Since 1910 more than 16,500,000 boys and men have been identified with the Boy Scouts of America.

Quota Of $10,000 Set $3,000 Debt Must Be Met; G. M. Shaw Is Chairman

The annual March of Dimes campaign, for the purpose of raising funds to fight the dread disease, polio, opened in Lamb county Monday. A goal or quota of $10,000 has been set for this year, due to the fact that the incidence of polio in both state and nation, approached an all-time high during 1949, and also to the fact that as a result of this heavy incidence, the local chapter, incurred an indebtedness of $3,000 last year, in meeting its local obligations.

Rackower at Plainview and recovered at Circle.

$10,000 is Goal
With a $3,000 debt which must be liquidated, the $10,000 goal figure was set at what seemed a minimum by the group who gathered to plan the drive.

Gus Shaw Chairman
Gus Shaw has again been named chairman of the drive this year, and expects to organize every section of the county into individual groups, including not only the towns, but all of the smaller communities.

Funds Exhausted
All funds in this county are completely exhausted, and success of the campaign is a must, if this county is to continue its responsibility for all cases in this county, and the expense thereof, until a complete cure, or dismissal is effected.

After these have been cared for, 50 per cent of the funds remaining at the end of the year, are transferred to national headquarters of the organization. The local drive is part of a nationwide effort toward the same goals, which is now underway.

Mahon Urges Grain Sorghum Prices Not Below Last Year's

Congressman George Mahon reports to the Lamb County Leader this week that since his return to Washington for the current session of Congress he has conferred personally with Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan, and other officials in the Department of Agriculture in regard to a support price on the 1950 grain sorghum crop. Mahon has urged that a grain sorghum support price at a level not below last year be announced in the immediate future. He has explained to officials that producers are making their plans for the year and need to know at the earliest possible moment what they may expect. Under the law the secretary of agriculture can place a support program on grain sorghum into operation. The secretary makes the decision as to whether or not a support program will be put into effect and the amount of the loan. Mahon and other members from grain sorghum areas lost their fight last year to secure a mandatory grain sorghum support program. The support program for grain sorghums was not announced in 1949 until Mahon and many other members of Congress from grain sorghum areas had made repeated requests for action by the department. The support price on the 1949 crop was not announced until last March 14. Mahon has urged that much earlier action be taken this year. As indicated, the department has not yet stated whether or not there will be a loan and the amount of such loan, but President Ralph S. Trigg of the Commodity Credit corporation has provided Mahon with a long statement as to the situation which has been made available to all PMA county offices and county agents in the 19th Congressional district. Insofar as is now known, there will be no acreage control program on grain sorghum in 1950 and producers who comply with the cotton acreage program can, if they desire, plant an unlimited amount of land in grain sorghum.

BULL LAKE PHILOSOPHER SAYS HE HAS TRIED SAVING MONEY LATER ON, LIKE THE PRESIDENT SUGGESTS

Editor's note: The Bull Lake Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm probably knows what he's talking about this week. A man can't have as much to say as he does and not be right once in a while.

Dear editor:

I don't like to be given advice to the President on how to run the country when I can't do no better job running my own farm than I'm doin, although understand the way I'm runnin my farm suits me and if it didn't I still wouldn't do much about it, but I was readin in a copy of the Clovis News-Journal which blew off the front of a radiator where somebody had put it to keep the cold air out of his car last week and which I picked up and took home with me to start a fire where President Truman in his budget message to Congress said the only solution he could figure out to the high cost of runnin the government was to overspend now and reduce later on.

This is a good solution on paper, but after a lifetime of practicin it, I can tell President Truman it never works out that way. Every year most of my life I've told myself after I get through spendin what I'm spendin now, I'm gonna cut down and save, but lookin back on it I don't mind sayin I never did get around to it. Invariably something else was always comin up, and I'd put it off again. I don't like to compare myself with a politician, but the promises I've made myself to cut down spendin later on reminds me of the promise practically every politician makes about reducin taxes. They're always promisin to reduce em, but up to now they ain't never got around to it. For years, as long as I can remember, candidates have been cuttin the cost of government durin the campaign and raisin it after they're elected. While everybody knows the cost of government is constantly goin up and most folks want it to judgin by the demands they make and the services they want, ain't no candidate yet thought of runnin on a frank platform sayin taxes are goin up, at least ain't no candidate got elected that way. Overspendin now and reducun later on is like over-eatin now and reducun later. Ain't been done yet. But I estimate it'll be tried for the next quarter million years.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

$50,000 Addition Will Be Built To Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation

A $50,000 addition to the present seven-building plant of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children has been announced by the foundation officials. Funds for the new structure were donated by seven residents of Midland, center of an area from which came much of the institution's 1949 patient load. A one-story fireproof building, Midland Hall will serve foundation patients as reception, entertainment and recreation center. Present plans call for it to be located near the center of Gonzales' present buildings adjacent to a new kitchen and dining hall. Architecturally, Midland Hall will conform to the foundation's master development plan.

Commenting on the gift, Ross Boothe, president of the Gonzales Institution, said: Ordinary words of gratitude hardly suffice to tell those Midland folks how grateful all of us here at the foundation are. We think that gratitude includes all of Texas, as well. The new building will be especially useful as an activities center for patients. And now our children will

THE FLYING FORUM

By "ERNIE" BODE

Sunday found the local air busy with the usual pleasure practice flying as a warm sun us a hint of things to come way of flying weather. If we realize how lucky we be able to enjoy such beautiful weather in January. Some of mine in Indiana are having a tough time trying to get to all this month because of low and poor visibility. It is not surprising that the local has picked up considerably the crops are in and the weather is good for flying. The "landing" contest was held a lot of wise-cracks and good kidding. L. S. McCarty had a black and under-shot both at the Kenneth Hamilton actually the closest to the spot but was disqualified because he bounced. Bob Dillard won the prize money with his second try by landing just 10 feet beyond the circle—not bad Bob—not bad at all!

The rest of the contestants were disqualified by bounces except for Herb Owens Jr., and the "green-lins" must have ganged up on him because he was runner-up but still a little too far from the circle to be "in the money".

Vic Streetman has been keeping the Bellanca hot going to Plainview and Lubbock, and yours truly flew Dean Bingham and party of two to Colorado City on business. Mr. Cooke from Lubbock flew in with a 330 h.p. Cessna 195 which attracted a lot of attention and comment.

Bob Dillard and I flew two hours of night time flying recently and it seems that some local police officers mistook our landing lights for some sort of distress signal—shucks, 'tain't nothin' but us "fly by nights"! Thanks for your attention anyway, boys.

To quote a wise word from a local student pilot, namely, Harold Scott) "Ya' know, this flying sure is relaxing—I wish I'd started sooner." I'll close for now—see you around the airport.—"Ernie".

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

A WONDERFUL TRIBUTE
ARE PEOPLE HAPPIER because of your presence? Maybe you don't know, but it wouldn't take much of an effort for you to find out. There are certain things that can be counted on to make people happy. Laughter is one of them. People like you if you lighten their hearts; a little child, even a baby, likes you if you make him laugh.

Don Marquis, who in 1938 went on to what I am sure is his Great Reward, will be remembered by his friends with tenderness and appreciation as long as they live. He made them happier by his presence while on earth. He will be remembered by readers and students for how long no one can foretell. His publishers bring out a new edition of his works every few years, and the sales are as great as ever.

Not long ago I paid a call on Don's sister who lives near my home. A representative of the oil company was there. We spoke of Don, and his writings. Said he: "I subscribed for the newspaper he was writing for 20 years ago just to read what Mr. Marquis' characters, Archy and Mehitabel, had to say about this and that. I still take the paper, but I don't read it much any more."

Don originated clever lines that have been cribbed and used by dozens of writers. It was he who said at the Players club in New York, one night, "I know I ought to go home and get to work, but I'm not going to let my will power get the best of me."

My friend, Homer Croy, says that Don was easily the most popular member of that club. And when Don died, they held a memorial for him in one of the biggest theaters in New York. Seats sold for $5, $10, and $15. There wasn't a vacant seat in the house! The memorial consisted not of mournful eulogies, but of entertainment. Don would have preferred it that way, and Christopher Morley, the chairman, and one of Don's prized friends, knew that. So they laughed at what Don had written and said. They had such a good time that they were reluctant to go home.

SNOWSTORM MURDER

(A Short Story)
By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

IT WAS SNOWING heavily when Dr. Sanborn came out of the Widow Macey's house. Though the road was only 40 feet away he could not distinguish the outlines of his horse and buggy. He was almost at the gate when he heard the shrieking of automobile brakes, a muffled thump, then a man's startled shout.

Dr. Sanborn quickly opened the gate. He discerned the outlines of a light delivery truck, the front bumper of which had jostled the rear of his buggy. He passed beyond the truck and saw an over-coated figure bent over another figure on the ground.

"What happened?" the doctor shouted above the screech of wind.

Dr. Sanborn recognized him as Anse Perkins.

"Doc! Thank God it's you. Joel's hurt. He was riding on the tailboard of the truck and fell off when I jammed on the brakes to avoid hitting your buggy. I couldn't see the buggy for snow."

Dr. Sanborn knelt beside the still figure of Joel Hargrave. He made a brief examination, then straightened.

"We'd better get him into the house. Looks like his neck's broken."

Between them the two men carried Joel into the house. The Widow Macey was sitting near the stove, a shawl wrapped about her.

Spasmodically her body shook with coughs.

"Dead" said Doctor Sanborn. "Neck's broken. There's a bump on the back of his head where he hit the icy road as he fell."

Anse Perkins wet his lips and swallowed. "What'll we do?" he asked irrationally.

"I'll call Thompson, the undertaker, and Joel's folks." The doctor went into the next room, closing the door behind him. They could hear him ring the telephone one long and two short.

Anse and Joel had been friends, up until six months ago. Then they had a split-up on political differences. From friends they had turned into bitter enemies, much to the amusement of townspeople, who didn't take the violent arguments of each very seriously.

Time passed. Suddenly Anse threw up his hand. "Car just arrived," he said. There followed a space of silence, then someone pounded on the front door.

"Let him in, eh, Anse?" Doctor Sanborn remarked.

Anse opened the door. A man stepped inside. Anse stared at him, then at Doctor Sanborn. "It ain't Thompson. It's Sheriff Hargrave."

"That's right," Doctor Sanborn nodded. "Thompson will be along, though. Figured the sheriff was an..."

He stopped, his eyes terror-stricken, realizing he was babbling incoherently. Dr. Sanborn nodded.

"So you fixed it to make it look like an accident. That's the way I figured it. Sorry, Anse, I guess you've got to stand trial."

Later, Dr. Sanborn explained to Sheriff Hargrave the manner in which he had made his deductions.

"Anse said he jammed on his brakes to avoid hitting my buggy and Joel was jerked off the tailboard. It couldn't have happened that way. Jamming on the brakes would have thrown a tailboard rider into the truck, not out of it."

"Arrest me?" Anse shrieked. He stared around wildly. "It's a frame-up. What are you gonna arrest me for?"

"What for?" demanded Anse wildly.

"You're sure of your ground, Doc?" Sheriff Hargrave said.

"You got the facts, sheriff. Do as you like."

Hargrave nodded. "Anse," he said, turning to Perkins, "I gotta arrest you for murderin' Joel."

"Arrest me?" Anse shrieked. He stared around wildly. "It's a frame-up. What are you gonna arrest me for?"

"Because you broke Joel's neck with some heavy instrument, then hit him on the back of the head with some heavy instrument, then make it appear that he fell off the tailboard."

Doctors Of The World To Observe Sixtieth Anniversary June 6 of the World Life Insurance Society, which will celebrate its sixtieth year next June 6, on an advertising program in some 200 weekly newspapers to explain its program of fraternalism, and service.

Advertisements will be published three times during the year in the newspapers published in the United States, and representatives of the program will be published in the newspapers of the world.

The Littlefield office of those selected to represent the program was begun by six years ago.

proved effective," said Woodberry, national Wood-ent, "in informing the communities about the activities of the society in Action' program. The wider acquaintance of the 'plus' benefits Wood-beries, along with sound, lece protection, has been a factor in increasing the membership," he added.

Dr. Conrad Lam, Formerly Of Sudan, Gains Fame As Surgeon

Dr. Conrad Lam, a former Sudan resident, now a famous surgeon with the Henry Ford hospital in Detroit, Mich., recently gained national fame by his operation on a 15-month-old girl.

The operation, first of its kind to be attempted by any surgeon in the United States, is Connie Marie Wheeler's "only chance" for survival.

Dr. Lam, with the aid of other Henry Ford hospital diagnosticians prescribed the operation for Connie's unique "blue baby" condition.

A blood supply in the chest wall was tapped to stimulate the blood flow from the heart to the lungs. The common "blue baby" operation has the blood supply tapped from an artery.

Dr. Ralph F. Ziegler, one of the diagnosticians, frankly admitted the child's chances were slim.

X-rays showed that Connie had only a two-chamber heart and her vital organs were apparently misplaced, but doctors say corrective surgery will be deferred.

The operation is so rare that Dr. Lam could find but one medical paper published on the type of condition affecting Connie. But he said that a similar operation was performed some months ago in England.

The operation marked the end of a year's search by the baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wheeler of suburban Wayne, who went from doctor to doctor pleading for an attempt to save their baby.

During Dr. Lam's residence in Sudan, some 20 years ago, he was the band instructor at Sudan High school.

During the Christmas holidays Mr. and Mrs. Martin White, on a visit to Detroit, had the pleasure of being the guests of Dr. Lam for an evening.

In the course of the evening, Dr. Lam showed the Whites several pictures taken in Sudan which the doctor still treasures. Mr. White says that Dr. Lam left Sudan in 1932 and began his internship at the Henry Ford hospital.

Dr. Lam is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lam of Denver City, formerly of Sudan, and is a great-nephew of Mrs. R. O. Jenkins of Sudan.

HADACOL IS HELPFUL TO FOLKS OF ALL AGE GROUPS

Countless thousands have proved that HADACOL is beneficial to folks of all ages. That is the reason so many purchase the large economy size bottle so all the family can benefit from nature's vitamins and minerals in HADACOL.

For instance, Miss Ethel Guidry, 822 Montgomery St., Port Neches, Texas, only 17 years old, was "feeling nervous, had little appetite, her face was pale and drawn and she suffered from gas on the stomach."

Her system lacked the B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains and this may cause digestive disturbances such as heart burns, indigestion, and often times Miss Guidry says she could not eat the kind and type of food she wanted without feeling terrible afterwards.

Miss Guidry, who recently graduated from high school, is already working in a bank. She said that after taking several bottles of HADACOL she is now "feeling wonderful," and has "lots of pep and energy."

Most folks take HADACOL because it has worked such wonders for relatives or friends. Miss Guidry took HADACOL because her mother had taken 12 bottles with excellent results.

In nearby Port Arthur, Texas, Mrs. W. M. Thompson took HADACOL because it had done her husband so much good. He, in turn, had taken HADACOL because an elderly neighbor told him of "feeling so much better after taking several bottles of HADACOL."

Mrs. Thompson's normal weight is 135 pounds but she was down to 110 pounds before taking HADACOL and after taking a few bottles of HADACOL she regained her normal weight.

"I was bothered with stomach trouble, gastric disturbances, I had lost my appetite and was bloated," said Mrs. Thompson.

She had tried several preparations before taking her husband's advice on HADACOL and now she enthusiastically recommends HADACOL to her friends.

She, too, like Miss Guidry and the others was suffering from the lack of the B Vitamins and Minerals in her system which HADACOL contains.

A lack of only a small amount of the B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances. . . Your food will not agree with you. . . You will have an upset stomach. . . You will suffer from heart burn, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of the B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the Vitamins and Minerals which your system lacks.

HADACOL contains not only one, but five of the B Vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but four of the necessary Minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream, that it can go to work right away.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have already been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

So, it matters not who you are. . . it matters not where you live. . . or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering! Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the Vitamins and Minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial. —Advf.

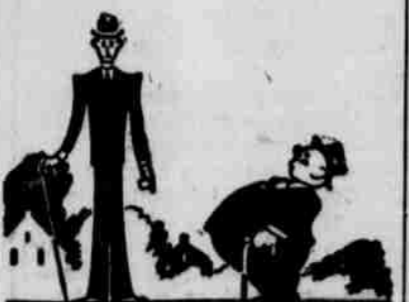

Hockley County Bar Association Is Organized

A meeting of the lawyers of Hockley county was held at the court house at Levelland at eight o'clock Tuesday night, Jan. 10, for the purpose of organizing a Hockley County Bar association. Judge LaVerne McCann presided while an election of officers was held.

J. G. Greer of Anton was elected president; Judge LaVerne McCann, vice-president; and Warren G. Taber, secretary-treasurer.

The State Bar is engaged in this now for the protection of the general public.

Those active in formulating the policies of the local association, in addition to the officers, are E. W. Boedeker, county attorney, Alvin R. Allison, Richard H. Munsterman, Earl Allison and Frank B. Kiser, Jr., all of Levelland.

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, diabetes or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

ABOUT $3,000,000 PAID OUT FOR COTTONSEED IN LAMB COUNTY

Approximately $3,000,000 has been paid out by the Commodity Credit Corporation through the Production and Marketing Administration in connection with the purchase of cottonseed in Lamb county, according to an announcement by John W. McQuien, county PMA administration officer.

The CCC, through the PMA office, in paying the $3,000,000 bought around 50,000 tons of cottonseed. Stacked on the ground in government stockpiles at the present time is approximately 25,000 tons. The oil mills have received about that much more. There is a CCC stockpile of cottonseed at every community in the county.

The deadline for purchase of cottonseed by the CCC has been extended until February 15, McQuien announced. Under the government's price support program, the farmer is paid $16.50 a ton for his cottonseed.

McQuien estimated grain sorghum placed in the government loan would reach the $3,000,000 mark in value by the January 31 deadline. He said to date approximately 2,800 loans had been granted, including farm seorage. A total of 3,100 loans is expected to be issued by January 31.

Sudan To Have Lighting System

Sudan will become one of the best lighted little cities in the tire country within the next few days. Southwestern Public Utility company crews from Bakersfield and Muleshoe together with district office engineers are to Sudan last week and are now installing work on the long new street lighting system. It will cost the Southwestern Service company an estimated $100,000.

To install 43 Light poles will be installed in the town district and on U. S. way through Sudan. A total of new style street lights will be stalled throughout the city.

According to members of Southwestern crews, at least 68 new light poles will be required to complete the project. Most of the material for the project has already arrived in Sudan. Other needed material will be shipped as it is needed.

Weather permitting, the work will stay on the job until completed.

According to an official of the company, the same type of lighting will be installed at Amherst as the Sudan project is completed. Although the city of Amherst has signed for the new lighting system, it will be several months before they are installed, said an official.
