD MEETING

The North Ward Parent-Teacher's Association will have their first fall meeting at the school Tuesday afternoon, according to announcement by the unit president, Mrs. B. E. Winterrowd.

Preceding the meeting, Miss Jewell Barton, representing the Business and Professional Women's club and Mrs. A. B. Partridge, representing the Big Spring Girl Scout Council, will assist Mrs. Winterrowd in sponsoring a war bond booth at the school.

Bonds will be sold from 2 to 3 o'clock.

Miss Betty McGee And Lieut. Shelton To Be Married In Post Chapel Tonight

Couple To Be At Home In Big Spring

Before an improvised altar ornamented with floor baskets of seasonal flowers, Miss Betty McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. McGee of St. Louis, Mo., and Lieut. Arthur Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Shelton of Peoria, Ill., will be married by Chaplain James L. Patterson Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

The bride will wear a white ensemble with white accessories, and her flowers will be white gardenias, arranged into a shoulder corsage.

Matron of honor will be Mrs. Robert Long, who will wear a white street length frock with white accessories, and a corsage of roses.

The bridegroom will be attended by Lieut. Robert Long.

The traditional wedding marches will be played by Cpl. Ethel Lewis at the chapel organ.

Out of town guests for the wedding will be the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. M. McGee of St. Louis, Mo.

A wedding dinner will be held at the Settles hotel following the ceremony at the post with members of the wedding party and guests attending.

The couple will be at home here where Lieut. Shelton is stationed at the Big Spring Bombardier School as a flying officer.

There's little time during war to be handing out bouquets, but if distinguished service crosses were awarded for outstanding duty and service on the home front, the women who work tirelessly and courageously at the Red Cross throughout the nation would not be forgotten!

Fulfilling the job as soldiers on the home front, these women work long hours, with little help, getting out the quotas of dressings which are allotted to volunteer service rooms from Red Cross national headquarters.

Mrs. Bernard Fisher, chairman of the Red Cross surgical dressing room for the Howard-Glasscock Red Cross chapter, has served as head of the local headquarters for many months.

She receives no reimbursement from the government for her services, but accepted when she was called upon, to do her duty during the present emergency.

Mrs. Fisher, like many other mothers, has a son in the service, and realizes that regardless of heat or other unpleasant conditions, the work at the Red Cross must be done!

"At the present time, we are rolling 4 x 4 bandages which are the easiest of all to make, and to those who have never worked at the rooms, we will be glad to help you learn the process," Mrs. Fisher states.

As the war progresses, the demand for more bandages for the battle fronts over the world becomes even greater.

Nine cases of completed bandages cannot be shipped until the tent case is completed.

A large group of officers' wives worked at the rooms this past Thursday and Friday helping to complete the shipment which must be made soon.

Mrs. Fisher pointed out that to complete the shipment, 18,000 must be rolled.

Those who assisted with the work at the rooms, which are located over Wacker's store, must meet only three requirements: They must wear a 22 x 27 inch head dress; must wear a cotton dress or smock and must wear no nail polish.

The rooms are open Monday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 o'clock in the evening, and Tuesdays through Friday from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m.

Since it is much cooler now, why not do your part and help make the coming seven days a banner week for turnout in workers?

Lions Auxiliary Sponsors Picnic

HD Club Women Plan For Seating Demonstration

Nominating Committee Appointed

The Howard County Home Demonstration Council met at the home demonstration office Saturday afternoon for a general business session, and to hear reports from the three delegates who attended the annual meeting of the Home Demonstration Clubs of Texas which was held in Dallas, Aug. 17-19.

The group discussed plans for the club yearbook, and it was announced that the chair seating demonstration would be held during the month of October.

Mrs. Herschel Smith, council chairman, was in charge of the meeting, and Mrs. H. C. Reid, Mrs. W. F. Heckler and Mrs. Paul Adams were named on the nominating committee.

Delegates who reported on the state meeting were Mrs. H. C. Reid of R-Bar, Mrs. W. L. Eggleston of Fairview and Mrs. Paul Adams of Knott. Mrs. Reid gave the general procedure of the party and Mrs. Eggleston, president of the Fairview HD club, gave a business report on the meeting, reading resolutions and recommendations of the association. Mrs. Paul Adams, who gave a report on the convention program, discussed talks which were given by Lieut. Col. Brooks of the Eighth Service Command; by Mrs. Curtis Roach, state treasurer, and Dr. H. L. Pritchett of Southern Methodist University, and Mildred Harton, state home demonstration agent.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. M. M. Fairchild, Mrs. Ross Hill, Mrs. Pearl Cauble, Mrs. Walter Barbee and Mrs. E. G. Overton of Overton; Mrs. D. F. Erigony, Mrs. W. H. Ward and Mrs. W. L. Eggleston of Fairview; Mrs. Don Rasberry and Mrs. Shirley Fryar of Hiway; Mrs. H. C. Reid and Mrs. W. F. Heckler of R-Bar; Mrs. Edward Simpson of Vealmoor; Mrs. K. G. Blalock of Coahoma; Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Herschel Smith and Mrs. Paul Adams of Knott and Rheba Boyles, home demonstration agent.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin, for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend is highly graded by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

Mrs. Adams Honored At Reception

A reception, honoring Mrs. Claudia Adams, Eastern Star grand officer, was held in the John Davis home Friday evening with Mrs. Florence Read, past worthy grand matron of Texas, and Mrs. John Davis, worthy grand matron of Coahoma, as hostesses for the affair.

Mrs. Adams of the Coahoma O. E. S. 499, is grand representative to the state of Colorado from Texas, and is retiring from office. Guests called from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock, and included in the receiving line were Mrs. Claudia Adams, Mrs. Florence Read, Mrs. John Davis and Mrs. Agnes V. Young.

Mrs. Viola O'Daniel and Mrs. Ruby Read poured, and Mrs. Maude Brooks, Mrs. Frances Fisher and Mrs. Willie McGee assisted in serving.

Refreshments were served from a lace laid table centered with yellow roses in a blue bowl. Lighted blue tapers in matching blue candelabra flanked the arrangement. Roses and zinnias were placed at vantage points about the entertaining room.

Members of the Big Spring and Coahoma chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star attended.

Oil Interests Eye Andrews County

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 11. (AP)—Andrews county, with a north extension to the east side of the Fullerton deep Permian lime field and a producer at the south end completed for 2,044 barrels daily, claimed much attention in West Texas oil developments this week.

Half mile north extension to the east side of the Fullerton field in Andrews county, Mid-Continent Noel Eilers, C NW NW 14-A43-psi, flowed 60 barrels of oil hourly after treating the Clear Fork lime from 6,790 to 7,025 feet, the total depth, with 10,000 gallons of acid in two stages.

Texas Pacific No. 4 Jackson, C SW SW-A32-psi, diagonal north-east offset to Fullerton No. 1-A University, most southerly and second largest producer in the Fullerton field, was finaled at 7-230 feet with a daily rating of 2-044 barrels. It had been treated with 16,000 gallons of acid in two stages. Ohio No. 1-A University, east offset, obtained pay, was acidized and was testing.

Mid-Continent applied for permits to drill quarter mile south and east offsets to its No. 1-B University conditioned upon completion as a producer of that 2-1-2-mile southeast outpost to the Fullerton pool, located in the C NE NE 18-13-U.

Union of California No. 2 J. D. Biles, quarter mile north offset to No. 1 Biles, opener of a new Clear Fork lime producing area 4 3-4 miles northwest of the Fullerton field, was spudded and had drilled below 1,800 feet in salt. It is near the C SW SE 12-A31-psi.

The McElroy Ranch Co. of Crane and John W. Emch of San Angelo, awarded contract to A. B. Walker of Big Spring to drill No. B. A. Keathley, proposed 3,500-foot, cable tool wildcat in central Glasscock county. The test will be 330 feet out of the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 40-34-32-T2P, four miles northwest of Garden City. Emch leased 6,700 acres and turned 3,400 acres to the McElroy Ranch Co., which is French syndicate owning the Crane county ranch on which the McElroy field is located. The firm recently began drilling for oil.

Texas Oil Allowable Shows Slight Increase

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—Average daily oil allowable for the week ending today was 1,944,547 barrels, an increase of 1,297 from the week before, the railroad commission reported.

Number of producing wells increased 24 to 99,977. Allowables by districts: 1—22,456; 2—120,969; 3—478,308; 4—170,439; 5—28,600; 6 outside East Texas—106,593; East Texas—387,971; 7—29, 632; 7C—20, 988; 8—330,743; 9—129,502; 10—110,870.

Confetti Casualty

NEW YORK—Who said there wasn't a paper shortage? Sanitation Commissioner William F. Carey reports that the shower of ticker tape and waste paper that greeted Italy's surrender totaled only 22 tons.

Endbergh's paper coming saw 1,700 tons of paper flutter to the sidewalks. Wrong-Way Corrigan was good for 1,800 and the 1937 American Legion convention drew 2,800 tons.

Enterprising

NEW YORK—Louis Adler, a landlord, invited 140 of his tenants to come to his office for cocktails.

Along with the drinks, Adler supplied informal patter on the third war bond drive. When the party ended, the tenants had bought $2,100,000 in bonds.

Too Much Restriction On Oil

In last week's Collier's Frank B. Taylor covers the oil situation from stem to stern, and comes up with the not-too-reassuring news that this country faces an immediate shortage of petroleum and its products.

The reason is that war demands now constitute about 25 per cent of total output, that shortage has been steadily diminishing, and that the discovery of new pools has gone into a tailspin because OPA steadfastly refuses to make wildcatting worthwhile by granting the increase in price urged for many months by Fuel Administrator Harold L. Ickes.

The average person, resenting gasoline rationing as a needless imposition on his good nature, is totally unaware that this nation faces a crucial ACTUAL shortage of oil. And yet this is something that has been forecast for more than a year by men who should know, and now it is beginning to become all too apparent.

Taylor says that it isn't likely any more whopping big fields will be discovered in this country. Those brought in since 1937 have been showing a steadily declining production potential—from about 950,000 barrels in 1937, if we remember the figures approximately, to something around 235,000,000 barrels last year, although drilling itself has shown no such comparable decline.

The national reserve of petrol-cum—estimated good for 80 years under normal conditions—sounds a lot bigger than it is, for the war is using up the supply at a great rate. It may be necessary to import large stocks before the war is over, a feat complicated by lack of tankers.

Experts agree that a rise in the price of crude would stimulate the search for new pools, which is undoubtedly true; but the problem goes deeper than that. There is also the problem of manpower and the inability to get needed machinery and supplies, due to wartime restrictions.

Not only is a price rise called for, but a loosening of restrictions which hamper search for and production of crude.

Washington Daybook—

The Big Push To Berlin Due To Come Next Year

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—I have been pumping official and unofficial armchair generals for their ideas about invasion of the European continent.

Out of these various sources has come an interesting speculation. For what it's worth, here it is: (1) A bridgehead across the channel will be established—before late autumn also—probably in Denmark. It will only be a bridgehead, with protected airbases from which an all-winter bombing of Germany can be carried out on an even greater scale than it has from England this summer.

(2) The real invasion—the drive to Berlin—will take place in the spring and the Allied armies will be marching down Unter den Linden before snow flies in '44. (3) There isn't a chance of the Russian offensive reaching Berlin ahead of us, because the Russian supply problem skyrockets in ever-increasing ratio to the miles it goes beyond its present lines.

(4) Once Germany is out of the way, a year or less of concentration on the Pacific theater by the United States, Great Britain, the Dominions and Russia will reduce Japan to no more than a world political and military pinpoint.

These conclusions are based on a number of sound premises. The most interesting, to me, is that bridgehead in Denmark. The reason: recent reports of unrest, sabotage and the descent of large numbers of parachuting saboteurs, climaxed by the Nazi declaration of martial law in Denmark. These certainly presage some important move in that direction. Denmark, while not the ideal country for an invasion front, is so perfectly on top of industrial Germany for bombing purposes that to ignore it as a major air base would be a military oversight.

Events in Italy are still uncertain, but it is assured that the Allies will at least have operating bases there.

With these two bridgeheads established, the actual drive on Berlin couldn't be delayed later than spring of 1944 and with internal help from the axis-held countries and Germany's cracking up at home, for which there is plenty of evidence, the drive shouldn't take more than one summer campaign.

As for the strain on the Russian supply lines, that's too well known to need arguing, but it has been given added credence lately in the president's lend-lease report. A generous chunk of our supplies to Russia have been block signal systems, engines and other railroad supplies.

As for Japan, preliminary campaigns probably will start there with the end of the monsoons in October. Once it becomes an assault from four points of the compass by land, air and sea, there will be no doubt of the outcome.

Texas Today

Big Problem Of Protein Feed

By WILLIAM E. KEYS

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—Millions of herd of Texas livestock need 1,043,000 tons of protein feed in the year which began last Aug. 1.

Total production of protein concentrates in Texas to meet this demand is estimated at less than 415,000 tons.

Filling this gap is the problem vexing livestock men and agriculturists. They have painted a dire picture of what can happen unless the shortage is overcome by shipment of northern grown soybeans to this great livestock area.

Testimony of experts and down-to-earth ranchmen, farmers and dairymen, given a state senate investigating committee, is gloomy. Among the predictions is one that the four quarts of milk the dairy puts on your porch in the morning may dwindle to two—NOT because the dairy doesn't want to sell it to you but because it can't sell you more and still supply its customers. This already has happened in some communities.

Further forecasts were that breeding stock would deteriorate, resulting in reduced lamb, calf, kid and pig crops next year.

The uninitiated might ask why the hue and cry about protein feed when other feeds and pasture might come to the rescue? The answer is that protein feeding is the difference between good and poor livestock; in some cases it might even be the margin between life and death.

Animals, like humans, require a balanced ration for maximum health. The protein concentrate supplements grass and carbonaceous foods. It's the stuff that builds lean meat and gives animals the strength and stamina to carry over winter and reproduce healthy offspring.

Accentuating the feed problem is the fact that protein does not present the only difficulty.

Summer drought injured much pasture in Texas. The Texas oats crop was a near failure. Grain sorghums fell far below production expectations in many years. Corn and hay prices are extremely high, several witnesses told the senate investigators.

Most of Texas' protein feed comes, naturally, from cottonseed which is ground into meal or cake. The cotton crop deteriorated rapidly in August. This means less cottonseed. Soybean production in Texas is minute, on a comparative basis. Peanut production prospects are spotty. Thus these two additional protein sources will not give much aid.

Henry Bell, secretary and general manager of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, says soybean meal production in Texas will depend upon the tonnage of soybeans made available to Texas mills by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Last year 170,000 tons of beans were shipped to Texas mills, providing 133,000 tons of meal of which 74,000 tons were left with the mills for sale in Texas. The rest was shipped out.

Bell declares Texas mills have capacity for crushing twice the amount of soybeans sent here last year. Livestock men backed his declaration that an increased amount should be sent here for milling and that once crushed it should remain in Texas for local sale.

Meanwhile, producers are scrambling to obtain any form of protein food they can buy or contract for.

Mills are hunting for seed and beans to crush. The cotton harvest is progressing northward through Texas and more and more mills will begin operating but none has hopes of supplying the demand for cake.

Witnesses were unanimous in their opinion that protein must be shipped to Texas if serious livestock losses are to be averted.

THE LONG NIGHT By Eleanor Atterburg

Chapter 17 Afraid to move lest some dislodged pebble, some snapping twig betray her presence, Bette crouched, breathless, eyes straining to see into the depths of that shadow into which he had disappeared. A moment later, her heart stopped again. A second figure moved silently along that trail below. This time she saw the man's face clearly.

The face she saw now might be a duplicate of the one she'd seen in Paul Porter's cabin only last night. A Japanese.

He too disappeared into the shadow.

Bette, her muscles crying for relief from the cramped position, straightened slowly. She glanced back up the precipitous trail. No escape that way. Nor over the steep bank just below. Her only chance lay in their passing by this little jut of cliff onto which she'd crawled the better to watch the strange movements of the motor boat. Screened from the trail by thick bushes, it was barely possible they wouldn't see her. In another ten minutes, it would be too dark. She lay down flat against the moist earth with a little prayer.

She heard the almost inaudible sound of his footsteps finally. Prone against the earth that was, in this fast-fading light, the same color as her coat, Betty peered from her hiding place down onto the trail passing only yards below. He came around a turn with suddenness that almost brought a cry from her lips and stood looking back down the trail, silent, screened by a tree's broad trunk. Bette watched with him. He was too tall for a Japanese. He was broad-shouldered. He carried himself, even with this furtive movement, with a familiar well-controlled ease. She knew this man. She was sure of it.

But it couldn't be Scott MacQuaid. She wanted too much that it should be. It was too much to ask of luck or fate or whatever controlled these things.

Then the second man appeared. Farther down the trail. He had lost distance. The Japanese! From the almost imperceptible movement with which the tall man pulled himself still deeper into shadow, Bette was sure he was the pursued. That the stumpy,

She began to dare to believe it when Scott standing there less than twenty yards from her.

For an eternity in which she had every hope and then none at all, she watched them. Apparently weary, the Jap sat down, squatting in the center of the trail, his dark eyes searching the mountainside above. She saw him unwrap a small packet of food, begin to eat it calmly his eyes still searching for trace of his quarry.

But when he settled himself as if to wait indefinitely, she realized their predicament—hers and the tall fugitive who shared her plight unknowingly. With darkness settling there would be no chance for anyone on those curves in the trail above. One misstep would plunge you into eternity. And there were a thousand such missteps possible. Even by bright daylight, Bette had clung gratefully to protruding roots and branches while she stepped along the trail narrowed to inches and plunging hundreds of feet straight down the bank. If his man waited for dawn to make his getaway up that mountainside, the wily Jap could pick him off easily from any of dozens of points where the trail came out on the face of the cliff.

As if he too had begun to follow the Jap's reasoning, the tall figure on the trail below turned slowly, looked directly up at where Bette lay hidden.

Instantly her heart rose with renewed courage. Scott MacQuaid stood there almost within reach. Nothing would be impossible now!

But first, she must find a way to let him know she was there. Better, snatching at the first idea that popped into her head, inched forward careful not to make the slightest tail-tale move to alarm their slant-eyed guard below. Then, pulling off the gold class ring she'd worn since the day

Linda Darnell Has Mastered Lingo Of Navajos

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Linda Darnell, back from location at Kanab, Utah, for "Buffalo Bill," is telling people how to greet a Navajo Indian as a friend. "Just remember 'hello, honey,' but give it a twist so it sounds like 'Halleh honyeh!' with the accent on the last syllable," she says. A Navajo taught her. Linda, playing an Indian maiden, is part Cherokee herself.

Franchot Tone is now an authentic papa, eligible for admission to the fraternity of fathers. He has bathed the new baby—alone and unaided.

Don Ameche isn't worried about confusion among his progeny, although there are Donnie, Ronnie, Tommy and Lonnie—and two adopted daughters, due to join the family soon, will be Bonnie and Connie. Ronnie is known in the family as Butch, Donnie is Spike. Lonnie is Slugger, and Tommy is Champ. Don expects the boys to improve on the names of Bonnie and Connie.

It was six years ago that Merle Potter, then a Minneapolis drama critic, was taking a recording of a little girl's voice around the studios, asking them to hear Susanna Larson, a kid from the old home town. . . . The little girl is 18 now, and newly a genuine movie star. Her previous attempts pale besides what she does in "Phantom of the Opera," just as the new version improves on the old Lon Chaney silent. It should clean up.

John Hodiak, from the stage, was jittering about his first day's work in "Lifeboat." Director Alfred Hitchcock, with sardonic humor, soothed him: "Don't be nervous, it's just another picture—on which your entire future may depend!"

Cecil B. DeMille suggests a "home movie test" in which the candidate simply gauges his personal popularity. If he has a lot of friends, then he might make a go of pictures. But he doesn't explain about the movie stars (there are a few, you know) who get by with a minimum of personal popularity.

Annabella has simplified the landscaping as well as the house-keeping of their home while Tyrone Power is away. Seasonal plantings have given way to perennials.

Charlie Spivak, the orchestra man, teamed with three members of his band to rent a 13-room house with swimming pool. The pool is open to friends with one proviso. Anybody who dunks must agree to do one hour's household or gardening work—which is one way of making up for non-existent help.

Ralph Byrd spent two months at Camp Pendleton making "Gaudalcanal Diary" and became so interested he joined the Marines. He is 34, married, and father of a six-year-old girl. . . . Deanna Durbin's next after "His Butler's Sister" will be a serious thing—by W. Somerset Maugham. . . . But she'll still sing a couple of songs.

What You Buy With WAR STAMPS

Twelve bandages might save the lives of 12 of our soldiers. A dozen bandages cost 25 cents, the price of a War Savings Stamp, which is not a very expensive price to pay for something that might be the difference between life and death. The medical departments of our services must have ample stocks of such medical supplies and it is our job to see that nothing keeps these supplies from going where they are needed.

Although our nation's school children may not be able to make these bandages nor take an active part in using them, they can participate in the equally important job of providing the money to buy these items. Don't forget, each 25-cent War Stamp you purchase makes available to the government enough money to buy a dozen of these vitally important bandages. The Schools At War program will show you how to purchase Stamps regularly.

Enrollment Figures For City Schools Show Small Registration Increase

Total enrollment in the city schools at the end of a week of school was 2,266, only 40 pupils more than registered last year, W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, reported Saturday.

THE LONG NIGHT

she'd received her white nurse's cap, she tossed it into the trail where it clinked too slightly to attract the Jap, but loud enough to attract Scott's immediate attention.

For an instant he just stared at the tiny circle of gold gleaming on the trail. Then, bending cautiously, keeping well out of sight of the trail below, he crept forward until he retrieved the ring, crouched now so close she could almost touch his shoulder.

She saw him thrust the ring into his pocket, look up at her hiding place, a deep frown drawn between his eyebrows, incredulity tempered with caution in his expression.

"Scott!" She only just breathed the word although she felt sure they were safely out of earshot.

He moved more rapidly than. Pulled himself quickly, still noiselessly, up onto the narrow promontory. A moment later, her hand touched his cheek as he crawled through the brush toward the whispered sound of her voice.

"Bette?" He peered at her. "Scott! I can't believe it's you."

"What the devil are you doing here?"

She could scarcely hold back a laugh that was half-sob. "I was looking for you—originally."

Then she told him, briefly and between long pauses during which they listened for any movement from their mutual enemy, all that had happened.

"So Porter's the go-between?" He whispered under his breath. "I wondered how those damned Nips knew so much."

"How did you get away from them?"

"That's a long story. Besides, I'm not 'away'—yet! And finding you here doesn't make it any simpler."

Bette bit her lips. Then, in the darkness, she felt his hand close over hers. "But, if it hadn't been for you, I'd have headed straight to Porter's for help."

That made it better. At least all her difficulties hadn't been for nothing. But what to do now? She asked him after a moment.

She felt rather than saw him shake his head. "Damned if I know. We're in a spot, little red-head. But—" she felt his fingers tighten over hers, "—we'll get away somehow."

To Be Continued.

Superintendent Blankenship also reported that all teaching vacancies have been filled either with regular teachers or supply teachers. Several transfers were effected or will be effected next week to take care of some oversize classes in the grades. This will be taken care of by filling smaller classes, however, the superintendent said, and will not necessitate any more teachers.

County Superintendent Walker Bailey, who expressed county school enrollment to be around 700 pupils, had not a complete report on the rural schools but expected to hear from all superintendents and principals by the first of the week.

AAFBS Notes—Officers To Attend Midland School

Ten officers from the Big Spring Bombardier school were transferred, to the Midland Central instructor's school for a six week course of training, the public relations office announced Saturday.

The men, all bombardiers, include First Lieut. Amos B. Hardin, Hunt, Tex.; and Second Lieut. Earl J. Hake, Flatville, Wis.; Charles E. Cocoran, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Robert H. Angevine, Changewater, N. J.; Stanley W. Fleg, Herculaneum, Mo.; Samuel K. Robinson, Jeannette, Pa.; Kenneth H. Stephens, Kansas City, Mo.; Clifford T. Beach, Hartwick, N. Y.; Russell A. French, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Duane E. Crowley, Houston, Tex.

Three enlisted men who have been sent to Miami Beach, Fla., from the 1047th Guard Squadron for further training are S-Sgt. J. E. Simms, Baltimore, Md.; Sgt. Joe Smink, Ripen, Calif.; and Cpl. Sherman L. Johnson, Clinton, Tenn.

Major Gaylord W. Schultz, formerly commanding officer of the 365th Squadron has been appointed administrative inspector to replace Major Gordon R. Willis, who has been transferred. Major Joe J. Robnett, formerly provost marshal, is now commanding officer of the 365th squadron. Capt. Thomas M. Archer, commanding officer of the 1047th guard squadron has also been appointed as provost marshal.

Two ground school instructors have reported here from Randolph Field, Tex., and include Second Lieut. James E. Wade, Rossville, Tenn., and Charles O. Dickerson, Ovid, N. Y.

Health Nurses Plan County School Tour

District Superintendent Margaret Cunningham, of Sweetwater and local county health nurse, Mrs. A. Fisher, will begin a tour of county schools Tuesday in the first such visitation in Howard county since the opening of the local health unit.

The nurses will visit each rural school, checking on children's health and sanitation. Mrs. Fisher was formerly a nurse at the Big Spring hospital before taking over the duties as county health nurse on September 1.

Safety Council To Meet Monday

Members of the safety council will meet Monday at 5:30 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce when committee members will report on plans for the one-day safety clinic to be held here October 8.

The entertainment committee headed by Walker Bailey, was in session Friday to work out an outline of the program for the day.

Registration will be held during the morning in the lobby of the Settles hotel from 10:45 to 11:45 with Mrs. Boyd McDaniel in charge of the registration committee.

The American Business club and Kiwanis club will sponsor a luncheon at 12 o'clock for those attending the meeting. Roy Reeder will be in charge of the luncheon program.

The afternoon session will get under way at 2:30 o'clock with a program on Industrial Safety planned by Otto Peters, chairman of the program for the afternoon.

Another session will be Friday night at 8:30 when talks on Farm and Home Safety and Highway Safety will be given. A representative from the Red Cross will conduct the Farm and Home Safety phase of the program and Burl Haynie, highway patrolman, will be in charge of the Highway Safety program with Capt. J. O. Musick of the division of safety of state highway patrol.

The committee planning the program for the day included Burl Haynie, Roy Reeder, W. C. Blankenship, and Walker Bailey.

Drivers Urged To Renew Licenses Now

C. B. Strain, driver's license examiner for the highway patrol, announced Saturday that a good many operator's licenses would begin to expire the last of September and the first of October and urged that drivers visit the office at the Liquor Control Board for renewals.

Renewal blanks may be obtained any day during the week, Strain said. Operator's licenses are only good for two years and expiration date is two years from the date of issuance. The date of issuance is on the license and should be checked by drivers for renewal, Strain explained.

Divorces Granted in District Court

Several cases were handled in 70th district court Friday afternoon and Saturday by Judge Cecil Collins. In the suit of Doris Blizard versus R. W. Turnbow et al, suit for damages, a judgment of $175 for the plaintiff was awarded.

David Wade was granted a divorce from Jane Wade and custody of three minor children was granted to the defendant. The plaintiff is to pay sixty percent of his aggregate income for support of children.

Joy Beth Barber was granted a divorce from George Barber and Jean Stallings Williams was given a divorce from Charles S. Williams.

Thimbleful

CHILMARK, Mass.—What rationing board officials described as probably the smallest gasoline allotment in the country has been granted to Mrs. Goldie Norton, Chilmark town clerk.

She was awarded one gallon for a period of six months—to operate her gasoline flatiron.

FINED $28

R. H. Hunter, Lamesa, pleading guilty to charges of simple assault, was fined $28 in justice court Thursday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Walter Grice. The charges grew out of a stabbing which occurred September 4.

Defense Trans. Manager Calls Angelo Meeting

John W. Reed, district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation, announced Saturday that an area meeting will be held in the Crystal ballroom of the Cactus Hotel, San Angelo, on September 18 at 1 p. m.

Livestock producers, haulers, and processors will attend to elect an area committee to work with Reed in an advisory capacity concerning movement of livestock by motor trucks.

The areas included in the meeting will be representatives from Coke, Concho, Crane, Crockett, Irion, Kimble, Menard, Reagan, Runnels, Schleicher, Sterling, Sutton, Terrell, Tom Green, Upton, Val Verde, Callahan, Fisher, Jones, Nolan, Scurry, Shackelford, Taylor, Brown, Coleman, McCulloch, Mills, San Saba, Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Ector, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Midland and Mitchell counties.

Reed urged full attendance of all producers of livestock, livestock processors, and commission men as subjects of vital importance to them will be discussed.

'Bus Nut' Is Charge On Sheriff's Docket

The sheriff's docket carries a new charge these days—bus nut—which roughly corresponds with "sair crazy." According to Deputies Bob Wolf and Denver Dunn, they are often called to the bus station to remove some "bus nut" who is temporarily berserk from days of riding without sleep, proper food, and too much liquid fortification at each stop.

One such man was taken off the bus this week en route from New York to Los Angeles, and after several days rest in jail, was put on the bus again Saturday morning. Five days of traveling had made him a "bus nut," according to the deputies.

Draft Boards Get Inventory Orders

AUSTIN, Sept. 11 (AP)—All local boards in Texas have been directed by state selective service headquarters to prepare an inventory of all registrants by Sept. 30. "The inventory is a final accounting that must be reported to congress before the induction of fathers," State Selective Service Director J. Watt Page said.

Local boards were authorized to suspend routine work, except induction, during taking of the inventory.

State Funds Buy More War Bonds

AUSTIN, Sept. 11 (AP)—Purchase of $15,610,000 in war bonds by three state funds this week brought total investments in these securities by the permanent school, state highway and permanent university funds since Pearl Harbor to $69,575,800, the state treasurer reported today.

Additional purchases are in immediate prospect by other funds.

Tires Authorized At Emergency Meeting

An emergency tire meeting, held Friday at the local ration board, cleared up many applications pending when 163 Grade III tires were granted. The extra tires were received from the state office to ease the tire shortage here.

Also approved were 67 Grade I tires, 130 passenger tubes, two truck tires, and one tractor tire.

Every roll of adhesive tape used by the Army medical corps contains 1-50th of a pound of rubber.

NO MATTER WHAT IS WRONG BRING THE TIRE TO US

A BREAK IN YOUR TIRE CAN BE FIXED. First we inspect the tire thoroughly inside and out. Then we clean out all the broken cords and loose rubber much the same as a dentist cleans a tooth. A patch is carefully applied, replacing all broken cords. The outside is filled and the repair is then vulcanized—good for thousands of miles with today's slow driving.

YOUR TIRES CAN BE RECAPPED without a ration certificate. But the job must be done before you wear the tread down too thin, otherwise you waste rubber. Our recaps stand up because of the quality of workmanship, materials and equipment used. The recapping material, made from reclaimed rubber, will give satisfactory service if tires are inflated to 32 lbs. and speeds kept below 35.

Buy War Bonds Today for your plans of Tomorrow

Let's be perfectly honest about it . . . You are really not making any sacrifices at all when you step up to the window and say "I want to buy a War Bond." What you are really doing is making possible some of those wonderful plans that you have for your future and that of your loved ones. Your War Bonds will make the first payment on that lovely little home that you're dreaming of—will buy you a streamlined "car of the future"—will send Johnnie and Sue to college—Think of it! While you help your Government in time of war—you help yourself in time of peace.
