WE THINK

What Do You Think?

BY M. B. D.

WE ARE GETTING A GREAT KICK OUT OF READING ABOUT KING EDWARD VIII AND MRS. ERNEST (WALLIE) SIMPSON—

Mrs. Simpson, a beautiful American woman, is seeking a divorce from her husband, a London broker, New York-born, Harvard-educated, and a British subject.

King Edward is a bachelor, 42 years of age, and a very desirable husband for some woman.

But if he should marry a commoner—some woman without a royal blood in her veins—my, my, my, what a fuss that probably would raise.

Away back there, more years than we care to think about, we exchanged a few words with King Edward, then Prince of Wales, and we shook hands with him. Of course, a lot of other folks did the same thing at about the same time, but we sort of have a feeling that we know the King, and we are deeply interested about how he gets along with the girl friend. Press dispatches tell us that Mrs. Simpson and the King are very close friends and romance is talked.

Mrs. Simpson is a very much photographed woman at this time, and we have looked at her pictures on several occasions. She appears to be a very charming woman, and we can't see very much wrong with King Edward and Mrs. Simpson stately walking down a church aisle into that land of bliss in which some folks travel all their lives and

CRYSTAL ICE CO. TO COMPLETE 30 TON PLANT HERE

New Equipment Will Give Local Plant Final Completion

Machinery and equipment to complete the Littlefield plant of the Crystal Ice company will be moved here next month, L. W. Dobbs, manager, announced this week.

The local plant when completed will have a capacity of 30 tons of ice daily, the same capacity as that of the Lubbock plant, Mr. Dobbs said. Since last spring the plant has been producing 15 tons of ice daily or one-half of its capacity.

Other new improvements at the Littlefield plant this fall will include the laying of all concrete floors in the building and landscaping the rear yard. A lawn and flowers will adorn the rear of the structure when the building program has been completed, Mr. Dobbs said.

Painting the buildings and construction of a high steel fence will complete the improvement program. Though the Crystal Ice company has been in business in Littlefield for the past five years, it was not until May last that the $50,000 plant was opened to partial production to serve this territory.

New equipment to be installed this fall will include freezing tanks, compressors and motors, Mr. Dobbs said.

SPECIAL TRAIN THURSDAY TAKE 813 TO DALLAS

Both Children and Adults Are Made Comfortable; All Report Good Trip

Eight hundred and thirteen school students, their teachers and parents, boarded the special Santa Fe train here Thursday evening about 6:45 o'clock for the Centennial at Dallas, arriving at the Fairgrounds at 7 A. M. Friday.

This train, which was in charge of H. C. Pumphrey, local agent, carried 17 cars and a baggage coach. The closing of the schools Friday and the special train to the Centennial was in line with the program of the State Board of Education to send as many school children as possible to the Centennial for educational purposes. State Superintendent L. A. Woods made application to the Railroads for a cut in rates, making it a state-wide movement to take a million children to the exposition.

Extensive preparations had been made by Mr. Pumphrey for the taking care of the children, and the serving meals to them enroute.

A large number of local business establishments, farmers, and others contributed food and money to this

LAST RITES FOR SAM T. HODGES 3 P. M. SUNDAY

Dies Instantly Following Auto Mishap Friday Night

Samuel T. Hodges, about 56, formerly a resident of Littlefield, but recently of Lubbock, was instantly killed at 7:30 o'clock Friday night, when struck by an automobile as he repaired a flat tire 4 miles from Enochs in Bailey county.

Mr. Hodges, who is a salesman for Hestand-Kimbell Wholesale Grocery company of Lubbock, had stopped his car on the road leading from Enochs to Bula, parking the machine on the left side of the road, and leaving his lights burning, according to M. M. Page of Lubbock, who came upon the death scene immediately after the mishap.

A Bula business man, driving west to Enochs, saw the lights of the Hodges car, which are said to have been facing east, and said he believed the Hodges car was approaching him.

He stated that in order to avoid what he believed was danger of collision, the Bula man swung over to his right running into the ditch.

Page is reported to have said that Hodges machine had a damaged left front fender and wheel, that a spare tire found in the ditch was flat and that the casing on the left front wheel was severed.

The body of Mr. Hodges, which was crushed badly, with both arms broken, is reported to have been found lying under the Bula man's car several yards up the road where it was said to have been dragged by the other car. The driver of the Bula car stated he did not know anyone had been struck until he got out to investigate.

Funeral services were read at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, Lubbock, by Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor, and interment took place in the Lubbock Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Raymond Renfro and Ben Lyman of Littlefield, and Gerald Nash, T. B. Smith, Kelly Nail, and T. L. Miller of Lubbock.

Deceased was a member of the First Presbyterian church, Lubbock. Mr. Hodges was well known in Littlefield. He had been employed as wholesale grocery salesman for a number of years, and maintained a room in Littlefield for three nights a week, which days he worked out of this city.

NINE HUNDRED CARS CHECKED HERE TUESDAY

Capt. Legge and Sergt. Schauer Speak Before 900 School Children

A safety lane was established on Phelps Avenue Tuesday, from the Garland-White Auto Supply building to the depot, by a squadron of Texas Highway Patrolmen, under the direction of Capt. W. W. Legge of the Lubbock District, assisted by First Sergt. George Schauer, of Austin, who examined all cars passing through for defects.

Patrolman W. E. Renfro examined the cars for faulty brakes and Patrolman Jack Reeves, for defective lights, steering, horn and windshield wiper. If car was in good condition, Constable L. A. Ratliff would give the owner a blue sticker; if car defective, Patrolman Weldon Lawson would present the owner with a pink sticker, and explain what repairs the car needed to get the blue sticker. It was then compulsory on the owner to have the defects cured and have car rechecked before he could secure the blue sticker, the stamp of approval.

It was the duty of Patrolman W. C. Alder of Lubbock, one of the group, to make a list of all defects and O. K. cars, which will be kept for the highway information, so that the department may check on cars should they at any time figure in an accident. They will then see which have headed their warning.

A total of 900 cars were examined, 544 proving to be 100 percent OK and 356 to be defective. Of this last number 175 owners had the defects taken care of and returned for their blue stickers.

The defects found were divided

SEVENTH INSTALMENT

SYNOPSIS: Maris Trevor is discouraged because Rod O'Rourke spends all his money developing an invention which he hopes will provide an income so that they can marry. Maris thinks they should enjoy the present rather than deny themselves for the future. She becomes uncertain of her love for Rod. Perhaps there would be more happiness with someone else . . .

"Say," cried the girl, "since when have you been handing the young boss billets-doux? Seems to me that ain't the first time you two met, and I thought I had my eyes peeled for young romance around here. You've sure put one over me."

"Oh, go on, Milly. There's nothing to that."
"Huh, that's what they all say. But remember, young lady, Stan's got a girl, though I must say you'd make a good understudy for Rowene—the same silky, golden hair, the same dark eyes."
"But that's where it ends. Look at Rowene's jewels on my lily-white arm—the only jewelry I've got, and I'm glad enough to have it."

"Well, then, Maris, there's nothing for you to do but cut out Rowene. I bet that wouldn't be so hard. They say she's just as dumb as she's beautiful, so that's going some. Say, why don't you?" she whispered, her almond-shaped eyes aight.

"How about you making a bid was correct.

Of course you never knew when any of the men might be trying to pass the buck and blaming a stenographer for a mistake of their own. How hateful business was! Suddenly she hated all. It made a girl nervous. As she turned the handle of the door her hand felt positively clammy.

But when she entered the room, Stan looked up eagerly and said, "Oh, I'm so glad you've come. Miss for him? I thought that was your specialty?" and Maris looked at the girl intently.

Her smile, which revealed a dimple in her cheek, was not lost on Stan

Milly gave a little smirk. Then in a very confidential tone, she said, "It used to be, but I've decided a star salesman who can make his twenty grand a year is all I want."

"You mean you're engaged to Brower?" Maris' eyes opened wide in astonishment.

But, apart from a slight inclination of her head, Milly had no chance to say anything further, because Miss Riggs suddenly appeared and called her to desk.

"Mr. Stanley Fayson wants to see you at once in his office. He's terribly upset, Maris."

Suddenly Maris felt herself trembling. Why should he have sent for her? But Miss Riggs was already hurrying across the corridor to old Fayson's office, and so Maris couldn't find out anything more.

Maris felt numb all over as she walked towards Stan's office. What could he want with her? Surely he wasn't angry with her because she had criticized his announcement. He'd asked her to do it. Didn't he mean what he said? Yet he had seemed to be perfectly pleased with her suggestion. Why hadn't Miss Riggs given her a hint of what he wanted?

Quickly she thought of the letters she had written lately, but not one had been his. Then she remembered that one of his father's—or one of the salesman's, it must have been—with the quotations. But Miss Riggs had checked it over with her and had assured her it

The numbness left her body and a glow of life seemed to sweep through her again. Whatever it was Stan was not angry with her. But as she looked at him, she realized his face was haggard, and the dark marks below his eyes told of a sleepless night. What had happened? It must have been something awful, to leave him looking like that. Why, his clothes looked as though he'd never taken them off all night!

Clearing his throat, he said, "I wonder if you would wear the bridal gown at the exposition?"

"Me!" exclaimed Maris. Had her ears deceived her?

"Yes, Maris," he said quietly. His eyes seemed to tell her that she would confer a tremendous favor on him if she would do this.

"But I thought Miss—" Maris suddenly stopped, realizing she was blundering.

"Yes, my fiancee was to wear it, but—well our engagement's broken and—" He hesitated as his brown eyes sought her sympathy. "You can understand that's impossible now."

"Of course," she answered hurriedly. "But I don't see why you chose me."

Ignoring her remark, Stan said, "The gown is in that box. I'd like you to try it on. Maybe you'd just step into my inner office and put it on now. I'll send for one of the fore-women from the factory. She can help you."

"But you're sure you want me to do this? I've never done any modeling."

"That's just why I want you. That's why I decided to have Miss Quirk and some of her friends put this show on, because we want to prove that our new crepe and other fabrics are the choice of such girls, and not just designed for show wear for professional use."

"You certainly will," he answered, a sudden glow in his eyes again. "Don't worry about a thing. You'll be the hit of the evening."

"I'll do my best," Maris said in a low voice, while her smile, which revealed a dimple in her left cheek, was not lost on Stan. He was already wondering why he had failed to notice this girl during all the weeks she had worked just a stone's throw from his office.
"I know you will, and don't let anything fuss you. Remember, you've saved the situation, and I'll never forget that," he announced emphatically.
Maris' heart was beating furiously as she left his office and met the frankly inquisitive glances of the girls, as well as the questioning looks of the miscellaneous salesmen who always seemed to be hanging around anywhere for their special use.
But she glanced neither left nor right, but hurried toward Miss Riggs' desk.
"You're going to do it?" she asked. "I'm so glad. This is a chance

LOCAL FOOTBALL FANS TO GET GRID DOUBLEHEADER HERE THIS WEEK-END

Littlefield football fans, greatly heartened over the 19 to 6 whipping doled out to the Crosbyton eleven by the Wildcats last Friday, will be given a full menu of grid delicacies this week-end.

The entire will consist of tussel between Littlefield's championship bent Wildcats and Lubbock's Cowhand under the lights at Seely field Thursday night.

The demi-tasse, which promises to be plenty sweet, if you'll pardon a pun or two, will be the Class C championship tilt between Anton and Morton under the lights here Friday night.

The Littlefield-Lubbock tilt, a non-conference affair, should take on all the appearances of a blood and thunder grid classic. Both teams are celebrating week-old victories; Lubbock having smothered Olton 20 to 6 last Friday while the Wildcats showed the best form of the season here last Friday when they whipped Crosbyton.

Anton and Morton will come to grips here in what will spell finale to Class C competition for this district for the season. Anton has come through the season undefeated while Morton has lost but one game.

A completely revamped Littlefield lineup will start the Lubbock affray, Coach Bill Sanders announced late Wednesday, in an effort to keep his first stringers fresh for the remainder of their conference tussles.

Coach Sanders, visibly enthused over this season's grid edition of the Wildcats, said his second string line, booked to start against the Cowhands Thursday night, will outweigh his first stringers seven pounds to the man although they lack experience.

Following is the starting lineup for Thursday night:

Ends—Jack James, Brazeal; Tackles—Beavers, Madden; Guards—Walker, Melton; Center—L. Burleson; quarterback—Henson; full back—E. Burleson; Half backs—Elms, C. James.

WILDCATS WHIP CROSBYTON 19-6 IN LEAGUE TILT

Neely Stars For Locals In Nip and Tuck Grid Tussle

Littlefield's raging Wildcats, paced by L. Neely, stellar full-back, opened their Class 3-B football schedule here last Friday night defeating Crosbyton 19 to 6 in a nip and tuck grid classic under the lights at Seely field.

From the opening minutes of play until the closing whistle, a barrage of punts and passes by both elevens kept the pigskin soaring through the air during the major portion of the tilt.

It was Neely who sized up the situation early in the game, then limbered up his slinging arm, his legs and his educated toe to pass, kick and run the Wildcats to victory.

Littlefield opened the scoring early in the first period with short pass, Neely to James, for five yards and a touchdown. Neely split the goalposts to score the extra point on a perfect place-kick.

In the opening minutes of the second quarter, Neely wound up his pitching arm again to heave a 10-yard pass to Morgan who galloped over for the second touchdown of the game. The try for point failed.

In the opening minutes of the second quarter, Neely wound up his pitching arm again to heave a 10-yard pass to Morgan who galloped over for the second touchdown of the game. The try for point failed.

Crosbyton exploded the bombshell of the game when shortly after Littlefield's kickoff in the second, Tennyson, Chiefs quarterback, romped 65 yards on a quarterback sneak to chalk up his teams' only counter of the affray.

From the second period until late in the fourth when Neely galloped 65 yards down the gridiron for a touchdown on a fake punt formation, both teams staged a nip and tuck affair consisting in the main of a punting and passing attack.

Finals on the score sheet gave Littlefield 11 first downs to six for Crosbyton.

Safe Driving

Members of the state highway police visited Littlefield Tuesday and tested 900 cars for safety. The tests were made as part of a state-wide program to improve safety on the highways.

Cars operating in and through Littlefield, which were subjected to tests Tuesday, can be considered the average in character of automobiles in use throughout the state.

BUT THEY DEMONSTRATED IN NO UNCERTAIN WAY THE WISDOM OF THE STATE IN CONDUCTING SUCH TESTS.

Of the 900 automobiles, 221 were found to have defective brakes, 215 defective lights, 163 defective horns, and nine had unsafe steering apparatus.

Think of the accident hazards furnished by those unsafe cars.

We had occasion to make a trip Saturday night on Highway No. 7 and we took advantage of the journey to observe the number of cars with one headlight, or without a tail light. There were far too many on the road for safe driving.

The state is to be commended on the present valuable safety campaign.

Happy Board Meeting, W. M. S. and Associational business. Why I am a Christian, Rev. J. M. Reynolds, Muleshoe. Sermon, by Dist. Miss. A. A. Brian Plainview. WILLIS J. RAY, Pastor.

LUTHERAN HOUR RETURNS TO AIR

The Lutheran Hour returned to the air Sunday, October 4, on a special network of 17 stations of the Mutual Broadcasting System. For years the Lutheran Church of the Missouri Synod, with which also the Emanuel Lutheran church of this city is affiliated, has sent its message to cheer the hearts in many thousands of American homes. Station KFUP at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis will originate the programs which will be given every Sunday until Easter.

Due to our inability to procure a suitable time for both the Eastern and Western area of the country there will be two broadcasts. The first at 1 p. m. EST over WHTT, WAAB, WEAN, WINS, WBAL, WCAE, WGR, CKLM, WLW, WRVA.; The second broadcast at 3:30 p. m. CST with stations WJJD, WISN, KSTP, KFAB, WSM, KPUP. A special DX program is also being arranged over WLW Cincinnati for next week, which will span the globe. Dr. Walter A. Maier, Professor of the Hebrew Language and Exegesis, is the speaker. At present no Texas station has been secured for this broadcast, but it is hoped this will soon be arranged.

Meanwhile the Lutheran congregations of the Panhandle have arranged a series of broadcasts to be sent out over the Amarillo station, KGNC 1410 Kilocycles. At 2:30 p. m. daily. The Rev. H. Frerking of Amarillo will broadcast a message of the gospel. This daily broadcast will last from Monday Oct. 26 to Sat. Oct. 31. Thereafter a weekly broadcast has been arranged. Hence tune dials to KGNC daily and hear Dr. Frerking. He will not discuss political questions, but has only one message, namely the great Truths of the Scriptures. These truths every human needs to obtain the true Philosophy of life, but especially to find the way to heaven thru Jesus Christ.

Any one wishing to hear more of this gospel may hear it any Sunday night at the local Lutheran church, W. J. Luecke, pastor. Do not forget to tune your radio at 2:30 daily to Amarillo KGNC.

Paralysis Fatal To Fieldton Woman; Burial at Panhandle

Mrs. Mary Jewell Lain, aged 45 passed away at her home, 3 1-2 miles northeast of Fieldton, about 12 o'clock noon Wednesday, quite suddenly following a stroke of paralysis.

The remains, under the direction of Burleson Funeral Home, was shipped to Panhandle, Texas, their old home, where burial is to take place this afternoon from the First Baptist church.

Deceased was survived by her husband, J. M. Lain, and three daughters; Mrs. W. I. Holland of Canyon; Mrs. R. F. Hamm of near Fieldton; and Miss Evelyn Lain at home; and one son, Milton M. Lain, also living at home, and a sister, Mrs. Pearl Young of Amarillo, Texas.

cause, including E. J. Foust a quarter beef and Littlefield Farms a beef.

The baggage room was equipped with a 70 ft. counter, on which Mr. Pumphrey worked all night Wednesday getting ready for the trip.

Among those who assisted in the serving were: Mrs. W. N. Bussey and daughter, Iris; Mrs. Viola Honea, Mrs. Nina Young, Mrs. J. M. Stokes, Mrs. Jewell Barnes, Miss Mildred Reid, Lola Mae Scott, Edna Drager, Jessie Clark, Alpha Harrison and Eloise Lindley.

By a re-arrangement of the seats in the coaches all children were able to lie down and sleep. Adults were also made comfortable, and everyone reported an excellent trip. Enroute home an extra car was obtained from the T. & P. at Fort Worth to give the passengers more room.

In an interview with Mr. Pumphrey, he said: "The Santa Fe and T. & P. officials stated that it was the most orderly conducted train they had had to the Centennial this year. I, myself, appreciated very much the assistance rendered by the teachers, each one taking care of her own group, and not one of the children were unruly. We were late on arriving home Saturday due to the fact we were delayed in Fort Worth in picking up the extra coach. Everything went off fine, and all passengers seemed to have a big time."

Dr. Thos. B. Duke, Santa Fe physician, Mrs. Duke, and Miss Mary Louise Sullivan, nurse at the Littlefield Hospital, accompanied the train, so that in case of accident or sickness, the patient would be taken care of at once. Hospital supplies were also available.

We Think—

from which others awaken. AND SPEAKING OF LOVE, ROMANCE AND "SICH"

It must be great to be a big, brave, motion picture cowboy, and rescue beautiful women from villains, and be rewarded with come hither smiles, and kisses that linger in the memory.

CLAY PUMPHREY'S SPECIAL— When reduced rates to the Centennial for school children were announced, Clay Pumphrey took immediate and progressive steps to obtain a special train from Littlefield.

And when Clay starts out to get a job done, the citizenship of Littlefield and territory fall right into line because he is widely known as a progressive citizen and a hard-working and clear thinking man.

We think that Littlefield and territory are most fortunate in having H. C. (Clay) Pumphrey as Santa Fe agent and a citizen.

No, Clay isn't going to get us any free transportation on the Santa Fe; we just believe in distributing flowers to the living.

P. S.— We are informed that Clay put the girls and the boys in separate cars at night and that most of them slipped on their nighties and went to sleep just like they were at home with their parents.

MOST FOLKS ARE BUSY HARVESTING CROPS, BUT—

We are looking forward with interest to the time when a meeting will be called and special steps taken to give Lamb county a big fall fair. This year's fair was a splendid event; it pointed the way to a larger event in each of the coming years. We hope that some day Lamb county will have a fair that will put in the shade the Lubbock and Amarillo expositions. Now please don't misunderstand us; we are not unfriendly to Lubbock and Amarillo expositions. We just want Lamb county to have the best fair on "these here" north and south Plains.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS MAP?

To dramatize the differences in weather which may affect your motor, the cities on the map above have been purposely misplaced.

Of course you know that the very same gasoline which gives the rapid-fire pep in torrid Mexico would be a sputtering dud in frigid Alaska.

But do you know that average U. S. cities such as St. Louis, Des Moines, Oklahoma City, Chicago, and Minneapolis; all have seasonal differences in climate as great as the variation between Alaska and Mexico?

That is exactly why Phillips 66 Poly Gas is 100% custom-tailored... made differently for the different seasons of the year... matched and re-matched every month to the specific weather in each city in which Phillips 66 Poly Gas is sold.

This protects your engine against changes in climate. Keeps it running at top efficiency no matter what the thermometer reads. Makes it lively, responsive, and economical all year round. Gives you more cool power in summer and faster starting in winter. And besides, each gallon is enriched with extra energy units by the patented POLYmerization process.

To discover today's greatest gasoline value, try just one tankful of the new Phillips 66 Poly Gas. You will actually feel the difference—and you will save money, too, because it costs no more than ordinary gasoline.

New 1937 Chevrolets are Displayed To Newspaper men at Milford, Mich.

More than 300 newspapermen and magazine representatives took their first pre-announcement look at the new 1937 Chevrolet October 12 at the General Motors Proving Ground near Milford, Mich.

Hewitt Chevrolet Co., are Chevrolet agents in Littlefield.

Special buses took them to the demonstration grounds from the Statler Hotel in downtown Detroit. There, they heard brief talks by C. P. Fiske, Chevrolet's advertising manager, and R. H. Crooker, executive vice president of the Campbell-Ewald Company, before seeing the new car.

M. E. Coyle, president of Chevrolet, and W. E. Holler, general sales manager, addressed the men briefly, thanking them for their cooperation during 1936.

E. A. Nimnicht, director of retail sales for Chevrolet, explained the new features which cost the company $26,000,000 in manufacturing equipment to install in the 1937 line. Two automobile reporters acted as unofficial "watch dogs" in a novel demonstration of the improved power plant under the Chevrolet hood, Chris Sinsabaugh, of Automotive Daily News, and Bert Pierce, of the New York Herald Tribune, rode with two Proving Ground drivers to see that each kept his foot planted on the accelerator during the demonstration.

The 1937 car left a 1936 model in the middle of an 11.6 per cent grade as it pulled over the summit. Both had started from scratch in high gear at 15 miles an hour. Both were new cars.

The steering stability of Chevrolet's knee action models was demonstrated when a driver blew out his left front tire at 50 miles an hour, by means of dynamite caps, and brought his machine to a stop without wavering or weaving.

Mr. Beatty takes the place of Mr. Hurst, who with his heavy duties as cotton buyer found that he did not have the proper time to devote to the city's business.

An oil and gas lease, comprising 9 sections, was recorded the past week, when L. C. Fink, oil operator, transferred to the Magnolia Petroleum Co. 9 sections of land in league 50, out of the Scurry county school land. This land lies about 3 1-2 miles southeast of the Duggan wildcat well, which is now being prepared as Cochran Co.'s first producer.

SPADE NEWS

Although not a state-designated experimental station for the new methods of teaching, the Spade school is doing its little best to keep progressive and efficient through the unit-activity method of instruction.

Spade's First Play Goes With A Bang
Playing before an audience of 500 homefolks and a few visitors, a troupe of players selected from the various high school classes of Spade staged Goin' Modern, the first play of the season and the first in a series of five such programs for the school year 1936-37. This play, ably directed by Miss Lois Butler, was acclaimed generally as one of the best ever attended at Spade.

Goin' Modern, a three-act farce for five men and six women, presents, as its title suggests, an experiment in going modern. Comfortable middle-aged parents awake to the realization that they are a disappointment to their newly sophisticated daughter and their would-be-modern son. Out of the dilemma concerning what to do about a house party to which their off-springs have invited some of the "modern set" from New York comes the decision to go modern in a great way. So dad and mother as "Jimmie" and "Marje" set themselves to the task of out-New Yorking New York. Follows a series of episodes that shock the sensitiveness of even the "hardened" young guests and set things a-shudder with late hours, wild life, questionable teas, and much-talked about illicit love affairs. Then comes the good old-fashioned ending which patches up the damage done and leaves everyone—even the audience—content to be less modern and too sincerely confident of love to be satisfied

Spade Balladettes To Get Uniforms

The Spade Balladettes have voted to order and have decided on the kinds of material to make up their uniforms. When these arrive and are completed you will want to see the girls in action.

Spade Sock and Buskin Club Gets Underway

The Spade Sock and Buskin club, organized early in the year for those who are dramatically inclined at Spade High School pupils enrolled. It seems highly probable that the doors will have to be closed to additional members who would apply for a place. The officers chosen are as listed below.

President, Bud Vann; Vice-president, Helen Brown; Secretary, Irene Byrne; Reporter, Martha Nell Bentley; Critic and Co-Sponsor, Jack D. Wester; Co-Sponsor, Miss Lois Butler.

Membership Committee: Helen Brown, Delbert Mouser, Pearl Cook. Program Committee: Jack D. Wester, Irene Byrne, Frankie Lou Teague, Alman Barker, Miss Lois Butler.

Scientific Committee: Roy Estes, Harrell Hunt, J. Q. Keesee, Elray Tucker, Lena Lee Powell, Beryl Keesee.

Publicity Committee: Martha Nell Bentley, Neal Mouser, Ozella Tucker, Charles Bruce, and Lucille Nabers.

It will be the purpose of the club to study play-acting throughout the year, to furnish members for the cast of characters in all plays, to advertise the programs of the year, and to learn business procedure and good entertainment methods when in regular meetings.

Buy New Suits

Someone has said "See—Spade's new suits, they are the 'swankiest' and best ever." Ten suits, black, trimmed in white, with large white letters—that's the boys. And the girls? Oh, yes, ten solid black ones—Black beauties. And their shirt blouses, Jockey satin, all of them.

Visits Texas Tech College

Miss Ruth Jones carried her second grade to Lubbock, Friday, October 9, to visit the textile work at Texas Tech. This was a kind of climax to a study of the Cotton Unit in her daily work. Messrs. Dan Heard and Homer Carter offered to help with the cars, and the three loads netted some twenty children who were privileged to see the making of cloth.

CHISHOLM'S FLORAL has flowers for all occasions. 29 1tc

Program Is Dedicated To Bus Drivers

Some bus driver said "One of the best things about that program in assembly which they dedicated to us recently was that Style Show given by the Sewing Class."—The girls were attractive in their pajamas, varied in style and color and made by themselves as a Unit of Work in home economics.

School Dismissed For Cotton Picking

Spade schools were dismissed, Friday, October 9, for an indefinite period of cotton gathering. The teachers have returned to their various homes, and the pupils are seen no more about the campus. Alone and lonely stands the school house—an ageing mother, her children married to King Cotton and gone away, she sits and broods away the waning autumn days.

ROCKY FORD

(Too Late for Last Week)
Sunday school and preaching services were well attended Sunday. Bro. Dye of Olton filled the pulpit at morning hour. Bro. Clarence Coffman of Plainview preached at the evening service. Glad to have each of them with us.

Mr. Roger Walker of Paris, Texas is visiting with his sister Mrs. Reno Rochelle.

Mr. Houston and Mr. Armstrong with their families of Littlefield visited in the Floyd Chafin home Sunday evening and services at the church at night, glad to have visitors always.

Garland Yandell and wife had dinner in the J. W. Cowan home Sunday.

Boll pulling is about to get under way now as most people are getting started with the fleecy staple, the harvest to which we all look with glad anticipation.

Our cotton is our best crop this year. It seems that cotton succeeded in making better than our feed crops on the average. Feed crops are mostly harvested except some late feed which will be cut with the Row binder for roughage.

W. H. Reddell and wife and Hobson Grant and wife were guests in the L. L. Dunn home Sunday.

Grandpa Myers, father of Mrs. E. J. Bussanmas is on the sick list lately.

Joe Dunn and J. D. Nixon, visited the singing convention at Fairview Sunday.

Claude Rogers and family spent Sunday with relatives near Spring Lake.

F. V. Serna and wife, returned recently from South Texas after several weeks stay.

Raymond Edwards and wife, Misses Melba and Mona Nixon visited Truman Cotton and wife Sunday.

Miss Eula Barnes entertained some of her Sunday school class in her home Sunday evening.

Most of our people spent some time last week at the Lamb county fair, we think we should rally to the support of the Fair and Littlefield is to be congratulated for the fine way they put the fair over in its new location.

Mrs. Green of Fort Worth, sister of Mr. Ben Davis is visiting in the Davis home this week looking after their farm and irrigation well here.

HART CAMP

Friday afternoon, Oct. 9, was our regular chapel day. A program which centered around Hallowe'en and Columbus Day was given. The program was in charge of Miss Cooper. The following numbers were presented: Songs—First and second grades; Reading—Vonnie V. Hobbs; A Hallowe'en Playlet—Third and fourth grades, Reading—Doris Collins; Song "Come Out Its Hallowe'en"—Fifth and sixth grades; Reading—Jimmy Burk; Reading—Nordine Finny; and Reading—W. O. Hendrick.

There were a number of visitors who came to visit our rooms and also who stayed for Chapel. Among those who visited were: Mr. Farr, Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Jake Rice, Mrs. Fulfer, Mrs. M. C. Collins; Mrs. Williams, and a number of smaller children. We are always glad to have these people come, and we would like for more to visit us.

A number of our pupils were out pulling bolls last week. We missed these people.

Our boys and girls played Spade last Friday night Oct. 9. The score went in Spade's favor by a large number, but we enjoyed the games very much.

School was dismissed Oct. 9, for boll pulling. We do not know how long we will be out, but we hope it will not be too long.

The last week, the pupils in the six lower grades have been making Hallowe'en decorations. We were early in doing this, but we will not be in school when Hallowe'en comes, so we did not want to miss the fun of Hallowe'en at school. The first and second, third and fourth grades had a short party in their room before chapel. Stories were read, and the children tried luck at pinning the cats tail on. Other similar games were played. When the children returned to their rooms from chapel, they found that the old witch had been there and had left funny little cats made of candy paper, and toothpicks.

Miss Mara Myrl Brewer left for her home near Olton. She, too, plans to attend the Centennial during our time off from school.

Miss Ina Merle Cooper went to her home near Lockney. She will spend this time with her parents.

In a lifetime. Now make the most of it.

"I feel terribly nervous about appearing before a whole hall full of people. I just don't know if I'll be able to when the time comes."

"Don't say such a thing. Of course you will. I've often thought you were wasted in an office like this, hammering a machine all day long. But then, of course, with times as they've been lately, I didn't want to put ideas into your head. But you're lucky, all right, so see that you get something out of this. How about shoes and things like that?"

"Mr. Stan said I should see Mrs. Bryce and then go home till they call for me in the evening."

"I shouldn't be surprised if Mr. Stan calls for you himself. He's terribly sore at Rowene. I don't know what can have happened between them, but you play your cards right and there's no saying what may come of this," she counseled.

"Oh, I'd never think of that," said Maris, although Miss Riggs' suggestion was but the stepping-stone to a wonderful castle of dreams that instantly floated into her mind.

"Don't say that," said Miss Riggs. "Every girl has a right to make the most of her chances, so just remember what I say. Oh, there's Mrs. Bryce; better see her at once," she added as the head stylist, a striking-looking young woman with unusual green eyes, appeared.

"All right," answered Maris, and she went forward to meet her.

An hour later Maris was hurrying home, a pair of beautiful satin slippers, long suede gloves, some exquisite lingerie and a gorgeous wrap following her by special delivery. She could hardly keep from running as she left the subway and turned down the street to her apartment house.

Who would ever have thought that morning that she would have such a wonderful piece of fun; that she would have a chance to mingle with society girls as if she were one of them; to be the center of attraction at the exposition! Oh it was too wonderful! It would completely bowl Patsy over.

She glanced at her watch, Patsy would be asleep, for she didn't generally rise till about four, and she'd just have to wait, for it wouldn't be fair to waken her up. Patsy really worked hard and took her work seriously.

Quietly she slipped her keys in the lock, and turned it slowly around. But suddenly she felt the door jerked open. "Patsy!" she cried as she almost tumbled into her friend's arms. "Why aren't you asleep?"

"What are you doing home at this time of day?" countered Pat. "I'm getting off tonight. The manager said he thought it was time I had a chance to make up some of the hours I'd worked overtime, and of course I'd rather sleep at night for a change."

"That's great, Patsy."

"But why are you home?"

Throwing her arms about her chum, Maris cried, "I'm going to be the bride at the show tonight. Ain't I the lucky girl?"

"But I thought young Fayson's girl was to show off that gown."

"So she was, Pat, but oh, I guess Stan and Rowene have busted up their engagement. We'd awful excitement. Poor old Riggs was all up in the air. Then she sent me into Stan's office. Gosh, I wondered what crime I'd committed, but when he told me, well, you could have knocked me over. So I had to put on the dress. It fits me like a glove. Don't you think I'm in luck, old girl?"

"Why, Maris, this is wonderful! Now you'll see how you'd like to be a mannequin.

"Sure I will; but it will be like starting as an opera star instead of working up to stardom. Oh, Patsy, I'm so excited, and you should have seen how Stan looked at me. Gosh when I came into his office in the wonderful gown or rather when he stepped into his private office and saw me—well, I haven't got words to describe what I did do to that young man. He's all set up again, and didn't he look the heart-broken lad when I went in at first."

A troubled look had crept into Patsy's hazel eyes. "Oh, Maris, do be careful. Don't start and think Stan's crazy about you. Remember he wants to make good, and is probably mighty glad he found a girl so easily to take Rowene's place, so don't get all sentimental about him, Maris."

"There, you little kill-joy, why don't you say, 'Go to it, old girl,' like Miss Riggs did? She's a business woman and I bet she's fed up on it and would give her eye-teeth if she had the chance to charm some old sugar daddy."

"I wish Rod was at home. I don't really like you going out with those folk and none of your own around you."

"You dear old thing. Anyone would think you were fifty at least and with a raft of children to turn your hair gray with their escapades. You don't need to worry about me. Can't I have my little joke? You're far too serious, Pat. There, someone's at the door. I bet it's the rest of my troussau coming," she cried as she hurried to open it.

Swiftly the afternoon passed, and though Maris kept protesting Pat should look after her own affairs and take some enjoyment in the few hours that she was having off, she was only too glad to have her help her get ready for the great occasion.

The gown in all its tissue wrappings had arrived. Patsy declared it was time for Maris to slip into it. As she drew it over her head, she suddenly cried, "Oh, Patsy, I'm scared. What if I don't make good?"

Laxative Combination
FOLKS KNOW IS TRUSTWORTHY
The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Theford's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets—Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Theford's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

Words cannot express our appreciation and thanks to our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy extended us during the illness, and at the death of our baby girl, Helen Fern.
We also thank those who sent the beautiful floral offerings.
May God bless each and every one of you.

When you wake up with a headache, do this: Take two quick-acting, quick-dissolving BAYER ASPIRIN tablets with a little water. By the time you've finished dressing, nine chances in ten, you'll feel relief coming.

Genuine Bayer Aspirin provides this quick relief because it is rated among the quickest methods for relief science has yet discovered. Try it this way. But ask for it by its full name, BAYER ASPIRIN, not by the name "aspirin" alone.

THE COLORED METHODIST CHURCH

Some weeks ago an effort got underway down in the flats to build a church for the colored people. It is under the leadership of one, Rev. Spring, and he is still busy, here now and at the job. I guess there is no argument needed to convince any reasonable individual such a church is essential to their life. We cannot expect better Norgoes till we do something to make them better. A lot of us have learned how to 'cuss' those who are bad; too few of us have learned, or having known are unwilling to follow our informatin in an effort to bettering people.

Then the Oil Mill has increased, will continue to increase the colored population, thus adding to our common responsibility.

We have looked into the record who have known him for years and we are convinced that he is responsible and trustworthy. To make further security sure, we have appointed Mr. Jess Elms treasurer and all monys will pass through his hands. So we heartily recommend this project—the new church, and also the one who is promoting it. John Witt Hendrix
