Memorial To Lamb County War Dead To Be Erected

Dividend Insurance Check Distribution To Start In January

August 25, 1949 will be the date of distribution of appraisals for the National Insurance special dividend. It is expected the dividend check distribution will begin in January and will be substantially completed during the first six months of 1950. "Making application the first day of distribution of the form does not necessarily assure early receipt of the special dividend check," Sisson emphasized. Beneficiaries of deceased veterans who are presently receiving insurance benefits will not be required to make application for the special dividend. Veterans administration will mail direct to beneficiaries of deceased veterans whose insurance was not in force at time of death, the necessary application form for any accrued dividend payable. Only one application is necessary although the veteran may have had more than one policy of insurance or more than one plan of insurance. It is further pointed out that where the insurance number is unknown, the veterans application will be identified through his service number. The local Red Cross office will be ready with the forms and the time to assist any veteran wishing help with these applications.

Three-Quarter Coat, All Fur or Fur-Trimmed, Lead Fall Styles

Belliciano takes to the short and flared in a marvelous little topper of Forstmann's taupe alpaca fleece. A vast, widely laped fur collar, with patch pockets set at a soft angle, curved and cuffed. Luxuriously lined with nutria.

The important fur fashion of the year is the three-quarter coat, 34 to 40 inches long, that looks right with any skirt length and smart on every figure. The leading silhouette is straight in front with a four-or-five-flare back that falls from the shoulder in graceful folds.

Collars are small, gently rolled or upstanding. Sleeves are straight with moderate fullness and the majority have small, turned-back, or novelty cuffs.

Many fur coats are shown with belts, or can be worn either belted or full. A distinctively new fur fashion is a collarless, Mandarin-styled, coat with side slits and kimono-type sleeves.

Genuine mink — and its popular-priced counterpart, mink-dyed muskrat — highlight the entire fur fashion picture, not only for coats themselves, but as trimmings on coats of other furs. Black Persian lamb coats with collars, sleeve trims or buttons of mink appear in all the leading collections. Luxurious-looking, yet within reach of the average purse, is smart and serviceable Jap mink. Mink and the mink-type furs take precedence over all others for jackets in deapes as well as full-length coats.

Staging a strong come-back for the 1949-50 winter season is genuine Alaskan sealskin that has no equal for warmth and wear. It is shown in warm-toned browns as well as black, and — for something really new and exciting — even dyed in navy blue! The young business woman or college girl will continue to bet on the good looks and sturdiness of mouton. Gray Chinese kidskin is another serviceable fur in the budget-class that is sure to find favor with the junior set.

Grey squirrel is being re-discovered for its softness, flattery and richness; and squirrel, dyed to resemble sable or mink ranks among the season's favorites. Again available at moderate prices, silver-blue and natural muskrat will have a strong appeal to the woman who wants a smart and practical coat to wear on all occasions for many seasons.

Sling capes in mink and in squirrel outrank jackets in popularity; and there is a strong preference for flat furs over the fluffy, long-haired furs for all types of scarfs, capes, and accessories.

Basic, becoming styles that avoid extremes, large and varied selections, and attractive prices combine to make this an advantageous time to invest in furs. Not in years has it been so easy for the average woman to find a fur coat to suit her needs, her taste, and her means.

Spotlight on Sports

by BACON JONES

Keeping Up with Jones... The feats of the great Tyre "Bobby" Jones are rivaled by men like Nelson and many but stories remarkable in spirit will be remembered in sports many years come.

U. S. and British golf story has to do with the Open Golf Championship, Minneapolis in July, 1948. The competition was between Smith, Horton Smith, Harryer, Johnny Golden, Tommy Johnny Farrell, and many top-notchers. As the grass dropped by the wayside, it was that MacDonald Smith who was to beat.

On the seventeenth hole, tee shot careened into the parallel water hazard. The ball not recovered, and was lost in swamp. Jones was penalized stroke, and went on to take the hole. Had he been to play the ball from the right there. But the situation, under terrible and discouragement, week-eighteenth to become the putt on that final hole, the match by two strokes.

HALF-MILLION DOLLARS TO BE INVESTED IN MODERN NEW HOTEL AT LEVELLAND

Unless some unforeseen difficulty arises, construction of the $425,000 Levelland hotel will begin about Jan. 1. An option has been obtained on a downtown building site and financing is rapidly being completed. An architect has been employed and he is now working on preliminary sketches.

Last spring the business men of Levelland, through their Chamber of Commerce, decided to do something about the transient housing situation. Levelland had been growing by leaps and bounds since the 1940 census. New business firms were opening every week. More and more national and state organizations began to place their branches and offices in the Hockley county seat. But still there were not enough hotel accommodations for traveling men who placed Levelland high on their list of calls.

Now More Than 11,000

In 1940 Levelland boasted a population of some 3,041. Today, according to Sam Billingsley, secretary of the chamber of commerce, Levelland has more than 11,000. This latter figure is conservative, Billingsley says. It is based on utility connections and a scholastic census. These figures were then trimmed for a margin of safety and Billingsley is willing to bet that the 1950 census will bear out the most optimistic estimates.

To get the ball rolling, the C of C appointed a campaign committee to interest the citizens of Levelland in building a first class hotel with home capital.

The first thing these men did was contract with the Hockenbury System of Harrisburg, Pa., to make a survey of the needs for a hotel, the kind of hotel that should be built and the best way to finance the project.

The Hockenbury outfit sent a team to make the survey and offer recommendations. They followed up by sending a campaign director to assist in the finance drive. The campaign expenses were all paid out of special donations.

It was decided that the best way to raise the money was to issue stock at $100 per share with 10 per cent down and 10 per cent per month until paid. The Securities and Exchange commission authorized an issue of 4,250 shares at the $100 par. It was decided that at least 60 per cent of the stock must be sold before incorporating. Some 2,640 shares were subscribed almost at once. Of this $264,000 worth of stock more than $85,000 worth has been paid in and the money is in escrow at the Levelland bank at Levelland. No part of the money will be touched except for building, site and equipment.

Under Texas corporate laws the Levelland hotel can incorporate when 50 per cent of the subscribed stock has been paid for. This will be achieved by Oct. 1, Billingsley says, and incorporation will quickly follow.

"We are now operating under a tentative board of directors for the proposed corporation," Billingsley stated this week. "They were elected by stockholders at large."

Sen. Anderson Offers Objection To Canadian Dam

Senate opposition to the bill authorizing federal construction of the Canadian River dam appeared last week when Senator Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico revealed that he will attempt to block the bill in the Senate until it has been approved by state officials of New Mexico.

The bill, written by Rep. Eugene Worley, has been approved by the House without objection. The speedy action by the House on the bill was almost without precedent. Anderson said he understands that copies of the engineers' report on the proposed Canadian River dam have been sent to officials of

The tentative officers and directors are: Paul Mussetwhite, president; Dr. C. M. Phillips, vice president; R. H. Hester, treasurer; Sam Billingsley, ex officio secretary; directors are, John V. Morton, Burnett Roberts, Irene K. Ellis, J. C. Peeler, H. H. Mann, R. M. Richey, Forrest Weimhold and Homer Johnson.

Since the group is raising 60 per cent of the necessary building fund only 40 per cent will be borrowed from insurance firms or government agencies. This is considered sound financing.

The chosen site is a quarter-block at Ninth and Avenue H. This is only two blocks from the court house and on the Brownfield road (Highway 51).

Anderson said he is interested primarily in the effect construction of a Canadian River dam will have on the supply of water to New Mexico from the Canadian.

Anderson recalled that Senator Connally of Texas blocked a bill in the Senate for several years on division of the waters of the Pecos between Texas and New Mexico. Connally did not remove his objection, Anderson said, until the proposal was made in the form of a compact and ratified by both the states.

Anderson indicated that he probably will not insist on a compact on the Canadian dam, but he made it plain that he wants to know what interested state officials in New Mexico have to say about the proposed dam before he will remove his objection to the Worley bill.

Both Senators Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson are sponsoring the Canadian dam bill in the Senate.

If They're Wild, They Belong To Tik!

Saw Tik Anderson last week and was reminded of the first time I ever spoke to him. The missus had sent me out one Saturday afternoon to hunt for some blackberries.

I took a long hike and couldn't find any. Finally, I came to Tik's house along that low stretch east of the fork on River Road. "Hi there," I says, "any blackberries around here?"

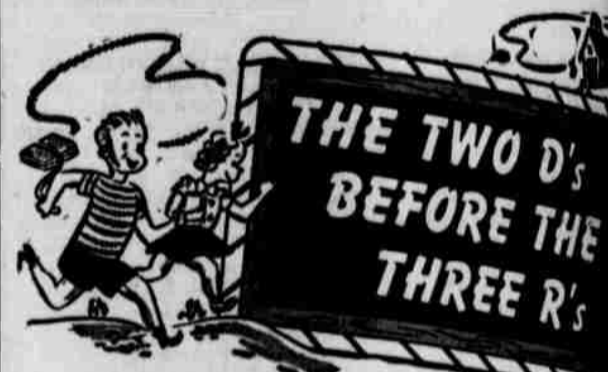

Tik says, "There used to be—but I don't know much about things that grow wild." Later, I found how Tik supports his family by picking berries. Ever since, I've been like the rest of folks in the neighborhood—respectful of his right to tell where "his" berries grow.

From where I sit, respect for other folks' rights comes natural to our town . . . in America, for that matter! Whether it's a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale, or whether it's Anderson's right to keep his berries where his berries are, it's all part of a real democracy!

BULL PHILOSOPHER WANTS LAW REQUIRING HALF OF ALL THE FREE DEEPFREEZES TO GO TO FARMERS

Editor's note: The Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bull Lake comes up with a fine idea this week, which we doubt he'll get anywhere with.

Dear editor:

I was out here yesterday wondering why nobody ever sends me a deepfreeze unit right out of a drought, and the more I out of a clear sky I got to thinkin clear sky, looks like all I ever get thought the more it seemed to me the people who are wantin special favors have an uncanny sense in showerin gifts on people in public office, without ever lettin a single one fall on anybody else.

I ain't never held public office and don't see much prospect of ever doin it, as I wouldn't spend as much energy shakin hands as some office-holders do if it stood between me and starvation, but I have been wonderin why you don't ever read of the United States senate investigatin a man like me for receivin a valuable gift from some manufacturer?

I could even imagine the headline in your paper: "Bull Lake Philosopher Says He Thought Deepfreeze Unit Was Reward For Public Faithfulness," but up to now ain't no big business expert huntin for more contracts even let on he knows I'm alive. In fact, looks like us farmers are gettin a raw deal.

I have even heard of a justice of the peace gettin a box of cigars, a county commissioner gettin a new suit of clothes or a new set of tires for his personal automobile, a state representative gettin a new car, a U. S. congressman gettin a huntin lodge, but in all my newspaper readin over a long number of years I ain't never heard of a farmer gettin nothin free.

It seems to me, with farmers holdin the key to food production which ought to be as important as steel production, that some smart bird would figure out it would be good business to favor a few farmers with electric refrigerators or at least an ice box or, if he couldn't do no better, the second hand tires that come off some official's car when he gets a new set for decidin one piece of equipment is better than another, but up to now we've been ignored.

I will appreciate it if you will get a movement started to convince big business the farmer is just as entitled to them luxurious gifts as the politicians. There ought to be a law requirin fifty percent of all deepfreeze units, refrigerators, ice boxes, suits of clothes, automobile tires, airplane tickets, etc., to be handed out to farmers, instead of all of em goin to the politicians. Ain't this a democracy?

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Cover Crop Important In Fighting Erosion

Recipe for Bread and Butter Pickles

Many requests have come into the extension service office for pickling. Miss Dian McClurkin, assistant county home demonstration agent-in-training gives the following ideas.

Look and see what per cent of acid is in the vinegar. If it is over 6 percent acid it will have to be diluted. A vinegar that is too high a percent in acid makes pickles dark, soft, or shriveled.

Spices should be used in small amounts. Tie the spices in a thin cloth bag then they can be taken out when the pickles are flavored enough. Loose spices make pickles dark. If you boil the spices with the vinegar too long, it will make the pickles taste bitter; long boiling spoils the flavor of vinegar.

Glass jars with glass lids are best for use in canning pickles. The vinegar or salt solution may corrode metal lids and when a zinc lid is badly corroded, there is danger of sime poisoning.

Here is a recipe for a quick but good pickle:

- Bread and Butter Pickles
24 medium to large cucumbers.
3 tablespoons salt.
10 onions.
2 cups sugar.
3 cups vinegar.

About 1 teaspoon each of these spices:
Ginger
Turmeric
Celery seed
Mustard seed

Let unpeeled cucumbers stand overnight in cold water (ice may be added to make water cold). Drain and slice cucumbers. Add sliced onions. Sprinkle salt over mixture and let stand 3 hours. Add sugar, vinegar and spices. Cook for about 40 minutes. Pack pickles solid in hot sterilized jars. Seal and allow to stand 10 days before using.

In this report we wish to repeat in order to put emphasis on some of the facts in our first report and to add some information we believe will be helpful to the farmers of this soil conservation district. The practice of planting cover crops can be carried out to prevent erosion and produce green manure crops. These crops give protection in at least two ways. They serve as a cover crop during the period that field crops have been harvested. This will protect the land from wind erosion to a great extent. Green manure crops will also add organic matter or humus to the soil which is badly needed in this section where cash crops have been harvested little or no plant residue for a number of years.

In using legumes as a green manure crop another soil benefit can be derived—that of adding nitrogen to the soil.

Records of the Lubbock experiment station show that Madrid clover as a green manure crop has produced over 15 tons to be turned under in the first week of April after being planted in cotton middles the previous September. These records also show that lint yield per acre was substantially increased on the crop planted in May following the April plow under of the clover, and for the two years following.

Looking forward to reduced cotton acreage in the next year it is imperative that the farmer of this section protect his production in every way possible. Each farmer should be planning now to have this protection in the future. Now is the time to secure seeds that may be scarce and to use tillage methods that will increase the value of green manure crops to be planted in cotton or feed middles at the time of the last cultivation. Rye or wheat may be mixed with any of the legume crops to increase tonnage of green manure.

Recommended seeding rates for clover—10 pounds per acre—less may be used when mixed with wheat or rye, Vetch and Austrian winter peas—20 pounds per acre or 10 pounds sown with wheat or rye.

P. M. A. payments may be earned on winter cover crops by obtaining prior approval of the county committee. These payments average about 70 percent of price of seed, and will vary with the price of the legume used. P.M.A. payments may also be earned on 20% superphosphate used—to increase the yield of cover crops for green manure. The present rate of payment is $1.02 per 100 pounds, and at the rate of 200 pounds per acre.

Seeds for the crops mentioned in this report may be purchased from at least two local seed dealers.

The present officers are: W. O. Fortenberry of Littlefield, president, and Chas. Schmitt of Petersburg, secretary. Members of the executive committee include Art Chase of Littlefield.
Members of the board of directors include Gus Parrish of Lake, and Les Watson, of Springlake.

Roy Rogers to Appear at Rodeo

Excitement has been running high at Boys Ranch ever since it was learned that Roy Rogers, the famous screen cowboy, would appear in person at the Boys' Ranch annual rodeo, Sept. 4. Dale Evans, Roy's leading lady on the screen, and his wife off the screen, will accompany him and appear at the rodeo.

Both Dale and Roy said that they would be more than happy to come to Amarillo for the big event, and insisted on paying their own expenses. They are donating their transportation, expenses, and their time.

Because Roy's famous horse, Trigger, is on location, he will not appear with Roy. But Roy and Dale will be the feature attractions at the rodeo.

This year, all the boys at the ranch are going to participate, even the little fellows. The youngest ones will try their hand at calf roping on some small yearling calves. Even the 5-year-old son of the superintendent will straddle one of the calves.

The older boys will participate in bronc and steer riding, trick roping and trick riding, ribbon roping, and many other events. From the looks of the number of entries and the number of events, the rodeo this year will be the biggest and best yet.

The date of the Boys' Ranch rodeo is September 4, and it will be held at the tri-state fair grounds in Amarillo. There will be two performances, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. And Roy Rogers and Dale Evans will appear in both of them.

Tickets are on sale now for both performances. The entire proceeds of the rodeo will go to Boys' Ranch. Prize money will be given to the winners of the different events, and Roy Rogers has offered to donate some boots and metal figures of Trigger as additional prizes.

Put a circle around September 4th on your calendar. That's the day of the Fifth Annual Boys' Rodeo, to be held at the tri-state fair grounds. Remember, Roy Rogers will be there in person.

New H. D. Agent For Hockley County

A county home demonstration agent has been employed by Hockley county. Mrs. Jewell Robinson will take over her new duties on September 1.

The new Hockley demonstration agent is a graduate of Mary Hardin-Baylor college with a major in home economics and has served as home demonstration agent in McCulloch and Dickens counties.

RESIGNS AS DEPUTY

George Howard of Anton, deputy sheriff of Hockley county for the past three years, has resigned this office.

Howard reported that he and his wife were taking an extended trip to East Texas. A successor to Howard will be named some time in September, it is reported.

Drs. Payne and Shotwell Suit Against Dr. Still Is Dismissed By Agreement; Was To Have Come Up September 26

An order of the District court, signed by Judge C. D. Russell, was filed in the office of the District clerk of Lamb county Thursday of last week, dismissing the suit of Dr. C. E. Payne and Dr. I. T. Shotwell, Jr., against Dr. O. W. Still.

The dismissal was by mutual agreement, in which the court concurred.

The suit centered in an association of the doctors, which terminated in December, 1948.

Originally a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from the practice of medicine and surgery in Littlefield and within a radius of 50 miles of this city, was granted by the court.

Trial of the case resulted in a dissolution of the injunction, which permitted Dr. Still to practice.

Subsequent to the dissolution of the injunction, attorneys for the plaintiffs asked for permission to amend their pleadings. This request was granted.

Following the filing of new pleadings there were several hearings involving technicalities of pleadings entered by both plaintiffs and defendant.

The case was set for trial several times, but was not heard, and finally the mutual agreement for dismissal was reached.

If this agreement had not been reached the case would have again come up for trial on September 26.

With the entry of the court order dismissing the action, there are no restraints on Dr. Still in the practicing of his profession.

Attorneys for the defense were Arthur P. Duggan, Jr., of Littlefield; Lucian Morehead of Plainview, and James W. Witherspoon of Hereford.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs were Bills & Street and T. Wade Potter, of Littlefield, and Crenshaw, Dupree & Milam of Lubbock.
