An automobile crash occurring at the intersection of East Ninth and Farwell streets, Thursday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, resulted in the sending of Eugene Ellis, 30, of 723 East Sixteenth street, and Mrs. Dalton Teague to the Littlefield Hospital.

Ellis was driving a 1950 Ford pickup, and was said to be driving north, while Mrs. Don Hunt, driving a 1951 Mercury sedan, accompanied by Mrs. Dalton Teague, and a small child, was going east on Ninth Street which is also Highway 54, when the two cars collided.

Ellis received severe facial lacerations and a badly bruised shoulder. Mrs. Hunt escaped with minor injuries, while Mrs. Teague received a deep gash above her left eye, and a minor hand injury. All were taken to Littlefield Hospital, where Ellis is remaining a patient. Mrs. Teague was released after being given emergency treatment.

Hospital authorities advised Friday that Ellis is in a state of shock. X-rays show no broken bones, but attendants said that he would probably be hospitalized for several days.

Both cars skidded across the highway and landed in the yard of the home of Mrs. F. J. Ohnemus, with the pickup coming to a stop after breaking down a small tree, and running into the corner of the house.

Both the pickup and the car were badly damaged.

Deputy Sheriff Tommy Gilbert and City Officer M. V. Fields are investigating the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Viggo Peterson plan to leave next week for Gothenburg, Nebraska to spend a few days visiting his mother, and other relatives.

Sanitation Important

of warm summer days, emphasis becomes increasingly important. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said in the year's State Health Department report that the special emphasis on a clean-up campaign for the two-fold purpose of eliminating these two health hazards can be achieved through sanitary practices. Places of public assembly and rest must be designed to prevent the spread of disease. It has been demonstrated that it is possible to prevent more than 20 human diseases. Some of these are typhoid fever, diarrhea and dysentery. They have also been implicated in the spread of polio. Flies and mice have been accused in the spreading of 20 to 30 diseases.

"It is plain to see," says Dr. Cox, "that your health and that of your family and community depends in a good measure upon your maintenance of clean, fly and rat-free premises."

Spraying to kill flies and poisoning of rats are valuable supplements to the sanitation program, but will not do the elimination job by themselves. Sanitation is largely a personal matter. It is a way of life expressed in clean, healthful surroundings.

Acres Of Grain Crops Needed

Without plentiful supplies of feed grains, it will not be possible to maintain the production of meat, eggs and milk that will be needed by our increasing population, says the committee. They urge farmers to reexamine their planting schedules and where possible, make every effort to increase materially their plantings of feed grain crops. The committee fully realizes the seriousness of the drought situation in Texas but at the same time suggests that farmers obtain planting seed or at least line up prospective seed supplies of grain crops for immediate planting should rains come.

They also urge farmers to use the best known methods of production in order to save time and labor. The farm labor situation is expected to be tight especially during the harvest season. This is an item that farmers should consider before all planting is completed. Crops that can be machine produced and harvested may prove to be more profitable than those requiring lots of hand labor, believe the committee members. And they add, price supports have been announced for corn and grain sorghums.

They urge farmers who live in areas where fertilizers can be used to use them liberally to increase yields. And finally, they point out that local agency representatives are ready to assist farmers in every manner possible to help get more acres of feed grain crops planted.

Advice From A Model Bride

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newfeatures Beauty Editor

If you want to look charming on your wedding day, use makeup discreetly, says pretty Joanne Liston, popular Powers model.

Joanne (now Mrs. Edward Brown of Kew Gardens, N.Y.), a bride of six months, says:

"It is a good idea to use a light makeup on your wedding day. Somehow everyone expects the bride to look pale. I wore a clear red lipstick, a liquid powder base and the thinnest bit of mascara, just to emphasize my eyes. A light dab of rouge gives just the right amount of blush. I didn't wear nail-polish, although there is no reason why clear or pale pin polish can't be worn. I don't think there is anything worse than a bride with stark red nails or too vivid makeup."

"And, if the career girls think they have beauty problems before marriage and on the bridal day, just wait until after the honeymoon. Joanne explains:

"I do a great deal of hand modeling and my hands should be in perfect condition, always. The first few months after I'd been doing housework, my hands looked terrible. Now I wear work gloves which are indispensable to the bride who plans to perform household chores."

Joanne makes the time, however, as she believes it is necessary to keep lovely and well-groomed after you get the man, as well as before. But she emphasizes that it takes hard work.

Every night she rubs glycerine on her hands and wears gloves to bed. She has learned to use a more lasting makeup on during the day. She puts this good base in the morning, and freshens up with additional lipstick and powder during the day, whenever possible. She has learned to adjust from soft water to hard water, which is tougher on the hands, by wearing rubber gloves.

If the career girl isn't used to standing, her feet will ache, too, as a result of combining business and home tasks, says Joanne. But fortunately, Joanne was used to standing on her feet for long stretches in modeling jobs.

New Makeup Magic Helps Erase Years

BEAUTY AID—Apply creamy substance with moistened finger to area around lips and nostrils.

UNDER-EYE GLAMOR — To erase hollows apply cream under eyes. Smooth with a dry sponge.

LET THERE BE LIGHT—She'll have no fear of light wearing new makeup, said to erase hollows and shadows.

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newfeatures Beauty Editor

Beauty is more than skin deep. We know that light can play funny tricks with makeup—that in certain light we look positively dreamy, and that other light can make us look pretty weird.

Many a girl has done a lovely makeup job at her own dressing table only to be foiled by a date who loves candlelight—not always the most flattering light to a woman with circles or wrinkles under her eyes.

We have learned from makeup experts that moonlight isn't the enchanted light poets would have us believe, that it doesn't always enhance our complexions. Hollywood technicians have shown that certain light can change the character of a face, can vary moods from gaiety to mystery, can beautify or distort—that a high key light overhead will exaggerate wrinkles, facial muscles and puffiness under the eyes.

And so now the inevitable cosmetic has been formulated. It is based on the "imprisonment of light" in a creamy substance, according to the inventor, a former Hollywood makeup man. It works on the principle of light reflection—that "light against light shows nothing" so that when a cream containing a "light filled" substance is applied to a hollow, the hollow is erased.

This new cosmetic is used in addition to the makeup you now wear. It is a new concept of makeup.

however, the new substance being applied over foundation cream (which should be a shade darker than normal skin tone) which acts as a gripper. It is applied to four areas—around the corners of the lips, at the nostrils, under the eyes and around the temples. After you have learned how to use it, you can apply it to other areas.

The application does not take special skill if directions are followed. Apply your regular makeup (except powder and lipstick). Then apply the new cream by dipping the cushion of one finger in water to moisten it, then applying it by following the hollows of the face—from the bottom of your chin to the corner of your mouth up the nostril and around the ridge of the nostril. It is applied under the eyes by go-

A western theme was carried out in the decorations and program at the Sudan High school Junior-Senior banquet which was held at LaVista in Clovis Friday night, May 2. Approximately 70 students and their sponsors enjoyed one of the "best" banquets in the school history.

Macky McCarty presided as toastmaster. The senior class will be given by Wanda Whitmore and Bobby Lynch read the class prophecy.

Freedom Chapter OES Honors Mrs. Boone

Honoring Mrs. Flora Best Boone, worthy grand matron of the grand chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star, Freedom Chapter, of Lubbock, entertained with a dinner meeting Tuesday night.

An interesting program was presented, and Mrs. Boone was presented with a gift from the hostess chapter.

Other grand officers present, and who had a part on the program included, Pat Boone, past worthy grand patron; Mrs. Pauline Smith, grand Ruth; Mrs. Elsie Bills, grand examiner; Mrs. Pearl Metcalfe, member of resolutions committee; and Mrs. Florence DeArmond, member of the grievance and appeal committee.

ing from the outer to inner corners; and at the temples by going from a point just inside the end of the brow line, up and out over the temples.

After it is applied it is blended with a small rubber sponge. When you powder over it, hollows and shadows should have disappeared.

This new makeup is not a corrective treatment in the sense that you will wake up with your skin as smooth as your steam-ironed satin. You will need to use it each time you wish to accomplish a youthful appearance. The true test is to apply it first to one half of your face to observe the life that should be in contrast to the other half of your face.

He then entered Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Ft. Worth, in 1933, and three years later, in 1936, received a Th. M. degree. It was in the same year that he was elected to take the Doctor's Degree, and had completed a large part of the studies necessary before the degree can be awarded, when World War II, forced discontinuance of those studies. But prior to that time, and even before receiving his Th. M. degree, August 26, 1935, he was united in marriage to Miss Lunelle Nix of Lamesa, and the next year after graduation from the Seminary, he was called as pastor of the First Baptist church at Dayton, Texas. Rev. and Mrs. Hemphill served at Dayton for nearly seven years, and resigned only after accepting the call to the local pulpit, which he has faithfully served since February 1943. been more than 1750 additions to the church membership, with more than 600 baptized, and a Sunday School attendance that has grown and progressed from an average attendance of 235, to the present 600 each Sunday in this year of 1952. And during his pastorate a new Educational building costing $175,000 has been erected and paid for, and nearly $50,000 of the funds necessary for the construction of a new matching Church Sanctuary, planned to seat 1,000 on the Main floor with a total 1500 seating capacity—with construction scheduled to start in the near future.

During the years since graduation, and his entry to the ministry, Rev. Hemphill has been entrusted with and placed in high responsible activities of Texas Baptist work. He served as 2nd vice president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas; was a member of the State Executive Board for eight years; served as trustee of Wayland Baptist College for nine years; two years as trustee of Texas Baptist Children's Home at Round Rock; served as president of District Nine Baptist Convention; served as President of Plains Baptist Assembly, and for six years as trustee of the same Assembly. This is not the first time he has been called upon to deliver a Sermon Baccalaureate—he spoke before the graduating class of Wayland College in 1946, and during the early years of his Littlefield pastorate, he spoke before the graduates of Littlefield High School at the Baccalaureate Services.

Dr. Hemphill (the titular degree will be his after the May 23 Commencement) will be 45 years of age on Nov. 2, of this year, having been born at Coleman in 1907. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hemphill of Coleman, his father a prominent rancher and banker. Both of his parents will be present at both the Baccalaureate and Commencement services at Brownwood to hear the sermon from the lips of their son, and see his acquisition of the degree so long delayed. And his mother can feel an especial pride in the fact that his degree comes from the college which she herself attended after graduation from High School. Many Littlefield friends of the family will probably be present for these occasions, and at least three local young folks are scheduled as graduates of the college at the same time Rev. Hemphill receives his degree. They are, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carter and Gene McCannell. In addition there are numerous other students from Littlefield in the lesser grades of the college. Rev. Hemphill will be accompanied to Howard Payne College and to Brownwood by Mrs. Hemphill, and their two children Rosa Lee, aged 15, and a sophomore in Littlefield High School, and Hilton, aged 10, a student in the 5th grade. And the family, beloved of all Littlefield, and especially of the large and growing membership of Littlefield First Baptist church, and holding the esteem and high regard of the entire citizenry will make the trip to Brownwood with the best wishes of an entire community—solid in both their friendship for them, and with an entire community's congratulations and best wishes.

GARDEN: LOAD UP YOUR ARSENAL FIGHT GARDEN PESTS

CYNTHIA LOWRY
Newspaper Writer

It is determined to have a garden automatically inherit the ills and pests plants in its nature and man prepared to provide the garden with a pretty adequate arsenal of weapons with which to wage war on these pests, although it's practically a full-time job.

There are also a few insects which the gardener should learn to recognize and which are the weevil, the praying mantis, the orange spotted bug and the dragonfly. These devour insects dine on aphids.

Are Natural Allies

The gardener's greatest natural ally is the bird family, which consumes many times as many insects as it does in the course of its life. All of which are likely to attract birds as well as a pleasant surprise.

It is impossible, in a short time, to list the gamut of protection. New chemical compounds are appearing regularly, many of which are as effective as the old ones, but they are used unwisely, and particularly those of the family, should be used in accordance with the printed instructions to the exact letter. Extra care should be taken in the use of some of the newer types of poisons which are entering their stom-achs, which siphon up the plant juices, are best handled by chemicals which paralyze and smother on contact.

Arsenate of lead is the best known of the stomach poisons, and combinations of pyrethrum and rotenone are effective on the sucking types. DDT and others of the newly developed chemicals knock off both kinds.

Dormant Spray Essential

For any effective results in the bug battle, the basic essentials would consist first of a dormant spray—a miscible oil to be applied a couple of weeks before the buds begin to burst. This is effective against any of the scale diseases and catches pests which winter over when they are most vulnerable.

There also should be nicotine sulfate, for aphid control; a rotenone-pyrethrum preparation, and Bordeaux mixture for fungus growths. For those who grow gladiolus, or anything else attracting thrips, the bulbs may be treated with DDT before planting. Red spider, which apparently thrives on DDT, are best controlled with nicotine, rotenone or sulphur.

The Gardener's Weapons

Most gardeners use both a spray gun and a duster for applying the chemicals. The dust should be applied when the plants are dewy or wet so the powder will stick. In any event, pay more attention to getting the control materials on the under side of the leaves than on the tops, for it is underneath where most of the enemies hide out.

Slugs and snails respond best to poison bait, but be sure to renew it after a rain.

Japanese beetles are discouraged if the ground is infiltrated with a milky spore preparation—a sort of special anti-beetle germ warfare. The alternatives are DDT and handpicking them from the best blooms every morning when they are dull and slip unprotesting into a mason jar half-filled with water and a couple of teaspoonful of kerosene or motor oil.

Up to the 1952 elections, the Democrats and Republicans have been opposed in 24 U.S. general elections of which the Democrats won 10 and the Republicans 14.

You can swing it if you try

HAVE you, by any chance, been casting eyes at a Buick, and promising yourself that someday you will take the Big Step and have one all your own?

Let us whisper something to you. The "big step" isn't big at all.

We know that's true, because such a high percentage of present Buick owners traded in a car tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field."

So why not set your sights on this star performer?

Why not enjoy big-car comfort — big-car power — big-car prestige for your money?

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it.

Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower.

Get the feel of Dynaflo Drive*, that lets you ride relaxed—feeds a silken flow of power — and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains.

Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features.

One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through.

But the fact remains that — when you check the price of a Buick SPECIAL against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars" — you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to.

And brother, will that make your family happy!
