NUMBER 28

Lamb Cotton Allotment Set

Acreege In County Cut 3,330

Lamb County cotton farmers have survived the acreage cutting pencils of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation officials with the smallest cut of 16 counties in ASC District 2.

The county lost 3,330.4 acres of cotton for 1960 or 1.81 percent off the 1959 acreage. The new acreage will be 180,738.7 as compared to 184,069.1 in 1959.

The allotment was announced Tuesday by ASC Office Manager L. D. Aten.

Individual farmers' allotments were mailed Tuesday by the Lamb County ASC office, according to Aten.

The cut for Lamb County was determined by history of acreage planted in the county for the five years beginning in 1954 through 1959. Since the history is determined by dropping a year to figure next year's acreage, the last unaltered year, 1953, was dropped from the average.

Farmers will vote Dec. 15 whether marketing quotas and the two choice 'A' and 'B' plans will remain in effect. If the marketing quotas do not carry, farmers will have no choice between 'A' and 'B' plans. Allotments will be in effect regardless of the referendum's results.

However the price support would be only 50 percent of parity.

Under plan 'B', a farmer can plant 40 percent more acres than he could under his regular 'A' allotment.

About 18,000 acres more than the 184,069.1 were planted in Lamb County this year under the 'B' choice.

Next year could see more farmers choosing the 'B' plan, since the ones who tried it this year fared well price wise. 'B' cotton generally sold about 71 percent of parity, compared with the 80 percent of parity for 'A' cotton.

The 1960 allotment is the lowest for Lamb County, as well as the other counties of the district, since 1954, when allotments were reinstated. However, other counties of the 16 in the district received as much as a four percent cut in the history determined base.

The cut was generally expected.

The 16 counties and their allotments are as follows:

COUNTY	1959	1960
Bailey	97,564.8	93,886.1

Olton Negro Is Killed In Shooting

A 44-year-old Olton Negro cafe operator is in jail here under $2,500 bond on a charge of murder with malice after the fatal shooting of another Olton Negro in the Negro section of Olton Saturday about midnight.

Charged in the slaying is Leonard Lockett. Dead on arrival at a Plainview Hospital about 1:50 a.m. Sunday was James Oliver Mack, 20, a cotton gin worker.

County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson said Lockett signed a statement in which he said he shot Mack after an argument.

Lockett said Mack had been in his cafe Saturday night with several others and he told Mack and the others to leave.

Mack came back about 20 minutes later, according to Lockett, and went into the cafe. Mack according to the statement, went to the kitchen, then started back to the front of the cafe.

Lockett said he fired once, and Mack ran out the back door. Lockett then had neighbors call Deputy V. L. Smith, according to officers.

Funeral services for Mack, who is survived by his parents and eight brothers and sisters, were conducted Wednesday in Hearne, Texas.

Hello, Santa Claus

Druann Wilkinson, who'll be 5 Dec. 30, did like a lot of other Littlefield youngsters Sunday afternoon. She called Santa Claus.

Oh, I Want A Doll

Druann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wilkinson, 417 Sunset Ave., told Santa she wanted a doll and reminded him of her little sister.

And Lori Does, Too

Little sister Lori, who'll be 2 Dec. 30, wants a doll, too, Druann said. She added that she and her sister had been good little girls.

I'll Sure Bring 'Em

Santa said he put their wishes down on his list and he'd be by on Christmas Eve to visit the Wilkinsons and many more local families.

Candidates Announce

Wheels Start Turning For '60 Election Year

First announcements of candidates for Lamb County and the 154th Judicial District are being made as the wheels start turning for the general election in 1960.

"Hot as election day in July" will no longer be a clue to remember when the party primaries are held, since the state voted in 1958 to move the primary elections up to May 7.

Citizens of age have been getting ready for the election year by paying for their right to vote. Lamb County Tax Assessor Collier says, "The state has issued 1236 receipts for poll taxes."

A new twist to the poll tax paying this year is a blank at the top of the receipt for registering. The office is held now by Curtis Wilkinson, who has no announced plans publicly.

Commissioners for three precincts will be chosen in the 1960 elections. Precinct 1, surrounding Olton, and Precinct 3, surrounding Littlefield, will have regular elections for commissioner. A special commissioner election is slated for Precinct 2, surrounding Earth.

Precinct 2 voters will elect a commissioner to a two-year term. The late Clyde Goodwin had held the post until his death in October. His widow was appointed to the office until the next general election, which will be next year.

No announcements by present commissioners have been made publicly, and others, if any, who may seek the offices have yet to identify themselves.

INSIDE THE LEADER

Inside today's Leader, you'll find Bill Womack's third story from Africa, describing his hunt for an elephant. The story is on page 6, section 1.

For the children, "Santa and the Ice King" continues with chapters 3 and 4. It's on page 1, section 2. Also on that page are several "Letters to Santa."

How does it feel to wear contact lenses? Turn to page 3 of this section and get Susan Nall's answer.

Election judges will fill out the party blank when they vote a ballot in a primary.

On the county and district level three officials have publicly announced intentions of seeking another term.

Announcing candidacy subject to the Democratic Primary are Dick Dyer, Herbert Dunn and Bill Sheehan of Friona. Dyer is seeking another term as sheriff. Dunn re-election to the office of tax assessor - collector and Sheehan is seeking re-election to the district attorney's post.

Charges of assault with intent to murder were filed against Noe Garcia, 27, and Eugenio Garcia, 29. The third, Carlos Garcia, about 20, was charged with accessory to the assault and aiding the escape of his brothers.

Littlefield's Wildcats, co-champions of District 1-AAA in 1959, dominated a 26-man all-district squad picked by the league's coaches in a meeting at Hereford Wednesday.

Coch Williams, reporting the selections Wednesday afternoon, said the league's coaches made no attempt to name a first or second team. All the boys were given equal spots on the 26-man squad, he said.

Of the 26 gridders, 16 are seniors, 8 are juniors and two are sophomores. Here is the team:

Hearing Set On Lamb Weed Vote

Lamb County Commissioners Court Monday received a petition requesting an election for a "Noxious Weed Control District."

The petition was signed by 112 qualified Lamb County residents.

In accordance with state laws, a hearing on the election was set by the court. The date of the hearing is January 11, at 2 p.m.

Pros and cons of establishing the district may be presented at the hearing. Results of the hearing will determine whether the election is called. Boundaries of the district also will be decided at the hearing.

A cashier's check for $500 was presented to County Clerk Charles Jones as provided in the law, which requires petitioners to deposit the money to defray election costs if it should be defeated.

The petition was presented to have the district composed of all of Lamb County. In case the Commissioners Court finds that some land within the county would not be benefited by the weed control district, new boundaries will be determined at the hearing.

Should the district be enacted, a five man board of directors will designate the plants to be called noxious in the district.

A 27-year-old Littlefield area woman and two daughters, ages 5 and 1, were injured Tuesday about 2:20 p.m. in a car-pickup accident at a dirt road intersection 2 1/2 miles east of Amherst.

Mrs. Ivan Ogerly and daughter Susan, 1, were hospitalized at Littlefield Hospital. The other daughter, Deann, received treatment for bruises, but was not hospitalized.

Attendants at the hospital reported that Susan received a skull fracture in the accident. Mrs. Ogerly received a cut on the right side of her head and bruises. They were reported as doing well Wednesday.

I get a very uncomfortable feeling every time I meet or pass one of these farmers with his pickup pulling a trailer load of cotton. Looks like he's packed about 10 bales into a 4 bale trailer, then piled on another bale rounded on top... and I have a feeling that the entire trailer is going to burst like a balloon just as I pass by.

In driving from Plainview to Littlefield Monday morning I noticed that the highway is bordered on each side with about 6 inches of cotton. Figure there are around 10 bales along the highway over the 54 miles. Need to get the wife and kids out there to pick that up and get it ginned before Christmas.

The cotton harvest will suddenly be over in a week or two. Gingers who have been operating around the clock will look up one morning and there'll be no trailers to unload. I hope we've reached that 170,000 bales or more when that time arrives.

ed, well-documented, warnings from research laboratories in place after place that report an undeniable link between heavy cigarette smoking and lung cancer. Yet the public goes puffing away, apparently oblivious to the threat to their health brought on by the defiling, senseless habit.

At least three well-respected scientists have warned on the contamination of the upper atmosphere brought about by nuclear bomb testing. 'Strontium 90' as the radioactive dust is classified, is capable of causing fearful mutations if the body receives an overdose, and the level of human tolerance may well have already been surpassed in many areas.

James Johnsons Are Honored At Fieldton

FIELDTON — Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bush hosted a party Friday night at their home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, who are moving to their farm near Otton.

Junior High Honor Roll's Announced

Littlefield Junior High School honor roll for the second six weeks period, as announced by Principal Forrest Martin this week includes:

7th GRADE — Pat Abeyta, Ricky Miller, Dwight Faver, Keith Kiser, Ronald Sitton, Christi Pressley, Fay Ivie, Connie Keeling, Bob Ross, Betty Taylor, Charlene Wathal, Burr Heatham, Jackie Hefington, Jo Ann James, Emma Belle Ricks, Jonell Tatum, and Randy Smith.

8th GRADE — Molly Abeyta, Richard Funk, Janelle Jensen, Vivian Lowery, Laura Newberry, Brenda Perkins, Bonnie Richey, Linda Hodge, Judy Jackson, Diane Phillips, Linda Gray and Donice Reast.

"I have peripheral vision with my contact lenses that I never had with my glasses," she said. Peripheral vision is the ability to see to the side without turning the head.

"Contact lenses have been perfected for six years now and they have never had to make a prescription stronger," she said. "If you get a perfect fit, you never have to have them changed," said Susan. "I have 20-20 vision with my contact lenses."

"I go every six months for a check up," she said. "At first I went every week, then every two weeks and so on until now I go only every six months."

"When I go for a check up they put a fluorescein dye in my eyes and look into them with a black light that shows if my lenses are floating just right and if there's the slightest scratch it shows up," she said.

"They are easy to put in and take out," she said. "I have a little case that I keep them in at night," said Susan. "There's an 'L' on the one for the left lens and 'R' on the one for the right lens."

Asked if she had ever lost the lenses, Susan answered, "When I drop one we all take off our shoes and go tip toeing around until we find it."

"Yes, I thought I had lost one one time," she said. "We looked through the trash and the clothes hamper, every place we could think of and finally Daddy looked in the drain at the kitchen sink and there it was."

"It was sure luck that we had not run any water through," she said.

LIKE A MOUNTAIN NAMED FOR YOU?

Not one of these, certainly! They're here today, gone tomorrow. We'd gladly lend our names to a timeless peak like Everest — not to a heap of shifting sands rolling before the desert wind.

Of course, we have to identify ourselves with many a transitory idea and institution. We are busy most of our days just trying to keep up with this ever-changing world . . .

But our deeper self gropes for the Eternal!

God understands this yearning. He breathed it into our souls.

And God answers it: In Christ! In Scripture! In the voice of a neighbor inviting you and your family to Church.

A voice crying in the wilderness . . . across the shifting sands . . . of the TRUTH and LIFE that are ETERNAL.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

that the next war... if there is one... will be super-sonic. If U. S. airmen are to fight super-sonically they must train super-sonically. When they fly super-sonically, they create sonic booms. Thus, sonic booms are part of the "sound of security."

They learned that sonic booms are not felt as strongly if the plane is flying in extremely high altitudes. SAC representatives assured the Littlefield men that sonic booms would not cause damage to structures on the ground. They admitted that occasionally window panes could be broken if the super-sonic plane is flying at low altitudes.

The B-38 usually flies super-sonically around 30,000 feet... and when it drops down to below 20,000 feet and is flying super-sonically it uses special air corridors over the Gulf of Mexico.

According to Horne, the most impressive part of the entire tour was a visit to the Strategic Air Command Control Center in Omaha, Nbr.

The Strategic Air Command's global force is controlled from the headquarters building at Offutt Air Force Base, in Omaha. A feature of the headquarters building is the 3-level underground

Santa and the ICE KING

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

STORM AT SEA

WITH Keotuk at his heels, Oonik ran home. He found his sled frozen to the side of the igloo. With his snow knife he cut it free. The sled was made of bone and pieces of driftwood, with reindeer antlers as a handle. It was small but sturdy.

He harnessed Keotuk and tied his snow saw and seal spear on to the sled. Then he returned to the wise man's igloo where all the Eskimos of the village were gathered.

"Father," said Oonik, touching his father's arm. "Is it true that on the far side of the Arctic Sea is Santa Land?"

His father nodded. "So I have always heard."

"Then," said Oonik, "I am going there."

"What are you saying?" cried his father in astonishment.

"Santa Claus is very powerful," said Oonik. "He knows when I have been good and when I have been bad. He knows what to bring me for Christmas. He always comes every Xmas Eve no matter how stormy the weather."

"So?" said his father.

"So," said Oonik, "if Santa can do all these things he can surely cure the Ice King of his rage. I will go and ask his help."

"Son," said the father, "you could never get to Santa Land. It is too far and the storms come too fast and too often. You would die."

"If I stay here we all will die," replied Oonik. "Please, father. My sled is fast and Keotuk is the best dog in the village."

MISKI, the wise man, put his hand on Oonik's shoulder. "You are brave and wise," he murmured. He turned to the father. "Let him go," he said. "It is our only chance."

threw himself back and dug in his heels but he could not stop sliding.

Just as he was about to zoom into the water there was a terrible screech and the ice slab suddenly reversed itself like a see saw and Oonik began rocking back in the other direction.

With a whoosh he shot off the far end and landed head first in a snow drift. There he rolled himself up into a tight little ball and lay trembling with teeth chattering and hands over his ears.

But even the Ice King seemed to have had enough. The wind died down and the ice no longer groaned and creaked.

Oonik crawled out of the snow-drift. Blinking, he stared at the world. It was peaceful and quiet. Great piles of ice blocks lay about like forgotten toys. Where there had been open water there was now a solid ridge of ice.

There was no sign of Keotuk or the sled.

"Keotuk!" called Oonik. "Keotuk, come!"

He ran from ridge to ridge, calling and clapping his hands. Suddenly he saw a snowdrift rise up from the ice. The drift heaved and shook itself and there was Keotuk stepping sleepily out. Covered by the drift he had been safe and warm as the storm died out.

"Oh, Keotuk!" cried Oonik embracing the dog. "I knew you would be all right! But where is the sled?"

Alas, it was gone. Together with Oonik's spear and the remainder of his food, the sled was buried beneath the ice or, perhaps at the bottom of the sea.

DOWN, down Oonik plunged toward the black water.

seemed they were almost there. Keotuk suddenly lay down.

"Come on," begged Oonik. "We can't rest now. We'll freeze or starve if we don't get there soon."

But Keotuk only whimpered softly. Oonik knelt down and rubbed his hands through Keotuk's fur. "What is it?" he murmured gently.

Keotuk whimpered again and held up one of his front paws. Oonik gasped with dismay. The paw was cut and torn by ice splinters.

Oonik picked out the splinters. "Oh, Keotuk, if only you had shoes!" he moaned. Then he had an idea. "I will make you some shoes!"

WITH his knife he cut four strips of seal skin from his own coat. He wrapped the pieces of skin around Keotuk's paws and tied them with lacing from his own hood.

"There," he said. "Ice splinters can't hurt you now."

Keotuk rose uncertainly to his feet. At first he limped but the soft skin shoes actually made his bruised paw feel better and after a while he was able to walk quite well.

On they trudged until at last

OONIK crawled out and saw ice blocks piled like toys.

they came to the shore and Oonik saw smoke curling up from behind the hills.

Everything will be all right now.

Oonik starting to run. "For that is surely smoke from Santa's very own chimney!"

charge that the gas company is trying to put an unfair share of the costs on householders rather than on the big industrial consumers.

LAW CLARIFIED - In a series of opinions, mostly concerned with new laws passed this year, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled: 1. That parts bought for repair of air conditioners are not subject to the new 3 per cent sales tax on air conditioners.

2. That the law creating a Texas Coordinating Commission for Health and Welfare Services is unconstitutional. Com. would have been made up of persons from both the legislative and executive branches of government, thus violating the "separation of powers" principle of the constitution.

3. That members of the State Board of Insurance can be paid their regular $50 per day fee for work on Saturdays.

4. That a juvenile offender arrested during the night can be held in jail until taken before the judge the next morning.

5. That county funds can be used to pay all or part of the hospitalization insurance premiums for county officials and employees.

6. That a veteran who refuses to execute a contract under the veterans land program after purchase has been approved forfeits his 5 per cent down payment and portions of the closing fees.

RECORD SALES SEEN - Totals thus far indicate Texas should hit an all-time high in retail sales in 1959, says the Bureau of Business Research.

BBR's estimate of total 1959 sales, based on the good showing of the first 10 months, is $13,658,000,000. This would be 8 per cent better than last year.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

Sometimes we women get our hands out of the sink and our heads out of the deep freeze long enough to try to catch up on world affairs. We read a disturbing article about some major crisis - then with true feminine unpredictability came up with an idea.

Just what we read about the alarming rise in world population. This is really disturbing news. It's the world about 200 years to get the first billion population. But it took only 10 years to double that. Now we'll begin doubling the existing billions every 40 years.

and while we won't be around to worry about it, in just 733 years more, human beings will be packed so tightly, the magazine says, that each one will have a quota of only about one square foot in which to live.

For those of us in the great open spaces - and golfers - this seems incredible! But even if it could happen, it wouldn't be so hard on the 'haves'. Their living space would double from two, or even three, square feet. But what about the luckless fellows who don't even shoot par?

We are happy that the mortality rate among infants has been greatly reduced. We are delighted that old people are living longer. We wish we could have all these benefits and not get so darned crowded.

But do you know what really do who have trouble remembering names?

Sandhills Philosopher

He'd Accept Foreign Aid Just To Get Used To Idea

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may be ahead of the times this week, which is a switch from normally being behind the times.

One of my favorite schemes to restore self-confidence in the world has been a plan to send American diplomats abroad to try to get some foreign aid for the United States.

This wouldn't result in any foreign aid for us, but it might give the idea to all the countries who are helping that eventually they will start digging themselves out of their holes.

It doesn't hurt to get roared on your heels once in a while. If we do try such a plan, I hope the foreign countries sending aid to me will be far-sighted enough to use the latest plan we've adopted for them.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night which I brought home from town to put under my mattress to keep out the cold, the United States has revised its foreign loan plan and is now requiring any country that borrows money from us to spend it in this country. This makes a lot of sense and if any foreign country wants to lend me money, I will guarantee to spend it over there, if it'll accept money orders.

But the second wrinkle in the loan plan is what interests me. Washington has announced that in the case of Afghanistan, the money will be in the form of direct aid instead of a loan "because the economy is in bad shape."

I wish to announce to all foreign countries interested in helping me that I can meet the new requirement satisfactorily. My economy is in bad shape too. "Fact you might call this form here one of the underdeveloped spots of the earth and badly in need of foreign aid."

Understand, I don't begrudge all the help we've given other countries, but times change, the man who was on top last year may be on the bottom next year, and I don't want to do any harm to look to the future.

We've got to cushion the shock in case the United States ever asks for foreign aid, and I'll be glad to pioneer in this and accept some, just to get the rest of the country used to the idea.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

The evening program will start at 8:30 with a "get acquainted" reception, followed by a dinner at 7:30 p.m. Films of the University, including the homecoming will be a feature of the event.

The Hale County "Aggies" have sent invitations to former students and alumni living in the High Plains, including Bitter, Amarillo, Muleshoe, Floydada, Littlefield, Lubbock and in between.

A former students association to the high plains area will be organized during the evening. The nearest existing chapter is located in the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle area with headquarters in Perryton. OSU was formerly designated O.S.A. A & M.

SWC To Go A-Bowlin' Again With 3 Teams

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference again will have three teams in major bowls. It is to be hoped that the boys make a better showing than they did the other time this occurred — in 1958.

There were jibes aplenty, mostly from the East, when three conference teams were beaten in bowl games in December of 1957 and Jan. 1, 1958. Texas A&M lost to Tennessee 3-0 in the Gator Bowl. Rice was whipped 20-7 by Navy in the Cotton Bowl. Texas was walloped 33-7 by Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl.

It was a black period. Conference officials had rather talk about the cross-country meet or the basketball, race, or anything except the bowl situation that year.

Well, Texas Christian will play Clemson Dec. 19 in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston. Jan. 1 Texas will meet Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl. Arkansas will meet Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl.

The Southwest Conference is making up its worst season so far by having the officials concerned.

It seems there has been peace and good will with the referees, umpires, et al, than any time in the past.

Some of it came when the coaches looked over films of the games. This is a growing menace to the peace of mind of collegiate athletic officials. When they have to have every game replayed on Monday it's bound to cause trouble.

Obviously men can not compete with the camera in officiating football games. The camera never makes a mistake. But it isn't available to decide questions while the game is in progress.

It isn't practical and it would slow down football to much if a camera had to be consulted every time a ruling was made.

It seems here that there should be a rule against using pictures to argue about football games. At least so far as the coaches were concerned.

No one in all fairness should think an official was crooked but certainly they should be granted the right to make honest mistakes. It is doubtful that the officials make as many errors in judgment as the coaches and players.

That's what Dusty Boggess once said a coach who can't stand to see his officiating. The coach said "You called a lousy game."

"Well," said Boggess, "I didn't call as lousy a game as your team played."

The coach agreed with him after a little thought.

BARONS STAY CLOSE
The Barons of the American Hockey League have finished second in the league for the past three seasons.

In 1957, they missed by a game and a half; in 1958 by two games; and last year by a game and a half. Different teams — Providence, Hershey and Buffalo — won the each year.
