COTTON PRODUCTION IN TEXAS HAS BECOME THE WORLD'S BIG SENSATION

The sensation of the cotton world today is the rapid development of the crop in West Texas, for many years deemed suitable only for ranching and later for the production of wheat and small grain and milo maize and kaffir corn, drought resistant crops imported from Africa.

Then it was discovered that a rainfall of around 20 inches a year will produce good cotton, if it comes at the proper season, cotton itself being well able to withstand dry spells. It was also discovered that a vast area of West Texas has a growing season sufficiently long for cotton production.

In 1910 there were only about 10,000 bales raised in this portion of West Texas above the cap rock known as the Plains country, but in 1922 the cotton production was increased to 150,000 bales, while for the same year the production of the whole of West Texas was 500,000 bales. Last year the yield was even much larger, while this year there will probably be 20,000,000 acres of cotton planted in West Texas, the most of which up to date shows a fine stage of development.

The past year of experience in growing cotton on the South Plains has taught the growers many things to their value. They have been successful in developing types of cotton that mature quickly in this altitude; they have learned to plant it thicker in the rows and not to chop out to a stand as they did in East Texas; and they have learned how to keep down the growth of large stalks and to increase the number of bolls per stalk, and they have also learned that in addition to the cheaper land of this section they are not bothered with the boll weevil.

There are hundreds of farmers throughout East and Central Texas who are this year looking forward to paying a visit to the South Plains country for their first time. They have heard much of its fame as a cotton producing section and they want to see and know for themselves. Already the emigration has begun. The big ranches cut up into farm tracts and selling at from $25 to $35 per acre are indeed attractive to those who have been suffering uncertain cotton crops on land that is valued at from $150 to $200 per acre.

U. S. Army Heroes and Planes in First Round the World Flight

"On, on" was the spark that burned in Lieut. Lowell Smith's heart when Commander Martin was lost in Alaskan mountains. With five fellow airmen the three planes turned west—ever west—and now they sail home from the East—the first air flight around this world of ours an actual accomplishment. These are the men (lower left, right to left) who have made history. Sergt. Ogden, Lt. E. H. Nelson, Sergt. Murner, Lt. Leigh Wade, Lt. Lowell H. Smith, in command, and Lt. John Harding, Jr.

LITTLEFIELD HOTEL IS PURCHASED BY WHICKER & THOMAS

Last week the Littlefield Hotel changed hands, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hilliard, former owners, selling to Messrs. J. C. Whicker, of Littlefield and R. S. Thomas, of LaFayette, Indiana.

Mr. Whicker is well known in this community. He is at present the local general salesman for the Yellow House Land Co., and for several years past has been vitally instrumental in the development of Littlefield and surrounding territory.

Mr. Thomas, son-in-law of Mr. Whicker, hails from LaFayette, Ind., where he has charge of the Soils and Crops Extension Department of Purdue University.

The new management states that the hotel will continue to be run with the same idea of courtesy and service extended to all guests as under the former regime.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard have not yet announced their plans for the future.

NO PICTURE SHOWS WILL BE RUN ON SUNDAYS

Following a rumor that the Lee theatre will soon open picture shows here on Sunday nights, Manager Max L. McClure has authorized the Leader to state to the public that such is not the case and never will be so long as he has charge of the theatre.

FUN MAKERS FROM LITTLEFIELD ENJOY OUTING AT THE FALLS

About 36 people from Littlefield and adjoining towns attended a week end party at Silver Lake Falls, near Crosbyton.

Traveling in autos, they arrived at the camp grounds about midnight of Saturday, camping in the grove near the water's edge. As usual, with a bunch of joy makers, it was along toward the wee hours of morning before they finally got settled down to their nocturnal slumbers.

Following an introductory swim, some of them engaged in a game of bridge, the extempo tables being illuminated by the lights from some of the autos. A neighboring camper not appreciating the glare of the "midnight sun" attempted an altercation with some of the bunch, but the principal debater being a woman, of course, had the last word.

Sore toes, blistered backs and arms were some of the rewards of the outing, the none of the party seemed to think them of any consequence to the fun they had.

Chas. Barber went along in charge of the culinary department, and many are the praises resounding in his favor for the fine eats he put out. Those who comprised the party were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steen, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Thomas, Mrs. Pool Earnest, Miss Nell Ruth Earnest, Mrs. F. G. Sadler, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lewis, of Sudan, Mrs. R. W. Frost, of Dallas, Simon D. Hay, of Sudan, Miss Jack Shipman, of Moorton, Miss Bertie B. Hood, Miss Birdie Lee Burkhalter, Mrs. W. G. Street, Miss Anne Douglass, P. K. Garrett, B. Garrett Ed McColvey, R. D. York, B. Lacy, G. M. Shaw, Miss Grayce Kelly, Miss Eunice Stinson, and Roy Burk, Misses Gladys Douglass, Nell Wilcox and Mable Marsh, of Lubbock.

LEADER OFFICE ADDS EQUIPMENT OF MACHINERY

The Leader last week placed an order for another Chandler & Price commercial press and a 25 inch Rosebach perforator to be added to its already up-to-date equipment.

The additional equipment has been made imperative through the continued rush of job work occasioned by the development of the town and the consequent increase of business generally. The perforator also enables this office to handle a class of work hitherto prohibitive through lack of facilities.

LADIES TO SERVE DINNER

The ladies of the Baptist church will serve dinner, Saturday, July 24. Everybody is asked to patronize them. The proceeds go toward paying for the church piano.

Be proud of your home town.

PORTALES TO PUT DOWN A WILDCAT TEST WELL

Portales is to have a test well for oil within the near future.

For many years some of the citizens have been of the opinion there was oil in that vicinity. Last winter Roy Smith, of Portales spent several months in blocking oil leases, now a syndicate, headed by G. E. Quillion, of Parkburg, West Virginia has let a contract to put down a 1000 foot hole.

It is stated by Mr. Quillion that if oil is not found at that depth and the showing is favorable, a standard rig will be brought in and the test carried on down to the necessary depth.

PUBLICITY MANAGER SAYS MANY COMING HERE LATER

G. L. Moody, general agency and publicity man for the Yellow House Land Co., returned Sunday morning from a week's trip through eastern and central Texas where he had been visiting the general and local appointed agencies of his company.

He declares it is surprising the lists of prospectors his agents have of people who are planning to come here this fall just as soon as they can leave their crops. That there will be a big rush of land seekers here is the decided opinion of Mr. Moody.

TO ORGANIZE BOOSTER BAND NEXT SATURDAY

A meeting of the children of the community will be held Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church for the purpose of organizing a Booster Band for the coming revival meeting. Officers will be elected, and there will be a contest and a prize will be offered.

All children are requested to come.

HOCKLEY CO. RAIL ROAD SEEMS TO BE ASSURED FACT NOW

That a railroad running west from Lubbock across Hockley county and Cochran county and continuing on west to the New Mexico line, now seems an assured fact, according to information given out following a meeting held in Lubbock last week.

This meeting was held in the Citizens National Bank, attended by W. L. Elwood, representing the largest tract of land traversed by the proposed railroad; Arthur P. Duggan, of Littlefield, representing the Littlefield and Yellow House lands; and J. A. Bardwell, of Post City, representing the Post estate, also, by Tom Duggan and J. A. Wilson, of Lubbock.

At the meeting it was reported that a very large body of this land had already been signed up for the right-of-way through their acreage.

The people of Levelland are highly enthused over the prospects, and the Hockley Chamber of Commerce is taking an active part in the propaganda.

This road will traverse a fine scope of country just now being settled, many thousands of acres being converted into farms this year.

LEVELLAND TO HAVE A COUNTY NEWSPAPER SOON

C. B. McCormick, formerly of Pecos, has moved his newspaper plant to Levelland and will soon begin the publication of a newspaper for Hockley county.

Levelland is now rapidly developing as a county seat, several new buildings have been recently completed and others are in the process of construction.

COCHRAN IS DIVIDED ON QUESTION OF A NEW COURT HOUSE

Notwithstanding that Cochran has just completed a temporary court house, a petition is being circulated asking for signers for a more commodious and modern structure, according to various reports reaching Littlefield.

It has been only a few weeks ago that Cochran came through the throes of litigation relative to organization, and, following the will of the voters the county seat was established at Morton, Ligon being the other contender for the capitol honor. The county officials immediately set about to erect a frame building which would be used for court house purposes until such a time as the county could gather in some taxes, increase its population and get on a better financial footing.

It is said, however, that some of the promoters and real estate dealers interested in the county have panoramic visions of a tribunal building that will be in keeping with some of the sister counties, and in consequence, the petition is being circulated asking for sufficient names to call an election for same. Some of the more conservative element though, are reported as being decidedly against the movement.

LITTLEFIELD BASE BALL TEAM PLAYED TULIA

Last Thursday the Littlefield team crossed bats with Tulia at Tulia and beat them 2 to 1. Tulia fans claimed it to be one of the best games of the season played in their town.

Jim Fuller did the pitching for Littlefield, and struck out 12 men. There were only two balls knocked to outfield during the entire game.

Littlefield will play Rogers again at Rogers, August 14, on the event of their annual picnic.

When you know any news of interest, tell the editor, so it can be passed on to others.

FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION IS IN GOOD CONDITION

At a meeting of the Littlefield National Farm Loan Association held last week a dividend of possibly four per cent was declared on the capital stock.

Officers of the local organization report that they now have loaned out in this vicinity about $118,000, and that the association is in a prosperous condition.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The public is hereby notified that I have sold my interest in the meat market of Martin & Sims, at Sudan, Texas, and am no longer responsible for any indebtedness of the former firm since June 25, 1924. E. Martin.

French Champ Here

Epipard, the fastest French thoroughbred, is now in the U. S. and under the careful training of Eugene Liege is being conditioned for three races against the American champions of the year—as yet to be selected.

PROSPECTORS AND BUYERS NOW COMING EVERY DAY

That numerous prospectors are now coming to the South Plains country is evident by the numerous strange faces seen on the streets daily, and by the reports of land and lot sales constantly being made.

Last week was a busy one for the Yellow House Co. In one day only they took out seven caps at a time, all loaded with people who wanted to know more about this country. Some of them made purchases immediately, while others declared their intentions of returning this fall to buy. The sales made by this company last week, each purchasing 177.1 acres, were as follows:

A. J. Seale and W. F. Ramsey, Dawson county.
J. S. Hanks and E. S. Hanks, from Oklahoma.
J. G. Davidson, Williamson Co.
J. M. Linker and B. B. Woodall, Wichita county.
Lee Green and H. B. Hill, Bell county.

LOVE

There is a belief, common the world over, that man loves a dog. The truth is that man loves adoration when he thinks he is loving the dog. If he should enter the yard of a stranger and the world's prize bull dog should leap from the steps of the stranger's house and approach him with wagging tail and welcoming whines of delight, he would stoop to pat the animal's head and worry his ears and he would interpret the purring of his vanity as love for the humble creature at his feet; but if the dog should get to his feet and growl a warning or advance with obvious intent to discourage his visit, he would reach for his hip pocket and say: "Now start something you ugly brute, and I will fill you with holes that will let the breezes through."

Such is the love of Bill for John. Bill has a store and John is one of his most liberal patrons. At frequent intervals John drops in to sit on a counter and chat. Bill has many friends, but he prizes John more than any other. Then a new store opens across the street, offering a little better goods for a little less money, and John begins to do his buying there. Months pass and he continues to drop in for chats with Bill, but he spends no money and Bill's cordiality becomes increasingly forced. In the end they are estranged. Bill no longer calls John a friend, for we get our living from our friends.

But surely a man truly loves the wife of his bosom. Well, yes, most men do after a fashion. But consider the case of Henry. He loves his wife but he loves her because she keeps his house in order, mends his clothes, attends and trains his children, fondles him, feeds his vanity by listening to his boastings, nurses him, feeds him, pets him, entertains him. Now let her make an end of this business and devote herself to interests outside his home. How long will Henry's love be lavished upon her?

Job, you will remember loved his God, and remained loyal through all adversity. But how many vanquished nations have held meetings and praised God for His mercies? And what righteous man, being deprived of the fortune in which he delighted, will keep his mind free of the idea that God was in some obscure way to blame for the loss?

THE COMING FAIRS

Now is the time to begin making selections of stuff for the fall fairs. Lamb county should make a far better showing this year than she has ever done before. With the fine crops now growing, there is no reason why she should not pull down some handsome premiums at the big fairs surrounding and make a favorable showing at home, as well.

So far as the Leader knows, no steps have yet been taken for the holding of a fair in this county, but it is presumed that matter will now be taken care of in the near future. At any rate, the Labbock, Amarillo and Dallas fairs come in such rotation that Lamb county exhibits can be given a showing at each of these fairs.

The Leader believes it would be well for the citizens of this county to get together and employ some expert who is familiar with type, quality and arrangement, and make it worth while to him, as well as the county, to select such an assortment of products as will put this county among the top notchers when the awards are handed out.

A SAFE BET

While the new farmers on the South Plains are going crazy over cotton, they should not overlook the dairy cow, the brood sow and the thrifty hen.

The farmer who has a cream check coming in every week or so is always the farmer ahead. Indeed, we believe the time is not far off when Littlefield will be able to support a creamery of its own in addition to the cream that is now being handled by local dealers.

Every voter next Saturday ought to know for whom he votes and why he votes for that particular person. Sentiment and friendship should be secondary considerations; the character of the man and his ability to perform acceptable service for the citizens of this county should be the main consideration. The men elected this year will serve this county during a very important period, and they should be the very best men available.

We still remember when we were a youngster growing up and attended the old fashioned testimony meetings how we used to wonder whether a man was confessing his sins or bragging about them.

If the churches of this town stand for anything at all, they at least deserve the Sunday attendance and support of the folks claiming to belong to the better element of citizenry.

Now is the time for farmers to begin culling out, selecting and giving special attention to the products they are going to exhibit at the fairs this fall.

A pony was recently carried from Bourget, France to Rotterdam by airplane. After all, there may have been something in that old yarn about Pegasus, the flying horse.

The Bible says, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," but evidently some folks read it. Remember the Sabbath day to punch a hole in it.

Alright, let's swat a few more weeds and get our town more presentable to the visitors who are now beginning to come this way.

"Accept congratulations." That was the short and formal message McAdoo sent to Davis. The world hoots a man "who sulks in his tent."

How can parents bring up a child in the way it should go when they allow it to go anywhere it pleases and at any time?

The weather bureau has gone into the business of predicting earthquakes. That may prevent them.

It Always Had.

A man was driving through the country in an automobile without a top. It began to rain and he sought shelter under a farm shed. As it continued to rain for some time he became impatient and said to the farmer: "Do you think it is ever going to clear up?" The farmer looked out and slowly said: "Well, it always has."

Why He Knew.

In the privacy of his home, the village butcher was telling his wife of the arrival of a new resident. "She came in today," he said with enthusiasm, "and I can tell you she's a real lady, brought up select and exclusive. She don't know one cut o' meat from another, nor real from mutton."

Do not stir the dairy cow, give her all she will eat of the right kind of feeds, properly balanced. If you expect her to produce liberally.

From 25 to 40 per cent of all tuberculosis in children under five years of age is contracted by using products containing acids according to a report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Some of the things a young girl ought to know do not include some of the things that ask her to go flivvering.
