Hundred Men Are Selected on Jury Venire

...men have been selected for a special venire for the term of district court to be held in the Lamb county court room on Friday, January 17, for a thorough discussion of the proposed new city ordinance designed to encourage the drilling of oil wells within the city limits.

Littlefield WOW Officials Are Installed At Outstanding Ceremony

As in the case of horse-racing, a marked difference of opinion seems to be prevalent in Littlefield in regard to the desirability of the proposed new city ordinance designed to encourage the drilling of oil wells within the city limits. As an incentive to prospective drillers, the ordinance would set up spacing regulations which would allow one well in each of a large group of 18-acre tracts into which the city would be divided. This would limit the number of prospective wells in the city to about 111 should oil be struck. Members of the city commission now are finding that this proposed spacing regulation, urged by prospective drillers to prevent an orgy of drilling should oil be found, has failed to arouse any enthusiasm on the part of the great mass of small property owners such as holders of single lots. Under the proposed ordinance all property owners in a drilling unit would share in the oil royalties, but the majority of the small single-lot property owners who have expressed their views to commission members seem to think the return to them under this plan would be so small it wouldn't be worth while. Almost everyone, it seems, is in favor of drilling—with a few exceptions, of course—and a great many, particularly larger property holders, have endorsed the proposed ordinance. Of the three members of the city commission contacted this week, only Mayor A. C. Chesher reported almost uniform favorable comments by taxpayers who had contacted him. The two commissioners — Lon Campbell and L. C. Hewitt — reported opposition to the spacing plan. Mr. Campbell said that of about 20 or 25 persons who had talked with him, four out of five appeared to be against the proposal in its present form. Mr. Hewitt said he had talked with about 12 or 15 property owners and most of them were opposed to the spacing plan. "Almost everyone would like to see some oil activity in Littlefield" he said, but the owners seem to feel that proposed ordinance does not hold much for them in the way of royalty returns. W. G. Street, city secretary, said no inquiries or communications regarding the proposed ordinance had been received at the city hall.

The Hemphill family were early pioneers of the South Plains, having moved here from Plainview in 1924. Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill made their home here until 1941, when they moved to Brownsville, where they lived until about three years ago, when they located at Morton. Farm Bureau Drive May Hit 500 Mark

Preliminary reports Monday night at a meeting in the offices of County Agent Dave Eaton in Amherst indicated the Lamb County Farm Bureau Federation membership drive would gain a total of nearly 500 members. With some of the community campaign chairmen making no report at that time and others making only partial reports, the total members gained in the drive at that time was 275, Mr. Eaton said. All campaign workers were highly pleased with the response by the farmers in all parts of the country and leaders in the organization efforts expressed confidence the total membership would well exceed the tentative goal of 400 set at the start of the campaign. Among the Communities reporting Olton led with a total of 76. (Continued On Back Page)

War Reporter Talks In Earth

David Rasco, who recently returned from Korea as a war correspondent for the Amarillo Globe-News spoke at the First Methodist church, Earth Tuesday night.

Egypt's Cotton Harvesters

The fallow are harvesting the white cotton bolls in Egypt as they did 4,000 years ago under the Pharaohs.

The property of 2,000,000 Egyptians is tied up—directly or indirectly—with cotton. It accounts for 75 per cent of value of Egyptian exports. During the 1949-50 season it brought Egypt around $40,000,000.

The rich Nile stretching along the Nile are crowded daily in harvest season by thousands of black-clad women and boys wading the national night-gown-like "galabiah" dress. They work with the slenderness of women under the brilliant sun. Like pickers along the Mississippi, they join in cheerful talkative songs as their agile fingers pick the white fiber from the plants.

Other women shuttle between the field and the reservoir, canal, bringing water for the thirsty pickers. They walk with the graceful carriage as they carry the big wooden jars on their heads.

Pickers wear small hats tied to their waists. When these are full, the pickers pile the cotton in a snowy growing mountain on the edge of the field. Men staff it to his bags.

Rows of trucks—mainly American made—are parked nearby, waiting to be loaded. The trucks contract sharply with the simple landscape to change into the lines of the Tootsie.

Save Young Animal Crop

Heavy demand for meat and dairy products in 1951 gives farmers extra reason for saving this year's spring pig, calves and lambs, the American Foundation for Animal Health reported.

To help farmers save more of this year's young animal crop, Foundation authorities offered these suggestions:

"Feed the mother animals a balanced ration, providing animal protein, vitamins and minerals, including iodine salt."

"Keep brood sows, cows and ewes comfortable and clean, free from stress, heat and dirt."

"Have the new animals born in clean pastures—or in clean, dry well-bedded quarters free from chilly drafts."

"Toward the end of the gestation period, be alert to assist at birth if necessary. Inspect the marels of the young.

"Be sure newborn animals are getting promptly. Calves need colostrum (first milk) after calving. Have clean and accessible nipple up to three weeks old."

"Watch for scours: it may be a sign of improper feeding, overfeeding or disease."

"Avoid weaning time have pig vaccinated against hog cholera. Inspect a veterinarian on the day for vaccination of other stock in light of local conditions."

"At the first sign of illness health to breeding stock or young animals, obtain a diagnosis. Find out whether disease, parasite or faulty nutrition is responsible. Corrective action, started promptly, may save the lives of many young animals."

Road-Air Machines Increase

The government is interested in a machine you can fly through the air and drive down the street.

To help test new ideas for road "airplanes" or "roadplanes," the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) has offered to rent 10 of such toys for six months for use by field agents. The planes would be distributed among CAA's six regional offices and get the benefit of operators under a variety of climates and terrain conditions.

One of the "roadplanes" was built at Dayton, Ohio, by Robert Edwin Taylor, Jr. Over a period of nearly a year he has flown the "airplane" more than 1,000 hours and driven it thousands of miles.

The other is the "airplane" built by Hamilton Taylor, president of Hamilton Inc., Lancaster, Wash. It first flew last February and has been tested extensively at the ground and in the air.

Both types have the same basic plan—a single power plant for driving or firing, and removable wings and tail section—but their differ greatly in detail.

The "airplane" is a rubber plane. That is, the propeller is on the tail. For ground use, the wings and tail section fold together and can be hooked to the rear of the car and hauled like a trailer. This would permit a plane to land at one airport, drive into the next airport and off from a different airport.

The Fulton "airplane" is a tractor airplane. The propeller is in front. For ground use the wing, tail section and propeller are removed for storage at the airport while the automobile is driven away. Either one carries two persons. All speeds are around 200 miles an hour and ground speeds are comparable to those of other light automobiles.

The CAA is an agency of the Commerce Department charged with enforcement, operational and promotional aspects of civil aviation. This includes development and testing of new devices for flying.

Occasionally the A.A. prepares a special purpose design by paying the user to a private contractor. A recent example is a 1950 model under which Taylor, A. and M. College built a plane intended to meet the special needs of agricultural flying such as crop dusting, spraying and seeding. The plane now is being flight tested.

The offer to rent the Fulton and Taylor machines, providing a new design can be agreed upon, fits into the CAA's long-time effort to give private flying greater utility. Studies have shown that lack of usefulness, resulting from the inoperability of airport operations and weather delays, ranks with cost as a major cause of discouraging airplane ownership.

BULL LAKE PHILOSOPHER GLAD TO PUT OFF ANY NEW CONSTRUCTION NOW OR LATER

I took a copy of the Dallas News away from one of my newsstanders, they must be using a rubber band of paper these days or it may be the ink and set down on the sunny side of the hill and read it. I was in Washington, D.C. and got a copy to see a kind of construction to save themselves for the future.

Part of the article the street already had begun to be built as I understand it new construction has been started for numerous kinds of businesses, and I want you to know Washington and I see eye to eye on this.

For years I been getting off a lot of construction around my farm for example there isn't a dirt but what wants to be done here and there and a new one put up the back porch needs a new floor or so and you would be surprised who will build it. It is gonna get built something or my back says the front porch needs to be replaced although it's safe except for me as I know what porch would hold me up the back needs a new roof and new siding. In fact there isn't a thing about it that wouldn't stand rebuilding.

To tell the truth, the whole place could stand rebuilding, but I've been putting it off for years, you know how it is, you get busy doing something else, or it's too cold to do carpenter work, or the cut comes out and some things go to where you thinking that would waste the day working on a back roof when this may be the way to go.

But up to now, I've had to work stand a lot of things from my wife, which over the years I've learned it easier than actually setting out and putting on a new roof, but I had no idea my responsibility to start any construction was nationally important, and I will appreciate you informing Washington that I'm for the new program you hundred thousand.

I had to stop I was so far ahead of my time but if more people had saved materials like I have over the past ten-plus years, things might be different today.

Yours Faithfully
J. A.

Roscoe's First Snow

By FAITH HELEN FAUST

Roscoe dreamed about snow that night. Baby, the dog down the street, had told him about snow. She had a great imagination. She said that snow was pink or white, and had a wonderful taste. Sometimes like dog food and sometimes like rabbit and maybe sugar.

Roscoe was dreaming about it when he was walking on top of it, when something cold hit his nose. He licked it off and turned his black and white spotted back to the door of the dog house.

The next morning, Roscoe woke up and walked out. What a surprise! He stepped on something soft and fluffy. It felt cold on his feet.

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

YOUR first eye-smacking look at the line of lovelies pictured here tells you that they've got what it takes in visual charm.

But the fellow who said a picture speaks louder than a thousand words wasn't talking about these superbly able 1951 Buicks.

Sure, they're smart to look at—smart in style and smart in dress.

But they're also smartly powered—smartly engineered—smartly priced. And it would take a book to describe in full their deep-down goodness.

What's been done for '51 is to take the best automobiles that ever bore the Buick name—and top them.

Come, look them over, and you'll see what we mean.

There's the SPECIAL which can accurately be titled "the newest car in the world"—new in structure, new in power, new in dimensions, new in thrift—and potent in price appeal.

There's the SUPER—that looks and is a smart new edition of its "best seller" forebear.

Then there's the ROADMASTER—that coddles your anatomy on luxurious new fabrics and cloud-soft cushions—pampers your pride with its lordly bearing—shoots a delicious tingle right up your spine by the exuberance of its power and action.

We could go on and on. This is the car that "breathes through its nose." This is the car that sports a brand-new front-end styling. This is the car with new high-visibility instrument dials, more easily read at night. This is the car with glare-and-heat-reducing glass† and a host of other news-making features you can't afford to miss.

So your No. 1 date this week end is with your Buick dealer. It won't take you long to conclude that he's offering the smartest buys of the year.

†Optional at extra cost—available on most models. (Not presently available in California or Massachusetts)

Right Under Our Nose!
 Sometime back, we got word from the Governor, asking if we wanted to use the State Fire Inspection Team—a group of experts they send around to communities to inspect public buildings.
 We sent a letter saying: "Okay! Give us the once-over!" They came down, all right—last week.
 After the inspection, we got their report. Came out pretty well, all told. Town Hall and the School were O.K. Post Office just needed more sandwalks. In fact, everything got a clean bill of health, except—the Fire Station!

Duggan Denies Oil Well Report

Arthur P. Duggan Jr., Littlefield lawyer, Wednesday refuted reports a lease had been signed and oil drilling operations were scheduled to start on the Duggan estate properties in Littlefield. "No lease has been signed and no drilling arrangements have been made," Mr. Duggan said.

"I have had some talks with a prospective driller here but I do not believe anything will get beyond the talking stage until it is decided what will be done about the proposed oil well spacing ordinance for the city," he said. "Frankly, I do not believe any operator will drill a well in Littlefield proper until this or some similar regulatory ordinance is passed."

Work Is Started On New Water System In Earth

C. H. Messer, contractor for the Earth water system, started ditching machines Monday morning preparatory to laying water mains along the streets and alleys of Earth.

Persons having water pipes crossing streets or alleys that might be damaged by ditching machines, were warned to dig down to such pipes and place a stake or a similar warning sign for the benefit of the machine operator in order to avoid damage.

Mr. Messer also requested the indulgence of the townspeople during the few weeks that traffic will be impeded by the work.

Those who have not arranged for water connections with the main, were told it will be to their advantage to do this before the main is covered.

All citizens were urged to clear the alleys and streets of anything which might obstruct the progress of the construction crews.

their viewpoint of the problem and what had been done in the past by them. All agreed that a unit effort by all is needed to improve school attendance of the children of Lamb County.

A general plan of procedure was discussed and agreed upon which includes all positive methods possible by the school officials, visiting teacher, attendance officers, and others. Then, if these fail, stronger methods will be pursued, in which the parent will be brought into court and made responsible for their children's attendance, and if necessary will be fined by the courts until the children are in school. This will apply to all children covered by the State School Attendance Law between the ages of 6 and 16, regardless of race, color, or creed. All representatives present agreed upon this general procedure.
