THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The MUSK-OX

IS A HANGOVER FROM A FORMER AGE. IT RESEMBLES THE BISON, AND IS A RELATIVE OF BOTH CATTLE AND SHEEP.

AN OUTER COAT OF LONG, COARSE HAIR PROTECTS IT FROM RAIN, WHILE A WOOL UNDERCOAT PROVIDES WARMTH.

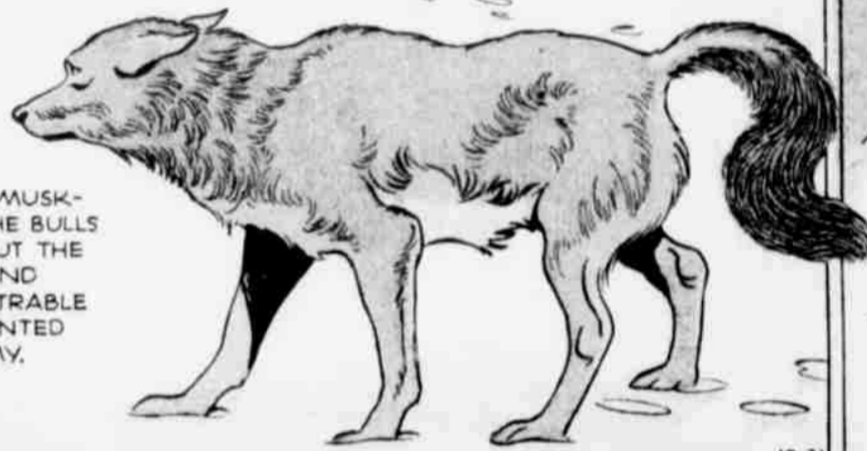

A MUSK-OX CALF, BORN IN ALASKA ON APRIL 29, 1934, WAS THE FIRST MUSK-OX TO BE BORN THERE IN THE LAST ONE HUNDRED YEARS! IT IS THE OFFSPRING OF A HERD OF MUSK OXEN TRANSPORTED FROM GREENLAND, IN 1930, BY THE BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY.

SPORTSMEN CANNOT JUSTLY FEEL PROUD OF A MUSK-OX TROPHY! AS THE BULLS STAND PERFECTLY STILL, GUARDING THEIR HAREMS, THEY ARE BUT LITTLE MORE DIFFICULT TO KILL THAN SO MANY DOMESTIC CATTLE.

THE MUSK-OX DOES NOT MIGRATE SOUTH AT THE APPROACH OF WINTER, BUT LIVES THE YEAR ROUND IN THE ARCTIC REGIONS... THE BLEAKEST TERRITORY ON EARTH... EXISTING ON A SCANTY DIET OF GRASS, MOSS AND LICHENS.

WHEN A HERD OF MUSK-OXEN IS ATTACKED, THE BULLS FORM A CIRCLE ABOUT THE COWS AND CALVES, AND PRESENT AN IMPENETRABLE WALL OF SHARP-POINTED HORNS TO THE ENEMY.

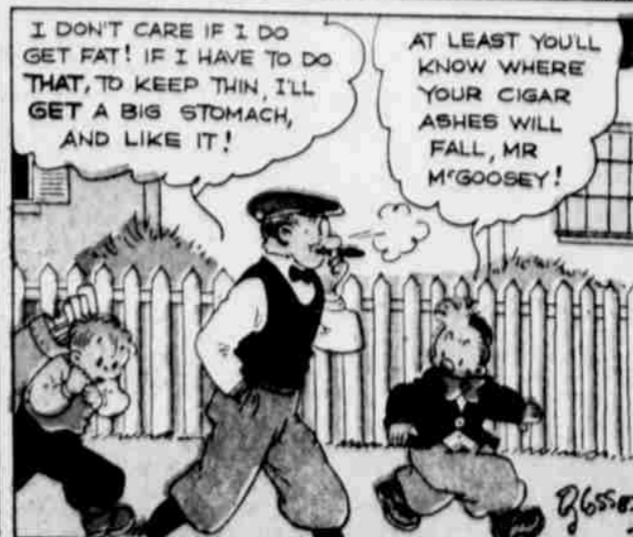

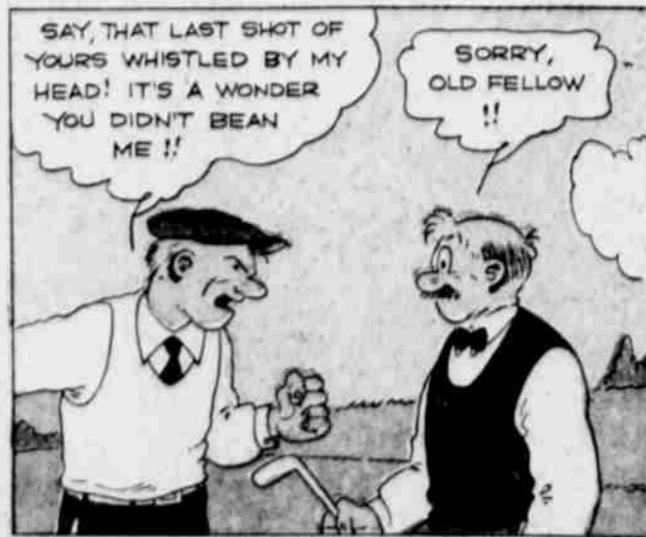

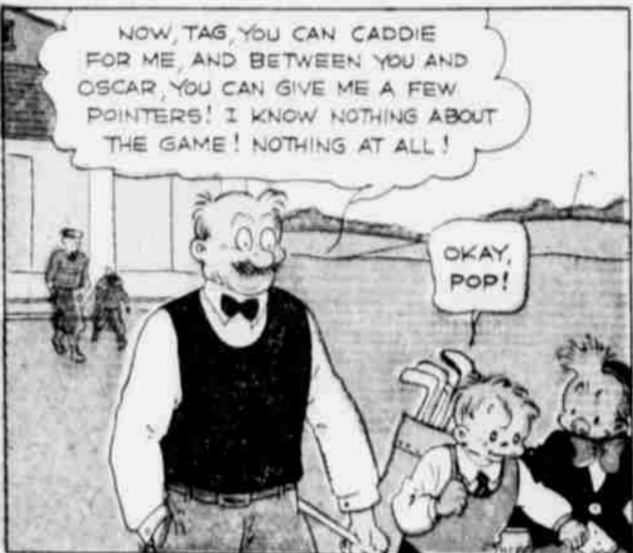

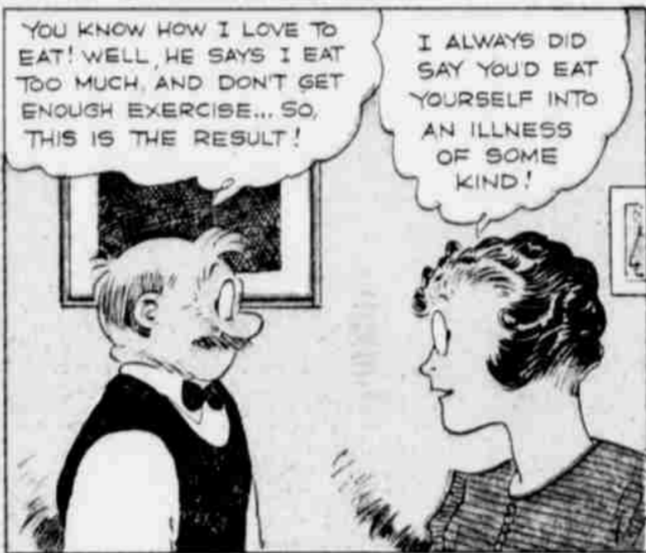

ALTHOUGH THE MUSK-OX HAS BEEN ABLE TO HOLD ITS OWN AGAINST WOLVES, THERE IS DANGER OF ITS DISAPPEARING FROM THE EARTH, UNLESS GIVEN PROTECTION FROM MODERN HUNTING METHODS.

One of the most enjoyable social affairs which has been carried out in Littlefield in some time was the banquet last Thursday night at the Methodist church, when the Littlefield Rotary club entertained the board and faculty of the Littlefield schools.

This is an annual event, and is Rotary's tribute to education and to those who are responsible for the direction and functioning of the schools of this city.

The banquet room and tables were attractively decorated, and an enjoyable program was carried out. The banquet was served by the ladies of the Methodist church.

First Public Entertainment To Be Staged By B. & P. W. Club

The first public entertainment to be sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of this city will be presented Thursday evening, October 18, beginning at eight o'clock, in the High School Auditorium.

This is a fairly new club having only been organized a few months. "Sky High", is a three act comedy and is being directed by Miss Florence Hilton of Kansas City, Mo., who has had extensive experience in this line of work. The cast is composed of all local and well known citizens, who are putting in extensive preparations to make this comedy an out-standing success.

In "Sky High", there's entertainment in every act for every person, whether young or old. The plot is intriguing; romance, superatition, and daring adventure are all wound up in these three acts of comedy, drama and music.

The outcome all depends upon the new airplane "Sky High". Will it do what the inventor believes it will?

To Use First Well in Expansion of Water Supply Here

The second test well, which was drilled as part of the city's water works expansion program, did not produce a sufficient flow of water for use for city purposes. This well was completed this week.

In view of the fact that the first well drilled in connection with the expansion program will produce from 500 to 1000 gallons per minute, it will be used by the city in the furnishing of additional water.

Pipe to the new well will be laid as soon as the necessary plans can be prepared.

We Do Our Part

AMUSEMENT

One of the most important divisions in the building and developing of a city or community is good amusement.

There is a vast amount of territory covered in the word "amusement."

Some amusement is exceedingly good; other amusement is just "so, so." And still other amusement is well—not what it should be by any means.

There is no man or woman, or group of men and women who can rightfully or successfully set himself or herself, or themselves up as dictators of an individual's amusement.

But there is one thing that can be done: Each one of us can do our part in encouraging good amusement and discouraging those things which are not in the general interests of the community. If each man and woman will speak their opinion frankly then the chances of doubtful amusement succeeding are very limited.

Good amusement is a great asset in the building and developing of a city or community. Trashy, doubtful amusement works just the opposite.

The percentage is all in favor of good, clean amusement. You can draw bigger crowds to a city or community that offers worthwhile amusement than you can by cheap amusement.

Every city should weigh carefully the kind of amusement that comes within its gates. And if this is done the people who are attracted to a city by the amusement it offers will come in greater numbers when an event is advertised.

Good amusement builds cities, just as do mercantile and manufacturing concerns, and everything else commercial, professional and educational that goes to make up the modern municipality.

Houston County Enjoying Oil Development

TRINITY, Texas, Oct. 17. (UP)—One of the fastest oil developments on record is taking place eight miles northwest of here.

On September 7 Jack and Garrett Boone, brothers of Houston, bought in a wildcat test on the Trinity State Bank 140-Acre tract in Houston county just across the line from Trinity county.

Weeks later more than a dozen wells were drilled and nearly a score were prepared for drilling, the populations of Trinity, Lovelady and Crockett were doubled, and the Texas Long-Leaf Lumber Company's giant mill was running to capacity and building construction was booming.

Built Up Strength By Taking Cardui

Here's her own account of how Mrs. T. W. Hardin, of Greer, S. C., was benefited by taking Cardui: "I suffered a great deal from weakness in my back and pains in my side and felt so miserable," she writes. "I read of Cardui and decided to try it. I felt better after I took my first bottle, so kept on taking it as I felt such a need of strength, and it helped me so much."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Can You Prove Your Oil is Better than the Others?

We Can and Do!

This Machine Shows Why this New Oil Cuts Motor Wear and Saves You Money!

YOU, as a buyer of Motor Oil, should ask that question —and demand facts! Here is Continental's answer: In the demonstration pictured below, the film strength and oiliness of every well known motor oil in America have been shown to be increased by the addition of a drop of Germ Essence.

1 Assembled instrument. Split bearings and shaft, lubricated with competitive oil, are clamped between "jaws" of instrument. With set-screw, extreme pressure is applied. 2 Crank is now used to turn shaft. Oil film ruptures and bearings "seize." Shaft extremely hard to turn. You can even hear the metal-to-metal contact! 3 Drop of Germ Essence is added to oil in bearing. Same pressure applied. Shaft can now be turned easily. Smooth, quiet movement—no seizing—no sound. Proof that Germ Processing increases oiliness and film strength of any...

MORTON CHILD KILLED IN BUS ACCIDENT THURSDAY

An accident which brought sorrow to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G.
Jones, who live six miles west of Morton, and which has cast a shadow of gloom over the entire community was the accidental death Thursday morning of their little daughter, Marie.

It seems that the school bus was making its rounds Thursday morning gathering up the children, and after passing the Jones home was about a mile north when it ran into a bunch of turkeys. The driver applied the brakes suddenly, the jar throwing the children from their seats, Marie and another child were evidently sitting near the door for the impact threw them through the door to the ground and Marie rolled back under the wheels which crushed her head and killing her instantly.

It will be remembered that on June 1, this year and on the last day of the previous school term, Laura Bell Vaught, a twelve year old girl was instantly killed by falling from the running board of a school bus.

Funeral services are scheduled to be held at the Convention Baptist Church, Morton, Friday afternoon.
Burial will be under the direction of the Davis Mason Company, undertakers of Levelland.

He now occupies a suite of rooms

Considerable new equipment has been purchased by Dr. Little, including supply cabinet, Nitrous Oxide Gas Machine, which he and Dr. Woods will both use in their practice, and many other items, which will add to the convenience of his office. He has also ordered Tonsillectomy instruments.

Many Littlefield Men Are Members of Roads Association

A large number of Littlefield residents are actively interested in the work being carried on by the Texas
Good Roads association.

One of the chief matters which the association is working on at this time is the bringing about of the closing of the gaps in Texas' main trunk system, improving the comfort and increasing the number of tourists to Mexico and to the Texas Centennial.

John Salwaechter, representing the Texas Good Roads association, was in Littlefield recently in connection with the annual drive for membership in the organization. He reported an excellent response.

Former Resident Cannot Get Along Without The Leader

The Leader is in receipt of a letter from R. A. Davis at Brownwood, Texas, which, no doubt will interest the readers of this newspaper since Mr. Davis has a host of friends in this city. The letter reads as follows:

I did not receive my Lamb county Leader for the week of September 27th and I just want to know how in the world you expect a fellow to get along without the Lamb County Leader and especially when he has been reading it for seven years and relying on its Authenticity for information of interest and of course of some not so interesting, such as droughts and sand storms. While on the subject I think you should change the name of your paper to the Golden Sand Storm or Sand Storm Special, you owe a lot to the sand for I see it gives you a great source of news, recently anyway.

All in all Mr. Drake that is a fine country and I am glad that I once had the pleasure of living there and of course very proud of the good friends that I have there and wish so much that it were possible for me to live there, but of course I have the Hay Fever so badly there that it is almost impossible for me to do

Olton Mas Injured In Car Accident

Clyde Cates of Olton, was the victim of an automobile accident October 6, that necessitated the amputation of his left arm just below the shoulder.

Mr. Cates and his wife and baby accompanied by Mrs. Cate's parents and the two children of Horace Cates were on their way to Oklahoma and had proceeded beyond Tulsa when they met a truck. Mr. Cates was driving with his left arm resting on the panel of the door and the truck bed caught his elbow shattering the bone of the upper arm.

He was taken to the hospital at Tulsa as soon as possible after the accident where it was found necessary to amputate the limb.

Horace Cates was notified immediately of the accident and left at once for Tulsa to render any assistance possible, and to be with his brother and look after the welfare of the other occupants of the car.

None of the other members of the party were seriously injured, some receiving only slight bruises and scratches. The Cates automobile was not seriously damaged.

Dee Cates who has been away several weeks, has returned to Olton and is managing the Cates Service Station while his brother is recovering.

Second Conference Football Game With Crosbyton Friday

The Crosbyton Chiefs will invade the Wildcats' den, Friday night for the Cats second conference game of the season. Crosbyton is a reputedly strong aggregation, having defeated the strong Post and Taboka teams this year and were nosed out by Levelland.

The Wildcats fought one of the hardest games of their lives against Ralls, but the best they could do was tie the Jackrabbits. It has often been said that breaks determine the winner in a close contest. The Cats have certainly not received the breaks in their last two games, but fans still believe that with the fight they are making the breaks just must start coming their way and when they do those fighting Wildcats are going to town in this football race.

As stated last week, there will be no set ups for the local gridsters. With Crosbyton as strong as Ralls and the wildcat squad shot to pieces because of injuries and ineligibility the cats have another battle to the last whistle slated for this Friday night.

With Hall, Pierce, Martinez, Blevins, Neely, Melton and Burleson either crippled or eligible it looks as if the wildcats will be the underdogs as they were against Hereford. But when the right kind of stuff is called an underdog more determination is put forth to show that the accusation was wrong, so the Wildcats may be expected to take to the field fighting.

Wildcats, we were proud of you in the Ralls game. The breaks just wouldn't come your way but you kept fighting and just wouldn't let them win.

When you do that we are for you, Win, Lose or Draw.

Fans, this is the last opportunity to see the Wildcats at home until Nov. 9. Let's turn out strong Friday night.

First Basketball Game Monday Night

At 8 o'clock Monday evening in the local gymnasium the Firemen will meet Sunnydale in the first basketball game of the season. No admission will be charged and fans are invited to come out and root for their favorite squad.

Hanks' line up — looks like the firemen will have to hustle. Sunnydale's roster include Neil Pipper, John Hanks, Pud Hanks, D. L. Blue, John Claunch, Jude Claunch, Joe Brown, Dale Pepper, J. D. Jordan, Hugh Capes, Bill Capes, Buck Tack, Little Bit Roland, Gib Land, and Alfred Hill.

With all the facts in hand it looks as if the match Monday evening might end in a draw.

Subscription rates on the Lamb County Leader in Lamb and adjoining counties reduced to 75 cents per year for a short period only.

Still Golf Champion

NEW YORK . . . Miss Virginia Van Wie, 23, of Chicago (above), with the third Women's National Golf Championship in her treasure kit, is now well on her way to achieve her goal, of at least equalling the "five-time" championship record of Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare. Miss Van Wie is shown above in cup winning ceremonies for 1934.

Score Results in Tie in Littlefield Ralls Game Friday

The Littlefield Wildcats and the Ralls Jackrabbits clashed last Friday night for a well fought battle in spite of the slick gridiron, on which they had to play.

The first quarter was played plenty close, both teams making yardage, but was always stopped before getting anywhere near the goal points. The second quarter was anybody's ball game, both teams crowding the last stripe. Early in the second quarter Captain McKnight, plunging down the fight through holes left in the line, reached the ten yard line where "Curly Hall, carrying the ball, fumbled in their territory, and Ralls covered the ball for first down to the visitors.

The Jackrabbits finally working the ball back to Littlefield's 2 yard line was halted there by the whistle ending the first half.

The last half of the game was the scoring period for both teams with the Wildcats scoring in the third quarter after McKnight wading through the line for first down and the first touchdown of the night. Brantley trying for the extra point got off a well kicked ball but was a little bit wide. In the fourth quarter with about 3 minutes to play the Jackrabbits caught a long pass and ran to the 8 yard line and made a touchdown on the next play to tie the score. They tried a pass for the extra point but was not completed to leave the score tied for the rest of the game.

The Wildcats will play Crosbyton at Littlefield Friday night, Oct. 19, at 8 o'clock.

Town Football Team Is Being Organized

Plans are underway for the forming of a Littlefield football team, made up of men who played the game in their high school and college days. Among those who are taking an active part in establishing the team are E. C. Cundiff and Coach Barksdale.

The first workout probably will be next Tuesday night.

An out-of-town team will be invited to play the locals.

Basketball League To Be Organized in Littlefield

Play is the thing, is the belief of Littlefield athletes. Not to be outdone by old man weather shelter has been sought in the high school gymnasium and the contest has been changed from softball to basket ball.

It is prophesied that there will be a number of eager teams organized and that a league similar to the softball league will be formed.

Already several teams are in action. The all Stars are still behind their mentor, Jim Davenport and dire threats have been heard about what they will do to competition.

Sunnydale will probably be on the court headed by chief Hanks and it is expected that Hank's warriors will make it plenty hot for court opponents.

Captured by Bob Cox the fire boys are already working out. There line up includes numerous veterans: Payne Wood, Troy Howton, Bill Clark, Guy Aldridge, Alf Wright, Pres Brazeal, Scotty Scott, Jim Roles, Tommy Lowe, Jim Etter, and Beaman Phillips are among the fire fighters, and what they can't do probably wouldn't interest fans.

Rumors have been abroad that a dark horse labeled six Footers will don the short pants and get in the game.

Neighboring communities will likely offer lively competition for anything lacking in home talent. Whitarral, Anton, Spade, Amherst, and Harts Camp will perhaps offer fight a little later in the season.

Levelland Defeats Olton Mustangs by Tune of 47 to 8

Levelland Lobos defeated the Olton Mustangs Friday at Olton 47 to 6.

During the first half the Lobos played a team of second strength, which held the Mustangs to 6 points, their only score of the game; which resulted from a blocked punt, and about a thirty yard run from a double reverse.

During the second half the team composed of 4 or 5 first string men scored a touchdown, same being made by Roberts, and McWhorter converting the point. In the last quarter the Levelland team turned on its power and scored 41 points against the Olton defense.

The game was featured by the long returns of Kirkpatrick, and the defensive work of Ford at guard, and Green at center. On the offense Captain McCann scored two touchdowns Roberts three, Clark one, and Green one. Green's touchdown came as a result of the big center blocking an Olton punt catching same in the air and racing forty yards for a touchdown. Levelland plays Ralls at Levelland next Friday at three P. M.

LARGER, BUT YOUNG
Pattern 8325 — The frock sketched is so smart and tailored in its simplicity that it looks just as nice on the older woman as it does on the young matron. It is youthful, attractive and comfortable.

The square line of the neck is repeated in the clever squaring of the line from the neck to hem in front and back. The skirt has just the proper flare at the lower edge to insure freedom of movement. The sleeves are different in the way they button over below the slashed opening and the belt is cleverly drawn through a slash in the front and buckled in the back. Use a printed cotton or a plain linen.

WITH INSTALLMENT

 weeks after a cream colored had been found wrecked in the foot of a cliff, a girl named Anne Cushing appears in town Marston. She has been seen on a ranch located away. Barry Duane, her neighbor and his man, Boone, are a reliable woman for Barry's car, loaded down with things, they start across the Marston her reticence has suspicion. Barry and Anne are more than neighbors and Barry each realize that more than friendship ex-he came across this lake and took over a big tract of land. He saw that this lake was the biggest body of water in miles, but useless to those dry plains down there and he began dreaming of the things that could be done.

"I see, said Anne softly. "It was a big dream."

"Yes, it was big. It was particularly big for one man to swing. He built this place, and after that I came and lived with him every summer."

He stopped, frowning reminiscently.

"When they actually started work on the dam, people began to take serious notice. They remembered what was being done in the Imperial Valley. Eagle Lake swarmed with workers, and the dam grew. And then big day came.

"It was great day. No matter what came of it, it can never be anything less than that. The signal was given and the water rushed down the sluiceways to make his wilderness blossom. Everybody cheered, and Uncle Bob gripped his shoulder and said, 'Barry you and I believe in this when other people laughed. When I go, this is to be yours."

Barry looked at her with a twisted grin.

"So this is my inheritance, and anybody down in Marston would tell you that it's no better than junk. For after the first big moment, the tragedy came. The irrigation was there, but it didn't irrigate. The valley was full of gravel sinks that no one had suspected, and the water drained off as fast as it was run in. It was a complete smashing failure."

"Oh, how dreadful!" It was all that she found herself able to say.

Barry threw away a half-consumed cigarette and arose.

"The Pinos isn't the only stretch of arid land around here. There's the Junipero, bigger and better, and with a soil—it isn't really sand — that will give its very heart to you for a steady supply of water. I want to use this dam to irrigate the Junipero. He ran a brown hand through his hair and laughed abruptly.

"I suppose you think I'm chasing an elusive rainbow."

"Why shouldn't you, if you've found one that's worth chasing? You darling. His eyes kindled.

"For these kind words . . ."

She jumped up and gave him a prim little marionette's bow. "Come on, lazy, I want to go down by the lake again."

He arose obligingly and followed her, overtaking her in two strides. They went down side by side, and where the pitch was steep he caught her arm in his. Within a few yards of the water's edge he spread out his coat for her to sit on and dropped down beside her.

"Anne, will you marry me?"

"You're a sudden person Barry."

She hedged for time. "Do you realize that we'd never met until a few weeks ago? Just four—"

"Four days was enough for me, Anne darling, I don't want to rush you, but you know how I feel don't you? I love you. I keep seeing you here all the time, every day, every hour. You and I together . . . Anne?"

Warmth flooded over her; there was a singing tingle in her veins. Why not? Who in that distant, outside world would ever know? Just the two of them, here in this secluded place.

Temptation tugged at her. "Take your chance!" it whispered. "Take it!"

And then recollection flooded back crawling over her like an oily wave. "Anne look at me!"

Her throat felt stiff and dry. "Oh Barry please! We've been such good friends. Don't let's spoil it."

"Oh—spoil it!" The warmth died out of his face. He looked stung and hurt, and suddenly tight lipped.

"Sorry!" he said curtly. "I must have got the wrong idea. I thought—well, it's been rather nice, going around like this, I had a feeling . . . a hope . . . it was getting to mean something to you too . . . my conceit, probably."

The words came jerkily. He looked up suddenly. "See here, is it because of somebody else, or just because I'm myself?"

She shook her head. "There isn't anybody else. And I hate to hear you talk like that. Barry isn't it possible to like — to be awfully fond of somebody without—"

"Not for you and me." Barry looked at her moodily, softening because she really did look unhappy about it, and because she was so lovely — so damnably lovely.

"All right," he said, and forced a smile. "We won't let it spoil things. It's not your fault if I don't make a hit with you. But don't think — he reached out and laid a firm clasp on her wrist—"don't think that I'll give up without an everlasting good try."

She would not look at him. Couldn't he see that he was tearing her heart out? "It's no use, Barry, I like you awfully, but—"

"I don't want to be liked," he said savagely. "I'd want you to be just as crazy about me as I am about you. I'd never be satisfied with just possessing—I want all of you."

All of her! She felt desolate and a little frightened. It occurred to her that no matter what came to her now — love, friendship, trouble — she would always have something to hide.

A restless week crawled by. Another, flat uninteresting, trudged stolidly at its heels. The days were just days, one of them plodding stupidly after another. Barry still came down to Trail's End, but he seemed always to be on his way somewhere else.

Playing around with Barry was dangerous, but letting him go left a blank emptiness. Anne worked violently, indoors and out, but the zest had gone from it. Warmth and color had gone.

The day had not been of the kind to encourage a stiff morale. A hot wind had been blowing in from the desert for hours. Anne sat for a while beside her tinkling little creek.

"Miss Anne, are you out here?"

"Coming Martha. Anything I can do?"

"I wish you'd do up that package Boone's going to stop for it. I've left some paper on the table."

Martha had left a sheet of newspaper spread out for her. Anne looked down at it, idly.

A heading caught her eye. It was a Los Angeles paper, and it was two months old. She leaned over the spread-out sheet. Then she was very still.

To Martha out in the kitchen, there came the sharp sound of tearing paper.

"Oh Martha, I've torn this! Have you any more?"

The voice was careless, but her eyes were brilliant with excitement as she came to the kitchen door. She tied the package up swiftly, and then vanished into her own room. The newspaper went also.

Once behind a closed door she spread it out again with shaking fingers. She read again, more carefully this time, scanning each word for some hidden meaning. Relief was creeping all through her warm and lovely.

"Thank God," she whispered, "I don't have to be afraid of that!"

The last words were shakey . . . Mustn't get hysterical.

When she came out a few moments later there was a lilt in her voice which Martha had not heard for days.

"I'm going for a little run before supper," she called, and went out toward the corral. A few moments later pinto and girl flew past the kitchen window with a clear call and a scurry of hoofs.

"Somethin's cheered her up mighty quick," she commented.

At one side of the room hung two of Anne's dresses, freshly ironed. Martha went into Anne's room to put where they belonged. Then, arms akimbo, she looked around. On a chair, half concealed by an orange cushion lay a folded newspaper. Martha picked it up.

"I do wonder what started her off like that. Well, if it's in print it can't be any secret."

Martha sat down to read. There were only two sheets of it and the news would be stale, but she plodded through it carefully. There was political news, which she skipped. Somebody had been brutally shot down in a holdup. A bold headline featured the latest divorce scandal, and a "mystery woman" who had vanished into the blue; a much smaller one noted the death of a once prominent financier. Some young girl had been drowned and the body had not yet been recovered, and a very rich man had offered a reward for it. A brief two inches of type said that the man found badly wounded in the outskirts of Ventura had been identified but refused to name his assailant. A screen luminary had just received his final decree of divorce.

Martha read patiently.

Murders and suicides and divorces" she sniffed. "I don't see much in them to cheer anybody up. Hmp!"

There was a spot on Barry's homeward way — or rather, out of his way — where Trail's End was in full view. He detoured until he reached it and pulled up, half tempted to turn and ride down.

Out from the modest group of low buildings a dancing speck came, a girl and a pinto horse. How Anne did love to ride.

The pinto was sweeping on gloriously. They would pass almost beneath him. He turned Captain about.

"Old man, if we go around by the trail it will take half an hour at your prettiest, but if we take the old slide we can join the lady pronto."

Pronto was a word that Captain understood. He took the steep plunge valiantly and without a pause.

"Hello. Any objection if I ride along?"

"Reckless cowboy, aren't you? Do you usually slide down half a mountainside to meet your friends?"

"No, this is something special. Movie stuff," he added, deprecatingly, half ashamed of his dramatic plunge.

"It was a real thrill anyway, but for the first few seconds you had me well scared. Suppose Captain had stumbled, or anything?"

"Captain doesn't stumble or anything."

Relieves Headache
 Due To Constipation

"Theford's Black-Draught has been used in my family for years," writes Mrs. J. A. Hightower, of Carthage, Texas. "I take it for sick headache that comes from constipation. When I feel a headache coming on, I take a dose of Black-Draught. It acts and my head gets easy. Before I knew of Black-Draught, I would suffer two or three days—but not any more since I have used Black-Draught."

"Comet doesn't stumble, either."

Barry looked up with a quick frown. "Pinto, we can't let these two beat us, can we?"

"Don't think of trying such a thing!"

His voice was rough with anxiety.

"You did it."

"I've done it before," he said doggedly. "It's a fool trick anyway. One misstep and you could be killed or crippled for the rest of your life. And I'd always have to remember that had come about through an act of mine."

Barry swung close, his fingers reaching for her hand.

"You're precious to me, Anne, whether you want to be or not. Please promise that you won't try it. Not unless it's life or death."

"I might promise that. I wasn't really going to anyway. She did not take her hand away, and he gathered up the other and held them together.

"Is that all you can promise?"

She looked slowly up at him.

"You won't just be friends, Barry?"

"No, there's nothing to it. I've tried, but it won't work."

The hands seemed to snuggle down contentedly.

"I've tried too, Barry and it doesn't work at all."

"Anne! Do you mean it?"

Anne looked at him.

"You darling!" he said huskily, and gathered her into his arms. Time lost its meaning.

She looked up and caught his eyes on her.

"There isn't the least reason why we shouldn't be married right away, is there? How about tomorrow?"

"Tomorrow!" Anne sat up straight at that. "Indeed I won't! Do give me a minute to feel engaged."

"I nearly lost you once, and I'm not taking any more chances. Wednesday then.

"Just quietly Barry? Without any fuss at all?"

"As quietly as you like. That suits me. We'll have a honeymoon at the Perch and take a trip later."

"I don't want a trip. I'd rather stay right here."

"No trip? Maybe you'll change your mind. There's lots of time— About that wedding day—"

"Likes his own way, doesn't he? I'm taking an awful chance— Monday?"

"Monday. You know . . . It's going to be pretty nice, isn't it?"

She nodded quickly. They sat there together like two children, suddenly shy

In their modern plant, erected during the depression, many Texans find employment in the manufacture of the large line of High-Grade Coffee, Teas, Spices and Extracts.

"CHAINED" REUNITES JOAN CRAWFORD AND CLARK GABLE IN A TENSE DRAMA

In "Chained" Joan Crawford and Clark Gable are co-starred in a story written especially for them by Edgar Selwyn, noted writer, director and producer, which will be featured at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday afternoon, Sunday aged New Yorker, also in love with Joan, the story takes on dramatic power.

Packed With Action

Following the new trend of fast moving locale, the background against which the action takes place is as swift changing as the drama night and Monday.

They are cast in the kind of roles which each has made famous—Joan as a vivid young lady of Manhattan and Clark as a young American rancher in Buenos Aires.

With Otto Kruger as the "other man," a rich gentlemanly middle-class New Yorker, also in love with Joan, the story takes on dramatic power. Beginning with a sun-flecked motorboat sequence on New York bay, the locale swiftly shifts to Manhattan, then to a luxurious liner at sea, then to Buenos Aires, South America, out onto a great ranch, back to New York, and thus to a smart mountain resort in the North.

Alton Renfro Weds Amherst Girl Tuesday

The marriage of Alton Renfro, son of Mrs. G. Renfro of McKinney, and Miss Mary Etna Foster, daughter of F. J. Foster of Amherst, was solemnized Tuesday night about eleven o'clock at Plainview by Rev. Robinson, former Presiding Elder, and now Pastor of the Plainview Methodist Church.

cities and could be made a very worthwhile organization in Littlefield. A Junior Chamber of Commerce is made up of young men of a city who, while suitable material for the senior organization, work in the junior group on account of the activities of such organization being more suited to them. And they feel more free to express their opinions when they are with men of their own age.

A Junior Chamber of Commerce is an excellent training field for outstanding service in the senior organization. Men who early learn to deliver a talk before a group, or take an active part in carrying out some project, are generally much more useful citizens down through their life. And community service comes a whole lot easier to men who have had Junior Chamber of Commerce, or similar training.

One of the advantages of a Junior Chamber of Commerce to a city and territory is that it undertakes a program of work that most generally would have been left undone. Such an organization, while functioning separately, is really an auxiliary unit of the senior chamber of commerce. Often times suggestions for civic work are made to the Junior Chamber of Commerce by the senior organization.

Littlefield should consider the matter of a Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The functioning of such an organization will pay big dividends in civic service.

RUSTY, YOU'RE OK—

Rusty, wire hair terrier, owned by Virginia Walker, knows his transportation.

Virginia has a wire basket on the handle bars of her bicycle and Rusty very frequently takes a ride. He doesn't have to be picked up and put in the basket; he just leaps into the basket and looks around for Virginia to start the bicycle into action.

Speed doesn't trouble rusty; the faster Virginia travels the more Rusty is pleased.

When we see Rusty perform, we thing of the contrast between the wire hair that we owned about two years ago and Virginia's dog. It would have taken a block and tackle to get Jiggs (that was our dog), in the basket and two blocks and two tackles to keep him there.

There's a difference in dogs; some show their bringing up and others are just plain heathens.

master. One of the features of the program was the musical numbers.

Throughout the serving of the banquet string music was rendered by a Mexican orchestra.

Several vocal numbers were given by a quartet composed of Loyd Robertson, O. D. Carter, Pryor Hammons, and L. W. Jordan.

Piano solos were rendered by Miss Laura Virginia Bills and Morgan Layfield, the Rotary club's pianist.

The invocation, at the opening of the program, was offered by the Rev. J. W. Hendrix.

Rotary's welcome to guests was made by Dr. Ira E. Woods, and the response by R. L. Burdette.

The members of the school board were introduced by Mrs. W. E. Jeffries; Rotarians, by Dr. C. C. Clements; Rotary Ann, by their husbands, and the teachers were presented by Miss Nila Jones, High School, Miss Myrtle Robbette, Primary, and Earl Hobbs, Grammar school.

Speaking on the subject, "Are We Wildcats?", Coach L. T. Barksdale expressed appreciation for the wide interest which is being taken in sports
