Plans Progressing For Operation Of Plains Water Conservation Project

When voters in a majority of the South Plains counties approved creation of the High Plains Water Conservation district several weeks ago, in effect they also approved levying of a tax (not exceeding 5c per acre) for financing the activities of the newly created district. At a recent meeting of the board, it was decided to set the tax at the rate of 3 cents per acre, which would amount to about 40 cents on each 160 acres of land, $1.50 on a section. Water Recharge Program The board is also considering the matter of a water recharge program, but has reached no decision. If it is put into effect, it is possible that the tax rate will have to be increased. Other matters considered at the meeting were locating of the district office, and Lubbock is being seriously considered for this location—they have proffered numerous free services, and Tech college has also promised co-operation. Well spacing regulation is also being considered, and if enacted this year, the responsibility in each of the counties will largely be in the hands of the county committees, who were elected at the same time directors were elected. Gus Parrish, A. B. Brown and Fred Meeks are the Lamb county committeemen, and farmers of this county are asked to contact one or all of them, if they have questions pertinent to the district, or wish further information on any matters not clear to them in regard to the newly formed district.

Harold M. Lafont Seeks Office Of State Senator

This week Judge Harold M. Lafont made his announcement for the office of State Senator of the newly created 39th Senatorial District of Texas. In making his announcement, Judge Lafont submitted the following statement. In asking the people to elect me to this office, it is with a full realization that whoever the people elect has the responsibility of making the laws that govern over 7,000,000 people of the State of Texas. These laws directly affect the daily lives of practically all of us, and serious thought and consideration should be given to each and every law that is passed by the Legislature. It is my humble judgment that men who fill these offices of responsibility and in whom we place our trust and confidence, should be experienced, honest, sincere and capable. As citizens, all of us are interested in the progress and welfare of our Senatorial District and of the State of Texas as a whole, and we have a right to expect our fair share of those things for which our tax money is spent. These include educational assistants, police protection for our families and (Continued on Back Page)

Dale Webb Killed In Trainer Plane Crash In Mississippi

Dale Webb, 25, who with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Webb, lived in Littlefield up until approximately ten years ago and who attended Littlefield schools, but at the age of about 15 moved with his parents to Lubbock, later serving in the armed forces during World War II, was killed in a trainer plane accident at Columbus Air Force Base, Mississippi last Wednesday. The past several months he had been serving as a flight instructor at the base at Columbus, but in civilian status. The father of the deceased formerly operated a barber shop in Littlefield, and the family was active in local lodge circles and Church of Christ activities. The accident occurred when the AT-6 in which the instructor and a cadet was flying brushed a tree and crashed while approaching an auxiliary field for a landing. Mr. Webb, accompanied by Dale's uncle, Ted Hutchins of Spade and two Lubbock men, left for Mississippi shortly after hearing the news. They returned home Friday night. Funeral services were pending at the time of going to press Friday night but were tentatively set for Saturday afternoon. Webb was born in Penelope, Hill County. He studied at Abilene Christian College and at Texas Tech, before entering military service. After completing a tour of duty in the Air Force in the Aleutians, he was released as a sergeant in 1946. Returning to Lubbock, the young veteran worked for the Veterans Administration. In his spare time, he took more flight instruction under the GI Bill and eventually obtained his instructor's license. He took a job a year ago with California Eastern Airways as an instructor of aviation cadets at CAFB and had been there since that time. He is survived by his parents, and three grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hutchins of Spade and Mrs. J. H. Webb of Malone. A cousin Mrs. Jarold Jones resides in Littlefield.

GOVERNMENT COTTON PRICE SUPPORT SET BY BRANNAN

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan announced Friday government price supports for cotton in 1952 will be at the same percentage level that has prevailed for several years. This year's crop will be supported, by means of loans to growers, at 90 percent of the August 1 parity price. It is the same percentage of parity that recent crops have been supported. The secretary said the support rate will not be less than an average of 30.91 cents a pound for middling 7.8-inch cotton. Some Southern farm leaders, including a congressman, have been urging a support rate of at least 35 cents. Current cotton prices are above parity. In mid-January, according to the latest official figures available, farmers were receiving an average of 38.70 cents a pound or 125 percent of parity. The pastor, Rev. Lee Hemphill is calling a meeting of the group to be held next Thursday night, February 28, at 7:30 o'clock.

Dept. Puts 69 Million Dollars 1950 Texas Crop Price Support

The Department put on 1950 crops in Texas to nudge prices near the two biggest parts of the price support program.

Quarterly, independent organization, the Agriculture Department loans totaling $68.5 million and agreed to an additional $790,000 more at set prices in 1951. It couldn't do better on prices from sagging. It bought 385 million of crops on the open market.

The price support program is wasn't all loss to the government. Farmers took it up on only a small part of the loans and purchase agreements extended, and the crops it actually acquired later were sold, sometimes at a profit.

Over the U.S., the final score on government support of prices on 1950 crops was: Loans made, 747 million dollars; crops taken over when farmers elected to bow out on the optional loans, 125 million dollars; agreements to purchase 49.6 million dollars; crops acquired as a result of purchase agreements, 12 million dollars; and direct purchases aside from purchase agreements, 385 million dollars.

Price support transactions of 1951 crops are still under way.

carried out by the Agriculture Department through its Commodity Credit Corporation. The law requires support of some commodities. Decision on the rest it leaves to the Agriculture Department. The support level usually is 90 per cent of parity, a figure calculated to give farmers a fair return.

From its start in 1933 through Dec. 31, 1951, CCC's net loss through buying and selling farm produce to support prices came to a billion dollars. The government's giant "bank" sometimes made money, however.

Although it lost 60 million dollars during its first eight years, it rang up profits of 125.6 million dollars during World War II. It has lost money every year since. In the last six months of 1951, CCC's buying and selling cost 40 million dollars.

Some products have been big winners for the price bolsters. In the 18 years of CCC's operation, cotton has brought it 268.7 million dollars. Ten other crops have made profits ranging from $9,000 to 11 million dollars.

Most costly price-supported commodity has been potatoes, which set CCC back 478 million dollars.

When price support levels for 1952 crops were announced, the Agriculture Department asked farmers to achieve a record production even topping 1951 output, which set a record.

Supported at 90 per cent of parity will be corn, cotton, soybeans, wheat, rice, wool, milk, and butterfat. Price props for grain sorghums, barley, oats, rye and flaxseed were set at 80 per cent, and mohair, 75 per cent.

YOUR GARDEN: Seed Catalogue Season Opens With New Prize Winner Plants

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The Department of Agriculture, once again, has given its official endorsement to the encouragement of the home gardener interested in food preservation.

It is a highly debatable point whether the home gardener actually ever needs encouragement, but one may presume that a nod from official sources has the effect of directing his attention more in the direction of fruit- and vegetable-raising and diverting his attention somewhat from flowers.

Seedsmen and horticulturists also do their share in stimulating the interests of the home gardener by constantly producing new types of fruits and vegetables which most hobby gardeners are tempted to try.

Gold Medal Vegetables

This year, for instance, the All-American selections include two gold medal awards. One is a new bush snapbean named "Wade," which judges in most parts of the country found to be highly productive, with straight, round and stringless pods. The second is "Salad Bowl" lettuce, heat-resistant, loose-leaved, tender and sweet. It is especially recommended for home garden use. Both were developed by the Department of Agriculture.

Silver medals were received for a heat-resistant, heavy-bearing spinach called "America" and for a solid-fleshed pumpkin, "Allneck." Honorable mention went to a French horticultural bush bean, "Stringless Hort."

Some New Flowers

No gold medals were passed out in the flower classes this year, but "Fiesta" cosmos picked up a silver medal. It blooms early, is a bushy type and grows over two feet high. But the big news about "Fiesta" is that it brings a real scarlet hue to the range of cosmos colors, i.e. self-sows, too.

Honorable mentions were received by three new strains of annuals. "Ballerina" is a new dwarf fringed petunia of a rich salmon color. "Persian Carpet" zinnias bring rich oriental colors to an excellent edging plant. "Globe" phlox is another dwarf plant, with a color range from white to dark crimson, nicely adapted to edging, rock gardens or even window boxes.

The All-American selections, of course, are icing on the garden cake and hold a place of distinction in the front of the year's crop of seed-catalogues. There are lots of other new and improved seeds—and many of the old standbys haven't been bested yet.

They are doing great things in the way of developing small-size vegetables and fruits now, for the small garden and the small family. Some of them are fascinating. Midget corn, for instance, is a tried and true garden standby, with ears from four to six inches in length and as tender and handsome as their larger relatives. There are midget watermelons and muskmelons, too, as well as the small varieties of tomatoes.

A Safe Procedure

For the beginner gardener, however, it's best to stick to recom-

Since that time they have played together in 1,500 performances of excellent productions. Their current "The Constant Wife" is one of their more solid hits. From four of the shows are shown here. Annual Explorers Rendezvous To Be Held In Lubbock

The Third annual explorer rendezvous will be held at Reese Air Base on March 14-15. Explorers and their advisors will plan to arrive at the base between three and six p.m. on Friday afternoon, March 14. The rendezvous will break camp following the noon meal on Saturday.

 Each explorer will bring his own beaeroll and will be in complete uniform. Each unit will be responsible for their own tentage. Tents will be pitched in the area back of the base gymnasium. All meals will be served in the base mess hall.
 Each explorer is requested to bring a notebook and pencil with him as this will be a training rendezvous and each will probably want to make notes of the material offered so that he can take it home to his own unit. Each explorer will be required to show his registration card at the main gate to the base, so be sure and bring your card.
 The total cost will be $1.50 per head for all who attend. Reservations may be made by sending your fee of $1.50 to the council office, Box 3055, Lubbock, Texas. Reservations will be accepted on a first come first served basis as we plan to limit it to two hundred and fifty.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS—

CEMENT SHINGLE TABS
 To increase the wind-resistance of asphalt shingles, shingle tabs can be cemented down with quick-setting asphalt cement. This is recommended for roofs in exposed locations where high winds are frequent.

FIRE HAZARD DECLINES
 Flammable roofing has ranked as high as second among home fire hazards but has now dropped to tenth. Greater use of fire-resistant roofing such as asphalt shingles is one of the reasons.

VARNISHING FLOOR
 Cleaning and drying is the only preparation required for application of varnish or varnish stain to a soft-wood floor.

PATCHING AWNINGS
 A torn awning can be repaired by sewing a patch on the under side. Rubber cement also can be used to secure the patch.

PLYWOOD HAS MANY USES
 Hardwood plywood has well over 2,000 uses, both decorative and structural. Its more common uses are in the manufacture of furniture, pianos, television and radio cabinets, watercraft, railroad streamliners, trailers, store equipment, elevator cabs and interior wall paneling.

VENEER FROM STUMPS
 Much of the most attractive hardwood veneer is cut from tree stumps in which the wood fibers have been compressed into wavy, crinkled, complex designs.

ASHES SHOULD BE REMOVED
 Ashes, left to accumulate in the ash pit of a coal furnace, cut the flow of air to the fire and also will cause the fire grates to burn out.

TRACING WALL LEAK
 Leakage through a masonry wall usually can be traced to open joints around the window frames.

Truckers Clean House

The truckers of Texas are to be commended upon the splendid showing they have made in reducing the number of overloading violations.

The last Legislature increased the truck load limit from 48,000 to 58,420 pounds. The truckers adopted a policy of law observance and pledged themselves to a policy of staying within the new weight limitation. A self-policing committee, under the direction of W. W. Callan of Waco, was created.

That the industry, through this committee, has tried hard and successfully to carry out this policy is shown in figures from the Texas Department of Public Safety.

According to these figures, the rate of violations found by the Department's inspectors is 85 per cent less than it was a year ago.

The trucking industry, as represented by Texas

Motor Transportation Association, has pledged its continued efforts to keep down overloading as well as to promote courtesy and safety on the highways and generally to strive toward the goal of giving this state the best kind of truck service.

Promises are cheap—we hear many of them without having much faith in their being fulfilled—but the motor carriers' promise is backed up by a record of achievement.

It took determination and hard work to do what they have done. They have cleaned house and it appears that they intend to keep it clean.

The truck is an essential part of our transportation system, and the trucking industry has long paid a substantial amount of money every year to the state in taxes.

It is gratifying to greet the truck operator as a good citizen.

Violinist Gets Tired Of A Pose

AP Newsfeatures

PITTSBURGH—Yehudi Menuhin, famous concert violinist, preferred to stand on his head to avoid posing for a picture with his fiddle tucked under his chin.

After an interview, when photographers asked him to pick up his violin and pose, he said: "Oh no. Not that pretending again. I'd rather stand on my head."

And he did.

at Lubbock stated that all of the 19 Legion Posts in the area covered by the association have been contacted and all are expected to participate.

Counties in the district are Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson and Borden.

A total of $25,000 is being sought in those counties during February "to carry on the vital fight against heart and circulatory diseases, said Dr. Wm. H. Gordon of Lubbock, association president.

About 44 per cent of deaths in the United States are caused by heart and circulatory diseases. Ten million of the nation's citizens are affected by diseases of the heart and blood vessels, he said. "Over the age of 45, during the man's most productive years, one out of every two persons dies of the heart diseases. One out of every six deaths in the military age group—20 to 39—is caused by these diseases," said Dr. Gordon.

"The Heart Fund for 1952, will seek to raise the necessary funds to support the greatest effort ever made in medical history to find the answers to the unsolved problems of heart disease," he said. Money is needed, too, to make sure all the available knowledge about heart disease is placed at the disposal of our doctors and the people it will benefit in every community."

Contributions are being mailed to "Heart, Care of Postmaster."

SEATTLE (AP)—For her 100th birthday observance, pert Mrs. Lucy Owen waved aside would-be helpers with the comment: "I don't want to be treated like an old lady." Then, in the next breath, she blew out close to half the 100 candles on her cake.

She formerly operated a florist shop in Roseburg, Ore., for many years. She confided that she has two wishes: to observe 10 more birthday anniversaries and to find "a good man. I get awfully lonely by myself." She is thrice-widowed.

Plt-ins Suit Modern Living

Combination of a bookcase and cabinets shows how charmingly plywood built-in furniture fits into a modern living room.
 Plywood furniture has become one of the most livable new homes. Built-ins are easy to suit the easy, modern manner of living that people have adopted during the last few years.
 Some of the favorite kinds of built-in furniture are cabinets, cupboards, bookcases, shelves, radio and phonograph tables, benches, storage lockers, dressers, dressing rooms, bins, and racks for magazines, towels, phonographs and sports equipment.
 Plywoods are popular for their smooth surfaces as well as for their durability. They usually are made in clean-lined designs that appeal to the modern taste. The hardwood plywood of which they are often constructed has always been prized for its beauty and decorative fitness.
 Hardwood plywood is faced with wood veneer, which adds the attractiveness of wood grain figuring and color to a home interior. Woods veneers are cut to bring out the best-looking grain figures.
 Some advantages of hardwood plywood are that it resists warping and swelling and maintains its balanced construction and dimensional stability. It can be nailed close to the edge without splitting. The smooth surface cleans easily. Occasional wiping with a soft cloth and periodic waxing usually are all that is required.

Garages Keep Up With Changing Home Styles

Building Can Be Used For Household Storage

Prospective home builders or buyers should keep in mind that they will need storage space for equipment used in the maintenance of the house and grounds.
 This can be provided in the garage.
 The storage problem was virtually non-existent in the days when houses were built over full basements, but many modern homes have no basements or only partial basements to accommodate heating plants and hot water tanks.

This garage is under the same roof as the house, but a hip roof-style projection over the garage adds variety to the design. Asphalt shingles are blended.

Exterior Should Blend With Outside of House

For uniformity of appearance, the exterior of the garage should match the exterior of the house.
 This is a rule of design for an attached garage and for any separate garage close enough to the dwelling so that both buildings are seen at the same time.
 Color harmony is especially important. In nearly all cases, the roof is the largest single unbroken area of a building and the key factor in its exterior appearance.

The variety of solid and blended colors in which asphalt shingles are made makes this material well-suited for solving color harmony problems. Shingles of exactly the same color can be selected for both the house and the garage. Or choose for the garage asphalt shingles which blend with, but do not match, the roofing on the house.

Anton Livestock Show Sponsored By Lions Club Scheduled For March 8

Plans are now in the making for the Anton Livestock Show which is to be held on Saturday, March 8.

The show is being sponsored by the Anton Lions Club, as is their usual custom. They are working out the details and have taken on the responsibility of raising the funds for the awards.

Listed below are the different entries in the show.

There will be two awards for showmanship. There is to be a $5 award for the best cattle showing and a $5 award for the best showing of swine.

This award will be to the boy for the way he handles and shows his animal. A boy with a low rated animal could win this award by his showmanship.

Top prize money will go to the heavy steer class. First money is $35, second $25 and third $15.

The light steer class will carry the same award as the heavy steer class. In the swine division, there will be four classes, light and heavy barrow classes, and junior and senior gilt classes. They each will draw awards, first place $17.50, second place $12.50 and third place $7.50.

Any boy showing an animal that does not place in the money will be given an award of $5 by Darden's of Anton.

So every person who shows an animal will take home some prize money.

There will also be many other attractions during the day.

Plans have not yet been perfected for the auction of the animals, but a committee is now mapping the details on a new type of auction.

Also the Lions club will hold its annual auction sale.

Besides selling properties belonging to the club or donated to the club, any one having anything they would like to be auctioned, it will be sold on a commission basis.

Anyone having anything to sell at this sale should list it with the sale committee before 6 p.m. Monday, Feb. 25. It is necessary to get these listings in so the advertising can be put out. The club will furnish free advertising for all items on the sale.

Make your listings with H. M. Christian, Hank Matthews, A. E. Richards or any member of the Lions Club.

Chief H. M. Christian and his Anton fireman were called out early Wednesday morning to a fire in the west part of town.

They found a chicken house at the Dunlap residence pretty well burned down. They devoted their attention to a nearby house car to prevent the fire from spreading to it, and then put out the fire. The barn had already fell in when they arrived.

A hundred baby chicks were destroyed in the fire.

The origin of the fire has not been determined.

My home is located on an irrigated farm about three miles north-east of the town of Plainview. I am married and have a son 11 years of age and a daughter 7 years of age.

I am now serving as Representative of the 120th Representative District of Texas, which includes eight of the fifteen counties in this Senatorial District. At the close of the last session of the Legislature, the Speaker of the House of Representatives appointed me as a member of the Legislative Council of Texas, which consists of ten members of the House of Representatives and five members of the Senate, whose duty it is to study, state-wide problems.

Having served as County Judge of Hale County, Texas, from 1932 to 1939, and District Attorney for six counties in this Senatorial District from 1942 to 1949, and having practiced law for twenty-two years, I believe that this experience should qualify me to represent our people in this new Senatorial District.

It is my plan to make this race on whatever merits I may have and not on the demerits of anyone else who may run. It will be my endeavor to see every voter in the District, and if elected, I assure you that no one will try harder to serve all of the people of the 30th Senatorial District of Texas.

AUTHOR Of the Week

By W. G. ROGERS

Frederick Morton, author of a third novel, "Asphalt and Desire," has such a command of English you'd think he was born to it, but he emigrated from Vienna. Born there 27 years ago, he started out to study medicine, but Hitler interfered. After his father had spent a year in prison camps, the family went penniless to London in 1939, and there the young son got a job in a bakery. In the following year he came to this country, and worked in a New York bakery... there a baker in more than one of his novels. He entered the City College of New York in 1943 and was awarded a B.S. in 1947; studied at Cornell and the New School combined to give him an M.A. and he went to Columbia for a Ph.D. He has taught at New York University, the Universities of Utah and Southern California, Johns Hopkins, and lectured at the New School.
