HEARING SEPT. 14

County Cuts '65 Budget

Plans for trimming nearly $9,000 from Lamb County's expenditure needs in 1965 are contained in the proposed budget submitted at the Monday session of the county commissioners court.

In addition to hearing budget needs for the 1965 budget, the commissioners set Monday.

Sept. 14 as date for a public airing of the budget, starting at 2 p.m. in the courthouse.

Very little change is proposed in the new budget which calls for total expenditures of $738,972.40 as compared to this year's budgeted expenses of $747,857.95. The proposed total is $8,885.55 below this year's budget and only about $2,600 above the 1963 budget.

The county's assessed valuation has been estimated at $27,521,601, which is practically identical to the one listed for the 1964 budget. The total assessed valuation in Lamb County is based on approximately 25 percent of the true or market value of property assessed.

Continuation of the 95-cent tax levy per $100 valuation is proposed in the new budget. This is the same tax rate that has been in effect for the past six years.

Budgeted expenditures by the various funds as proposed for the budget are as follows:

Jury Fund, $4,800 (unchanged); Road & Bridge Fund, $303,200 (unchanged); General Fund, $116,200 (decrease of $1,000); Officers Salary Fund, $162,558.92 (unchanged); Interest & Sinking Fund, $152,108.90 (decrease of $3,193.53); and Permanent Improvement Fund, $104,58 (decrease of $4,692).

The total net outstanding bond and time warrant debt of Lamb County on Jan. 1, 1964 was $746,000. It is estimated that on Jan. 1, 1965, the bond indebtedness will be reduced to $617,000 and that during the 1965 budget year a total of $30,000 will be paid on principal and $16,212.50 will be paid on interest.

In other activity at the Monday session, the commissioners accepted the bid from West Texas Equipment Co. of Lubbock on the purchase of one new motor grader and one used motor grader for Pct. One, Olton. The total bid, with a trade-in, amounted to $27,575.

Cotton Growers Told Anti-Boll Weevil Plans

The annual cost of controlling boll weevils in the two million acres of cotton on the High Plains, together with production quality losses, would come to a minimum of $50-million, or $25 per acre, if the weevils are not controlled down on a per acre basis at $25 per acre.

The addition of $25 to the average farmer's production cost this area would be, literally, more than he could bear. It is surprising that the 25,000 members of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., are subscribing so liberally to the idea of spending possibly $4 million a year for a three-year period to insure that such a thing does not happen. Therefore, the return from this "insurance program" per dollar invested, could be set at 10, 20, 30 or to one, depending on how many years you wish to look into the future.

The remarks made above were taken from John R. Pugh's recent article in the Cotton Trade Journal, about the serious threat that is beginning to be felt at the fringes of the Caprock. Pugh, who is chairman of the boll weevil finance committee of the PCG, has termed the proposed plan of insect control the least expensive "insurance" now available to the High Plains cotton growers.

This plan, which calls for the assessment of 50 cents per bale taken to the compress, is being carried out with the support of everyone involved, the state, the national government, who matches the fund equally, and local farmers, townsmen, and bankers.

As an example of support that is being given the PCG has recently received a $500,000 loan from the Plains National Bank for the initial phase of the program, scheduled to get underway this fall.

The following report from George Pfeifferberger, executive vice-president of the PCG gives an insight to the effectiveness of this program that will mean dollars in the pockets of the area farmers:

"The results of the tests both in the Valley and on the Plains have been studied by a list of entomologists that is impressive by any standards, and all have concurred that malathion in technical form is the most economical, the most effective, and the safest material that can be used in our fall disperse control program. This list includes Russell; Dr. Perry L. Adkisson, Department of Entomology, Texas A & M; Dr. Brazzel, Head of the Department of Entomology at Mississippi State College; Dr. Sloan Jones, Head of the USDA's Plant Pest Control Division; Dr. Johnny Johnston, Entomologist for the National Cotton Council; Dr. J. C. Gaines, Head of Texas A & M's Entomology Department; D. M. McEachern, State Supervisor of Plant Pest Control, and others."

"Our Boll Weevil Steering Committee is made up of farmers, not entomologists, and the best that this committee can do therefore, is to accept the unanimous recommendation of these entomologists."

"The application rate scheduled for the beginning of the program is 12 fluid ounces per acre, but the USDA and Texas A & M will have an entomologist on hand to check the effectiveness of the first spraying so that if any changes in rates are necessary they can be made immediately. So you can see that within 24 hours after the first field is sprayed we will know what kind of job is being done."

"The cost of malathion when used in technical form is approximately the same as other recommended insecticides, and the huge savings that accrue to malathion result from the way it can be applied. First a spray plane applying only 12 ounces of material per acre can remain aloft and continue spraying until it runs out of fuel (or almost out), eliminating the necessity for landing to reload after only a few minutes of actual spraying time as is required when three to four gallons of diluted material is being used."

"Secondly, this material in technical form can be applied successfully from an altitude of from 15 to 25 feet above the cotton, covering a 100 foot swath at a pass. This compares with the conventional method of flying the chemical or in 35 to 40 foot (See COTTON, Page 11)

Littlefield Graduates Spend Summer on Colorado Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dickson, both 1960 graduates of Littlefield High School, spent their summer vacation in an unusual and interesting way. They, along with about 40 other college students, were staff members at the C Lazy U Guest Ranch near Granby, Colo.

Mrs. Dickson is the former Linda Steffey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willey Steffey, who live east of Littlefield. Keith's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A.O. (Preacher) Dickson of Amberst.

Both Linda and Keith enjoy outdoor activities, especially horseback riding. When some mutual friends told them of their experience of spending a summer working on a guest ranch, the idea appealed to the Dick-sons. They went to Granby during their Easter holiday to apply as staff members. They were accepted and spent 3 months on the ranch this summer.

The staff included about 45 students from various colleges throughout the United States and some from Sweden, Norway and France. Guests also come from all parts of the country as well as many foreign countries. One thing Keith and Linda enjoyed about their stay was the opportunity to meet and make friends with people.

The Sports Illustrated Magazine had a feature story on "Year of the Campus Cowboy," relating to the western look in clothing in the August issue.

Reporters and photographers from this magazine spent several days at the ranch taking pictures of the different events including sunset cookouts, square dances and other ranch activities. Both Keith and Linda were among the 10 staff members chosen as models for this story. The couple enjoyed posing for the pictures even though it meant getting up at 5 a.m. several mornings.

Mrs. Dickson began her duties as third grade teacher at Tulsa Monday. She received a B.S. degree in education from West Texas State University in May. Keith is a candidate for a B.D. degree in agriculture in January.

A tribute to Sharron, written by Opal Bogard, was read by Sandra Angel. Wanda Hubbard read a reply of thanks written by the honoree.

Thirty-four guests were registered by Mrs. Ruby Reid.

Mrs. Sandra Angel served punch, coffee and open-face sandwiches to the guests.

This Week's Market Basket

Shoppers should find this consumer information helpful as they make purchases in their favorite retail markets the next week, says Mrs. Owen Christ, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

At retail meat counters, look for best beef values in ground beef, arm and blade pot roasts, rib steaks and roasts and ground steaks.

Pork values should include smoked picnic, boneless cooked ham and spareribs. Fryers continue to be high in quality and low in price. Grade A large eggs offer the most quality for one's money.

Fresh fruit and vegetables items in greatest supply the most pleasing prices include bananas, lemons, cantaloupes, plums, watermelons, squash, head lettuce, eggplant, cabbage, key yellow onions, sweet corn, cucumbers, green beans, southern peas, green onions and beans. ## Masonic Lecturer To Speak Thursday

The Rev. R.N. Huckabee of Bock, chaplain for the Grand Lodge of Texas, will be guest speaker at the Thursday meeting of the Littlefield Masonic Lodge. The meeting will be in the Masonic Hall, starting at 8 p.m.

Rev. Huckabee, widely known throughout Texas, resigned as associate pastor on the staff of Lubbock First Methodist Church earlier this month after more than 50 years as a Methodist pastor to work as a Masonic lecturer.

In a recent speech at a gathering of Scottish Rite Masons in Kermit, he said: "There is a sacred place for Masons in modern life. Our ancient religion has the answer if we apply Masonic teachings to our present-day problems. The people who are producing terror and looting on our American streets have not been taught good citizenship. Those who make our streets unsafe for our womenfolk know little about the way of life as taught in the Bible. We have neglected the religious training of our children. We are reaping a harvest of riot and moral anarchy."

Rev. Huckabee was made a Master Mason in Caddo Mills in 1912. His ministry dates back to 1907 when he licensed to preach at Georgetown. Long before he made plans to devote full time to his work as a lecturer, he was giving Masonic lectures to lodges in many towns.

THE WILD WEST

Time for That Renewed Freshness

By BERT C. WEST

The start of another Texas schoolboy football season is like an annual alarm-clock that rings in a renewed feeling of brisk, tingling and exciting freshness.

From Sept. 7th we will be starting our 24th year in the newspaper profession. During the past 17 years we have been fortunate enough to have the privilege of reporting on a variety of sports such as horse racing, the 500-Mile Race, pro basketball, Kentucky Derby, pro hockey, ice-hockey, wrestling, pro baseball, college football, golf and all phases of high school sports. None can compare with the overall enthusiasm and excitement generated by Texas high school football and its accompanying ingredients of band music, writers, cheerleaders, pep squads, ulcer-stricken coaches and frantic fans.

We have many cherished memories of Texas prep football, with 1960 and 1961 two of our favorite years. In 1960 our "Home" Fort Lavaca team, with no individual star but 24 team-work boys, boomed all the way to the State Class AAA finals before running into a Brownwood team that contained the "Three E's" — quarterback Ben Ellidge, halfback Max Ewing and end and by the name of Lawrence Elikins.

In 1961 we reported on games which at the time involved the No. 1 rated teams in all four classifications, Wichita Falls of Four-A, Brownwood and Dallas of Triple-A, Jacksonville of Double-A and Albany of One-A.

Two of the most exciting games were the scoreless tie fought by San Benito and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo in 1961 and again in 1963. One of the greatest aerial shows was that by Brownwood's Terry Southall in 1961 when he completed his first 17 passes in one game, many of them on the fantastic side. And Southall wasn't even the regular quarterback, but was filling in for the injured starter.

One thing is certain, a high school game is over until the final whistle. We have seen a team lead by 34 points and have the ball with two minutes to go, yet lose the game, 34-14. Another team once led by 20 going into the final quarter and got whipped, 21-20.

Thus, it is with another feeling of renewed freshness we await the whistle and opening kick of the 1964 campaign.

POOR SHOW ... What could have been one of the best TV sports days of the year for CBS last Sunday developed into one of the best flops.

The CBS Game of the Week had a double setting, with one DDT and two Wee stationed in St. Louis for the Dodger-Card game but cameras were also focused on the crucial American League game between the Orioles and White Sox. Both games were lundingers, but right at the critical late-inning point with St. Louis leading by 2-1 and the White Sox by a 1-0 count, the baseball portion had to go off the air for the golf tourney in Michigan.

The golf match, with a sixzing stretch duel between Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and former Texas Aggie Bobby Nichols, was a top drawer affair but was one of the poorest-announced deals we have witnessed on TV. It too, went off the air, just when champion Nichols started to make his "thank you" speech.

RIDING WITH STEERS ... It's time for our annual limbo-climbing on the Southwest Conference scramble. We haven't had a winner since the Jim Swank days at TCU, so this time we'll put the whammy on Texas. For the record, our order of finish goes: Texas Tech, Texas A&M, Texas Tech, Baylor, TCU, Arkansas, and Southern Methodist.

For outstanding "trookie of the year" honors, watch out for our old San Benito Greyhound flash, sophomore back Jim "Big" Helms of Texas. In all sincerity, we rate Helms as the most sensational all-around schoolboy footballer we have ever witnessed and we have seen Warren McVea and Linus Baer.

CRYSTAL BALL ... Time to dust off the old crystal ball for the new high school football campaign. For the record, in the past six years of our pigskin guessing at Fort Lavaca and San Benito, we have posted a 79% percentage with 5,395 winners, 529 defeats and 304 ties in 4,118 tries. Last year's percentage was .799.

Our opening effort on '64 will go with Morton over Olin, Idaho over Springlake, Sudan to crack Plains. Winners to chill Lakeview, Denver City over Seminole, Petersburg whipping Slaton, Rockwall beating Grapevine, Albany over Olney, Phillips topping Colorado City, Ballinger bouncing Brady Brownwood chopping Stephenville.

Hull-Daisetta over Hardin-Jefferson, Stamford over Quannah, Jacksonville over Bojwell, Muskegon kicking Klammatt, Aberrantly topping Friendship, Seagraves sinking Jim Ned, Lockney beating Hale Center, Friona frying Farwell, Post drilling Floydada, Hondo over Del Rio, Pine Tree chopping Dainberger, Seesay over West Columbia, Clear Creek rimping Bellville, Lockhart sacking Luling, Donna blasting Ed county-Elsa, Brenham over LaGrange.

And LaFeria over Rio Hondo, Lajoy popping Port Isabel, Los Fresnos crashing Santa Rosa, Lyford dropping San Isidro.

GOALS 'N' ENDS ... A double-header scrimmage is booked at Tullis this Saturday. Levelland and Borger will test one another, starting about 3 p.m., followed by Plainview and Tullis at about 5 p.m. ... Spirits of the Levelland Lobos have been slightly damaged with the report that Henry Willis, newly acquired Negro rookie fullback, may miss the early part of the season due to a leg injury. Lobo Coach Johnnie Hickman has called Willis "a natural athlete" ... The Levelland Sun-News calculates the District 3-AAA title chase will end something like this: Snyder, Lamesa, Brownfield or Sweetwater, Levelland, San Angelo Lakeview and then Littlefield. Might be something for the Wildcats to remember when the Lobos come to town on Nov. 6.

FOURSOME TROUBLE — Guards Steve Lowe and David Dasek power the way for ball carriers Larry Coffman and Ronald Sinton in this practice drill for the Littlefield Wildcats. The 'Cats are completing their third weeks of rehearsals and will begin tuning up for their seasonal opener at Borger a week from tomorrow. Lowe, Dasek, Coffman and Sinton are among the dozen lettermen available for 1964 campaign duty. (Leader Staff Photo.)

backfield, quarterbacks Rickie Reep and Larry Crews; fullbacks Danny Lambeth and Bob Conkin and halfbacks Nicky Biffle and Willie Bell. Lambeth, 194-pound sophomore, is the heaviest of the backs.

The eight lettermen available for line duty are paced by 250 pound junior tackle Eddie Hendon and 225-pound Mike Soeaf, another junior tackle. Other experienced linemen are ends Kirk Williams, Mike Couch, and Paul Swanson; guard Roger Mitchell and centers Drue Dunaway and Ronnie Glass.

"Weight is our strength, while lack of overall team speed is apt to be a weak point," Aldridge commented.

In a look at the district race, Aldridge figures defending champion Amherst is the team to beat, with Whiteface and Sundown also formidable foes. Whiteface has a bunch of young guns, with several boys over 200 and Sundown, a former power in Class A, is dropping down to Class B and is reported to have top power in backs Jimmie Morgan and Dan Holly.

Anton opens the season Sept. 11 at home against Nazareth. The first district game will be Oct. 23 at Amherst.

The Bulldogs figure to be a young team this season with only four seniors on the squad.

'Cats To Scrimmage Canyon

It will be the final pre-season testflight against another opponent for the Littlefield Wildcats Saturday night when they scrimmage Canyon in Wildcat Stadium. The activity, expected to last approximately two hours, will start about 7:30 p.m.

"We were a little poor in defensive tackling and in the execution of offensive plays," Coach John Howle commented on the scrimmage against a strong Andrews team last Saturday.

"The boys, however, came back this week filled with the desire to improve, and that's real good mark for an enthused team," Howle declared. As to Andrews, the Wildcat mentor termed Andrews as having a "real good" team of 38 juniors and seniors. "They should win their district," Howle commented.

Guard Steve Lowe was the only major casualty in the Andrews scrimmage. The All-District lineman, going for his third letter this season, suffered a sprained ankle. Although the injury is not considered serious, Lowe is being held out of contact work this week.

Another Wildcat, Steve Lewis, received a facial laceration in the conflict but has been able to continue his activities on the practice field.

Members of the Wildcat coaching staff are expected to scout Denver City Friday night as that team opens the season against Seminole.

No Weight Woes For Anton

When it comes to weight, the Anton Bulldogs will have no problems during the 1964 football season.

Coach Jack Aldridge, beginning his first year at the helm of the District 3-B Bulldogs, has five boys on the squad that tip the scale at more than 200 pounds per man.

"I don't know how we'll do in scoring, but we'll match weight with anybody," Aldridge has commented.

Weight is not the lone optimistic look for Anton. The Bulldogs, seeking to improve on last year's 1-8-1 record, are counting on help from 14 returning lettermen. They have experienced hands at all positions except one guard slot.

Six of the lettermen are in the

Cowboy Visits

Don Perkins, one of the top backfield performers for the Dallas Cowboys, stopped in Littlefield Sunday for a visit with local friends in the H.B. McCarty home. Perkins was en route to Dallas from Albuquerque, N.M.

Perkins said he believed the National Football League Cowboys will be settled into good playing condition by the time the pro season gets underway.

Registration Available For Annual PP&K Duel

The National Football League and the Ford dealers of America today announced the fourth annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition for the nation's 8-through-13-year-old football fans.

"PP&K" pits the youths' punting, passing and place-kicking skills against those of other participants of the same ages. Since its inception in 1962, the program has attracted more than 1,300,000 entries, including nearly half a million last year.

Last year a Dallas boy, 8-year-old Steve Pierce, won the national championship in his age category, and Marshall Lambson, 9, of St. Johns, Ariz., was tops among boys in his age group.

Both represented the Dallas Cowboys in the national PP&K championship at Chicago last Dec. 29.

Registration for this year's competition will be held at Ford dealerships, or at locations designated by them, Sept. 1 through Oct. 9.

The 12 finalists -- one each in the 8-13 age groups from both the Eastern and Western Division team areas -- will go to Miami for the final PP&K competition at halftime of the NFL Runner-Up Bowl Game on Jan. 3. The all-expense-paid "Tour of Champions" for the youths and their parents will begin with a visit to Washington, D. C., on Dec. 30. The Washington visit will be highlighted by a special tour of the White House. Following the halftime show in Miami, the six age-group winners will be crowned by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle. While in Miami the group will attend the Bown game Jan. 1.

There will be five local competitions (although the competition will be a comparison only) beginning local programs during the 10-15 period. Local winners will be picked in local, designated competitions. Zone winners will be determined by comparison of scores of first-place winners at a Ford sales zone. The top scorers in each zone will be invited to represent their area at a Ford District competition. After district competition scores will be compared by local PP&K Headquarters in Dearborn, Mich., to determine the top two youths in each group (a total of 24 boys area competitions in each area city).

Barbecue Added to Boys Ranch Rodeo

A real ranch-style barbecue will be added to the rodeo fare at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, next month, when the more than 300 boys now being cared for put on their 20th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo.

For the first time in many years, the boys of the Ranch will select a steer from the beef herd, dress it for cooking, and barbecue it over an open-pit fire. One of the busiest concessions at the rodeo is expected to be the barbecue sandwich booth where the boys will be selling "king-size" sandwiches with all the trimmings.

"We are inviting all our friends, not only to watch the kids put on their rodeo, this year, but also to enjoy a barbecue picnic in the picnic grounds of the Ranch," Farley, Ranch founder, said.

6 Texas Traffic Deaths Forecast for Holiday

IN--Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today said "Operation Day traffic deaths as cur, will go into effect a.m., Saturday, September 5, 1964. The Department has estimated 36 persons will be killed on Texas streets and highways during the 72-hour holiday, which will last until Monday, September 7, 1964. Garrison called upon the public to join in a "crucial common-sense driving" on the toll of tragic holiday deaths caused by motor vehicles. The heaviest concentration of vehicles is during the holiday periods," he pointed out and it is during these periods that drivers should exert extra caution to the utmost. There is always a chance of an estimate of traffic deaths can be proved too high if all motorists put forth a concerted effort toward holding the line against accidents by staying especially alert to the added dangers of holiday travel." The DPS Director said Labor Day this year comes at a time when traffic tragedy appears to be outstripping that for 1963, when an all-time high of 2,729 deaths were tabulated. He reported that more than 1,700 persons have been killed already this year for an increase of 12 per cent, adding that if the trend continues the toll for 1964 will exceed 3,000 traffic deaths. The Department of Public Safety will continue in their all-out effort to curb traffic accidents and to stop reckless and illegal driving on the highways. Garrison said, "Officers from other DPS uniformed services will be assigned to Highway Patrol duty during the holiday period to add to the enforcement effort." Garrison noted that several public and private agencies are carrying on programs to supplement the safety emphasis effort for the Labor Day holiday.

freeway driving and the need for caution near highway construction areas. And the Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association will sponsor a fleet of 35 to 40 cars which will be used to assist stranded motorists over the state. This "Holiday Road Patrol" will be manned by the safety director, safety supervisors and safety engineers of the trucking industry who comprise the membership of the Council. Its primary purpose is to help relieve highway patrolmen for enforcement work by aiding motorists in distress. Garrison listed several items for positive action in his appeal to all drivers. He urged each person driving during the holiday to: Make sure the car and all its equipment (tires, brakes, lights, etc.) are in proper working order at all times. Be sure the driver is in good physical and mental condition. Be considerate toward other travelers. Be alert for unexpected actions on the part of other drivers. Be alert for unexpected road hazards and dangerous road conditions. Avoid improper passing and maintain control of the car at all times. Slow down and be able to cope with all existing conditions and circumstances. And to use caution and good sense at all times. "Your cooperation as a driver can be the deciding factor in leading to a reduction of traffic accidents and fatalities in our State," Garrison concluded.

farther than one and one-fourth inches from the nose, thereby preventing elbow contact with the eye. Body protection is essential, too. All pads should incorporate shock-absorbing material, and cover the intended area properly. The fit of the pants must assure effective positioning of the thigh and knee pads. To insure foot and ankle protection, all players should have their ankles routinely wrapped with non-elastic bandage, two and one-half to three inches in width. Cleats should be kept short, if used. Rubber heels without cleats may be preferred. Whether it is football on the corner lot or organized athletics, a boy playing contact sports needs a mouth protector as a part of his regular equipment. If your young son wants a football helmet like the big-league helmets sold as toys. These are not suitable for real play. The suspension or internal padding provides little or no protection in impact. In addition, the edges of these helmets may be sufficiently sharp to cause lacerations. Helmets used in actual play should possess the same protective qualities as those for varsity football. Otherwise, the safety of the wearer can be in serious jeopardy. Whatever his age, if your youngster plans to participate in football or other contact sports, keep these basic principles in mind when selecting protective equipment; purchase only the best available, make sure it is carefully fitted, wear equipment at all appropriate times, in practice or in games, and make sure equipment is conscientiously maintained. Football can be fun . . . as long as you're not gambling with unnecessary injury.

the U. S. Department of Agriculture has now made the official announcement that, after August 29, micronaire readings are no longer a requirement to putting cotton into the government loan. Whether this is good or bad depends on how and from whose house you look at it. Some time ago the USDA announced that premiums and discounts for micronaire would be a part of the loan structure for the 1964 crop, and there was little if any adverse criticism of that announcement chiefly because there's no denying that micronaire is a measurement of a cotton's value and has been recognized by mills and by the trade as such for several years. But, the Senate-House Conference Committee considering the agricultural appropriations bill prohibited the Department from carrying through with the mike announcement. Ostensibly, they did this because "the Department in setting up mandatory micronaire readings didn't follow provisions of law requiring a one year waiting period after notice."

However, it is commonly thought that the trouble was started by the fact that the Department has no funds to pay for mike readings and a charge of six cents per bale was placed on the farmer. A group of South-eastern farmers, feeling that it was hardly fair that they be required to pay for establishing a discount on their own cotton, asked congress to appropriate money to pay for the micronaire measurement and that's where "the snake was plowed." Enough congressmen went along with a proposal by Florida Senator Spessard Holland to knock micronaire completely out of the program for 1964, forcing the USDA to back track. It is clear enough that producers here on the High Plains of Texas will shed few tears over not having their cotton discounted by micronaire readings for which they were required to pay six cents a bale, but on the other hand there are apt to be long term effects not so tasteful. Cotton shippers are virtually unanimous in their belief that more of this area's cotton will go into the loan than would have been the case had the Department's intentions been carried out.

While this may mean a few added dollars in the producer's pocket for this year, it is not a healthy thing in view of the need for greater cotton consumption and eventual acreage expansion. Furthermore, it is the general feeling that relief from mike discounts on area cotton will be for this one year only, and that mike testing will be put under the Smith-Doxey program along with grade and staple for 1965. Obviously the government loan will not forever ignore a quality factor which in the trade affects the value of a bale of cotton as much as $15. Micronaire, which is a measurement of maturity, is important to mills because mature fibers stand up better under spinning conditions for many uses.

With loan discounts for low mike cotton a certainty for the near future, and with mills either refusing to buy or heavily discounting low mike cotton, the producers only out seems to be the production of cotton with a better "mike." Certain varieties of cotton have inherent characteristics affecting micronaire, but researchers blame the majority of low mike cotton in this area on early desiccation or defoliation either by frost or by use of harvest aids chemicals. Frost dates, clearly, cannot be controlled, and on certain years the area at present is probably doomed by its growing season and existing weather conditions to producing its share of low mike cotton. But on an average year it is the unwise use of defoliants and desiccants which plays the devil with out cotton's mike. It has been proven time and time again that use of these chemicals before at least 60 per cent of the bolls are open lowers micronaire as well as yield and is a poor practice, moneywise. It is to be hoped that further economic penalties are not necessary before producers will heed this fact.

the return of seven lettermen from last year's 4-6 record team is boosting Whitharral's hopes for a strong finish in the eight-man grid district of I-B. Returning lettermen are full-back Larry Wade, quarterback Johnny Tipton, ends Rudy Cardenas and Walter Caldwell, center Floyd Salinas, guard Glenn Throckmorton and Mike Sadler who can fill in at either guard or center. Wade is the lone senior among the lettermen. Caldwell is a sophomore, while all the others are juniors. Other varsity bidders listed by Coach John W. Hall include senior Wesley Womack; sophomore Tom Fletcher and six freshmen, Stan Sadler, Leroy Bradley, C.C. Dawson, David Fletcher, Joe Martinez and John Ramos. This will be Whitharral's first campaign in I-B. Hall figures that Cotton Center will be the leading title contender, although his own Panthers should be strong contenders, along with Three Way. swaths with the wheels of the plane almost touching the tops of the cotton. For these reasons one plane can do the work of about five or six, obviously with substantial savings. Moreover, there is no need for a fleet of tank trucks hauling water for mixing with the insecticide, and the number of airstrips, radios, personnel and other expensive items needed is reduced as well. "In a program the size of this one, all of these savings over a three-year period can add up to hundreds of thousands of dollars. "As for safety, all insecticides need handling with care. But malathion is one of the safest known. It has a lower toxicity rating than the majority of poisons now being used. In fact, its toxicity rating is lower than any other insecticides commonly recommended for bol weevil control. Properly handled, it is as safe as the fly spray used in homes. It has been widely used in large area control projects with no confirmed reports of harm to game, birds, humans or livestock. "In addition, malathion has been used for mosquito control on over four hundred thousand acres, sprayed five to eight times a year, in Florida alone. There is a virtual book of further information, most of it technical in nature, on the safety of malathion. But here again we must rely on the counsel of entomologists with experience in these matters, and they have advised that we use malathion. "We consider ourselves extremely fortunate that this program -- to keep the boll weevil from making a shambles of our whole High Plains cotton economy -- is to begin after tests have confirmed technical malathion as an effective chemical

ers. Be alert for unexpected road hazards and dangerous road conditions. Avoid improper passing and maintain control of the car at all times.
