County Receives 184,069-Acre 1959 Cotton Acreage Allotment

Acreage Cut Here By 16,417

Lamb County's cotton acreage allotment for 1959 is 184,069 acres—a cut of 8.21 per cent from 1958. Lamar Aten, county ASC office manager, announced Tuesday. That figure is 16,417 acres less than the county received in 1958. Lamb County received allotments of about 190,000 acres in 1956, 203,000 acres in 1957 and 200,486 acres last year. Cotton growers will receive official notice of their 1959 allotment early next week. The notices will be mailed from the county ASC office Friday, said Aten.

Same Cut For All
The ASC office manager said that every farmer in the county received the same cut—8.21 per cent.

Although figures from other counties were not available here, it was believed that other counties in the area received cuts varying from 6 to 10 per cent.

Cotton acreage allotments for all farms were determined by the County ASC Committee in accordance with the law and regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture.

In 1958, two allotments for upland cotton will be established for each farm, and if marketing quotas are in effect each farm operator will have an opportunity to choose the one he wants to comply with and to register his choice at the county ASC office.

If he elects the "regular" — Choice (A)—allotment and complies with it, he will be eligible for price support at the full level available—not less than 80 per cent of parity for 1959.

Choice B Larger
If he elects the Choice (B) allotment, (which is 40 per cent larger than the Choice (A) allotment) and complies with it, he will be eligible for price support at a lower level—15 per cent of parity less than under Choice (A), said Aten.

If marketing quotas are not in effect, only "regular" allotments will be available and price support will be at 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law.

The ASC office manager said that the amount of the total county allotments actually will depend on what plan most farmers choose.

When it would have been easy for a "little town to dry up and blow away," U. S. Congressman George Mahon, here to congratulate the town on its birthday, said: "The Soviet Union is moving more rapidly in military, scientific and industrial growth than we are. We have become somewhat soft as a people used to the luxuries of life. Hardships of the past made the town what it is today." Earlier, U. S. ## Chicago's Students Here Protected From Event Of School Fire

A fire like the one in Chicago which killed 90 persons happened at Littlefield school? "I'm highly doubtful," Dr. Schilling, superintendent of schools, said Tuesday. "Only two schools here have two stories here, and those buildings are fire escapes," said Dr. Schilling. "Of the 90 persons, 87 of them were children, who died in the fire Monday were trapped on the second floor of Our Lady of the Angels school, a parochial school. The Chicago school, of course, were inspected by the fire department. Schilling said the two Littlefield buildings are fire escapes, and in another way. The second floor of the junior high school houses the library and auditorium—no class was held there," said Dr. Schilling. "The school is used only by students, since we have no study hall periods here. The high school (the only two-story building), only 10 per cent of our students are on the second floor at any one time," he said. The second floor is used for labs, high school, elementary

The Wrong Way To Amarillo Topsy Woman Lucky Train Was On Time

A tipsy Texaco, New Mexico woman can thank her lucky stars the Santa Fe's eastbound passenger train wasn't a couple of hours late Monday night. She wouldn't have wound up in city jail, but she might have ended up six feet under. Police said the 41-year-old woman got mixed up when someone gave her directions to Amarillo. She wound up stuck in the middle of the railroad tracks. It all happened about 8:15 p.m. Monday when the woman, under the weather from a few too many, asked a service station attendant how to get to Amarillo. The attendant told her, but apparently didn't get through to her. Instead of taking Highway 51 north, the woman turned too soon, into the drive at the Santa Fe depot lot. From there she turned left and headed west, driving along next to the tracks until she got almost to the Union Compress. Thinking she had come to a place to cross the tracks, she tried. But she hit high center when her two right wheels got over the tracks and her left two left ones didn't. She did her best to spin out, wearing out a rear tire in the process. Somebody finally noticed her, officers said, and phoned the police station. Police investigated, then called a wrecker to pull the car off. Officers weren't sure how long the car had been stalled on the tracks. The Santa Fe passenger train had come through about 6:30. No freights happened to come along while she tried to unstuck her car. "She's lucky," said a Santa Fe attendant. "Those freights come through anytime, with no set schedule." The woman, however, wasn't lucky enough to stay out of jail. She was placed behind bars and fined $19.50 for drunkenness. She also had to pay a $5 wrecker fee.

Start Christmas Mail Now, Advises Postmaster Joplin

"Mail early for Christmas." That's the word from Postmaster C. A. (Arbie) Joplin, who says it's not a bit too soon to start. "The biggest single factor in getting all mail delivered before Christmas is the full cooperation of the public in early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts," said the postmaster. Post office facilities will be expanded, extra personnel will be available and everything is being geared to handle a record Christmas mail in Littlefield this year, said Joplin. With Christmas only three weeks away, Joplin asked people to follow these three simple rules to insure delivery of gifts before Christmas: Wrap them securely, address them correctly, and mail them early. The postmaster said people shouldn't take chances on mailing poorly wrapped packages. Use corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy brown wrapping paper and be sure that every package is tied with strong cord. Cartons containing several gift packages should be stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents, said Joplin. Another good bet for Christmas mailing, said Joplin, is to buy stamps for Christmas cards now. "We're going to open another stamp window to serve people faster," he said, "but if people will buy stamps early, it will help keep lines from forming." He asked that Christmas cards be separated into packs, one for local delivery, the other for out-of-town delivery. "We're going to send out stickers for people to place on the packs," said Joplin. One set of stickers will be labeled "local" and the other "out-of-town." The stickers will be mailed out in the (Continued on Page 4)

LHS Band To March Saturday In Interscholastic Contests

Come snow or cold weather, the Littlefield Wildcat Band will be competing for top honors in the Area Interscholastic League Contests at Plainview Saturday. The 85-piece band has been practicing in chilly weather recently, and last year won first division in a blizzard. Director Beryl Harris' aggregation will be rated on inspection, music and marching along with other Class AAA bands in this area. Harris will be shooting for a seventh first division rating in his seventh year at Littlefield High School. A first division would make the band eligible for the sweepstakes award in the spring. Also competing at Plainview will be several top Class AA bands and all Class AAAA bands in the area. All the bands will be in action starting at 2 p.m. and ratings will be announced about 3:45 p.m. Littlefield's band will do a drill of precision maneuvers and stunts and will play Independence March, Hostrousers March, Seventy-Six Trombones, Tenth Regiment March and Darktown Strutters Ball.

At the Lamb County H.D. Council meeting last Wednesday afternoon, club delegates were urged to have their club members to write our state senator and representative at Austin asking them to vote for a bill to enrich cornmeal and grits. It is not generally known that the millers are not compelled to enrich these products. A law for enriching flour has been in effect for several years, but this law does not affect corn products. In the south, a great deal of corn meal and grits are used, and enriching these foods will add nutritional value to the diets of people who use these products extensively.

The cost of enriching corn meal and grits is negligible and does not necessitate the addition of expensive machinery by the milling firms. This bill will be introduced by Sen. Moffett at the next legislative session.

The Council Christmas Party was held Dec. 3 at 2:30 p.m. in the Men's Jury Room at the Courthouse. Rocky Ford Club was in charge of recreation. Oklahoma Avenue decorated the refreshment table, and Pleasant Valley decorated the tree. Spade Club distributed the gifts, and Sunnydale served the refreshments. Yellowhouse Club furnished the drinks and each club brought one dozen cookies and candy to be served. Each club was responsible for one short number or came for the entertainment.

Mrs. Ravne McCurry, Yearbook chairman, announced that next year's yearbooks will be ready for distribution at the Christmas party.

Mrs. Leonard McNeese, Council chairman, announced the following committee chairmen for next year: Finance, Mrs. Jack Brooke; Education, Mrs. B. L. Wheeler; Yearbook, Mrs. C. T. Montford; Recreation, Mrs. Ravne McCurry; 4-H, Mrs. Allen Haley; Citizenship, Mrs. John Vrabel; Civil De-

With two six foot-six inch boys sparking the attack, Clovis broke open a close ball game in the third period and ran away with it.

Littlefield, using a full court press of three quarters, was behind 26-20 at the half, but the Cats ran out of steam toward the end of the third period and Clovis zoomed ahead by 48-31.

Clovis outscored the Cats in every quarter, 16-9, 11-10, 22-11 and 19-12.

James Goldston led the Littlefield attack with 11 points, while Bill Jeffries and Bill Wade had eight each, Hilton Hemphill and De Pierce had six each and Jerry Koller and Alex Duggan two each to round out the Wildcat scoring. Bill Poe led Clovis with 19 points.

Xmas Mailing --

(Continued from Page 1) next few days. "Most important," said Joplin, "is that people should put a return address on all their cards and gifts."

Careful addressing of Christmas cards is equally important, he said, adding, "Bring Christmas card mailing lists up-to-date and be certain that the complete name, address, zone number, city and state, is on each envelope."

Christmas cards should be sent by first class mail. They will be processed and delivered quicker and they'll be forwarded or returned, if it becomes necessary. Christmas cards sent by first class mail (four cents) may carry written messages; whereas, cards sent with third class mail (three cents) must be unsealed and have only a written signature, Joplin added.

Founders Day --

The talks by the two government officials were only part of the huge celebration, which was held at the town circle.

More than 1,500 persons ate barbecue and talked over old times at the event, which was sponsored by the Lions and Business Men's Clubs.

Proceeds of the event will go to the town's Little League program.

The town was formed Dec. 3, 1924 as the first town on the Spade Ranch.

Ed Hart, one of the town's early settlers, spoke briefly at the celebration, and described the "great Anton land rush."

"The first day we had a blinding duststorm and that night turned out to be one of the coldest I can remember," said Hart. He told how town lots were carved out of the prairie and sold to the first persons to grab the augs and take them to the sale office.

The town's growth in the last 34 years is reflected in its production of cotton and grain. In 1928, the Anton area produced 600 tons of grain and 2,400 bales of cotton. This year, the area will produce 900 cars of grain and 26,000 to 28,000 bales of cotton.

Anton now has a population of 1,200, seven churches, three gins, two grain elevators and a school system with 500 students and 25 teachers. A brand-new bank building is under construction.

Highlights of the Founders Day celebration, other than the talks by Mahon and White and the barbecue, were a band concert and a community auction.

Toastmaster for the celebration was Marion Mayes, president of the Lions Club. D. C. Roberts was general chairman of the celebration. Ed Hart was in charge of the barbecue and Hank Matthews handled the auction.

OTHERS who helped with preparations included Pat Byrum and Jack Grace, who cooked the barbecue; Al Crews, who was in charge of ticket sales; Brad Gilbert, publicity; Sid Landers, details; Orville Williams, merchandise for auction; and Mayor George Broome, who obtained White as the speaker.

The Anton High School band, directed by Letha Scott, played a concert during the morning.

Cotton Acreage --

Plan B provides a 40 per cent larger allotment at a lower level of parity.

Minimum 10 Acres Aten explained that the national allotment and reserve of 16,310,000 acres available for distribution is first apportioned among states and the state allotments among counties. The county allotments are then distributed among farms on which cotton was planted or regarded as planted in any one of the past three years, with a small acreage reserved for specified uses. The minimum farm allotment is the smaller of the farm's 1958 allotment or 10 acres.

Farmers who do not intend to operate a farm for which a 1959 cotton allotment is established should immediately return the official allotment notice to the County ASC office so that it can be sent to the person who will operate the farm next year. Cotton allotments are established for specific farms and may not be transferred by the operator or other producer from one farm to another.

Any changes in the land to be included in the farm for which the allotment is made should be reported to the County ASC Committee. Farm operators likewise are asked to check with the County ASC Office regarding any other question about the farm on which the allotment is established.

Involved were cars driven by two Littlefield teenagers, Miles Stephens and Tommy Cloninger. Officers said the Cloninger car was stopped for a stop light when it was struck from behind by the Stephens auto. Damages were $150 to the Stephens car and $75 to the Cloninger auto.

asked for help."

Professor Szpilki looked startled. "What an odd message," he exclaimed. "But my little girl and I live here alone and the note could not have come from here."

Esteban looked around the great hall. It was beautiful and peaceful.

He turned to the professor. "Has your little girl a pair of red velvet slippers embroidered in gold?"

"Why, yes," said Professor Szpilki. "She insisted I send them for repair though they didn't need it. That was weeks ago. I must call for them."

"They're the ones, then," exclaimed Esteban. "That's where I found the note."

"Nonsense! I'll call my daughter."

He pulled a cord and a bell rang far overhead. A few moments later a curly-haired girl ran down the great stairs.

"Charlotte," said the professor sternly. "This boy says he found a note in your slipper calling for help. Do you know anything about such a note?"

Charlotte's eyes widened. "Well?" said the professor. "Do you?"

"No," whispered the child. "There!" cried her father turning to Esteban. "You see?"

"I'm sorry I bothered you," mumbled Esteban opening the door. And he thought, What a fool I have been!

"Goodbye," he said from the steps and he turned to wave. Then his mouth fell open because suddenly he saw a look of fear in the child's eyes and her lips formed the silent words, "Come back! Come back!"

As Esteban stared in astonishment, the professor said cheerily, "Goodbye, my boy," and the door was firmly closed.

When the castle door shut Esteban didn't know what to do. Did the professor's little girl really want him to come back? Or was it all just his imagination?

How could she be afraid of her father?" he asked himself. "He is so pleasant and kind. I must stop being such a fool or the Queen Fairy will never give me back my wings and I shall never be an elf again."

But halfway down the hill he remembered again the terror in Charlotte's eyes.

"It's no use," he moaned. "I cannot go away until I see her again."

He turned back. The wind howled and sent shivers down his back. He stood in the storm watching the castle until the lights disappeared downstairs and then shone again, one in a second floor window and one in a third floor window.

"Which window is hers?" wondered Esteban.

By and by both lights went out and still Esteban could not decide which room belonged to Charlotte. Finally he pulled the little blue bird from his shirt and said, "Blue bird, blue bird, fly if you can to the right window."

The blue bird fluttered her wings in the rain and flew away. Esteban could see nothing but presently he heard above the wind the sound of the bird pecking at a window.

Suddenly the light appeared again on the third floor. The window was thrown open and Charlotte's head appeared. Esteban rushed forward and grasping the vines of ivy which covered the castle he pulled himself up hand over hand until he reached the girl's room.

The little blue bird followed him into the room and Esteban put her back inside his shirt. Charlotte was crying. "If you hadn't come back I don't know what I would have done. There's so little time left and it's almost Christmas and I think, if..."

"Wait!" cried Esteban. "You're going much too fast for me. First of all — did you write the note I found in the slipper?"

Charlotte clasped her hands. "Oh, yes! And you do believe in fairies, don't you?"

"I should say so!" exclaimed Esteban. "You see, I'm an elf really. I mean I was." And he told her the story of how he had lost his wings.

"Then you'll understand how awful this is," cried Charlotte. "There has been absolutely no one I could turn to because so many people don't believe in fairies or don't care, or think I'm out of my head and, oh, I just don't know what we can do!"

Esteban threw himself in a chair. "Begin at the beginning and tell me the whole story."

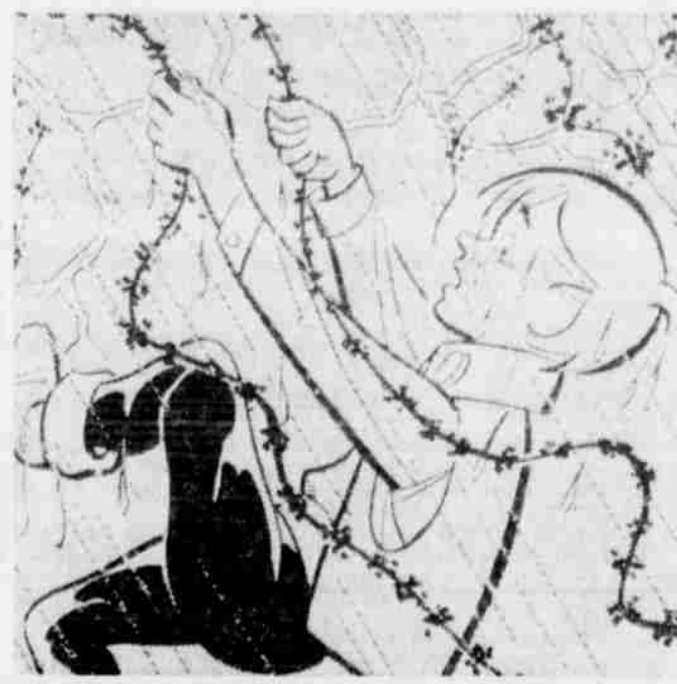

"I'm telling you!" cried Charlotte. "My father is going to get rid of every fairy on earth!"

Esteban leaped to his feet. "What?"

"My father has made a powerful gas. He is going to release it on Christmas Day and destroy all fairies. That means there will be no more Santa Claus or tooth fairies or goblins or witches or Queen Fairy or, or..."

"Or maybe even me!" cried Esteban in horror.

(Sunday: The Sleeping Woman)

Esteban pulled himself up the castle wall.

Anton Subject Of Sociologists' Study At Tech

ANTON—Anton will be the subject of a series of community studies by Texas Tech sociologists, it was announced this week. The studies are designed to show how Lubbock and the small communities are dependent upon each other.

Dr. Earl L. Koos, Tech sociology professor, will direct the project, and Tech students will visit in several Anton homes, asking questions of an impersonal nature.

Every community of Anton's size within 40 miles of Lubbock was visited and Anton was chosen as the first to be studied because of its community spirit and friendliness of its leaders, Dr. Koos said.

The students' report on Anton will be made available about Feb. 1.

"It used to be—we never seemed to have enough money to do all the things we wanted to. But this year we've bought a new car, had Judy's tonsils out, loafed in the sun for two weeks—without touching a penny in our savings account. How'd we do it?"

"When we bought the new car, we were set to dig into our nest egg. But our family banker urged us to keep our savings for a rainy day. He explained that since our savings were in a family bank, we were entitled to bank credit. And he arranged it right then and there."

"It worked so well—with the lowest interest we could get on a loan anywhere—we financed other projects this way, too. Even Judy's tonsils. We kept saving regularly to pay back the loans. We still received interest on our savings account—so even the low rate we were paying on our loans was partly offset."

"We discovered all the banking services we need—for home or business—are there under one roof at our family bank. Now we get together for so many things that 'family banker' has the same warm meaning to us as 'family doctor.'"

Educator Hits 'Free Ride' Scholarships For Athletes

The emphasis (which a great many people consider a gross overemphasis) on athletics in the colleges has been the subject of innumerable discussions. The prime example, of course, is football, which draws the huge crowds and the equally huge sums of money. No-holds-barred efforts to recruit winning teams have produced some national scandals. But the problem is not confined to the colleges. It is reflected in a heavy and dangerous pressure on the high schools. This, in any event, is the theme of an article in the October issue of The Atlantic, written by Eugene Youngert, who was a high school superintendent for 16 years, and is now associated with Dr. James Bryant Conant in making the Study of the American High School.

The pressure, of course, comes from the effort of college coaches and other interested parties to get their hands on promising high school athletes. Dr. Youngert cites various examples. One, related to him by an Eastern high school principal, tells of a lad called Sonny, who was low in the I.Q. department, was never considered of college calibre—but was a marvelous natural athlete. So college people came from all over the country with inducements from their respective institutions. The winning university gave Sonny a full "free ride" scholarship, the services of a tutor, a campus job for his father, a low-rent apartment for the family, and spending money. As it happened, even then Sonny couldn't keep up and left college for the army. However, as Dr. Youngert's informant put it: "The sad part of this tale is that we had to work like the dickens to get highly qualified, intelligent boys into the very colleges and universities that were vying with one another for our Sonny."

These and kindred cases, Dr. Youngert emphasizes, are exceptional. Such aggressive recruitment of athletes is common. And the hurt is done not only to the athletes, but to the high school student body. To quote him: "... I want here to include a word about the cynicism that infects the students as a whole when they see favoritism and free ride scholarships bestowed on boys whose classroom work has been mediocre. Under such circumstances, high school students cannot be blamed if they think that we are shedding crocodile tears today in our wailing about the lack of intellectual vigor in our secondary schools."

That is not all the damage. College athletics are becoming more and more professionalized. The result is "the infusion of the pro attitude and spirit into high school athletics, and the shady practices that such infusion carries in its wake." Practices that are shady from the point of view of the amateur's sportsmanship code.

What can be done about the problem? Dr. Youngert feels that college faculties should take the lead in adopting and enforcing a concrete resolution. Under this resolution, among other things, there would be no sub-standard admissions; scholarships would be awarded on the basis of scholarship ability, with the amount determined by need; job opportunities would be genuine jobs, not athletic sinecures, and there would be no snap courses for favored groups. He writes at the end: "In my experience, athletes in general are an intelligent group of boys. They would not and they should not be discriminated against under the recommended resolution. On their merit as students, they would win their fair share of scholarships and other financial help. I know that college athletics, if they were fairly and firmly handled, would become highly respected as a student activity. They would no longer be an enterprise run for financial profit, public relations, protection of vested interests, and as a sop for the alumni."

Grassroots Opinion

ANTIGO, WISCONSIN, DAILY JOURNAL: "The advertising received by the Nobel Prize winning novel 'Dr. Zhivago', of Soviet Author Boris Pasternak through its condemnation by the Soviet press, will probably more than compensate for the prize money he found it expedient to reject. But here, again, will be able to collect and receive the royalties to which he is entitled."

BEVERLY, MASS., EVENING TIMES: "While preparations by business to organize politically in an effort to counter big labor are encouraging in some ways to the organizers, it is conceded that the results this year may leave much to be desired. Business can proceed only on the assumption that it will have to form an ampy-financed organization right down to the precinct level. That's what organized labor is doing. There is no other effective weapon in politics."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texans are on about the 10-yard line in the drive to set a traffic safety record in 1958. Safety officials will count it a "touchdown" if at the end of the year traffic fatalities have been reduced by 10 per cent of the 1957 toll. Despite the emphasis on percentages and numbers, it is not a campaign for statistical glory. None of the players on the safety crusade team can hope to benefit personally from an impressive scoreboard. Nor are they out to "win for the coach." Gov. Price Daniel already has had his "contract" renewed at last summer's elections. Real winners will be 254 Texas people. All of them would be dead by Dec. 31 if last year's accident rate continued. For the first 10 months of this year Texas has been achieving its aim of a 10 per cent cut in traffic deaths. This has been done even though travel has increased two per cent. But the last four weeks — like the last four days in front of the goal post — will be the hardest. Christmas and New Year's holiday traffic will multiply driving dangers many times. State officials, patrolmen and all the civic-minded associations and commissions and councils are geared for an all-out push. But actually "getting there" will depend on each Texan putting "drive safely" at the top of his Christmas list. SAFETY LEGISLATION — For greater safety in the years ahead, the Governor's Highway Safety Commission will ask the next Legislature to pass a six-point program. Points in the program: (1) state aid for driver education in the public schools, (2) creating county-wide courts of record to handle traffic violations, (3) legalizing use of chemical tests to determine intoxication, (4) strengthening drivers license law, (5) revising and updating the uniform vehicle code and (6) increasing salaries for members of the Department of Public Safety and starting a program to bring the highway patrol to the national minimum standard of 1,600. Essentially the same program also has been endorsed by the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. SCHOOL REPORT COMPLETE — Hale-Aikin Committee has completed its study and agreed—with some difficulty — on a proposed program for improving public schools. Final report is 37 pages long, detailing improvements and expansions that would increase school spending by $110,000,000 a year. Suggestions for upgrading quality of public education include more days of school, more pay for teachers, driver education, special programs for the gifted, pre-school teaching of non-English speaking children, clerical assistance for teachers, etc. Full final report will be printed within two or three weeks for distribution to legislators and interested citizens. Copies may be obtained from the Texas Education Agency, Austin. SCHOOL LAW TESTED — Texas officials are studying carefully

DOWN MEMORY LANE

(Taken from the files of Lamb County Leader, Dec. 11, 1941)

A new mattress factory has been established in the building formerly occupied by the Lamb County Electric Cooperative on West Fourth St. by B. H. Weatherly of Clarksville, Texas, a former resident of this city.

Lamb County cotton farmers will help decide the course of cotton again this year when they vote in a national cotton marketing quota referendum, according to W. E. Bentley, chairman of the Lamb County A. A. A. committee.

Early Thursday morning radio broadcasts reported that both Germany and Italy had proclaimed War on the United States.

John Banks was honored on his 9th birthday Monday by his mother, Mrs. Henry Banks, in their home on Littlefield Drive and 12th St.

the similarities between Texas and Alabama's pupil placement laws.

U. S. Supreme Court decision on the Alabama law constitutional on its face. But the court indicated the law might later be considered unconstitutional in the way in which it was applied.

Texas' pupil placement law, in the same general pattern was passed in 1957, has never been tested in court. It allows local school officials to assign students to certain schools on the basis of 17 factors—aptitude, intelligence, home environment, personal conduct—almost everything except race.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said all the court tests of similar laws are being watched. By the end of the year, he said, "we should know pretty well what the law is."

PRISON FUNDS RUN SHORT — Texas Board of Corrections will ask the Legislature for a half-million-dollar emergency appropriation to finish out the fiscal year.

Untimely fall rains caused heavy losses in the Prison System's cotton crop. Result is that the system, which pays more than half its own way with prison industries and agriculture, will run short by an estimated $506,000 by Aug. 31.

Department of Corrections also will be asking for funds to expand its overcrowded facilities. Needed, says the Board, is $9,050,000 to build two new units for prisoners and one tuberculosis unit.

GO SLOW — Like pay for like work is a great idea, says the Texas Public Employees Association. But its members, the state employees, are wary of any effort to put a job classification system into effect in a hurry.

TPEA says it will study carefully the job classification study made by the Texas Employment Commission at the request of the last Legislature. Employees said they might have some recommendations of their own by the time lawmakers meet.

TEC's study makes no salary recommendations but is simply an individual description of some 26,500 state jobs.

Some employees fear that attempts to adjust pay inequities between similar jobs would only result in more inequities. Others say the task of adjusting and supervising job classification would create another mushrooming money-spending bureau.

RE-THREAD FOR ROADS — Texas Highway Commission has okayed a $20,000,000 program for improving 3,061 miles of existing farm roads.

Age and heavy use has brought need for re-surfacing bridge widening and shoulder replacement, said the commission.

Texas' farm-to-market road system has grown from 3,060 miles in 1948 to the present 28,203 miles. SHORT SHORTS — Texas Independence Day Association has announced a $280,000 program for improving Washington - on - Brazos State Park, site of the

Sandhills Philosopher

He's For New Tax Theory If He Can Have His Say

The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm endorses a new taxing theory, with considerable reservations, his letter this week, reveals.

Dear editor: The trouble with a good idea out of Washington is that it never gets enough attention to deal with it as it is into my farm out here.

For example, the other day an economic expert in Washington said that the country needs a sliding tax rate to vary automatically with the ups and downs of the economy. When times are good, raise the tax rate a little; when they get bad, lower it automatically without waiting for Congress to argue over it a year or two. By the time Congress gets around debating, we could be out of one recession and into another one.

Now this is a fine idea. It suits me exactly, but here's the trouble: who's going to decide when times are good and bad?

The way it'd work is, a bunch of experts would figure out what the economic index is and set the signing of the Texas Declaration of Independence. It hopes to raise money privately, create a town attraction and suitable site for March 2 observances. State Department of Health is showing off its new "home" — a $3,000,000 building just completed on the north side of Austin.

Texas has had a teenage crime wave in 1958, says Dept. of Public Safety Director Col. Homer Garrison Jr. Juvenile arrests are at an all-time high, up 16 per cent from last year.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Diligently Pray For The Work of Your Church

This Series is Sponsored By the Business Firms and Individuals Listed On This Page. These Firms Along With the Ministers of Littlefield Hope That Each Weekly Message Will Be An Inspiration To Everyone.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

| Day       | Book    | Chapter | Verses |
|-----------|---------|---------|--------|
| Sunday    | John    | 17      | 21-26  |
| Monday    | Matthew | 18      | 20     |
| Tuesday   | Luke    | 24      | 13-32  |
| Wednesday | Acts    | 2       | 42-47  |
| Thursday  | Acts    | 20      | 28-35  |
| Friday    | Mark    | 10      | 42-45  |
| Saturday  | Romans  | 15      | 1-7    |

It was Sunday morning. I had stopped only long enough on my journey for an hour of worship. The church was almost filled when I slipped into my seat. I knew no one. Yet between me and these worshippers there was a bond of fellowship. I bowed my head in worship of our Lord.

Then I thought of those in distant lands who must worship the Christ amidst ridicule and persecution. They too were my brethren and I prayed for them.

Through the church rang the triumphant notes of the opening hymn "Faith of our Fathers, Living Still."

My heart and my voice sang together as I remembered those of old who had labored and died that the Church might live. With fellow Christians, whom I did not know, I sang my promise:

"Faith of our fathers, holy faith
We will be true to thee till death."

If only everyone knew the joy and satisfaction that my faith brings to me! Start attending the services of the Church—and your life too will be enriched by that bond of Christian fellowship that has sustained millions through the centuries.

Resident's Father Killed In Lockney Shooting Scrape

The father of a Littlefield Negro was shot to death about noon last Friday near a Lockney cafe and murder charges were filed against the cafe operator, also colored, Saturday.

Killed was Prentiss D. Bagby, father of James Lee Bagby of Littlefield.

The cafe operator, Medford Bennett, was jailed at Floydada, where a peace justice set his bond at $20,000.

Officers said Bagby apparently went to the cafe in a pickup and parked at the side. He was hit in the upper part of the left arm and through the right nostril by bullets from a .22 revolver. After being hit he ran about 100 yards before falling. Bagby, a farm worker, had lived in the Lockney area several years. He is survived by his wife, three children, James Lee of Littlefield, Larry, age 6, the home, and Barbara, age 9, the home and five grandchildren.

A NEW SERIES in the 1959 Ford line—the Galaxie—captures more of the taste and styling of the Thunderbird than any other Ford model. Compared here, the Galaxie Town Victoria in the foreground bears a strong resemblance to the 1959 four-passenger Thunderbird. The new Galaxie will be on display at Hall Motor Co. in Littlefield.

Ford's New Galaxie Goes On Display At Hall Motors

Ford Division announced this week—nearly a year ahead of schedule—a new series of automobiles that will sell for only $48 above regular Ford Fairlane 500 prices, but have a strong resemblance to the four-passenger Thunderbird—especially in the roof area.

Called the Galaxie, and originally a part of Ford's 1960 styling plans, the new luxury series contains six different body styles. To bring the Galaxie series to the market early, engineers, tool makers and product planners worked night and day and week ends in top secrecy. The Galaxie required more than 100 different dies to make more than 50 unique parts and assemblies.

The new car will be on display at Hall Motor Co. in Littlefield. The Galaxie series comes in a two-door sedan, a four-door sedan, a two-door hardtop, four-door hardtop, a convertible and a retractable hardtop.

roof line, the Galaxie offers a Thunderbird-flavored interior with quilted and pleated fabrics over tailored seats, a new molding over the safety twin head-lights, different fender ornaments, a modified instrument panel, a low-tone steering wheel, added chrome interior trim inserts and seat side shields. There are seven interior color selections—saddle, jet, grey, blue, suof on the quarter panels and the instrument panel.

The suggested list price, which are $48 above comparable models in the Fairlane 500 line, start at $2,303 for the two-door, six-cylinder sedan. The prices are lower than any luxury models in the low-price field.
