When Lamb County, and precinct officials were sworn into office, following a session of Commissioner's Court, at which two retiring Commissioners sat for the last time, and were succeeded by newly elected officials from two precincts, it was just a great, big family party, with lots of neighbors and friends on hand, along with a scattering of relatives—and everybody had a good time.

Everyone laughed; there was applause and lots of hand-shaking, and everybody who had anything to say, either said it voluntarily, or was nudged on to feel, to "make a speech" anyway.

And there wasn't a single jarring note. Without mentioning it, there was the thought in almost every mind, that next time the party was held it would be in a modern, new $600,000 court house.

Judge Bill's Officials
County Judge Dent presided at the Commissioner Court meeting, but District Judge Bills was on hand and administered the many oaths of office which were taken, mostly by hold-over officials. Later bonds were approved, and when officers were reminded that all bonds must be certified by the Secretary of State, and that the certification required a $1.00 fee—

Early Morning Fire Destroys Enochs Building

The Crabtree Mercantile, Enochs was completely destroyed by fire about 1:00 a. m. Wednesday morning. Damage was estimated at $20,000.

ployment Commission manager, J. D. Jordan.

The largest number of bales ever harvested in Lamb County was in 1949, when a total of 189,000 bales were ginned. Last year a total of 156,000 bales were ginned.

Eaton said that most of the gins in the county have completed ginning for the year. However, a few are still operating, and he estimates that approximately between 400 to 500 bales will be ginned before the season closes. Most of the gins will close the latter part of this month, which is about three weeks earlier than in most previous years.

The total number of bales ginned exceeds the estimate made by the County Agent, shortly after the freeze.

Burglars Continue Active Here

The growing list of reported break-ins and burglaries, has continued to grow, unabated, during the past year, as Sheriff's office and City Police, redoubled their efforts toward a solution, and the capture of the culprits. Lack of tangible evidence in the form of fingerprints left behind, suggests, possibly a knowing or professional touch, through the use of gloves.

Big Cotton Crop Contributes To Increase

Deposits in the six banks of Lamb County which includes three national and three state charters, were reported in the called reports dated Dec. 31, 1952, at the highest figure in the entire history of the county. Total deposits in the six institutions were just short of twenty-five million dollars, the official figure being $24,689,758.13.

On the same date last year, the comparative figure was $21,313,973.70, reflecting an increase of $3,375,784.43. One of the greatest cotton crops in the history of the county was the main contributing factor in the increase, and every section of the county showed substantial gains for 1952.

In the week just past, three service stations were entered and burglarized during Friday night, and Sunday night they struck the Walters Drug on Phelps Avenue, Littlefield. It is believed that different operators are responsible for the two thefts.

Entrance to Walters Drug was gained through a rear door, the lower panel of which was knocked out. In addition to $16 in cash, loot included 5 watches valued at $175, and practically all of the narcotics in the store, including both codeine and morphine.

The three service stations broken into were McCormicks on Highway 84, where the take included $100 in cash, and some merchandise. At Dennis Jones station just across the street, several tires and $40 in cash was taken. The third break-in was at the Parker Station on West Delano. ## Child's School Lunch Important To Health Says State Health Officer Dr. G. W. Cox

To assure good health for children, special attention should be paid to the school lunch, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. If good nutrition is obtained the diet must include meat, milk, butter, fruit, vegetables, and whole grain and enriched cereals in proper quantities.

Inadequate lunches can deprive children of the nutrition necessary for good health and intelligent work at school. A sandwich and a soft drink are not sufficient even though the child may have a good breakfast and evening meal.

A child's lunch should provide at least one third of the daily food requirements. Whether eaten at home or at school, it should include one half pint of milk, a substantial protein food as meat, egg, cheese or peanut butter sandwich, a vegetable for fruit or both and whole grain or enriched bread with butter. While some hot food is desirable, well planned cold lunches can be both appetizing and nutritious.

In addition to being nutritious and palatable food should be safe. Food from unsafe sources or prepared under insanitary conditions may result in illness. Milk should be pasteurized. Attention should be paid to the selection of wholesome meat, poultry, vegetables and other foods. It is also important that perishable foods prepared and stored in school kitchens be properly refrigerated.

Deceased was born August 18, 1880, in Lone Oak Texas.

Survivors include besides his wife, two sons, Rabb of Lubbock and Claude B. of Dallas; two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Testimony Heard In Trial Of County Grain Man

The second trial of O. L. Shannon, Sudan grain and elevator operator, who is charged with shortage of government stored grain, got underway in U. S. District Court at Lubbock Monday morning, and is expected to consume several days of this week. The first trial a few months ago, resulted in a jury disagreement.

One of the first government witnesses called to the stand in this second trial testified that the elevator was "short" 30,531,405 pounds of government stored sorghum, and a huge amount of wheat, as of June 15, 1951.

Judge Joseph B. Dooley, ordered a 13th juror seated and to hear all evidence, as a safeguard against possible illness of a member of the regular 12-man jury.

On motion by government attorneys, 6 of the 47 counts in the indictment were dismissed at the outset of Monday's trial.

Shannon, wearing gabardine trousers and jacket and a brown shirt, pleaded not guilty to the indictment.

Members of the jury selected to hear the case are: Cecil A. Bickley, Denver City; Douglas Finley and Blain Ramsey, Tahoka; Frank Moore, Ray L. Allen, Virgil H. Spence and Deward Ellison, Crosbyton; Robert E. Rogers, 2101 9th St., Lubbock; E. J. Pope, Jr., Abernathy; Flis Hindman, New Deal; W. H. Dawson, Slaton; and D. V. Travis, Brownfield.

Momer Robinett, Kalgary, Crosby County, was the alternate or thirteenth juror.

Previously Thruston Bower, receiver for the Shannon properties, testified briefly about the warehouses and the elevator.

P. N. Miller, Fort Worth, leading officer for the CCC, testified that Shannon failed to fill loading orders on Aug. 28, and Aug. 29, 1951.

Then John J. Bachman, Alexandria, Va., chief of the accounting-investigating division of the CCC, detailed the accounting investigation he conducted of the Shannon Elevators.

Records Are Described
Bachman testified that Shannon kept no control of daily position sheets, customary with elevator operators to determine their daily inventory and shipments; and that he (Bachman) had to work back through scale sheets, sale slips and other records to determine Shannon's business position from day to day.

His last "long position" was on Oct. 1, 1949, Bachman said. From that point on, warehouse obligations were greater than the amount of grain Shannon had on hand at any time.

Three prospective jurors, Earnest C. Minyard, Sudan; Geo. W. Brewer, Lubbock; and Tee Thetford, Ropesville, were disqualified in preliminary examination of jurors. Minyard was excused because of his friendship with Shannon, Brewer because of his friendship with James O. Cade, a defense attorney; and Thetford because of a fifty opinion in the case.

Twenty-three witnesses were sworn in and attorneys indicated several more would be called by both the government and the defense.

Indicating that the government planned to present a "tighter" case in the second trial, John A. Bramlett of Dallas, contracting officer for the Commodity Credit Corporation, United States Department of Agriculture, testified more in detail regarding the uniform grain storage agreement Shannon had signed with the CCC.

Polling places in Lamb County are:

Vegetables May Be Cash Crop In Olton District For This Year

Vegetables in Olton irrigation district may give King Cotton some competition as the area's principal crop.

Olton farmers are planning on more than 1,000 acres of potatoes this year after the 1952 crop, first ever produced here, proved successful. The initial effort resulted in a bumper crop sold at top prices.

Cabbage, lettuce and a few onions also are edging into the picture.

However, as a money crop cotton will be hard to beat. The four cotton gins serving the community ginned 39,635 bales this season with possible another 15,000 bales

Three of the agreements, dated June 1, 1949; July 1, 1949, and June 1, 1950, were entered as exhibits in the cast.

When assistant U. S. District Attorney Dan Settle, who questioned Bramlett, passed the witness, Defense Attorney Cade moved for dismissal. Judge Dooley overruled.

Representing the government in the trial are U. S. District Attorney Frank Potter and assistants, Cavett Blinn, A. W. Christian and Settle. Cade and his partner, Kenneth Bowlin, and E. T. (Dusty) Miller, Amarillo, are attorneys for Shannon.

These County Committeemen will play a very important part in establishing the regulations of the District and seeing that such regulations are carried out. Three committeemen of the five-man Board can approve an application for a permit to drill a well.

Beginning the first of February a permit will be required on any well that is to be drilled, either industrial, municipal, or agricultural. These permits will be issued free of charge. The forms can be obtained from any County Committeeman, well driller, or the County Agent in each county.

One of the purposes of this application is to obtain information from the High Plains area regarding underground formations and well construction. This has been pointed out to the District as being very important information, not only to the people of the High Plains, but to the U. S. Geological Survey and is information that should have been gathered many years ago.

All indications are pointing to the prospect of a lot of State legislation confronting the District in the next few years. The Directors feel it will take the full cooperation of all the committeemen as well as the farmers and businessmen of the High Plains to keep the control of ground water in the hands of the local county people.

being taken out of the community to drought stricken areas for ginning at the harvest peak.

Cotton buyer C. L. Lokey estimated the total value of the crop at 7 1/4 million dollars, when the cotton production hit an all-time record in 1952, in Olton area.

Lokey also estimated that the total value in the Olton trade area hit $20,000,000. This takes in the Springlake, Hart and Hart Camp areas with Olton.

The Olton production was more than 50,000 bales. Approximately 39,635 bales were ginned at local plants.

Gin men said this year also set a record in getting the crop out early. It compared with a fast production year of 1948, they said.

The average price of a bale of cotton this year was $135 at Olton, cotton men said. Some bales brought $200 but the average was $135.

THERE IS ONLY ONE STATE IN THE UNION!

Why not simplify geography for our children and just leave off those other states and their capitals? It would just be this — Austin is the capitol of Texas and that's all there is to it.

On my recent visit to Louisiana, I did find those people to be clear thinkers, so humble and so right! Why, you know and I know that Texas is the only state in the Union, but some folks from California refuse to admit it and the Missourians continue to argue "agin" it, but these Louisiana folks KNOW. They even teach their children to be good and when they die they'll go to Texas.

Maybe we comment too often on the progress and continual growth of Olton, but it makes one feel extra good every time he sees a new building, whether for residence or business, start up.

If Olton continues to grow next year and the next, as it has this year, our prediction of 5,000 population by 1957 will be realized.

Agriculture Department Recommends 13% Less Cotton, More Grain Sorghum

Agricultural Secretary Brannen announced just before Christmas the new spring planting goal for 1953.

Here on the South Plains the result of the announcement will probably be and mean less cotton planted and grown in 1953 than was grown in 1952 and will also mean an increased acreage in grain sorghums.

The secretary recommended a 13 per cent decrease in cotton production to produce 13 million bales, and in order to achieve that result recommended that cotton acreage be reduced 14 per cent to $22,800,000 acres.

In recommending an increased grain sorghum production he also recommended increases in corn, oats, barley, hay and grass. Also recommended for a cut was wheat, the report emphasizing over production and surpluses of wheat, cotton and cotton products.

Brannen requested farmers to plant 360,000,000 acres, approximately the same acreage as this year, but said that the overall farm output should reach a new peak through greater yields per acre.

Concerning the overall goals, Brannen said: "To aim at anything less than the very high production level of recent years would be foolhardy during a period of national emergency."

Output goals normally are announced before the new year. Department policy is to set them well in advance of the planting season to permit farmers plenty of time to plant the needed production.

Brannen set a goal for grain sorghums of 190,000,000 bushels, more than 2 1/4 times as much as was produced this year. The production goal for oats was set at 1,355,000,000 bushels, an increase of 5 per cent.

The goal for tame hay is 95,000,000 tons, roughly 2 per cent above this year's production.

and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Edwards. Mrs. Edwards and Miss Jo Ann Parrack spent the holidays in Phoenix, in the Packwood home, and Mrs. Packwood and Finetta brought them back by car.

Miss Delphine Covington left Monday afternoon for San Antonio, where she will enroll at Trinity University for the last semester. She attended W. T. S. C. Canyon last semester. She will receive her degree in the spring. She was accompanied to San Antonio by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Covington and also her sister, Dora Jo Valverde, who has recently returned after spending two years in Arabia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ernest Jones and their three daughters, Erna Jane, Martha and Penny returned home last Wednesday evening, after spending several days visiting her father H. J. Rieger at Palestine, and other relatives there. They also visited relatives in Fort Worth. Mr. Rieger accompanied them home, and is a guest in the Jones home.

Piggly-Wiggly To Stage Formal Opening Of New Home Today, Friday, Saturday

The new Piggly-Wiggly building at East 8th Street and Farwell Avenue has been completed, and the grand opening of this beautiful new store has been set for today (Thursday), Friday and Saturday, when prizes and favors will be presented those attending.

The building has been erected by L. C. Hewitt for Davis & Humphries of Lubbock, owners of the Piggly-Wiggly on the Plains.

Tidmore Construction Company of Lubbock were the contractors of the new building, which is ultra modern in design and semi-fire proof.

The W-W Electric of Littlefield had the contract for the electrical work.

The cost of the project was in excess of $100,000.

The building is 65x140 feet, and sets back on the property to provide ample parking space for about 150 cars.

The property extends 200 feet along Eighth Street and a frontage of 50 feet at 7th and Farwell; the latter piece providing a large parking area for the customers.

The entire project, in addition to the 200 feet on Eighth Street, extends all the way from 7th to 8th Street.

As announced by Winfred Stout, Manager of the local store for the past four years, there will be large stocks of food items in each department, with special prices for opening days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Stout has been associated with the Davis & Humphries organization since 1931. Besides the general contractor, Tidmore Construction Company, and W-W Electric, other contractors were: W. R. Dean & Son, who were in charge of the painting and Paul Graham Company Builders Supplies, both of Lubbock.

Free prizes will be awarded by Piggly-Wiggly in observance of their opening. These prizes will be awarded Saturday, January 17, at 4 p. m., and will include a 21-inch Crosley TV radio and phonograph combination, a 17-inch Crosley table model TX set, bicycles and silverware.

rection of Hammons Funeral Home.

Mr. Farquhar passed away at Littlefield Hospital about noon, Saturday, January 3, following a lingering illness. However, he had only been a patient in the local hospital for the past week.

Funeral services included two vocal solos by Mrs. Weldon Findley who sang, "I Won't Have to Cross Jordan Alone", and "In the Land Where I'll Never Grow Old". Mrs. Wayne Brown played the organ accompaniment.

Pall bearers were Eld Hopping, Pat Boone, Sr., Q. T. Bellomy, Brantley Wellborn, Otis Smith and Roy Gilbert.

The graveside services were conducted under Masonic ritual by members of the local Masonic Lodge. Members of Littlefield chapter, Order of the Eastern Star acted as flower girls.

Samuel Jefferson Farquhar was born September 9, 1878 in Burnet County. He was united in marriage to Miss Frances Hodge, November 24, 1901 in Burnet County. Two daughters were born to the union, and both survive as do the widow. They are Mrs. Blanche Loidis of Littlefield and Mrs. Lois Smith of Rosenberg, Texas.

Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Farquhar lived at Marble Falls until they moved to Littlefield in 1924. He followed the barber trade here until 1940, when he was elected to the office of Justice of the Peace. He held the office for 12 years, with his last term of office expiring January 1, 1953.

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATION
Application must be signed by January 31, 1953, to be eligible for insurance. The acreage planted to cotton must be turned in within two weeks after planting and in no case later than June 30, 1953. Premiums will be figured from this acreage.

Premiums become due August 31, 1953. A 5% discount will be deducted if your premium is paid by June 30, 1953.

A landlord, operator, tenant, or sharecropper may file an application to insure his interest in the cotton crop provided he is not entitled to Federal Crop Insurance Corporation from previous programs.

When an application is signed for Crop Insurance, it stays in continuous form until either cancelled by the farmer or the Corporation. The cancellation date is December 31, of each year. If not cancelled by this date each year, a farmer becomes automatically insured for the next year.

Persons who wish additional information are asked to contact the P. M. A. office in Amherst.

Commissioner Sam Cearley motioned that the County take care of that minor item of expense—and it carried with nary a dissenting vote.

Each and every official who will serve in 1953 was present, with one exception, R. A. Lewis, newly-elected Justice of the Peace at Olton, was unable to attend on account of illness.

Constable Appointed

A petition carrying 75 names from the Amherst-Sudan section, asking that a Constable be appointed for Precinct Five, to fill that vacant office, for which no one offered last year was unanimously approved by the court, and Homer McLaurey of Sudan was officially appointed, and will serve as soon as bond is approved.

The two retiring Commissioners, Fred Wilson and George Brown, made short talks, and then turned their portfolios of office over to Hubert Dykes of Sudan, and Don Bryant of Olton, who were elected to succeed them. The latter although a newcomer to the court this year, is a veteran commissioner, nevertheless, having served from Precinct One for several years in the past.

Others not already mentioned who took the oath of office were: Judge Otha Dent; Sam Cearley, Commissioners; Roy Gilbert, Commissioner; Curtis Wilkinson, County Attorney; Herbert Dunn, Assessor; Joel Thomson, Clerk; Mrs. Robbie Pass, treasurer; Mrs.

Deceased was held in high esteem by all who knew him. The large and beautiful floral offering were attestation in tribute to the memory of a man who has served his home and community in an outstanding and friendly manner over a period of many years. He was a Mason nearly 50 years, and held his membership in the Masonic Lodge at Marble Falls, where he served as worshipful master in 1923-24. He was a member of the Eastern Star for nearly 46 years, and served as Worthy Patron of Littlefield chapter 17 years. He was also a past patron of Marble Falls O. E. S.

Mr. Farquhar was a member of the First Christian Church having joined when he was a young man.

Other survivors other than mentioned above include a grandson, Jack Dodgen of Oklahoma City, and two great grandchildren, Glenda and Sheila Dodgen; one sister, Mrs. Jewel Jenkins of Burnet, and three brothers, J. A. of Lampasas, C. M. and B. S. of Glendora, California. One brother, J. T. Farquhar formerly of Benito, preceded him in death in 1949.

Out-of-town relatives here for the last rites include the daughter, and sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jenkins and Mrs. Farquhar's sister, Mrs. Linnet Shelley of Austin. Also a number of friends from West Texas towns and communities and also Clovis, N. M., attended.

Friends at Abernathy made a donation to Girlstown in memory of Mr. Farquhar and the relatives gave money to the First Christian Church here in his memory.

Treva Quigley, district clerk Dick Dyer, sheriff; J. S. Shuttleworth, Justice Peace Prec. five; G. S. Glenn Justice of Peace Prec. 4, Robert Wilson, Constable Spade.

Two ex-sheriffs, Dewey "Dena" and Sid Hopping, were present and took part in the big official party.

War on Bootleggers

There were speeches and more speeches. All of them were on the friendly, optimistic note—but there was one exception—Curtis Wilkerson, County Attorney, in his speech declared a renewal of warfare on bootlegging and bootleggers. "Bootlegger, are going to start running on January First—they have been running in the past few weeks, but they are going to run faster in the future", was almost the opening statement of his short talk. He added that co-operation is the keynote of good government, and that we seem to have it in Lamb County. He added thanks to the past co-operation of ex-sheriff Dennis and Hopping. He also praised the two Judges present, and closed with a statement that "hot checking" here was in for a rough going.

Judge Dent expressed thanks to the retiring members of the court, and welcomed the two new members into the circle. He said he was asking for constructive criticism and suggestions—that the commissioners court has a receptive ear. He said all precincts have had benefits for the past six years—all have been served and served well. He feels that every precinct has year, like the next several, promises to accentuate rather than to relieve the world problems which have been growing ever since the end of the last war. The prospect of immediate war, barring Russian reaction to some action she may be planning, is not expected until the time approaches when Allied experts believe Russia will be at her peak of preparedness—1954-55—complications spread widening whorls.

In the military field, the Korean war showed small prospect of ending soon. To do about it—let the stalemate continue, try to end it by a truce in Korea, apply pressure directly to China through bombing or both—was not expected to be decided until the end of the year. Smaller wars in Indo-China and Malaya were expected to drag on, though there was a possibility the British might withdraw from the latter. In Africa and the Middle East, outbreaks of war could occur at any time.

At the end of the cold war, and the military preparedness undertaken to prevent it from becoming hot, economic troubles will be the main world economic conference probably will be held, and some agreement might be found.

Attention appeared for two great problems affecting the world. One is the obstruction of trade between the free world and the Soviet sphere, without which no real world balance can be attained. The other is the fact that Great Britain is going through an economic crisis.

The United States, with Britain trailing unhappily along, will move toward support of Nationalist movements in political areas.

The United States will make another effort to settle the Iranian-British disagreement. It will be bought, without producing real amity. Tensions are likely to arise throughout the Middle East oil area.

Western Nations will neither come apart—barring war—nor be united. It will remain an important forum, and could serve as a machinery for administering world cooperation if peace is maintained. The idea of a federated Europe will grow, aided by any agreement on Germany's place in European defense, and the future of the Saar.

Peronist ideas will be seen in other Latin American countries, with parallel activity by the communists. This will produce complications with the U. S., in some cases, but the facade of democracy will continue.

There will be a store for the Communist satellite countries of Europe and the Middle East.

Stalin's drive toward collectivization on the Soviet Union will be stepped up at the insistence of the Soviet Union, and every possible ounce of effort for production in a year for defense.

The drive toward collectivization on the Soviet Union intensified with ever-increasing ruthlessness. The aim will be to eliminate all vestiges of private agricultural production.

Continuing shortages of consumer goods, excepting up the thread of war and the need to produce for the homeland and the Soviet Union.

More sovietization. The next year should be a condition where they could be absorbed by Moscow as new republics of the USSR.

More purges. The purification of the satellite states from complete.

The federal government is taking over the federal government for the next 20 years and a lot of big questions loom on the horizon. The solution shaping up something like this:

Eisenhower will get cooperation generally from both sides. Unless Eisenhower stubs his toe, criticism is promised by the Democratic opposition. A new leader translates his pledges into action.

Republicans, on whom Democrats will depend for support in the next election because of slim GOP margins of control, can be expected to immediately try to fulfill its promises.

Truman will try hard to trim the last Truman budget of around $40 billion. The retiring President says they will have a tough time.

Democrats are viewing 1953 with confidence—and keeping their fingers crossed. They are planning for a change in the industrial production pace, now at a low level, and little change in prices.

Expectations from: 1. the belief that the new Administration will be friendlier to business; 2. the belief that the new President will slow down the pace of rearmament; and 3. the hope that the new Administration will supposedly spend more next year than last.

Expectations from: 1. the chance that defense spending may be cut after part of 1953; 2. the fear that industrial capacity will be expanded beyond the needs of civilian demands alone; and 3. the belief that "everything that grows up must come down sometime."

WHAT DOES FATE HOLD IN STORE IN THE YEAR AHEAD?

Retail merchants count on the public spending more freely in the coming spring than in the last. Already the consumer is saving less, and buying more. With employment high, more customers are buying on time.

COUNTING upon an early end of the Controlled Materials Program that limits its car and truck output, the auto industry is raising its production and sales sights for 1953.

If controls are removed early, industry heads have intimated, the industry will build—and sell—at least five million passenger cars in 1953. Moreover, some say, that figure may be taken as the annual normal output requirements for many years to come. Approximately 4,350,000 cars were built in 1952.

The industry has geared itself for sharp competition with new models with more eye-appeal than any in its more than half-century of vehicle production. Smoother lines mark all the new models, with lowered silhouettes imparting an appearance of even greater length, although generally there has been no over-all increase in bumper-to-bumper measurement.

DRUGS to control or perhaps cure some types of cancer are one bet for scientific discoveries in 1953. A number of new chemicals are under test. One or more may fulfill research hopes.

And you may expect: By year's end, an atomic submarine will be close to the surface.

New metals will be found, able to withstand temperatures of jet planes and rockets for superior performance. Rockets may top the 250-mile present record.

Work on the H-bomb will carry forward. Radioactive atoms will be used to sterilize drugs, maybe to produce atomic energy.

Atomic piles, making more atomic fuel as they burn atomic fuel for peaceful heat and power.

A heart-lung machine will pass human tests, bypassing the entire human heart and lungs to permit new kinds of surgery, or revive stopped hearts.

The biggest enemy, heart and blood vessel diseases, will begin to yield some, through better understanding and control of the chemistry of hardening of arteries, coronary attacks, and high blood pressure.

FOR the first time in 20 years the two big labor organizations—AFL and CIO—stepped across the threshold into a new year without strong White House ties which have marked the phenomenal growth of unionism since 1933.

There was strong evidence that President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower, at least at the start, will respect the opinions and listen to the argument of organized labor leaders. At the head of the Labor Department, and sitting in the new cabinet, will be Martin P. Durkin, a leader in the AFL for many years, a Democrat who hopes to be cast the Taft-Hartley Act, the nation's basic labor law.

Both the AFL and CIO says they want to get together again on the elusive question of labor unity. The White House and Congress are now considered in unfriendlier hands than at any time in the past 20 years, a condition which leads some observers to feel that the AFL and CIO would want to close ranks and present a solid front. Even so, it is strictly speculative whether organic unity will come in the next 12 months.

AMERICAN agriculture faces economic question marks. Will farm income and prices ease off further from recent postwar levels? Will the cost of producing crops and livestock continue an uptrend that started with the war? Will farmers be forced to go further into debt to continue present production and living standards or will they start easing up on their buying?

Most economists expect the domestic demand for farm products to continue relatively high for most of 1953. Much will depend upon the pattern of government spending. Some retraction in such spending could result in a reduction in employment and a consequent decline in demand for food and fiber products.

On the unfavorable side are indications that the foreign demand for American farm products may be smaller, largely because of a shortage of dollars in overseas areas.

Farm experts generally expect 1953 farm returns to drop below 1952 but not greatly so. They expect government farm price support programs to be effective in preventing any salary decline. A Republican administration will take over from a Democratic one, but few changes are expected before 1954 in government farm-aid policies.

... Ovid A. Martin

WOMEN will hold the nation's money bag in 1953. Appointment of Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest as Treasurer of the United States and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby as Federal Security Administrator is proof that Uncle Sam believes in turning the pay check to the lady of the house.

Since this is the second time a woman has been Treasurer, it seems that the gentlemen of both parties are agreed that women are best at managing the money.

This is a talent developed from long experience as Mrs. U. S. A. struggled with the household budget and learned to appreciate the value of a dollar.

Effects of the new importance of women in the fiscal departments of the government probably will be felt in other fields. Big business as well as government is realizing that it takes a woman to keep a balanced budget.

... Dorothy Rose

YEAR ROUND air conditioning is certain to hold the limelight in the new home of 1953. Heating plant manufacturers are concentrating on summer air cooling for the house. Installation in homes now upwards from $10,000 and $12,000 has been shown to be practicable.

A big building year is in prospect. Two government agencies see new construction activity in 1953 destined for a new peak—perhaps rising about $1 billion over the $32 1/3 billion apparent for 1952. About as many private dwelling units are expected to be started as in 1952.

Private observers, however, think it will depend on (1) general business conditions, and (2) Congress. They note that federal rent control is due to end April 30. Public Housing drop. Building materials may be even more plentiful. Interest rates are seen creeping upward.

Prices of farm real estate man continue upward, but at a lower pace, according to the Institute of Farm Brokers.

Commercial construction may jump by one-fourth. Public utilities construction, school building, highway work, military and naval installations are all on the boom chart.

... David G. Bareuther

EDUCATION will continue to wage a losing battle against new enrollments, overcrowded classrooms, shortages in teachers and inflated dollars. More than 500,000 youngsters will attend double sessions or other make-do arrangements at the elementary level, with growing signs of similar difficulties at the secondary school level. This despite the fact that state and local units will pour 370 million more dollars into schools this year than last, according to the National Education Association and U. S. Office of Education.

Great emphasis will be placed on the recruitment of teachers and in improving the preparation of teachers in the universities and colleges.

... David Taylor Marke

TELEVISION is on the boom again. It's due to revival of the licensing and construction of new stations, the first of which are going into areas which have not had television.

Appearance of so many new stations cannot but help influence the sales of receivers. This already has been noticed, with manufacturers anticipating their best record yet in 1953. They hope to be able to turn out around 6,000,000 sets to bring the nation's total well along toward 30,000,000.

HOLLYWOOD looks forward to 1953 with the same cautious optimism of recent years. Postwar years have been rocky for the film industry. The battle for the entertainment dollar has been a tough one, with inflation and television as the chief adversaries. But the movie industry manages to smile and survive, despite the prophets of doom.

Hollywood's take is nothing like the wartime boom, but profits should remain on an even keel in 1953.

It's doubtful if 1953 will see any marriage of the big film companies and television, shotgun or otherwise. The movie minds are still skeptical about how TV can pay for the enormous cost of running big film studios.

ALTHOUGH there have been many dire predictions recently about the future of the legitimate theatre on Broadway, a round-up of plans for the coming year indicates that "the fabulous invalid" will again take on new life. Gay musicals amid historical scenes dominate the categories now promised at this early stage.

Local Woman Dies From Burns Sustained New Years Day

Mrs. Saylor made her home with her foster daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cox, South Phelps Avenue. She resided in a small apartment at the rear of the garage at the Cox home. When Mrs. Cox took breakfast to her mother, about 8 a. m. Thursday, she found her lying on the floor, her clothes smoldering. She was unconscious and was rushed to Littlefield Hospital in an ambulance, where doctors said 75 percent of her body was burned. Cause of the fire was not determined because the only fire found in the house, was a small enclosed heater. Mrs. Saylor was born October 6, 1873 near Lawrence, Kansas. She resided at Grainola, Oklahoma for approximately 35 years, and moved here with her daughter, about one and one-half years ago. She had been in ill health a number of years.

Insecticides and Herbicides

Which is the greater hazard— insects or insecticides?

Alarmists are telling the American people that insecticides are greater danger. They claim—and they're getting a lot of space in the newspapers and magazines—that we're being poisoned by new chemicals.

This problem was pointed out recently by Dr. Edward F. Knippling, president of the American Association of Economic Entomologists. Dr. Knippling maintains that such fears result from cases where insecticide were misused, with no regard for recommendations of entomologists. The toxic hazard of any chemical is in direct proportion to how it is used, he claims.

Federal and Texas Department of Agriculture entomologists are aware that they must never underestimate their responsibility to the public in seeing that insecticides are used safely. When a new chemical is developed, they assume it is potentially hazardous to man and animal until adequate investigations prove otherwise. When tests are completed then recommendations are made for the safest methods of application.

When we consider that insecticides are man and crop savers rather than man and crop killers, it calls for an entirely different outlook on the insect control chemicals. We must realize that many diseases are transmitted by insects. Millions of dollars worth of crops are destroyed yearly by other types. Effective control programs, carried out through proper use of insecticides, then, are invaluable.

But there is another phase of Texas Department of Agriculture control work carried out by which is something confused with insect elimination. This is the regulation by law of hormone-type herbicides.

Herbicides, such as 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T, are used primarily in the eradication of weeds and brush. These herbicides are NOT poisonous, although their used is controlled by Texas Herbicide Law, House Bill 59 (1951). This law is designed to protect crops which are susceptible to the chemical.

Hormone-type herbicides differ from insect poisons in that they energize a broad-leaf plant, causing it to "grow itself to death." Careless use of the chemical can cause severe damage to crops such as cotton. Because of this, permits for its use must be obtained from the department in Austin. Officials act as advisors in chemical application and also estimate the value of crops accidentally damaged for future settlement.

The worth of herbicides, like insecticides, is only as great as its effective use makes it. It can be a boon to agriculture when used properly, or a disaster when misused. Farmers who wish to take full advantage of the chemical are urged to obtain complete information on herbicides and pesticides by writing John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

INCOME TAX PAYMENTS DUE THIS MONTH FOR MANY

Some Texans who settle back comfortably and wait for March 15th to roll around before doing anything about their Federal income tax may be in for a rude surprise, lawyers say. For, although the instructions and forms recently mailed to each taxpayer do not mention the fact, for practical purposes January 15th, rather than the March deadline, is the last day of grace for many individuals.

This is due to the Federal laws requiring certain persons to file Declarations of Estimated Income Tax—or the pay-as-you-go plan. Under those laws several million people are required each year to estimate their total annual income in advance, making quarterly tax payments based upon such estimates. The final quarterly payment for 1952 is due on or before January 15th 1953.

A declaration must be filed by every citizen or resident who receives annual wages (subject to withholding) in excess of $4500, plus $600 for each exemption claimed.

For example, a single person with no dependents who received wages in excess of $5100 is required to file a declaration. If he has one additional exemption, he need not file unless his wages exceed $5700 during 1952. This latter figure would also apply to a married couple without dependents filing a joint return.

In other words, the amount goes up $600 for each exemption the taxpayer is entitled to claim, including any exemptions for age or blindness.

A Declaration of Estimated Income Tax must also be filed by any person with annual income from sources other than wages (subject to withholding) in excess of $100. Of course, individuals whose income did not exceed $600 during 1952 need not file, even though no tax has been withheld.

Those falling into the required category who have failed to file declarations at quarterly intervals during 1952 may make amends by filing either a final declaration or an income tax return by January 15th. At the same time they should pay any balance of tax owed the government on their entire 1952 income.

Now, if paying the entire balance of your tax prior to January 15th is going to be a difficult matter, due to a quirk in the tax laws you may be able to avoid penalties by paying at least 8 per cent of your tax at that time and the remaining balance by March 15th. This would involve filing both a

Some Hints For Tidelands Investigators

Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, who gained fame as a crime investigator, now says he wants an investigation of the tidelands ownership question before Congress acts on it. The matter already has been examined at length by Congress and to the apparent satisfaction of both House and Senate. Twice they voted bills to block federal seizure of the offshore oil lands and confirm state ownership of them, but both times the bills were vetoed by President Truman. Kefauver's present proposal smacks more of the tactics of a defense lawyer seeking delay than of purposeful investigation.

But if such an investigation is ordered, we hope it will be a real one. We hope it will dig deeply into the Texas case and supply the answers to several questions concerning it.

One is whether the federal government, in seizing the tidelands, is violating an agreement made in good faith at the time Texas entered the Union. We know what the answer to that one will be if a fair, unbiased examination of the question is made.

Another question which well could be explored is whether Texas was denied its "day in court" when the Supreme Court decided that Texas somehow lost the tidelands—in spite of an express agreement to the contrary—when it became a state. It is to be remembered that Texas was denied the right to present any evidence in the case when it was heard by the Supreme Court. Attorney General Daniel and his associates had gathered a mass of historical evidence as to the agreement between the United States and the Republic of Texas and what those on both sides who had a hand in making the agreement understood it to mean.

The Supreme Court said in its opinion that it was customary in disputes between states or between the federal government and a state to permit all evidence bearing on the issue to be fully presented. This did not do in the Texas case, it explained, because the necessity for it was removed by the holding that Texas entered the Union on an equal footing with the existing states. Since it previously had held that the states existing at the time did not own their offshore lands, the court held there was no need to hear evidence on the Texas claim to ownership.

It then was pointed out that nowhere in the annexation resolution passed by Congress and accepted by Texas was there any mention of equal footing. Taking note of its error, the court modified the language of its opinion but did not alter the effect of its decision.

This wiped out the ground on which Texas was denied the right to present evidence but no opportunity to exercise that right was given. Texas thus was left with the justifiable feeling that the issue was judged without a full and fair hearing.

If Senator Kefauver is bent on investigation and wants to see that justice is done, these are questions he might look into.

Public Health At Higher Level

Death won't cloud holiday festivities in as many Texas homes this year as in seasons past.

By and large, public health is at a higher level today than ever before, statistics compiled by the State Department of Health show. "The result is that more persons are alive to be with their children, for maternal deaths have been reduced by 88 per cent in the last 15 years. And more children are alive and vital, anticipating the second day we call Christmas, because infant deaths have been cut by 46 per cent.

Life is longer today than ever before, not just in Texas but the nation over. It used to be that a man of 50 years was in his twilight years. Today a 50-year-old man is merely middle aged.

"We take a lot of pride in our progress," State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox said, "but there is no end to improvements yet to be made. It's always this way when you deal with the problems that control the health of people."

Dr. Cox, who has been directing the state health program since 1936, is fond of pointing out that "health is a purchasable commodity."

His tenure has brought the construction of more facilities for public health than any other combination of preceding administrations. Pursuing a policy of decentralization, 47 local health center buildings have been built and stopped throughout the state.

One of the most striking gains has been made against typhoid fever. Deaths due to this cause have been cut 98 per cent in the last decade. A reduction of 95 per cent has been registered against diphtheria, 64 per cent against tuberculosis, and 96 per cent against pellagra.

back to Broadway after eight years absence from the stage, part of which time had been spent in Hollywood. For her return to the theatres where she had always played a young girl on the verge of falling-in-love parts, she chose a more mature role. In Terence Rattigan's hit play, "The Deep Blue Sea," she plays a matron who falls hopelessly in love with a much younger man.

Helen Hayes won cheers for her starring role in Mary Chase's new comedy hit, "Mrs. McThing," and, as the year closed, she was preparing to take the play on a coast to coast tour.

Tripping upon an almost forgotten comedy by Bernard Shaw, "The Millionaire." Katherine Hepburn won a mixture of cheers and boos for the bouncing, tumbling, athletic performance she gave this role which had short life on Broadway.

Of the new faces among the ladies, about the only youngster who won resounding cheers on the musical stage with her performance was Elaine Malbin in the leading role of the lyrical "My Darling Aida." Possessed of an excellent soprano voice, which has won her overtures from the Metropolitan Opera, her Aida role seems to have set her on her way upwards.

PARENTS OF A DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Keefer, Jr., of near Anton are announcing the birth of a daughter, weighing 8 pounds and 7 1/4 ounces born at Lubbock Memorial Hospital, Wednesday December 31. The father is a farmer.

Shirley Booth who won five stage awards two seasons ago for her performance in the leading role of "Come Back, Little Sheba," returned this year to enhance that record with a triumph in "The Time of the Cuckoo." This is a cheerful, heartwarming play about an American school teacher who goes to romantic Venice to find love before it is too late for her.

Two women foreign stars also had Broadway audiences tossing bouquets at them this past season. Madeleine Renaud and her husband, Jean-Louis Barrault—who are sort of an Alfred Lunt-Lynn Fontanne team of the Paris stage—brought their French Acting Company for an extended season.

Pat Pattison To Be Speaker At Booster Club Banquet Honoring Post Antelopes

Coach Pat Pattison, mentor of the State Championship Lubbock Westerners and former member of the Coaching Staff of Littlefield Wildcats, is scheduled as the featured speaker at the Booster Club Banquet to be held tonight (Thursday) in honor of the Post Antelope footballers at Post.

Throughout the year the club provided programs for home games, cars for football players to near-by out-of-town games. Two special busses were also provided the boys to farther games. The club also sponsored chartered busses for fans to two games.

Officers to head the club in 1953 are to be named at the banquet, the outgoing president said.

RANCH STYLE

Spread of the casual and ranch house ideas in architecture is making the new Sintex ranch style shirt a favorite for men's everyday wear. The napped woven-through plaid lends a warm outdoorsy look, but the winter cotton fabric makes it temperature-right for regular indoor wear.

Regular Checkup By Your Doctor Is Advisable

If you have not had an audit made recently of your physical assets and liabilities, go to your doctor now and have it done, is the advice of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, to grown-ups in Texas. It is quite as important to check up on your physical resources as it is to look into the state of your financial possessions. By regular care under your physician's directions, you can conserve your physical assets and avoid an accumulation of destructive liabilities.

Everyone starts with a certain amount of physical capital and as a personal business proposition it is worthwhile to preserve. In infancy and childhood our physical resources, as a rule, are safeguards for us. As we grow older, the responsibility for doing so rests upon the individual. The critical period for many comes in middle life with the sudden realization that the physical capacity is yielding diminishing returns in the way of physical well being.

The records of health departments and of insurance companies show that from 10 to 15 years have been added to the average length of life. But the same records show that a majority of the deaths are due to the degenerative diseases of middle age.

Nearly all of these diseases have slow beginnings and their onset discovered through physical examinations before they have gained serious headway. Early detection, adjustment of physical expenditures and better budgeting of activities under a physician's direction will help shift the balance from the unfavorable to the favorable side of the ledger.

Mrs. Mattie Kirkland has returned home after spending four weeks in Birmingham, Alabama visiting with her sisters and brothers.

German Truck Drivers Receive Citations

NEW YORK (AP)—The 12 drivers of trucks carrying brandy for a German concern apparently are not tempted by their cargo because all recently received awards for sober and careful driving. It has been reported here.

The trucks carry 10,000 gallons of 8-year-old German Uralt brandy made by the Asbach & Co., of Ruedesheim-on-Rhine near Wiesbaden. The awards were made by Germany's equivalent of America's National Safety Council created to encourage accident prevention.

GLASS FACT

The Roman historian, Pliny, believed that the first man-made glass was the accidental result of a fire built on the beach by Phoenician mariners (about 10,000 B. C.). The terrific heat of the fire had caused sand, soda and potash (from burned wood) to blend into a substance which was found hard and sparkling in the sand.

Eskimo Scouts Guard Asia's Approach

By LACHLAN MACDONALD
(Written for AP Newsfeatures)

TENT CITY, Fort Richardson, Alaska — At villages along the Alaska coast and on islands in the Bering Sea a race of hardy men are guarding the vital approaches to our northern defenses.

The story of their devotion to a nation most of them have never seen was revealed at the annual 15-day training encampment of the Alaska National Guard.

The men are the Eskimo Scouts. Their job—security of a vast territory ringed by ice-laden seas on the threshold to Asia.

These scouts report ship movements and aircraft seen in the vicinity of their villages, investigate the presence of strangers in their Arctic land, and assist in rescues. For much of their work they are unpaid and unknown except to those military offices who rely on them for information and security.

Hunters On the Watch

As the Eskimo guardsmen hunt and fish they criss-cross the tundra and the coastal waters. The fisherman seeking halibut and sculpin, or seals, is in constant alert. Hunting parties in quest of caribou, polar bear and walrus serve as irregular patrols against uninvited intruders. Nothing escapes the notice of the Eskimo hunter.

Each passing plane is reported by "mukluk telegraph" until it reaches the proper authority. Rifle shots heard by Selawik guardsmen, near Nome, launched a search up an ice-laden river to find and rescue a severely ill woman and her two daughters. The same unit received commendation for saving their village last autumn by volunteering to fight a forest fire.

Professional soldiers at Fort Richardson, have high praise for the scouts. Companies of the First Scout Battalion present at the camp represented men from Barrow, Nome, St. Lawrence Island, and other widely scattered Alaska towns. For some it was their first visit to a city of a large military post.

But Some Have Traveled

Others, from tiny isolated villages, amazed local military personnel by revealing that they were accomplished travelers. One of these is Second Lt. Timothy Gologergen, Commanding officer of the First Scout Battalion units located at St. Lawrence Island. In ESKIMOS of the First Scout Battalion, Alaska National Guard, take to Army chow.

World War II Lt. Gologergen traveled around the world as an enlisted man in the Army, returning to his island home to become one of three school teachers in the town of Savoonga (population 200 families).

Lt. Gologergen told how his unit arranged to attend the training camp. "The whole village of Savoonga took an active interest in our departure. The island is too far for small planes and big planes can't land there this time of year; so we decided to hike 65 miles to the airfield at North East Cape. We planned for two weeks and then started out. We always chip in when something has to be done for the benefit of our village and our participation in the encampment was something all villagers considered important."

He told how 13 civilians volunteered to accompany the dog teams on the two-night trek through mountains. It snowed as they set out in sleds loaded with duffel and equipment, then began to rain. Long after mid-night they found themselves pushing the sleds over rocks and sand along unnamed beaches. During the second night crack shot Pfc. Leslie Immingun spotted and killed a seal with one shot from his .25-35 rifle. (Scouts are equipped with Model 1903 Army rifles but prefer their own weapons for hunting.)

Dogs Will Meet Plane
"When we get back to Nome on the Air Force C-119 I will send a message to Savoonga and the villagers will get the dogs and go to meet us wherever ye land in the C-47 shuttle plane," Lt. Gologergen said.

Then he told how the villagers took over guard duty while the scouts went to camp. Guards are on duty around the clock at posts ranging up to eight miles from the village. They demonstrate again the Eskimo's eagerness to work, their ability to survive, and fight, in the Arctic.

As hunters they have learned patience. Sgt. Armond Brower of Barrow describes seal hunting, an art practiced to perfection by people who live off the land where others would perish.

How to Shoot Seals

"I wait by the seal hole where he comes up to breathe. Sometimes it is a long wait before you hear the first cautious breath. The vent in the ice is very tiny and the seal cannot be seen. When he breathes I move. He cannot hear me because he is breathing, so my timing must be exact. A seal breathes eight or nine times before he dives again so I have to move fast. I point my rifle at the thin ice and fire down when he breathes again, then plunge my barbed seal hook into him and pull him up."

How well hunting stealth fits in with Army training is told by Maj. Raymond E. Johnson, Army Instructor, Second Scout Battalion, with headquarters at Bethel. (Diphtheria epidemic in the Kuskoquim River area prevented the Second Scout Battalion from attending the encampment.)

"The units at Napakiak and Napakiak on the Yukon River were formed only last spring," Maj. Johnson said. "Twenty men from Napakiak carried out a night raid on the other village last month. They demonstrated clearly their ability to infiltrate and capture the other town without incident. All guard members of Napakiak were rounded up and 'executed' with blank ammunition to demonstrate the success of the raid."

Scouts Disprove Skeptics
Within a relatively short time the scouts have proven themselves against critics who had declared the Eskimo would not eat Army food and accept discipline.

"The Alaska National Guard is the best thing in the World for native Alaskans," says Capt. (Chaplain) Percy Ipalook of Kotzebue. "The discipline acquired by guardsmen during training is wonderful. They are as good soldiers as any commanding officer would want."

Capt. Hunter G. Harbison, Army Instructor at Nome, told of a night attack by Nome guardsmen camped at Dexter. "The men took to this training with a lot of enthusiasm and with no record for personal comfort and finally had to be called in for their own good."

M/Sgt. Bill Crawford, one of the regular Army Instructors who has worked with men of the Alaska National Guard through several encampments, says: "I'll go with the scouts any time. They're the best of the lot."

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Fox spent from Friday until Tuesday in Dallas, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls. They visited Mr. Fox's mother, Mrs. Rosa Fox, his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Fox.

Wanda Gage and Robert Paul Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony Friday January 2nd, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, Miss Wanda Gage became the bride of Robert Paul, at the home of the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McWilliams, 821 West 3rd Street.

Dr. Weldon B. Meers, pastor of Missionary Baptist Church performed the double ring ceremony in front of a background of white chrysanthemums and tiered candleabra.

Kay Gage, niece of the bride lighted the candles. She wore a dress of pale yellow nylon over white.

Organ music was furnished by Miss Patsy Jones of Lubbock, who played "Because" during the ceremony. She also rendered traditional wedding marches.

For something new was her dress; something old was an heirloom lace handkerchief, belonging to a friend; for something borrowed was the Bible, and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Miss Jean McKowan of Slaton was maid of honor and she wore a pale green silk shantung ballerina length gown, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Serving as flower girl was little Glenda McWilliams niece of the bride who wore pale blue nylon over satin.

This year thanks to new water-shedding fabrics and the ingenuity of certain designers, you'll go down to the sea in dressmaker costumes.

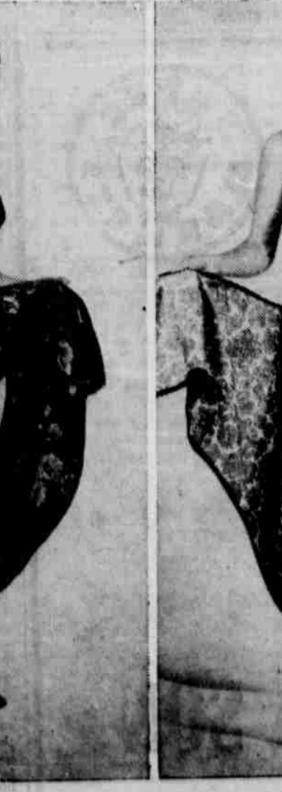

The beach ensemble is the new big noise in resort wear, consisting of a carefully fitted swim suit in a gay printed fabric and a matching tie-skirt, you are properly clad for country club terrace or dance floor. Without it, you are ready for the briny deep.

The new fabrics dry so quickly and smoothly that it's perfectly possible to wear the suit for a swim, dry in the sun and then put on the skirt to go and lunch decorously in the patio, looking properly dressed for the afternoon.

Most people have found that life at a resort hotel is simplified considerably if they don't have to interrupt the day's swimming and sunning to change for lunch, and then change again for the afternoon swim.

The ensemble is the answer, and a designer who has worked it out in flattering and practical details Frances Sider, who shows a series of suit-and-skirt combinations in her current collection. The suits, of course, all have the built-in foundations that mold the figure to bathing beauty lines.

Frances also has a line of "sun body" suits with complete built-in bra and panty girdle, for complete control, and shows beach cover-ups in striped and plain terry cloth.
