BANDEEN NAMED AS MANAGER W.T.C.C. DIRECTORS GIVEN

At an executive meeting of West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials held last Saturday at Stamford, D. A. Bandeen, for several years secretary of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce, was unanimously elected manager of the regional organization, and will assume his duties by the 15th of this month. His salary was fixed at $8,000 per year.

The directors appointed Judge Charles E. Combs, of Stamford, vice-president, a committee of one to make an appointment of a treasurer for the organization. H. J. Adair, of Wichita Falls, formerly manager of the Oil and Gas bureau of the chamber of commerce, and more recently solicitor, was detailed by manager Bandeen to take charge of the Stamford office until his arrival in the month.

The regional directors are Will O'Brien, of Amarillo, District 1; C. B. Jones, Spur, District 2; F. W. Kenner, Quanah, District 3; Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth, District 4; C. M. Adwell, Abilene, District 5; B. Rea, Big Springs, District 6; H. L. May, El Paso, District 7; John Quinn, Alpine, District 8; John Quinn, Winters, District 9; and W. Hallmark, Dublin, District 10.

Manager Bandeen is rated as a business man of the executive type and is well liked by all officials of the West Texas chamber. He is an authority on tax matters and went to El Paso 11 years ago at the request of business men to do special municipal taxation work. Soon afterward he became manager of the Chamber of Commerce there, which at that time was said to be $100,000 in debt. He leaves the organization with $20,000 in its treasury. He is a graduate of Johns Hopkins and Columbia Universities and has done special tax work with the Rockefeller Institution. Bandeen is married and has two children. The family will move to Littlefield at the end of the present term. He is a Rotarian and a member of the Presbyterian church. A meeting of the directors which was held at public, began at 11 o'clock and was concluded in the afternoon, after a luncheon given by the Stamford Chamber of Commerce in the Grand Inn. Col. R. L. Penick, of Littlefield, was master of ceremonies and the Rotary orchestra furnished the music.

FISHERMAN TELLS ANOTHER WORM TURNED

W. L. Hemphill, well known pisciculturist, hands the Leader the following and vouches for its authenticity. "I have discovered a new means of taking trout from the San Jacinto mountain stream. It has been discovered. It appears that two local fishermen having poor luck whipping the creek, when one suggested that they be soaked in some of the worms of them happened to be caught along. This was tried, and the first cast the rod bent double, and it took the combined efforts of the two sportsmen to land the prize.

It was discovered that the fish seized a big fish by the head and was choking it—Hemet News."

W. L. Hemphill says table scraps converted into many things. Insects are a source.

Marriage Illegal?

Irene Bordoni, noted singer, filed a countersuit for divorce against E. Ray Goets, proclaimed that she was never married to Mr. Goets as their marriage in Chicago in Oct., 1918, was illegal under the Illinois law specifying that a woman must allow an interval of six months before remarriage.

CEMETERY ASSOCIATION READY FOR LOT SELLING

Now that the proper blank deeds have been printed, the Littlefield Cemetery association is ready to issue title to lots in the local cemetery, according to Pat Boone, president.

It is desired that all persons now occupying lots with their deceased friends or relatives call at the office of the Secretary J. H. Lucas, and obtain proper title, while those desiring to purchase lots, will please do so at once, said Mr. Boone.

15,000,000 BALES COTTON CROP WAS THE GOV. FORECAST

A cotton crop of 15,000,000 bales was the forecast last Friday by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, against an estimate of 14,915,000 given out a month ago, when the condition of the crop was reported as being 55 per cent of normal. The cotton crop of 1928 was 14,478,000 bales.

The census bureau announced that 10,889, 134 running bales of cotton of the 1928 crop, including 368,751 round bales counted as half bales, had been ginned prior to Nov. 1.

To Nov. 1 last year, a total of 10,162,482 running bales, counting the round bales as half bales, had been ginned. In 1927 a total of 9,920,846 running bales, counting round bales as half bales, had been ginned prior to Nov. 1.

LAMB COUNTY 4-H BOYS WIN HONORS IN CHICAGO TRIP

Information has been received by County Agent D. A. Adam that two of Lamb County's 4-H Club boys have won a trip to the International Livestock exposition, at Chicago, as a result of the records they have made for the past year.

Forrest Weimhold, of Sudan, won one of the 19 trips offered by the Santa Fe railroad. He was carrying a poultry demonstration which consisted of raising baby chicks for breeding purposes, and showed a profit of $262.05 for his year's work.

Gus Clark, of Littlefield, won the only trip offered for Baby Beef feeding, which was given by Armour & Co. This is the only trip of this kind offered, and is quite a distinction to win it over the entire state. Gus fed a grade Hereford calf, on which he put 440 pounds of gain in 180 days, with a gain of 2.44 pounds per day, at a cost of 2.65c per pound. His net profit on the calf was $24.53.

These two boys leave here about Nov. 27th for Fort Worth, where they will meet all other boys going from Texas.

Lamb County is proud of these two boys for the records they have made, also, proud that two of the 21 trips in the entire state were brought to Lamb county.

4-H CLUB AT ANTON

Miss Marie Tarwater, Hockley home demonstration agent, has organized a 4-H club at Anton.

The following officers were elected: President, Marie Clark; Vice president, Marvis Gilbert; Secretary and Treasurer, Amy Walden; Reporter, Ora Webb.

The charter members are: Amy Walden, Ora Webb, Mavis Gilbert, Marie Clark, Ora Kennedy, Vivian Minton, Marie Allen, Louise Hancock, Nanette McGwen, Mary Emma Shockley, Jewell Webb, Ethey Write, Florence Pool, Gladys Graham, Bertha Higrove, Aileen Elles, Estelle Couch, Ieona Ellis, Vida Grace Morgan.

The first work of the club will be "clothing."

A GOOD WHEAT PROSPECT

The Hale Center American reports that even though the wheat crop last year was considered unusually good, the prospects for a bumper wheat crop are more promising now than for several years.

It is estimated that practically 95 per cent of the wheat has been sown and most of this is already up. The favorable weather which has prevailed in this section recently has brought this verdict of "perfect" from the wheat growers.

LIONS CLUB WAS ORGANIZED HERE; BRITAIN IS PRES.

Following a week's work by Commissioner Alva R. Willgus, of Fort Worth, an organization of the Lions club was affected in Littlefield last Friday night.

Officers were elected as follows: M. M. Brittain, president; C. J. Duggan, First Vice-president; Dr. T. B. Duke, Second Vice-president; C. O. Stone, Third Vice-president; Hugh Sullivan, sec.-Treas. Directors for years are C. C. Hammons and Dr. Robert M. Walthall; for one year, J. I. Griffin and J. D. Evins.

The present membership comprises C. J. Duggan, R. A. Johnson, Hugh Sullivan, Dr. R. M. Walthall, A. B. Johnson, C. O. Stone, J. D. Evins, Dr. Thos. B. Duke, M. M. Brittain, C. C. Hammons, R. A. DeLong, L. L. Wright, L. M. Ratliff, J. Spencer Ellis, Alvin Mueller.

The new organization composed of some of the leading citizens of Littlefield, is destined to start off under the most favorable auspices. It is understood that it will be under the guardian wing of the Lubbock club until its charter arrives, and the Lubbock Lions, headed by W. F. Drexler, president, will be here Friday night to put on a program.

W. M. U. MEETING

The First Baptist W. M. U. met, all circles together, in the home of Mrs. Acree Barton Monday afternoon.

Mrs. W. L. Jordan, Mrs. Wells Smith and Mrs. Lena Howard gave a very interesting program from "Royal Service," led by Mrs. Barton.

It was decided to send a barrel of cookies to Buckners' Orphan home for Thanksgiving.

Next Monday Circle 1 will meet with Mrs. Jordan, Circle 2 with Mrs. Jess Seale, Circle 3 with Mrs. Dr. Coen, in a personal service meeting.

At the end of the party, Mrs. Barton served chocolate and cake to the following: Mesdames Happy Jordan, J. Wells Smith, Jess Seale, J. R. Coen, Lena Howard, W. H. Badger, Ike Griffin, F. O. Boles, G. M. Fry, R. E. McCaskill and the hostess.

B. Y. P. U. GIVE PARTY

The Senior B. Y. P. U., of the Tabernacle Baptist church, gave a very nice play Sunday night.

It was original play written from the Bible by Rev. Roy A. Kemp, in which 10 characters took part. The title was "Lot and His Wife Move to Sodom."

It was reported well received.

FORMER SENATOR BLEDSOE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

W. H. Bledsoe, ex-senator of Lubbock, has stated that he will be a candidate for the democratic nomination of lieutenant-governor, according to announcement coming from Austin last Friday.

Senator Bledsoe served this district two terms in the state senate and announced his candidacy for the third term, but upon the announcement of Senator Pink L. Parrish, the present incumbent, withdrew.

SEVERE ATTACK OF WINTER WITH RAIN AND SNOW FALL

The most severe attack of winter felt in the South Plains country this winter visited Littlefield and surrounding section Friday night of last week. Throughout the day it was misting rain, turning into a steady slow downfall at dark. This, in turn, developed into sleet and snow, interspersed at various times by large quantities of small hail which, as one ex-soldier said, "reminded him of a battery of machine guns turned loose in the Argonne forest."

This combination of elements produced a road condition seldom witnessed in Lamb county. Some of the streets in Littlefield already made impassable because of preparation for paving, threw extra traffic on other streets in and out of town, which were very soon in an almost impassable condition. Cars sticking in the mud were the rule rather than the exception. Garagemen were busy throughout the day with wrecker service, while several team owners took their stations at particular spots to assist motorists through impassable places.

Accompanying the compound of elements, there was a distinct drop in temperature, many hydrants being frozen the following morning, while some who failed to drain their auto radiators paid the penalty of their neglect.

There is some reported damage to feed crops still left standing in the fields, but the wheat acreage and winter pasturage has been greatly benefited in this section. Cotton picking and ginning were slowed up for a few days, but by the first of the week local gins were again running full blast.

That the rain and snow was general throughout this portion of the state is indicated by reports coming in, the depth of snow being heavier north and northwest. At Amarillo the temperature is reported to have dropped to 26 above zero, while across the New Mexico line six inch snow was commonly reported.

FARM BUREAU GETS A 16 CENT LOAN OF GOVERNMENT BOARD

Members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association are happy this week as the result of an intercession of Governor Dan Moody in their behalf.

Following the action of Governor Dan Moody, a telegram was received by him last Friday from Secretary Christensen, of the Federal Farm Board, stating that as soon as the Texas Bureau met the requirements of the agricultural marketing act and made due application, the Board would give prompt attention. The telegram stated the Board had acted promptly on every cotton loan application, in some cases transmitting the funds by wire. The telegram added: "regrets that the Texas Farm Cotton association is not used more extensively by cotton growers, but is hopeful that cotton growers will patronize co-operative associations more in the future."

It is stated that this loan will enable the association to make advances to its members on the 16 cent per pound basis.

TURKEY RAISERS ARE AFTER PROTECTION FROM COYOTES

Coyotes are doing considerable damage to poultry, especially turkeys, according to County Agent D. A. Adam, who is making an effort to secure an appropriation from the Commissioners Court for their extermination.

Adams says that he has checked up on more than $500 damage that has been already done by these animals, one woman reporting more than $50 loss from this cause.

In the sand hill section south of Oton is said to be the source of the greatest loss.

E. M. SULLIVAN A LEADING CITIZEN OF FIELDTON DEAD

E. M. Sullivan, one of the most prominent citizens of the Fieldton community, following a week's illness from pneumonia, died Nov. 9th, the funeral service being conducted by Rev. Roy A. Kemp, of the Tabernacle Baptist church, this city.

Mr. Sullivan was noted as one of the leading and dependable citizens of the community in which he lived, giving freely of his time, money and influence for every good cause. He was active in building the community church of that center, and later contributed largely toward the erection of the modern school building of Fieldton. He was above everything a devoted Christian gentleman, loyal and patriotic to every endeavor for the benefit of his community and its people. Naturally of a cheerful disposition, the spirit of his home life was likewise reflected, and all who knew him or had business dealings with him never failed to appreciate his wholesome sterling character.

Mr. Sullivan was born April 27, 1880, at Sanger, Texas, and was 49 years and six months of age at his death. Embracing the Christian religion at the age of 22, he joined the Baptist church. He was married in 1900 to Miss Virginia Ann Mothershead, at Arlington, Texas, to which union there were four children born.

The deceased is survived by his wife and three daughters: Mrs. Arnett Scivally, Amherst; Mrs. Mittil Sullivan, Erick, Okla.; Miss Ruby Sullivan, Amherst; one son, Robert Arden Sullivan, Amherst; his aged father, J. D. Sullivan, Sanger; six brothers, Jim, Emery, Richard, Herbert, Claude, all of Sanger, W. J. Sullivan, of Hereford, and one sister, Mrs. Walter Caves, Minco, Okla.

LFD SQUAD TO PLAY LEVELLAND IN GAME HERE FRIDAY P. M.

The Littlefield High school football team played the Amherst High school team Monday Nov. 11 in a listless game, in which no players stood out specially, except Littlefield's substitute quarterback, C. L. Harless, who went into the game two times and drove his teammates over the goal each time for a touchdown. The other touchdown came after immediately after going in.

J. T. Allen intercepted a pass and ran 20 yards to go over the goal line. Littlefield converted all three trials for points into scores, and the final score was Littlefield 21, Amherst 0.

Levelland Game Friday
Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, on the local gridiron, Littlefield plays the big Levelland team in a conference game.

It will be remembered that Levelland held Littlefield to a 7-6 score four weeks ago, and other comparative scores rate them to have one of the best second division teams in District No. 2.

The local high school authorities urge a more representative attendance at their games.

PUBLICITY CLUB ORGANIZES

The Publicity club organized Nov. 11 for the purpose of putting the Littlefield schools on the map. The club will advertise effectively all events concerning school life. It will tell what the schools do; their every day programs; their dealings in all the walks of the life of a school student.

USE EGGS FREELY
IN FAMILY MENU

Makes for Good Nutrition as Well as Economy.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

With the hens of the United States laying at the rate of 45,000 eggs a minute, the nutrition specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say it makes for good nutrition as well as good economy to use eggs freely in the family menu. Nature has provided an unusually valuable combination of food elements within the shell of an egg. Because of the protein, minerals, and vitamins that eggs contain, they hold an especially high place in children's meals but they are equally good food for everybody. These workers in the bureau of home economics advise. Eggs may be served not only as eggs, they say, but in so many other appetizing ways that nobody need tire of them even in the season of greatest plenty.

"Eggs At Any Meal" is the title of a leaflet by Lucy Alexander and Fanny W. Yeatman recently issued by the Department of Agriculture. This outlines the principles of egg cookery and illustrates them with typical recipes. Slow cooking at moderate, even heat is the secret of success in cooking eggs, the leaflet says. For the familiar ways it gives times and temperatures required for best results. It describes favorite combinations with other foods and flavors, and gives exact directions for making flat or fluffy omelets and sweet or savory souffles. Recipes for fruit whips illustrate the leavening power of egg whites, and directions for making custards, sauces, and salad dressings show how to get the benefit of the thickening properties of yolks. Whether alone or mixed with other foods, eggs lose none of their high nutritive value if properly cooked and served.

For a free copy of this Leaflet 39-L, giving over twenty egg recipes, send to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Preserve Combination Has Delicious Flavor

One of the best combination preserves is made from strawberries with fresh pineapple. It is easy to make and has a fine and unusual flavor. Directions for making it are given by the bureau of home economics.

1 large fresh pineapple 2 quarts straw-berries
Sugar

Remove the skin and "eyes" from the pineapple and cut it into oblong pieces, and then into inch cubes. Discard the core. Measure or weigh the pineapple, add equal measure or weight of sugar, put the mixture into a large pan over low heat, stir until the sugar is melted, bring to a brisk boil, and cook for 10 minutes stirring constantly. Divide the smaller berries from the larger ones and to each lot add three-quarters of their measure or weight of sugar. Add the small berries and sugar to the cooked pineapple and cook for 10 minutes; then put in the larger berries and sugar. Cook this whole mixture for 30 to 35 minutes or until the jelly test is reached. Allow the jam to stand overnight in the saucepan in which cooked. In the morning reheat to the boiling point and pour into sterilized glasses. When cold cover the tops with paraffin, seal, label, and store in a cool, dry place.

HE TRIED TO LICK A COPI!
HAVE ANGEL FOOD
WHEN FOWLS LAY

Good Many Whites and No
Yolks Needed for Dish.

(Prepared by the United States Department
of Agriculture.)

The time to indulge a taste for angel food is of course in the spring when the hens begin to lay generously. Because a good many whites and no yolks are used in making angel cake or "food," most thrifty housekeepers make soft custard sauce from the yolks and either serve this on fruit, with the cake, or reserve it for another dessert. If one happens to be having simmered fish for dinner a good use for the yolks would be to make Hollandaise sauce. This sauce is also good with asparagus, which becomes available just about when eggs are abundant also. The bureau of home economics gives these directions for making angel food, laying considerable emphasis on cooking it in a cool oven.

Angel Food.
1 cup soft wheat flour 1 tsp. salt
1 cup egg whites (5 fairly large) 1 tsp. cream of tartar
1 to 1 1/2 cups sugar

Although angel food is one of the sponge cakes, as differentiated from cakes containing butter, it is mixed in a slightly different way than plain sponge cake. The sugar, flour, and half the salt are sifted together several times. The egg whites are beaten with the other half of the salt until they are frothy; then the cream of tartar is added and they are beaten until stiff. The dry ingredients are then folded carefully into the beaten egg whites, and when the mixture is partly blended the flavoring is added. Only the folding motion should be used in mixing, for stirring tends to release the air depending on the leavening. A smooth tube pan is best for baking angel food, and a fairly large cake will require about an hour in an oven at a temperature of 325 degrees F. It may be tested in the same way as any other cake, with a clean toothpick, straw, or fine knitting needle.

Mock Turkey Dinner

Equal weight of fresh pork and beef. Roast brown in covered roaster. Make a dry dressing of onion, boiled potato, raised bread, chopped together with chopping knife (not run through a meat grinder). Place dressing in pan about the meat one hour before serving. Have mashed Irish potatoes, baked sweet potatoes or Hubbard squash, baked apples, cabbage salad, cranberry sauce. Scald cranberries, drain, add one cupful of sugar to two of berries. Cover with boiling water, cook rapidly five minutes without stirring.

POULTRY

BATTLE WORMS AND DISEASES

"Wage War on Worms and Disease" is the slogan adopted by the poultry specialists of the New Jersey State Agricultural college, who suggest seven "words to the wise" in a campaign against disease in New Jersey.

"Hatch or Buy Chicks Early" is the first. Figures from the farm egg-laying contest for five years show that chicks hatched before May 15 produced 75 eggs the first six months from November to May, and those hatched after May 15 produced 68 eggs for the same period.

"Keep Brooder House Clean." The steps suggested for cleaning a brooder house thoroughly are: first, scrape the floor, thus removing all accumulated droppings and litter; second, sweep the ceiling, wall, and floor; third, scrub the floor, side walls, and window sills with hot lye solution; fourth, clean all brooding equipment; and fifth, after the house is dry spray with an approved disinfectant.

"Provide Clean Range or Close Confinement." By clean range is meant ground on which no chickens have been raised for at least a year and where no poultry manure has been scattered for at least two years.

"If room is so limited that clean range cannot be provided, close confinement is recommended.

"Keep Old and Young Stock Separate." Do not let the youngsters come in contact with the laying stock which may be carrying the germs of coccidiosis and roundworm while being apparently healthy.

"Build Screen Manure Pit." This will partially eliminate the common fly which is a fruitful source of worm infestation.

"Supply Wire Dropping Boards." As dropping boards furnish a good source of infection, these should be screened to prevent the birds from walking on the droppings. A half-inch mesh wire stretched tightly beneath the roost poles is recommended.

"Clean Dropping Boards Daily." From May to October, droppings should be cleaned from the boards and placed in the screen manure pit.

Gapeworm Pest Spread to Chicks by Turkeys

United States Department of Agriculture, in discussing gapeworms, points out that the two most important items in the control of this pest are, first, to keep the little chicks away from turkeys, and, second, to brood chicks only on clean ground. Turkeys may carry gapeworms at any age, the grown birds showing no evidence of their presence. The department reports that in most of the outbreaks investigated turkeys have been present on the infested farm.

Ground on which chicks have been raised before and on which mature poultry has ranged is almost certain to be infested with eggs of the roundworm and tapeworm, as well as the gapeworm. Hence the young chicks should by all means be put on clean ground each year. Plowing the lots is quite effective in breaking up parasite trouble.

Poultry Hints

Do not turn lights off too early in the spring.

Too much bulk cannot be handled by young chicks.

Early roosting keeps the chicks from crowding into the corners.

Fowls can be culled at night by use of flashlight with a blue-tinted bulb.

Do not stop feeding early and late in the day when lights are finally left out.

Giving the chicks some form of milk at the start stimulates their appetites and promotes growth.

A suitable mash, fed throughout the summer, balances the grain ration and keeps the chicks growing without any setbacks.

Any shelter that protects fowls from storms and severe weather is an incentive to egg production.

Sometimes (but not always) goslings will live and make some growth if compelled to rely on their own resources to get nourishment.

The extra expense for a double floor in the brooder house is a good investment. A warm and dry floor can be made by including a sub and top floor with a layer of tar paper between them.

Plymouth Rock hens with extremely small combs are apt to produce small eggs, it is claimed by breeders.

Removing the cockerels at broiler age gives the pullets more room to grow and develop. Birds of both sexes will grow better when separated.

During the muddy days of spring it will be well to keep the layers shut in the house during the forenoon to avoid tracking the nests with muddy feet and thus soil the eggs which discount them for market purposes.

Live Stock Items

Hogs are the only domestic animals raised for food alone.

Good feed allowed in liberal amounts aids the lambs to withstand stomach worms.

Many farmers have a good deal of difficulty getting the fall litters through the winter and often come through with a stunted, mangy, sorry outfit at best.

The symptoms of stomach worm disease in sheep can often be recognized by the languid, lazy walk; drooping ears; hanging head; emaciated body, and shaggy wool coat.

The feeding of tobacco, either in the feed or mixed with the salt, has proved ineffective against stomach worms.

The addition of alfalfa hay and linseed meal or buttermilk to yellow corn and tankage greatly improves the ration as a feed for pigs.

When sheep are kept on cultivated farm land, the hoofs grow out long and often crooked. Keep this horny growth trimmed down even with the bottom of the foot.

Texas ranks first in wool production in 1929, leading Montana by 10,000,000 and California by 15,000,000 pounds. Total Texas production including the fall clip, is estimated at 40,000,000 pounds out of a total American clip of 300,000,000.

Whitharral News

People are a little blue over the bad weather. Some have caught up with their cotton, while others have lots of cotton yet in the fields.

The Whitharral gin has ginned nearly 1,800 bales of cotton to date. Our school started again last Monday with a good attendance, following a dismissal of a month for cotton picking.

A new Delco lighting plant is being installed in the Whitharral school building.

There was to have been a box supper at the school house Friday night, but on account of the bad weather it was called off until a later date.

The one year old child of Mr. Hart's died at a Lubbock hospital last Sunday night. The funeral services were held the following Monday afternoon at the Whitharral cemetery, conducted by Rev. Sheppard, of Levelland. The parents were from Eastland county, coming here to pick cotton.

Miss Juanita Houk and Miss Grace Goodwin entertained their friends with a Hallowe'en party at the home of Juanita. The house was beautifully decorated in orange and black, with jack-o-lanterns, black cats, owls, etc. There were several games played and fortunes were told by an old witch. A prize was given to the best costume and mask. Refreshments time reported by all attending.

Mrs. Elton Houk left last Sunday for Hamlin, Jones Co. She received a message of the death of her sister's baby, infant of Mrs. Bert Fomby, it having died that morning.

Miss Lucile Alverson and Miss Jessie Henderson were in Levelland last Tuesday getting advertisements for the school paper.

Fred Newsome and family were in Lubbock shopping, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haines were in Lubbock, Saturday.

Chas. Houk and family went to Lubbock Saturday after their daughter, Miss Louise, to spend the week end at home.

Some of the Whitharral people attended the singing at Anton last Sunday.

There was a small crowd at Sunday school on account of the bad weather.

Would You Know One If You Saw It?

If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that these tiny germs can get into your blood streams through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers — washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone at

Tasty Snacks for Thriving Appetites

By CAROLINE B. KING
Culinary Expert and Lecturer on Domestic Science

NOT the least pleasurable part of a day out-doors is the thriving appetite that one takes home. Nothing tastes better after a morning at golf or on the woodpile, after a few sets of brisk tennis, a long hike or a motor trip, than some tasty, piquant tid bit.

It is on such occasions that culinary art most justifies itself, and with least effort. And on such occasions cheese, served merely as an appetizing extra or as the principal ingredient in the main dish, is one of the foods that recommend themselves to the discerning housewife. Incidentally, Switzerland cheese is one of the most valuable of all food products, for it is far richer in protein than eggs, or meat, and in that very important Vitamine A so essential to human well being. The old idea that cheese is not readily digestible is of course long since exploded.

The following hot luncheon dishes are easily and quickly made:

Toasted Frankfurters and Cheese: Skin the frankfurters, or better still, get the skinless frankfurters, and split them lengthwise. Slice Switzerland cheese thin, and lay on neatly trimmed slices of lightly buttered bread. Arrange the frankfurters on the cheese and place at the top of a very hot oven or under the broiler of the gas oven and leave until the bread browns, the sausages frizzle and the cheese melts slightly. Brush over with mustard and serve hot, garnished with pickles and olives.

Open Onion Sandwiches: Slice a medium sized onion very thin and pour boiling water over it. Let stand a few minutes, then drain and cover with cold water. Butter slices of rye bread, cover with shredded dried beef, then with the onion slices and top with Switzerland cheese sliced thin. Place in the oven until the meat begins to sizzle, then brush with mustard and serve with pickle relish.

Swiss Eggs: Butter individual baking dishes, and break an egg in each. Cover with a tablespoonful of cream, and add a pinch of chopped parsley and salt and pepper to taste. Bake in a hot oven till well puffed, then arrange thin strips of Switzerland cheese over the top, sprinkle with paprika and serve at once.

Switzerland Jelly Omelet: Break three eggs and beat yolks and whites separately. To the yolks add 2 tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and 1/4 teaspoonful of salt; also two tablespoonfuls of cold water. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites and pour into a hot omelet pan in which two tablespoonfuls of butter have been melted. Cook as usual, but just before folding arrange a layer of currant or other tart jelly and a layer of thickly sliced Switzerland cheese over one-half the omelet. Fold and serve at once.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lamb County—Greeting:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to summon C. W. Goodson and his wife Mrs. C. W. Goodson, and the unknown heirs of the said C. W. Goodson and wife Mrs. C. W. Goodson, or either of them, if they or either of them be deceased, and all persons owning, claiming or asserting any right, title or interest in and to the land and premises hereinafter described, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lamb County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Olton, Texas, on the second Monday in December, A. D. 1929, the same being the 9th day of December, A. D. 1929, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of November, A. D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 496, wherein L. S. Dewett and wife Kate Dewett are plaintiffs, and C. W. Goodson and wife Mrs. C. W. Goodson, and the unknown heirs of said parties, if they or either of them be deceased, and all persons owning, claiming or asserting any right, title or interest in and to the land and premises hereinafter described, are Defendants, and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action, being as follows:

Plaintiffs allege that they were on the 5th day of January, 1929, the owners in fee simple of all that certain lot, tract or parcel of land lying and being situated in Lamb County, Texas, and being Lot No. 7, in Block No. 34, in the town of Littlefield, Lamb County, Texas, as shown by the map or plat of said town recorded in Vol. 6, pages 500-502, Deed Records of Lamb County, Texas, and being a part of Labor No. 19, League No. 664, in said County; that on said day the defendants entered upon said premises and ejected the plaintiffs therefrom, and withhold possession to plaintiff's damages $600.00; that the reasonable rental value of said premises is $600.00 annually; that C. W. Goodson is the common source of title; that this action is brought as well to try title as for damages. Plaintiffs additionally plead that the said C. W. Goodson executed three notes to William Trondson in part payment for said property secured by deed of trust to Arthur P. Duggan trustee, providing that failure to pay either of said notes would mature all said notes, said notes being for the sum of $74.00; $100.00 and $100.00, respectively, dated January 12, 1914; that notes Nos. 1 and 2 were not paid and at the request of said Trondson the trustee sold said land and premises under said deed of trust on Apr. 6, 1925, after giving notice as required in said deed of trust, and same was sold to said Trondson to whom the trustee executed a deed and the said William Trondson became the holder and owner thereof in fee simple with title superior to that of defendants; that by mesne conveyances plaintiffs became the owners thereof with superior title to that of any of the defendants; that plaintiffs own, hold and claim said land and premises under the three, five and ten years statutes of limitation, alleging they have owned, held and claimed the same by actual, visible, notorious, exclusive, peaceable and adverse possession for a period of more than ten years; that they have held peaceable and adverse possession thereof and paid the taxes thereon for a period of more than five years under deeds duly registered and recorded; and that they have been in peaceable and adverse possession under title for a period of more than three years. That defendants claims cast a cloud on plaintiff's title.

Plaintiffs pray for citation, that defendants be divested of all right, title and interest in said land, and that title be vested in plaintiffs; that plaintiffs have judgment for title and possession and that writ of restitution issue; that the cloud on title be removed and plaintiffs title be quieted, and for costs of suit and general relief.

Herein Fail Not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Olton, Texas, On this 5th day of November, A. D. 1929.

Nature Thought of Everything

Nature thought of everything when the human body was made. When the body is about to become ill, nature planned danger signals to warn us. Thus, if our children grind their teeth when they sleep, or lack appetite, or suffer from abdominal pains, or itch about the nose and fingers, we should know that they may have contracted worms. Then, if we are wise, we buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and safely and surely expel the worms. Thus we avoid the danger of very serious trouble. White's Cream Vermifuge costs only 35c a bottle, and can be bought from Stokes-Alexander Drug Company

LET THE THERMOMETER DROP

... it's always summer for your car

Even on cold winter nights your motor starts "right now" when fueled with Phillips 66. Here's a gasoline with volatility controlled to fit the season and the climatic conditions of the locality in which you buy it. Combines, for the first time, instant cold weather starting and quick warm-up—flexibility at all engine speeds—mileage and power—at no extra cost. Put your car on super-performance rations; for best results try a full tank of Phillips 66 or 66 Ethyl.

CONTROLLED VOLATILITY

WHEN THE THERMOMETER GOES DOWN THE VOLATILITY GOES UP. Gasoline must vaporize before it can be fired in the cylinders of your motor. Volatility refers to the ability of gasoline to vaporize. With volatility controlled, Phillips 66 vaporizes as quickly in cold as in warm weather.

HEED THIS AND LIVE

Back a dozen years ago when the auto was considered a fair-weather vehicle, fit only for warm weather service, there was little need to issue warnings regarding its use during the winter months. The car owner simply jacked the four wheels off the floor set a couple of carpenter's "horses" under the axles—and forgot about it.

Today it's a different proposition. The auto is called upon to perform every month of the year, and for it there is no such thing as seasons. But the average motorist knows there are some things to guard against in winter, and that chief among these is the presence of monoxide gas. This the most deadly of gases, is not a hazard in warm weather, but ever-present during the winter months. Unlike natural gas, it has no odor. It cannot be detected by the eye. Yet it's so deadly that it can overcome a victim in a few seconds and produce death in a few minutes, or leave that victim in such condition as to permanently disable him.

Never start the motor in a closed garage on a cold day. Be sure the doors are open, that the fumes from the exhaust pipe—deadly monoxide fumes—may be dissolved by the fresh air. This is the only known means of avoiding death from this source, and one we trust every motorist in and around Littlefield will keep constantly in mind from now on until the return of spring. Medical science knows no cure for monoxide gas poisoning, and there is but one preventative—never start the motor on a cold day in a closed garage.

Germany has passed a law against suicide. The trouble is it's so hard to bring a fellow to trial after he kills himself.

ANOTHER ONE GONE

If medical men throughout the country have their way, still another one of our boyhood idols—the old oaken bucket—is doomed. Water from 312 dug wells was recently tested by the Missouri Board of Health. Of these, 282 were found to contain water unfit for human consumption. The person who maintains an old oaken bucket, declared the head of the health board, has used it to draw water from the well while chickens roosted over it, the kitten has fallen into it, the dog has sniffed about the curb, pigs have taken mud baths nearby and the drainage from the barn lot has seeped in. In a way he is right.

But the Littlefield man who recalls the joys that came from the cooling depths of the old oaken bucket can overlook all these things, and still be thankful he lived in a day when he was happy because he never heard of such things as a Board of Health. It's the generation that will have to do without the old oaken bucket that we feel sorry for.

When a man gets in jail he shouldn't kick about the grub. The jail never advertises for boarders.

NO TOWN ROWS

One thing we hope residents of Littlefield always keep in mind is the fact that a "town row," no matter what it starts over, is neither sensible nor justified.

When anybody takes their ideas too seriously and insists upon putting them ahead of the town's interests, a row is as certain to come as night is to follow day.

Nothing is going to come up, no matter how long we are here, that will justify a town row or that will be important enough to offset the bad results that follow it. There is just one thing that will prevent them, and that is for the people to be so interested in the welfare of their home town that they can forget themselves enough to co-operate with everybody else.

Co-operation is the one preventative for the town row, so common in American community life. And the more we see of the co-operative spirit in our own midst the surer we are that we are practically immune from town rows.

Isn't it too bad for our ancestors that they didn't live long enough to find out how smart we are?

TWO MEN ON A LOG

Two men sitting on a fallen tree deep in the woods and smoking their pipes, talked thing over in the quiet of a Sunday afternoon. One was the son of a poor Iowa blacksmith, the other the son of a poorer Scotch farmer.

They were the president of the United States and the prime minister of Great Britain, and the thing they were talking about was a plan to limit further waste of money by the two nations in building naval armament.

Out of this talk on a log in the Virginia hills will come a conference between the two great nations of the earth which promises to take millions and billions of taxes from the backs of the people of these nations, besides being a long step toward a real "peace on earth, good will toward men."

And all from an informal talk by two men sitting on a log and smoking their pipes in a woods down in old Virginia.

What this country needs is to beat their swords into plowshares and their jazz bands into insensibility.

LITTLE LEADERS

The Littlefield man who never speaks ill of women and religion may not own a dress suit and kid gloves but he's a gentleman just the same.

Littlefield boys soon learn they can fool all the people part of the time and part of the people all the time, but they can't fool a big sister any time.

We often wonder where some Littlefield people get the idea that an editor was put on earth for others to tell their troubles to.

Wonder what ever became of the old fashioned Littlefield man who had a pocket for his handkerchief in the tail of his coat?

Another reason for the alarming increase in unhappy marriages is that too many Littlefield girls marry before they are fully able to support a husband.

We understand there are still a few old-fashioned girls in Littlefield who sit on the floor when they put on their shoes and stockings.

We occasionally come across a father or mother in Littlefield who can remember the time when children actually obeyed their parents.

Tears sometimes improve a Littlefield woman's appearance—especially when she has just cried for a new winter coat—and got it.

Every now and then we run across a man who is well to do simply because he is hard to do.

One Texas pecan tree in San Saba County has yielded as high as 1,063 pounds of nuts in one season and has furnished 5,000,000 buds for improving other trees.

WHAT MIDAS MISSED

WHEN King Midas wished that everything he touched would turn to gold, and when he had his wish granted by a grateful god, he found himself in an unfortunate predicament. One can't eat gold, yet as soon as he touched food, it turned to the precious metal. Only by the most fervent prayers was the poor, rich king relieved of his predicament.

There was one thing that would have relieved the king's distress if he had only known of it—and that is the pineapple, which is already a fruit of gold, coming from the South Seas, where the molten golden sun seems to be caught and imprisoned in its depths. But King Midas didn't know about this, for it was not until hundreds of years later that the European discoverers of South America brought back slips of the fruit which was to become a symbol of hospitality and nobility.

Living Gold

Today we have no gods who give gifts of gold. But we do have our golden pineapples. And the modern woman knows ways of cooking it that would have made King Midas open his eyes. For instance, note the following recipes:

Pineapple Cake Glacé: Cream one-half cup fat, gradually adding one and one-half cups sugar. Add one well beaten egg. Sift two and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, and one-fourth teaspoon salt, and add to first mixture alternately with one cup cold water. Melt two tablespoons butter in an iron spider, and add one cup brown sugar, stirring until smooth. Spread with a layer of well-drained crushed Hawaiian pineapple, pour batter over this, and bake forty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Turn out on a plate, cool thoroughly, spread with whipped cream and serve.

Hard Sauce with Pineapple: Cream four tablespoons butter until soft, gradually add one cup powdered sugar, one teaspoon vanilla and one cup crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Beat until creamy, light and smooth, and chill before serving.

The Roly Poly Roll

Pineapple Roly Poly: Thoroughly drain the syrup from one cup crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Mix and sift two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Cut in two tablespoons butter and add three-fourths cup milk. Turn out on a well-floured board and roll out in oblong shape. Spread with the drained pineapple and sprinkle with one-half cup sugar which has been mixed with one-fourth teaspoon of nutmeg. Roll up like a jelly roll, pinching ends well together, place in a greased baking dish and put in a moderate oven. In the meantime add one-half cup sugar to the syrup drained from the pineapple and boil for five minutes. When the roll begins to brown, baste with a little of this syrup. Bake about thirty minutes and serve cut in slices with the remainder of the hot syrup as a sauce.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS

Kenneth Hemphill says the great American question now is: "When is the next installment due?"

It remains for Bill Chesher to declare that the wise husband remains dumb when his wife is speaking.

Clay Pumphrey says he has always thought that drinking bootleg whiskey was punishment enough in itself without the government making it a crime to buy it.

"This much we can always figure on," declares F. O. Boles. When old Mother Nature starts turning the leaves in the fall we know she isn't going to change her mind."

A Littlefield doctor last week called into a home where the husband had a bad case of the flu, told the wife that he must have absolute quiet "piss ay, 'sarpoad 3udaejs u s; azejH." "When do I give it to him," enquired the wife. "You don't give it to him," replied the doctor, "you take it yourself."

During a talkie picture at the Palace theatre a few nights ago, a Littlefield man was overheard to say: "I like the silent pictures better, because then one can watch a woman rave and not have to listen to a word she says."

At a local photographer's studio: "The photographers never do me justice," she said. Photographer—"You mean mercy, not justice."

"What I say to my wife goes," remarked a local garageman. "You don't say so," remarked a visitor. "Yep—it goes all over the neighborhood just like the Leader."

COLLEGE NEWS
 The Rural Economics class is starting to study the economic development of Denmark. It is a very interesting study, as Denmark is found to be one of the most highly co-operative nations of the world, and has been the first to adopt group marketing. One informal debate was given, with Miss Finney as instructor and director.

The history department has found a pleasant variety of study in both text books and current events from our weekly magazines. It is now occupied with colonial expansion and India and the new world.

We are studying heredity and environment in the educational development. Miss Warren and Miss Fisher, both members of this class, have been doing some practice teaching in the intermediate grades this week under the supervision of Miss Fields.

The Spanish classes are planning to organize a Spanish club soon. The English department is working hard on a mid-term theme, and at the same time preparing the regular recitations. Altho the work is hard, it is instructive and interesting under the instruction of Miss Simmons.

Jokes
 Miss Smith: "Do you know anything about Commercial Law?"
 Mr. Vaughn: "I heard Miss Robertson say it was horrible."

Miss Strange: "Can you spell?"
 Miss Simmons: "Ask the students."
 Alpha: "What do you think of college life, anyway?"
 Beta: "I like tennis better."

First Frosh: "I used to think—"
 Second Frosh: "What made you stop?"
 Purple: "Why weren't you here for class this morning?"
 White: "Gym kept me out late."

Librarian: "What are you looking for?"
 Mr. Vance: "The American Revolution."

R. O. Connor and family, of Dallas arrived Thursday afternoon last week, and intend to make their home here on the campus. The children will attend the school.

Pupils continue to enroll in the college. Joe Shelton, of Crews, entered as a Freshman last Wednesday. Edwin Brannon, of Winters, has recently taken up Sophomore work in the High school.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wood, of Bartow, are visiting on the campus. They are considering building on their 10 acre farm.

 Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jones, of Plainview, have moved into one of the cottages on the campus.
 H. L. Barton has just finished the construction of a garage on his lot in College Heights to be used as a residence until the construction of his dwelling in the spring.

JUNIOR STUDY CLUB
 The Junior Study club met Wednesday, Nov. 6, at the home of Miss Gladys Wales. The course of study for the year was discussed and the club decided to study Texas writers and their works.

Two new members were voted into the club, being Misses Green and Girlie Abernathy.
 Refreshments of date-nut pie with whipped cream and coffee were served the following:
 Misses Thelma Kilgough, Ruth Matthews, Ruth Courtney, Fanny Weaver, Gladys Porter, Lula Graham and Dahlia Hemphill, and Mrs. F. G. Sader, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be Nov. 20, with Miss Dahlia Hemphill.
METHODIST CHURCH
 On account of the absence of the pastor, Rev. Geo. Turrentine, who is attending annual conference this week, there will be no preaching service at this church next Sunday, but immediately following the Sunday school hour, the ladies of the missionary society will give a "week of prayer" program.

THIS IS SOME TOMATO CROP
 Up to Wednesday noon, J. E. Dickson, a Portales Valley farmer, had delivered to the Portales canning factory 90 tons of tomatoes from 10 acres of land. Mr. Dickson is not through gathering his tomatoes.
 Many Portales valley farmers have produced tomatoes in value of from $150 to $200 per acre this season.—Portales, (N. Mex.) News.

FRUIT PUNCH IS ALWAYS DELICIOUS
 Appropriate for Community
 Party of Any Kind.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
 A good strawberry punch, sufficient for serving 50 to 75 people, can be made in the following proportions, which are given by the bureau of home economics. A fruit drink or punch of some sort is often needed at the "strawberry festival" or sociable given by church or community organizations at this time of year. Strawberry punch would also be appropriate for a wedding or any sort of party.
 Some time before mixing the punch the ingredients should all be thoroughly chilled. The sweetening should always be in the form of a syrup made from the sugar and part of the water called for. It is better to keep the punch cold in a pan of cracked ice than to put a large lump of ice in it, as that gradually dilutes the punch and spoils the flavor.

Fruit Punch.
 3 dozen lemons 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/4 dozen oranges 3 cups sugar
 4 quarts strawberries 3 cups water
 2 No. 2 cans shredded Appol-ined pineapple 2 quarts Apollinaris or more
 1 quart freshly
 made strong tea
 Boil the sugar and water together to make a heavy syrup, and chill. Cut the large berries in thirds or halves and crush the remainder. Scrub the oranges and lemons, and after the juice is extracted, cover the skins with water, let them stand for an hour or longer, and then pour off this liquid and add it to the fruit juice. Combine all the ingredients and add chopped ice until thoroughly cold. Just before serving add the Apollinaris, and if the punch is too strong add ice water in small quantities until it is the flavor desired. This makes about five gallons of punch.

Texas expects to ship 5,000 cars of citrus fruit this year against 2,000 last year, with a shortage expected in other citrus areas by reason of freezes and the Mediterranean fly outbreak in Florida.

Putting Life Into Hatching Eggs Quite Important Factor of Success to Those in Chicken Business

Select breeders in the fall. Know which ones are going to keep and manage them so that they will produce plenty of hatchable eggs when you want them. From the very start to the very end, this article is filled with suggestions that should be helpful to any poultry raiser interested in getting more chick from every hatch.

In selecting breeders, the article points out that you should first feel satisfied with the production of your birds for the past season. If at all dissatisfied, you should go out and buy males or buy chick stock this coming spring. Stress is put on a high record back of the hen to be used as a breeder.

The head should be well proportioned and clean cut. The eye should be large, flashy and bright. Your best breeders will usually be your latest molters—and your rapid molters.

They seem to lay fight up to the cold October and November days, then drop all their feathers at once. The beak and shanks should be well bleached out in the yellow skin varieties. The birds should have a reasonably solid body fleshing, even at the end of a year's production. A bird too thin as she goes into molt will find it doubly hard to recover in time to be much good as a breeder.

A hen cannot be conditioned for a strenuous breeding season in a week or two any more than a cow can be fitted for the show ring in the same length of time. The hen's ability to throw livable chicks after her own kind is determined by the feeding management the three months previous to the breeding season. Give hens sufficient rest and feed them into good condition so they can put their vigor in hatching eggs.

Attention to these suggestions will eliminate your starting troubles this winter and cut down the wear and tear on your nerves, as well, said Mr. Arnold.

AGRICULTURE NOTES

By D. A. ADAM
Lamb County Farm Agent

During the past few days the County Agent has been receiving a number of reports as to coyote damage to poultry in Lamb county, and the reported: Martin White, 100 head; following are some of the losses reported: Mrs. Gregson, 50 per cent of her flock; Mrs. L. D. Bartlett, 100 head; Mrs. L. Y. Gameson, 50 head; J. M. Whitman, 100 head; and many others have been reported. One can see that such losses run into thousands of dollars in a very short time.

Vaccinate your poultry and worm them to control cold and roup. Those interested can get demonstration date from the County Agent.

Mrs. A. Clark is vaccinating her turkeys for roup. Mrs. Lenderson, of Sudan, wormed her entire flock of turkeys with the iodine solution.

Terracing schools will be held in this county under the direction of the county agent this winter, and those who are interested should get in touch with the county agent at once. The dates and farms on which terracing schools are to be held will be announced in the first week of Dec.

There is a terracing school to be held on the C. D. Nelson farm two and one half miles north of Anton, Nov. 22.

Nine-Tenths Preventable

Nine-tenths of all the diseases of the American people can be traced directly to constipation, doctors say. Constipation throws into the system poisons which taint and weaken every organ of the body and make them easy victims for any germs which attack them. Prevent constipation and you will avoid nine-tenths of all diseases, with their consequent pain and financial losses. Herbin, the good old vegetable cathartic, will prevent constipation in a natural, easy and pleasant way. Get a bottle today from Stokes-Alexander Drug Company

HARD STARTING OF CAR UNNECESSARY IF CONDITION O. K.

"To many automobile owners, cold weather driving and hard starting are synonymous," remarked Carl Arnold of the Bell-Gillette Chev. Co., start as easily in winter as in summer this week.

"It is true that an engine does not but a little care on part of the owner will go a long way toward minimizing the difficulty," he pointed out.

In considering the ease of the car that is difficult to start in cold weather, Mr. Arnold calls attention first to the rather obvious fact that an engine in good condition will perform its functions, including starting, more satisfactorily than one that is out of adjustment.

The principal parts which have a direct bearing on the starting of an engine are: battery, starting motor, carburetor, spark plugs, ignition system and valves.

As the efficiency of the battery is materially reduced in cold weather, it should be given great consideration. If the electrical system is weak, complete combustion cannot be obtained, therefore, before the start of winter, it is good preventive insurance to have some reputable electrical service station check over the battery, spark plugs and entire ignition system.

The starting motor very seldom causes trouble.

The carburetor must be adjusted properly for the winter and choke and throttle controls connected properly.

The spark plugs are equipped with two electrodes set in such a manner that the electric current must jump across a small gap from one to the other. In making this jump, a spark occurs. It is this spark that ignites the mixture of gasoline and air in the combustion chamber of the cylinder. The size of the gap between the electrodes affects the type of spark produced. It is therefore, important that this gap should be inspected for proper adjustment.

Obviously the spark plugs should be cleaned; and the terminals of the spark plug wires firmly attached. If the plugs have been in use 10,000 miles they should be replaced.

The ignition system, including all wiring and terminals should be checked at the beginning of winter, particular attention being paid the distributor timing and to condition of the contact points.

If the valves do not seat properly a leakage of compression occurs resulting in incomplete combustion which hinders starting and also tends to foul spark plugs.

For Much With All the Men Personal Appearance Counts

By S. W. STRAUS
Pres. American Thrift Society

The thrift of personal appearance is of more importance than at first may be realized. For instance, we are influenced in our judgement of others by appearance.

If a young man applies for a position, he is at a considerable disadvantage if he is slovenly attired or likewise if he is flashily dressed.

It is not so much the amount of money that is spent for clothes that counts, as it is the general impression of neatness, cleanliness, self-respect, success, ambition, and recognition of the opinion of others, given through the medium of one's apparel.

One of the outstanding characteristics of the miser is his slovenly, unkempt appearance. One of the predominant characteristics of the spendthrift is his tendency toward flashy clothes.

In this day and age no man especially the youthful one with his hopes and dreams of success can afford to neglect his personal appearance. Clothes do not make the man, but a good appearance is part of one's equipment for the battle of life.

Any movement now in progress which has for its object merely making people spend more money for clothes is economically unsound, but any educational movement which seeks to legitimately encourage sensible practices in these matters is worthy of praise.

It is good thrift to dress sensibly; money spent to present the individual at his or her best is not wasted.

This is the cotton pickers happy time.

The most traveled highway in Texas is that between Fort Worth and Dallas. A recent count showed 6,570 vehicles pass over it daily.

With development of the industry relatively new, Texas is fourth in gypsum production in the United States.

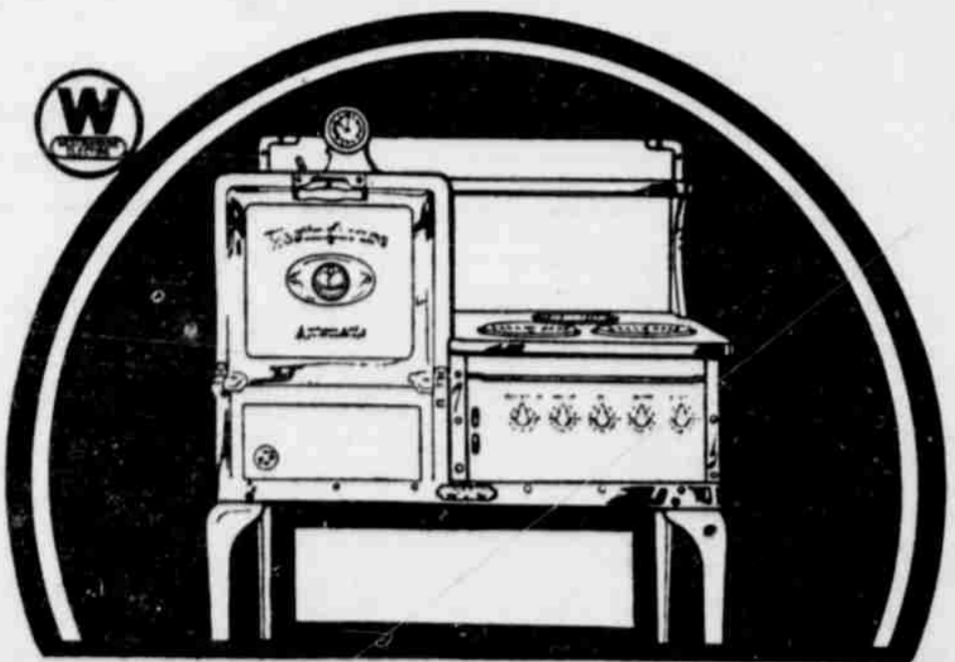

When arrested for burglary, Edward Mullinger of York, Eng., confessed that he had bound, gagged and robbed 11 women within a few months.

Although a Chicago judge admitted that Mrs. Ada Gorham was married to a "brute," he refused to grant her a divorce.

SELF-FEEDING OF SOWS AND PIGS

The practice of self-feeding sows and pigs during the suckling period can be safely and profitably followed by hog growers, according to M. W. Muldrow, Oklahoma College of Agriculture. Mr. Muldrow cites the results of experiments conducted by E. Z. Russel of the bureau of animal industry to determine the possibilities of using the self-feeder for sows and their pigs. Mr. Russel writes: "Close observation of the sows and pigs during these tests indicated that both sows and pigs using the self-feeder looked better and were more thrifty than sows and pigs hand-fed."

"A noticeable fact about the sows in the self-fed lots was that there never was any crowding at the feeders. Scarcely ever were there more than two or three sows eating at the same time, even when a dozen or more sows were being fed from one feeder. There was a striking difference in the quantities of feeds consumed in the various lots during the three years. The sows and pigs in the hand-fed lots consumed a much greater quantity of middlings than those in self-fed lots."

"The outstanding fact among the results of the experiment is that the feed cost per 100 pounds of gain was materially less in the self-fed lots than in the hand-fed lots. In the self-fed lots it required a total of 441.06 pounds of feed for 100 pounds of gain, whereas in the hand-fed lots 603.09 pounds were required. At the beginning of the test it was expected that the sows and pigs when placed on self-feeders would show better results so far as weight and condition were concerned, but it was not suspected that the result could be accomplished with less feed."

"Taking into consideration, as demonstrated by these facts, that sows and pigs on self-feeders may be carried through the suckling period with less feed per 100 pounds of gain and are in better condition at weaning time, and that it is possible to put the pigs on the market at an earlier age, together with saving of labor and feed, it seems conclusive that the practice of self-feeding sows and pigs during the suckling period is one that can be safely and profitably followed by hog producers."

Steers for Feeding Need Good Qualities

Steers for feeding must have beef characteristics fixed by beef ancestry. These may be obtained quite satisfactorily by continually using pure-bred bulls of the same type and breed.

The highest percentage of good cuts and the least waste in killing are the qualities desired in beef steers. In selecting feeders, however, a strong frame with plenty of room for vital organs, must be chosen, for the steer that would kill with least waste might not be strong enough to put on the greatest amount of flesh economically. A wide strong back, great heart girth, and smooth covering of flesh are essentials in a good feeder. The head is an excellent index of the power of a steer to make economical gains. A side view of the body from hocks and knees to back bone should show a well-filled rectangle. The general form should be compact and deep and broad. Short-legged animals are desirable. Good balance or proportion of parts is very important.

Cattle are classified by the purpose for which they are sold; and graded according to their fitness for that purpose. Feeders are usually bought at the big markets or from local buyers. High-priced land cannot be profitably used to raise steers. When to buy depends largely on the buyer's equipment, the amount and time he intends to feed, and on the condition of the steers.

Don't let the mail order houses deceive you.

SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF SALE THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF LAMB

Whereas, by virtue of a certain execution issued out of the County Court of Lamb County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said court on the 4th day of February, 1929, in favor of the said A. B. Shipley and against the said W. M. West and being No. 295 on the docket of said Court, I did, on the 25th day of October 1929, at 5 o'clock P. M. levy upon the following described tracts and parcels of land situated lying and being in the County of Lamb, State of Texas, and belonging to the said W. M. West to-wit:

The southeast one fourth of Lot No. 7, Block No. 7, of R. E. Cole Addition to the town of Littlefield, Lamb County, Texas, being a lot 62 1-2 feet wide running east and west, and 150 feet long running north and south. And on the 3rd day of December, 1929, being the first Tuesday of said month between the hours of ten o'clock and four o'clock P. M. on said day, at the court house door of said county, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all the right title and interest of the said W. M. West in and to said property. Dated at Olton, Texas this 25th day of October, 1929. LEN IRVIN, Sheriff of Lamb County, Texas. Oct. 31, Nov. 7, 14, 1929.

Texas stands eighth in production of electric power for the first six months of 1929 with an increase of 25 per cent over the same period in 1928, a rate of growth which promises to give it much higher ranking within the next few years.

15,000,000 BALES COTTON CROP WAS THE GOV. FORECAST

A cotton crop of 115,000,000 bales was the forecast last Friday by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, against an estimate of 14,915,000 given out a month ago, when the condition of the crop was reported as being 55 per cent of normal. The cotton crop of 1928 was 14,478,000 bales.

The census bureau announced that 10,889, 134 running bales of cotton of the 1928 crop, including 368,751 round bales counted as half bales, had been ginned prior to Nov. 1.

To Nov. 1 last year, a total of 10,162,482 running bales, counting the round bales as half bales, had been ginned. In 1927 a total of 9,920,846 running bales, counting round bales as half bales, had been ginned prior to Nov. 1.

LAMB COUNTY 4-H BOYS WIN HONORS IN CHICAGO TRIP

Information has been received by County Agent D. A. Adam that two of Lamb county's 4-H Club boys have won a trip to the International Live-stock exposition, at Chicago, as a result of the records they have made for the past year.

Forrest Weimhold, of Sudan, won one of the 19 trips offered by the Santa Fe railroad. He was carrying a poultry demonstration which consisted of raising baby chicks for breeding purposes, and showed a profit of $262.05 for his year's work.

Gus Clark, of Littlefield, won the only trip offered for Baby Beef feeding, which was given by Armour & Co. This is the only trip of this kind offered, and is quite a distinction to win it over the entire state. Gus fed a grade Hereford calf, on which he put 440 pounds of gain in 180 days, with a gain of 2.44 pounds per day, at a cost of 2.65c per pound. His net profit on the calf was $24.58.

These two boys leave here about Nov. 27th for Fort Worth, where they will meet all other boys going from Texas.

Lamb County is proud of these two boys for the records they have made, also, proud that two of the 21 trips in the entire state were brought to Lamb county.

FORMER SENATOR BLEDSOE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

W. H. Bledsoe, ex-senator of Lubbock, has stated that he will be a candidate for the democratic nomination of lieutenant-governor, according to announcement coming from Austin last Friday.

Senator Bledsoe served this district two terms in the state senate and announced his candidacy for the third term, but upon the announcement of Senator Pink L. Parrish, the present incumbent, withdrew.

SEVERE ATTACK OF WINTER WITH RAIN AND SNOW FALL

The most severe attack of winter felt in the South Plains country this winter visited Littlefield and surrounding section Friday night of last week. Throughout the day it was misting rain, turning into a steady snowfall at dark. This, in turn, developed into sleet and snow, interspersed at various times by large quantities of small hail which, as one ex-soldier said, "reminded him of a battery of machine guns turned loose in the Argonne forest."

This combination of elements produced a road condition seldom witnessed in Lamb county. Some of the streets in Littlefield already made impassable because of preparation for paving, threw extra traffic on other streets in and out of town, which were very soon in an almost impassable condition. Cars sticking in the mud were the rule rather than the exception. Garagemen were busy throughout the day with wrecker service, while several team owners took their stations at particular spots to assist motorists through impassable places.

FARM BUREAU GETS A 16 CENT LOAN OF GOVERNMENT BOARD

Members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association are happy this week as the result of an intercession of Governor Dan Moody in their behalf.

Following the action of Governor Dan Moody, a telegram was received by him last Friday from Secretary Christensen, of the Federal Farm Board, stating that as soon as the Texas Bureau met the requirements of the agricultural marketing act and made due application, the Board would give prompt attention. The telegram stated the Board had acted promptly on every cotton loan application, in some cases transmitting the funds by wire. The telegram added: "regrets that the Texas Farm Cotton association is not used more extensively by cotton growers, but is hopeful that cotton growers will patronize co-operative associations more in the future."

E. M. SULLIVAN A LEADING CITIZEN OF FIELDTON DEAD

E. M. Sullivan, one of the most prominent citizens of the Fieldton community, following a week's illness from pneumonia, died Nov. 9th, the funeral service being conducted by Rev. Roy A. Kemp, of the Tabernacle Baptist church, this city.

Mr. Sullivan was noted as one of the leading and dependable citizens of the community in which he lived, giving freely of his time, money and influence for every good cause. He was active in building the community church of that center, and later contributed largely toward the erection of the modern school building of Fieldton. He was above everything a devoted Christian gentleman, loyal and patriotic to every endeavor for the benefit of his community and its people. Naturally of a cheerful disposition, the spirit of his home life was likewise reflected, and all who knew him or had business dealings with him never failed to appreciate his wholesome sterling character.

Mr. Sullivan was born April 27, 1880, at Sanger, Texas, and was 49 years and six months of age at his death. Embracing the Christian religion at the age of 22, he joined the Baptist church. He was married in 1900 to Miss Virginia Ann Mothershead, at Arlington, Texas, to which union there were four children born.

The deceased is survived by his wife and three daughters: Mrs. Arnett Scivally, Amherst; Miss Mittil Sullivan, Erick, Okla.; Miss Ruby Sullivan, Amherst; one son, Robert Arden Sullivan, Amherst; his aged father, J. D. Sullivan, Sanger; six brothers, Jim, Emery, Richard, Herbert, Claude, all of Sanger, W. J. Sullivan, of Hereford, and one sister, Mrs. Walter Caves, Minco, Okla.

LFD SQUAD TO PLAY LEVELLAND IN GAME HERE FRIDAY P. M.

The Littlefield High school football team played the Amherst High school team Monday Nov. 11 in a listless game, in which no players stood out specially, except Littlefield's substitute quarterback, C. L. Harless, who went into the game two times and drove his teammates over the goal each time for a touchdown. The other touchdown came after immediately after going in.

J. T. Allen intercepted a pass and ran 20 yards to go over the goal line. Littlefield converted all three trials for points into scores, and the final score was Littlefield 21, Amherst 0.

"HOW'S YOUR FATHER, DEAR?"
"NOT SO GOOD!"
"THAT'S TOO BAD!"
"YES, HE DOESN'T SAY MUCH."

HE TRIED TO LICK A COPI!
USE EGGS FREELY IN FAMILY MENU
HAVE ANGEL FOOD WHEN FOWLS LAY

Makes for Good Nutrition as Well as Economy.
Good Many Whites and No Yolks Needed for Dish.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

With the hens of the United States laying at the rate of 45,000 eggs a minute, the nutrition specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say it makes for good nutrition as well as good economy to use eggs freely in the family menu. Nature has provided an unusually valuable combination of food elements within the shell of an egg. Because of the protein, minerals, and vitamins that eggs contain, they hold an especially high place in children's meals but they are equally good food for everybody, these workers in the bureau of home economics advise. Eggs may be served not only as eggs, they say, but in so many other appetizing ways that nobody need tire of them even in the season of greatest plenty.

"Eggs At Any Meal," is the title of a leaflet by Lucy Alexander and Fanny W. Yeatman recently issued by the Department of Agriculture. This outlines the principles of egg cooking and illustrates them with typical recipes. Slow cooking at moderate, even heat is the secret of success in cooking eggs, the leaflet says. For the familiar ways it gives times and temperatures required for best results. It describes favorite combinations with other foods and flavors, and gives exact directions for making flat or fluffy omelets and sweet or savory souffles. Recipes for fruit whips illustrate the leavening power of egg whites, and directions for making custards, sauces, and salad dressings show how to get the benefit of the thickening properties of yolks. Whether alone or mixed with other foods, eggs lose none of their high nutritive value if properly cooked and served.

For a free copy of this Leaflet 39-L, giving over twenty egg recipes, send to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Preserve Combination Has Delicious Flavor

One of the best combination preserves is made from strawberries with fresh pineapple. It is easy to make and has a fine and unusual flavor. Directions for making it are given by the bureau of home economics.

1 large fresh pineapple 2 quarts strawberries
Sugar

Remove the skin and "eyes" from the pineapple and cut it into oblong pieces, and then into inch cubes. Discard the core. Measure or weigh the pineapple, add equal measure or weight of sugar, put the mixture into a large pan over low heat, stir until the sugar is melted, bring to a brisk boil, and cook for 10 minutes stirring constantly. Divide the smaller berries from the larger ones and to each lot add three-quarters of their measure or weight of sugar. Add the small berries and sugar to the cooked pineapple and cook for 10 minutes; then put in the larger berries and sugar. Cook this whole mixture for 30 to 35 minutes or until the jelly test is reached. Allow the jam to stand overnight in the saucepan in which cooked. In the morning reheat to the boiling point and pour into sterilized glasses. When cool cover the tops with paraffin, seal, label, and store in a cool, dry place.

Blindfold Test

Of all the people sampling two ice creams, according to a display by the United States Department of Agriculture at the national dairy show at Memphis, 64.9 per cent preferred the one made with dry skim milk.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The time to indulge a taste for angel food is of course in the spring when the hens begin to lay generously. Because a good many whites and no yolks are used in making angel cake or "food," most thrifty housekeepers make soft custard sauce from the yolks and either serve this on fruit, with the cake, or reserve it for another dessert. If one happens to be having simmered fish for dinner a good use for the yolks would be to make Hollandaise sauce. This sauce is also good with asparagus, which becomes available just about when eggs are abundant also. The bureau of home economics gives these directions:

Preparing Eggs for Angel Food.

for making angel food, laying considerable emphasis on cooking it in a cool oven.

Angel Food.

1 cup soft wheat flour 1/2 tsp salt
1 cup egg whites (8 fairly large) 1 tsp. cream of tartar
1 to 1 1/2 cups sugar

Although angel food is one of the sponge cakes, as differentiated from cakes containing butter, it is mixed in a slightly different way than plain sponge cake. The sugar, flour, and half the salt are sifted together several times. The egg whites are beaten until stiff; then the cream of tartar is added and they are beaten until stiff. The dry ingredients are then folded carefully into the beaten egg whites, and when the mixture is partly blended the flavoring is added. Only the folding motion should be used in mixing; for stirring tends to release the air depending on the leavening. A smooth tube pan is best for baking angel food, and a fairly large cake will require about an hour in an oven at a temperature of 325 degrees F. It may be tested in the same way as any other cake, with a clean toothpick, straw, or fine knitting needle.

Mock Turkey Dinner

Equal weight of fresh pork and beef. Roast brown in covered roaster. Make a dry dressing of onion, boiled potato, raised bread, chopped together with chopping knife (not run through a meat grinder). Place dressing in pan about the meat one hour before serving. Have mashed Irish potatoes, baked sweet potatoes or Hubbard squash, baked apples, cabbage salad, cranberry sauce. Scald cranberries, drain, add one cupful of sugar to two of berries. Cover with boiling water, cook rapidly five minutes without stirring.

POULTRY

BATTLE WORMS AND DISEASES

"Wage War on Worms and Disease" is the slogan adopted by the poultry specialists of the New Jersey State Agricultural college, who suggest seven "words to the wise" in a campaign against disease in New Jersey.

"Hatch or Buy Chicks Early" is the first. Figures from the farm egg-laying contest for five years show that chicks hatched before May 15 produced 75 eggs the first six months from November to May, and those hatched after May 15 produced 62 eggs for the same period.

"Keep Brooder House Clean." The steps suggested for cleaning a brooder house thoroughly are: first, scrape the floor, thus removing all accumulated droppings and litter; second, sweep the ceiling, wall, and floor; third, scrub the floor, side walls, and window sills with hot lye solution; fourth, clean all brooding equipment; and fifth, after the house is dry spray with an approved disinfectant.

"Provide Clean Range or Close Confinement." By clean range is meant ground on which no chickens have been raised for at least a year and where no poultry manure has been scattered for at least two years.

"If room is so limited that clean range cannot be provided, close confinement is recommended.

"Keep Old and Young Stock Separate." Do not let the youngsters come in contact with the laying stock which may be carrying the germs of coccidiosis and roundworm while being apparently healthy.

"Build Screen Manure Pit." This will partially eliminate the common fly which is a fruitful source of worm infestation.

"Supply Wire Dropping Boards." As dropping boards furnish a good source of infection, these should be screened to prevent the birds from walking on the droppings. A half-inch mesh wire stretched tightly beneath the roost poles is recommended.

"Clean Dropping Boards Daily." From May to October, droppings should be cleaned from the boards and placed in the screen manure pit.

Gapeworm Pest Spread to Chicks by Turkeys

United States Department of Agriculture, in discussing gapeworms, points out that the two most important items in the control of this pest are, first, to keep the little chicks away from turkeys, and, second, to brood chicks only on clean ground. Turkeys may carry gapeworms at any age, the grown birds showing no evidence of their presence. The department reports that in most of the outbreaks investigated turkeys have been present on the infested farm.

Ground on which chicks have been raised before and on which mature poultry has ranged is almost certain to be infested with eggs of the roundworm and tapeworm, as well as the gapeworm. Hence the young chicks should by all means be put on clean ground each year. Plowing the lots is quite effective in breaking up parasite trouble.

Poultry Hints

Do not turn lights off too early in the spring.

Too much bulk cannot be handled by young chicks.

Early roosting keeps the chicks from crowding into the corners.

Fowls can be culled at night by use of flashlight with a blue-tinted bulb.

Do not stop feeding early and late in the day when lights are finally left out.

Giving the chicks some form of milk at the start stimulates their appetites and promotes growth.

A suitable mash, fed throughout the summer, balances the grain ration and keeps the chicks growing without any setbacks.

Any shelter that protects fowls from storms and severe weather is an incentive to egg production.

Sometimes (but not always) goslings will live and make some growth if compelled to rely on their own resources to get nourishment.

The extra expense for a double floor in the brooder house is a good investment. A warm and dry floor can be made by including a sub and top floor with a layer of tar paper between them.

Plymouth Rock hens with extremely small combs are apt to produce small eggs. It is claimed by breeders.

Removing the cockerels at broiler age gives the pullets more room to grow and develop. Birds of both sexes will grow better when separated.

During the muddy days of spring it will be well to keep the layers shut in the house during the forenoon to avoid tracking the nests with muddy feet and thus soil the eggs which do count them for market purposes.

Live Stock Items

Hogs are the only domestic animals raised for food alone.

Good feed allowed in liberal amounts aids the lambs to withstand stomach worms.

Many farmers have a good deal of difficulty getting the fall litters through the winter and often come through with a stunted, mangy, sorry outfit at best.

The symptoms of stomach worm disease in sheep can often be recognized by the languid, lazy walk; drooping ears; hanging head; emaciated body, and shaggy wool coat.

The feeding of tobacco, either in the feed or mixed with the salt, has proved ineffective against stomach worms.

The addition of alfalfa hay and linseed meal or buttermilk to yellow corn and tankage greatly improves the ration as a feed for pigs.

When sheep are kept on cultivated farm land, the hoofs grow out long and often crooked. Keep this horny growth trimmed down even with the bottom of the foot.

Texas ranks first in wool production in 1929, leading Montana by 10,000,000 and California by 15,000,000 pounds. Total Texas production including the fall clip, is estimated at 40,000,000 pounds out of a total American clip of 300,000,000.

Rev. J. A. Quail, of Stamford, Eng., invited the young people of his congregation to use the church as a courting place.

Walter Cowley of Keighlye, Eng., kissed a young woman three times without her consent and was fined $500.

Whitharral News

People are a little blue over the bad weather. Some have caught up with their cotton, while others have lots of cotton yet in the fields.

The Whitharral gin has ginned nearly 1,800 bales of cotton to date.

Our school started again last Monday with a good attendance, following a dismissal of a month for cotton picking.

A new Delco lighting plant is being installed in the Whitharral school building.

There was to have been a box supper at the school house Friday night, but on account of the bad weather it was called off until a later date.

The one year old child of Mr. Hart's died at a Lubbock hospital last Sunday night. The funeral services were held the following Monday afternoon at the Whitharral cemetery, conducted by Rev. Sheppard, of Levelland. The parents were from Eastland county, coming here to pick cotton.

Miss Juanita Houk and Miss Grace Goodwin entertained their friends with a Halloween party at the home of Juanita. The house was beautifully decorated in orange and black, with jack-o-lanterns, black cats, owls, etc. There were several games played and fortunes were told by an old witch. A prize was given to the best were served to about 35, and nice costume and mask. Refreshments time reported by all attending.

Mrs. Elton Houk left last Sunday for Hamlin, Jones Co. She received a message of the death of her sister's baby, infant of Mrs. Bert Fomby, it having died that morning.

Miss Lucile Alverson and Miss Jessie Henderson were in Levelland last Tuesday getting advertisements for the school paper.

Fred Newsome and family were in Lubbock shopping, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haines were in Lubbock, Saturday.

Chas. Houk and family went to Lubbock Saturday after their daughter, Miss Louise, to spend the week end at home.

Some of the Whitharral people attended the singing at Anton last Sunday.

There was a small crowd at Sunday school on account of the bad weather.

Would You Know One If You Saw It?

If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that these tiny germs can get into your blood stream through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers — washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone at

Tasty Snacks for Thriving Appetites

By CAROLINE B. KING
Culinary Expert and Lecturer on Domestic Science

NOT the least pleasurable part of a day outdoors is the thriving appetite that one takes home. Nothing tastes better after a morning at golf or on the woodpile, after a few sets of brisk tennis, a long hike or a motor trip, than some tasty, piquant tid bit.

It is on such occasions that culinary art most justifies itself, and with least effort. And on such occasions cheese, served merely as an appetizing extra or as the principal ingredient in the main dish, is one of the foods that recommend themselves to the discerning housewife. Incidentally, Switzerland cheese is one of the most valuable of all food products, for it is far richer in protein than eggs, or meat, and in that very important Vitamin A so essential to human well being. The old idea that cheese is not readily digestible is of course long since exploded.

The following hot luncheon dishes are easily and quickly made:
Toasted Frankfurters and Cheese: Skin the frankfurters, or better still, get the skinless frankfurters, and split them lengthwise. Slice Switzerland cheese thin, and lay on neatly trimmed slices of lightly buttered bread. Arrange the frankfurters on the cheese and place at the top of a very hot oven or under the broiler of the gas oven and bake until the bread browns, the sausage sizzles and the cheese melts slightly. Brush over with mustard and serve hot, garnished with pickles and olives.

Open Onion Sandwiches: Slice a medium sized onion very thin and pour boiling water over it. Let stand a few minutes, then drain and cover with cold water. Butter slices of rye bread, cover with shredded dried beef, then with the onion slices and top with Switzerland cheese sliced thin. Place in the oven until the meat begins to sizzle, then brush with mustard and serve with pickle relish.

Swiss Eggs: Butter individual baking dishes, and break an egg in each. Cover with a tablespoonful of cream, and add a pinch of chopped parsley and salt and pepper to taste. Bake in a hot oven till well puffed, then arrange thin strips of Switzerland cheese over the top, sprinkle with paprika and serve at once.

Switzerland Jelly Omelet: Break three eggs and beat yolks and whites separately. To the yolks add 2 tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and ¼ teaspoonful of salt; also two tablespoonfuls of cold water. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites and pour into a hot omelet pan in which two tablespoonfuls of butter have been melted. Cook as usual, but just before folding arrange a layer of currant or other tart jelly and a layer of thinly sliced Switzerland cheese over one-half the omelet. Fold and serve at once.

SOUTHWEST NEWS

The advantages of growing cotton of uniform staple, length and characteristics were stressed at a meeting recently held, and a committee from the Co-operative Gin & Supply Co. was appointed to select the type of seed to be planted.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lamb County—Greeting:
YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to summon C. W. Goodson and his wife Mrs. C. W. Goodson, and the unknown heirs of the said C. W. Goodson, or either of them, if they or either of them be deceased, and all persons owning, claiming or asserting any right, title or interest in and to the land and premises hereinafter described, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lamb County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Olton, Texas, on the second Monday in December A. D. 1929, the same being the 9th day of December, A. D. 1929, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of November A. D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 496, wherein L. S. Dewett and wife Kate Dewett are plaintiffs, and C. W. Goodson and wife Mrs. C. W. Goodson, and the unknown heirs of said parties, if they or either of them be deceased, and all persons owning, claiming or asserting any right, title or interest in and to the land and premises hereinafter described, are Defendants, and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action, being as follows:

Plaintiffs allege that they were on the 5th day of January, 1929, the owners in fee simple of all that certain lot, tract or parcel of land lying and being situated in Lamb County, Texas, and being Lot No. 7, in Block No. 34, in the town of Littlefield, Lamb County, Texas, as shown by the map or plat of said town recorded in Vol. 6, pages 500-502, Deed Records of Lamb County, Texas, and being a part of Labor No. 19, League No. 664, in said County; that on said day the defendants entered upon said premises and ejected the plaintiffs therefrom, and withold possession to plaintiff's damages $600.00; that the reasonable rental value of said premises is $600.00 annually; that C. W. Goodson is the common source of title; that this action is brought as well to try title as for damages. Plaintiffs additionally plead that the said C. W. Goodson executed three notes to William Trondson in part payment for said property secured by deed of trust to Arthur P. Duggan trustee, providing that failure to pay either of said notes would mature all said notes, said notes being for the sum of $74.00; $100.00 and $100.00, respectively, dated January 12, 1914; that notes Nos. 1 and 2 were not paid and at the request of said Trondson the trustee sold said land and premises under said deed of trust on Apr. 6, 1925, after giving notice as required in said deed of trust, and same was sold to said Trondson to whom the trustee executed a deed and the said William Trondson became the holder and owner thereof in fee simple with title superior to that of defendants; that by mesne conveyances plaintiffs became the owners thereof with superior title to that of any of the defendants; that plaintiffs own, hold and claim said land and premises under the three, five and ten years statutes of limitation, alleging they have owned, held and claimed the same by actual, visible, notorious, exclusive, peaceable and adverse possession for a period of more than ten years; that they have held peaceable and adverse possession thereof and paid the taxes thereon for a period of more than five years under deeds duly registered and recorded; and that they have been in peaceable and adverse possession under title for a period of more than three years. That defendants claims cast a cloud on plaintiff's title.

Plaintiffs pray for citation, that defendants be divested of all right, title and interest in said land, and that title be vested in plaintiffs; that plaintiffs have judgment for title and possession and that writ of restitution issue; that the cloud on title be removed and plaintiffs title be quieted, and for costs of suit and general relief.

Herein Fail Not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Olton, Texas, On this 5th day of November, A. D. 1929.

H. McGavock, Clerk, District Court, Lamb County, Texas.

Nature Thought of Everything

Nature thought of everything when the human body was made. When the body is about to become ill, nature planned danger signals to warn us. Thus, if our children grind their teeth when they sleep, or lack appetite, or suffer from abdominal pains, or itch about the nose and fingers, we should know that they may have contracted worms. Then, if we are wise, we buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and safely and surely expel the worms. Thus we avoid the danger of very serious trouble. White's Cream Vermifuge costs only 35c a bottle, and can be bought from Stokes-Alexander Drug Company

... it's always summer for your car

Even on cold winter nights your motor starts "right now" when fueled with Phillips 66. Here's a gasoline with volatility controlled to fit the season and the climatic conditions of the locality in which you buy it. Combines, for the first time, instant cold weather starting and quick warm-up—flexibility at all engine speeds—mileage and power—at no extra cost. Put your car on super-performance ratings; for best results try a full tank of Phillips 66 or 66 Ethyl.

CONTROLLED VOLATILITY

WHEN THE THERMOMETER GOES DOWN THE VOLATILITY GOES UP. Gasoline must vaporize before it can be fired in the cylinders of your motor. Volatility refers to the ability of gasoline to vaporize. With volatility controlled, Phillips 66 vaporizes as quickly in cold as in warm weather.

JESS. MITCHELL, Editor and Publisher

Subscribers who change their addresses, or fail to get their paper, should immediately notify this office, giving both new and old addresses. Communications of local interest are solicited. They should be briefly written, on only one side of the paper, and must reach this office not later than Wednesday noon of each week. The right of revision or rejection is reserved by the publisher.

Advertising that does not show in its text or typography that it is paid for must be marked as an advertisement. All local advertisements remain in this paper for the time specified or until ordered out. All notices, matters not by whom nor for what purpose, if the object is to raise money by admission fee or otherwise, is an advertisement and when sent in for publication must be paid for at the regular advertising rate per line for each issue printed.

Obituaries, cards of thanks, and resolutions of respect will also be charged for at the same rate.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the Littlefield Leader will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

In case of errors or omissions in local or other advertisements, the publisher does not hold himself liable for damage further than the amount received by him for such advertisement.

HEED THIS AND LIVE

Back a dozen years ago when the auto was considered a fair-weather vehicle, fit only for warm weather service, there was little need to issue warnings regarding its use during the winter months. The car owner simply jacked the four wheels off the floor set a couple of carpenter's "horses" under the axles—and forgot about it.

Today it's a different proposition. The auto is called upon to perform every month of the year, and for it there is no such thing as seasons. But the average motorist knows there are some things to guard against in winter, and that chief among these is the presence of monoxide gas. This the most deadly of gases, is not a hazard in warm weather, but ever-present during the winter months. Unlike natural gas, it has no odor. It cannot be detected by the eye. Yet it is so deadly that it can overcome a victim in a few seconds and produce death in a few minutes, or leave that victim in such condition as to permanently disable him.

Never start the motor in a closed garage on a cold day. Be sure the doors are open, that the fumes from the exhaust pipe—deadly monoxide fumes—may be dissolved by the fresh air. This is the only known means of avoiding death from this source, and one we trust every motorist in and around Littlefield will keep constantly in mind from now on until the return of spring. Medical science knows no cure for monoxide gas poisoning, and there is but one preventative—never start the motor on a cold day in a closed garage.

Germany has passed a law against suicide. The trouble is it's so hard to bring a fellow to trial after he kills himself.

ANOTHER ONE GONE

If medical men throughout the country have their way, still another one of our boyhood idols—the old oaken bucket—is doomed. Water from 312 dug wells was recently tested by the Missouri Board of Health. Of these, 282 were found to contain water unfit for human consumption.

The person who maintains an old oaken bucket, declared the head of the health board, has used it to draw water from the well while chickens roosted over it, the kitten has fallen into it, the dog has sniffed about the curb, pigs have taken mud baths nearby and the drainage from the barn lot has seeped in. In a way he is right.

But the Littlefield man who recalls the joys that came from the cooling depths of the old oaken bucket can overlook all these things, and still be thankful he lived in a day when he was happy because he never heard of such things as a Board of Health. It's the generation that will have to do without the old oaken bucket that we feel sorry for.

When a man gets in jail he shouldn't kick about the grub. The jail never advertises for boarders.

NO TOWN ROWS

One thing we hope residents of Littlefield always keep in mind is the fact that a "town row," no matter what it starts over, is neither sensible nor justified.

When anybody takes their ideas too seriously and insists upon putting them ahead of the town's interests, a row is as certain to come as night is to follow day.

Nothing is going to come up, no matter how long we are here, that will justify a town row or that will be important enough to offset the bad results that follow it. There is just one thing that will prevent them, and that is for the people to be so interested in the welfare of their home town that they can forget themselves enough to co-operate with everybody else.

Co-operation is the one preventative for the town row, so common in American community life. And the more we see of the co-operative spirit in our own midst the surer we are that we are practically immune from town rows.

Isn't it too bad for our ancestors that they didn't live long enough to find out how smart we are?

TWO MEN ON A LOG

Two men sitting on a fallen tree deep in the woods and smoking their pipes, talked thing over in the quiet of a Sunday afternoon. One was the son of a poor Iowa blacksmith, the other the son of a poorer Scotch farmer.

They were the president of the United States and the prime minister of Great Britain, and the thing they were talking about was a plan to limit further waste of money by the two nations in building naval armament.

Out of this talk on a log in the Virginia hills will come a conference between the two great nations of the earth which promises to take millions and billions of taxes from the backs of the people of these nations, besides being a long step toward a real "peace on earth, good will toward men."

And all from an informal talk by two men sitting on a log and smoking their pipes in a woods down in old Virginia.

What this country needs is to beat their swords into plowshares and their jazz bands into insensibility.

LITTLE LEADERS

The Littlefield man who never speaks ill of women and religion may not own a dress suit and kid gloves but he's a gentleman just the same.

Littlefield boys soon learn they can fool all the people part of the time and part of the people all the time, but they can't fool a big sister any time.

We often wonder where some Littlefield people get the idea that an editor was put on earth for others to tell their troubles to.

Wonder what ever became of the old fashioned Littlefield man who had a pocket for his handkerchief in the tail of his coat?

Another reason for the alarming increase in unhappy marriages is that too many Littlefield girls marry before they are fully able to support a husband.

We understand there are still a few old-fashioned girls in Littlefield who sit on the floor when they put on their shoes and stockings.

We occasionally come across a father or mother in Littlefield who can remember the time when children actually obeyed their parents.

Tears sometimes improve a Littlefield woman's appearance—especially when she has just cried for a new winter coat—and got it.

Every now and then we run across a man who is well to do simply because he is hard to do.

One Texas pecan tree in San Saba County has yielded as high as 1,063 pounds of nuts in one season and has furnished 5,000,000 buds for improving other trees.

WHAT MIDAS MISSED

WHEN King Midas wished that everything he touched would turn to gold, and when he had his wish granted by a grateful god, he found himself in an unfortunate predicament. One can't eat gold, yet as soon as he touched food, it turned to the precious metal. Only by the most fervent prayers was the poor, rich king relieved of his predicament.

There was one thing that would have relieved the king's distress if he had only known of it—and that is the pineapple, which is already a fruit of gold, coming from the South Seas, where the molten golden sun seems to be caught and imprisoned in its depths. But King Midas didn't know about this, for it was not until hundreds of years later that the European discoverers of South America brought back slips of the fruit which was to become a symbol of hospitality and nobility.

Living Gold

Today we have no gods who give gifts of gold. But we do have our golden pineapples. And the modern woman knows ways of cooking it that would have made King Midas open his eyes. For instance, note the following recipes:

Pineapple Cake Glacé: Cream one-half cup fat, gradually adding one and one-half cups sugar. Add one well beaten egg. Sift two and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, and one-fourth teaspoon salt, and add to first mixture alternately with one cup cold water. Melt two tablespoons butter in an iron spider, and add one cup brown sugar, stirring until smooth. Spread with a layer of well-drained crushed Hawaiian pineapple, pour batter over this, and bake forty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Turn out on a plate, cool thoroughly, spread with whipped cream and serve.

Hard Sauce with Pineapple: Cream four tablespoons butter until soft, gradually add one cup powdered sugar, one teaspoon vanilla and one cup crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Beat until creamy, light and smooth, and chill before serving.

The Roly Poly Roll

Pineapple Roly Poly: Thoroughly drain the syrup from one cup crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Mix and sift two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Cut in two tablespoons butter and add three-fourths cup milk. Turn out on a well-floured board and roll out in oblong shape. Spread with the drained pineapple and sprinkle with one-half cup sugar which has been mixed with one-fourth teaspoon of nutmeg. Roll up like a jelly roll, pinching ends well together, place in a greased baking dish and put in a moderate oven. In the meantime add one-half cup sugar to the syrup drained from the pineapple and boil for five minutes. When the roll begins to brown, baste with a little of this syrup. Bake about thirty minutes and serve cut in slices with the remainder of the hot syrup as a sauce.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS

Kenneth Hemphill says the great American question now is: "When is the next installment due?"

It remains for Bill Chesher to declare that the wise husband remains dumb when his wife is speaking.

Clay Pumphrey says he has always thought that drinking bootleg whiskey was punishment enough in itself without the government making it a crime to buy it.

"This much we can always figure on," declares F. O. Boles. When old Mother Nature starts turning the leaves in the fall we know she isn't going to change her mind."

A Littlefield doctor last week called into a home where the husband had a bad case of the flu, told the wife that he must have absolute quiet "pus oy, 'sopad zudoge v si eozh," "When do I give it to him," enquired the wife. "You don't give it to him," replied the doctor, "you take it yourself."

During a talkie picture at the Palace theatre a few nights ago, a Littlefield man was overheard to say: "I like the silent pictures better, because then one can watch a woman rave and not have to listen to a word she says."

At a local photographer's studio: "The photographers never do me justice," she said. Photographer—"You mean mercy, not justice."

"What I say to my wife goes," remarked a local garageman. "You don't say so," remarked a visitor. "Yep,—it goes all over the neighborhood just like the Leader."

Pep Paragraphs

The ladies of the Altar society will give a box supper at the school auditorium Thanksgiving night at 6:30 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to take part.

The primary room of the school has taken on added attractiveness by the addition of prett y window curtains, a lovely wicker fernery for which plants have been loaned by the parents, and a gay canary bird in a pretty cage. The children of this room are preparing a dramatization of the story of "Jack and the Bean Stalk," from an adaptation by their teacher, Miss Lupton. It will be given at the chapel program next Friday afternoon, at 3:15 o'clock.

The hail and snow of last Thursday put a stop to cotton picking until Monday. Some damage was done by the hail, but not as much as it would have done had the cotton been dry. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jungman and Mrs. Sparks went to Littlefield, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Murphey were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Denel, Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Keith went to Lubbock, Sunday.

The High school pupils conducted the chapel program last Friday. It was a belated Columbus Day program. Songs, readings and talks relating to Columbus were given. The co-operation shown by the pupils was commendable. Everyone in the room took part in it.

Current events period for Monday mornings has been inaugurated in the school, pupils from the seventh grade up taking part in it.

Only about half the cotton in this section has been gathered to date. During the inclement weather of the past two weeks, an exodus of cotton pickers took place. Others are badly needed to supply the deficiency.

Farm rate gains predicted from situation in Senate tariff fight.

COLLEGE NEWS

The Rural Economics class is starting to study the economic development of Denmark. It is a very interesting study, as Denmark is found to be one of the most highly co-operative nations of the world, and has been the first to adopt group marketing. One informal debate was given, with Miss Finney as instructor and director.

The history department has found a pleasant variety of study in both text books and current events from our weekly magazines. It is now occupied with colonial expansion and India and the new world.

We are studying heredity and environment in the educational development. Miss Warren and Miss Fisher, both members of this class, have been doing some practice teaching in the intermediate grades this week under the supervision of Miss Fields.

The Spanish classes are planning to organize a Spanish club soon. The English department is working hard on a mid-term theme, and at the same time preparing the regular recitations. Altho the work is hard, it is instructive and interesting under the instruction of Miss Simmons.

Jokes
Miss Smith: "Do you know anything about Commercial law?"
Mr. Vaughn: "I heard Miss Robertson say it was horrible."

Miss Strange: "Can you spell?"
Miss Simmons: "Ask the students."

R. O. Connor and family, of Dallas arrived Thursday afternoon last week, and intend to make their home here on the campus. The children will attend the school.

Pupils continue to enroll in the college. Joe Shelton, of Crews, entered as a Freshman last Wednesday. Edwin Brannon, of Winters, has recently taken up Sophomore work in the High School.
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wood, of Bartow, are visiting on the campus. They are considering building on their 10 acre farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jones, of Plainview, have moved into one of the cottages on the campus.
H. L. Barton has just finished the construction of a garage on his lot in College Heights to be used as a residence until the construction of his dwelling in the spring.

JUNIOR STUDY CLUB
The Junior Study club met Wednesday, Nov. 6, at the home of Miss Gladys Wales. The course of study for the year was discussed and the club decided to study Texas writers and their works.

Two new members were voted into the club, being Misses Green and Girlie Abernathy.

Refreshments of date-nut pie with whipped cream and coffee were served the following:
Misses Thelma Killough, Ruth Matthews, Ruth Courtney, Fanny Weaver, Gladys Porter, Lula Graham and Dahlia Hemphill, and Mrs. F. G. Sader, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be Nov. 20, with Miss Dahlia Hemphill.

METHODIST CHURCH
On account of the absence of the pastor, Rev. Geo. Turrentine, who is attending annual conference this week, there will be no preaching service at this church next Sunday, but immediately following the Sunday school hour, the ladies of the missionary society will give a "week of prayer" program.

FRUIT PUNCH IS ALWAYS DELICIOUS

Appropriate for Community Party of Any Kind.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A good strawberry punch, sufficient for serving 50 to 75 people, can be made in the following proportions, which are given by the bureau of home economics. A fruit drink or punch of some sort is often needed at the "strawberry festival" or sociable given by church or community organizations at this time of year. Strawberry punch would also be appropriate for a wedding or any sort of party. Some time before mixing the punch the ingredients should all be thoroughly chilled. The sweetening should always be in the form of a sirup made from the sugar and part of the water called for. It is better to keep the punch cold in a pan of cracked ice than to put a large lump of ice in it, as that gradually dilutes the punch and spoils the flavor.

Fruit Punch.

3 dozen lemons 1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/2 dozen oranges 3 cups sugar
4 quarts strawberries 4 cups water
2 No. 2 cans shredded apricots
1 pineapple 2 quarts Apollinaris or more
1 quart freshly made strong tea

Boil the sugar and water together to make a heavy sirup, and chill. Cut the large berries in thirds or halves and crush the remainder. Scrub the oranges and lemons, and after the juice is extracted, cover the skins with water, let them stand for an hour or longer, and then pour off this liquid and add it to the fruit juice. Combine all the ingredients and add chopped ice until thoroughly cold. Just before serving add the Apollinaris, and if the punch is too strong add ice water in small quantities until it is the flavor desired. This makes about five gallons of punch.

Texas expects to ship 5,000 cars of citrus fruit this year against 2,000 last year, with a shortage expected in other citrus areas by reason of freezes and the Mediterranean fly outbreak in Florida.

Putting Life Into Hatching Eggs Quite Important Factor of Success to Those in Chicken Business

Select breeders in the fall. Know which ones are going to keep and manage them so that they will produce plenty of hatchable eggs when you want them. From the very start to the very end, this article is filled with suggestions that should be helpful to any poultry raiser interested in getting more chick from every hatch.

In selecting breeders, the article points out that you should first feel satisfied with the production of your birds for the past season. If at all dissatisfied, you should go out and buy males or buy chick stock this coming spring. Stress is put on a high record back of the hen to be used as a breeder.

The head should be well proportioned and clean cut. The eye should be large, flashy and bright. Your best breeders will usually be your latest molters—and your rapid molters.

They seem to lay fight up to the cold October and November days, then drop all their feathers at once. The beak and shanks should be well bleached out in the yellow skin varieties. The birds should have a reasonably solid body fleshing, even at the end of a year's production. A bird too thin as she goes into molt will find it doubly hard to recover in time to be much good as a breeder.

A hen cannot be conditioned for a strenuous breeding season in a week or two any more than a cow can be fitted for the show ring in the same length of time. The hen's ability to throw livable chicks after her own kind is determined by the feeding management the three months previous to the breeding season. Give hens sufficient rest and feed them into good condition so they can put their vigor in hatching eggs.

HARD STARTING OF CAR UNNECESSARY IF CONDITION O. K.

"To many automobile owners, cold weather driving and hard starting are synonymous," remarked Carl Arnold of the Bell-Gillette Chev. Co., start as easily in winter as in summer this week.

"It is true that an engine does not but a little care on part of the owner will go a long way toward minimizing the difficulty," he pointed out.

In considering the case of the car that is difficult to start in cold weather, Mr. Arnold calls attention first to the rather obvious fact that an engine in good condition will perform its functions, including starting, more satisfactorily than one that is out of adjustment.

The principal parts which have a direct bearing on the starting of an engine are: battery, starting motor, carburetor, spark plugs, ignition system and valves.

As the efficiency of the battery is materially reduced in cold weather, it should be given great consideration. If the electrical system is weak, complete combustion cannot be obtained, therefore, before the start of winter, it is good preventive insurance to have some reputable electrical service station check over the battery, spark plugs and entire ignition system.

The starting motor very seldom causes trouble.

The carburetor must be adjusted properly for the winter and choke and throttle controls connected properly.

The spark plugs are equipped with two electrodes set in such a manner that the electric current must jump across a small gap from one to the other. In making this jump, a spark occurs. It is this spark that ignites the mixture of gasoline and air in the combustion chamber of the cylinder. The size of the gap between the electrodes affects the type of spark produced. It is therefore, important that this gap should be inspected for proper adjustment.

Obviously the spark plugs should be cleaned; and the terminals of the spark plug wires firmly attached. If the plugs have been in use 10,000 miles they should be replaced.

The ignition system, including all wiring and terminals should be checked at the beginning of winter, particular attention being paid the distributor timing and to condition of the contact points.

If the valves do not seat properly a leakage of compression occurs resulting in incomplete combustion which hinders starting and also tends to foul spark plugs.

Attention to these suggestions will eliminate your starting troubles this winter and cut down the wear and tear on your nerves as well, said Mr. Arnold.

AGRICULTURE NOTES

By D. A. ADAM
Lamb County Farm Agent

During the past few days the County Agent has been receiving a number of reports as to coyote damage to poultry in Lamb county, and the reported: Martin White, 100 head; following are some of the losses reported: Mrs. L. D. Bartlett, 100 head; Mrs. L. Y. Gameson, 50 head; J. M. Whitman, 100 head; and many others have been reported. One can see that such losses run into thousands of dollars in a very short time.

Vaccinate your poultry and worm them to control cold and roup. Those interested can get demonstration date from the County Agent.

Mrs. A. Clark is vaccinating her turkeys for roup. Mrs. Lenderson, of Sudan, wormed her entire flock of turkeys with the iodine solution.

Terracing schools will be held in this county under the direction of the county agent this winter, and those who are interested should get in touch with the county agent at once. The dates and farms on which terracing schools are to be held will be announced in the first week of Dec.

There is a terracing school to be held on the C. D. Nelson farm two and one half miles north of Anton, Nov. 22.

Nine-Tenths Preventable
Nine-tenths of all the diseases of the American people can be traced directly to constipation, doctors say. Constipation throws into the system poisons which taint and weaken every organ of the body and make them easy victims for any germs which attack them. Prevent constipation and you will avoid nine-tenths of all diseases, with their consequent pain and financial losses. Herbine, the good old vegetable cathartic, will prevent constipation in a natural, easy and pleasant way. Get a bottle today from Stokes-Alexander Drug Company

For Much With All the Men Personal Appearance Counts

By S. W. STRAUS
Pres. American Thrift Society

The thrift of personal appearance is of more importance than at first may be realized. For instance, we are influenced in our judgement of others by appearance.

If a young man applies for a position, he is at a considerable disadvantage if he is slovenly attired or likewise if he is flashily dressed.

It is not so much the amount of money that is spent for clothes that counts, as it is the general impression of neatness, cleanliness, self-respect, success, ambition, and recognition of the opinion of others, given through the medium of one's apparel.

One of the outstanding characteristics of the miser is his slovenly, unkempt appearance. One of the predominating characteristics of the spendthrift is his tendency toward flashy clothes.

In this day and age no man especially the youthful one with his hopes and dreams of success can afford to neglect his personal appearance. Clothes do not make the man, but a good appearance is part of one's equipment for the battle of life.

Any movement now in progress which has for its object merely making people spend more money for clothes is economically unsound, but any educational movement which seeks to legitimately encourage sensible practices in these matters is worthy of praise.

It is good thrift to dress sensibly; money spent to present the individual at his or her best is not wasted.

This is the cotton pickers happy time.

The most traveled highway in Texas is that between Fort Worth and Dallas. A recent count showed 570 vehicles pass over it daily.

With development of the industry relatively new, Texas is fourth in gypsum production in the United States.

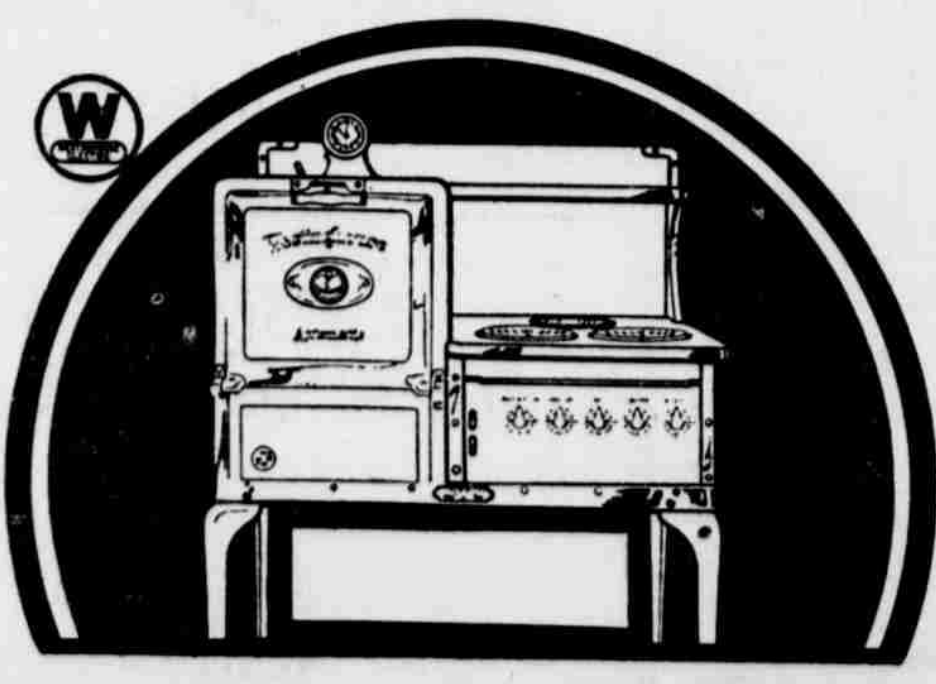

When arrested for burglary, Ward Mullinger of York, England, confessed that he had bound, gagged and robbed 11 women within a month.

Although a Chicago judge ruled that Mrs. Ada Gorham was entitled to a "brute," he refused to grant her a divorce.

Testifying in her divorce suit, Caroline Pelham of Chicago, said she was married last Christmas, but her husband was "an awful guy."

LIVE STOCK
SELF-FEEDING OF SOWS AND PIGS
 The practice of self-feeding sows and pigs during the suckling period can be safely and profitably followed by hog growers, according to M. W. Muldrow, Oklahoma College of Agriculture. Mr. Muldrow cites the results of experiments conducted by E. Z. Russel of the bureau of animal industry to determine the possibilities of using the self-feeder for sows and their pigs. Mr. Russel writes: "Close observation of the sows and pigs during these tests indicated that both sows and pigs using the self-feeder looked better and were more thrifty than sows and pigs hand-fed."
 "A noticeable fact about the sows in the self-fed lots was that there never was any crowding at the feeders. Scarcely ever were there more than two or three sows eating at the same time, even when a dozen or more sows were being fed from one feeder."
 "There was a striking difference in the quantities of feeds consumed in the various lots during the three years. The sows and pigs in the hand-fed lots consumed a much greater quantity of middlings than those in self-fed lots."
 "The outstanding fact among the results of the experiment is that the feed cost per 100 pounds of gain was materially less in the self-fed lots than in the hand-fed lots. In the self-fed lots it required a total of 441.06 pounds of feed for 100 pounds of gain, whereas in the hand-fed lots 603.09 pounds were required. At the beginning of the test it was expected that the sows and pigs when placed on self-feeders would show better results so far as weight and condition were concerned, but it was not suspected that the result could be accomplished with less feed."
 "Taking into consideration, as demonstrated by these facts, that sows and pigs on self-feeders may be carried through the suckling period with less feed per 100 pounds of gain and are in better condition at weaning time, and that it is possible to put the pigs on the market at an earlier age, together with saving of labor and feed, it seems conclusive that the practice of self-feeding sows and pigs during the suckling period is one that can be safely and profitably followed by hog producers."

Texas stands eighth in production of electric power for the first six months of 1929 with an increase of 25 per cent over the same period in 1928, a rate of growth which promises to give it much higher ranking within the next few years.

Steers for Feeding
Need Good Qualities
 Steers for feeding must have beef characteristics fixed by beef ancestry. These may be obtained quite satisfactorily by continually using pure-bred bulls of the same type and breed.
 The highest percentage of good cuts and the least waste in killing are the qualities desired in beef steers. In selecting feeders, however, a strong frame with plenty of room for vital organs, must be chosen, for the steer that would kill with least waste might not be strong enough to put on the greatest amount of flesh economically.
 A wide strong back, great heart girth, and smooth covering of flesh are essentials in a good feeder. The head is an excellent index of the power of a steer to make economical gains. A side view of the body from hocks and knees to back bone should show a well-filled rectangle. The general form should be compact and deep and broad. Short-legged animals are desirable. Good balance or proportion of parts is very important.
 Cattle are classified by the purpose for which they are sold; and graded according to their fitness for that purpose.
 Feeders are usually bought at the big markets or from local buyers. High-priced land cannot be profitably used to raise steers. When to buy depends largely on the buyer's equipment, the amount and time he intends to feed, and on the condition of the steers.
