RYMAN-EUBANKS

Dan Cupid scored his first for the month of June when he drew his bow, sending into the hearts of Miss Azman and Mr. Oliver Eubanks together in the holy ties. The ceremony was performed at 3:30 in the Baptist parsonage, Rev. Kemp performing the service in a pleasing and impressive manner. Dan is the son of R. Eubanks Lee, the bride the accompanier of Mr. and Mrs. J. Eubanks, of near Littlefield. The graduate of the Littlefield school and last year was one of the in the Whitharral public. The newly weds, will make a four miles northeast of Littlefield. Present to witness the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Berryman, Ruth Berryman, J. C. Eubanks, Kemp and Miss Jodie Lou.

LOCAL DELEGATES REPORT A ROUSING ROTARY MEETING

The regular meeting of the Littlefield Rotary club was postponed last Thursday on account of a large number attending the International Convention at Dallas. The following Rotarians attended and registered at the convention: J. S. Hilliard, R. E. McCaskill, F. G. Sadler, Mon D. Thaxton, H. B. Teal, Clyde Willis, Max L. McClure, C. C. Clements, T. S. Sales, Sam Romback, T. Wadsworth, John H. Arnett. All reported a wonderful time.

The convention was the greatest in the history of Rotary as regards the important matters which came up for attention, and the second largest in attendance, being surpassed only by the convention held at Detroit, Michigan, a year ago, when over 10,000 delegates registered, there being over 9,500 registered at Dallas. Rotary is now organized in 52 nations of the world and over 40 countries being represented in person at the Dallas convention and most of the other countries were represented by proxies.

The visitors were royally handled and entertained by Dallas and the state of Texas in general. On the closing day there were ten minute addresses made by the representatives of the foreign countries, including Japan, China, France, England, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Spain, Australia and several South American republics, many of which were very able addresses. The significant fact was that all the addresses but three were delivered in the English language. The address delivered by the Chinese representative was considered one of the outstanding speeches of the convention, being delivered by a young man who is not only a graduate from some of the Chinese colleges but also a graduate from the University of Michigan. He was also a member of one of the fraternities of that college. M. Eugene Newsome, of Durham, North Carolina, was elected president of Rotary International for the coming year.

MARRIED IN CALIFORNIA

GROWTH OF LITTLEFIELD REFLECTED IN INCREASED ACTIVITIES AND THE LARGER RELATIONS OF LOCAL BUSINESS

That the growth of Littlefield has been rapid in its nature during the past three months is clearly evident from a tour of inspection over the town and a conversation with some of its leading business interests. During the past month there have been issued at the City Hall, $28,000 in building permits. Plans are under way for the erection of a City hall, costing approximately $50,000.00, and other large brick buildings are being contemplated in the near future. A $10,000 paving bond issue is to be voted on by the citizenry within the coming three weeks, and that it will pass by large majority is well assured. This, with the money left over from the last paving issue of bonds will mean the construction of several thousand dollars worth of new street paving here during the coming summer months. During the past 90 days electrical service supplied by the Texas Utilities Co., has increased fully 10 per cent, while the State Telephone Co., here during this same period have installed nearly 100 new telephones, all of which is indicative of the constant and rapid growth of the city.

COMMERCIAL BODY SUBSCRIBES FOR A LFD. SCHOLARSHIP

There were 32 people to sit down at the Tuesday luncheon tables of the Chamber of Commerce. President Hilliard read a letter from the West Texas Gas Co., Amarillo, in which it stated representatives of that company would be in Littlefield during the coming two weeks to see about laying the gas lines for this city. He also read a letter from the Fort Worth Star Telegram stating their willingness to handle publicity stories from Littlefield, and commended Secretary Ratekin for the publicity he had been giving the city. E. C. Cundiff reported fine results from the Trades Day last Monday, and stated that already plans were being laid for an even greater event the next first Monday. F. G. Sadler reported work beginning Tuesday on the pep road by Commissioner Foust and on the road leading to Hale county line by Commissioner Strawn. R. E. McCaskill reported on the proposed new hotel, stating that if the present contractor failed to fulfill his part there were others waiting to carry on the project to completion. E. A. Bills reported a profitable meeting of his committee with the Directors of the Littlefield College, and stressed the value of co-operation among local citizens and the college personal. J. E. Brannen stated correspondence was being carried on regarding the locating of a cotton factory, a cotton seed mill and a cheese factory in Littlefield. R. O. Connor, business manager of Littlefield college commended the street paving movement of Littlefield and outlined a plan whereby property owners may secure additional paving on the installment plan. On motion by E. A. Bills a two year scholarship to the Littlefield

"HOT SHOT" MARRIAGES ARE TO END JUNE 12

"Hot Shot" marriages will be a thing of the past on and after June 12, when the new marriage law requiring that a three day notice be given in the State of Texas before the nuptial ceremony may be performed. Numerous reports of early June marriages indicate that many contracting couples will begin wedding before the new law takes effect.

LAMB COUNTY SHOWS A NORMAL RECORD OF HEALTH

That Lamb county has had a normal health record during the past five years is shown by statistical report from the State Department of Health, Austin, received this week by Mayor Otto Jones, of Littlefield. Certificates filed from this county during the past five years were as follows:

Year	Births	Deaths
1924	92	21
1925	130	25
1926	112	11
1927	149	35
1928	136	54

In every normal community there should be two or three deaths to each death, and among a balanced population there should be approximately 30 births and 15 deaths per 1,000 population per year. Littlefield and surrounding vicinity has always been proud of its health record, said Mr. Jones.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY

A man giving the name of "Smith," and said to be living in the Whitharral community, was arrested last Saturday by Officer Wynn on a charge of forgery, according to the arresting officer. Smith is alleged to have forged between 25 and 50 checks, ranging in sums from $1.00 to $12.00 each, signing the names of local people, including a number of Littlefield business men. He is out under bond pending appearance before the grand jury.

103,560 Baby Chix Hatched This Spring By a Local Concern

Hatching out and selling 103,560 baby chix in one season is no considerable chore, yet that is the accomplishment of the Plains Electric Hatchery in Littlefield this spring. During this early season, this concern has bought 83,614 eggs for hatching purposes, and in addition has hatched out 52,000 baby chix for its customers. Their season's business also embraces the selling of nearly $900 worth of brooders and other chix raising supplies, together with 987 sacks of prepared feed for baby chix. This all notwithstanding the fact that the concern was greatly handicapped during the early part of the hatching seasons because of unfavorable weather and difficulty in securing suitable eggs for hatching.

This hatchery has a capacity of 44,000 eggs, according to Manager Frank Lehman, and they expect to double that capacity for the coming year. This is the third year of operation in Littlefield, and it is the statement of Mr. Lehman that they could have sold three times the amount of chickens disposed of if they had them for their customers. Mr. Lehman is much interested in a poultry show to be held here during the fall.

EDITOR SPEAKS SUNDAY

Owing to the absence of Rev. George Turrentine, pastor, Methodist church, this city, Editor Jess Mitchell will speak at that church both morning and evening next Sunday. In the morning his subject will be "Selah," at evening, "Twentieth Century Pessimism." The public generally is invited to both these services.

BRITAIN'S CATS BEAT SOUTHLAND'S TEAM, 7-5, SUNDAY

Manager Jimmie Brittain and his Littlefield Cats journeyed to Southland last Sunday and reeled off nine innings of snappy base-ball with the fast Southland club. The game was fast and full of thrills from start to finish, and neither side could declare a victory until the final man was retired.

Alvin Mueller and P. S. Hanks formed the Littlefield battery, while the Gregory brothers started for Southland. After scoring two runs in the opening frame and filling the bases in the third inning with none out Bill Gregory the guest hurler, decided to allow Eddie Plank to take over the reins as a pitcher. He fared some better after three runs were added to the Littlefield score.

The Southland lads gave immediate pursuit and registered two in their half of the first, with a walk, two put outs and a four-base blow by Williams their second-base-man, who in attempting to dodge one of Al Mueller's fast ones, caught it off his ear and it sailed over the short left field fence. Again in the fifth they counted another, and in the seventh D. Gregory their catcher, lifted one over for the circuit with a man on base. This ended their run getting for the day.

To make sure of the day the Cats came back strong and chalked up two in the ninth, to wind up scoring for the day. Fox, Mick Ratliff and Stone accounted for the final scoring. P. S. Hanks led the home nine in hitting with three hits, two of which were doubles, D. Gregory was the big gun for the visitors.

For the benefit of local fans a game has been matched with the same two teams for next Sunday in the Littlefield park. If you wish to see two well matched teams in action, and a contest worth while you can't afford to miss this game. The Southlanders are out for revenge and the locals are determined to keep their slate clean, so be on hand and see the outcome. The game is called for 3:30 p. m. BOOST FOR THE CATS!

4-H CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY TRAINING AT TECH COLLEGE

County Agent Adam, accompanied by six 4-H club members of Lamb County, attended the regional stock judging training school put on by the county agents and the Department of Animal Husbandry of Tech., college, held in Lubbock, Monday and Tuesday of last week.

Those attending obtained much valuable information to them in their stock-judging to take place at A. & M. college during the July short course, according to Mr. Adam. Work in poultry, grain, dairy and beef cattle was given. Several counties were represented, and it was voted by the club members that this event would be repeated each year.

Those attending from Lamb County were: Edwin Holland, Fieldton, Leslie Hobgood, Spring Lake, Aaron Craig, Spring Lake, Forest Weimhold, Sudan and County Agent D. A. Adam. These boys are going into competition at the short course and try to bring the honors back to Lamb county.

CLIMBING THE LADDER OF LIFE

Valedictory Address delivered by Inez Wallace, graduating member Littlefield Grammar School, 1929.

"Climbing the ladder of life" is an old figure of speech, but it is just as potent and applicable in this present twentieth century as when it was first coined hundreds of years ago.

All true life is one of progress and growth; of going onward and upward. It is one of searching the inexplicable, conquering the mysterious, and overcoming the unknown. Essentially, it must be so that the innate yearning of human desires be calmed; for implanted within every human breast there is a virgin ambition that seeks satisfaction.

From the cradle to the grave life, truly lived, is a life of yearning and accomplishment. "Success" is but a word applied to its unfavorable results. Gazing longingly up the "ladder of life" will not surmount its apex. It is only when we put our hands to its parallel shafts and mount its height round by round that we gaze upon the altitude of its dizzy heights.

Seven, eight, nine years ago the members of this graduating class came to the foot of this ladder. Since that time we have been steadily climbing. First in the ladder was the Primary rung, now we have attained the rung of Grammar grades. Next will be that of High school and College, after which there will be many others to surmount before real success has been attained; for these are but the preparatory rungs of life, and, as the ladder reaches upward the rungs become narrower and closer together, as our ambitions are quickened and our accomplishments heightened. Enough to say that it is the desire of each and every member of this class to climb upward with unflinching reach until we have attained the topmost rung, when the valedictory of our efforts shall have been crowned with the salutatory of world's honors.

Not only has every true student an ambition, but there is within his or her breast a still small voice which guides and directs that ambition in its conquering way. Whatever we do, there is always something within us that approves or condemns our acts. If we obey our better nature, develop our talents, try to climb higher, endeavor to reach the maximum of our possibilities, this mysterious voice approves. It encourages, cheers and enthruses us, so that we are stimulated to go on no matter what obstacles stand in the way of our ascent.

On the other hand, should we go down the ladder instead of up, we are indulging the brute within us, obeying our lower impulses, and the voice within us condemns and protests against what we are doing. Try as we may, to stifle that silent yet valuable speaker, endeavor, as we may, to evade the eye of that something within us that looks accusingly at us when we fail to do our best, we cannot evade its condemning presence, and we can never achieve true happiness or attain real success so long as we act in opposition to it; for that still small voice is the divinity within us, the higher self struggling for expression.

Every person who has ever risen to greatness, or who has accomplished what others called "impossible" has done so by listening to the voice within, which continually urged him to climb. From Columbus to Peary, from Franklin to Edison, from Morse to Marconi, from Washington to Hoover, in every field of human achievement, it is the man who has obeyed the call to climb up higher who has done great things for the world. It didn't matter to them that others called them "fools, mad men and dreamers." It deterred them not to be ridiculed, mocked, or persecuted. They followed the voice within that said: "You can, you will," and so they each marked another step in the ladder of human progress up which the race is slowly climbing.

There is a way that marks the destiny of all—for rapture or despair; for eternal conquest or everlasting defeat. Time is a part of eternity, and the same immutable laws of progress or retardation govern both stages of our existence. What we are here we shall be in the hereafter, and the character of our future activity will depend upon its moulding in this present life. It is a trite yet truthful saying that "no one can be a real success until he enters into partnership with the Power that accomplishes all things." For real success in life means far more than the accumulation of wealth or the winning of worldly emoluments. There is that little voice within that must be satisfied, and it is only by expanding one's native virtues and developing one's given talents that we win the ultimate approval of the Divine, the world at large and the Voice within. Thus, with an aim and an ideal set high above and before us, keeping faith in an eternal partnership, obeying the sacred urge within, we, the members of this graduating class, have made a vow that we shall strive and serve until our sincere efforts shall win the laurel of self content and friendly honor and appreciation, which comes only to those who have been true to themselves and their fellow-kind.

When Abraham Lincoln was splitting rails in Illinois, when John Wanamaker was driving his first delivery wagon—a wheelbarrow—in the streets of Philadelphia, when Thomas A. Edison was selling newspapers on trains, when Alfred E. Smith was selling fish at the Fulton Street market, when Herbert Hoover was dragging a surveyor's chain across the barren wastes of California, they were all obeying that inner voice urging them on to the realization of their ideals, and every step they took led them up the "Ladder of Life" toward the peak of their ambition.

Never since the creation of the human race were there such marvelous visions of progress held out to the youth of our land as there are today. Never before were there such opportunities for the ambitious. My fellow classmates, I verily believe, it is possible for us to be what we want to be, if we want to be hard enough. That is the challenge I bring to you and me tonight. Scientists, inventors, discoverers, philosophers, writers, men of vision everywhere, are predicting such accomplishments in this century as will make those of the past century pale into comparative insignificance.

H. G. Wells, in his curiously speculative book, entitled "The Discovery of the Future," says "All this world is heavy with the promise of greater things, and a day will yet come, in the unending succession of days, when human beings shall stand upon this earth as one stands up on a footstool and shall laugh and reach out their hands amid the stars."

So, my fellow classmates, I come to tell you tonight, that the ladder of our ascent reaches to the stars, and our climbing may be limited only by our vision. If we give strict heed to the incontrovertible rules of moral athletics, abide by the immutable laws of procedure and never fail to listen to the warnings and urgings of that inner Voice, the way will be open to the realization of our vision, and our ascent up the ladder may be even to the topmost rung, where with our feet still on earth, our heads may soar amid the galaxies of other stars finding a place amid the blue zenith of world renown.

Yea, I would remind you in my closing thought, the developments of tomorrow may exceed our wildest dreams of today, for there is no name so secure in the Hall of Fame, no leader in any line of endeavor today, but who is not likely to be superseded by someone who is yet entirely unknown to fame. And, for ought I know in the years to come, that world favorite may tonight be a member of this graduating class. There may now be in this class some one member or more who shall break all previous records of the greatest merchant princes, or achieve honors in realms of science hitherto unknown.

My fellow classmates, this is my valedictory to you. Tonight we separate as members of the Grammar grade graduating class I trust to meet as freshmen in a higher class of learning where, stepping up to another rung of Life's Ladder we shall continue our preparation for the achievements that are before us.

PAINFUL INDIGESTION

"I suffered a good while before I found something that would help me," writes Mr. E. W. Berry, of Neosho, Mo. "My trouble was indigestion, pains in my chest and a tight, bloated feeling that would make me feel smothered."

"Speaking of this to a friend of mine, he told me that Black-Draught was good for this trouble. I went over bought a package. It certainly did help me, so I continued to use it."

"I am in the transfer business, and sometimes when I would be hungry and ready to eat, I would have a call and would have to eat later. Then I would eat too much or too hurriedly. This would cause indigestion. After I started using Black-Draught, I found it did me a world of good. It is splendid for biliousness and stomach troubles."

LAMB COUNTY LEADER

Published every Thursday afternoon at Littlefield, Texas.
 Subscription: $1.50 per year; 75 cents for six months.
 Advertising rates given upon application.

No. Entered as second class matter May 24, 1923, at the post office 27 at Littlefield, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1897.

JESS. MITCHELL, Editor and Publisher

Subscribers who change their addresses, or fail to get their paper, should immediately notify this office, giving both new and old addresses. Communications of local interest are solicited. They should be briefly written, on only one side of the paper, and must reach this office not later than Wednesday noon of each week. The right of revision or rejection is reserved by the publisher.

Advertising that does not show in its text or typography that it is paid for must be marked as an advertisement. All local advertisements remain in this paper for the time specified or until ordered out. All notices, it matters not by whom nor for what purpose, if the object is to raise money by admission fee or otherwise, is an advertisement and when sent in for publication must be paid for at the regular advertising rate per line for each issue printed.

Obituaries, cards of thanks, and resolutions of respect will also be charged for at the same rate.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the Littlefield Leader will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

In case of errors or omissions in local or other advertisements, the publisher does not hold himself liable for damage further than the amount received by him for such advertisement.

AN EXCELLENT MOVE

We see by press dispatches that a movement to clean up the "hot dog" stands and tourist camps along main-traveled highways is now getting under way. New York state is setting the example, but other states are expected to take immediate steps in the same direction and, according to the dispatches, it is hoped to have these eating and sleeping places on a much higher plane before the summer is over.

While we believe Littlefield motorists are usually careful of their health we cannot help but feel that right here, at the opening of the motoring season, is a good time to sound a warning against the unhealthy and unsanitary roadside stand. It doesn't pay to accept anything and everything offered as food simply because you are hungry. Neither is it safe to drink any kind of water because you are thirsty. You may be inconvenienced a little by having to hunt a clean place in which to eat, or a safe well or spring from which to drink, but you'll be far better off in the long-run.

Physicians all over the country are joining in the move to oust roadside stands that are only "out for the money" and that care nothing for the health of the traveler, and our own people can aid by refusing to patronize uninviting places when they are traveling in strange territory. There are enough ways to spread contagion during the hot months without helping unclean roadside stands to do so. Keep that in mind when you are traveling about in your car and thus protect yourself, your family and those who come in touch with you as you go along.

Someone has just discovered that man is the only animal that pats itself on the back.

COTTON AGAIN KING

Reports indicate that this is going to be the biggest cotton year since before the war; every indication confirms the statement. Cotton will be king again and rule over the entire world of fashion this summer; even Paris said to be showing cotton in preference to other fabrics now. For everything from hats to shoes, cotton is now being advocated and used, and most summer wardrobes now bear the sanction of Dame Fashion and utilize cotton to some extent. It is even said that cottons are being used more than silks in the newest styles. The story of the cotton come-back proves that you can't down a good thing. Experience has proven the wonderful qualities of cotton as material for wearing apparel. It will always be popular, even though it may now and then suffer a temporary eclipse. So let's hail King Cotton.

Maybe it's just as well there was no baseball in Noah's time. Fancy having to play off so many double headers on account of rain.

FIXING THE BLAME

If more people are killed every year by autos—and they are—it's the fault of the drivers and not the machines. Autos are stronger, safer and stancher today than ever before, as well as more beautiful.

Most of the new models have fuller vision, some with "safety glass" windshields, all-steel bodies, ball-bearing spring shackles, light control on steering wheel in easy reach and fool-proof transmission. The result is fewer deaths from collisions and upsets in ditches. When fatalities occur they are usually due to speeding and not from loss of control or weakness in any part of the car's mechanism.

Automobiles used to burn with great regularity. Today one seldom sees one on fire and then usually it is an old model. Non-shatterable glass is another great improvement. When accidents occur passengers and driver are not cut and injured by flying fragments. Steel bodies complete the safety effort of auto designers and makers. Cars now can and do turn over and land wrong side up, but people are not crushed as they once were.

The automobile of today is a vehicle that can be used safely by any person competent to drive, providing driving is done with judgment and discretion. Fully 80 percent of all accidents reported around Littlefield could have been avoided. So it's up to our drivers to put the finishing touch on the safety picture. They can do so by using consideration, courtesy and co-operation in liberal quantities.

From appearances, the Anti-Saloon League is trying to make Washington City as dry as the Congressional Record.

THE "THUMB-JERKER"

We've called attention to the fact that the "hobo" no longer walks the ties or rides the bumpers, but now travels in an old flivver and forages off of rural residents. We've pointed him out as a nuisance and cautioned residents around Littlefield to be on their guard.

Now we want to call the attention of our motoring friends to the fact that the season of "hitch-hiking" is again here and warn them to be careful of how they pick up "thumb-jerkers" along the highways. The danger in picking up a stranger is great enough to warrant refusing all requests for free rides, even though it may work a hardship on the honest travelers, of which there are many left. But there's no way of knowing in advance whether the "thumb-jerker" you pick up is going to turn out to be a gentleman or a bandit. You take a long chance, therefore, when you take one into your car, and especially since you must keep your hands on the steering wheel and are unable to protect yourself in an emergency.

There's an old maxim in this country to the effect that "self-preservation is nature's first law." This day in time, with crime rampant and not confined to any particular section, one cannot be too careful in cultivating strangers. Your own safety comes first, however, and you owe it to yourself to keep that in mind. It's better to refuse rides to a dozen "thumb-jerkers" and be safe than to pick up one of the bandit type and be sorry.

LITTLE LEADERS

There are a lot of girls around Littlefield who would go through anything for a man—especially his bank-roll.

Every now and then some young fellow around Littlefield discovers that the corkscrew wasn't invented to pull a fellow out of trouble.

Some Littlefield men are so hard up for a topic of conversation that they'll spend an hour telling how their wives cook turnip greens.

Some Littlefield men imagine they can make more money in another town but when they get there they find the scramble for the dollar is as great one place as another.

When a Littlefield woman goes in to get a pair of shoes and tells the clerk she wants "any size so long as they are comfortable," she is past the fifty-year mark.

Open and above board is the only way to transact business in Littlefield. When tax-payers get an idea they are being gypped or duped they are likely to start a civil war, and can't be blamed.

Growing chicks need calcium phosphate in addition to the grain ration. This can be supplied by adding to the ration small quantities of ground steamed bone meal and ground limestone.

For nine years Texas has led all the states in the union in value of farm crops and there is not even a remote prospect that it will ever lose its place at the top of the list.

This Week's Poem

HIAWATHA MODERNIZED

By the shores of Cuticura,
 By the sparkling Pluto Water
 Lived the Prophylactic Chiclet, Dandergine, fair Buick's daughter.
 She was loved by Instant Postum,
 Son of Camels and Vietrola;
 Of the tribe of Coca-Cola.
 Hair apparent to the Mazda;
 Through the Shredded Wheat they wandered Through the darkness strolled the lovers,
 Lovely little Wrigley Chiclet;
 Washed by Fairy, fed by Postum,
 No pyrene can quench the fire,
 Nor an aspirin still the heartache,
 Oh my Prest-O-Lite desire;
 Let us marry, little Djer-Kiss.

BOB BURDETTE TO HIS SON

My son, remember you have to work. Whether you handle a pick or shovel or a set of books, digging ditches or editing a newspaper, ringing an auction bell or writing funny things, you must work. Don't be afraid of killing yourself by overworking on the sunny side of thirty. Men die sometimes, but it is because they quit at nine p. m. and don't go to bed till two a. m. It is the interval that kills, my son. The work gives you an appetite for your meals; it lends serenity to your slumber; it gives you a perfect appreciation of a holiday. There are young men who do not work, but the country is not proud of them. It does not even know their names; it only speaks of them as Old So-and-So's boys. Nobody likes them; the great, busy world does not know they are here. So, find out what you want to be and do. Take off your coat and make a dust in the world. The busier you are the less harm you are liable to get into, the sweeter will be your sleep, the brighter your holidays and the better satisfied the world will be with you.—
 Bob Burdette.

Knocking on wood or against your town won't bring you any good luck.

WHAT REALLY COUNTS

In a street car the other day a man and his wife saw a Cockroach on the floor.

"I never see one of those things," said the man, "without wondering where it came from."

"And, I never see one," said the wife, "without wondering where it is going."

Hints for Motorists

You can increase the efficiency of your engine by cleaning the spark plug points with a nail file from time to time.

When your car is parked between two others, the easiest way to get out is to move first in the direction of the greater space—forward if there is more room between you and the car ahead, backwards if the opposite is the case.

Slow leaks are sometimes due to a loose nut at the base of a valve. The important clamp nut should always be tightened with a wrench or pliers before a tube is inserted in a tire. This insures a tight joint where the valve is attached to the tube.

Two hundred and thirteen states the size of Rhode Island could be included in the area covered by Texas.

The farm population of the States is now the smallest in the history of Agriculture. It is estimated that on January 1, 1929, there were 27,611,000 persons on farms compared with 32,000,000 in 1900.

TAKES A WIDE VARIETY OF READING TO SATISFY DIVERSIFIED TASTE OF PEOPLE

The yellow-backed novel may have passed into oblivion, but three is still plenty of reading matter of the same kind available to those who have a taste for it.

A survey of the news stands in Littlefield reveals more than a dozen magazines devoted principally to that kind of reading matter. Adventure, love, mystery, with other magazines carrying particular class stories relating either to detectives, the north, the cowboys, the sea, air interest, foreign lands, and several other themes.

Some of the old-timers here can vividly recall how they used to slip away where the "old man" couldn't see them and read their favorite novel but today most of this class of reading is done in open manner. Father and mother may not always approve of it, but sister or brother get by with it just the same.

However, there is also much good reading matter to be found today in the average news stand. There are plenty of craft and trade magazines that have particular interest for the one devoted to that particular line of work. Inspirational magazines on various subjects are to be found, and there are periodicals devoted chiefly to the interest of boys and girls.

Conversation with some of the Littlefield teachers leads one to the decision that there is a wide variety of choice in reading among the pupils in school. Plenty of youngsters are too busy to devote much time to reading of any kind. Those that have reached the "girl age" or "boy age" attempt to satisfy their craving for literature with magazines of kindred subject. As they get older, most of them turn to more solid matter, as their own ideas become developed and their purpose in life more settled.

Further inquiry reveals the fact that adults are about as general in their reading as are the growing youth. Aside from the daily and weekly paper, every home has its favorite magazines and periodicals, and scarcely any two homes have a similar assortment.

Booksellers say that while they sell more "light" reading matter than ever before, yet they are also selling more matter devoted to technical and scientific subjects, which indicates the fact that American people are constantly reading more and more as the years go by and that their taste for literature is gradually improving.

LFD. COLLEGE HAS COMMENCEMENT OF
THREE PROGRAMS

The commencement exercise of the Littlefield College consisted of three programs on the nights of the 29th, 30th, and 31st of May.

The first was a program of vocal and instrumental music, the vocal numbers being rendered by the college students and teachers, and the instrumental numbers by Mrs. O. W. Kirk and students of Floydada. This program was well attended and highly appreciated.

The second program was a general school program consisting of vocal music by the music class, chalk talks by the art students, and two short plays, one of which was written and rendered by the students of the English class.

The third program consisted of the graduation exercises for both high school and college classes. Five were graduated from the college and 12 from the high school department.

Charles W. Watkins, of Petersburg, delivered the principal address. These exercises brought to a close the first successful session of the College at Littlefield, and plans are already being launched for a larger enrollment and a greater school year when the coming fall term is opened.

tomatoes. The average for 1927 and 1928 was 500 acres and the 1929 acreage is expected to be larger.

Lubbock's young Texas Tech Chamber of Commerce has for some of its objectives the moulding of the traditions of the College while it is still young welcoming visiting teams to the campus, cooperating with local civic clubs and the offering of a prize for a school song.

NOTICE OF STREET IMPROVEMENT BOND ELECTION THE STATE OF TEXAS CITY OF LITTLEFIELD COUNTY OF LAMB

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an election will be held on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1929, within the City of Littlefield, Texas, at the City Hall in said City, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the City of Littlefield, Texas, who are property taxpayers therein, the proposition for the issuance of the bonds of said City for the construction of street improvements in and for said City as described in an order of the City Commission of said City, passed and adopted on the 20th day of May, A. D. 1929, and which said order is as follows:

ELECTION ORDER
WHEREAS, the City Commission of the City of Littlefield, Texas, deems it advisable to issue the bonds of the said City for the purpose hereinafter mentioned:

THEREFORE, BE IT ORDERED by the City Commission of the City of Littlefield, Texas, that an election be held on the 25th of June, A. D. 1929, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted:

"Shall the City Commission of the City of Littlefield, Texas, be authorized to issue the bonds of the City of Littlefield, Texas, in the sum of Ten Thousand, ($10,000.00) Dollars, payable serially or otherwise within forty (40) years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum, payable semi-annually, and to levy taxes sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and create a sinking fund sufficient to pay the bonds at maturity, for the purpose of the construction of street improvements in and for the City of Littlefield, Texas, as authorized by the Constitution and General Laws of the State of Texas, particularly Chapters 1 and 7, Title 22, Revised Statutes, 1925?"

THE SAID ELECTION shall be held in the City Hall of the City of Littlefield, Texas, and the following named persons are hereby appointed managers of said election, to-wit:
Chas. L. Harless, Presiding Judge,
Pat Boone, Judge,
Carl Arnold, Judge,

COW TEST BY MAIL ASSOCIATION BEING ENTERED BY LEADING FARMERS OF COUNTY

During the past month the County Agent has spent some time in helping organize a Cow Test association, being sponsored by the Extension service, and so far Lamb County is in the lead as to representatives already entered.

"The leading farmers of the county realize the importance of the butter fat test to see whether the cows are paying for their board or not," said County Agent D. A. Adam.

There is but one way to know what a cow is doing for you, and that is through accurate feed records, monthly milk averages and the butter fat test. Each farmer who is entering this association keeps accurate records as to feed, and is furnished by the association monthly milk averages, butter fat test, monthly butter fat production, and a yearly summary of the number of cows that are being tested. The cost of doing the work on every herd, is a flat charge of $2.75, which takes care of the postage and minor details.

The farmers of Lamb county who have taken advantage of this are: J. E. Holland, Fieldton; Robt. L. May, Amherst; C. V. Harmon, Amherst; Geo. Bohner, Olton; L. D. Criswell, Amherst; and several others.

The details of the work may be obtained by getting in touch with County Agent Adam at once, as the first month of this work is under way, but is not yet too late for anyone to get in on this work.

Cockerels Caponized and Fed for the February Market are Paying Investment

At this time of the year come the worry of what shall be done with surplus cockerels that will accumulate in the near future on the farms in Lamb county, and according to D. A. Adam, county agent, caponizing is the best way to dispose of them, and have them ready for February market at a nice profit.

Caponized are easy to handle, furnish a very nice quality meat, and sell as a general rule, for a high price, and as much money can be made out of capons as can be made out of turkeys where the proper management is applied. It costs approximately $1.00 to buy cockerels, caponize, feed and market them, and for the past three years capons have been worth around 30c per pound. A No. 1 capon should weigh 8 pounds, and at 30c a pound make them worth $2.40 a piece, wherein one has a nice profit. The biggest mistake that has been made during the past few years is that people have neglected putting their capons on a soft feed about the first of each year, therefore not having them ready for market in February.

During the past month demonstrations have been held at A. Clark, Littlefield; Mr. Joplin, south of Littlefield; Dave Edgin, Amherst; Mr. Hamilton, Anton; and several more are to be held within the near future. Anyone wishing a demonstration of caponizing can get in touch with the county agent, and it will be arranged so as to acquaint everyone with this profitable practice.

If your foot slips, you may recover your balance, but if your tongue slips you cannot recall your words.

HERE'S CONVENIENCE FOR YOU . . . and delicious cooking

JUST put your entire dinner—meat, vegetables and dessert—in the cold oven of this amazingly convenient Westinghouse Electric Range. Then set the clock, make a simple adjustment of the thermostat and you're free until meal time.

While you are resting or reading or shopping—the oven automatically turns itself on at the right time and off at the right temperature. The results are as delicious as the juicy brown roasts, flavorful vegetables and rich spicy puddings that were cooked in the famous Dutch ovens of long ago.

For "Flavor Zone" cooking recaptures the secret of traditional Dutch Oven goodness. It first browns to perfection, then cooks to melting tenderness—all without any watching or tending.

COLLEGE ELECTS NEW DIRECTORS; LAY FUTURE PLANS

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, Littlefield College, held last Friday several changes were made in the personnel of both the faculty and of the Board. Most of the teachers contracts being for a term of only one year, and expiring on or about the first of June, terminated their connection with the College, and there will be several new teachers to be employed before beginning of the next school year this fall. It is understood there will be considerable changes in the policy of the school, looking forward to a more aggressive and satisfactory manner of handling both the students and methods of teaching, such changes doubtless will mean the attracting to the institution a very large enrollment of students for the coming year. Plans are now under way for considerable building during the summer months, and it is confidently expected that before the doors are opened this fall the main administration building and another dormitory will be erected and ready for service, also, several other needed structures and a number of the cottages will be completed during the coming three months. At the meeting there were also several changes made in the personnel of the Board of Directors, those resigning and the new ones elected to take their places, being as follows: Sam Lemley, Wellington, resigned, and R. L. Gattis, Littlefield, elected. Jno. R. Freeman, Littlefield, resigned and R. F. Duckworth, Dallas, elected. T. L. Finch, Sweetwater, resigned, and M. T. Payne, County Agent for A. & M. EATING BUBBLES O. K. FOR A FROG

Perhaps you've heard the story of the Bull frog that swallowed a bubble floating in his home pond that he swelled up like an army balloon, and it was only after an expert sportsman plugged him with a hole, thus deflating his carcass, that the surplus H2O that the real expert of the metamorphosed insect tail was correctly ascertained.

It's about the same way some farmers feed a cow or horse. They stuff like bay windows on a modern automobile, but it don't bring the owner any additional cash.

Of course, some animals need a certain amount of bulk provender; but they all need a balanced ration—that is where Bellomy comes in.

With his modern feed grinding equipment he is prepared to put feeds in such condition that the mixtures may be readily made of semi-digested grain, so easily assimilated in the animal's system that the quickest gains and most rapid growth is favorable.

If you haven't been trying the method, you're the loser. Bring us a load right away and we'll start right.
