

Best Cattle Featured

The cattle are the wildest and fiercest of any ever assembled at this rodeo, and that is the reason bulls are used in the riding event.

A thrill-packed event from finish. The start is when the animal is ushered from a chute by a hopeful rider perched on the charging beast.

Age is just as important as for the rider, and agility runs third in the qualities essential contestants in this contest, because one of the most dangerous rodeo bill of fare.

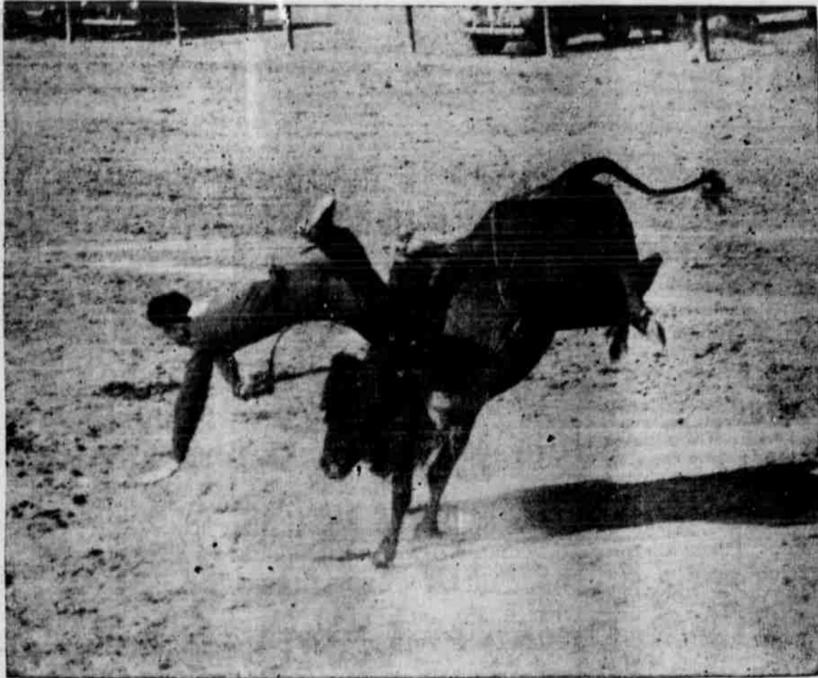

A Brahma bull has no equal in bulldozing a rider; and, un-horse, the Brahma is not with merely unseating the animal likes to add insult and if the rider is not tough to make his get-away, he is likely to be gored or trampled by a enraged animal.

The rider is on his own from the time he sails into the arena on the back of the bull. There are the clowns to lend a hand when he gets into trouble. If a bull turns on an under, the clown attracts attention of the bull when the fallen rider is in his feet and races to the arena wall.

The clown gets into trouble while the life of the rider, it is just a matter of time. But the clown usually makes care of himself as he is the art of deception on the rodeo.

Other event are thrills and excitement as in the bull riding. The clown creates the fun, at the expense of the bull.

Thrills, Chills and Spills

For downright excitement, for those breath-taking moments, the Littlefield JayCee Rodeo is highly and justifiably recommended. Last year's Rodeo was a "lalapalooza." "This year's entertainment promises to be a "phantasmagoria" . . . and that ain't peanuts. Don't miss the Littlefield Rodeo, July 25, 26 and 27.

Calf Roping Event Is One Of Most Highly Competitive Of Rodeo Events

The calf roping event is one of the most highly competitive in the rodeo, and there is real money at stake as the cowboys and their horses team up to see which can rope and tie a bawling calf in the shortest time.

Man and horse are rivals in the bronc riding events, but they are teamed together against the calf in the hoping contest. Here you witness a contest that has its practical use on the ranches. The roping of cattle on the ranches is almost an everyday chore for the cowboys, and the rider and roping horse must work together.

A good roping horse is the pride and joy of the cowboy. The amateur rodeo fan can quickly learn how to pick a seasoned roping horse in action.

The contest begins as the calf crosses the starting line in front of the chutes. Then the rider and horse rush in pursuit, the horse keeping as close as possible on the heels of the calf, which often runs a zig-zag course.

The lariat comes to life as the roper twirls it several times overhead and then lets it fly toward the racing calf. A loose noose falls over the neck of the animal and the roper begins to dismount even before his horse comes to a stop. The rope tightens and the good roping horse keeps it tight as the roper races to the calf.

The next problem of the roper is to throw the animal to the ground and tie three legs securely in a fashion accepted by the judges, who make examination to see that a good job of tying has been done.

Should the calf be down when the roper get to it, he must let the animal up and then throw it by sheer strength.

Each roper must have neck rein or strap around horse's neck, adjusted to prevent dragging the calf. If roper's horse drags calf he will be penalized 20 seconds.

The roper is required to use two loops, and if he should fail to catch his calf on the second try he must retire from the arena with "no time." In the opinion of the judges, any roper failing to make an honest effort with loops will be disqualified in all events for the remainder of the show.

The competition is great in the calf roping event because of the large number of ropers who enter. Entry fees are the highest of any rodeo events.

Chevrolet Will Erect Fabricating Plant At Cleveland

A new parts fabricating plant devoted exclusively to the manufacture of Chevrolet parts to supply assembly plants and service parts warehouses throughout the country will be erected in Parma, a Cleveland (Ohio) suburb, it was announced here today by Nicholas Dreystadt, Chevrolet general manager and vice-president of the General Motors Corp.

The new unit in the nation-wide Chevrolet manufacturing system will occupy 1,325,000 square feet. Construction is expected to begin immediately.

"When in full-scale operation, the new parts plant will employ approximately 5,000," Mr. Dreystadt said. "Employment will be on a gradually expanding basis as the plant moves toward capacity output."

"Selection of Cleveland was made in consideration of the city's strategic central location, since this unit will supply assembly plants from coast to coast. Excellent shipping facilities and an adequate labor sup-

Miss Davenport And Jerry Angeley Married July 4

Miss Sybil Davenport, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kelley, and Jerry Angeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Angeley, all of Earth, Texas, were united in marriage July 4, 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heberer, with Rev. Hugh F. Blaylock officiating.

Rev. Blaylock read the double ring ceremony while the couple stood on the front steps of the house. Tall baskets of orange gladioli were on each side of the door. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Theron Davenport of San Marcos. Mrs. Rex Angeley was matron of honor and Rex Angeley was best man.

The bride wore a white waffle crepe two piece suit with brown accessories. She carried a bouquet of orchid and yellow gladioli.

The bride's mother wore a navy bridress with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother also wore a navy dress.

A reception was held after the ceremony. The table was decorated with blue delphiniums and pink snapdragons. The new couple cut the three-tiered cake, which had a miniature bride and groom on it, after which La Juana Kelley presided. Miss Natalie Angeley presided at the punch bowl, and Miss Glenna Belle Roberts was at the bride's book.

Steer Wrestling Provides Big Thrills For Spectators; Calls For Maximum Amount of Skill on Part of Cowboy

Agility, brawn and perfect timing are all prerequisites in the art of steer wrestling, a rodeo event that provides ample thrills for the spectators and requires a maximum amount of skill on the part of the cowboy.

To do this job the contestant must swing from his fast moving horse onto the back of the startled, snorting steer. The wrestler must be in position to grab the animal by the horns and bring the stubborn beast to a halt through the medium of bracing his feet against the arena tan bark.

Then comes the real task—twisting the steer's neck until the animal falls to the ground. This is no small task and it takes a number of combined qualities for a man to become a champion in this field of endeavor.

Each wrestler, as he rides to make his jump to a steer, is accompanied by a hazer whose duty it is to haze the opposite side of the steer as an aid in maneuvering the animal into position for the catch.

And to start this body-bruising event the steer is released from the chute and belongs to the wrestler the minute he crosses the deadline. This is a twisting contest and the steers must be thrown by hand; the wrestler must first stop the steer and then bring him to earth.

From the point of view of the judges a steer is down when he is lying flat on his side, all feet out and head straight. Thirty seconds will be added to the time of any contestant who lets his steer up before being given the signal from the field judges.

If a wrestler loosens or knocks off horns he is penalized twenty seconds and if he is not ready to take his steer in turn a ten second fine will be added to his time.

When the wrestler has nabbed his steer, the hazer must retire at direction of field judge. If the contestant jumps and misses his steer, he will be allowed only the aid of his hazer in catching and re-mounting his horse. The steer must be caught from a horse.

"Not Responsible For Wife's Debts"

A young man came rushing into the Clarion office the other day and wanted me to print an ad—"right quick"—saying he won't be responsible for his wife's debts from now on, as he's leaving her for good immediately.

I allowed as how the forms were all closed up, and it was too late to take his ad. He says: "All right, Monday then"—and we agreed on Monday.

Of course, the forms weren't closed. But I had kind of an inkling of what might happen. Then Sunday he phones me, and says, kind of sheepishly: "You can forget that ad. Me and the missus have everything all patched up. And we're having a friendly glass of beer, right now."

From where I sit, if you give folks time enough to think things over, those hasty quarrels that come so often from misunderstanding will give way to tolerance and common sense.

Conservation Meeting To Be Held At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Louis Bromfield, nationally known author and lecturer, will speak on soil conservation at a meeting in the Senior High school auditorium in Lubbock, Nov. 13. The week rally will be one of six to be sponsored over the state by the Burlington Lines and by the Second National Bank of Houston.

Owner of a model farm, Bromfield has written a number of books with soil conservation as the central theme. In addition to his talk in Lubbock, Bromfield will speak at rallies in Corsicana, Nov. 10; Fort Worth, Nov. 11; Amarillo, Nov. 12; Wichita Falls, Nov. 14; and Abilene, Nov. 15. He will be one of about 100 executives and industrial leaders of the nation who will travel over the state on a special Burlington train.

Local committees are being organized among women's garden club groups and kindred organizations and in the several conversation districts throughout the Texas territory included in the tour, to work out detailed plans for afternoon and evening meetings in each of the six cities named.

Burlington and the Houston bank sponsored a similar tour last January. Because of the gratifying results, a much broader soil conservation and agricultural development program was decided upon.

INFORMATION For Veterans

The Veterans Administration has advised World War II veterans in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi to pay their GI insurance premiums by draft, personal check or money order rather than by direct cash remittances.

Remittances by draft, check or money order should be made payable to the Treasurer of the United States. Premiums may be mailed to Collections Unit, Insurance Service, VA Branch Office No. 10, 1114 Commerce, Dallas 2, Texas.

An oil emulsion designed to immobilize bacteria in tuberculosis wards and hospitals is being studied in an intensive "pilot" test in a Veterans Administration hospital.

The test is a follow-up of observations made by the Army and Navy in experimental studies carried on during World War II.

Blankets, bed linens and floors have been treated with a highly-refined mineral oil, trapping settling bacteria and preventing their recirculation by air currents within patients' rooms, VA said.

The oil must not be perceptible to sight or touch, or produce skin irritation through contact. It must not create a fire hazard or an additional laundering problem, VA said.

VA also is studying methods of killing trapped bacteria with chemicals and drugs. Results so far, have been generally disappointing, it was said.

Paralyzed and tubercular patients in VA hospitals may now study educational courses while they are bedridden by flashing microfilmed pages of textbooks on the ceilings over their beds with special projectors.

The new program is a feature of VA's Educational Retaining, Medical Rehabilitation Service. VA has microfilmed 32 manuals from the 200 courses used in the educational therapy program to launch this project.

The subjects range from grammar through physics and electric refrigeration. A number of books on the establishment and operation of small businesses also are included.

Care of the Teeth Should Not Be Neglected Says Cox

The fact that dental decay may occur in the mouth of the average person, despite proper home care given the teeth, does not lessen the importance of brushing the teeth and massaging the gums daily, nor does it minimize the need for a cleaning and inspection of the teeth twice a year by the family dentist. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that the lack of these measures gives added power to germs that attack the enamel of the teeth and gum tissues.

"If, despite the practice of proper oral hygiene, decay is suspected or teeth are injured in any way, the thoughtful person will seek the dentist's office promptly for the necessary corrective work," Dr. Cox said.

"It is surprising, though, even in these days of comparatively painless dentistry, that so many persons neglect to have their dental defects corrected, because they foolishly fear the discomfort they might experience in the dentist's chair," said the state health officer. "There are others who having lost a tooth or several teeth make no effort to obtain replacements. Apparently they believe they can get along without them. Reduced masticating power, the annoyance and sometimes actual discomfort of chewing hard substances on the exposed gums, and crooked teeth are some of the possible consequences of gaps in the teeth."

Dr. Cox advised those who are interested in experiencing the best dental and bodily health possible, to give daily attention to their mouth and visit the dentist twice each year, and promptly seek the dentist's services should decay or other suspicious conditions arise between the periodic visits.

"In short," Dr. Cox declared, "successful mouth hygiene means not only intelligent personal daily application of prophylaxis but complete and timely cooperation with the family dentist as well."

Miss Betty Cowan left Friday for Vernon to visit a friend, Miss Juanel Pendergrass for a week.

Questions And Answers For Veterans

Q—Does my right to obtain a guaranteed loan continue indefinitely?

A—No, but you have until 10 years after the official termination of World War II.

Q—Are there any charges for guaranteeing or insuring a GI loan?

A—No Commission, brokerage and similar charges may not be legally made against the veteran for securing a guaranteed or insured loan. Of course, customary out-of-pocket fees usually borne by the borrower, such as appraisal, title examination fees and other costs and expenses incident thereto, may be charged against the veteran by the lender, the same as against all borrowers.

Q—What will happen if I do not make my loan payments?

A—That depends upon the terms of your loan, the attitude of the lender and the laws of the State where the veteran and security are located. If payments are not made when due, the loan is in default and the lender may take such action as is provided in the loan agreement and is permitted by the state law and by the regulations for guaranty and insurance of loans.

Q—Does Veterans Administration make loans or find a lender for me?

A—Veterans Administration does not make loans, nor does it find a lender for the veteran. VA is not permitted to make loans. Within the limitations established by law, it guarantees or insures the repayment of a part of the loans made by lenders to veterans. In addition, Veterans Administration pays the lender as a credit on the loan 4 per cent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. The veteran is not required to repay this amount.

Review On New Cotton Poisons

They're still in the experimental stage, not on the market in commerce, and much research remains to be done — but USDA scientists believe they may have something in new insecticides for the control of cotton insects.

They are benzene hexachloride and chlorinated camphene.

Results to date indicate that these new chemicals may be much more effective than any of the standard ones now in use.

A mixture of benzene hexachloride which contains 5 per cent of what is known as "gamma isomer" has proved deadly to the boll weevil and cotton aphid, but not the bollworm. This is just the opposite of DDT, which takes care of the bollworm but not the aphid or weevil.

The camphene compound apparently controls all of the common cotton insects.

The USDA of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, the Texas A. & M. College Agricultural Experiment Station and other state experiment stations have been testing the products under field conditions.

One mixture which made a good showing in tests last year near Waco and College Station consisted of 5 per cent DDT, 3 per cent of the gamma isomer of benzene hexachloride and a neutral diluent. The dust was applied at the rate of 10 pounds per acre repeated every 4 to 5 days as long as the insect infestation lasted. When bollworms were present the dusting was done at the rate of 15 pounds per acre.

At Waco, where lots of insects were present, cotton treated with this mixture yielded 59 per cent more than comparable plots dusted with calcium arsenate alone. The infestation was lighter at College Station but similar results were obtained.

USDA treatments near Waco with 20 per cent chlorinated camphene produced average yields of 46 per cent above that of cotton dusted with calcium arsenate.

As things shape up now, it looks like either the benzene hexachloride-DDT combination or the chlorinated camphene will be the ticket when several kinds of insects, including the bollworm, are present. If the bollworm is not causing damage the benzene compound alone seems to get the job done.

The probable price of the new in-secticides and the comparative costs of these and calcium arsenate, DDT and other dusts now in use are not known at present and will not be until they are manufactured in volume.

Meanwhile, say Texas Extension Service entomologists, cotton farmers will do well to go ahead with the dusting materials now recommended. The new products need further testing and, even if they continue to show up well and have no harmful effects, it may be several years before they are on the market in commercial lots.

And, they add, you're wasting time if you try to remember "chlorinated camphene" and "benzene hexachloride." If and when these insecticides are offered on the market they'll have more simple trade names.

Eire Signs CARE Agreement

NEW YORK — It is now possible for Americans to send CARE food and clothing textile packages to Eire. This was announced at a press conference today by CARE's Executive Director, Paul Comly French. He stated that the agreement with CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe, Inc.) had been signed by Ireland's Deputy Prime Minister, Sean F. Lemass, in Dublin earlier this month.

Ireland is the fifteenth country to sign the CARE agreement, permitting Americans to send these non-profit food and textile packages as gifts to friends and relatives abroad. The packages are delivered duty and ration free in all countries. They can be ordered by sending $10 to CARE, New York, or to CARE offices throughout the country.

Mr. French also announced that the CARE service to England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland had been extended. It is now possible to send CARE's textile packages — a blanket, a woolen and a cotton package — to designated individuals and groups in the United Kingdom. Previously only the CARE food package could be sent to addressees there.

Just returned from a survey of CARE operations in several countries abroad, the CARE director reported that a new method of shipping and delivering CARE packages abroad was being worked out. "We have high hopes that this new system, when it is put into effect, will save valuable time in getting these much-needed packages to their ultimate destination — the tired and hungry people of Europe," Mr. French said.

CARE, approved by President Truman and the U. S. Government, accepts orders for delivery in Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Finland, France, Greece, Hungary, Ireland (Eire), Italy, Netherlands, Poland, Rumania, Germany (American, British and French zones and all Berlin) and Great Britain.

Boll Weevils Eat Up Farmers' Profits

If a farmer pulled a handful of gluttoned boll weevils out of his pants pocket instead of the cotton dollars he had expected to find, says the National Cotton Council, he would have a good example of what can happen to his 1947 cotton crop — and profits.

Unless general control measures are practiced this season, the boll weevil and other insect enemies are expected to destroy one bale of cotton out of every eight, doing over 100 million dollars' damage to the urgently needed harvest.

This heavy loss will not be spread evenly among all cotton growers, however. Farmers who use the inexpensive and effective insecticides at their disposal will harvest a high percentage of their crop.

It is the growers who leave the weevil and friends undisturbed who suffer the greatest loss — not just a proportionate share of $100,000, 000 or one bale in eight, but one-fourth, one-half, and in extreme instances almost all, of their cotton!

Though the 1947 crop is laid by over the greatest part of the Cotton Belt, what the producer does now to protect his cotton will decide the size of his harvest this fall.

Because once the crop has reached the stage in its growing cycle when bolls and squares appear, the extent to which insect pests are controlled decides how many of those bolls and squares — so rich in promise — attain maturity.

Now is the time for cotton growers to watch carefully for boll weevil infestation.

Once a week they should make an infestation count by checking 100 squares taken from top, middle and bottom branches of their plants in a diagonal line across their fields.

When 10 to 15 per cent of the squares have been punctured in low-producing fields, or 20 to 25 per cent in high-producing stands, they should begin dusting with insecticides.

By dusting with 5 to 7 pounds of calcium arsenate per acre at five to seven-day intervals, generally they can control the boll weevil and allow their crops to set.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Evitt Observe Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Evitt celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary, Sunday, July 6, 1947, at their home in Anton.

Mr. Evitt and Mrs. Evitt, who was Miss Selma Mahan, were married on July 4, 1897 at Desdemona, Texas, where they lived several years, moving to the South Plains in 1912.

They are the parents of five children, two boys and three girls, all living, and have twenty grandchildren and five great grandchildren, most of them were present for this great occasion.

A family dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour, and open house held in the afternoon from two until five o'clock. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served to about a hundred guests.

The lace covered table was centered with a lovely wedding cake, and a rainbow extended across the table, ending in gold flower holders. Other flowers decorated the rooms. As Mr. and Mrs. Evitt stood before the table, he placed the gold wedding ring upon her finger, repeating the vow made fifty years ago. The grandchildren sang, "Happy Anniversary." Pictures were made by the Steltek Studio.

Many gifts were received by the couple and were highly appreciated. Several sent gifts being unable to attend, including an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moore of Goree, Texas. Congratulations and best wishes were received from many communities.

Relatives present included the children and families: Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Dunlap, and Bobby, Ballinger; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Williams, Evelyn, Cecil Rex, and Bonnie Fae; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Evitt, Patsy, and Johnny; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Reagan, Betty, Lazey, and Arieta, all of Anton;

Rural Letter Carrier To Be Honored At Texas State Fair

The rural letter carrier — the man who moves through ice and snow in winter and the sweltering heat of summer to deliver mail to even the most isolated sections—will be honored this year by the State Fair of Texas.

W. H. Hitzelberger, executive vice president and general manager of the State Fair, announced that Oct. 5 had been set aside on the Fair's calendar as Rural Letter Carrier's Day.

"It is a privilege to honor this group," Mr. Hitzelberger said, "for their unflinching faithful service to the citizens of Texas."

Arrangements for the day are being made with Oran T. Gray of Florence, Tex., president of the Texas Rural Letter Carriers' Association, and Bun Raley of Valley Mills, Tex., editor of the organization's official organ, "The Texas Carrier." A special program is to be planned.

Mr. Evitt had been engaged in stock farming until they moved to Anton in 1934.

FREEZE TAX
Legislation freezing the social security tax for the next two years at the present rate of 1 per cent on employees and employers was passed by the Senate lately in amended form and sent back to the House.

Without the legislation, the tax rate would rise automatically next Jan. 1 to 2 1/2 per cent on each.

DESTRUCTION VS. REPRODUCTION

The summer's bitterest battle is raging today across the Cotton Belt—the struggle of the farmer to protect his cotton crop from the hungry boll weevil and other insect enemies. Multiplying with unbelievable rapidity, the boll weevil can heavily damage the crop unless controlled by insecticides, the National Cotton Council declared. The mule-drawn duster shown in the picture distributes insecticides over several rows of cotton simultaneously, but many other types of equipment are available to meet the needs of every size farm.

Los Alamos Atomic Bomb Center To Be Permanent Project

The United States is putting its atom bomb factory on a permanent basis.

This grim footnote to the long and thus far fruitless effort to set up world controls over nuclear energy came to light in an Atomic Energy commission announcement of plans to "permanentize and effectively modernize" the war-built town of Los Alamos, N. M.

The first A-bomb was made there and tested at Alamogordo, N. M., two years ago today.

The commission announcement said that Carroll L. Tyler, retired Navy captain and ordnance expert, will be in charge of the Los Alamos laboratory, "where a multi-million dollar improvement program is under way." Tyler succeeds Col. Herbert C. Gee, Army engineer who has been on loan to the commission since it took over the Army's Manhattan project at the start of this year.

Word of the Los Alamos "permanentizing" coincided with another disclosure relating to military matters. That was the Army's identification of the secret Sandia base near Albuquerque, N. M., as a unit of the little-known "armed forces special weapons project."

Virtually nothing is known of the nature of work at this project except that Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who was director of the Manhattan project when the Army made A-bombs, is associated with it.

The identification of the Sandia base — about which the Army previously had refused to talk at all — was contained in a routine announcement of command changes for various general officers.

The Atomic commission statement on plans for improving Los Alamos said that more than 1,000 new homes will be constructed along with new schools, community service, and commercial facilities, streets and utilities.

The Atomic Energy commission has declined to discuss frequent statements by scientists and public officials that the United States either has or is developing atomic bombs of tremendously greater power than the five exploded to date.

Method of Worming Hogs Outlined

Most effective and practical method of worming hogs is by feeding a mixture of one pound sodium flouride per 99 pounds of dry feed, according to John H. Baumgardner, assistant professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological college.

Feeding hogs this mixture exclusively for one day proves about 95 per cent effective, much higher than any other method, he said. If pigs are used to slop feeding, they should be given plan dry feed three or four days previous to treatment to get them used to it, he suggested.

The treatment, developed recently by the USDA, is suitable for any class hogs of any age after weaning. Baumgardner recommends that mar-

Did You Ever Hear These Expressions?
If You Haven't, Here Is a Little Help For the Novice at Rodeo Time

Did you ever hear of these before? If you haven't here is a little help for the novice at rodeo time.

Following Leather — Holding on to the saddle with the hand while riding a bucking animal, prohibited by the rules and frowned upon and scorned by the real cowboy.

Rodeo — Mexican word for roundup.

Seeing Daylight — When daylight can be seen between rider and saddle during bronc ride.

Blowing a Stirrup — Losing a stirrup which disqualifies rider.

Flagging Them In — When rider fails to scratch horse.

Bitting the Dust — No explanation really needed, you'll see lots of the riders doing this.

Bicycling — The act of scratching with first one foot and then the other in the manner of riding a bicycle.

Broomtail — A wild mare.

Dog-Fall — Putting a steer down with its feet under him. The throw is not complete until steer is flat on side with all four feet out.

Dogie — Weakling calf.

Judhead — Foolish horse.

Community Loop — Extra large loop thrown by roper.

Swallowing His Tail — Bucking.

Hazer — Bull dogger's assistant.

After bull-dogger has leaped from pony to steer the mounted hazer picks up the former's mount and also protects him from being gored when he releases steer.

High Roller — Horse that leaps high when bucking.

Pick-up Man — One of the most important persons in the rodeo. He rides along with the bronc after the ten second horn and grabs the enraged animal. He sometimes lifts the rider off the hurricane deck when the cowboy is in danger.

Sun Fishing — A bucker that twists his body in the air so that sunshine hits his belly.

Screwing Down — The act of sinking the spurs into the cinch while riding bucking horse and failing to move the feet in a kicking motion as provided by the rules.

Scratching — The act of keeping the feet moving in a kicking motion in riding bucking animals, and one of the acts necessary to win at any real contest.

Pegging — When steer wrestler sticks horns into ground. This is not allowed in bull-dogging.

Hollihanning — Leaning forward and alighting on the horns of a steer in steer wrestling in such a way as to knock the steer down without resorting to twisting the animal down with a wrestling hold. Hollihanning is barred at all Rodeo Association of American contests.

Maverick — An unbranded stray.

Hobbled Stirrups — Stirrups that are tied down under the horse's belly.

Grabbin' the Apple — When a bronc rider grabs the horn of a saddle to keep from being thrown.

Four-footing — Catching the animal by the feet with a rope in order to throw same for handling.

Bronco — A vicious, unbroken horse, a word of Mexican origin for "mean" which has been shortened to bronc in the language of the cowboy.

Buckaroo — Cowboy.

Cavy — Saddle horses on a roundup.

Calf-Roper — A cowboy, mounted on a cowpony, who ropes a calf, jumps from his horse, runs along the rope to the calf and ties the animal by three legs, against the watch.

Bucking, Buck-Jumping, Pitching — The gyrations of a bronc in trying to unseat the rider.

Bulldogging — Often termed steer wrestling; the throwing of a steer by his horns in a rodeo event, subject to rules of the contest.

Cattle-Boarding — When rider scratches back of cattle.

Chaps — The leather or hair leggings worn by the cowboy to protect his limbs from the thorns or from rain.

Coastin' — When cowboy attempts to quiet a bronc by holding his head and not spurring.

Crow-Hops — A term contemptuously applied to mild bucking motions.

Outfit — Equipment of ranchmen or rodeo contestants.

Mail Order Cowboy — A tender-foot in custom-made toggery but devoid of range experience.

Sougan — A part of the equipment of the cowboy's bed and similar to the ordinary quilt or comforter.

Tenderfoot — That's what you are if you don't know the meaning of these terms.

The presence of flea hoppers in cotton can be detected by looking for small, blackened, dead squares, less than one-fourth inch in size.

Agriculture, with more workers than any other industry, had a death rate last year of 54 per 100,000 workers, compared to the all-industry rate of only 31.

A smart practice for the poultryman is raising at least 25 more pullets than he intends to house, so he can cull out the poor birds. Poor pullets are a waste of time and money.

Rodeo Riders Wives Manage to Remain Pretty Happy Despite Big Strain On Their Nervous System and So Much Traveling

By BESS STEPHENSON

Fort Worth Star-Telegram Staff
Matrimony, as it does to most men, comes at last to most Rodeo hands. Somehow, their wives manage to be happy about it. They have no higher percentage of nervous breakdown than any other women. They can wear red fingernail polish without chewing it to polka dots and can laugh quite often.

The Rodeo cowboy doesn't draw that dull, but comforting thing called a paycheck. He gets paid if he wins. To win, he must already have put out in the form of a pretty stiff fee. This is not to mention his own and his horse's expenses in getting to the show and, very likely, his wife's and kids' expenses since Rodeo family life usually evolves about an automobile and trailer.

He's in debt to himself, in other words, before the Rodeo begins and he has a chance to win a nickel.

This would be hard on some women.

He pays his own expenses during the show, too, of course, and if he wins heavily, his wife still can't be sure of a mink coat or anything like that. As likely as not, he'll get big-hearted and lend half he makes to the boys who didn't win.

This lending around is all very business-like with the boys. They're so scrupulous about paying one another back that even a new hand in the game can borrow $10 from a winner. The winner always figures it's worth $10 to find out what kind of a guy he is.

So, it's not that he gives his money away. It's just that it may disappear temporarily.

This, too, though, would be hard on some women.

The Rodeo hand, a gambler at heart or he wouldn't be in the racket, may also be tempted at times like winning to invest his money in a dice game. It happens less often with a married man than with a single one, but it's by no means the least popular type of investment and the play, once it starts, gets somewhat reckless—always.

This would be hard on some women.

There's also the matter of being on the go all the time. The average Rodeo hand enters all the shows he can manage to get to from Denver in January to Madison Square Garden in October. This gives him and his wife and his horse a chance to gaze at more roadside billboards and memorize more Burma Shave jingles than any other group of people in America.

They usually manage to get a little ranch somewhere, bought and paid for (sometimes, it gets to be a big ranch), but it's always years before a rodeo hand will settle down for a full year at any place and give the little woman a chance to grow zinnias.

This would be hard on some women.

All these things, of course, are minor-though, if you can get in the frame of mind these days to call money a minor item in your life.

What Rodeo wives really go through that puts a strain on their nervous systems is the fact that their husbands jeopardize life and limb at every performance. The Rodeo racket is so hazardous that a cowboy has to buy an insurance salesman a drink to get even a friendly word out of him.

During the war, someone asked why a fairly healthy looking bronc rider wasn't in the Army.

"Army wouldn't have him," the answer was, "He has high blood pressure, multiple skull fractures, a broken foot that didn't set properly and besides, he's 37 years old."

The bronc rider hit the tanbark about that time with that old sound known as a dull thud. He landed on his multiple skull fractures. He wasn't out but a few seconds, though, and he rode again the next day.

His wife survived, too, but this would be hard on some women. You can't always replace a good husband, even if he leaves some insurance.

Cow Girl Sponsor Contest July 26

In connection with the JayCee's second annual rodeo, a cowgirl sponsor contest is to be held the second night of the event, July 26, opening at 8 o'clock.

This event is to select the best all-round cowgirl entered in this contest. There will be first, second and third prizes awarded, totalling $100. These contestants will be judged by out of town judges on the following points:

- 1. Western Dress . . . . . 25 Pct.
- 2. Horse and Rigging . . . . . 25 Pct.
- 3. Ability to ride and handle mount . . . . . 50 Pct.
- Total . . . . . 100 Pct.

Contestants will ride in the downtown opening parade to be held at 10 A. M. Friday morning, July 25.

Entries must be turned into Alvin C. Webb, 429 1/2 Phelps Ave., or P. O. Box 812, Littlefield, by noon, Thursday, July 24.

Minute Interviews

Major problem facing the United States is the atom and its control in the opinion of Republican Representative Donald L. Jackson, of California, above, who is quoted in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine as saying:

"The atom and its control dwarfs all other problems. Great clouds of flame, smoke and debris over New Mexico, Hiroshima, Nagasaki and Bikini formed the question for all civilization to answer. We can pass through one of two doors—leading the world to either a day of enlightenment or a day of stark disaster. An atomic-bomb race may well write finis to our civilization. We cannot enter upon a mutual suicide pact with the other nations of the earth, nor can we, in the present state of unrest, cede our deadly knowledge without assurance that the atom will be made the servant of mankind—not its master."

Farmers Warned Against Spraying Of 2-4-D Compounds

Farmers who are ridding pastures of weeds by spraying with 2-4-D compounds should exercise care in preventing the poison from drifting onto fields of broad-leaved crops such as cotton, alfalfa and clover, according to Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department at Texas Technological College.

Work at the college shows that 2-4-D drift from a power sprayer operated near the ground during a 15 mile per hour breeze had a noticeable effect on cotton as far as 800 feet away, Dr. Young said. Farmers should watch the direction and velocity of the wind while spraying and not spray if there is any question of the compound's injuring other crops, he cautioned.

Five Additions To Tech Faculty Is Announced

Five additions to the Texas Technological College faculty, including former members who are returning, have been announced by Dr. W. M. Whyburn, president.

Dr. M. A. Stainbrook, nationally known paleontologist who has been away a year, will return as a professor of geology. Dr. Byron Abernathy will return to the faculty as an associate professor of government. Dr. Abernathy went to work for the War Labor board in Dallas in 1942, later becoming vice-chairman of the regional office there. During the past year he has been associate professor of government at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio. A third addition to the regular faculty is Dr. Ida Stevenson, who will be a lecturer in history. Dr. Stevenson has taught history here during the 1946-1947 summer sessions.

Two other former faculty members will teach there during the second summer term, although they will not remain during the 1947-48 long session. Dr. D. W. Alden, member of the foreign language faculty at Princeton University, will teach French, and Dr. Alan Herr, head of the English department at Moravian College, Pa., will teach English.

Earth Citizens Approve Bonds

Earth qualified voters of the city went to the polls recently and cast an overwhelming vote of approval for the issuance of bonds to construct a municipal water works. The election, which was held in the Earth Methodist Church, carried by a vote of 69 for and 2 against the two proposals.

City officials expressed approval of the plan which will provide for a new city well, tank and water mains for the projects. A new city hall is also scheduled to be constructed.

According to Roy Neal, city secretary, there will be a slight delay in letting the contracts as the city has to secure the approval of the State Water commission before the lines can be laid in the alleys. He emphasized that the contracts will be made in the near future, however.

The election embodied two proposals for the issuance of $45,000 in bonds — one of which called for the issuance of revenue bonds in the amount of $20,000 and the other which called for the issuance of $25,000 in general obligations. The bonds will be issued by city commissioner. The commissioners are Herb Wendborn and Hudson.

"Advance-Design" Chevrolet Trucks Make Bow

The trucks that will bring true postwar design to the highways of America, Chevrolet's new "advance-design" line of commercial vehicles, will be introduced to the trucking industry June 28 by Chevrolet dealers across the country. Incorporating a variety of new features that assure greater operating efficiency, load-carrying ability and highway safety, the new trucks are said to be more rugged and durable than ever before. First units were built in Chevrolet's Janesville (Wis.) assembly plant, and were appropriately hailed. Here the "Queen of America's Dairyland," Miss Betty Gene Gardner, Ridgeway, Wis., christens the new vehicle as Gov. Oscar Rennebohm, Wisconsin's chief executive (right), and R. W. Podlesak, Janesville plant manager, look on.

There Ain't No Hoss That Can't Be Rode, There Ain't No Man That Can't Be Throwned."

There ain't no hoss that can't be rode, there ain't no man that can't be throwned." An old Western cow expression, among other earthly bits of wisdom based on solid "horse sense" is one of the reasons thousands jam turnstiles and roar arena approval each year at performances of the Second Annual JayCee Rodeo. Touch-and-go contests between top cowhands and tough outlaw horses in both bareback and saddle bronc riding, never fail to provide at least some of the thrills and chills (as well as spills.)

And spectators are keyed up each time over which part of the old adage is going to be proven in each individual contest.

The Littlefield rodeo rates high among those in the Nation as one major reason is that the audience is no tenderfoot one.

In this county of the cattle country spectators go just as wild over a good ride at the "ro-dee-o" as Texans say, as do the Brooklyn mail order cowboys and Manhattan greeners at New York's Madison Square Garden "ro-day-o" shows as the Yankees say.

But crowds here are familiar with the intricacies of rules governing the contest. They know the differences in pulling leather, blowing a stirrup, fanning, squirting, scratching and clean riding, whether on a sunfisher or a close-to-the-ground buckler.

That gives rodeo spectators here have an edge in enjoyment on the Eastern dudes, though both are equally enthusiastic about this fast-paced modern sport which had its beginnings at early day round-up among rugged range conditions and as a part of the highly important cattle drives.

Bronc busting, bulldogging, steer wrestling, calf roping and other contests which keep today's audiences in suspense are strictly cowboy contests in the arena.

Rodeo Parade Here July 25

Okay, all you cowboys and cowgirls, it's getting close to rodeo time! And one of the main attractions of this three-day western jamboree is the big parade which starts promptly at 10 a. m. Friday, July 25. Everyone who can possibly take part in the parade is urged to come out and turn loose that fundamental urge to wear high-heeled boots and ride a prancing cayuse.

All business firms are urged to have a float in the parade. First, second, and third prizes will be awarded for the best and most unique float.

Once again, the JayCees have dug in their spurs to bring Littlefield the biggest, wildest, most entertaining show from the Red River to the Border . . . So everyone show you're with 'em by setting that Stetson on your head and riding in the big parade.

Last Rites Held For H. B. Fulcher

Henry Brown Fulcher, 74, of Sudan passed away at 5:40 p. m. Saturday, July 12.

Interment, in charge of Hammons Funeral Home, took place in the Sudan Cemetery.

Mr. Fulcher was born June 28, 1873. He moved to Sudan in 1926, where he had continued to make his home.

He was survived by his wife, Mrs. H. B. Fulcher, and eight children, six sons and two daughters. The sons are: Charlie of Laferia, Texas; John of Lubbock; Rouster of Dimmitt; Aubrey of Sudan; Davis of Station, Ore., and Brewster of Sudan.

The daughters are: Mrs. Alice Rudd of Sudan, and Mrs. Del Hardy of Taos, N. M. He was also survived by 53 grandchildren and 55 great grandchildren.

Cattle Industry Was Foundation In Building Texas; Longhorns Were First Cattle of State

The cowman sits back in pride and smokes his pipe contentedly. Well he may. His profession is very old and very honorable. It dates back in good repute for thousands of years. Holy writ records the story of two patriarchs who divided up their herds and flocks and drove off in opposite directions after agreeing to differ.

The first cattle to roam the Texas prairies had their origin in Spain. They were imported to Mexico by Cortez who visioned a great empire in the new world. It was but natural that some of these animals would be driven into Texas and California, Mexico's colonies to the West. These cattle were the forerunners of the great cattle industry of Texas and the Southwest. No industry is more colorful, nor more historic. It literally built Texas, as Berta Hart Nance, Shackelford County poet wrote:

"Other states were carved or born
Texas grew from hide and horn."

The longhorn breed of early-day Texas descended from those importations from Spain through Mexico and were the same breed as that which had been bred for centuries by the Moore and Castillians. They were varied in color, tall, long and bony with coarse heads and exceptionally long horns. Their sides were flat, their backs swayed, their hips narrow and their legs long. They were wiry and rangy and thrived upon whatever herbage the climate and soil of the region afforded.

No fences interfered with the freedom of these rangy critters as they roamed the wide expanse of Texas, lands and with the years their number increased until there were thousands of them, unclaimed and unbranded. The far sighted Texan visioned an empire built on these longhorns. He helped himself to the wild herds and put his brand or mark upon the yearlings. If he had capital he hired caqueros or cowboys to round up and brand the calves in great numbers and thus many of the cattle barons of Texas were made. This was the beginning of Texas ranch life.

A few early-day settlers like some in Austin's colony brought with them some choice dairy stock from the Eastern states. But they were kept in fenced pens and were not allowed to graze on the open range. Likewise dairy cattle were brought to America by the Pilgrim Fathers and by the Virginia colonists from England. The Dutch who settled New York brought dairying cattle with them. By the end of the 18th Century the importation of dairy cattle to the U. S. ran into considerable numbers but individual holdings were small. The Texas cattle industry was something entirely different. Here again Texans were original and the industry originating in Texas slowly spread to other states in the Southwest when ranchmen pushed forward for wider range.

Though many ranchmen had accumulated large herds it was not until the first big cattle drive was made to California in 1850 to feed the Gold Rushers that far-sighted ranchmen realized the fortunes to be made in Texas cattle. Up to this time they had been selling the bulk of the animals to hide and tallow firms. The beef had been left to rot.

After the cattle drive to California, ranchmen realized that cattle could also be driven to the Eastern market. As yet no railroads had pushed into this virgin southwestern territory. The Chisholm Trail, leading from Texas to Kansas, was perhaps the most famous trail during this era and has become immortalized in song and story. Every cowpuncher has hummed the well known ditty:

"Woke up one morning on the Chisholm Trail,
With rope in my hand and cow by the tail.
Come ki-yi-yippi yippi ya, yippa ya,
Come ky-yippi yippi ya."

In 1877 "Cattle Raisers Association of Northwest Texas" was organized under an oak tree in Graham, Texas. The venerable oak still stands and is carefully tended by the citizens of Graham. Their mutual needs brought the cattlemen together. The cattle thief was enemy number one and something had to be done about it. Cattle markets were needed too as there was already a growing demand for Texas beef from all parts of the United States. The two objectives, better marketing and protection against rustlers dominated the organization meeting. Col. Kit Carter of Palo Pinto County, was the first president. Today this organization known as The Cattle Raisers Association of Texas, with headquarters in Fort Worth, has a membership of 6,000 and represents an ownership of 3,000,000 head of cattle.

This article would not be complete without a description of the Texas cowboy whom Dobie says is better known over the whole globe than any other type of life generated in America.

You'll see him in Littlefield during the JayCee Rodeo. You won't have to be told who he is. Wherever he is you'll know him. He's that tall, handsome man in big hat, polished boots and snug fitting moleskin shirt, or is the wiry cowboy in levis, scuffed boots and well rolled hat. His honest eyes twinkle from a sunburned face and when you shake hands with him you'll learn what a real handshake is. His carriage is unfettered and one knows most of his life has been lived in Gods great outdoors. His heart is as big as the country over which he rides. Look at him with pride — he and his father and his father's father, built the great cattle industry of the Lone Star State.

New GMC Truck Models Announced

Radical appearance changes plus revolutionary cab construction in the light and medium duty models and increased horsepower for the heavy duty gasoline and Diesel group highlight the many improvements in the 1947 GMC truck line announced today by the GMC Truck and Coach Division of General Motors.

The new light and medium GMCs will feature entirely restyled grille, hood and fenders, larger all-steel cabs with increased visibility and greater driver comfort, stronger front and rear axles, heavier frames and many engine improvements.

New Radiator Grille

The smart new grille assembly is rigidly mounted to the frame, instead of the sheet metal, with heavy angle braces for maximum strength. An encircling bar of heavy bumper stock projects forward from the sides and top of the grille to protect both the cross bars and fenders. The fenders are wider and heavier, with more clearance, and the headlamps and parking lamps are mounted in them. The hood, of the alligator type, is sleekly streamlined and blends with the grille and fenders to present a rugged and attractive front end design.

Mounted in 33-point suspension with rubber stabilizers, the new cabs are 3 3/4 inches longer and 9 5/8 inches wider than those of previous light and medium duty models. Of all-steel construction, they have larger weather sealed windshields, larger door and rear windows. The doors are nearly six inches wider, are of all-steel welded box construction and have concealed hinges and hold-open checks.

Greater Driver Comfort

Another feature of the new cab is the seat which is now mounted on a sturdy tubular frame, adjustable forward and back over a travel of 3 3/8 inches. The seat cushions have 73 coil springs in contrast to the pre-war 40. Each spring is individually wrapped to provide more uniform seating surface and longer seat life. The dash and toe board are of one-piece construction, welded to the cab floor and completely insulated and sound-proofed. Cab ventilation has also been improved through the installation of ventilators at the top and side of the cowl and the provision for the connection of a fresh air heating system.

In addition, the new cabs feature a dimmer switch for the lights of the newly-arranged instrument panel, a provision for radio installation, metal-framed door glass, better hardware with locked-on handles and a sealed windshield with dual wipers.

Deluxe Cabs Available

Deluxe cabs, optional on the 1/2 to 2-ton models and standard on the 2 1/2 through 3 1/2 ton GMCs, have rear quarter corner windows, an outstanding advancement in better visibility, and bright metal windshield and door moldings. A foam rubber pad for the seat cushions and heavier simulated leather upholstery are additional features of the deluxe cab provided for the 2 1/2-3 1/2-ton models.

Many improvements in the chassis of the light and medium duty models are pointed out. The clutch and brake pedals, as well as the steering column, are now mounted to the frame to lessen vibration and permit easier servicing. The clutch pedal is easier to operate and the gear ratios of the ball bearing steering mechanism have been increased. The radiator, now stabilized on a single rubber mounting, has a larger core, larger inlet and outlet connections and built-in overflow tank. A pressurized cooling system is standard on the 2 1/2-3 1/2 ton range and optional on the lighter models.

All Chassis Improved

Other important chassis improvements include a dash-mounted power shift control standard on all models employing two-speed rear axles, hypoid rear axles for 1/2 through 2-ton models, banjo type housing for the 1 through 2-ton group, larger wheel bearings and tubes on the rear axles of the 1 1/2 and 2-ton range, stronger frames for 1 through 3 1/2-ton models. Frames in the new trucks comprising the models from the 1 1/2-ton FC 300 through the 3 1/2-ton FC 470 series have a new nominal depth of 9 inches, providing a section modulus that completely eliminates the need for frame reinforcements. All have longer front springs and stronger rear springs cross members.

In powerplants, the new light and medium duty lines offer three GMC-built engines of valve-in-head design. In addition to such long-outstanding GMC features as Turbo-Top pistons, full pressure lubrication and complete cylinder cooling, the new engines have positive crankcase ventilation, two-piece exhaust valves and deep sump oil pans.

FIXING UP the HOME

By Diane Greiter

THERE'S really nothing quite so good as a well broiled steak. This method of dry heat cookery brings out the finest taste. The result should be enough to whet the appetite.

Broiling, while considered by many to be a fine art, is really very simple. There are many schools of thought; some say salt added before cooking causes loss of juice; others produce fine steaks by making a paste of salt and smearing it over the steak so thick the crust has to be broken off.

Whatever your method, be sure you have a good hot flame, with the steak nesting about two or three inches under it. If your broiler is connected to a thermostatically controlled oven, leave the oven door open so that the flame will not turn down.

A gas flame does the best job of broiling if you don't have the coils of an open campfire. The gas consumes the broiling smoke, keeps the kitchen cleaner and provides the quick, sharp heat needed. You can have a modern gas range wherever you plan to live. Outside the city you can use L.P. Gas, the modern gas fuel that is delivered in bottle-like steel cylinders or by tank truck. Consult the dealer in your community.

World peace is the most urgent problem facing the United States in the opinion of Republican Representative Claude L. Bakewell of Missouri, above, who is quoted in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine as saying:
 "World peace is the most urgent problem facing us. It will not be attained until peace treaties are signed, the United Nations proves to be an effective, workable organization, and people of the former Axis powers are started on the road to regeneration. Europe, the Middle East, the Far East, suffering in postwar devastation and starvation, are fertile fields for alien 'isms.' America must remain strong militarily, our foreign policy must transcend partisan politics and as important as all, we must be strong domestically with a sound policy of economy, prudence and thrift."

What to do with the world leadership which has been thrust upon us is the greatest problem facing the United States, in the opinion of Democratic Representative Olin E. Tegue of Texas, above, who is quoted in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine as saying:
 "What to do with the world leadership which has been thrust upon us is the most urgent problem facing the American people today. We did not seek this leadership, and it is doubtful if the average American cared whether the United States was the leader, but I believe the nation stands today at the crossroads. We must accept this responsibility or see our opportunity pass to a less desirable leader. God-fearing, God-loving peoples everywhere are praying that Americans accept it. We must be as great in peace as we were in war."

the counter" sales of surplus real estate, the War Assets Administration disposed of 92 Dalhart Army Air Field buildings recently at the rate of one every three minutes. Many of the structures will be converted into grain storage warehouses, barns and bins. The buildings were sold by the "spot bid" method instead of the usual formal, sealed bid procedure. One Dalhart grain elevator operator, bought a large warehouse for the purpose of storing 35,000 bushels of wheat.

Top preference in buying farm and construction machinery will be given World War II Veterans in two current sales ending July 28 and Aug. 6. Full details may be secured from the priority claimants division at the Grand Prairie office of War Assets Administration.

Starting Aug. 4, general hardware items, including tools, dishes, ice refrigerators and kitchen equipment, will be for sale through the Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie WAA office. All buyers may participate, it was said.

Fine Reception Given Goodwill Trippers at Amarillo and Other Points

With G. M. Shaw as Master of Ceremonies a bus loaded with goodwill trippers left Littlefield about 7:30 Thursday morning to advertise the second annual JayCee Rodeo, scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

This bus called at Dimmitt, Hereford, Canyon, Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Plainview and Floydada.

A splendid reception was received at all the cities enroute.

At Amarillo a police escort met the delegation, and roped off a block at 6th and Polk Streets, and the White Auto Company donated their radio time of 15 minutes over KGC. The president of the Amarillo senior Chamber of Commerce were among those on the reception committee.

The delegation later proceeded to the B. F. Goodrich Store, formerly Cal Farley's, and were extended more radio time, in which to advertise the Littlefield rodeo.

The goodwill boosters journeyed to Borger and Panhandle, and later back to Happy and Tulia, and were given radio time over KVOP in which to boost the local radio.

Mr. Shaw as Master of Ceremonies did a fine job of broadcasting the high spots of the coming rodeo.

Rain began to fall, which prevented the bus going on to Hale Center and Abernathy.

WIP-EE-EEE! RIDE 'EM COWBOY! BUT THAT'S EASIER SAID THAN DONE

WIP-EE-EEEE! Ride 'em cowboy! You may think it is easy to ride a bucking bronc in a saddle after you have ridden one bareback, but you are going to find out again about your native Texas cowboy life.

Expert riders will tell you that a leather seat makes little difference and indeed sometimes makes things a little harder — in spots. Saddle bronc riding furnishes a thrill to the spectators and the cause of more hard tumbles than anything else in rodeoland. The wildest ponies are chosen for the event, and they are as resentful as a modern Pearl Street party would be of a hoop skirt. The horse is saddled and mounted while still in the chute and then the gates are sprung open and the "hell" is on!

Boasting much color and action, the event is not without its danger to the contestant. A bucking bronc is like a buzz saw, and completely without manners. Its aim is to dispose of the dastardly thing by getting to its back.

The rules are simple. The saddle must not slip, and should it do so the puncher is given another ride. A halter is used, and one rein is grasped with one hand. Rein is not wrapped about the wrist and no tape is allowed on hand, rein, stirrup or boots. One hand must be free in riding. The rider must spur his mount in the shoulders as they leave the chute, and on the first three jumps. Then he must use the metal in the flank and sides.

Should the steed fall, a re-ride is necessary for completion of the bout. A horse which fails to buck after usual effort on part of the puncher is disqualified, and another mount is furnished.

Rule distractions on which the cowboy may be disqualified are failing to appear when he is called; losing footing in stirrup; failing to hold rein in manner designed by the judges; riding with rowels that would lock; not using spurs properly, holding to saddle; allowing feet to cling about animal's neck, and being thrown off, of course.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Bigham and Mrs. Bigham's brother, M. M. Cox, returned home Thursday after enjoying a week's vacation. They visited points in Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama and Louisiana. They visited a sister of Mrs. Bigham's, Mrs. Sam Karrh at Decatur, Ala.

Major problem facing the United States is that of production of goods and services in the opinion of Democratic Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, above, who is quoted in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine as saying:

"Our most urgent problem is whether management and labor can realize that our only salvation is to produce here the goods and services needed not only by our own people but also by all the peoples of the world. That means an agreement whereby production can be carried on without interruption until peace and the world economy are restored. This cannot be done through legislative action, although some remedies of abuses may be enacted. Such an agreement is fundamental. It will share our own salvation and determine whether the world is going to pot."

Meeting Opens At Springlake Church of Christ

A 10-day gospel meeting opened Friday night, July 18, at 8:30 o'clock at the Springlake Church.

Arnold Hardin, Fort Worth evangelist, will be in charge of the song services.

Services will be conducted twice daily at the Springlake Church, at 10:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend the services.

A basket lunch will be served Sunday, July 20, for all visitors. Singing is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Connie Powell and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor and family are planning on going to Holy Ghost Canyon, on the Pecos River, N. M., about Aug. 1, for a two weeks' outing.

One In 10 Horses In United States Are Under Saddle

It is estimated by some authorities that over 850,000 — about one in 10 of all equine stock in the U. S. — are in use under saddle.

Stock horses used for work under saddle in the western half of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, as well as all other states west of these constitute about half million. Riding horses of various kinds make up about 350,000, and are mainly in states east of these mentioned above. About 200,000 of these latter horses are on farms, plantations or estates, and are used for both work and pleasure. The other 150,000 are kept purely for pleasure, riding in or near cities, towns, villages and country.

Cotton Climbs to 20-Year Record Levels of 39c

Many southwest farm markets developed easy spots last week, although the general trend of most commodities continued steady to strong, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cotton climbed to twenty year record levels of around 39 cents per pound or more last mid-week, but dropped back by Friday for net losses of $3.00 to $10.00 per bale. Spot activity increased, as new crop harvest progressed well in South Texas.

Winter wheat harvest made rapid progress in the Great Plains area last week. Inadequate transportation and storage forced millions of bushels to be piled on the ground in Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas. Heavy buying for export held losses to 6 cents. Friday's price stood near $2.37 per bushel for No. 1 hard at Fort Worth and Galveston. Corn eased under favorable weather reports; and sorghums dropped 15 cents.

Rice markets held firm last week at the higher levels established after price controls ended June 30. Hay moved slowly, as most farmers produced their own, and pastures held up well. Mill feeds took a sudden upward spurt, partly offsetting recent downward trends. Peanut harvest started in South Texas, with yields low on early plantings. Texas 8-month wools began to move as 12-month clips became scarce.

Best candled eggs sold firm to slightly stronger last week. Easier undertone developed on current receipts and undergrades following government announcement discontinuing purchases of dried and frozen eggs after July. Poultry held about steady. Heavy hens sold at 23 to 25 cents per pound at Fort Worth and Dallas.

Cattle prices receded late last week from mid-week highs, but closing sales held mostly from about even with a weak earlier to as much as $1 or more higher. However, some spots netted losses up to a dollar for the week. Bul of common and medium grass steers at San Antonio sold at $20 to $22.75, and average to top medium lots set a new all time high of $24.50. Houston paid $14 to $20 for common to medium steers and yearlings, while Fort Worth took medium kinds at $19 to $23.50.

Hogs advanced generally around 50 cents to $1 or more in last week's trade. Good and choice butcher hogs reached $26.25 at San Antonio, $26.50 at Fort Worth, $26.75 at Oklahoma City, $27.35 at Wichita, and $27.25 at Denver.

Most sheep sold steady to $1 higher last week, but spring lambs netted losses at Oklahoma City and Wichita, and feeder lambs fell lower at San Antonio. Medium to low choice spring lambs turned at $18 to $21.50 at San Antonio, and medium to good kinds brought $20 to $24 at Fort Worth. Wichita took good and choice at around $24.

Watermelons and cantaloups eased some last week, as liberal shipments supplied most markets. Lettuce gained sharply, and sold as high as $7 per crate at St. Louis. Hot weather promoted spoilage and hampered movement of the large peach crop. Colorado cabbage, cauliflower and other products were well received at many markets. San Luis Valley peas started moving and held steady at $3.25 per bushel for U. S. No. 1.

Seismographic Station To Be Established

LUBBOCK — A seismographic station capable of recording earthquakes and seismic disturbances all over the world is to be established at Texas Technological College, Dr. Leroy T. Patton, head of the geology department, has announced.

The new station will be the only one in operation between St. Louis, Mo., and Tucson, Ariz. One of the most modern and complete seismographic stations in the country, it will be equipped with long period and short period instruments and is being designed so that instruments may be observed at any time without disturbing their operations.

The college will cooperate with the United States Coastal and Geodetic survey and will send reports of all seismic disturbances to them. The survey will send an expert to inspect and test college equipment at the time of installation.

The station is made possible by assistance of the college research committee to the geology department, Dr. Patton said. The college has been in the process of acquiring needed instruments over a period of years, and the complete set is expected here by Sept. 1.

Minute Interviews

Major problem facing the United States is the restoration of orderly government in the opinion of Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, Republican Speaker of the House of Representatives, above, who is quoted in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine as saying: "Restoration of orderly government is our most urgent problem, for that matter the most urgent problem of the world today. Millions are still displaced, hungry and dazed by the horrible disaster which wrecked their lives and laid waste their lands. These millions turn to the beacon of freedom and security, which, thank God, still burns brightly here. We have a duty to stand as an example of national strength and freedom. Government control over the private affairs of the people must end before peace and order can come to us again."

Texas Tech is an ideal spot for recording disturbances of the earth because of its location in so-called "seismic region", Dr. Patton stated. Three rather intense earthquakes have been recorded in West Texas during the past 30 years, as well as many other light to moderate tremors in the area.
