

Biggest Rain Of Year Strikes Lamb County Area Monday

Dryland Crops Receive Boost

Biggest rain of the season hit the Lamb County area late Monday afternoon leaving smiles on everyone's faces and giving needed moisture to thirsty dryland crops. Only light hail was reported in any area, but it did not do any damage.

Measurement in Littlefield was .95 of an inch, the largest single fall recorded this year. Larger amounts were reported in spots with as much as 2.5 inches west of Littlefield.

The rain fell gently and came as the entire county area was under a severe storm alert. However, the winds and heavy hail predicted did not materialize in this area.

Reports from the dryland regions west of Littlefield showed rain from 2.5 inches to only showers. The Luke Aldridge farm southeast of Lumsdridge reported the 2.5 inches. A report from Claunch Gin in Bula said they had about one inch at the gin and in the Bula community. The rain was lighter west of the gin and a report of about 1.5 inches came from north of the gin. A spokesman at the gin said the farmers were "a lot more hopeful."

Mrs. V. H. Diersing in the Pep community said they received about .8 inch but a mile away at the Gutersloh farm they had an inch. She continued that Pep proper didn't get much moisture. Mrs. Diersing said they had already planted and this rain should make the crop do fine.

Edgar Shultz, who farms 3 and a half miles west of the Littlefield cemetery said he received about 1.5 inches. Shultz said he planted his cotton dry, "but it looks like it will do all right."

A report from the Lums Chapel area showed about two inches in spots. The rains in Littlefield put water in Laguna Park for the first time in several years.

Total rainfall from the Monday rain measured .95 of an inch . . . the biggest single rain for Littlefield this year.

Youths Vandalize Local Home

The pair were questioned after firemen were called to the Seals residence Sunday afternoon to extinguish a blaze. The fire was confined to the kitchen of the home, but upon further investigation by the firemen, the house was found to have been vandalized.

The firemen notified police who began an immediate investigation. The destruction to the house was first thought to have been caused by an explosion from the kitchen stove which also caused the fire.

The interior of the home looked like a small tornado had been confined in the house for several hours as nothing remained intact.

Large holes had been kicked or knocked through the walls from the living room into both the bedroom and kitchen, furniture in the living room and bedroom was overturned and several jars of home-canned vegetables were broken throughout the house.

VANDALS AT WORK -- Two young Littlefield boys admitted destruction to a house occupied by Kenneth Seals on West 1st. Above is the living room of the home as found by firemen summoned to the home to extinguish a fire Sunday afternoon. In the picture are the large holes knocked in the walls between the living room and bedroom, a television set over turned and on the back on the tv set a broken jar of vegetables.

Van Clarks Injured In Bad Mishap

Mr. and Mrs. Van Clark of Littlefield received serious injuries in a two-car accident late Saturday night at the edge of San Angelo.

First word of the mishap reached here about noon Tuesday. The report said that Mrs. Clark suffered a broken hip and Clark had a broken hand and nose.

The accident occurred on a long curve on the north edge of San Angelo. Driver of the second car was said to have been a young girl and the lights of her car were not on at the time of the wreck.

The Clarks were supposed to be returned to Littlefield by ambulance sometime Wednesday. They were on their way to a family reunion somewhere in the Valley.

The Clark auto received heavy damage as did the other vehicle, however, the other driver was not injured.

Muleshoe Golfer Takes Littlefield CC Tournament

Russell Haberer, big, red-headed golfer from Muleshoe, fired a four under par 68 to take the championship in the Littlefield Invitational golf tournament Sunday afternoon.

Pre-tournament favorite, Roland Adams of Lubbock, just couldn't get a firm hold on Haberer as the winner carded six birdies on his way to the championship. Adams finished three strokes back with a 71.

Gary Middleton, a 21-year old golfer from Morton, was third with a two-over 74 and Levelland's Dick Tubb was fourth with a three-over 75.

David Hutson of Lubbock coped the consolation prize by dumping aside Ronnie Huckabee of Hale Center in a one hole playoff. The pair had finished regulation 18 hole play with twin 74s. Another Lubbock golfer, Cotton Fanning, grabbed the first flight title, and Al Allison of Levelland won the first flight consolation prize.

Adams parred the first two holes and then bogeyed No. 3. After No. 3, he lamented to Haberer, "Well, I can't play any worse than I'm hitting today."

"Never seen you this bad before," answered Haberer. But the farmer left little doubt what he had in mind on the first hole. He powered the ball about 40 feet from the pin and two putted for a birdie three on the 340 yard hole.

Russell canned a five foot putt on No. 3 to push two-under and take a two stroke lead over Tubb, who stood even par. And it was birdie time again on No. 4.

Penn Point

By D.H.P.

Bill, ole Tooley and his fam're fishing up in Colorado at present time. He will be here today and since I sent camera along with him . . . we all get a taste of his fishability instead of just aerman's story."

Don't remember ever knowin' a guy who liked to fish better than Tooley, but we need a rest once in a while for him fishin' is all the fish he needs.

Just about every newspaper in the world makes "mistakes" and this one is by no means an exception to the rule. However, my knowledge we have never quite the boo-boo that a publication in North Carolina made the other day.

It seems that a man with a sewing machine to sell placed classified ad in the newspaper. The ad came out the next day as follows:

FOR SALE: R. D. Smith has a sewing machine for sale, call after 7 p.m. ask for Mrs. Kelly who has it with him cheap."

Monday: We regret having erred in R. D. Smith's ad yesterday. It should have read: FOR SALE: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Cheap. Phone and ask for Mrs. Kelly who has it with him after 7 p.m."

Tuesday: R. D. Smith has informed that he has received several saying telephone calls because of an error we made in classified ad yesterday. Ad stands corrected: FOR SALE: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Cheap. Phone 958 after 7 p.m. ask for Mrs. Kelly who has it with him."

Wednesday: NOTICE: I, R. D. Smith, have smashed it. Don't call me, the phone has been taken down. I have not been carrying with Mrs. Kelly. Until yesterday, she was my housekeeper."

Thursday: This turned out, Smith lost his sewing machine and his housekeeper and the newspaper certainly lost a "customer." I hope nothing like this happens to us. However it does read us of an ad that appeared in another newspaper several days ago that read something like this:

FOR SALE: The ladies of the Presbyterian Church have discarded clothing of all kinds. They may be seen in the . . .

Caprock Shuts Out Slaton In 10-0 Win

Ray McKinney allowed Slaton only five hits as Caprock Fertilizer won an American Legion League contest Saturday, 10-0. McKinney let only two Slatonites reach third base during the game.

Caprock jumped into an early lead as they scored two runs in the top of the first. They scored five in the third and one in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. Pete Estrada led things off for Caprock in the top of the first with a walk. Jerry Bridwell singled and Tony Estrada singled driving in Pete and Bridwell. T. Estrada led the local hitters with three hits in three times at the plate.

In the third, Bridwell walked, T. Estrada walked, Ronnie Rice walked, Joe Bellar was safe on a fielder's choice, Steve Middleton was safe on an error, Dagwood Conley walked, McKinney was safe on an error and P. Estrada walked.

Newsmen Nip Bankers, 6-5 In LL Contest

Littlefield Press defeated Security State in Minor Little League play Tuesday night, 6-5. The Bankers put on a sixth-inning rally, but fell one run short of the newsmen.

Robert Tijerina was the winning pitcher for the Newsmen while the loss was charged to Raymond Costello. Tijerina gave up two hits and Costello allowed five hits. Tijerina struck out 14 men in the five innings he pitched.

The Newsmen went ahead in the bottom of the second. Tijerina was safe on an error, Kenneth Lee walked and Freddie More was safe on an error.

The Bankers came back to tie the score in the top of the third, Costello doubled and Johnnie Wicker walked, Costello scored on a balk and Wicker came in on an error.

Littlefield Press regained the lead in the bottom of the third as they scored two more. Ellis Haggarty was safe on an error, John Turner singled, David Roden walked and Lee walked.

The Newsmen added one more in the fourth and one in the fifth to end their scoring. In the fourth Moore singled, Hagarty singled and David Street was safe on a fielder's choice. In the sixth, Thierina singled and Lee walked, Tijerina scored on an error.

The three-run rally by the Bankers began when Max Hutchins singled, Gary Houk was safe on a fielder's choice, Steve Dinges walked and Dennis Chambers walked.

the next hole to push Haberer three-under, Adams also bucketed a bird with a twisting nine footer on No. 4, and he stood tied with Tubb at even par.

Adams drove the 133 yard green on No. 5 and sank a five-footer to cut Haberer's lead to two strokes.

Haberer again birdied on No. 7, with a six foot putt and dipped to four under par, pushing his margin over Adams back to three strokes. He bogeyed No. 8, and Adams parred, and Russell's margin slipped back to two strokes, and that's where it stayed after the first nine.

On the back nine, Haberer birdied holes, 14 and 15. He had a par on No. 12, which bunched with Adams' bogey pushed the difference to three strokes.

When Haberer sank a birdie three putt on No. 16, he dipped five under and had a four stroke advantage over Adams, and that pretty well settled things.

Adams stayed one stroke under the rest of the way and Haberer, very cautious, bogeyed the final hole for his total.

Middleton probably had the toughest luck of the day. He had three long birdie putts stop on the lip of the cup; but on No. 10, the ball didn't stop. Gary canned a long 38-footer from just outside the green.

Tubb was in shooting distance of the title until the ninth hole. He pounded the ball out of bounds off the tee and his penalty caused him to shoot a three-over six on the hole and to go three over par for the front nine. He never caught up.

Pinkie Arledge of Lubbock shot a one-over 73 to win the second flight, and J. S. Brown, a Littlefield linkster, won the division's consolation crown with a 76.

Other flight and consolation winners, listed in that order were: third flight, Fred Mitchell of Eunice and Neil Herrin of Littlefield; fourth flight, Dale Weaver of Littlefield, and Bob Biffle of Anton; fifth flight, Ken Ray of Olton and Jack Van Ness of Littlefield.

Clarence Kelly of Earth tied Ray for the fifth flight title, but Ray gunned him down in a one hole playoff with a par four on No. 1

Caprock Slaps Auto With 3-1 Victory

Caprock Fertilizer won a revenge American Legion League game Tuesday night as they defeated Lubbock Auto, 3-1. The locals have lost only one district contest this season.

Jerry Bridwell had no trouble containing the Automen sluggers, as he only gave up three hits in going the route to collect the win.

In fact, Bridwell was making a strong bid for a shutout until losing pitcher Danny Davis spoiled the complexion of the game with a last-ditch home run in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Davis was almost as effective from the mound, as he gave up only four hits during the game, but the blows he did allow were all used at timely minutes by Littlefield.

In the second inning, Ronnie Rice singled and moved around to third with a double steal. From there, he came home with the first tally as when Lubbock catcher Vic Correll bobbled the ball.

Pushing across two more runs in the fifth inning, Littlefield started with a double by Robert Conley, Pete Estrada promptly fired an RBI single off Davis to drive in what proved to be the winning run. Then after stealing second, Estrada crossed the plate when Curly Allen lined the final hit for the night off Davis.

The win by Littlefield left them with a 4-1 district mark and in possession of second place in the league, Lubbock Auto was lodged lower in the second division, dropping down to fifth place in the standings.

lice, said the parents of the boys had agreed to pay for the damage. He also said the Seals family was in South Texas working in the wheat harvest. Neighbors pitched in to help restore some semblance of order to the house and its contents.

The kitchen was heavily damaged by the fire that was started as paper was set on top of the stove and the burners lit. The fire spread quickly to the walls and ceiling.

Furniture in the living room had been moved about and several jars of vegetables scattered on the furniture and floor. Large holes had been knocked in the walls between the living room and bedroom and the living room and kitchen.

In the front bedroom a chest of drawers had been turned over and the contents scattered about the floor. Obscene writing in lipstick was on the walls and vegetables were scattered about.

The bath tub caught the bulk of the broken jars and vegetables as the youths found delight in breaking the jars in the tub.

Several jars were broken on a bed in the back bedroom. Fitzgerald said the Seals had left the house locked, but the boys knew how to get in through the bath room window.

"Howard Horne has served the community and his company well in every post that he has filled. The friendships he has made in Littlefield and his work in community projects speak better of his efforts than words that I might use. We are pleased, and we hope that his Littlefield friends will be, that he is going on to new responsibilities in our company," Collins said.

Horne has three times been awarded the "Manager of the Year" award for sales promotion excellence, once in the Panhandle Division before coming to Littlefield, and twice here.

Police Report One Accident

Littlefield police investigated a minor accident Sunday afternoon at 2:35 p.m. No one was injured in the mishap.

Police said that a car driven by R. C. Turner of Littlefield was being pushed straight on Highway 84 and was in the left hand lane. In the right hand lane was a car driven by Gregorio Rodriguez of Levelland.

The Rodriguez vehicle attempted a left turn onto Phelps and the Turner auto struck the Rodriguez car in the left side. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Turner auto and $150 to Rodriguez.

The Highway Patrol investigated 15 rural accidents in Lamb County during the month of May according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for twelve persons injured and an estimated property damage of $19,830.00.

The rural traffic accident summary of Lamb County from January through May of 1962 shows a total of 71 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 3 persons killed and 53 persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $35,685.00.

Beginning with this month, the Texas Department of Public Safety lends its support each year to the national SLOW DOWN AND LIVE SUMMER TIME Safety campaign which, as its name indicates, has as its objective the task of emphasizing the need for motorists to control their driving speed. Speed control is vital to safety, because of the overcrowded condition of the highways caused by thousands of vacation travelers, most of whom are in a big hurry, since vacation time is usually all too short.

The veteran patrol supervisor said, "The hurry attitude frequently steers them into a speeding violation or, worse than that, a serious accident, or even death itself."

Former Governor Charles Edison, as director of the company Committee for Public Affairs, has mailed to all McGraw-Edison employees a copy of a letter by an unnamed San Franciscan. It was published in the Copley newspapers in California, but deserves the attention of all the author's fellow citizens in the other 49 States as well. The writer says:

"I am one of the Americans who heard Mr. Khrushchev tell our nation that my great-grandchildren will grow up in a Communist world. For some time now, this has bothered me. I am not a brave man - not even a big one... I am now 50. I paint my own house, repair my own car, grub my own devil grass and nurse a modest savings account... I am a law-abiding man on the quiet side, and dissension makes me terribly nervous. Frankly, I am the kind who simply doesn't have it in him to fight anyone ever."

He goes on to report coming across "the huge old family bible" in the attic with his great-grandmother's journal of her covered wagon trek across the Great Plains to the wild, new land of California. "On the trail she wrote of sickness and hunger, and heat and cold, and dust and thirst, and the deaths and births like beads strung together on a thread of hope - hope for freedom and a land of plenty for their children yet unborn... AS I read, I began to think about America and what it all stands for; and I thought about our enemies and what they intend to do to America... to its freedom and its hope. "And, suddenly, I realized that I am a sick American. I mean really sick... I am sick of bureaucrats who tell me that my enemy is not really my enemy and that I should live together with murderers and tyrants. I am sick of government that hasn't the guts to clean traitors out of its own offices. And I'm sick of being a nice, pleasant guy about it... I am sick of my country being ridiculed all over the world. I am sick of pink-fingered diplomats and lily-livered politicians who place personal career above the fate of the Flag."

"I am sick of 40 years of relentless, creeping, cancerous Communist godlessness that never once has wavered from its avowed purpose of conquering that Flag and seeing it trampled in the mud under Russian boots. I am sick of my genteel desire to stand pat and pray while the enemy advances. I am sick of educators who teach tolerance of subversion and of clergymen who would have me quail at the spectre of battle and turn my cheek in fear of what our enemies might do."

"In all honesty, the thing of which I am most sick is the man who let these things come to me; myself. And by the living God who made me, Sir, I am a sick American who intends to get well."

The letter is signed "Federal Citizen."

Board Meeting Set For Amherst School

The Amherst School Tax Equalization Board will meet Wednesday, June 27, from two to four p.m. The meeting will be held in the school secretary's office, and all interested taxpayers are welcomed to attend. Members of the board are: Doc Shavor, Horace Woodward and Sam Harmon.

Eight Arrested By County Office

County officers arrested seven persons over the weekend according to records in the sheriff's office.

Antonio Z. Mendez of Aberrathy was charged with DWI when arrested late Saturday evening. He was picked up six miles north of Littlefield on Highway 385.

Other arrests included three for drunk, one for a traffic violation and two for interfering with an officer. The latter two were arrested when they attempted to keep officers from the scene of a fight.

Mrs. Kenneth Peterson is going to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock for treatment of a back injury she received last New Year's.

Insect Guide Are Revised

Three popular insect guides have been revised and are available from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station. They are the Vegetable Guide, L-255, Livestock Guide, L-219, and Pink Bollworm Guide, L-219.

The Vegetable Guide has been revised and the insecticide vin is now recommended on cantaloupes and watermelons as well as other vegetables listed under the Cucurbitaceae.

Ronnel (Trolein) is recommended for grub control in the Livestock Guide. It is used in a feed mixture for control of grub in beef cattle. Instructions for mixing the mixture with feed can be found on the manufacturer's label.

Also, the recommended waiting time from last application of Co-Ral to slaughter has been reduced when used on beef cattle, sheep and goats.

The insecticide Sevin has been recommended for control of lice and mites on poultry.

The Pink Bollworm tinow contains the suggested minimum planting dates for cotton. This is in addition to planting periods and sowing instructions, which were also found in the Guide.

Farm Facts

"Our agriculture in 1970 will be further ahead of now than now is ahead of 1950," says Earl L. Butz, dean of the School of Agriculture, Purdue University.

"Fewer workers on our farms than now will be feeding 215 million Americans—30 million more than now. One farm worker will feed and clothe about 50 other people—better than ever before in history."

"By 1970, we'll have a fifth fewer farmers than now, just as we now have about a fifth less than 10 years ago. During each year of the 1960's our agricultural plant will use more capital, more science and technology, more managerial capacity, more purchased production inputs, more specialized marketing facilities, and more research than the year before."

"We'll use a fourth fewer man-hours of labor for farm work to produce a fourth more output. Family farms will be larger with much more capital, but still family farms."

"Organized and imaginative research is the vehicle which will push the scientific frontier beyond limits we scarcely dare dream of today."

By 1970, one farm worker will feed and clothe 50 people.

Tag Team Matches Will Highlight Wrestling Here

Area wrestling fans are in for another thrilled packed evening of wrestling this week at the Littlefield Sports Arena.

Saturday's matches had all of the excitement and suspense any wrestling fan would want and expect to see.

Dory Funk won his match when the Viking was disqualified. Dory demanded a rematch, but was refused by Promoter John USSery.

The Viking, after a lot of argument with Promoter USSery agreed to a match with the Viking and Sir Nelson Royal against Dory Funk and Pancho Pico.

Funk chose Pico as his partner in a tag match, against the Viking and Sir Nelson Royal. The first event will be Viking, Pancho Pico, one fall 20 min. time. Second event will be Funk vs. Sir Royal Nelson.

ENDS HEART O' HILLS CAMP -- Nelda Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Walker of Littlefield, is shown above taking part in activities offered by the Heart O' Hill camp for junior girls. The camp is located near Kerrville in the Guadalupe River country. This year Nelda will take part in all the activities offered by the camp.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS' situation looks a little reports covering the three months of 1962, on statistics from the 12 cities, show major cities down 6.7 per cent, across the U. S. in cities of comparable size, major crime rose one per cent. Crime rate actually down in number of crimes from 1961, despite a slight growth during the first three months of 1962. OF JOBS -- Finding a job is a little easier these days. Employment Commission reports April unemployment at 4.3 per cent of the force as compared to 5.4 per cent a year ago. Wage factory wages rose $91.21 a week last year over $80.10 this April. Range was however, depending upon industry.

WATER SUPPLY -- Texas enters the summer with its major reservoirs 76 per cent full.

Texas Water Commission reports that May rains couldn't keep up with use and evaporation, so the water supplies shrunk by 291,000 acre feet. As June opened, supplies were 76 per cent of capacity, compared with 83 per cent a year ago.

LIVESTOCK RULES AMENDED -- The Texas Animal Health Commission, after hearing pleas of livestock market operators, relaxed rules designed to speed up the eradication or at least control of brucellosis (undulant fever).

Commission action amending the rules came just before they were to go into effect.

June 15. Before the change, the rules would have required testing for brucellosis before cattle could be moved from one market to another.

As amended, the rule says the cattle may move from one approved market to another approved market without having to take the test. This was put on a trial basis.

Restriction of movement was opposed by representatives of the big stockyards at San Antonio, Fort Worth and Houston. Auction markets also had an ardent champion present.

James D. Sartwell, president of Houston's Port City Stockyards, said the economic effect of the proposed rule could be "dangerous", particularly so in view of "the predicted downturn in cattle prices now beginning."

Sartwell said Texas' cattle inventory includes many so-called "two-way" cattle, entirely dependent on market conditions, which are sold as either stocker or slaughter animals.

Most of these two-way cattle, he said, also are "trader" cattle and loom large as a volume moving from interior markets, purchased by a trader and consigned to the terminals for resale. He saw danger to this cattle movement in the proposed regulation.

G. C. Hagelstein of San Antonio's Union Stockyards felt livestock leaving any market should meet the requirements of its destination. But he said he was interested in protecting the industry and didn't believe the regulation did that.

John M. Lewis, general manager of the Fort Worth Stockyards, through the Commission proposal would "strangle" the price-making terminal markets.

Charles Davis, operator of auction markets at Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells, suggested that animals should be tested when going "to the country" -- but not from market to market. He called the rule unnecessary and a waste of time and money.

Norman Moser, commission member from DeKalb, said he didn't want to impose anything on the industry that would be harmful.

Dr. R. G. Garrett, the Commission's executive director, didn't oppose the amendment but believed it would delay the testing program.

SAFE FOURTH -- Gov. Price Daniel urged the 5,000,000 Texas drivers to help hold down the traffic death list during the July 4th holidays.

"Slow down and live" is the theme of the traffic safety campaign by which Texas traffic people hope to hold down the death rate below the statisticians' predictions.

July 4th comes on Wednesday this year, so fewer Texans will kill themselves on the highway than when the holiday falls near a weekend.

CROOKED HOLES -- Tedious job of checking suspected oil wells in East Texas continues.

Railroad Commission and Attorney General's Department spokesmen say it will take several months to finish the job.

Four more oil operators were enjoined from interfering with Commission checks of their wells. In two weeks, only 23 wells have been checked out of "several hundred" that Atty. Gen. Will Wilson thinks will have to be investigated before then can write an end to the East Texas investigation.

Wilson has obtained donations from major oil companies to finance the surveys to see if holes were diverted so as to reach oil under someone else's lease. So he has taken over direction of the surveying from the Railroad Commission.

FIRING RESUMES -- There was only a brief respite from campaigning after Democratic primaries.

John Conally, the Democratic nominee for governor, and Jack Cox, the Republican nominee, both had their chance to talk at the meetings of their respective state executive committees Saturday, convening to canvass the returns.

Campaigns will start in earnest September 18th, when both parties have their state conventions.

But the two young gubernatorial nominees both have state campaign headquarters in operation in Austin. They sound like they plan all-out campaigns in the summer and fall.

Sen. John Tower will be a major campaigner for the Republicans. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough will take to the stump for the Democrats.

They are beginning to make this look like a two-party state. Whether the label sticks depends on what the voters say on November 6th.

SAFE DRIVING PLAN -- The State Board of Insurance will hold hearing June 29th, on automobile insurance rates and rules.

High on the agenda will be proposals to revise drastically the "safe driving insurance plan" by which those with accidents or traffic law violations pay more, while those without them pay less.

Statisticians say the plan has cut rates for 78 per cent, raised them for 22 per cent. But the complaints about the plan being received by legislators indicates that even those who save aren't too happy with the possibility that one slip might run up their rates.

Drastic revision is possible. Without revision of the plan, a rate cut is in the cards. But if penalty provisions are reduced, it may wipe out the chance of a rate cut. Board members and the insurance industry are divided as to what to do. ## Mechanical Topping Tests Conducted At High Plains

Cotton growers in the High Plains are continually striving to improve both the quality and yield of their cotton. Tests on one of the methods, mechanical topping of cotton, were conducted by Jim Vaillant, Agricultural Engineer, at the High Plains Research Foundation last year.

The two varieties of cotton used in the test represented both open boll and storm-proof cottons. On September 14, the cotton was topped with a topping machine. The cotton plant was cut just above the topmost mature bolls, eliminating top foliage, small bolls and square.

Philosopher Has New Source Of Tax Revenue--$5 Per House Cat

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is trying to be helpful this week, but he may cause more storm than calm in some quarters. That's his lookout.

Dear editor:

If a man invented an automobile that'd run on water, a rocket ship that'd glide into space without a blast-off, or a device to control the weather, he'd win considerable acclaim, but nothing like the man who invents a new source of tax revenue.

If there's anything this country needs, above everything else it's some place to get new revenue to run its governments, from town government to county to state to national. Governments today are like the man who's earning twice as much as he did ten years ago and still lacking half enough to get by on, with the exception that it takes more than an act of Congress to increase his debt limit.

Therefore, without seeking any glory, I've been hunting up new sources of tax revenue and from time to time may mention them all, but right now the best idea I've had is a tax on cats.

All right. There you are. I can't explain this, but anybody with a cat, a claimed cat, a cat he admits is his, would a heap rather part with $5 than the cat. I've never been able to understand this low estimate of money and high estimate of cats, but it's a fact.

Therefore, if a city with 500,000 cats puts a $5 annual tax on cats, it has $2,500,000 in new tax revenue the first year, and no telling how much six months later. Why right there in Littlefield there must be at least 2000 cats, and you can figure up how much tax revenue that'd come to.

I don't know how many cats there are in the United States, but there are millions, say 10 million just to be safe. All right. At $5 a cat, that's 50 million dollars a year, and that's only the city and town take. As anybody knows, what a local government can tax, the state and Federal governments can too, or vice versa. This is a democratic country, ain't it? I estimate that if all units of government get in on this new cat tax, the total new revenue will come to around 100 million dollars a year, from now on, because if I know cats, it'll certainly be self-perpetuating. Next week, I'll discuss another new tax source. I've figured out. Tell Congress not to adjourn yet.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

National Church Council Today Has 70 Programs

Ed. Note: In 1950, the National Council of Churches was formed by 29 Protestant bodies -- representing the common spirit and purpose of its members. Today, 33 denominations and Eastern Orthodox communions (with nearly 40 million churchgoers) are members of the Council -- 23 others participate in one or more of its 70 programs. The following article on the NCC's international activities follows one describing domestic operations).

They taught 60 million Asians and Africans to read... converted a former "kamikaze" pilot in Japan into a teacher of modern agriculture.

In Korea, they built artificial legs for amputees.

Their revolving loan funds gave thousands of Arab families new dignity and self-reliance.

At Hong Kong craft centers they trained young girls for factory work.

Fifty countries have felt the warmth, strength and comfort of their gifts... totalling $225 million in food, clothing and medicines!

This is the National Council of Churches at work overseas.

Formed in 1950, the NCC is the cooperative federation of 33 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations and under their united mandate, the Council maintains more than 70 year-round programs at home and overseas.

Through its Christian Rural Overseas Program alone, people of Iowa have contributed a total of $2,400,000 in cash and commodities for hungry people abroad.

Referred to as "CROP" this program has been called upon by President Kennedy to handle the first citizen gift -- 200 tons of wheat -- offered by a California rancher to the President's Food - for - Peace program.

Cash and corn are rounded up by CROP volunteers in 18 states... with more counties joining in all the time to ship overseas donations of wheat, rice, beans and other non-perishable staples.

Through Church World Service -- the NCC's overseas relief and rehabilitation agency -- thousands of lives have been saved... tuberculosis victims in Chile... tuberculosis patients in Korea, undernourished school children in Jamaica and Jordan... starving farmers in Pakistan and Greece whose sub-marginal land no longer supported them.

But the accent is not wholly on feeding and clothing the needy.

Church World Service -- and various other programs of the National Council of Churches -- are anxious to make workers in other lands healthy and skillful enough to improve their own living standards. Shipments of seed for pastures, experimental planting and garden projects, incubators for a village poultry project, tractors and tools for land development, technical information and teachers are provided to these lands.

An international student exchange program operated by the NCC has proven invaluable in preparing natives of other countries to return to their own people prepared to help them live better. Poverty, malnutrition and infant mortality are the common enemies... and with their worldly goods, member churches of the NCC aim to defeat them.

But "not by bread alone does man live."

It is the hope of these mission-minded churches to spread the Gospel of Christ to every human being. As in domestic operations, overseas work involved efforts to uplift men spiritually as well as economically.

At least 79 foreign mission boards and related agencies cooperating in the NCC are hard at work abroad... facing the variety of problems met by Christian missions in 60 different lands. Africa, Latin America, the Far East, the Near East and Southern Asia all profit by these coordinated labors.

NCC member churches offer training and guidance not only to their own missionaries bound for overseas work -- but for foreign candidates at American mission schools. They provide youth guidance, literature and teaching supplies to these young people, and remain in close contact with them when they've gone into the mission field.

NCC audio-visual aids for Gospel teaching have been adopted by member churches... who know a Brazilian boy or girl learns more readily through animated cartoons and musical sound tracks, just as American youngsters do.

Believing the 600,000 Americans living abroad have a tremendous potential for Christian influence among their new-found neighbors, the National Council of Churches helps them raise funds to build churches and secure ministers to serve these churchgoers. NCC representatives are always available to give guidance to such Americans... considered unofficial Christian ambassadors overseas.

Through their Council, member churches cooperate in the recruiting of prospective missionaries... and also help maintain the Missionary Research Library of the Union Theological Seminary in New York -- largest Protestant repository for missionary literature. Mission research is another active branch of the work.

Thus the Gospel of Christ is spread abroad as zealously as the seeds of economic improvement. In the words of a church member, "If the hungry man does not attain to faith, then the guilt falls on those who refused him bread."

Local Doctor Joins Canadian Flying Tour

Dr. Carl Nowlin of Littlefield is one of thirty-six of America's 2,000 Flying Physicians -- each piloting his own light plane -- who took off from Edmonton, Canada, Wednesday on a 1550 mile flight to Anchorage, Alaska.

The mass flight of doctor-pilots over the wilderness route of the Alcan highway will have as its main purpose the study of disaster techniques, especially the quick and efficient movement of trained medical personnel and supplies to isolated locations. En route, the doctors will also make first-hand studies of pilot safety technique about general aviation medicine.

Upon their arrival in Anchorage, they will convene for the annual three-day medical meeting of the Flying Physicians association, where aviation medicine, air safety, pilot competence, and other pertinent subjects will form the speaking agenda.

Compact loading of the small planes will be essential to the flight, for in addition to the 24 wives and 21 children who will accompany the doctors on their trip, they are required by Canadian and Alaskan law to carry certain survival and medical equipment.

Other required gear includes a sleeping bag, a survival kit containing a two-week supply of essential foods, plus tools, snares, matches, and so on; and two-way radios.

A final check of all planes and equipment, and a thorough briefing on the flight plan, route and timing took place Tuesday at Edmonton. The physicians and their families took to the air at 6 a.m. Wednesday and are scheduled for arrival in Anchorage today.

INSIGNE OF GOLF'S FIRST 19th HOLE -- The original of this sign has been intimately associated with "The Royal and Ancient Game of Golf" since the early 18th Century when it hung outside the father of all 19th Holes, the celebrated White Horse Cellar in Edinburgh, Scotland. Convenient to both the palace and the famous Links of Leith, the Cellar was a favorite meeting place for members of the oldest documented golf society, the Honourable, the Edinburgh Company of Golfers. It was here, during the winter of 1743, that several gentlemen of honour, skillful, in the ancient and healthful exercise of golf, met to prepare the articles and conditions for the First Annual Open Championship -- open to "Noblemen, Gentlemen, or other Golfers, from any part of Great Britain or Ireland."

Golfing Through History Points To Early Scotland

Today's country club golfer spends most of his week anticipating that Saturday morning satisfying click of a well-hit drive. He expects and finds on arrival at the club luxury facilities, perfectly manicured greens and fairways, and a disciplined staff at his command. Yesterday's golfer "didn't have it so good." Illustrating this are the White Horse-A. G. Spalding exhibits of golf memorabilia. Sixteen of these exhibits are now touring America under the auspices of the two companies. The exhibits are appearing in various country clubs. They are a vivid reminder of the difficulties that confronted the founders of the world's first country club: The Links of Leith.

Consisting primarily of 18th century clubs and balls obtained from St. Andrews, in Scotland, the A. G. Spalding collection and the White Horse Cellar collection are creating excitement wherever shown. Included is the history of the country club rules for the first open tournament, and representations of the 18th century golfer's garb.

Early golf as it was played 200 years ago was quite similar as far as rules were concerned. Today's National Open is conducted under rules quite similar to those devised by our ancestors 200 years ago in the White Horse Cellar. The playing equipment and conditions were at great variance. Early golf balls, for instance, were made of wood until the 17th and 18th centuries when they were made of various materials stuffed hard into a case of leather. Wool, straw, hemp and similar substances were used; but the best, and those which ultimately came into universal use, were stuffed with feathers. They were easily cut, and in wet weather became sodden and liable to burst and "mould" their feathers. A player was indeed fortunate if his ball endured two rounds.

In 1848 or '49, the idea seems to have occurred to several people to make golf balls of gutta-percha, then a new importation. The first attempts were unsuccessful as the balls would not fly straight; but it was soon noticed that after a ball had been played a white it flew better. Balls were accordingly marked by blows of a sharp hammer in crossed lines before being painted and from that moment on began to oust the feather balls, remaining in general use until 1901-02 when American or rubber-cored ball took over.

Although the game of golf had been played in Scotland for upwards of five centuries, club making didn't really come into its own until the feather ball era. Clubs, which were at first rudimentary, tended toward the end of that period to be long, thin and graceful; and the feather ball was swept from

What Is The Salvation Army? How It Started

Some say The Salvation Army is a group that plays music and preaches on street corners. Others say it is a place to get a free meal when you're hungry and broke. Still others say it is a collector of old clothes and furniture.

The Salvation Army is all this and much more.

An international religious and charitable movement organized and operated on a military pattern, The Salvation Army is a branch of the Christian church. It was founded when impoverished converts were refused membership in established churches.

William Booth, an English minister, withdrew from the Methodist New Connexion Church in 1861 to conduct an independent fulltime evangelistic ministry, and in 1865 he was preaching on the street corners of London's worst slums. His first plan was to make his work supplementary to that of the churches, but when his converts were not welcome in the churches because of their poor appearance, Booth established Christian Mission centers for them.

By the end of the first year, Booth had 300 workers -- converts who joined his cause of saving others. Four years later the Christian Mission numbered 3,000 -- and the militant spirit of the converts became military. They hailed their leader as "General" a shortening of his title of General Superintendent. They called themselves "The Hallelujah Army." At a conference in 1878, "General" Booth was looking at printers' proofs of an annual report. Its title was "The Christian Mission - A Volunteer Army." With sudden inspiration, Booth crossed out "Volunteer Army" and penned in "The Salvation Army" and in August that year the Christian Mission formally became The Salvation Army. And the semi-military structure, the military ranks and uniforms, evolved in those formative years, have become traditional with these "soldiers without swords."

The work of The Salvation Army spread quickly, despite ridicule and persecution, as the militant Christians "invaded" new areas and "opened fire." The "invasion" of the United States was heralded by the historic landing of Commissioner George Scott Ralston and seven lassies at Battery Park, New York City, on March 10, 1880. Immediately, these Salvationists held an open air meeting on American soil much to the astonishment of New Yorkers.

In its founding, The Salvation Army was a complete departure from accepted forms of worship, for here was a religious group with uniforms, a distinctive flag, brass and timbral bands, unhygienic music and converts' testimonies. It met in the open air, in tents, in theaters and dance halls, used during the week for one purpose and on Sundays for the Army's religious meetings.

Edinburgh Company of Golfers, or, as it was first called, the Company of Gentlemen Golfers, founded in 1744. Their home was the historic Links of Leith near Edinburgh.

Since members of these early societies played on public land and had no club houses to call their own, then usually congregated at convenient inns and taverns. One of Edinburgh's more popular meeting places for golfers and celebrities was The White Horse Cellar coaching inn. Located in the fashionable Cannongate section of town, in the oldest house in the city known to have been used as an inn, the Cellar was one of the city's most important hostleries and the center of its social life.

Here golfers and such distinguished personalities as Robert Burns, James Boswell, David Hare, and Adam Brothers oasted the game and each other with a "cratur" so good it made the inn famous.

It was at the White Horse, during the winter of 1743, that several Gentlemen of honour, skillful in the ancient and healthful exercise of golf, met to prepare the Articles and Conditions for the first annual open championship -- "open to Noblemen, Gentlemen, or other golfers, from any part of Great Britain or Ireland." The quote is from their original articles.

The Cellar is considered so important historically that the British Government is in the process of restoring its earlier glory as part of its reconstruction and rehabilitation of "old" Edinburgh.

An interesting device is available to country clubs through the courtesy of Brown-Vintners Company. It is a perfect replica of the insigne that identified the White Horse Cellar in 1742. Suitably inscribed with the club's name, without advertising, it is presented for sale in the club's own 19th hole. It is called The Insigne of Golf's Original 19th Hole.

Concern for masses of poverty -- stricken people led General Booth to direct an attack upon the social ills of the day. From this developed the many-faceted ministry of The Salvation Army as a religious and social welfare organization. The ambitious plans of the founder have found realization in the scores of specialized dedicated to restoring and guiding the less fortunate to a better way of life. Included are clinics; general hospitals, maternity homes and hospitals for unmarried mothers; children's homes and foster care service; settlements and day nurseries; emergency lodges for women and children; centers for transient and homeless men; correctional service bureaus, aiding prisoners and their families; missing persons bureaus, which help locate missing friends and relatives; employment services; boys' clubs, summer camps, Red Shield and Salvation Army - USO centers for members of the armed forces; emergency disaster service; residences for business women; services to the aging; rehabilitation centers for alcoholics; and similar allied services.

Salvation Army officers devote their life to a fulltime religious and social welfare ministry. Officers are ordained ministers and serve as chaplains in the armed forces. The women officers of The Salvation Army are also fully accredited ministers. A Salvation Army officer may marry only another officer. After marriage, the woman shares equal rank with her husband. Doctrines of The Salvation Army deal with the Creation, the Fall of Man, man's regeneration and salvation through the power of God to grow in righteousness.

Congregational members of The Salvation Army are known as "soldiers." These people have various occupations in their local communities and devote free time to assisting in the Army's various programs and services. The Salvation Army local neighborhood unit is known as the Corps.

Each year, the fourth week of May is observed as National Salvation Army Week (May 20-27, 1962) On this occasion especially, The Salvation Army invites people to visit its centers and learn more about its spiritual and social welfare ministry.

What is The Salvation Army? It is Christianity in action following faithfully the way of Christ.

"Inasmuch as ye have done unto one of the least of My brethren, ye have done unto Me."
