Disaster Loans

The layman might think that the worst time to lend money to a farmer would be when his crop had been wiped out by a disaster such as flood, drouth, pr sudden plague. But the experience of bankers is exactly contrary to that notion. The banks take the position that if a man is a good farmer, has usually paid his bills and lived within his means, he is a good credit risk. And the banks have proved this theory time and again.

The Department of Commerce made a telegraphic survey of banks' capacities for making disaster loans as a result of the widespread drouth, and found that in all but a few areas, the banks are prepared to handle the emergency. Only where banks already have out on loan virtually all of their "free" cash will they be unable to meet the need for funds. There was no suggestion that the banks were unwilling to assume the risks.

While the Farmers Home Administration is prepared to back up loans when necessary, it is primarily local and regional bankers who will assume the job of preventing hardship among farmers and assuring their ability to get back into the production of needed foods and fibers. For it is the bankers who know the individual farmers, and the conditions under which they operate.

This is a prime example of decentralization as an effective force in the economy,

Increase of 18 Per Cent In Cancer Noted From Year 1938 Until 1948

James H. Bond, Regional Directorit, and Philadelphia. Comparawith headquarters in Dallas recent of the surveys followed studies ly announced that cancer incidence made ten years previously. A sumamong Dallas City and County residents increased 18 per cent from 1938 to 1948. During the same peried cancer mortality for all residents increased only 2 per cent; among men there was an 8 per cent increase and among women a 3 per cent decrease was noted. His announcement is based on a survey published recently by the National Cancer Institute of the Public Health Service, Federal Security

"The slight decrease in cancer mortality among women is in agreement with a national trend beginning about 1936," Dr. John R. Heller, National Cancer Institute director reports. "In the past 15 years and applied a wealth of knowledge about the diagnosis and treatment of cancer in its two most common forms among women-cancer of the breast and genital organs," Heller explained.

"The outlook for Dallas County women could be even brighter, since 1948 data show that only half of the breast cancers were discovered while still localized. As women and their physicians become more alert to the early signs of breast cancer, we can expect to find a larger number of breast cancers while they are still localized and when more cases can be cured," he said.

When all cancer sites are considered, 65 per cent of the cancer patients in Dallas County were diagnosed while the disease was still localized. However, when skin cancers are excluded from the total, only half of the remaining cancers were diagnosed while still localized. The importance of early clearly shown by the survey, for 93 per cent of these patients survived one year or longer. When ever, when the disease was discovered after remote metastasis had occurred.

Seventh in a series of ten surveys dealing with the nature and scope of the cancer problem in the United States, the Dallas survey was carried out with the cooperation of the Dallas Medical Society; the Dallas Hospital Council; and city, County and State health departments. Already published are the surveys dealing with the metropolitan areas of Atlanta, Chicago, Denver, New Orleans, Pittsburg, and San Francisco. Future publica-

THERE are a lot of signs to guide you to the best buy in automobiles.

Popularity is a good sign.

It means that a lot of people have tried a car and found it good. So it's important to know that Buick is today - and has been since 1938 - the most popular car outside the "low-priced three."

Room, comfort, power, ride are good signs.

So it's important to know that you can pay hundreds of dollars more and not beat the room and comfort you get in a Buick SPECIAL.

Nor, at the price, can you match its power. And only Buick gives you a real million dollar ride.

Doesn't all this give you a hint?

Doesn't it suggest that you ought to try out a Buick - sample its Fireball 8 Engine-find out how it takes you over the road - feel the sure control that is yours on curves-discover its "big car" room and smoothness?

Do that-and look at the dollars on price tag-and we know what you'll

If you can afford a new car, you can a Buick-and boy, what fun that will Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject change without notice.
