TAX COLLECTIONS HEAVIER IN PAST MONTH THAN EVER BEFORE SAYS THE COLLECTOR WHICH INDICATES FINE ERA OF PROSPERITY

Indicative of the era of prosperity that has enveloped Littlefield and Lamb county during the past several months, more taxes were collected during the month of January of this year than ever before in the history of Lamb county, according to Tax Collector J. L. Irvin.

Irvin said his office had been so swamped with business during the past 30 days that the force had not yet had time to make a total of the amount of collections, but he declared that payments were not only being made for 1927, but they were also receiving a good collection of taxes which had run delinquent for the past one to three years.

The fine crop year is largely responsible for it, said Irvin, and if conditions will repeat themselves the coming year this section is going to go forward in big manner, he declared.

GUNTER COLLEGE REPRESENTATIVES TO BE HERE FRIDAY

Miss Anna Watkins and W. B. McComb, representing Gunter college will be in Littlefield Friday night and speak at the Church of Christ, corner of 5th and Park Ave., in the interest of that institution.

Gunter college is soon to be moved from Gunter to some point on the South Plains better adapted for its purposes. The institution, while conducted under the auspices of the Church of Christ is non-sectarian in its activities.

The college officials are looking for an acceptable body of land comprising about 1,000 acres on which the school is to be located, a portion of the land to be cut up into lots and small acreage tracts for residential purposes.

Bids for the location of this school have been made at Stamford, Lockney, Levelland, Floydada, and some other points, and it is understood that these representatives are here to interest the members of this church in the movement.

The public generally is invited to attend the meeting.

TWO TEST WELLS WILL BE DRILLED IN COCHRAN

After comparative quiet for a period of several weeks, it now seems eminent that there will be a renewal of oil activity in this section of the South Plains.

It is now reported that the Marsland Oil Co., which some time ago made a lease, has now let a contract for a 4,000 foot test well to be drilled on the ranch of Mrs. Carrie Slaughter, near Lehman. It is said the drilling will be under way by the first of April.

It is also reported that a test well is now to be drilled on the C. C. Slaughter ranch, two miles north of Lehman.

LAMB COUNTY TEACHERS ASSOCIATION MEETS SUNDAY

The Lamb County Teachers Association will meet next Saturday, Feb. 10, at Sudan. Every teacher of the county is urged to be present at 10:00 o'clock.

Pres. J. A. Hill will address the teachers. All who know Pres. Hill will be anxious to hear him. The public is invited to these meetings, also.

Arrangements for the County Intercollegiate Meet will be made at this meeting.

the Convention

Mr. Jones, financier and publisher of the Houston Chronicle, led the crowd that brought the Democratic ticket to his city.

TAKE MY AD OUT OF THE PAPER!

"For the love of Mike take my ad out of the Leader." That was the cry E. H. Lightfoot put up last week.

Mr. Lightfoot had advertised in the classified column of the Leader for a 250 egg incubator. "These birds with incubators to sell are worrying the life out of me," he declared; "they are interfering with my business."

Lightfoot said he got eight letters through the mail from people wanting to sell artificial hatchers, while a number had stopped him on the streets.

Verily, advertising in the Leader brings results.

COURT CHANGE RULING

Apparently partly reversing a previous ruling, the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin last week held that a legal liquor search warrant, though it be based only on "information and belief" may be issued by a magistrate in his discretion.

The opinion, given by Judge O. S. Latimore, said the court would not review complaints against search warrants unless it appears that the magistrate abused his discretion.

The ruling came about in affirming the three year sentence assessed Anton Rosener in Milan county.

Presiding Judge Morrow of the court, previously has held that the search warrant to be valid must have a basis of fact and can not be founded on "heresy" testimony. The effect of Judge Latimore's ruling is regarded as placing the matter entirely up to the various justices of the peace.

SHOWERS HELP WHEAT; 15,000 ACRES GROWING

Recent showers in the Littlefield territory, while not sufficient to be of any material aid in softening the ground for winter plowing, yet they have been of great value in refreshing the growing wheat of this section.

Friday of last week there was a good shower, Sunday night there was another, and Monday morning still more rainfall.

It is estimated that there is about 15,000 acres of wheat planted in the Littlefield territory, most of which is doing good, especially early plantings.

W. T. C. C. MEETS IN FORT WORTH FROM JUNE 18 TO 20

The annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held in Fort Worth, June 18-20, inclusive, it was announced last Monday.

A committee composed of R. D. Haynie, Abilene, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Homer D. Wade, manager of the organization, and Amon G. Carter, chairman of the convention committee, selected the dates.

The Seale-Whippet Motor Co., Mid Seale proprietor, a new concern in Littlefield, is opening this week for business in the building adjoining the Palace theatre.

Mr. Seale now has demonstration models of this popular car on the floor and states he expects to receive a carload shipment the first of next week.

FIFTEEN COUNTIES OF THE PANHANDLE DECIDE FOR CO-OPERATIVE ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN IN MEETING HELD IN AMARILLO

If there were doubt in the minds of anyone that the proposed movement to induce immigration, from the northern states into the Panhandle would not be put into operation, that doubt would have been dispelled had those entertaining it been at the meeting held at the Amarillo Hotel at Amarillo, January 31st.

Of the fifteen committeemen appointed on this committee from fifteen counties in the panhandle, eleven were present, four being detained by other business engagements in their home towns, but the interest in the subject has been aroused to such an extent that fifteen other people, not members of the committee, showed up at the meeting voluntarily, and were heartily welcomed.

With two sessions, one in the morning lasting from 10:00 to 12:30 and one in the afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30, the committee thrashed out various propositions suggested.

This committee was charged with the devising of ways and means of conducting this immigration campaign and reached the conclusion that the basis of such a campaign should be an exhibit train to tour the states of Kansas, Iowa and a portion of Illinois this coming fall. This train is to contain a composite exhibit of products of the Panhandle counties interested in this movement. Publicity in newspapers in the localities where this train will stop will be carried prior to the arrival of the train there, pamphlets descriptive of the Panhandle as a whole will be prepared for distribution at these stops and a follow-up direct by mail campaign to keep alive the interest thus created in Panhandle lands will be systematically worked out.

That the campaign may be more effectively planned the Committee authorized the Appointment by Chairman E. B. Black of Hereford, of sub-committees on finance, train itinerary, publicity, exhibits, available lands, and constitution and by-laws, these sub-committees to each consider its respective subject and then report to the General Committee at a later date. The General committee will then determine upon the definite program and submit that program to a conference of numerous delegates from the Panhandle counties for final acceptance.

The estimated cost of the entire movement for one year is $50,000, and it is proposed that the movement shall continue for the next three years the route of the train and the territory to be covered to vary with each year.

The committee on available lands is an unusual one. It will be the duty of this committee to secure a list of the acreage available, its ownership, its locality, and the price at which it can be obtained; this to avoid the objection that is offered so often in movements of this kind that prospective purchasers are unfairly treated in a matter of land values after they have become interested. To avoid this the publishing of a list of available lands with fixed prices will be attempted; this list to be distributed among prospects.

HARK YE OLD TIME FIDDLERS

Old time fiddlers in and around Littlefield may soon have a chance to show their stuff and win a substantial cash prize.

February 23rd, an "Old Fiddlers" contest is to be staged in Amarillo, and Littlefield has been requested to send her champion bow pullers and rosin shufflers to the event. See N. A. Donges, secretary, Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, he has all the dope on the musical gymnastic and will be glad to hash it out.

LFD. TAX SUITS ARE CONTINUED OVER FOR FALL TERM

The suit of the Littlefield Independent School district against certain property owners of the district for the collection of taxes, and which was transferred from Lamb to Hale county for hearing, was called last week, but on account of the absence of attorneys for the defense has been continued until the fall term of district court.

The suit involves the hearing of about 20 cases of non-tax payment for the years 1925-26, it being alleged by the defendants that the assessments are unequal and the land values incorrectly placed. Six of these cases were transferred to the Hale county district court for hearing.

Attorneys for the School are T. Wade Potter, E. A. Bills, E. S. Rowe, of Littlefield, and Kinder & Russell, of Plainview. Attorneys for the defense are Senator W. H. Bledsoe, C. C. Crenshaw and Roscoe Wilson, of Lubbock.

SUPT. J. C. BARTON EXPRESSES FAVOR OF BUSINESS HERE

J. C. Barton, superintendent of the Slaton division, Santa Fe railroad system, was in Littlefield Monday on a general inspection and good-will trip over his division.

Mr. Barton, who succeeded J. F. Anton on his division, seems to specialize in good will trips over his section of the system and in fraternizing with his agents and other employees. As a consequence, though a new man on this division, he has already won the confidence and high esteem of his fellowmen in the service, thus gaining a high standard of co-operation throughout the division.

While in Littlefield Mr. Barton expressed his high appreciation of this little city as a business point of his system. He remarked in forceful manner upon the wonderful development of both town and surrounding community during the past five years and prophesied an even greater era of development during the coming five years. He declared that the business of the Santa Fe railroad in Littlefield for the month of January this year, in both the freight and express departments, was considerably larger than for the same month of last year, and he predicted that the general level of business from this point during the coming months of 1928 would show a considerable increase.

Mr. Barton, shortly after coming onto the Slaton division, won a home in the hearts of Littlefield citizens by placing electric lights in the local depot, which lights had been greatly needed by the traveling public for many months past, but unobtainable from his predecessor personally or through the Interstate Commerce Commission. However, it took Mr. Barton a very short time to realize that need and supply it. He also stated last Monday that it would be but a short time until he would be able to supply electric lights in the depots of Sudan and Muleshoe.

Mr. Barton has frequently mingled with Littlefield citizens in both a business and social way. They have found him a gentleman of high order, and while working to the interest of his company, he is always ready to grant any favor to his shippers and work in harmony with the citizens for mutual benefit.

LITTLEFIELD vs. HALE CENTER

The Littlefield outlaw team composed of Payne Wood, Ansel Stone, Driskill Irvin, John Lacy, Loyd Davensport, motored to Hale Center last Wednesday night and played the outlaw team there. The score was 27 to 19 in favor of Hale Center.

CITY MARSHAL GETS 25 BLACKS ON GAME CHARGE HERE SAT.

City Marshal Fred Hoover nearly duplicated the record of the "Fighting Corporal" during the World War, when he made a wholesale arrest last Saturday night.

Twenty-five dusky gent'l'm were found in a house near the cotton compress enjoying their native perversion of shooting craps and playing cards. When the law forced open a door catching them in the act, there was a general scramble for the exit, which was effectively blocked with a Colts .45 in the hands of an officer wearing a red shirt, significant of double danger. Other blacks attempted to pick up the piles of money, the cards and dice lying on the floor where the games were being held, but were foiled in their attempts until such a time as Hoover secured the names and places of working from each of them.

One long lean negro declared he was a pa'son, and thought he ought to be immune from the brunt of the law as applied to the members of his congregation. He insisted that he had not been gambling, and was just in the act of backing into the corner preparatory to delivering a strong sermon on the evils of the game. But with a threat from the officer that ministers ought to be fined double for being in such company the dusky divine soon ceased his loquacious pleas for immunity.

Hoover gave the blacks choice between leaving town by Sunday night or else tipping the treasury of the Municipal court. Several of them have not been seen since, but it is reported that about 15 were hauled in to court paying fines of from $6.95 to $11.95 each.

INDUSTRY HELPS AGRICULTURE BUILD UP THE SMALL TOWN

Decentralization of Manufacturing Brings Markets for Products Closer to the Farm—Gives Employment and Better Standards of Living to Rural Communities.

By T. R. PRESTON President, American Bankers Association

NO class of people has been more diligent in trying to understand the agricultural problem than the bankers of this country. The agricultural problem is a real problem and demands the best thought of everyone. This country cannot continue along happy lines with only sections of the country prosperous. Prosperity must be passed around if anybody is long to enjoy it. This question cannot be solved by the farmers alone, but the majority opinion is that there is no legislative remedy for agriculture. It is an economic question pure and simple and must be worked out accordingly.

T. R. PRESTON

A few years ago it was contended that agriculture did not have sufficient credit facilities. That proposition was often made a political question. I do not presume there are many who will question the fact that agriculture now has ample credit facilities.

Mixing Farms and Factories

It is a fact that no community and no state has ever become great purely from agriculture. It is not to the interest of New York and other great centers to see the small communities and the agricultural sections losing their wealth and importance. In the end it will react upon them to their disadvantage. There seems to me a real remedy for these small communities and also for agriculture. This remedy, which is the mixing of industry with agriculture, is now being applied in many localities with satisfactory results.

Industry and agriculture are better balanced in Ohio, North Carolina and Pennsylvania than in any other states of the Union, and in those states there is no serious agricultural problem and we hear little complaint from the farmers. This mixing of industry ing examples from my own state to prove this proposition, and I mention these because I am more familiar with conditions there than elsewhere.

Twelve years ago Kingsport, Tennessee, had a population of about one thousand. Great industries like a large camera company, a big cement plant and a number of other industries were located there partly through the influence of an outstanding New York business man. In a little more and agriculture is called by some decentralization of industry.

Mixing Industry With Agriculture Means Prosperity for Rural Districts

I would not suggest that manufacturing institutions move from the cities to the small villages, but I do think it would be better for this country for future industries to be placed in these small villages rather than to be further congested in the great centers. This would in part also be a solution of our labor problem. The bringing of industries to small villages increases the market for agricultural products, gives employment to surplus labor, elevates the standards of living, increases public revenue, reduces taxes and vastly increases educational facilities.

Two Striking Examples
I believe I can give you two striking banking institutions; it adds to the material prosperity of our state, but above all, it is the expression of a service which will react favorably upon the character of those interested."

THE BANKER-FARMER MOVEMENT GROWING

There are several reasons for the growth of the banker-farmer movement in Pennsylvania. William S. McKay, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee, Pennsylvania Bankers Association, has reported to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. The cooperation and leadership of the county agents in the several counties of the state; the appointment and functioning of county chairmen of agriculture known as Key Bankers, one of whom there is in each county of the state; and the organization of county bankers associations, whereby agriculture is given consideration by all the banks are responsible for this interest. The following table shows the activities for the year:

Project	Number of Counties
Sent young farmers to state college for special course	5
Encouraged farm shows	16
Held agricultural tours	6
Sponsored various club activities	38
Gave illustrated lectures on poultry, cow feeding, and improved farm methods	1
Distributed purebred livestock, chicks, and disease-free potatoes	13

"There is probably no class of business men that has a greater opportunity for helpfulness than the bankers in this movement," declares Mr. McKay. "It builds up a substantial community which makes for better

BANKERS HELP OUT

The Oklahoma Bankers Association for the past twelve years has financed through its five groups ten scholarships in the A. & M. College at Stillwater. The winners are chosen by the Extension Department of the college on the merits of the club work done by the boys and girls over a certain period of time. The groups of the association finance the first year of the winner's college work.

The president of a national bank in Fayetteville, Arkansas, has been credited with doing more for the farmers of his section than any other one man. His work has consisted of introducing pure bred Holstein cattle into his county, helping employ a county agent, donating prizes to boys and girls in club work, and distributing better seed.

Here are some of the things accomplished in Randolph County, Ark. with the help of bankers last year: forty-three purebred gilts were bought at a reasonable price and placed with boys and girls, on notes; three thousand eggs from high producing hens were distributed with the idea of developing flocks of at least one hundred hens on every farm; four pure bred Jersey bulls whose dams had a record of over 700 pounds butterfat have been purchased by the bank and will be paid for out of service fees.

Some of the oil used for lubricating watches, clocks and other delicate instruments is obtained from the head of the porpoise. The oil of neat's foot - oil are also used.

CLUB BOYS HAVE RECEIVED SHIPMENT HOGS

The Littlefield boys pig-club, organized by the Vocational Agriculture teacher, has received two shipments of 10 bred gilts and another shipment on the way. The boys instead of ordering eight week old gilts, as is the custom, have bought bred gilts, which will bring faster returns. These gilts are registered and have been bred to registered boars. Practically all of the gilts purchased are large, of good type and very good in quality. All members of the club are well pleased with their gilts and have signified their intention of properly feeding their hogs by following out feeding methods as recommended by the Texas Agricultural Experiment station. The Littlefield First National Bank was instrumental in the boys getting the hogs as they financially backed the proposition.

The members of the club are as follows: Burness Lowmore, O. A. Woody, Leo White, Hubert and Lester Couch, Pierce Teeters, Glen Arnold, Ernest Goertz, G. B. Wimberly, Henry Wimberly, Floyd Fowler, and Melvin Rosa.

BOOKS

Good books have done more for mankind than great buildings or railroads, or bridges, or great machines, more than great painters, more than great speakers, perhaps, for without books their words and inspiration would have been lost to the world.

We would have no Bible, no histories, no literature, no records, nothing but unreliable myths and traditions handed down by word of mouth. We would be no farther along than some of the savage tribes in the interior of Africa.

Through books all the knowledge gained by men is preserved for those who live after them. The great eat minds of all ages can and do speak to us through them. We can read what men thought and wrote hundreds and thousands of years ago, and it is not wonderful that they can still thrill and inspire us by their eloquence.

I have always loved a good book. I remember that I spent the first dollar I ever earned for a book. I had hoarded that money five or ten cents at a time. That book was followed by others and when a few years later I lost all of my little library it was a keen disappointment to me. I would give a good deal to have those books returned to me now.

It seems to me that every boy and girl should start a library, one that you can prize and treasure. Begin with your Bible, your school books, and a dictionary. Add others of worth as often as you can, preferably one or two at a time, but not by the square yard as a newly rich man. I have been told of, I said to have done. In time you will learn to go to these old friends fondly and lovingly for counsel, guidance, or recreation. Yes a good book is something almost sacred. Treat it as such.—From a Boy's Friend, by C. E. Birch.

The nearer your dish closet is to your sink, the fewer steps needed to put the dishes away after they are washed. An ideal way is to have the dish closet in the connecting wall between the dining room and kitchen, adjacent to the sink on the kitchen side. Clean dishes are taken out in the dining room, and used ones are passed through the closet to be washed and put away without an unnecessary step.

If we don't look out the scientists will be making synthetic food.

Chevrolet Agents Who Locate Here Are To Erect a Building Soon

Messrs. H. M. Snowden and C. A. Rayburn of Littlefield have removed to this place and opened a Chevrolet sales and service business under the firm name of Snowden-Rayburn Chevrolet Company. They come highly recommended as citizens and businessmen and they will be cordially welcomed to the business circles of our city.

Temporarily their place of business will be at the Burleson Grain Company, but if present plans materialize, a new building will soon be constructed by Sam Sanford and Ira Doak on the east side of the square to be occupied by Messrs. Snowden and Rayburn as a sales and service room.—Lynn Co. (Tahoka) News.

LIFE IN THE COUNTRY

Considerable discussion is heard these days as to the means that may be adopted to keep folks on the farm. The situation has become serious, for many experienced farmers are moving into the cities, either for the purpose of earning what they consider easier money, or to use their savings in giving their children and themselves the advantage of city life. Whatever the cause, the situation remains, and it constitutes a problem that may well engage the attention of national and state authorities. The fear is expressed that the production of food may become reduced to such an extent that the scarcity will not only greatly increase prices, but threaten the welfare of the people.

While the reasoning is purely academic and subject to the views of each individual it is probably true that the persons who make occasional trips from the rural districts to the larger towns enjoy these visits and the things they see much more than those who see them every day. It is a case where familiarity sometimes breeds contempt. In the matter of better school facilities in the towns, there is in most cases no place for argument, although some progress has been made in a number of states to bring about centralization of teaching that gives country pupils some of the advantages of the city in a course of study. There is nothing to justify undue pressure to keep men and women and boys and girls on the farms. Rural life should be so attractive in itself that enough persons will make choice of the country life to insure the crops of grain and quantities of other foodstuffs needed to maintain all the people at a reasonable cost.

P. T. A. MEETING

The Parent-Teachers Association met Wednesday with only two parents present.

It was decided to ask the parents to give the next program for the association, hoping to arouse more interest among the parents.

A short but very interesting program was given by Miss Nellie Dugger, Elerine Vause and Miss McDonald.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, February 8th at 3:30 o'clock, in the High school auditorium.

Tax paying causes a lot of people to cuss when they think of what their representatives did.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

The race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong.—Eccles. 9:11.

Victory, with advantage, is rather robbed than purchased.—Sir Philip Sidney.

TOO MANY LAWS

☐ We're hearing a good deal about law enforcement, and about the many terrible crimes committed in various sections of our country within the past few months. It isn't the most pleasant topic of conversation, to be sure. But it is a subject worthy of the attention of everyone who has the welfare of the nation at heart.

We feel sure Littlefield citizens will agree with us when we say that in the past we have given too much attention to making laws and not enough to enforcing them, with the result that we have a lot of laws that are not availing us anything in the way of protection. Our lawmakers have been haphazard in framing new legislation. Many of the new laws have not been well digested and worked out in their proper relation to other laws already on our statute books. Too many legislators have the idea that a law always has to be passed "against something." Too few of them stop to consider whether or not it will pass the test of justice and enforcement.

It isn't a lack of law that encourages such crimes as have been perpetrated in this country within recent weeks. It's a lack of properly and promptly enforcing the ones we have, and too much of a tendency to overlook the fact that the teachings of the church and the school and the home will, if properly looked after, do more than all our laws to discourage criminal tendencies in growing youth. You can't legislate goodness into the growing boy or girl. Let's have stricter enforcement of the laws we already have and a closer training of youth in the church, the school and the home. It is a slow process, but it will prove the best solution of the problem in the long run.

The meanest man we ever heard of was the one who applied for a divorce, but told the judge he wanted to part good friends with his wife so she could still do his laundry work.

IT ISN'T TOO EARLY

☐ We may have a spell of mean weather in February or March. But all indications warrant the belief that the worst of winter is now behind us and that in so far as Littlefield and surrounding territory are concerned our citizens can commence to shake off their winter lethargy and get ready for spring activities.

One pretty good indication that we are getting close to the spring season is the increasing number of seed and nursery catalogues now reaching the local postoffice. The men who sell seeds and plants and fruit trees are a forward-looking set. They know just about when the frost is going to begin leaving the ground and when the "itch" for garden-making is going to seize upon humanity at large. They seldom miss their guess.

So don't feel that it is too early to begin planning the things you know you're going to have to do a little later on. A large part of success in any thing depends on how well you plan for it in advance. If it's house-cleaning, rejuvenating the premises with a few gallons of paint, or even garden-making or putting in a crop—start doing the headwork now. The seed men and the paint men and the implement men are better forecasters of spring than the groundhog can ever hope to be. And they've started on their annual selling campaign.

WATCH THE PUMP

☐ We do not believe there is a dishonest filling-station operator in the immediate vicinity of Littlefield, but we refuse to take in any more territory than this, since we read from time to time of complaints of short measure made by motorists in other parts of the country.

The gasoline business, like everything else that offers a profit, contains a few unscrupulous people, just enough to make it necessary to keep your eyes open when dealing with those who are unknown to you. It can only be a matter of a few cents, at best, that the individual motorist loses by short measure, but it is the principle of the thing that every honest car-owner is anxious to discourage.

You're safe in dealing with the filling station that is known to you, but when in strange territory, take no chances. Make sure that you are getting what you are paying for, and that to which your money entitles you.

Cloth manufacturers must live. So the material taken from the girl's skirts is added to the college boy's trousers.

CHEAPER BREAD

☐ The late Vice-President Tom Marshall furnished America a good laugh when he declared that what this country needed most was a good 5c cigar. We've been arguing, on the other hand, that a still greater need was a return to the days when 5c bought a loaf of good bread, and it looks like our end of it is coming true since a number of cities throughout the country are now back to normal with a loaf of bread retaining at 5c.

Just how good it is we are not in position to state. All we know is that a lot of money is being spent by the largest chain-store grocery company in the United States in advertising a one-pound loaf of bread for a nickel. The price may become general, we do not know.

But one thing we do know, and which we feel sure will cheer the heart of every Littlefield consumer, is that if bread can be brought back to its old price a lot of other food-stuffs can, too. And where there is a general reduction all along the line we are pretty sure to share in it.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

DEMOCRACY

Dean Inge of St. Paul's recently said that a government of, by and for the people is a clap trap.

It doubtless is. But a government of, by and for a king or an oligarchy or any such thing is force clap trap.

As far as we can see, almost all kinds of government are open to the accusation of being clap trap.

As far as getting anything done immediately is concerned, the dictator plan, such as is accomplished by Mussolini and Premio de Rivera, seems to be the best.

A democracy is not the most efficient form of government, but it is the only form where the majority rule.

It is the only form under which people are allowed to make their own mistakes.

The only way to improve is to bump yourown nose, stub your own toe and learn from your own defeats.

Foolish and unstable as the people are they remain the best basis for any government, and a government slowly built up as a democracy has much more promise of long life than any absolutism.

America may be headed for disaster. Plenty of prophets tell us that it is, but so far its record has been the most astounding in the world's history.

Altogether the efficiency of democracy seems to be that it can easily get rid of bad rulers, although it is not so efficient in picking good ones always.

The question often overlooked is, "What is a government for?"

A government is not a people organized to accomplish something or to gain some advantage over another combined people, but it is organized to advance the interests of the people who make it up. The American government is a good one because the individuals who compose it are well off. The Russian government is a bad one because the individual people are bad off.

If we would keep our eye upon the individual more and less upon the combined individuals as a nation we should think more clearly of the problem.

The question after all is not what is better for a nation, but what is better for the people that compose it.

FROM AN AUTHORITY

☐ In a recent speech Postmaster General New made the statement that advertising is basically a form of education, and not an economic waste. It ministers to the true development of trade and creates and changes public opinion and public sentiment. Modern business could neither have been created nor maintained without advertising. It is to advertising that very much of the success of the American industrial system is due.

We want to applaud the remarks of the Postmaster General, and pass them along to our local businessmen, any of whom can profit by accepting such logic, and practicing exactly what Mr. New preaches.

The most prosperous communities in the land are those whose stores are prosperous, and a little investigation will quickly show that stores that are most prosperous are the ones that are the strongest believers in advertising.

A noted New York teacher says children can spell better than their fathers. That being the case, then why don't they?

THE INEVITABLE TAX

☐ It is an old saying that "death and taxes are inevitable." The one strikes you but once, while the other takes a whack at you every year. However, there are times when one wonders just what folks ever get out of kicking against their tax assessments. Occasionally they may be too high through error in assessment; but generally the easiest and the cheapest way out of a tax controversy is to step up and pay them.

In the case of the defendants in the tax suits filed by the Littlefield School Board, it is declared that the valuations are incorrect. Granting that to be true, the assessor and the School Board are vested by law with authority to re-assess the property for all back years, and the next assessment could be freed from all technical errors, so that the new assessment would stand, and then the owners of the property would have to pay the taxes under the new assessment.

We doubt if there would be very much difference between the two assessments—at least not enough to pay lawyers and court charges.

LITTLE LEADERS

Some Littlefield girls smile because they have a sense of humor and others because they have dimples.

We've also noticed that the Littlefield citizens who argue that there ought to be a tax on bachelors are all married.

Many a Littlefield man who believes in free speech is still paying rental on a telephone.

It sometimes makes a Littlefield father as mad for mother to drop a hint as it does mother for him to drop a diah.

Littlefield young folks don't mind letting conscience be their guide so long as it guides them the way they want to go.

SOME SNAP SHOTS

What seems to be needed in politics now is a dry platform for damp candidates.

A hypocrite is a person who pretends to believe what you tell him when he knows you're lying.

Christmas comes but once a year, but the installment plan enables you to pay for it all the rest of the year.

Having a bad cold at this season of the year wouldn't be so bad if you didn't have to meet so many people who know how to cure it.

We like to see a man stick up for his church, but we don't think much of the fellow who gets fighting mad if you differ with his doctrine.

Women may look more like angels than men look like them, but so far no woman has been able to fly across the ocean.

The fellow with a chronic cold can generally improve his position by chewing the rag less and his patience more.

The old-fashioned kid had to get out his Dad's cut-down clothes but modern youngster just wears a cut-down patience.

If cigarettes do help the voice, the ads claim they do, then it's wonder that men don't want to give wives to smoke.

Another reason they call the sleep in a box car tonight, why great country is because a fellow popular song tomorrow and be rid in a sedan the next day.

After reading some obituaries, man gets the idea that standing must be at a premium in heaven, that hell must be a lonesome and deserted place.

No chauffeur can drive a car to a back seat driver. It can't be done.

BAPTIST BANQUET

If outward appearances are to be trusted, the Baptist people had "one royal time" at their banquet Tuesday night of last week.
 The program opened with a short religious service conducted by the pastor, Rev. Roy A. Kemp, who had prepared a surprise for his congregation by reconstructing a familiar song making the words suit the occasion to perfection.
 At the conclusion of this musical number, Mrs. L. E. Howard, social chairman, took charge of the program distributing names of the great lovers of history, mythology and poetry throughout the audience, telling every one that they must find their partners for the evening by matching their names. Then the fun began, Orpheus hunting Eurydice, Hamlet his Ophelia and Isaac the waiting Rebecca, and so on down the list.

For a while the crowd in the big auditorium resembled an ant hill, but after a time order was restored, and everyone repaired to the dining room where a delicious repast awaited them.
 Mrs. Reeves and her efficient committee proved themselves artists in the culinary realm.
 After supper was over many took part in the contest, cities of the world given in apuzzle form, Supt. F. O.
 Boles winning highest honor.
 This was followed by a reading, C.
 L. Harless, Jr., giving, "when Earth's Last Picture is Painted," in his usual charming style, and delighting his audience as he always does.
 Then all formality was forgotten in a glad half hour of real Christian fellowship, when we bade each other good night, feeling that the evening had been profitably as well as pleasantly spent.—Reporter.

Pineapple to Start the Day

SUCCESS in life depends upon a clear, quick brain and the energy to use it. The ability to think clearly is governed largely by our health, and our health by what we eat. After a heavy breakfast, we are likely to feel stupid all morning, perhaps all day, and if this occurs often we get the reputation of being slow and stupid, and our advancement is equally slow. It pays to consider the menu of the morning meal: to eat those things which give buoyancy and a quick brain.
 Of all the energizing foods,
 pineapple is one of the most effective. A slice or two of pineapple the first thing in the morning, or a dish of crushed pineapple, or a drink of pineapple juice goes "to the spot," and sets one up for the day. There is a scientific reason for this: Pineapple contains mineral salts, an enzyme "bromelain" which acts as a digester of other foods, and also the three most important vitamins in large amounts.

Juice and Fruit Can Be Used
 The housewife who wishes to serve pineapple juice in the Hawaiian manner will find on pouring the juice from a large can of sliced pineapple that she has one large measuring cup full. From the number two size can of crushed pineapple she may drain three-quarters of a cup of juice. The juice may be drunk just as it is, from small wine glasses, or it may be diluted with water, and a little lemon or orange juice added.
 The sliced or crushed fruit may be used in any way that suits the housewife's whim. Perhaps she will save it for breakfast on the following morning, serving it alone at the beginning of the meal,
 or heated with a slice of bacon, or mixed in an omelet. Or she may make a jellied dessert with the crushed fruit, or put it into a cake or an icing, or into a fruit cup for dinner; or she may use either the sliced or the crushed fruit in a salad.

An Unusual Recipe
 This Pineapple Cream Custard will prove a delightful way to use the drained crushed fruit: Beat the yolks of the three eggs slightly, add one-third cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, and two cups hot milk. Cook in a double boiler until thickened, stirring constantly, and cool. Beat three egg whites stiff and add three tablespoons powdered sugar. Add three-fourths cup crushed Hawaiian pineapple to the cold custard and fold in one-half of the egg white mixture. Pour into the serving dish and spread the remainder of the whites over the top.

A student of home economics has calculated that dishwashing in an average family is equivalent to wiping as much space as a three-acre field.
 Proper scalding and a good dish drain-er saves this useless work and allows an average of 20 minutes a day of leisure for the housewife who follows
 the easier method.

Trees slightly damaged by field mice will usually recover soon if the injured parts are completely covered by mounding up soil around the bases or if paint or other material is used to prevent the wounds from drying out. When the injury is severe or the trees are entirely girdled, girdle grafting should be resorted to.

About Your Health
 Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

COMMITTING SUICIDE
 Any one who suddenly ends his life voluntarily, by his own act, is a suicide. I believe that one who ends or shortens his existence slowly —perhaps unconsciously — commits the same unwholesome deed.

I read somewhere that civilization has added seven hundred varieties of food to our overworked stomachs.
 Think of it, in the face of the fact that the human body needs actually only a half dozen! I feel sure that the seven hundred are only modifications, mixtures, and adulterations of the few food-stuffs required. In place of plain bread and water, fruits and meats, we are eating cereals, ferro-calcium, hashes and conglomera-tions, sugar-coated pyramids and highly seasoned, peppery and depurated appetizers, such weak destruction by slow but certain stages on the body that are, from hour to hour, stricken with them, suicide? I know of no better word to employ.
 Our advertising pages, woman's magazines and newspapers are flanning with colored illustrations of variegated, striped, and colored defor-mities of digestion. New recipes are almost daily added, that seem irresistible—as if plain, wholesome food were not inestimably better for sound sleep and good health! Our people consume tons and tons of sugar in myriad forms each year. Commercialism knows that the easiest route to the pocket-book is by way of the appetite.

There is no argument against that for long, healthy, comfortable life.
 Every octogenarian, even centenarian, is a living convincing witness for plain food, temperate living, and sound sleep. Every man that dies at fifty five of "heart failure," "cerebral hemorrhage" and "acute indigestion" is a terrible indictment of the gas-tronomic debauches of our people of today. Life is too precious to be frittered away by dissipation.
 If you want a good figure, healthy muscles, sound brain, and elastic step, cling to the simple diet and steady employment.

 ie?"

ARE WE DEMOCRATS AT ANY PRICE? BAPTIST PASTOR RAISES QUESTION

The South is astir, people are doing political shouting. The National Democratic convention is coming south—coming to the Lone Star State—this year! Hip, hurrah!

But what is the meaning of all this? Does it mean that the South is to be kajoled, blarneyed, and, if necessary, bullied into supporting Al Smith, and all that he stands for as President of our great nation?

It means that the political "leaders" (pie eaters would be a better word) of the Democratic party are willing to sacrifice everything that the great old organization and every true American patriot have held dear in the past—if only they can win.

It means to tie every clean, dry, patriotic Democrat to the wheels of the chariot of lawlessness, rump, and bolshevism.

It means that we loyal Americans will be asked to vote in such way as to begin the disintegration of every righteous thing in political life—things we have fought for and won in the last 50 years.

It means to vote to plunge our children and grandchildren into a welter of sin and reaction for which they will rise up and curse our memories for being fullgrown klots or cowards, or both. And all that in the name of the Democratic party!

In his quest for the presidency, Smith has come out a little farther. He says he is now in favor of the enforcement of the prohibition law and opposed to prohibition. He asks this question: "I would like to know why citizens have not a right to oppose prohibition?" Certainly they have such a right. Who has denied they have this right?

But we would also remind him that voters have a right to decide for themselves whether they will commit the enforcement of a law to a president who is opposed to that law.

W. M. U. MEETING

Circle No. 2 of the Baptist W. M. U. met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Wm Lowrimore, Mrs. Alex Reeves and Mrs. J. H. Lucas assisting.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather only a few members were present, but they enjoyed the afternoon sewing for the bazaar.

Dainty refreshments of peanut butter sandwiches, pear salad, cake and tea were served.

Circles No. 1 and 2 will meet jointly at the church next Tuesday Feb. 14 at 3:00 o'clock for Bible study and business meeting.

Let us again urge that each member make a special effort to attend these meetings.

These meetings are very helpful and mean to us just the amount of study and work we put into them, also keeping us in close touch with the work the W. M. U. is doing.

Let us have a good representation of both circles at this next meeting.

TO ORDER ONION SETS

A number of boys in the Vocational Agriculture Class are making up a large order for Crystal White Bermuda onion sets, because by buying these sets in large numbers they can be bought considerably cheaper.

The class has decided to make this a community proposition and give every one a chance to buy these plants at a nominal price.

Anyone who would like to place an order in with this class order, either give to any member of the Vocational Agriculture class or phone, write or see N. A. Donges, and give him your order. These sets are to be ordered from South Texas where hundreds of acres are devoted to raising and improving the Bermuda onion. They will be sold to you at cost to the class.

they should toward the support of the schools. In 1920 the State Government of Texas expended $2.65 per capita of all inhabitants in behalf of local education and a number of states noted for good schools spend much less. Texas has the largest permanent endowment for its public schools of any state. In 1926 it totaled $76,445,248 in bonds, notes and cash. In addition there were between 500,000 and 1,000,000 acres of unsold land valued at about $1,000,000 that was used for school funds.

Texas is one of the best agriculture states in the union. It has the widest diversity of soil and climate of any state. Practically anything can be grown in Texas. In the southern part citrus fruit groves have developed rapidly the last few years. There are now 30,000 or 40,000 acres in citrus fruit trees in the lower valley of the Rio Grande. Corn is grown more in than any other product except cotton. The corn acreage of Texas totals from 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 annually. Cotton is the principal product grown in Texas. It can be grown in most any part of Texas. There are numerous other products grown in Texas such as hygeria, wheat, rye, sugar cane, rice, pecans, potatoes, strawberries, and fruits of different kinds.

Texas has developed rapidly during recent years in manufacturing industries. The manufactured products of 1899 were $92,894,433 and for 1923 they were $979,192,057. Texas produces annually about 5,000,000 bales of cotton, 25,000,000 pounds of wool and 8,000,000 pounds of mohair. The canning, picking and preserving industry has increased rapidly. Some trading industries in Texas are: petroleum refining, printing and publishing, sugar refining, glass, lumber, brick and other clay products, cotton goods, paper, slaughtering, and meat packing, smelting, gypsum products, furniture and leather.

In the early '80's the average annual value of mineral productions in Texas was a little more than $1,000,000 and now the production is about $275,000,000.

KNOW TEXAS

By Dorothy Alford
Texas was discovered in 1542 and was admitted to the union in 1845. Since Texas was settled by white people it has developed rapidly. During the last four or five years West Texas has been settled and has developed wonderfully.
Texas is the largest state in the United States. It covers 265,896 square miles of grass area of which 262,398 square miles is land area. The climate of Texas varies greatly because of the large area that it covers.
Many of the states in the union were founded by adventurers seeking gold and silver, or refugees from justice and oppression, but Texas was founded by persons who desired to increase their knowledge. When Captain Alonso de Leon entered Texas he was met by a Texas chief who requested that the Spaniards send missionaries to Texas to instruct them.
In 1829 under a constitutional provision the Congress of Coahuila, Texas adopted a plan for free education in Texas. Although Texas existed under three national and state constitutions from 1824 to 1854 all the constitutions provided for systems of public instructions. Governor E. M. Pease with President Lamar, the most ardent pioneer supporter of public schools, succeeded in having $2,000,000 of the $10,000,000 received by Texas for sale of lands sold to the United States, set aside for a school fund.
Public schools in Texas are now financed by taxes paid by the land owners. The schools of Texas are very well organized, but Texas does not rank as high in education as she could. Texas ranks thirty-seventh, but the rank is based upon the expenditure of both state and local funds. The low rank of Texas is caused mainly by the failure of many local communities to contribute as much as

INFATUATIONS

Under the smooth and polite surface of the modern community, hot emotions are seething, and many of them threaten dangerous explosions.
Many men and women become possessed by irrational infatuations for persons of the opposite sex. Girls fall violently in love with vicious men won by the sweet and mannerly ways such fellows know how to assume in their company. And men will get infatuated with girls who will never give loyal devotion to any husband.
And if their friends argue with these folks, they angrily declare that these unworthy flames are paragons of excellence. Love is said to be blind. Oculists and opticians find it extremely difficult to fit him with spectacles.
Knowing folks say that the victims of these sentimental contagions need some new interest to divert their minds. The baby cries for the moon, but if you give him a powerful new tin horn, the moon ceases to be essential to his happiness.
Similarly many young people recovered from their attacks of calf love when they got interested in some new athletic sport, or obtained a new job that occupied their entire attention. It is claimed that young people can't help falling in love. But it is not to swim any deep rivers but you have learned how to keep

CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

By Lois Kirkpatrick
To an American citizen the Stars and stripes should be actually, as much a part of his religion as the Sermon on the Mount. It is essential for a man to go to the polls and vote as it is for him to go to the Lord's table on communion day. Everyone should consider his civic duty as important as his religious duty.
The American flag should not be hung on a lofty tower for special occasions, but it should be part of our sanctuary decoration.
The old Hebrew never considered patriotism less important than his church. The failing to realize the importance of our civic duty is an evil in the United States to day. This evil must be overcome.
It can only be overcome by the help of courageous men, men who will hold their standards high, and plunge into the heart of the struggle.
Ignorance can be accepted as an excuse in some cases, but for the most part it is only indifference on the part of men and women. This is especially true of the younger generation. Some say, when asked about voting, "oh one vote will not make much difference." We should be glad that we have a right to express our views in voting. If everyone has the same interest as I, what would our nation be?

A Non-Patented Face POWDER

The non-patented face powder put out by the J. T. Bellomy grist mill is rapidly becoming a popular favorite among the livestock of this community. Of course, it is principally designed for the inside of the face, but few of these creatures succeed in applying it their internal anatomy without also beautifully powdering their cheeks and noses.

That the daily application of this renowned powder has a penchant for distending the equatorial rotunda of all bovines, equines, hogs and chickens quines there can be no doubt. Their beautiful corporites sagastate in increased adipose tissue while their general pulchritude becomes more appealing to both owner and buyer.

In other words, any kind of feed ground and mixed at our mills becomes a balanced ration more appealing and more fattening and strengthening to all farm animals, but requiring much less in quantity, consequently a far cheaper feed than in its raw and natural state.

Our best recommendations are our numerous satisfied customers. Ask any who have patronized our mill, and you also will become a convinced and satisfied customer.
