Says WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS—Well all I know is that what I read in the papers, and with this Air Mail not percolating so often since the lay off I am going to have to get busy and pen you these few lines a little earlier than usual, for this document is liable to have to take the baggage coach from here to New York.

They sure did gum up this Air Mail thing, but they are trying their best to get it straightened out. I guess that has got more folks excited than any one thing since Sister Almee went to the desert. Folks that hadn't sent, received, or was in hopes of receiving even an ordinary letter, they were all bet up one way or the other over this whole thing. It was as much as taking your life in your hands taking sides.

Most people were naturally with the resident, for he had said that there was fraud, and they had every reason in the world for doing what they did. The other side said, "They should have convicted em first." And the thing ended back and forth.

Then of course politics got all mixed up in it. A Republican Senator said throw a rock and a Democratic Senator would dodge it and hit him with a brick. But there is one thing about Washington, you can't keep your mind concentrated on one thing very long. They get awful mad, but somebody come along and ask em to have a drink and they get over it, and maybe they are standing there having as they think of something else to go back up some devilment over. And in this particular case, the Democrats were mighty in favor of em thinking of something else.

I never saw a race of people that wanted to change the subject as easily as they did there for awhile. But like everything they are getting it straightened out. Things in our country are ever fixed, they jus' wear themselves out. About the time the Air Mail had a good landing the bonus hit em, and they was all off on a new tack. That bonus is sorter like playin' with loaded dice. You don't know in those favor they are loaded. What the Congressman wanted to know, was the President going to veto it? He wanted to know that before he voted. A lot of em didn't want it, but they could vote for it and not get it, that would be fine. So it was up to the President to pull em out, and they

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MEET TO BE HELD HERE

Complete Program For Two Days Of Events Is Announced

The annual meeting of the Lamb County Interscholastic League meet will be held in Littlefield March 30 and 31, Friday and Saturday of this week. This is a big event in the lives of many children of the county that attend the schools who will participate in the meet.

The member schools in the county are as follows: Amherst grade; Field-ton grammar; Hart Camp grammar grade; Littlefield grammar; Littlefield primary; Olton ward; Spade high school; Spring Lake high; Sudan high; Amherst high; Fieldton high; Hart Camp high; Littlefield high; Olton high; Spade grammar; Spring Lake grammar and Sudan grammar. Each of the schools have sent entries to the director general and have indicated a serious expectation to participate. There should be from two to three thousand school children in Littlefield during these days. The public in general is invited to attend these meetings and see the children of the county do their stuff in their respective divisions.

At these meetings there will be three championships decided. All the high schools in Class A, more than 120 students enrolled, will compete; in Class B all other schools will compete; and the grade schools of the county will compete in the ward school division. There being no rural schools in the county no contest in that division will be had.

At a recent meeting of the Lamb County Teachers' Association the body voted to buy four cups, one for each of the four championships and one for county champions in basketball. This cup was won this year by Olton. These above mentioned cups have been ordered and should be here for the county meet.

Next Monday will be Dollar Day in Littlefield!

This will be the first Dollar Day which has been held in Littlefield in some time.

But, in the future, the first Monday of each month will be observed as Dollar Day by the merchants of this city.

The purpose of Dollar Day is to offer to the people of Littlefield and trade territory extra special value for their money.

Dollar Day also serves as a special opportunity to acquaint the people of this city and section with the large stocks of merchandise of a wide selection which are carried by the Littlefield merchants.

Monday is also more of a day of leisure with most housewives—a day on which they can take all the time they wish in shopping.

Appreciating the splendid volume of business extended to the concerns of this city, the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and the merchants of the city are sponsoring Dollar Day.

Come to Littlefield Dollar Day, Monday, April 2—a cordial invitation is extended to you.

MAKE PLANS AT MEETING HERE TO GET INCREASE

Delegation To Leave For Washington In Few Days

At a called meeting of the principal lienholders in the South Plains area held Friday afternoon in the offices of the Yellow House Land Company, plans were discussed relative to ways and means of increasing the appraisals on farm lands in this section, and the proposed trip to Washington by a special committee appointed for the purpose of presenting to the federal authorities a plea in behalf of the citizens for this increase in securing federal land bank loans.

This committee, which was appointed at a meeting of interested land owners of the South Plains area at Lubbock Hotel, Lubbock, Thursday afternoon, consist of M. G. Abernathy, district manager of the Farm Loan Administration, J. C. Whicker, chairman for Lamb county, Bob Murray, state conciliation director, and Jess Mitchell, editor of Muleshoe.

For some time it has been known that land values of this section, for loan purposes were not on a par with such recognized values in other parts of Texas. Appraisers apparently in many instances setting their sights entirely too low when reviewing land on which applications have been made.

It is contended that the creditors in these instances are entitled to an amount of money equal in value to

THE SNOW STORM—

When we had that last big snow storm a couple of years ago, the editor of this newspaper made the statement in the Leader that the fleecy, white blanket was 18 inches deep.

A good many folks still remember that statement and they don't mind accusing the editor of being careless about the truth.

But, without fear or contradiction, we make the statement at this time that the snow of Saturday night and Sunday was "a million dollar" snow.

You can figure it out this way: The crops of this section each year have a value running into the millions. And without sufficient moisture we couldn't produce such immense crops. Therefore, if the snow of the past week end wasn't "a million dollar" blessing sent from on high we'll set 'em up in every drug store in town for a month.

When you trudged through the snow Sunday did you think of the fact that you were wading in white gold?

We people who are blessed with the opportunity of living and working on the South Plains have so much to be thankful for that we forget to count our multitude of blessings.

Speaking for ourselves, we recall with pleasure the time we decided to make our home on the South Plains; there's no better country on earth.

The coming months will again prove that the South Plains is a sec-

Right now is the opportune time for those contemplating entering the Lamb County Leader's Subscription Campaign to do so.

It is hard for the management to understand why there are so few entered up to date. Perhaps the great value of the prize list makes it hard to believe on the part of readers and friends.

The prizes in this campaign will positively be awarded exactly as announced in the opening advertisement regardless of whether there are a

BANQUET HELD BY BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB MONDAY

The first social function to be enjoyed by the newly organized Business and Professional Women's Club of Littlefield was given Monday evening in the form of a banquet in the Masonic rooms of the First National Bank building.

The dinner, which was served by the local chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, was skillfully planned by the different committees in charge and was indeed a credit to those responsible. Mrs. T. Wade Potter was chairman of the general arrangements committee, Mrs. Pat Boone, chairman of the decorating committee, and Mrs. W. G. Street of the menu committee. These ladies were assisted by different O. E. S. members. The tables were artistically arranged, and a very tempting dinner served.

The banquet was presided over by Mrs. C. M. Gay, president of the club.

The introduction of members was made by Miss Fern Hoover, secretary, which was followed by a very instructive and interesting talk on "Mexico," by Mrs. T. S. Sales; a poem by Mrs. C. J. Newgent and Miss Leatha Handley, and a talk by Mrs. Gay on loyalty to the club.

Mrs. Gay, who is leaving this city soon, expressed her regret and stated that in all probability Miss Mary B. Montgomery, vice president, will act as president.

MORE EVIDENCE

Attendance this spring at the Fat Stock Show and Live Stock Exposition in Fort Worth affords another evidence that people not only feel better but have more money with which to buy the things they want than they had last year. The show has been packing them in at every performance of the rodeo, and at the attractions.

If it took more evidence than has been afforded already by increased bank deposits and larger post office receipts, this helps to prove that a very large bulk of the people in West Texas are not only better off than a year ago but have so far improved in their financial position that many of them can afford to go places and do things that they want to do. What a difference in the picture as contrasted with one year ago!—Floyd County Hesperian.

THE BUSINESS INCREASE

According to the monthly review of Col. Leonard P. Ayres, the Cleveland business authority, business progressed during February to within 27 per cent of normal, says the Star-Telegram.

The newspaper continues: "The special factors are named by him as largely accounting for this advance: Increased activity in the automobile business is the foremost. The other two are a strong advance in building construction, and the extraordinarily cold weather, favorable to the use of electricity, purchases of clothing and footwear, and coal consumption. Colonel Ayres mentions automobiles, steel, building, exports, textiles and railroad freight as six elements of business so important in our national economy that we may truly term them controlling factors," and reports that "all of them have shown important recoveries from the lows of the depression."

"For the future, Colonel Ayres points to publicly-financed construction as now prominently in the picture. This construction will increase rapidly, since while the entire appropriation of $3,300,000,000 has been allotted, only a little more than one-tenth has been spent. Public outlays have started recovery, bonus payments to farmers will average $100,000,000 a month until May and half that sum through the remainder of the fiscal year. Treasury disbursements are running at the rate of $30,000,000 a day, an immediate stimulus and inflationary influence.

"We are reaching the crisis of the Administration's theory, when it will be determined whether private enterprise can carry on a business revival generated by government expenditures. The answer will come very near telling whether or not recovery may be attained, or hastened, by anything men can do in concert.

"Strikes may interfere with business revival now going on, but the damage they may do will be limited if they do not have a harmful effect upon the general psychology. President Roosevelt's greatest accomplishment was to turn that from pessimism to hope and courage."

Water Pressing Need In Texas

Water, conveniently located and in plentiful quantity, is the most need of farm homes in Texas according to the findings of the rural housing survey recently conducted in the state as a CWA project supervised by the Extension Service under the leadership of Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home improvement specialist. Curiously enough the next greatest need may be roofs that will keep water out of the houses.

The reports from the 25 areas in each of which approximately 2500 homes were visited by enumerators with a schedule of points to be surveyed are nearly all in, but have not as yet been completely tabulated; however, the supervisor of the survey in each area sent with the schedules a brief summary of high points in that area and practically all of these summaries stress the need for more and better water supplies for rural families. Several counties reported that many of the homes visited were supplied only with open earthen tanks.

Water piped into the house was so seldom found as to be a rarity. In one county it is estimated that owners carry their water an average of 32 feet while tenants carry it an average of 190 feet. Another county supervisor estimates that owners carry it over 100 feet and tenants about 400 feet. In another county the estimate is that for the 2181 homes visited which did not have water piped in (464 did) the combined carry amounted to 533,848 feet. And in still another county it was 1,790,295 feet for 1345 homes, while 1304 had water piped in.

Improved out-door toilets are a great need, too, it was found, with new or repaired screens in the homes in great demand also. The need of paint was so great as to be almost universal and the proportion of houses not in need of some repair was so

Texas Good Roads Ask Additional For Highways

All but approximately $5,000,000 of the present $26,000,000 NRA road building program for Texas is now under contract, and unless congress sets aside added funds for highways in the new public appropriation, tens of thousands of Texans will be thrown out of work this autumn and the state's hope for adequate main roads for its centennial will be blasted.

This was the warning issued by the Texas Good Roads Association today through its president, Judge W. O. Huggins of Houston, who appealed to all influential Texans to impress upon members of congress their wishes regarding provision of funds for roads.

Col. Ike Ashburn, manager of the association, has been in Washington for two weeks urging the case of road construction upon congressmen, senators and administration leaders. In company with officials from other under-improved states, he has been pleading for an added $100,000,000 especially for highways.

This would provide Texas with another $24,000,000 duplicating the small as to be negligible. All supervisors reported practically the same thing in regard to the small amount of money that has been spent for repairs in the past three years. Mrs. Claytor said, and several of them stressed the fact that if substantial repairs are not made soon many farm homes will have to be replaced instead of repaired.

In general the majority of homes had too few rooms and their arrangement lacked convenience. The chief type of construction was the frame house often made from the poorer grades of lumber even in sections where native stone for suitable building had to be removed from the ground where the house was built.

present program which spreads over every one of the state's 254 counties on a minimum basis of $4 per capita.

The present program will reach its peak in June or July and begin dropping off thereafter at the rate of $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 per month, throwing thousands out of work, unless the supplemented appropriation is made, the statement said.

HIGHER COMPENSATIONS ARE REJECTED

The house Thursday last rejected the higher compensations voted by the senate for veterans and sent the disputed bill back to a committee of senators and representatives to work out a compromise.

The vote of 220 to 174 bound the house conferees to insist upon the more moderate veterans compensation and federal pay plan the house had agreed upon.

Indications were the senate would yield to the house, accept amendments and send the bill to the House where President Hoover will decide whether to sign it. Many believed he would.

The senate proposal for the would have cost the government estimated $118,000,000 in allowances that were being veterans by the economy session. The house had voted 000,000 for that purpose.

The house also rejected to 164 the senate proposal to store to federal workers a fifteen percent pay cut. The estimated to cost $190,000,000. Instead it agreed to give 10 percent of the amount back to government employees. Cost estimates were put at $126,000,000.

The W. M. S. will meet Monday afternoon at three o'clock further announcements will be made regarding their meeting Sunday morning.

The district meeting of the W. M. U. will be held with the First Baptist Church beginning Sunday afternoon, April 8, and running through the 9th, there will perhaps be as many as one hundred and fifty visitors in Littlefield for the meeting.

The public is invited to attend all our services. Come and see us you might like us. Who knows?

METHODIST CHURCH

John Witt Hendrix, Pastor
The church makes the following offering next Sunday:

Church school comes on at 9:45 a. m., and goes off at 10:50 p. m. Floyd Hemphill, superintendent.

The hour of public worship comes on at 11 a. m., and goes off at 12 noon. It features Easter music, some of the delightful old hymns of the church, also the pastor will preach an Easter sermon, using as his subject, "Achieving a Passion for Immortality." Everything is being made ready for your coming. It is our desire to make this a great Easter season for all who worship with us.

Also we will have a short dedication service in the first part of the hour of the work we have just finished. The names (not amounts given) of the givers will be featured, posted here and there in parts and places for which they gave their money. We have one liberal contribution which we are inclined to mention. All who look in upon our recent labors rejoice with us. For the time being our place looks like a place of worship. Some good numbers have been unsolicited because of some other work, perhaps the church will move to paint this new work, save the wood, etc.

Come and worship with us. Also everyone will be given an opportunity to aid in our work among the nations. This offering will be made through envelopes and the amounts will be between the contributor and his Lord. This is our offering for our Kingdom Extension. Some people have attained to that celestial state of grace wherein they worship in giving. Some will rejoice in this privilege, hence our announcement through the press.

Holy communion will be administered at the end of the morning worship, or as part of the end of the morning worship. Many people seek this means of grace especially at Eastertide.

Churches To Close For Rainbow Service

The Methodist and First Baptist churches will have no regular services Sunday evening in deference to the service to be held at the Presbyterian church as the annual occasion set out by the ritual of the Rainbow Girls. It is the custom of the Knight Templars to also attend the service in a body. Rev. W. H. Bessire of Canyon, will deliver the service. Rev. Bessire conducts the services at the Presbyterian Church east first Sunday.

Amherst To Have City Election Tuesday, Apr. 3

A city election will be held at Amherst Tuesday, April 3, when a mayor and two city commissioners will be elected.

APPLICATIONS FOR CROP LOANS MAY BE MADE

The Lamb County Leader has just received word that two emergency crop loan offices have been opened in Lamb county. One of the offices have been opened in the Littlefield city hall by B. L. Cogdill, who announces he will be available from 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m. every week day, and farmers desiring loans should apply to him immediately.

The second office was opened at Amherst by County Agent D. A. Adam, who will be in the office Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

According to the regulations, under which the crop loans are to be made this year, any farmer who secures a loan must obtain a statement from the county production council where one exists, that he does not intend to increase his acreage or production in violation of the agricultural adjustment administration program.

John S. Andrews, field supervisor of the Emergency Crop Loan section of Dallas in this district comprising Lamb, Bailey, Palmer and Castro counties, will be in Littlefield on Saturday at the city hall office to take care of the wants of the farmers.

All farmers who are interested in obtaining government loans are asked to attend a meeting to be held in the court room of the city hall, Littlefield, Texas, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, March 31, 1934, at which time the regulations will be discussed. All farmers are invited to attend this meeting. Application blanks have been received this past week, and those who desire to borrow are requested to get their applications in at their earliest convenience, as April 30 will be the deadline for taking applications.

Farmers Agree To Sterilize Seed

At a meeting held at the Palace Theatre Monday, March 26, 100 farmers expressed their willingness to cooperate in sterilizing all of their cottonseed this spring. This group of farmers also expressed their opinion that all other farmers in the Littlefield area bring in their cottonseed to one of the sterilization machines and have their seed sterilized.

Pink boll worm work in this area is in charge of H. B. Prickett, bureau department of Agriculture, who will also be in charge of the sterilization machines that will be located at various gins over this county.

At the Littlefield meeting representatives from Mr. Prickett's office were heard in regard to this work. They told the farmers how the seed is sterilized and why it is necessary. Mr. J. T. Elms and J. H. Hardburger were heard and gave the opinion that sterilization of all seed is absolutely necessary. W. T. Fowler, farmer of Sudan, Texas, also gave his views and expressions in this matter. Having gone through a pink-boll worm quarantine in another county several years ago, Mr. Fowler knows the danger of this pest.

Sterilizing machines are now being brought into this county and will be located at the following places: Amherst, Sudan, Becks Gin, Fieldton, and Littlefield. All farmers that have cotton seed on hand should take the seed to one of these places and have their seed sterilized. There will be no cost to the farmers for this work.

Other meetings were held at Amherst, Sudan, Hart's Camp, Fieldton, Spade. These meetings were in charge of G. R. Shuman, assistant county agent, and the principal speaker were H. B. Prickett and Senator Arthur P. Duggan. At all of these meetings farmers expressed their willingness to cooperate in the carrying out of this program.

At a meeting of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday, a number of those present discussed the importance of the sterilization of cotton seed, in order that the quarantine now existing in certain sections of Lamb county could be lifted this fall.

"If 95 per cent of the farmers of Lamb county have their seed sterilized this year that will be the end of the pink boll worm in this county; otherwise the quarantine may extend three years," said one of the speakers.

Shipped in seed also must be sterilized, or, if not sterilized, at least inspected, it was stated.

TY-FIRST INSTALLMENT

Ruth Warren, born in an eastern city, is willed an interest in the Dead ranch in Arizona. With her husband, who is in poor health and their small son, David, she comes to Arizona to take up the ranch. Ruth's brother, reported killed in the war, had left off. They reach the ranch, 85 miles from the railroad, with the help of Old Charley, a neighboring rancher who carries the rural mail. At the ranch they find the partner, a huge woman, Ann, and a small boy, David, who they suspect is their son. As they enter the house they pass a huge gulch where a voice whispers, "Go back. Go back." Ruth's husband is caught in a rain shortly after a rival contracts pneumonia and passes away before medical aid can be brought. Ruth, penniless and without funds attempts to return but is balked at almost everywhere by the crafty and plotting Snavelly. Despite obstacles of all kinds Ruth gives notes on her ranch to purchase cattle. She is assisted by Old Charley Thane and his son, Will Thane. A Mexican family is hired to assist with the work. A sickness develops with the cattle. Snavelly calls it "liver rot" and says he has a powder to cure the disease. Ruth discovers trickery in Snavelly's tactics of poisoning her cattle but says nothing, waiting for medical evidence. Drought is over and a well in a ravine, water for the perishing stock is found. Ruth has enough money to sell to meet her notes. Ruth enters the gulch which runs a few yards south of the house and followed it. At last she found beneath an ash tree which had a bird's nest. With the paring knife she cut the potato in half and numerous little cuts in the surface she rubbed a pinch of powder from the liver fever box. She took the piece of potato on the end of the tree and, walking a short distance away, seated herself to wait, her eyes on the bird.

hind every bowlder, and among the scant piles of driftwood and leaves in the bed of the gulch.

She returned to the rock and seated herself wearily—it was hard walking through the sand. David sprawled on his stomach before the rock, tickling the sand on the edge of a doodle bug cone.

"Mama, what are we doing?" "Just thinking."

Presently David asked, "Do you hear that funny little bird?" "Oh, David?" For the first time Ruth turned her whole mind on her son. Just then she heard the twitter of a bird. She had heard it off and on for some time, but only as one hears a sound while thinking hard upon something else. The twitter came again and Ruth started, then rose quickly to her feet. There was something strange about the sound of that bird—it was too close, as though the bird was sitting not ten feet away, perhaps even nearer. But there was not a bird in sight. "David!" Ruth was suddenly excited. "Get up on top of the rock and see if you can see the bird—we must find it, son!"

"Isn't it close, mama?" David held his hand out before him. "I think he's sitting on my finger, but when I look he's gone!"

Slowly, Ruth moved away from the rock, trying, from the infrequent sounds of the bird, to go toward it. She soon discovered that if she went a few feet to right or left she could not hear the bird at all, although David, behind her on the bowlder said, "Hear it!" at regular intervals. The sound seemed to come from the south in a narrow band. As though she were following an invisible beam of light the girl walked slowly toward the cliff. It was weird; the voice of the bird flew only slightly louder—always, it seemed but a few feet before her face. Ten yards from the cliff a bird flew out of a waist-high bush and darted up the gulch. Ruth ran to the bush. It was a very ordinary bush, rather sparse, differing in no way from any other bush. A foot or so behind it rose the wall of sandstone. To left and right, ran other bushes, growing as close to the wall as they could find earth, none of them tall. Then Ruth saw something which her eyes would have missed six months before—in the bush was a dry stick about two feet tall with a forked top. This stick did not belong to the bush; it had been stuck into the sand like a stake.

She stepped through an opening on the right and came between the bush and the wall. Just behind the bush was a smooth depression in the sandstone about four feet across and perhaps a foot or more in depth. It was as though someone had pressed a giant basin into the wall when the rock was soft. The lower third of the basin was beneath the surface of the sand. It was a perfectly natural hollow such as are to be found in great numbers, scoured out by wind and water, in the sandstone banks of ravines. But Ruth saw something else; a small flattened rock like a foot-stool lay on the ground a little inside the basin, and before this stone were the marks of boot heels. Some one had recently sat upon this stone. She experimented and found that when seated upon the stone her head came opposite the deepest point of the basin behind her. She called to David to go back to the bowlder and climb on top.

When the boy was in position she spoke in a normal tone. "Hello, David."

"Hello, mama!" His small voice reached her across the intervening distance.

Ruth lowered her voice to an excited whisper, "Can you hear mama now?"

David did not reply.

Then she saw that the forked stick which she had already discovered was so placed that by sitting straight she could just see the boy on the bowlder through the notch. It was like a gun sight. Again she whispered, "Come here, David."

It was uncanny; the boy slid from the rock and plodded toward her through the sand.

As they returned to the house Ruth thought over her discovery. The depression in the rock was a reflector, and by sitting on the stone and sighting through the forked stick, one's mouth was placed at its focus. The sound the voice was then conserved and directed in a narrow beam to the brown bowlder, as light is reflected from a headlight. That was the secret of the old Indian medicine men. And Snavelly had learned of it. He had seen Ruth, Kenneth and David that first day—had watched them struggling along the road toward the ranch. Then he had slipped into the gorge by way of the fissure and had spoken to them. Afterward he had gone to the corral, told Ann that he would finish milking and that she should go and see who was coming through the gulch.

She was tremendously thrilled over her discovery. She told herself that now she had Snavelly where she wanted him.

Ruth lay awake late that night, planning how she should prove the origin of the voice to Ann. She came to the conclusion that she would do nothing until Sunday. With Will and Old Charley helping, she could get Ann to come for a ride in the machine on some pretext or other. They would take her to the gulch and show her what the voice was. Then, without returning to the ranch they would all go into town and place the whole thing in Martin's hands.

On Saturday Ruth and David arrived at the mail box later than usual. The girl stayed on her horse while David dismounted and, crawling through the fence, went to the box. He returned with the roll of papers and magazines. "There's a letter here too, mama," he said, as he held up the roll.

Ruth worked the letter from under the string about the package and looked at it curiously. It was addressed to her old apartment in Philadelphia; the writing was unfamiliar, a child's writing. The original postmark was undecipherable, but as she opened the letter Ruth noticed that it bore a foreign stamp.

As her eyes met the first few words of the crudely written letter, Ruth's expression of mild curiosity was suddenly wiped out. She uttered a cry and her face went white. She sat on her horse like one entranced, lips parted breathlessly, eyes staring at the paper. Both David and Sanchez looked on with interest.

"Mama—?" "David!" Ruth whirled about. "Uncle Harry—this letter—he's alive!"

Ruth returned to the home ranch in an ecstasy of happiness. The whole world had changed; for in that world Ruth Warren felt that all her troubles were vanishing. To be sure, Harry was far away, sick, and in difficulties; but he was alive. Harry, her big brother—the one person she had really depended on all her life—was alive! She told herself that she never had been quite satisfied with the story of his death, it sounded plausible but somehow not like Harry. He wasn't dead—he'd soon be with her on the Dead Lantern ranch.

She felt incredibly young and light-hearted. As she and David neared the barn, chattering and laughing, Ruth fell to thinking of Snavelly. She pitied him. Poor, half-crazy, eccentric man—there was nothing to fear from him now. When Harry learned of the things he had done, Snavelly would have to go.

Just what she would do at present, Ruth had not decided. First, she would show Snavelly the letter. Nothing he could say or do would frighten her now, and once he understood that Harry Grey was coming back to the Dead Lantern, Snavelly was forever beaten.

Again she read the letter which she still held in her hand. Harry had been captured by Mexican bandits, had been with them several months, had at last escaped, was badly hurt, and from then until the writing of the letter he had been cared for at the inaccessible Guitierrez Rancho six days west of Hermosillo. He said that he was dictating the letter to a traveler—the first person he had seen in many months who had any knowledge of English. Harry was unable to write because of a wound, and was still in bed. But his hurts were mending and before long he expected to be up. He requested Ruth to write his partner, Snavelly, of the situation and ask him to go to Hermosillo.

Ruth galloped to the ranch house, for she saw Snavelly's horse standing by the little misquite near the back porch.

She entered the front of the house and went through to the rear. (Continued Next Week)

New Gin Is Being Built At Enochs; Other Building

Construction is underway in the erection of a new gin at Enochs by the Enochs Gin Co., according to an announcement by G. P. Howell, manager.

The new structure will be a five-story gin, and will be located just east of the office of the present gin, which also is owned and operated by the Enochs Gin Co. Completion of the new gin will double the ginning capacity of the gin company.

Construction of the new gin was made necessary on account of the large number of new farms in the Enochs section. Five thousand additional acres are going under the plow this year in the immediate Enochs territory. A vast amount of construction has been carried out in Enochs and territory in the past few months. New businesses include a lumber yard and hardware store, a barber shop, and a blacksmith shop. A number of new residences have been erected in Enochs, and a vast amount of building has been carried out in the Enochs section.

The Enochs Lumber Co., is owned by Mr. Howell, and, in addition to lumber, handles heavy and shelf hardware, and the International line of farm machinery.

waited more than an hour and about to give up when a little bird flew down from the top of the ash tree and alighted on the ground. After a moment the bird flew to the potato, looked it over, and took a speculative peck. Ruth watched so intently that her face burned. The little bird had taken several bites when it ceased to move away from the potato. It took a small twig and jerked it as though trying to shake something from its mouth or throat. Then the bird's wings drooped, the bird took a single claw for a moment, and dropped to the ground. Ruth hurried the bird and the piece of potato, then walked slowly back to the house. Her face was pale and her eyes felt uncertain. In her room she unlocked her trunk, and, screwing up her courage, tasted powder labeled Cyanide. It was common salt.

The girl shuddered. How could any one deliberately poison cattle? But she knew that to Snavelly cattle were a crop. He would not have killed her; but if by causing the cattle to fail he could gain possession of the ranch, that was another matter.

Snavelly had not foreseen that she would lock both boxes in her trunk so she had no opportunity to re-examine the contents. Later, Ann had "cooked" the barbecue meat with salt, and today the girl had a bird with the "fever medicine."

Ruth grew weak with fear; a man would do such things in an effort to rid himself of her, what if he did not? That night the drunken giants had been seen to kill her by the voice. Ruth was certain that in some way Snavelly controlled that voice.

She now feared him as never before, yet, she must not let him suspect. If she could only hold out this long, until Old Charley and Will the next afternoon Ruth and David went through the arroyo north of the house. When they met the old road, Ruth turned toward the gulch, dismounted at the fence and tied the horse.

She went first to the brown bowl and seated herself. Ruth waited an hour, while David played with the horse, but she heard no voice. Then, automatically, she began to explore the gulch. She looked into every depression, be-

Special Program To Be Presented At Palace Easter

A special Easter program will be presented at the Palace Theater Saturday midnight, Sunday afternoon, and again Monday night, as announced by W. J. Chesher, manager.

This will include the widely advertised "Three Little Pigs," featuring the song hit "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Bear," and Dolores Del Rio and a brilliant cast in a musical extravaganza "Flying Down To Rio."

Devotees of the modern dance are now enthralled with the Carioca, new "tete-a-tete" tango demonstrated in America for the first time in the sumptuous musical extravaganza, "Flying Down To Rio."

The dance, while performed spectacularly in the film, is in reality well within the talents of the usual ballroom dancer. The Carioca has the added feature of being adaptable to crowded floors. And it is called a "tete-a-tete tango" because the foreheads of the dancers are supposed to touch throughout the progress of the movements. The Carioca is expected to become the rage with the dancing public.

Some years ago an attempt was made to popularize a similar dance in America by Vernon Castle. It was called the "Maxixe." Though this dance brought considerable fame to the late impresario of the ballroom dancing, it proved too difficult for the run-of-the-floor dancers. The Carioca, according to Lou Brock, who supervised "Flying Down To Rio," is a derivation of the old Maxixe, retaining its beauty but discarding some of the difficult evolutions.

Music for the dance was written by Vincent Youmans, celebrated composer of such hits as "No, No, Nanette," and other musical productions.

BRISBANE THIS WEEK

Fascism Next? Healthy Policemen Is the Craze a Blessing? The Shotgun Marriage

Dictatorship and Fascism hold Italy, Turkey, Russia, Germany, and threaten France and England. There is no reason why Fascism should not come here in the wake of industrial chaos. If it does come, it will appear in the shape that will not please either capital or labor—capital, which wishes comfort, luxury and increasing profits, and labor, that wants to rule comfortably out of harm's way, through union politics and would have no stomach for the game as Mussolini and Hitler and Stalin play it.

Six thousand policemen, members of the Holy Name society in New York, pledged never to take the name of God in vain, are evidently all healthy policemen. They breakfasted together after attending mass Sunday, and this is what they ate: 3,000 grapefruit, 200 pounds of oatmeal, 24,000 scrambled eggs, 2,500 roast chickens, 4,500 pounds of potatoes, 12,000 sausages, 10,000 pounds of sugar.

With this breakfast they drank 900 gallons of coffee, 800 quarts of milk, 250 quarts of cream.

Mr. Octavus Roy Cohen, writer.

"The craze for contract bridge hurts social life it has eliminated the art of social conversation." It grieves Mr. Cohen that women should "play bridge" five afternoons and five nights a week. If he had heard some of these women engaged in what he calls "the art of conversation" he might be glad that the bridge craze came along.

Bridge is simply one of many substitutes for thought, a painful processor nearly all human beings, and one of the milder substitutes. Other substitutes are drugs, alcohol, tobacco and various kinds of sports that take men back to the monkey period and let them comfortably down on all fours.

A dog, taught to walk on its hind legs, likes the task no more than a man, recently taught to think, like thinking.

Salvation army authorities in Florida announce a new view of an old moral question, sometimes described as "doing right by our Nell."

Mrs. George A. Stephan, wife of Adjutant Stephan, whose work is helping girls out of trouble, no longer believes in the old "shotgun" marriage idea.

Ideas have changed, Mrs. Stephan finds, and public opinion, that of women especially, is not as cruel as it used to be.

The young unmarried mother may find a place in life. Mrs. Stephan helps her to find it, and does not advocate the compulsory marriage, which was once thought a cure for all such troubles.

John Curry, sentenced to life in prison four years ago when convicted in Pennsylvania, is developing artistic talent in prison. His pictures have been exhibited, important artists visit and show interest in him.

The young convict-artist says, "The work means a great deal to me because it makes the outside world which I may never see again, real to me."

February 1 Issue Of Leader On File In Washington

According to J. E. Whicker, the issue of February 1 of the Lamb County Leader reporting the appointment of a Farm Debt Conciliating Committee for Lamb county has been forwarded to Washington by Bob Murray, state director, and is on file with the federal authorities in charge of this work.

Mr. Whicker said that Mr. Murray complimented Littlefield on having such a splendid newspaper, and was so pleased at the publicity given the farm debt adjustment project by this newspaper that he forwarded a copy to the department. The Leader thanks Mr. Murray for this compliment.

This copy of the Leader, according to Mr. Whicker, will be used as evidence of the support and cooperation being received in Lamb county in connection with the work of the Farm Debt Conciliation Committee, when the special committee, appointed for that purpose, attend at Washington, and present a plea on behalf of the citizens of this area for increased appraisal of farm lands.

This committee is composed of M. G. Abernathy, district manager of the Farm Loan Administration, J. C. Whicker, director for Lamb county, Bob Murray, and Jess Mitchell, editor of Muleshoe.

HOUSE OVERRIDES VETO

The house Tuesday overrode the president's veto of the congressional plans for granting bigger allowances for veterans and more pay for federal workers. The vote of 310 to 72 against the president's wishes found many of those high in Democratic house councils casting their ballots contrary to White House wishes.

SNOW ASSURES BIG CROPS FOR THIS SECTION

Littlefield and Lamb county and portions of the North and South Plains are rejoicing over the heavy snow of Saturday night and Sunday.

With soil conditions already excellent in Lamb county, the snow gave that additional moisture which assures excellent crops.

A Littlefield resident, who has been here for nine years, said: "We had a big storm like that about this time in 1926, and that year we had the biggest crop we have ever had; I mean we raised more to the acre."

Snow began falling slowly in the Littlefield section Saturday afternoon in large flakes, and continued until Sunday afternoon.

The snow melted somewhat Sunday afternoon as it fell and it was therefore difficult to obtain an accurate measurement as to the actual depth of the snowfall. Littlefield and section received from seven to ten inches of snow.

H. C. Pumphrey, Santa Fe agent, reported Monday morning that Clovis, N. M., received six inches of snow; Vaughan, N. M., four inches; Lubbock, four inches; Plainview, six inches; Amarillo, 12 inches, and Tulsa, six inches.

Snow fell south to Slaton, and there were good rains at Sweetwater, Hamlin, San Angelo, and other places.

Friday evening last the temperature lowered, and at 9 o'clock Saturday morning registered 27; at noon 29; midnight 33; Sunday morning at nine o'clock 32; and on Monday morning at eight o'clock was 24, which was the coldest for the past 10 days. The coldest weather this year was registered on February 26, when it was nine above.

Former Littlefield Man Preaches At Church Here Sunday

Rev. Kenneth Hemphill of Dallas, S. M. U. and also assistant pastor of the Grace Methodist Church of that city, was in Littlefield last week-end and preached an excellent sermon at the First Methodist Church Sunday morning, his subject being "The Light of the World." Mr. Hemphill arrived Saturday night and left Sunday afternoon immediately after the wedding of his sister, Miss Addie Mae.

Spade Wins First In Volley Ball

Opposition Piling Up Against Cotton Control Measure

An attack is reported to have been made on the Bankhead compulsory cotton control bill in the house Saturday.

The measure was branded by Democratic and Republican opponents as "tyranny" and opening the door to the penitentiary for every cotton farmer who may violate either the act or regulations to be laid down by the secretary of agriculture.

As opposition piled up in both parties indications were that the measure will have stiff going on the roll call Monday. Notice was served by Representative Snell of New York, the Republican leader, that an "aye" and "nay" vote will be demanded.

Designed to reduce production and increase prices by limiting output in the coming year to 10,000 bales, the measure was criticized as a forerunner of similar legislation for compulsory regulation of wheat, sugar and other farm commodities.

Representatives Busby (D-Miss.) and McGugin (R-Kans.) led the fight on the measure today as it was amended to modify penalties for violation of its provisions.

Asked by Representative Woodruff (R-Mich.) if the measure was not a "forerunner to legislation to control tobacco, wheat, sugar and other farm commodities," Busby replied:

"I believe that is so. If this bill passes I doubt if any commodity can escape a like fate."

"This bill," McGugin charged, "is rank socialism. It is tyranny. It is vicious and it is brutal. This penalty section is the blackest title of all."

McGugin referred to the provision that levied a penalty of $5,000 fine and two years imprisonment or both for violation of any part of the act or any regulation issued under it by the secretary of agriculture.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the agriculture committee then offered amendments which modified it by making the maximum penalty for "willful violation" one year imprisonment and a $1,000 fine or both, and imposing a $200 fine or viola-

Shows Decrease In Cotton Ginnings

The final ginning report for the 1933-34 cotton season, as announced by the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, indicates Lubbock county is sixth in the state, and leading the South Plains area in production.

Nineteen counties in Lubbock's territory not including Swisher, Yoakum and Borden, showed a total of 518,457 bales for 1933, a decrease of 92,152 bales from the total of 610,609 bales for the previous year. Sixteen of these counties, on top of the caprock, showed 431,785 bales in favor of the previous season.

Lamb County Fourth

Lubbock county was followed by: Lynn, second; Crosby, third; Lamb, fourth; Dickens, fifth; Floyd, sixth. The 1932 rankings were: Lubbock, first; Lamb, second; Lynn, third; Dawson, fourth; Crosby, fifth.

Six counties showed gains: Bailey, Briscoe, Crosby, Floyd, Dickens and Lynn. The other counties either showed decreases or were not shown last year. Castro and Parmer counties did not show ginnings for 1932 as the rule of the bureau is not to show any totals where individual operations would be disclosed. Yoakum county does not have a gin and Swisher was not shown this season. Borden county also is without a gin.

President Of Telephone Co. Dies Suddenly

Sigard L. Odgaard, president of the Company and executive vice-president of the Associated Telephone Utilities System, died March 19, following a heart attack at Pinehurst, North Carolina.

Mr. Odgaard was born in Port Edwards, Wisconsin, August 3, 1885. His interest with the public utilities industry began in 1910 when he joined the staff of the railroad commission of Wisconsin. He became an owner and operator of telephone properties in 1918 when he and associates began acquiring telephone properties in Wisconsin. The Southwestern Associated Telephone Company, with general offices in Lubbock, grew out of Mr. Odgaard's purchase of the State Telephone Company of Texas in 1927, and the Standard Telephone Company of Texas in 1929. The Southwestern Associated Telephone Company operates extensively in the South Plains and Panhandle areas and extends to East Texas and the Rio Grande Valley, comprising 151 exchanges among which are exchanges at Littlefield, Brownfield, Memphis, Wellington, Clarendon and Dalhart. The Southwestern Associated Telephone Company is owned by the Associated Telephone Utilities Company which also owns the controlling interest in the Haskell Telephone Company operating at Haskell, Olney and Seymour, and 24 exchanges in that section. The Associated Telephone Utilities Company is the holding company for 35 separate telephone companies in 26 states and is the largest group of independent telephone properties in the United States.

Mr. Odgaard was apparently in excellent health up to the instant of his death. He is survived by his widow, who was with him at the time of death, and three children.

Bankhead Plans Amendments To Bill

Senator Bankhead had two amendments ready should the senate get around to considering his bill for compulsory production of cotton.

One change would place at 75 per cent the penalty tax on surplus cotton. This was the figure originally in the bill. The house lowered it to 50 per cent.

The other would authorize collection of the tax when the excess was ginned.

Bankhead thinks these alterations would increase the effectiveness of the bill, the purpose of which is to strengthen cotton prices and reduce the cotton carryover. The bill would hold this year's output to 10,000,000 bales.

Attends Meeting Of Tax Collectors

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Griffin were in Fort Worth recently where Mr. Griffin attended the state convention of tax collectors which met in that city March 15, 16 and 17.

There were 202 registered for the convention, Mr. Griffin said, among whom were tax collectors, deputy tax collectors, and 17 employees of the comptroller's department.

Interesting and instructive talks were made by representatives of the comptroller's office in regard to the collection of taxes, more especially poll taxes and delinquent taxes.

Instructions were given as to the most efficient manner in which the weekly, monthly and annual reports of the office should be prepared.

Open discussion was held by the collectors in which they explained the different points in their individual office which took more time and were the most troublesome to them. In each case the poll tax problem seemed to be most prominent.

The representatives from the comptroller's office made special effort to impress on the minds of the collectors the fact that they were in a position of trust and responsibility to the people of the county, and assured them that the state office was always ready to assist rendering to the collector any service which would enable him to perform his duties of his office to the best interests of the taxpayers and to the county as well.

BULA NEWS

A general change of feeling has been evident around Bula since the falling of the heavy snow last Saturday and Sunday. Everyone feels that moisture enough has resulted for the beginning of this year's crop.

The following men have been nominated as candidates for membership on the school board for the ensuing period: Jeff Lowe, Pat Davis, W. E. Autrey, and Mr. Butcher. Two of these are to be elected next Saturday to succeed Mr. M. A. Elms, recently moved into the Littlefield district, and Mr. L. C. McCall whose term is out April 7.

Mr. Pat Davis, who was reported seriously ill a few days ago, is doing nicely, and it is hoped that he will be up and about in the next few days.

"Clouds and Sunshine," a comedy-drama in three acts is to be presented by the faculty and others at the Bula school auditorium Friday night, April 6. The cast is as follows:

Go to Church Sunday--A Community Movement

Go to the CHURCH Of Your CHOICE EASTER SUNDAY

There will be Special Services in the Littlefield Churches Easter Sunday, April 1, and a Special Invitation is Extended to YOU to Attend.

COME EARLY AND BRING YOUR FAMILY

Why You Should Attend Church

A prominent South Plains pastor recently said:

"The church is the very finest place for wholesome social contact. The most radiant, joyful, helpful people are found within our churches. For fullest growth of spirit life church attendance is essential. Here is the place most opportune to engage in Christian worship. Here is the place the seeking soul finds fresh contact with Heaven. Here is the place new faith is found for most successful living. The progress of man in all generations is greatly in debt to the churches. Where has humanity made an advance except as the voice of prophet and saint has sounded in its soul, saying: "This is God's way. Walk in the right." The temple has been the world's motive power in the building of civilization. The foundations of history are not markets but shrines. And the only hope for the saving of civilization tomorrow is the ministry of the church. In an age whose atmosphere is black with materialism the world's only salvation is in building an altar and calling upon the name of the Lord.

"As for me I love the church. Within her portals I was reared. From childhood she has provided me with spiritual sustenance. So long as life shall last this shall be my song: "I was glad when they said unto me: 'Let us go into the house of the Lord'."

AS MOTHER USED TO DO

The following poem, taken from a church publication, suggests a number of practical reasons for church attendance:

If you're feeling sort o'rocky and disgusted with yourself,
You haven't got the orders, and the goods are on the shelf;
You've tried your best at smiling, but only a grin will come,
And your temper's short and snappy in the love-nest you call home;
You'll get a lot of help from it and keep from getting blue
If you go to church on Sunday, as Mother used to do.

"When you sit beside the sick-bed of your darling little boy,
And the doctor's diagnosis has dispersed your hope and joy;
When your bills are multiplying and your bank account is low;
And wifey needs a little change, about a week or so;
You'll get a boost and blessing that will surely pull you through, the present land cost, while a reasonable valuation will permit the creditors to a return of their advanced money and at the same time enable the debtors to keep their homes.
If you go to church on Sunday, as Mother used to do."

The meeting Friday was attended by R. J. Murray, state chairman, J. C. Whicker, Lamb county chairman, J. E. Whicker, assistant chairman, and Jess Mitchell, representing Bailey county adjustment committee; Judge R. C. Hopping, sales manager; and W. F. Eisenberg, both of Lubbock, and representing lienholder, Ellwood Land Company; W. H. Badger, general manager, lienholder, Yellow House Land Company; Fred P. Warren of Three Oaks, Michigan, representing the Warren Estate; Francis Miller, Suidan, representing the Miller Estate, and W. P. Soash, Lubbock, in behalf of the Slaughter interests.

A round table discussion took place, at which it was pointed out that owners of lands in some other parts of the state, which are not nearly so productive as that on the South Plains, receive considerable more from the Federal Land Bank than the South Plains farmers on account of the low appraisals on land in this section; and that it was for the purpose of increasing the appraisals that the committee would assemble all necessary data, statistics, affidavits, etc., and present same to the administration at Washington. It is expected they will leave for the national capitol about the end of this week.

According to J. E. Whicker, prior to leaving Littlefield the visitors made a survey of this city and surrounding territory, looking over the huge Peyton Packing Company project, the Walker-White sheep pens, etc., and that they were amazed at the large number of cattle and sheep being fed out here. "They were more than enthused over the prospects of this section," said Mr. Whicker.

Jess Mitchell, one of the special committee appointed to go to Washington, has established an office in the city hall, Lubbock, where he will spend this week collecting data in preparation for the trip.

A meeting of all the county chairmen of the State Debt Conciliation Committee will be held at the Hilton Hotel, Lubbock, at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

It is expected that a number, including J. C. Whicker, J. E. Whicker, Senator A. P. Duggan, W. H. Badger, Judge Simon D. Hay, and Lamb county commissioners will attend this meeting.

An invitation to the secretaries of all Chambers of Commerce in the South Plains area, urging them to be present, and asking that they bring business men from the different cities to the meeting, has been extended by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

WRECKER AIDS UNFORTUNATE MOTORISTS—

You've heard the saying that "It's an ill wind that doesn't blow somebody some good."

The Littlefield translation is that "It's not much of a snow storm that doesn't put a number of ears in the ditch, and cause the owners to call out the wrecker."

Sunday afternoon, when we were plowing through the snow making our way downtown, we observed B. D. Garland aboard his wrecker, returning from pulling some poor cuss out of the ditch.

All of which gives rise to the thought that when you're in the ditch and the wrecker appears in the distance there's a feeling of comfort come over a feller that is akin to the tinkling sensation produced by old wine.

later by John Arnett Company.

In announcing Mr. Dyer made the following statement:

"If elected to the office of constable I will treat all citizens in an impartial manner carrying out my duties to the best of my ability, and cooperating with the other officers of the law.

"I am like most everyone else I have to work for a living, and may not be able to meet all the voters in the precinct personally, but will do my best to see everyone before the election.

"I will appreciate the vote and influence of all my friends, and those who do not know me, would be glad if you would investigate my record, and should you think favorably of me, ask that you vote for me at the coming election."

wanted him to sign a pledge that he would do it. They didn't want any just mere hearsay.

Then on the other hand there was lots of em that really thought it should be done. Here we were spending money on everything else, why not spend some now that we would be forced to anyhow in the future? It looked like the best time to get it in circulation. Of course that idea of putting it out in greenbacks, that scared em, and it scared lots of soldiers. They wanted their money, but they didn't want it if it was going to run us to the printing press.

Other schools of thought think that that's what we should do, borrow from ourselves, an not from bonds that bear interest. The whole thing is so cockeyed, that I cant even read about it. But anyhow as I say it will work itself out. It wont be worked out on any prearranged plan. The Lord is generally with us, I dont know why He should be, but why worry?

In another few days when you read this, (if ever) why all we been talking about will be over and we will be off on something else. Maby we will catch Dillinger, and that will convert the whole thought of America off what was on its mind, and once its off we never get it back on the same subject.

It is pleasing to report that Richard New Post now has one of the greatest paid-up membership enrollments ever attained since the first charter was issued to Littlefield or its Legion unit. The total enrollment at this time is 81 members with the prospect of many more within the next few weeks.

Improvements on the Legion Hut are being made and the completion of this work will likely be made within the next ten days, according to the contractor, Calvin Prichard. The painting work will follow shortly after the carpenters finish their part of this work. To the unpaid veterans we invite you to join now.

We are not a phrenologist, and we are not a palmist, but we'll bet her dad a flock of Travis Club cigars (that's the brand he smokes), that when Billy Jane becomes a young lady that she will make a wonderful secretary for some business man; such strict attention to detail should qualify her for a responsible position.

Monkey Wrench Is Tossed Into Dog Catcher "Election"

There's a possibility that the "election" for Dog Catcher may be called off.

Arch Dale, director of activities at Perry Bros., threw a monkey wrench into the election machinery Wednesday when he said that he will protest the conducting of the "election" on the grounds that there is a heap of work in Littlefield for as many dog catchers as are willing to work.

In other words, he is of the opinion that Dick Johnson, Charlie Strawn and Mich Stokes, "candidates" for "election" should all pitch in and help "Shorty" Clark, official keeper of the pound and custodian of stray dogs.

What's the verdict? What's the verdict?

NOTICE

WHY WOULD YOU GO ANYWHERE ELSE TO HAVE YOUR ARTIFICIAL DENTURES MADE?

IT COULD NOT BE THE PRICE—

My prices are definitely lower, because I pay cash for everything I use, and I purchase all my materials in a large quantity; therefore, my purchase price is less for the same material. IT COULD NOT BE QUALITY—

I have been in Lubbock nine years, and have always used the best materials, and maintained that. First-class work always paid for. We do not have to rely on a commercial dental laboratory to do our work—we maintain our own laboratory. IT COULD NOT BE LACK OF SATISFACTION—

As we have hundreds of satisfied patients wearing our plates and you, no doubt, have neighbors who are satisfied. IN ORDER TO STIMULATE SUMMER BUSINESS, for the months of April and May, we will construct for you, one full set of the best unbreakable plates "natural color" using nothing but the best materials and workmanship, fully guaranteeing our work—these two months only, for a price that will surprise you. COME IN AND SEE US.
