Splendid cooperation was also extended the Fair organization by the business establishments of Littlefield, which is also appreciated by the association.

Thousands of people from over Lamb and adjoining territory viewed the splendid exhibits, and took advantage of the various features of the Fair program.

Exceptional community, individual farm, vocational agricultural, Home Demonstration, educational, and livestock exhibits were displayed, as well as flowers, art, culinary, etc.

A carnival was held on the softball grounds during the week, conducted by the Western States Shows.

A free wrestling match was held each evening, which also contributed to the entertainment.

A football game was also held between Littlefield ex-students and Wayland College Thursday afternoon at the High School stadium, which drew a large crowd of fair visitors.

Local Schools Not To Close For Cotton Picking

At a meeting of the members of the Littlefield Independent school Board Monday evening, it was voted not to close the local schools for cotton picking.

DRIVE AGAINST DEFECTIVE CARS WILL BE MADE

Headed by their big white radio equipped courtesy car, a flying squadron of Texas Highway Patrolmen under the direction of Captain W. W. Legge of the Lubbock District and assisted by First Sergeant George Schauer, safety and First aid expert, will converge on this city for a one day stand October 20, to conduct a safety lane campaign according to announcement received here today from Austin.

The patrol which is conducting a sweeping drive against defective motor vehicles throughout Texas will set up their courtesy line in cooperation with local officers adjacent to the business district and route all traffic through. Each car will be examined for possible defects in brakes, lights, horn, muffler, steering gear and windshield visibility. Those passing the test will receive the state's blue seal of approval. Those failing to pass will be given a pink defect sticker showing the source of trouble. Operators receiving one of the pink stickers will be requested to make the necessary adjustments and return the car to the lane to get the coveted blue sticker.

Operators of cars unable to make the necessary adjustments before the patrol departs will be able to get their O. K. sticker from the local authorities on presentation of the car at the police station. The number of every car passing through the lane will be recorded. Particular attention is given those receiving pink stickers who fail to return in a reasonable time.

"Owners of cars who receive pink stickers and fail to exchange them for the blue seal of approval and who later may figure in a traffic accident are in a tough spot as the number of every car figuring in a traffic accident is naturally forwarded to Austin as a part of the state's traffic accident record. These numbers are easily tabbed from the defect list, those sponsoring the work explained.

NO TRACE FOUND OF THUGS AFTER ROBBERY SUNDAY

Kersey's Grocery, Cobb's Walters Drug, Consumers Supply are Vicims

City and Lamb County officers are working hard in an effort to apprehend thieves who broke in and robbed four Littlefield business establishments sometime Sunday night, or early Monday morning.

The rear door of Kersey's Food Store was pried open, apparently with a pinch bar, and the store entered by parties who carried off some silver in the cash register, which was three or four dollars in nickels and pennies.

B. Kersey, owner, stated that he did not miss anything else, though they might have taken a small amount of groceries, which he would not miss.

Mr. Kersey was held up by hijackers a week last Saturday night, who forced him into their car taking him about 6 miles northwest of town, and robbing him of $130.00.

Cobb's Department Store was also robbed Sunday night, when the rear door of their establishment was forced open, and $30.00 taken

Make-Believe Bride

by Ruth Harley

SYNOPSIS: Maris Trevor is discouraged because Rod O'Rourke spends all his money developing an invention which he hopes will provide an income so that they can marry. Maris thinks they should enjoy the present rather than deny themselves for the future. She becomes uncertain of her love for Rod. Perhaps there would be more happiness with someone else. . . .

She crumpled the note and put it in the wastebasket. They wouldn't likely be home for at least a couple of hours.

She'd just make a cup of coffee and have some cake, for probably Patsy was going to give them a swell supper. Swiftly she remembered how disappointed Pat had been that Rod had missed the duck dinner.

Maybe she had planned this surprise for him. Pat was always thinking about other folks and doing nice things for them. Well, she would be disappointed once more.

For a moment Maris wondered how Rod was making out, but only for a moment, because she suddenly realized that one of her favorite features was almost due on the radio, and turning the dial, she flung herself down in a comfortable chair, waiting for the coffee, to "perk."

Then came the musical motif that signified the approach of the feature and a moment later she was completely transported to other realms. It was not until the players had been on the air for about half an hour that she remembered the coffee. Jumping from her chair, she darted into the kitchen just in time to salvage half a cup, and with that and a piece of cake, she returned once more to the living room to listen to the end of the play.

But she was hardly seated till the door opened and Patsy and Johnny entered.

"Home so soon?" questioned Maris as she greeted them. "Didn't you go to the movies after all?"

"Yep", answered Pat, "but it was a rotten picture. Where's Rod? Hasn't he come over yet?"

"No he left for Cleveland today!"

"He did?" cried Patsy. "What's up—got a job?"

"No, he's got a chance to demonstrate his radio gadget."

"Say, that's great," remarked Jimmy. "Good old Rod; I sure hope he makes a hit with it."

"So do I," exclaimed Pat. "But I suppose that'll mean he'll want to marry you right away and take you to the country," she added, looking at Maris as though she expected her to confirm her suggestion.

Maris smiled, but made no remark. Then, noting the coffee cup on the table, Pat said, "You haven't looked in the ice-box, have you?"

"Of course not, although I'm starving," answered Maris.

"But I thought you'd have a bite before you came home tonight—you usually do that on my night off."

"Oh, it's all right, Pat. I worked late at the office."

"You did?" questioned Pat.

"Yes," replied Maris, almost too eagerly. "I had to see about some stuff in connection with the exposition—at least Fayson's part in it. And say, Rowene Quirk was in the wedding gown she is going to wear at the show. She looked gorgeous."

"I don't believe she's any prettier than you," remarked Jimmy.

"All right, folks, let's eat," Pat said. "You can come and help me, Maris, and Jimmy can get us some good music and not these blood-and-thunder dramas you're so crazy about."

"It's too bad Rod couldn't be here," declared Patsy, opening the ice-box and revealing a sumptuous meal of cold spiced tongue, with vegetable salad and a delicious frozen dessert. "I just hope this trip will bring him some luck. Don't you feel excited about it? Is he going to call you up?"

"I don't suppose so."

"What do you mean, Maris? You're surely not keeping up that silly fight with him, about Dulcie? You must be crazy if you'd let a thing like that come between you—or—" Suddenly Patsy stood stock still in the middle of the kitchen floor. You haven't thrown him over for the chance that one day Stan may talk to you? Her eyes seemed to pierce the girl beside her.

"Don't worry, Pats, and work yourself up into a state. I'm not worth it, really. Only you may be interested in knowing that I've a date with Stan tomorrow."

"A date with Stan?" Patsy repeated incredulously. "Oh, Maris, do you know what you're doing?"

"There, Pat, don't get all 'het up.' It's only to tell him something about an announcement for the exposition. Guess he wants my reactions to it." Laughing lightly, Maris shattered the tension of the moment.

"Well, I'm glad, though you had me worried for a minute."

That's silly. Stan's engaged to Rowene Quirk, so he hasn't any eyes for other girls." (At least not just now, thought Maris to herself.)

"If only I'd her money, what stunning clothes I'd have!"

"He's really engaged to her?" demanded Pat.

"Yes; one of the girls saw the announcement in the papers, so not one of us girls will have a look-in, though it's a darned shame, for rich husbands can't be picked up at every crossroads."

"It's better so," commented Patsy, and for a moment Maris felt furious at her. Even if she was perfectly content with Jimmy Doyle and his future, other girls had dreams of their marriages to important men.

really raising themselves through "Stan Fayson," remarked Patsy, would probably turn some working girl's head with his attentions and wealth, and then she'd find herself left high and dry when he got tired of her. Well, I guess we're ready to start. Come on, Jimmy."

"All right, sweetheart," he answered as he came into the dining room and put his arm about Patsy. Maris caught the look of affection that passed between them. Somehow it annoyed her. Patsy was a jewel of a girl, but how could she be satisfied with Jimmy? yet she seemed to adore him. Somehow that very fact seemed to make her feel like throwing Rod permanently into the discard. Maris felt with her beauty she should surely do better in the marriage market than marry a man who merely had a job—even if she loved him.

Well, she thought, now as she glanced again at the couple, she wouldn't make a mess of her life by letting her heart rule her. What did marrying for love do for anyone? A cynical smile curled at her lips. Now she was glad she had not let herself be carried away by her emotions. She must keep them under control. Whatever came of love matches that folks raved about, but disillusion when the couple came up against the practicalities of life?

But suddenly all her Calculated plans received a jar when Jimmy said "I guess Rod will be a rich man one of these days. One of the engi-

New Clocks And Bell Telephone

What time is it, Sir? Why ask that now, may I ask? Haven't you seen the new clocks the school board and seniors of '36 purchased recently from Mr. J. A. Frazier, representative of the International Time Recording Company. Four clocks were purchased. They are located in the office, gymnasium, auditorium, and main corridor of the high school. A master clock with a program device is located in the office. This clock automatically rings the bells and sets the secondary clocks. Grammar school bell rings inside and outside, even though the schedule is different the time is exactly the same. The students appreciate these clocks very much and there is more unity in the school since the clocks were installed.

All Stars Tie Wayland 7-7.

Littlefield All Stars scrapped to a 7-7 tie with the Wayland Junior College Thursday evening under the High school flood lights. Although the weather was rather disagreeable it didn't seem to effect the hard fighting that coach "Bill" Sanders All Stars put out. Wayland's line was like a brick wall from start to finish only giving when Lry Hoyton, all star F. B. turns his power aloose through center when the all star made most of their gain other than two passes which Sanders, Q. B. tossed to Wharton, L. E. which was resented with all stars' on Wayland's one yard line. Hoyton carrying the ball on the next play was able to make the touchdown through tackle which was a mighty close play but was ruled over by the referee. Coach Bill Sanders kicked the extra point which left the score 7 - 0 in favor of all stars at the end of the half.

Wayland came back the last half with plenty of pep and fight and reached the all stars territory and stayed in it throughout the 3rd quarter where a half back broke loose for a touchdown after a 20 yard run through the entire all star crew. Attempting to kick for extra point the ball was fumbled and recovered and ran over the extra point to tie the game.

The fourth quarter was anybody's game with both teams threatening but due to fumbles kept the ball from advancing too close to the goals. The all stars were kept out of danger by the long and beautiful punts of Sanders, Q. B., which he kicked one in the first quarter approximately 85 yards. Attempting the lateral play which was a pass from Bennett to Sanders from the 40 yard line resulted in a touchdown but was called back for an off-side penalty and the Stars were unable to duplicate.

The All Stars exis composed of stars of Littlefield H. S. was 'Heavy' Stevens, L.; Olan Wharton, L. E.; Billy Dorman, R. E.; Otis Connell, T.; Bryant of Olton who was the Olton's Star lineman of '35 and took most of the 1936 track honors of Lamb County.

There were three hundred in our services last Sunday morning with two hundred seventy in time to be counted in Sunday School. We are expecting three hundred in Sunday School next Sunday if God gives us another pleasant day. People are wise who find time to worship God. It doesn't pay to ignore God's natural and spiritual laws for the penalty is too great. People would not think of breaking the laws of the land as readily as they do God's spiritual laws.

There were 107 in B. T. U. Sunday evening and the interest is increasing. The Younger Married folks group plan to reorganize next Sunday evening and a good attendance is urged.

All the married couples of the church who consider themselves young, say forty and under, are invited to be at the church Monday evening at eight o'clock to go on a chicken barbecue.

There will be an all-church hall-oween social at the church on Thursday, October 29th at which time fortune tellers, ghosts and black cats will add to the fear of the evening Young and old are invited.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning on the subject, "God's plan. After the morning service the Lord's Supper will be observed. B. T. U. starts at 7 o'clock and the song service and preaching at eight o'clock L. W. Jordan is the musical director and a good choir makes the music service inspiring. The message at the evening hour will be "God's Providence." Visitors are always welcome and we were grateful for the number of visitors in the services last Lord's day.

Prayer services each Wednesday evening at 7:45 and Teacher's and Officers meeting at 8:45. The theme for discussion at the prayer service is the "Spirit" and the "Soul". Are you interested in understanding the spirit world—if so then come study with us?

Willis J. Ray, pastor.

LUTHERAN CHURCH NEWS

Last Sunday was a special day of joy and thankfulness for our congregation, for we were privileged to meet and welcome the man, who is to take charge of our Parochial School, Mr. Carl Boriack. It has long been felt as a real need in our congregation that some one be procured to relieve the pastor of the duty of instructing the children in the Chistian Day-school, so that he might be able to devote his full time to his many congregational duties. Hence the joy at receiving such a capable man as teacher.

Mr. Boriack has had four years of teaching experience, including one year at Port Arthur, Texas. His Normal training was received at our Lutheran Teachers Seminary, located at Seward, Nebraska. During the past years, Mr. Boriack has spent the summer months in taking special normal courses in Chicago, Illinois. Mr. Boriack is also a student of music. His knowledge of music will certainly benefit our choir, as well as enable him to assist in the church services, by playing the organ. It is needless to say that with a full time teacher in charge the standard of our school will certainly be raised. It is our hope that we may be able to keep Mr. Boriack in our midst for many years.

Circuit Meeting Held

On Tuesday of last week our congregation was host to the pastor and finance men of the Panhandle Lutheran Churches. The Visitor of this Panhandle Circuit, The Rev. J. Birnbaum of Vernon, was present and in charge of the meeting. Some thirty-five pastors and delegates were present.

The visitors opened the meeting with an inspirational address on "The privilege of being a Christian". He then presented a survey of the mission situation of our General Church body. Encouraging progress was shown on all fronts of the Churches' far flung battle line. Details of our mission in Africa begun a few years ago aroused special interest. Shortly before the close of the meeting the finances of Synod at large were considered and the budgeted apportionments for the stations in the Panhandle were set.

Dinner and lunch were served the visitors by some of the ladies of the congregation.

No Services Sunday

No services will be held at the Lutheran Church Sunday, either in the morning or the night. The Bible Classes and Sunday school also will be dropped. The Pastor will be absent speaking for Mission-day services held at Vernon. However on the following Sunday, October 25th services will be held, and all classes will meet at the usual hour. Holy Communion will be celebrated in the morning service. Announcement for the same is to be made on Saturday or before Sunday school. The choff will meet after the night service.

Class of religious instruction will be started soon. Any persons wishing to become better acquainted with the doctrinal teaching of our Lutheran Church, and all those not affiliated with any church and seeking a church home are heartily welcome to attend these lectures. Any information desired may be procured from the Pastor, Walter J. Luecke. Attendance at these lectures puts you under no obligation to join the church. We certainly hope that many will take advantage of this opportunity to become better acquainted with our church.

Walter J. Luecke, Pastor

Keep A Good Laxative always in your home

Among the necessities of home life is a good, reliable laxative. Don't be without one! Do your best to prevent constipation. Don't neglect it when you feel any of its disagreeable symptoms coming on — "We have used Theodor's Black-Draught for 21 years and have found it a very useful medicine that every family ought to have in their home," writes Mrs. Perry Hicks, of Belton, Texas. "I take Black-Draught for biliousness, constipation and other ills where a good laxative or purgative is needed. I have always found Black-Draught gives good results."

Takes Another Step Forward With Littlefield and the South Plains

—Keeping in step with the rapid growth and development of Littlefield and trade territory, we are this week moving into a 30-foot addition recently completed in the rear of our store. We feel that this forward step, which allows our store facilities to extend from Phelps Avenue to XIT Drive, will enable us to better serve the South Plains agricultural and business areas.

In Our Enlarged Store

—You will find a larger stock and better facilities for serving the public. We feel that one of the ways in which we can serve our city and section is by maintaining a modern store. On our shelves you will find a complete line of drug supplies. . . . In our prescription department you will find a service that is accurate and reliable.

Mesdames Rowe, Cooper Street and Howard Hostesses At Hallowe'en Bridge Party

One of the most outstanding parties of the season was the Hallowe'en bridge party given Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Rowe, on Phelps Avenue, with Mesdames Rowe, C. E. Cooper, W. G. Street, Lena Howard and M. M. Brittain, as hostesses.

A profusion of sunflowers and Sage Brush, arranged in baskets and vases about the entertaining rooms as well as the colorful bridge talleys and other accessories were all suggestive of the gay hallowe'en season.

Twelve tables were in play during the afternoon, following which Mrs. Neal A. Chastain, sister and house guest of Mrs. J. H. Barnett, was awarded high prize; Mrs. C. E. Payne second; Mrs. Payne Wood third, and Mrs. Glenn Pass the consolation.

The guest list included: Mesdames W. J. Aldridge, Everett Whicker, J. H. Barnett, Sam Batton, Neal A. Chastain, R. E. Bird, Pat Boone, Quinton Bellomy, R. T. Badger, F. O. Boles, B. L. Cogdill, W. J. WILDCATS MEET FIRST DEFEAT OF SEASON LOSING TO SLATON, 26-13

In a non-conference game, the Littlefield Wildcats lost their first game of the season to the powerful Slaton Tigers 26-13 last Friday. This game marked the first time this season that either team has been scored upon.

Littlefield kicked to Slaton. Williams, fullback for Slaton, tossed a lateral to Diamond, half back, who fumbled the ball and Littlefield recovered on their own 37 yard line. Moore took the ball around right end behind perfect interference for a game of about 13 yards, on several plays which took the Wildcats to the 17 yard line. Neely passed to Morgan for the first touchdown of the game. Moore kicked a perfect goal making the score 7 to 0 in the first few minutes of play.

Littlefield kicked to Slaton, Williams taking the ball on Littlefield's 17 yard line and returning it to Slaton's own 32. Slaton passed on the next down which was good for 19 yards. After two line plays Williams went through center for Slaton's first touchdown. The kick for goal fell only a few feet short.

Slaton kicked to Littlefield, but the Wildcats could not go through the hard tackling Tigers. Littlefield tried a punt, but it was no good only going 14 yards where it went out of bounds.

The second quarter started with Slaton in possession of the ball. Diamond and Williams took time about slicing of nice runs finally carrying the ball to the 7 yard line, where it was carried over for Slaton's second touchdown. The kick for goal was good.

Slaton's third touchdown came early in the third quarter, when Littlefield had received the kickoff and had punted back to Slaton. Diamond, who was playing safety, took the punt and returned it 54 yards for a touchdown. Slaton's last touchdown came in the early part of the fourth when Coach Sanders had sent his second string Wildcats to try their luck but these boys could not stop the neat running of the Slaton backs, who scored very easily and made the extra point when it was partly blocked by a charging Wildcat.

Littlefield made their second and last touchdown in the last few minutes of play after they had completed seven passes straight. The eighth pass netted a touchdown and the game ended with Littlefield clinging to the small end and Slaton to the big end 26-13.

Raymond Spraglin In Airplane Crash Sunday At Dimmitt

Raymond Spraglin was unfortunate enough to be in a plane crash at Dimmitt Sunday.

Mr. Spraglin, accompanied by Lawrence Vinther, made a trip to that city on business, and while there, was invited to take a ride with a friend, Gene Kimbell. On the takeoff, according to Mr. Spraglin, there were some wires on the landing field, which Mr. Kimbell thought might interfere with the takeoff, so he cut the motor, but before the plane could stop rolling it ran into a ditch and damaged the ship considerably.

Mr. Kimbell suffered a broken nose and cheek bone, and will be confined to his home for the next two weeks. Mr. Spraglin came out of the accident without a scratch.

Mr. Spraglin is building a plane, and it was for tubing for his plane, that took the party to Dimmitt.

LITTLEFIELD TO MEET CROSBYTON ELEVEN FRIDAY

Aerial Attack Gives Locals Two Touchdowns Against Driving Tigers

Smarting from a 26 to 13 defeat at the hands of Slaton last Friday, Littlefield's Wildcats will go into their first conference grid tilt of the year here Friday night against Crosbyton.

Negotiations to set the date of the game up to Thursday to allow the local gridsters the make the trip to the Centennial on a special train for school children were unavailing, A. B. Sanders, superintendent of schools, announced Friday.

Mr. Sanders said the local school may send a bus to the Centennial later in the season to allow the football squad to see the exposition.

LOCAL ALL-STAR GRID ELEVEN TIES WAYLAND COLLEGE IN FOOTBALL TILT

The Littlefield All-Star football team, comprised of former Littlefield high school football players, battled the wayland College Jack-rabbits to a 7 to 7 tie here last Thursday night under the lights at Seely field.

The All-Star scored in the second period after a 20-yard pass placed them on the 10-yard line. Troy Houghton, All-Star fullback, raced over for the marker. The try for point was good.

Capitalizing on a blocked punt, Wayland took the ball on Littlefield's 25 yard line where a short pass resulted in a touchdown in the fourth period. The try for extra point was good on a fluke place-kick play.

The educated toe of Bill Sanders, All-Star quarterback, held the line-light during most of the tussle. The records showed eight first downs for Wayland and three for the All-Stars.

Reviewing The Fair

A review of the Lamb County Fair should not consist of commenting on what took place at that event, which closed Saturday night. Rather we should look into the future and base all our comment on the possibilities of future exhibitions of the kind in this county.

The Lamb County Fair was not a large show, but it was made up of quality exhibits; it gave a picture of the wonderful crops, the excellent quality of the livestock being produced on the farms of this county. The entire setup brought a message of progress and a challenge to make of the Lamb County Fair of the future an event of such outstanding excellence that its fame will spread hundreds and hundreds of miles beyond the confines of this county.

A great many suggestions have been made for the conducting of the Lamb County Fairs of the future. But all suggestions have been made in a spirit of co-operation and not in criticism of this year's fair; in fact, much praise has been given the Lamb County Fair association of which W. H. Cunningham is president, for the very excellent manner in which this year's fair was conducted. Mr. Cunningham received splendid assistance from many residents of Littlefield and Lamb County.

Every person whom we have heard discuss the fair is of the opinion that unlimited opportunities exist for a large fair embracing all features of such an event. The fair this year, it is pointed out, showed the way for a larger event next year and still larger fairs in subsequent years.

We are of the opinion that a meeting should be called immediately and initial plans made for next year's fair.

STATEMENT FROM FAIR OFFICIALS

The officials of the Lamb County Fair Ass'n desire to express, through the medium of the local press, their sincere thanks to the many who helped make our first County Fair at Littlefield a success.

Especially do we thank the Compress for the use of the large warehouse, and the Chamber of Commerce for their donation and assistance.

And among some of the others we would like to mention are the merchants who took booths in the Fair building, the City officials, the County Officials, the County Agents office, the Home Demonstration Agent, the Teachers of Vocational Agriculture, the Home Economic Teachers, the Lumber Yards, the various Committees and many others too numerous to mention.

We feel deeply indebted to the local press for their publicity and to the B. E. Needles organization for the publicity given the Lamb County Fair and their splendid programs given during the fair.

We are glad to report that all premium money was ready and paid on Sat. the last day of the Fair.

Those who won premium money and did not call for their check, may get them by seeing the Treasurer.

Plans will soon be made for a Bigger and Better Lamb County Fair next year. We hope to have our own buildings and grounds by that time.

Let's all think, talk, plan and pull together for a Bigger and Better Lamb County Fair for 1937.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains as monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

astic over Rod's ideas," remarked Jimmy.

"Oh, maybe I've heard so much about this wonderful gadget that I'm not going to believe in its wonderful future. Guess I'm from Missouri, and need to be shown." There was a note of boredom in Maris' voice as she answered.

"Just wait till Rod comes back from Cleveland. Probably the engine of the train he comes in on will be flying flags. I've a hunch he's going to make good with it all right," announced Patsy.

"Yes," echoed Jimmy. "I feel that way too, although it may take a little while to make adjustments on it, but when it's ready for commercializing I guess the shekels will simply pour in. Say, Maris, you've man might play such an important part in her life? she tried to banish Jimmy's words, tried to tell herself he was "just talking."

But when she slipped between the sheets and her hot cheeks pressed against the cool pillow, there seemed to be something sinister hovering about young Stan Fayson.

Then suddenly all her fine theories of a girl bettering herself by marrying a rich man, seemed to lose their power. Something within her cried out for Rod. He would never link himself with anything shady. Had she made a mistake in passing up the love he offered her? But before she had reached a decision, drowsiness stole over her. Jimmy's pronouncement lost weight. Every-got a good thing in Rod." And he grinned at the girl.

"Maybe that's what you think," she answered.

After that the conversation swung into a different channel. No further mention was made of Rod or his gadget, and Maris was glad of it. She would not tell them she was no longer interested in Rod.

Late that night as Maris stood at her window, looking across the roofs of Manhattan, a remark of Jimmy's echoed insistently in her ears. "Yeah, it's the rich guys that are the biggest racketeers in the country. Fellows like young Fayson often have tie-ups with folks you'd never dream of. That's why so many of these investigations into rackets suddenly go up in thin air—the big guys behind them have flung around a bit of cash and everything's okay again."

As Maris watched the lights disappear from window after window she felt strangely troubled. Jimmy had as much as said that you could not find a decent rich fellow; that if you made any investigations about him you would surely discover something pretty damaging about him. But the thought that a fellow like Fayson should be linked up with racketeers was staggering. What good would that do him? He had plenty of money.

Why should Stanley risk such shady connections when he would one day be the head of a big important business?

But then, Jimmy did talk a lot. Sometimes Maris got bored with his talking, but going around as he did, probably he heard a lot. Still it was unthinkable that a man like Stan Fayson should wish to link himself with anything of a questionable character. Yet Jimmy had said some of these rich men were so money-mad, that even the big risk they took in such undertakings was quite discounted, when they felt that more money would be theirs if they could transact such shady deals.

Somehow she felt troubled as she remembered how Jimmy had insisted that he could mention more than one well known man who was the brains of some racket—men whose wives, even, would not suspect them of such activities.

Of course she would not want to marry that type of man—there could be no lasting happiness with a background of that sort.

Surely Jimmy must be mistaken. Everything about Stan Fayson seemed to assure her that he was a gentleman in the fullest sense of the word. Oh, why should he suggest such things, even hint at them, when this dark-eyed, debonair young thing seemed to grow blurred. Maris had fallen asleep.

Next morning when Maris reached the office, she hurried at once to her desk, read the announcement Stan had given her, and finding nothing in it which she could improve upon, she decided to put it on his desk at once. But as she started down the corridor, old Mr. Fayson's door opened, and Stan almost collided with her.

Handing the paper to him, she said, "There isn't a thing to be changed as far as I see."

"That's fine," he answered quickly. "Thanks very much." But as he turned to speak, Maris felt his eyes look questioningly into hers, and her cheeks grew rosy. Something told her he was aware of her for the first time.

With a smile on her lips, she hurried back to her desk to meet the wide-eyed gaze of Milly.

Haney—

Harvey of Garden City. Mr. Dick Watson returned to Littlefield Monday night, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Watson, Wednesday.

Deceased was born and reared in Illinois, and had lived in Texas for the past sixty years. He lived on and worked a farm near Gainesville for fifty years, and until he moved to Littlefield in January last. He had since made his home with his daughter and Son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Watson.

Mr. Haney was survived by five daughters and three sons; Mrs. Watson of Littlefield; Mrs. Joe Tolbert of Thackerville, Okla., Mrs. Grace Bryant and Mrs. Jennie Haney of Daugherty, Okla., Mrs. Agnes McCutcheon of Los Angeles, Cal., and I. C. and Leonard Haney of Gainesville, and Orval Haney of Black Butte, Ore.

Robberies—

from the cash register and five pair of cowboots stolen.

Between $40.00 and $50.00 worth of cigarettes and about $8.70 cash was taken from the Walters Drug Store Sunday night when thieves pried open the front door of their establishment.

The fourth local establishment to be broken into was the Consumers Supply association, where hijackers got away with 52 gallons of gas and 20 quarts of oil.

Entrance was gained by breaking open the front door.

Roy Blessing, manager of the Station, also found the cash register open, but said there was no money left in it Saturday night.

No trace of the guilty parties has yet been found.

Swindle Case—

have been stolen from the Union Compress & Warehouse Company of this city in March, 1935.

Tiptons are farmers and Newton is a merchant. The Tipton brothers are said to work at ginning during the cotton season.

About three weeks ago M. T. Gonzallas, head of the bureau of intelligence, department of public safety assigned A. L. Barr, criminal investigator of the bureau, to work on the crime. He was assisted by Sheriff Jim Cook and Deputy Sheriff W. E. Renfro of Bailey county, Sheriff F. A. Loyd and Deputy Sheriff Sam Hutson of Lamb County, and Fent Stallings, Santa Fe railroad special officer, of Slaton and other officers. Barr signed the complaints against the men.

The Union Compress & Warehouse company was burglarized on March 28, 1935, and 327 blank receipts in series 38,000 were stolen.

It is stated that instead of leaving the series numbers on the receipts the perpetrators erased those numbers, replacing figures representing bales of cotton actually held in the warehouse in November, 1935. Name of E. O. Melver, warehouse manager, was forged. Bankhead cotton certificates also were forged and attached to receipts, each of which supposedly represented a bale of cotton in the warehouse.
