Charter Group OK's City Manager Form

5-Man Council Gets Approval

Members of Littlefield's city commission agreed on Monday night to change the council-manager form of government to a mayor-council form after more than two hours of lively debate here Monday night.

Approval of the move came on a secret ballot taken among 10 members of the 15-man commission.

Eleven members of the group were on hand, including Chairman Vernon Hofacket, Marshall Howard, Flannery Newton, J. E. Chisholm, Mancil Hall, Dub Gilder, Bob Manley, Pat Boone Sr., Ray Keeling, Kenneth Reast and Dr. Albert Pergins.

The final vote was 7-3, with Chairman Hofacket staying out of the vote except in the event of a tie.

Monday night's session was originally planned as a roundtable discussion to bring out the merits and disadvantages of both the council-manager and the mayor-council forms of government.

However, much of the discussion centered around the council-manager form of government.

Chisholm took the stand for the council-manager, saying that Littlefield has shown the point where the city needs more than volunteer workers.

But Deep Wells Aren't Irrigation Old Stuff To Visitor From Ceylon

What impresses a visitor from a foreign land most when he tours Lamb County?

It isn't necessarily the county's irrigation.

Irrigation itself is old stuff to one such visitor, Wijayabahu Wijayasinha of Ceylon, who took a one-day tour around the county Tuesday.

Wijayabahu, who's called "Wije" (pronounced wee-jay) for short, is more impressed with deep wells and "your subterranean water supply."

"We've had irrigation in Ceylon for 1,500 years," says Wije, "but we've done it always with surface water."

Ceylon is an independent British Commonwealth nation, an island in the Indian Ocean located at the southern tip of India. In area, it's about two-thirds the size of the state of Indiana.

Wije was shown around the county Tuesday by Soil Conservation Engineer Joe Krizek of Littlefield.

He saw pipe being manufactured in Littlefield, pipe being laid on various farms, open ditch irrigation with siphons and sprinkler-type irrigation.

He also got a good look at vegetables being grown in the county, along with Lamb County's good-looking cotton crop.

The only time he had seen cotton before was in India.

Wije is in the United States as a visitor sponsored by the International Cooperative Administration, an agency set up so that representatives of different nations can exchange ideas and techniques. He will go back to Ceylon in August.

"We don't have any deep wells in Ceylon," he says. Ceylon's 8 1/2 million inhabitants get their drinking water from shallow wells.

All irrigation in Ceylon is canal-

Absentee Voting Opens Here Monday

Absentee balloting in the July 26 Democratic Primary will open Monday and close July 22, County Clerk Charles Jones announced this week.

Persons who will be out of the county on July 26, or who are sick or disabled and cannot get to the polls, may vote absentee, Jones said.

Under the law, persons who will not be able to vote at the polls may make written application for ballots.

The application must be signed by the elector, or by a witness at the direction of the elector if the elector is unable to sign because of a disability, Jones said. A notary must witness the signature.

All applications for ballots must be accompanied by a poll tax receipt or an exemption certificate or an affidavit saying that the necessary document has been lost or mislaid.

Applications made by sick or disabled persons also must be accompanied by a physician's certificate, Jones said.

Ballots will go out to absentee voters when all legal requirements are met, Jones said.

County Agent Bill Kimbrough gave Lamb County's cotton crop another physical exam this week and pronounced it in "good shape."

As Kimbrough made his check, farmers throughout the county were reporting the earliest cotton blooms they could remember.

Several farmers in the Earth area reported blooms as early as a week ago.

Farm observers said they could remember no other year when blooms were reported before July 1.

The first farmer to report blooms in the Littlefield area was

County's Cotton Crop Still In 'Good Shape'

City Commissioner Clint Griffin, who said he found blooms on June 29, from cotton planted in late April.

A Fieldton farmer, Eldon W. Hill, reported blooms on June 30, from cotton planted May 1.

The weather continued to give Lamb County a break this week. Showers early Wednesday morning left .06 of an inch of moisture in the Littlefield area.

Other rain reports Wednesday included .30 of an inch six miles south of Sudan, .40 of an inch five miles west of Littlefield, an inch near Pep, and a half-inch near Amherst.

One strip of hail damage was reported Saturday night northwest of Earth.

Assistant County Agent Herb Helbig said the strip ran northwest between Earth and Pleasant Valley. He estimated it at about two miles wide and six miles long.

He said the damage was enough to slow down the crop in that area but not enough to force replanting.

Otherwise, the county's crop appeared to be faring well.

Insects are light at present, with beneficial insects on the buildup, Helbig said.

City OK's Three New Ordinances

City commissioners passed three new ordinances Tuesday night in a special meeting.

Two of them called for new rules and regulations for air conditioners and grease and mud traps.

The other officially set up the city's street improvement program for this summer, which had been announced earlier. A $153,000 contract for paving already had been let.

The new ordinance on air conditioners makes it unlawful for any one to permit water from air conditioners to drain into a street or alley.

The ordinance is aimed primarily at stopping the run-off in the business district, but it also applies in residential areas.

Penalty for violation of the ordinance is a fine not to exceed $100 for each offense.

The ordinance on grease and mud traps, most of which are in service stations or garages, regulates the way in which the traps may be built.

The new ruling calls for the traps to be built according to a plan adopted along with the ordinance. The plan calls for the traps to be 6 1/2 feet deep, five feet wide, and 7 1/2 feet long. Any traps which do not meet all requirements will not be connected to the city sewer system, the ordinance says.

Penalty for violation of the ordinance is a fine not to exceed $100 for each offense.

Onion Harvest Getting Started

Harvesting of onions in Lamb County to be processed by San Pat Vegetable Co., Littlefield's newest industry, will get into full swing next week.

San Pat, which got into operation last week, has contracted for about 300 acres of onions in Lamb County.

Burton Benson, head of the firm, said this week that onions produced in this county probably will be harvested in the next 30 to 45 days.

The firm had processed eight loads of onions—about 6200 50-pound sacks—through Tuesday. The onions were produced in the Loveland area.

Yellow onions have been bringing from $1.60 to $1.75 per sack, while white are bringing $1.90 to $2.00. Most of the onions have been mediums, Benson said.

Crews will move into fields Monday and "knife" the ground, plowing onions loose from their roots.

After that, workers will clip tops from the onions, then let them sit in the sun a couple of days before they sack them and haul them into San Pat's shed.

Parmer, Bailey Name Street Judge

Littlefield Attorney Willard G. Street Tuesday became special judge in all counties of the 154th judicial district.

Street took the oath of office after he was elected special judge in both Bailey and Parmer counties.

Earlier, Street had been named to the post in Lamb County by practicing lawyers in the county.

Street is serving as special judge in the absence of District Judge E. A. Bills.

The election of a special judge was made with the advice and consent of Judge Bills, who has been hospitalized since a heart attack.

In Lamb County, Street will serve the rest of the January, 1958, term, which ends Monday.

The term ends Aug. 4 in Bailey County and Sept. 1 in Parmer County.

With the end of the term near in all three counties, lawyers from the three counties probably will meet again soon after the start of the new terms and name a special judge for the new term, to serve until Judge Bills' return to the bench.

"My family likes soups and stews. The electric deep well cooker makes it easy for me to give them what they like!"

SAYS Mrs. Cecil Allf, 1824 ORANGE, AMARILLO, TEXAS

"The deep well cooker is so wonderful for making soups and stews that it's not surprising it does a wonderful job sterilizing baby's bottles. This is a new use that the Public Service Home Service Advisor told me about when I first got my electric range."

"I've found it's economical and practical to prepare soups and stews in large quantities in the deep well cooker and then freeze part for later use. There just seems to be no limit to the things you can do with an electric range."

"Thanks to the dependability of electric cooking, I can set my range to cook while I'm out. I love to entertain and with people in the house, I'm not tied down to the kitchen. I just let Reddy take over. So, in or out of the house, Reddy makes a good, silent, non-complaining servant."

George Mahon, Congressman from this district, requested this week that the Littlefield Press formally announce his candidacy for re-election to Congress. He had filed for a place on the ticket some time ago.

Under all conditions and at all times I am doing everything in my power to serve the best interest of our district and of our country. Safety Planning Stressed For July 4th Travelers

"Planning for safety is as important in your July 4th trip as the planning for the trip itself," said Major R. A. Crowder, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, in announcing the department's "Operation Death Watch" for the July 4th week end.

"Many July 4th accidents are being planned now," Crowder explained. "People plan to drive too far in short periods, or they plan to drive too long without rest."

"Such plans often mean that drivers must exceed speed limits to reach destinations and return during the holiday period, or drivers attempt to cover those last few miles when lack of sleep has robbed them of the alertness necessary to stay alive," Crowder said.

"We find that carelessness, impatience and fatigue accompany drivers on poorly planned holiday trips," Crowder continued. "During Operation Death Watch, we're putting all available men into an enforcement program designed to reduce traffic fatalities to a minimum."

Crowder said the Death Watch period during the July 4th holiday will see the Highway Patrol, backed up by officers of the DPS License and Weight and Motor Vehicle Inspection divisions, working round-the-clock to stop speeders and careless drivers.

Radar speed detection units will be used, along with all other means of traffic enforcement, Crowder warned. "The DPS headquarters in Austin has predicted that there will be 28 traffic fatalities in the state during Operation Death Watch," Crowder said. "We're going to do our best to prove that prediction wrong, but we'll need the help of every motorist in the state to accomplish the job."

Captain E. L. Posey, district Highway Patrol Commander, pointed out that July 4th "motorcycles" in Texas were far lower than usual in 1937 and 1937 because both years had one-day holiday periods. "Our last three-day July 4th was in 1935," Posey continued. "The state recovered 18 persons killed during the July 4th weekend that year."

"Our worst July 4th holiday period since 1930 was four years ago," the captain said. "There were 33 persons killed in traffic accidents in Texas during the long July 4th weekend in 1934."

Operation Death Watch starts this year at 12:30 a.m., July 4th and ends at 11:30 p.m., July 6. As a part of Operation Death Watch, the Department of Public Safety maintains a count of all accidental deaths, homicides, suicides and traffic fatalities.

During the one-day July 4th holiday in 1937, Department of Public Safety officers counted eight accidental deaths, two homicides, two suicides, and 15 persons lost their lives in traffic mishaps.

About Your HEALTH

If you are the parent of a youngster who will start school for the first time this fall, you can help yourself and the State Department of Health by requesting a copy of his birth record now.

Most school systems require a birth certificate to prove the child was six years old on September 1. By making early requests for birth records, parents can save themselves needless anxiety, their children some missed classwork, and the Department a great deal of time.

Several hundred parents have already requested and received records of their children's birth, but tens of thousands of additional records will have to be processed between now and the time school doors swing open for the new term. If too many people delay until August—as they usually do—the resulting bottleneck could very well mean your youngster will be barred when that first school bell rings.

The reason is obvious: The limited staff of the Division of Vital Statistics—despite long hours of night and weekend work without overtime pay—can search just so many files, extract just so many records, and photostat just so many copies in time for school's opening. Birth record keepers shudder when they think of the 247,000 children—an estimate supplied by the Texas Education Agency—who will be eligible for the first time this fall.

WOW Falls To Surging Lions 17-7

WOW started fast but fell to the Lions 17-7 to lose their third straight Little League contest at Little League Park Monday night. WOW had won 6 straight in order to become the champion of the first half of Little League play.

WOW started the scoring in the first inning by pushing across 4 runs. Burr Heathman walked, and Raymond McKinney, Tim Chambers and Craig Brustup followed with hits to score WOW's run.

The Lions, in order to break their losing streak, rushed back in the top of the second inning to score 7 runs off Ed Blessing, WOW starter. Eleven Lions faced Blessing in the inning.

WOW added 1 more run in their second inning when Heathman singled and scored on McKinney's hit and added 2 more runs in the third inning when Jimmy Butler was hit by a pitch. Heathman singled and McKinney once again drove both runners in to score.

That was all for WOW, however, as J. R. Harrell held the Woodmen scoreless the rest of the game.

The Lions added 5 runs in their third when Kenny Birkelbach, J. R. Harrell and Junior Gonzales all slugged solid hits. They pushed across 1 more run in the fourth when Larry Harrell reached base. Gary Purdy and Marvin Weaver walked, and J. R. singled to score Larry.

In the fifth inning, the Lions' final time to bat, 4 more runs filtered across the plate.

In the first inning Ronnie Milton walked and scored for Dairy Queen, and John Foley slugged a double.

Ware-Keeling romped ahead 6-1 in their home half of the first when Robert Conley, Joe Collins, Pete Estrada and Den Danford walked and Tony Estrada, Moore, Buddy Price and Jimmy Don Whitson singled.

Dairy Queen scored another run and got their second and last hit in the second inning when Overcoat Williams walked and Maurice Stephenson singled. Williams scored on Johnny Weaver's infield hit.

Ware-Keeling went ahead to stay in the bottom of the second. Ten runs poured across the plate, and 14 batters faced Tom Lewis, Roger Morris and Shaw, Dairy Queen pitchers. Dairy Queen scored 1 run in each of the fourth and fifth innings as Williams and John Foley walked to reach base and stole the rest of the bases to score. Shaw held Ware-Keeling during the third and fourth innings. The game was called after 5 innings for time.

The victory hoisted Ware-Keeling into a first-place tie with Amherst Butane.

YOUR EYES and VISION
By A. L. SPERRY, O.D.
Director Public Education
Texas Optometric Association

Probably the most common use of contact lenses at present is to replace heavy, thick, constantly worn specs with — nothing! Or what appears to be nothing, because contact lenses are completely invisible to the casual observer when in place of the eye.

There are many real advantages to replacing thick glasses with contact lenses. To name some: (1) The lens moves with the eye thus eliminating distortions produced when looking through the edge of glasses. (2) The obstruction and weight of the frame and temples is removed. (3) The uncomfortable effects produced by the need of one eye for a much stronger lens than its mate are eliminated. (4) Highly nearsighted patients receive much better vision because, for them, contact lenses magnify whereas ordinary glasses make things smaller thus harder to see. Sometimes nearly 50 per cent in crease in image size is possible and the resultant improvement in vision is well worthwhile. (5) Monocular Aphakia, which simply means that a cataract has been removed from one eye of an individual and the other eye is normal creates an impossible situation for use of ordinary glasses which cause double vision due to the excessive difference in power between the lens correcting the eye which has had the cataract removed and the lens required for the normal eye. A contact lens on the operated eye will provide clear vision for that eye while not causing the unwanted doubling. Satisfactory two eyed vision results. (6) The incumbering specs are removed for sports. (7) And, of course, the individual's appearance is improved in many cases.

Another use of contact lenses for which ordinary glasses are not satisfactory is on cases in which the cornea has been scarred as from burns, cuts, disease process and other causes. The ordinary optical lens in a pair of glasses cannot correct for an irregular lumpy surface such as scarring usually causes. However, the contact lens in its normal position directly on the eye surface where the tear fluid fills in between the lumps and the lens actually has the effect of acting as a new front surface for the eye—smooth and efficient—to replace the distorted useless surface underneath it. Good vision results.

Another rather unusual use to which contact lenses have been put is in movie making. Many stars at times wear tinted contacts to change the color of their eyes to meet the requirements of the role they are playing. Others wear regular contacts so they can see "without glasses" before the cameras. The lenses have also been used combined with harmless vegetable dye called Fluorescein and Cobalt blue light to cause the eyes of the monsters in horror type movies to appear to be on fire!

A recently announced use of contacts is in stopping the progress of near sightedness (myopia) in children. Many parents of little myopes are highly disturbed when Junior's glasses have to be made stronger every year (sometimes more often) in order to make up for falling vision. Science has not yet learned all the why's and wherefore's of progressive myopia. Many methods and theories have been tried without obtaining any consistent and encouraging results. However, it has been found by some that if contact lenses are fitted on a child with progressive myopia the condition becomes static and requires no further appreciable increase in lens power. These results are very consistent, according to the records of the researchers.

The newest development in contact lenses has just been announced by the Plastic Contact Lens Laboratory of Chicago—Bifocals! Something most of us never thought we'd see in contact lenses because of the technical problems involved, but now we got 'em! Although they are still in an experimental stage Drs. Wesley and Jessen of the Plastic Contact Lens Lab state they are getting satisfactory results in about 50 per cent of the cases. Heretofore one of the problems of contact lens wearing was that when the wearer got past age 40 he had to have a pair of specs to go in front of his contacts if he was to do any reading or other close work. This was necessary because only one prescription power could be put in contacts and this usually was the distance Rx. Until the age of forty this is no problem because bifocal lenses are seldom needed anyway, but after forty contact wearers were handicapped by the problem. The situation is evidently going to change rapidly with the developments bound to occur in the near future.

One Small Mistake Can Be Your Last When Driving

Most Americans are good drivers—the high traffic toll notwithstanding. This put on the back for the average motorist comes from the National Safety Council as it opens its annual report for fourth of July holiday safety. The Council makes a good point: with upwards of 70 million vehicles whizzing past each other only a couple of feet apart, the average driver must make 20 to 30 decisions an hour, many of them literally involving life or death. Last year's all-time low death rate of 5.9 fatalities per 100 million miles of travel proves that most drivers made the right decisions. Most of us want to be good drivers. We pride ourselves on our skill and common sense. We obey the law. We don't want to hurt ourselves, our families or the stranger in the other car. Then why do we have accidents? Carelessness? Carelessness is a catch-all word that covers a multitude of sins. Good drivers that we are most of the time, everyone who has never been behind the wheel of a car remembers the near misses—and our accident toll is made up of those that didn't miss. We get tired. We burn up at some minor rudeness by another driver. We drive a little too fast. We take a chance in passing. We think a couple of drinks can't do any harm. Or due to any one of a hundred distractions, we let our attention waver from the road for an instant beyond recall. The National Safety Council estimates that more than 45-million cars will be on the roads over the three day Fourth of July holiday. So don't be a good driver most of the time. You can't afford to make even one mistake.

Two Pictures To Remember

Two pictures for parents to remember appeared in recent newspapers. One showed a mother and seven children gathered about a man in an iron lung. The caption, under a Michigan headline, said that the whole family had been vaccinated against polio except the father. Now he is so paralyzed that he cannot breathe without mechanical aid. The other showed an infant of five months in a respirator tank. The caption, datelined from Texas, said that the baby was a victim of polio paralysis. What does a father think when he gazes up from an iron lung into the sorrowing, bewildered faces of his children? What goes through a mother's mind when she looks down on the polio-wasted body of her child? One thing they must both realize, to their horror and regret, is that polio today is unnecessary. There is a safe and effective weapon against it in the Salk vaccine. When it strikes a person in 1958 somebody almost surely has been guilty of neglect. Far too many Americans share this guilt—nearly three out of seven, in fact. And among these neglected or neglected millions, none is safe from polio—neither the helpless infant nor the wage-earner of a family. Last year babies under two showed the highest rate of polio attack. Young adults ran them a close second. The Salk vaccine can protect you against this dreadful and incurable disease. Don't take a chance—take your polio shots before disaster overtakes you.

Facts And Opinion

According to government figures, the assessed value of property in this country subject to a general property tax was $280 billion last year—which is approximately equal to the national debt. Real estate accounted for $210 billion of this sum. Some reports said that the attacks made on Vice President Nixon in South America came from students. However, according to J. Edgar Hoover, many of the participants were persons in their late thirties and forties. Hoover also says that the attacks were definitely communist-inspired. Jack Mabley of the Chicago Daily News looks at current female fashions: "I think the fashion operators in Paris and Italy are playing an enormous joke on women. They have deliberately set up to design the most unflattering, ungraceful, bulky and idiotically draped dresses they can dream up." The sack dresses, he adds, "are fine for expectant mothers and shoplifters," but no one else.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas has a fairly new addition to its long and much-wanted list of "first" and "mosts." But this one's no fun to brag about. Texas has the greatest number of designated potential enemy bomb targets of any state in the union, says State Defense Coordinator William L. McGill. This, added to Texas' long-standing record of leading the nation in natural disasters, puts a heavy responsibility for defense preparedness on Texans, McGill told the annual State Defense Advisory Council conference in Austin. Officially designated "aiming areas," as they are called, are Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Amarillo, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Laredo, Lubbock, San Angelo, Waco and Wichita Falls. Others considered possible targets because of nearby military installations are Abilene, Beeville, Big Spring, Brownsville, Bryan, Dalhart, Del Rio, Killeen, Marfa, Pecos, Plyote, Sherman, Victoria and Wink. Texas has received a $320,000 federal grant, conferees were told, to draw up a state Survival Plan. Several larger city plans are complete, and the state plan, a massive and complex thing affecting the lives of millions, is due to be finished by December 31. Rural residents cannot feel themselves invulnerable, the Council was told. In case of a large-scale bombing, it is felt likely that radioactive fallout would cover most of our terrain, contaminating crops, cattle, pasturage and ponds. Under the present national civil defense plan, considerable responsibility for advance training and preparation rests with the individual family. Each would be responsible for feeding itself for the first two weeks of a post-disaster period. After that, state and local government would take over for for two weeks, and after that, if necessary, the federal government would step in. Persons or organizations to obtain official civil defense information and study materials may write the State Defense and Disaster Relief Office, Capitol Station, Austin. PRICE ADS OK AGAIN — In a rare reversal of one of its own rulings, the Texas Supreme Court has held it is not unlawful for optometrists to advertise the prices of their eyeglasses. Last spring the court upheld a temporary injunction issued by a Beaumont court prohibiting Lee Optical Co. and others from advertising prices. Suit was brought by a competitor, Texas State Optical. At issue was how to interpret a law by the Legislature in 1957 barring optometrists from advertising

DOWN MEMORY LANE

(From the files of the Lamb County Leader, July 6, 1944)

It was voted at a meeting Thursday and members of the Littlefield Boy Scout committee started a drive Saturday morning for funds to build a 30 X 30 stucco building to be used as a Boy Scout Hut.

Mrs. Norma Heinen and daughter arrived in Littlefield Wednesday to visit with her mother and father-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Heinen.

Richard New Post of the American Legion will sponsor a carnival to be staged here opening Monday, July 10, and continuing that week.

A-C and Mrs. Carl Keeling of Enid, Oklahoma, visited Mrs. Keeling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lile this past weekend. A-C Keeling is an aviation cadet at the airfield in Enid.

Hamilton Wells of San Antonio and Richard Owen Jones of Wichita, Kans.

SHORT SNORTS—Payments to jobless Texans took another substantial drop, according to Texas Employment Commission's latest report. Total claims dropped from 80,220 to 76,889. It only looks bad if compared to the 33,432 claims of a year ago. BenJack Cage and 143 other persons in some way connected with the rise and fall of ICT Co. are being sued in a Travis Co. district court for $15,000,000. Suit was filed by V. F. Taylor, court-appointed receiver for ICT, on behalf of ICT's 60,000 creditors.

Beyond that, said Garrison, it's up to each driver to do his part by following the law to the letter and not trying to drive too long. NEW ASSISTANTS—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has named four new assistants to his department. Two who will be on temporary assignment are Clyde Kennelly of Rosenberg and Neal R. Allen of Amarillo. Kennelly is to become Fort Bend County judge next January.

Other two appointees are Robert that is "fraudulent, deceitful, misleading . . . including statements of bait, discount, premiums, price, gifts. . . ." In its more recent ruling the court decided, 7 to 1, that the apparent Legislative intent, or sense of the thing, is only to prohibit price advertising that is false or misleading. Effect of this is to knock out the injunction against Lee Optical. HOT POTATO—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson is being asked to give an official ruling on a highway controversial question. It is whether Texas, under present law, can accept additional federal funds to extend the period of unemployment payments. Texas Employment Commission and Gov. Price Daniel are asking for the opinion. Pros and cons already have been the subject of heated discussion. A recently passed federal law would allocate to the state, funds to provide an additional 12 weeks of $14-a-week payments to persons who had already come to the end of their 24-week benefit period. An estimated 60,000 Texans are in this category. But, to receive this money, the state must repay the funds to the federal government. If it doesn't get the money by some other means, such as the normal accumulation during high employment periods, it would be pledged to raise the tax on employers after Jan. 1, 1963. Some argue that this would violate the constitutional prohibition against pledging the state's credit. Others say there is no obstacle since the state merely serves as a collecting and disbursing agent for the federal government, with no state money involved. Spokesmen for organized labor have strongly urged that Texas enter into an agreement to receive the extra money. FREE RIDES EYED—State Auditor C. H. Cavness, watchdog of departmental spending practices, has questioned use of railroad and bus passes by Railroad Commission employees. Commission Chairman Olin Culbertson declared the passes were used only for official business. Use of passes for state business is specifically authorized by law for certain Commission employees. Cavness noted that 30 employees had passes and that some apparently had not traveled on state business during the past year. He said he felt it violated the new code of ethics law which prohibits a state employee's using his official position to receive special privileges. Sandhills Philosopher

He's Unhappy With Latest Theory About Bad Times

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reports on economic misdeeds this week, without any affect on the situation.

Dear editor: As I understand the reports from Washington, the recession, if we had one, has now hit bottom and things are picking up, although you've got to understand us economists speak only in general terms and it's possible to have a private recession in the middle of a boom, and I suppose a private boom in the middle of a recession. At any rate, I've been interested in what caused the thing and yesterday afternoon I found out from a newspaper the wind had blown against a fence out here on my farm. When a fence has no more wind resistance than mine, it's not good farming practice to leave a newspaper lodged against it, so I pulled this one off and read it.

According to it, nine economists were called on by a senate committee to explain what caused the recession, and they thought it over and reported "the recession was caused by the good times of previous years." This seemed to suit the Senate Committee, but it doesn't suit me. That is, I'm not arguing over whether it's right or not, what I want to know is, if good times are to blame for bad times, and everybody is always strug-and hoping for good times, they just inviting a recession. When Congress passes a law to end a recession, it's just arranging for good times which will in turn bring another recession?

I tell you, I don't like this of economics. It's like arguing only way to end a rainy day to have a drought, or the answer to a drought is a flood sort of like blaming war on much peace, or divorce on marriage.

Generally you might be arguing that too many Democrats long in power will bring too many Republicans too long in power, with the thing swinging back and forth every few years and that might be right, but just as soon have some other arrangement for the economy. Politics is all right for entertainment, but economic where your bread and butter. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Expect little and you will yourself disappointments.

The thing that heightens the tragedy is that it might have been avoided. That's where the human error, or "apathy," or "ignorance" comes in.

Like a 37-year-old North Texas man who firmly insisted that all four of his children be properly vaccinated, while at the same time complacently considering himself too old to be in danger. Now his name, age, address, and telephone number fill blanks on Form UMBER 68-R573. There is also a check mark in the "bulbar" square on the form.

Or like the 13-year-old Little League infielder and his 3-year-old sister, neither of whom had had a single shot of vaccine. It would have added hurt to injury to ask their parents why.

This human error—and that is the charitable name for it — has caused on major manufacturing Salk vaccine to discount the vital function that all over it were pleasly praying just short year ago. The reason spicks simply are used. By the literal gallon growing old and on drug store shelves.

It's a sad thing to see surveillance forms come week. It is sadder still people to numbers for parent mailing each Thursday and county health Texas and to the Federal agent.

Somehow it makes you those famous lines by W. "Of all sad words of pen, the saddest are those that might have been."

Of First Power Mower Mishaps Wounded Combat Vet With Spoon

Lawn mower hadn't been in vogue in 1944, but involving one was a combat veteran who was wounded in World War II. The first power mower mishap involved an elderly man who was mowing his lawn when he was hurled by a power mower. The man, who was a combat veteran, was mowing his lawn when he was hurled by a power mower. The man, who was a combat veteran, was mowing his lawn when he was hurled by a power mower.

1. Unless you have good artificial light, mow only during daylight.
2. Don't use an electric mower when the grass is wet and slippery.
3. Never allow youngsters or pets near a power mower. Nor should youngsters be allowed to operate one.
4. When starting the engine, stand with your feet planted in a safe spot. Always be sure of your footing and balance—especially when mowing on an incline. On hills and banks, cut sideways, not up and down.
5. Don't refuel the mower while it's running or still hot from use. Always refuel out of doors. Don't forget, either, to store the gasoline in an approved container.
6. Shut off the mower before moving it from one level to another, or when you want to work on its underside. Never leave the mower unattended while it's running.
7. Make sure the area to be mowed is free of sticks, stones, wire or other obstacles.
8. Know how to disengage the clutch and stop the engine quickly.

OLD DAYS AND NEW will meet at Amarillo July 4, when boys of the chuck wagon crew from the famous boys ranch and pioneers who came to the golden spurs in covered wagons appear together in the grand July 4 parade at 10:30 a.m. The boys' ranch unit has attracted wide attention with its authentic, mule-drawn chuck wagon. Sixteen boys, leaders on horseback are outriders, while two other boys dressed as prospectors appear with three Mexican burros. Pioneers in the July 4 parade will ride in covered wagons, bugles and fife, and will be honor guests during the afternoon at the Will Rogers Range Riders Rodeo.
