

$10 MILLION RAIN COVERS COUNTY

Crop Prospects Bright

FARMERS ARE LOOKING UP—Roy Hulse, who lives three miles south of Littlefield, looks at his grain sorghum crop along with son Hulse and other Lamb County farmers.

Farmers of Lamb County were wearing smiles as wide as an irrigation ditch this week following a "$10 million" rain which fell over the entire county early Sunday morning.

Crop prospects zoomed upward with the timely rain, and County Agent W. R. Kimbrough upped his cotton crop estimate by 50,000 bales on the basis of the big rain. Wednesday he set a new estimate of 162,000 bales for the 1963 cotton crop.

One farmer voiced his opinion of many concerning the rain: "If we could have ordered a rain, it couldn't have been better. It's just what we hope for this time of year but seldom get."

Kimbrough said he hadn't talked with anyone in the county who didn't receive at least 2 inches of rain. And, for most, it was a long, soaking rainfall which ranged from 2 inches up to about 5 inches.

The only damage reported to Kimbrough was a strip of hail west of Earth. The county agent made a personal check of the area and found that leaves had been beat off the plants. He said the damage would set the crops back some.

ASCS Officer Manager L. D. Aten reported acreage measurements had been completed in the field, and office clerks are working on the tabulations. He should have a report ready next week which will reflect the number of acres actually planted in cotton.

The total is expected to be somewhat less than last year, due to a cut in the acreage allotment and the weather. The county had about 10,000 less cotton acres to begin the year with, and hail and bad weather may have knocked out a few more thousand acres.

Kimbrough reported grain prospects fair to good, and said some dryland cotton and grain might turn out better than last year. He said midge was still being found in grain around the county and cautioned farmers to keep a close check.

Those who don't make a twice-a-day check for the tiny insects might be wise to poison, he added. Kimbrough said the grain sorghum should have from 70 to 90 percent full heads for best results in using poison.

At Sudan, where rain measured from 2 to 3.25 inches, Marvin Tollett of Feeder Grain, Inc., said prospects were fair to good. He said the rain was "near perfect", falling in about a 9-hour period. Grain is in all stages of development, and the biggest danger now is midge, he added.

"If we can get by without much midge damage the prospects look real good," remarked Tollett. He said dryland crops were looking good now, and he thinks the price for grain will be at least equal to last year's.

The Lubbock Experiment Station started a check in June on the midge situation. They have 7 locations in Lamb County, all on Johnson grass in bar ditches. The amount of midge has increased with each check.

Kimbrough estimated crops were 80 to 90 percent as good as last year this time but with fewer acres in cotton. Some dryland crops are better, he added. Some cotton which didn't appear to have a chance several weeks ago is now "looking real good", the county agent stated.

Besides the danger of midge to the grain sorghum crops, farmers are probably keeping their fingers crossed for a dry September. Kimbrough said a wet September "could hurt us real bad."

Littlefield received from 2 to 2.5 inches of rain from about midnight to 9 a.m. Sunday. Heaviest rainfall report was around Earth, with an unconfirmed 5.50 inches listed. Moisture was gauged at 3-4 inches in the Earth-Springlake area.

Hart Camp reported 3.25 inches; Fieldton had from 2.5 to 3 inches; Spade 2 to 2.5 inches; and Friendship, 2.5.

Weather

The 5-day forecast for the Lamb County area calls for temperatures 2 to 3 degrees above normal with minor daily changes. Precipitation .1 to .5 of an inch occurring as scattered thundershowers around the weekend. Normal highs 91-97, lows 62-74.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Water Supply: City's Most Pressing Need

The fates of weather have relieved temporarily almost overwhelming pressure on the city water system that experienced a really rough couple weeks July. These weeks also forecast as clearly as black letters on a 4-sheet poster that Littlefield in for a substantial beefing up of its water supply.

And, just as certainly, the question of what to do about water will open a controversy. Seven years ago a similar proposal touched off a free-swinging argument that saw a bond issue defeated.

As always, there was much right on both sides that issue. The present city water field was relatively new, and its resources were not plumbed. There were potential reserves that also were not explored.

A potent argument against the bond issue proposal then to go to the sandhills for water was that need had not arrived for such an expenditure. A $1,700,000 bond issue was proposed, a part of which would have gone to enlarge an update the sewer plant, which is a need almost as great as the water supply.

Seven years later, however, there are good indications that forecasts on the city water field were reasonably accurate. It is depleting and it can be replaced in a very short time.

And the hard, hard fact is that right now not enough water is being delivered to satisfy Littlefield residents. The city is growing. There are numbers of new homes and new yards, and there are more people in the city. These are obvious surface facts and they will increase before another summer.

No city official has yet proposed a program for water supply, nor probably will until a serious water study now underway is completed by the engineers. Then, and surely then, a program must be outlined. And it will cost money.

Unfortunately, all improvements cost money. One time, Littlefield residents carried their water barrels or buckets from a central well where the city hall now stands. Its cost was very little.

Then, with indoor plumbing and washing machines and dishwashers and air conditioning, the use of water zoomed by each resident. That central well gave way to a small municipal system, then to a larger one, and yet a larger one.

Ultimately, the point was reached where the water supply became a problem, an expensive problem. Not in Littlefield alone, not by a long ways. Water in many areas is an expendable resource, and each new source almost inevitably costs more than the last one.

Littlefield is looking at a new financing program for water as surely as you will turn on your sprinkler when this week's good rains have left our grass and flowers.

This is, finally, a business matter, but one that will not appear in the same plain black and white figures to everyone. Public proposals rarely do, any more than do your private financial decisions. And thank goodness for this.

For one thing, the defeat of the $1,700,000 proposal seven years ago has saved the city more than $350,000 in interest this far. But it almost surely has cost it in other ways.

The only point in reviewing this past history is that there was right on both sides. There always is, of course.

But the upcoming solution to the water program, when it comes out of the wide city study, will be against a different background, one with perhaps not the latitude in alternatives that existed before. The essential things, it seems, are for Littlefield residents to get the very most they can for their water improvement dollar, but certainly to get more water. Time has all but run out at your faucet.

Lamb FB Selects Seminar Students

The Lamb County Farm Bureau has selected two county students to attend a Citizenship Seminar to be held Aug. 20-23 on the campus of Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville. It was announced Wednesday by Elmer McGill, president of the Lamb FB.

Named as recipients of the trip were Dianne Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Phillips of Littlefield, and Billy Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Cox of Olton. The students, both juniors, were selected on the basis of scholastic attainment, speaking ability and other qualifications. High school principals helped in the selection.

The local Farm Bureaus are one of 77 in the state which will send students to the seminar. More than 220 high school students are expected to attend the event, sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau.

Several outstanding educators and lecturers will speak at the seminar, the first of its kind to be held in Texas. Other state Farm Bureaus conduct similar citizenship training schools for students, and last year the Texas FB and county units over the state sponsored the attendance of a large delegation to a seminar in Oklahoma.

Instruction at the TFB seminar will consist of lectures and films explaining the workings of the American competitive enterprise system and contrasting it with communism.

Speakers include John Noble of Wheaton, Ill., a prisoner in Russian slave labor camps for 9 1/2 years; Dr. Nicholas Nyradi of Bradley University at Peoria, Ill., a former minister of finance in the Hungarian governmental cabinet which had direct dealings with the Soviet government; Dr. Harry Love of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, a well-known teacher and lecturer on economics; and Dr. George S. Benson and Dr. Clifton Gaus, Jr., who are associated with the School of American Studies at Harding College in Searcy, Ark.

Water Use Plummet Monday

Sunday's rains brought a welcome breathing spell to one Littlefield section on Monday—the heavily burdened water department.

The department pumped only 1,194,000 gallons of water Monday, a figure near winter-time use. City Manager J. W. Harrison credited the drop in use to a halt in watering of lawns and gardens, which got a good 2.5 inch soaking Sunday.

Saturday's use ran 2,500,000 gallons, lower than most weeks days, with the department able to borrow some water that day from Lubbock's big-inch main, to supplement supply from the city wells.

Wildcats Ranked Third By Football Magazine

Littlefield's Wildcats will finish third in the District 1-AAA football race if one state sports barometer proves correct.

The popular grid magazine, "Texas Football", which presents previews and forecasts on all state schoolboy, college and pro teams, tabs the Dumas Demons to repeat as district champs and Levelland to come in second.

The football magazine selected Dumas as the champ last year, and also correctly picked the "Ding-Dong Dandies" to win the state title. However, they predict Graham will win the state crown this year, preventing the Demons from claiming a third straight championship.

Here's what the recent publication had to say about the Wildcats:

"Littlefield, runnerup last year, also has swiftness along with 11 lettermen and 4 offensive-defensive regulars. Guard Steve Lowe (5-8, 175) is one of the best. He made 14 tackles against Dumas last season and rates well on offense. Defensive ace and punter Larry Wood (170) probably will go to wingback with Ray McKinney (160) at quarterback. Grover Pigum (165) brings 9.8 track speed to halfback. The line will revolve around tackles Robert Bolton and Rick Phillips, both 170, and guard Charlie Robinson, 175."

Behind Dumas, Levelland and Littlefield, the book rated Hereford, Phillips and Perryton to finish in that order. The Demons lost heavily from last year's 13-1 titlists, but Coach Bill Spann has back 15 lettermen including 4 offensive and 3 defensive starters.

Guard Jerry Glover is tabbed as a "truly terrific 1962 all-state guard." Center Lyle Peiffer, and Gary White and quarterback Doug Holtzclaw draw good mention, along with halfbacks Joe Casas and Norman Bonner.

Hereford returns 10 lettermen and 6 starters and is expected to be stronger. Powerful fullback Jim Haney (6-3, 205) is back along with all-district linebacker Eugene Green. Phillips could be the surprise with 18 lettermen and 6 starters back in the fold. Center Richard Reneau was all-district last season, and end Hank Boykin and tackle Kirk Hunter help make the Hawks look mean. Fullback Mike Webb and halfback Lynn Johnson lead the backfield.

Perryton has only 2 offensive starters back from last year's fine team that clicked off a 7-3 record. They have good backs in Gary Newcomb, returning fullback, Rex Akin and Larry McIntire. A line rebuilding job is the question mark.

On the Class AAA honor roll of top players, Dumas guard Jerry Glover is the only one to draw mention from 1-AAA. The book tabs Kermit as the team to beat in District 2, Brownfield in District 3 and Graham in 4. Graham is rated first in the state in Class AAA.

"Texas Football" presents a complete rundown on all schoolboy district, as well as Southwest Conference teams and other Texas college grid squads,

Levelland Is District Winner Anthony Manager Here Since

Levelland's Little League All-Stars captured a 5-1 victory over Muleshoe in Littlefield Little League Park Saturday night, winning the District 26 title and earning a trip to the sectional tourney at Big Lake this week.

Ross Sims pitched a two-hitter for the Levelland crew, and Jerry Plynell socked a three-run homer to spark the winners' bat attack. The well-played contest was staged in just over an hour's time.

Muleshoe had won the area title determined at Plainview.

Double Main Event Slated

Wrestling fans will have an opportunity to see another big double main event at Littlefield Sports Arena Saturday night.

The first main event will see Treach Phillips take on Killer Karl Kox in a 2-of-3 fall, one-hour time limit match. Kox is making his return to the local arena after about two months absence.

The top main event will bring together two fine tag teams. Dory Funk Jr., who appears in the opening event against Billy Romanoff, will team with Ricky Romero to do battle with the tag duo of Tokyo Tom and Billy Romanoff.

Romanoff was referee in a match last week and was challenged to the tag match by Funk and Romero. The pair through Romanoff favored Tokyo Tom in the match last week.

The opening match is set for 8:45 p.m.

Whitharral Hires New Coach

WHITHARRAL--The hiring of H. M. Litton of Orangefield as football coach and Lowell Herring of Toyah completes the faculty for the Whitharral Schools according to Supt. Charles Lamb.

Litton arrived in Whitharral Monday. He will be joined the latter part of August by Mrs. Litton who is attending Lamar Tech at Beaumont and their daughters, Sherry, 13, and Mickey, 12.

Litton, a graduate of the Stephen F. Austin College, Nacogdoches, has taught 10 years, having taught at Hemphill, Jacksonville, Vidor, and the past three years in the Orangefield system. The Littons attend the Baptist Church. Litton plans to begin football practice Aug. 19, using a two-a-day workout.

Herring comes from Toyah where he has taught for the past two years. He and Mrs. Herring have a two-year-old son. They attend the Church of Christ. They will move here as soon as repairs and a paint job are completed on their apartment.

The opening of school for the fall term will be Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kyle have resigned and will move to Newark, near Ft. Worth, at the end of the summer session at Texas Tech where Kyle is in school. Alvin Doshier is the new bus foreman taking the place of Wayne Teague who, with his family, moved back to Rising Star recently.

Ward helped open up the Anthony store here in 1949, being transferred from the Anthony firm in Brownwood. He has been manager of the local store since 1951 and has been with C. R. Anthony for 17 years.

Born and raised in Brown County, Ward attended schools at May and in Coleman. His wife, Alma Nell, is also a native of Brown County. Ward's father, C. C. Ward, still lives in the county, but his mother died in 1943.

Ward served in the U. S. Navy during World War II, entering in 1942 and receiving his discharge in 1945. Most of his service tour was spent in the South Pacific, in the Admiralty and Philippine Islands. He was attached to an aircraft service unit.

The Wards have three children--Mrs. Clayton (Pat) Patton of Littlefield, and Peggy 15, and Pam 11, both of the home. Mrs. Ward is a member of the Baptist Church and Chamber of Commerce.

His only hobby--working organizations, Ward says favorite sport or pastime--trout fishing.

HANDS BELONG TO AMOS WARD--The hands holding the toy bear on Page 1 belong to Amos Ward, a resident of Littlefield since 1949 when he helped open the C. R. Anthony Co. here. He likes to trout fish when he can get away from a busy work schedule.

LOOKING OVER THE SCORES--County Wide Tennis Tourney chairman Charlie Farley, right, looks over the scoreboard with Orville Basset and Slo Grissom following action Tuesday night at Crescent Park. All three are also entrants in the annual tournament. Ten divisions are being played with the meet ending Saturday.
