5. Cotton yield per acre has been almost doubled to an average of 236 pounds per acre in the last 20 years.

6. Quality of cotton is also being steadily improved.

7. An urging toward further mechanization, as the answer to a lessening labor supply through more stringent laws affecting the importation of Mexican labor, and other reasons and causes.

8. And lastly, but not least importance, the continuing and further development of mutually friendly and co-operative relations between business men and farmers—an activity and endeavor, toward which goal the Forums, of which Littlefield's was the first in the state, be continued and expanded in the years to come.

Those things, itemized and listed as numbers one to eight, were only highlights, of the all-day interesting meeting which brought prominent speakers here from Texas A & M, from Texas Tech, and from over the state.

Mental Disorders Present Problems

Mental disorders today represent a real problem and it is estimated that almost fifty percent of all hospital beds are filled by persons suffering from mental or nervous diseases, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

It thus appears that modern civilization is exacting a terrific toll. High speed living with its cruel exactions upon nature, is responsible for a large part of the trouble. But improper personal conduct must also shoulder much of the blame. The fact is that nearly fifty percent of the patients entering hospitals for mental disorders are there because of organic or toxic causes.

For example, general paralysis is the direct cause of many mental troubles in males entering hospitals. This condition is an organic disease of the brain due to the germ responsible for syphilis. It is a preventable disease. Early and effective treatment of acquired syphilis will block the end results of general paralysis in the insane.

The excessive use of alcohol is responsible for a number of mental disorders. Alcohol and syphilis combined are responsible for approximately one-fifth of the hospitalized insanities. Nevertheless, improper living habits continue to impair many brains. Insufficient sleep, neglect of bodily care and a consistent overforcing of nervous energy are the pitfalls to avoid in this connection.

Nature demands that her fundamental laws be at least reasonably observed. A constant outraging of the physiological economy takes its toll not only in bodies but in minds also. Insanities and lesser nervous disorders could be spectacularly reduced if this fact was more generally respected. Training for mental health must be started in childhood as that is the time when corrections can be made to the best advantage.

Controlling Insects

The problem of controlling insects may soon become a major job on a lot of Texas farms. Never before in history have agricultural producers been asked to plant and harvest crops as large as those asked for in 1952 and Allen C. Gunter, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the final production figures for the year will reflect just how well crop destroying insects were controlled.

He says there is a lot more involved in a good insect control program than buying an insecticide and applying it to the crop. First he suggests that farmers secure copies of bulletins and circulars from their local county agents that describe the insects and list the recommended control measures. The second suggestion is of prime importance. Know what insecticide is needed and then read the label on the container to make sure that it is the one recommended, says the specialist.

The great number of organic insecticides on the market today are offered in many different formulas and strengths and poor insect control will result if the correct materials are not used, says Gunter. He especially calls attention to the need for checking spray formula labels. In the case of cotton sprays, he suggests that the recommendations listed in C-182, "Guide For Controlling Cotton Insects in Texas—1952" be followed. Then to insure proper dosage, read the label and follow the manufacturer's instructions to the letter. A lot of failures have resulted, says Gunter, because the wrong formula was used or in other words, the material was not checked for strength—label was not studied—before it was applied to the cotton.

Gunter offers this word of advice regarding the mixing of spray materials. Use clean water and if necessary strain the water as well as the spray material. This precaution will prevent nozzle clogging and result in a uniform spray job. He points out that a more uniform mixture—of spray material and water—will be obtained if only enough water is put in the sprayer tank to get a good mixing job done. After the solution is mixed, add enough water to fill the sprayer tank to the desired level and then thoroughly mix the solution before applying the spray to the crop.

Gunter says farmers should remember that all insecticides are poisons and all precautions given on the labels should be strictly followed. Special precautions should be taken when handling TEPP and Parathion to avoid prolonged contact with the skin or breathing the vapors or drift from either spray or dust.

The specialist urges farmers to get their spraying and dusting equipment in top operating shape. Preparations made early may well be a determining factor in whether the insect control program on any given farm is a success or failure. It is good management, says Gunter, to be ready and waiting for the bugs. When they once go to work, time is on their side and successful control calls for immediate action.

The many friends of Mrs. J. C. Whicker in Littlefield and area will be interested in reading the following letter, which the Leader received from Mrs. Whicker, and which is published here as follows:

"We are receiving the Lamb County Leader promptly, but have again changed our address.

"Tommy's health has not been good for over a year. High blood pressure and a heart ailment. His doctor prescribed a warmer climate, so he retired after being with Eastern States 24 years. It was quite a break, but health comes first.

"They sold their home and came to Fort Myers, Fla. Stored their furniture in Springfield, Mass.

"After looking around they bought a new ranch style home in what is called "Alabama Grove Terrace," four miles from downtown Fort Myers. Our Postoffice is Tice, Florida, P.O. Box 242. If you will change to that address we will probably be here the rest of our days.

"They had their furniture brought down and are about settled. We all like it here. It is very beautiful. Of course, it seems like a different world. New England has its beautiful places too, but the winters are severe.

"Ruth and I are fine. We all send kindest regards.

"Should you ever come to Florida, look us up.
Lovingly,
Mrs. J. C. Whicker"

It was reported that some of the older boys in the class caused quite a disturbance, and the superintendent and principal were forced to make rigid rules—but enforcing them was another thing.

The "school" was "fun" from start to finish, and was one of the most enjoyable parties the class has held.

Approximately 60 attended.

FFA Banquet—

 teous barbecue menu consisting of barbecued chicken, beans, onions, pickles, potato salad, rolls, butter, apple cobbler a la mode and iced tea. Serving was done by boy members of the organization.

The banquet serving came after Troy Armes gave the invocation. Opening Ritual ceremonies by the station officers of the FFA, introduction of the toastmaster, Wayne Davis, and the Welcoming Address and Response, delivered by Ernest Gohlike, FFA member, and responded to by his father, H. E. Gohlike, who stated that he was especially proud of the FFA and its accomplishments if for no other reason than that four of his sons had at different times over the years been members of Littlefield FFA, and from it had received much practical instruction and benefits. Before he closed he paid special tribute to the splendid work being done by both FFA sponsors and instructors, W. W. Hall of the Senior Division, and Herschel Potts of the Junior Division.

For this occasion those in attendance at the annual banquet, got a special treat, in a fine talk by Dr. Ty Timm, of A & M College, who had been principal speaker at a Farmer-Business Men's Forum held in Littlefield all day Thursday, and had consented to remain over to talk to the Future Farmers.

Mr. Timm prefaced his talk with the statement that he was a former FFA Chapter Member, and on a certain occasion many years back, had served as toastmaster at another FFA banquet, held in his home town of Hallettsville, in Lavaco county, where he attended school. And he was proud of both facts, then and today, and openly said so, and told the group in substance, that FFA was a stepping stone to the better things in life. He cited the vast improvements in farming and living conditions in the years since he was active in FFA, and told his listeners that there was no reason why those improvements and better life should not continue. Yet he urged their continued studies in school and in college, with special emphasis on the study on the usages of English, both written and oral, and that good arithmetic today was a necessity for the farmer as well as the business man. In a side remark, he deplored the fact that at A & M College he had noted in recent years that freshman coming to the college were deficient in these studies.

Following his talk a vocal trio composed of Minyon Thedford, Clara Beth Thedford and Minnie Faye Weschke rendered two vocal numbers; W. W. Hall introduced special guests; Eddie Wallace, Ernest Gohlike and Duane Beal recited their personal examples of Good Farming Programs; Dickie Cobb listed FFA degrees; Henry Bishop listed chapter accomplishments.

A dozen or more prize winning banners awarded to the chapter during the year now closing, in competitive judging and actual practice events, were individually displayed before the gathering by a speaker, and officially presented to the chapter, with a member from each winning team being called upon to receive the presentation on behalf of the chapter. The prize winning banners included many firsts and seconds, as well as lesser rating banners. These banners now find a place on the walls of the Chapter halls, where many won in other years are now proudly displayed.

Before the program closed, degrees of Honorary membership were awarded to Mancil Hall, Vigo Peterson and Paul Jensen, for special contributions in material form to the FFA during the past year. Two of the three came to the platform to receive the award pins, in the prettily decorated banquet hall, as tapers of blue and corn yellow flickered on the tables in the beautifully decorated banquet room.

Two other Honorary members especially introduced by W. W. Hall, were Supt. Joe Hutchinson and Troy Armes, who received their awards at last year's banquet.

In point of attendance it was the largest FFA gathering ever held here, one of the most successful, and points out not only the growth of Littlefield FFA, and also its specific achievements more numerous this year than for any year in its past history.

Farm Forum—

 field to address the gathering of more than 300 farmers and businessmen were: Ty Timm of Texas A&M, Jack Christian of the National Cotton Council of Memphis, Archie Leonard, professor of Agriculture at Texas Tech, Dr. Joe Motherall, professor of Agriculture Economics at A&M College, F. M. Kennedy, assistant professor in same category at Texas Tech, and numerous others.

A high point in the meeting was presentation to Charles Jones of near Olton, platte naming him "Outstanding Farmer of Lamb County for 1951" by State Soil Conservation officials. The presentation was made at the barbecue luncheon at noon.

The luncheon was one of the most elaborate barbecue events ever staged here. Several hundred pounds of choice pork was barbecued to perfection, and served with all the trimmings. Dick Carl, local REA manager, and Bob Crowell, C of C manager was in charge of the barbecue. County Lions and Rotary club members were special guests.

The Forum was a big success in every way, was the consensus of most of those who attended. Credit for the success goes to many individuals, including David Eaton, county agent, Bob Crowell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce who sponsored, and to Leroy Hacker, head of the Lamb County Farm Bureau, which jointly sponsored the Forum.

It makes
 each drop of gas
 say uncle

ACCORDING to combustion experts, there's as much energy locked in a drop of gasoline as there is in a drop of nitroglycerine. But the problem is to put that energy to work. So Buick engineers aren't content just to mix that drop with air and touch it off. They've designed an engine that brings it catapulting into a cylinder head where it strikes a turbo-top piston—gets whipped into a churning, swirling ball of tight-packed energy.

Then it's fired. And when that happens, a drop of gasoline certainly lets loose power. This isn't something that happens in a "car of the future." It happens in a Buick Fireball 8 Engine today. It's a high-compression engine. It's a valve-in-head engine. But it's also a Fireball in performance as well as name. And it puts extra power under the hood —and extra miles in the fuel back in the gas tank. Now, power is great, but what goes with it? Mister, that's something you ought to find out—and soon. What goes with it is an automobile as sweet-handling, eager and willing as anything that ever made your pulse leap to a faster beat. It's a car that seems to know what you want it to do—true and sure in its course on a straightaway—beautifully balanced on curves. It's a car with Dynaflo Drive* to feed power with infinite smoothness—and a road-hugging levelness of ride that took a million in cold cash to perfect. And it is, with all this, a very tidy bargain. Why not price it, drive it, know it for yourself? We'll be glad to arrange a demonstration. Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Covers standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
