

Board Discusses School Study, Sue On Gin

School trustees approved for use in the 1959-60 school year. The board also discussed a proposal by Coach Don Williams to reorganize the coaching staff to include an additional coach. The additional coach would coach the basketball team and assist in football.

Board members tabled the question until their April meeting, when they said they will be able to tell more readily whether the proposal could be accomplished.

Other action saw the board authorize Dr. Schilling to contact citizens for appointment to a committee that will make a study of local school needs. The committee is expected to be named later this month.

Trustees also discussed possibilities of offering a driver education course this summer to meet the heavy demand of students wanting the course. The board plans to take that question up again next month.

Deadline for making a choice on the "A" and "B" cotton plans is Monday at 5 p.m. County ASC Office Lamar Aton reminded cotton producers this week.

CONSERVATIONIST — Lamb County Soil Conservation District's outstanding farmer for 1958 is Euel C. Jones, who farms a mile east of Olton. He was selected by the district's board of supervisors for his use of conservation practices and farming methods. (STAFF PHOTO)

Wins SCD Award

Thirteen years ago Euel C. Jones of Olton bought a 320-acre farm that some people might have laughed off as a "pile of junk." There actually was a junkyard in a large playa lake on the farm. Today that junkyard is buried and a field of barley covers it. It's because of work like that that Jones this week was named the outstanding farmer of 1958 in the Lamb County Soil Conservation District.

The Jones farm, one mile east of Olton, is split in half by Highway 70. On the north side, Jones has some level, productive land he uses for cotton and grain.

On the south side is the playa lake and barley field, along with a new hog production operation. Leading down to the playa lake is level after level of bench-terraced alfalfa, a soil improving crop.

Jones, a Lamb County native who attended Olton High School and Texas A&M has been doing a "good job of conservation farming for several years," say members of the SCD's board of supervisors, who annually make the selection of the outstanding farmer.

He has been a cooperator with the Lamb County SCD six years. Jones was a supervisor himself until 1957.

Right now, the Olton farmer is putting a lot of his time and effort into completing his hog production unit.

A farrowing house and a weaning house have been completed and construction is under way on a finishing house.

Jones plans to increase his 450 head of hogs to 2,500 as the operation takes shape.

Work Gets Under Way On U.S. 84 Appraisal

'Epistles From A Roman' Bring Fresh Insight To Easter Story

What was it like that long ago day in distant Jerusalem when Christ was first honored, then betrayed, and finally crucified? "Epistles from a Roman," a series of Easter articles presented in the form of letters from a Roman officer stationed in Jerusalem, brings the classic scenes home to the modern reader with special impact.

The first in the series of five articles appears today in the Lamb County Leader on page 6, section 2. Others will appear March 15, 19, 22 and 25.

Written by AP Religion Writer Tom Henshaw, the letters trace the changes in attitude worked upon the unbelieving Roman, Valerius, by the gentle words and compelling look of the man from Galilee.

Henshaw, who writes one of the two regular weekly religion columns serviced by The Associated Press, explains his aim this way: "The Holy Land at the time of Christ was a province of the great Roman Empire. The Gospels are filled with references to Rome and men of Rome. Yet, with the possible exception of the Procurator Pilate, Roman reactions to Christ and his message are vague.

"How would an average, upper class Roman — the lower classes didn't count in those days — react on-the-spot to the events of Holy Week?"

Henshaw points out that it is (Continued on Page 8)

Robbins Starts Tuesday

Appraising of U. S. Highway 84 right-of-way as part of a proposal to widen the highway to four lanes got under way Tuesday morning. County Judge Pat Boone, Jr. said Tuesday.

Horner Robbins, Lubbock appraiser, picked up comparative sales figures and other information Tuesday morning before starting the job, Boone said.

"I didn't get to talk to him before he started," the county judge said. "But I'm sure he will proceed as he planned earlier."

Robbins was employed in December to make the appraisal. He told the court at that time that he could complete the appraisal in 15 working days or less.

Robbins also said at that time that he would follow straight through with the job, once he started it.

Once the appraisal is completed, county commissioners expect to receive petitions calling for 3 separate road district bond elections in the Sudan, Amherst and Littlefield districts.

The start of work on the appraisal topped the news at the county level this week. At several other actions were taken Monday at a regular commissioners court meeting.

Action at the meeting included:

1. Abner Lewis (Barney) Glasscock was appointed to serve as justice of the peace in precinct two to succeed W. A. (Bill) Corzine, who died last week. Glasscock will serve until the next general election in November of 1960.
2. Purchase of four air-cooled condensers for the courthouse air-conditioning system was authorized, with the contract going to Texas Refrigeration Supply Co. of Lubbock for $6,889.64. The condensers will be installed on the west side of the courthouse as a substitute for the present equipment on the roof of the building.
3. First National Bank was re-named the depository for the county's school funds.
4. A new car for the sheriff's department was purchased, with the contract for a 1959 Ford going to Gatewood-Brown Motors of Sudan for $1358 plus trade-in of a 1955 Ford.

Christian Added To C-C Board

Jack Christian, local Texas Company consignee, was appointed to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors Tuesday night to succeed Vernon Hofack, who recently moved to Idaho.

Christian was named at a regular meeting of the board in which directors also heard reports of committee action over the past three months and of financial condition.

The C-C also voted to sponsor three trophies for the top three choirs of the Region I Choral Contest, which is scheduled here March 21.

Funds for sponsorship of the Chamber's "buying habits" survey were authorized Wednesday morning at a regular meeting of the Board of City Development.

REMINDER OF TRAGEDY — A cross and wooden sign on a tree serve a reminder of a Highway 84 mishap near Sudan which killed three persons on March 10, 1958. The accident killed a Latin American couple and their two-year-old son. Another son, 3, was critically hurt. Their car slammed into this tree, leaving pieces of metal imbedded in the trunk. It was not known who erected the cross, or how long it had been there. (STAFF PHOTO)

Pennsylvania's big Rep. John Saylor, a Republican, took a good natured jibe at Rep Walter Rogers of Pampa when the House Interior Committee considered a bill for rehabilitation of the El Paso County Water Improvement District No. 1 irrigation system.

Noting that the project had been built in 1905 as one of the first Reclamation Bureau projects in the nation, and still has not been paid off entirely, Saylor said: "What's the matter with you Texans. You are supposed to be a virile people. You haven't paid off this debt in 50 years and here you are asking for more."

The rehabilitation project would require $2,300,000 over the next five years, and would be repaid by water users by 1987.

Almost Everyone In Laredo Helps Work On Annual Border Olympics

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Texas AP Sports Editor

A visitor to the Border Olympics, the giant track and field carnival in Laredo each March, remarked: "This is the only sports event in the world with more officials than competitors."

This isn't absolutely true, of course, but it does seem that way because everybody in Laredo wants to work on the city's greatest project for national renown. In the race to make the Border Olympics as big as the most colorful and attractive to be found in sports, no one knows who gave it this tag - "It came from a meeting of a lot of people just sitting around talking," says J. Ritcher Jr., current president.

There is a notion that the late Shirley Da Camara, football coach at Laredo High School at the time, gave it the name. But anyway, the Border Olympics were designed quite differently from the way they came out.

In 1932 C. E. Wade, principal of the high school; Da Camara and Felipe Garcia Moreno started the Olympics, then, however, as out of south and see Crescent Park, a part of Laredo's annual George Washington celebration in February.

The original idea was to have an international meet with Indian runners from Monterrey, Mexico, coming down the Pan-American highway to Laredo, there to light the flame of the Olympics.

This didn't work out, however. Also the Border Olympics were put down for the first week in March each year because there was too much danger of bad weather in February.

W. B. Johnson was the first president and that year he saw four colleges show up for the competition. Three of them were Texas, Texas A&M and Southwest Texas State, which still come to the Border Olympics to this day. Coach Clyde Littlefield of Texas recalled bringing most of the equipment to get the meet started.

Today the meet attracts more than 90 universities, colleges, junior colleges and high schools with over 1,100 athletes.

If ever there was a community effort, the Border Olympics are just that. Each year $7000 is raised through underwriting, the Stockman's Ball of the Washington Birthday Celebration, advertising in the program and gate receipts, which ordinarily are just average.

Most times the boys wind up losing a little money - one year it ran to $1,500. But they just get out and raise the deficit and plow right ahead. They're not about to abandon the sports attraction that has brought more publicity to their town than anything else.

There are few folks connected with the operations of the Border Olympics who get paid anything. Most everything is donated, including a lot of time and leg work by those who would have the Olympics continue to attract the top teams and athletes.

Richter also observes that "most of the fellows just like to see these fine young men compete." The officials have many entertainment features for the visiting coaches and newsmen. And there are many of the latter who report the big meet to millions of readers.

Border Olympics officials have found that these coaches will keep coming back because it's not only a top competition but it's a pleasure as well with that raise-didn't visit to an enterprising city.

Earl Scott, the meet director, needed a little more money this year so he raised the entry fee for the high school boys from 50 cents to 75. One of the visiting coaches came up to Scott and told him: "Hah, you thought you'd scare us away with that raise didn't you."

Do not deduct political campaign contributions or contributions to any organizations that devote a good part of their activities to propaganda, lobbying or trying to influence legislation, even for a worthwhile purpose.

This has interesting possibilities. Assume that you purchased a piece of real estate for $5000 in 1940 and that you made a contribution of this piece of real estate in 1958 and its fair market value at the time of the contribution was $10,000. You receive credit for the contribution of $10,000 but you do not pay tax on your gain of $5000.

However, if you said the real estate for $10,000 and contributed the $10,000 you would be taxed on your long term capital gain of $5000. It does not matter if the recipient of the contribution immediately sells the property.

All forms of property may be contributed - stocks and bonds, automobiles, furniture, fixtures, equipment, clothing, etc.

To be deductible your contributions must be to a religious, charitable educational, scientific or literary organization; or an organization for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, except when such organization is operated for personal profit or to conduct propaganda or attempt to influence legislation.

Also deductible are gifts to fraternal organizations if they are used for charitable or religious purposes, gifts to veterans organizations and gifts to governmental agencies for public purposes, etc.

Two Injured In Accident At Springlake

A 70-year-old Llano, Tex. and a 14-year-old Springlake were hospitalized at the day after they were in a two-car mishap at the intersection of highways 84 and 34 near Lake.

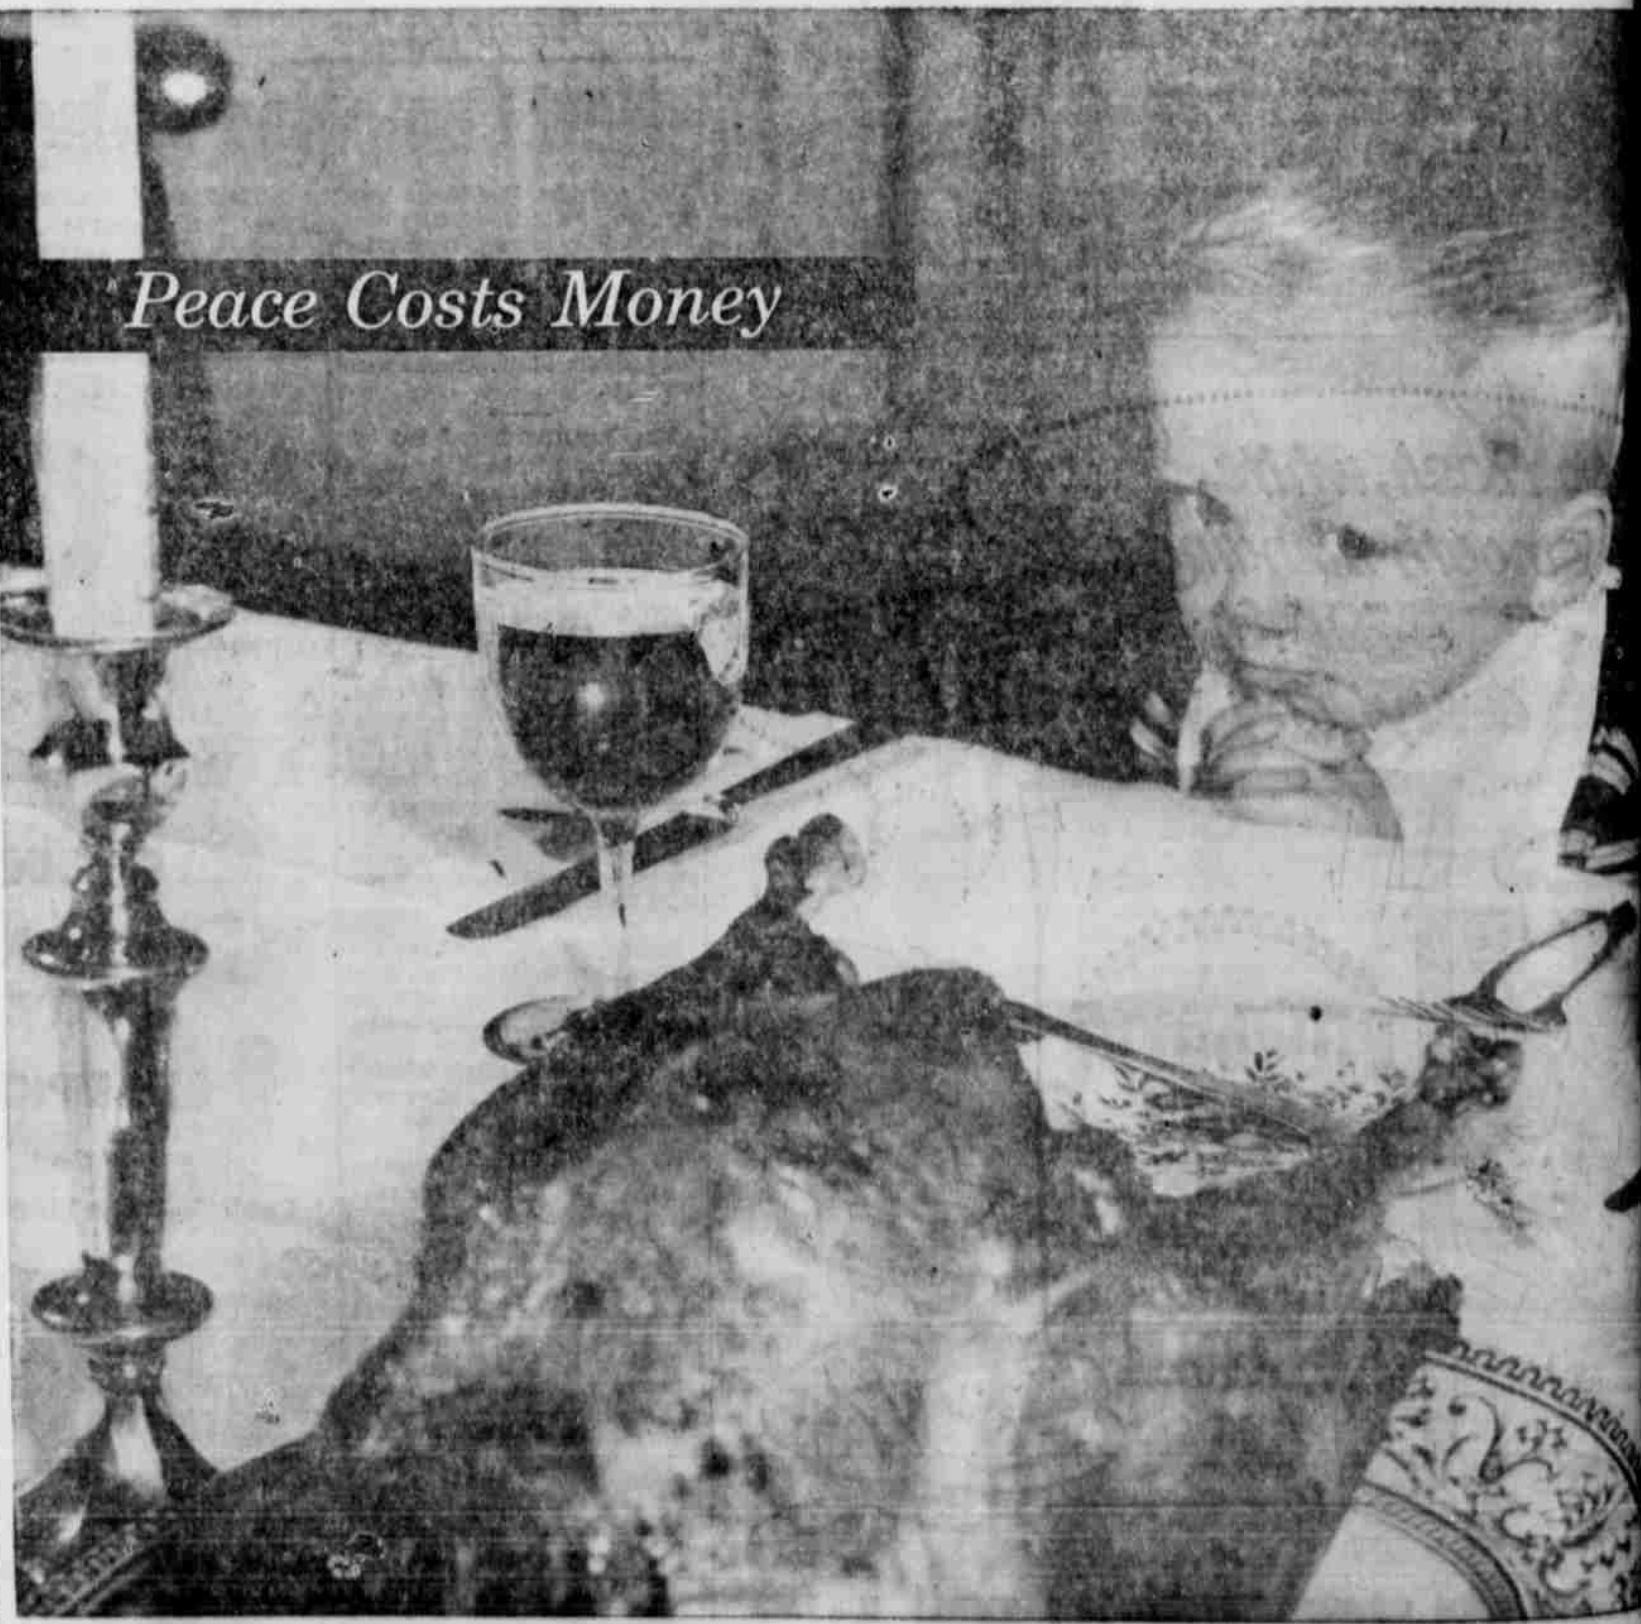

The Llano man, Alvin, was thrown from a car. Aaron F. Bue, also of Llano, was a passenger in the pickup driven by Mrs. Lorenna Conner of Lake.

Miss Conner was not hurt seriously. Llano was more seriously, but his injuries were not life threatening. Officers said Mrs. Conner driving east of Highway 84 was headed north on Highway 34. The vehicles intersected and the Llano car was thrown into a ditch, throwing Llano out of a ditch.

Joe Van Durham, an officer with the St. Y. police, is nicknamed "the cause of his fondness for a youngster."

Often, after winter has passed or snow has melted, icy spots are hidden in places. Chicago Motor Club motorists should be on the lookout for these spots on bridges, on shaded spots.

If you should slide, don't slam on the brakes. Turn your front wheel in the direction your car is skidding. This will keep the rear wheel from whipping around and off to stop.

Trust Texans to choose the one new car that's beautifully sensible.

Texas have discovered that Ford is built for people. Extra-wide doors open all the way out. All six passengers have the comfort of full-depth cushions. There's plenty of leg, hip and head room. Ford is built for savings, too. Standard Six and Thunderbird V-8 engines thrive on lower-cost regular gas. Ford only needs an oil change each 4000 miles. Come see the Fords acclaimed by Texans... now at your Ford Dealer's.

For the most beautiful news of all, come in and check Ford's amazingly low price... the lowest price of the top-selling three. And check the cost of accessories, too. You'll find the savings are even bigger!

File Income Tax Now

It always pays to file your income tax early or at least to start work on your income tax return early.

Of course, a lot of taxpayers can hardly wait for January 1 to roll around each year so they can file their tax return and get their refund checks.

A very large number of the approximate 700,000 Texans who receive a refund check each year wait until the last possible minute to work on their tax return.

Grassroots Opinion

BERNARD, LA., NEWS-OBSERVER: "There have been . . . attempts in recent years to curtail freedom of the press, the least of which is that an ignorant public is being misled by constant news."

OBERLIN, KANSAS, HERALD: "In early 1959 the face of Russia softened, assumed a faint smile in the person of Anastas Mikoyan who has been traveling this and handing candy to babies and speaking platitudes outwardly, the appearance is very warm and very human, sometimes winning."

LEESBURG, FLA., DAILY COMMERCIAL: "Instead of shaking our heads and muttering about the foreign complainers, maybe we should pay more attention to the friends we have abroad."

CRIPPLE CREEK, COLORADO, GOLD RUSH: "A tax expert received a call from a woman who asked, 'How much tax is due on $75,000 income?'"

CANTON, GEORGIA, NORTH GEORGIA TRIBUNE: "The government does not own anyone a living. Thrift security for the future, and saving, must continue to be praised in our great country."

GRANTS, NEW MEXICO, BEACON: "If we must have additional taxes to build roads, let's collect it locally where we can exercise some influence over how it's spent and where."

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Postoffice at Littlefield, Texas, May 24, 1923 - Under Act of March 3, 1879.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX. - If you can't beat it, don't knock it. That sentiment, in varying forms, is often being expressed by legislators struggling to write tax bills to fill the yawning holes in the state's money supply. People who come before the Legislature to oppose a money-raising proposal usually get a tart invitation to come up with a better one.

Sandhills Philosopher He Wants Right To Joke About Bolivia, Himself

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses jokes this week.

Dear editor: It's a long way from this Johnson grass farm out here to Bolivia in South America and I don't know any more about what's going on down there than the Bolivians know about what's going on out here.

As I understand it, a U. S. magazine quoted some anonymous person in the foreign service as saying the only way to solve Bolivia's problems was to abolish Bolivia, and the Bolivians rioted.

What I'd like to know is, what are they complaining about? U. S. magazines are always suggesting the way to solve the farm problem in this country is to abolish a lot of us farmers, but you don't hear of any of us rioting about it do you?

A bill to ban beer sales on Sunday and after 10 p. m. on weekdays has been sent to an unfriendly House subcommittee. A spokesman for "drys" irritated committee members from beer-drinking areas by implying use of beer "separated the saved from the unsaved."

Senate Transportation Committee approved the ban of Sunday auto sales, after dealers presented a solid front of support. Only opponents were representatives of Seventh Day Adventists, who observe Saturday as their day of worship.

COLLEGE EXPANSION OKAYED - Elevation of two junior colleges - Arlington State and John Tarleton - to full four-year status has been approved by the House.

Economy advocates protested that "we have 16 fully supported state four-year colleges now - more than any other state."

Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont introduced a bill to tax gross receipts of scrap metal sales, and Rep. W. T. Oliver, Port Neches, a five per cent gross receipts tax on advertising sold by newspapers, radio and TV stations and billboards.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, sponsor, pointed out that the Hoover Commission resulted in a seven billion dollar savings in its first year.

Opponents protested the Cory commission would be just another money-spending state agency. Cory contended the $100,000 it would cost would be regained many times.

Commission would be made up of one senator, one representative and ten persons from private life.

Rep. Homer Koliba of Columbus said he would prefer to raise money through legalized liquor-by-the-drink and horse racing, heavily taxed, than by a general sales tax.

HIGH-VOLTAGE ISSUE - House State Affairs Committee will take on a supercharged issue March 16 - the long struggle between private utilities and REA co-ops.

REAs are seeking a law that would assure their being able to continue to operate in a once-rural area after it is annexed by a city. Under the measure sponsored by Rep. Alfonso Jamison of Denton, the co-ops could serve old customers and recruit new ones for a period of ten years. After this, some parents, you might improve newspapers by abolishing some editors, you might improve Congress by . . . as you see, this thing can get out of hand.

I understand that some thinkers have pointed out that the suggestion that Bolivia be abolished was just a wisecrack in the first place, and this, they say, emphasizes the great care people should exercise these days in deciding what to joke about.

I don't look at it that way. When a country is in such a fix it's just its sense of humor, that's no argument the rest of the world ought to tread lightly when talking about it. That's an argument that maybe the country is headed for abolition anyway, on its own.

If the farmers of this country got mad every time somebody joked about them and rioted, there wouldn't be much plowing done. Although understand when I'm not plowing, that's no sign I'm mad. In fact, as a rule, I'm a lot madder plowing than not plowing.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

SOMETHING NEW IN BARBECUES

There is Oriental magic in the air when you barbecue egg rolls and Chinese hamburgers on an outdoor grill. Make an aluminum foil boat for Chun King's egg rolls. Fashion hamburgers, and add sliced pineapple and halved bananas to the grill. Green onions, mustard and Chinese Burger Sauce give zest to the miniature luau. To make enough Chinese Burger Sauce for four generous hamburgers mix:

- 1/2 cup Chun King Soya Sauce
 - 1 clove of garlic, crushed
 - 2 table spoons brown sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon powdered ginger (or a little slice of fresh ginger root finely minced)
 - 1/4 cup sherry wine (optional)
- Use sauce to baste hamburgers and to brush pineapple slices and bananas.

'Epistles From A Roman'

Roman Soldier Tells Of Boredom Of Duty In Restive Jerusalem

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of five Easter articles entitled "Epistles from a Roman." Each takes the form of a letter written by a Roman officer stationed in Judea who described the historic events of a to his father in pagan Rome.

BY TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Religion Writer
Jerusalem, Judea
15th year of the Caesar Tiberius
Gains my father,
I transmit to you the warmest filial greetings of a forlorn son who realizes after but a short time the dreadful error he made in asking transfer to this place. What did I do to deserve this, my new post of duty?

Judea is a wretched land, oppressed by sun and wind and barren of the smallest pleasures and comforts of glorious Rome or even Provincial Gaul. East of us lies a great sea in which not a living thing can survive. The land is little better.

And the people! Strange, incomprehensible people! People so far removed from sensible thought that the son of a lowly carpenter can ride into the city on an ass as one did - and be called king and be taken seriously by the people in the streets!

Strangest of the strange are the Jews who reject all the gods but one and claim to be his chosen people. Chosen people, indeed! If they are, why is it not they who rule instead of Rome?

Jerusalem is a seething hotbed of gossip and rumor, spawned in the superstitious fears and hopes of its wretched inhabitants and heightened by the approach of a festival called, passover, the holy season of the Jews, who rapidly fill the city to overflowing.

The wildest of rumors have reached the ears of the Procurator for he has come all the way from Caesarea to supervise personally the maintenance of the peace. He is a timorous man, our Procurator Pate, one who will go to great lengths to avoid trouble.

My friend Titus tells me the Procurator's fears go back to the time when he brought the banners of the Caesar into the city and it so aroused the Jews that Tiberius himself reprimanded Pilate and caused the banners to be removed.

This time, the Procurator's chief concern is the carpenter's son, who has come all the way from Galilee in the tetrarchy of Herod Antipas to be in Jerusalem for the passover and, some say, to become king of the Jews.

Many of the Jews believe him to be the anointed one - called by the Greeks the Christ - of the savior promised by the prophets of old who would be sent by their one god to overthrow foreign rulers and restore the ancient kingdom of Israel.

If this Galilean is the royal messiah then the Procurator has few worries for the man entered the city yesterday riding an ass instead of a kingly litter while his followers waved palm fronds in-

About Your Health

State Department of Health for 11 years, the Division of Mental Health has from the beginning keyed its activities towards the prevention of mental illness through cooperation ranging from private citizens to state government.

It has coordinated its efforts on matters of common concern with such other state agencies as the Department of Public Welfare, Texas Commission on Alcoholism, Texas Education Agency, and Board of Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

With the growth of the State's population, its increased urbanization and industrialization, and the pyramiding tensions of everyday living, communities must become the first line of defense against nervous and emotional disorders. The need for improved treatment of the mentally ill is urgent, but the race will be lost if community preventive services are not developed. The two needs, while related, are quite different.

Prevention must take place in the home towns of the State. Prevention must take place within the family, within schools, churches, the family doctor's office, and place of employment. Prevention must begin before nervous and mental disorders appear; or, where not possible, when the child or adult shows early symptoms.

Through seminars, in-service training programs and staff consultation, the Division of Mental Health has helped already existing community health, education and welfare personnel deal with before they erupt in serious forms of juvenile and adult crime, marital break-up, or mental illness

This big Series 60 Chevy bulls its way as far as 8 miles into the Louisiana woods, fights over ruts and jagged stumps . . . then grinds back out with towering loads of logs! The Sabine Lumber Company attests to the truck's ability to take it: "Chevrolet makes the best truck for our type of operation."

Conservation Assistance is Available

Is conservation being left out of your farm plans because of the cost involved? Would you include it in your plans if you could receive financial assistance and procedural advice?

If you answer "yes" to both of these questions you may be interested in some programs that can help make this increasingly important practice a part of your operations, suggests Lynn Pittard, extension assistant soil and water conservation specialist.

The Farmers Home Administration has money available to lend for soil and water conservation work, Pittard explains.

The Agricultural Conservation Program is a cost-share program which provides up to 80 percent assistance for conservation practices.

The Great Plains Conservation program, another cost-share program, provides assistance to 76 counties in the Great Plains area of Texas. It is administered by the Soil Conservation Service.

All of these programs are designed to encourage and assist farmers and ranchers in carrying out conservation work, Pittard points out. Information on these and other programs and facilities for which you might be eligible may be obtained from the office administering the program or from your local county agent.
