RIGHT REASONS FOR MOVING COUNTY SEAT OF LAMB COUNTY TO LITTLEFIELD

That sentiment all over the county is rapidly forming in favor of moving the county seat from Olton to Littlefield in the coming election called for May 11th is clearly shown from information constantly coming to members of the committee having the interests of Littlefield in mind. A Steering Committee of nearly 200 citizens residing in all sections of the county has already made a canvass of the voters and report that practically all of them have interrogated have recognized the need of moving the county seat to some more central and convenient place for the majority of citizens residing in Lamb County, and that they are in favor of moving it to Littlefield. There are a few reasons suggested why the county seat should be moved to Littlefield, as formulated by the committee having charge of the proposition. The first is that Littlefield is a proposed location, and acting in behalf of the majority of citizens at large in the matter. The second is that Littlefield is a proposed location, and acting in behalf of the majority of citizens at large in the matter. The third is that Littlefield is a proposed location, and acting in behalf of the majority of citizens at large in the matter.

Our sections of land in the center of Lamb County are better than any inland town could possibly do.

Lamb County is out of its swaddling clothes. A county that produces annually more than 32,000 bales of cotton and ships some 2,000 cars of feed stuff, not to mention its live stock and dairy products, must take its rank among the major counties in the State. The old "cow boy days" are gone forever.

The population of Lamb County in 1910 was 540. The population of 1930 will be nearer 115,540. The question of the county seat is proportionately increased in importance. In just that proportion more people have to go to the County seat to file deeds or sit on juries or be witnesses, etc. It is important to have a courthouse and jail in keeping with the increasing population. There is no reason why four-fifths of the people should be required to travel an average distance of 25 miles to reach their county seat, instead of the one-fifth population.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has recently denied the application of a railroad company to build its line across the north part of Lamb County. It is naturally to be presumed that the development of the county will continue to be more rapid along the railway south of the sandhills, than in the northern part, without the possibility of railway facilities for years to come at least. Retaining the County Seat over near the northeast corner of the county therefore will work a hardship on more and more people as the years go on.

Formerly District court met on Monday. The Grand Jury convened that day and adjourned the same afternoon. If any case of real importance was on the docket it was transferred. Now things have changed. There are three terms of District Court annually, and four terms of County Court, and they are busy ones. Due to lack of hotel facilities the lawyers and jurors must go home every night. Much time is lost, and time is money these days. Then suppose a

IMPORTANT FACTS REGARDING THE BUILDING OF A NEW COURT HOUSE IN LAMB COUNTY

AUDITORS REPORT SHOWS AN INCREASE OF ONLY TEN CENTS PER ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS VALUATION WILL BE REQUIRED

AS COUNTY VALUATION INCREASES TAX RATE DECREASES

$1.77 per Labor of Land (one cent per acre) Added to Regular Taxes Paid (A Sum Less Than the Cost of One Automobile Trip to the County Seat) Will Build $150,000 Court House in Littlefield

The following is a statement prepared by A. B. Short & Company, public accountants and auditors, based on the facts of record as obtained from legal documents and officials of Lamb County, Texas, and are certified to by the company as being true and correct. They are herewith published as a matter of general information to the citizens and qualified voters of Lamb County.

April 6, 1929.
Mr. A. C. Chesher, Campaign Manager,
Lamb County County Seat Movement,
Littlefield, Texas,
Dear Sir:

Pursuant to engagement we have set up cost schedules which show what the cost to Lamb County will amount to if the proposed bond issue of $150,000.00, for the erection of a new Court House and Jail is voted upon and carried.

Briefly stated our calculations are based upon the following facts: The taxable valuation of Lamb County property for the year 1928 amounts to the sum of $7,642,407.00; The Commissioners' Court of Lamb County has set for taxable purposes, the valuations of $8.00 and $10.00 per acre for land in the county; The present tax rate of Lamb County is $1.59 per $100.00 valuation.

Our calculations based upon the above mentioned facts, will be to show what the new tax rate will have to be in order to provide for the payment of bond interest and retirement of bonds of the proposed $150,000.00 bond issue for the erection of a new Court House and Jail for Lamb County.

If the proposed bond issue of $150,000.00 is voted upon and carried the bonds are to be retired serially over a period of forty years; The bonds will carry a 5 per cent interest rate. In order to retire the bonds within forty years it will be necessary to retire $3,750.00 of bonds every year. The interest, at 5 per cent on the bonds for the first year, will amount to the sum of $7,500.00. The interest decreases every year in the amount of $187.50.

The first year the cost to Lamb County will be as follows: Bond interest $7,500.00; bonds retired, $3,750.00, making a total cost to the county of $11,250.00; the cost to the county the second year will be $11,062.50, the third year will cost the county the sum of $10,875.00, etc., the cost being reduced $187.50 every year until the total issue is retired.

The total interest cost to the County on the bond issue of $150,000.00 will amount to the sum of $153,750.00, adding the total bond interest, mentioned above to the bonds we arrive at a total of $303,750.00. The last figure mentioned above will be the cost to Lamb County of building a Court House and Jail costing $150,000.00.

In order to provide for the bond issue of $150,000.00 it will be necessary to increase the tax rate ten cents over the old rate of one dollar fifty-nine cents, making the new rate one dollar and sixty-nine cents. Our calculations are as follows: As stated above the total cost to Lamb County will be bond interest $153,750.00, plus bonds of $150,000.00, making a total of $303,750.00. As the last mentioned amount is to be spread over a period of forty years the average yearly cost will be the sum of $7,593.25. The last mentioned figure is the average yearly cost over a period of forty years but as stated in paragraph five the cost the first year will be $11,250.00, the second year, $11,062.50, the third year, $10,875.00, etc. The cost being reduced $187.50 every year.

Advertisement

For purposes of establishing a new tax rate we are forced to take the average yearly cost of $7,593.25, mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

The taxable valuation for 1928 is the sum of $7,642,407.00 and the rate is $1.59 on the $100.00 valuation. The taxable valuation multiplied by the rate of $1.59 per $100.00 valuation will produce a revenue of $121,514.27. In order to take care of the proposed bond issue and interest thereon it will be necessary to have revenue in excess of what it is at the present time. The revenue will have to be increased in the amount of $7,593.25. By adding to the present revenue of $121,514.27, the amount which it will have to be increased we find the total revenue should be $129,107.52 if the bonds and bond interest are to be taken care of.

In order to find the new tax rate it will be necessary to divide the required revenue, mentioned above ($129,107.52), by the taxable valuation, ($7,642,407.00), the result being the new rate of $1.69. It is plainly seen that the new rate has been increased just ten cents on the $100.00 valuation.

As to what effect this increased rate has upon the tax payer we will take the following example: Suppose the tax payer owns one labor of land and it is valued, for tax purposes at $10.00 per acre. His valuation will be $1,770.00. By applying the old rate of $1.59 on the $100.00 valuation his tax will amount to the sum of $28.14. Using the same valuation and applying the new rate of $1.69 his tax will amount to the sum of $29.91. His taxes have been increased only $1.77. The taxes have been increased 6.29 per cent.

Based on the above mentioned $10.00 valuation per acre the new rate going into effect will increase the tax just one cent per acre.

We are of the opinion that the above information we have supplied you is what you desire and trust that our method of presenting it meets with your approval.

We Herewith Certify that the facts, as ascertained by us, are based upon figures taken from the Lamb County records and it is our opinion that they are true and correct.

Respectfully submitted,
A. B. SHORT & COMPANY,
By A. B. Short.

COMMENT: In arriving at the total cost of a new court house, it must also be understood that the tax rate will not remain the same throughout the entire period of the bonds; but as the county valuation increases and bonds are paid off, thus reducing the amount necessary to be set aside for interest and sinking fund, the rate will be gradually lowered. It has been estimated that, over the entire period of 40 years the bonds run, the average tax rate per labor of land will not exceed 75 cents per 177 acres, although it now averages $1.77 per labor. The valuation of Lamb county, during the past five years, has increased at the rate of over $300,000.00 per annum. Taking this sum as a basis of calculations, it can be readily computed how the tax rate will be decreased by increased valuation during the coming years that the serial bonds are in force.

Also, there will be a saving of several thousand dollars in furniture from the old court house which can be used in the new one as well; the amount realized from the sale of the old court house will also count in the reduction of tax rate.

COUNTY ATTORNEY T. WADE POTTER SETS FORTH FACTS RELATIVE TO THE PETITION FROM AMHERST FOR CO. SEAT

AMHERST NEWSPAPER IN ARTICLE OF GROSS ERRORS ATTACKS POSITION OF COUNTY JUDGE AND ATTORNEY RELATIVE TO MOVING COUNTY SEAT

In last week's issue of the Amherst Argus, a newspaper published in Lamb county, appeared an article on the first page of that paper explaining an alleged unwarranted attitude taken by County Judge Simon D. Hay, and County Attorney T. Wade Potter as to a petition circulated by citizens of Amherst and environs relative to having the name of Amherst placed on the ticket in the coming election for county seat removal.

Replying to the above mentioned open letter, County Attorney Potter, in an Argus

CENTRAL ELECTION COMMITTEE STARTS AN ESSAY CONTEST

An Essay contest has been arranged by the Central Election committee to move the county seat to Littlefield, which is being called for May eleventh.

Rules governing the contest have been placed in all the high and grammar schools of Lamb county. Pupils in these schools will be asked to compete in a prize winning essay contest on the subject: "Why the County Seat Should Be Located in Littlefield" Judges for the contest will be announced later.

What the Central committee wants to do is to secure co-operation and community effectiveness; secure sane ideas without agitation and discord. The Central committee appointed on locating the county seat in Littlefield was appointed to forward the long neglected interest of Lamb county. The sole object in removal of the county seat is for the public good and convenience.

It depends on the action of the citizens themselves whether Lamb county stands still or goes ahead. Standing still is going backwards. Community progress is synonymous with community effort.

On Friday, the 29th of March, 1929 a petition containing the names of approximately 532 qualified voters of this county was presented to Hon. Simon D. Hay, County Judge of Lamb County, in which petition it was asked that an election be called for the purpose of removing the county seat of this county from Olton to Littlefield. On Saturday, the 30th, the following day, Judge Hay considered said petition and signed his order calling for an election to be held for the purpose of submitting the proposition to the voters, and ordered the election for the 11th day of May, 1929. This order was signed by Judge Hay in his office in the courthouse at Olton, and immediately thereafter such order was caused to be spread on the minutes of the Commissioners' Court, as required by Art. 1596 of the Revised Statutes of Texas.

Sometime during the night of March 30th and after the election had been called and the order of the judge had been spread on the minutes of the Commissioners' Court, another petition was presented to Judge Hay, praying for an election to be had to remove the county seat from Olton, Texas, to Amherst, Texas, which latter petition prayed in the alternative that if any other applications were pending before the county judge, asking for removal of the county seat from Olton to any other place in the county, that the name of Amherst be placed on the ticket along with such other place.

Prior to the time the Amherst petition was presented, Judge Hay had conferred with me, as county attorney, and had asked my opinion as to what the result would be if two different places in the county petitioned for an election to remove the county seat, and my opinion on that question was that the town presenting the first petition would be the only one to consider, and that an election would necessarily have to be called by him in conformity with the first petition filed with him. My position on such question is based upon the fundamental principle, viz: "That when an election has been called in accordance with the statutes, upon the petition of the required number of qualified voters, praying for a certain and definite proposition to be submitted to the vote of the people, after such election has been called and the order calling the same has been recorded in accordance with law, the authority so calling such election would not be legally authorized in any manner to change, withdraw or recall the proposition upon which the election has been petitioned and ordered."

In my opinion, it is simply a case of the town which petitions first, should be the town that must be served first; and, also, calls to the mind of the writer that following equitable maxim: "He that is first in time, is first in law," and regardless of the fact that certain citizens of Amherst "had been circulating a petition" to be presented to the county judge, it appears to the writer that our County Judge is under no legal obligation to

269 KILLED AND 2,608 INJURED IN TEXAS IN FOUR MONTHS BY AUTOMOBILES SAYS A REPORT TEXAS COUNCIL OF HUMAN SAFETY

There were a total of 289 persons killed and 2,608 injured in automobile accidents between September 1 and December 31, of last year in the State of Texas, according to reports just sent out by the Texas Council of Safety.

More people were injured by cars passing round cars ahead and skidding into the ditch. 118 injured and 16 killed during four months due to this cause.

A number of collisions were caused by cars passing round from the rear and turning into the road too soon.

67 were injured and 4 killed by cars being ditched to avoid collision.

Possible carelessness in driving on wet pavements caused cars to skid resulting in 8 deaths and 70 injuries.

Striking loose gravel and soft dirt was responsible for 67 injuries and 9 deaths.

Collisions on curves claimed 7 victims and 47 injuries.

Meeting cars on the wrong side of the road caused collisions, with 52 injuries and 2 deaths as a result.

Collisions with cars without lights parked in the road, sometimes not seen because of meeting cars with glaring headlights, caused 12 deaths and 33 injuries.

Glaring headlights was given as the cause of accidents causing 67 injuries and 8 deaths.

No lights and insufficient lights were responsible for 55 injuries.

Collisions with solid objects—bridges, culverts, buildings, etc., claimed 9 lives and caused 71 injuries.

Defective brakes, no brakes, and defective steering gear caused injuries to 82 and claimed 6 lives.

Three persons lost control of cars and drove through plate glass show windows, injuring 6.

Injuries to 18 and 2 deaths were laid to the door of drivers "asleep at the wheel."

39 intoxicated drivers were responsible for injuries to 52 and the death of 7.

Twenty-two persons were thrown through windshield, there were 113 shattered windshields reported with consequent lacerations and cuts resulting.

A number of automobiles and trucks were reported "running into street cars."

Within the four month period 307 pedestrians were injured and 58 killed on our streets and highways. Of these 98 children under 15 years of age were injured and 22 killed.

Hit-and-run drivers struck cars and killed 4. 33 were injured.

Pedestrians struck by hit-and-run drivers, 19 with death toll of 8.

Collisions at grade crossings claimed 47 lives and injured 82 others. Of these were children under 15 years of age—6 injured and 3 killed.

Two little children under 5 years of age were killed while sitting on the track.

441 children under 15 years of age were injured, and 140 killed in accidents of all kinds—the automobile taking the greatest toll. Running from behind parked cars, and playing in the street being the chief causes of accident.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

The Commissioners' Court of Lamb County, Texas, will receive bids at Olton, Texas, on May 9, 1929 for the purchase of one or more Sixty Horse Power or more road tractors, and one or more 12 foot Road Graders. Simon D. Hay, County Judge, Lamb County, Texas. At Olton, Texas, April 10, 1929. April 11, 18, 25, May 2, 1929.

ECONOMY IN FOODS

If every one in the family would resolve to try to eat without objection all ordinary foods not highly seasoned or of unusual flavor, if well cooked and appetizingly served, many food prejudices would vanish and the house keeper's problems would be reduced. An understanding of properly balanced diet will help dispel many prejudices and make it possible to set a varied yet economical table.

BAPTIST REVIVAL TO BEGIN HERE ON SUNDAY MORNING

Revival services will begin at the Baptist church next Sunday, Rev. J. C. Sisemore, of Amarillo, doing the preaching.

Rev. Sisemore is both a pastor and an evangelist. He is the very successful pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church in Amarillo, also, president of the Amarillo Bible institute. Incidentally he conducts several missions throughout the city and is often called upon for special evangelistic services elsewhere.

Rev. Sisemore is a "religious phenom," according to Rev. Roy A. Kemp, pastor of the Baptist church this city. "He believes the whole Bible," says Rev. Kemp, "not a Bible full of holes. He makes no clap-trap, card-signing, milk and cider propositions to the unsaved. He is a modern John the Baptist who wields a broad axe, and red-boned Jerusalem sinners find God. He is meek as a lamb one minute; defiant as a lion the next."

All services will be held in the Baptist church at 10:00 a. m., and 8:00 p. m., daily.

L. W. Jordan, the local efficient song leader, will have charge of the music during the special services, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Lucas and Mrs. T. A. Henson at the piano. A quantity of new song books have been ordered for the meetings, and every one is cordially invited to attend.

NATURE AND WORK OF BUSINESS METHODS AND ORGANIZATIONS IN SMALLER TOWNS

By SAM H. CANTRELL, Prof. Social Science Dept., Littlefield College (NOTE: This is the fourth of a series of articles on social and economic matters by Prof. Cantrell to be published in this newspaper.)

From a casual view of the business field we note several forms of business organization, namely: (1) The individual enterprise; (2) The partnership; (3) The corporation; (4) The cooperative.

In the big business and large-scale industries we most often find the corporate form which is capitalized by the selling of common and preferred shares to individuals or other corporations. The principal inducement for investing in preferred stock is to make an investment, thus receiving yearly a definite rate of interest. The common stock on the other hand pays in dividends, provided the company proves to be a paying concern and at the same time it controls the policies of the company. The chain-store illustrates the corporate form of business organization.

Often the small town investor has an opportunity of purchasing shares in an enterprise and the problem presented to him is will it pay. The workings of many promotions are very mysterious to the ordinary investor with their innumerable issues of stock bearing across its face a "Non-Par" valuation. No doubt but what the Non-Par stock is the best form of issue for both promoter and investor, since it has the tendency to cause the purchaser to look into the nature and the conditions surrounding the stock he contemplates purchasing. Then, too, many "wild-cat" schemes often fail in their incipency from a search into their status.

But in the small town we are not so much interested in the corporation or the cooperative. At the present the cooperation is holding a strong sway in new countries and progressive older countries which enjoy a high state of civilization. The cooperative is gradually making a place in the industrial world and in England does one-fifth of the commercial business as a consumers' cooperative.

The forms of business organization which concern mostly the small townsman are the partnership and the individual enterprise.

A retired farmer moves into a town having a little extra money as a bank account. He looks about his locality and feels how nice it would be to go into business of some kind and keep himself leisurely employed. Soon he opens up a new business, notwithstanding that more than ninety per cent of business enterprises end in failure. Possibly for a time he builds trade, becomes well stocked from buying lot shipments, then gradually sees his trade diminishing day by day. What is wrong? He is rendering proper service. He does not understand the situation.

An experienced business man comes to town to locate if the business outlook appears favorable. He considers the surrounding country, the nature of the land and its productivity. Whether the country is a one crop or a diversified area, in other words a credit or cash locality. He wants to know the class of people he has to supply, whether progressive or using the same methods of farming that grandfather used in his day. Then he wants to know how rapidly the population of the country is increasing or decreasing, whether the people are all attempting to move to town or not, in spite of the lack of industries to furnish them employment. Also he takes some account of the gross production and the gross sales of the community under investigation. By such means he can determine in a rough way the buying capacity of the community.

In addition to a study of the surrounding country he would consider the number of business concerns in operation along the line which he wishes to establish, their manner of doing business and possibly their sales for a period of time if such information could be obtained.

In a town that is undergoing healthy growth, we often notice many new enterprises being put into operation. Yet such concerns are often hard hit when a crop failure occurs or financial conditions become stringent. What has really occurred? Business being good new departments have been added beyond the margin of productivity. The Law of Variable Returns has begun to operate and produces the economic result. For instance, an individual may be able to farm one hundred acres of land with a certain amount of stock and farming implements, then he may add another twenty-five acres and receive more profits from the capital invested, yet if he adds another twenty-five he may have to add more labor and capital thus reducing his profits. So the business concern can add to much of either land, labor, or capital and thus eventually may eliminate all profits.

The small town business man is often like the farmer in that he is prone to allow the banker to keep his balance account and he seldom knows where to reduce expenditures or obtain better profits.

The successful business man will find it a useful device to divide his store into unit departments consisting of units of fast, medium, and slow selling articles and in keeping tab on the time taken to clear the allotted space. Thus the time required for one complete turn-over can be determined and the percentage of profits to be gained affixed. To merely consider the customary profit assigned by the wholesaler without any consideration being given to the turn-over, the buying capacity of the community, and the fluctuating demands for articles of trade is rather a haphazard way of doing business and often leads to failure.

The business man of experience is aware of these conditions in a vague way, yet seldom does he study such from a scientific and economic standpoint. He should know how to interpret data and use the newspaper. The newspaper is the greatest asset that the business man can obtain, yet he often neglects it shamefully.

To engage in business means more than service to be rendered. It requires a healthy study with proper applications to obtain profitable results.

The writer has not given the essentials for the success of a business concern from a social standpoint but wholly from the economic view. In his next article he will deal with the value of the local and foreign business enterprise to the consumer and the community.

CUTWORMS FEED AT NIGHT

Cutworms take unfair advantage of the home garden and carry on their depredations at night, and sometimes on dark, cloudy days. Investigation of the soil close to injured plants, however, will often disclose the guilty worms hiding in small burrows.

It is easy to get rid of them by a poisoned bait, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends this one: Mix 5 pounds of dry bran and ¼ pound of Paris green, stirring very thoroughly. Mix one pint of syrup or molasses with three or four quarts of water, and add this solution to the bran and poison, stirring the whole mixture constantly and slowly. Add only enough water to make a crumbly mash. Put the bait around late in the evening so that it will not dry too much before the worms come to feed.

It can be broadcast or sown by hand along the rows or about the base of the plants. Many kinds of cut worms overwinter in the soil and begin to work early in the spring; therefore early treatment before the crops are planted, or before they come up, will be of great advantage in the prevention of crop damage by these pests.

TURNIP CUSTARD

Turnip custard is made in the same way as corn custard. To one cup of grated raw turnip or mashed cooked turnip allow 2 beaten eggs, 1 pint of milk, ½ teaspoon of salt and 2 teaspoons of melted butter. Mix well and season with a few drops of tabasco. Bake in a moderate oven in a pan surrounded by water until the custard is set. Serve at once. Carrots may be used in the same way.

You've had him long enough - NOW I WANT HIM!

THE girl suddenly faced her hostess. "I can't stand it any longer," she cried—"all this snaking and lying and deception. Dan and I love each other. He's been your husband long enough. Now I want him!"

The older woman, deathly pale, turned to her husband.

"She's right," he said. "There's no use trying to hide it any longer. You are my wife, Jean, and I love you as a companion. But I love Marie—the other way."

So this was her reward for sacrificing the best years of her life to her home and family. First her son, then her daughter—eager for new sensations—were swept headlong to disaster by the modern tide of jazz. And now her husband yields to the siren lure of a girl whose kisses must prove as deadly as a viper's sting! What had she, his wife, to offer against the lure of soft, red lips, against the seductiveness and passion of youth? What should she do?

This woman's story is the most sensational real-life revelation ever published in True Story Magazine. Critics say that if her experience were published in novel form, it would be a best seller over night. Unquestionably, her amazing disclosure will create widespread discussion. Two Different Reasons for using

CONOCO-ETHYL

BOTH OF THEM GOOD

1 To Save Wear and Tear

If you keep an accurate record of what it costs to operate your car, you'll soon realize that Conoco Ethyl Gasoline actually saves you money—despite the fact that it costs a few cents more per week than ordinary gasoline.

It saves by keeping out the knock that wears and tears the engine . . . and by producing 100% power from every drop.

There's no waste when you use Conoco Ethyl. It burns cleanly and at the right time—regardless of the compression of the motor.

Conoco Ethyl will reduce your cost per mile. Try it and convince yourself.

With the introduction of Conoco Ethyl Gasoline into this market, your dreams of an ideal motor fuel become accomplished facts.

Conoco Ethyl has blazed the trail to superlative motor operation under all conditions of temperature—uphill or on the level—in traffic or along the open road.

There is no motor fuel like it— for it combines all the superior qualities of Conoco, the Triple Test Gasoline, with Ethyl Fluid, the Anti-Knock ingredient developed by General Motors after years of exhaustive research.

Why not get the most from your motor? Fill your tank at the Conoco Ethyl pump—at service stations and garages.

2 To enjoy High-Compression Performance

Lots of people don't take the trouble to figure the saving that Conoco Ethyl brings them. They use Conoco Ethyl because this super-fuel does more than merely move their cars. . . it provides a real motor thrill by bringing out every ounce of power which the engine was designed to develop.

Instant pick-up, smooth running at all speeds, high gear performance on the steepest hills. There's a great satisfaction in driving under such conditions!

JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing for a Supreme Court of nine members, and for continuous session of that Court.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Sections 2 and 3 of Article 5 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Article 5. Section 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, any five of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of five shall be necessary to a decision of a case; in other matters, until otherwise provided by Law, the jurisdiction of the Court shall be exercised under such regulations and orders as the Court by a majority vote may prescribe. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election, a citizen of the United States and of this State and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer or a judge of a court, or such lawyer and judge together at least seven years. Said Chief Justice and Associate Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election, shall hold their offices six years or until their successors are elected and qualified, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State. The judges of the Supreme Court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their term of office under the present Constitution, and until their successors are elected and qualified. When this amendment takes effect, the Governor shall immediately appoint six additional Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for terms of office so that the terms of two of such appointed Associate Justices shall expire with the term of office of each of the present members of the Supreme Court, and upon the qualification of such new justices, the Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas shall terminate."

"Article V. Section 3. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only except as herein specified, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State. Its appellate jurisdiction shall extend to questions of law arising in cases of which the Courts of Civil Appeals have appellate jurisdiction under such restrictions and regulations as the Legislature may prescribe. Until otherwise provided by law, the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court shall extend to questions of law arising in the cases of the Courts of Civil Appeals in which the Judges of any Court of Civil Appeals may disagree or where several Courts of Civil Appeals may hold differently on the same question of law, or where a Statute of the State is held void, and shall extend to such other questions as may be within the Court's Appellate Jurisdiction under the Statutes of the State in force when this amendment takes effect. The Supreme Court and the Justices thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, as may be prescribed by Law, and under such regulations as may be prescribed by Law, the said Court and the Justices thereof may issue the writs of mandamus, procedendo, certiorari and such other writs, as may be necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The Legislature may alter original jurisdiction on the Supreme Court to issue writs of quo warranto and mandamus in such cases as may be specified, except as against the Governor of the State.

The Supreme Court shall have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, as the Court may be determined, to certify such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. The Supreme Court shall be open at all times and shall sit in the State Capitol for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by the Court.

The Supreme Court shall appoint a clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he may hold office for four years and shall be removable by said Court, for cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court who shall receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide."

Section 2. Said proposed Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at a special election to be held throughout the State on Tuesday, April 10, 1929, at which election each opposing said proposed amendment shall scratch off of the ballot with a pen or pencil the following words printed on said ballot: "For an amendment to the State Constitution providing for a Supreme Court of nine members, and for continuous session of that Court," and each voter opposing said proposed amendment shall scratch off of the ballot in the following words printed on said ballot: "Against the amendment to the State Constitution providing for a Supreme Court of nine members, and for continuous session of that Court." If it appears from the vote cast that a majority of the electors cast in favor of an amendment, the same shall be a part of the State Constitution.

Section 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published in said election held as provided by the Constitution and Laws of this State.

Section 4. The sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the State Treasury to pay for the expenses of said election and election.

Approved February 19, 1929.

DIXIE REVUE WILL BE AT PALACE THEATRE APR. 17

After more than three weeks of intense work the management of the Lamb County Band attractions is ready to present the second of the series. The "Dixie Revue" will be given at the Palace theatre, in connection with the regular picture program, on the night of Wednesday, April 17.

The "Dixie Revue" is a modernized negro minstrel, featuring chorus girls, and black-face comedians, both male and female. Other specialties are the Lamb County Saxophone octette, and the Louisiana fiddlers.

The chorus and soloists will be accompanied by a special orchestra, assembled especially for playing the musical score to the revue. The orchestra will also play a group of popular numbers before the curtain rises.

THAT EXTRA SESSION

Everybody is interested in the special session of congress soon to get under way, for it is generally believed that it will develop some method whereby the farmers of this country will get relief they seek.

It's a good idea to remember, however, that the farmer still has one law to contend with that cannot be wiped out, changed or set aside. That is the law of supply and demand. So long as there is a surplus produced and not consumed before the next crop is marketed, the price will show it sooner or later. Better markets, more scientific selling methods and more certain economies can, however, help conditions. It is within the power of congress to study and devise some method of bringing these things about and therein lies the hope of the country in the work of the forthcoming special session.

We would warn our friends around Littlefield that they must not expect miracles. Congress can, if it will, enact helpful legislation. But if there is an over-production, or if there is a decreased demand for farm products, then all human power cannot legislate higher prices, nor bring them about. Some of these days, and we are fast approaching the time, farm relief will come in a large way through the use of by-products of the farm that are now only so much waste. As we learn to utilize that which we now waste we will bring about better economic conditions. So while congress is striving to find a better method of marketing it is up to the farmers to seek a better way of cashing in on his by-products, many of which he now allows to go to waste.

A statesman is a politician who has been elected so many times that he no longer has any opposition.

KISSING

Opinions on kissings differ. First, the health experts warned us all against it as a promulgator of colds and more serious illnesses.

Now science tells us that kissing is an exercise that makes for health by speeding up sluggish hearts and increasing the circulation of the blood, and recently a group of chorus girls took part in a scientific kissing test which showed the stimulus of kissing created a good response from a health standpoint.

We are waiting for the doctors to begin prescribing kisses, and for men and women to walk about with special doctor's certificates entitling them to spoon in public for the sake of health.

Men who haven't done so in years will begin kissing their wives with great ardor—what difference that will make in matrimony and the entire field of domestic relations!

And then perhaps kissing will be made compulsory in the interests of science and health. What we are afraid of is that once this happens people will begin to lose interest in the time honored game of osculation.

Wouldn't it have been funny to have heard old Ananias tell how much he got on his car in a trade-in?

THE CHUCKLER

Did it ever occur to you that the Littlefield man who chuckles is a fellow that everybody likes?

There is a wonderful lot of meaning in a chuckle. In the first place a man, a guilty man, or a man of low principle cannot chuckle. He may sneer, but he never chuckles. And again, a man who is afraid, who is weak or lacks assurance, does not and cannot chuckle. He may have a little apologetic laugh, but that is all. The man who chuckles is the man at ease with his conscience and his neighbors; a lover of humanity and in accord with it. He is unselfish, he is not a hypocrite, he is friendly and sociable and without guile—he likes us and we like him.

When we hear a man chuckle we know he is a man we can both love and trust. Such men are the salt of life.

The way they're shooting up things in Mexico they must be under the impression that they're living in Chicago.

IT ALWAYS PAYS

There is no excuse for anyone with a plot of ground large enough for growing vegetables not having a garden. It is healthful and wholesome to get outdoor recreation, and gardening furnishes it. But it is more satisfying to have vegetables on the table without having to go into one's pocketbook for the price of them. Then, too, there is a lot of pleasure to be had in watching the things you plant with your own hand mature into something both pleasing to the eye and the stomach.

We know it is pretty hard to keep from "burning out" under a hot sun, and we know it takes a lot of fighting to lick weeds, but there is always more fun in doing something hard than in doing something easy, and that is still another reason why gardening pays such valuable rewards.

They've changed another old phrase and now "The hand that once rocked the cradle now guides a steering wheel."

NOW FOR THE HOBO

It won't be long now until the hobo will answer the call of his mate, and rural residents can be prepared to lose heavily in farm produce and poultry.

The hobo army is greasing up its dilapidated flivvers preparatory to "bumming" money enough to buy a few gallons of gasoline and start the summer hegira, roaming over the countryside and living off of somebody else's toil. They don't ride freight trains any more, to amount to anything. The "picking" is much easier if they can get hold of an old rattle-trap auto. Besides, they can practice their nefarious work, steal what they want, and get into another county much more quickly and with less chance of detection.

There'll be the usual number of them in this territory from now on, so our advice to our rural friends around Littlefield is to make it hot for the first few that show up. Maybe in that way word will get passed around that this is good territory for flivver hoboes to steer clear of.

Cave men use to knock girls senseless, but this day and time that isn't necessary.

PEDDLERS GALORE

Peddlers of various kinds are always more or less a nuisance, but recently it appears that Littlefield has become a thronging port for an increased number of the order-takers and vendors.

Every time an outside concern is patronized it means kissing goodbye to good money that ought to remain in Littlefield, for the money they collect from their various wares, when once paid, is gone forever from the community.

There are plenty of reputable business concerns in Littlefield carrying high grade merchandise at reasonable prices, where such purchases can be made very satisfactorily. Local business men are tax payers, they contribute toward every worthy enterprise of development and should be given the preference in every commercial transaction.

This city has ordinances covering "peddlers," and if such are being violated they should be made to feel the brunt of the law. At the least, investigation is in order.

LITTLE LEADERS

Some Littlefield people like to quarrel. But they ought to pick their opponents from among people who feel the same way about it.

The average Littlefield citizen can remember the time when a newspaper reader went farther than the first paragraph of a murder story.

Maybe the reason older citizens of Littlefield used to call tomatoes "love apples" is because they soon got rotten.

Many a girl around Littlefield has listened to honeyed words only to find out later that she had been stung.

Many a Littlefield man who stands in church on Sunday and sings "Heaven Is My Home" still wants a doctor in a hurry when a pain hits him.

RATEKIN SAYS THE C. OF C. HAS BIG FARMER INTEREST

COW, SOW AND HEN IDEAL COMBINATION FOR FARMERS IN SOUTH PLAINS AREA.

"Closer co-operation with the farmers and agricultural interest throughout Lamb county is the plan of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, according to a statement made today to the Leader by J. W. Ratekin, secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, from which organization, a helping hand to the farmers of Lamb county has recently been given.

Mr. Ratekin says that the need of more diversification in crops in this county, is needed and he is thoroughly sold on dairying as being one of the most important of all agricultural industries, to be promoted in this section.

"The one crop system has its number of drawbacks, the greatest being that many farmers who use that system never have a pay day. One failure of the cotton crop will ruin a purely cotton section for a period of at least two years. The cow crop never fails. It is on the dairy cow's product that mankind sustains itself in infancy and conserves health and strength in the declining years, as well as keeping fit throughout the period of ones existence. There will never be an overproduction of dairy products until more milk is produced than it would take to feed all of the people in the world, exclusive of all other foods, except those in which butter fat can best be used for shortening. Milk is the only food fat in the world that contains in itself all of the necessary elements for the strength and vitality of the human body.

"The Department of Agriculture has well shown that the best way for a farmer to market his feed at a high price is to first change it to dairy products by feeding it to a good dairy cow. The dairy cow does just as much for the farm as she does for the farmer. She can be depended upon to convert the farmer to diversification because she makes diversification necessary.

The Leader for printing.

MORTON BOOSTERS COME TO LFD. FOR A MUTUAL MEETING

An enthusiastic delegation of citizens, members of the Morton Chamber of Commerce, visited Littlefield last Friday evening, and met here with members of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with each other and of working together on important matters concerning both towns and communities. The visitors clearly demonstrated the high community spirit possessed by the organization and their zeal for obtaining better things for their thriving little county seat town and its environs.

Those in the visiting party were: A. D. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holloman, M. G. Matthews, M. F. Monroe, G. M. Smith, Thurman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. O'Neal, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. O'Neal, W. L. Harris, G. F. Marrow, J. P. Marrow, M. M. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Miller, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Smith, Mrs. G. H. Matthews, G. H. Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones, Lee Cooper, R. T. Farner, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Burleson.

The meeting was called to order by President J. S. Hilliard, of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce who in turn, called upon E. A. Bills for an address of welcome. He very heartily expressed the appreciation of Littlefield citizens for the visit, and discussed various matters of interest to both groups of people, stating that Littlefield folks always stand ready to assist their neighboring towns in any manner possible.

G. F. Marrow, secretary of the Morton Chamber of Commerce, and A. D. Boyd, vice-president of that organization, each responded with good talks telling of their mission of cooperation to Littlefield.

It was brought out in the meeting that while there were several matters of mutual interest to the two communities, at this particular time Morton citizens were especially interested in securing a railroad to pass through that town. Morton, the county seat of Cochran county, has enjoyed a fine growth and development since its organization as a county some five years ago. The county seat, an inland town, is surrounded by as fine an agricultural territory as is to be found anywhere on the South Plains. This year more than 350 carloads of grain and other feed stuffs have been shipped from that point, and it is felt by the citizens of that section if a railroad could be secured the development of both town and adjacent country would be greatly and more rapidly enhanced.

Responding talks were also made by F. G. Sadler, Arthur P. Duggan, E. S. Rowe, T. Wade Potter, J. E. Brannen, A. C. Cheshier and others.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the visitors were guests of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce at the Palace Theatre, where a good movie and vaudeville was enjoyed.

"IF YOU ARE PLAYING CHECKERS, IT IS YOUR MOVE," SAYS MANAGER

With their store building all emblazoned with red and white, painted true checkerboard style, W. L. Humphries, manager of the local Purina concern, selling Checkerboard products, says it's up to the other fellow now to make the next move.

"It's a grand and glorious game," says Humphries, "this game of checkers, when applied to animal life, and the stockgrower who isn't willing to make a strategic move on this animated board toward the protection and perpetuation of the life of his animals really doesn't deserve to win success in his enterprise."

"Quite an advertising stunt, this checkerboard idea," says Humphries, "and it ought to make folks think. We are, all of us, more or less pawns on the great 'Checkerboard of Life,' but the great difference between us human bipeds and the quadrupeds under us is the fact that while we have an intelligence and freedom that permits of choice and volition, our four-footed wards are entirely subject to us so far as their welfare is concerned. That's all the more reason why a stockgrower should be alert to the best interests of his animals."

A Former Citizen Of Littlefield Compares Arizona Prices Here

Littlefield folks who think they are being charged rather high prices for groceries may quiet their pulses somewhat when they realize there are some paragon wags in the grocery stores from here where the same groceries cost from 50 to 100 per cent more.

The Leader is this week in receipt of a letter from S. D. Honeycut, former Littlefield citizen who now lives at Mohave City, Arizona. He incloses a clipped copy of the Littlefield "M" System ad run in this newspaper on which he has marked the prices they have to pay for the same groceries in Mohave City. The comparative prices are as follows:

Article	Lfd. price	Mohave price
Potatoes pk.	.23	.75
Lemons, doz.	.19	.40
Flour, 24 lb.	.79	$1.45
Noodles, 3 pkgs.	.19	.80

SECRETARY RATEKIN PRAISES CITIZENSHIP WHILE MAKING PLANS FOR BIG ENDEAVORS

Secretary J. W. Ratekin of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, is busy arranging plans for a working program. Several important committees will be appointed at an early date by President J. S. Hilliard, and the trade organization will have everything in proper working order.

Secretary Ratekin says that the people of Littlefield are to be highly complimented for the manner in which they are getting behind every worthy movement for the betterment of Littlefield and Lamb county. "There is not a section in Texas that affords better opportunities to the proper application of energy and man-power well directed," Secretary Ratekin said, "Littlefield is a place where there are few or any knockers and many boosters. The people are together in a manner which is sure to bring success and prosperity to all."

BUS OVERTURNED SUNDAY TWO INJURED IN WRECK

The Sunset Line passenger bus operating between Littlefield and Lubbock was wrecked Sunday afternoon near Antn, when a front spring broke causing the wheels to lock, throwing the car over into the ditch along the right-of-way.

The driver sustained a broken collar bone, according to report, while the one passenger accompanying him escaped with minor bruises.

BEN SMITH HOME BURNED

The home of Ben Smith, in Southmoore addition was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon.

Following the alarm, the Fire department made a quick run to the scene of conflagration, arriving in time to save a portion of the building and a small amount of the contents.

The origin of the fire is unknown. It was partly covered by insurance.

FIGHTING THE FIRE MENACE

The stock fire insurance companies of the United States, through the National Board of Fire Underwriters, are conducting a practical, educational program to teach the public fire prevention.

As a result of consistent effort fire hazards have been reduced, better buildings have been erected and the public has been saved $349,956,314 through lower insurance rates than would otherwise have been necessary.

Lower insurance rates inevitably follow a better fire loss record; lower insurance rates inevitably follow a fire prevention program properly conducted; lower insurance rates inevitably follow consistent public service work of stock fire insurance companies.

Court statistics show that wives get 65 per cent of the divorcees. The same figures show that they also get a 100 per cent of the alimony.

CAMOUFLAGING CAKE

"We can't keep cake a single day in the house," wails the housewife with a large family. But, "I can't use my cake before it gets stale," is the plaint of the woman who cooks for only two or three people. Yet cake is lots of fun to make, and the family that lacks cake in its diet misses one of our most delectable desserts.

How, then, can one's cake be so camouflaged that it will be eaten within the necessary few days? The answer lies in varying the appearance in such a way that the cake will seem a new dessert each time it is served.

Cake and Fillings

One woman had a standard cake recipe which she always used. It was this: cream one-half cup shortening and one cup sugar together. Add two beaten eggs. Mix and sift two cups flour, one-half teaspoon salt, and three teaspoons baking powder and add alternately with one-half cup milk to the first mixture. Add one teaspoon vanilla and mix well. Bake in a hot oven—400 degrees F., fifteen to twenty minutes.

Last year her daughter Now for the variation: in the last place, she usually bakes the cake in two greased layer cake pans. One of the layers she cut in two and made into a layer cake, quite a small one, which served for about two meals. There were several fillings which she used with it. One was: heat one-half cup syrup drained from crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Mix one-half cup sugar, three tablespoons flour, and one-eighth teaspoon salt and add to the hot liquid. Bring to the boiling point and boil three minutes, stirring constantly. Add one beaten egg yolk and cook over boiling water three minutes. Add one-half cup chopped seeded raisins and three-fourths cup well drained pineapple. She would spread this between the layers and also on the top, making a soft, delicate dessert.

Cup Cakes and Cottage Pudding

The other layer of the cake appeared as cottage pudding with the following sauce: heat one cup syrup from crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Mix one-half cup sugar, one tablespoon flour, and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Add the hot syrup to this, return to the heat and bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly. Boil ten minutes, add one tablespoon butter, and pour over cake.

Sometimes, instead of pouring the second half of the batter into a cake pan, she used muffin tins, and had cup cakes. Occasionally she would substitute pineapple syrup for the milk in the cake recipe and have pineapple cakes. And there never was any stale cake around her house.

Whitharral News

All the farmers are very busy preparing their land for another crop since the fine rain which put a fine season in the ground.

Friday the 6th, was the last day for the gin to run. They ginned 1351 bales in all.

There are several cases of measles in our community.

Clauine teams came over Friday evening and played ball with our boys and girls. The scores were boys 3 to 4 in favor of Clauine; girls, 18 to 21 in favor of Whitharral.

Our school has only four more weeks to run. Every pupil should strive to do their best the rest of the term.

Misses Juanita Houk and Leon Henderson were in Levelland, Tuesday getting aids for their school paper.

Mr. Lightfoot and family, who went to Lockney, Saturday to visit relatives returned Sunday.

Mr. McPeters and Mrs. Duke attended the picture show in Lubbock Saturday night.

Chas. Houk and family were shoppers in Lubbock, Saturday evening.

Miss Louise Hauk, who is working in Lubbock, spent the weekend with home folks.

All the old trustees were re-elected for another year.

Mrs. Lankford was shopping in Levelland Tuesday.

Mrs. Pendergrass was a visitor in the Hauk home Saturday evening.

Mr. Howard, who has been sick several days is improving now.

Some of the Whitharral singers attended singing at Anton Sunday.

Bruce Wrenn and family visited his sister, Mrs. Newsum, Sunday, she being real sick with measles.

Miss Lucille Averson took dinner with Juanita Hauk last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Haines were in Lubbock, Saturday evening.

Mr. Pendergrass and family spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis last Sunday.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY MEET

The ladies of Circle No. 1 enjoyed a very interesting and inspirational meeting when they met Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock with Mrs. Otha Key. The program was as follows:

Answer to Roll Call, Scriptures beginning with letter "B."

Devotional, Mrs. L. W. Jordan.

Song, Where He Leads Me.

Prayer, Mrs. L. W. Jordan.

Minutes read, Mrs. Reiser, Sec. Business.

The Mission Book was then studied and taught thoroughly by the Chairman, Mrs. Lena Howard.

This was one of our best meetings, each lady present having an active part and departed feeling it was good to have been there. Those present were Mrs. Connell, Reiser, Kemp, Howard, Lucas, Jordan and Key.

Next Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, Circle No. 1 will meet with Mrs. J. H. Lucas for Mission study, also, special prayer service for the Baptist revival will be offered.

Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. Barton, with only a few members present. This being industrial day they worked faithfully on their quilt project.

Circle No. 3 had planned to work on the church grounds Tuesday afternoon, but owing to the high wind which prevailed, were unable to accomplish their plans. Announcements will be made Sunday morning at the church hour concerning meeting places of Circles 2 and 3.—Gen. Reporter.

What the world needs to day is more permanent wives and less permanent waves.—Lord Dewar.

TRADES DAY WILL BE HELD IN LITTLEFIELD MAY SIXTH; MANY PRIZES TO BE AWARDED

The Tuesday meeting of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce was featured by an enlarged range of activities and a diversified program.

President J. S. Hilliard opening the meeting called upon E. C. Cundiff, chairman of the Trades Day program who outlined a very perfect program for carrying on an event which will be held the first Monday of each month, starting Monday, May 6th.

It was decided to give away the first Monday prizes as follows: First prize, a registered Holstein heifer; second prize two gilts; third prize, three fine bred chickens; fourth, two sacks of flour. Also prizes will be offered by merchants for the eldest man making purchases at stores, also, for the tallest woman customer, before the first Monday in May.

A. P. Duggan was requested by President Hilliard to give a present to the boys who won prizes at the Panhandle Dairy show recently held at Plainview, Bart Denton, jr., Billie Cooper and Pierce Teeters. Mr. Duggan said "the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce felt very proud of the boys who through their efforts won these prizes." At the conclusion of Mr. Duggan's talk and making the presentations to these boys, they were accorded a rousing cheer.

County Agent D. A. Adam made a brief talk.

Mr. Holland, of Fieldton was present and made a few fine remarks stating he most heartily endorsed the dairy movement in Lamb county. There were over 25 present which was considered a good attendance, in view of many who were absent on account of the rabbit hunt.

2,000 RABBITS ARE SLAIN BY MIGHTY HUNTERS OF SPADE COMMUNITY, TUES.

Under the direction of Ben Gann, Mr. Barbarick, J. W. Duke, Mr. Darby, C. E. Strawn and others there were about 500 people who met at the Spade Community church last Tuesday for a rabbit drive. An invitation had been extended to Littlefield citizens to attend the event and many took advantage of the offer incidentally furnishing the ammunition for most of the hunt.

It is estimated that about 2,000 jack rabbits and cotton tail variety were slain by the hunters, who went out in the big drive. At the noon hour the women folks spread a royal meal of good things to eat, enjoyed by everyone present.

Some of the farmers asked for an explanation regarding details of the coming election relative to moving the county seat from Olton to Littlefield. J. E. Brannen acted as spokesman for the crowd introducing the speakers. N. B. Denton was the first to speak, followed by T. Wade Potter who gave a report on the cost of building a new court house, stating it would be about one cent per acre additional tax. Judge R. C. Hopping, of Lubbock spoke and there were talks by several of the local citizens of that community.

In the afternoon there was another drive, followed by evening lunch served again by the ladies.

Another rabbit drive is planned in the Fieldton community, called by J. E. Holland, Willie Bishop and Mr. Franks, to be held Tuesday of next week, and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The DAIRY

FEED LIBERALLY FOR BIG PROFITS

Farmers Make Mistake by Cutting Down on Supply.

Some farmers when they find the price of dairy feeds going up seem to think that the only and most profitable thing for them to do is to cut down on the amount of feed which they are giving their cows, and some feeders have been known to cut down to such an extent that they reduce the body maintenance requirement, says a writer in the Michigan Farmer.

It is known that a cow which is fed the proper amount and quality of feed uses about one-half of it for maintaining her body and the other half for the manufacture of her product, hence, cutting down on the ration by 10 per cent may reduce the milk flow 20 per cent while the amount of feed which is used for the maintenance of her body will remain practically the same. The animal must first keep up its body weight and then whatever feed is left over goes for the production of milk.

It is of first importance that the cows have sufficient food for both body and production maintenance. A dairy cow that is bred for production, with the right kind of handling, will pay for her feed, and in many cases she will return two dollars' worth of dairy products for every dollar's worth she consumes.

Many dairy farmers make the mistake of reducing the grain ration in the spring, when the supply of grain begins to get low and the grass is beginning to start. It is well to keep in mind that green grass can in no way compare with concentrated grain feed, until the grass crop is well established. After the stock has been fed liberally during the winter, do not reduce the ration too early in the spring, and thereby lose much that already has been gained, and in making the change do so gradually.

Prevent Tuberculosis by Thorough Cleaning

After diseased animals are found and removed from the premises, a very thorough cleaning and washing of the inside of the barn and other buildings where the animals have been should be made. This must be followed by the proper application of some approved disinfectant. The use of disinfectants without first doing the necessary and proper cleaning is ineffective for the reason that the germs of the disease must be exposed. All utensils or anything else that may have become contaminated by use around the diseased animals should likewise be cleaned and disinfected. The manure and refuse must be hauled from barnyards or lots to plowed fields, spread thin, and exposed to the sunlight. The yards and lots, including feed troughs, water troughs, and fences, can then be sprayed properly with the disinfectant.

All this means much work, but it must be done to prevent infection from spreading to the healthy animals.

Individual Feeding of Dairy Cows Is Favored

Different cows have different capacities for converting feed into milk. No man who has not a full appreciation of the wide variation in individual cows will be fully successful as a feeder. Some cows may have natural capacity for producing large quantities of milk, and may not receive feed enough for maximum production. By increasing the feed of the highest-producing cows and carefully consulting the milk sheets on which each cow's daily production is recorded, the skillful feeder will soon find that some cows in the herd will respond to the increased allowance and return a good profit on the additional feed given. On the other hand, there are cows that have a limited capacity for milk production and are very liable to be overfed. By carefully studying each individual cow the feeder will soon ascertain the point beyond which any addition to the grain ration becomes unprofitable.

Salt Overlooked

Feeding salt is seldom overlooked during the summer months as most men have flock salt before the animals at all times. During winter months dairy cows are housed in barns where they are entirely dependent upon their owner for all the feed they eat and some men overlook salt, except at irregular intervals. Large quantities of salt given at irregular intervals do not accomplish the same purpose as a regular supply.

Wintering Herd Bull

Best breeders winter the bull away from the herd, but too often he is kept in a dark, dirty stall, without exercise. Exercise, protection from weather, and a moderate ration will keep him in good condition. Build a strong stall in a corner of the cow barn, with a strong paddock or corral adjoining, or a cable can be run from stall to some point about 50 feet from the barn; a short, strong chain run from the ring in the bull's nose to a ring on a cable.

GET THE HORSE READY

A few pointers on getting the work horse or mule into good condition for heavy work may come in handy. Groom the animal daily. See that its feet are either properly trimmed or shod. Give each animal its own collar, see that it fits, and clean it daily. Adjust the harness so that the animal can work comfortably and efficiently. Wash the shoulders after each day's work with lukewarm water and castile soap, followed by a cold salt-water rinse. In the field raise the collar frequently and clean dirt, loose hair, and sweat from the shoulders and collar. If possible, take off the harness at noontime.

Have your printing done at home.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

The always hungry boy or girl between 9 and 18 years of age needs plenty of milk, eggs, fresh vegetables and fruits, in addition to the bread and butter, cereals, potatoes, cookies or other energy foods. Allowance for protein and minerals must be made in the foods of growing boys and girls, as well as those which supply energy, sometimes from one to one and a half times as much protein and minerals as a man needs. Lacking the right foods, it might be possible for a diet to furnish sufficient energy but not enough body-building material.

STERILIZE WITH HOT WATER

Water with which dairy utensils are scalded must be boiling hot to be effective. The method sometimes used of rinsing one utensil after another by pouring water from one to the next does not sterilize them. By the time the last ones are reached the rinse water which was boiling hot to start with has become cooled and so heavily infested with bacteria that it may be worse than useless.

WATER HOT BEDS IN A. M.

Choose bright days to water the hotbed and water it only in the mornings. Watering in the evenings or on cloudy days chills the bed, with danger of freezing the plants. After watering, ventilate the bed well, to dry the plant foliage and the soil surface. This will prevent loss of plants from damping-off or mildew.

Buying farm seeds of unknown or inferior quality at reduced prices is false economy. Millions of weed seeds are sown each year because uncleaned or half-cleaned seed grain is planted.

One or two poor-quality or undersized vegetables in a bunch give the others a bad reputation. Bunches of vegetables for the market should be of good quality, regularly sized, and well graded.

PAINFUL INDIGESTION

"I suffered a good while before I found something that would help me," writes Mr. E. W. Berry, of Neosho, Mo. "My trouble was indigestion, pains in my chest and a tight, bloated feeling that would make me feel smothered."

"Speaking of this to a friend of mine, he told me that Black-Draught was good for this trouble. I went over bought a package. It certainly did help me, so I continued to use it. I am in the transfer business, and sometimes when I would be hungry and ready to eat, I would have a call and would have to eat later. Then I would eat too much or too hurriedly. This would cause indigestion. After I started using Black-Draught, I found it did me a world of good. It is splendid for biliousness and stomach troubles."

of interest to others of this section who are keeping cows for business reasons.

Science, according to Mr. Cundiff, has worked out the protein and energy requirements of cows of various sizes of production. Thus a cow weighing 1,200 pounds and producing daily 28.5 pounds of 3.5 per cent milk or one pound of fat needs 2.24 pounds of protein and 18.4 pounds of total digestible nutrients to maintain her body and produce that amount of milk, while a cow weighing 1,200 pounds but producing 57 pounds of 3.5 per cent milk or two pounds of fat daily needs 3.64 pounds protein and 27.3 pounds of digestible nutrient

The dairy cow uses her food for four specific purposes: body maintenance, putting on fat, growing the fetus, and producing milk. All of the cow's food can be divided into two big classes, roughages and concentrates.

Hay can be used to supply the necessary roughage, but just ordinary hay will not furnish enough protein or total digestible nutrients. Straight legume hays such as alfalfa, vetch, or red clover are much more profitable in feeding than mixed grass and clover hay.

It is necessary to supplement roughages with concentrates to make up a balanced ration. Good supplements are combinations of grains, oats, bran or linseed meal. When using grains, it is best to use those of the highest quality. It is better to buy oats than barley because there is more kernel and nourishment in oats than there is in barley. In a like manner, linseed meal is advisable as a protein since it contains often as much as 34 per cent of digestible protein.

In addition to both roughages and concentrates, it is advisable to feed daily three pounds of succulence for each 100 pounds of live weight and some minerals when it is deemed necessary.

"I know of no portion of Texas where there are greater opportunities for milk production than right here on the South Plains. So far as I know, every farmer who has the right kind of cows is making money from them, and I would like to see more good animals introduced into the Littlefield territory."

THE LIVELY CLUB MEET

The Lively club met last Thursday afternoon for its regular club meeting. Officers were elected: Vice-president, Vesta Hardin; Secretary, Lorena Joseph; Treasurer, Norma Lee Gattis; Reporter, Mrs. Wales; Parliamentarian, Josephine Glenn.

LITTLEFIELD WON FIRST AND SECOND AT TECH. CONTEST

Livestock, poultry and dairy judging teams from the Littlefield Vocational Agricultural department, under direction of Prof. Helweg, were entered in the contest held at the Tech., college, Lubbock, last Monday.

The dairy team was composed of Pierce Teeters, Bart Denton, Jr., and Billie Cooper. They judged Holsteins and Jerseys.

The livestock team was composed of Carrol Holleyman, H. B. Hutson, and Neal Pepper. They judged classes of beef cattle, hogs, horses and sheep. The Littlefield team placed fifth in sheep judging.

The poultry team was composed of Parker Burford, Melvin Ross and August Clark. They judged classes of production Barred Rock hens, S. C. White Leghorns, S. C. Rhode Island Red hens, exhibition classes of Barred Rock and S. C. White Leghorn hens and Rhode Island cockerels, also, of eggs.

The Littlefield team won first in judging of production classes; second in exhibition classes, and second place in the entire poultry contest. Parker Burford was second high man in the entire poultry contest.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. A. L. Wright entertained a few little folks at her home Saturday afternoon, honoring her little son, Yantis Tilden's second birthday.

The little guests enjoyed the Mother Goose rhymes and songs played on the Brunswick, and other little games.

A pink and white color scheme was used in the decorations with the table centered with a large white cake on which were two pink candles.

Refreshments were served to Dorothy Ann Hargrove, Minnie Jean Matthews, Mamye Dell Ramsey, Ruth Pumphrey, Paul Pumphrey, Raymond Spurlock, Billie Charles Ogden, of Amarillo, J. M. Hudgens, Jr., and A. L. Wright, Jr.

Maybe the reason some Littlefield people speak well of a man when he is dead is because they never spoke that way of him while he was living.

EIGHT REASONS FOR MOVING COUNTY SEAT TO LITTLEFIELD

Juror gets a warrant for his time of say $5.00—he can't cash it at the County Seat, but must needs go to the county depository, at Littlefield, 28 miles distant, to get his money. Is there a sensible reason in the world why four-fifths of the jurors of the County should be put to this inconvenience instead of the one-fifth? Not one.

Taxes

Accurate calculations show it will cost the land-owners one cent per acre per annum to build a $150,000.00 Court house and jail at Littlefield, based on a valuation of $10 per acre and 5 per cent bonds running forty years.

The people of Lamb county living south of the sand hills travel an average of 25 miles from their respective homes to Olton, and 25 miles back, a total of 50 miles. It is generally agreed that no one can run an auto for less than 10c per mile—everything considered—so it costs the people of the south side $5.00 every time they visit their county seat. As the tax on a man owning a Labor of land, 177 acres, would be only $1.77 per annum, he will save a great deal by moving the County Seat.

Conclusion

The large majority of the people of Lamb County who live south of the sandhills will never be satisfied permanently to travel an average distance of approximately twenty-five miles across the sandhills to their County seat. They should not be asked to do so. Since there will eventually be a change, why build a jail at the present temporary site, or add to the courthouse, as must be done soon? Why not do the sensible thing? Locate the courthouse, the county depository and the county's best market facilities in the same town. Littlefield happens to meet these requirements, and at the same time is in the center of the county's largest population.

COUNTY ATTORNEY POTTER ANSWERS ARGUS ARTICLE

Amherst or any other town in the county, which would require him to delay the execution of a mandatory duty imposed upon him by the laws of this State. In the event Judge Hay had complied with the request of the Amherst citizens and issued an order for an election for the removal of the county seat and included both Amherst and Littlefield as candidates of such county seat, such an order would have been the revoking and recalling of the previous order, and would have constituted a new order for a different election. Neither the statutes nor the Constitution of our State gives the county judge any authority to withdraw or recall an election order after same had been made.

I wish to call your attention to the fact that neither yourself nor the lawyer who came with you were able to present any law whatever, by which the county judge would be authorized to revoke or change his order for the election. In your article you made a statement which might tend to mislead your many readers, wherein you stated that Judge Wood read from a supreme court decision. Now as you and Judge Wood will well remember, the case he read said nothing whatever about the form of ballot to be used, and did not even intimate that after the county judge had issued his order he would be authorized to revoke or change his order and issue a new order calling for the submission of a different proposition to the voters. I might suggest further that if you will read the case of Martin, et al., versus Abernethy, reported in Vol. 136, Page 827 of the Southwestern Reporter, you will find in a later case which was decided by the Court of Civil Appeals, where the court held that the county judge properly prepared the ballots and had them to read "For removal to Jourdanston", or, "For remaining at Pleasanton", which is the exact form of ballot that is required in the petition and order of election that has been called by Judge Hay.

In closing I will say that neither my opinion nor the opinion of any other official is final, and the only manner in which such matter could be settled definitely, would be through the courts of our State, and neither Judge Hay nor myself have taken any action whatever which would prevent any aggrieved party or parties from obtaining justice and their legal right protected through the channels provided by the laws and Constitution of the State of Texas.

Inasmuch as you have seen fit to attack me through the columns of your paper, I will ask that in fairness to me you also print my position in the matter.

Yours very truly,

—T. WADE POTTER, County Attorney, Lamb Co., Texas.
